GOES WITHOUT SAYING.

(Pittsburg Gazette-Times.)

That a Kentucky jury set aside the "unwritten law" and found a man guilty is remarkable, but it was not a pretty woman who did the shooting.

WOOD ALCOHOL ABSOLVED

(Albany, N. Y. Journal.)

From a region in Kentucky comes report of a strange wild animal, as large as a calf, and striped. At least, wood alcohol is not to be blamed, for that makes blood those who indulge in it.

CAR SENSE

GOVERNMENTAL SUPREMACY

Opinions are as various as the merits of the various controversies between capital and labor that are paralyzing the industry of this country and injuring millions of people who are in no way responsible for the conditions that exist.

Without greater knowledge than we possess we would not presume to pass judgment upon the briefs of either side. There may be right and wrong on both.

But one fact stands out paramount to all others. The supremacy of the government must prevail, and any person who is not willing to acknowledge and abide by that supremacy is an undesirable citizen and should be treated accordingly.

We have seen too much of the bolshevik effect upon Russia to countenance its control of this country, but if any organization or group of men, whether of capital or labor, is allowed to continually flout and defy the governmental authority, bolshevism in its most virulent form is exactly what we must face—and sooner than we anticipate.

There is entirely too much of a tendency to ignore the government and apply the rule or ruin law of might. When the government reaches on the end of its patience and says it is time for the contestants to settle, it is time for the contestants to do just that thing. The public as well as the parties to the disputes, have rights that must be respected, although the scrapping minority appears not to be aware of that fact.

Stephen Decatur once said: "Our country! May she ever be right—but our country, right or wrong." Those are our sentiments, let them stand where they may.

GOOD NEWS—LET'S HAVE MORE

Good news from England, and all the more welcome because in some quarters it was only half expected.

The British government has publicly announced that the four billion of dollars it owes to the United States is a solemn and sacred obligation and must be paid dollar for dollar and penny for penny.

There's one worry temporarily removed. It may be some time before we get it, but in the meantime it is drawing interest and the interest will materially swell the principal. Like the apple that is just beyond our reach, it will be mighty good when it finally lands at our feet.

From France the news is not so cheering. She continues to pine for cancellation of her debt to us, and is as pined as a spoiled child, because we turn a deaf ear to such proposals.

From the other countries in our debt there appears to be no late news. 'Tis said is better than bad news.

We still retain a glimmer of hope.

WE'RE STUMPED.

We really ought to have something to say about the latest sensation of the day.

But, candidly, we are stumped.

There are so many sensations, and they come so thick and fast, that we are unable to decide which is the latest, or the juiciest, or which would be most relished by our readers.

Therefore, dear friends, we humbly crave your indulgence, and ask that you refrain from expecting the impossible from us.

Besides, this is not a sensational sheet. It is a newspaper, instead.

Periodically some one arises and remarks that "no man understands the heart of a woman."

Of course not. Men are not supposed to understand them. The feminine heart is peculiarly the property of woman, to conceal in any manner she thinks best.

From infancy men are taught to reverence and respect womanhood, and that respect is enhanced by the mystery which surrounds her heart. That which is discernable to everyone becomes common.

Womanhood was never intended to be such.

A few weeks ago we were all expecting Morgan and his international bankers to advance the money necessary to put Germany on her feet.

Such an act would be beneficial to the whole world, as it would remove the menace of bolshevism which is hanging like a cloud over that land.

The deal fell through—at the time. But don't imagine that is the end of Morgan and the other money men.

Germany collapses completely it will mean another war immediately and the annihilation of civilization.

To protect their own interests the money must be forthcoming to prevent Europe from going to smash.

It will be advanced—under proper safeguards and at the right time.

Soon the fall months will be upon us and the rains will be raising merry waters with their streets and thoroughfares. Mud will be as cheap as German marks or Russian rubles.

It is not too late to make some temporary street improvements in this town.

The streets would not be great, but convenience would be far in the end.

The less people's time is worth, the more likely they are to scatter litter around for some one else to pick up.

LOAFER HENS ARE DOOMED AS CULLING GOES FORWARD

Lexington—Within the next few weeks the annual fall culling of poultry flocks will be in full swing in practically all parts of the State, poultrymen at the College of Agriculture say. Before the end of the season in early October approximately one-third of the nine million hens in the State will join the loafing class that culling is designed to eliminate. This ratio is based on the results of culling campaigns that have been conducted in Kentucky in previous years.

As in former years, an intensive campaign again will be conducted against these low producing hens in all parts of the State this year. Demonstrations by county agricultural agents and poultry specialists from the college to show farmers how to recognize the loafing hens will comprise the major part of the movement. These demonstrations will be planned to include as many districts of the State as possible and it is expected that the majority of farmers will be taught the culling method before the season closes.

Farmers who attend the demonstrations in various parts of the State will in turn tell their own flocks and in some cases show their neighbors how the work is done. Egg production records also will be kept on the various flocks for a week before and after culling in order to show that the hens which were eliminated were laying few if any eggs.

Each year culling proves to be a popular movement with farmers and poultry raisers. The fact that one-third of the hens in the flock can be culled out and sold for cash without reducing the number of eggs obtained from the flock together with the fact that culling is more effective for laying hens appeals to the poultry flock owner who is attempting to make the most profit from his business.

WORLD'S LARGEST FISH PIER SITUATED AT BOSTON, MASS.

Boston has the largest fish pier in the world, says the Bureau of Chemistry, United States Department of Agriculture, which supervises interstate shipment of fish under the Federal food and drugs act. The pier is devoted exclusively to the fish business, is 1,200 feet long, 300 feet wide, and is paved with brick and concrete in such a manner that it can be easily cleaned by flushing with water. The pier was built by the State of Massachusetts at a cost of $3,000,000. Eighty vessels can discharge their cargoes there at the same time.

The shiploads of fish are sold at auction to wholesale dealers, bids being bid upon the statement of the captain of each vessel as to the amount and quality of each variety on board. If the buyer is dissatisfied he may call in the Fish Exchange Inspector for an opinion, and either party may appeal to the Arbitration Committee of the Fish Bureau.

On the pier fresh water is used for washing the fish, but it has been found that salt water is more effective in removing fish slime from walls and floors.

THE RAIN.

Did you ever think what a wonderful thing rain is? We complain in the winter and spring because it seems the rain will never cease. Then by degrees the rain stops. For a time we sigh and glad. Then we begin to miss it. We begin to look anxiously at the sky for some sign of rain. After a bit we begin to wonder if we are going to have a disastrous drought, one like we had in 1908.

Then just about the time when we begin to imagine that our crops will perish for lack of moisture, that famine and starvation confronts us that we will not be able to meet our bills, somewhere, far out on the horizon a cloud appears. It grows and we see fitful lightning flashes away off. It may be hours before we finally hear the rumblings of an approaching storm. Then it comes and the first rain drops begin to patter down, we sigh with relief, and when it swells into a steady downpour and we are sure that the impending drought will be broken that neither famine nor starvation confront us, our satisfaction increases as space.

We go out in the morning after the rain has passed and we witness a wonderful phenomena. The grass which was parched and bare is beginning to take on new life. We can almost see and hear the corn growing. As nature is waking. The world seems brighter, the air purer, clean washed by the rain.

Others may like to live in irrigated regions where rain seldom falls, but for me, give me the good old rain interspersed with plenty of lightning and thunder. There is nothing like it and we would be lonesome without it.—Grant County News.

ELIZA ELLEN WEST, DEAD

Eliza Ellen West, wife of Elijah West, died at her home in Aurora, Indiana, one day last week. She was born in Boone county, October 17th, 1862, and was united in marriage to Eli West January 1st, 1871. She united with the Middle creek Baptist church in November 1871.

The less people's time is worth, the more likely they are to scatter litter around for some one else to pick up.

MUSCLE SHOALS.

By the close vote of 9 to 7, the State Agricultural Committee refused to endorse the Ford proposal to lease the nitrate plant at Muscle Shoals, Ala. The committee seems to have had a very difficult time making a decision. The subject has been in its hands for months and apparently has been much deliberated.

Not the least striking feature of the vote is the split between members of the agricultural bloc. Norris and Gooding, for example, voted against the Ford offer, while Capner and Ladd voted for its acceptance. This indicates that there is much difference of opinion as to whether Ford's operation of Muscle Shoals would benefit the farmer by insuring cheap fertilizer.

Fortunately the way is paved for the submission of the matter to the whole Senate. Senator Ladd has been authorized to submit a minority report favoring the disposal of the plant to Henry Ford, and the meantime, all other private offers for the plant and all other suggestions for its operation have been either rejected or held in abeyance.

In considering the Ford offer, the Senate will do well to do so with an open mind. Already too much politics clutters up what should be purely a business proposition. The Government has sunk many millions into the property; if the war had lasted longer the expense would have been justified. But it is now preparing to spend $7,500,000 more. Aside from the necessity of issuing a nitrate supply in time of war, the Government has no use for Muscle Shoals.

A private manufacturer—especially one like Henry Ford—could make Muscle Shoals a great industrial center whose products would add to the wealth of the country and whose shops would employ thousands of men. The Government itself certainly could not undertake a similar programme. If the plant is not leased to Henry Ford, what will be done with it? Are the millions it cost to be charged to profit and loss, or are they to be the foundation for a humming industrial city?—Courier-Journal.

PUREBRED RAMS FOR FLOCK

Lexington, Ky.—Good profits that have been made from sheep in Kentucky during the last year have helped create a marked interest among farmers in the value of purebred rams for flock improvement, according to J. H. Locher, in charge of sheep at the College of Agriculture. Numerous inquiries are being received from farmers in different sections of the State requesting the college and county agricultural agents to assist them in finding purebred rams that can be purchased for use during the fall breeding season, he said. Rams of the type desired are scarce and indications are that prices for them will be rather high, he added.

Reports being received from county agents in various sections of the State are considered good indications of the rapid way in which scrub rams on their farms, with purebred. Ciphertexten county farmers who are cooperating with County Agent John R. Spencer are carrying out an intensive campaign for the introduction of more purebred rams in that section of the State. Hampshire seems to be in demand, orders for 15 registered rams of this breed having been made up to the present time.

Three purebred rams of the Hampshire breed have been ordered by Livingston county farmers, according to County Agent L. C. Pace.

Most people have their good points and their poor ones. A few have none at all.

In the good old days when we were good we were called pet names. When we were bad, we were called to the woodshed.

LITTLE THINGS OF LIFE.

The capacity to enjoy life is one great thing, to be able to matter what happens to wear a serene face. If things are not what we would wish, enjoy what we can and move on for better times. There are no more attractive persons living than those who never enjoy life, who look upon it as a vain of tears, who, if they do take pleasure in anything, do so under protest. The most unpromising conditions of life may be made to yield some good if we look for it, and the looking for it will do us good even if we do not find it; the dwelling on the disadvantages, on the other hand, shuts off all hope of our seeing any possible good if it should be there. So, if we would make ourselves attractive in the best sense of the word, cultivate a capacity for pleasure in the little things, the bird songs that waken us in the morning, and we will never lack material to interest us, for our lives are made up of little pleasures, little troubles, and small things generally.

SHOULD BE GOOD.

Hunting for quail and rabbits in Boone county this fall and winter should be better than ever, if all reports are true concerning the abundance of game. The dove law this year will not be out until the first of September and it will be lawful to kill them until the first day of December.

The KITCHEN CABINET

Copyright, 1928, Western Newspaper Union

"Trust him little, who praises all, him less who praises all, and him least who is indifferent to all."
"Self-conquest is the greatest of victories."

GOOD EATING

A good soup is a dish not to be despised. The simplest of foods may be made appealing if care is taken in its preparation and seasoning, the most complex and extravagant food may be spoiled by the handling.

Veal Soup.—Take one pound of veal from the shoulder, cut in small pieces and brown in a table-spoonful of drippings. Remove the veal to a casserole, add four table-spoonfuls of drippings to the frying pan and cook one cupful of diced onion until yellow, then add the onions to the veal and three table-spoonfuls of flour to the drippings and reserve to add for the gravy. To the veal and onions add 1½ cupfuls of hot water, cover and cook slowly for three hours; an hour before serving add two cupfuls of diced potatoes and one of diced turnips. Cook until tender, add the fat and flour to the casserole and serve from the casserole.

Melt four table-spoonfuls of fat, add one table-spoonful of minced onion and cook until soft; add four table-spoonfuls flour, seasoning to taste, and three cupfuls of tomato; cook, stirring constantly until smooth and thick. Cook five minutes, then add one cupful of grated cheese and the spaghetti, mixing with a fork lightly. Pile in the center of a hot platter, garnish with strips of boiled ham.

Veal Soup.—Take two pounds of the knuckle of veal, cover with water and cook until the veal is tender. There should be five or six cupfuls of stock. Add two cupfuls of diced potatoes to the stock and cook until tender. Cut the meat in small cubes, add them to the cooked potatoes, add table-spoonfuls of mushroom catsup, one-half teaspoonful of salt and pepper to season. Thicken slightly with a table-spoonful of flour mixed with one table-spoonful of butter, and when well cooked add to the meat and stock. Chop one hard-cooked egg and pour the meat and vegetables over it. Lay one-half lemon, thinly sliced, over the meat and serve hot.

Neely Maxwell

THE KITCHEN CABINET

Copyright, 1928, Western Newspaper Union

It may be proved with much certainty that God intends man to live in this world without working; but it seems to me no less evident that He intends every man to be happy in his work. It is written, "the greatest of thy brow," but it was never written, "in the breaking of thy heart," thou shalt eat bread.—John Ruskin.

HELPFUL SUGGESTIONS

To the small town or country housewife who has not easy access to a market there is a great satisfaction in the knowledge that no matter who comes she is prepared for an emergency. This first aid in an emergency is a well-stocked shelf kept filled with foods which may be used in a hurry call when husband brings home unexpected company.

With canned soups or home canned soups or broths one may make a good dish for the beginning of a meal, then with a jar of salad dressing one sort of a salad is usually easy to prepare. If one has time a berry pie makes a fine dessert; or a shortcake, using canned fruit, is always a favorite. The foods used will depend, of course, upon the taste of the family, and if one is to be prepared the canned food, whatever it is, should be replaced at the first opportunity.

A few cans of fish, such as salmon and tuna, sardines and clams, if liked, some jars of sliced dried beef, and bacon, peas and corn, cans of corn and tomatoes, with a bottle of good salad dressing, which may be stretched by the addition of cream, a box or jar of cheese, are a few of the foods which will be most commonly used, not forgetting several cans of good soup. A most delicious tomato sauce may be made in a hurry from a can of tomato soup, using it with cold meat or hamburger steak, if at hand.

When taking dishes to a church supper or hall, mark them with small bits of adhesive tape with the name written in ink. This will not wash off at all easily, and one may identify one's property with little difficulty.

When baking a crust for a filled pie, bake it on the bottom of the pan, pricking it lightly with a fork; this keeps the crust from blistering.

To make bias binding take the blind or from the sewing machine and press the material as it is drawn through the shade.

Neely Maxwell

LIKE ICE TEA DRINK Nobetter Tea

Makes the Finest Drink Hot or Cold
1-4 Lb. Package 20c, - Pound 75c

Rarus Flour

You can't get better Flour than this
Bbl. in wood, $8.00
98-lb Cotton bag $3.75
EVERY POUND IS GUARANTEED

HERE'S COFFEE THAT IS REAL COFFEE.

Nobetter Coffee, The Best Coffee there is lb. .... 33c
Drinkmore Coffee Second only lb. .... 25c
Four Pounds or more Delivered by Parcel Post Paid.

Canning Supplies.

Mason Jars, Star Tin Cans, Jar Caps, Jar Rings, Sealing Wax, Paraffine, Wax Strings, Etc.
GET OUR PRICES.

Northern Kentucky's LEADING GROCERS AND SEEDSMEN.

Geo. Hill & Co.
274 N. 1st St. Louisville, Ky.
Long Distance Phone S. 1855 and S. 1856.
Established 1863.

HEATING SYSTEMS

CALORIC - GOTTSCHALK

Pipeless Furnaces, Pipe Furnaces,
Hot Water, Steam and Vapor.

—WE REPAIR—

FURNACES AND ROOFS

The Gottschalk Furnace & Roofing Co.
Phone S 1287 (Incorporated) COVINGTON, KY.

VULCANIZING.

Complete line of Goodyear, Goodrich and Kelly-Springfield Tires and Tubes, good Grade of Automobile and Tractor Oils and Greases.

Auto Accessories kept in stock.

GEORGE PORTER,
BURLINGTON, KY.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN,
DENTIST
In my new office
Clayola Place, Florence, Ky.
Teeth extracted, painless. Bridge and Plate Work a Specialty.
All Work Guaranteed

JAMES L. ADAMS
DENTIST
Cohen Building
Pike Street, Covington, Ky.

You Can Trade the Article You Don't Need For Something You Do by Advertising.

READ YOUR COUNTY PAPER
$1.50 The Year.

TAKE YOUR COUNTY PAPER
Take Your County Paper.

F. W. Kassebaum & Son
GRANITE & MARBLE
MONUMENTS,
A Large Stock on Display to Select from.
Pneumatic Tool Equipme't
118 Main Street,
AURORA, IND.

Tringlass Replaced, Cushions and Seats Rebuilt
Buggy and Wagon Upholstering OF QUALITY
RUFUS W. TANNER
Auto Top Repairing
Seats covers for all makes of cars.
Dixie Highway Erlanger, Ky.
Phone Erl. 79-Y.

People who use the classified ads in this paper profit by them. The little ads bring quick results. What have you for sale or want to buy? The cost is too small to consider.

BOONE CO. RECORDER

Published every Thursday
N. E. RIDDELL, Publisher.

Foreign Advertising Representative
THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Entered at the Postoffice, Burlington, Ky., as second-class mail.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Furnished on application. The value of the RECORDER as an advertising medium is unquestioned. The character of the advertisements in its columns, and the number of those, tell the whole story.

Mrs. J. O. Huey has been quite ill for several days.

W. C. Hughes and wife spent Sunday with relatives at Erlanger.

Wallace Rice, of Idlewild neighborhood, spent Sunday with his parents in Burlington.

Many folks are trying to get acquainted with the world by borrowing money to pay their bills.

The girls need not be afraid to have their hair bobbed, as the sheep seem to get through shearing time all right.

W. D. Sutton and wife, D. R. Blythe and wife, Harold Gaines and wife spent Sunday at Chester Park, Cincinnati.

What has become of the girl who used to be joyously happy when invited to go out and take a five cent trolley ride.

Some people who joined the Back to the Land movement are reported to have built their garages before they did their cow barns.

Formerly American people were newspapers printed long reports of sermons, but now their space is filled with automobile accidents.

Many base ball spectators feel that the way to back up the home team is to yell for the home players to be taken out of the game.

Some men who formerly wanted all reckless automobile drivers jailed, are now propelling their own machines over the roads at cheerful speed.

A. B. Renaker, wife and daughter, Mrs. Laura Martin and Miss Nell Martin spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Walton at Petersburg.

Catalogues for the Ky State Fair are off of the press, and any one wanting a copy can get same by writing Secretary Kentucky State Fair, Louisville, Ky.

NOTICE—State and County taxes are now due, and my office will be open every day to receive same.
B. B. HUME,
Sheriff.

The fall of a European cabinet does not create much excitement here, but the newspapers use black headlines when the ball team hires some new players.

Mrs. Cynthia Jones and daughters Lottie and Maire, of Cleveland, O., and Mrs. Hazel Hubbard and sons, Conrad, are sending a few weeks with Sam, Everett and John Barnes, of near Burlington.

The members of the Bullittville Christian church will give a Dutch Lunch and Ice Cream Supper at the home of Hankins and Riley, Hebron, Saturday evening, July, 10th, from 4 to 12 o'clock. All are invited.

Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Carpenter, C. E. Easton and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. William Craddock, Charlie and Goldie McGinnis, Ethel Eggleston and Miss Kittie Gaines, spent Sunday at the Zoological Garden, Cincinnati.

The officers and directors of the Florence Fair have engaged special features for the 1922 fair, and it will be their desire that not one minute of the day will be passed without a special feature to attract the attention and entertain the crowd.

The catalogues of the Erlanger Fair are now being distributed. A day and night fair will be held this year. The grounds will be lighted at night and dancing, concert and other acts will be the feature. No stock shows will be held at the night fair.

Edwin M. Gaines and family, of Milwaukee, Wis., and his mother, Mrs. Lizzie Gaines, of Louisville, are visiting friends and relatives in this part of the county. Mr. Gaines holds a very lucrative position with the National Cash Register Co., of Dayton, Ohio.

Quite a number from Burlington attended the games played between Cincinnati and New York at Cincinnati, last week. A five game series was played, each club winning two games, and the fifth game which was played Sunday afternoon, was attended by one of the largest crowds that ever came to the grounds, thus the first series. The game was won by the Cincinnati team.

SPRITLY SILK FROCKS

Any number of sprightly, new taffeta frocks came trooping in, in advance of spring, and they were perfectly sure of a welcome. Along lines similar to those in the pretty model shown here designers have made them in very great variety, suited to gay youth and varied to please charming age. In a conspiracy to make them wholly irresistible to gentlemen, lace is introduced in the sleeve or neck or both, and the silk is used in hand-made embellishments of flowers and ruchings, covered cord or straps. The dress pictured here for afternoon, or informal wear, is a youthful model with full scalloped tunic over a plain skirt. Its elbow sleeves, of the taffeta, are lengthened by a puff of fine net ending in a band of silk at the wrist. Straps of the taffeta extend from the elbow to cuffs and roses of it are set about the tunic. The scalloped edge is finished with a silk-covered cord.

WAREHOUSES NOT NEEDED BY POOL TO BE SOLD

Director Ralph M. Barker Says Lots Houses and Excess Real Estate Will Go To Highest Bidder As Soon As Details Arranged.

Lexington, Ky.—Warehouse and other property owned by the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, but not needed by it for the transaction of its business, will be sold at auction to the highest bidder, Director of Warehouses Ralph M. Barker said today, as soon as arrangements can be made to advertise them and arrange for the sales.

"In some towns we have two warehouses where only one is needed," said Director Barker. In other towns we have three or four receiving plants where two are ample to care for the business. In some county seats we have no warehouses and establishing new receiving plants, the warehouses not needed will be dismantled and moved to the location of the new receiving plants.

"In acquiring the warehouse property we now hold we have also acquired a number of lots, which could be sold for building lots, and a few other buildings, including some dwellings. Those will be disposed of at auction to the highest bidder, as well as our excess receiving plants."

"Because of the inconvenience of handling tobacco in some of the burley counties which have been signed up or which now are signing up their crops liberally to the Association, the growers being compelled to ship for considerable distances or being forced to a long haul to market, we have decided to establish receiving plants at four new points, one in Indiana and five in Kentucky."

Mr. Barker said that in each case the warehouse or receiving plant established would be financed locally and in case of removals of plants dismantled at other points the expense would be paid by local stockholders, who then would offer the warehouse to the Association on the same terms as the other plants taken over by the Association have been bought.

Director Barker has finished the work of taking over the receiving plants at every point in the district save two and in those but one warehouse in each remains to be decided to the Association. Of the 130 plants available in the Burley district at the time of the organization of the Association 122 have been decided to it and two more will be as soon as the necessary adjustment of values is made.

In less than a dozen cases, Director Barker said, in arriving at the values of the property taken over by the Association, was it necessary to use the services of arbitrators.

WILL BE CANDIDATE.

Gus Dibowski, who in former times conducted a saloon on Pike Street, Covington, will be a candidate for Congress in opposition to our candidate, Hon. A. B. Rouse. Mr. Dibowski announced as one of the planks in his platform to be a modification of the Volstead Prohibition Act. No doubt he would want that act modified so that he could open another saloon and dispose of as much beer and liquor as he could in the county.

LIVE STOCK

PREVENT LOSS IN SHIPPING

Partitions in Stock Cars Separating Large Animals From Small Once in Good Idea.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

"A little time and labor, possibly a little money, expended in building a strong partition to separate the big animals from the small ones in a mixed carload of live stock frequently saves the shipper from a serious loss on the consignment, may specialists of the bureau of markets, United States Department of Agriculture. The smaller animals, such as hogs, lambs, goats and sheep are always in danger of injury from the larger animals, and this is especially true when the car is overcrowded."

Crippled animals mean a loss to the shipper, for they bring prices considerably below the regular market price for sound stock. Dead animals bring still less—in the case of hogs only about 50 to 75 cents per hundred pounds for grease. There is always the danger, too, of the small stock becoming bruised, through being jostled and kicked by the larger ones. Bruises make a carcass less valuable, as the meat inspectors in the slaughterhouses cut out all bruised spots. Meat thus mutilated is sold at cheaper grades, the depreciation depending upon how much cutting was necessary. The buyers of the stock yards know this, of course, and, consequently, pay less for animals that show bruises or seem likely to have suffered in this way.

Goats Cleaning Out Weed Patch.

Buyers are afraid of bruised stock, and for this reason are suspicious of small animals arriving at the stock yards in a mixed carload where the larger animals are not partitioned off. Such injuries are difficult to detect in the live animal, but when small stock, such as calves and lambs, arrive in a badly soiled condition buyers usually suspect they have been trampled and bruised by larger animals, and as a rule the buyers pay less by paying less money for such stock.

MORE BROOD SOWS ON FARMS

Increase of 1,237,000 Over Year Ago Is Seen, Due Largely to Big Stock of Corn.

There were 12,424,000 breeding sows on farms April 1, the United States Department of Agriculture estimates. This is 1,237,000 animals more than on the same date in 1921 and represents an increase of 11.1 per cent.

The large corn crop last year and the unusually large farm stocks of corn are given as the explanation of the large increase in breeding sows this spring. Corn was worth more on the farm than in 1921, and hogs were needed to eat the corn.

The number of hogs is quickly responsive to the general economic situation, the department points out. In April 1918, the number of breeding sows was 9.5 per cent more than on the same date in 1917, due to high hog prices as a result of war conditions. The figures on April, 1920, show a decline of 10 per cent for the year ended on that date. The reason for this was that the price of corn was relatively too high to encourage the feeding of hogs.

FINE FORAGE CROPS FOR PIGS

Rape Is Rich in Protein, While Alfalfa Will Carry More Animals Per Acre.

Rape is rich in protein, and is almost equal to alfalfa as a forage crop for pigs. The chief advantage to alfalfa lies in the fact that it will generally carry more pigs per acre, and does not need to be reseeded each year.

Make Land Pay More.

Purchased live stock on every farm would go far toward making high priced land pay 6 per cent net on its value.

Have Purchased Female Yea. Of course the purchased sire is the first step, but there's no good argument against purchased females in live stock improvement.

Yield Crops of Animals.

These good crops of the animals are the first step, but there's no good argument against purchased females in live stock improvement.

Trade Where They All Trade

A Sprayer for Every Use

The Little Midget hand sprayer, ea.....30c
Pratt's Hand Sprayer, ea.....50c
Continuous Sprayer, each.....$1.00
Compressed Air Sprayer.....$4.00 and $6.50
Foot Bucket Sprayers.....$4.50 and $6.00
Barrel Sprayer.....$18.00
Portable Sprayer.....$25.00

Spray your cows—Increase the flow of milk, and give comfort to cow and milker.

Cow Ease.....Qt. 40c; 1 gal. 75c. 1 gal. $1.25
Pratt's Fly Chaser.....1 gal. 85c; 1 gal. $1.35
Bishop's Germ and Fly Killer.....1 gal. 60c; 1 gal. 90c

Cracked Corn—dried, best quality—
100 lb. bag.....$1.75
Scratch Feed, no grit, 100 lb. bag.....1.85
Blatchford's Calf Meal, 25 lb. bag.....1.25
Corn Meal, kiln dried, 100 lb. bag.....1.80

Paris Green.....1 lb. 40c; 5 lbs. $1.75
Arsenate of Lead Powder, Black Leaf, Calcium Arsenate, London Purple, Heleboro, etc., etc.

GOLDEN BLEND COFFEE—the best for 25 years, - 33c
GEE WHIZ COFFEE—a 30c-coffee - 25c
OUR BLEND TEA—a sparkling drink, lb - 60c

One dollar's worth of any Tea or Coffee sent postpaid.

GEO. C. GOODE

Groceries, Flour, Seeds, Medicines

19-21 Pike St. -18-20 West Seventh St.
WHOLESALE—"Covington's Largest Seed and Grocery House"—RETAIL
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Phones South 335 and 836.

KENTUCKY WHEAT CONTAINS BAD MIXTURE OF VARIETIES

Lexington.—The majority of seed wheat sown in Kentucky during the last year has been a mixture of three or more varieties, according to Ralph Kenney, a member of the College of Agriculture agronomy department. This factor, no doubt, has contributed toward the low yields which have been obtained in some sections of the State. Pure seed invariably yields higher than a mixture of several strains, he added.

"At the present time, seed from Ashland, the new pedigreed and high yielding variety developed at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, is the purest to be found in the State. Despite the wide distribution of this strain over the State, an inspection of 96 fields of it during the present summer showed that it contained less than one per cent of any other wheat in nine out of every ten fields where it was grown."

"In Central Kentucky where considerable Fultz wheat is grown, actual counts made this summer showed that wheat seed purchased under the name of Fultz contained as much as 80 per cent bearded wheats where as Fultz is not bearded."

"In the purchase section of Western Kentucky, where carlots of wheat seed are purchased from Missouri, the inspection showed that fields sown with seed supposed to be pure Fultz contained 30 to 40 per cent bearded red chaff and about 20 per cent bearded white chaff. Of the remaining 60 to 80 per cent, at least half of it was found to be smooth red chaff wheat."

"In Todd, Christian and Logan counties, located in Southwestern Kentucky, where Gill wheat is popular, this variety, although perhaps pure at one time, was found to contain 88 per cent smooth red chaff wheat of which one-half or more was of an early May variety."

CAMP KIRTLLEY

The farmers of this community are very much discouraged, as they can not possibly raise more than a half crop of anything now, owing to the long drought. With the exception of two small showers, we have had no rain since May 23. Some of the farmers are disking up their last planting of corn, and planting cane instead for stock feed. About one-half stand of tobacco and that suffering for rain—these are the two main crops in this part of the country.

A very interesting protracted meeting is in progress at the East Bend M. E. church by the regular pastor Rev. Traynor, assisted by Rev. Robertson, both able ministers and considerable interest is being shown.

On several nights the house would not hold the people that attended. The Rabbit Hash and Big Bone pike had very much the appearance of the Dixie Highway last Sunday, as it was lined all day with all kinds of machines, carriages and huggies, and a few on horseback.

Eq. B. C. Kirtley is a very busy man—stacking his thirty-five acres of wheat, which he claims will make 30 bushels to the acre. There are about a dozen crops of wheat in the bottom waiting for the thrasher, all claiming it good.

Dodge Brothers

ANNOUNCE

A BUSINESS COUPE

Conservative changes in the body design of all other types.

Roadster....$ 920
Coupe.....1,063
Touring Car. 955
Sedan.....1,550

Dempsey Motor Car Company

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY

Phone Erlanger, 70-L

ARE YOU A READER OF THE RECORDER?

Try It---Only $1.50 The Year.

Don't Fail to Read All The Ads in This Issue.

Subscribe For The Recorder.....$1.50 per year

THE CHAIN-LETTER.

One of the most childish bits of superstition to which the adult mind is prey is the so-called "chain-letter." All who receive these letters are enjoined to send similar ones to nine friends within twenty-four hours. At the end of nine days, if you have been an obedient link in the chain, you are told you may expect some good fortune. If you refuse to be annoyed, bad luck is promised you. So widespread is this silly custom that Dr. Hubert Work, Postmaster General, in behalf of the mail service, has issued an appeal to the common sense of the people not to clutter up the mails with such matter. Thousands of dollars in postage stamps, white paper and time are wasted in receiving, pondering and broadcasting the chain-letters, to say nothing of the puerility of the whole proceeding.

Those who insist upon casting charms upon their lives, inviting the smile of Destiny and the wink of Fate, have enough devices handed down from the days of savagery to satisfy them without troubling their friends. Let them carry rabbit's feet, buckeyes and horseshoes. Let them never break mirrors. Let them perform with due solemnity the salt ritual. Let them do anything that will forestall the avalanche of chain-letters upon proxy persons who do not care to court their luck.—C.J.

DO NOT BE A SOIL ROBBER.

The stranger in passing through the community can tell the condition of the people by the shape their farms are in.

The live prosperous populace live on thrifty looking farms. They are practicing habits of thrift and are building up the soil of their farms. They are not afraid to put a few loads of rock in the chuck holes in the road that runs before their doors and over which they must travel every day.

We only have a life time lease upon our land and soon we will be called upon to give an account of our stewardship here. If we have been soil robbers we have wronged the future generations and injured the present. Any good farmer improves his land.

Plowed land will improve if sowed to grain in the fall and grass in the spring and cultivated one year at a time.

Land so cultivated grows grass better and is more easily gotten back in grass and will be a better paying proposition to the owner.

Crops grown upon the farm should be fed there together with a few additional tons of feed.

Too much stock upon the farm will mean war it out, better let the grass grow one year in three and keep the moving machine busy and the soil will be better.

FLORENCE THEATRE
LORENCE, KY.

Every Tues. and Sat.

THE BEST

MOVING PICTURES

Admission, 22c &amp; 10c

NONPARIEL PARK

Mrs. Chas. Chipman spent Thursday of last week in Cincinnati, shopping.

Elder Cahill and Floyd Chipman attended the ball game in Cincinnati, Friday.

Clifford Norman and wife, of Covington, were guests of relatives in Florence, Sunday.

Miss Hannah Oelsner was calling on Mrs. Jerry Conrad and Miss Bridget Carey, Sunday.

Rev. Garber aided Rev. Swindler with a series of meetings at Sand Run church this week.

Mrs. Arthur Kraus and son, and Mrs. Mattie Hoover, spent Wednesday in Cincinnati, shopping.

Mr. A. M. House sold his farm in the suburbs of Florence to a man from Cincinnati, Ky. Price $5,000.

Mrs. J. O. Carpenter was a guest one day last week of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Norman, of Covington.

Mrs. Susie Groger and children were guests a few days last week of Mrs. Clifford Boyce, of Covington.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Frazer, of Dixie Highway, had for guests the past week, a gentleman friend of Chicago.

Dr. Souther and wife, of Cincinnati, were guests of his parents Albert Souther and wife, of Main-st., Sunday.

Mrs. Ola Carpenter spent a few days last week with her daughter, Mrs. J. T. Williams, of Bullittsville neighborhood.

Hill Johnson wife and daughter, of Covington, called on his wife, Joe Baxter and family, of Nonpareil Park, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. August Drunkenburg (nee Katie Tanner) are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine boy since last Monday.—August Jr.

A large crowd attended the Nonpareil Park dance Saturday night, and was enjoyed by old and young. A dance every Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Slayback, of Crescent Springs, motored out Saturday and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Tanner, of Gunpowder.

Mrs. Ed. Bentham and daughter, Miss Frances, of Walnut Hills, were week-end guests of her parents, James Tanner and wife, of Burlington Pike.

Mr. and Mrs. John King had as week-end guests Mr. Lee Tibbatts wife and daughter Dorothy, Mr. Wm. King and wife, and Mr. Wall Ledders and wife, of Newport.

Mrs. James Tanner was called to the bedside of her brother, W. R. Powers, at Walton, who was in the automobile accident last Saturday week. He was improving at last account.

Mrs. Lizzie Ritter, (nee Riddle) having wife of A. M. Ritter, passed away at her home in Erlanger, on Wednesday, July 21. She formerly lived on the Union pike. She had been ill for several months with heart trouble. The funeral service was held at the late home in Erlanger Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. The remains were forwarded to Richmond, Ky.

Mrs. Della Uts died at her home in Florence on Tuesday of last week after an illness of several months of that dreaded disease, cancer of the stomach. The remains were taken to Hopeful last Thursday afternoon, where a very impressive funeral service was conducted by Rev. Royer at the grave. The remains were interred in Hopeful cemetery in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends.

BIG BONE.

Charles Johnson is visiting his grandparents in Patriot, Indiana.

Tom Black and son Lucian, made a business trip to the city Tuesday.

Mrs. Lida Johnson of near Beaver was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Mary Noell, Sunday.

Mrs. Sallie Moore and little son, Marvin, Jr., were guests of Douglas Moore and family, Sunday.

Mrs. Lucy Wolf and two children of near Richmond, visited her parents the latter part of the week.

Clarence Norman and wife, of near Union, visited the latter son, Chas. Melvin and family, last week.

Miss Lillian Conley, of Detroit, Michigan, is at Ft. Thomas visiting relatives. She will later visit relatives here.

Mr. Vena Bagby wife and two children of Independence, spent a few days last week with Polk Hamilton and wife.

Clos. Baker, Melvin Moore, Cooper Allen, Charles Melvin and Ernest Baker, called on Mrs. Connelly Saturday.

The Harvest Home privileges will be offered for sale at Harvest Home grounds Saturday, August 5th at 2 o'clock p. m.

IDLEWILD.

B. L. Rich, Jr., had an old fashioned barn raising Monday.

Miss Mattie Kreylich spent the week-end in Cincinnati, with her stepmother Miss Catharn Steifel.

Dr. Henry Lee Grant and Mrs. Grant, of Louisville, are enjoying a two week's vacation with Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Grant.

Mrs. Robert Stalk Hannah and interesting children, are enjoying a delightful visit with Mrs. Leonard Gibson, in Rising Sun.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stephens motored out from Covington, Saturday, and remained over Sunday, guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Stephens.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Matson Rachal, Jr., and small daughter Patricia, and Miss Norma Rachal, of Union, were guests Sunday of their aunt, Mrs. James Asbury.

The floor in the Bullittsburg church has been attractively redone and adds much to the appearance of the building. On account of this, services were held there Sunday.

Rev. E. W. Coakley, a prominent minister from Southern Ky., will begin a protracted service at Bullittsburg, Sunday, July 30th. Rev. J. W. Campbell, resident pastor, extends to the public a cordial invitation to attend these services.

(Too late for last week.)

Miss Nell Stephens spent part of the past week at Carter's camp on Woolper.

Little Miss Gladys Jones, of Union, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Wilber Rice.

Mrs. Flossie Campbell-Martin was ill Monday and unable to attend Normil School.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Yates, of Petersburg, dined Monday with Mrs. James S. Asbury.

A. H. Norman went to Union Saturday to see his sister, Mrs. W. M. Rachal, Sr., who is ill.

L. B. Rich, Jr., is having a large tobacco barn built. Pettit, of Bullittsville, doing the work.

A light shower fell here Monday night, but gave no relief to the serious drought we are enduring.

Dr. G. W. Cooper came over from Burlington and spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Berkshire.

Mrs. Lorena Cropper, of Burlington, was the mid-week guest of her daughter, Mrs. Chester Grant and Mr. Grant.

Prof. Carnegie, one of the instructors in the Normal School, was pleasantly entertained Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kreylich.

Mrs. W. O. Rector is much pleased with the new power washing machine sold to her by last week by Jackson, of Lawrenceburg.

Max Charles Edward Grant is home from Dr. Finney's private hospital, Cincinnati, where he was operated on for adenoids and tonsils.

Dr. Paul Randall, Mrs. Randall and interesting family, arrived by motor Wednesday, from Louisville, for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. E. Y. Randall.

Miss Maud N. Asbury and Mrs. Ben S. Houston, were guests at the reception given Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Eugene Berkshire, at her beautiful home in Petersburg in honor of Mrs. Laura Williams, of Tennessee.

After a brief visit with her kinpeople Miss Martha Randall has returned to Columbia University, where she will take some special work before going on to Philadelphia where she will teach the coming year.

FLICKERTOWN.

J. W. White and family dined with Russell Pinn and wife, Sunday.

Mrs. Leslie Seebree and son visited at Norwood, Ohio, last week.

Mrs. Oscar Beemon is visiting relatives in Rising Sun, Indiana.

Jess Holt took a load of nice peaches to Aurora one day last week.

Alice White visited Wm. Hughes and family from Saturday until Monday.

Bernard Seebree and wife visited at Bellevue on Saturday of last week.

Mr. Courtney Williams called on his best girl near here Saturday and Sunday.

Clifford Limly and wife entertained relatives and friends from Indiana, Sunday.

Lucette Baker and Babe returned to her home in Muncie, Ind., after a month's stay with her parents.

James Gaines' hay field got on fire one day last week, and caused considerable excitement for a while.

Mrs. Oscar Beemon and daughter Neoma, were pleasant callers at J. White's Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Atin entertained all of their children last Wednesday with a bountiful dinner.

Paris Akin, wife and son returned to their home at Winchester, after two weeks' visit with his parents.

F. M. Voshell and family, Leslie Seebree and Mabel Gaines were in Indiana one day last week with County Agent Sutton looking at fine poultry, pedigreed cattle and hogs.

NOTICE.

The Harvest Home privileges will be offered for sale at Harvest Home grounds Saturday, August 5th at 2 o'clock p. m.

J. J. Taylor, Editor.

Folks surely do crowd around you for your biscuits.

When you make 'em with-

Telephone Flour

A Leader for Forty-Five Years

Ask Your Grocer

Unexpected!

a New "USCO"—

Better, Heavier, Longer Wearing

30x3 1/2—$10.90 No Tax added

on Sale Now

USCO set the high value mark for 30x3 1/2 tires when it originated the $10.90 price last fall.

USCO today betters that mark with a new and greater USCO—an USCO improved in many important ways.

For instance, a thicker tread—with a surer hold on the road—thicker side walls, adding strength and life to the tire.

And the price is $10.90—with the tax absorbed by the manufacturer.

Men have always looked to USCO for the biggest tire money's worth on the market.

They always get a bigger tire money's worth than they expect.

No Tax

United States Tires

United States Rubber Company

Where You Can Buy U. S. Tires:

D. R. BLYTHE, Burlington.

C. W. MYERS, Florence.

R. A. BRADY, GRANT.

HEBRON GARAGE, Hebron.

L. C. SCOTHORN, Idlewild.

UNION GARAGE, Union.

PETERSBURG GARAGE, Petersburg.

Petersburg, Ind.—With the rail strike in force farmers in Pike-co., who own big peach orchards are preparing to turn their hogs into their orchards and fatten them on ripened peaches. Peaches are beginning to ripen, and if shipping facilities are interfered with thousands of bushels probably will rot on the trees. Because of the impending strike no buyers have come into Pike county, and no offers have been made for the Pike county peach crop. The cannepose growers are confronted with a big loss, and unless the canning factories open, tomato growers will also suffer; as hundreds of crates of tomatoes are rotting, and the local markets are overstocked.

MT. ZION.

There will be a basket meeting at Mt. Zion church Sunday July 24th, beginning at 2:30 p. m., and 4:30 p. m., and 6:30 p. m.

TAKES MONEY

In every town there are movements which call for the expenditure of money. Some of these are of distinctly public character and are paid through taxation, others are of semi-public character, and for them the funds must be raised through voluntary contributions. These must come from the men who are doing the business of the place and who have the money. There is no other way. The man who has the money is the man who must pay the bills, if they are to be paid. Most enterprises of a public nature which have for their object the betterment of conditions, business or otherwise, in a town, will directly or indirectly, return more than the money expended to those who pay it.

Prolific Sturgeon.

The Russian sturgeon, known as beluga or ucho, is very large. It has been known to grow to the length of 30 to 35 feet and to weigh 8,000 pounds. At spawning time, a female produces from 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 eggs, constituting from one-fifth to one-third of the entire weight of the fish.

"Watered Stock."

This is a commercial and financial term. To "water" stock is to enlarge or increase the number of shares of stock without a proportionate increase of paid in capital. "Watered stock" means stock treated in the manner described.

Horse to Eat.

The horse is a creature of great value to the farmer. He is the only animal that can be trained to do a great deal of work. He is also a source of food and clothing. The horse is a creature of great value to the farmer.

LIVE STOCK
FACTS.

TESTING FOR TUBERCULOSIS

Reports show that eradication work can be carried on without destroying industry.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

That testing cattle for tuberculosis and the cleaning up of infected herds are having a permanent effect in reducing the extent of the disease is shown conclusively by figures recently collected by the United States Department of Agriculture from inspectors in charge of the eradication work in various parts of the country. The inspectors were asked to supply figures on the results of three or more tests on badly diseased herds, those that had not less than 10 per cent of reactors on the first test. The first test on more than 58,000 cattle in these bad herds showed that 56 per cent had tuberculosis. Another test six months later on the same herds, from which the reactors had been removed, showed only 4.6 per cent of the disease. By another six months the percentage had gone down to 2.4. A fourth test on more than 25,000 of these cattle showed only 1.6 per cent of tuberculosis.

The reports from which these figures were taken show that under normal conditions herds very badly diseased may be established as relatively free in a short time. They also show that eradication work can be carried on without destroying the cattle industry as is sometimes thought. Erratic results were obtained on a very few of the 1922 herds tested, the list of this class containing less than 100. Out of the 126,000 herds under observation December 1, 1921, there were only a very few that had not shown satisfactory improvement as a result of testing.

If Any of These Cows Have Tuberculosis the Hogs Follow Them Are Certain to Get the Disease.

PREVENT ANIMAL DISEASES

By Taking Proper Precautionary Measures Many Afflictions Could Be Thwarted.

Many of the diseases suffered by live stock on the farm could be prevented by proper precautionary measures, according to Dr. Robert Graham of the University of Illinois. Nearly all diseases to which animals succumb are preventable, he declares, and the surest way to keep your animals healthy is to adopt such health measures as will prevent them from getting sick.

The continuous use of old feed lots year after year without regard to rotation is one way to spread disease. Each class of live stock has its own peculiar ailments, which may be largely eliminated by the rotation of feed lots.

Keep yourself posted as to what diseases are prevalent in your neighborhood, and then do everything in your power to keep your own live stock from getting them.

FEEDS FOR WORKING HORSES

Mature Animals Require Starchy or Carbonaceous Rations to Furnish Needed Fuel.

The character of feed required by horses that are working is quite different from that required by young growing animals or dairy cows. Mature horses need starchy or carbonaceous feeds to furnish fuel rather than large amounts of protein. For this reason corn and timothy hay may be fed more liberally than such protein feeds as wheat and alfalfa. Oats furnish most of the protein needed, and a good rule for feeding a horse doing moderate work is given as one and one-fourth pounds of hay and three-fourths pound of grain to each hundred pounds of weight, but horses at hard work are sometimes given as much as one and one-fourth pounds of grain.

PASTURE IS BIG ESSENTIAL

Alfalfa, Alfalfa and Clover Are Good and Useful Building Feeds and Cheapen Gains.

Pasture is of great value to the farmer. It is the only place where the horse can be trained to do a great deal of work. It is also a source of food and clothing. The horse is a creature of great value to the farmer.

FLORENCE.

Mrs. Geo. Swinam, of Covington, was the guest of Mrs. John Swinam, one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Carpenter spent Sunday with Will Carpenter at Richwood.

Miss Lucille Scott spent Saturday night and Sunday with Miss Helen Osborne.

Mrs. Wm. Graves and son Edgar, spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. John Surace.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Norman, of Covington, were calling on friends here Sunday afternoon.

There will be services at the Christian church Sunday afternoon, the fifth Sunday instead of the last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Odes Richards and Mrs. Rebecca of Georgetown, were the guests of Mr. Marshall and daughter Mildred, Sunday.

Miss Hattie May Bradford entertained the following Sunday: Mr. Tomlin and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Willford Mitchell and Miss Eva Renaker.

BEAVER LICK.

J. M. Jack has bought a new 2½ ton Armored truck.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Griffith spent last Friday in the city.

Master Charles Johnson is visiting his grandparents, Wm. Steward, of near Patriot, Ind.

A heavy rain fell in this neighborhood last Monday night, which was badly needed.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Haystack and Mrs. W. C. Johnson, spent last Sunday with Mrs. Mary Neall.

The wheat growers of the Beaver neighborhood would like for some one to thresh their wheat for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rich spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Beach near Glencoe, Galatin county.

William Wilson shipped 22 head of 1108 pound fat cattle to market last week for which he received satisfactory prices.

Judge A. Roter, of Walnut Hills Cincinnati, aged 84 years, spent last week with his son Alie Roter and family, of Beaver.

HEBRON.

Miss Viola Graves was visiting relatives in Covington, last week.

J. B. Criger was the guest of friends in Hopeful neighborhood last week.

The B. W. W. Society will meet with Mrs. Myron Garnett, Thursday afternoon.

Elmer Miller and family spent Saturday night and Sunday at Bethel Ohio, with relatives.

Mrs. Katie Cooper and son was the guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Clayton, last week.

The members of the Bullittville Christian church will give a Dutch Lunch and ice cream supper at the home of Hankins and Riley at Hebron Saturday, July 29th, from 4 p. m., until 10 o'clock.

L. M. Highhouse and family, of Erlanger, B. F. Highhouse and wife, of Ludlow, Ed. Rider and wife, and Mr. Anklebawer, of Mt. Hope, Morris Bousa and family of Limaburg, and Myron Garnett and family, spent Sunday at W. R. Garnett's.

The Helpers Circle held their all day meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Riddell last Wednesday. Most all the members were present and some visitors also met with them, which the society were glad to have with them. The day was spent very pleasantly. At the noon hour a nice dinner was spread in the woods near by. In the afternoon the regular meeting was held, after which music, singing and guessing contests were enjoyed by all. At about 5 p. m., supper was served to the crowd then all left for their homes looking to spend many more pleasant days with them.

GUNPOWDER

E. K. Tanner and wife visited friends in Covington, last Sunday.

N. A. Zimmerman and wife entertained several of their friends at dinner last Sunday.

Rev. Wilford Mitchell is subbing for J. P. Tanner on his mail route while Mr. Tanner is enjoying his vacation in the harvest field.

Era Blankenbaker chaperoned a party to McVillie last Sunday afternoon to see the dam that is being built across the river at that place.

Mr. D. R. Kelly and family, of Lexington, spent the week-end with his sister, Mrs. W. F. Utz and Mr. Utz. Mr. Kelly is an extensive farmer, and has about sixty acres of tobacco under cultivation.

Beemon, Kendall and Tanner did the threshing act in this neck of the woods last week. There are only a few crops in this neighborhood, and the yield is very heavy.

To whom it may concern:

Those who are interested are requested to meet at the old Tanner burying ground the first Saturday in August for the purpose of cleaning the graves.

It has been neglected for a number of years, and would be of more credit to the neighborhood if it was better cared for.

DIFFERENT KIND.

(Houston Post.)

Hiram Johnson, a noted mountain jurist, is dead. He is the man who suppressed lawlessness and organized the state of Tennessee.

PETERSBURG.

W. H. Hensley is holding his own. W. H. P. Holloway is painting his house.

Mrs. Quis Ryle remains on the sick list.

Fifteen from here go to work on the dam at McVillie.

Mr. Walston is improving slowly, but not able to be out.

W. T. Evans is the guest of his daughter in Lawrenceburg.

Twenty-one were baptised by the Baptist here Sunday in the river.

The coal yard is about empty. When it will be filled is hard to tell.

Mrs. Dan Hoffman is improving nicely after an attack of stomach trouble.

Berkshire & Nixon's threshing machine is threshing the grain in the neighborhood.

Mrs. Stamper is at Erlanger nursing a Mr. Ritter. She has been there about six weeks.

Corn, tobacco, etc., are late and short in this neighborhood by the dry weather.

Mrs. Bud Stamper returned home one day last week from Erlanger, where she had been nursing.

Bud Moreland has sold about one hundred dollars-worth of truck off his little lot of one-half acre.

James Northcutt, of Covington, is hauling men too and from work on the dam in his automobile, each day.

John J. Klop and Hugh McMiller were the first ones to deliver home grown watermelons on the market.

Grass and water scarce, which compels the owners to get feed and drive their stock to the river for water.

Mrs. Mattie Loder, of Frankfort, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Thelma McWehly. She will stay until the first of September.

Gifty Welschke, of near Patriot, Indiana, Herman Welschke and wife of Rising Sun, and Charlie Beemon and wife, of near Petersburg, were guests of Milton McWehly and wife, last Sunday.

The truckers are getting $5 per bushel for potatoes, $2 per bushel for tomatoes, 60 cents apiece for watermelons, 25 cents per dozen for corn, and 55 cents per quart for butter beans. All taste good.

PT. PLEASANT.

Mr. Keene Souther and family spent Sunday in Sayler Park, Ohio.

Miss Edythe Wilson spent from Tuesday until Saturday with Miss Eleanor Eggleston.

Mr. Sherman Riggs arrived here last week from Fresno, California, for a few weeks visit with his parents and other relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Estes and son, Elmer, of San Bernardino, California, spent the first of last week with her brother, J. S. Eggleston and family.

Misses Elenora and Rhoda Eggleston entertained seventy of their friends last Friday evening with a lawn party in honor of their cousin, Elmer, from California. Everybody had a very enjoyable evening.

GOOD OLD BOONE.

Editor Recorder:

Three years ago the Union Blade closed up shop and quit business to make amends for giving publicity to Ghost stories, wall stories, Black star stories, old maid stories, and Telescope dreams.

Col. Tom Judge may have thrown a monkey wrench into the Linotype machine, but he did not; Major Geo. Stephenson may have cut off the electric current and phoned for a doctor, but refused to get so "phoney" as to be so funny. Our old friend, John Garrison, may have "piled" the type and put everything out of form if he cared to, but he was busy attending to his own business.

I say. The Blade is not dead but was only sleeping, so when Doctor Sander collected money to put 600 gallons of oil on the streets of our town (a dust killer), and put it on the Blade woke up and found it living—oh joy.

Say, Mr. Editor, laying aside all foolishness and coming down to real facts, such as "who pays the Tariff" (if the consumer don't? Who gains, or is likely to gain a penny in the R. R. and Coal Strike? Who ever saw the county of Boone look more beautiful than it has the past spring and summer? Who remembers when the trees, grass, flowers and all vegetation was greener? Who can tell when corn, wheat, oats, tobacco, fruit and all crops were so beautiful? "Show us" the man or woman in Boone who don't feel glad they live in Union or any part of the county, and we will show you a man or woman that is hard to please.

Yes sir! The citizens of Union and vicinity have not been able to get their winter coal supply, but we have not seen any of them going about with their faces so long drawn that they can "eat much out of a two inch gas pipe." No sir, the stores, shops and garages all keep busy and blackberries are plentiful.

The writer has been in many homes on business and pleasure to receive a warm welcome everywhere. Let us hope the coal and the coal strike soon end and the coal business will be as usual.

Yours truly, J. P. Tanner

Now that Henry Ford is planning to establish a factory in Mexico, Mexican bandits may be expected to get up-to-date and swap their bron shoes for silvers.

Chinese revolutionists red on the American flag and got away with it; but they are in for some real trouble now having fired on a boat belonging to the Standard Oil Company.

Dairymen in the 45 cow testing associations in the nine Western States now own 9,484 cows that have made more than 40 pounds of butter in a month. Not many years ago a 40-pound cow was a rarity.

It is much room for improvement, however, in the general run of the country.

The first corn raised and used in Kentucky by the whites, was in 1774, by John Harlan, Jr. on a field on the site of the present Harlan farm.

The first corn raised and used in Kentucky by the whites, was in 1774, by John Harlan, Jr. on a field on the site of the present Harlan farm.

The first corn raised and used in Kentucky by the whites, was in 1774, by John Harlan, Jr. on a field on the site of the present Harlan farm.

The first corn raised and used in Kentucky by the whites, was in 1774, by John Harlan, Jr. on a field on the site of the present Harlan farm.

The first corn raised and used in Kentucky by the whites, was in 1774, by John Harlan, Jr. on a field on the site of the present Harlan farm.

Base Ball!

Bellevue White Sox

vs Burlington Black Sox

At Bellevue,

Saturday, July 29

Game Called at 2:30.

BASE BALL.

Petersburg came to Hebron Saturday and defeated the home team 9 to 7. Neither team played up to their usual standard, each one having costly errors that helped their opponents to several runs.

Hits off Huey 12, off Snelling 9; struck out by Huey 10; by Snelling 5; bases on balls off Huey 6; off Snelling 3. Hit batsman Snelling 1.

The Walton team will play at Hebron next Saturday, and as each of these teams have won the game they will no doubt put up a hard battle for the third game.

Cleves kept up its winning streak by downing Taylorsport on their own grounds, last Sunday, to the tune of 9 to 3. The stick work of Ryle, of Bellevue, and his teammates was too much for the Taylorsport lads.

This game gives the Cleves team a good lead in the race for the pennant in the Down-The-River League. Safford pitched three innings and struck out 3, Black pitched the remainder and struck out 5; Hix, Taylorsport 8; Cleves 11.

That in "Union there is strength" was thoroughly demonstrated, last Saturday afternoon, at the High School campus, when the Union ball team came over for the second time this season and gave the "Old Stiffs" the scare of their life—the "Stiffs" winning by an eye-lash, 4 to 3.

The Union team is composed of some excellent players and with a little more practice will be able to cope with the best of teams.

James Houston will bring his Idlewild Colts to Burlington again for a game with the Burlington Vets on next Saturday. The game will be called at 2 p. m., sharp.

Batteries: Idlewild Houston, Brady and Connor.

Most Anything.

A dispatch from Warsaw says that the doctors there are studying the problem of increasing the longevity of the Poles. Why not try creosoting them?

That editorial writer who asks: "Are the levees useless?" shows that he lives in New York and not in Louisiana or Mississippi.

A headline says: "Something Due to Drop in Coal Situation." It's a safe bet that whatever drops it won't be prices.

Why doesn't some genius invent a summer-saving scheme by turning the calendar back a month?

Convicts in the Wisconsin penitentiary recently went on a strike but you could hardly call it a walk out.

A prize is being offered in Russia for the man who does the most for the country this year. That's a great opportunity for somebody to kidnap Lenin and Trotsky and win the prize.

A fashion expert says that American women's styles are borrowed from all countries of the world. The summer fur idea was probably borrowed from the Eskimo belles.

A magazine doctor writes an article on the danger of lurking in damp cellars. But grave as that danger is, it doesn't approach the tragedy of a dry cellar.

Now that Henry Ford is planning to establish a factory in Mexico, Mexican bandits may be expected to get up-to-date and swap their bron shoes for silvers.

Chinese revolutionists red on the American flag and got away with it; but they are in for some real trouble now having fired on a boat belonging to the Standard Oil Company.

Dairymen in the 45 cow testing associations in the nine Western States now own 9,484 cows that have made more than 40 pounds of butter in a month. Not many years ago a 40-pound cow was a rarity.

It is much room for improvement, however, in the general run of the country.

The first corn raised and used in Kentucky by the whites, was in 1774, by John Harlan, Jr. on a field on the site of the present Harlan farm.

The first corn raised and used in Kentucky by the whites, was in 1774, by John Harlan, Jr. on a field on the site of the present Harlan farm.

The first corn raised and used in Kentucky by the whites, was in 1774, by John Harlan, Jr. on a field on the site of the present Harlan farm.

The first corn raised and used in Kentucky by the whites, was in 1774, by John Harlan, Jr. on a field on the site of the present Harlan farm.

The first corn raised and used in Kentucky by the whites, was in 1774, by John Harlan, Jr. on a field on the site of the present Harlan farm.

The first corn raised and used in Kentucky by the whites, was in 1774, by John Harlan, Jr. on a field on the site of the present Harlan farm.

The first corn raised and used in Kentucky by the whites, was in 1774, by John Harlan, Jr. on a field on the site of the present Harlan farm.

The first corn raised and used in Kentucky by the whites, was in 1774, by John Harlan, Jr. on a field on the site of the present Harlan farm.

The first corn raised and used in Kentucky by the whites, was in 1774, by John Harlan, Jr. on a field on the site of the present Harlan farm.

The first corn raised and used in Kentucky by the whites, was in 1774, by John Harlan, Jr. on a field on the site of the present Harlan farm.

Kentucky Jersey Tour

THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, AUGUST 3-5.

Tour starts at Harry Hartke's farm near Erlanger, Thursday, 7:30 a. m., visiting through Boone county and by South Fork to Mr. J. H. McDaniell's Warsaw, and Perry O. Gaines and Harris Bros., Carrollton.

A big feed will be served by Mr. Gaines. Herds of interest will be visited during the remainder of the day and a banquet will be tendered those on the tour that night. During the following day a meeting of the Kentucky Jersey Cattle Club will be held at the famous Allendale Farm.

While there Mrs. Heming will serve in her usual sumptuous style. The trip will be concluded by visiting the Experiment Station herd and Idle-Farm at Lexington. Another trip will be served the visitors when at Idle-Farm. Many other objects of interest will be seen on this trip as well as fine Jerseys, including Man o' War, etc.

This is just the outing you've been looking for, whether you are an actual breeder of Jerseys or not. The cost of this trip will be at the minimum. It is suggested that those having spare seats in their autos take along fellow passengers, sharing the mileage equally.

Open invitation to all. Local folks please advise O. C. Hafer, Secretary, or County Agent Sutton, if they can go. If by chance you can't make the entire trip, go as far as you like.

WATERLOO.

Sheridan Pope spent Sunday with Emmett Louden.

W. G. Kite and wife spent Sunday with Walter Ryle and wife.

Wilbur Ryle had as his guest, last Saturday and Sunday, Mr. Ivan Clements.

Misses Mable Pope and Jessie Miller spent Saturday afternoon with Miss Jonetta Lee Kite.

Quite a number from here attended the picture show at Burlington, last Saturday night.

David Williamson and wife have as guests Mrs. Ryburn Williamson and daughter, of California.

The Waterloo ball team will cross bats with the Union team next Sunday. Come out and see the game.

Mrs. Blanch Baker and little son, Galen, of Lawrenceburg, spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Pendery.

HERE AND THERE.

The typewriter is the most deadly of all engines of warfare because it spreads the propaganda that causes war, according to Thos. R. Marshall, former Vice-President of the United States.

A 500-foot bridge across the Willamette River at Oregon City, Oregon, was built in 18 hours. Every part was built to the exact size and laid out on the river bank before any assembling was attempted.

A Delaware man has invented a trouser eraser of such efficiency that the customer can have the operation performed without taking the trouble to divest himself of his trousers. A modification of the device erases the arms of a coat, making it possible for a man to have his entire suit pressed on him.

For 12 years a Florida farmer has raised watermelons on 1,000 acres. In all that time he has never shipped a melon but let them spoil in the fields except those he and his neighbors eat. The melons are grown exclusively for their seed, which are sold to planters of Florida, Georgia and other southern states.

After serving 27 years as a school teacher, Miss Mary L. Lee of Elgin, Illinois, committed suicide as a result of her being discharged by school trustees. Fourteen other teachers were dismissed at the same time but the dismissals were rescinded when the trustees were visited by a committee of citizens who demanded that the other teachers be reinstated at once.

IN THE CURIOSITY SHOP.

The average depth of the seas of the world is three miles.

Cress is the quickest-growing plant. It has been known to flower and seed within eight days of planting.

An ostrich lives about 30 years, and the average yield of a bird in captivity is from two to four pounds of feathers.

The shadow of the moon which falls on the earth during an eclipse of the sun is usually about 50 miles in diameter.

A popular superstition among race followers is that if the money used for betting has been carried for three days in a woman's stocking it will bring a win.

The largest loaves of bread in the world are baked in France and Italy. They are often as much as six feet in length.

A case of "Old Crow" was recently raffled off, and when the stampede for chances had subsided and the winner opened up the case, he found himself possessed of a very ancient rooster.

The first corn raised and used in Kentucky by the whites, was in 1774, by John Harlan, Jr. on a field on the site of the present Harlan farm.

The first corn raised and used in Kentucky by the whites, was in 1774, by John Harlan, Jr. on a field on the site of the present Harlan farm.

The first corn raised and used in Kentucky by the whites, was in 1774, by John Harlan, Jr. on a field on the site of the present Harlan farm.

The first corn raised and used in Kentucky by the whites, was in 1774, by John Harlan, Jr. on a field on the site of the present Harlan farm.

The first corn raised and used in Kentucky by the whites, was in 1774, by John Harlan, Jr. on a field on the site of the present Harlan farm.

The first corn raised and used in Kentucky by the whites, was in 1774, by John Harlan, Jr. on a field on the site of the present Harlan farm.

The first corn raised and used in Kentucky by the whites, was in 1774, by John Harlan, Jr. on a field on the site of the present Harlan farm.

The first corn raised and used in Kentucky by the whites, was in 1774, by John Harlan, Jr. on a field on the site of the present Harlan farm.

The first corn raised and used in Kentucky by the whites, was in 1774, by John Harlan, Jr. on a field on the site of the present Harlan farm.

The first corn raised and used in Kentucky by the whites, was in 1774, by John Harlan, Jr. on a field on the site of the present Harlan farm.

THE HOME RADIO

How to Make and Use It

By A. HYATT VERRILL

VIII. MORE ABOUT AERIALS

If there are several sending stations at various points from your set, it is often a very good plan to run several aerial wires at right angles or radiating as shown in figures 11 and 12, connecting them together and running the lead-in from the pots; where all join, as shown. Sometimes this principle may be reversed and several lead-ins may be carried from the outer ends of the radiating aerials and joined to form a single lead-in and will bring even better results, figures 13 and 14. These several lead-ins may be connected by means of an anchoring-figure 15, to equalize the waves—currents, or they may be provided with multiple point switches as shown in figures 16 and 17. This switch arrangement has the great advantage that you can largely cut out stations you do not wish to hear by using the lead-in towards the station you desire to hear. This will result in the others being either weaker in comparison and they can therefore be more effectively tuned out by your instruments.

Aerials are most peculiar affairs and a little experimenting will enable you to determine the best size, height and type to use. It is well known that wireless waves are directive, or in other words, that they travel more strongly in one direction away from the sending aerial than in others and while this has been largely obliterated in up-to-date stations, yet the ordinary receiving aerial is 'directive' and will get stronger signals if the lead-in is pointed towards it, so to speak. I know of several cases where amateurs failed utterly to hear voices, music, or even connection with tin-foil and fine wire and wrap it with adhesive tape. Where no pipe is available carry the ground wire to a sheet of copper, an old copper boiler or a copper tank or barrel filled with charcoal and buried at least five feet under the surface of the earth. A lightning rod or fire escape will sometimes make a very good ground. But it is not so much how you use for a ground as how well the connections are and how well the object is grounded. Do not use an electric light or telephone, telegraph or door bell wire for a ground. To repeat, be careful of your connections and sure of your grounding.

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN A NEW Spring Suit

We have just what you need. We are showing a complete line of Men's, Young Men's and Boys' SUITS

We have a decided surprise for you in the way of unusual values, for the Newest Fabrics at prices down to normal. We suggest that you refrain from buying until you see our new spring lines

WE KNOW WE CAN PLEASE YOU.

Selmor Wachs

605 Madison Avenue, Covington, Kentucky

A BARGAIN

Cincinnati Daily Enquirer

—AND—

The Boone County Recorder

YOU CAN GET

BOTH for $4.50 the YEAR

Send Your Subscriptions to the

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER

Burlington, Ky.

ARE YOU A READER OF THE RECORDER?

If Not Try It One year.

Only $1.50 the Year

THE RATIO FOR PUBLICITY

Business experts recommend that mercantile concerns set aside a certain definite proportion of their receipts for publicity work, as a part of the essential sales expense. Different firms would differ on the ratio that should be established. It may need to be more in quiet times than in rush periods, on the theory that it takes more effort to sell goods in times of slow trade.

The head of a well known big city department store, say he expects to spend five per cent of his sales on publicity. Two per cent of sales goes into newspaper advertising and the rest to window space, the cost of trimming it in novel and striking ways, etc. Probably the majority would say this is too much relatively for window space.

The problem for the average merchant is not so much attracting the crowd that goes by the store, as informing people in their homes as to what market conditions are and what special offerings are being made. But whatever ratios are agreed upon in any concern, a business house makes an advance step when it tries to get a certain proportion of its income for selling campaigns.

Salesmanship is a job of convincing the people that it is for their interest to make certain purchases. That job of persuading the public is not an offhand matter, to be begun when a customer passes a show window or walks up to the counter where the goods are displayed. It has to be prepared for in advance. It has to be continued over indefinite periods. It is an endless task.

The enterprising store carries on this work of publicity in order that people shall understand its methods, realize the quality of goods handled, know of special opportunities as they come along. The best of the work is done in people's own homes, as they sit down at leisure to read their favorite journal, and study advertising that interests them.

GOD BLESS THE GIRL THAT WORKS!

The great army of working girls in this country have our respect and esteem. They are the jolliest, happiest and most lovable girls in all the world. They are free, they are independent, they are heroines.

Whether they work in the school-room, the office, the factory or the home, their lives are a joyous journey, and sunshine lights their pathways.

The languid society belle that sighs her sympathy for her toiling sisters in an object of supremest pity, compared to the healthy, robust girl that enjoys a nights restful repose after her day of labor.

No idle fancy of romantic love, culled from the imagination of a bilious poet, fills the brain or dulls the brightness of the working girl. Her song is the outburst of a happy heart, sweet as the seraph's and merry as the bird.

The work at home gives more pleasure than the gossip of the club, and more joy than the expressions of devotion from the empty-pated dude. The assumed ways of the ball room are trifles to the happiness of an evening at home, and there is more to be admired in the comely dress and natural manner of the girl that toils than in all the silk and silliness of a thousand parlor pets and painted wall-flowers.

KEEP COOL.

Keep cool. It can be done! The hot season is upon us. People complain of the heat; they worry, fuss, are uncomfortable. And the fault is all their own.

Sunshine is the greatest vitalizing tonic in this world. It means life to soil and body and soul.

But the multitudes go perspiring, sweating, crying out against this richest dispensation of Nature! Adaptation to the season is the one secret. Dress properly and, above all, eat properly—that is, eat foods essential to enable you to withstand the humidity and swelter which discomfort those who refuse to adopt this same method of living.

Even the man who works hard with his muscles, out in the full glare of the Light-Giver, may be comfortable if he be wise enough to dress and eat as he should do.

But he who will insist upon eating heavy meats, hot pastry, fried abominations, rich desserts, and who drinks copiously of hot beverages, eating and drinking to repletion, must suffer.

There are plenty of summer foods: Cool fruits, melons, crisp green vegetables, rough breads, cool—not cold—drinks; and then there are cereals and nuts.

One thing more: Be temperate, and forget, or, rather, refuse to think about the heat. This is not silly, but sensible advice. Try it.

To persist in a diet that should satisfy a hard laborer in midwinter is to invite physical disaster, often death, during the summer period. It is all up to you. You can keep cool, escape asphyxiation, enjoy your work and your play if only you obey the laws of common sense and profit from the experience of those who have learned how to do it.

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

OLE MISS FUSSIN' BOUT DE WAY DE RATS. BIN EATIN' HER CHICKENS, BUT AM 'SPICION TAIN' DE RATS—US BIN HAD A PREACHERS' CONFERENCE HEAH ALL DIS PAS' GONE WEEK!

Copyright, 1923, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

GETTING AN AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION.

Many young country fellows fail to get a good education because their parents can't afford the money, and the boys don't think they can earn it themselves. So they may not be able to farm profitably and perhaps will give up in a few years because they think there is no money in farming.

Probably in the majority of the agricultural colleges, half of the boys would be earning most of their own expenses and a lot more would be contributing largely to them. Any boy who is willing to work can get a first class agricultural education that will make his success in country life as sure as can be in this life.

SAFE INVESTMENTS.

Recently Raymond Hitchcock was credited with giving a "sure fire" system for "beating" the races. It was not to bet on them. Now comes the United States Treasury Department with a "sure fire" investment. The department advises buying Treasury Savings Certificates.

These certificates are sold at $20, $50 and $100 and in five years are paid at $25, $100 and $1,000, respectively. This is 25 per cent in five years; there are no taxes to pay on them and as the name of each owner is recorded in Washington, the loss of the certificate itself does not mean the loss of the investment. And Uncle Sam stands behind the guarantee.

Both of the foregoing systems are unbeatable in their respective fields and might well be "twinned up" for the best results. What is saved by taking Mr. Hitchcock's advice may be made into insurance against ill fortune in years to come by accepting the advice of the Treasury Department.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. EMILY SOWARD

Mrs. Soward, formerly of Mayville, Ky., died at the home of her nephew, C. A. Fulton, of Florence, Ky., June 13th, 1922.

We have in nature the phenomenon of an eclipse extinguishing the brightness of the sun, and a human life has been eclipsed, casting over us the weird shadows of sorrow. Aunt Emily had been in failing health for several years and had seen much of life's sorrow, yet her faith never faltered, but she always trusted in the precious promises of the blessed Savior who has given her an abundant entrance into the everlasting Kingdom.

She was a very patient sufferer during her illness and always ready to sympathize with those in time of sorrow. She told her sister several days before her death she was ready to go, and she passed quietly away with a perfect resignation and a strong desire to be at rest. "Oh, what a blessed thing to die in the Lord." When the funeral cortege from Covington arrived at the Mayville depot a number of relatives and friends were there shedding tears of sorrow. In early years she united with the Presbyterian church of Mayville where she was always a consistent member. A regular attendant when possible to attend church. She leaves two sisters, Mrs. Carpenter, of Florence, Ky., and Mrs. Applegate, of Mayville, Ky., a step son and daughter, J. W. Soward and Mrs. J. C. Stevenson, of Mayville. "A Precious one from us has gone, a voice from us is stilled, a place is vacant in our home which never can be filled. God in his wisdom has recalled, the boom his love had given, and though the body slumbers here the soul is safe in heaven."

Rebecca Applegate Renaker, Springdale, Ky.

THE BEST CAPITAL.

The best capital, in nine cases out of ten, a young man can start in the world with, is robust health, sound morals, a fair intelligence, a will to work his way honestly, and if possible, a trade. He may not use it long for he may find greater success in another direction but he always has it to fall back on if other things fail.—Reformer.

MAPLE SIRUP SUPPLY FOR FAMILY

Boiling Maple Sap in Kettles.

(Prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.)

In sections where sugar-maple trees grow, or where sugar cane or sorghum are raised, the farmer may produce all the sirup for his family consumption. Many farmers of the North Atlantic states produce their own maple sirup, and in the southern states the home production of cane and sorghum sirup is even more common. Sorghum is also grown to a considerable extent in parts of the North. It is not unusual for southern families to produce ten to 25 gallons of sirup for home consumption, making a very important contribution to the family living.

IMPLEMENTS FOR CLEANING HOUSE

Proper Tools and Materials Are Essential for Performing Tasks Easily and Quickly.

KEEP THEM IN RIGHT PLACE

Ideal Arrangement is to Have Complete Set Stored in Orderly Manner in Convenient and Well-Ventilated Closet.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

No matter how carefully the housekeeper plans her daily, weekly, and semiannual housecleaning, it can not be done easily and quickly without suitable cleaning tools and materials. If they are kept together in one place, time, bother and nerve strength are saved. If they are given good care, money is saved.

The ideal arrangement is to have a complete set stored in orderly fashion in a convenient, well-ventilated closet. Whether a few or many kinds are needed, it is economical to keep well-made, durable tools and keep them in good condition and grouped together. If possible, it is well to have on each floor a supply of some of the things most constantly used.

Give Tools Good Care. As far as possible, cleaning tools should be put away clean and ready for use. Brooms, brushes and mops should be hung by strings or screws, eyes fastened to the handles so that the weight does not rest on the straws, bristles or strings. Carpet sweepers also should be set so that the weight does not come on the brushes. The hair and lint which accumulates in brushes, especially in carpet sweepers, may be taken out with an old button-hook, a coarse comb or old scissors. Corn brooms may be washed in hot soapwater, but care must be taken not to let the water rust the wires which hold the straws to the handle. Bristle brushes may be washed with lukewarm water and a little ammonia.

When Possible Devote Closet to Cleaning-Day Supplies.

(8 teaspoonfuls dilute ammonia to the quart) or borax (1 teaspoonful to the quart) and then rinsed in clear water. Water is likely to injure the back of a brush and to loosen the cement by which the bristles are held in place in the less expensive makes. The brush, therefore, should not be covered with water, but should be washed by soaking the bristles back and forth in shallow water; it should be dried with the bristles down or with the weight resting on the side of the brush. The drying should be done quickly, but not in an intense heat. Drying in machine whitens light bristles. The weighted bristle brush used in polishing floors should be washed occasionally to prevent the accumulation of dirt and wax from deteriorating the wood.

should be quickly dried. Dry mops may be oiled or oiled mops renewed by pouring a few drops of light lubricating oil or any good-floor oil into an old dish or a tin box and setting the mop in those for a day or two; or the mop may be sprinkled with a little oil and allowed to stand until the oil spreads through the strings.

The initial cost of implements of good quality may be a trifle greater than those of poorer grade, but substantial ones generally give longer and better service and are more economical in the end. Before buying an especially expensive cleaning device or one used occasionally, ask questions as the following should be considered: Will it be used enough to justify the cost? How much care in cleaning and storing will it require? Will it really save time and energy? Will it make some especially disagreeable task less unpleasant? A few well-chosen implements give better service and require less care than a large collection bought haphazard.

Long-Handled Duster Saves Back-aches.

REMOVING DIRT FROM WALLS

A Brush or Broom Covered With Soft Cloth Should Be Used—Avoid Rubbing Too Hard.

Ordinary plastered and papered walls and ceilings should be cleaned with a wall brush or a broom covered with soft cloth, such as cotton flannel. Light overlapping strokes should be used; heavy strokes rub the dirt in. Cotton batting is good for cleaning places that soil more quickly than the rest—for example, the wall over radiators, registers and stoves. The wall should be rubbed lightly with the cotton, which should be turned as it becomes soiled.

There are commercial pastes and powders for cleaning wall papers, but in general, these should be applied only by an expert. An amateur is likely to have a streaked wall if he attempts to use them.

The so-called washable papers used in kitchens and bathrooms may be cleaned with a dampened cloth, but water must be used sparingly; if it seeps in the paper will be loosened. Varnishing the paper in these rooms will make it more nearly impervious to moisture and steam and will prevent it from peeling. Household specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture say.

Household Questions

Lime and iron both are found in apples. Lime is essential to digestion and iron to life itself.

Embroidered garments should be pressed back down on an old bath towel or thick soft rug.

The most common cause of eye trouble is dust and dirt.

HEBRON THEATRE--Next Saturday

KATHERINE McDONALD IN

"Notorious Miss Lisle"

Lehrman Comedy

"The Kick in High Life"

Admission 22 Cents

Children 10 Cents

Shows 10 o'clock and 8:15 o'clock. Van Leeke Building has been noted in the preparation for burial of our departed friends; the staid and sombre habiliments, the dirge and accompanying solemnities, have given place to flowers, to dress as worn in life, to songs and hymns of hope and comfort.

A PRAISEWORTHY ADVANCE

And then through the perfected science of embalming, the underworld of the present day, supplementing this by removing entirely the lines of pain and suffering, and by restoring the natural color of health, does much to rob the ordeal of its heart-rending features.

This latter process, and many helpful suggestions looking toward that end, are included in my service.

PHILIP TALIAFERRO,
Undertaker and Embalmer
Erlanger, Ky.

The Best Advertisement

IS A PLEASED CUSTOMER
Spectacles and Eyeglasses that Fit the face and Fit the sight the kind we sell.
Phone South 1746
DR. N. F. PENN, 613 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

Efficient, Service and Economy
IS MY SLOGAN

C. SCOTT CHAMBERS
Embalmer and Funeral Director

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

WE WANT EVERY MAN

in Boone and Kenton Counties

That has a farm large or small, or House and Lot to sell to list it with us and we will advertise and find a buyer if there is any.

The Wisenberger Real Estate Co.

BEN Phone South 6006 JOHN
515 Coppel Bldg. COVINGTON, KY.

Printed Stationery

AT THIS OFFICE
ENVELOPES, LETTERHEADS, NOTEHEADS, STATEMENTS

for business people,
for professional people,
for farmers.

for every one who wants
to be considered up to date and going strong

Willard Batteries

AT A NEW PRICE

Ford Six	$15.95
Chrysler	15.95
Overland	15.95
Chalmers	19.10
Buick	18.85
Maxwell 6-volts	24.55
Maxwell 12-volts	24.55
Dodge	24.55

Weddle Battery Co.,

Aurora, Indiana.

Willard Batteries.

100 MAIN ST.

AS YOU SEE IT

SEE THE RECORD

Notice to Shippers.

Having now two trucks—one and a two ton, I am prepared to do your hauling, large or small. Quick and efficient service.

Your Business Solicited.

W. M. Rachal, Jr.

Union, Kentucky.

Some Habits of Hens.

Hens feed on almost any animal food they can find, living or dead. They are especially fond of carrion. It is believed that hens spawn but once in their lives and die soon after their first spawning period. Large scale migration toward the sea in the fall. In the spring small transparent sets of two inches in length and upwards are common on the shore under stones.

Subscribe for the RECORDER

W. M. Rachal, Jr.

OLD FASHIONED FAIR

Lawrenceburg, Ind., August 23rd-29th

The management of the DEARBORN COUNTY FAIR will this year attempt to put on a REAL old fashioned county fair, catering to the interests of the farming community and home people generally.

The department of entertainment will, in fact, surpass everything yet offered in races, thrilling and humorous free attractions, lots of good clean shows, rides and other features.

There will be band concerts and Free Attractions every afternoon and evening—something doing all the time.

Bring your family to the Fair and have them spend a pleasant and profitable time viewing the many new and instructive exhibits.

The racing program will be the best. Purse, aggregating nearly $8,000.00 will bring a bunch of good horses here, and with four races daily, ought to be quite a good afternoon's entertainment.

The demonstration of farm implements will have a good place on the grounds and will be of a great interest to all owners of mechanical labor savers. Tractors, large and small, utility and similar machines have already engaged space.

We especially urge every farmer residing in this community to exhibit in at least one department, for by so doing you will have a personal interest in the success of an organization established wholly for your benefit.

The Fair is going to be a real live one in the way of live stock shows, which in cattle, hogs, sheep and poultry will be open to the world and the increase in premiums will be "juicy" please those who have animals and are inclined to show them to the patrons of the Fair. The fruit and garden exhibits are expected to be much larger than usual.

THE DIXIE HIGHWAY

The County Judge has received a letter from Hon. Jos. S. Boggs in regard to the Dixie Highway, which is as follows:

Judge N. E. Riddell,
Judge Boone County Court,
Burlington, Ky.,

Dear Sir:

Replying to yours of the 20th inst., you will be advised that this Department has submitted to the Federal Government project statement covering five miles of the Eastern Dixie Highway south of Florence. If their approval is given in a reasonable length of time I think this office can arrange to award a contract on this work in September.

UNEXPECTED TRIUMPHS IN BUSINESS.

You cannot always tell in these times who is going to win out in the business game. Some men who did not look like winners often prove surprisingly successful.

Many young men have gone ahead in that way as a result of a realization of the power of advertising. They comprehend from the first that the big problem of business is in winning public interest. From the first day that they opened their little shops, they began telling the public about what they had. Soon there was a constant stream of people running to their modest little outfit.

As prosperity would grow, a certain percentage of their receipts would always be put into publicity, as the most basic essential of any enterprise. As their sales grew, their advertising and their stores grew too. Follow them a few years ago may have been laughed at for their deficiencies, have made a place for themselves in the business councils of the town. There was romance in their rise, and advertising was the power that did it.

COUNTRY PICNICS

One of the pleasantest features of country life consists of the picnics held by villages, organizations, Sunday schools, etc. Many of us recall when we were boys how much such an occasion meant to us. We can see with the romantic eye of recollection the long line of teams winding their way to some pleasant rural resort for this great event. How we anticipated it, how we worried for fear something would happen to prevent our going, how we ascended to heights of happiness when we were safely headed for the spot, drawn by faithful old Dobbin. Occasions like this cultivate friendships, make town life seem joyous to young people, and break down the lines that separate cliques and neighborhoods.

Dearborn County Fair, Lawrenceburg, Ind., August 23rd to 29th, Bigger and Better than ever. Good Racing, Exhibits of all kinds, Big Auto Show, and Lots of Clean Amusements. Make arrangements now to spend several days at the fair.

THE COUNTRY BAND.

Supercilious city folks sometimes make fun of the musical performances of the brass bands that are organized in many country towns. While on their travels they often turn up in the crowds that gather for those open air concerts, and they smile their noses and say it is not equal to this or that professional aggregation.

These country bands are made up of fellows who put their whole heart into this form of expression, and they do exceedingly creditable work. The automobiles that assemble from long distances on summer nights to hear them play testify to the place they fulfill in country life. Every country town should support both a band and an orchestra, for bright and gay music will do a lot to make country life seem happy and up with the times.

WASHINGTON COMMENT.

CHEAP ROADS MOST EXPENSIVE.

Washington.—The new federal aid highway bill recently signed by President Harding and providing $190,000,000 for highway construction during the three years starting July 1, last, indirectly inflicts a penalty on the community that builds cheap and costly to maintain pavements on important thoroughfares.

The federal money is distributed to the various states with the understanding that each state will match its quota, dollar for dollar. The government, through the Bureau of Public Roads, Department of Agriculture, not seeking to dictate what type of pavement shall be constructed in any given community, specifies that the type of surface must be adequate for the traffic anticipated.

However, the government does insist on protecting its investment by providing that the various states, out of their own pocket, must keep all federal aid roads in good condition of repair. If this is not done, the government will itself maintain any road not properly maintained and will deduct the cost from the state's federal aid allotment.

Highway engineers point out that the community which devotes its quota of federal aid to constructing the less durable pavement types will, within a few years, be greatly burdened by heavy annual repair and maintenance costs. This maintenance henceforth can not be neglected as it too often has been in the past.

The community which builds pavements that, while costing a little more at first, last so much longer and need not call for constant change and early reconstruction costs.

The Bureau of Public Roads, using its observations of the behavior of pavements under heavy motor truck traffic as a basis, has carefully listed pavement types in order of their durability. Starting with the most durable, the list includes: vitrified brick, sheet asphalt, cement concrete, bituminous concrete, bituminous macadam, surface treated macadam, waterbound macadam, gravel and sand clay.

The best friends of labor, organized and not organized, are more and more fearful that "the right to strike" has been emphasized too much, and that, when it runs afoul of the general right of every one to peaceful life, it must give way to the greater good of the greater number.

The country is tired of strikes. The whole people of the U. S. are tired of having their coal and transportation either interfered with or threatened. Since the birth of organized labor Americans have been in sympathy with the right of men collectively to bargain and collectively to protest against injustice by a collective cessation of work. But that sympathy has been extended to striking men, and fought a fair fight, who interfered not at all with the innocent and the nonpartisan.

In the old days in the far West, a man had the right to shoot, if he felt himself injured or threatened by another. The other man had a right to shoot, too. It was a case of a "fair field and no favor." When towns were being shot at, shooting had to stop. The rights of the innocent bystander became paramount to the rights of two men to "fight it out."

The rights of many innocent citizens are paramount to the rights of a few to strike. It is the general feeling of legislators in Washington, of men and friends of organized labor, that it is labor's benefit to find another way to settle difficulties than to strike in the essential industries—coal and transportation.

It is their conviction that if labor can not or will not, the United States can and will. The innocent must not suffer that two disputants be allowed to fight; arbitration must take the place of interference with mails, stoppage of coal, halting of trains. If peacefully, willingly, so much the better. If by force of arms and drastic awe, so much the worse for those who put personal rights before the rights of the whole country.

AIR "CEILING" AND OCEAN BOTTOM OBJECT OF INVENTION

Revolution in Two Sciences Result of Recent Inventions.

Washington.—Scientists at the Nation's Capital are greatly interested in reports of new devices which reach from the highest altitude of the air to the lowest depths of the ocean. From England comes report of a "crash proof gasoline tank," which is so constructed that no matter what stresses are applied to it in an airplane descent it will not burst. Many accidents to planes in rough lands result in fatalities, due to fire, because the gasoline tank breaks with the crash and the burning fluid is scattered over the aviator and passengers. The new tank has been carefully tested, and promises immunity from fire after a rough landing.

The United States Air Service has just tested a "fool proof" airplane which can not be made to go into a tail spin. The best military aviators attempted in every known way to make the plane go into a tail spin, which at anything less than a great height is the most dangerous antic an airplane can perform, but without success.

An American scientist, Dr. Harvey C. Hayes, of the Experimental Station at Annapolis, has perfected a device for deep-sea sounding, which has been tried successfully by the Navy. The instrument measures depths, not by a material wire or rope, but by reflected sound. In addition to its importance as a discoverer of further secrets of the ocean depths, it is claimed that this instrument will make possible the mapping of deep sea "land marks," by means of which ships in a fog or storm will be able to locate themselves without the aid of latitude and longitude observation of heavenly bodies.

THE SUGAR BOOSTERS

By conspiracy, sugar speculators pushed sugar to 32 cents two years ago and had no consumers standing in line begging for the privilege of purchasing small amounts. The conspiracy was profitable to various factors in the sugar game. The profits were paid by small consumers mainly. The squeeze was conducted when many of the large buyers, such as preserving concerns and candy makers, had sufficient sugar on hand.

The present effort to skin consumers of sugar; to create a panic and run prices skyward, began before the railroad strike was called. The strike is of service to the propagandists, who, before the strike, were whispering to housewives the hint that sugar should be bought in quantity because the price was going up. Householders may rest assured that everyone who responds to the effort of the propagandists and hoards sugar will contribute toward the creation of the conditions under which the profiteers procured 32 cents for that commodity.

If the price, because of the railroad strike, is the cause of the advance in sugar this week it should be obvious to any consumer that the best way to keep down prices is to buy sparingly, and the surest means of increasing the advance is to buy more sugar than is needed.

The great sugar conspiracy that set the price to 32 cents on fiction is statements of shortage is remembered fondly by those who profited by it. That project reached its highest level of achievement during the season of canning and preserving: the season at which housewives could be counted upon to buy a good deal of sugar regardless of the price. Those who were most agreeable to those "tasted blood" when sugar went to 32 cents to bleed the consumer heavily this year. Consumers may help themselves by declining to hoard sugar on runners of sharp advances.—Courier Journal.

DEFECTS IN EDUCATION.

Many people who at this time are beginning work for the first time realize that there are wide gaps in their education. When the stenographer has letters handed back with misspelled words, when the store clerk makes errors in his arithmetic that seem careless or ignorant, they lament some idle days spent when in school.

But young people who are determined to rise never worry much about such defects. A few hours a week of reading and study at home will put them in advance of many who have had better opportunities, but who have frittered them away. The early years of people's business careers should be a time when they make a special effort to remove these defects of education. If they do not do so then, they probably never will.

The tourists kick if the trains are delayed by careful handling of their baggage and they kick if the baggage is handled in a hurry so that the trains can be on time.

STATES GET WAR MATERIALS FOR USE IN ROAD BUILDING

Surplus war material valued at $139,773,986 was delivered to the States for use in road construction up to July 1, reports the Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture. The material which consisted of all sorts of supplies and equipment suitable for road building for which the War Department had no further need, was distributed on the same basis as monetary Federal aid.

In value of material delivered, Texas and New York lead with nearly $8,000,000 worth of material, and every State with the exception of five of the smaller states received supplies valued at over $1,000,000.

This material has been of great value in road construction, and there is hardly a county in the U. S. in which some of it has not been used.

Probably of greatest value has been the 23,326 motor vehicles distributed, consisting of 24,752 trucks and 4,173 automobiles, and in addition a large number of tractors.

The system of distribution has been so arranged that the States requisition only material useful to them. In some cases they fall behind in allotments in order to wait for material particularly desired. Many of the States have grown great ingenuity in conditioning war equipment, using war material to equip shops in which other war material is made suitable for use.

There is still a large quantity of material in this country for distribution. This will be further increased by material sent by the army of occupation in Germany soon to be brought back.

BETTER RURAL SCHOOLS.

Many volumes are written annually upon educational theory, most of them incomprehensible to the average reader. But the ordinary citizen can get a quite clearly certain principles that should be worked out in any country school.

Every child needs to be taught certain habits of business life, such as strict accuracy and the faithful performance of duties. He needs to understand that seven times seven is 49, not 48 or 50. The child should be made to realize that it is not enough to perform a task, "nearly right." He should be made to get it exactly right, and should be kept at that task until he finishes it.

The world is full of slipshod people who drift along, trying to get by with imperfect performance of duties. If children slip thru school easily, being released from strict performance of their tasks, they form bad habits affecting their success all through their careers.

Most facts that children learn in school are soon forgotten. The school pupil years ago probably learned the names of 300 different rivers in the world, and if now he could name a dozen, he would do well. Knowledge of that kind is interesting to possess, and it makes a person seem well informed. But many people who are quite intelligent are very inefficient in their work, and never amount to anything.

The most important thing that a school has to do is to teach the children certain fixed habits of industry and application and get the idea into their heads that they must do perfect work in whatever they undertake, that any product they turn out must be a superior product, better than ordinary people produce.

In the write-up of the Poultry Tour of Dearborn County, Ind., the Aurora Bulletin of July 28th, says: "The machines that made up the Poultry Tour last week, bore wind-shield posters advertising the trip. The party left Aurora promptly at eight o'clock. Along with the officers of the Dearborn County Association, and the members from this county, were Prof. Jones, head of the Poultry Department, Purdue University; W. D. Sutton, County Agent of Boone County, Kentucky. Messrs. Huey and Kinsey professional poultry raisers of Boone County, Ky., and their parties. The company of the Kentucky visitors was very enjoyable and the many points relative to the poultry industry that they explained were much appreciated."

The class of fair that will be put on this year is not to be confused with the kind that was put on last year at the Lawrenceburg Fair Grounds. It will be of the old fashioned variety, with plenty of clean amusements and lots of exhibits for which premiums will be paid. Send for a Premium List at once. Get your neighbors interested in this fair and if possible have them prepare something for exhibition. For other information, write Mr. F. E. Elder, Secty., Lawrenceburg, Indiana.

HOW TO GET IT.

The darkey preacher's definition of prayer might be taken to heart by the member who would like to prepare a prayer for the Lord to send me a turkey. He doesn't do it, but if asks the Lord to send me out after a turkey, I always gets it."

600 NEW MEMBERS ADDED TO BURLEY POOL LAST WEEK

Adair County Furnishes 161 and Madison 41, the Latter New Being 85 Per Cent Signed—Association Officials Much Gratified With Gains.

Lexington, Ky.—Contracts to the number of 650 were reported to the office of the Field Service Division of the Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association as having been signed the past week, according to a statement given out Saturday at the offices of the Association. Of this number E. M. Mansfield, of Carrollton, led with 161 signed in Adair county. Workers in Hardin, Carroll and Indiana territories across the river 18, Taylor 25 and Fleming county 6.

Madison county went to an eighty-five per cent sign-up Saturday when Albert T. Day, of Mayville, who has been working in that county, turned in 41 contracts. Members of the Association in Madison have been greatly pleased with the increase in the membership made by Mr. Day through personal presentation of the co-operative marketing proposition to the growers of that county.

OUR YOUTHFUL DAYS.

"We are only young once," you often hear some person remark as an excuse for "hitting the pace." True, we can be young but once, and the pleasures of youth must be crowded into that space of time.

But how long are we young? Some men are old at 40, while others are still young at 60. It depends upon the pace they hit and the manner in which they hit it.

We can crowd a lot of work and pleasure into youth if we keep our hearts and our minds and our bodies clear, or we can reduce the amount of both and shorten our youth by resorting to reckless dissipation.

Your youth is your own. It will be prolonged or curtailed by your own acts.

BARN BURNED

Last Thursday evening about 7 o'clock, Mr. Geo. Darby, of the Pt. Pleasant neighborhood, lost his barn and meat house with all contents by fire. In the barn were about 25 tons of hay and other feed and farm implements. A load of hay had just been driven into the barn and it is rumored that the fire started in this load, as that is where the fire was first discovered. By the time assistance arrived the fire was under good headway and it was with hard work that kept his residence from burning. The loss is estimated from between $2,000 and $3,000. The barn was insured in the Mutual Insurance Co., of Boone county for $800. Just how the fire started is a mystery.

PREDICTS AN EARLY FALL.

We heard an old-timer at the "Bureau of Information" headquarters say the other evening that we would have an early fall, and gave as his reason the following: "You will note that the fruit and vegetables are ripening two weeks earlier than usual; that flowers, such as Golden Glow, Dahlias and other flowers which rarely bloom before August are now in bloom; also that many weeds have matured, which is evidence to show that we will have a very early fall." Pin this in your hat.

SOME APPLE.

F. H. Rouse brought to this office, last Saturday morning, a Transparent in circumference and weighed three-quarters of a pound, one of the largest of that variety we ever saw. This is evidence, that to get good fruit, you must spray your trees. Mr. Rouse is a great believer in spraying and while others have been getting from 75 cents to $1.00 per bushel for apples, he has been getting from $2.00 to $2.25 per bushel.

NOTICE.

The regular meeting of the Boone County Fair Bureau will be held in the office in Burlington, Ky., at 10:30 o'clock, Monday August 7th, 1922. J. COLIN, KELLY Secretary.

BUSINESS NOT BRISK.

Business at the Tax Commissioner's office has not been very brisk since the first of the month. Taxpayers have been too busy keeping cool to be bothered with giving in their lists.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDED

A very large crowd attended the picnic at Harvest Home grounds, last Saturday night, and a delightful time was enjoyed by all those in attendance.

Good roads in Boone county are decreasing while the number of automobiles are increasing.

A WEEK'S NEWS.

BE AN OWL.

"A nice old Owl sat on an oak
The more he saw the less he spoke
The less he spoke the more he heard.
Why can't we be like that old bird?"

Robert Day, of Franceville neighborhood, was a business visitor to Burlington, last Saturday.

Anyway the terms of the congressional men expire in March 1923, so they have got to stop talking by that time.

Formerly they used to present brides with cook books, but now they would probably want beauty hints.

The boys are willing to attend Sunday school provided the lesson time is spent in discussing the baseball situation.

More than one half of the automobile licenses issued this year at the county clerk's office have been to Ford owners.

Next Monday is county court day and on the following Monday the August term of the Boone Circuit Court will convene.

If the schools don't give more attention to teaching arithmetic, pretty soon the average man won't be able to compute base ball percentages.

The college graduates are regarded with contempt by the people who learned all they needed to know without even going through a high school.

Most of the cities are spending twice as much money as they did before the war, but the public does not care so long as they can borrow the money.

The tired business man may be too exhausted to attend a lecture but that does not prove that he can't sit up a good part of the night at a little card game.

Farm women enrolled in agricultural extension poultry clubs last year raised 2,083,127 standard-bred chickens. They received for chickens and poultry products sold, $1,617,047.89, in addition to the supply produced for home use.

Mrs. J. M. Eddins, who was operated upon for appendicitis at Christ Hospital, Cincinnati, several weeks ago, was brought home last Thursday, and is getting along nicely. Her many friends will be glad to know that she has about recovered.

The Lawrenceburg Fair grounds are being put in A No. 1 shape by the Schimpf Construction Co., for the Dearborn County Fair. New cattle pens, stalls, etc., have been built, and anybody that brings or sends anything for exhibition may rest assured that it will be well taken care of.

The many friends of Mrs. Anna Hogan will be delighted to know that she has entirely recovered from her recent illness and has gone to spend the remainder of the summer in the Southern Ky. mountains. She will attend lectures at Berea College during the summer term at that place.

There are thirty-four special days observed by the public schools of Kentucky in one way or another during the year. They include nine legal holidays, five days of the Kentucky Educational Association meeting; Election of trustees; teachers examinations; Flag Day; Temperance Day and Constitution Day.

One hundred and thirty-six thousand and four hundred and forty-one boys and girls were enrolled in agricultural extension clubs in 1921 for training in various phases of live-stock work. These junior farmers owned last year, 76,148 head of farm animals and 554,236 fowls, representing a total value of $3,605,176.

Tuberculosis in cattle can not be kept under control, much less eradicated, if grade animals and single cows owned by families are omitted from the clean-up of any territory. Whole areas, therefore, like townships and counties, should be cleaned up rather than scattered herds, if the work is to be of permanent value and handled in the most economical way, says the United States Department of Agriculture.

The State Department of Education distributed $3,978,383.30 among the county and city schools during the fiscal year ending June 30. The money is apportioned according to the scholastic population, $6.10 for each child of school age. Salaries of the State Department amounted to $18,743.11, contingent expenses to $17,000.35 and interest paid on school warrants to $43,130.07. The total amount disbursed was $4,084,256.53.

Of the above amount Boone county received $13,946.20.

MONEY AND MARKETS

Conditions at the close of the first half of 1922 indicate that business will expand moderately during the autumn and winter months. It is now one year since the definite beginning of recovery from the depression of 1920-21. Progress was slow until the close of 1921, but since the beginning of 1922 improvement has been rapid. Money is cheap. The crop outlook is excellent. With few exceptions, stocks of raw materials and of manufactured products are not larger than necessary to bridge the normal period between production and consumption. Commodity prices are rising. The movement at present seems to be primarily one of adjustment between the different classes of commodities, and as long as the upward tendency does not assume a speculative character, it is a favorable factor. Except for strikes, there is little idleness. Production has expanded steadily since the beginning of this year, and as yet the usual mid-summer dullness has been little felt.

Any fair appraisal of the situation must, however, take cognizance of several groups of qualifying factors. First and most important of these is the position of domestic consumers. Many are cautious and slow to consume. Buying is likely to be stimulated by reports of impending shortage of goods, or fears of higher prices, for except in the case of necessities the public is willing to wait, or to do without, if prices show a tendency to soar. Furthermore, large sections of the population cannot buy, no matter how willing, if prices rise too rapidly. Although they have recovered somewhat, wages and salaries are lower than two years ago. Enforced unemployment left many workers in debt, or with depleted savings, not yet made good. Strikes have kept hundreds of thousands in idleness for months and threaten to result in idleness for other thousands if not speedily brought to an end. Farmers are usually conservative buyers and although prices of farm products have improved, prices of what farmers must buy are still too high in relation to what they have to sell to place them in a position to expand their purchases rapidly. Furthermore, they are paying their debts. There is every ground to expect a reasonable volume of fall business at moderate prices, but there is no basis for expectation of such volume at high prices or of boom business at any price.

The second retarding factor is the labor situation. The United States is in the midst of widespread labor troubles. It is useless to declaim against the spirit that has brought this situation to pass. Each side, both the railroad and coal strikes believes it is justified. Workmen do not lightly sacrifice their earning power, or corporations carelessly take the risk of damage to their property or thoughtlessly forego the hope of profits for a long period. That section of the public which is not directly concerned is an equal sufferer for these conflicts are certain to be felt in lessened productivity and restricted distribution in every line. The only settlements which can be ultimately in the public interest are fair settlements, and the public has the right to take all measures which may serve promptly to bring them about. Delay in reaching settlements will temporarily delay expansion, but it will not affect the fundamental causes which for more than a year have been working for better business.

The third factor which seems likely to limit business expansion in the United States is the European situation. Outwardly it remains complicated. Enormous issues of paper have further depreciated the German mark. There have been assassinations and other evidences of political unrest and Germany has formally applied to the Reparations Commission for a moratorium on reparations payments. Difficulties arising from depreciated public finances are bound to be a retarding influence, and may have a certain adverse effect on exports of grains and other food products, cotton and other raw materials from the United States.

There is another side to the situation, however. It is at last recognized that financial chaos cannot continue indefinitely, that grandiose schemes for financial rehabilitation, by which the European combatants had hoped to escape some part of the penalty of the crime of war, are all bound to fail, and that Europe must save itself. Favorable exchanges clearly reflect the efforts of those countries, combatant or neutral, which have faced the facts. Those countries which thus far have avoided the issue must meet it now. The productive power of the Continent of Europe is certainly as high as or higher than a year ago. Even bankruptcy of governments could not nullify this advantage, and determination may avoid bankruptcy.

Two of the men who voted to retain Truman H. Newberry from Michigan in a purchased seat in the Senate have already been eliminated from that body. Newberry, of Indiana and Porter J. McCumber of North Dakota. Others like Calder of New York, France of Maryland, Frellinghuysen of New Jersey, Kellogg of Minnesota and Townsend of Michigan are on their way to the eliminator, with good prospects that there will be several others after November.

RADIO RALF--

By JACK WILSON

Copyright 1922 by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate

JUNIOR JUDGING CONTEST PLANS GIVEN GOOD START

Lexington, Ky.—Plans are well under way for the state livestock judging contest which will be held for farm boys and girls September 13 in connection with the State Fair, it has been announced by C. W. Buckler, state fair director. Junior agricultural club work at the College of Agriculture. Approximately 88 counties are expected to send teams to the event. Twenty-three counties competed in 1921, the first year that the contest was held. Competition in the judging will be open to any county that has organized junior agricultural club work.

Agricultural agents in a number of counties have held contests already between various communities as the first step in preparing boys and girls for the state contest. Winners in the community contest will meet in a county contest, the winning team of which will have the right to represent the county at the fair. Interested persons and firms in several counties already have posted as much as $100 which will be used as prize money for the contest in their district. Each team in the state contest will be composed of three boys or girls between the ages of 12 and 18 years.

In competing at the fair, each contestant will be required to place eight rings of livestock of four animals each including two rings each of beef cattle, dairy cattle, breeding hogs and mutton sheep. Each member also will be required to give the reasons for his placings of one of the two rings of stock that he has examined in each class. Twenty-five minutes will be allowed on this ring while time on rings where no reasons are required will be limited to 15 minutes.

As was the case last year, the county having the highest scoring team will receive the Bourbon Stock Yards Trophy, valued at $50 which Boone county won in 1921 and which became the permanent property of the team winning it two successive years. In addition $300, donated by breed associations and other persons interested in better livestock, will be distributed among the 20 highest scoring individuals. The individual prizes range from $20 to $5.

SANITARY TERMS EXPLAINED FOR LAYMEN BY DEPARTMENT. Pointing out that an insecticide is not a dependable disinfectant and that there is a wide difference between an antiseptic and a deodorant, the United States Department of Agriculture emphasizes the use of the right preparation in disinfecting premises. Sanitation is especially important in preventing losses from animal disease, and, along with attention to cleanliness, disinfectants are frequently necessary, especially after an outbreak of a contagious disease. Here is condensed information on the subject, prepared as a result of the department's experience in advising persons who misunderstand the purpose and correct use of disinfectants.

The word "infected" means contaminated with or acted by disease germs; "disinfected" means freed of disease germs. A "disinfectant" is a product that destroys disease germs or renders them harmless. An "antiseptic" is a substance that prevents the development and growth of disease germs, but an antiseptic is not a disinfectant unless it is capable of destroying disease germs in addition to preventing their growth.

A disinfectant is not necessarily an "insecticide," for some powerful disinfectants are relatively harmless for insects and the best insecticides may be of little value as disinfectants. Formaldehyde is one of the most powerful disinfectants known, but it is a very weak insecticide; and, conversely, hydrocyanic acid is deadly for insects and all forms of animal life, while it has little power as a germicide or disinfectant. It is well to remember also that "deodorants" are not necessarily disinfectants—one destroys odors, the other destroys germs.

No single disinfectant is appropriate in all cases. Select the proper substance, apply liberally, allow ample time for the disinfectant to do its work, and remember that success depends in large part upon the care and exactness of the person who prepares and applies the disinfectant.

FOR SALE ETC

WANTED.
Fifty stock ewes, from 3 to 5 years old. J. M. Rice, Grant, Ky.
13 July 4t

FOR SALE—Four room cottage and 25 acres land. Will be sold together or separate. B. E. Aylor, or W. H. Walker, Burlington, Ky. Telephone 130.
oAug—3t

FOR SALE—Two registered spring Duroc Boars, one yearling boar, two fall gilts. B. C. Stephens, Grant, Ky.
July 27 2t pd

NOTICE.
We have been appointed the authorized sales and service station for the Willard Battery for Boone county. Also recharging and repairing on all makes of Batteries. Work guaranteed.
DEMPEY MOTOR CAR CO.
Erlanger, Ky.

HEMSTITCHING AND PICTURING ATTACHMENT works on any sewing machine, easily adjusted. Price $2.50 with full instructions. Oriental Novelty Co., Box 11, Corpus Christi, Texas.
o17 aug

For Sale—Good big work mare. J. W. Cross, Burlington, Ky. oAug 2t

WANTED
Hay to bale. Prices reasonable. P. H. Mathews, Buittsville, Ky. Phone 203-x
29 June 1t

For Sale—Nine 8-weeks old pigs. Howard Kelly, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 1.
1t—pd

For Sale—15 shoats, will weigh about 75 pounds. Ray Botta, Burlington R. D. 2.
1t—pd

For Sale—Two Jersey milk cows, one young Jersey bull eligible to register, 40 stock ewes. Jesse West, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 2.
1t—pd

$3.60 WHEEL PLOW for $2.95. THIS WEEK ONLY. Get one NOW. HARDWARE & SPECIALTY CO., Hope Conner, Mgr., Florence, Ky.
1t—pd

For Sale—Eighteen 100 pound shoats. John W. Cloud, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 1.
1t

For Sale—Coming three year old bay Shetland pony. Gentle. Also saddle pony two years old. Aylor Stephens, Petersburg, Ky.
2t—pd

STRAYED
From the W. A. Gaines farm July 16th, Poland China sow, will weigh about 250 pounds with white face. Finder please notify Charles Pepper, Burlington R. D. 1. Consolidated phone 175-X.

If you are a millionaire farmer, with lots of help, maybe you don't need one of our light box-beds. Otherwise, otherwise. Conner & Kraus, makers of sleds, plows, truck bodies, swings, screen doors, etc., etc., etc. Florence, Ky.
1t—pd

PROGRAM OF EXERCISES SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT FRIDAY EVE. 8 O'CLOCK

Introductory Remarks by the Principal.

Instrumental Solo—Frances Berkshire.

Recitation—Alice Graves.

Vocal Duet—Beulah Tanner and Alice Hafer.

Recitation—Mary McMullen.

Vocal Solo—Maude E. Tanner.

Reading—Mattie Kreylich.

Vocal Duet—Maud and Frances Berkshire.

Recitation—Elizabeth Hensley.

Instrumental Solo—Marjorie Tanner.

Educational Film.

Physical Exercises and Drills by O'Young Ladies in Costume.

Concerning what will happen to the tariff tinkers who are trying to put over the Fordney-McCumber Profiteers' tariff bill, it may be said that the main difference between McCumber and some of the others is that McCumber "got his" first.

THE LOAN THAT NEVER COMES DUE
UNLESS AND UNTIL THE BORROWER WISHES TO PAY IT
$56.46 per year on each $1,000 of loan pays both principal and interest
NO COMMISSIONS NO RENEWALS
KENTUCKY JOINT STOCK LAND BANK
Security Trust Bldg. Lexington, Ky.
B. H. RILEY, Agt. Burlington, Ky.

NOTICE.
The postal laws provide that if a letter or other writing is enclosed with a parcel post package the Postmaster must charge the letter or first class rate for the entire package, it is also a violation of the postal laws which may be dealt with by the Postmaster General. The law makes it the duty of the Postmaster to inspect all packages and if he finds first class matter, letters and other writing, he must not only charge the full first-class rate but report that fact to the Postmaster General. Postmaster Hickman has found in several packages letters, and he thinks they were put in the packages by persons who were ignorant of the law. If you want a letter to go with a package you can attach the letter to the outside of the package and put the correct postage on the letter and the package will be sent through the mails at the parcel post rate. The sender of all parcel post packages must write his name and address on the upper left hand corner of the package and if this is not done the package will be rejected.

For Sale—125 good stock ewes. Twelve months credit. Apply to V. W. Gaines, Idlewild, Ky.
oAug 10—3t

For Sale very reasonable—Four Registered Shorthorn cows and calves, two of them bulls. Sell separate or all together.
WALTER C. GAINES,
oAug 8—4t pd Burlington R. D. 1

FAIR EXHIBIT OF COLLEGE TO FEATURE TEN POINTERS.

Lexington, Ky.—Ten phases of better farm and home practices for Kentucky will be dealt with in the educational exhibit to be made by the College of Agriculture at the coming State Fair it has been announced by N. R. Elliott, who is in charge of arrangements for the display. Important points in connection with farm economics, horticulture, dairying, home economics, farm engineering, poultry, animal husbandry, boys' and girls' club work, agricultural extension and soils are to be brought out in the display, according to the announcement.

Preventable leaks through which farm profits seep away will be brought out in the display to be made by the farm economics department while the horticultural division will show how proper storage means the saving of fruits and vegetables. The farm engineering specialists of the college will confine their display to a contrast of sanitary and unsanitary farms and homesteads which will be designed to emphasize the importance and necessity of keeping the grounds about the farm and home in a clean condition.

Home economics specialists will join with workers from the home demonstration agent division in displaying model and poorly arranged kitchens. This display will be designed to show how the kitchen may be arranged to save the most steps and promote the greatest efficiency in the household. The value and methods of artificially hatching and brooding chicks will be brought out in the poultry display. Actual money will play a leading role in the animal husbandry display in which one-dollar bills will be used to show the added profits that come from feeding hogs a balanced ration.

The dairy exhibit will contrast the outstanding differences between the profitable and unprofitable dairy cow. Exhibits of food, canning and clothing work done by junior agricultural club members will form the center of attraction in this display while the extension exhibit will be devoted to showing the growth of county and home demonstration agent work in Kentucky.

WE RECHARGE AND REPAIR ALL MAKES OF BATTERIES
Dempsey Motor Car Company
ERLANGER, KENTUCKY.
Phone 70-L

PICNIC
At Harvest Home Grounds,
Saturday, Aug. 5th, '22
GIVEN BY
Boone Post No. 4
American Legion
Dancing—Refreshments.
Everybody—Old and Young are Invited
From 7:30 to 12 p. m.

MCLEAN FARMERS UNITE FOR HERD IMPROVEMENT.

Lexington, Ky.—Interested McLean county farmers who are co-operating with the extension division of the College of Agriculture are taking steps to build up dairy herds in that section of the State which eventually should make the county one of the outstanding ones in Kentucky's dairy industry, according to E. M. Prewitt, dairy extension specialist of the college.

Following the recent organization of a cooperative purebred Jersey sire association which was promoted by County Agent R. H. Ford and the extension division, those interested in dairy herd improvement set about to bring bred registered Jersey heifers into the county to be used as the foundation stock for high producing dairy herds.

The newly organized sire association has a total of 48 members who own three high-class Jersey sires co-operatively. The organization is divided into three blocks, each one of which has the use of one of the sires for two years after which the animals will be changed to different blocks. By this means members of the association will be able to obtain the services of a good sire over a period of six years with the added advantage of small cost.

Six farmers in the county already have signed their intentions of buying bred registered heifers in line with the new movement. L. D. Leachman will purchase two, Hugh Herndon one and Allen Taylor, O. D. Robertson, Bud Walker and C. C. Bon two each. In addition Mr. Walker already has purchased a registered Jersey bull that is a grandson of the world's famous bull Fauvic's Prince. Other farmers are expected to be enlisted in the proposed plan of herd improvement as the movement gains headway.

The use of the purebred sires owned by members of the cooperative association on the registered heifers which are to be brought into the county is expected to be a potent factor in the development of McLean county's dairying. The heifer calves that are produced will be saved with the idea of building up registered herds after which official testing of cows for butterfat production will be started.

The old saying, "a man in a horse's nest don't know what he is doing," came near being proven Tuesday morning while Sheriff Joe Koebe was driving along the Harrodsburg pike near the John B. Jewell farm in an automobile. A bumble bee flew up his coat sleeve and landed four severe stings on his arm in rapid succession. The hornet-like blows caused him to temporarily forget he was driving an automobile and when he stopped the machine it was just in the act of going over a small embankment. Joe wants the next Legislature to pass a law making it a death penalty for bumble bees to be found loitering or attacking, or holding up travelers on the public highways. He said this particular bee is now making the best of it in Bumble Bee School, and I'm carrying four big whelps on my arm.—Nicholas News.

Let's everybody strike. Why let a few have all of the fun?

Bullittsburg Baptist Church.

J. W. Campbell, Pastor.

Sunday School every Sunday at 10:00 a. m.

Regular preaching services on the First and Third Sundays in each month at 11:00 a. m., and at 7:30 p. m.

All obituaries, card of thanks and all other matter, not news, must be paid for at 5 cents per line.

Plum Gulley and wife entertained several of their relatives last Sunday.

A nice shower of rain visited this section of the country, early Sunday morning.

The Florence neighborhood was visited by a splendid rain Monday afternoon.

Henry Clore and wife were pleasant guests of James W. Kelly and wife, last Tuesday.

F. H. Rouse and wife and Elmer Kelly and wife spent Sunday with friends near Union.

W. R. Rogers and sisters, Misses Sallie and Elizabeth, spent Sunday with relatives and friends at Verona.

Jno. B. Dixon, L. D. Renaker, and Jerry Dixon, of Devon, were transacting business in Burlington, Tuesday.

Mrs. J. D. Baldon and little daughter Sue, of Bowling Green, Ky., are guests of her parents, Mrs. Susan Kirkpatrick and family.

Mr. John Ransler and two daughters, of Richmond, were the Sunday guests of his daughter, Mrs. J. C. Gordon and Mr. Gordon.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Pierson and little son, and Miss Irma Utzinger, of North Bend, Ohio, visited Ray Botta and family, last week.

The first load of home-grown watermelons from the Bellevue bottoms, were brought to Burlington, Tuesday, the first day of August.

When in Covington and wanting anything in the clothing line, call to call on Selmar Wachs, who is making great reductions in summer clothing. See ad in another column.

With one exception, all the present congressmen from Kentucky are candidates for renomination in the primaries August 5th. The exception is C. F. Ogden in the Fifth district.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Gulley and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pettit had as their guests last Sunday, Bert Jones and family, Allie Walton and family, Earl Aylor and family, and Mrs. Thomas Hafer, all of Hebron neighborhood.

New Orleans, August 1. — One thousand uniformed members of the American Legion will assist the police in handling the 150,000 visitors expected at the American Legion, national convention in New Orleans next October, according to plans announced by Police Supt. Malony.

Burlington can boast of having two citizens whose combined ages total one hundred and eighty-eight years and five months, and both are able to be up and around and enjoying fairly good health, considering their ages. There are four other citizens of the town who have passed the four-score mark.

The New York State Republican organization has declared in effect against the renomination of Warren G. Harding of Ohio and for the nomination of Nathan L. Miller of New York for President in 1924. In resolutions adopted at the recent Republican State Convention, Gov. Miller is called "the greatest statesman of the age."

The hum of the threshing machine is heard in this vicinity but it is not music to the farmers as it would be if the crop was good. Some of the farmers say the expense of their wheat crop was so much or more than their wheat crop would bring if sold, not counting the farmers' work, counting the cost of fertilizer, seed and threshing.

An automobile tire and rim was stolen from a Ford coupe at one of the picnics held at the Harvest Home grounds a few weeks since. At the picnic held last Saturday evening some one removed the bolts from an auto wheel and also took a number of tools from the machine. When the owner started the machine the wheel came off and ruined the casing and tube.

A BARGAIN.

A few have taken advantage of our clubbing offer of the Cincinnati Daily Enquirer and the RECORDER — both one year for only $4.50. This is the lowest rate we have ever been able to get on the Enquirer, the regular price of which is $9.00. The Enquirer is a morning paper and comes to your rural route the same morning it is printed. Remember that winter is coming on and you will want a daily paper to read during the long winter evenings. Better take advantage of this offer before it is too late.

Down in southern Alabama a person of color was fetched into court to be arraigned for his preliminary hearing on a charge of wilful murder.

"Mose Tupper," said the judge, contemplating the prisoner over his spectacles, "you are accused here of one of the most serious crimes known to our laws—to wit, the taking of a human life. Are you properly represented by counsel?"

"No suh," said the darky cheerfully. "Well, have you talked to anyone about your defense since your arrest?"

"I told de sheruff 'bout de shootin' when he come to my cabin to bring me heah," said the prisoner, "but the's all."

"And have you taken no steps whatever to engage a lawyer?"

"No suh," said Mose. "I aint got no money to be wastin' on lawyers."

"You tell me lawyers is mighty 'spensive,"

"If you have no funds," insisted the judge, "it lies within the power of the court to appoint an attorney to represent you without expense on your part."

"You needn't be botherin' yo-self, judge," answered Mose.

"Well, what do you propose to do about this case?" demanded his honor. "You must be properly defended—the law so provides."

"Judge" said Mose, "ez for ez I see concerned you kin jest let de matter drop!"

LET US HAVE ORDER.

Violence, unless it is promptly suppressed and the perpetrators are punished, leads to more violence.

More violence leads to anarchy. Anarchy breeds revolution.

Revolution destroys governments and paralyzes industry.

There is no occasion for revolution in this country, and there is no excuse for violence.

Organization on the part of the laboring classes is essential to their well being. Without it they would be ground down by capital to starvation wages, and would be without the means to bring their families up in the proper manner and educate them for useful careers in the world.

But no organization, whether of labor or capital, is greater than our country and its laws. Those laws were made to be obeyed by all people, and no one is immune from their application.

No public official can expect to remain in office long without the confidence of the people, and that confidence endures only through a fair and impartial enforcement of law.

No organization can expect to retain the confidence or sympathy of the people unless its membership respects and obeys the laws which all of the people are required to live.

If the sane and law abiding element of an organization is powerless to prevent acts of lawlessness or violence in their continual disputes, then the constituted authorities should put an end to it without further ado.

It requires years of care and training to produce an adult life, and much toil and expense to create valuable property.

Neither should be destroyed at the whim of an irresponsible and lawless fanatic.

Let the law be enforced against both parties to a dispute. Justice knows neither friend nor foe.

FARM BUREAU NOTES.*WHY I JOINED THE FARM BUREAU.

"I joined the Farm Bureau because I wanted to keep my girl out of the corn field and give her the education she should have. My father made some money in farming but he made it at the expense of working himself fifteen hours a day and his wife and children longer hours than they should have had. It wasn't that he was greedy; it was just that farming was then so hazardous financially that he had no other recourse. The Farm Bureau in our county is eliminating the unnecessary risks from the business of farming and is putting it on the plane where efficiency and service, rather than drudgery and long hours, pay just returns. My farm bureau membership has come back into my pocket in added returns every year since I have belonged, and it will do the same thing for every other farmer who makes good use of it.

"I cite these benefits first not because I fail to see the other ideals of the Farm Bureau, but because agriculture must first be put on a just basis of prosperity if other ideals are to be attained."

Hazel McGann, a colored man who says he is in Georgia, was acting very suspiciously at Linsburg Saturday night, was arrested by Sheriff Hume and Deputy Utz and lodged in jail. An investigation was made and it is believed that the negro is slightly demented. He claims to be suffering from shell shock and that he had been in the U. S. hospital in Washington, D. C.

Lower insurance rates on tobacco in barns may grow out of a movement started in Lexington some time ago, according to representatives now engaged in working out a plan to present the matter of lower rates to the Kentucky Fire Insurance Underwriters' Association August 1.

Newton York spent several days the past week with relatives in Grant county.

"111" cigarettes

They are
GOOD!
10¢

Buy this Cigarette and Save Money

THE STORY OF A PAINTER.

House painters do not as a rule advertise as consistently and steadily as people in some other line of business. This is probably the reason why in most places this trade is a good deal split up and with few concerns expanding to the amount of work they could do.

Eight years ago a painter in Philadelphia was employing 27 men. He started in to advertise in one of the newspapers of that city, and uses a 50 line copy three times a week regularly during the year. Today his organization numbers more than 400 regular employees.

A business of that size is a very large one for the painting trade. The rapid growth of this concern in a limited period is very remarkable, and it proves that consistent and persistent advertising can work wonders.

There is not a line of business where a man could not make surprising gains by following this policy. Anyone who sets out to tell the people about his work is bound to attract attention. People will remember his name if nothing more, whether or not his advertising shows skill in ad writing. If he gives them plain talk about his business, showing them some good reasons why they should try him out, it will still further attract people.

The result is, as a man's name becomes better known, that people will flock to him more and more. If they want anything in his line they will go to him for it. Thus the volume of his operations increases. That means that his operating costs decrease relatively. He can introduce efficiency methods. He can purchase his materials for low prices, take advantage of special offerings by buying in large quantities. His overhead charges for rent, taxes, superintendence, etc., become less for each piece of work. Consequently he is in a position to do work or offer goods at very low prices. Advertising is the ladder up which multitudes of men have climbed to success, and many others could rise that way if they only realized it.

BEECH GROVE.

David Williamson and A. D. Williamson and wife, were guests of their brother H. W. Williamson, of McVillie, who is ill of blood poison long.

James West and wife entertained a number of relatives with a fish dinner, Sunday.

Leroy and Elmer Coates of Sparta, Ky., are guests of their grandparents, Marcus Ryle and wife.

Relatives and friends here were grieved to learn of the death of Mrs. Laura Wingate, who died Saturday night at her home in Bellevue, following a brief illness.

M. M. Ryle and family and J. W. Ryle and family attended a family reunion at C. S. Smith's of Bellevue, Sunday.

Miss Lullie Ryle, who is attending school in Burlington, spent Sunday at her home here.

Miss Irene Scott was a week-end guest of her cousins Misses Fleeta and Glendora Clements.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hightower and baby daughter Mary Ann, attended a dinner given Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Williamson at their home in McVillie, in honor of the marriage of their daughter Fleeta to Mr. Dallas Reiter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Williamson entertained with a dinner Friday in honor of Mrs. Ryburn Williamson and daughter. The following guests were present: Mrs. Ryburn Williamson and daughter, David Williamson and wife, A. D. Williamson and wife, James West and family, E. R. Scott and Miss Glendora Clements.

The Old Sticks will play Union at Burlington park next Saturday afternoon. Come out and see this game, as the Union boys will be greatly strengthened. Game called promptly at 2:30.

Mrs. Ryburn Williamson and accomplished daughter Miss Jessie, of Los Angeles, Calif., are guests of Grant Williamson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gaines entertained the Ladies Aid of Burlington Baptist church at their home out on the Peppersburg pike Tuesday night. Ice cream and cake were served and the evening very much enjoyed by those present.

Dr. W. S. Cole and Prof. A. M. Yealey, of Florence, were in Burlington Tuesday on business.

B. W. Carpenter, of Richmond, was transacting business in Burlington, Tuesday.

Newton York spent several days the past week with relatives in Grant county.

True Detective Stories

NUMBER 2695

Copyright by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.

WHEN Policeman William Lawrence of Bath, Me., was found in a dying condition—a bullet having drilled a hole through his lung—it was only natural that Dennis Tracey should take up the trail of the murderer. Tracey was Lawrence's closest friend on the force.

Who knew anything about the circumstances which led up to the crime, and, apparently, there was little hope of discovering any clue, because Lawrence, though not dead when discovered on the following morning, was extremely weak from exposure and loss of blood. According to the physicians, it was practically a certainty that he would die without recovering consciousness.

After leaving orders at the hospital that he was to be notified at once if his friend showed signs of being able to talk, Tracey visited the scene of the shooting in the hope of being able to find footprints or other evidence which would assist him in the search which he intended to make. The investigation, however, was entirely fruitless.

The dying policeman's revolver had been fired three times, but without effect—for Tracey found the bullets lodged in the rafters of a nearby warehouse, sufficiently close together to show the outline of the place from which the assassin must have fired. So far Tracey was able to reconstruct the affair, Lawrence had come upon some one trying to break into the warehouse, had probably warned him by a shot over his head and followed that by two other shots which failed to take effect. The burglar had then turned and fired point blank at the policeman, dropping him where he stood.

But who was the other man?

This was the question to which Tracey determined to devote as much time as necessary, the problem without a clue.

It was late the following night before Lawrence's condition showed any signs of change, and then only for the worse. The physicians gave him only a few hours to live, and Tracey hung continually over the bed, hoping for some word or sign which would provide an indication of the murderer's identity. Finally it came.

With an almost superhuman effort the dying officer raised himself on one elbow, and gathering every ounce of his fast-fading energy, whispered the single word:

"Wilkinson!"

Then he fell back, dead.

But that last word was enough. Had it not been Tracey who heard it, it ladder up meant nothing—for the two officers had been secretly working on a number of recent warehouse burglaries and they alone knew of the suspected connection of Daniel Wilkinson, son of a prominent New Hampshire family, with the one-man thefts.

Now Tracey knew not only was Wilkinson guilty of the burglaries, but of a far greater crime—the murder of Policeman Lawrence.

Putting himself in the place of the criminal, Tracey felt certain that the latter would not remain in or around Bath. He must have known that Lawrence had recognized him, and would fear that the dying man would find some way of imparting this knowledge.

It was probable, therefore, that he would head for some hiding-place where he would be comparatively safe.

Knowing that Wilkinson's family, in an effort to whiten the character of the black sheep, had sent him to sea a number of years before, Tracey thought it likely that the fugitive would attempt to join the crew of a sailing vessel and lose himself in a foreign port. He accordingly warned the authorities of all the New England sea ports to be on the watch for a man of Wilkinson's description, and then, securing leave, of absence, he took up the search—combing the waterfronts of every city and town from the Canadian border to Boston.

After he had almost abandoned hope, that Tracey wandered along the wharves at Bangor and spotted the man he wanted—"porting" lumber into the schooner Good Intent, at the foot of the Railroad street wharf. Without a sound the policeman edged his way along the dock until he was behind Wilkinson, and then dropped on top of his man, flattening him to the deck. Almost before he knew what had happened the fugitive found himself handcuffed and on his way back to Bath, there to be convicted of the murder of William Lawrence, after one of the hardest-fought legal battles in the history of the state.

The fact that, in the shadow of the state prison wall at Thomaston, there stands today a headstone bearing the numerals "2695," does not close the case, for there are many who claim that the murderer had powerful friends who succeeded in saving him from the gallows and spirited him out of the country into the Canadian Northwest.

But Tracey, who is now inspector detective at a big Florida hotel, considers that he fulfilled his obligations to his dead friend, when, after months of patient searching, he located the man who was responsible for Lawrence's death and produced the evidence which led to his conviction.

"Maybe Wilkinson is still alive," says Tracey, "but the soul of Bill Lawrence and my conscience are both at peace."

CAR SENSE

Spend
a Dollar
and
Save
Ten

Little defects grow into big ones in time if not corrected.

The correction of a small defect in its early stages costs but little.

When left until it grows into serious proportions its correction runs into money.

That is what makes the maintenance of a car so expensive to many people—neglecting the little things until they grow into big ones.

The better—the safer—the more economical way is to see the garage man at the first warning of trouble.

Today is always a good time to have it done.

EDDINS BROTHERS

TIRES, TUBES AND ACCESSORIES.

Burlington, Kentucky.

BRAKE BAND OIL—Guaranteed to stop Ford bands from chattering.
Agents for U. S. and Ajax Tires.

Established 1886.

A Bank Account

IS ONE OF THE FIRST STEPPING STONES TO SUCCESS IN LIFE.

How are You Stepping!

This bank invites young men and women especially to open savings accounts. Officials of the bank are pleased at all time to give the benefit of their experience to customers and others who seek advice.

When in doubt come to this bank. Your success means greater success for us.

Has it ever occurred to you that a checking account is a very convenient thing to have?

Boone Co. Deposit Bank

Burlington, Kentucky.

N. E. RIDDELL, President. W. D. CROPPER, Cashier.

W. A. GAINES, Vice-Pres. G. S. KELLY, Asst. Cashier.

COURTESY SERVICE FIRST STABILITY*A SAFE INVESTMENT.

One of the safest and best investments for you at this time is a 4 Per Cent Time Certificate of Deposit in this STRONG Bank.

There is no tax on this investment, the yield is good and, the principal will be returned to you upon demand.

Peoples Deposit Bank

Burlington, Ky.

Capital.....$ 50,000.00

Surplus.....100,000.00

W. L. B. ROUSE, President. C. H. YOEUELL, Vice-President.

A. B. RENAKER, Cashier.

Nell H. Martin, Asst. Cashier. L. C. Beemon, Asst. Cashier.

Petersburg Theatre

At Petersburg, Kentucky

Saturday Night, Aug. 5th*"It's A Great Life"

(By Mary Roberts Rinehard)

At Burlington, Kentucky,*Saturday Night, Aug. 5th

MABEL NORMAND IN

"What Happened to Rosa"

CHILDREN 10c. ADULTS 25c

War Tax Included Will Begin promptly at 8:00

THE AGRICULTURAL SITUATION

Good crops at fair prices make the United States prosperous. Nearly one-half the people of the country are directly dependent upon agriculture and a much larger proportion are indirectly dependent upon it for livelihood. The ability of this country to produce food and other agricultural raw materials has made possible its rapid industrial development and is the basis of its foreign trade.

It is now mid-season and although adverse weather might result in marked downward revisions of crop estimates, it can safely be assumed that the crop year 1922 will be reasonably satisfactory. Even if harvest results should fall below the yield which has been forecast there is no doubt that the United States has a good wheat crop. The July estimate is for a crop somewhat less than last year but slightly in excess of the average crop during the five years 1916-20.

There is a large carry-over, however, and a yield equivalent to the five-year average would mean satisfactory conditions in the corn belt. With the exception of oats the outlook for other grains is good and large crops of potatoes and tobacco are expected.

This and That.

Don't talk. Say something instead. Some men never go out looking for trouble. They get all they want at home.

The months of some people are like the cut-out on an automobile—all noise.

All men may be born equal, but there is a wide variance by the time they kick off.

AS THE EDITOR SEES IT.

It has been stated that England will cancel the war debt owed to her by France. It has been further stated that she will remit her portion of the German reparations.

This, it is understood, is conditional upon financial and other arrangements being made whereby Germany may be enabled to weather the storm and avoid a total collapse. England knows that there can be no European restoration with anarchy prevailing in Germany.

Many months ago, and more recently, it was suggested by Europe that all of the allied governments cancel their war debts to each other. This was very properly opposed by the press and people of the United States for the simple reason that a preponderance of the burden of cancellation would have fallen upon this country.

But if France, Italy and the other nations of the conquering group meet England in the same spirit, and take the action that is required to restore the stability of the world, then it would be quite proper for our government to take similar action in so far as justice will sanction.

We can not permit ourselves to be charged with a dog in the manger attitude, neither can we be tempted to pull other people's chestnuts out of the fire.

We can afford to remit as much, dollar dollar, as any other government, all conditions being equal.

More than this Europe can not in justice ask.

A year or two ago hundreds of thousands of our people were buying German marks, expecting to get them quickly by buying what was then considered the low end and selling out again when the rise came.

But the rise didn't materialize. Instead, the price of marks is now only a fraction of what it was then. And they have either pocketed their losses or are still holding the bag.

It is not our purpose to tell people what to do with their money. That is their business—certainly not ours.

But as a loyal American citizen we feel justified in suggesting that there is no better investment than good sound American stocks and bonds. Six per cent in pocket is far better than a hundred per cent in imagination or anticipation.

Your money invested in American securities keeps American people employed and American business on the up grade.

When thrown to the birds it is wasted. Even they can not eat it. Think twice before investing once and you will be able to retire much earlier in life.

Congress is still talking about the soldier bonus. Talk is cheap—except to the tax payers.

Every time there is a possibility of a bill being enacted into law somebody throws a monkey wrench into the machinery.

Soon, we fear, the bill for wrenches will be greater than the total cost of a bonus.

Anyway, congress is long on talk and short on bonus.

More trouble for the owners of agonized throats.

England announces that she will co-operate with American authorities in suppressing the shipping of liquor into this country from British territory.

That helps the doctors, and the undertakers, and the coffin makers, and the grave diggers, and the whole army of people who get their fingers into the pie of the poor devil who commits suicide by drinking American made poison disguised as hooch.

What's trouble for one gives another a boost.

PROFIT SHARING IS COMING.

The day is coming when practically all of our great railroad manufacturing and other corporations will be run on a profit sharing basis. When that time comes it will seal the end of strikes, lockouts and all other forms of labor disturbances.

It is doubtful, however, if we see such a day until some great upheaval or disaster has knocked the reasonable degree of reasoning and sense into heads that now seem to be practically devoid of both.

The tendency today is to skin every penny possible at the expense of somebody else, irrespective of the moral or legal rights of others.

This tendency is not confined to any one industry, or to any particular class of people. It is everywhere and is on the increase.

We will have to live between our periods of strife, but as long as systematic grab rules the commercial world we will have no permanent stability in business—only a condition of wondering today what the morrow will bring forth.

Profit sharing on an equitable basis is the only salve that will heal the national wound.

FAIR SEASON HERE.

As will be noted in another column of this paper, the Dearborn County Fair this year, August 23rd to 26th, will be given by the McAlister Amusement Company, Inc., whose members are of the American Legion Post, Lawrenceburg, and have no connection whatever with the so-called Dearborn County Fair held at the Lawrenceburg fair grounds last year.

PENDLETON COUNTY.

(Falmouth Outlook)

Down in Campbell county last week more than fifteen couples were arrested and fined for parking their machines along the roads at night. This automobile spooning had become a nuisance to people living along the roads and to the traveling public. Campbell is an open county, but the roads in Pendleton county are bordered with bushes which afford a natural screen for lovers who like the night air. Everything will be all right in Pendleton until somebody shakes the bushes.

The tobacco crop of Pendleton county is only about an average one, but is much larger than last year, when we had the smallest crop in the history of the county. The farmers had planned to put out a very large acreage in the county, but owing to the fact that we did not have rainfall at the proper time, the plants were not transplanted. We have had very light rains since April, but the showers have been frequent enough to keep the crops in a healthy state. The tobacco crop throughout the burley belt is at least 45 per cent greater than last year. There is a very large crop in the Blue Grass counties, and the condition at this time is 50 per cent over last year for this time. With favorable conditions from now on, there will be an increase of 100,000,000 pounds over last year.

One doesn't have to read the stars to see that free love among the human race is coming as fast as the automobile can take us. Too many married folks are not contented and are seeking amities who can show them a better time, while others are closing the divorce courts getting out of the matrimonial tangle. Young people are not content any more unless they have from two to a dozen sweethearts—or soul mates, as the blase youngsters call them. If religion or evolution doesn't bring about a change for the better and stop this trend toward the happy-go-lucky way of living, we will find ourselves in the same position as the old lady who was going to make a custard pie. A number of flies were swimming about in the custard, and in order to get a pure, wholesome pie, she strained the custard. There is nothing wrong with the young people of today. The trouble with them is that they are given too much liberty by their parents, and allowed to walk unsuspecting into the path of temptation.

A majority of the taxpayers of Pendleton county whom we have talked to in regard to the bond issue for good roads are in favor of the issue. About the only thing that they are given too much liberty by their parents, and allowed to walk unsuspecting into the path of temptation. If the best farmers, business men and citizens of the county will get together and adopt some practical system whereby the roads can be built economically and every dollar made to count, it will be easy sailing to carry the bond issue. It would be a calamity for this bond issue of $150,000 to fail. The towns and county must have a good system of roads, and a bond issue is the only way they can ever be built. We can not sit with our hands folded and let other counties go ahead and take our business away. It means much more than one realizes to have good roads. Especially the inter-county seat roads. In a few years most every farmer will have his individual automobile truck, and if the highways are good he can haul his own produce to the markets, sell himself, and make a great saving. Good roads will bring the city to the farm and the farm to the city. You can have everything the city dweller has and more, if you have good roads to your county seats, and to the larger cities. We have come to the point where it is just as inconvenient without highways as it would be without railroads. The town that is off a good road in this day is a dead one.

MOST ANYTHING.

A baby has just been born in Indiana with two tongues. He should have a wonderful career ahead of him as a Congressman.

A reduction is reported in the price of gasoline in tank cars. It is still as high as ever, however, in car tanks.

A western stock-raiser expert says that the cattlemen "should keep a watch on their cattle." But wouldn't the watch be ruined by the tick eradication?

The Shipping Board might solve its liquor-selling troubles by having all American docks moved out about three miles.

Will Hays says he plans to make the movies "a shining light of civilization." How many scandal-power.

The railroad situation has arrived at a point where the strikers are willing to forego all their original demands but are standing firm on some new grievances they have just thought about.

Germany, it is reported, is trying daylight saving. They might as well give it a trial; they can't save anything else.

A Chicago firm has shipped three thousand cases of soap to Russia. Apparently one of the Bolshevik leaders is planning to take a bath.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C. — The coal strike demonstrates that Harding has little force—probably less than Taft—but it also proves another thing—that he has no sympathy in his heart for the man who toils. His every move, weak and undecided though it may be, leans toward the interests of the big corporations. Eighteen of the mine owners, due to the simple fact that the existing wage agreements had reached their expiration and the owners refused to meet a delegation from the workers and fix up a new schedule of wages for the coming year. In all this time no coal has been mined by union miners except in Kentucky. The result there is not enough coal being produced to supply the summer needs of industry, and not a ton on hands for the coming winter. If all the miners should go to work tomorrow there would still be a scarcity of coal all winter long. As this is written there is no immediate prospect of work being resumed.

In 1902 Roosevelt faced a similar situation and he promptly ordered the owners to open up their mines at the old rates of pay and he would appoint a commission to look into the matter of wages and bring the owners to an agreement; he did, and thus settled the problem. Harding had that example before him, and all of the owners in the country knew of it, but they did not want this done. What they did want was that the workers should come back on the owners' terms and none other. A good many of us have become impatient at times with some of the more extreme attitudes of certain labor leaders, but this is somewhat different. An examination of the balance sheet of some of the biggest coal producing companies will show that they have profited well, while many dealers have grown rich off the prices obtained for coal in the last few years. Only the miners, their wives and children, and the consuming public do the suffering.

This session of Congress will finally end somewhere along in the fall and when it ends there will be some angry war veterans in the country. For the simple reason that when the session ends there will be no bonus bill of any sort whatever. Scores of Republican Congressmen have made the welkin ring with their demagogic speeches about what they are going to do for the world war soldiers. Many of them have certainly realized all the while that there will be no bonus passed in this Congress; when I say passed, I mean made into law. The present bill will probably pass the Senate, for there are enough votes on record there to pass it, but if it passes the Senate it will not be signed by the President, and if the backers of the bill try to pass it over the President's veto they will probably succeed in the House and will, in all likelihood, fail in the Senate. Few men will sit in Congress and vote to pass a bill over the veto of the head of their party, and this requires a two-thirds majority. Of all the men who have demagogued on this important measure, probably the worst and most ridiculous position is occupied by Simeon D. Fess, of Ohio, who owes most of his fame to the fact that he has gotten about all the members of his family on the pay roll at Washington. Next to golf, Fattening the Fesses is one of the most popular sports in administration circles. Two years ago Fess voted against the bonus and spoke against it; he had a little Congressional district all sewed up and it was pleasing to his heavy campaign contributors for him to vote that way, but now he is dropping that succulent bone like a dog that crossed the brook, to grab at a shadow. In Fess' case, the shadow represents the seat so ably filled by Senator Pomerehne. Now, Fess has switched about and is for the bonus. It is a curious coincidence that Fess is in the confidence of the White House, and other enjoying the same relation tell their friends that Harding will veto all the bonus bill if it comes to him. So, perhaps the canny Fess is playing safe after all—voting for the bill to please the soldiers and their friends, all the while keeping his fingers crossed, knowing that his vote will help the boys not in the least. In contrast, the attitude of James Garrett was strikingly honest. He opposed the bill because he believed it a poor bill for the boys and a piece of insincere demagoguery which was never intended to become a law. Fess now is for the bill, but two years ago he thought very much as Garrett did, for he gave an interview to the New York Herald in which he said: "There is little merit in the bill." The thing the Republicans their most feared way (Kithin's statement) that if the majority would allow the bill to be amended, he would support amendments to raise all the money needed for the bonus by a tax on profiteers—the fellows who are causing the consumer to pay $1.71 for the commodities which could be bought for a dollar in 1914.

Some serious reflections have been made on the ability of our public men of today, but the unkindest cut of all is contributed by a New York politician who says that William Randolph Hearst is America's foremost statesman.

It is beginning to appear that next winter's most popular song will be "Keep the Home Fires Burning."

The KITCHEN CABINET

Copyright, 1921, Western Newspaper Union

"The way out of our narrowness may not be so easy as the way in. The vessel that creeps into the corn bin has to starve himself before he can leave by the same passage."

DISHES FOR OCCASIONS

As everybody likes chicken the following dish will be one that can be served to a large company.

Chicken a la King.—Melt two tablespoonsful of butter; in it cook one-fourth of a pound of fresh mushrooms, peeled and broken in pieces, one-half a green pepper, cut in shreds, and one-half a onion, sliced. Stir and cook until the moisture is evaporated somewhat. In another saucepan melt two tablespoonsful of butter, in it cook three tablespoonsful of flour, one-half teaspoonful of salt and one-fourth of a teaspoonful of paprika; add one cupful of thin cream and one cupful of hot chicken broth and stir until boiling; cream two tablespoonsful of butter, beat two eggs yolk one at a time and stir into the sauce, continue to stir without boiling until the egg is set; add the mushrooms and pepper and the hot breast of a chicken cut in pieces one inch square, with a teaspoonful of lemon juice and a few drops of onion juice. Serve in timbale cases.

Timbale Cases.—Beat two eggs slightly, with one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, add, alternately, one cupful of milk and one cupful of flour beat until the mixture is smooth throughout. Have ready a kettle of hot fat; set the timbale iron into the fat and when hot dip the iron into a half cupful of the batter, not allowing the batter to come up over the top. Return to the hot fat dipping the iron until well covered, cook for half a minute, tilt the iron to remove the fat and drain the cases on paper. Keep them hot in a dripping pan set in the oven. These may be made the day before and crisped in the oven before using.

Lobster in Rice Border.—Heat cubes of lobster meat in a white sauce. Serve in a border of rice, set one and one-half cupsful of stock with one stewed and strained tomato over the fire. When boiling add one cupful of rice and one-half teaspoonful of salt. Stir occasionally with a fork until the liquid is absorbed. Add one half cupful of butter and cook over hot water until tender.

To work, to help and to be helped, to learn sympathy through suffering, to learn faith by perplexity, to reach truth through wonder, behold this is what it is to prosper; this is what it is to live.—Phillips Brooks.

WHAT SHALL WE HAVE TO EAT?

To have variety, economy and a well balanced day's meals, means careful thought and planning.

Filet of Lamb.—Remove the bone from two pounds of lamb cut from the fore quarter, cut the meat in strips and pound until flat. Mix three tablespoonsful of olive oil with three tablespoonsful of vinegar and two tablespoonsful of minced onion and parsley. Pour dressing over the meat and let stand over night. Serve browned in a hot pan. The bones may be cooked with vegetables making a fine soup.

Raisin Bread.—Take three cupsful of yellow cornmeal, one and one-half cupsful each of Graham flour and white flour, one cupful of molasses, one and one-half cupsful of soda, one-half cupful of hot water, one teaspoonful of salt, three cupsful of sour milk, one or two eggs and one and one-half cupsful of raisins. Mix well and fill molds half full. Steam three hours or six in a fireless cooker, reheating once.

Chocolate Loaf Cake.—One cupful each of sugar and sour milk, one teaspoonful of soda, two cupsful of flour, two squares of melted chocolate, one wellbeaten egg, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt and one-half teaspoonful of vanilla. Beat well and bake in a loaf forty minutes. This cake, if slightly less flour is added, makes a good layer cake. Put together with boiled frosting.

Tomato Fritters.—Beat one egg, add one-half cupful of water or stock, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of pepper and one tablespoonful of finely minced parsley. Add two cupsful of flour sifted with three teaspoonsful of baking powder. Beat the whole together, then add two or three fresh ripe tomatoes peeled and cut in pieces, or one cupful of canned tomatoes and two heaping tablespoonsful of grated cheese. Cook by spoonfuls in butter and serve with a highly seasoned tomato sauce as an accompaniment to roast meat.

It is beginning to appear that next winter's most popular song will be "Keep the Home Fires Burning."

LIKE ICE TEA DRINK

Nobetter Tea

Makes the Finest Drink Hot or Cold

1-4 Lb. Package 20c, - Pound 75c

Rarus Flour

You can't get better Flour than this

Bbl. in wood, $8.00

98-lb Cotton bag $3.75

EVERY POUND IS GUARANTEED

HERE'S COFFEE THAT IS REAL COFFEE.

Nobetter Coffee, The Best Coffee there is 1b. .... 33c

Drinkmore Coffee Second only 1b. .... 25c

Four Pounds or more Delivered by Parcel Post Paid.

Canning Supplies.

Mason Jars, Star Tin Cans, Jar Caps, Jar Rings, Sealing Wax, Paraffine, Wax Strings, Etc. GET OUR PRICES.

Northern Kentucky's LEADING GROCERS AND SEEDSMEN.

Long Distance Phone S. 1855 and S. 1856. Established 1893.

HEATING SYSTEMS

CALORIC - GOTTSCHALK

Pipeless Furnaces,

Pipe Furnaces,

Hot Water, Steam and Vapor.

—WE REPAIR—

FURNACES AND ROOFS

The Gottschalk Furnace &amp; Roofing Co.

Phone S. 1287 (Incorporated) COVINGTON, KY.

VULCANIZING.

Complete line of Goodyear, Goodrich and Kelly-Springfield Tires and Tubes, good Grade of Automobile and Tractor Oils and Greases.

Auto Accessories kept in stock.

GEORGE PORTER,

BURLINGTON, KY.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN,

DENTIST

In my new office

Clayola Place, Florence, KY.

Teeth extracted painless. Bridge and Plate Work a Specialty.

All Work Guaranteed

JAMES L. ADAMS

DENTIST

Cohen Building

Pike Street, Covington, Ky.

F. W. Kassebaum &amp; Son

GRANITE &amp; MARBLE

MONUMENTS,

A Large Stock on Display

to Select from.

Pneumatic Tool Equipme't

118 Main Street,

AURORA, IND.

Isinglass Replaced, Cushions and

Bugs and Wagon Upholstering

OF QUALITY

RUFUS W. TANNER

Auto Top Repairing

Sells covers for all makes of cars.

Dixie Highway Erlanger, Ky.

Phone Erl. 79-Y.

People who use the classified ads in this paper profit by them.

The little ads bring quick results. What have you for sale or want to buy. The cost is too small to consider.

READ YOUR COUNTY PAPER

$1.50 The Year.

TAKE YOUR COUNTY PAPER.

Take Your County Paper.

Subscribe for the RECORDER.

BOONE CO. RECORDER

Published every Thursday
N. E. RIDDELL, Publisher.

Foreign Advertising Representative
THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION
Entered at the Postoffice, Burlington, Ky., as second-class mail.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Furnished on application. The value of the RECORDER as an advertising medium is unquestioned. The character of the advertisements in its columns, and the number of them, tell the whole story.

Many cisterns in Burlington are dry.

Mrs. Richard Penn is visiting her parents and other relatives at Cynthiana.

No cases of importance on the docket for the approaching term of circuit court.

Miss Bess Hall after a week's visit with her parents, returned to the city last Wednesday.

A very large crowd of colored people attended the basket meeting at Burlington, last Sunday.

Some of these thirsty people in these times act very much as if they subsisted entirely on salt fish.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Stephens, of Covington, spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. E. E. Kelly.

In the good old times the most popular board of arbitration was the shingle exercised in the woodshed.

Another sign of the prevailing unrest is the absolute inability of the kids to do any work on circus day.

Claimed the circus clowns have old jokes, but the public grasps them much quicker than if they tried new ones.

Anyway when a man gets home in these dry times he can usually find the keyhole without waking up his wife.

Some ball fans make up for their inability to play the game, by the energy they display in licking the umpire.

Mrs. Mollie Clore, of Covington, was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. A. L. Nichols, and family, several days last week.

Some one wants to know what has become of the girl who used to feel so anxious because her skirt did not cover her boots?

The railroads of Kentucky won't be wholly popular for summer travel until they serve ice cream soda gratis to every passenger.

If President Harding needs exercise, it may be proper to point out that the White House must need weeding by this time.

It is suggested that school pupils call their teachers by their own names. Many of them have long been addressed as May I. G. home.

Mrs. Josephine Baker is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Ad Robbins who have been poorly for several days. Mr. Robbins is in the 94th year of his age.

It seems too bad when the boys have worked so hard to prepare for college, that no credits are given on their exams for proficiency in base ball.

Garden parties are now reported in high society but none of the guests are reported to have worn overalls and brought hoes as they should.

Clifton Roberts, of Walton, spent Saturday night with relatives in Burlington, and attended the moonlight picnic at the Harvest Home grounds.

Jas. D. Acra sold, one day last week an old bureau for which he purchased at a sale for 50 cents, and was using as a foot-chest, to a gentleman in the city for $50.

Some people can't attend church on a pleasant Sunday because they want to go motoring, and they can't attend on a rainy Sunday because they might spoil their hats.

Although the present styles of short skirts make it easier for the women folks to do housework, it is not reported that the girls of Burlington have offered to do the dishes more frequently.

The fair season will open at Erlanger on the 16th for a four days meet; at Lawrenceburg, Ind., on the 23rd for four days, and at Florence beginning Wednesday, August 30th to Sept., 2nd.

Thos. E. Randall and family, former citizens of Petersburg neighborhood, but now of Owen, Owen county, are spending a week with relatives and friends in Boone. They motored through Mr. Randall and Mr. Kirtley McWherry, of Petersburg, were business visitors to Burlington, Monday, and made this office a pleasant call.

OF PERCALE AND DIMITY.

Polka dotted percale and white checked dimity make this pretty dress for little missy. It is in two pieces. The blouse of the dimity has a Peter Pan collar and turn-back cuffs adorned with feather stitching of silk floss. A white silk cord ending in small tassels is laced across the front of the bodice and a patch pocket at one side maintains that practical things can be pretty.

RUNNING WATER IN KITCHEN POSSIBLE FOR COST OF $45

Lexington, Ky.—With about $45 worth of material, any home that is without a water pressure system can be provided with and dispose of waste in a sanitary manner, according to a new circular, "Pitcher Pump Installation," which has just come out of the press at the College of Agriculture. The well or cistern just outside the kitchen is a common source of water supply for family use, the new publication points out. The pump usually is located directly over the water supply, making it necessary for the housewife to waste both time and energy in carrying the water into her kitchen. Installation of a pitcher pump offers a simple and inexpensive means of saving this wasted time and energy.

Materials required for the installation of such a system in the average home include an enameled kitchen sink and fittings, such as a trap, sink back and drain board, a pitcher pump and bracket, a one and one-half inch drain pipe and fittings, a one and a quarter inch water pipe and fittings, a combined foot valve and strainer and some four-inch agricultural drain pipe. The estimated cost of $45 for this material can be reduced about $10 by the use of a home made sink back and drain board, the circular says.

The system as described in the circular provides for the protection of the well or cistern from surface pollution and the filtration of all cistern water in cases where the supply is from this source. The pump used is an ordinary pitcher pump, with the cylinder in stock, that will lift water a vertical distance of 20 feet and carry it a horizontal distance of 50 feet. A substantial kitchen sink is called for in the description, which also provides for a trap to prevent gases from the drain working back into the kitchen. The disposal system includes a section of galvanized pipe and from 50 to 100 feet of agricultural drain tile laid below the ground surface.

Detailed information and a drawing explaining the installation of the system are contained in the circular. It is No. 125 and may be obtained free by writing the Experiment Station at Lexington.

HOW TO SAFEGUARD PUBLIC AGAINST SPOILED CANNED FOOD.

Food dealers may safeguard the public against unwholesome foods by making careful inspections of all lots received before they are offered for sale, says the Bureau of Chemistry of the United States Department of Agriculture. Although the food-canning industry is now so well developed that most of the products put up in this way are safe and good, the safety of the consumer may be still further increased if the retailer keeps in mind the following suggestions:

Inspect every container when you open the case. No "swell," "springer," "flipper," or "leaker" should be accepted or sold by you. In glass, examine the cover and the seam, inspect the contents for signs of spoilage. Do not tolerate any spoiled product upon your shelves.

If a lot shows many swells, reject the lot. Do not take the responsibility of sorting a bad lot of cans and selling those apparently good.

You are entitled to demand a well-exhausted pack, every can showing good vacuum, with clean bright metal.

Your customers are entitled to the same protection. Even a trace of swell at all prevent the sale of a can to any customer.

No spoiled can should ever be reprocessed.

The removal of every container showing a sign of swell will go a long way toward preventing food poisoning.

Some people continue to question the statesmanship of Lloyd George in the face of the fact that he is the man who stopped the Irish from fighting England and started them fighting among themselves.

The present outlook is that within a very few months soft coal will be hard to get.

FARM ANIMALS

BLACK COLOR IS HEREDITARY

Feeding and Management of Sheep Have Nothing to Do With Appearance of Black Lambs.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
The appearance of black lambs in a flock made up entirely of white sheep has been for ages, and is still, a cause for wonder and the basis of superstitions. But the study of the laws of breeding and heredity has explained the reasons for the sporadic appearance of these off-color specimens. In a letter to a farmer who reported 25 black lambs from a flock of 175 purebred Shropshire ewes, all white, and who considered certain feeds the cause, the United States Department of Agriculture gives a clear statement of the principles involved.

Feeding and management of sheep, says Dr. Sewall Wright, specialist in animal genetics, have nothing to do with the appearance of black lambs. The black color is hereditary even though it may be transmitted by ordinary white sheep. The black color in such a case is what is called a recessive character. White sheep which transmit this character at all transmit black in 50 per cent of their reproductive cells (ova in the case of ewes and spermatozoa in the case of rams) and white in the remaining 50 per cent. Thus, such white sheep mated with blacks (which can only transmit black) produce 50 per cent black lambs and 50 per cent white. All of these white lambs can transmit black.

White sheep which transmit only white, mated with blacks, produce only white lambs, but all of these lambs can transmit black. When both ewe and ram are white, but both transmit black, about 25 per cent of the lambs are black, 50 per cent are white, which transmit black, while the remaining 25 per cent are true-breeding whites. In this case it is an even chance that a given ovum will transmit black and an even chance that it will be fertilized by a male cell which transmits black, making one chance in four that both transmit black, which is necessary for the production of a black lamb.

A Shropshire Sheep.

With 25 black lambs appearing in the flock, it is indicated that about 100 of the 175 ewes transmit black, assuming that all of the rams used transmit it. If not all the rams transmit this color, then it is probable that an even larger number of ewes transmit it.

Department of Agriculture Bulletin 905, Principles of Live Stock Breeding, contains a detailed discussion of this problem. It may be obtained from the superintendent of public documents, government printing office, Washington, D. C., for 15 cents.

DRY BRAN GOOD FOR HORSES

Better for Animals Easily Purged Than Warm Mash—Easy on Digestive Apparatus.

In cases of horses that are easily purged, it is better to give dry bran than a warm mash, and good clean bran may, with benefit, always form a portion of the dry food of all sorts of young horses, as the mineral constituents will be available as bone-forming material. In most cases of illness a bran mash may with safety and benefit be given, as it does not overtax the digestive apparatus, but when there is evident irritability of the bowels, as in diarrhea, etc., it is better to give bran in a dry state than in the form of a mash.

A warm bran mash is, however, of great service to horses that are working hard and receiving a large amount of grain. It should be given on the Saturday night, or any other time when the horses are resting the following day, as it has a decidedly laxative effect on the bowels. Bran in a dry state is an astringent, but in the form of a mash it is a laxative. If given once a week it will counteract the feverish symptoms which are supposed to result from high feeding, but this should not be done if a proper system of feeding is adopted.

EXCELLENT FOR YOUNG PIGS

Pasture Supplemented by Limited Grain Allowance Is Fine—Animals Kept Thrifty.

Good pasture supplemented by a limited grain allowance is an excellent ration for young pigs. The pigs on pasture not receive a cleaner grain, but the succulent feed and exercise they obtain aids in keeping them thrifty.

Trade Where They All Trade

A Sprayer for Every Use

The Little Midget hand sprayer, ea.....30c
Pratt's Hand Sprayer, ea.....50c
Continuous Sprayer, each.....$1.00
Compressed Air Sprayer.....$4.00 and $6.50
Foot Bucket Sprayers.....$4.50 and $6.00
Barrel Sprayer.....$18.00
Portable Sprayer.....$25.00

Spray your cows—Increase the flow of milk, and give comfort to cow and milker.

Cow Ease.....Qt. 40c; 1 gal. 75c. 1 gal. $1.25
Pratt's Fly Chaser.....1 gal. 85c; 1 gal. $1.35
Bishopric's Germ and Fly Killer—1 gal. 60c; 1 gal. 90c

Cracked Corn—sifted, best quality—100 lb. bag.....$1.75
Scratch Feed, no grit, 100 lb. bag.....1.85
Blatchford's Calf Meal, 25 lb. bag.....1.25
Corn Meal, kiln dried, 100 lb. bag.....1.80

Paris Green.....1 lb. 40c; 5 lbs. $1.75
Arsenate of Lead Powder, Black Leaf, Calcium Arsenate, London Purple, Heleboro, etc., etc.

GOLDEN BLEND COFFEE—the best for 25 years, - 33c

GEE WHIZ COFFEE—a 30c-coffee - 25c

OUR BLEND TEA—a sparkling drink, lb - 60c

One dollar's worth of any Tea or Coffee sent postpaid.

GEO. C. GOODE

Groceries, Flour, Seeds, Medicines

19-21 Pike St. 18-20 West Seventh St.

WHOLESALE—"Covington's Largest Seed and Grocery House"—RETAIL

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Phones South 335 and 336.

KINDS OF EROSION.

There are two general types of erosion, sheet erosion and gully erosion. Sheet erosion, as already indicated, is the more or less uniform washing of the soil in which no distinct gullies are formed. Because it is so uniform it is often allowed to proceed until more or less damage is done before measures are adopted to control it. Without doubt, more plant food is removed from the soil in this way than is removed in crops. In the removal of one inch of surface soil from an acre of average Kentucky soil, approximately 150 pounds of phosphorus, 300 pounds of nitrogen and 3,750 pounds of potassium are carried away. This loss represents the most available plant food of the soil, because the finer particles of soil and the part of the soil richest in humus are the first to go. Leaching of soluble plant food in under-drainage water is greatest where erosion is greatest, because drainage is greatest where there are no growing crops to protect the surface, particularly during the late fall and winter. Growing crops prevent the eaching of soluble plant food by using it.

There are two phases of gully erosion. One is the headwater phase, in which slope of the gully at its head gradually works up the hill. The other is the over-fall type. This type is found in grass and in other lands where the surface layer is more resistant to washing than the subsurface layer. The water "eats" back under the more resistant layer until it breaks off in large pieces, whereupon the process is repeated.

The Work of Moving Water.

A statement of some of the laws of moving water will serve to impress upon landowners the destructive power of water and to suggest means of controlling erosion.

1. If the rate of flow of water is doubled, the erosive power is increased four times. (Erosive power varies with the square of the velocity.)

2. If the rate of flow of water is doubled, the amount of material of a given size that can be carried is increased thirty-two times. (Amount of material that can be carried varies with the 4th power of the velocity.)

3. If the rate of flow is doubled, the size of particles that can be carried is increased sixty-four times. (Size of particle that can be carried varies with the 5th power of the velocity.)

It follows that two very important considerations in preventing erosion are to decrease the amount of water that runs off and to check the rate of flow of that which must necessarily pass away as surface run-off. The amount of surface run-off varies from nothing in regions of low rainfall and porous soils to as much as 50 per cent of the rainfall in some regions of high rainfall. It is very high in Kentucky.

Health Maxims From Benedictines.

In the early Middle Ages the Benedictine monks had their own school of public health and hygiene. Dr. John Rahrsh, of the Maryland College of Physicians and Surgeons, tells about it in a review of a new translation of the regimen of Salerno. Salerno, Dr. Rahrsh points out, was the place where the Benedictine medical school was located. It was a sort of offshoot of the great Benedictine monastery at Monte Cassino, halfway between Rome and Naples.

Dodge Brothers

ANNOUNCE

A BUSINESS COUPE

Conservative changes in the body design of all other types.

Roadster....$ 920
Coupe.....1,063
Touring Car. 955
Sedan.....1,550

Dempsey Motor Car Company

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY

Phone Erlanger, 70-L

Ready for Business.

The Farm Bureau Warehouse at Florence is now in full operation and will keep on hand all kinds of Feed, Flour, Wire Fencing, Coal, Etc.

Help Your Organization

With Your Patronage.

Dearborn County Fair

Lawrenceburg, Ind., August 23 to 26.

We wish to call especial attention to the fact that the Dearborn County Fair, Aug. 23-26, will be given by the McAllister Amusement Company, Inc., whose members are of the American Legion Post, Lawrenceburg, Ind., and has no connection whatever with the so-called Dearborn County Fair held at the Lawrenceburg fair grounds last year.

Taking it all in all, the class of fair that will be put on this year will be of the old fashioned variety, with plenty of clean amusement, and lots of exhibits, premiums for which will be paid.

FLORENCE THEATRE
LORENCE, KY.

Every Tues. and Sat.

THE BEST
MOVING PICTURES

Admission, 22c &amp; 10c

FLORENCE.

Jane Scott is the guest of relatives at Erlanger.

Miss Minnie Ryle is the guest of her mother at Union.

Mrs. Elbert Lipp was the guest of Mrs. J. G. Renaker, Monday.

Mabel Bell, of Cynthiana, is the guest of Mrs. Wilford Mitchell.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tanner are the proud parents of a fine baby boy.

Mrs. Owen Bradford spent Thursday with Mrs. Ada Sanders, of Union.

Tobe Marshall was called to Bellevue Sunday by the death of his sister.

Milton Caldwell, of Berry, Ky., was the guest of Miss Eva Renaker, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Beemon were the guests of Miss Hettie Rouse, last Sunday.

Hal Highhouse and wife, of Ludlow, spent Sunday with Ed. Osborn and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Metzger, of Covington, were the guests of relatives here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Betts and Myrtle Stephens, spent Sunday afternoon in Price Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Lou Crigler, of Fla., were the guests of his sister, Mrs. Ben Tanner, Monday.

Mrs. Katie Scott and Chas. Carpenter and wife, were the guests of Bridget Carey, Sunday.

Miss Stella and Ezra Carpenter spent Saturday and Sunday with Butley Carpenter and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Holiday and son, of Paducah, were the guests of C. W. Marksberry and family, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Aldridge and children, of Covington, were guests of Mrs. Emma Freeman and daughter Josie.

Miss Hannah Oelsner and Mrs. Noah Cahill spent Wednesday with Mart Cahill and family on Dudley pike.

The regular annual meeting of the Rouse reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Sanner Sunday, July 30th. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Rouse, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie P. Rouse, Florence, Mr. Robert Rouse, Ludlow, Mrs. Chas. Tanner and Miss Ida Rouse, Latonia, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Northcutt, Covington, Mrs. Sam Rouse, Bellevue, Grandchildren: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rouse and son Robert, Francis Rouse, Lawrence, Carl, Willard and Leota Tanner, Geo. Rouse, Kenneth and Russell Tanner, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Northcutt and daughter Dorothy and little Jane Rouse. Others present were Mrs. Emma Rouse, Miss Mary Korn, Russell and Elva Luck, L. T. Utz and Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Utz. The day was enjoyed by all.

PT. PLEASANT.

Mrs. Fred Gross and children went shopping last Tuesday.

Miss Gladys Jergens spent the week-end with Miss Sarah E. Tanner.

Miss Sarah E. Tanner spent part of last week with Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Souther.

We all feel so thankful and greatly refreshed since last Saturday night's gentle rain.

Mr. Sherman Riggs of California, spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Robinson, in Ludlow.

Mr. Val Dolwick and family, Mr. Jno. Dolwick and family and Mr. Emmett Riddell and family, spent Sunday at the Zoo.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Tupman entertained at dinner last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kenyon and family and Mr. and Mrs. Verner Tupman and family.

FIRE CAUSES QUITE A LOSS

Mr. Geo. Darby's barn burned last Wednesday evening about 5 o'clock, causing considerable excitement in our neighborhood. The conflagration spread to all near out-buildings and pigs and had it not been for the heroic efforts of the crowd who gathered from far and near, the house might have burned to, as everything was so extremely dry. The loss was very great, as the barn held this winter's supply of feed together with all the harness and many valuable farm tools and implements. The loss was partly covered by insurance.

IN THE FIELD OF SCIENCE

From the inner bark of a native plant Japanese are making an imitation leather as tough as what is known as French kid.

Finnish industries according to an expert's estimate, could obtain 3,000,000 electric horse power from that country's rivers.

It is a strange fact that the right hand, which is more sensitive to the touch than the left, is less sensitive than the latter to the effect of heat and cold.

It would never do to put twelve women on a jury. The law provides for only one verdict.

FRANCESVILLE.

Geo. Tungate, of Taylorsport, spent Sunday with John Kruse.

Mrs. Nellie Markland was the guest of Mrs. Geo. Gordon at Hebron, last Thursday.

Miss Laura Katherine Evans was the guest of Miss Katherine Beall, last Wednesday night.

Mrs. Frank Aylor and Mrs. Lester Aylor and little son, of Hebron, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kilgore, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Scothorn and Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Riddell spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Baker, at Oakley, Ohio.

Miss Ethel Eggleston, of near Burlington, was the guest of her cousin, Miss Alice Eggleston, Saturday night and Sunday.

Mrs. Raymond Goodridge and son, Manlius Raymond, have returned home after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Morehead, at Taylorsport.

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Estes and son Elmer, left Wednesday for their home in California, after a visit with relatives and friends here. Mr. Jerry Estes and daughter, Miss Katherine accompanied them for a short visit.

Misses Amanda Koons and Sadie Dieman had as guests, Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dibble, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Dibble, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kennett, of Rising Sun, Rev. B. F. Swindler and Rev. J. H. Garber. Mrs. Dibble and Mrs. Kennett remained for a short visit.

One of the biggest events of the season was the birthday celebration in honor of Mr. Jerry Estes, last Wednesday, it being his 79th birthday. About eighty of his relatives and friends gathered at the beautiful home of "Uncle Jerry," where a bountiful dinner was served at the noon hour. The day was spent very pleasantly with music, games and singing. Mr. Estes is one of the oldest and most highly esteemed citizens of this community, and all left wishing him many more happy birthdays. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Estes and son Elmer, of San Bernardino, Cal., Wm. Lane, Jr., of Cincinnati, Emmet Riddell and family, W. D. Carver, wife and daughter, Miss Edith, W. L. Brown and family, John Cave, Jr., and family, Jack Phelps, Alfred Ogden and family, J. S. Eggleston and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Whitaker and son, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stamper, Mrs. Chas. Muntz and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Whitaker and daughter, Mr. J. M. Barlow and son, Chester, W. H. Eggleston and family, Mr. James Beall and grand-daughter, Miss Katherine, Elijah Stephens and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Ambrose, Rev. B. F. Swindler, Rev. J. H. Garber, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ogden and daughter, Florence Marie, E. S. Wilson and family, Mr. Ambrose, Carl Muntz, George Humphrey, George Tungate and Miss Laura Katherine Estes.

HEBRON.

Revs. Omer and Shepherd are holding a series of meetings at Bellevue.

Clifford Tanner and family spent Sunday with Robt. Brown and family at Florence.

The supper given by the Bullittsville Christian members at Hankins &amp; Riley's was a success in every way.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Getker, Mr. and Mrs. A. Getker, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Rouse and children, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Goodridge and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Dye and son visited relatives at Alexandria, Ky., last Sunday.

Mrs. Myron Garnett had as guests last Wednesday Mrs. B. H. Berkshire, of Anderson, Mrs. Stanley Palmer, of Indiana, Mrs. Robt. Berkshire of Burlington, Mrs. E. K. Stephens, of Bullittsville, and Mrs. Robert Hannah.

PETERSBURG.

Elijah Parker was mingling with friends here Sunday.

Perrin Loudon is giving his residence a coat of paint.

John Bradburn is reported to be in a serious condition.

L. S. Chambers makes three trips a week to Cincinnati with his bus.

After two months of dry weather we had a fine rain Sunday morning.

Mrs. Josephine Baker is nursing Mr. and Mrs. Ad. Robbins in Burlington.

Mrs. Dan Hoffman is able to be out after a severe attack of stomach trouble.

Mrs. Bud Moreland is to be taken to the hospital this week to undergo an operation.

Oh, those good old home grown watermelons with a mess of butter beans for a desert.

John J. Klop and Hugh McCullen make three trips a week with garden truck to market.

Geo. Hensley who returned home a few days ago from the hospital, is not doing as well as he should.

Mrs. Smith's two daughters and sons, of Newport, spent several days last week visiting relatives here.

Dr. G. F. Smith, of Lawrenceburg, was here Sunday. He took Mrs. Bud Moreland to Booth Hospital, Covington, Monday morning.

Bennie Lonaker was operated on at Christ Hospital, Cincinnati, Thursday for appendicitis. He is doing as well as could be expected.

Miss Henrietta Gelsier, of South Norwood, is spending several days here with her father, aunt and uncle. She holds a good position in the city.

ERLANGER FAIR

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY

Aug. 16-17-18-19

DAY AND NIGHT

Running and Harness Races,
Baby Show, Band Concert.
Free Show, Big Acts, Dancing.

Fine Arts Exhibits, Hogs, Sheep, Cattle, Poultry

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Admission to Fair Grounds after 6 p. m.,
10 cents. No War Tax.

Jackie Coogan

IN
"MyBoy"HIS LATEST AND BEST PRODUCTION

Hebron Theatre

at 8:00 p. m.,

Tuesday, Aug. 8th

Adults 22 Cents
Children 10 Cents

67TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Rouse, of near Florence, were given a surprise Sunday in honor of their 67th wedding anniversary. Those present were:

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rouse.
Mr. and Mrs. Mose Rouse.
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Snyder.
Mr. and Mrs. Edward Clarkson.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clarkson, of Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Rouse, of Covington.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Moore, of Hyde Park, Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Snyder.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Snyder.

Misses Myrtle Clarkson.

Ola Marksberry.

Alma K. Tanner.

Elizabeth Snyder.

Ella Marie Rouse.

Virgie Clarkson.

Lottie Mae Rouse.

Attilla Rouse.

Mary Blanche Rouse.

Irene Moore.

Rosie Belle Rouse.

Lula Robbins.

Thelma Robbins.

Alice Fay Snyder.

Messrs. Charles Rouse.

Will Hagedorn.

Victor Clarke.

Elmo Rouse.

Kenneth Rouse.

Robert Clarkson.

John Edgar Rouse.

Alfred Robbins.

Joseph Rouse.

Walter Moore.

Victor Clarke.

Dudley Rouse.

NOTICE OF ELECTION

An election will be held at the office of the Breeder's Mutual Fire and Lightning Insurance Company, Burlington, Ky., on Monday, August 7th, at one o'clock, to elect four directors for said company.

HUBERT CONNER, Secy.

Avoid reminding others that you have sense. If they can't discover it, it is not worth hiding.

TUBERCULOSIS

Louisville, Ky.—Conditions found by Dr. S. W. Bates, superintendent of the State Tuberculosis Sanitarium, and Dr. J. S. Lock, director of the State Board of Health's Bureau of Tuberculosis, while they were holding three tuberculosis clinics recently at different points in the State indicate, according to Dr. A. T. McCormack, State Health Officer, that such clinics should be held all thru Kentucky if the best possible progress is to be made in fighting the dread "White Plague."

At these clinics, according to Dr. Bates, 268 persons in all were examined for the disease. Fifty-eight active cases were found, and forty-five arrested inactive cases. Of the fifty-eight persons who had active cases of the disease, twelve never had seen a doctor and did not suspect that they were victims of tuberculosis.

"These conditions are absolutely typical," Dr. McCormack said. All over Kentucky there are persons who have tuberculosis without knowing it. They are and other clinics that have been held show the need for more clinics and earlier consultation with competent physicians by persons who suspect that they may have the disease."

A colored preacher took for his text the story of Daniel being cast into the Lions' Den and said that when Daniel was cast into the Den he looked those hungry lions right in the eye and they were afraid to touch him.

A member of the congregation spoke up and said, "Fahson was them lions circus lions?"

The Parson replied: "I am ashamed that a member of my congregation should be so ignorant. Don't you know that Daniel was cast into the Lions' Den in the year 1750 B. C. and don't you know that B. C. stands for "before Christ?"

WILL GIVE PICNIC.

Boone Post, American Legion, will give a picnic at the Harvest Home grounds next Saturday evening.

FARM STOCK

BEGIN FIGHT ON "T. B." NOW

Every Live Stock Owner Should Boost Campaign Insured to Eradicate Tuberculosis.

[Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.]

Live stock owners are earnestly requested not to wait until the states and federal government come into their localities to eradicate tuberculosis. It would not be possible indeed, at this stage to undertake to eradicate tuberculosis from the live stock of the United States solely through organized official forces established by the respective states and the federal government. The area over which tuberculosis has spread is too vast, the herds too numerous, and funds are insufficient for conducting the work on so extensive a plan even though trained veterinarians were available in sufficient numbers to do the work. Every live-stock owner should be a party to this campaign which has been inaugurated, to eradicate tuberculosis. In almost every locality of the United States are veterinarians capable of rendering valuable services to live-stock owners in this great work, and the cost of eradicating is greatly reduced by combating the disease in its early stages. Yet even in badly affected herds eradication can be undertaken with success. There are records of many herds, in which three-fourths of the animals were affected with tuberculosis, which eventually were freed from it and afterwards maintained in a healthy condition.

Bull in Advanced Stage of Tuberculosis.

FISH BY-PRODUCTS FOR HOGS

Bureau of Animal Industry Is Making Tests of Material as Protein Feed for Swine.

Co-operating with the bureau of fisheries, the bureau of animal industry of the United States department of agriculture is making tests of fishery by-products as hog feed. For several years these bureaus have been studying the use of fish meal as a protein feed for swine and the product has been found equal to high-grade tankage, of which the supply is inadequate. During the last fiscal year a new product known as shrimp bran was studied. The result of tests with it as compared with fish meal were favorable, the remainder of the ration being shelled corn and middlings.

PUREBRED HOGS PROFITABLE

At Least Twice as Much Should Be Realized From Breeding Stock as Those for Market.

Purebred hogs of any of the well known breeds are more profitable than grades. As at least twice as much should be realized from the sale of breeding stock as from market hogs. The purebreds also are generally better feeders than the grades. That is they will make better gains for the feed consumed.

RIGHT AGE TO BREED GILTS

Some Breeders Wait Until Animal Is Fourteen Months Old—Aim for Two Litters Yearly.

Some breeders prefer not to breed a gilt until she is about fourteen months old, so that her first litter is produced when she is approximately eighteen months of age, and she is then bred to farrow every six months thereafter.

THREE STOCK FUNDAMENTALS

Feeding, Breeding and Care Are Big Factors in Production of Animals of Quality.

The three fundamentals in live-stock production are feeding, breeding and care, with a strong emphasis on feeding, because good feeding builds the frame work, produces good show animals and makes good records.

DANGER IN STANDING WATER

Sheep and Cattle Should Be Kept Away From Stagnant Pool on Account of Disease Germs.

Standing water should never be allowed to remain where sheep and cattle can get free access to it, as it always has some kind of disease breeding germs in it, and results in the loss of stock occasionally.

NONPARIEL PARK

Mrs. Carl Anderson spent Saturday in Cincinnati, shopping.
Mrs. Wm. Arnold made a business trip to Cincinnati, Tuesday.
Mrs. Maud Long spent Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Joe Baxter.
Mrs. J. O. Carpenter was the guest Wednesday of Mrs. Wm. Arnold.
Mrs. Chas. Chipman spent Monday with Mrs. Lucy Grossman, of Crescent Springs.
Mrs. Chas. Chipman had for her guest Wednesday Mrs. Cecelia Linton, of Newport.
Mrs. Edgar Aylor and mother, Mrs. H. Tanner, spent Wednesday in Cincinnati, shopping.
Miss Viola May Senour, of Blue Ash, Ohio, is enjoying a week's visit with her aunt, Miss Minnie Baxter.

The many friends here of Milton Goodridge, of Oldham county, regret to hear of being ill of heart trouble.
Miss Alberta Stephens spent the week-end with Miss Evelyn King and attended the Nonpareil Park dance.
Mrs. James Carpenter and daughter Irena, spent Thursday with Mrs. Joe Baxter and daughter, of Dixie Highway.
Mr. E. Chipman, of Williamstown, was the week-end guest of his brother, Chas. Chipman and family, of the Dixie Highway.

Elmer Cahill and family had for their guests Wednesday J. G. Renaker and wife, Mrs. Mike Cahill and daughter Miss Minnie.
Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Renaker entertained at dinner Wednesday Elmer Cahill and family, Mike Cahill and wife and daughter Minnie.

Mrs. Ola Carpenter has returned from Bullittsville after a visit of a few days with her daughter, Mrs. J. T. Williams and daughter, Glenrose.

Mrs. Ella Beech, Mrs. Elizabeth Shrum and Mrs. Arthur Kraus and son, called on Mrs. Joe Baxter and daughter Minnie, Saturday evening.

Mrs. Ralph Groger and children have returned to their home in Covington after a month's visit with her parents, Cy Boyce and wife, of the Dixie Highway.

Mrs. Ella Beech and Mrs. Edith Shrum, of Covington, visited last week with Mrs. and Mr. Arthur Kraus and mother Mrs. Mattie Hoover, of Dixie Highway.

Mrs. Angeline Gaugh, of Williamstown, Grant county, returned home last week after a few days visit with Mrs. Arch Lucas, and Mrs. Charles Chipman, of Dixie Highway.

Mrs. and Mrs. Joe Frazer, of Dixie Highway, entertained Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kraus and son, Mrs. Mattie Hoover, Mrs. John King and daughter Evelyn.

Mrs. Ezra Wilhoit, Miss Alberta Stephens, Mrs. Ollie Rouse and Mrs. Robert Rouse, motored to Covington Wednesday and enjoyed a delightful visit with Mrs. Claud Caldwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Price and daughter, of Mr. Lee Price, motored down from Williamstown and enjoyed a delightful visit with Charles Chipman and family, Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Joe Baxter was pleasantly surprised Sunday July 30th, that being her birthday anniversary. All of her children and friends came with well filled baskets, and at the noon hour a bountiful dinner was spread. Quite a number were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Newman gave a birthday dinner in honor of John Newman, Sunday July 30th. The following were present:

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Norman.
Halle and Claud Norman.
Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Norman.
Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Lutes and children.

Mrs. Susie Riggs.
Mr. and Mrs. John Sommers.
Mr. and Mrs. John Newman.
Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Newman.
Mr. and Mrs. Clay Oder.

Miss Addie Newman and friend Mr. Carl Blarod.
Mr. and Mrs. Myrox. Newman and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Newman and daughter.
Mr. and Mrs. Ray Newman and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Newman, Sr.
Mr. John Newman.
Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Newman.
Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Richmond.
Mrs. Clarence Rouse and son.
Mrs. Charles Chipman and brother.
Mr. Lee Price.

IDLEWILD.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Martin spent Saturday in Cincinnati.
Mrs. Ada Stokes, of Cincinnati, is with her kinwoman, Mrs. George Keylich.

Miss Maud Norman Asbury spent Sunday in Newport with her friend, Mrs. M. S. Watson.

Mrs. Lizzie Gaines is here from Louisville for a visit with Boone county kinpeople.

Mrs. R. S. Hannah and children were guests Wednesday of Mrs. Myron Carmett in Hebron.

Miss Frances Herkshire will take part in the pageant to be presented by the Normal School pupils in Burlington Friday night, August 4th.

Master John M. Rachal and Miss Norma Rachal came over from Union Friday night to join a small party of the young set in camp on Laughery Island.

Mrs. Ben S. Houston left Saturday to spend a few days with her sister, Mrs. W. T. Spears and Mr. Spears, at their pleasant country home near Beaver.

FLICKERTOWN.

Born July 28th to Walter Gaines and wife, a girl.
Stock water is getting scarce in this neighborhood.

B. F. Akin took some nice peaches to market last week.
Robt. Nixon is doing the threshing act in this neighborhood.

Owen Uts and wife, of Newport, called on James Minor, Sunday.
Jess Holt and family entertained company from Idlewild, Sunday.

W. O. Rector has purchased the Elijah Parker farm. Price not known.
Roy Voshell and Alice White caught a good string of fish Friday afternoon.

Mrs. James Burns is visiting her sister Mrs. Laura Mains, of Aurora, Indiana.
Sesbie Bros., lost one of their registered brood sows of lung worms last week.

Mr. Eddie Wolf and Wm. Plotner, of Newport, were pleasant callers here last week.

Mr. J. W. White and daughter Alice, called on B. F. Akin and family Sunday evening.

J. W. White visited C. L. Voshell and wife and Clyde Given and wife, Wednesday, at Sparta, Ind., and attended the Osgood fair Thursday.

Frank Voshell and family visited Wm. Lowe and family at Sparta, Indiana, last Wednesday. Mr. Lowe came home with them for a couple days visit.

UNION.

Mrs. W. M. Rachal, Jr., is on the sick list.
Miss Lillian Bristow has returned from a pleasant trip to Lexington.

Mrs. Harvey Senour has been suffering with a fever on her thumb.
Joseph A. Huey is out again after having been ill the past two weeks.

Miss Dell Uts, of Anneton, Ala., is visiting friends and relatives here.
J. T. Bristow and L. R. Barlow and families, visited the Zoo last Wednesday.

Miss Emmu Hauser, of Dayton, Ky., is spending her vacation at this place with friends.

Rev. and Mrs. W. T. Spears were calling on R. E. Tanner and wife, last Thursday afternoon.

Frank Rouse and wife and Elmer Kelly and wife, of Burlington, were Sunday guests of L. L. Weaver and family.

A series of meetings conducted by Mr. Vance, of Madison Ave., Presbyterian church, closed Wednesday evening with one addition.

Maude Miller, of Price pike, and Alberta Smith, of Union pike, spent Friday night and Saturday with J. L. Frasier, of "Free Place."

Much to the delight of his many friends, Albert Wilson who has been at Spears Hospital for treatment, has returned to his home much improved.

BIG BONE.

Geo. Abdon is home from the city. We were blessed with a rain last Sunday morning.

Orel Smith is visiting his mother in Covington this week.
Elizabeth Moore and Katie Krause were shopping in the city Saturday.

Hugh West wife and three children of Verona, visited Douglas Moore and wife, Sunday.

Mrs. H. E. Miller visited her sons Russell and Charles, in Covington, several days last week.

Jack Littrell and G. F. Fennell made a business trip to the city the latter part of the week.

Mrs. Maggie Black of Covington, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Johnny Hamilton, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Willie Moore, W. W. Grimsley and wife, of Walton, were the guests of Louis Ryle and wife, the latter part of the week.

Mr. Thompson, Miss Williametta Baker and W. L. H. Baker, of Ft. Thomas, were at the latter's country home the latter part of the week.

Married in Covington, Tuesday July the 25th, Mr. N. Moore and Mrs. Anna Adams. The bride is a daughter of Mr. Wm. Huff, of Hamilton. The groom is one of our up-to-date merchants at this burg. We extend to them best wishes for a long and prosperous life.

One Cook, who has been missing sheep and hogs on the farm belonging to Mrs. John A. Lewis which he has rented, has discovered the whereabouts of his stock. There is a large sinkhole on the place leading to a cave thru which the animals have been falling. Thursday when Mr. Cook missed two sheep and a hog he investigated and found the sink hole. Tying a rope around his waist, Mr. Cook allowed two of his farm hands to let him down in the hole. At a depth of twenty feet he found the two sheep and a hog still alive. The animals were lifted out.

There were several carcasses of animals that had fallen in the hole. The cave will be investigated. Mr. Cook says that one can drop a rock from the surface and can not hear a sound indicating that the hole is at a great depth.

The farmer says that there is a large rock projecting out in the cave at the twenty foot depth which has caught the falling animals. He has built a small fence around the hole.

—Georgetown News.

Lewis county farmers raised 3,456,407 pounds of tobacco on 3,400 acres of land in 1921. There were 1,679 head of horses; 1,623 beef cattle; 1,180 sheep and 7,141 swine in that county in 1920.

Kirtley McWethy

—will open a—
Confectioner
at Petersburg

Saturday, August 5th
Where he will keep soft drinks, ice-cream, candies, etc.

WHEN IN TOWN GIVE HIM A CALL

GUNPOWDER
Lonnie Tanner and wife entertained several of their friends at dinner last Sunday.

Frank Rouse and family, of Erlanger, and P. J. Allen and wife, were pleasant guests of this writer, last Sunday.

A fine rain fell here last Saturday night which was much needed, as water was getting scarce with some on our ridge.

There were big doings at the home of Clint Blankenbaker and wife last Sunday, and quite a number of their friends enjoyed a pleasant day socially and a big dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rouse entertained all of their children and a number of other relatives, at dinner last Sunday, the occasion being the birth anniversary of Mrs. Rouse.

The Farm Bureau have their warehouse completed in Florence, and is now open for business. It is nicely arranged and substantial structure, and will be quite a convenience to the entire community.

Dr. L. E. Rouse and family, of Ludlow, spent Saturday night and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Lee Huey, of Big Bone neighborhood and made this writer a brief call Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Geo. A. Rorer and daughter Miss Mabel, left last Saturday for Washington, D. C., where they will spend a few days with friends. Rev. Royer will join them the first of the week and from there they will go to Maryland, where he will spend his vacation.

DEVON

Mr. William Perry was calling on Mr. Frank McCoy Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Wm. Perry has been quite ill the past week. We wish her a very speedy recovery.

All are invited to attend the protracted meeting which begins Monday evening at Mt. Zion church.

Mr. Edward Oldham, of Cincinnati, spent Saturday night and Sunday with his friend Charles Summitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Rivard and children Sundayed with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rivard and family.

Mrs. Hiram Rivard and children were guests Wednesday evening of her mother, Mrs. Charles Williams, and sisters, of Bank Lick.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Carpenter, of Hamilton, Ohio, came over for Sunday with their brother, Eli and family, returning Sunday evening.

The ice cream social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wayman Saturday evening, for the benefit of the Bank Lick church, was quite a success and a good time was had by all.

Mrs. John Collins, three sons and three daughters of Bank Lick, Mrs. Napier and daughter, Miss Mary Jane, of Walton, and Miss Rose Kidwell, of Covington, Sundayed with Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Ryle.

The "Home Coming" of the members and friends of Mt. Zion church Sunday was an event long to be remembered. A large crowd was present, the sermons enjoyed and a fine dinner served at the noon hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCoy entertained the following guests Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bristow and little daughter Stella Elizabeth, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Bristow and mother, Mrs. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Fagin and Miss Kincard, of Covington.

Mrs. Valandingham, of Sadieville, arrived here Sunday evening and remained several days the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCoy. She returned Thursday with her little daughter Lulu Katherine, who had been the guest of her grandparents the past three weeks.

(Too Late for Last Week.)
We are sorry to hear that our friend John T. Easton is quite sick.

Mr. Perry, of Covington, was the week-end guest of Morton Perry and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Morton Perry and family Sundayed with their father, Mr. Charles Fisk, of Fiskburg.

Messrs. Alfred and Emil Rivard, of Covington, were week-end guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rivard.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Rivard and children spent Sunday with their mother, Mrs. C. J. Williams and family, of Bank Lick.

Mr. and Mrs. Richey and little son who were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Carpenter and family, returned to their home in Ludlow, Friday evening.

NOTICE.

The Harvest Home privileges will be offered for sale at Harvest Home grounds Saturday, August 5th at 2 o'clock p. m.

J. J. TANNER, Secy.
o8au8-22

We Guarantee This.
Speak well of others and they will have a high regard for your word.
—Burlington Transcript.

Base Ball!

Petersburg
VS
Bellevue
At Petersburg

Saturday, Aug. 5th
Game Called at 2:30.

BASE BALL.

The "Old Stiffs" added another victory to their list, last Saturday afternoon, by taking the second game from the Idlewild Colts by a score of 4 to 1. With Houston in the box the visitors presented a classy ball club, but "Pap" Brady was their master all the way. The Colts played real base ball, although on the losing end they were all good sports, and played a good, clean, square game, there being no disputes from either side.

The Burlington kids and the Hebron kids played a good game, the latter winning by a score of 17 to 6.

Petersburg and Bellevue will play at Petersburg next Saturday afternoon. This will be a good game, don't fail to see it.

Quite a number of Burlington fans witnessed the game of ball between Price Hill and Ludlow White Sox at Ludlow, last Sunday. Score Price Hill 8, Ludlow 8.

The strong Walton team visited Hebron Saturday and took the count for the second time, at the hands of the local team, this being the third game lost out of twenty games played this season. The home team started the run making in the last half of the third inning on a single by Aylor, base on balls by Ryle and a single by Graves, but the visitors came right back at them in the second and scored two runs on a walk issued to Ryan and an error on Clay.

Don Robert's bunt and a single by Laws. The score stood the way until the seventh, when with two down Benson walked M. Garnett, Walton and R. Garnett singled. Morehead was hit by a pitched ball, Aylor pulled an error out of the short stop on a hot grounder, and then something happened, Ryle landed on the ball, and Ruth style was knocked the longest ball, was ever hit on the local ground, walking home with three runners ahead of him. Two more runs were scored in the eighth on a three base hit by Godridge a two bagger by Ryle and a sacrifice fly by Walton. Two base hits—Ryle, Ryle, three base hits—Morehead, Ryle, Godridge, home runs—Ryle. Struck out by Walton 4; Benson 10; Farrell 0; base on balls Walton 1; Benson 2. Hits—off Walton 4; Benson 10 in 7 1-3 innings, Farrell 0 in 2-3 innings.

Innings... 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Walton.....0 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 2
Hebron.....1 0 0 0 0 6 2 x-9

PLAY BALL.
This world's a diamond, with the bases laid, and on it Life's great game of ball is played. The teams are Human Being's versus Fate, And Time's the umpire, watching by the plate. We're at the bat. Our purpose o'er and o'er to wield Ambition's club and try to score, to try to solve the curves the pitcher throws, and lam the sphere where not a felder goes. Some of us seem to bat with skill immense, knocking long homers, o'er the deep field fence, others bunt infield hits, but tellidly rare, and beat the ball down to the primal base. Still others, tho they strive their best, no doubt, wan wildly at the air, and then—strike out; they seek the bench, downcast, with visage drawn, Crestfallen, and blue, ambition gone, Or rag the umpire, growling like a bear:

"You robber. That decision wasn't fair." That's not the game. Be not a grouch or quitter.

What though you're not a straight 300 hitter? You've got another chance. Stand to the plate. Grab tight your bat, get braced and calmly wait. Wait for a good one—let the others rip—and when it comes—now—smack it hard—and sip—

It's got to go. And so must you, old man. Hike for the base. Keep going—yes, you can Steal second—good—how, easy—not too gay. There—get a lead—at hit—now you're away. Keep on—don't stop—don't lose that dandy stride. You've got to bow the throw in—slide now—slide. Hurray—you did it—score! Of course you scored! See—there's your tally marked up on the board. And now you'll win the game—no doubt at all; You just can't lose, old man, if you'll Play Ball.—The Maise.

As You Look at It.
Luck is merely a matter of temperament. Some men think they are lucky when they begin to pay attorney; others think they are unlucky because they can't escape that obligation.

THE HOME RADIO

How to Make and Use It

By A. HYATT VERRILL
Copyright by Harper & Brothers

IX. AIR-GAPS AND LIGHTNING SWITCHES

A great many people are very much afraid of lightning following an aerial and injuring the premises, for they seem to think that the wires "attract" lightning, just as many people with intelligence and education still believe that steel knives or hardware or wire setting window screens "attract" the lightning. As a matter of fact, none of these things "attract" the lightning, but merely form a convenient conductor to enable the lightning to ground itself. Lightning-rods are designed for the same purpose and a properly installed aerial, instead of jeopardizing a building, is really an air-gap between the lightning and the building, and makes a splendid lightning rod. Lightning strikes a building or object when it is trying to find a way to the earth and if the object struck is a good conductor of sufficient capacity it does no damage. For this reason, houses covered with wire netting and climbing vines are far safer than those which are bare, and steel buildings, such as the New York skyscrapers, steel bridges, elevated structures, iron smokestacks and chimneys, iron steamships and railway tracks are seldom injured by lightning although the electric current passing through them freely without encountering resistance. On the other hand, wooden buildings, trees and human beings are poor conductors and when dry are almost non-conductors of electricity, and when the lightning tries to follow such objects to ground, the resistance is so great that serious damage is done. It is exactly like forcing water through a pipe. If you have a powerful stream of water or a great volume of water and provide a pipe large enough for it to flow freely, the pipe will not be injured, for it is very light and frail; whereas, if you attempted to force the same stream or same volume through a much smaller or clogged pipe, the pipe would be burst or the water would overflow and flood the surroundings. Statisticians prove that as far as aerials are concerned there is no danger and records of fires or injuries from aerials during thunder storms are extremely rare. During an electrical storm the instruments cannot be used owing to the "static" or electricity in the air, and the confusion of currents, waves and inductance, and by installing a lightning-switch or an air-gap there will be no danger to the premises. In fact, a properly installed aerial, does not affect the rate of insurance, and if installed in accordance with the regulations of the local fire department you may be sure there is not the least danger. The fire department records of New York City do not show a single instance of conflagrations started by aerials and lightning.

The simplest and best safeguard for receiving aerials is the air-gap shown in Fig. 16. This consists of two metal attachments separated by about one-eighth of an inch. One of which (A) is attached to the lead-in wire (the wire to set being fastened to it also) while the other (B) is connected by a wire to the ground direct. This gap is mounted in much the same manner as a lightning-switch, Fig. 17 (on a window sill or other convenient spot), in which A shows connections to aerial, B to receiver and C to ground connection. When the station is not in use, or during thunder storms, the handle D is thrown from A to C, this cutting off all connection between the lead-in wire and the instruments and connecting the aerial directly with the ground.

Aerials for sending or transmission, stations are very different from those used for receiving only and should be of several types. The most efficient is probably the "cage" type shown in Fig. 18, but any of the other illustrated in Figs. 19, 20 and 21 will answer. These should, of course, be fully insulated and the various methods of doing this are well shown in the figures and require no explanation. To install sending stations a license is required, whereas to receive, no license is needed.

WE CAN'T
But we will be glad to quote you Lowest Prices
ON THE VERY BEST

CLOTHING

We can beat the devil himself at that. We have greatly reduced the prices on our Summer Clothing, and if you fail to look them over, you are overlooking much.

If you are looking for a Suit, a Coat and Pants, or extra Pants that you can rely on, we have them.

Selmar Wachs
605 Madison Avenue,
Covington, Kentucky

A BARGAIN

Cincinnati Daily Enquirer

—AND—
The Boone County Recorder

YOU CAN GET
BOTH for $4.50 the YEAR

Send Your Subscriptions to the
BOONE COUNTY RECORDER
Burlington, Ky.

ARE YOU A READER OF THE RECORDER?
If Not Try It One year.
Only $1.50 the Year

The Great Horny.
Who-o-o-o! This bird is a great horned owl. He has large yellow eyes, like a cat, and a grasping disposition. He takes such a hold, in fact, that people need several thicknesses of leather in their gloves before they pick him up. He has a big bird and is often seen throughout the winter. His actions are mainly beneficial. He preys on rodents and vermin, and is a friend of man. You would be doing wrong to kill an owl.—Krischaga.

Vases.
The vases which we now use for flowers are a survival of the ancient days of Grecian civilization, when the wealthier people had vine cups of every conceivable size and form. The original name of these cups was "vase," and designers vied with one another to produce intricate designs. With the passing of the great renaissance, the vases were used for ornamental purposes. The flowers were added to decorate the vase.

LEGION NOTES

New Orleans, July 31.—New Orleans will be a center of national interest during the American Legion national convention October 16 to 21, as a result of the presence of numerous famous political and military leaders.

President Harding has written convention headquarters that he will attend if the pressure of public affairs does not interfere. A similar reply has been received from General John J. Pershing, who led the Legion men in France, and who met with them in Kansas City last fall.

Major General John A. Lejeune, commander of the U. S. Marine Corps and a former resident of New Orleans, has definitely accepted the convention invitation. During the last week, convention headquarters has been advised that Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and Kenesaw Mountain Landis, high commissioner of organized baseball, will be among the distinguished guests.

Within the next few weeks, the Legion expects to receive word that a number of distinguished World War leaders of allied powers will come to New Orleans. The convention committee hopes to entertain more notable than the convention of Kansas City last year which was attended by Marshal Foch, Gen. Diaz, Gen. Jacques, Admiral Beatty, Gen. Pershing and Vice-President Coolidge.

Los Angeles, Cal.—A Pacific Arlington is planned by the American Legion posts in Los Angeles county, California. A large plot with space for 11,000 graves has been acquired in Glendale cemetery. A fund has been set aside for a large monument and for the upkeep of this burying ground of the West coast's soldier dead.

Hood River, Ore.—Ninety-nine members of the American Legion scaled Mount Hood at the Legion's second annual climb held July 6th. A party of 249 participated in the base camp activities which began the afternoon before the climb. A pack mule, which succumbed to heart disease at an altitude of 9,000 feet and plunged down the mountain into a deep crevasse, was the only casualty.

Tacoma, Wash.—Because the ma-
Tacoma, Wash.—Because the ma-
legitimate reason why the Summer American Legion should not give a dance on the Main street of the city, after he had strictly forbidden such frivolity, Legionnaires obtained a court writ restraining the mayor from interfering with the celebration. Citizens of the community and visitors from many nearby towns danced up and down Main street in response to the Legion's invitation which read: "Dance with the Lewis and Clark Post No. 53 of the American Legion by order of the court."

Little Rock, Ark.—In order that all the cemeteries in the state may always have the proper care, the Arkansas American Legion has started a move for the formation of a cemetery association which will supervise the laying out of new plots and the upkeep of all burying grounds.

Philadelphia, Pa.—In his series of articles "The Truth About Berdell," Charles R. Fehrlin of Philadelphia, describes the present appearance of America's arch slacker as that of a "fat middle-class German with a hatred of everything American." Fehrlin was one of the party of army intelligence operatives who recently tried to kidnap Berdell in Germany. It was the purpose of the United States Government to return Berdell to this country to serve the sentence imposed for the violation of the selective draft act.

Traveling 125 miles a day and camping at night by the roadside, Donald F. Chase, 21 years old, recently passed through Middle Western cities enroute on a bicycle from Reno, Nev., to Syracuse, New York.

Young Chase's family lives at Syracuse and as a vacation from his duties as city editor of the Nevada State Journal, the energetic lad decided he would ride through and see his mother. The Keno American Legion saw a chance to do some worthwhile advertising. So arrangements were made whereby Chase would speak before 110 Legion posts on his way across the continent. At first, he spoke only of what the Reno posts of the Legion and the Nevada state department are doing, but later, he found that he could be greater service by telling each post of all the good things the other posts along his route are doing.

The young gattling gun, which he carried with him saw service, when an automobile driver ran into his bicycle near Topeka, Kan., and then refused to stop to see what damage had been done. Chase put a bullet in a tire and then made the driver haul him and his bike to town.

"One doesn't realize just what the American Legion is doing until he visits Legion posts and sees the efforts of these posts to improve their communities," he said.

Peking, China.—Edwin Denby, Secretary of the Navy and members of his party who have for some time been touring the Orient, narrowly escaped death July 19 in an airplane accident. While flying at a height of 4,000 feet over the great wall of China, about forty miles north of Peking, the engine of the plane in which the party was riding broke down. The pilot managed to volplane to the earth but the plane was wrecked against the rocks that strewed the ground. None of the party were injured. Mr. Denby will return to the States in September and is expected to attend the American Legion national convention in New Orleans, October 16-20.

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

MAH DAWG TREED A WILD-CAT LAS' NIGHT, EN KUNL BOB WANTER KNOW, HOW COME AH AIM' FETCH 'IM HOME WID ME -- HUH! AH'S JES' MO' FASER'N HE WUZ ON MAH FEET!

Copyright, 1921 by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

New York City.—The men who fought with the 78th Division of the American Expeditionary Forces will hold their annual reunion this year at Atlantic City, Sept. 30 and Oct. 1. Although distinctly separate from the American Legion, the veterans of the 78th worked with the organizers of the Legion in Paris, 1919. It is estimated that more than seventy per cent of the division personnel is now enrolled in the ranks of the Legion.

Boston, Me.—While assisting his American Legion comrades in decorating the graves of Dedham, Mass., ex-service men last Memorial Day, Jen Frederick Lang, Jr., of that city placed a flag on an unattended grave and asked that it be reserved for him. He has just died of war wounds and has been buried in the plot he picked out but two months ago.

WOMAN FASTS 46 DAYS.
Buttermilk and Water Alone Taken By Kentuckian, 87 Years Old.

Mt. Vernon, Ky.—Undergoing a voluntary fast, Mrs. Betty Coffey, 87 years old, of Humble, a village in the hills of Rockcastle county, entered upon the forty-sixth day of the fast.

Mrs. Coffey, who lives with her son Charles, has taken only occasional sips of buttermilk, but has consumed water in unusual quantities. Notwithstanding her age, Mrs. Coffey apparently is in good health.

It is understood that her fast started when she learned of the "hunger strike" conducted by Rev. William Rice, Powell county, who starved himself in 69 days and died last week.

Rice's expressed belief was that he might convert his neighbors to Christianity by his sacrifice. Mrs. Coffey, however, has not given any definite reason for her refusal to eat.

MAKING GOOD IN A NEW JOB.

The close of school and college has brought many young people for the first time up against the problem of making good, in a business or mechanical position. Their first efforts are mighty novel and interesting and also somewhat anxious.

A good rule through their period of uncertainty and probation, is to remember carefully all instructions handed out to them. This is not so easy as it sounds. They will be told many new things during their first month. It may be difficult to keep all those things in mind.

A good plan, if a new employee is receiving new instructions, would be to note down each day when you get home, just what new information and suggestions were given you during the day. It is irritating to an employer of foreman to have to keep telling people things over and over again. But a new worker who takes special pains to note down and remember all instructions, makes a favorable appearance, and the chances of such for promotion are very good.

THE TWO SPOT.

The countryman is ridiculed if he tucks his pants into his boots, but he does not turn up the bottoms thereof merely because it is raining in London.

The folks who allow weeds to go to seed on their land will be kicking their hard luck next year, because their enemies and crops have so many enemies to contend with.

The city folks keep kicking on high food prices, and then spend most of their road money on pleasure boulevards rather than on highways for farm produce.

The political speeches are called trumpet calls to the people but many of them sound like the same old fish-bone.

HOUSE THE SOWS, SAVE THE PIGS

Weather-Tight, Dry, Ventilated Hog House is Profitable.

MAKES MONEY FOR FARMER

Loss of Young Pigs is Comparatively Small Where Proper Attention is Given to Housing—Plan for Model Building.

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD
Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building work on the farm, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 127 Prairie avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only include two-cent stamp for reply.

The huge corn crop and the resultant low prices last year caused many farmers to "market their crops on the hoof." That is, they fed the grain to the hogs, fattened them and then sent them to market. Everyone knows that pork has brought better prices, comparatively, than most other farm products during the last six or seven months. The result of this experience is that most all corn-belt farmers have gone into the pig raising business more heavily than ever before. Knowing this, observers have been predicting that there would be an overproduction of hogs for the fall market, and that the price of pork would be so low as to make these efforts unprofitable. These predictions, however, have not worked out. The spring has been cold and damp, and cold and damp have brought about a high mortality among young pigs. Figures gathered by state and federal authorities show that there are only about as many young pigs on the farms now, as there were a year ago, despite the efforts at greater production. This year will prove a profitable ad, which is a falling with practically all printers, added an "n" on the "dam" and put the hardware company in the profane class.

The writer of the ad, knowing well what he was talking about, was referring to a "dam" used by tinners made up of flour and water, to prevent the solder from running when soldering a seam. The printer, never having heard of such a thing and taking it for granted, therefore, that no such thing existed, obligingly added the letter which turned the advertisement into a profanation.

Moths Prefer Tissue Paper.
A friend of mine keeps a uniform in a small closet, and, happening to be there at a time when the uniform was removed, writes Carl H. Knifmann of Santa Ana, Cal., to Popular Mechanics Magazine. I noted the absence of the usual mothballs. Upon asking him about this, I was shown a small quantity of tissue paper scattered around the closet, and also how the moths had eaten a considerable portion of the paper, but had not attacked the clothing. My friend said that he had never known clothes that had been wrapped in tissue paper to be harmed by the insects. As it appeared, they preferred the paper to the cloth.

"Deadhead" Who Sought Freedom.
When the question of "booning" in a theater is discussed, one recalls the story of an incident at the Comedy theater in the late eighties.

During the performance a man left his seat in the pit and walked out to the money box, where he handed in the counterfoil of a pit pass marked "Complimentary."

"I don't want to pay any compliments to this show," he said. "Here's my half-crown. Give me a pit ticket!"

one, unless all signs fail, for the hog raisers who use the modern method of housing the sows at farrowing time. Vitor the sows are in a warm, weather-tight, and well-ventilated house, such as is shown in the accompanying illustration, the loss of young pigs is comparatively small. The losses occur when the sows and pigs are kept where a cold, damp spell chills them and the youngsters have not yet gained strength enough to withstand it.

The earlier spring pigs are farrowed, the better start they have toward maturity that will bring them late to the market in the fall and early winter. In such a house as the one shown the sows are housed comfortably. The building prevents rain and cold winds from getting at them; the open windows admit the sunlight that prevents the interior from becoming "clammy," and with plenty of bedding on the pen floors the young pigs are kept warm and dry and thrive.

The house shown here is what is known as a gable-roof hog barn. The foundation and lower walls and the floor of the building are of concrete, while the upper part and roof are of frame construction. The pens are ranged along the sides and the feed alley runs through the center. There is a roof window over each pen, which admits the sunshine directly into the pens and provides means of ventilation.

The floor plans show how the pens are arranged and fitted for the comfort of the sows and the pigs. On the sides of each pen there are guard rails, which permit the little pigs to get out of the way when the mother lays down and rolls her bulk toward them. This part of the pen is covered by a plank floor, raised slightly above the concrete. On this floor plenty of bedding is placed, which the sow will keep dry and clean. At each pen there is a concrete trough, where the wet feed, such as slop and tange, is given the animals. The caretaker passes through the feeding alley, distributing the feed. As warmer weather approaches and the pigs are getting more sturdy, the doors of the pens are opened, permitting the sows and pigs to go outdoors into the sun. On this, the south side of the building, is a concrete feeding floor, on which the dry grain is placed. A modern hog house such as this one makes hog raising profitable.

USE THOSE "ODD MOMENTS"

Great Men Have Shown What Can Be Done in Intervals, Usually Considered Unimportant.

Martin Luther, during an interval of 30 years published 760 volumes, many of them large and elaborate works. When asked how he found time to translate the Bible in addition to all his other work he said: "I do a little every day."

Melanchton, noted the time lost by him and later worked with greater industry so that he should not lose an hour of the day.

Cicero declared that he had not given a moment to his philosophical studies save the time that others spent in pleasure and pastime.

Sir Walter Raleigh was imprisoned for 12 years in the Tower of London during which time he wrote his exhaustive and discriminating "History of the World," a standard work for all time.

Doctor Burney learned the French and Italian languages while traveling on horseback from one pupil to another.

Ellis Burritt, the "learned blacksmith," mastered 18 ancient and modern languages, together with 22 European dialects during those invaluable fragments of time known as "odd moments."

Unintentional Profanity.
Without in the least intending to be profane, says the Deer Park (Wash.) Union, some detail must be used in explaining the injustice done one of our advertisers last week. The Deer Park Hardware company prepared an advertisement for this paper headed: "A Tinker's Dam," referring to the sign of the flow of the Columbia river. The printer, supposing, of course, that he knew more than did the writer of the

HEBRON THEATRE--Next Saturday

KING VIDOR PRESENTS

"The Jack Knife Man"

The Toonesville Trolley That Meets all the Trains

"The Skippers Treasure Garden"

Admission 22 Cents. Children 10 Cents. War Tax Included performs his skilled work of preparation, quite in advance of the obsequies.

THE FUNERAL DIRECTOR

This is really the time when his training and fitness are tested, as friends trustingly commit to his care, the form of their beloved.

Then the conduct of the final rites will be a fitting finish to his sacred task.

PHILIP TALIAFERRO,
Undertaker and Embalmer
Erlanger, Ky.

The Best Advertisement

IS A PLEASED CUSTOMER

Spectacles and Eyeglasses that Fit the face and Fit the sight the kind we sell.

Phone South 1746

DR. N. F. PENN, 613 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

Efficient, Service and Economy

IS MY SLOGAN

C. SCOTT CHAMBERS

Embalmer and Funeral Director

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

WE WANT EVERY MAN

in Boone and Kenton Counties

That has a farm large or small, or House and Lot to sell to list it with us and we will advertise and find a buyer if there is any.

The Wisenberger Real Estate Co.

BEN Phone South 6008 JOHN
515 Coppin Bldg. COVINGTON, KY.

Printed Stationery

AT THIS OFFICE
ENVELOPES, LETTERHEADS, NOTEHEADS, STATEMENTS

for business people.
for professional people.
for farmers.

for every one who wants to be considered up-to-date and going strong

Willard Batteries

AT A NEW PRICE

Ford Size	$16.00
Chrysler	18.00
Overland	18.00
Chalmers	19.10
Black	19.00
Maxwell 6-volts	24.50
Maxwell 12-volts	24.50
Dodge	24.50

Weddle Battery Co.

Aurora, Indiana.

Willard Batteries.

July 19-21

AS THE EDITOR SEES IT

DO YOU TAKE THE RECORDER?
Try It One Year. You'll Like It.

Send Our Advertisements and Profit by Them.

Notice to Shippers.

Having now two trucks—a one and a two ton, I am prepared to do your hauling, large or small. Quick and efficient service.

Your Business Solicited.

W. M. Rachal, Jr.
Union, Kentucky.

The Limits of Elsewhere.
A. W. G. writes that when in Florida she tried to buy a Chicago paper and offered the boy 8 cents. When he refused that sum she pointed to the printed statement on the front page: "Price 3 cents in city and suburbs elsewhere 8 cents." "Oh," replied the boy, "you're a thousand miles from elsewhere."

Subscribe for the RECORDER

BOONE COUNTY RECORD

Vol. XXXVII

Established 1875

BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY,

THURSDAY AUGUST 10, 1922

$1.50 Per Year

No. 44

A VISIT TO MY OLD KENTUCKY HOME

(W. W. GAINES, Atlanta, Ga.)

It is surely pleasant to be in Kentucky—in my own, my native land. For these many years I have wandered the foreign strand. The foreign strand has been kind to me. It has prospered me. It has given me many pleasant hours.

But what place can ever be like One's childhood home?

I went to sleep the other night on a great through train, and when I awoke in the morning I was in Kentucky. The air seemed sweeter, and the great green, the sunshine, the landscape fairer. I felt a distinct exhilaration. I was in Kentucky.

On yesterday I saw the place where I was born. And I went, just across the field to the home of my boyhood and youth, which was the family homestead until broken up years later by death.

Things at home seemed different yesterday. The house did not seem so large when I was a boy. The creek down back of the barn did not seem so wide. The great trees did not seem so tall. Their slender tops were not close against the sky, as they used to be. The half-mile road to the village, where we traded and where I went to school, did not seem half so long. The clump of trees at the foot of the hill through which I as a lad was so afraid to go, especially after night, was neither larger nor dark nor frightful. And the well-to-do neighbor's residence which was so big and grand that I used to wonder at it, was not great nor wonderful on yesterday. Of course none of these things had changed. It is I that have changed, not they.

But is there not something sorrowful about it, nevertheless? These childhood fantasies were but fantasies. It is true. "But weren't they sweet?" And isn't it disappointing to have them shattered? They were a great little world to us.

But the greatest change of yesterday's visit was in the old home itself. The house was still there, and the barn and the other out houses, and the garden and the orchard and the pond, and the yard and the white-washed fences and all. They were pretty and well kept. But the people that made it home were not there and it was not home.

The two who presided there so long, who welcomed many a visitor and who always met their returning children at the gate with loving smiles and greetings—these were gone and it was not home any more. Home cannot be home when father and mother have gone.

On Sunday, I went to the neighborhood Baptist church, a church that was old when I was young, to which I once belonged. And I went through the cemetery that lies hard by, and read the inscriptions on many of the tombstones.

What a place the country church occupies in the community, particularly if it is an old church. Such quiet as you approach, such outspreading trees, such inviting shade, such repose. Of all the spots in the whole country-side, next to the family home, the church and its precincts are the most revered. In the church you heard the gospel of Christ preached from the time of your earliest recollection. In it you were married and saw others married. In it the neighborhood gathered to pay the last tribute of respect to its departed and hear the man of God speak the last and but comforting words. And in God's acre, adjoining the church-yard, its dead are laid. Who can measure the benign influence, the hallowed influence of the country church upon the country round about?

THE COUNTRY CHURCH CAN NEVER BE THE CITY CHURCH, BUT IT CAN BE MANY THINGS WHICH THE CITY CHURCH CAN NEVER BE.

We can never compute the things we owe to the country church. Our denomination has been largely moulded by the country churches. The Baptists have ever flourished in the country districts. The wide and open stretches of our Southland seem to have been especially suited to our free Baptists idea, and every neighborhood has its Baptist church.

The country churches are the great standing force in our denominational life. There is no crutch like the country church for steadiness in doctrine. Vagaries and new and strange interpretations of the Scriptures receive no support in the country church.

FAMOUS FERRIS WHEEL

The famous Ferris wheel of Paris is being torn down to make way for a more profitable investment. The axle of the structure alone weighs 75,000 pounds, and is set at a distance of 104 feet from the ground. It was built in 1900, at the time of the Paris Exhibition, from plans of Puezin, an American engineer.

The time for the opening of the fall schools draws nigh.

SUCCUMBENT SUICIDES.

Don't kill yourself under any circumstances. When you have made up your mind that you will do so—made it up fully and firmly—just wait 21 hours longer. Things will be sure to take a turn for the better in that time. Every time you resolve to sever the thread of life, wait thus. It will save your friends a great amount of uneasiness. If people take their own lives, other people will tell of it in a disagreeable way, however any members of their families go, and into the seventh generation. There is so little common sense and kindly feeling in the world.

But, if you must kill yourself, if you want your children to go down the path of life with a taint on their names, as evil as if you had stolen funds of a bank, then don't shoot you, all in a hotel. Have some consideration for other people after you are dead, if you did not have when alive. Think of the blood-curdling spectacle they will behold when they rush to your room at the sound of the pistol shot! Who would be willing to sleep in that room afterwards? Think of the landlord's feelings. It will be enough to give his house the name of being haunted, and ruin his business. It will give other guests such a shock that it might kill them.

No, if you must shake out this mortal coil—if you can't stand the pressure another minute—get some rice, gently smother in oil or oil—something that will make no unpleasant sights. Don't use carbolic acid—it has a nasty smell—and it burns awfully. Go out into the woods alone, in a secluded spot, where nobody will be apt to find you for weeks. When you have found that spot, go quietly to it, with the drug in your pocket, without saying a word to anybody of what you are about.

WASHINGTON COMMENT.

"Pools rush in where angels fear to tread."

There are a lot of "angelic legislators" in this country who "fear to tread" anywhere there is a labor vote, because it might not be cast in their direction.

There are a few "fools" who don't care whether labor or capital, man or woman, union or corporation votes for them, so long as they do what they believe to be wise, right, and just.

There are some journals in this country which do not care who reads them, so what they publish is honest, from the heart, and not dictated because some one "fears to tread."

Hence it is that the words "compulsory arbitration" are being heard more and more, since the United States is having not a taste, but a full meal of strikes, private wars, interference with business, and with living, while several groups of labor and capital settle their differences by conflict.

"Compulsory arbitration is a figurative word to organized labor. It is abhorrent in principle to American ideas of justice, that any man, in order to obtain justice, be compelled to do otherwise than is provided in the Constitution. Compulsory arbitration might easily be a tool in the hands of either capital or labor which would work great hardship.

But a more afflicted man or nation will try almost any remedy for the affliction. So the "fool" who rushes in where others keep silent is heard, more and more suggesting, not necessarily compulsory arbitration, but a Supreme Court for Industrial Disputes, to which all great causes of difference must by law be submitted, and the findings of which must be obeyed.

Individuals assail the United States Supreme Court of the United States. It is final. And its years of usefulness have shown that it works.

It is, after all, the "rushing of a fool" to wonder, if, perhaps, a Supreme Court for labor and capital might not save this country more in what it would prevent in financial, economic, moral, and physical loss than it would lose in substituting due process of law for the much cherished "right to strike" and "right to lock out."

CIRCUIT COURT TO CONVENE

The August term of the Boone Circuit Court will convene next Monday with 49 continued and 4 appearance cases on the Equity, eleven continued and eleven appearance on the Common Law and 30 cases on the criminal docket.

91,000 PERSONS KILLED.

During the 19 months that we were at war 91,000 persons were killed on our highways—almost twice the number of Americans killed in battle or who died of wounds.

PRODUCES 8,000,000 Boxes

California produces 8,000,000 boxes of navel oranges a year. This huge industry sprang from Brazil 51 years ago. The original orange tree is still standing in the greenhouse of the Department of Agriculture in Washington, D. C.

COMMON SCHOOL GRADUATES

Forty-Five Receive Diplomas—Gold Medal Won by Miss Elizabeth Weaver.

One of the largest crowds ever assembled on like occasion, gathered at the Court House in Burlington, last Wednesday afternoon, to witness the exercises of forty-five common school graduates—mothers, fathers, brothers and sisters of the young graduates from all parts of the county, filled the large court room to overflowing.

The gold medal offered by Congressman Rouse to the one with the highest general average was won by Miss Elizabeth Weaver, the 12-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Weaver, of Union. Her average was 90.4-11.

The address to the graduates was delivered by J. A. Carnage, Principal at the Summer School for teachers, while his assistant, Dr. Cooper, in a neat little talk delivered the diplomas, and Supt. J. C. Gordon, the gold medal offered by Congressman Rouse. The invocation was of fered by Rev. H. B. Carter.

On account of the examination being much harder than heretofore the general averages were not so high. Most all of the graduates received a general average of more than seventy-five per cent.

Following is a list of the graduates and their postoffice address: Anderson, William, Hebron, Ky. Birkle, Anna, Burlington, Ky. Bruce, Eva Marie, Petersburg. Bruck, Marion, Hebron. Cave, Raymond, Burlington. Carpenter, Lucille Union. Clure, Kathryn Burlington. Clure, Lloyd Grant.

Cabson, Marie, Taylorsport. Chipley, Mabel, Burlington. Conner, John Lewis Burlington. Crutcher, Verna Lou Hebron. Cropper, Sarah E. Burlington. Deck, Leatha Emma Petersburg. Feldhaus, Elma Grant. Grigler, John, Edgar Burlington. Graves, Beulah Erlanger. Hetzel, Hattie Constance. Hodges, Mildred Grant. Huey, Beatrice, Burlington. Huey, Catherine, Burlington. Jones, Alberta, Burlington. Kelly, Hester Grant. Kelly, Ora, Burlington. Kirkpatrick, Albert Burlington. Kirkpatrick, Irene, Burlington. Klapp, Eloise Petersburg. Louder, Harry Grant. Luke, Lewis Burlington. McCubbin, Eva Ruth Walton. Muntz, Beatrice Burlington. O'Maley, James Verona. Porter, Robert K. Verona. Rouse, Marvin Huey Burlington. Rue, Kenneth Burlington. Scothorn, Hazel Burlington. Smith, Mary Etta Grant. Stone, Bernard Verona. Tanner, William Union. Townsend, William Union. Vahlsing, Richard Constance. Walshing, Howard Constance. Walshing, Ruth C. Burlington. Weaver, Elizabeth Union. Weaver, Sarah Union. Williams, Lyle Union. Wilson, Sara Union. Yelton, Alexander D. Burlington.

THE CHEERFUL COUNTRYMAN.

Peoples' attitude toward life can be read in their faces. You look over the average crowd in a manufacturing city, and it has a harassed and careworn look. Many faces look bitter. Many appear pinched, pale, and hungry, and discontent is written on so many of them.

The faces you see in a country village do not have that appearance. They have good color and a certain good cheer. Life has at least given most of them a considerable degree of physical comfort. They are not rendered hard and hateful by the social contrasts of the city. Their lives are brightened by the friendliness of a town like Burlington. Life reveals more of contentment than you find in the city man's tired countenance.

HAVING A GOD TIME

ON THE PICNIC.

Picnics arranged for a whole town or by church and farmers organizations are a splendid feature in country life. But they must be well managed to be a thorough success. Some are spoiled by having too many speeches. Remember that the folks come for an outing and good time.

Games should be a prominent feature. Have a committee of boys play a ball game, with two of the best players to get the lines to play against each other. Races are a feature that attracts both boys and girls. A horseshoe pitching contest will keep the men amused for hours.

Singing under an enthusiastic leader is a fine feature, particularly assisted by a few instrumental players. Remember that good foods of ice cream are what the kids are chiefly looking for. Have careful committee plan each detail thoroughly.

THE CANE CARRYING HABIT.

Recent visitors to New York and other cities have remarked on the great number of men who have revived the habit of carrying canes. Saturday night is a favorite time for men to get out with their walking sticks, and the wide sidewalks are often full of promenaders flourishing their canes about.

Some people wonder why it is that men who are perfectly able to walk without assistance, seem to like to get out with canes. It is argued that the cane is the sign of an old man, that it issued by one whose tottering legs need some further support. Yet from time immemorial all the dandies and young studs seem to "feel that carrying a cane adds something to a man's style and swagger and many quite sensible men carry them too.

Some doctors recommend cane carrying, holding that it develops a swinging stride that tends to work people's muscles and maintain physical activity. There are still some simple minded people who dislike any attempt at show, who would feel conspicuous and self assertive if they carried a stick. Many old fashioned country people carry them, and many country men still carry them, feeling that it equips them for rough tramping and gives them a sense of activity.

SUMMER SCHOOL CLOSES.

The Summer School which has been in progress in Burlington for the last six weeks came to a successful close with an entertainment at the Burlington Theater on Friday night, August 3rd. The program was a diversified one consisting of a short but interesting talk by Prof. Carnagey, Principal of the school, piano and vocal solos and duets, recitations and readings, being brought to a pleasing finish by the showing of four reels of pictures.

The first two reels, under the title of "Food For Reflection" served to show the unwholesome results obtained from heavy improperly prepared food for the growing school child as compared to the system of providing hot lunches for the pupils, consisting of a balanced meal, well-cooked. The last two reels illustrating a trip to Chicago by prize-winning club members throughout the country and interesting views were obtained of the inside "workings" of Armour's packing plant. Both pictures were of the type to appeal especially to those who saw them.

Mr. Carnagey expressed gratification over the results obtained among his pupils during his regime here and expressed the hope that the people of Boone county would fully appreciate their worthy teachers in the future.

THE REVOLT FROM HOUSEWORK.

A bunch of college students who were doing domestic work at a camp, recently wrote a song on "The Dishwashing Blues" What would they have said, if they were told that washing dishes was to be their daily occupation for many years, perhaps for a life time? They would have scorned such a pursuit. Yet that is the prospect that the average girl must face, if she contemplates marriage.

The distaste for housework is said to be one leading cause of divorce and marital unrest. The more sentimental and cultivated a girl is, the more she may revolt from these tasks that she feels are contrary to her nature. She secretly envies her husband, who can go out and meet interesting people in the field of business life, while she has to stay at home and struggle with the dirt and distaste of housekeeping.

Many women are born housekeepers. They find joy in the triumphs of the kitchen. It makes them happy to see a toothsome pie eagerly consumed by the family and they are as pleased as the cultured lady when her literary paper is applauded by the club. The details of home keeping are a subject of inexhaustible interest to them. They take pride in their spotless management.

It is a rather happy point of view for a woman to attain and such women are tremendously useful in the home, even if they can't read papers at the club. But they must share that point of view particularly those who have more intellectual tastes. For such women the drudgery of housework may always be a trial.

However it is not to be despised as mere humble and prosaic work. It is a fine art, and the woman who performs it well and speedily has a right to the same pride that the skilled workman feels in the work of his hands. Husbands should remember that many wives do not enjoy housework, and should provide their families with the best labor saving appliances so as to make it as easy as possible.

Why send your battery to the city if it is charging or repairs when it is just as good to get it fixed here at the cost is much less.

DEMPEY MOTOR CAR CO. Erlanger, Ky.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Hubert Ryle Given The Surprise of His Life On His Forty Eighth Birthday

Sunday morning, August 6th, Hubert Ryle, one of the most useful and prosperous farmers in the East Bend neighborhood, was 48 years old, but he didn't remember it—he was so full of the activities of life. Early in the morning Jack Acra invited him to hop into his auto and visit Russell Stephens, Wilford Acra and the Kirtley boys, all pig club members, to see how their pigs were growing for the local show. He was only too keen to go, since these boys were all breeding Hampshire, but the surprise of his life came when he returned home and found the house and yard crowded with friends and relatives. He was so overjoyed he didn't have a word in his mouth, but just his face broke out with a smile all over.

Just such a spread as East Bend has long been noted for was set on the long tables under the shade trees. There were 109 present, but there were many more baskets than this large crowd could eat. After a happy day of shaking hands, feasting, and jolly conversation the host of friends returned to their several homes wishing Mr. Ryle and his family many more such happy occasions. The following were present:

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Scott and children, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Clure and children, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Acra and son, Mr. A. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Hodges and children, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hodges and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hankinson, Mr. and Mrs. Bobt. Hankinson and son, Mr. and Mrs. Angero Hodges and children, Mr. P. Hager, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ogden, Mr. and Mrs. Boney Kirtley, Miss Millie Hodges, Mr. Harold Smith, Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Hodges and children, Mr. Robt. Ayer and daughter, Louise, Mr. Tober Acra, Mr. D. K. Ryle and wife, Mr. W. D. Sutton wife and baby, Mr. John Ryle, wife and baby, Mrs. Annie Ryle and son, Clayton, Mr. and Mrs. Solon Ryle and family, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Scott, Mr. Sebern Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hankinson and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ryle and son, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Ryle, Mr. and Mrs. Sid Stephens and son, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bodie and sons, Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Stephens and son, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Stephens and son, Mr. and Mrs. Chister McMurry, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Ryle and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Ryle, Mr. and Mrs. Thad Ryle and baby.

LARGE CROP OF APPLES.

From all reports there is a very large crop of apples in Boone county. These apples are at present being marketed by the individual grower, which results in there being as many different grades as there are growers, and of course great damage to the county is being done by the grower who puts out a low standard pack. An effort should be made to bring all the growers under one co-operative marketing organization which would enable the growers to pack and sell their produce at a much more satisfactory price. Why not have an Apple Co-operative Marketing Association?

SUFFERING FOR RAIN

Growing crops and vegetation of all kinds, throughout this section of the country, are suffering for lack of rain, although the showers of the past week helped somewhat, even should rain fall within the next few days, it is feared could not reclaim the corn and other great sections. With failing crops, strikes, etc., there have been times that looked more encouraging.

FAST DISAPPEARING

The finest of the African game is fast disappearing and many valuable species are threatened with extinction. Only about 30 specimens of the white storks are left and they are badly scattered in Zululand. Only 1,000 of the beautiful nyala, or native antelope, are left and the mountain zebra are reduced to but 400. The laws are far from adequate and such as exist are generally disregarded.

TWO SPOTS.

A city man wants to know where he can buy a farm for $1,000. Usually it takes city folks that amount to provide merely the automobile garage.

The modern definition of a cattle show is a place where they race horses before a grand stand filled with farmers.

A newspaper reporter with long experience in covering the country fairs, says he was always informed, if the quality of exhibits had fallen off, that the quantity had increased, and if the quality fell off, then the quality had improved.

When tired of talking, give others a chance.

A WEEK'S NEWS.

BE AN OWL.

"A nice old Owl sat on an oak. The more he saw the less he spoke. The less he spoke the more he heard. Why can't we be like that old bird?"

Three things to cultivate—good friends, good books and good humor.

To hope always, to love always, and to forgive always—this is the basis of heaven.

Good many girls think they can make their way in the business world, by studying the Beauty Hints.

Elmer Kirkpatrick moved a carload of feed from Erlanger to Florence Saturday, for the Farm Bureau.

It is amazing how a man's enthusiasm for a social revolution cools off when he works enough to get about $125 in the bank.

While this country does not believe in militarism it takes something more than bands of farmers armed with pitchforks to get their rights respected in this world.

People are urged to buy automobiles in the fall because they are cheaper, and they are urged to buy in the spring, because they don't have to pay storage through the winter.

Boone county has 665 telephones according to the directory issued by the Consolidated Telephone Co. Besides these there are quite a number of other phones operated by Farmer's lines.

According to the State Board of Dental Examiners, there are but two persons in Boone county legally licensed to practice dentistry in Kentucky, viz: Holton W. Craig, Walton, and T. B. Castleman, Florence.

Strikes are not of recent origin. Tablets found in the ruins of Thebes show that 3,000 years ago, a large number of workmen notified their employers they would discontinue work unless a new wage scale was arranged and back pay given them at the new rate.

On account of the infirmities of old age, Mary Ann Rouse, widow of the late Geo. E. Rouse, was adjudged by a jury in the county court last Friday afternoon, to be incompetent to look after her business affairs, and the judge appointed J. G. Renaker as her guardian.

Lucien W. Stephens, formerly a citizen of the Union neighborhood, but for the last fifteen years a resident of Lexington, is visiting his relatives in Boone. He attended court Monday and met with many of his old friends. He made this office a pleasant call while in town.

Why be in such a hurry? You wear out your heart and your nerves and you don't get so very much done either. Go at things systematically and thoughtfully. You'll find your work finished at the end of the day and yourself not so tired out but that you can be an entertaining companion to some one who needs your companionship.

Prof. E. E. Clifford, of Louisville, has been employed as principal of Boone High School for the next school year. Prof. Clifford was principal of the Lovon High School at Jefferson county for several years past. He will be assisted by Mrs. Estelle Huey and Prof. J. C. Gray. The teachers for the grades have not been assigned.

In another column in this issue will be found an article taken from the Western Recorder, written by W. W. Gaines, a former Boone-co. boy, but now a successful lawyer and prominent citizen of Atlanta, Ga. The article entitled, "A Visit to My Old Kentucky Home" is a well worded reading, and the people of Boone county should be proud to have sent out to loyal service in other states men of such sterling character as W. W. Gaines. He is chairman of the deacons in his church, legal advisor of the Home Board, Moderator of the great Atlanta Association, and a Vice-President of the Southern Convention.

According to a report issued by Col. Edward N. Johnson, officer in charge of Cincinnati District No. 1, Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., more than 8,000,000 tons of freight valued at $464,261.89 were carried on the Ohio river during the calendar year 1921.

"The actual tonnage was 8,037,786.32, of which 729,908 tons were carried by ferry boats. The value of the freight carried by the ferries was $371,301,448.28. This is almost three times the value of the freight carried by packet steamers and other river craft, it is pointed out. Of the passengers carried 4,170,497 were on ferries.

ONE-THIRD OF HENS
FOUND TO BE CULLS

Lexington, Ky.—Results already obtained in the poultry culling demonstrations being conducted over the state by the extension division of the College of Agriculture indicate that the annual quota of one-third of the hens in Kentucky will stop laying within the next month and loaf until spring, according to H. R. Jackson, one of the college poultrymen. The demonstration, which are being held to show farmers and poultrymen how to distinguish between laying and loafing hens, also show that the percentage of culls in flocks that have been fed and managed according to recommended methods during the summer is smaller than in flocks where little attention was paid to the feeding and care of the birds, Mr. Jackson added.

He has conducted demonstrations on a total of 24 flocks up to the present time and handled 1,477 birds. 28 per cent of which, or 411, showed the characteristic signs that they have stopped laying. The percentage of loafers in some flocks was as high as 58 per cent while in other flocks that had been well cared for the percentage of culls was found to be as low as eight per cent. Thirty-five birds in one poorly managed flock of 60 hens had stopped laying while only three in another flock of 85 hens that had been well fed proved to be non-layers.

"One poultryman whose flock was culled in the demonstrations found that keeping skim milk before the birds at all times and feeding them a grain feed of equal parts of corn and oats at night was a good method of keeping up the egg production of his hens," Mr. Jackson said. "Another was obtaining good results by making a mash of ground oats and bran that was moistened with sour skim milk and fed during the day. He also gave them sour skim milk to drink. On the college farm good results in egg production are obtained by keeping sour skim milk or buttermilk before the birds at all times and giving them a grain feed composed of seven parts of whole corn and three parts of oats. The hens are forced to drink the milk at the rate of one gallon a day for every 30 hens."

NOTABLE PROGRESS REPORTED FOR BETTER SIRE MOVEMENT.

There is every reason to believe that the replacement of scrub grade sires by pure breeds is on the increase. Reports received by the U. S. Department of Agriculture from county agents in various parts of the country show that the "Better Sire" movement is having a noticeable effect. A recent statement by M. G. Lewis, county agent of Rockbridge County, Va., is typical of a large number.

"The pure-bred bull movement," says Mr. Lewis, "is progressing rapidly. Since January 1, 16 farmers have disposed of grade or scrub bulls and are using registered bulls instead. On the other hand there are no less than 50 men in the county who still persist in holding out against the progress and development of the live-stock interests of the county by keeping inferior grade or scrub bulls. I have a list of 59 owners of such bulls. Some of these men have grades that are fairly good individuals, while others have scrub that are the worst kind of a disgrace to the community and to the county."

"The cost of a good registered bull is so small now that it is a mystery why any farmer will keep anything else. Many records have been kept during the last few years to prove out the actual value of a pure-bred bull in dollars and cents."

Some of these actual figures were obtained recently by the Department of Agriculture through an inquiry sent out to more than 500 farmers throughout the United States. These men gave it as their opinion that in all kinds of farm stock pure breeds have an earning power more than 40 per cent better than common stock. It is noteworthy that in the case of dairy cattle, whose productive power can be easily measured, pure breeds were considered to be 47.8 per cent better than common cows. The lowest percentage given for any kind of stock was 36.8 per cent.

REAL ESTATE SALES.

C. T. Clauch, the Erlanger Real Estate man, has recently made the following sales:
From Gayle Arnold, Drilanger, to Josephine Tabelling, Erlanger, (Fl. Mitchell), brick house $6,500.
Tom Portwood, Elsmere, Ky., to Mrs. A. Zapp, Covington, Ky., four room house with a bath, lot $1,200.
Dr. C. W. McCollum, Erlanger, to Earl Mudman, Devon, a four room house and one acre, Elsmere $1,450.
Eugene Long, Erlanger, to Chas. Wain, West, Walton, one and one-half acres on Erlanger Road $850.
Parker heirs, Ohio, to W. O. Rector, near Burlington, a 212 acre farm two miles south of Petersburg $12,500.
A. M. House, Florence to O. C. Kendall, Cynthiana, Ky., nine acres unimproved $5,800.

Some of these fellows who used to take country runs on bicycles are now telephoning for automobiles to carry them a mile to their work.

The fellow who can't pull any weeds out of his garden in hot weather may be able to walk a considerable distance on the ball grounds.

RADIO RALF---

Defending the Principle.

The decision of the railway executives to stand by their loyal employees on the question of seniority is what was to be expected, and as it had been forecast. In honor they could do nothing else. It is one thing to surrender one's own rights in order to compromise differences. The executives did not consent to the President's proposition on that point without violence to the rights of others.

It is only for the employees to surrender their seniorities. The strikers did that by their walk-out. Those who remained and those who accepted employment under seniority pledges have rights which are theirs to keep or surrender. To protect the seniorities of the old employees and to fulfill them the executives are pledged by the conditions of the employment under which their rights were earned. Also, they are bound to fulfill promises made to the new men. The strikers had full and sufficient warning that they were forfeiting their seniorities by the walkout which terminated their services with the companies. They accepted the risk, and even protesting, the claim of the executives that seniorities would be lost.

The unanimity of action on this issue by the heads of the 148 great systems representing approximately 267,000 miles of roadway, is extraordinary. There were only two negative votes, both of them so ignored because the language of the rejection of the proposal was considered not to be sufficiently expressive of the attitude and minds of the executives.

There is no reason to think that there will be any voluntary change of attitude by the executives on this issue. This was clearly and emphatically stated at the meeting and was given additional pledge by posted notices in practically every shop in the United States following the meeting. The executives cannot yield without violating the American principle of fair play, without losing the respect of their loyal employees—of the strikers also—and without losing the invaluable services of thousands of men who threaten to quit if the principle of seniority is violated, as was emphasized at the meeting.

On the other points the executives give unqualified consent to the President's propositions. As to those they are dealing with their own rights. They show commendable promptness and cordial co-operation with the President to reach an ending of the unhappy and inexcusable strike. They express a readiness to do any reasonable thing but not to break pledged faith with employees. Through this attitude of the executives perhaps the strikers finally will realize what they have forfeited to blind following of radical leadership.—Enquirer.

MOST ANYTHING.

Don't dare to do right. Do it, instead.

Toil never tires some people. They never do any.

Praise your neighbor's garden. He may give you some.

There's one consolation, anyway. If we have no coal next winter we won't be bothered with the dust.

Don't run away to get married. It deprives your friends of an opportunity to see how sacred you are.

If the law required every man to earn his daily bread a lot of them would want to eat but once a week.

There wouldn't be so much crime in existence if people had time to go to work.

Don't worry over being fat. It makes people think you have plenty to eat.

Never tell a woman how old you think she is. You don't know what she expects you to say.

The modest way to advertise your prosperity is to dress your wife in accordance with your income.

It may be true that a fool is born every minute, but they certainly don't die at the same rate.

WESTHEIMER & CO.
STOCKS BONDS
GRAIN
Phone Main 567 326 Walnut St.

FARM FOR SALE OR TRADE
Batavia, Dodge farm on good road near station. Level, fine barns, house and excellent water supply. Features tobacco, fruit and wheat. 200 acres at $75. Will take lots or small farm.
FLYNN REALTY EXCHANGE
Phone: Main 5093-Wood. 5263 Postal Tel. Bldg., Gov. Square, CINCINNATI

CLIP THIS DIRECTORY
OF SQUARE-DEAL
CINCINNATI FIRMS

THE MARKET GARDENERS' SEED CO.
120-126 E. Court St. Cincinnati, O.
Wholesale & Retail Dealers in FIELD, FLOWER, GARDEN SEEDS, POULTRY SUPPLIES.
WHAT HAVE YOU TO SELL?
Send samples for our cash bid.

You Get the Best When You Buy
GOLD MEDAL BRAND
PEANUT BUTTER
At Your Grocer
LOOK FOR THE YELLOW CAN FRED W. MUTH CO.
CINCINNATI, O.

CARL J. KIEFER Consulting Engineer
Design and Construction of Power and Industrial Plants. Investigation, Operation and Reports on Public Utilities.
Appraisals and Valuations.
810-816 FOURTH NATIONAL BLDG.

If Bakers Desire It!
Louisville, Ky.—If the bakers of Kentucky, for their own protection and that of the people of the State, desire it, the Bureau of Foods, Drugs and Hotels of the State Board of Health will adopt for all bread inspections the standards of the Federal Joint Committee on Definitions. Miss Sarah H. Vance, director of the bureau, announced here today.
Efforts will be made immediately to familiarize all bakers of the State with these definitions and later expressions from them will be sought to determine the advisability of their adoption.
These definitions define wheat bread or white bread as that made in the form of a loaf or rolls, or other units smaller than a loaf, by baking wheat bread dough. It must contain one hour, or more after baking, not more than 38 per cent moisture. The moisture limitation for milk bread is the same, but here there is provision for replacing not less than one-third of the water ingredient with milk or its equivalent.
In yeast bread at least one-third of the wheat flour ingredient must have been replaced by rye flour. For raisin bread there is a provision that each pound of the baked product must have had added to it at least three ounces of raisins, and sweetening and shortening ingredients are permitted to be used in greater quantity than in wheat bread.

The large maple trees that were so badly damaged by the fire that destroyed D. R. Blythe's store building and other property about a year ago, were felled to the ground last Monday by the woodman's axe.

People can't be fooled with gold bricks any longer, but you can persuade them that they can buy $5.00 stocks that soon are going to be worth $5,000.

Dr. Wallace J. Tanner and daughter Margaret, of St. Petersburg, Fla., are the guests of his mother, Mrs. Emma J. Rouse, at Florence.

The objections of the kid element to cleanliness vanish when the gang hold up their fingers as a sign they are not going in swimming.

Small crowd in attendance at court Monday.

WHERE TO DEAL IN CINCINNATI

Kline's
421-423 RACE STREET
CORRECT ATTIRE FOR WOMEN AND MISSES
DO YOU WANT A GOOD JOB?
Then Learn To Do Something Better Than The Other Fellow
The Y. M. C. A. Auto School
Teaches Young Men To Be
Good Auto Mechanics
Day or Night Classes
Complete Course $75.00
Write For Booklet or Call
(25% Discount to Ex-Servicemen)
Name.....
Address.....
Y. M. C. A., Elm & Central Parkway

YOUNG MEN AND YOUNG WOMEN
FIT YOURSELF FOR LIFE'S WORK with a Technical Training at the
OHIO MECHANICS INSTITUTE
INTERESTING 2-YEAR COURSES in Industrial Education
Engineering, Industrial Mechanical Engineering,
Architecture, Industrial Art, Lithography, Power
Landscape, etc.
4-YEAR TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL COURSES—Special
Courses in Chemistry, Frodoan Drawing, Industrial Art, Landscape, Lithography, Linotype Operation, Machine Shop Work, Mathematics, Mechanical Drawing,
Electrical Engineering, Printing, Wood Work.
Registration Days—Day School, September 13, 14, 15,
1922; Night School, September 27, 28, 29, 1922.
Write Today for further information to the Registrar, Central Parkway & Walnut St., Cincinnati, O.

PETERS POULTRY COMPANY
104-6-8-10 W. Court St. Phone Canal 1957 CINCINNATI, O.

K. SHOKER & SON
FURS
REPAIRED REMODELED
Mail orders solicited
140 W. 7th St. Cincinnati, O.

MILNER MUSICAL CO.
40 WEST SIXTH STREET
CINCINNATI, OHIO
EVERYTHING MUSICAL
NEW PLAYER PIANOS
$335 and up

HYDRO-TORON TIRES
GUARANTEED 10,000 MILES AGAINST
STONE CUTS RIM CUTS BLOW OUTS
30x3.5 $14.00
OTHER PRICES IN PROPORTION
MAK. CHANGES PROMPTLY. PLEASE
AUTO ACCESSORIES CO.
CANAL 37 CINCINNATI, OHIO 8TH & MAIN

ELECTRIC
Lowest Prices—Largest Stock
ERTEL LIGHTING CO.
320 West Fourth St.
Write for Prices

BUSINESS-BUILDING
--ADVERTISING--
OF EVERY KIND
The WASHBURN-FLARSHEIM Co.
Home Office Cincinnati Canal 6749
34 Blythe Bldg.

FOR SALE
Five room house, Burlington Park Sub-Division, lot 60x150 feet...$1,500.
76 acres, 6-room house, E. A. Gant.....$3,500.
222 acres 6-room house (W. O. Rector) three miles from Burlington $10,600.
60 acres, 8 room house, Walton $7,000.
46 acres, 4-room house, Union, Ky., $5,800.

CLAUCH, AGENT
Erlanger, Ky.
Office Main Street, east 44

Subscribe for the REORDER

Write or Wire for Prices
Ship Your Poultry to an Established Reliable House

PETERS POULTRY COMPANY
104-6-8-10 W. Court St. Phone Canal 1957 CINCINNATI, O.

WE REPAIR—Electric Motors, Re-wind Armatures, etc. They can't come too little, or too big.
Cincinnati Electrical Repair Co.
325 Sycamore Street, Cincinnati, Ohio
Phone, Main 2183
NEW & RE-BUILT MOTORS FOR SALE

John Ryling & Son
222 East 9th St.
CINCINNATI, OHIO
Awning Tents
Waterproof Covers

5 1/2% FIRST MORTGAGE
CERTIFICATES
$100-$10,000—Issued by First Mortgage
Investment Co. and guaranteed by F. M. Trust Company.
THE TITLE GUARANTEE & TRUST CO.
S. E. Cor. Court and Main Sts.

Desmond's Lace Store
Complete Line of
Laces Veilings
Corsets and Hosiery
515 Race St.

For Quality
Price
Variety
PIGGLY WIGGLY
Groceries

FOR SALE
Five room house, Burlington Park Sub-Division, lot 60x150 feet...$1,500.
76 acres, 6-room house, E. A. Gant.....$3,500.
222 acres 6-room house (W. O. Rector) three miles from Burlington $10,600.
60 acres, 8 room house, Walton $7,000.
46 acres, 4-room house, Union, Ky., $5,800.

CLAUCH, AGENT
Erlanger, Ky.
Office Main Street, east 44

Subscribe for the REORDER

THE LOAN THAT NEVER COMES DUE
UNLESS AND UNTIL THE BORROWER WISHES TO PAY IT.
$66.46 per year on each $1,000 of loan pays both principal and interest
NO COMMISSIONS
NO RENEWALS
KENTUCKY JOINT STOCK LAND BANK
Security Trust Bldg. Lexington, Ky.
B. H. RILEY, Agt. Burlington, Ky.

Bullittsburg Baptist Church.

J. W. Campbell Pastor.
Sunday School every Sunday at 10:00 a. m.
Regular preaching services on the First and Third Sundays in each month at 11:00 a. m.

All obituaries, card of thanks and all other matter, not news, must be paid for at 8 cents per line.

Personal Mentions.

Mrs. J. C. Gordon is visiting her relatives at Walton.

Edgar C. Riley, of Lexington, attended county court, Monday.

Misses Ruth and Elizabeth Kelly were shopping in the city, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Walker entertained friends from the city Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Huey, of North Bend, spent Sunday with Mrs. Carrie Riddell.

J. W. Kelly is serving as a petit juror in the United States court at Covington, this week.

Mrs. O. P. Phipps, of near Lawrenceburg, Indiana, spent Monday with friends in Burlington.

Frank Maxwell and wife, of Covington, spent Sunday with friends out on the East Bend road.

Geo. Danner, formerly of this county, but now a resident of Kenton county, attended court Monday.

J. G. Jones, who has been quite ill for several days at his home out on the East Bend road, is improving.

Secretary Hubert Conner was distributing catalogues of the Florence Fair to the crowd in town Monday.

Wilbur Rice and wife, and Wallace Rice, of Idlewild, neighborhood, spent Sunday with J. L. Eddins and wife.

Mrs. Sarah Carpenter and granddaughter, Miss Bessie Baldon, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Carpenter.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Walton and daughter, of Petersburg, were the guests of friends in Burlington, last week.

Profs. Carneaga and Cooper, principles of the Summer School for teachers, left for their homes, last Saturday.

Ed. Hawes and family, of Covington, spent a few days with his mother Mrs. Martha Hawes, the latter part of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kinkead, of Cincinnati, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gaines out on the Petersburg pike.

F. H. Rouse and wife, Elmer Kelly and wife visited Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Rouse and mother at Pleasant Ridge, Ohio, last Sunday.

Mrs. Martha Roberts, of Walton, was the guest of her sisters, Misses Sallie and Elizabeth Rogers, several days the past week.

Quite a number of the Erlanger boys spent Saturday night and Sunday at their camp at Lonesome Hole on Gunpowder creek.

Misses Mary Roberts and Mary Hance, of Covington, spent Saturday night and Sunday with Misses Sallie and Elizabeth Rogers.

Sam Pettit and wife entertained a number of their relatives and friends at dinner, last Sunday at their home out on the East Bend road.

Miss Sudie Penn, after a visit of several weeks with her brother Geo. M. Penn and family, left for her home at Springfield, Ky., Monday.

Mrs. A. A. Shearer and two children, Ida May and Master George, of Erlanger, were calling on friends in Burlington, last Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. J. D. Baldon and little daughter Sue, returned to their home at Bowling, Green, Ky., last Saturday after a week's visit with relatives in Burlington.

Mrs. M. J. Corbin and daughter, and Mrs. E. J. Shearer, of Covington, spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Gaines, of Limaburg.

Walter Johnson, one of the good citizens of Verona precinct, was in attendance at court Monday, and while in town made this office a pleasant call.

Mrs. H. W. Shearer and little daughter, Helen Hall, of Newport, spent from Saturday until Tuesday evening with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hall.

Chas. M. Carpenter, one of the county's hustling farmers of Walton precinct, was in town on business Monday, and made the Recorder office a pleasant call.

Julius Utzinger, well known farmer of near Bullittsville, while at court Monday, called in to see the printers, and renewed his subscription and that of his sister.

Master Lawrence Bentler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lou Bentler, of Erlanger, attended court Monday, and while in town called at this office and watched the printers work.

A. B. Reinker, wife and daughter, and Mrs. Laura Martin, returned home, last Friday, from a two week's visit with A. L. Furnish and family, at Golden Pond, Trigg county.

B. H. Berkshire and wife, of Petersburg, and their daughter, Mrs. Palmer, of Moshawaka, Ind., spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Berkshire. Mrs. Palmer remained over for a few days visit.

Messrs. John Utzinger and O. P. Phipps, former Boone county citizens, but now living near Lawrenceburg, Ind., were visitors to Burlington, Monday. Mr. Utzinger made this office a pleasant call. He reports every thing very dry in that part of Indiana.

Rankin R. Revill and wife, of Lexington, and his mother, Mrs. Monette Revill, of Erlanger, and two sisters, Mrs. J. G. Furnish, of Covington, and Mrs. J. T. Deal, of Conway, Arkansas, were visitors to Burlington, last Thursday afternoon, where they met several of their old friends and neighbors, and viewed the scenes of boyhood and youth.

Capt. Ed. Maxwell and wife and children, of Pittsburgh, arrived in Burlington, last Wednesday evening, coming through in an automobile. After spending a few days with relatives in Burlington and Bellevue they left Monday for Louisville, Ky., where he will be stationed. Ed. was sent to Pittsburgh as Hull Inspector of steamboats Dec. 4, 1907, and he and his wife are delighted with the change, as it puts them in closer touch with their people.

We have rented Batteries that will fit any car, while we are Recharging or Repairing your battery. DEMPEY MOTOR CAR CO. Erlanger, Ky.

TRI-STATE FAIR FESTIVAL.

The Governors of Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky will preside on days named in honor of their respective states at the Tri-State Tobacco Fair and Fall Festival, to be held October 21 to November 4th, in Covington, Ky., according to an announcement by Will H. Myers, Managing Director. In addition, the Mayors of 100 cities and villages in each state will be appointed honorary Vice Chairmen to serve on their respective state days, so that Indiana Mayors will serve on Indiana Day, Ohio Mayors on Ohio Day and Kentucky Mayors on Kentucky Day.

The coming event will be divided into two distinct sections—The Tobacco Fair and Fall Festival. W. H. Whiteman, Chairman of the Executive Committee and President of the Kenton Loose Leaf Tobacco Warehouse Inc., will be personally in charge of the Tobacco Fair. Cash prizes will be distributed for the best samples of tobacco grown in Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana.

The Fall Festival will be the other distinctive feature of the coming affair, with an appeal most particularly for the women of the Middle West. It will be divided into seven sections—an educational division, commercial exhibits, a pure food section, a radio section an automobile and truck section, a tractor and farm implement section and a section devoted to amusements.

Practically three city blocks will be occupied with the shows and exhibits. The Kenton Tobacco Warehouse, at Second and Scott streets, Covington will form the nucleus. In the rear of the present structure which contains 55,000 square feet of exhibition area, will be erected a machinery hall, to house the numerous truck and farm implements. The additional building will have an area of 15,000 square feet. A boat landing will be built just west of the Suspension Bridge to accommodate Festival visitors who come by boat, and also to form the base of the river pageants which will be on the program.

RICHWOOD.

Mrs. Anna Hammond has been quite ill.

Mrs. Jane Belle Northcutt is with her sister, Mrs. Hammond.

Rev. J. H. Moore, formerly of Price Hill, has moved onto the Robert Snow farm.

Revs. McClure and Baker held a very successful revival at Mt. Zion church the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Snow and Miss Agnes of Covington, spent last Sunday with friends here.

We had a small railroad wreck here last night. A passenger train bumped into a standing freight train, derailling the caboose and two box cars.

Two mysterious men prowling around about 11 p. m., and later a large car run by a lone woman and their strange actions, caused a sensation here one night the past week. Mr. James Smith took a shot at the men after ordering them off, and when they did stepped him and started to enter his barn.

J. B. Rouse, who resides about a mile from town on the Florence pike, reported to the Recorder Monday, that the belled buzzard, which was reported to have been seen near Lexington, some time ago, was seen at Furnish Pope's one day last week.

RECHARGE ANY BATTERY*75c

RENTED BATTERIES FOR ANY MAKE CAR
Dempey Motor Car Co.,
Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L.

USE OF DRUGS SOON BECOMES HABIT.

Cocaine is a drug extracted from the coco leaves. These leaves are sometimes chewed by the South American natives to increase their strength while mountain climbing. Cocaine is a stimulant and is opposite in action to morphine. It temporarily increases ones capacity for mental and physical work. It is the favorite drug of criminals and other denizens of the underworld. One million pounds of coco leaves are imported into the United States each year, yet only 250,000 pounds are used for legitimate purposes.

Thirty-five years ago cocaine was used by physicians as an anesthetic only. Today tens of thousands of people are abusing this dangerous drug illegally and for no good purpose. Like morphine and heroin its use quickly develops into a habit that cannot be broken.

Many people have innocently acquired the cocaine habit by having been given cocaine by their physicians in nose and throat affections. Others acquired it when it used to be the chief ingredient in the so-called catarrh "cures." Cocaine deadens the nerves and contracts the mucous membrane or lining of the nose and throat. The feeling of relief thus produced lasts but 20 or 30 minutes, but the habit lasts forever.

Habit Easily Acquired.

Morphine is an alkaloid gotten from opium. It acts upon the brain and spinal cord to the extent of deadening pain and finally producing sleep. It is one of the most valuable drugs which physician has but when used except with the most extreme caution it is one of the most dangerous. The use of morphine or opium daily for a month will so fix the habit upon one that it can hardly be broken.

In certain Asiatic countries, especially China and India, the majority of the people use opium as the people of the western countries use alcohol. When used by them in small amounts it does not seem to be as disastrous as it does to the people of western countries. Ninety per cent of the opium used in America is used by addicts or those who have acquired the habit.

Morphine at first produces a feeling of well being, increased mental and physical vigor, then a restful and relaxed feeling, then drowsiness and sleep, and after the sleep a period of depression.

Many cough mixtures contain opiates or preparations of opium. These temporarily relieve the irritation, but do not cure. Their extensive use is apt to be followed by the opium habit.

Under Federal Regulation.

The various narcotic drugs are distributed to the public under the Harrison act regulations according to 125,905 doctors, 321 wholesale dealers, 42,240 dentists 888 manufacturers, 10,240 veterinarians, 75 importers, etc., or 233,491 dispensers in all.

It is a grave question as to whether a drug addict can be cured of his addiction, or not. Certain institutions claim to cure, but observations show the most of the so-called "cures" coming from those institutions quickly go back to their habit again when released. There is no disease in which nature unassisted does so little to help the patient as in drug addiction.

Drug addiction in most cases eventually leads to crime. There seems to be evidence to show that these drugs have a degenerative effect upon the brain and other parts of the central nervous system to the extent of completely changing character and ruining health. Uses may revert to the level of the lower animals in their efforts to get the much needed drug. Their criminal tendencies though are as much due to having to resort to every conceivable method to get their drug as to injury produced by the drug. The drug addict is continually terrified by the thought that he will be unable to get his drug. He thus becomes potentially a criminal.

In the ranks of the drug addicts criminals are far in the minority. They are made up largely of kindly and law abiding men and women who unintentionally have acquired the drug habit. The public is as relentless toward the drug addict as toward the harlot. He is treated as a criminal whether he is one or not. Hence, the terror of detection. The police officer, not knowing anything about the complexity of drug addiction, is often brutally inconsiderate in his treatment of these poor unfortunate people. There are very few addicts but what would we their very soul if they could be freed from their terrible bondage. Men who are inveterate cigarette smokers may bitterly denounce those who have become drug addicts without realizing that they themselves are as badly enslaved, only fortunately for them to a less terrible drug.

Drug addiction now is being recognized and treated as a disease more than as an evidence of criminal inclination. Not many decades ago insane people were thought of and treated as criminals. Today they are recognized and treated as sick people. Alcoholism is also now considered as a disease and not as an evidence of criminality. We are also just beginning to think that the venerally infected person is not necessarily a vicious person, but is primarily a sick person.

One should be cautious of patent

"111" cigarettes*10¢*They are GOOD!

Kirtley McWethy
Petersburg, Ky.,
Confectioner

will have on hand at all times

Ice Cream, Soft Drinks, Candies, Cigars, Cigarettes.

Open daily from 11 a. m. until 9 p. m. (except Saturdays) which will be from 9 a. m. to 11 p. m.

WHEN IN TOWN GIVE HIM A CALL

FOR SALE ETC

NOTICE.

We have been appointed the authorized sales and service station for the Willard Battery for Boone county. Also do recharging and repairing on all makes of Batteries. Work guaranteed.

DEMPEY MOTOR CAR CO.
Erlanger, Ky.

HEMSTITCHING AND PICOTING ATTACHMENT, works on any sewing machine, easily adjusted. Price $2.50 with full instructions. Oriental Novelty Co., Box 11, Corpus Christi, Texas. o17 aug

WANTED

Hay to bale. Prices reasonable. P. H. Mathews, Bullittsville, Ky. Phone 203-x

29 June tf

For Sale—Coming three year old bay Shetland pony Gentle. Also saddle pony two years old. Aylor Stephens, Petersburg, Ky. 2t—pd

We have one man who does nothing but look after the Recharging and Repairing of Batteries. DEMPEY MOTOR CAR CO. Erlanger, Ky.

For Sale—Lot Bartlett pears. Edgar Berkshire, Burlington, Ky. R. D. 1. It

For Sale—Twenty-two had extra good black faced ewes from one to four years old. Also good 3-year-old Southdown ram. W. L. Kirkpatrick, Burlington, Ky. It

For Sale—Cow and calf. C. S. Riddell, Hebron, Ky., Burlington R. D. 3. It pd

For Sale—125 good stock ewes and three good bucks. Twelve months credit. V. W. Gaines, Idlewild, Ky. It—pd

For Sale—Rubber tired buggy—good as new. G. S. Aylor, Florence, Ky. It—pd

For Sale—Eight nice Chesterwhite shoats—four will weigh 100 pounds and four 60 pounds. Apply to Raymond Goodridge, Burlington R. D. 1. It—pd

For Sale—Shetland pony, nice saddle, also coming 3-year old gelding. Aylor Stephens, Petersburg, Ky.

For Sale—Lot nice Elberta peaches—price right. J. W. Goodridge, Burlington, Ky. 1t—pd

For Sale—Fresh cow with calf by her side. J. W. Cross, Burlington, Ky. Con. phone 368.

o-aul0—2tpd

LOST, STRAYED OR STOLEN
Collie, male, light brown and white, answers to name of Mickey. Rev. H. J. Egbring, Florence, Ky.

FOR SALE.

DUCKS—Young Pekin ducks, also Belgian hares and Angora rabbits reasonable. Phone Cons. 384. W. H. Weber, Erlanger R. F. D. 4. It

For Sale—Six Hampshire rams. J. B. Walton, Burlington R. D. 1. Phone 44x. It medicines as a whole and especially of those which claim to cure headaches, coughs, asthma, catarrh, sleeplessness, etc. One should keep in check on his physician or nurse in illness to see that habit forming drugs are not too freely prescribed. USE OF DRUGS BECOMES HABIT; ADDICTS UNFORTUNATE, NOT CRIMINAL.

Dr. Frank Crane says public officials could serve their constituents more efficiently if they spent less time at their desks and more time in recreation. Some of them would serve their constituents better if they spent no time at all at their desks.

CAR SENSE

Spend
a Dollar
and
Save
Ten.

Little defects grow into big ones in time if not corrected.

The correction of a small defect in its early stages costs but little.

When left until it grows into serious proportions its correction runs into money.

That is what makes the maintenance of a car so expensive to many people—neglecting the little things until they grow into big ones.

The better—the safer—the more economical way is to see the garage man at the first warning of trouble.

Today is always a good time to have it done.

EDDINS BROTHERS

TIRES, TUBES AND ACCESSORIES.

Burlington, Kentucky.

BRAKE BAND OIL—Guaranteed to stop Ford bands from chattering. Agents for U. S. and Ajax Tires.

Established 1886.

A Bank Account

IS ONE OF THE FIRST STEPPING STONES TO SUCCESS IN LIFE.

How are You Stepping!

This bank invites young men and women especially to open savings accounts. Officials of the bank are pleased at all time to give the benefit of their experience to customers and others who seek advice.

When in doubt come to this bank. Your success means greater success for us.

Has it ever occurred to you that a checking account is a very convenient thing to have?

Boone Co. Deposit Bank

Burlington, Kentucky.

N. E. RIDDELL, President. W. D. CROPPER, Cashier.
W. A. GAINES, Vice-Pres. G. S. KELLY, Asst. Cashier.

COURTESY SERVICE FIRST STABILITY*A SAFE INVESTMENT.

One of the safest and best investments for you at this time is a 4 Per Cent Time Certificate of Deposit in this STRONG Bank.

There is no tax on this investment, the yield is good and, the principal will be returned to you upon demand.

Consult us about your investment.

Peoples Deposit Bank

Burlington, Ky.

Capital.....$ 50,000.00.
Surplus.....100,000.00.

W. L. B. ROUSE, President. C. H. YOEHL, Vice-President.

A. B. RENAKER, Cashier.

Nell H. Martin, Asst. Cashier. L. C. Beemon, Asst. Cashier.

Petersburg Theatre

At Petersburg, Kentucky

Saturday Night, Aug. 12th

MADGE KENNEDY IN

"Girl With a Jazz Heart"

At Burlington, Kentucky,

Saturday Night, Aug. 12th

TOM MOORE IN

"Officer 666"

CHILDREN 10c. ADULTS 25c

War Tax Included Will Begin promptly at 8:00

USE RISING SUN FLOUR

We ask you to try RISING SUN FLOUR. As it is made to-day we know it will give you absolute satisfaction. RISING SUN FANCY PATENT is as good a flour as you can buy at any price. GOLDEN ROD and RED STAR are pure old fashioned Straight grades and the equal of most so called Patent flour. Try a sack to-day. Your dealer can supply you or if he does not handle same we will be glad to tell you where you can get it.

Every Sack Guaranteed on a Money Back Basis.

City Mills, - - Rising Sun, Indiana.

W. T. BURNS, Proprietor.

How much do you know?
Here's a sample.
If you see a new building there are certain improvements you could have made had you been the architect or the builder.
The man who lays a new pavement doesn't do it just right. You can point out the defects and tell him how it should be done.
If the village dads pass a new ordinance you can tear it to shreds and lay bare its glaring inconsistencies.
If the school board adopts a new set of books you know of another set that would be far better.
And if the preacher points out the road to hell you even know of a short-cut to take.
How much do you know, anyway?

It isn't the wife that so many men fear. It's what she may find out.
And therein lies the fatal mistake so many men make—the mistake that leads either to a life of unhappiness or to the divorce courts.
Husbands and wives should be perfectly frank with each other, even though that frankness leads to the baring of facts that are not entirely to one's credit.
Frankness is the father of truth, and the constant employment of truth in little things leads to greater truths in the big ones.

Tell it to your wife. If you can afford to do it she can afford to hear of it. And she may even surprise you with something in return.

The average automobile speed maniac glories in the fact that he is a menace.

It's cheap glory, and the only kind that he can annex.

When we pass the carcass of a long dead animal we hold our noses. Decayed flesh is very offensive.

We should do the same with the poor egg who considers himself a speeder.

His carcass may be intact, but the mind is a mass of putrefaction. This is evidenced by the fact that a normal mind does not require coercion in order to safeguard the lives and limbs of other people.

Hold your nose as he passes by. Soon he will take another route.

Who is boss in the home?
Most men would say that they are, while a majority of the women would insist that that is their prerogative.
It is probable that in most cases the woman is the boss—if there is one. But in reality there should be none.

The happiest and most successful homes are those where mutual confidence and a sincere desire to cooperate exists.

Such a home needs no boss, although a guiding spirit is always essential.

Leave the management of the home to the wives. They have forgotten more in that realm than the husbands will ever know.

Europe reminds us of a kettle that wants to boil over but can't raise enough steam to lift the lid.

The perplexed and harassed governments are growling and snapping and snarling at each other, but never reach the point of an open rupture. Some day the fires will become warmer, and more steam will be generated, and the lid will fly off—and the munition makers will be happy again.

Even in the midst of misery there is much joy to be found.

TAKE IT SERIOUSLY.
Don't ignore the great calamity cloud that is hovering over Europe. It is a serious menace, and only a miracle can prevent the impending crash.

When a great structure is about to collapse people do not command it to stand by word of mouth. They bolster it up with the best means at hand until permanent repairs can be made.

Europe is in the position of the crumbling building. It is about to collapse for lack of adequate support.

The great need of the world is temporary relief. Without it the governments and people can not reach the point of permanent improvement.

The international bankers of the world have laid down the terms upon which they will furnish the finances necessary for this relief—for readjustment and reconstruction.

The governments, with one exception, have indicated their willingness to accept these terms.

France alone remains obstinate—insanely blind and stubborn—and without French cooperation nothing can be attained.

The French are holding a two-edged sword over the tiny cord that binds the future peace of the world.

Will they lower it in honor, or will greed, vindictiveness and stubbornness prevail?

SCRUBS BRING 30 YEARS OF REGRET.

"If I had started with a few pure-bred cows 30 years ago I would have something that I would be proud of now rather than a lot of non-descript animals." This remark was made by a representative of the U. S. Department of Agriculture by a livestock owner 75 years old. That even this age is not too late to make a beginning is shown by the fact that he is a believer in pure-bred sires, and his herd, though not pure-bred, contains some grade Holstein cows.

GET TOGETHER.

This is no time for internal strife among the American people. It is the time to pull hard, and all together.

While we are a self-sustaining nation in every sense of the word, our prosperity yet depends to a considerable extent upon conditions that exist in the rest of the world. We have a large foreign trade, and we have—much to our credit—been financially down and out our markets are limited to just that extent.

No one can tell when Europe will be on its feet, or whether it will ever be so again.

With such conditions prevailing, it becomes more and more imperative that the people of the United States cultivate a closer spirit of cohesion and unity of purpose, with the welfare of our country as their ultimate goal.

Only such governments as are strong in right and might will prevail. Others will fall by the wayside, never to rise again in like form.

Lay aside petty disputes. A country prospers only as its people work in amity to a correct and given purpose.

America must forge ahead.

TOO LATE.

Remember how prodigal we have been in past years in the destruction of trees and in the waste of wood?

Some of that wood would be welcome next winter, when coal is scarce and prices are high.

We are a great people. We learn our lessons when it is too late to profit by them.

Therefore, we pay the piper without hearing his music.

First it was secret diplomacy, and then we had shirt sleeve diplomacy, and now that the women are breaking in we presume it will be of the blower variety.

THE SWEEP OF ADVERTISING.

Some tremendous campaigns of advertising on a national scale are now sweeping across the country, and they have many suggestions for the local merchant. One magazine has increased its circulation from 450,000 to 1,500,000 through such advertising. There are many business houses that never before used much newspaper space, that are doubling and tripling their advertising appropriation for this year.

Campaign like that indicate what a tremendous force is found in publicity. The people have their eyes wide open to find the best goods and the best service. They are interested and impressed by any man who has enterprise to talk about his goods, and tell people what he has and what it costs.

TUBERCULIN TESTS TOTAL QUARTER MILLION IN JUNE.

Cattle officially tested during June 1922, for tuberculosis numbered 250,886, according to a summary issued by the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture. This figure exceeds the normal amount of tuberculin testing by several thousand. Of all the cattle tested, 8,810 reacted, thus disclosing about 3 1/2 per cent of tuberculous cattle.

The removal of such animals from herds otherwise healthy is gradually bringing about better health among farm live stock, safer milk supplies, and many economic benefits. The popularity of tuberculosis eradication is evidenced by the length of the list of herds awaiting to be tested. At the end of June there were applications on file for the testing of 35,279 herds, containing more than half a million cattle.

Making Money Make Money

is the secret of financial success. By carefully investing your surplus funds where they will bring you a maximum return with safety you can quickly accumulate wealth without speculating.

Cincinnati Finance Co. $12 PER SHARE

(Subject To Advance)
Offers to the conservative investor an excellent opportunity to secure a high-grade, sound financial security that will net 12 per cent per annum, payable quarterly.

If you have any money earning less than 5% or any security of course you can get more income, write or call for further information regarding this sound investment opportunity.

We will accept all issues of Liberty Bonds at the prevailing market, plus accrued interest, in payment.

Platt Brothers Co.

INVESTMENT SECURITIES
Dixie Terminal Bldg., Cincinnati, O.
Information Coupon—Mail To-Day

PLATT BROTHERS COMPANY,
DIXIE TERMINAL BLDG.,
CINCINNATI, OHIO.
Without obligation on my part, send me your illustrated booklet and coupon for CINCINNATI FINANCE CO. stock.
Name.....
Address.....

MUCH SURPRISED

Verona, Ky., July 21, 1922.
Editor of the Recorder,

Dear Sir,
I am a reader of your esteemed paper, and I must say I was much surprised at your recent article regarding the Knights of Columbus and their honest efforts to give the American people an honest-to-God history to offset the poisoned stuff that has so insidiously found a place in our history, written by men alien to American traditions and American facts.

You say the Knights want to give us a history in which our country will appear to the world through Catholic eyes.

You are an honest man, hence I feel you wrote such words honestly. You should know that while the Knights pay for the work, Protestant, Jew and Infidel writers are permitted to write—the one requisite being that the history must be absolutely true to facts—American facts.

I such a history needed? Is such a history demanded? Yes sir! Demanded by whom? By Catholics as Catholics? No sir! Do you wish proof? Then I request you and all your readers, in the interest of our country, to write the California Society Sons of the Revolution, Los Angeles, California, for a pamphlet published by them and written by a Protestant gentleman named Charles Grant Miller. The pamphlet is called "Fusion to American Tradition," or "The Spirit of Benedict Arnold Reincarnated in United States History Revised in Text Books." After reading that pamphlet you will say with all good Americans that we do need a history such as the Knights are paying to have published.

In regard to the Towner-Sterling Bill, all I need say here is that leading Protestant educators all over America are squarely against such a Department of Education in which a Secretary in the Protestant's Cabinet could, in real Kaiser-like fashion, force a Prussianized school system on our great and free American people.

Yours Very Truly,
JOSEPHINE DEMPSEY.

The article referred to was published in our issue of July 13, and was furnished by "Capital News Service," Washington, D. C., and which we republished:

"There is some agitation in this land of ours regarding our histories. The Knights of Columbus are busily engaged in getting up a history of the country, presumably, will show this country to the world as it appears through Catholic eyes. There are some few misguided organizations which claim that certain histories in use in schools 'are not fair to the south.' They, in turn, write their own histories, and some odd statement comes from the eye of the unbiased student when he peruses them.

"Some people have the idea, apparently, that history is a study which may be changed at will; that it is possible by legislative enactment to admit this or take away that fact from a history!

"History is the chronicle of that which was. If a thing happened, it happened. If it didn't happen, it didn't happen. Saying that George Washington was an Eskimo would make him one; declaring that Pickett won the battle of Gettysburg would neither add to nor detract from his true historical position.

"What we need in this country is not more histories, but better histories; not sectarian, biased, organization histories, but histories compiled by historians, which shall tell the truth, and the use of which shall be mandatory in public schools benefiting under federal aid.

"What we need in this country is the Towner-Sterling bill to be passed, so we can have a Department of Education, with a Secretary in the President's cabinet, and histories for our schools, Catholic and Protestant, southern and northern, eastern and western, which teach the truth, and the truth, and nothing but the truth."

GRAND JURY INDICTS 91. OLD RING GETS HIS

The grand jury at the last term of circuit court held here in July returned 91 indictments against citizens of Gallatin county for their failure to buy tags for their dogs. Having listed dogs with the assessor in 1921 yet they failed to buy tags for such dogs and were indicted from the records according to their own statements. In some cases the license was taken out by a son of the owner, in some cases the dog was sold, will be exonerated. In others it was mere neglect and they will have to pay for their neglect as prescribed by the law. Some of the owners say that the dogs were young and that they were ignorant of the fact that a dog was supposed to be tagged as soon as whelped.—Warsaw Independent.

MAY BE GOING TO WOODS

If the coal strike continues much longer Burlingtonians who are unable to obtain coal will be found going to the woods in their slippers before frost hunting for firewood.

HAULING APPLES.

Gulley & Pettit have hauled to Glasgow, Principal of the school, plus the past few weeks over 2,000 bushels of apples.

SILOS PAY BIG PROFITS

When you make a time deposit at your bank you have in mind the interest you will collect at the end of the year. When you buy stocks and bonds you have in mind dividends.

In other words, you are thinking about the return you will get on your investment in terms of interest. Why not think of the silo in this way? Usually when you think of a silo you think of it as a means of producing more milk and butter fat. Why not translate this into terms of interest? Let us consider the silo as an investment and see what interest it will return.

Take a 100-ton silo as the size found on the average farm. It will require the product of ten acres of corn to fill this silo. If this corn yields 40 bushels per acre, 400 bushels of corn go into this silo. Now consider the feeding value of the 100-ton of silage with the value of the crop had the corn been harvested and sold and the stalks been pastured.

The present value of silage is about $5 per ton; 100 tons are worth $500. Remember that this includes all the cost of putting the silage into the silo; in other words, you should be able to buy silage from your neighbor at this price. The value of the same feed in terms of mature corn and pastured corn stalks would be $400.

400 bushels at $ .50 $200.00
100 acres Corn Stalks at $4.00 $400.00

Total Feeding Value $240.00
Now we will have to figure in the cost of husking and cribbing the corn; conservatively, this is 5 cents per bushel or $20.00 for the crop which must be charged up against the feeding value, leaving $220.00 as the net return.

Thus it is seen that when the crop is put in the silo it is worth just 220 more than when it is harvested and pastured.

You can build a permanent 100-ton silo for $600 or less. If you had to borrow the money to build it the interest on your loan at 6 per cent would be $36, which subtracted from $280 leaves $244 as representing the net increase in feeding value of the ensiled crop.

$244 is more than 40 per cent return on your investment in a silo. Will your banker give you that much for the use of your money or can you buy any reliable stocks and bonds and expect such dividends?

The answer is, "Build A Silo."

SPRAYING BOOSTS YIELD OF LATE CROP POTATOES.

Lexington, Ky. — Farmers and gardeners who are growing late potatoes will profit by being on guard for insect pests at this time of the year, according to A. J. Olney, potato specialist at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. Plant lice were highly destructive to first-crop potatoes in the state this year while leaf hoppers, another common insect pest of the crop, have been more abundant during the last two or three years than ever before, he said. In tests during recent years on the station farm, sprayed potatoes have yielded as much as one-third more than those that were left unsprayed, it was pointed out.

"As soon as the plants are six inches high, they should be sprayed with a combination spray made by mixing standard Bordeaux mixture and arsenate of lead at the rate of three pounds of lead power for each 50 gallons of Bordeaux. This spray will control Colorado potato beetles, the ordinary flea beetles and early blight. It may be necessary to repeat the application of this spray as many as from four to six times at intervals of ten days to two weeks. If the plant lice or leaf hoppers appear on the plants, it will be necessary to add nicotine sulphate to the spray, this material being added at the rate of a half pint to 50 gallons of Bordeaux.

"Special care is necessary if the spraying is to accomplish the desired results. Plant lice must be hit by this spray in order to be killed while the control of leaf hoppers depends on spraying them while they are young."

RECIPE FOR MAKING FLAPPER.

The old days of "sugar and spice and everything nice" seem to have passed when it comes to the making of little girls. Hark back to the Glasgow Times:

"Take a bucketful of red paint and dab profusely about a quantity of ordinary clay. Add a pair of pretty legs with speedster ankles; drape in Eve cloth and send to a finishing school while it is soft. After hardening, stand on the mezzanine floor of a first-class hotel for seasoning purposes. If properly taken care of, a flapper of this type will last two years. However, when wear begins to show, discard it, as it is a loss of time and money to undertake a repair.

The folks who give long and eloquent talks on the subject of preparedness, have not laid in any fuel for next winter.

There are many people in Boone who feel it is not necessary for them to write legibly, as they do not have to read their own hand writing.

A financier used to be a man who could keep his expenses within his income. Now he is one who can borrow enough to keep a balance.

Seeds for Fall Planting

MICHIGAN ROSEN RYE, NEW SEED WHEAT, NEW TIMOTHY, CRIMSON CLOVER, ALFALFA CLOVER, ETC.

Get ready now. figure the amount you will need, write us for prices, buy your seed, and let's all be ready when the time comes.

Canning Supplies.

Quart Glass Mason Jars, per dozen 78c; Pints, doz. 65c; 1 gal. Mason Jars, doz. $1.00; Star Tin Cans, qts, doz. 48c. Mason Jar Caps, 25c doz. Large Jelly Glasses, 85c doz. Best Jar Rubbers, 2 dozen 15c; Sealing Tack stick, 4c.

Wax Strings, 3 doz. 10c, 100 for 30c. Let Us Ship your Order by Freight or have Your Truckman Stop

Wichitas Best Flour

Milled from best Kansas Hard Wheat CAR DUE TO ARRIVE THIS WEEK
Sold from car at these prices:

Bbl. $8.50; 1/2 Bbl. $4.35; 98-lb bag. $4.

SEND YOUR ORDER IN NOW.

Nobetter Coffee, ..... 1b. .... 33c

Rarus Flour

Bbl. in wood $7.50; 98-Lb. Bag $3.50

Northern Kentucky's } LEADING GROCERS AND SEEDSMEN.

GEO. W. HILL & CO.
Be A Hill Customer — It Pays —
27-29 PINE ST.—25 W 7th ST. CO. KY.
All Orders Prompt — Satisfactory —
Groceries, Stationery, Hardware and More

HEATING SYSTEMS

CALORIC - GOTTSCHALK

(Pipeless Furnaces, Pipe Furnaces, Hot Water, Steam and Vapor.

—WE REPAIR—

FURNACES AND ROOFS

The Gottschalk Furnace & Roofing Co.

Phone S. 1287 (Incorporated) COVINGTON, KY.

VULCANIZING.

Complete line of Goodyear, Goodrich and Kelly-Springfield Tires and Tubes, good Grade of Automobile and Tractor Oils and Greases.

Auto Accessories kept in stock.

GEORGE PORTER,
BURLINGTON, KY.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN, DENTIST

In my new office
Cloyola Place, Florence, Ky.
Teeth extracted, painless. Bridge and Plate Work a Specialty.
All Work Guaranteed

JAMES L. ADAMS, DENTIST

Cohen Building
Pike Street, Covington, Ky.

F. W. Kassebaum &amp; Son

GRANITE & MARBLE

MONUMENTS,

A Large Stock on Display to Select from.

Pneumatic Tool Equipme't

118 Main Street,
AURORA, IND.

Leiglass Replaced, Cushions and Backs Rebuilt

Buggy and Wagon Upholstering

OF QUALITY

RUFUS W. TANNER

Auto Top Repairing

Seats covers for all makes of cars.

Dixie Highway Erlanger, Ky.
Phone Erl. 79-Y.

People who use the classified ads in this paper profit by them. The little ads bring quick results. What have you for sale or want to buy. The cost is too small to consider.

Subscribe for the RECORDER.

BOONE CO. RECORDER

Published every Thursday
N. E. RIDDELL, Publisher.

Foreign Advertising Representative
THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION
Entered at the Postoffice, Burlington, Ky., as second-class mail.

ADVERTISING RATES.
Furnished on application. The value of the RECORDER as an advertising medium is unquestioned. The character of the advertisements new in its columns, and the number of them, tell the whole story.

Some tobacco looks very well but there is a large acreage that is growing slowly.

L. R. McNeely took a large load of colored people to Rising Sun, Indiana, Sunday.

The laundry men have not so far uttered any audible protest against the white stocking habit.

Thanks to the active boys of the neighborhood, many householders are relieved of all anxiety as to what to do with their fruit.

B. H. Stetson, 34, and Genev Brown, 22, of Gallatin county, were married in Burlington Monday, August 7th, by Rev. E. C. Riley.

A college education is a valuable thing and greatly to be desired, but if it fails to broaden the heart as well as the mind, it is a failure.

The soap business should be good in these times of low necks and short sleeves, but observations sometimes suggest that there is a field for further sale of that commodity.

Everybody that came to court last Monday, was wearing a smile—because of the fine shower of rain that fell Sunday night, which seemed to be general all over the county.

If every boy and girl were as big as they feel when they graduate from high school, the rest of the world wouldn't be able to find standing room.

Tell us the news—we'll tell others.

Twenty women in 11 states have announced themselves candidates for the National House of Representatives. Four women in as many different states have become candidates for the Senate.

Three million tons of potential fuel in the form of soot, escapes into the atmosphere of London annually. This represents a direct waste of approximately $25,000,000, according to official reports.

Raising and holding at arm's length a full-grown person sitting in a chair proves to Brigadier General Charles Granville Bruce is a man of remarkable strength. Bruce is a leader of this year's ascent of Mount Everest.

Dearborn County Fair, Lawrenceburg, Ind., August 23rd to 26th. Bigger and Better than ever. Good Racing, Exhibits of all kinds, Big Auto Show, and Lots of Cleveland Amusements. Make arrangements now to spend several days at the fair.

A nest of six petrified eggs was discovered near Montezuma, Washington, recently, when a workman blasted away part of a hillside. One egg, when broken, disclosed the color and formation of the yolk. The eggs are about the size of duck eggs.

Luxuriant vegetation including ferns and palmlike plants once grew in Alaska which indicates that the climate there was very unlike that which prevails now. Coal beds disclose fossil remains of many tropical plants which grew only in a warm climate.

In the county court Monday the following wills were probated:

Walter H. Marshall.

W. J. Sleet.

Delia Utz.

A paper purporting to be the will of Lucy A. Carpenter, was offered for probate, and as there was objection, the question was continued.

It is said that we can, by cultivating patience and schooling ourselves in philosophy, get used to anything. And so we, a child-loving people, have gradually become used to a childless White House. It may even be possible that in time we might reconcile ourselves to a dog-less White House and a golf-less President.

"The dangerous age" for a boy is that period when the school is thru with him, having told him everything but how to get a start in life, and practical life looks at him askance. The truth is, we have left no place for the boy. We have refused to give him a hand-hold on life at a time when his development urges him to get that hand-hold. We have forced him to pursue a course which if it does not unfit him for his part, at least does not fit him for it. The result is that, to many, study becomes abhorrent in youth, and work becomes abhorrent in maturity. In sum, the child is at both periods in course obstructions all the way thru. Freedom is an essential element in life; freedom with discipline is consistent; freedom with repression is a suit—Ford.

CAFETERIAS WILL OPEN FOR THOUSANDS OF HOGS.

Lexington, Ky.—During the coming month thousands of Kentucky hogs that are to be fattened for fall markets will be turned into fields of corn and soybeans grown together to "serve themselves" on the growing crops. Hogging off, as this process is commonly known among farmers, has become so popular as an economical method of producing pork in the state that three times as much corn and soybeans will be hogged down this year as was the case last year, according to Ralph Kenney, crops extension specialist of the College of Agriculture. The majority of farmers who obtained the top price for the fat hogs last year started the hogging off process on about August 15th, he said.

Several distinct advantages are pointed out for this method of pork production. It is more economical in that it involves less labor in feeding and harvesting and in addition it results in the greatest returns from manure and crop residues. The hogs also are kept in a more healthy environment while ranging through the field and therefore can be expected to make more rapid gains. Statistics compiled during the last 25 years show that hogs fattened in this way also usually reach the market stage ahead of the drop in hog prices which generally comes in October.

Many farmers get their hogs on an early market by hogging off corn alone. High prices for farm labor have resulted in this method becoming a common practice in view of the fact that the man with feeder hogs cannot afford to shuck corn. Soybeans and corn grown in the same row are considered a better hogging-off feed than corn alone since the protein content of the beans balances the fat-producing elements of the corn. This combination is said to produce from 150 to 200 pounds of pork more an acre than is produced by corn alone with a cost of only 25 cents more an acre for bean seed while the yield of corn is reduced only about three bushels an acre. A few farmers provide a balanced ration for their fattening hogs by turning them on corn and feeding tankage in a self feeder. Soybeans and corn in the same row are ready for hogging off when the beans enter the "dough" stage and the corn is hardening or in the "glaze" stage.

FIRST FALL PIGS TO BE HERE SOON

Lexington, Ky.—Early arrivals of Kentucky's annual fall pig crop of about 800,000 animals will be here within the next few weeks, animal husbandry specialists at the College of Agriculture say. The fall farrowing season will continue until about the first of December with the bulk of the young porkers arriving during September and October.

Overfeeding the brood sow is one of the important points that farmers have to guard against at this time of the year, E. J. Wilford, one of the specialists pointed out. "Thousands of newly born pigs are thrown off feed because their mothers received an excess of feed which in turn produced a flow of milk that was too abundant for the young animals. To overcome this condition, feeders on the college farm practice a system of limited feeding for some time after farrowing. All feed is withheld from the sow and the day she farrows and nothing but water is allowed her. For the next two or three days she is given a light allowance of shipstuf or middlings in the form of a thin slop. On the fifth day after farrowing, corn meal is introduced into the ration which then consists of about one pound of corn meal, four pounds of shipstuf and one-fifth of a pound of tankage. The feeds are gradually increased until at the end of ten days, the ration being fed is made up of three pounds of shipstuf, three pounds of corn meal and a half pound of tankage.

At the end of 30 days, the feed is composed of seven pounds of corn meal, five pounds of shipstuf or middlings and one pound of tankage. This is considered full feed while the amount which is fed to the sow is determined by her size, the number of pigs she is suckling and her ability to produce milk. Generally, when a sow is on full feed she should be receiving an average of about four per cent of her live weight in grain each day. This is fed in the form of a thin slop. If skim milk is available, it is well to add a limited amount of this to the ration. Some sows have demonstrated that they are capable of producing little milk and begin to fatten as soon as the feed is increased. In cases of this kind it is necessary to reduce the amount of feed which is given to the sow each day."

The most patient man is a resident of Buenos Aires. With only a file, he has worked 11 years in making a miniature locomotive of scrap iron. The locomotive can be operated under its own power by the use of compressed air. The iron was not heated in the making but was worked cold. A small coal tender and passenger coach were made at the same time and the whole thing is a little more than six feet in length and weighs 170 pounds. More than 1,200 screws and 2,000 rivets were used in the work. The train is complete to the last tiny detail, and is built on the model of the equipment used on the British railroads of that country.

ROADS STAND BY LOYAL EMPLOYEES

Tell President Harding Old and New Men Must Be Protected in Strike Settlement.

NOT A MATTER OF CHOICE

Faithful Employees Have Both Legal and Moral Rights to Seniority and Other Benefits.

New York.—The keynote of the reply made by railway executives representing more than 180 Class I Railroads of the United States to the proposal of President Harding, that "all strikers be returned to their work and their former positions with seniority and other rights unimpaired," lies in the last paragraph from their reply to the President as follows:

"It is submitted that the striking former employees cannot be given preference to employees at present in the service without doing violence to every principle of right and justice involved in this matter, and without the gravest breach of faith on the part of the railroads to the men at present in their service."

"Under these circumstances, it becomes apparent that the railroads cannot consider any settlement of the present strike which does not provide protection in their present employment both to the loyal employees who remained in the service and to the new employees entering it."

The executives had accepted the first two conditions proposed by the President, namely, that both employees and employees accept the decisions of the Labor Board, and that all law suits growing out of the strike be withdrawn; and in relation to the third condition spoke not only as quoted above, but also as follows:

"The railroad executives and managers agree entirely with the President's statement in his letter that 'It is wholly unthinkable that the Railroad Labor Board can be made a useful agency of the Government in maintaining industrial peace in the railway service unless employers and workers are both prompt and unquestioning in their acceptance of its decisions.'"

"Many men in the service refused to join the strike and in so doing were assured of the seniority rights accruing to them and of the permanency of their positions. On some important lines 50 per cent or more refused to join the strike. To these old loyal employees have been added thousands of new men who were employed and could be secured only upon a definite promise that their services would be retained regardless of the settlement of the strike, with all the rights appertaining to such employment, including that of seniority."

"We especially point out that a refusal to the old men who remained in the service and to the new men who accepted service of the rights of seniority incident to their employment would have just the opposite effect to that desired by the President, and would most seriously discredit the Labor Board."

"The board itself prescribed the rules of seniority under which the men referred to have secured their seniority rights, and the railroad companies have neither the legal nor moral right to deprive these men of those rights. By public utterances since the strike, the board has recognized and emphasized these rights, and to deny them now would, instead of upholding the authority of the Labor Board, overthrow its rules and discredit its authority."

"The Chairman of the Labor Board at the time the strike was called made the following public statement: 'Upon one question the striking employees should not be deceived. Their leader has said that the strikers are no longer employees of the railroads, and they have thus automatically abandoned all the rights they possess under their agreements and under the decisions of the board, including their seniority. This is not the board's action. It is their own. Many carriers are giving their former employees the opportunity to re-enter the service within a limited time. It must be understood now that men who remained in the service and those who are now entering it will have rights of seniority that the board could not ignore.'"

Trade Where They All Trade

Down TELEPHONE—
24½ Lb. Bag 95c. 98 Lb. Bag $3.45

Goes ARCADE—
It takes Less Shortening.
24½ Lb. Bag $1.05. 98 Lb. Bag $3.75

Flour KANSAS KREAM—
The Flour That Never Failed.
24½ Lb. Bag $1.10. 98 Lb. Bag $3.90

GOLDEN BLEND COFFEE—the best for 25 years, 33c

GEE WHIZ COFFEE—a 30c-coffee 25c

OUR BLEND TEA—a sparkling drink, lb 60c

One dollar's worth of any Tea or Coffee sent postpaid.

GEO. C. GOODE

Groceries, Flour, Seeds, Medicines

19-21 Pike St. 18-20 West Seventh St.

WHOLESALE—"Covington's Largest Seed and Grocery House"—RETAIL

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Phones South 335 and 336.

RISING ABOVE DIFFICULTIES.

The story could be told of many young men whose business career at the start seemed hopeless, as the result of lack of good opportunities in life. They had had little education, they came from families that could give them little help.

Yet many such fellows have gone ahead. Their success has usually been due to a realization that one has to go out and look for customers and trade, that he can't simply sit down and wait for it to come. As personal solicitation can't accomplish much to build a business, such fellows have frequently been persistent advertisers. Out of the first few dollars, a certain proportion would be set aside for soliciting public patronage through the newspapers.

If a fellow once gets that idea into his head, and if he will give the public good service to back up his publicity, you can't keep him down. Defects in education and advantages will be offset by his consistent effort to attract attention.

ANNOUNCE

A BUSINESS COUPE

Conservative changes in the body design of all other types.

Roadster.....$ 920
Coupe.....1,063
Touring Car. 955
Sedan.....1,550

RECHARGE

ANY BATTERY

75c

RENTED BATTERIES FOR ANY MAKE CAR

Dempsey Motor Car Co., Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

Dempsey Motor Car Company

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY

Phone Erlanger, 70-L

Ready for Business.

The Farm Bureau Warehouse at Florence is now in full operation and will keep on hand all kinds of Feed, Flour, Wire Fencing, Coal, Etc.

Help Your Organization

With Your Patronage.

Dearborn County Fair

Lawrenceburg, Ind., August 23 to 26.

We wish to call especial attention to the fact that the Dearborn County Fair, Aug. 23-26, will be given by the McAllister Amusement Company, Inc., whose members are of the American Legion Post, Lawrenceburg, Ind., and has no connection whatever with the so-called Dearborn County Fair held at the Lawrenceburg fair grounds last year.

Taking it all in all, the class of fair that will be put on this year will be of the old fashioned variety, with plenty of clean amusement, and lots of exhibits, premiums for which will be paid.

It is noted that the young people who go out to look at the moon, frequently remain in the shade where they can't see it.

FLORENCE THEATRE
FLORENCE, KY.Every Tues. and Sat.

THE BEST

MOVING PICTURES

Admission, 22c &amp; 10c

NONPARIEL PARK

Mrs. Roy Lutes and children enjoyed the week-end with relatives in Covington.

Mrs. Chas. Chipman and brother Lee Price, spent Tuesday in Cincinnati, shopping.

John Powell Crouch and Miss Helen Marshall were married in Cincinnati, last Saturday.

The many friends of Miss Milard Marshall regret to hear of her illness at her home on Main-st.

Joe Baxter is suffering from a broken hip, caused by a mule kicking him Sunday morning.

Mrs. Joe Baxter, of the Dixie Highway, left Saturday for Blue Ash, Ohio, to visit her children.

Mr. and Mrs. Peck and children of Newport, called on Chas. Chipman and family, Sunday afternoon.

Robert Tanner (nee George Yealey) are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine baby boy—George Robert.

Miss Minnie Baxter and niece, Miss Viola May Senour, spent Wednesday afternoon in Covington, shopping.

Mrs. Clifford Boyce and children, of Covington, spent several days with Cy Boyce and family, last week.

John Powell Crouch and wife, of Cincinnati, spent the week-end with C. W. Myers and family, of Main-st.

Cecil Tanner and wife will move to Wilmore, Ky., next week to attend Bible School at that place this winter.

Mrs. Ben Tanner, of Florence, spent Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Sallie McAlphin, of the Dixie Highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tanner (nee Eliza Busby) are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby girl at their home in Covington.

Max J. Garber and family, of Union, Va., will leave this week for Waynesboro, Va., to spend their vacation with relatives.

Mrs. Arch Lucas and daughter, Miss Archmarie, spent the week-end with Emmett Baxter and family, of Reading, Ohio.

Dr. Souther and wife, of Cincinnati, called on her parents, Albert Souther and wife, of Main street, (When—ED.)

Mrs. Susie Groger and children, of Covington, spent the week-end with her parents, and attended the dance Saturday night.

Mrs. John King and daughter, spent Thursday with relatives in Newport, and attended the theater, Thursday evening.

Mrs. Ezra Wilhoit and Miss Albert Stephens, called on Mrs. Garnett Stephens and Mrs. Joe Baxter, last Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Arnold have to their guests their two nieces, of Wisconsin. They will spend the summer here with relatives.

Arthur Kraus attended the Western Convention of the Scott Paper Co., of Cincinnati, which was held in Chicago last Thursday and Friday.

Mrs. Herman Busse and children returned to their home in Rosedale after a few months visit with Joe Keop and wife, of Goodridge Drive.

Lee Price, who has been spending several weeks with Chas. Chipman and family, will leave this week for California to join his wife and spend the winter there.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Senour and Mrs. Joe Baxter, of Blue Ash, Ohio, were called to the bedside of Joe Baxter Monday, who was seriously kicked by a mule Sunday.

Rome Respass, of the Dixie Highway, left Tuesday for Windsor, Canada, where he will remain the rest of the summer at his home there. His wife and son have been spending the summer there.

BEECH GROVE.

Miss Allie Ryle is visiting her aunt Mrs. N. H. Clements and family, near Hathaway.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Marshall and son Bernard, were guests of Elmore Ryle and wife, Sunday.

Lester Ryle and son, of Greensburg, Ind., were guests of W. M. Ryle and family, last Tuesday.

Mrs. Wm. Prosser Little and son and daughter, were guests of her parents Thursday, last week.

Sam Wilson and daughter, Ida Mae, of Rabbit Hash, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Williamson.

Grant Williamson and family, of Danlington, were guests of David Lawson and wife, Sunday.

Lawrence Pope and wife had as guests Sunday Courtney Pope and family, of Erlanger, Hogan Ryle and family, Clifford Pope wife and baby daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Williams and little son James Courtney, of Florence, and Miss Elaine Dickerson, of Union, spent Saturday and Sunday with Mantley Ryle and family.

Rev. Geo. N. Smith, of Colburn, Va., was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. Ryle, last week. Mr. and Mrs. Ryle also entertained Rev. and Mrs. Nicely, of Bellevue, Tuesday.

FLORENCE.

Guy Aylor and little son were the guests of L. F. Aylor and family, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Mitchell returned home Monday after a week's visit at Cynthiana.

Misses Minnie and Carrie Beemon entertained the young folks with a party Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Bradford were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Afterkirk at Union, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Ralcliffe, of Norwood, were the guests of Miss Shirley Ryle Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Lloyd Aylor and children and Mrs. Fannie Clutterbuck spent last Thursday with Mrs. Ed. Benham.

Dr. T. B. Castleman and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Lucas left last Sunday for a trip to Niagara Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Houston entertained Sunday Mr. John Meiman and sons, and John Dye and daughter Gertrude.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lail and daughter and Mr. Brown and family, spent Sunday with Clifford Tanner and family.

Mrs. Annie Beemon entertained Sunday Sam Blackburn and family, Harry Dinn and family and Miss Mollie Lummel, of Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Corbin, Shirley Corbin and family, Chester Corbin and family, of Hamilton, Ohio, all spent Thursday with relatives here.

The friends of John Powell Crouch were surprised to hear of his marriage to Miss Helen Marshall Saturday July 29th. They have a host of friends who wish them a long happy and prosperous life together.

Mrs. Mike Cahill entertained the following at dinner Sunday: Lou Kroger and family, of Hamilton, O., Elmer Cahill and family, J. G. Renaker and wife, R. T. Renaker, Paul Renaker, Miss Nora Cahill and Geo. Drinkerberg.

The picnic which was given at St. Paul's church Saturday evening, August 5th, was the most successful in the history of the parish, both socially and financially, and Mr. L. T. Utz, one of our prominent young men, of Florence, received the Ford machine which was given away.

FLICKERTOWN.

Mrs. Charles Akin is on the sick list.

Russell Finn and family visited at Petersburg Sunday.

Alice White and wife, Wm. Hughes and wife, Saturday night.

Owen Utz and wife called on Jas. Minor one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hughes were pleasant callers here Saturday.

Mr. Jasper Utz is spending his vacation with James Minor.

Miss Mildred Shinkle visited Mrs. Alberta Shinkle, last week.

Blufe Wingate and family were guests of Mrs. James Burns, Sunday.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet with Mrs. F. M. Voshell, Thursday.

Mrs. Geo. Shinkle and son Golen, visited Grason Shinkle and family, Sunday night.

Mrs. James Burns returned home Friday after a week's visit with relatives of Indiana.

Wm. Hughes and family and Alice White dined with Ed. Betts and sister Pearl, Sunday.

Misses Eva and Hazel Akin visited in Bullittsville neighborhood, Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Love of Sparta, Ind., visited her daughter Mrs. F. M. Voshell and family, last week.

Quite a crowd from Cincinnati and Covington were here Sunday fishing—did not catch many.

Misses Mildred and Alberta Shinkle, Leroy and Leslie Voshell, called on Alice White, Friday afternoon.

Roy Mullens and family, of Newport, and Wm. White, of Newport, visited J. W. White and wife, Sunday.

Geo. Shinkle and family were here Wednesday and visited this scribe and family. Geo. landed several nice bass.

KAMP KIRTLEY

Mrs. Carl Hendricks and children called on Mrs. N. B. Kirtley Sunday evening.

N. B. Kirtley and wife attended meeting Saturday night at the Rabbit Hash town hall.

J. L. Jones and wife had for their guests Sunday Mr. Robert Moore and bride of Big Bone.

Esq. B. C. Kirtley's 30-acre crop of wheat threshed out 629 1/2 bushels. A small fraction under 21 bushels to the acre.

J. L. Jameson's daughter who has a position in Rising Sun, Indiana, is spending her vacation with her father and mother at this place.

The threshing machine struck this neighborhood last week and threshed out the crops around here. All seemed to be satisfied with the yield.

Mrs. Hendricks, who spent the past three weeks here with her son Earl Hendricks, returned to her home in Cincinnati, taking her granddaughter Miss Leona for a two-weeks visit.

The citizens of this community regret very much that Charles Craig has discontinued his bus line via Normansville. Hope he will resume it when the farmers are not so busy, as it is a great convenience along the route.

NOTICE.

All members of the Modern Woodmen of America of Grange Hall, Camp No. 14129 are requested to be present August 10th on business of importance.

H. H. CLORE, Committee.

ERLANGER FAIR

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY

Aug. 16-17-18-19*DAY AND NIGHT

Running and Harness Races,
Baby Show, Band Concert.
Free Show, Big Acts, Dancing.

Fine Arts Exhibits, Hogs, Sheep, Cattle, Poultry*SPECIAL NOTICE.

Admission to Fair Grounds after 6 p. m.,
10 cents. No War Tax.

It Will Soon Be Here Get Ready For The Celebrated
DEARBORN COUNTY FAIR
Lawrenceburg, Ind. Aug. 23-26

NEW EXHIBITION IDEAS*NEW DISPLAY FEATURES*NEW ARRANGEMENTS METHODS

There is no place like Our Fair to meet and greet old friends and make new ones.

Liberal Premiums Offered*Best Fair We Ever Held.
A Mirror of Prosperity.4-Races Daily-4

Fastest Track In Southeastern Indiana.

Frequent Big Free Acts For Everybody*Five Mammoth Rides*Twelve Refined Shows*An Array Of Farm Products*Big Exhibit of Horses, Cattle, Sheep, Hogs and Poultry
EXCELLENT DISPLAY OF FARM MACHINERYBiggest Auto Show of the County.*Free Radio Concert Every Hour.

Write for Premium List

E. E. ELDER, Sec'y. Lawrenceburg, Ind.

Have all your pastries good all the time*A rich, wholesome flour -*especially biscuits*Telephone Flour*A Leader for Ask Your*Forty-Five Years Grocer*8,000 HIKING CLUBS IN GREATER NEW YORK

They Swing Along Highways and Through Woods in Groups of Varying Size.

New York.—One must walk nowadays to be in the swim. Statistics gleaned from the out-door departments of the newspapers, from the Boy Scout and Campfire Girls' organizations, from the Y. M. C. A. branches and kindred bodies, from scores of amateur athletic clubs and from the leading dealers in sporting goods, indicate that today there are no less than 8,000 hiking clubs in Greater New York, with a total membership of more than a quarter of a million men and women, who are keeping themselves in the pink of condition and experiencing the real joy of living by getting regularly out into the open country with no other means of locomotion than their God-given legs.

"Best Walkers Make Best Citizens," Says Mayor of New York.

The city of New York has taken official notice of the movement. On three occasions recently Mayor Hylan has congratulated the boys and girls of the public schools upon their enthusiasm in taking up the new sport of hiking. In his dedication of the great new public playground in the Bronx the other day Mayor Hylan extolled the athletic tendencies of the boys and girls and impressed upon them that there was no better or more profitable way in which they could pass their vacations and utilize their holidays than by the excursions into field and forest of their walking clubs. He gave the same message to the Amateur Athletic Union of Brooklyn a few days later, and when a club of East Side boys and girls visited him at city hall preparatory to a hike to the tomb of Roosevelt at Oyster Bay he assured them that the best walkers among them would make the best citizens.

Walk and Be Well

No less enthusiastic a champion of the walking game is Dr. Royal S. Copeland, city health commissioner. "The benefit to health and the safeguard to morals to be found in long walks," said Dr. Copeland in an interview, "are too apparent to speak of. If one takes long walks alone it is well, for he walks the road of health, but if he takes long walks in company it is better for he adds the tonic of companionship to his exercise. Walking is the one form of exercise in which there is the minimum risk of overdoing it. In short, I consider walking the most beneficial of all exercises and it is never out of season."

"Never in my life-time," said Edward R. Wilbur, manager of a nationally known sporting goods store, "have I known such a demand as now for outdoor garments and shoes and stockings and appliances for the tourist's luncheon box. The rapid spread and tremendous popularity of the walking-club idea has no parallel in our experience."

"The hiker can make his requisite just what he feels like spending. Really, there are only two or three articles indispensable to hiking—thick walking shoes that allow lots of room, thick woolen socks and clothing that will give freedom of limb. He should have a canvas or leather musette bag, such as the soldiers used in France."

"To get the real benefit and joy out of hiking luncheon should be carried and prepared and eaten in the open. Bread and cheese, a few slices of bacon, some coffee, a can of condensed milk, and a cake of chocolate furnish high-powered fuel for the hiker and are readily and happily assimilated even by those who in their pre-hiking days were afflicted with digestive apparatus so feeble as to balk at crackers and milk. Fortunately for the hiker, he can replenish his stores at any cross-roads store and provide himself with the most nutritious and appetizing food in a form that can be conveniently carried."

"No single development in the problem of food transportation for the hunter, fisherman, hiker and all lovers of the out-of-doors can compare with the gift bestowed by the man who first found the way to make condensed milk, thereby putting a dairy in every man's knapsack. Before long there will be a national association of hikers, and Gail Borden will be its patron saint. Such an association could do much to encourage the spread of the most beneficial and universal of all outdoor pastimes, map out interesting routes, secure the establishment of shelters, rest-stations, and camp sites at suitable locations, and insure the rights of pedestrians on country roads."

HEBRON.

James Beall has a new Ford touring car.

Work on Henry Getker's new bungalow is progressing nicely. Harry Reitman left last week to take a treatment at the Ft. Thomas hospital.

Sunday School will be held in the school house this month while the church is being redecorated inside. The ladies of the Lutheran church meet every Wednesday afternoon to quilt, at the home of Mrs. John T. Aylor.

The Young People's Missionary Society will meet at the home of Mrs. Anna Dolwick Wednesday afternoon, August 16th.

Roy Tanner wife and daughter Mrs. Beulah, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. & Mrs. Spencer Tanner of Ft. Pleasant.

Geo. Gordon wife and daughter, and Walter Miller wife and two daughters, were the guests of James Bullock and family, last Sunday.

Frank Aylor and wife entertained Revs. Swindley and Garber one day last week. They had been having revival services at Sand Run church for the last two weeks.

J. H. Mannin and wife entertained at their beautiful home last Sunday Ed Baker wife and daughter, W. A. Garnett and wife and Mrs. Amara Lodge and daughter.

Mrs. Myron Garrett and son, J. H. Mannin and wife, Mrs. Dora Garrett, Mrs. Willie Garrett, Mrs. Brenda Garrett and Mrs. John Poston, surprised Mrs. Mollie Baker, of Limburg, last Friday by going with well filled baskets to help celebrate her birthday.

A reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Tanner, Sunday August 6th. A host of relatives were present and also many friends. A bountiful dinner was served at the noon hour. A list of those who were present follows:

Mrs. Sarah Brown.
Mrs. Amanda Tanner.
Mr. and Mrs. Lum Rouse.
Mr. and Mrs. Dick Tanner.
Mr. and Mrs. John Conrad.
Mr. and Mrs. Will Goodridge.
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown.
Mr. and Mrs. James Brown.
Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Tanner.
Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Popham.
Mr. and Mrs. Will Waters.
Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Anderson.
Mr. and Mrs. Val Dolwick.
Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Laile.
Mr. and Mrs. Verner Tuppman.
Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Sorrell.
Claude Tanner.
Tete Tanner.
Effie Brown.
Irene Brown.
Elva Tanner.
Alma Tanner.
Flora Popham.
Henrietta Popham.
Rachel, Leonard and Harold Utz.
Lillian Buckler.
Charles Rouse.
Orciv Tanner.
Georgia Weaver.
Joe Glass.
William, Wilfred and Alice Tuppman.
Franklin Brown.
Breckenridge and Delilah Dolwick.
Lillian Popham.
Winfield Waters.
Dorothy Laile.

MT. ZION.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Holworth entertained city friends Sunday.

Mrs. Robert Robinson spent Tuesday with Mrs. Elmer Glacken.

A Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, of New Jersey, are visiting Jerry Dixon and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Humble entertained friends from Bellevue, Ky., Sunday.

Gilbert Smith who has been confined to his room for several weeks, is improving slowly.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bassett and family spent Sunday with Frank McCoy and wife of Devon.

James Snyder, who has been visiting his sister Mrs. Elmer Glacken, has returned to his home in Erlanger.

Mrs. Armita Carpenter spent the week-end with W. E. Glacken and family and attended church at Mt. Zion.

Bro. J. M. Baker, Bro. M. T. McClure, W. E. Glacken wife and daughter and Mrs. Sahar Robinson, spent last Tuesday with Mrs. Cora Stephens, of Nonpareil Park.

Geo. Bassett's brother-in-law Geo. Florence, of Williamstown, has accepted a position as foreman of Wayman's Garage at Walton.

Mr. Florence and family will move there soon.

W. E. Glacken and family have been entertaining Bro. J. M. Baker of Hughes Chapel and Bro. M. T. McClure, of Butler, the past week, who have been holding a revival at Mt. Zion church.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Surface entertained with a dinner Sunday. Those present were Eli Surface wife and son, Walter Robinson and family, of Richmond, Leslie Barlow and family, of Union.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken entertained with a supper Friday evening. Those present were Bro. J. M. Baker, of Hughes Chapel, Bro. M. T. McClure, of Butler, and Mrs. M. T. McClure, of Butler, and son Eli, of Ludlow, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter Sarah and friend.

Set your mark high in the world and then climb up to it. It won't come down.

LOWER GUNPOWDER

Mrs. R. L. Huey is very ill at her home near here.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sheets and two sons Wallace and William, are visiting Len Hubbard and wife.

Sam Hubbard and family were the Sunday guests of Wm. Shinkle and family.

F. H. Sebree wife and three children Iva Rue, LaVerne and Alberta, visited Huey Ryle and wife, Wednesday.

Bro. Miller wife and son Robert, and Everett Ryle and daughter, Miss Sherry, were guests of F. H. Sebree, Friday.

Dr. Carlisle of Rabbit Hash, had quite an accident August 1. He had just returned from Thos. Abdon's and started to crank his machine, when it ran forward and over the bank by the saw mill. The machine was damaged considerably.

A crowd from the city came to F. A. Severe's last Saturday afternoon. A bountiful dinner was spread under the maples on Mr. Sebree's lawn Sunday, which was given fair justice. Those present were Charlie Barrett wife and children, Emerson, Grace and Thelma, Geo. Colo wife and son Roy, and Mrs. Colo and daughter Mayme, and nephew Geo. Hairy Smith.

On the 6th of August a number of friends and relatives at the home of William Black and children for a good time. Every one brought baskets filled with everything good to eat. Those present were Uncle Henry Sheets and son Lee, of Big Bone, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hodges and children Robert and Marie, Mr. and Mrs. William Sheets and two sons Wallace and William, of Covington, Mrs. May Hubbard, of Landing, Mr. and Mrs. Len Hubbard and two sons Otto and Delbert, of Landing, Mr. and Mrs. Roy pitcher and daughter, Fay, of Big Bone, Mrs. Nora Moore and daughter Virginia, of Patriot, Ind., Miss Lillian Connelly of Detroit, Michigan, Willard and Jos. Rich, of Big Bone, Mrs. Mollie Ross of Landing and Miss Thelma Black, daughter of Ben Black.

GUNPOWDER

Mrs. H. F. Utz entertained her Sunday school class at dinner last Sunday.

Shelly Aylor, who has been hauling milk and other freight, sold his route to Markberry Bros., a few days since, and they will manipulate the business in the future.

P. J. Allen and wife and this scribe and wife spent the day very pleasantly and ate a good dinner at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hankins, of Hebron, last Sunday.

Kenneth Tanner, accompanied by Misses Mabel and Helen Tanner and Pearl Markberry, left last Saturday for a joy ride to Frankfort. They will stop at Lexington and other points of interest.

The following responded to the invitation and assisted in cleaning off the old Tanner burying ground last Saturday: J. H. Tanner, J. B. Crigler, Frank Givins, Ernest Grocer, S. S. Smith, N. C. Tanner, L. E. Tanner, E. K. Tanner, W. P. Utz and this scribe. The following ladies were present who had prepared a bountiful repast which was served and was very greatly enjoyed by all present at the noon hour: Mrs. Maggie Clarkson, Mrs. Media Tanner, Mrs. Melinda Ross, Mrs. Alice Tanner, Mrs. Lizzie Bartell and Mrs. Cora Blankenbaker. In the afternoon they dashed the old tombstones, which added very greatly to their appearance. As the work was not completed, all who are interested are requested to meet next Saturday afternoon and finish the job.

UNION.

Miss Eva Smith recently entertained relatives from the city.

Miss Sara Belle Wilson, of Walton, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Sallie Hedges.

Miss Mary Hedges is spending her vacation with friends and relatives here.

Mrs. Leslie Sullivan has as her guest her niece, Miss Madeleine Huey of near Burlington.

Mrs. Gedge and Mrs. Wells, of Ft. Thomas, are visiting Mrs. Sue Smith and Miss Hattie.

Mr. and Mrs. Garber and daughter are enjoying a month's vacation with relatives in Virginia.

There was big doings here Saturday night among the Masons. A number of Burlington Masons visited the local lodge.

After a pleasant visit with relatives here Mrs. Ella Norman Houston has returned to her home near Petersburg.

Mrs. W. M. Rachal, Sr., and daughter Miss Norma, entertained one evening the past week with a Six o'clock dinner.

We can do any kind of battery work—no job too large or none too small, and all of it positively guaranteed or it does not cost a cent.

DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO.
Erlanger, Ky.

The American Legion picnic at Harvest Home grounds last Saturday night was attended by a nice crowd, and a most enjoyable time was had by all.

A convention of the Christian churches will be held with the Christian church at Petersburg, August 21 and 22nd. Watch next week's paper for program.

Base Ball!

Burlington

VS

Big Bone

At Burlington

Saturday, Aug. 12

Game Called at 2:30.

FATTERIES

Burlington—Brady and Conner.

Big Bone—Judge and Black.

BASE BALL.

The "Old Stiffs and Union hooked up last Saturday on the Burlington grounds, and judging from the score which was 19 to 13 in favor of the Old Stiffs, it was a slugging match. A number of home runs were made by each team.

Burlington second nine went to Hebron last Saturday and defeated the team at that place 7 to 6. This is the first time that the Burlington Juniors ever defeated Hebron.

Florence journeyed to Beech Grove Sunday and defeated the strong team of that place by the close and exciting score of 26 to 15. The features of the game were the all round work of Chipman at first and Conrad at third, while the fast work of Brown in left field was thrilling. Babcock pitched a remarkable game and pulled out 4 many tight places, while Ben Luck's base running made the crowd gasp.

The Hebron boys journeyed to Walton Saturday and being apparently unable to get the Walton grounds properly gauged, allowed the game to slip away from them in first inning over enough runs in a rather closely contested game, after putting forth enough runs in the first inning to win it, had they played up to the standard they are capable of playing. The Walton manager picked Farrell to pitch and after J. Garnett had hit a three bagger, Aylor a single and Graves a three base hit Benson was sent to his relief, and after allowing Clemmons a three base hit and walking Meyers he tightened up and retired the batters in order up to the fifth inning. In the fifth A. Walton was passed to first, reached second on H. Walton's sacrifice and scored on J. Garnett's two base hit. The Walton boys scored a run in the second inning on an overthrow at first by the short stop Clay Roberts grounder, a pass to Law in an attempt to get Roberts at third on Glenn's grounder, and an overthrow at first in an attempt to double Benson on his grounder after retiring Roberts at home. They scored two in the third on Mathews and Kuhn's singles, failure to get Mathews at home on fielders choice and Laws single. They scored two more in the fourth on Glenn's single, Benson's sacrifice, Mathews and Kuhn's singles.

Innings 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Walton 3 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 4
Walton 0 1 2 2 0 0 0 0 5

Two base hits—J. Garnett, three base hits—J. Garnett, Graves, Clemmons and Kuhn. Hits off Farrell 3; off Benson 2; off H. Walton 8. Struck out by Farrell 0; by Benson 8; by Walton 4. Base on balls off Benson 2; off Walton 1; Hit batsman by Walton 1. The Hebron team will play the old Ludlow White Sox at Hebron next Saturday.

VERONA.

Louis Jenkins is quite poorly. Joseph Florence has been quite poorly but is some better at this writing.

The protracted meeting is now in progress at New Bethel, Bro. Jackson is doing the preaching. Good interest is being manifested. Meeting will continue this week.

Mrs. Alice Dameron of this place departed this life August 4th, 1922, with pneumonia. Funeral at New Bethel Saturday at 2 o'clock p. m., in the presence of a large congregation of sorrowing friends.

Bro. Jackson preached the funeral, after which the remains were laid to rest in New Bethel cemetery to await the great resurrection. J. L. Hamilton had charge of the funeral.

Stop in and let a real Battery Specialist examine your battery. This service is free.

DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO.
Erlanger, Ky.

CARD OF THANKS
We desire to thank our many friends and neighbors, also Dr. M. A. Yelton for the services rendered during the recent illness of our son.

Johnnie Howlett and Wife.

A large load of watermelons from the Bellevue bottoms enroute to Walton passed through Burlington Monday afternoon.

A series of meetings has been in progress at Gunpowder Baptist church since Sunday night.

GRANT R. D.

Robert Haden Wilson has a Ford. Born August 6th, to Dodo Pope and wife, twin boys.

Lucien Clore and family were the Sunday guests at Bluffe Cole's.

Dr. Carlyle and family are visiting relatives at Scottsburg, Ind.

Mrs. Frank Scott, entertained friends from Newport, last week.

Mrs. Irmel White visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. Jake Cook, last week.

Pres West and family returned last week from a visit at Columbus, Ohio.

Lee Stephens and wife, of Newport, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Stephens.

Charles and Louis Craig and their families visited their sister, Mrs. Karl Rouse, near Burlington, Sunday.

Over a hundred friends and relatives met at the home of Hubert Ryle in East Bend Sunday to help celebrate his birthday.

Messames Emma Stephens and Lottie Hager entertained the East Bend W. M. S. last Thursday. Next meeting August 31, will be with Mrs. Anna Ryle.

Harry Ampt, of Aurora, attended Sunday night service of the meeting at the K. of P. Hall here, conducted by Rev. Bingham, Holiness preacher, of Lawrenceburg, Ind.

Solon Ryle, Gid Kite and Lloyd Clore returned from Shelbyville, last Saturday where they had accompanied the Jersey Club on a tour which included Carrollton, Louisville, Lexington etc. At Carrollton Mr. Perry Gaines, a Jersey breeder, entertained the party Thursday night with a fish fry and banquet.

FRANCESVILLE.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Barnes had as guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Collins.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. Jameson Aylor is very ill at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Ambrose entertained Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Eggleston and family and Miss Mary Eggleston, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Munz, Sunday.

Misses Florence and Alice Eggleston spent Sunday with Misses Jessie Gladys and Myrtle Wilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Blackcar are entertaining their niece and nephew Chas. and Ellen Blackcar, of Ludlow.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kilgore had as guests last Tuesday Rev. B. F. Swindler, Rev. J. H. Garber, Rev. Curry and Mrs. Yancey Clore.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Aylor entertained Mr. and Mrs. Sam Aylor and sons Julius and Justin, of Constance, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Willis and son Maurice Earle, of near Idlewild.

Misses Amanda Koons and Sedic Riemann had as guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Joe Oatman and children, of near Rising Sun. Miss Riemann accompanied them home for a visit with relatives and friends.

A very profitable and interesting meeting closed at Sand Run Baptist church Sunday night. Bro. Garber delivered some very interesting sermons which were enjoyed by good congregations. A free-will offering was taken for Bro. Garber, which amounted to $71.35. Three members were added to the church, Howard Wilson, and Raymond Cave by baptism and Otto Munz by letter.

LIMBURG.

Mr. and Mrs. Leidy motored to Dayton, Ohio, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson spent Sunday with their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Glass and family spent Sunday at Hamilton, Ohio.

Mrs. Mary E. Baker was given a birthday surprise Friday by her many friends.

Mr. J. P. Brothers and Miss Florence Dean, of Cincinnati, were married at Dayton, Ohio, July 31. They will make their home at Limburg.

Miss Clara Anderson and Lester Sorrell were united in marriage August 5th by Rev. Gibson, of Covington. Mrs. Sorrell is well known in Boone county and Mr. Sorrell, who has seen over sea service during the world war, has been in Boone county quite a while. They will stay with Sorrell's parents a few weeks and will then make their home in Lexington, Ky., where Mr. Sorrell is connected with the Hup Automobile Co.

Hongkong, August 7—The toll of the typhoon, August 2, at Swatow, already has mounted to 28,000 dead. The circular stated that 28,000 bodies of the Swatow disaster had been recovered.

Coffins are lacking to provide decent burial for many and the bodies are being interred in gunny sacks.

The new figure on lives lost, which almost triple the previous estimates, were contained in a circular issued by the Hongkong branch of the Swatow Chamber of Commerce.

Some men work hard to make life what it should be, try to do all the good they can for those who need them most, and yet it is seldom that one hears a good word spoken or any credit given until he has passed on into that land where all is silent. I would sooner give a small wild flower to my living friend than to bury him under an avalanche of roses after he is dead.

When trouble meets you half way hop over it and keep going.

THE HOME RADIO

How to Make and Use It

By A. HYATT VERRILL

Copyright by Harper &amp; Brothers

X. COUNTERPOISE

Before leaving the subject of aerials it may be well to call attention to the device known as a counterpoise and which, for sending, is far superior to the advantages gained by a counterpoise in receiving do not pay for the trouble of installing the device. This is because the counterpoise, while adding to the sharpness of tuning with a receiving set and, therefore, aiding in cutting out interference, will also cut down the strength of the sounds received. Therefore, with a crystal set where amplification is not possible, the device is practically useless, whereas, with a vacuum tube set with two or more steps of amplification, the counterpoise will prove a very distinct advantage. Many people consider this device complicated and difficult affair, but in reality, it is as simple, if not simpler, than an aerial. A favorite form of counterpoise consists of several wires extending fanwise as shown in the figures, but the single wire will often give excellent results and the only way to determine the best number of wires to use is by experiment. Usually it is desirable to place the counterpoise below the aerial, but this is by no means essential as it may be run in the opposite direction from the aerial and still work exactly as well for the device has little or no connection with the aerial. In fact, its action is more not only on account of it being an obstruction, but because it may be injured by people or animals or may be buried under snow in winter, it is better to raise it about six feet, or just high enough so people may pass beneath it. Stout posts with guy wires are the best supports, whereas, if the device is placed on the roof, the supports may be chimneys, walls, etc. If placed on a roof beneath an aerial leave all the space possible between the two, either by keeping the counterpoise low or raising the aerial. Where this is not convenient, the counterpoise may be run in another direction instead of being placed below the aerial wires.

"The Devil Can Quote Scripture"

WE CAN'T

But we will be glad to quote you Lowest Prices ON THE VERY BEST

CLOTHING

We can beat the devil himself at that. We have greatly reduced the prices on our Summer Clothing, and if you fail to look them over, you are overlooking much.

If you are looking for a Suit, a Coat and Pants, or extra Pants that you can rely on, we have them.

Selmar Wachs

605 Madison Avenue,

Covington, Kentucky

A BARGAIN

Cincinnati Daily Enquirer

—AND—

The Boone County Recorder

YOU CAN GET

BOTH for $4.50 the YEAR

Send Your Subscriptions to the

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER

Burlington, Ky.

WE RECHARGE

ANY BATTERY

75c

RENTED BATTERIES FOR ANY MAKE CAR

Dempsey Motor Car Company

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY.

Phone 70-L.

LEGION NOTES

The intimation of the U. S. Government that a payment of the French war loans would be appropriated has caused a decided tightening of the purse strings of free spending Parisians, according to a report received at the national headquarters of the American Legion. The gaiety and free spending of the common people that has always marked Bastille Day, were not in evidence this year on July 14.

New York City.—A mountain camp on Big Tupper Lake has just been purchased by the New York Department of the American Legion. The camp will be used as a vacation resort by the service men. The Legion paid $85,000 cash for the property.

El Paso, Texas.—Approximately 10,000 acres of land in New Mexico may be taken over by veterans of the world war, according to an announcement by the land office of the United States Department of Interior. The land which was formerly withdrawn under the reclamation act for reservoir sites has been restored and will be subject to entry at the land office at Las Cruces, N. M. The American Legion advises prospective home seekers to write immediately to the office at Las Cruces for information.

Aberdeen, South Dakota.—A stranger member of the American Legion, out of work, and with no money, found a gold necklace while walking down the street in Aberdeen, S. D. Instead of "hocking" the jewelry for a meal or two, he turned it over to the local Legion headquarters, asking that they find the owner.

Baltimore, Md.—The Maryland court of appeals has reversed the decision of a lower court and has held the recently passed state bonus bill unconstitutional in form. American Legion and other veteran organizations have started work on a new measure which will be submitted to the next general assembly. The new bill will be designed to meet the objections of the high court to the last one. Before its presentation to the assembly 10,000 Maryland voters will sign the bill.

Syracuse, N. Y.—Persons who have suddenly acquired war records, stripes and a desire to help other disabled veterans, are solicited by descriptions to equally bogus magazines have so aroused the American Legion and municipal authorities at Syracuse, N. Y., that the two forces have combined against such fake soliciting. Anyone seeking a license to sell magazines is turned over to the Legion for investigation.

Aberdeen, S. D.—A tent colony, composed entirely of jobless ex-service men has sprung up in the South Dakota wheat regions, near Aberdeen. The colony which has been going some months is part of the American Legion's plan to provide farms with labor and at the same time do away with veteran unemployment.

Manchester, N. H.—The mill workers strike at Manchester, N. H., has reached such proportions that the American Legion has thrown open its club house to them and has established soup kitchens.

Washington, D. C.—Col. Charles R. Forbes, director of the U. S. Veterans Bureau, has chosen two more sites for several hospitals. With the selection of St. Cloud, Minn., as one of them it is believed that Minnesota and nearby sick and wounded veterans will be well taken care of. The lack of hospitals in Minnesota caused the American Legion to collect a fund of its own and start building a hospital at Rochester. The hospital will take care of between 250 and 350 mental cases among service men. The Legion's hospital, which will be operated in connection with the Mayo clinic will look after surgical and general cases.

Director Forbes also announced that he has decided against the Great Lakes Naval Training station as the site for a Michigan hospital for the mental cases. Instead $1,500,000 will be spent for a sanitarium at Camp Custer. The Michigan hospital will be of 500 beds capacity.

New York.—Canned vegetables, jams, potatoes, other food, and all sorts of camp equipment is requested by the New York American Legion which has recently opened its Adirondack camp for tubercular world war veterans. The service men paid $95,000 for the site and have expended many more thousands on equipment in an effort to make inroads into the rapidly increasing ranks of veterans who are suffering with the disease.

As far as can be learned no further announcement has been made regarding the establishment of a mental hospital in New York State. The New York Legion has just opened its own camp in the Adirondacks for the care of tubercular ex-service men. Several hundred of these diseased veterans are being housed, fed and decorated by the service men's organization. Urgent need, according to published statements, exists in the Empire State for the quick erection of a hospital for mental cases. New York, western Pennsylvania and certain sections of the west are hard hit by the number of

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

AK' DODGED A MAN FUH
DE LONGES' T KEEP OUT
DOIN' SOME WORK FUH
IM EN NOW ATTEH AH'S DONE DID DE WORK HE BIN DODGIN' ME!

Copyright, 1921 by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

mentally unbalanced veterans for which these sections have to provide accommodations.

The American Legion State-wide Campaign and Service Census resulted in the filing of many hundred claims for disability due to service in the World War. Almost every county in Kentucky has an American Legion Service officer or Red Cross secretary whose services are available to assist disabled Kentuckians in preparing their claims.

To date Kentucky Disabled Ex-service Men's Boards has on file approximately thirteen hundred (1300) cases of men who are suffering disability on account of their World War service and who have not been able to secure adequate compensation. This Board was created by the 1922 Legislature for the purpose of assisting them in securing their compensation. So far more than three hundred (300) cases have been settled thru the efforts of the Board and other cases are being rapidly disposed of. Any disabled men who have not received proper compensation should write the Secretary, Henry J. Stites, 208 Louisville Trust Building, Louisville, Ky., and furnish him with details of disability and cause of complaint, and include the claim number which is found on the right hand side of correspondence from the United States Veterans' Bureau.

Jackson Morris, chairman of the Board, states that in addition to new claims and old claims as yet unsettled, that there are many instances of men formerly drawing proper compensation who have had their compensation either decreased or entirely stopped without good cause. These men should also write to Mr. Stites promptly so that the Board can assist them in re-instating their compensation.

LIME TONIC IS PRESCRIBED

FOR KENTUCKY'S SICK SOILS area of the state's limestone soils, as a tonic to the soil, is being prescribed. The limestone is being distributed to the farmers in the blue-grass region, are acid to an injurious extent and need limestone before they can be expected to produce the greatest crop yields, soil authorities who have investigated the problem say. Applying lime at this time of the year to correct this condition has a number of distinct advantages that are not possible at other times, according to George Roberts, head of the agronomy department of the College of Agriculture.

"The preparation of wheat land at this time of the year offers one of the best opportunities for applying limestone since quick returns can be obtained from its use. If used with phosphate, the material will return added yields and increased profits on the wheat crop and give still greater returns on the clover crop which usually follows the wheat. The good condition of roads at this time of the year and the fact that more time usually is available on the average farm are added advantages in using lime now. Another important point is the fact that the demand usually is slack at this time of the year, making it easier to obtain the material.

"As an average for eight years on four of the soil experiment fields being maintained over the state by the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, limestone and acid phosphate have given an increase of 9.6 bushels an acre a year in the wheat crop. This was more than enough to pay for the application of limestone which will last for at least three more crops in the rotation. On the same fields, the increase in the clover hay crop from acid phosphate, has been approximately 1,500 pounds an acre. Limestone and phosphate have produced an increase of clover hay totalling more than a ton an acre a year on the same fields as an average for eight years. During the season passed, the corn yield on the three experiment fields has been increased 26 bushels an acre by the use of limestone and acid phosphate."

The thrift lessons being given in the public schools usually appeal to the children, as they can thereby accumulate funds for candy and ice cream.

DESIGN THAT IS MUCH IN FAVOR

Story-and-a-Half House Is Always Easy to Dispose Of.

SIZE AND SHAPE APPEAL

This Model Combines Exterior Attractiveness and Interior Comfort, and It Is Not Expensive to Build.

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF CHARGE on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 1237 Prairie avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only inclose two-cent stamp for reply.

When the average family begins to plan to build a new home, every member has some idea that he or she would like to see incorporated in the house. In some other home, perhaps, such a feature as appealed to the individual was found and gave rise to the thought that when or if he was to build he would have this feature in his home. It is this desire that makes so many homes entirely different from others.

There is danger, however, in carrying this idea too far. Odd features either in the exterior or interior of a house may not appeal to someone else, and, if the necessity arises, may prevent the sale of the home. Comfort and convenience may be secured for the average family by following the plans that have been found most suitable to the average family. And when this is done it is not difficult to dispose of the place if it is desirable to do so. One type of house that appeals to the greatest number of persons is the story-and-a-half building, such as is shown in the accompanying illustration.

tion. Here is a house of the size and shape that appeals. While it looks large from the outside, it is not, as it contains only six rooms, aside from the inclosed breakfast porch at the rear of the first floor. It contains three food rooms—living and dining rooms and kitchen—and three bedrooms and the bathroom on the second floor. This number of rooms will accommodate nicely the average family.

In exterior appearance it is difficult to find a more attractive house than the one shown. The narrow gables at the end, the steep pitch of the roof with the gabled dormer window set in it at the front and the extension of the roof lines to form the porch covering all combine to give this house a graceful, homelike appearance. This exterior appearance is greatly enhanced by the brick foundation and piers of the porch and the wide brick fireplace chimney in the end wall. The porch is inviting in summer, while the chimney gives rise to thoughts of a comfortable, open fire in the winter-time.

First Floor Plan.

stairs to the second floor. To the right, through double-glazed doors, is the living room, 12 by 15 feet in size. Three windows opening onto the porch and the high windows on either side of the fireplace admit plenty of light and ventilation. The wide fireplace at the end of the room, with bookcases on either side under the window, adds to the attractiveness of the room's finish.

Back of the living room is the dining room, also a light cheery room, 12 by 12 feet 6 inches in dimensions. And opening off the dining room and connected with it by double doors is a large, inclosed breakfast porch, 14 feet long and 7 feet 6 inches wide. This room also makes a secluded, cheerful sun parlor.

Second Floor Plan.

Adjoining the dining room at the left is the kitchen, 11 feet square, whose size and shape make it an efficient workshop for the housewife, a place where the cooking and other kitchen activities may be accomplished with a minimum of steps. The sink is placed under the window in the outside wall, with cases for utensils and

HEBRON THEATRE--Next Saturday

ANNETTA KILLERMAN IN

"What Women Love"

Al St. John in

"The Aero Nut"

Admission 22 Cents, Children 10 Cents

War Tax Included

WHEN THE SHADES ARE DRAWN

and the tender ministry of the living must give place to the service of the undertaker, it is a real comfort to surviving friends, to feel sure that the preparation for burial will be conducted with dignity and proper respect for the lately departed one.

Then, too, Modern Science has found a way through the art of Embalming, not only for removing the peril of decay but also of restoring the natural beauty of health, so that the latest picture in memory will be pleasant to recall.

This process is a part of our service which we will gladly explain to anyone interested.

PHILIP TALIAFERRO,
Undertaker and Embalmer
Erlanger, Ky.

The Best Advertisement

IS A PLEASED CUSTOMER

Spectacles and Eyeglasses that Fit the face and Fit the sight the kind we sell.

Phone South 1746

WITH MOTCH, Jeweler.

DR. N. F. PENN., 613 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

Efficient, Service and Economy

IS MY SLOGAN

C. SCOTT CHAMBERS

Embalmer and Funeral Director

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

WE WANT EVERY MAN

in Boone and Kenton Counties

That has a farm large or small, or House and Lot to sell to list it with us and we will advertise and find a buyer if there is any.

The Wisenberger Real Estate Co.

BEN Phone South 8008 JOHN
515 Coppin Bldg. COVINGTON, KY.

Printed Stationery

AT THIS OFFICE

ENVELOPES, LETTERHEADS, NOTEHEADS, STATEMENTS

for business people.
for professional people.
for farmers.

for every one who wants to be considered up to date and going strong

Willard Batteries

AT A NEW PRICE

Ford Size	$15.55
Chrysler	15.55
Overland	15.55
Chalmers	19.10
Buick	19.55
Maxwell 6-volts	24.55
Maxwell 12-volts	24.55
Dodge	24.55

Weddle Battery Co.,

Aurora, Indiana.

REPRESENTING

Willard Batteries.

July 18-27

AS THE EDITOR SEES IT

Notice to Shippers.

Having now two trucks—a one and a two ton, I am prepared to do your hauling, large or small. Quick and efficient service.

Your Business Solicited.

W. M. Rachal, Jr.
Union, Kentucky.

Island of Minorca.
Minorca is an island belonging to Spain, having been ceded to that country by Great Britain in 1802 at the Peace of Amiens. It had belonged to Great Britain during a large part of the Eighteenth century. The second largest island of the Balearic group, Minorca has an area of 200 square miles and a population of over 300,000.

Subscribe for the RECORDS

DO YOU TAKE THE RECORDER?

Try It One Year. You'll Like It.

Send Our Advertisement and Profit By Them.

THE CRAZY-QUILT TARIFF
We are going to have a new tariff law. Just when we shall have it is doubtful. Passage of the measure by both houses of Congress by no means presages its early operation.

The bill must be considered in conference, and conference promises to be a long-drawn-out affair. Purely for political reasons, the Democratic members of Congress are eager that the law become effective soon. They reason that it will be unpopular and will react in their favor at the November election.

Similarly, for political reasons only, the Republican members are eager to have passage assured early enough to permit the special interests favored by the tariff to express their approval in November. But the Republicans are also determined that this passage shall not be so soon, that the general consumer public will have an opportunity to pass judgment at the same election. The Republicans know that the early operation of a tariff law is almost certain to be irritating.

The matter of the date of final passage, therefore, becomes of supreme political importance. What ever doubt may be entertained on the efforts of Congress to frame tariff laws intelligently, there can be none regarding the determination of the political leaders to fix scientifically a date of final passage which will afford the maximum political advantage.

In many ways the 1922 tariff law will be the most remarkable ever passed—remarkable in that scarcely anyone expects to change it to the American people. Politicians know that the reasons they formerly gave for high tariff votes have lost their force. Considered calmly, the tariff law which will govern the country is nothing more nor less than a crazy quilt. It is a shameless repayment of political debts to special interests. Bad as previous tariffs have been, this latest is a brazen defiance of even political expediency. It is a nail in the coffin of the administration and the party and the whole political system under which such things are possible. Maybe that is why the tariff is coming now—to hasten the end of all such farces.—Dearborn Independent.

THE RAILROAD STRIKE.

The third provision of President Harding's original proposal for settling the strike required "all employees now on strike to be returned to work to their positions with seniority and other rights unimpaired."

The railroad executives declined to agree to this. A few days later Mr. Harding submitted another plan proposing that the strikers be taken back and that the disputed question of their seniority rights be referred to the Labor Board, by whose decision both employers and employees would agree to abide.

It is reported that the strikers have refused to accept this proposal. But a majority of the executives have backed down from the position they took in their reply to the President's first proposal, as shown by their statement now made, having passed a resolution to take back all strikers who have not been guilty of lawlessness against the railroads, to restore them to their old places if they have not been filled, and if they have been filled, the men shall be given "just as good." Matters of seniority that cannot be settled locally to be referred, as proposed by the President, to the Labor Board.

A minority of the roads refuse to surrender to the majority. They are willing to take back only as many strikers as they have vacancies to fill and to refer to the Labor Board questions of seniority that cannot be settled locally. And they further reserve the right to appeal to the courts on questions of legal obligation. The Louisville & Nashville is included in this minority.

The strikers, by accepting the President's proposal, have a chance to end the strike on nearly three-fourths of the mileage of the railroads. If they persist in their refusal it is plain that they are not anxious to end the strike now, or that they are afraid to risk the Labor Board's decision of the only point on which they are now standing out.—Courier-Journal.

FARMERS FIND CULLING REMOVES SLACKER HENS.

Lexington, Ky.—During the last few weeks many Kentucky farmers and poultrymen have discovered that their flocks contain a considerable number of loafer hens that can be culled out and sent to market without seriously reducing the total number of eggs received, according to early reports which are being received at the College of Agriculture from farmers who cooperate with the extension division in having their flocks culled as demonstrations for interested persons in their communities. In one case the egg production of the flock was increased despite the fact that one-third of the birds in it were removed as culls in the demonstration. This was partially due to the fact that the remaining hens were allowed to utilize the feed which originally had been given to the nonlaying hens.

W. L. Lloyd-Smith, a Union county farmer living near Boxville, reported that his flock of Single Comb White Leghorns produced as many eggs during the first week after seven culls had been removed as it

RADIO RALF--

Boys' and Girls' Pig SHOW

15-Breeders Association Sale

WILL BE HELD AT
J. Colin Kelly's Barn, Rabbit Hash, Ky
1 1-4 mile from Rising Sun Ferry,
Saturday, August 26th, 1922.

10 a. m., Stock Judging Contest by Boys' Judging Team—
Premiums.....$4 first; $2 second
11 a. m. ....Pig Club Contest
12 A. M. LUNCH.

1:00 p. m. ....Lady Speaker
1:30 p. m. ....L. D. Horlacker, Judge and Speaker
2:00 p. m. ....Hog Sale

HAMPSHIRE—Hubert Ryle & Son, will offer 1 Spring Boar and 4 Spring Gilts.

BIG TYPE POLAND CHINA—J. C. Kelly, will offer 1 Spring Boar and 1 Spring Gilt.

DUROCS—B. C. Stephens, jr., will offer 1 Spring Boar and 7 Spring Gilts.

Lunch Will Be Served by Boys and Girls Judging Team.

did the previous week. During the week before the culling, the 45 Leghorns produced a total of 202 eggs while the 38 hens that were kept produced the same number during following week. On the other hand, the seven culls which were removed produced only one egg during the week after they were culled out and confined by themselves.

IDLEWILD.
Miss Emelyn McCord is home from a delightful visit in Louisville. Mrs. Ben S. Houston is home from a visit with her kins-people near Union.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Rich spent the week-end with relatives near Richmond.

While painting Friday B. C. Grady fell from the ladder and was seriously injured.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Martin leave next week for a motor trip through Central Kentucky.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Yates, of Petersburg, were dinner guests of Mrs. J. S. Asbury Saturday night.

A protracted service of unusual interest has closed at Bullittsburg church. The converts were baptized Sunday.

Mrs. R. S. Hannah and children and Miss Francis Berkshire left Friday for an extended visit in Toronto, Canada.

A. H. Norman spent several days the past week in Union with his sister, Mrs. W. M. Rachal, Sr., and Mr. Rachal.

Miss Maud Norman Asbury is in camp on the Kentucky River, near Versailles, with a party of friends from Lexington.

G. O. Asbury and son, Master James Powell, of Maysville, and Charles T. Asbury, of Lexington, were recent guests of their father, J. S. Asbury and Mrs. Asbury.

Mrs. J. H. Lea and son, J. G. Lea, advertising editor of the Courier-Journal, have returned to their home in Louisville after a week's visit at the hospitable home of Rev. J. W. Campbell and Mrs. Campbell.

Miss Mattie Kreylich left Monday for Columbus, Ohio, where she will be the guest of her friend Miss Marcia Walkins. Before returning home Miss Kreylich will go on to Wisconsin for a visit with Miss Hazel Groh, a former teacher in Burlington High School.

Miss Francis Grant, of Petersburg, R. D. bought a bunch of fine ewes of W. L. Kirkpatrick, last week.

Loads of watermelons pass thru Burlington every day from Halle view bottoms enroute to Grant and Pendleton counties.

NEGRO ASSISTANT.

Cincinnati—With the recommendation by the newly elected Hamilton County Republican Central Committee of A. Lee Beaty, negro, 810 West Seventh Street, attorney, to the Washington administration for appointment as one of the assistants in the office of the United States District Attorney, there was fulfilled the obligations of an "understanding" said to have been reached between Republican politicians and influential negro leaders as far back as the first week in June, when the Republican committee failed for the first time in 40 years to place a negro on the state legislative ticket.

That a negro was not slated for the nomination for member of the General Assembly was unprecedented and aroused astonishment and, it was believed, widespread resentment among the negroes of Hamilton county. It was recalled that many negro candidates in the past had been defeated at the polls.

One instance was in 1920, when there was a Republican landslide, but it was recalled also that this so thrown to race pride was sufficient to hold in line what has long been called the "black brigade" of the Republican organization in Hamilton county, now estimated to include a minimum of 25,000 voters.

GRANT R. D.
Pres West has a new Ford runabout.

Peaches are plentiful. Elbertas selling at $1.00 per bushel.

Mrs. Lorena Dorman, of Covington, is visiting her nephew Wilbur Kelly.

Rev. Avery, of Covington, preached at the East Bend Baptist church Sunday.

Harry Acra and son Wilbur spent Sunday with relatives at Crescent Springs.

It is no dry here that some people are hauling water from the river for their stock.

Mrs. Clara Kelly entertained a number of friends and relatives from Indiana Sunday.

Douglas Rice and wife, of Aurora, are visiting their relatives Perry Presser and wife.

The K. of P's treated their families to an ice cream supper at the Hall Saturday night.

Stanley Ryle and wife, J. H. Walton, Solon Ryle and Will Aylor attended the funeral of Mrs. Katie Huey, at Big Bone, Saturday.

Dr. Clarence Ryle and wife arrived here Friday enroute from a motor trip to Bowen, Ill., to their home in Georgetown. They were accompanied by their cousins Arthur Scott and wife, of Bowen, Ill.

FARM THE LOAN THAT NEVER COMES DUE LOANS
UNLESS AND UNTIL THE BORROWER WISHES TO PAY IT
$66.46 per year on each $1,000 of loan pays both principal and interest
NO COMMISSIONS NO RENEWALS
KENTUCKY JOINT STOCK LAND BANK
Security Trust Bldg., Lexington, Ky.
B. H. RILEY, Agt. Burlington, Ky.

FOR SALE ETC

NOTICE.
We have been appointed the authorized sales and service station for the Willard Battery for Boone county. Also recharging and repairing on all makes of Batteries. Work guaranteed.
DEMPEY MOTOR CAR CO.
Erlanger, Ky.

HEMSTITCHING AND PICOTING ATTACHMENT, works on any sewing machine, easily adjusted. Price $2.50 with full instructions. Oriental Novelty Co., Box 11, Corpus Christi, Texas. o17 aug

WANTED
Hay to bale. Prices reasonable. P. H. Mathews, Bullittsville, Ky. Phone 203-x
29 June 17

See Boone County First!
Know that right here, in Florence, Ky., you have a real Farm Tool Service Station. Florence has become the principal gateway of Boone county to all the world, and we stand at the gate, ready to give any service in our line. We manufacture a line of farm and home equipment embracing sleds, plows, box beds, lawn swings, screen doors and make to order nearly anything you want of similar goods. We will have at the Florence Fair a display of our line, in charge of a man able to intelligently discuss with you any wants you may have, either in new goods, or the repair of what you now own. See us at the Fair! However, see us at our shop any day. Conner & Kraus, Farm Tool Service Station, Florence, Ky.

Buy one large size box of carpet tacks at the regular price of 10 cents. Then get another for 3 cents. This week ONLY. BUY NOW! Hardware & Specialty Co., Hope Conner, Mgr., Florence, Ky.

NOTICE—There has been at my place since last Thursday, a female hound pup—black with white face and feet. Owner will please call for it. Dr. F. L. Sayre, Florence, Ky. 1t

For Sale—Pair 3 and 4 year old mules—horse and mare. Geo. Miller, Erlanger, Ky. Price pike. 1t—pd

For Sale—Two year old mule. Harry Kilgour, Burlington R. D. 3. 1t—pd

For Sale—Good work horse, or will trade for stock. F. H. Rouse, Burlington, Ky. 1t—pd

WANTED—Man with car to sell best low priced Cord Tires made. $100.00 per week and expenses. GRAHAM TIRE CO., 1555 Canal, Benton Harbor, Michigan. 1t—pd

For Sale—Six Big Type Poland shoats—will weigh about 60 pounds each. Frank Mullins, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 2. 1t—pd

John D. Aylor has sold his farm of 63 acres in the Limaburg neighborhood, to "Bug" Ogden. Price not known.

PIG & POULTRY SHOW
at Verona, Ky.
Saturday, Aug. 19th, '22
By Boys and Girls Agricultural Club
14 Piece Brass Band
GOOD SPEAKERS
Refreshment Served by Boys and Girls Club

COMING
—THE—
Mighty Haag Show
Only A Few More Days to Wait
Burlington
ONE DAY ONLY
Tuesday, Aug. '22
Afternoon at 2 o'clock; Night at 8 P. M. Acrobats, Gymnasts, Aerialists, Wire Walkers, Leapers, Tumblers and a
Host of Funny Clowns
Monster Dens of Living Wild Animals. A Herd of Performing Elephants, Educated Horses, Ponies, Mules, Dogs and Monkeys.
New and Novel Features. A Clean and Moral Show. Bigger, Better Than Ever.
Grand Free Street Parade
At 1 P. M. Don't Miss It.
Popular Prices. Free Exhibition at 1 and 7.
DON'T FORGET THE DATE

A BARGAIN
Cincinnati Daily Enquirer
—AND—
The Boone County Recorder
YOU CAN GET
BOTH for $4.50 the YEAR
Send Your Subscriptions to the
BOONE COUNTY RECORDER
Burlington, Ky.

Bullittsburg Baptist Church.

J. W. Campbell Pastor.

Sunday School every Sunday at 10:00 a. m.
Regular preaching services on the First and Third Sundays in each month at 11:00 a. m.

All obituaries, card of thanks and all other matter, not news, must be paid for at 5 cents per line.

ANDREW B. PRICE, DEAD.

Andrew B. Price, aged 74 years, passed away in a Cincinnati hospital Thursday afternoon, his remains being brought to the home of his brother, W. A. Price, Dixie Highway, Erlanger. Funeral services were conducted at the grave at 2 p. m., Saturday by Rev. C. G. Ribble, and the Venus Lodge of Odd-Fellows, of which he was a member in early life. Interment was in the Florence cemetery. Mr. Price was formerly a merchant in Ghent, Ky., but the last fifteen years had resided in Cincinnati. He is survived by two brothers and daughter, Mrs. Harry Chamberlain, of Cleveland, Ohio. Undertaker Philip Tallaferru, had charge of the funeral arrangements.

NOTICE.

The undersigned will receive sealed bids at the court house in Burlington for painting the jail building on the outside.

C. A. FOWLER,
Jailer Boone County.

Delightfully Entertained

Sunday August 13th, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Taylor and daughter delightfully entertained some of their friends with a dinner. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Jno. C. Bedinger, of Walton; Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Delaunty, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Sleet and daughter Rebecca, and Mrs. J. M. Baker and son Hubert, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Conley, Miss Sarah Hughes and Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Griffith and son J. O. Jr., all of Beaver Lick.

The mighty Haag Show consists of over one hundred people, one hundred head of stock, horses, mules, ponies, one camel, three large elephants, 10 cages of wild animals, and travels overland in forty conveyances, is pronounced by press and public to be one of the very best old time one ring shows enroute. You take no chance in attending. Don't miss it. Burlington High School ground one day only—Tuesday August 22nd. Afternoon at 2 p. m., evening at 8 p. m. Every one should attend this show as it comes well recommended.

Why send your battery to the city for recharging or repairs when we do it just as good, if not better, and the cost is much less?
DEMPEY MOTOR CAR CO.
Erlanger, Ky.

Burlington Masonic Lodge has been and is very active. The Master degrees were conferred last Saturday and will be conferred next Saturday. The lodge also has several candidates for other degrees.

Some one asks whether the girl who has had the sense of freedom and independence given by wearing hiking trousers, will ever be willing to get up in the morning and start breakfast?

Carl Botts, D. R. Blythe and several other Boone county boys, went to Detroit, Michigan, last Thursday evening to pilot back a lot of autos for a Cincinnati firm. They had a fine trip.

Clifford Tanner, wife and son, of Hebron neighborhood, made this office a pleasant call Tuesday afternoon, and watched the printers at work.

The people who are tying up the business of the country by strikes are finding fault because there is not work enough for everybody.

One of the best shows on the road will exhibit on the High School ground next Tuesday afternoon and evening, August 22nd.

S. W. Allen, an evangelist of the Christian church, will be in Burlington next week and will conduct a series of meetings.

The bathing suit seems to have shrunk a good deal during the season, but it may do for an abdominal band next year.

Congressman Rouse was in Burlington last Saturday and attended the meeting of the Masonic lodge.

Commonwealth's Atty. Howe attended a Masonic meeting at Rising Sun, Ind., Monday evening.

The Haag Shows at the High School ground next Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Miss Mary Gordon returned home last week from a trip to Detroit, visiting friends.

Mrs. T. P. Stephens has been quite ill for several days.

PROGRAMME

Of Convention of Boone Co. Christian Churches and Bible Schools. Aug. 21-22, at Petersburg, Ky.

FIRST MORNING

- 9:30 Devotional—W. T. Evans.
- 9:45 Prayers—Welcome—J. L. Kite.
- 9:50 How can we increase and hold our Bible School Enrollment?
Miss Ethel Sturgeon.
- 10:00 Discussion—Chas. Riley.
- 10:05 How can we grade a small Bible School?—G. F. Schram.
- 10:15 Discussion—Miss Lulu Edwards.
- 10:20 How can we have Successful Teacher Training?—Mrs. R. H. Carter.
- 10:30 Discussion—Mrs. Jas. E. Rust.
- 10:35 Who Should Plan the Work of the Bible School and When?—A. C. Kearns.
- 10:45 Discussion.
- 10:50 How can Religious Education Make Better Homes?—J. C. Gordon.
- 11:00 Music—Petersburg.
- 11:05 What is the Bible School Worker Read?—G. W. Rogers.
- 11:15 Discussion.
- 11:20 What Does C. E. Do for Young People?—R. H. Carter.
- 12:30 Appointment of Committees—1 Nominations, 2 Place, 3 Courtsey.
- 11:35 The Church School of the Future—State Worker.

DINNER.

- 1:30 Hymn and Invocation.
- 1:35 Business Session.
- 1:40 Renewal of Pledges in Kentucky. Widows and Orphans' Home—J. S. Hilton.
- 2:30 Christian Education in Kentucky. Ministerial Supply, for All—H. C. Runyan.
- Adjournment—First Evening Inspirational Meeting.

SECOND MORNING

- 9:30 Devotional—C. C. Omer.
- 9:45 Trained School Leaders—Edgar C. Riley.
- 10:15 The Minister and His Helpers in Evangelism—A. B. Myers.
- 10:45 Special Music—Petersburg.
- 10:50 Our County Program for the Year—Presented by County Organization.
- 11:25 Our Financial Resources and Kingdom Obligations—State Worker.
- 12:00 Lunch and Recreation.
- 2:00 Hymn and Invocation.
- 2:10 Devotional—J. C. Bolen.
- 2:15 Roll Call of Societies.
- 1:50 Address—State Worker.
- 2:15 Circle Development—C. C. Omer.
- 2:30 Boys and Girls Development—R. H. Carter.
- 2:45 Aims and Plans of Work for the New Year in county.
- Adjournment.
- Mrs. Carl Cason, Sec'y.
J. L. Kite, Pres.

BOONE CIRCUIT COURT.

Judge Sidney Gaines opened the August term of the Boone Circuit Court Monday at 9:30 a. m., with R. E. Berkshire Circuit Clerk, Sheriff B. B. Hume and Deputies L. T. Utz, Herbert Snyder, Thos. Perciful and Jailer Fowler on hand to perform their duties. The Commonwealth is represented by J. J. Howe, Commonwealth Atty., and B. H. Riley, County Attorney. Attorney W. W. Dickerson, O. M. Rogers, D. E. Castlemann, Jno. L. Vest, E. P. Ware, Chas. Strother, S. W. Tolin, G. W. Tolin and N. E. Riddell are present representing their clients. The grand jury is composed of the following:

R. C. McGlasson.
Thomas Hensley.
Jno. W. Cloud.
Ed. Berkshire.
Geo. Kreylich.
Keen Southern.
W. E. Glacken.
J. H. Clore.
Owen Aylor.
L. F. Perciful.
C. O. Hempling.
E. Y. Randall.

The jury was instructed by the court and proceeded to perform their duties.

Petit Jury No. 1—
Jno. Smith.
Manlius Goodridge.
H. L. Beemon.
G. B. Miller.
Robert K. Conner.
Albert Hitchfield.
John Sommers.
Geo. Heist.

O. R. Rust.
Richard Marshall.
James Code.
Chas. Rinnell.

Petit Jury No. 2—
Jno. Benson.
Charles Moore.
W. B. Johnson.
H. W. Rouse.
J. C. Ayres.
E. P. Berkshire.
J. E. Gaines.
This panel was not filled at the time of going to press.
O. E. Webster was fined $400 for taking property of another.
Wm. Race was fined $10.00 for violating the Sunday statute.
J. W. Cunningham for violating school attendance law was fined $50.

NOTICE.

All members of the Modern Woodmen of America of Grange Hall, Camp No. 14429 are requested to be present August 10th on business of importance.

H. H. CLORE, Committee.

Don't feel embarrassed, sister, when your little brother "applies the beans." A hungry matrimonial fish rises quickly to the bait.

WHAT SAY YOU.

Consider the school children. They toil mentally five days in the week, when mental toil is difficult and not at all attractive to one of their ages.

They have not attained that station in life where the value of an education is apparent. To them study is a hardship that is forced upon them by parental authority.

How, then, can we wake the children up and induce them to take a stronger personal interest in excelling in their studies? How can we induce them to strive to be at the head of their respective classes?

Honors in marking do not appeal to them as strongly as they do to the adult. The juvenile mind has not reached the point where it can appreciate to the full the glories of 99 or 100 per cent.

What, then, will appeal to their young minds? What will supply the incentive that now seems so often absent?

Prizes for excelling in study! Let half a dozen prizes be awarded in each grade each month, so that all will have a fair chance in the competition. A single prize would not be sufficient. Too often it would be a forgone conclusion, and the incentive to excel would be destroyed.

Every child knows what it means to "get a prize." It is an event that overshadows many others with them. They will work for a prize when otherwise their inclination is for play.

It would cost a few dollars for our public school officials to arrange a series of monthly prizes, but it would be money spent to the very best advantage.

At any rate, the subject is worth discussing.

Speak up and be heard.

ALL IN A DAY.

"It's all in a day," we hear men say.

But what is a day—for the man, and for the woman?

Custom says that eight hours is the proper amount of time that should be consumed in work in a day. The remaining sixteen hours are for rest, recreation and sleep.

The husband works his eight hours at his place of business and then goes home to his supper. His day's labor is at an end. After supper he lights his pipe, picks up the paper and proceeds to post himself on the affairs of the day. Or perhaps he goes to his lodge, or "out among the boys."

But what of his wife?

Does she hunt a comfortable chair and immerse herself in her favorite book, or spend the evening with her neighbor, or in a hundred other different ways that are possible?

Occasionally, but not often.

The dishes must be washed up and put away after the evening meal, and the kitchen and dining room must be cleaned. Then the husband has a pair of socks that need mending, and some buttons to be sewed on, and possibly there is some ironing to be done, and some clothing to be made or mended for the children.

The kiddies, too, need some assistance in their lessons, and the baby has to be rocked and put to sleep in its cradle. And many other things must be done of which a mere man can not think.

Yes, "it's all in a day," both for the man and the woman, but the woman seldom gets the best of it.

SOMETHING NEW.

If there is anything new in this town, speak up—let's have it.

We have one man who does nothing but look after the Recharging and Repairing of Batteries.
DEMPEY MOTOR CAR CO.
Erlanger, Ky.

BEECH GROVE.

Miss Violet Rue, of Cleves, Ohio, visited relatives here last week.

Mrs. Don Williamson and Mrs. Ryburn Williamson, spent last Thursday with Mrs. Manley Ryle.

Mrs. Susie Mullinix and son, and Mrs. J. R. Whitson, were guests of their sister, Mrs. G. A. Ryle, Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. W. M. Ryle entertained at dinner Sunday Mr. and Mrs. David Williamson. Mrs. Ryburn Williamson and daughter.

Mrs. Agness Ryle, Miss Minnie Ryle and Clyde Akin and family, were guests of Lawrence Pope and family, Wednesday.

Hebron Theatre

Hebron, Ky.,

Tuesday, Aug. 22d

PRESENTS

"In Old Kentucky"

Admission 22c &amp; 10c

"111" cigarettes

They are
GOOD!

10¢

Buy this Cigarette and Save Money

Kirtley McWethy
Petersburg, Ky.,
Confectioner

will have on hand
at all times

Ice Cream, Soft Drinks, Candies, Cigars, Cigarettes.

Open daily from 11 a. m. until 9 p. m. (except Saturday) which will be from 9 a. m. to 11 p. m.

WHEN IN TOWN GIVE HIM A CALL

Human nature of today demands diversity of action, and thought, and recreation and pleasure. The old rut is too small to hold us. It is worn too smooth to keep us within its bounds.

There was a time when people were content to rock along and take things serenely as they came. But that time is of the past, and we are of the present, with an eye focused upon the future.

We crave something new, and are dissatisfied unless it materializes.

It is our nature to push ahead, and accomplish things, and make the way for greater results on the morrow.

What have you to offer?

We often hear people remark that "it makes no difference what others think."

But it does make a difference. This town is a collection of people.

This state is a collection of cities and towns and the surrounding countryside.

This country is simply a collection of sovereign states welded together in a single and central government for their own protection and advancement.

The government is dependent upon the states, and the states are dependent upon their cities and towns and countryside, and the latter are dependent upon the people who compose their respective populations.

And there you have it—an endless chain of dependence one upon another.

Does it make a difference "what other people think?"

Keep your mind centered upon the motor bus. It is the logical short distance transportation of the future.

A few days ago Chicago was in the throes of the greatest street railway strike in its history, with not a wheel turning.

But the motor busses were called into service, and the mayor imported busses from other cities, and automobiles and trucks got into the passenger carrying game, and automobiles rapidly assumed the proportions of a municipal lark. Everybody was "getting there" regardless of the strike.

That was too much for the traction officials—likewise for the strikers. They compromised in haste.

Motorbus transportation means an end to street railways, and traction officials, and motormen, and conductors, and fat corporations and dividends.

The motorbus can go anywhere, on any street, or on any country road where other vehicles can travel. The street cars run only on steel rails and its route is never varied.

If an obstruction impedes the passage of a street car it stands still, and the people get out and walk without getting their money back. The motorbus simply detours and takes its passengers on to their destinations.

It is coming, and to stay.

The government is beginning to make some headway in the prosecution of public officials and others who have been detected in the perpetration of gigantic war frauds.

We have been waiting for such action for a long time. We will continue to wait and look and expect until they make a clean sweep of the millionaire thieves and their "small fry" dupes.

Mr. Average Citizen believes in obeying the law—and obeys it. It jars him to see others get away with what he himself is forbidden to do.

A number of the local Masons went to Rising Sun, Monday evening and visited the lodge at that place. The Master Masons degree was conferred on five candidates. All reported that they were royally entertained by their Rising Sun brothers.

CAR SENSE

Spend
a Dollar
and
Save
Ten

Little defects grow into big ones in time if not corrected.
The correction of a small defect in its early stages costs but little.
When left until it grows into serious proportions its correction runs into money.
That is what makes the maintenance of a car so expensive to many people—neglecting the little things until they grow into big ones.
The better—the safer—the more economical way is to see the garage man at the first warning of trouble.
Today is always a good time to have it done.

EDDINS BROTHERS

TIRES, TUBES AND ACCESSORIES.

Burlington, Kentucky.

BRAKE BAND OIL—Guaranteed to stop Ford bands from chattering.
Agents for U. S. and Ajax Tires.

Established 1886.

A Bank Account

IS ONE OF THE FIRST
STEPPING STONES TO
SUCCESS IN LIFE.

How are You Stepping!

This bank invites young men and women especially to open savings accounts. Officials of the bank are pleased at all time to give the benefit of their experience to customers and others who seek advice.

When in doubt come to this bank. Your success means greater success for us.

Has it ever occurred to you that a checking account is a very convenient thing to have?

Boone Co. Deposit Bank

Burlington, Kentucky.

N. E. RIDDELL, President. W. D. CROPPER, Cashier.
W. A. GAINES, Vice-Pres. G. S. KELLY, Asst. Cashier.

COURTESY SERVICE FIRST STABILITY*A SAFE INVESTMENT.

One of the safest and best investments for you at this time is a 4 Per Cent Time Certificate of Deposit in this STRONG BANK.

There is no tax on this investment, the yield is good and, the principal will be returned to you upon demand.

Consult us about your investment.

Peoples Deposit Bank

Burlington, Ky.

Capital.....$ 50,000.00.
Surplus.....100,000.00.

W. L. B. ROUSE, President. C. H. YOEUELL, Vice-President.

A. B. RENAKER, Cashier.

Nell H. Martin, Asst. Cashier. L. C. Beemon, Asst. Cashier.

Petersburg Theatre

At Petersburg, Kentucky

Saturday Night, Aug. 19th

HOBART BOSWORTH IN

"His Own Law"

At Burlington, Kentucky,

Saturday Night, Aug. 19th

JACK PICKFORD IN

"The Man Who Had Everything"

CHILDREN 10c. ADULTS 25c

War Tax Included Will Begin promptly at 8:00

Flour—Flour—Flour

An excellent Flour—that makes excellent Bread, Pies and Cakes. New patrons are coming to this flour each day and recommend it highly. It's Rising Sun—

Fancy Patent, Golden Rod or Tube Rose.

Its sold on a positive guarantee to please you in every respect.

Ask Your Grocer—Insist On It.

Make bake day a glad day by using

RISEING SUN FLOUR

How Our Federal Pension System Operates

Handling Stupendous Sums of Money and Adjusting New Claims Entails Painstaking Labor and Careful Investigation by Experts.

By Washington Gardner in Dearborn Independent.

The average citizen—and certainly the average taxpayer—knows that one of the many government problems is that of pensions, and that there exists at Washington a Bureau of Pensions. The building that houses the bureau is one of the points of interest to the visiting tourist, but it is hardly likely that this casual visitor realizes the magnitude of the business administered within its historic walls. Yet more than $6,000,000 have been disbursed for pensions and for maintenance of pension systems from 1790 to 1921.

The pensioners of the U. S. are subdivided into several classes. They include pensioners of the Revolution—the oldest class on the roll—of the War of 1812, of the early wars with the Indians, of the Mexican War, of the Civil War, of the Spanish-American War and the subsequent insurrection in the Philippines, and of the World War, where services therein were rendered prior to October 3, 1917. There are also other pensioners of the regular military and naval forces and a few unclassified pensioners.

The pensioners are not all soldiers, or even former soldiers. They represent widows, minor children, dependent pensioners and army nurses. More than 3,000 of them are scattered over wide areas outside the United States, from Tasmania to Mauritius, and from China to Norway.

Half Million Pensioners.
At the end of the fiscal year 1921 there were 566,053 pensioners on the roll. The largest number of names in any one year was 1902, when it totaled 999,446—a total that may be better understood if one thinks that it is only 554 less than a million. In 1866, one year after the close of the Civil War, there were 126,722 pensioners.

Losses to the pensions roll are caused chiefly by death, but there are also other causes, such as remarriage of widows, minors attaining the age of 16 years, failure to claim for three years, and the like. Gains are made chiefly by original allowances, but also, in some cases, by the restoration of forfeited pensions. Since 1910 the loss of Civil War soldiers has averaged about 30,000 a year. Last June there were 218,775 of them, as against 249,520 the preceding year, while the largest number of them on the roll was reached in 1896, with a total of 745,822.

The exact amount paid to pensioners between 1790 and 1921, a span of 131 years, is $6,089,536,537.71, while the cost of maintenance of the pension system from 1866 has been $123,683,653.30. As the disbursements have been made in sums ranging from a minimum of $2 a month to a maximum of $416.66 2-3 (the greatest number of pensioners received, however, pensions of $30 or $50), it is evident that a vast amount of careful clerical work and accounting is necessary.

It is not the stupendous sums paid out annually or the number of persons served that makes the record of the work of the Bureau of Pensions remarkable, but the close scrutiny which must follow every application for a pension to insure that, if granted, the money shall go to the rightful recipient for the purposes intended.

Painstaking Care Necessary.

The passage of these acts required the forming of a section of experts to investigate and determine promptly where increases could be granted to the pensioners already on the roll in cases not requiring new applications. This work has been well and expeditiously done, and yet on January 1, 1922, there were 65,541 claims on hand under the operation of these two single acts.

It is needless to say that with hundreds of thousands of pensioners scattered in 48 states, the District of Columbia, five insular possessions, and 67 foreign countries (including dependencies, there is some possibility of mistake and misunderstandings, and it is not necessary of fraud. Nothing must be taken for granted. The application of the pension laws, further, in many respects makes the bureau's work quite complicated.

Handling pension claims is routine work, but it requires painstaking care. Many persons have an erroneous impression that it is a simple thing for the Pension Bureau to take up a pension claim and immediately by dispose of it. As a matter of fact, it is often a most difficult matter to adjust.

In claiming a pension, an applicant must be filed in the Pension Bureau, stating under what law the claim is made, accompanied by the facts on which it is based. After the validity of the declaration is determined by the Law Division, a record is made and the claim receives a number. This record is made in various ways for statistical purposes and for information, and so that the claim may be found readily. There are about 6,000,000 record cards on file today.

The claim thence is submitted to adjudicating divisions made up of experts who by training, study and experience have qualified themselves for obtaining, examining and weighing the evidence on which pension claims are based. In due time the Board of Review gets the case. No claim is rejected unless it has been considered by a division.

Many times it is necessary to make an inquiry in the field. These inquiries are made in the case of doubtful or difficult claims, or those in which criminal features are involved. Should a medical question present itself for solution, it is sent to the proper division, which has the assistance of about 4,000 physicians throughout the United States. If questions of law are involved, too, these are sent to the Law Division, which passes on questions relating to attorneyship, marriage and divorce.

The Bureau of Pensions under these circumstances is not a mere administrative office. It is called upon to construe the law and to exercise judicial functions, determining the rights of claimants and of the government under the law and facts, and in this manner acts as a court. The numerous pension laws have required much consideration and interpretation, and there are 20 octavo volumes containing the opinions of the Secretary of the Interior on questions that have arisen in pension cases.

Of course, the Pension Bureau cannot undertake to determine, in advance of the filing of a claim and answer, whether a pensionable status exists, yet requests for information of this kind are constantly being received from individuals who believe they have claims, such as dependent parents, invalids, minors and widows. Each class, as well as each case of each class, is governed by laws and regulations, and as already pointed out, every claim must be analyzed by experts after it has been filed.

Delay a Serious Matter.

The speed with which the work is handled depends, of course on the number of employees. In 1921 there were 867, a decrease of 37 from the previous year. The claims last year were disposed of at a cost for salaries and other expenses of administration of $17.95 per claim, while the actual cost of disbursement was 10 1/2 cents for every $100.

The available force of employees is not sufficient, however, to cope with the great influx of claims. To be in arrears in the consideration of claims for pension is a serious matter. Comparatively few persons who are entitled to a pension are in such financial condition that they do not stand greatly in need of the money granted by a generous Congress. All we can say is that the delay is absolutely unavoidable and that claimants must wait with patience until their claims are reached in their regular order. Congress alone can remedy the conditions as they exist by authorizing a temporary addition to the working force.

On the other hand, liberalization of practice has been effected lately, for the sake of efficiency. The Bureau of Pensions has been often reproached for a policy and practice thought to be too narrow, restrictive and technical. This has been accentuated when brought in contrast with the liberal treatment accorded the veterans of the World War both by Congress and by those charged with the administration of the laws passed for their relief. In the belief that like liberal treatment should be accorded to those coming within the purview of pension legislation, the present administration has made several modifications of the practice of the bureau. Whatever grounds there may have been for criticism, the object now is to do justice to all by eliminating technicalities as far as possible.

Helpless Helped First.

An instance of the new policy will be cited. A provision of the Act of May 1, 1920, grants $72 a month to Civil War veterans "helpless or blind or so nearly helpless or blind as to require regular personal aid and attendance." Under this provision 38,938 Civil War veterans applied for the $72 rate during the last fiscal year, and additional claims are now coming in at the rate of approximately 3,000 monthly. In view of the great age and the helpless condition of these applicants, their claims are being given special attention and everything is being done to bring about their early settlement.

Another instance provides that the ratings granted Spanish War veterans shall be proportioned to the degree of inability to earn a support by manual labor. Departing from a fixed arbitrary scale of rates, the test in each case now is the extent to which inability to earn a support is lessened.

In other instances, however, the Bureau of Pensions cannot exercise authority in expediting the work at hand without remedial legislation. One of these relates to the proof of marriage. This law's requirements have given rise to much complaint, and in numerous cases imposed upon applicants a peculiar hardship, made more manifest by the lapse of time. Yet the Pension Bureau has no power to change the law.

The recent legislation in behalf of the widows of World War veterans is much more liberal in this regard and permits the indulgence of presumption of marriage in the absence of proof in certain cases and under certain conditions. It is hoped that this liberality of law favoring widows of veterans of the recent war will be extended to the widows of veterans of the Civil War, the war with Spain, or of those who served in the regular establishment prior to April 6, 1917.

There seems to be a general demand among all classes of pensioners for the monthly payment of pensions. Congress has recognized this demand. The Bland bill has been passed by the House of Representatives and is now in the hands of the Senate. The arguments in favor of monthly payment of pensions are patent to everybody. The passage of this bill for monthly payments is strongly recommended.

Another activity of the Pension Bureau has to do with the administration of the Civil Service Retirement Act, approved May 22, 1920. Under its provisions are included all employees of the classified civil service of the United States, representing one of the largest groups of employees ever to be covered by a single retirement fund.

62 Widows of 1812 Soldiers.

Since the organization of the new retirement division 18 months ago, 7,076 claims for age annuity and 1,261 claims for retirement on account of disability have been filed. This branch of the work is considered as being practically current.

During the same period 80,500 applicants for refund have been filed by former employees who have become separated from the service because of resignation, dismissal, or necessary reduction of force. The work of adjudicating this class of claims is about four months in arrears. An amendment to the act which has already passed the Senate and is now pending in the House will, if enacted, facilitate the adjudication of claims for refund.

A few figures on the pension situation will be undoubtedly instructive. The number of certificates issued on account of all claims allowed since the establishment of the pension system down to the end of the last fiscal year was 6,392,836. Congress granted 59,124 pensions by special act, since March 4, 1861. Of the total number of pensioners on the roll last June—566,053—by classes they are as follows: soldiers, 267,629; widows, 290,955; nurses, 2,163; helpless children, 919; or dependents, 4,285; and nurses, 102.

Sixty-four pensions were still being paid on account of the War of 1812, although more than a century has passed since the termination of that war. All these, with one exception, were drawn by soldiers' widows, there being now no survivor of the men who fought in that conflict.

109 Mexican War Veterans.
There were still 2,244 pensioners of the Mexican War, 73 years after it ended. Of these 109 were survivors, and 39 of them died during the fiscal year.

In the past year 24,775 Civil War veterans died. During that period widows who filed claims for pensions numbered 14,763. From these figures some idea can be formed of the number of widow claims that will continue to come in as the veterans yet on the roll gradually pass away. In fact, during the year 1910 the number of Civil War veterans who passed the number of veterans on the roll, and at the close of the fiscal year the number of widows was 281,225, as against 218,775 veterans.

Even the brief war with Spain was noted on the pension roll by 39,282 entries on the date stated. By states, Ohio led in number of pensioners, with 56,960, Nevada holding last place with 270. Alaska had 43. Of the foreign countries and their dependencies, Canada led with 1,623, and 16 places, from British Guiana to Egypt, Portugal to Siam, had each one pensioner. The total amount of foreign disbursements was, for the fiscal year, $1,342,022.37.

Subdivided by different wars, the total disbursements for last year were: Civil War, $246,584,640; War with Spain, $6,171,570; War of 1812, $24,160; War with Mexico, $88,025; Indian Wars, $1,565,862; regular establishment, $3,456,191, and World War, $25,594. The average pension for each class was $27.74, $164.84, $356.63, $373.37, $203.71, $183.49 and $238.62, respectively.

THE DOLLAR HAS "GROWING PAINS."

Dollars are bigger than they were a few years back. They have lost that gaunt 50-cent look. The expenditure of a million of them by business or industry means infinitely more. The fact that the government would expend $60,000,000 on highways was gladly acclaimed by the people and the press, for it was realized that such a sum would contribute substantially to prosperity. The Bethlehem Steel corporation announced $50,000,000 in improvements. The railroads are to spend millions.

Investments such as these, especially in times of stress, mean much to the whole country. They are incentives for heavy outlays in other lines. They serve to quicken the economic pulse of the whole country.

Yet large as the above sum seems, they do not compare with contemplated expenditures of the electric light and power, gas, telephone and street railway organizations, estimated at $1,000,000,000 a year for five to seven years. Expenditures of such proportions a few years ago would have been reflected in rates which, instead, were held to the minimum while prices for most every other thing entering into our every-day life soared.

No utility organization is able to finance betterments out of its earnings, which are regulated thru legal channels, and still pay merited interest to the many who have these funds continue to support utilities which are jeopardized, sometimes unjustly, by the very people they serve.

Fairness is the key that will hasten the release of utility dollars for the benefit of the whole country.

A BILLION DOLLAR GARDEN.

(Farm Life).
We count wheat and cotton as principal crops, and yet, in 1921, they both together were barely equal in value to the vegetables grown on farms in the United States. If we add the truck grown on city and suburban lots to the "garden sassa" grown on farms, we yet find a total value just about equal to that of the entire national corn crop. Not all of these vegetables were sold, of course, but perhaps as great a proportion of them as of the corn produced found their way to a direct cash market. So far as that is concerned, the poultry products for last census year (1919) were more than a billion dollars in value and the dairy products nearly a billion and a half. These figures are interesting because they show how extremely important the garden and the poultry yard are to the farmers of the country, but because they yield and consumption are spread over a longer period of time they are too often regarded as negligible.

Better Rural Schools.

The rural school must hold up an inspiring view of rural life. It must make the children enjoy and love rural scenes. It must implant in the child mind at an early age the fundamental idea of rural industry. It must make them feel that there are good opportunities for business success, comfort and enjoyment in a country town.

The rural school teacher should be in one sense a salesman, a person whose business it is to interest children in rural life and convince them that the whole country life offers the best career today.

This is not said from any selfish desire to build up Boone county by denying young people their right to go into greater communities if that is their best course. There are some of exceptional gifts, who can not find scope for their peculiar talents in a small town. They belong to the larger world and should be encouraged to seek these wider careers and helped to fit for them.

But at least 90 per cent of the country young people have no such extraordinary gifts. If they quit rural life, they do so because they have been attracted by big city propaganda or false glitter. They will only be hangers on around the big show. Country life offers them far more than will fit for it right.

All sociologists say that many of the American people are drifting to the cities. The country is out of balance, and the cities are top heavy and congested with people living in an expensive and costly way. For the next 25 years there ought to be a big drive, for the benefit of the whole country, to induce young people to stay in the rural districts. The teacher should be both a missionary and a salesman, trying to convert young people to country life or sell it to them.

The fellow who puts himself in "the hands of his friends" often finds it a hell of a job to get out.

Seeds for Fall Planting

MICHIGAN ROSEN RYE, NEW SEED WHEAT, NEW TIMOTHY, CRIMSON CLOVER, ALFALFA CLOVER, ETC.

Get ready now. figure the amount you will need, write us for prices, buy your seed, and let's all be ready when the time comes.

Canning Supplies.

Quart Glass Mason Jars, per dozen 78c; Pints, doz. 65c; 1 gal. Mason Jars, doz. $1.00; Star Tin Cans, qts, doz. 48c; Mason Jar Caps, 25c doz. Large Jelly Glasses, 85c doz; Best Jar Rubbers, 2 dozen. 15c; Sealing Wax stick, 4c.

Wax Strings, 3 doz. 10c, 100 for 30c.

Let Us Ship your Order by Freight or have Your Truckman Stop

Wichitas Best Flour

Milled from best Kansas Hard Wheat
CAR DUE TO ARRIVE THIS WEEK
Sold from car at these prices:

Bbl. $8.50; 2 Bbl. $4.35; 98-lb bag. $4.

SEND YOUR ORDER IN NOW.

Nobetter Coffee,

Rarus Flour

Bbl. in wood $7.50; 98-Lb. Bag $3.50

Northern Kentucky's LEADING GROCERS AND SEEDSMEN.

GEO. W. HILL & CO.

27-29 First St. - 36 W. 7th St. COVINGTON, KY.
In. Order Dept. - SOUTH BEND - IND.

Sole Hill Customer - It Pays -

HEATING SYSTEMS

CALORIC - GOTTSCHALK

Pipeless Furnaces, Pipe Furnaces,

Hot Water, Steam and Vapor.

—WE REPAIR—

FURNACES AND ROOFS

The Gottschalk Furnace & Roofing Co.

Phone 5 1287 (Incorporated) COVINGTON, KY.

VULCANIZING.

Complete line of Goodyear, Goodrich and Kelly-Springfield Tires and Tubes, good Grade of Automobile and Tractor Oils and Greases.

Auto Accessories kept in stock.

GEORGE PORTER,

BURLINGTON, KY.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN,

DENTIST

In my new office

Cloyola Place, Florence, KY.

Teeth extracted painless. Bridge and Plate Work a Specialty.

All Work Guaranteed

F. W. Kassebaum & Son

GRANITE & MARBLE

MONUMENTS,

A Large Stock on Display

to Select from.

Pneumatic Tool Equipme't

118 Main Street,

AURORA, IND.

BOONE CO. RECORDER

Published every Thursday
N. E. RIDDELL, Publisher.

Foreign Advertising Representative
THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION
Entered at the Postoffice, Burlington, Ky., as second-class mail.

ADVERTISING RATES.
Furnished on application. The value of the RECORDER as an advertising medium is unquestioned. The character of the advertisements now in its columns, and the number of them, tell the whole story.

All roads lead to the Erlanger Fair this week.

Reuben Akin and family spent Sunday with Thos. Hensley and wife.

Stir your steps. You won't get anywhere by sitting around in your own shadow.

J. L. Eddins and wife and Wilbur Rice and wife attended the Carthage fair last Friday.

R. E. Berkshire and wife spent Saturday night and Sunday with his parents at Petersburg.

A. C. Porter, Omer Porter and wife and Rex Berkshire, spent Sunday at the Cincinnati Zoo.

James D. Acra and wife attended the funeral of Mrs. R. L. Huey at Big Bone, last Saturday morning.

"If you save the surface you save all" but the flapper's skin is apt to need two coats by this time.

The people who oppose tobacco have not so far expressed any objection to smoking by the factory chimneys.

Quite a number of base ball fans witnessed the Pittsburgh-Cincinnati game at Redland field, Cincinnati, last Sunday.

According to the old time farmers, the public holidays are a splendid time for the boys to take hold and get in the crops.

Elmer Kelly and wife, F. H. Roue and wife and several others, spent Sunday with C. E. Rector and family, near Independence.

B. C. Graddy, of the Bullittsville neighborhood, while painting his barn one day last week, fell from a ladder and broke his arm.

Geo. M. Penn, President of the Farm Bureau, and County Agent W. D. Sutton, attended the Carthage, Ohio, Fair, last Thursday.

The men who think women can't be trusted to drive automobiles are usually willing to let them assume the risks of operating the oil stoves.

The folks who do not want America to do anything for foreign nations, will soon be kicking because the United States has no export trade.

The crime wave may not be caused so much by the desire for money, as by the horror felt by many people at the idea of having to work for a living.

Carroll Cropper and wife, of Idlewild neighborhood, and Kirtley Cropper, of Cincinnati, spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Cropper.

The American boy has not until recently been interested in sea-faring life, but now you can find John Barleycorn anywhere out beyond the three mile limit.

When you buy goods advertised in the Recorder you buy something that the merchant knows he can back up and at a price which he feels is worth talking about.

The country church may not have as eloquent preaching as the city temple, but its congregation is not usually breaking the speed limit over the state on Sunday morning.

If the women folks keep on as they are going, the golf club and tennis racket business is going to boom, but the outlook for the nursing bottle trade is not so hopeful.

Three years ago Kaiser Bill was to be boiled in oil or exiled to St. Helena, but the only punishment he will ever get now will be what the literary critics give to his book.

William White and family, of Williamstown, Grant county, visited James White and family, on Woolper, and C. E. White and family, in Burlington, last Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Stanley Palmer, after a week's visit with her brother, R. E. Berkshire and family, left last Saturday for Petersburg to spend a few days with her parents, B. H. Berkshire and wife.

Grant Williamson, Chas. Westbay, Herbert Kirkpatrick, James Pettit, Lloyd Weaver and Howard Kirkpatrick witnessed the ball game between Price Hill and Potter's Tramps at Musler's Park, Cincinnati, Sunday afternoon.

BETTER RURAL SCHOOLS

One reason why people do not make a success in farming or other rural occupations, is because of "lack of judgment." What is this supremely vital quality? Is it something that can be taught in schools?

Good judgment is a different thing in deciding a matter of conduct or business policy, from what it is in operating a farm or dealing in merchandise. In dealing with the physical conditions that country people must understand, good judgment seems to be the capacity to observe details thoroughly and correctly, and draw right conclusions therefrom.

The man of good judgment will look at a poorly developed field of corn, or a sickly animal, and reach correct conclusions as to what should be done to make that corn or that animal attain a better growth. His judgment is based on minute observation of small details, invisible to the careless observer. His life long habit of close observation makes him a keen student of values and an expert authority on the methods of his occupation, and assures his success in his calling.

It takes many years to develop this faculty, but the good school can help children acquire it. The old fashioned country school paid little attention to this vital principle. It sent away the world, but they were apt not to be practical, never having learned to observe and understand the details of industry and business.

The modern country school should drill its pupils on this close observation. They could be shown a plot of vegetables, for instance, and made to tell whether the same were in good condition or not, and what signs led them to reach that judgment. They should be made close students of the processes and materials of nature, and when they grow up they will make forces of nature work to their advantage.

A RAW PRODUCTS STATE.

The Kentucky Farm Bureau is right in its contention that there should be more "agricultural factories" in Kentucky; more packing plants, canneries, tobacco factories, hemp factories, woolen mills, buckwheat mills.

Kentucky, not in agriculture merely, has been too greatly a raw products State.

Just now the question in Michigan is whether Kentucky coal can be gotten quickly enough to keep Michigan factories running. Kentucky sells the coal, a raw product, and buys automobiles, finished products, "f. o. b." Detroit.

If the fuel were used in Kentucky this State would sell its natural products at better advantage. Its cities would have the benefit of the buying capacity of a large factory population in addition to the buying capacity of the men who dig the coal. The profits of manufacturing would be added to the profits of mining.

Kentucky's once vast forests, now reduced so greatly that virgin areas are few, have in inaccessible places, have yielded to the ax and saw, without the State getting the benefit that would have accrued from a large output of the finished products of wood, in addition to the lumber that has been made, sold and used within the State.

The State is rich in fire clay and sand suitable for making glass. Factories and factory population, not shipments merely, and profits to owners of land containing the raw material, should result from the exploitation of these recently discovered resources.

The variety of Kentucky's natural products and the good geographic situation of the State, its water ways and its railroads, the "feeder" mileage of which should be increased, entitle it to far more factories than it has. There should be greater conversion of its agricultural and mineral resources, and its forest products if, through continued neglect of forestry, its timber supply is not to be allowed to vanish, with the result that it will have to buy all of its timber and lumber at increasing distances and increasing prices.

The sparseness of population in Kentucky, which makes it difficult to improve roads and schools, is due not to any lack of natural resources but to its need of factories which would give the State the full benefit of its raw products.

Kentucky, the area of which is 41,000 square miles, has a little above 2,000,000 population. Pennsylvania, which is an equally square miles, has more than 7,000,000 population. Neither agriculture nor mining will to any considerable extent increase the population and simplify the problems of public improvement. Conversion of the raw products of field, forest and mine, would increase the average earning capacity of the employed Kentuckian.

The economic problem of a State is much like that of a farm. The farmer who "mines" his soil, selling the grain and other crops it produces, wastes his resources without earning a large income. The farmer whose plant is a pork-making establishment, a producer of milk, eggs, chickens, beef, farms constructively. Kentucky is also largely in the situation of the farmer who "corns" his land year after year and sells his corn.

The Kentucky Federation of Farm Bureaus discusses one phase of the State's failure to take full advantage of its natural wealth.

WASHINGTON COMMENT.

Alexander G. Bell is dead. To the world at large, it is the venerable inventor of the telephone who has passed on. To a much smaller group, it is a beloved educator, a teacher of the most difficult pupils in the world, who has left the sphere of his activities.

Dr. Bell, whose labors in science and invention brought him fame and fortune, did not cease his benefits to humanity with the invention of the telephone. Before that epoch-making invention and during all his long life, he has been a teacher of the deaf and dumb, a student of means to enable the dumb to learn to speak, and the deaf to learn to "hear," either through instruments or by lip-reading.

The whole world talks by telephone, nor gives a thought to the man whose genius made it possible. But no deaf mute learns to communicate with his fellows, no dumb person learns to speak, but pays mental tribute of grateful appreciation to the humanitarian, scientist, inventor, teacher and educator who spent his life in the amelioration of their misfortunes, and on whom rests the whole modern science of speech.

Prof. J. J. McKenzie died August 1 in Toronto, and the world loses a soldier of progress which it can ill afford to spare. Dr. McKenzie, during the war, was so impressed with the ravages of the pus-forming germs called streptococci that he devoted his life to experimenting with them, to enable medical science the better to cope with them. He became infected with the germs, and aid down his life, a martyr to humanity and the work he loved. On the grave of such as he is built the house of progress of the race. Doubtless it was of such as he that it was written "He that loatheth his life . . . shall find it."

Don't laugh at the man with the "crazy idea."

Forty-five years ago Thomas A. Edison laughed at himself, because he had a "crazy idea." But he kept on, and today in millions of homes the phonograph plays.

Less than a score of years ago Langley was laughed to death because of his "crazy idea" that man could fly. The greatest mathematician of this country, Newcomb, demonstrated "conclusively" (!) that a heavier-than-air flying machine could not fly.

The world has been laughing for a hundred years at the "crazy idea" that women could, should, or would vote.

It was a "crazy idea" that two great nations, with a boundary line between them three thousand miles long, could, by treaty, do away with armed camps, forts, soldiers, ships of war on lakes. But Canada and the United States never have any use for the soldiers and the forts displaced by a treaty.

Wireless was a "crazy idea." So was Bell's telephone, and Morse's telegraph, and Whitney's cotton gin. Many have thought Jesus Christ had "crazy ideas."

Don't laugh at the man with the idea which seems "crazy" just because it's new. If there had never been any new ideas we would still jail lunatics and debtors, burn men for witchcraft, and use pine knots for illumination. Its not so long ago since a Republic was a "crazy idea" in government.

Some day the man will be born whose "crazy idea" will end war, strikes, oppression, anarchy, crime, and fraud. He will be laughed at, as all leaders have been. But let us, you and we, be not among those who deride merely because not yet has it been given to us to understand.

A real idea of progress, of human betterment, comes from God. Don't laugh at it because you don't understand it.

Property in Fruit.

The season when orchards and gardens are ripening suggests that parents need to exercise care to see that their children do not ravage the town in their search for fruit. While this petty thieving is common, it is not necessary. It occurs mostly where children have got beyond the authority of their parents, and where the latter despair of making them do what is right.

The families where children are carefully brought up rarely are complained of because of this poaching. These children are shown that where householders have put labor and effort and money into developing fruit, it shows a mean spirit to deprive them of the results for which they have labored so faithfully. Almost any boy can be made to see that.

The children's garden movement has helped many boys understand the property owners' point of view. A kid who has worked hard to raise some vegetables, and then has seen some young marauder come in and steal his melons or his tomatoes, knows how an owner feels.

We can do any kind of battery work—no job too large or none too small, and all of it positively guaranteed or it does not cost a cent.

DEMPEY MOTOR CAR CO.

Erlanger, Ky.

Don't marry money, sister. Marry a fellow who has it.

Trade Where They All Trade

Down Goes Flour

TELEPHONE—

24½ Lb. Bag 95c. 98 Lb. Bag $3.45

ARCAD—

It takes Less Shortening.
24½ Lb. Bag $1.05. 98 Lb. Bag $3.75

KANSAS KREAM—

The Flour That Never Failed.
24½ Lb. Bag $1.10. 98 Lb. Bag $3.90

GOLDEN BLEND COFFEE—the best for 25 years, - 33c

GEE WHIZ COFFEE—a 30c-coffee - 25c

OUR BLEND TEA—a sparkling drink, lb - 60c

One dollar's worth of any Tea or Coffee sent postpaid.

GEO. C. GOODE

Groceries, Flour, Seeds, Medicines

19-21 Pike St.

18-20 West Seventh St.

WHOLESALE—"Covington's Largest Seed and Grocery House"—RETAIL

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Phones South 335 and 336.

COWS REQUIRE GRAIN AS PASTURES SHRINK.

Lexington, Ky.—A cow that weighs 1,000 pounds and produces three gallons of milk a day must have at least 100 pounds of grass each day, according to J. J. Hooper, head of the dairy department of the College of Agriculture. In view of the fact that many pastures do not furnish this much grass during the summer, some form of grain feed is necessary if the milk production of dairy cows is to be kept up.

Farmers and dairymen are apt to overlook these facts in assuming that milk producing cows can obtain enough grass to sustain them. Hot weather and flies at this time of the year in addition to the short pastures make it doubly important that the cow should be given the necessary grain feed. A fall in milk flow at this time will be hard to bring up later in the season, it was pointed out.

A good grain mixture consists of four pounds of corn meal, 2 pounds of wheat bran or shipstuf and two pounds of cottonseed meal. Enough of this mixture should be fed to keep the cows in good condition. On the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station farm, one pound of grain mixture is fed for each three and one-half pounds of milk that the cow is giving. Hay and silage are not fed as grass is counted upon to take their place. A field of Sudan grass can fill an important place in the feeding of the dairy cow at this time of the year as the crop can be cut and hauled to the cows to supplement the short pastures. If Sudan grass is not available, green corn can be cut and fed at a profit to supplement a failing grass supply.

It was pointed out that supplemental grain feeds and forage crops can be used profitably only by dairymen who have a market for whole milk at a good price. Butterfat or milk for these factories does not pay enough profits to justify the farmer in feeding grain to his cows, it was said.

The charge that several hundred federal officers have been sold to deserting Republicans in South Carolina is obviously unfounded. Every body knows there are not that many Republicans in South Carolina.

The latch string swings outward only to those who pull it in moderation.

FIRST-CLASS Shoe Repairing

Mail Orders at my Expense.
All work guaranteed. Mail your shoes to be repaired to
A. D. LAWRENCE, - - Erlanger, Ky.
57 Lexington Pike.

RECHARGE

ANY BATTERY

75c

RENTED BATTERIES FOR ANY MAKE CAR

Dempey Motor Car Co.,

Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

Dodge Brothers

ANNOUNCE

A BUSINESS COUPE

Conservative changes in the body design of all other types.

Roadster....$ 920

Coupe.....1,063

Touring Car. 955

Sedan.....1,550

Dempsey Motor Car Company

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY

Phone Erlanger, 70-L

Ready for Business.

The Farm Bureau Warehouse at Florence is now in full operation and will keep on hand all kinds of Feed, Flour, Wire Fencing, Coal, Etc.

Help Your Organization

With Your Patronage.

PALACE HOTEL

6TH AVENUE

A home hotel—comfortable, large, airy rooms. Clean and economical. A safe place for your wife or daughter.

CINCINNATI, O.

ARE YOU A READER OF THE RECORDER?

If Not Try It One year.

Only $1.50 the Year

TWENTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL EXHIBITION OF NORTH KY. FAIR

"On the Dixie Highway" Florence, Ky.,
August 30-31 & Sept. 1-2, '22

FIRST DAY---Floral Hall Exhibits; Hogs, Draft Horses, Ponies.

SECOND DAY---Holstein Cattle, Mules, Poultry, Sheep.

THIRD DAY---Jersey Cattle, Harness Horses, Lady Rider. Baby Show.

4th DAY---Combined and Saddle Horses, Fancy Turnout, Lady Driver.

MARTIN & GENETT in Comedy Acrobatic Acts.

ARTHUR & DAVIDS, Slack Wire and Juggling.

JAMES BEAN, Aerial Artists, in two great acts.

OTHER FREE ATTRACTIONS--EACH DAY.

Poultry, Vegetables, Flowers, Needlework, Fruit, Grain, Art Work Pantry Products, Etc., will Remain on Exhibition During the Fair.

General Admission 40 Cents

Children 8 to 12 years old, 25 Cents

Ten Cent Fare from Ft. Mitchell Car Line. Reduced Rates on Southern Railroad. Free Auto Parking Space.

CATALOGUE ON APPLICATION TO

HUBERT CONNER, Secretary, Burlington, Ky.

Don't Miss A Day. - - Meet Me There.

FLORENCE.

Several from here spent Saturday afternoon and evening at the Zoo. Mrs. Charles Cravens entertained several friends at dinner Sunday. Mr. Robert Houston spent Saturday and Sunday with his brother in Covington.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Aylor, of Gun powder, spent Sunday with L. P. Aylor and family.

Miss Elizabeth Dell Goodridge is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Finch at Madison, Indiana.

Mrs. Dora Cole left Saturday for her home in Columbus, Ohio, after a visit with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Norman, of Covington, were the guests of J. O. Carpenter and wife, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ellis, of Covington, were the guests of Mrs. Marshall and daughter Mildred, Sunday.

Mrs. Lewis Houston and Mrs. Russell Mitchell spent Wednesday afternoon with Miss Gertrude Meiman, at Erlanger.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Mitchell, Miss Eva Renaker and R. T. Renaker all spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives at Cynthiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Arnold and son spent from Saturday until Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Mitche'll at Philadelphia, Ohio.

Mrs. Lora Lail entertained Sunday Misses Florence and Edna Marquis, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lail and Mr. and Mrs. Corey Lail.

Dr. Wallace Tanner and daughters, Marguerite and Lucille, of St. Petersburg, Fla., are the guests of his mother, Mrs. Emma Rouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Cahill and J. G. Renaker and wife, spent Saturday night and Sunday with Lou Kroger and family, at Hamilton, Ohio.

Mrs. Jake Lohline and daughter, Stella, Misses Helen Ollier, Edna and Marie Jettors, and Helen Osborne, spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Katie Scott and daughter Lucille.

CONSTANCE.

Mrs. Wasmith is slowly improving. Mr. James Loder is the guest of Mr. Ben Hood.

Next Sunday is Bro. Omer's regular appointment. Come out and hear him.

Several from Constance attended the picnic at Harvest Home grounds Saturday night.

Mrs. John Klaserer entertained Mrs. Wilming, of Dayton, Ky., Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. W. A. Kenyon last Wednesday afternoon entertained the Missionary Society of Pt. Pleasant church.

Mrs. Popham and Miss Rose England were guests last Wednesday of Mrs. Morris Miller (nee Margaret Meyer) of Cincinnati.

Mr. Sherman Riggs, of Cala, was the guest of his uncle J. W. Riggs and Mrs. Riggs, of this village, two or three days last week.

UNION.

G. C. Barlow has a new Ford. Mr. Ludwig, of "White Haven" is spending a few days with friends in the city.

Leslie Barlow and wife entertained a number of their friends to dinner Sunday.

Miss Beatrice Huey, of Burlington, is visiting friends and relatives in this neighborhood.

J. L. Frazier, of "Elm Tree Place" entertained one evening recently with a Six o'clock dinner.

Miss Ardine Terrill, of Erlanger spent a few days the past week with her grandfather, L. B. Dickerson.

Mrs. J. B. Dickerson and children were Thursday guests of her sister, Mrs. J. R. Williams, of near Gunpowder.

PT. PLEASANT.

Come to church next Sunday morning. Services by Bro. Omer.

Mr. and Mrs. Emery Smith and son, went to Coney Island Friday afternoon.

Mrs. John Gross chaperoned a party of young people to Chester Park, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gross entertained a number of guests from Cincinnati, last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kenyon and children went to Delhi Sunday afternoon to call on relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Fon Alter, of Rushville, Indiana, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Riggs, the past week.

Mr. Geo. Kottmyer wife and son, and Keene Souther and family, spent Sunday at the Zoo, in the evening they enjoyed the Grand Opera "Mastefele."

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Riggs entertained at dinner Tuesday for Mr. and Mrs. Webb Riggs, Mr. Sherman Riggs, of California, and Mr. and Mrs. R. Fon Alter, of Rushville, Indiana.

Miss Sarah E. Tanner returned home after a pleasant week's visit among relatives in Eminence, Ky.

While there she visited the State Capital and other points of interest around Frankfort.

One of the most enjoyable trips of the summer season occurred on Sunday August 13th, when quite a number of our young and older people as well, took a motor trip to Big Bone Springs. Seven automobiles loaded with thirty-three persons and ample provisions arrived at the famous spring and grounds just at the noon hour. A bountiful dinner was spread to which every one did justice after a long invigorating and appetite building ride. Those comprising the party were Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bradford and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Carrie Robinson and children, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. McGlasson and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Jergens and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. Southern, Misses Mabel Dolwick, Edith Carder, Elinor Walton, Sarah Tanner, and Messrs. Adam Dolwick, Justin Aylor, Sherman and Silvers Riggs, Cary Robinson and a nephew of Mr. Geo. Bradford's.

Harmon Eggleston, of Sand Run, spent the week-end at his uncle's, Mr. J. S. Eggleston.

Bennie Eggleston of Burlington, spent Saturday night with his cousin, Charles Eggleston.

Misses Edith and Lula Wilson entertained the young folks with a lawn party last Saturday night.

Misses Elvora and Rhoda Eggleston attended a B. Y. P. U. meeting at Hickory Grove, last Saturday afternoon.

Tom Murray, wife and daughter, Bessie, of Sand Run, were Sunday guests of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Darby and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Eggleston and family, Lula Wilson, Bernard Lee Jones and Bennie Eggleston, of Burlington, spent Sunday with John Wilson and family, at Petersburg.

Misses Rhoda Eggleston and Lula Wilson remained for a week's visit.

RICHWOOD.

Mrs. Anna Hammond is improving very slowly.

Wm. Dobbins, of Covington, spent the week-end with D. B. Dobbins.

Miss Potter, Miss Julia Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Rice and Stanley Rice, of Latonia, spent Sunday at Meredith Conner's.

Revs. McClure and Baker closed a very successful revival at Mt. Zion M. E. church with nine converts.

Wallace Tanner and children, of St. Petersburg, Fla., spent the day the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Everett Dixon.

PETERSBURG.

W. H. Hensley is very ill. Mrs. John Bradburn is quite ill. There is a bountiful supply of grapes.

Frank Geisler is painting Mr. Snyder's residence out in the country.

R. P. Acra has been quite poorly the past week with hemorrhages.

The protracted meeting at the Methodist church closed last Sunday night.

Mrs. Josephine Baker returned to her home from Burlington Thursday of last week.

J. B. Berkshire left last Sunday for Cincinnati, where he has accepted employment.

Misses Katie and Bessie Edwards, of Aurora, spent the day last Friday with friends here.

Not a lump of coal in the yards here—looks like we will have to get the airplanes to supply us.

Berna Lonaker, who came home from the hospital last week, is now improving as well as she should.

Mrs. Oliver and Miss Henrietta Geisler, of South Norwood, were the guests of Miss Katie Geisler, the past week.

Wilson White and wife spent last Sunday in Brooksville, Ind., visiting Mrs. White's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Klopp.

Wm. Stephens from out on the Burlington and Petersburg pike, has picked and sold about 50 bushels of peaches this season.

Mrs. Bud Moreland returned home Tuesday from Booth's hospital, Covington, where she underwent a critical operation. She is doing nicely.

The Christian churches of Boone county will hold their convention here Monday and Tuesday Aug. 21st and 22nd. All members and friends are requested to be present.

Last Sunday Mrs. Sam Shinkle's friends and relatives visited her, and took with them well filled baskets to celebrate her birthday. She was presented with an invalid wheel chair and many other useful presents.

FLICKERTOWN.

Mr. Otto Rector has been selling quite a few peaches.

Mrs. Ida Roy, of Arkansas, is the guest of Mrs. B. F. Akin.

Mrs. Charles Hensley is spending a few days with relatives in Addison, Ohio.

Alice White has returned home from a week's visit in Newport with friends.

Russell Finn and family were the Sunday guests of her sister, Mrs. Mary Hodges.

Miss Jennie Whitford, of Indiana, is spending a few days with her cousin Alice White.

Mrs. J. W. White and family and Mrs. J. W. White, called on relatives in Indiana, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. W. T. White and family, Miss Kate White and Miss Roumania Lowe were Saturday night guests of J. W. White and family.

Leroy Voshell entertained the young folks with a party Friday night, serving watermelon and cantaloupes. All report a good time.

MARKETS.

Wheat $1.04.
Corn 60c.
Oats 31c.
Hay (Timothy) $31.00.
Bran at Mills $17.00.
Middlings $17.00.
Potatoes $3.00 @ $3.50 barrel.
Sweet potatoes $2.00 bushel.
Onions 5c pound.
Apples 50 @ $1.25.
Peaches Elbertas $1.00 @ $2.00.
Hogs $7.60 @ $10.25.
Steers $8.00 @ $10.00.
Cows $3.90 @ $9.00.
Feeders $5.40 @ $7.75.
Calves $10.00 @ $11.25.

Note these New Prices on U.S. Tires

ON July 29, 1922, the lowest prices ever quoted on U.S. Passenger Car Tires went into effect—Royal Cords included. These new prices should give confidence to dealers and car-owners that no lower basis of quality tire prices will prevail.

Bear in mind that these prices apply to the most complete line of quality tires in the world. Remember, too—as you read the following table—that U. S. quality has been positively maintained.

SIZES	Royal Cord	Nobby Chain	FABRIC	Usco	Plain
30 x 3 1/2	—	—	$12.55	$11.40	$9.75
30 x 3 1/4	$14.65	15.60	13.00	10.65	—
31 x 3 1/2	—	—	13.00	11.35	18.65
30 x 3 3/8	14.65	—	—	—	—
32 x 3 1/2	22.95	20.45	16.90	15.70	—
31 x 4	26.45	—	—	—	—
32 x 4	29.15	24.35	22.45	20.85	—
33 x 4	30.05	25.35	23.65	21.95	—
34 x 4	30.85	26.05	24.15	22.40	—
32 x 4 1/2	37.70	31.95	30.05	—	—
33 x 4 1/2	38.35	33.00	31.05	—	—
34 x 4 1/2	39.50	34.00	32.05	—	—
35 x 4 1/2	40.70	35.65	33.55	—	—
36 x 4 1/2	41.55	36.15	34.00	—	—
33 x 5	46.95	—	—	—	—
33 x 5	49.30	43.20	39.30	—	—
37 x 5	51.85	45.75	41.70	—	—

Federal Excise Tax on the above has been absorbed by the manufacturer

The dealer with a full line of U. S. Tires at these new prices can serve you better than you have ever been served before in the history of the automobile.

If there ever was any fancied advantage in shopping around for tires it disappeared on July 29, 1922.

Copyright U. S. Tire Co.

30 x 3 1/2
USCO
FABRIC
$10.65
30 x 3 1/2 Clincher and Straight Side
Royal Cord $14.65

United States Tires
United States Rubber Company

Where You Can Buy U. S. Tires

D. R. BLYTHE, Burlington.
Boone Co. Motor Co., Florence
R. A. BRADY, Grant

HEBRON GARAGE, Hebron
L. C. SCOTHORN, Idlewild
UNION GARAGE, Union
PETERSBURG GARAGE, Petersburg.

FOR SALE

Five room house, Burlington Park Sub-Division, lot 60x160 feet. $1,600.

75 acres, 6-room house, E. A. Gann. $3,500.

222 acres 6-room house (W. O. Rector); three miles from Burlington $10,800.

60 acres, 8 room house, Walton $7,000.

46 acres, 4-room house, Union, Ky., $5,900.

CLAUUNCH, AGENT, Erlanger, Ky., Office Main Street. OaUl 4t

FOR SALE

Farm of 26 acres at Hebron, Ky.—house, barn and outbuildings. 160 acres, 11 room house, barn and outbuildings, near Lawrenceburg Ferry. Both tracts good farm land. E. MANNING, Petersburg, Ky. OaUl 11

There is a right side and a wrong side to the coal strike, and both miners and mine owners will admit that they are on the right side.

"The Devil Can Quote Scripture"

WE CAN'T

But we will be glad to quote you Lowest Prices ON THE VERY BEST

CLOTHING

We can beat the devil himself at that. We have greatly reduced the prices on our Summer Clothing, and if you fail to look them over, you are overlooking much.

If you are looking for a Suit, a Coat and Pants, or extra Pants that you can rely on, we have them.

Selmar Wachs

605 Madison Avenue,
Covington, Kentucky

Subscribe For The Recorder.....$1.50 per year

FLORENCE THEATRE
LORENCE, KY.

Every Tues. and Sat.

THE BEST

MOVING PICTURES

Admission, 22c &amp; 10c

NONPAREIL PARK

Mrs. Cora Stephens moved Friday to Mt. Zion.

John Nead made a business trip to Silvertown, Ohio, Wednesday.

Work on Carl Anderson's new bungalow is progressing nicely.

Mrs. Mike Cahill was the guest of Elmer Cahill and family, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cahill entertained relatives from Louisville, the week-end.

Miss Minnie is spending several weeks with her mother and relatives in Bellevue, Ky.

Mrs. C. W. Myers and Mrs. Lou Thompson spent Wednesday in Cincinnati.

Charlie Carpenter and wife will move this week into their new bungalow on Union Pike.

Mrs. Chas. Chipman spent last Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Baird, of Erlanger.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Chipman spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. Grossman, of Crescent Springs.

The many friends of Miss Mildred Marshall regret to hear of her serious illness the past week.

W. L. Johnson and wife, of Kensington, spent Sunday with her brother Joe Baxter and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Betts have moved to Cincinnati for the winter.

Mr. Betts has a nice position there.

Miss Alberta Stephens, of Nonpareil Park, will attend Business College in Cincinnati, beginning Monday.

Mrs. Susie Groger and children, of Covington, spent the week-end with Cy Boyce and family, and attended the dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cahill entertained at dinner, Wednesday, J. G. Renaker and wife, R. T. Renaker and Mike Cahill and wife.

The many friends of Mrs. Joe Baxter will regret to hear she has been very ill the past week at her home on the Dixie Highway.

Miss Mary Whitson, Miss Idée Stephens, and Miss Virginia Stephens, of Devon, called on Mrs. Chas. Chipman Saturday afternoon.

Hill Johnson and family, of Covington, motored here Wednesday and called on his uncle, Joe Baxter, who is suffering with a broken hip.

Mr. and Mrs. John Nead and children motored to Silvertown, O., last Sunday and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Tryling and son.

Roy Senour and family, of Blue Ash, Ohio, was called last Monday to the bedside of Mrs. Senour's father, who is suffering with a broken hip.

Dr. Wallace J. Tanner and daughter Marguerite, of St. Petersburg, Fla., are the guests of his mother, Mrs. Emma J. Rouse, of Florence.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lucas and children motored to Pincastle, Ohio, and enjoyed a few days visit with Mrs. Lucas' uncle, Warren Thompson and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Clutterbuck and Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins, of Dayton, Ohio, motored over and spent a few days last week with Chas. Chipman and family.

Dr. T. B. Castleman and wife, and Stanley Lucas and wife, of Florence have returned from a pleasant trip to Niagara Falls and other points of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Wilhoit entertained with a dinner Sunday. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Claud Caldwell and son, of Covington, and Garnett H. Stephens and son, of Erlanger.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Chipman entertained Friday evening at their home on Dixie Highway, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin and children, of Dayton, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. Gross and children, of Crescent Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baxter of the Dixie Highway, had for their guests Sunday W. L. Johnson and wife, of Kensington, Emmett Baxter and family, of Reading, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Lucas, of Erlanger, and Linnie Johnson and wife.

BIG DANCE

At Nonpareil Park

Saturday, Aug. 19

On Dixie Highway

Between Florence and Erlanger

GOOD MUSIC

Come One, Come All

J. P. BOYCE, Prop.

RABBIT HASH.

(Too Late for Last Week.)

R. M. Wilson is on the sick list. S. B. Ryle made a trip to Lexington, last week.

Merritt Sullivan visited at H. M. Clore's Friday.

Raymond and Paul Acra spent last Sunday at home.

Miss Mary Wilson, of Carrollton, is visiting friends here.

Joe Stephens and wife visited W. D. Kelly and family, Friday.

Louis Merrick and family spent Sunday at Mr. Noah West's.

Several of the boys from here are working on the dam at McVillie.

Glad to hear Mrs. Mayme Stephens is home again, and doing nicely.

Morris Rice, Robt. H. Wilson and Everett Clore, each have a new Ford.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scott entertained friends from Newport, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Riggs and son, of Indianapolis, are visiting relatives here.

The Missionary Society met with Mrs. Emma Stephens and daughter, Thursday.

Several from here attended the funeral of Mrs. Hade Stephens last Tuesday at Big Bone.

Mrs. Lena Wingate was called to see her sister, Mrs. John MacE Hodges, who is ill.

Frank Green, Ben Bob Stephens and Albert Clore, each gave their residence a coat of paint recently.

Lower Gunpowder

On August 13th thirty-six friends and relatives gathered at the home of Wm. Shinkle of Lower Gunpowder, the occasion being Mr. Shinkle's 70th birthday.

All came with well filled baskets and a happy day was enjoyed by every one.

All left at a late hour wishing "Uncle Bill" many more happy birthdays. The following were present:

Samuel Hubbard and family.

Hillard Hubbard, of Muncie, Ind. L. O. Hubbard and wife.

Leonard Hubbard and family.

Mrs. Gater Hendricks and children.

John Dickerson and family.

Manley Ryle and family.

Mr. J. R. Williams and son.

Boone Williamson and wife.

Blanche Williamson and brother.

Charles Cantwell.

John L. Rich.

James Stanley Smith.

Omair Shinkle.

Miss Fannie Florence Smith, of Burlington, R. D. has been visiting.

Miss Iva Reeb Seebree.

Mrs. Kate Huey, wife of R. L. Huey, died at her home near here August 10th.

Wednesday of last week with Marcus Ryle.

GUNPOWDER

Mr. and Mrs. Shelly Aylor entertained several of their friends at dinner last Sunday.

Miss Anna Rowe, of Covington, was the guest of Mrs. W. P. Utz, a few days last week.

B. C. Surafec visited at Richmond last Sunday, and was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Dixon.

F. A. Rouse and family broke bread with his brother, M. F. Rouse and Mrs. Rouse, last Sunday.

H. F. Utz wife and daughter spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Allen in the Pt. Pleasant neighborhood.

Floyd Kerna, who underwent a surgical operation at a hospital last week, died last Sunday. His remains were taken to Mt. Sterling, his former home last Monday for interment.

Henry L. Tanner is an advocate of good roads, and while it is not convenient for him to move his residence to the pike, he is moving the pike to his residence, by having gravel put on the road leading from his residence to the pike.

We had occasion to call on Mr. Kinsie a few days since. He is engaged in the poultry business very extensively. He has about seven hundred chickens, some of which are very valuable. His equipment is all modern and up-to-date, has one incubator twelve hundred capacity, besides some other smaller ones.

FRANCESVILLE.

Don't forget preaching next Sunday morning and evening.

Miss Virginia Venn, of Lockland, is the guest of her cousin, Miss Laura Katherine Evans.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Wilson spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson, near Cleves.

Mr. R. L. Day and son, Howard Ryle, visited Sunday. Burial at Big Bone, near Bullittsville, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Eggleston spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Eggleston, at Addyston.

Miss Beulah Roberts, of Erlanger, was here several days last week visiting her aunts Mrs. Will Reitmanner and Mrs. Harry Kilgour.

Miss Mary Barnes spent Saturday night and Sunday with Miss Alice Eggleston. Miss Emma Kilgour accompanied her home for a short visit.

Don't forget B. Y. P. U. attended the District meeting of the North Kentucky Union at Hickory Grove, Saturday afternoon and brought home the attendance banner.

Stop in and let a real Battery Specialist examine your battery. This service is free.

DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO., Erlanger, Ky.

BASE BALL.

The Big Bone ball team came up last Saturday and got "it where the chicken got the ax," to the tune of 7 to 3. Manager Kirk's aggregation with "Pap" Brady on the mound, put up a classy article of ball, and were never in danger. Big Bone used two twirlers—Black and Hamilton, had the latter been put in at the start the game might have had a different tinge. It was one of the nicest games played on the campus this season—not a kick being made throughout the entire game. The Big Bone boys are gentlemanly players. Ben Black and Jas. Houston did the umpiring act.

A picked nine from Ludlow composed of players from some of the fast amateur teams of Northern Kentucky and Cincinnati, visited Hebron Saturday and gave the local team a very close and exciting contest. The visitors started the run making in the first inning when Murphy reached first on an error, went to second on Helliubush's single shot third and scored on the catch. He then threw trying to catch him at third, they scored again in the 4th on Helliubush's double, a passed ball and a wild pitch, and scored another run in the 5th.

First on an error, shot second and went home when the catcher pegged the ball to Bullittsville in an attempt to throw him out at second. The home team scored two runs in the sixth on Morehead's three bagger, Aylor reaching first on a fielder's choice and Riley's three base hit. With the score three to two in the last half of the ninth the home team put over two runs on A. Walton's single, "Doc" Goodridge's three bagger and a successful squeeze play pulled off by H. Walton and Goodridge.

Innings 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9—T
Ludlow 1 0 0 1 0 1 0 0 0—3
Hebron 0 0 0 0 2 0 0 2 4—6
Two base hit—Helliubush; three base hits Morehead, Riley, Goodridge.
Base hits of A. Meyers 7; of H. Walton 7. Struck out by Meyers 6; by Walton 7; bases on balls or Meyers 0; hit batman by Meyers 1; passed ball Graves; wild pitch by Walton 1.

By defeating Aurora last Sunday, Tylorsport took second place in the "Down-the-River" League. Next Sunday they play Delhi at Delhi—they are the last game of the series, and Tylorsport has to win in order to hold her position. Don't forget to see this game as it will be a battle royal.

HEBRON.

Mr. Elijah Tanner continues very ill.

Hubert Conner is having a large addition to his residence.

O. C. Haffer is building an addition to his residence.

Mrs. Alice Beall has been seriously ill since last week.

Elmer Beall, of Hamilton, O., was called here to the bedside of his mother, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Anderson entertained several relatives with a birthday dinner last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Dwyer spent Saturday and Sunday with her sister and husband near Waterloo.

Ed. Baker and family had as guests last Sunday Lester Aylor wife and son, Wm. England wife and son, Frank Aylor and wife, Mrs. J. S. Lodge and daughter, Mrs. Mose Aylor and Mrs. J. H. Baker.

BIG BONE.

John Binder, Sr. has a new Dodge.

Elizabeth Pitcher made a business trip to the city, Friday.

J. D. Moore, Jr., made a business trip to the city, Friday.

Mrs. Sallie Hughes visited relatives near Rabbit Hash, Sunday.

Geo. Houston and family, of Latonia, were at the Springs Sunday.

A Big Bone ball team journeyed to Burlington Saturday and was defeated 1 to 3.

Lute Abdon wife and grandchildren, visited Loran Abdon and family, near Richmond, Saturday, and Sunday.

Melvin Moore, wife and son Melvin, Jr., from near Landing, were guests of Louis Ryle and wife, last Sunday.

W. L. H. Baker, wife and daughter Williametta, and Stewart, left last week for Detroit, Michigan, for a two week's trip.

Mrs. R. L. Huey died at her home August 10th. She leaves a husband and five daughters and a host of relatives and friends. Burial at Big Bone. C. Scott Chambers had charge of the funeral.

Senator McKinley says the government could make a big profit operating the Muscle Shoals project. Yet something like the big profit it made operating the railroads.

Pressing a button ejects a single cigarette from a new pocket case.

RECHARGE ANY BATTERY

75c

RENTED BATTERIES FOR ANY MAKE CAR

Dempsey Motor Car Co., Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

WORN SOILS TO GET NEW LIFE FROM COVER CROPS.

Lexington, Ky.—New life will be put into worn soils on hundreds of Kentucky farms in the near future through the use of winter cover crops which will be seeded this fall and turned under in the spring for purpose of adding humus to the land, according to R. E. Stephenson, soils extension specialist of the College of Agriculture. Rye will be the principal crop used for this purpose, many farmers having made arrangements to sow the seed as soon as their tobacco, soybeans, cow peas or corn are harvested. Farmers who turn these cover crops under in the spring for green manure will obtain a number of benefits through the addition of humus which is the greatest single need of badly worn soils, he added.

"Exhausted soils do not contain the bacteria that live and multiply in the presence of humus and add 'life' to fertile soils," Mr. Stephenson pointed out in explaining how the depleted soils of the state would be benefited by cover crops that are turned under. "These bacteria cause manure and crop residues to decay and give up the elements that contribute toward crop growth. In addition, this process also adds mineral portions of the soil more available."

Humus also performs an important service in improving the physical condition of the soil. Soils that are rich in humus are mellow and friable and till easily while the humus also absorbs rainfall and holds it until times of drought. On the other hand, this same material promotes good drainage during times of surplus water.

"Perhaps the greatest value of humus comes from the plant food it contains. Coming as it does from the apical decay of plant and animal products, it contains the elements such as nitrogen, lime, phosphorus and potassium that are necessary before heavy yields can be obtained."

Newberry Wins Title as "Pride of the Profiteers."

Senator Newberry (Rep., Mich.) whose election to the Senate cost something like $200,000, is proving that it is worth vastly more than that to the profiteers who are pushing and pulling for the passage of the Fordney-McCumber tariff bill. Several Republican Senators, either through fear or fairness, have voted against some of the rates of the bill, but Mr. Newberry has never deviated from the big interests.

Just as an example of Senator Newberry's usefulness to special privilege may be cited his record in forty-nine ballots. He voted for the high rates of the bill forty-seven out of the forty-nine times—and never once for a reduction. On two ballots he was grouped with those Senators "not voting."

In every instance of these forty-nine the opponents of the exorbitant duties imposed by the bill were seeking to have them lowered. Even some "standpatters" registered themselves once in a while against the iniquities of the measure—but Mr. Newberry not once in these tests between the friends of the people and the supporters of the "Big Cinch."

Senator Newberry is worthily the pride of the profiteers.

We have rented Batteries that will fit any car, while we are recharging or repairing your battery.

DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO., Erlanger, Ky.

A number of citizens of Hathaway neighborhood filed a petition in the county court asking that the county road down Riddell's Run from Hathaway be changed. They say that the road now follows the creek and can not be kept in condition for travel. The court appointed T. J. Jump and Glen Crisler who with the county surveyor, Jno. W. Conley and Road Engineer O. R. Porter, will go over the proposed change and if necessary locate the route for the change.

NOTICE.

There will be a meeting of the Beef Club held at Commissary Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. All members are requested to be present.

ED. BERKSHIRE

Pressing a button ejects a single cigarette from a new pocket case.

DANCING

—AT—

ERLANGER FAIR GROUNDS

Every Evening During The Fair.

5c-A Dance-5c

MUSIC BY

Murphy's Jazz Band.

THE HOME RADIO

How to Make and Use It By A. HYATT VERRILL

Copyright by Harper &amp; Brothers

XI. CONDENSERS

These appliances are a most important part of a wireless set, as without them the oscillations, even if detected by the instruments, would be very weak and faint. They are divided broadly into two classes known as Fixed Condensers and Variable Condensers, the former being the simplest, and the latter the most efficient, for while a fixed condenser is always of one capacity and can only be increased or decreased by adding to or subtracting from the number of sheets, the variable type may be altered or adjusted at will by a knob or handle, thus tuning or adjusting the receiving circuit exactly as a tuning fork is adjusted, but much more delicately, as the adjustment of a tuning coil consists in shortening the length of coil by jumping connections from one turn of wire to another to alter wave lengths, whereas, the condenser adjustment is slow, even and accurate.

To make a fixed condenser it is only necessary to lay sheets of tin-foil between sheets of waxed paper and connect them.

A very efficient little form, one known as the sliding plate, Fig. 28, the consists of a number of metal plates, which slide back and forth in a frame, case or box provided with grooves and fixed plates. The rotary type consists of a number of semicircular plates of metal so arranged as to rotate or swing upon a series of fixed discs. In each form the air spaces between the plates correspond to the waxed paper between the strips of foil on the fixed condensers. By means of either of these two variable forms, fine adjustment of capacity may be obtained. Many people cannot understand the function of a condenser, but, broadly speaking, it is to store up electrical energy and then suddenly release it, as the current passing through is interrupted, varied or broken, or, in other words, to increase the oscillations.

Although most small sets will operate with a fixed condenser and a variable one is not necessary, yet the variable type will always improve the receiver and will permit much finer tuning than a tuning coil of any type by itself.

See-ree-ale-ya

SWEETS

It Pays

To Please Your Cows

The best feed in the world won't produce milk if your cows turn their nose away from it. Cows munch the last morsel of Ce-re-a-lia Sweets, not because of its "high protein" or its "guaranteed analysis", but because it tastes good. We could make up a list with exactly the same percentages of protein, carbohydrates and fat, but it wouldn't be as good. Ce-re-a-lia won't hurt or make a cow fat. It's a healthy, delicious, nutritious feed. Ce-re-a-lia Sweets along with it. Use the usual measure.

Four Weeks' Trial At Our Risk

Feed one cow four weeks on Ce-re-a-lia Sweets and make a note of these two points: First, that you will get more milk, or better milk. Second, that your actual profit will be greater. If Ce-re-a-lia costs more than you're paying now, the improvement in flow of milk more than makes it up. Money back if either test fails. Ask us for details.

EARLY & DANIEL

Erlanger, Ky.—Phone Erlanger 81
Covington, Ky.—Phone South 18
Carew Bldg. Cincinnati, O.—Phone Main 602

ARE YOU A READER OF THE RECORDER?

Try it---Only $1.50 The Year.

Don't Fail to Read All The Ads In This Issue.

LEGION NOTES

New Orleans—"Meet me on the levee," will be the slogan of thousands of American Legion members who come to the Legion national convention in New Orleans next October. For the Legion convention sessions will be held on the banks of the Mississippi river.

A large covered pier—nearly one thousand feet long and 400 feet wide—astride the levee and parallel to the Father of Waters will be the scene of national convention deliberations. The pier is located in the downtown district—just two blocks from Canal street, the main thoroughfare.

On the river side the pier floor is two feet lower than on the opposite side, and the intervening incline on which row upon row of chairs will be placed will afford every person a direct view of the speakers' rostrum.

New Orleans will be able to seat 14,000 delegates and visitors in the mammoth structure. One half of the vast floor space will be devoted to the convention proper, the other half separated by a partition, to telephone and telegraph booths, committee rooms, lunch and rest rooms, offices and concession booths. The stage will seat fifty persons. Immediately in front of the stage will be the press tables, to seat 150 newspaper correspondents.

To minimize the danger of fire, Chief Evans of the New Orleans fire department will station a chemical engine at each end of the pier and will scatter scores of fire extinguishers throughout the assembly space. The flooring is of wood block, set closely together, so as to reduce the danger from burning cigarette or cigar stubs. Special fire insurance will be carried on the warehouse during the convention.

The interior of the building will be elaborately decorated with the flags of all Allied powers and with Legion emblems and banners. A touch of New Orleans atmosphere will be brought to the delegates by the placing in convention hall of palm trees and miniature live oaks, hung with the moss which flourishes only in Louisiana.

Streets leading to convention hall will be illuminated by thousands of electric bulbs. The convention committee estimates there will be space for the parking of 5,000 automobiles at one time, near the building.

Eureka, Cal.—John Griffith Wray motion picture director, and his staff, arrived here today in search of "location" and "atmosphere" for the American Legion's first big picture production. It is planned to use Legionnaires and members of the Auxiliary in several of the scenes which are to be "shot" here and at Klamath Falls, Oregon.

The tentative title of the picture is "BLOOD BOND." The permanent title will be obtained through a title contest to be conducted by the American Legion Weekly. Cash prizes will be awarded to the winning contestants.

"Blood Bond" was written by C. Gardner Sullivan, the chief of the local scenario staff. It is a thrilling story, with an underlying appeal for good citizenship.

It is planned to release "Blood Bond" to the theater-going public after its premier at the National Convention at New Orleans.

Alligator's galore, the kind that are used for watchdogs, will be among the interesting exhibits from Florida that will help entertain the thousands who visit New Orleans for the national convention of the American Legion Oct. 16 to 20 inclusive. There also will be a carload of peanuts, a carload of grape fruit, 50,000 cigars, a carload of pecans, and another of mineral products, and they will be offered free to visitors by fifteen Florida young women.

It was only three years ago that brief announcement came out of Paris of the organization of the International Des Anciens Combattants—International Veterans Federation.

And the casual reader wonders what new sort of alliance those former fighting men, brothers of a common cause, had formed among them. Little was said of objectives, of purposes. Men imbued with a passion for service, and holding a vision were venturing upon an experiment. But that was three years ago. Now as final arrangements are being made for the third international conference of the organization, to be held just before and in conjunction with the fourth national convention of the American Legion in New Orleans, F-I-D-A-C, success attained the promise of the future even brighter than the most sanguine had hoped for in 1920, is ready and eager to "tell the world." Down at New Orleans delegates from eight or more of the principal allied powers will gather for the convention. They will meet as representatives of their respective organizations of World War Veterans.

And to their leaders of affairs in the respective countries look for the writing of a new chapter in the history of world peace. The fighting men of many lands, who wage war as brothers-in-arms, work now toward bringing the peoples of the world into closer bonds of understanding, of sympathy, of effort in restoring for all time international amity. And at New Orleans, it is expected will be born new and greater plans for the attainment of that object.

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

A MULE KICKED ME SO
HAHD TOTHER DAY.
DOCTUH SAY AH LOS'
MAH CONSCIENCE BUT
JEDGIN' FUM DE BILL HE SOMY ME, DAT MULE
MUS' ER DONE KICK HIM TOO!

The American Legion Department of Kentucky will hold its annual state convention at Glasgow, Ky., August 28, 29 and 30, 1922.

An added and attractive feature is a memorial to be held at Mammoth Cave, August 30th. Representatives of national reputation, from all parts of the United States, will be present and take part in this service. Among those invited, many of whom have accepted the invitation are President Harding, General Pershing, Governor Morrow, and United States Senators and Representatives—the National Commander and National Adjutant of the American Legion, and many others of national importance. The desire prevails to make the memorial service a national, as well as a state affair, and, with this end in view, the residents of the hospitable city of Glasgow, Ky., supplemented by the management of Mammoth Cave, (one of the world's wonders), will unite with the people of Kentucky in making this an occasion upon which to pay homage and special tribute to those heroes who demonstrated the superior patriotism of the American soldier, who, as developed by the world war, is an everlasting monument to the valor, chivalry and patriotism of the true American.

There is now left, naught but memories of those heroes, who suffered and died, and the great lesson of patriotism will thus remain, for future generations, until the curtain of life's drama is drawn for time and eternity. Until then, we may look to Mammoth Cave and its memorial, as one among the many Meccas, toward which, all Americans should turn for patriotic inspiration. Let it be remembered and impressed upon all, that accommodations and hospitable entertainment for all, while at Glasgow and Mammoth Cave, will be all that could be desired. No city or country in this state can boast of more cordial and patriotic people than Glasgow and Barren county, Ky., and you will never regret your visit. Come, Legionnaires, you will be thrice welcome.

Reduced round-trip rates have been authorized by the Southeastern Passenger Association from all points in Kentucky, also Cincinnati, Ohio, and Jellico, Tenn., for the Convention at Glasgow, Ky., on the round-trip identification plan. Legionnaires will please secure certificates from the Adjutants of their Posts, and these should be presented to railroad ticket Agents, who will sell them round-trip tickets at one and one-half fare—dates of sale, Aug. 24th to 30th, inclusive; validation dates at Glasgow, Aug. 28th to Sept. 5th; final limit Sept. 5th, 1922.

Resolutions of Respect.
Whereas, It has pleased God in His infinite wisdom to remove from us, our Brother, Chas. Maurer.
Be it resolved, That our Lodge (Bellevue Lodge No. 544 F. & A. M.) acknowledge the worth of this member who has lost, and bear in memory his faithful love and honor in all his walks of life.

Be it resolved, That in his passing we recognize the loss of a brother whose pledge was sacred, a citizen whose influence was far reaching, a husband whose home was his shrine, and a father for whom reverence will remain.

Be it resolved, That we extend to the bereaved wife and six young sons our heartfelt sympathy and prayer that God may comfort them in their sorrow.

Be it resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family, a copy to the Boone County Recorder, and a copy recorded as a memorial in our Lodge.

J. C. Kelly,
S. S. Smith,
Committee.

Louisville, Ky.—Compilation of figures just completed shows that pneumonia and tuberculosis, two of the diseases which formerly were responsible for the most deaths in Kentucky, had fewer victims in 1921 than in any year since the establishment of the State Board of Health's Bureau of Vital Statistics.

Any female can powder her nose, but it requires real brains to cook a good meal.

STUCCO BUNGALOW IS GLASSY HOME

Five-Room Residence Adapted to Narrow Building Lots.

MODERN IN EVERY RESPECT

Popularity of the Bungalow Attributed Largely to the Ease With Which It Lends Itself to Artistic Effects.

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD
Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF CHARGE on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 1827 Prairie avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only include two-cent stamp for reply.

The bungalow type of home appeals to many home builders, especially those who build in cities and suburbs. This is because the man with small capital does not have to invest in a large lot to accommodate the bungalow, and less capital is invested in the home. In reality the average bungalow is nothing more nor less than the first floor of an apartment building—the room arrangement usually is about the same as in an apartment, there rarely is more than six rooms and usually five in such a home.

What probably makes the bungalow popular is the artistic effects that may be gained in exterior appearance and the convenience to the housewife of having all the rooms on one floor so that the housework can be done more easily. The interior is arranged so that the living and dining rooms and kitchen are in one unit and the bedrooms in another.

For the exterior walls of the bungalow stucco is most popular. It may be applied over metal lath, expanded metal, wood lath or any of the stucco bases that are on the market. Metal lath is fire-safe and will not expand or contract with moisture, so that there is little danger of the walls cracking, providing, of course, it is applied by a skilled workman in this material.

The stucco bungalow shown in the illustration is a good example of this type of home design. The building itself is only 22 feet wide, which makes it ideal for the narrow city lot. The foundation walls form a rectangle and are straight with the one exception of the jog for the bay window in the kitchen. This makes for economy in construction costs.

The simplicity of the treatment of the outside walls and the straight lines of the roof and plan make this bungalow attractive in exterior appearance. The overhang of the hip-roof and the dormer at the front help in this simple scheme of design. Another good feature is the wide porch, 22 feet long, with the high walls giving it the advantage of semi-seclusion.

The arrangement of the rooms and their uses are shown by the floor plan that accompanies the exterior view. The living room, which is exceptionally large—12 by 22 feet—extends across the whole front of the house. At one end is an open fireplace, located so that it may be seen through the double-cased opening that connects the living room with the dining room. Four windows opening onto the porch and a double window at the end make this a light, cheery and easily ventilated room.

Directly back of the living room at one side are the dining room, 11 by 14 feet, and the kitchen. A series of four windows light and ventilate the dining room, while the bay projection in the kitchen gives a well-lighted space for the sink and work table and wall cases for kitchen utensils and dishes. Back of the kitchen is a vestibule and further back is a rear porch, which is as large as an ordinary bedroom. By screening this porch it makes a comfortable, secluded sitting room in summer.

The two bedrooms are toward the back and are reached through the dining room. One bedroom, toward the front of the house, is 10 by 12 feet, while the other, at the corner is 11 feet 6 inches by 18 feet. The bathroom is between a convenient location.

The size of the house, 22 by 50 feet, gives opportunity for a large basement for the heating plant, fuel storage and other storage rooms.

This is an excellent bungalow design, whether the exterior walls be of stucco or brick or of frame. The rooms are arranged and conveniently placed, and the appearance of the house is all that can be desired.

DADDY FISH PROTECTS YOUNG

Funny Father Provided by Nature With "Safety Pouch" to Which They Can Retreat.

The majority of fish are very bad parents. London Tit-Bits asserts. Once their eggs are laid they leave them to look after themselves, taking no interest at all in the babies that hatch out from them.

There are, however, fish which show parental affection, but, curiously enough, it is usually father who, so to speak, pushes the baby carriage, whilst mamma has a good time.

One of the best of the funny tribe is the pipe fish, a little eel-like creature with a long snout. He is often to be found in weedy pools, and has developed a pouch just like that of the kangaroo, in which he keeps his numerous family safe from all dangers whilst they are too small to look after themselves. In a quiet pool the little creatures, each half an inch or so in length, and no thicker than a fine needle, venture out to have a look at the world. The father fish remains near them, keeping an eye on their doings and seeing that they do not stray too far. Immediately an enemy appears he gives warning, and the whole family scuttles back into the pouch.

If You Have Tears.
They were not fair and they were very fat, and they probably were near forty, the two talkative persons who sat in front of the Woman at the Saturday matinee. And though their costumes of dark material and their black satin hats were neat and up to the minute, their conversation was a rambling, old-fashioned affair of household talk, accounts of bargains and details about other plays they had seen.

It was just before the curtain rose on the second act that the fattest talker said:
"I felt so sentimental yesterday. And I was home all alone. And I knew I wouldn't be happy until I met you. But I just couldn't cry. So I went in to the kitchen and peeled onions, and I cried and cried and cried, and I felt much better and not a bit sentimental any more."—Chicago Journal.

Predicts Aerial Fire Fighting.
John Kenon, chief of the New York fire department, thinks the future will substitute roofs of skyscrapers for the present firehouses upon the ground. Here in the branches of the forest of concrete and iron will be stored the fire-fighting apparatus, which will be fired where needed. He is sure that by that time chemists will have discovered a gas harmless to life but destructive to fire. He also visualizes a radio alarm system installed on every building, which will automatically act upon an alarm of fire and "call out the gas" without human assistance. —Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Views Differ on Meridians.
The meridian of Greenwich is generally accepted as the starting line from which to reckon longitude and time all over the earth. But objections are from time to time raised against the universal adoption of the Greenwich meridian for such purposes. Recently Italian savants have emphasized these objections by pointing out that on the meridian of Greenwich clouds and bad weather are frequent, interfering with astronomical observations. They suggest that the civilized world should agree to adopt the meridian of Jerusalem as a common reference line, because there the skies are clearer.

HEBRON THEATRE-- Next Saturday
CHARLES RAY IN
"45 Minutes from Broadway"
Comedy
"The Toonerville Fire Brigade"
Admission 22 Cents, Children 10 Cents
War Tax Included

HELP AND COMFORT
at the house of mourning, begin when the final word is spoken, and the last loving ministry in life gives place to the proper care and preparation for the burial.
To the grief-stricken it is a great comfort if they can be sure that their beloved ones, during the intervening hours, will be in safe hands, treated with respect and tenderness and prepared according to latest approved methods for their final resting place.
Then, too, it is often appreciated, when from experience one knows that an undertaker is able and willing to aid by suggestion of casket, trimmings and furnishings in one harmonious whole.
It is our aim to make our service complete in every detail.
PHILIP TALIAFERRO,
Undertaker and Embalmer
Erlanger, Ky.

The Best Advertisement
IS A PLEASED CUSTOMER
Spectacles and Eyeglasses that Fit the face and Fit the sight the kind we sell.
Phone 40th 1746
WITH NOTCH, Jeweler.
DR. N. F. PENN, 613 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

Efficient, Service and Economy
IS MY SLOGAN
C. SCOTT CHAMBERS
Embalmer and Funeral Director
WALTON, KENTUCKY.

WE WANT EVERY MAN
in Boone and Kenton Counties
That has a farm large or small, or House and Lot to sell to list it with us and we will advertise and find a buyer if there is any.
The Wisenberger Real Estate Co.
BEN Phone South 8008 JOHN
515 Coppin Bldg. COVINGTON, KY.

Printed Stationery
for business people.
for professional people.
for farmers.
for every one who wants to be considered up to date and going strong
ENVELOPES, LETTERHEADS, NOTEHEADS, STATEMENTS.

Willard Batteries Notice to Shippers.
Having now two trucks—a one and a two ton, I am prepared to do your hauling, large or small. Quick and efficient service.
Your Business Solicited.
W. M. Rachal, Jr.
Union, Kentucky.

Willard Batteries
AT A NEW PRICE
Ford Size ..... $15.00
Chevrolet ..... 15.00
Overland ..... 15.00
Chrysler ..... 19.10
Buick ..... 18.00
Maxwell 6-volts ..... 24.55
Maxwell 12-volts ..... 24.55
Dodge ..... 24.55
Weddle Battery Co.,
Aurora, Indiana.
REPRESENTING
Willard Batteries.
July 18-17
AS THE EDITOR SEES IT
DO YOU TAKE THE RECORDER?
Try It One Year. You'll Like It.
Read Our Advertisements and Profit by Them.

$100 FOR PRETTIEST GIRL

In Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky
Between The Ages of 16
30 Eligible.

Special Dispatch to Recorder—

Covington, Ky., August 14.—The prettiest girl in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky will be asked to be Queen of the Tri-State Tobacco Fair and Fall Festival, which will be held in Covington, October 21 to Nov. 4th. The search for the prettiest girl is to be started at once, on orders of the Executive Committee of the Festival.

Girls anywhere within the three states, between the ages of 16 and 30 are eligible to try for the honor. They are asked to send their names and their photographs to Mayor Thomas F. Donnelly, of Covington, who is chairman of the committee which will select the Queen.

A cash prize of $100 will go with the honor. The photographs received will be placed in the hands of a committee of distinguished artists, who will select the twenty girls who appear the prettiest according to their pictures. These girls will be invited to come to Cincinnati, where the final selection will be paid by the executive committee. The girls' expenses on the trip will be paid by the executive committee. In addition to the Queen's prize, there will be consolation prizes for the other nineteen girls.

Plans for the coming Festival are shaping themselves rapidly. W. F. Whiteman, chairman of the Executive Committee, announced that the aim of the Festival is to draw one million people. The numerous features being arranged give assurance that Mr. Whiteman may have a chance of realizing his ambition. "Hawaii Nights" is a gorgeous pyro-spectacle, embodying a romantic story has been booked as one of the big free attractions of the coming Festival. George E. Fern, acting on behalf of the Committee, found it to be the big hit of the Pageant of Progress Exposition in Chicago, and therefore arranged to bring it to the Tri-State Fall Festival.

More than 200 commercial exhibits are already assured for the affair, according to Will H. Myers, Managing Director.

A LETTER.

The Boone County Deposit Bank received the following from the Banking Commissioner one day last week:

Frankfort, Ky., August 14, 1922.
Boone County Deposit Bank,
Burlington, Ky.,

Dear Sirs: After a careful examination of your last report and that of our Examiner, we find no complaint to make as to the management and condition of your bank; hence, we have marked the management and condition of your bank for the first half of 1922 EXCELLENT.

In the near future, we contemplate inaugurating a complete system of grading banks and we trust that you will be able to maintain your high standard under our new plan.

Yours Truly,
JAMES P. LEWIS,
Banking Commissioner.

Business Ventures.

The explorer who does seemingly venturesome things is not necessarily familiar with the ways of the wilderness and he knows how far he can go.

Similarly the business man who makes what some would consider bold ventures. He goes into the market and buys some big stock of goods at a sacrifice. His competitors may say he can never sell them. But if this man has tested out well the power of advertising, he may know perfectly that these goods will sell.

Advertising gives a merchant confidence to go ahead with such ventures. If the sale is bona fide, if a lot of substantial stuff is being sold for a low price, people can be induced to buy without difficulty if the sale is well advertised. A store might easily augment its sales ten times in some department, by offering such a real opportunity backed by good advertising. The enterprising merchant comes to depend on the power of publicity to back up these ventures.

Trade-mark For Fresh Eggs.

A small trade-mark sticker is now put on all eggs sold by members of the North Haledon Leghorn Club in Passaic County, N. J. This organization was formed as a result of a meeting of poultrymen of the community with the agricultural extension agent to discuss the development of the poultry industry in that section. Each member pays 2 cents per bird owned, 8,000 birds being pledged at the first meeting of the club. All members use the trade-mark and guarantee eggs sold under it.

The Public's Right.

For many years the two parties in the industrial field have battled and struggled and wasted their own energy and power in conflicts over wages and working conditions. Meanwhile both these parties are more or less inclined to deny and ignore the right of the public to be heard in these matters.

The laws and institutions of society are all created for the protection of the public. Men own coal mines and railroads, and they work for corporations owning the same, so that the public can be served. When they get to thinking exclusively of their own interest and forget that they must serve the public efficiently and well, they are likely to get into trouble.

The business and prosperity of the country is now menaced and gravely disturbed by the terrible quarrels in the coal and railroad industries. The public has a right to continuous service in those industries so vital to its health and welfare. If it is not listened to, some one will get hit, and when the public hits, it hits hard.

MARKETING KEY TO FARM PROFIT

"Something Is Wrong When 60 Per Cent of Farmers Live On Mortgaged Lands," Is Assertion.

Campbellsville, Ky.—Congressman J. Campbell Cantrell, in an address to a large crowd of farmers and tobacco growers of Taylor and adjoining counties, declared that "something is wrong when 60 per cent of the farmers of the United States live on mortgaged farms," expressed the opinion that agricultural conditions in the United States in the past few years were due to a defective system of marketing, and that the only remedy for these conditions lies in co-operative marketing of farm products.

"Here in Kentucky," said Mr. Cantrell, "we grow half the tobacco produced in the United States. Our climate and soil are ideal for tobacco production. Our tobacco growers are experts in that work, but they have been receiving less than it cost them to grow their tobacco because with all their expert knowledge of tobacco growing, they know nothing of marketing."

Mr. Cantrell said the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association had adopted the method of the great manufacturing corporations and that it now is selling the growers' product just as these big manufacturing concerns are selling theirs.

Growers in Competition.

In the old days, he said, before the successful organization of the growers into a compact body, there were practically one buyer of tobacco while there were 60,000 to 75,000 sellers. Naturally, he said, the tobacco of all the farmers was in competition with that of all other farmers, with the inevitable result that prices, except during the years of the World War or other extraordinary times, barely returned the cost of production and in some years as in 1920, for instance, failed to realize cost of production.

AGREEABLY SURPRISED

By About 150 of His Friends at his Home Last Thursday Night, It Being His Twenty-first Birthday.

Stanley, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Easton, who resides on the Petersburg and Burlington pike, was kidnapped by a couple of his young friends last Thursday evening, and after being held in captivity for about two hours, he was released and upon returning to his home found about 150 of his young friends had gathered at his home to celebrate his twenty-first birthday. To say that he was surprised does not express it—it was the surprise of his life—he was so overjoyed that his mouth was closed tight, but his face was covered with a smile and grin that told of his appreciation of the kindness of his many young friends, who were present from far and near. The large crowd was served with cake and lemonade, and it was about two o'clock when all left for their homes, wishing him many more happy birthdays. He was the recipient of many nice and useful presents. It will be a hard job to kidnap Stanley on another like occasion.

An arm rest for automobilists has been invented that can be hung wherever desired on the side of a car.

For mending leaks in automobile radiators an Iowa man has invented a device in which melted solder is driven by an electric pump through a nozzle to be guided by a worker.

Meditating the coal and railroad strike looks a good deal like attempting to get the boys out of the German and French trenches about Christmas 1914.

The Little Red Schoolhouse.

The assistant state school superintendent of California says the little red schoolhouse must go. He finds that it is picturesque, but inefficient. He says that recent tests made by the California department of education find that the rural educational system as conducted under the old methods does not get results. City school children, he says, are from two to three years more advanced in mental development.

While these rural young people may have learned many things not taught in books, still the drift is away from the old fashioned ungraded school. The teacher of that type of school has so many subjects to cover, that she can not give careful explanations to her children nor devote much personal attention to each one.

Let's Go To the Picnic!

The old fashioned farmer had not much use for days off for sports and picnics. One such man objected on picnic day to taking both of his boys. He wanted one of them to remain at home and look after the chores. His brother will tell you all about it when he gets home," was his reply to the disappointed youngster.

Men like that were never young. They are not so common now, but some old timers are still reluctant to give their young folks their fair share of the fun of country life. If you are going to keep your young crowd contented you must give them a fair chance to join in the fun going on in Boone county.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON

The U. S. Government is the supreme power in the United States, it must show that supremacy by making impossible the dictation of any man, any body of men, any corporation, company, labor union, or organization of any kind.

If the United States Government is the supreme power in the United States, it must show that supremacy by making impossible the dictation of any man, any body of men, any corporation, company, labor union, or organization of any kind. The spectacle of one hundred and ten million people being subjected to discomfort possible days and loss of money and business in order that two distinct groups within the hundred and ten millions may settle their differences by legalized combat, is one at which the hundred and ten millions are looking more and more with disgust.

If John works for James and does not like the job, his quibble is that John's business is James' thing; John is poor worker, he fires him; that is James's business. But if John blows up James's shop, or James brains John with a club, that is the State's business. And if John and James engage in a gun fight, which endangers every one near them, that is every one's business, and both of them soon find themselves in jail.

For John and James, read union laborers and coal mines and railroads. If they can fight without injuring the bystander, no one cares; let them fight. But the miner can't cease to produce coal, or the railroad cease to move cars, without freezing the bystander starving the bystander, robbing the bystander of business. That, then, is the bystander's business, everybody's business, the Government's business.

Public ownership of coal mines and railroads is obnoxious to American business ideas; but better paternalism in Government than dictation to Government by private interests!

Are you an educated man?

Ask yourself. You won't be able to answer, but ask the question anyway. Whether you are college president or day laborer, minister in a pulpit, or tiller of the soil, seller of boots and shoes, or buyer of farm products, you won't be able to answer truthfully, because you don't know just what is meant here by the term "educated."

Is a man educated who knows books, and only books? If a professor of Sanskrit tried to make his living pitching hay, he would be as badly off as the farm hand who essayed to teach a dead language. Education must fit for a particular job, or it isn't education. So the question must be asked if asked intelligently, "are you educated for your work?"

The United States as a whole is passing through a formative period in education. To the pioneer "book learning" represented all that he didn't know and wanted to know. But today mere "book learning" does not mean education in the true sense unless for a bookish career.

A college teaching farming educates a man to be a farmer, but would be poor training for a doctor. The farmer who tried to learn rotation of crops and the chemistry of fertilizers by studying in a medical school would not receive an education which was of use to him.

So it is with too many of our schools. They teach, but what they teach is not what many of the students need most to know.

CIRCUIT COURT

After Four Day's Session Adjourns—Grand Jury Returns 7 Indictments.

The case of Vallandigham Bros., against Adams Music Co., was before a jury Wednesday, and after hearing the evidence rendered a verdict in favor of plaintiff for $300. O. M. Rogers represented the plaintiff, and defendant was not represented. The auto of Adams Bros., collided with an auto of Vallandigham Bros., and the evidence established the fact that the driver of the Adams machine was negligently operating his machine.

The Equitable Bank and Trust Co., of Walton, entered suit against Marvin and others on a note was tried before a jury who failed to make a verdict.

The grand jury was in session three days and returned seven indictments. The indictment against W. L. Kirkpatrick was dismissed and endorsed as follows:

The defendant herein is under indictment similar to that of Commonwealth against A. L. Stephens, No. 174, which arose out of analogous circumstances. At the last term of this court, before trial, Stephens exhibited and filed in his defense a pardon from His Excellency, Edwin P. Morrow, Governor of Kentucky. The Commonwealth is informed that this defendant Kirkpatrick petitioned the Governor for a pardon before the last term of this court also. Sufficient time has elapsed for the Governor to issue a pardon herein and he having failed to do so, the Commonwealth is of the opinion that Kirkpatrick has been unjustly discriminated against.

Therefore, we, John J. Howe, Commonwealth's Attorney, and Ben H. Riley, County Attorney, hereby move that this indictment be dismissed so that if this motion should be sustained Kirkpatrick may also be thereby pardoned.

August 14, 1922.
JOHN J. HOWE,
Commonwealth's Attorney.
BEN H. RILEY,
County Attorney.

Only two jury cases were tried at the August term of circuit court.

CARDS OF MERIT

To Be Issued By Kentucky State Department of Banking.

Frankfort, Ky.—A system of grading state banks, the purpose of which is to compile a record of the business efficiency of the 465 state institutions, was announced at the office of James P. Lewis, State Banking Commissioner.

Points on which the banks will be graded are: Loans, Directors' duties, bookkeeping, capital and surplus, overdrafts, interest on deposits, officers and employees' bonds and insurance. Institutions that attain a grade of "excellent" are put in the "excellent" class; from 75 to 85 per cent, "good"; 65 to 75 per cent, "fair"; and below 65 per cent, "unsatisfactory." Steps will be taken to have those banks that are unsatisfactory to improve their business methods. Banks that are placed in the "excellent" class will be awarded a place on the banking department's "honor roll."

FAREWELL SERMON

Rev. G. R. Tomlin, who for the past two years has served as pastor of the Burlington M. E. church, preached his last sermon of the Conference year, last Sunday night, to a large and appreciative audience. He read from Paul's Second Epistle to Timothy, and took as his text, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished the course, I have kept the faith," from which he preached a very able and interesting sermon. At the close of his sermon he thanked the people of Burlington and surrounding community for their friendship and kindness shown him during his stay among them, and while the song, "God Be With You Until We Meet Again," was being sung, every man and child in the church went forward and gave him a farewell hand-shake, wishing him well where he may be sent by the District Conference. Rev. Tomlin is a brilliant young minister and there is a great future awaiting him in the religious field, and the people of Burlington and surrounding country hated to have to give him up.

A junior church, with membership limited to persons between 6 and 16 years of age, is being successfully operated in Indianapolis. There are 60 children members of the organization. They have a room to themselves for service, which are of 30 minutes' duration.

A series of meetings will begin at the Burlington Baptist church Sunday, Sept. 3rd.

Bridging Time and Distance.

Lesser Gods discover me. Not at once, but through the years. What one finds another proves and still another shall improve. Today thru that grasp of power the world is growing smaller. Its mighty cities are but rooms in a great house whose dwellers do but raise their voices and are heard afar.

I span the globe and draw the far places together. New York, Rome, Bombay, Shanghai, Honolulu, San Francisco, Rio de Janeiro, Cape town, are through me neighboring cities. Over majestic mountains I arise. Along the verdant valleys do I wind. Over the trackless floors of oceans do I make my way, and, as hither and thither back and forth, up and down I go, I weave a net over all the earth; a gauze that makes man everywhere a near neighbor to his world.

Time and distance and darkness are no more. There is no night. A day is no longer from the rising to the setting of the sun. I am woven into every fabric of existence. Without me progress would be stayed.

In oscillations through ether; in impulses over a million tiny threads, I spark and crackle and throb over the world bringing time closer to time, man closer to man, nation closer to nation, and humanity nearer to God; for I am electricity.

KILLED IN AUTO WRECK

Miss Ruth Smith, Daughter of Dr. Geo. F. Smith Killed at Lawrenceburg, Ind.

Lawrenceburg, Ind., August 20.—Miss Ruth Smith, 17 years old, daughter of Dr. George F. Smith, Secretary of the Lawrenceburg Indiana Board of Health and candidate for the post of Coroner of Dearborn County, was killed here tonight, and two companions, one of whom was her sister, were injured, when an automobile in which they were riding overturned on Guilford street west of Lawrenceburg.

Miss Ruth Smith, 19 years old, the sister, suffered a broken left ankle. Ruth was driving the machine. When she attempted to make the turn the car skidded off the highway over an embankment.

Ruth was caught between the wheel and the top of the car. Her neck was broken, her chest crushed. The girl's father was on a professional call in Kentucky at the time. Upon learning of the accident he started for the scene, but collapsed and was removed to his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith, who were former club members, have the sympathy of their many relatives and friends in Boone county in their sad misfortune. Mrs. Smith is a daughter of the late John M. Moody, of the Bellevue neighborhood, while Mr. Smith was born and reared in the Petersburg neighborhood.

MRS. DAVID BEALL, DEAD

Mrs. David Beall died at her home in Hebron last Wednesday. She was the widow of late David Beall who was Sheriff of the county some years ago. She had been in failing health for some time. She is survived by one son Elmer, of Hamilton, Ohio, and two daughters, Mrs. M. L. Crutcher, of Hebron and Mrs. Ezra Aylor, of Lima, Ohio, one brother J. C. Hankins, of Hebron, two sisters, Mrs. B. A. Floyd, and Mrs. B. A. Clore and a host of friends and relatives. She was laid to rest in Hebron cemetery.

WILL GIVE PICNIC.

The Rural Letter Carriers will give an all day picnic at Florence (Fair grounds) on Monday (Labor Day) Sept. 4th. Everybody is invited to attend and bring well filled baskets, and spend the day with the boys who furnish you your mail through sunshine and rain, heat and cold. Good speakers will be present to entertain you.

Many Thanks, Gentlemen.

George Kreylich, of the Idlewild neighborhood, and Solon Riley, of the Waterloo neighborhood, did the good Samaritan act last week, and brought the printers in a nice lot of Elberta peaches, for which they have our thanks.

WILL BE GIVEN A TREAT

Under the management of the Presbyterian Society, the people of Union will be given quite a treat on Sept. 5th, when "The Kansas Cyclone," a big concert, strikes that place. See adv. in another column in this paper.

A GREAT SUCCESS.

The day and night fair at Erlanger, which closed last Saturday night was attended by very large crowds each day and evening, and was a great success.

MARKETED HOGS.

Jesse Edkins, of Locust Grove neighborhood, shipped to market, one day last week, twenty four 200 pound hogs, for which he received 10 cents per pound.

A WEEK'S NEWS.

J. E. Walton, of Plymouth, Illinois, who was called to the county, last week, on account of the death of his sister, Mrs. R. Lee Huey, spent from Saturday until Tuesday morning in Burlington with his sister, Mrs. Besie Kelly and family. Tuesday morning he in company with Earl Smith and wife, his sister Mrs. Kelly, and daughter, Miss Kathryn, left for his home at Plymouth, Ill., motoring through in Mr. Smith's automobile. Earnest has made good since settling in the West.

Thousands of magnificent bull elk have been slaughtered illegally in the Yellowstone Park region for the two teeth that may be obtained from each and sold to be worn as ornaments. Among the Indians the braves decorated themselves with necklaces made of grizzly bears and the squaws wore elk teeth as decorations and they used only those from the animals killed for clothing and food.

Mrs. Eunie Willis, who had been in a Cincinnati hospital for several weeks with a badly sprained ankle, returned home on Monday of last week. Her many friends are glad to know that she is getting along nicely, although she has to use crutches in order to get about.

Motorists entering Southern California are warned not to pick the yucca blossoms found along the highways. They are protected by an ordinance passed by Los Angeles County. The yuccas were in danger of extermination because tourists could not resist the temptation to pick them.

Kentucky has the second largest number of postoffices in the country, according to statistics announced by the Postoffice Department. The Bluegrass State is outranked in the number of postoffices only by Pennsylvania, which has 2,987. Kentucky has 2,568 postoffices.

Hundreds of people from all parts of the country and other states visited the dam being built by the government across the river at McVitt, Sunday. This is a sight that is well worth anyones time and money to go and see.

These women who seek "symphonies of color" in their clothing, would perhaps be more popular if they would get out in the garden and create a symphony of green beans, yellow corn, and red beets.

After the capitalists have been without dividends for some time, and the striking workers have been without food, it may occur to them that the public has rights that ought to be considered.

A marriage license was issued at the County Clerk's office last Saturday afternoon to William A. Reese, 22, of Cincinnati, and Miss Katherine Urton, 21, of Newport.

It is customary to put "paint" signs up on a freshly colored house, but many of the women folks are putting on heavy coats without any such warnings.

The valuable time that the girls claim to have saved by bobbing their hair, appears to be all used up by the difficulties of making up their faces.

Miss Atha Shelton, returned to her home in Cincinnati, Sunday, after spending a few days with her grandmother, Mrs. Vina Kirkpatrick.

Mrs. Sol Winkle, who was operated upon for tumor, in a Cincinnati hospital, several days ago, was brought home, last Friday morning.

The government can't settle the strikes by pouring oil on the troubled waters. What is needed is the pattern of the shingle in the woodshed.

The next big thing on the program after this week, will be the Harvest Home—where everybody goes to spend a day with their friends.

Rev. W. W. Adams, pastor of the Burlington Baptist church, is engaged in a protracted meeting at Hickory Grove church, Kenton county.

It is denied that the city girls are so hardened that they blush at nothing, as the drug store helps them attend to that.

Mrs. Eunie Willis and daughter had as their guest last Saturday night and Sunday Miss Von Drisk, of Cincinnati.

Frank Jockey and wife, of Tennessee, are visiting Mr. Jockey's brother and family, just south of town.

Earl Cropper spent the latter part of last week with his mother, Mrs. Lorena Cropper.

The town knackers should confine their knocking to their own wooden heads.

55 CARS OF LIME SPREAD ON GRAYSON COUNTY SOILS.

Lexington, Ky.—Liberal use of limestone is playing the leading role in a soil improvement movement which Grayson county farmers are carrying on in cooperation with County Agent R. W. Seearce and the College of Agriculture extension division. During the last three months, approximately 55 cars of the material have been used on farms in the county while the steady use of it is expected to be continued for some time. The fact that Mr. Seearce, who is director of the work, has been in the county only about three months is taken as an indication of the keen interest which farmers in that section are showing in this method of increasing the crop yields from their land.

"Most of the soil types found in the county belong to the coal measures and Chester formations although a few outcroppings of St. Louis limestone are present. Many of the soils are extremely sour and need limestone more than anything else before they can produce clover and other legumes. County Agt. Seearce is recommending an application of two tons of limestone and 300 pounds of acid phosphate an acre, the fertilizer and limestone in those cases will be used on wheat where clover is to be seeded in the spring. Excellent results are almost sure to follow this method of soil treatment, specialists say.

In order that the use of limestone would not have to be limited, farmers who were interested in the plan of soil improvement contracted for the entire summer output of a quarry in a neighboring county. Under this plan, they are obtaining the stone at a cost of from $1.37 to $1.67 a ton which is said to be cheaper than farmers can crush their own stone. The use of limestone at this price is limited only by the supply, soil specialists say.

Many other counties in the state are using large quantities of limestone for soil improvement, but only those having the advantages of "state-owned" crusher in localities where outcroppings of a good grade of stone are abundant have used so much during a short period of time as has been used in Grayson county, it is said.

CIRCUS IN TOWN.

Haag's Circus struck Burlington Monday morning and pitched its tents on the campus at the High School, and by 12 o'clock four or five hundred people had gathered on the streets to watch the parade just before the first performance at 9 o'clock. This is the first circus to show its appearance in the town since 1879, when Sells Brothers show was exhibited on nearly the same spot. The parade through the principal streets of the town at 2 o'clock was witnessed by a large crowd, and consisted of 15 or 20 wagons, horseback riders, and two bands of music and several clowns. The large crowd followed the parade to the grounds to witness the afternoon performance.

Both afternoon and night performances were enjoyed by the large crowds present and was far better than was expected. They left early Wednesday morning for Petersburg.

Fatty Arbuckle in sailing for China, says he is disgusted with conditions in the movie industry; and his action in leaving the country shows a sincere desire on his part to improve those conditions.

An automobile manufacturer says that congestion on the roads can be relieved by courtesy on the part of drivers. If that is the only solution, the congestion is likely to go unrelieved.

Mr. Ford is said to have a plan for ending the coal strike. It would be great stuff if he could send a peace ship to the coal fields and get the boys back in the mines before Christmas.

The city of Washington has abandoned daylight saving. A large percentage of Washington's inhabitants, however, continue to adhere to the policy of daylight saving.

Rev. William Dudley Nowlin, D. D., will begin a series of meetings at the Bellevue Baptist church Sunday Sept. 10th and will continue for two weeks.

Mr. Samuel Howard and wife, of Paducah, Ky., are guests of the family of Mr. J. O. Bonta and family, out on the Petersburg pike.

The Convention of the Christian Churches of Boone County held at Petersburg, Monday and Tuesday was attended by very large crowds.

Large crowds are attending the night services conducted by Rev. Allen, of Miami Beach, Fla., at the Burlington Methodist Church, Rev. Omer, pastor of St. Pleasant Christian Church is assisting.

J. F. Jockey wife and two daughters of Hickory (Tenn. Tenn.) are the pleasant guests of his brother, Mr. Jockey and wife at their pleasant home (Breezy Hill) near town. Mr. Jockey likes Boone and her people very much and intends to treat her here if he can find suitable property.

Elder H. M. Curry will preach at Mt. Pleasant Sunday Aug 27th.

RADIO RALF--

By JACK WILSON
Copyright 1922 by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate

595 NEW MEMBERS

One Hundred and Eighty-Five of These Are in West Virginia Porter Speaks in Old Home State.

Lexington, Ky.—New contracts to the number of 585 were reported as having been received the past week at the office of the Field Service Division of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association. Of this number 163 were sent in by James A. Kehoe of Mayville, and were secured by him and the county workers in the eastern part of Kentucky and Ohio districts.

From the West Virginia field 185 were turned in. In each county that was signed practically solid last year a short drive was made by J. R. Crockett and other voluntary workers and 35 new members were added.

MORGAN FARMERS ENTER DRIVE FOR COVER CROPS

Lexington, Ky.—Morgan county farmers are the most recent ones to join the annual fall cover crop campaign being conducted throughout the state through the cooperation of farmers' organizations, county agricultural agents and the extension division of the College of Agriculture, according to R. E. Stephenson, soils specialist of the college. The campaign is designed to prevent the heavy losses of plant food caused by erosion and leaching when fields are left unprotected during the winter.

Farmers in the county who are co-operating with County Agent R. B. Rankin are, expected to make a special effort to have a large acreage of rye seeded, this crop being the principal one that will be used in the campaign. Morgan county has a considerable acreage of rolling land that erodes rapidly when left without a growing crop during the winter. Many tobacco and cowpea fields and a number of corn fields in the county are in special need of some crop to protect them.

In addition to protecting the soil from erosion and leaching, the rye on many farms in the county will be used for pasture. The crop has proved satisfactory for grazing with all kinds of stock, many farmers last year having been specially pleased with it has a pasture for dairy cows that ewes that were sucking lambs. Calves and pigs also thrive on young rye.

A few farmers in the county who have rich soils on their farms will use vetch and rye as their cover crop combination. In this case about 10 pounds of vetch seed will be used with a bushel of rye for each acre. Vetch is especially valuable since it is a legume and therefore builds up the soil. It is hardy but the seed must be inoculated and requires a little better soil than rye.

In most cases where the vetch and rye are seeded together the county will be plowed under in the spring for green manure. Farmers who use rye alone will either plow it under or use it as a nurse crop for grass. Satisfactory results are obtained by hanking the crop either way. Pasturing the rye when it is used as nurse crop does not injure the grass if the stock are removed early in the season.

WARNS OPERATORS $4.50 LIMIT WILL BE ENFORCED; DEALERS HELD TO WAR MARGIN.

Frankfort, Ky.—In anticipation of the end of the railroad strike, Gov. Edwin P. Morrow perfected an organization to prevent profiteering in coal in Kentucky.

The Governor appointed every County Judge in the State a member of his Fuel Distributing Committee and sent letters requesting each one to inform him promptly of any individual paying more than $4.50 a ton in carload lots and of any local dealer charging more than a fair price.

He also will write to Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade requesting them to advise him of any manufacturing plant or public utility which is charged more than $4.50 a ton at the mines.

"I intend," Mr. Morrow said, "to enforce the regulations by the full publicity and also by refusal of priority orders by withholding cars from operators who charge more than the Hoover price and by withholding priority orders from local dealers who profiteer. The cars will go to the dealers who charge fair prices."

GRANT R. D.

Mrs. Lizzie Acra visited relatives Waterloo Beef Club began killing last Saturday.

S. B. Ryle and family spent Sunday at Lewis Stephens'.

Bodie, of East Bend, is building an addition to his house. Miss Edith Rust, of Covington, is visiting her uncle, Frank Hightower. Noel Gaines Walton is at the Club Boy's Camp at Alexandria this week. Miss Maud Matson, of Rising Sun, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Etta Stephens.

Mrs. Christine Kirtley is entertaining her two nieces Ralph Cason's daughters, of Bellevue.

Messrs. Thompson and Ireland, of Hamilton, Ohio, were the Sunday guests of their cousin, Mrs. R. T. Stephens.

Mrs. Hester Ryle and Myrtle Wingate, of Aurora, are guests of their mother, Mrs. Mary O'Neal, who is sick.

RABBIT HASH.

Morris Rice's house is almost completed.

Several are hauling water from the river.

Sorry to hear that Mrs. Mary O'Neal is ill.

Several from here attended the Erlanger fair Saturday.

John Stephens and family spent Sunday with James West and family.

Bro. Traynor preached at the M. E. church Sunday, his last sermon.

Mrs. John Louden spent Thursday of last week with Mrs. Bud Hodges.

Mrs. Harry Acra and son Willis, spent Sunday with Mrs. Lister Smith.

Miss Katie Craig's niece and nephew of Aurora, visited her last week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Stephens entertained relatives from Hamilton, Ohio, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Stephens and Mrs. Nettie Stephens, spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Fillmore Ryle.

Ms. John Ryle and son spent Saturday night and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Stephens.

Mrs. Carrie Lambert and family spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hankinson.

The Pythian Sisters received two new members, Mrs. Will Hankinson and daughter Mary and Mrs. Bert Smith, last Saturday.

WESTERN KENTUCKY FARMERS SHOW INTEREST IN POULTRY

Lexington, Ky.—Recent poultry culling demonstrations conducted in Grayson, Hart and Muhlenberg counties by farmers' organizations, the extension division of the College of Agriculture and county agricultural agents brought out many indications that farmers in Central-Western Kentucky are keenly interested in poultry raising.

The demonstrations, which were designed to show farmers and poultry raisers how to distinguish between the laying and loafing hens in their flocks, also served to bring out many points on housing, feeding and the control of poultry diseases for the benefit of those who attended.

The interest was especially marked in Grayson county where farmers received a total of more than one million dollars in 1921 from the sale of poultry products, according to produce men. Five hundred and fifty persons attending nine demonstrations and one night meeting held at this gathering, a total of 150 persons were discussed. Eight similar demonstrations were held in Hart county and four in Muhlenberg.

Chemicals From Corn Cobs.

By developing new methods of extracting furfural from corn cobs, chemists of the United States Department of Agriculture have greatly reduced the cost of making this chemical, which is used in the manufacture of soluble and insoluble resins for stains, varnishes, insulating material, printing plates and many other articles. Furfural has been made commercially from oat hulls and has been selling for about 50 cents a pound, but when made from cobs it is estimated that it can be manufactured at a cost of about 10 cents a pound. Cobs give the greatest yield of furfural of any of the common agricultural materials that contain it.

Dr. J. G. Furnish, of Covington, was in Burlington, Tuesday.

FARM

THE LOAN THAT NEVER COMES DUE
UNLESS AND UNTIL THE BORROWER WISHES TO PAY IT
$66.46 per year on each $1,000 of loan pays both principal and interest
NO COMMISSIONS
NO RENEWALS
KENTUCKY JOINT STOCK LAND BANK
Security Trust Bldg. Lexington, Ky.
B. H. RILEY, Agt. Burlington, Ky.

LOANS

FOR SALE ETC

NOTICE.

We have been appointed the authorized sales and service station for the Willard Battery for Boone county. Also do recharging and repairing on all makes of Batteries. Work guaranteed.
DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO.
Erlanger, Ky.

HEMSTITCHING AND PICOTING ATTACHMENT, works on any sewing machine, easily adjusted. Price $2.50 with full instructions. Oriental Novelty Co., Box 11, Corpus Christi, Texas.
017 aug

WANTED

Hay to bale. Prices reasonable. P. H. Mathews, Buittsville, Ky. Phone 203-x
29 June tf

For Sale—Ten stock shoats, will weigh about 100 lbs., each. Carl Alge, Burlington R. D. 1.
1t—pd

For Sale—Sow and nine pigs. Apply to Kenneth Stephens, Union, Ky. Farmers phone.
1t—pd

For Sale—Nice Jersey cow with third calf. Calf two weeks old. Kind and gentle, a good milker; also a yearling Hampshire buck. Chas. B. Beall, Hebron, Tele. 113.
1t—pd

For Sale—Registered Jersey bull, 2 years old. Cason & Clore, Burlington, Ky.
1t—pd

For Sale or Trade—For young stock, 10 year old sorrell saddle mare, road cart, 32 bushel of seed wheat. Harold Beemon, Florence, Ky.
014 sept—pd

Do you want to haul a little coal, a little corn, etc., etc.? In short, do you need a light, strong box bed that you can put off and on by yourself? We have it! Only $20.00. See our line of sleds, plows, awings, screen doors etc., at the Florence Fair. CONNER & KRAUS, ("The Big Shop") Florence, Ky.
1t—pd

For Sale—Fifty extra good black faced ewes from 1 to 4 years old; also two black faced bucks. W. L. Kirkpatrick, Burlington, Ky.
1t—pd

For Sale—Big Type Poland China boar—eligible to register; also a good Shorthorn bull, will weigh about 1,000 lbs., gentle and will stay anywhere. R. J. Akin, Burlington R. D. No. 1.
1t—pd

For Sale—Nine year old horse, good worker, good driver and sound. Fred Morris, Burlington R. D. 2.
1t—pd

For Harvest Home catalogues, address J. J. Tanner Florence, Ky., or phone Burlington 72 x, Consolidated.

Third Annual Farmers Pic-Nic
of Ohio County, Ind.,
will be held at
SMITH'S WOODS,
Wednesday, Aug. 30th, '22

Come and Enjoy the day with us—bring your children, uncle, aunts and sweethearts. Everybody welcome. Good speakers and music, other amusements.

The Ohio Co. Farm Bureau.

NOTICE.

A special examination will be held in Burlington September 8th for pupils who desire to enter High School in Boone county.
J. C. GORDON, Supt.

Boys' and Girls' Pig

SHOW

—AND—

15-Breeders Auction Sale-15
WILL BE HELD AT
J. Colin Kelly's Barn, Rabbit Hash, Ky
1 1-4 mile from Rising Sun Ferry,
Saturday, August 26th, 1922.

10 a. m., Stock Judging Contest by Boys' Judging Team—
Premiums.....$4 first; $2 second

11 a. m.....Pig Club Contest
12 A. M. LUNCH.

1:00 p. m.....Lady Speaker
1:30 p. m.....L. D. Horlacker, Judge and Speaker
2:00 p. m.....Hog Sale

HAMPSHIRE—Hubert Ryle & Son, will offer 1 Spring Boar and 4 Spring Gilt.

BIG TYPE POLAND CHINA—J. C. Kelly, will offer 1 Spring Boar and 1 Spring Gilt.

DUROCS—B. C. Stephens, jr., will offer 1 Spring Boar and 7 Spring Gilt.

Lunch Will Be Served by Boys and Girls Judging Team.

A BARGAIN
Cincinnati Daily Enquirer

—AND—

The Boone County Recorder
YOU CAN GET
BOTH for $4.50 the YEAR

Send Your Subscriptions to the

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER

Burlington, Ky.

Ready for Business.
The Farm Bureau Warehouse at Florence is now in full operation and will keep on hand all kinds of Feed, Flour, Wire Fencing, Coal, Etc.
Help Your Organization
With Your Patronage.
Subscribe For The Recorder.....$1.50 per year

Bullittsburg Baptist Church.

J. W. CAMPBELL, Pastor.

Sunday School every Sunday at 10:00 a. m.
Regular preaching services on the First and Third Sundays in each month at 11:00 a. m.

Boone Co. Lutheran Pastorale

REV. GEO. A. ROYER, Pastor.

Sunday August 27, 1922.

Hopeful 9:30 a. m., Sunday School.
Hopeful 10:30 a. m., Regular Service.
Hopeful 7:30 p. m., Luther League.
Hebron 9:30 a. m., Sunday School.
Hebron 2:30 p. m., Regular Service.
Ebenezer 9:30 a. m., Sunday School.

The Joint Council of the pastorate will meet at Ebenezer Lutheran church on Saturday August 26th, at 10 a. m. All members of the council are requested to be present.

All obituaries, card of thanks and all other matter, not news, must be paid for at 5 cents per line.

Mr. John Penn is visiting relatives at Georgetown.

Mrs. Annabelle Kirkpatrick, of Roachdale, Indiana, spent last week with Burlington friends.

Don't forget that the Florence fair begins next Wednesday, August 30th. Your county fair.

W. T. Riddell, of Davton, Ohio, was the guest of Mr. Riddell and wife, last Friday evening.

F. H. Rouse and his baling crew have been kept busy the past month baling hay and straw for the farmers.

Alexander Yelton returned home last week, from a visit with Wayne and Wendell Phipps, of near Lawrenceburg, Indiana.

Seventy-two per cent of the earners of income in America receive less than $1,500 a year. Fourteen per cent more earn less than $2,000.

Bids will be received for the reconstruction of the miles of the Dixie Highway not later than September 20th, by the State Road Department.

There will be no services at the Baptist church next Sunday, as the pastor, Rev. W. W. Adams, will be conducting a series of meetings at Hickory Grove church.

Mrs. Jess Maul, son and daughter, Earl and Dorothy, of Northside, O., and Miss Virginia Johnson, of Westwood, Ohio, visited relatives in and near Burlington, Sunday.

An ice cream supper will be given in B. F. Bedinger's yard at Richwood, Saturday evening, August 26, after which the young ladies of the neighborhood will give an entertainment. All are invited to attend.

Mesdames William Stamler, A. P. Stephens and Roy Stamler, of Walton, were in Burlington for a short while, Tuesday morning. They made this office a very pleasant call. They were enroute to Petersburg to attend the convention of the Christian churches.

Blacksnakes are the most efficient natural enemy of the ground mole. For this reason they are used on the golf greens of Pennsylvania and are never disturbed. The snakes work only at night, are harmless to mankind and do not hesitate to go into the mole's borings to discourage that animal's operations.

The Carrollton News of last week says:

"Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Gaines, who have been in Louisville for the past several days to consult a specialist, will leave Wednesday for a few weeks' stay in St. Louis."

Mr. Gaines is a brother of Mrs. Minnie Smith, of this place.

About 500 boys and girls, members of different agricultural clubs are in camp near Alexandria, Campbell county. They will stay in camp this week and will receive instruction in work pertaining to the different club work, in which they are interested. Farm Agent Sutton and about 40 from Boone county are in the camp.

Announcement of the death of James P. Armstrong, who died at his home in Covington, on Wednesday of last week was received here last Thursday. Mr. Armstrong was the husband of Augusta Kirkpatrick who is a daughter of the late Jesse Kirkpatrick and wife. She has the sympathy of her many Burlington friends in her bereavement. The remains were buried at Highland cemetery, last Friday afternoon.

In another column of this issue will be found the advertisement of the Walton Sanitary Flour Mill, Walton, Ky., who are putting on the market two grades of the best flour—Invivo and Walton Cream, to be found anywhere. Read the ad., and then buy a sack of the flour, take it home and try it, and learn what good flour can be made right in your own county. Every pound is guaranteed.

Federal game wardens have found carcasses of scores of pronghorn antelopes on the shores of lakes in Lake County, Oregon, the only region where they are now found in numbers. Foreign-born sheep men have been slaughtering the antelope to enlarge the sheep ranges and to do away with the need for a reservation, according to reports. There are about 300 foreign-born sheep men in that vicinity.

BASE BALL.

Taylorport lost the game played with Delhi, Ohio, Sunday by a score of 9 to 1 in Down-the-River League. By losing the game Sunday puts Taylorport in third place.

$$$

In a close and exciting 12-inning game played at Bellevue, last Saturday afternoon, Petersburg defeated the team at that place by a score of 9 to 7.

$$$

A good many Burlington fans witnessed the game of ball Sunday at Delhi between the team of that place and Taylorport.

$$$

Taylorport will play Miamtown next Sunday, August 27th, at North Bend park. This game will decide which club will retain second place in Down-the-River League. Don't miss it.

Manager Kirk's aggregation of ball players will go to Walton Saturday to play the strong Walton team. On Monday Sept. 4th (Labor Day) Walton will play two games at Burlington.

We dip the following from the Lawrenceburg, (Ind.) Press of August 17th:

"A very sad shooting affair occurred near the state line Sunday afternoon, when Simeon Rayles met his death at the hands of Wesley Newton, and is only another case of the workings of human nature when given up to the evil passions of life. The only safety of man is coolness and self composure, else in an unguarded moment an act is committed that will follow with regret all the remaining days of life."

Simeon Rayles was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Rayles, and was born in Switzerland county forty-seven years ago, where he grew to manhood and married Gine Armilda Henry of Boone county, Ky., Nov. 13, 1894, and unto them were born seven children."

Report of American Red Cross beginning Dec. 3rd, 1921.
Bal. on hand Dec. 3....$ 4,872.72

RECEIPTS

By Membership..... 41.00
Interest on certificates of..... 138.90
Indebtedness..... $ 5,048.72

EXPENDITURES

Chapter Expense..... 311.25
Civilian Relief..... 134.40
Home Service..... 170.00
One-half Membership to Divisional Headquarters..... 20.50
Bal. on Hand..... 4,412.57

$ 5,048.72
G. S. Kelly, Treasurer
L. Tolin, ex-Secretary

A number of Boone county bankers attended the convention of the Kentucky State Bankers' Association in session at West Baden, Indiana, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Thomas B. Adams, of Richmond, Va., President of the American Bankers' Association, and Henry D. Ormsley, of Louisville, Vice-President of the National Bank of Kentucky, were the principal speakers. Claud D. Miller, of Perryville, Ky., President of the Kentucky Bankers' Association, had charge of the program. A most enjoyable time was had by all those in attendance.

Dam 39 near Markland, Indiana, on the Ohio river, was put into operation last week for the first time, when the wickets were closed and the excursion boat, J. F. Butts was locked through. Thirty-nine is one of the largest dams in the United States. The Government has been about seven years building it, at a cost of $3,000,000.

The farmers of Boone county have always pitied the farmers in the West who had to do "dry farming" but this year they have had the actual experience brought home to them. There has only been occasional light showers in this county since the first of May, and as a consequence all crops have suffered.

Rufus Tanner, of the Florence neighborhood, was a visitor to Burlington, last Monday afternoon. He had been to the Bellevue bottoms after a load of watermelons, and while in town called at the RECORDER office and cracked a few jokes with the printers.

A lady from Indiana will be the principal speaker at the Boys' and Girls' Pig Show at J. Collin Kelly's next Saturday, August 26th. See program in another column of this paper.

The Department of Agriculture has just issued a book telling how to keep cider from getting hard. But who wants to keep it from getting hard,

Call on C. A. Fowler for the specifications for painting Boone County Jail before making your bid.

A. B. Renner is attending the Kentucky Bankers' Association at West Baden.

W. J. Carpenter, of Richwood, was a business visitor to Burlington last Monday.

J. C. Hughes, of Beaver, was a business visitor to Burlington, Monday.

Public Sale.

I will offer for sale at public auction, at my residence four miles west of Burlington, near Commissary, on

Wednesday, Sept. 6th

The Following Property:

One good all-purpose Mare 8-yrs. old, one 1 five-year old Mare well broke, 4-year old well broke, 2-yr. old Colt, 5-yr old Horse broke to work, 17 Ewes, two Bucks, 2 milch Cows, 2 2-yr. old Calves—heifer and bull; Hayrake, Road Wagon, Buggy, Hillside Plow, 2 Double Shovel Plows, Wagon Harness, Pitchforks, Grubbing Hoes, 2 Posthole Diggers, pair beams, 1-2 interest in Cider Mill, 25-gallon Iron Kettle, 1-3 interest in Hog-box, Hayfork and Rope, Dinner Bell, 950 Tobacco Sticks, and other articles.

TERMS—All sums of $10.00 and under, cash; on sums over $10.00 six month credit will be given, purchaser to give note with good security before removing property.

W. T. RYLE.

Sale to begin at 1 o'clock sharp.

PIC - NIC

At Harvest Home Grounds,

Saturday, Aug. 26th

From 7:30 to 12 p. m.

Everybody—Old and Young are Invited
Dancing---Refreshments.

Music by Murphy's Jazz Band.
Zimmer-McGlasson.

HEBRON.

Miss Lydia Aylor was at home several days last week with a bad case of tonsillitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Cloud entertained several of their relatives last Sunday.

Miss N. Louise Lodge, of Covington, and Ed. Baker and family, spent Sunday with Mrs. J. S. Lodge and daughter.

M. L. Aylor and wife had as guests last Sunday Lewis Riddell wife and daughter, of Ludlow and Earl Aylor wife and daughter, of this place.

A lost—Good rope hitch-rein, Saturday afternoon between my house and Constance. Anyone finding it please notify Nannie Lodge, or leave at Goodridge's store at Hebron.

The Ladies of the Hebron Lutheran church will give a dinner, bazaar and ice cream supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Aylor, of Hebron, on Labor Day, Sept. 4, beginning at 10 a. m., will continue until 11 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Garnett had as guests last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Galoway and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Peck and family, Miss Elois Shutter, Miss Florence Wood, Miss Louetta Wiegale and sister, all of Cincinnati, Mrs. Dora Garnett, Mrs. Leona Rouse and Miss Allene Stephens.

BIG BONE.

Joe Litterall made a business trip to Walton, Friday.

Mrs. Will Smith, of Louisville, is the guest of relatives here.

There will be a ball game at Big Bone park next Sunday afternoon.

Chas. Johnson has a nice horse he purchased of W. T. Stewart, at Patriot, Indiana.

Miss Lennie Moore and Miss Lee Hoard, of near Beaver, visited Mrs. Lida Johnson, Friday.

Jack Litterall was called to Independence Sunday to see his brother, who is critically ill.

Mr. R. N. Moore and wife entertained Sunday his father and mother, and several other relatives.

There will be an ice cream supper at the M. E. church lawn Friday August 25th. Commencing at 5:30.

Poke Hamilton visited his daughter, Mrs. Sallie Pink Bagby, at Independence, several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bondurant, son Granville and wife, of Rabbit Hash, were visitors at the Springs Thursday.

Mrs. H. E. Miller visited her sister Mrs. H. B. Blum in Burlington, last week and took in the Erlanger fair.

G. W. Bsker and wife will start to Detroit, Michigan, Wednesday, August 23rd to visit relatives and look at the country.

111

cigarettes

10¢*They are GOOD!*NOTICE.

The undersigned will receive sealed bids at the court house in Burlington for painting the jail building on the outside. Bidder to furnish all tools and materials. The jail to be painted two coats of lead and oil except the windows, which are to receive three coats. Bids must be in my hands on or before Sept. 2, 1922 at noon. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved.

C. A. FOWLER,
Jailer Boone County.

C. H. YUELL

Farms for Sale

At Bargain Prices.

Burlington, Ky.

Phone Burlington 65

CONSTANCE.

Mr. Frost has bought out Meagley's store.

Mr. Martin and cousin celebrated their birthday Sunday.

Brother Omer preached an interesting sermon Sunday night, it being his regular appointment.

Mr. W. A. Kenyon and family and Thos. Kenyon and family spent Sunday with their son and brother, H. M. Kenyon and family in Hyde Park.

M. J. Crouch, of Union, was in Burlington on business, Monday.

Mrs. J. C. Gordon returned home Sunday after a week's visit with relatives at Richwood and Walton.

CAR SENSE

Spend
a Dollar
and
Save
Ten

Little defects grow into big ones in time if not corrected.
The correction of a small defect in its early stages costs but little.
When left until it grows into serious proportions its correction runs into money.
That is what makes the maintenance of a car so expensive to many people—neglecting the little things until they grow into big ones.
The better—the safer—the more economical way is to see the garage man at the first warning of trouble.
Today is always a good time to have it done.

EDDINS BROTHERS

TIRES, TUBES AND ACCESSORIES.

Burlington, Kentucky.

BRAKE BAND OIL—Guaranteed to stop Ford bands from chattering.
Agents for U. S. and Ajax Tires.

Established 1886.

A Bank Account IS ONE OF THE FIRST STEPPING STONES TO SUCCESS IN LIFE.

How are You Stepping!

This bank invites young men and women especially to open savings accounts. Officials of the bank are pleased at all time to give the benefit of their experience to customers and others who seek advice.
When in doubt come to this bank. Your success means greater success for us.

Has it ever occurred to you that a checking account is a very convenient thing to have?

Boone Co. Deposit Bank

Burlington, Kentucky.

N. E. RIDDELL, President. W. D. CROPPER, Cashier.
W. A. GAINES, Vice-Pres. G. S. KELLY, Asst. Cashier.

Petersburg Theatre

At Petersburg, Kentucky

Saturday Night, Aug. 26th

MARY ALDEN IN

MILESTONES

At Burlington, Kentucky,

Saturday Night, Aug. 26th

KATHERINE NEWLIN BURT IN

"The Branding Iron"

CHILDREN 10c. ADULTS 25c

War Tax Included Will Begin promptly at 8:00

COURTESY [SERVICE FIRST] STABILITY

A Letter Received from the Banking Commissioner.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 14th, 1922.

PEOPLES DEPOSIT BANK,
Burlington, Ky.

Dear Sirs:—

After a careful examination of your report and that of our Examiner, we find no complaint to make as to the management and condition of your bank; hence, we have marked the management and condition of your bank for the first half of 1922 EXCELLENT.

In the near future, we contemplate inaugurating a complete system of grading banks and we trust that you will be able to maintain your high standard under our new plan.

Yours truly,

JAMES P. LEWIS,
Banking Commissioner.

Flour Flour Flour

An excellent Flour—that makes excellent Bread, Pies and Cakes. New patrons are coming to this flour each day and recommend it highly. It's Rising Sun—

Fancy Patent, Golden Rod or Tube Rose.

Its sold on a positive guarantee to please you in every respect.

Ask Your Grocer—Insist On It.

Make bake day a glad day by using

RIISING SUN FLOUR

WHERE TO DEAL IN CINCINNATI

DO YOU WANT A GOOD JOB?
Then learn to do something
Better Than The Other Fellow
The Y. M. C. A. Auto School
Teaches Young Men To Be
Good Auto Mechanics
Day or Night Classes
Complete Course $75.00
Write For Booklet or Call

Y. M. C. A., Elm & Central Parkway

WOOD ALCOHOL IN BOOZE

IS NOT THE ONLY THING THAT DESTROYS EYE SIGHT
YOUR OWN CARELESSNESS

In not consulting a competent oculist when your eyes get weak, or burn, may lead you into severe eye trouble. DON'T NEGLECT YOUR EYES.
Consult at the first hint of trouble.

The Standard Optical Company, 13 Emory Arcade Cincinnati, O.

HOTEL ALMS

250 ROOMS

Cincinnati's Only
Suburban Hotel
Sulphur Vapor Baths
Beauty Shoppe

DAN M. MYERS, Manager

LARGEST GARAGE
Free Air—Battery & Water Service
AMERICAN AUTO HOTEL
423 to 431 W. 5th St.
Cincinnati, Ohio
30c to 4-1-2 Hrs. 50c to 8-1-2 Hrs.
Daytime. TOURISTS WELCOME

The Best place in Cincinnati for Dentistry
Gold Crowns and Bridge Work $5.00
Plates $7.50 Fillings $1.00.
Teeth Extracted without pain
Write us for information
Dr. Hall's Expert Dentists
216 W. 5th St. Bet. Elm and Plum
Cincinnati, Ohio

BUSINESS-BUILDING
—ADVERTISING—
of every kind
The WASHBURN-FLARSHAM Co.
24 Blymyer Bldg. — Canal 6749

AS THE EDITOR SEES IT
When you hear a fellow continually knocking this country, ask him where he came from.

Ask him why he left his own country.

Ask him why he doesn't go back there.

If he says he is a native of this country, tell him he is not a credit to his nativity.

If he admits that he came from another country, tell him our country would not miss him.

If he is just a chronic kicker, tell him the devil is waiting for him.

There are many other things you might tell him, but it would be useless. Wholesome truths seldom sink into a tough hide.

It requires years of correct living to build up an unblemished reputation.

Often it takes but a whispered insinuation to destroy it.

Yet people who otherwise live an exemplary life will indulge in gossip that starts stories that grow in mountains of scandal that develop and crush many an innocent person.

People who cannot curb their tongues should become hermits. They would be missed, but not mourned.

An editor was severely criticised by many of his subscribers for printing the plain truth in his paper.

Stung to the quick, he announced that on a given date he would omit from his columns every class of news to which any objection was made by any person.

When the paper was issued every page was blank.

To what class of news do you object?

Don't let your child "blow in" its first nickel. To do so is to give it its first lesson in extravagance.

Give it five pennies. Let it spend one or two for candy, and SAVE THE REST. That will be its first lesson in economy.

From the cradle to the grave is no great tax upon the memory of a normal human mind.

The farmer who has to go ten miles for a trace chain finds it an expensive purchase.

If the town man had to go to the nearest city for a pencil or his wife had to journey hence for a spoon of thread, he would be pestered beyond endurance.

It pays to spend your money with

DIVIDED WE FALL.
Every man has his own mind, and our laws accord him the right to free thought and speech.

This freedom, however, should not lead us into channels of thinking and speaking that produce friction and a population divided against itself.

In union there is strength. In discord we face nothing but mediocrity and disaster.

We are a community unto ourselves, yet we should not live each unto himself.

As a community we owe a duty to other communities, to our state, and to the nation.

It is the community of interests that has made our country great, and progressive, and prosperous beyond any other country upon which the sun shines.

It is the same community of interests that will build up this town and our countryside if we employ it in our business and social life.

No nation today can live entirely unto itself and continue prosperous as the years roll by. No state can do it, and neither can any city, or town, or individual.

We must harmonize our differences for the public good and then work together for the advancement of our common interests.

United we push onward to greater successes and achievements.

Divided, we fall by the wayside and are soon forgotten.

SPRING A NEW ONE.
As you walk along the streets of this town, what do you see? What do you think? What do you say?

Possibly there is some obstruction in the way, some repairs that are needed, or some improvement that could be made.

You see the possibilities, but do your thoughts go beyond the confines of your brain? Do you spring them for the benefit of your fellow citizens?

A little of change is only an aggravation to a parched throat until the cork is pulled.

It is so with those ideas you are carrying around in your head but never allow to become public.

Spring them—all of them.

Some may be immature, and if so they will be cast aside and no one will be harmed.

But among the number there may be one that is of inestimable value to our community.

YOUNG MEN AND YOUNG WOMEN
FIT YOURSELF FOR LIFE'S WORK with a Technical Training at the

OHIO MECHANICS INSTITUTE

INTENSIVE 2-YEAR COURSES in Industrial Electrical Engineering, Industrial Mechanical Engineering, Industrial Architecture, Industrial Art, Lithography, Press Laundry Course.
4-YEAR TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL COURSES—Special Courses in Chemistry, Freshman Drawing, Industrial Design, Lithography, Linotype Operation, Machine Shop Work, Mathematics, Mechanical Drawing, Photography, Printing, Wood Work.
Registration Days—City School, September 13, 14, 15, 1922; Night School, September 27, 28, 29, 1922.
Write Today for further information to the Registrar, Central Parkway & Walnut St., Cincinnati, O.

FRESH FISH EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR

ANDERSON
INDEPENDENT FISH CO.
Wholesale Shippers of Fish & Oysters
138 W. Court St. Phone: Canal 2273

QUEHL SIGN CO. SIGNS

Electric and Painted
316 Main Street Cincinnati, Ohio

MAGNUS WHITE

Manufacturing Optician
—EYES EXAMINED—
521 MAIN ST.
2 Doors North of P. O.

Ship Your Poultry to an Established Reliable House
TOP PRICES. DAILY RETURNS.
Write or Wire for Prices

THE PETERS POULTRY COMPANY
CAPITAL $50,000.00
104-6-8-10 W. Court St. Phone Canal 1957 CINCINNATI, O.

ELECTRIC
Lowest Prices—Largest Stock
ERTEL LIGHTING CO.
320 West Fourth St.
Write for Prices

GIBSON
TENOR BANJOS
SAXOPHONES
BAND and ORCHESTRA
INSTRUMENTS and MUSIC
FILLMORE MUSIC HOUSE
528 Elm St. Cincinnati, Ohio

Our local dealers, for the more they sell the greater the variety of stock they can afford to carry for your convenience.

That is the one we want—the one we need—but we can't benefit from it until you pull the cork from your thinking.

CUSTOM'S, THAT'S ALL.
Adam and Eve were garbed in a single fig leaf each, but that was custom with them and the demands of modesty were satisfied.

From the days of the fig leaf down through the centuries to the cumbersome and trailing skirts each successive step has been taken through innovation and sanctioned by custom.

The trailing skirt was both unsanitary and a nuisance, and in time was properly discarded. Custom popularized the move.

Now we have the very short skirt and the knickers, and custom decrees that there is no valid objection to them.

In former days women rode horseback on side saddles and contracted curvature of the spine. Then a few of the more daring ones donned pants and rode man fashion. The uproar at first was great, but now it is custom and is regarded as the only sensible way to ride.

The tendency of the age is simplicity in dress, discarding everything that is not in accord with comfort and the protection of health.

We may never return to the fig leaf, but the nearer we approach it the greater is our freedom of action and the longer our span of life.

Shocks and thrills may signalize some of the stages, but custom will stop every tongue from wagging.

Every person is born with brains, but they are without value unless developed.

The ambitious man who reaches the top is in a sad plight. He has no place to go.

Even a lazy man is energetic at quitting time.

If some people were required to stand on their dignity they would have to die for it.

Never marry for money until you are sure of getting it.

Some hearts are never bruised unless there is a healing balm in sight.

The strongest of hands are without value unless there is a brain capable of directing their movements.

Don't worry yourself to death. It will deprive you of the privilege of self pity.

Don't try to accomplish everything in one day. Scientists tell us that it will be at least a hundred million years before the earth blows up.

Never quit when you reach the end of your rope. Splice it and keep going.

BEADS

MAKE YOUR OWN
Fortresses, Chimes,
Bells, Ornaments,
Tassels, etc. Results
pleasing. Work fascinating. We teach you how. Design sheet free. Portiere Sample No. 6, large line 10c. Portiere Sample No. 7, best line on market 25c. Sample line No. 1, for necklaces, etc. 15c. Sample line No. 2, better line 25c. Sample card of Embroidery Beads, 3c. May be returned or credited on order.
N. F. JOHNS & CO.
49 Piatech Bldg. Cincinnati, O.

The Schuster Martin School

HELEN SCHUSTER-MARTIN, DIRECTRESS
The school of great opportunity for your son and daughter

ACTING DANCING READING

Boarding Department
Send for Catalog now
Kemper Lane Cincinnati

TYPEWRITERS

FACTORY REBUILT
ALL STANDARD MAKES
$12.50 UP
Write for Price List No. 125
AMERICAN WRITING MACHINE CO., INC.
148 E. 4th St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

JOHNSTON'S PAINT AND VARNISHES

For Every Conceivable Purpose
The Certain-To-Satisfy Kind
Look and Wear Well—A Trial Will Convince the Most Skeptical
Prices Right. Quality Guaranteed.
Color Cards and Prices Upon Request

Wholesale and Retail
THE R. F. JOHNSON PAINT COMPANY
S. E. COR. PEARL & MAIN STS.
CINCINNATI, OHIO

Making Money

Make Money

Is the secret of financial success. By carefully investing your surplus funds where they will bring you a maximum return with safety, you can quickly accumulate wealth without speculating.

Cincinnati Finance Co.

$12 PER SHARE

(Subject To Advance)

Offers to the conservative investor an excellent opportunity to secure a high-grade, seasoned financial security that will net 8-10% per annum, payable quarterly.

If you have any money earning less than 5% or any securities netting you less than this income, write or call for further information regarding this sound investment opportunity.

We will accept all issues of Liberty Bonds at the prevailing market, plus accrued interest, in payment.

Platt Brothers Co.

INVESTMENT SECURITIES
Dixie Terminal Bldg., Cincinnati, O.

Information Coupon—Mail To-Day

PLATT BROTHERS COMPANY,
DIXIE TERMINAL BLDG.,
CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Without obligation as my part, send me your illustrated booklet about THE CINCINNATI FINANCE CO. stock.

Name .....

Address .....

City .....

State .....

When in town give him a call

Kirtley McWethy

Petersburg, Ky.,
Confectioner

will have on hand at all times

Ice Cream, Soft Drinks, Candies, Cigars, Cigarettes.

Open daily from 11 a. m. until 9 p. m. (except Saturday) which will be from 9 a. m. to 11 p. m.

WHEN IN TOWN GIVE HIM A CALL

Seeds for Fall Sowing

MICHIGAN ROSEN RYE, NEW SEED WHEAT,
NEW TIMOTHY, CRIMSON CLOVER,
ALFALFA CLOVER, ETC.

Get ready now. figure the amount you will need, write us for prices, buy your seed, and let's all be ready when the time comes.

Canning Supplies.

Mason Jars, Quarts, Pints, Half Gallons.

Star Tin Cans, Mason Jar Caps,

Large Jelly Glasses, Best Jar Rubbers,

Sealing Wax, Sticks, Wax Strings, Parowax.

Let Us Ship your Order by Freight or have Your Truckman Stop

Wichitas Best Flour

Milled from best Kansas Hard Wheat

CAR DUE TO ARRIVE THIS WEEK

Sold from car at these special prices:

Bbl. $8.50; 1/2 Bbl. $4.35; 98-lb bag. $4.

SEND YOUR ORDER NOW.

Nobetter Coffee,

Pound 33c

RARUS FLOUR

Bbl. in wood.....$7.50;

98-Lb. Bag $3.50

PURE APPLE CIDER VINEGAR.....45c Gallon
MIXED PICKLE SPICE.....20c Pound

Northern Kentucky's LEADING GROCERS AND SEEDSMEN.

GEO. W. HILL & CO.

Dea Hill Customer — is Pays —
27-29 PINE ST. — 25 W. 7th ST. CON. KY.
25 Center Ave. — 2500 4th Ave.
Cincinnati, Ohio

HEATING SYSTEMS

CALORIC - GOTTSCHALK

Pipeless Furnaces, Pipe Furnaces,
Hot Water, Steam and Vapor.

—WE REPAIR—

FURNACES AND ROOFS

The Gottschalk Furnace & Roofing Co.

Phone S 1287 (Incorporated) COVINGTON, KY.

VULCANIZING.

Complete line of Goodyear, Goodrich and Kelly-Springfield Tires and Tubes, good Grade of Automobile and Tractor Oils and Greases.

Auto Accessories kept in stock.

GEORGE PORTER,

BURLINGTON, KY.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN,

DENTIST
In my new office
Clayola Place, Florence, Ky.

Teeth extracted painless. Bridge and Plate Work a Specialty.

All Work Guaranteed

JAMES L. ADAMS

DENTIST
Cohen Building
Pike Street, Covington, Ky.

You Can Trade the Article You Don't Need For Something You Do by Adver- tising.

READ YOUR COUNTY PAPER

$1.50 The Year.

TAKE YOUR COUNTY PAPER.

Take Your County Paper.

Subscribe for the RECORDER.

People who use the classified ads in this paper profit by them.

The little ads bring quick results. What have you for sale or want to buy. The cost is too small to consider.

People who use the classified ads in this paper profit by them.

The little ads bring quick results. What have you for sale or want to buy. The cost is too small to consider.

People who use the classified ads in this paper profit by them.

The little ads bring quick results. What have you for sale or want to buy. The cost is too small to consider.

People who use the classified ads in this paper profit by them.

The little ads bring quick results. What have you for sale or want to buy. The cost is too small to consider.

BOONE CO. RECORDER

Published every Thursday
N. E. RIDDELL, Publisher.

Foreign Advertising Representative
THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION
Entered at the Postoffice, Burlington, Ky., as second-class mail.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Furnished on application. The value of the RECORDER as an advertising medium is unquestioned. The character of the advertisements now in its columns, and the number of them, tell the whole story.

All roads lead to the Lawrenceburg, (Ind.,) fair this week.

Farmers of the county are buying stock sheep this fall in large numbers.

Glen Criesler shipped a truck load of lambs to market one day the past week.

This is said to be Bug Year on the farms, and many people think it is in politics too.

Not only the flies biting freely, but the suckers are biting at the worthless stocks.

The sere and yellow leaf of autumn looks quite respectable compared with the fading straw hat.

Beginning next Wednesday, all roads will lead to the Florence Fair which opens for a four days meet.

The summer theaters are putting in cooling systems and the summer political orators are in need of the same.

Pastures are drying up badly, and unless we have more rain during the next few days there will be very little fall grass.

Wednesday and Thursday of last week were the hottest days of the season—the thermometer registering 97 in the shade.

The corn crop in Boone this year is very good in some sections of the county, while in other sections there is not half of a crop.

The report that the girls are going to uncover their ears again does not prove you can get them to listen to any good advice.

The girls are trying to study up how to get more beautiful hands. Exercise at the washtub is said to be very helpful to that end.

Not merely are the vacationists getting tanned by the summer sun, but they are getting skinned in many of the swell summer resorts.

One reason why so many people demand credit when buying groceries, is that it takes all their cash for gasoline and automobile repairs and fizzy drinks.

Miss Pink Cowen, after a two month's visit with her niece, Mrs. A. L. Furnish and family, at Golden Pond, Trigg county, returned home last Friday evening.

George Sylvester Viereck is again demanding that war never be declared without taking a referendum vote. If Mr. Viereck's house were on fire he would probably take a referendum vote before calling out the fire department.

The house fly was barred from 65,000 additional farm homes in 1921 by screening installed as a result of demonstrations given by extension workers, according to reports received by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Farm housewives last year either sold or put on their pantry shelves 1,335,000 containers of jelly, 9,500,000 cans of fruit and vegetables and 715,000 pounds of poultry and meat, canned according to methods demonstrated to them by extension agents of the United States Department of Agriculture and the State agricultural colleges.

As a result of 12,000 demonstrations in improved methods of home dairying given by extension agents, farm women are reported to the U. S. Department of Agriculture as having made according to demonstrated methods 3,300,000 pounds of butter during the year, 1,550,000 of which were sold and in addition they sold 750,000 gallons of cream.

A fad for removing the little toe is said to prevail in England among women, and some are said to be practicing it in this country. Getting rid of this member will enable women to wear pointed shoes.

Some chiropractors claim that such an operation would make a person limp indefinitely. The toe seems to perform an essential function in the act of walking, and people who remove them to please the fanciful desire for more pointed feet, would seem to be in much the same class as Chinese women who practice foot binding. Nature made the human body a beautiful thing. Any treatment that warps any part of that body out of shape is ugly and tends to disturb what is otherwise a beautiful object.

SILO-FILLING TIME WILL BE HERE SOON

Lexington, Ky.—Kentucky corn that is to be used for silage will be ready for the silo this year about the latter part of September or the first of October depending upon the time when it was planted, specialists at the College of Agriculture say. This method of storing green feed for winter use attracts an added number of farmers each year and indications are that an increased acreage of corn will be used for this purpose in the state during the coming fall, they say.

"Corn should be cut for silage when it is fairly mature, this condition in the dent varieties being present when the kernels are dented and the lower leaves of the stalk broke," Wayland Rhoads, a member of the college animal husbandry department explained. "The feed value of the corn increases as the crop matures and for this reason should not be cut too soon. Thorough tramping of the chopped corn as the silo is being filled is important if the best grade of silage is to result. Special care also should be taken so that corn in the center of the pit is tramped as much as that around the edges in order to prevent uneven settling. "If farmers wish to wait with their silo filling until the crop is more mature so that the ears can be taken off, the silage that remains can be successfully ensiled by adding an amount of water equal to the weight of the stover as the filling takes place. In this case enough water should be placed on the stover so that some of it can be squeezed out with the hand. Corn placed in a silo in a dry condition is more apt to spoil than that which contains plenty of moisture.

"On the college farm silage is kept from spoiling at the top of the silo by wetting it thoroughly just after filling is completed and then having one man tramp it for an hour each day on seven consecutive days."

BARLEY MAY REPLACE
WHEAT ON MANY FARMS

Lexington, Ky.—Winter barley bids fair to replace wheat on many Kentucky farms during the coming year, according to scores of inquiries being received at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. Disappointing returns obtained from wheat during the last few years are held largely responsible for the change while many farmers will switch to barley because of its value as a hog feed when it is ground or soaked. Since barley can be marketed through hogs it also provides an opportunity for increasing the returns from the small grain crop of the farm, according to E. J. Kinney, a member of the station agronomy department.

"Winter barley is usually a highly profitable crop on good land. While not quite as hardy as wheat, it seldom is damaged severely by winter killing if seeded early. It is much more likely to fill out well than wheat while the average yield is much larger. As a nurse crop for clover and grass, winter barley easily is the best grain crop because of its early maturity. The grain ripens about the first of June and thus furnishes the earliest feed crop that can be secured.

"The chief obstacle to the wider production of winter barley in Kentucky is the fact that as a rule it must be seeded before the corn crop can be harvested. As a matter of fact, barley seeding is restricted to tobacco ground or fallow land. It is not safe to seed the crop later than September in Northern and Central Kentucky and October 1 in Southern Kentucky. When the winters are as mild as those of 1920 and 1921, barley can be sown as late as wheat. The crop is attacked by Hessian fly and in sections where wheat growing is extensive, it is unsafe to plant barley when there are indications that the fly is going to cause trouble. On rich land, six pecks of good seed an acre is sufficient while less fertile lands should be seeded at the rate of two bushels an acre. Preparation of the land is the same as for wheat.

"There is only one extensively grown variety of winter barley, the Tennessee Winter, which is the common barley of Tennessee and Kentucky. It is perhaps the best variety known but in some cases is badly mixed with rye, cheat and other weed seeds. It also is damaged by both kinds of smut. However, many of these former objections can be eliminated by the fanning mill while the formalin treatment will eradicate a good part of the smut."

BOOM IN HIGHWAY BUILDING
DUE MAINLY TO FEDERAL AID

Federal aid has been probably the most important factor in the big boom in highway building of recent years, and there are now many long stretches of trunkline highway serving rich agricultural and industrial sections of the country which are almost entirely Federal-aid construction.

The United States Department of Agriculture, which administers the Federal-aid fund, points out that a traveler going from Richmond, Ind., to St. Louis across Indiana and the southern part of Illinois, thence to Chicago by way of Springfield and Peoria, a distance of approximately 679 miles, would travel 505 miles of Federal-aid highways, practically all of which should be in service by the end of the present season.

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

PARSON SAY AN OUGHTER
MAKE UP A RESOLUTION
T' GIT LONG WID DE OLE
'OMAN FUM NOW ON, BUT
TAIN' NO USE--SHE DONE
RES'LUTED T' GIT LONG
'DOUT ME !!

Copyright, 1920 by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

BEEF HERDS SUFFER AS DROUGHT CUTS PASTURES

Lexington, Ky. — Hundreds of purebred beef breeding cattle herds in Kentucky are apt to suffer expensive losses in weight during the present drought existing throughout the state unless extra feeds are supplied to supplement the failing pastures in many sections, according to E. S. Good head of the animal husbandry department of the College of Agriculture and a well-known authority on beef cattle. Losses in weight at this time of the year are difficult to regain later in the season. The sleek appearance which is a desirable condition in the breeding herd also is marred when the animals in its loss weight, he pointed out.

"Silage has been found to be one of the best feeds to tide cattle over during a period of drought such as being experienced in the state at the present time. Cows that are nursing calves should be given grain in addition to silage, five or six pounds a day being sufficient. About 1 pound of this grain mixture should be cottonseed meal. Cows without calves can get along with silage alone.

"If no silage is available, hay may be used in its place, in which case the grain feed should be increased to 10 pounds a day for each cow that is nursing a calf. However, cows that are not nursing calves may be maintained on the hay alone.

"Experience on the college farm indicate that owners of purebred beef breeding cattle herds should find this method of feeding a profitable one. Breeding cattle in the college herd have been given supplementary feeds since the drought started and this method of herd management will be continued until the pastures are revived with fall rains. Preventing shrink in cattle by supplementing the short pastures should prove economical on every beef breeding farm.

"If silage is fed during the summer, it should be lowered from four to six inches in the pit every day in order to prevent loss from decay. Breeders who have no facilities for feeding silage undoubtedly would profit by making plans now to store some of their green crops, for feed during periods of drought that exist from time to time in the state."

A SILO IS A GREAT BIG BANK.

Every farmer in Kentucky who owns a silo can consider himself the President and Board of Directors of a first-class bank.

A bank is an institution for the secure storage of valuables; silage is valuable. A bank is a source of help in financial stress—so is a silo when feed is scarce. A bank not only keeps its patrons funds safely, but returns them with interest, so does a silo return interest, but at a rate far above that of the bank. As an investment the bank returns profits on the money put into it; as a sole stockholder in the silo the farmer will find it one of the best investments he ever made.

Kentucky is gaining steadily in dairying. The most reliable authorities state that there are 14,000 silos in the state, each with an average capacity of 100 tons. Assuming $5 per ton as the feed value of silage, the deposits in these rural banks of the state amount to about $7,000,000. There is room for at least four times as many more silos as the state possesses now. If Kentucky had 50,000 silos the resources of its farmers as represented by deposits in silo banks would be increased to $25,000,000. Here is one of the rocks on which must be built Kentucky's future success in dairying.

A silo is an indication of good farming ability. The best farms in every locality are likely to have the best land, the best cows and the best farm plan. An Illinois survey showed that the labor income on farms with silos was $373 more than on farms without silos. Perhaps the silos were not responsible for it all, but figures talk.

Kentucky farmers are among the most progressive in the country and when both their pride and their pocket book are concerned no one can get ahead of them. Adding $200,000 to the deposits in the farmers' banks is not too much of a job. A good start can be made on it this year.

Put money into the bank by banking your corn crop in silos.

Trade Where They All Trade

Down Goes Flour

TELEPHONE—

24½ Lb. Bag 95c. 98 Lb. Bag $3.45

ARCADE—

It takes Less Shortening.
24½ Lb. Bag $1.05. 98 Lb. Bag $3.75

KANSAS KREAM—

The Flour That Never Failed.
24½ Lb. Bag $1.10. 98 Lb. Bag $3.90

GOLDEN BLEND COFFEE—the best for 25 years, - 33c

CEE WHIZ COFFEE—a 30c-coffee - - - 25c

OUR BLEND TEA—a sparkling drink, lb - - - 60c

One dollar's worth of any Tea or Coffee sent postpaid.

GEO. C. GOODE

Groceries, Flour, Seeds, Medicines

19-21 Pike St.

18-20 West Seventh St.

WHOLESALE—"Covington's Largest Seed and Grocery House"—RETAIL

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Phones South 235 and 236.

FIRST-CLASS
Shoe Repairing

Mail Orders at my Expense.
All work guaranteed. Mail your shoes to be repaired to
A. D. LAWRENCE, - - Erlanger, Ky.
37 Lexington Pike.
e-delpd

Lefever

New Lefever Nitro-Special only $29.00
O. K.'ed and purchased in quantities by the U. S. Navy. Well finished, considering the price. Built to shoot right and stand as much use as the most expensive gun. Most durable lock ever put in a gun—first lock fired over 7,000 times.

Every gun proof-tested with an extreme load. A standardized gun built only in 20-ga. 28 in., 12-ga. 28 in., and 12-ga. 28 and 30 in. with 14 in. stock and about 2½ in. drop. A Lefever won the world's championship of the Olympic games in London. Lefever has stood for service and durability for over 50 yrs. WRITE FOR CATALOGUE Lefever Arms Co., Box A, Ithaca, N.Y.

Children Who Can't Play.

The movement to provide cities and towns with playgrounds for the younger element is gaining ground, and thousands of progressive towns are providing this outlet for their young life. There is universal sympathy for the boy who has no chance to bat a base ball without taking chances on putting it through some one's window, or else of getting run over in the streets.

Experts in the development of young are quoted to state that only about 30 per cent of children have any regular play. The rest just sit around and watch things. They gaze openmouthed at the traffic that passes. Their chief joy is when the fire apparatus comes out. Town life makes children too much spectators of what other people do, and they do not get enough practice on doing things themselves. Many of them develop into street loafers who spend their time on street corners watching other people.

Providing a play ground for these young folks may or may not meet their needs. Perhaps they will merely use it as a place for hazing the small boys, and rallying the gangs for mischief.

But if a little effort is made to organize these youngsters into some form of athletic game, a play ground will do them a world of good. It will break up the desire for gang life, an organize them into ideas of co-operation and team work. Parents and others who take hold with the young folks and help them organize their play, do a splendid work for the community, and save many from idle and vicious ways. And when a town gets to the point where it feels it can afford to hire a trained play ground leader for the open air athletic season it takes a wonderful step forward for the development of its young folks.

Dodge Brothers

ANNOUNCE

A BUSINESS COUPE

Conservative changes in the body design of all other types.

Roadster.....$ 920
Coupe..... 1,063
Touring Car. 955
Sedan..... 1,550

Dempsey Motor Car Company

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY

Phone Erlanger, 70-L

Rural Letter Carriers

PICNIC

To Be Held at Florence Fair Grounds,

Monday, Sept. 4, '22

(Labor Day)

Come and Enjoy a Day With Us.

Bring Your Baskets.

Good Speakers

Speaking Will Begin at 10 A. M.

COMMITTEE ON ARRANGEMENTS.

J. P. TANNER. J. R. ROUSE. ELIJAH STEPHENS.
W. C. HUGHES. L. L. CHILDRESS. ROBERT WHEELER

ARE YOU A READER OF THE RECORDER?

If Not Try It One year.

Only $1.50 the Year

TWENTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL EXHIBITION OF NORTH KY. FAIR

"On the Dixie Highway" Florence, Ky.,
August 30-31 & Sept. 1-2, '22

FIRST DAY---Floral Hall Exhibits; Hogs, Draft Horses, Ponies.

SECOND DAY---Holstein Cattle, Mules, Poultry, Sheep.

THIRD DAY---Jersey Cattle, Harness Horses, Lady Rider. Baby Show.

4th DAY---Combined and Saddle Horses, Fancy Turnout, Lady Driver.

MARTIN & GENETT in Comedy Acrobatic Acts.

ARTHUR & DAVIDS, Slack Wire and Juggling.

JAMES BEAN, Aerial Artists, in two great acts.

OTHER FREE ATTRACTIONS---EACH DAY.

Poultry, Vegetables, Flowers, Needlework, Fruit, Grain, Art Work Pantry Products, Etc., will Remain on Exhibition During the Fair.

General Admission 40 Cents

Children 8 to 12 years old, 25 Cents

Ten Cent Fare from Ft. Mitchell Car Line. Reduced Rates on Southern Railroad.

Free Auto Parking Space.

CATALOGUE ON APPLICATION TO

HUBERT CONNER, Secretary, Burlington, Ky.

Don't Miss A Day. - - Meet Me There.

FLICKERTOWN.

F. M. Voshell has a young calf with St. Vitus dance.

Mrs. Lucetta Baker arrived at her father's Saturday.

Born to Wm. Hensley and wife August 13th, a 9-pound boy.

Mrs. Harry Acra and son visited her sister, Mrs. Lystra Smith, Sunday.

Miss Emma Nixon visited her sister Mrs. Russell Finn, Saturday and Sunday.

Seebree Bros. had a calf to fall over a rock wall and broke its neck last week.

Walter Shook and family are spending his vacation with his uncle, James Minor.

Seebree Bros. and Jas. Gaines sold stock hogs last week to a man of Harrison, Ohio.

William Wardlaw wife and son of Norwood, are visiting Seebree Bros. and family this week.

Eight men with teams and several others were hauling gravel on the Woolper pike, last week.

Miss Alice White is visiting her uncle C. L. Voshell and other relatives in Indiana, this week.

F. M. Voshell and family visited Mrs. Voshell's sister and family at Milan, Indiana, last Wednesday.

Carl Mullens, and Roy Mullens and family, of Newport, visited J. W. White and family, Saturday and Sunday.

A Mr. Fry and family, of Walnut Hills, Ohio, and Mr. Richie, of Constance, called on Grason Shinkle, Saturday.

Miss Jennie Whiteford, of Sparks, Ind., returned home Sunday afternoon after a 10 days visit with Miss Alice White.

Herman and Andy Weiskelle and families, Chas. Beemon and Miss Neoma Beemon, visited Chas. Akis and wife, Sunday.

Miss Mabel Gaines and Leroy Voshell are going in camp this week in Campbell county with the girls and boys chicken and pig clubs of this county.

Master Stanley Rue Smith was kicked by a young mule one day last week and his leg was broken. Just below the knee. Last reports he was doing nicely.

Mr. Wilber Snyder and Richard Hensley gave a party last Saturday night at the city hall at Flickertown. About 25 were present, and they all report having a good time.

LIMABURG.

Mr. Leslie N. Sorrell returned to Lexington, Monday.

Mrs. M. I. Baker was to leave Monday for Dry Ridge, Ky.

J. D. Aylor and family will soon leave Limaburg for their home in Florence.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Anderson and Mrs. and Mrs. Sorrell, spent Sunday with Chas. Moore and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Brothers were surprised Saturday night by their many friends with a charivari.

Mr. and Mrs. Leidy entertained Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anderson and daughter, Betty Mae, Helen Schweikert, Wm. King, Cora Kirchmer, Mart Gruber and Mrs. Fred Voth.

Mr. and Mrs. Leidy entertained with a shower in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Sorrell on August 12th.

Following are a list of those present and articles presented to the bride and groom, which were highly appreciated: Mrs. J. W. Utz, quilt, Mrs. Mary Baker, quilt, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Anderson, pair blankets, Mrs. Nan Baker, rug, Paul Poston, green boiler, J. W. Utz cut glass dish.

Mrs. Lizzie Utz cut glass cream pitcher, sugar bowl and spoon holder, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Gass aluminum kettle, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Riet, gravy ladle, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Beemon aluminum kettle, Mr. and Mrs. M. I. Baker two dresser scarfs, Mrs. Harriet Utz aluminum double boiler, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hellebush, kitchen set, Hazel Beemon cream pitcher and sugar bowl, Dorothy Rouse cake plate, Mr. and Mrs. Adrain one-half dozen silver spoons, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anderson both towels, Ira Beemon bread pans, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Rouse perculator, Joe Glass rat trap, Mr. and Mrs. Leidy dresser scarfs, Mr. and Mrs. Al Darby aluminum tea kettle, Tanner Bros., $5.00, J. D. Aylor $2.00, Hallie Hafer gravy ladle, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Youell, perculator, Roset to Glass bread knife and meat fork, Harvey Baker aluminum kettle, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Quigley dresser scarf, Mrs. Mary Crigler glass bowl, Ina and Isagella Rouse one-half dozen dinner plates and salad bowl, Mrs. W. L. B. Rouse granite pan, Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Stephens aluminum dish pan, Mr. Cecil Gaines perculator, Mrs. Gaines center piece, Roy Surrell, granite kettle, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Anderson one-half dozen silver knives and forks and $5.00, Wilma Beemon bread pan, James Edwards, Wilford and Willard Stephens, granite wash pan, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson table cloth, Anna Anderson berry spoon, Jennie Anderson dresser scarf, R. W. Rouse $2.00, Robt. Youell meat dish and vegetable bowl, Mrs. C. E. Beemon cream pitcher, and sugar bowl, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Brothers set dishes, Mrs. W. J. Burke one-half dozen silver spoons, Dr. Batte $2.00, Jennie Batte $1.00, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Moore $1.00, E. L. Rouse and wife cream lidel, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Buckler dresser scarf.

GUNPOWDER

R. F. Snyder and family visited J. W. Rouse and wife, last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Scott entertained several of their friends at dinner last Sunday.

P. J. Allen and wife and H. P. Utz wife and daughter Mary, were the guests of this scribe last Sunday.

Ed. Marksberry and family, of Devon, spent Sunday afternoon with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Marksberry.

C. S. Acra, who attended the summer term of school at Columbia, arrived home last week and will spend his vacation with home folks.

Geo. Robbins, who was a pupil at Berea College and spent at the end of his vacation in Virginia, arrived home last week to the delight of his many friends here.

The semi-annual meeting of the Joint Council of the Boone County Lutheran Pastorate will be held at Chenoweth church next Saturday, the 26th inst., at 10 a. m. A full attendance of the members of that body is desired.

Mrs. Alice Beall, a highly respected lady died at her home in Hebron on Tuesday last week. Two daughters Mrs. Ezra Aylor and Mrs. Lou Crutcher and one son Elmer Beall, and two sisters, Mrs. B. D. Clow and Mrs. B. A. Floyd and one brother J. C. Hankins were present at the funeral.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Carter at the residence last Thursday after which the remains were buried in the Hebron cemetery by those of her husband in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends.

Lots of money is being spent in advertising the merits of tubography, walnut, pine, etc.—and Mr. Wm. Wrigley is spending $4,000,000 advertising gum.

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE.

All persons having claims against the estate of Della Utz, deceased, will present the same to the undersigned properly proven according to law, and all persons knowing that they are indebted to said estate will please come forward and settle.

A. B. RENAKER, Executor.

FLORENCE THEATRE FLORENCE, KY.

Every Tues. and Sat.

THE BEST

MOVING PICTURES

Admission, 22c & 10c

BELLEVIEW

Mr. and Mrs. "Pep" Smith have moved into their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Voris, of Oklahoma, are visiting relatives here. But very few from here attended the Erlanger fair, it being so hot and dusty.

Petersburg defeated our ball team Saturday in a 13-inning game. Score 9 to 9.

Miss Olevia Hensley, of Petersburg, is staying with her cousin, Mrs. Leslie Ryle.

Many were the machines that passed through Sunday afternoon en route to the Dam.

Mrs. Mary Craven and son George, of near Hebron, were Sunday guests of T. B. Cason and sister.

Miss Mary Williamson, of Marietta, Ohio, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Williamson.

The W. M. S. will hold their annual meeting at the home of Mrs. Wallace Clow Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Ryle are the proud parents of a baby girl, born August 18—Mary Jaunita.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Shearer, and Mrs. M. J. Corbin, of Covington, were callers here Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Smith spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Dolph Seebree, of Locust Grove neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Clow of Maysville, Ky., left for their home Sunday after a week's visit with his mother, Mrs. Riley Clow.

Mrs. Josie Maurel returned home Saturday after several weeks' visit with her daughter, Mrs. R. S. Hensley, of North Terre, Haute, Indiana.

The revival meeting which was held at Belleview Christian church recently, closed with ten additions, eight for baptism and two by letter.

The Rebekahs and their families took well filled baskets and surprised Mrs. Josie Maurer at her home near Burlington last Sunday. A good day was enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hook have returned to their home in Harrodsburg after spending a week with her sister, Mrs. Edward Rogers.

Mrs. Willard Clow and son, of Ft. Worth, Texas, who were visiting relatives here the past few weeks, left last week for a visit with relatives at Somerset, Ky.

FRANCESVILLE.

Miss Bessie Murray spent Sunday with Miss Myrtle Blackard.

A protracted meeting has been in progress at the colored church here. L. C. Seothorn and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Seothorn.

Miss Madeline and Allene Kelly of Bellevue are visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Reitmanner entertained a number of friends from Cincinnati, Sunday.

Mrs. Sadie Goodridge and son are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morehead, at Taylorsport.

New York news dispatches tell of sixty people who were made ill by eating a poisoned pie. The fact that sixty people partook of the fatal pastry indicates that it must have been served at a boarding house.

For lighter, tastier, easier biscuits.

Telephone Flour

A Leader for Ask Your Forty-Five Years Grocer

60,000 BOYS AND GIRLS

IN JUNIOR SHORT COURSES

Over 60,000 boys and girls, enrolled in club work under the supervision of extension workers employed cooperatively by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the State agricultural colleges, enjoy the advantage of junior short courses and camps every year. These short courses have become a popular feature with the farm boys and girls and are eagerly looked forward to by them throughout the year.

The courses are patterned some what after the farmers and home makers' agricultural colleges for several years. Besides the instruction given, emphasis is laid on the social and recreational side of junior extension work. Most of the colleges give a course in rural leadership, emphasizing the importance of boys and girls becoming local leaders of clubs.

West Virginia, which, besides having three State camps for rural leadership for boys and girls, also maintains 40 county training schools. These schools are held in connection with county camps, and the farm boys and girls enjoy an outing of from 1 week to 10 days at very small expense. Most States provide similar programs at the college or at some desirable location in the State, and a considerable number—as, for example, Montana and Minnesota—conduct county camps.

The annual fixed charges against the U. S. Government for the year 1922 are $41,300,000,000. Of this amount $975,300,000 is for direct interest, payment, $284,000,000 for sinking fund and the balance for redemption of savings certificates, Liberty bonds, and certificates of indebtedness. The actual interest cost exceeds a billion a year.

"The Devil Can Quote Scripture"

WE CAN'T

But we will be glad to quote you Lowest Prices ON THE VERY BEST

CLOTHING

We can beat the devil himself at that. We have greatly reduced the prices on our Summer Clothing, and if you fail to look them over, you are overlooking much.

If you are looking for a Suit, a Coat and Pants, or extra Pants that you can rely on, we have them.

Selmar Wachs

605 Madison Avenue, Covington, Kentucky

FOR SALE

Farm of 25 acres at Hebron, Ky.—house, barn and outbuildings, 100 acres, 11 room house, barn and outbuildings, near Lawrenceburg Ferry. Both tracts good farm land.

E. MANNIN, Petersburg, Ky. 0-0015

Joseph Walton, who resides about three miles from town, out on the Burlington and Bellevue pike, got his arm broken by falling from a straw stack, one day last week.

Reuben Akin sold to W. A. Gaines, one day last week a span of nice 3 and 4 year old mules.

FORSALE

Five room house, Burlington Park Sub-Division, lot 50x150 feet $1,500

75 acres, 5-room house, E. A. Garrit, $3,500

222 acres 6 room house (W. O. Recorder) three miles from Burlington $10,000

60 acres, 8 room house, Walton $7,000

48 acres, 4-room house, Union, Ky., $6,800.

CLAUDE AGENT.

Frishter, Ky., Office Main Street, south 41

Notice of Election of Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association.

To Our Members:—

The annual election for delegates who will choose district directors of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association will be held between the hours of eight o'clock in the morning and four o'clock in the afternoon, Saturday, September 16, 1922. Each member of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association is entitled to one vote by ballot for such delegates.

Candidates for delegates will be nominated in mass meetings to be held in the court houses of all counties in the Burley district on Saturday, September 2, 1922, at 2 o'clock p. m. Twice as many candidates as the county may elect as delegates are to be nominated and each county is entitled to one delegate for each million pounds or majority fraction of a million pounds of tobacco of the 1921 crop delivered to the Association. In counties in which the amount delivered to the Association falls below a million pounds such county shall elect one delegate, who shall have such fraction of a vote as the amount of tobacco of the 1921 crop delivered to the Association may be to a million pounds.

Growers who may not be able to attend the election September 16, may vote by mail or send their ballots to the election officers and such ballots so voted must reach the election officers between the hours of 8 a. m., and 4 p. m., September 16th. If sent after 4 o'clock on the day of the election they cannot be counted in the result.

Delegates elected in the various counties will meet Monday, September 18, 1922, at the court house in that county of each district which delivered the largest amount of tobacco to the Association of the crop of 1921 and will there organize by the election of chairman and secretary and proceed to elect a director for said district to serve for the ensuing year.

Every member of the Association is urged to attend the mass meeting in his county September 2, to nominate delegates and the election September 16, at which delegates will be chosen.

By order of the Board of Directors of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association.

JAMES C. STONE,
President and General Manager.
H. LEE EARLEY,
Secretary and Treasurer.

NOW YOU CAN GET

Flavo and Walton Cream

Women everywhere are demanding this better flour. Perhaps you, too, have wished for a flour with the wheat's native sweetness—the uniform and dependable flour—a flour not killed in the milling.

Such a flour is FLAVO and WALTON CREAM, and you can now get it at home. We are the makers of this flour in your own county. Go to your own grocer or ask us and we will see that you are supplied.

Do not confuse Flavo or Walton Cream with other flour. It is distinctively and exclusively the product of the Marvel Mill. Until you once try it you do not know how delicious flour can be.

Our American Marvel Mill is the modern, scientific mill for superior flour making. It imparts to Flavo and Walton Cream an incomparable flavor so nut-like, so appetizing and so delightfully pleasing to the palate to place it beyond the reach of comparison. Try it once and thereafter when you think of flour you will think of Flavo and Walton Cream.

It takes one-fourth less shortening and very little soda for Flavo and Walton Cream, than any other flour on the market. Order your sack today and enjoy this treat.

MADE BY THE

Walton Sanitary Flour Mill, WALTON, KY.

COMING

Tuesday, Sept. 5th
To Union, Ky., at 7:45 P. M.
"The Kansas Cyclone"

WILLIAM UPTON GUERRANT, Lecturer.

HOBERT VAN BLARCOM, Baritone.

LOLA LEE MATTER, Pianist.

RUTH EMILE SCOTT, Soprano.

ETHEL HASSINGER, Violinist.

A BIG CONCERT—Solos, duets, trios, quartets, readings, etc. A concert of cheer and optimism. Two Hours of enjoyment.

ADMISSION 25 Cents.

Under the management of Presbyterian Society, Union, Ky.

After January 1, 1923, automobile owners will have to pay an additional tax. Besides the regular annual license of 25 cents per horse power, an additional tax of 40 cents will be added for every hundred pounds your car weighs.

One editorial optimist says: "The coal outlook is all right." Yes, all right except for the trifles that little coal is being mined, little of it is being hauled to the markets, and what does reach the markets will probably be sold at exorbitant prices.

NONPARIEL PARK

Mrs. Will Arnold made a business trip to Cincinnati, Friday.

A large crowd attended the dance at Nonpareil Park, Saturday evening. J. G. Renaker and wife called on Elmer Cahill and family, Sunday afternoon.

Russell Bradford of Union pike, left Wednesday for Detroit and Chicago on a business trip.

Mrs. A. Liston, of Newport, was the guest last week of Chas. Chipman and wife of Dixie Highway.

Clifford Noman and wife, of Covington, spent the week-end with J. O. Carpenter and wife of Main-st.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Lucas and daughter Miss Archmarie, attended the association at Dry Ridge, Ky.

John Powell Crouch and wife, of Cincinnati, spent the week-end with C. W. Myers and wife, of Main-st.

Rev. Ezra Carpenter and wife, of Illinois, will arrive here this week to visit relatives and attend the Florence fair.

Miss Mattie Williams, of Covington, is spending a few days with her sister Mr. and Mrs. Lane Riggs, of Erlanger.

O. O. Dixon, of Richmond, has returned home after spending a few days with Edgar Aylor and wife, of Union pike.

Mrs. Dora Cole left last week for her home in Columbus, Ohio, after spending the summer here at her summer home.

Mrs. Stella Tryling and son Wm. of Silverton, Ohio, are guests of her parents Joe Baxter and family, of Dixie Highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Price, of Williamstown, spent the week-end with Chas. Chipman and family and attended the Erlanger fair.

Ed. Chipman, of Williamstown, spent several days last week with his brother, Chas. Chipman and family and attended Erlanger fair.

Dr. Chas. Souther and wife, and two friends of Cincinnati, were the Sunday afternoon guests of Albert Souther and wife of Main-st.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Arnold, son and wife have returned home after a delightful visit with Harvey Mitchell and wife, of Philadelphia, Ohio.

John Nead and family returned to their home in Mt. Sterling, Ky., after spending the summer here with his parents, Tom Nead and wife.

Miss Elizabeth Dell Goodridge, of

Main-st. has returned home after a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Finch, of Madison, Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baxter received a card last week from Rev. J. Garber and wife, who are having a delightful time on their vacation in Virginia.

Rev. Wilford Mitchell and wife, Rev. Cecil Tanner and wife and mother Mrs. Cora Stephens, will return to Wilmore, Ky., to attend Bible School this fall.

John Aylor, of Lima, sold his beautiful home to "Bug" Ogden, of Francisville, and Mr. Aylor bought Mrs. Day's place near Florence, and will move there soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lucas and children returned home after motor-ing to Fincastle, Ohio, last week where they visited Mrs. Lucas' uncle, Warren Thompson and wife.

MT. ZION.

Council meeting at Ebenezer Church Sunday, August 26th.

Mrs. Henry Holzworth and baby spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Geo. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Young, of Newport, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Smith and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Frazier and baby, of Hamilton, Ohio, are visiting W. E. Glacken and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Surface, of Florence, spent Saturday night and Sunday with Eli Surface and family.

James Robert and Clara E. Glacken spent Friday night, with their grandparents, W. E. Glacken and wife.

Geo. Bassett and family motored to Franklin, Ohio, Sunday and visited her brother Aubrey Mulberry and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Smith had as their guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Smith, of Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Abdon and family, of Richmond, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. M. and family.

Mrs. Sarah Robinson entertained with a dinner Sunday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter Sarah, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Robinson and son James.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Frazier and baby, of Hamilton, Ohio, Dr. K. I. Glacken and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Carpenter.

The new Goodyear
Cross-Rib Tread Cord

A Remarkable New Cord Tire at a Popular Price

Here is a big, sturdy, long-wearing new tire built to satisfy the buyer on every point of mileage, quality and price.

It is designed especially for the man who wants the essential advantages of cord tire performance at the lowest possible price.

It is designed to offer the buyer a quality product at a price even lower than he has formerly paid for a "long discount" tire. It has a different tread from the famous Goodyear All-Weather Tread Cord—a new tread with a deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern—and its selling price is substantially less.

This new tire is the Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord it is liberally oversize in all straight-side sizes, the 4½-inch tire, for example, actually measuring nearly 5 inches.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord, its foundation is genuine high-grade long-staple cotton.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord, it embodies the efficient group-ply construction, a Goodyear patent.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord, it is the product of an experienced company which has a world-wide reputation to safeguard.

Look at the prices of the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord, listed below.

Compare these prices with net prices you are asked to pay for "long-discount" tires of unknown reputation and value.

Why take a chance on such tires?—you know it doesn't pay.

Compare these prices with NET prices you are asked to pay for "long discount" tires

30x3½ Clincher....	$12.50	31x4 Straight Side	$22.20	34x4 Straight Side	$25.90	34x4½ Straight Side	$32.95
30x3½ Straight Side	$13.50	32x4 Straight Side	$24.50	32x4½ Straight Side	$31.45	33x5 Straight Side	$39.10
32x3½ Straight Side	$19.25	33x4 Straight Side	$25.25	33x4½ Straight Side	$32.15	35x5 Straight Side	$41.05

These prices include manufacturer's excise tax

Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord Tires are also made in 6, 7 and 8 inch sizes for trucks

FOR SALE BY

GEORGE PORTER

Burlington, Kentucky.

GOODYEAR

THE HOME RADIO

How to Make and Use It By A. HYATT VERRILL

XII. TRANSFORMERS

These are instruments designed to transform or change one kind of electrical current to another such as alternating current to a direct current, and are very useful and essential devices in radio telephony. There are many kinds of transformers, but all are built, or rather based, upon the same principles, which is that of induction, or the formation of a current in a coil of wire by the passage of another current through another coil near it. As induced currents are only produced when the magnetic field is changing, the current induced by a transformer can only be secured by means of some mechanical device or by an alternating current. When the former is used the transformer becomes a spark-coil or induction-coil (see coils) and the means by which the primary current is alternately broken or interrupted is the buzzer or contact at the end of the iron core of the coil. But if an alternating current is run through the primary wires of a transformer no interrupter is required, as the magnetic field changes each time the current rises and falls. There are two general types of transformers in use, one known as an "autotransformer" which is exactly like an ordinary sparking coil and consists of a iron core covered with two windings of wire known as the primary and secondary, Fig. 28. A very often, where such a transformer can be used, an ordinary spark-coil with the contact-breaker reversed down answers every purpose. The other type is known as the "closed-circuit transformer" and consists of a number of iron plates or laminations in the form of a hollow square and which are wound on one side for the primary and on the opposite side for the secondary, Fig. 28, B. Although either use of these types may be made at home, yet it is not advisable to attempt it. In the first place, several thousand turns of secondary wire are required and it is a tedious and difficult matter to wind these on evenly and well. Moreover, the number of turns of primary and secondary wire must be very carefully proportioned and must be worked out on mathematical lines in order to secure the proper reactance or the tendency to resist the flow of the alternating current. Finally, transformers are not expensive and the cheapest are far more efficient and are better made than anything that you can make yourself.

LEGION NOTES

Washington.—According to Senator Watson of Indiana the Soldier's Adjusted Compensation measure will pass the Senate in record time as soon as the Tariff bill is out of the way. The Indiana Senator backs this contention up with an opinion that once it is brought up the Adjusted Compensation bill will pass in four days.

Syracuse, N. Y.—To obtain necessary funds for its Veterans Mountain camp the New York American Legion will stage the Empire State's largest track and field meet at Syracuse September 22. An innovation in athletic meets is on now. The Legion has divided New York state into districts and is holding tryouts in all. The winners in the district meets will go to the finals at Syracuse, the winners there being awarded medals and the honor of being the state's best athletes.

Paris, France.—Thirty hours before the declaration of hostilities which later plunged almost every civilized nation into war, Corp. Andre Peugeot of France was killed. He met death at Jochery, France, on August 2, 1914, at the hands of a band of Uhlans France has just dedicated a monument to Corp. Peugeot, the first man killed in the world war.

Philadelphia.—Aside from the government's own largest collection of war relics in the country will probably be owned by Henry H. Houston port of the American Legion, Philadelphia, Pa. The Philadelphia Legionnaires have started a collection which has already outgrown two huge rooms. Alterations in the club's quarters are being made to house additional trophies. There will include one of the captured German pieces, which the post will obtain from the government and place on the lawn of its clubhouse.

Washington.—Following a "tip" given by American Legion men, the Department of Justice has picked up Arthur A. Starnes, 27, who was decorated with "medal of honor" to represent the French Medaille Militaire and Croix de Guerre and the Italian Iron Cross. Starnes, when spotted by the Legion and arrested by government officials, was dressed in the uniform of a colonel of the United States Army. Though arrested in Washington, D. C., Starnes' home is said to be in Dallas, Texas.

Philadelphia.—Use of the American flag as a scare crow in the corn field of a Hazleton, Pa., farmer brought down the wrath of the American Legion. The Legion protested, and the scare crow's attire was changed.

New York, N. Y.—We'll tear four desk figures to pieces," a committee of thirty prominent New York business men has written to Brig. Gen. Charles E. Sawyer, President Harding's personal physician and "chief co-ordinator" for the Federal Hospitalization Board. The statement is made in an invitation asking Gen. Sawyer to come to New York and see for himself the "wretched situation which exists in this district for the care of sick and wounded world war veterans."

The letter, sent by the state hospitalization committee of the American Legion, was in answer to Gen. Sawyer's reply to A. A. Sprague, chairman of the Legion's national rehabilitation committee, in which the President's physician claimed adequate hospital facilities for ex-service men in need of medical and surgical treatment.

The state Legion committee wrote Gen. Sawyer: "If you are unable to obtain through your own channels a true report on the wretched situation in the Second District, we further ask that you spend 24 hours in New York in order to meet a committee of about twenty-five or thirty business men and men recognized as medical authorities to talk over the situation with the actual facts at hand. The rehabilitation committee will guarantee to tear your desk figures to pieces and conduct you to a place where you can see with your own eyes the true conditions, and perhaps you can have a report which is in harmony with the conditions existing."

New Orleans.—When members of the American Legion gather in New Orleans next October for their annual national convention they will mingle with the greatest heroes of the World War. Convention officials have announced that all warblers of the congressional medal of honor, the highest American decoration for bravery, have been invited as distinguished guests to the convention and that twenty-two heroes have already accepted the invitation.

The medal of honor men will receive all honors accorded to the most distinguished guests during the five days of the convention. Their expenses to the convention and return will be paid by the Legion. They will be housed in the best hotels and will review the convention parade in the stand reserved for distinguished guests.

Only combat soldiers can receive the medal of honor and it is not granted for ordinary bravery displayed in "sticking it out" through a heavy barrage or the storming of an enemy trench. The soldier who obtains this honor is cited "for conspicuous gallantry above and beyond the call of duty in action with the enemy." Thousands of American soldiers performed feats of heroism which would have won the highest medals from any other Allied power but the American congressional medal is reserved for super-heroes.

Medal of honor men who have accepted the convention invitation include all ranks from "buck private" to first lieutenant. There are five privates, four corporals, ten sergeants and three lieutenants. Their homes are in all parts of the country.

FARMERS MARKETING WHEAT CROP; LARGE INCREASE IN BURLEY TOBACCO ACREAGE.

With very few exceptions the many reports received on agricultural conditions are of a very encouraging and hopeful nature. Wheat harvesting has been practically completed, and in many sections of the Fourth District threshing is well under way. While the yield is not high, and in some instances is below expectations, farmers quite generally feel encouraged over the returns. In marked contrast to former conditions, when the farmers were holding their wheat for higher prices, the crop this year is being marketed rapidly, and agricultural communities are paying off a part of their indebtedness.

The corn crop at this time is reported to be looking very favorable. The acreage in Ohio is estimated to be 3 per cent greater than that of last year. The United States acreage is about 5 per cent less than last year. The month's estimate of the acreage and condition of corn in Kentucky indicates a crop of about 94,375,000 bushels compared to 82,150,000 bushels last year.

The Burley tobacco crop is in excellent condition and the only thing that is worrying the tobacco planters is the large acreage. The crop was set out early and has grown fast and evenly. It is believed that a large part of the crop will be cut in August this year, and early cutting means good quality. Practically all of the old Burley has been sold, and it appears that the farmers are very well satisfied with the work of the marketing association, as a great many new members have been secured. Estimates of the Department of Agriculture place the 1922 tobacco acreage (all types) of Kentucky at 555,000 as compared to 385,000 acres last year, an increase of 45 per cent.

In a special pig survey made by the Department of Agriculture, it is indicated that there will be a net increase of 14.5 per cent in the number of pigs raised in the corn belt states during the first half of 1922, compared with the first half of 1921. There is a belief that this increase may overcome the present shortage in meat.

KENTUCKY STANDS FIFTH IN BETTER STOCK DRIVE

Lexington, Ky.—Kentucky is continuing to make steady progress in the "Better Sires-Better Stock" campaign being conducted throughout the country by the United States Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the various state agricultural colleges, according to a progress report which has just been received by T. R. Bryant, assistant director of extension work at the College of Agriculture. The state now stands fifth among all those in the Union in the drive against scrub breeding animals, being preceded by Ohio, Virginia, Nebraska and Washington.

Since the beginning of the campaign, at which time Kentucky stood at the bottom of the list of states in the number of farmers who had agreed to use nothing but purebred sires in all their breeding work, the state has forged rapidly to the front thru the work carried on by county agricultural agents and specialists from the college, Mr. Bryant said. At the present time a total of 401 Kentucky farmers have joined the campaign, these farmers being the owners of a total of 10,640 purebred animals and 54,292 chickens. Ohio, which heads the list, has a total of 1,970 farmers enrolled in the movement.

Work being carried on by county agricultural agents and the college extension division at the present time promises to advance the standing of the state in the drive, Mr. Bryant said. The work is being launched in practically all parts of the state while many farmers are showing an increased interest in the value of better breeding animals, he said.

Discussion as to who "won" the war seems rather inappropriate in view of all the troubles that have broken loose since it closed, but there is room for an argument as to who got the worst licking.

FLORENCE.

Several from here attended services at Burlington, Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bradford left last week for a trip to Detroit, Michigan.

Mrs. Chas. Fulton spent Saturday and Sunday with friends at Fairmount.

Mrs. Owen Bradford and Mrs. Russell Mitchell spent Monday in Covington.

Mrs. Lewis Houston entertained several friends from Detroit, Michigan, last week.

Elmer Cahill and family left Monday for a visit with Frank Michaels at Milford, Ohio.

Miss Myrtle Stephens returned home Friday from a visit with relatives at Lexington.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown, of Covington, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. De Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Crouch, of Covington, spent Sunday evening with Mrs. C. W. Myers.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Lucas were the guests of Rev. Elmer Lucas and family, at Bellevue, Ky., Sunday.

Geo. Markberry and family and Mr. and Mrs. Holiday and son spent Sunday with relatives at Big Bone.

Shirley Ryle, Lillian Butler, Clarence Carpenter and Clayton Newman spent Sunday at Big Bone Springs.

Dr. Wallace Tanner wife and daughters, of St. Petersburg, Fla., are the guests of Mrs. Emma Rouse and other relatives.

Miss Rebecca Hambrick and Clarence Adams were quietly married Saturday afternoon. Wish them a long, happy prosperous life together.

NONPARIEL PARK.

Mrs. Jake Lohline and daughter Stella, spent Saturday in Cincinnati, shopping.

Mrs. Elijah Shrum, of Covington, is visiting Mrs. Mattie Hoover, of the Dixie Highway.

Mrs. Walter Arnold, of Burlington, was the guest of her parents, A. M. House and wife, of Main-st., last week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Peck and two sons, of Dayton, Ky., called on friends in Nonpareil Park, Sunday afternoon.

Miss Kathryn Keller, of Walnut Hills, spent several days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Dunson and brother Wm. Brown, of Main-st.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kraus of the Dixie Highway, entertained at dinner Sunday for M. and Ms. George Dill and son of Hamilton, Ohio, and Miss Bertha Myers, of Covington.

Aaron Brown and son Barney, oldest brother of William Brown, and Mrs. Dunson, whose home is in New Haven, Conn., are enjoying a family reunion at the home of Brown & Dunson.

PETERSBURG.

Light shower of rain Friday.

Mrs. Perrin Loudon is ill with stomach trouble.

Holt White is furnishing the town with some fine watermelons.

Some of the boys here are practicing swimming across the river.

Brena Loniaker and Mrs. Nina Moreland are getting along nicely.

John and Frank Geisler spent Sunday at home after a week's work out in the country.

Mrs. Pate, of Cincinnati, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. John Bradburn, for this week.

Dr. G. F. Smith, of Lawrenceburg, was over Sunday visiting several families who are ill.

Quite a lot of watermelons are being marketed at the Aurora and Lawrenceburg markets.

Archie L. Acra and son Edgar, of Middle Creek, called on your writer and wife, last Thursday.

Mr. David Thompson is still confined to his room from the injury he received while working on the Dam at McVie.

Henry Huffman's remains were shipped from Louisville Sunday evening for interment. He died at his home there.

Pete is all astir this week. Two days occupied with the Christian church convention and one day with Haag.

Miss Lois Chambers and brother, of Los Angeles, Cal., are visiting their grandmother, Mrs. Laura Chambers and aunt, Mrs. Herma Mathews.

Death again visited our town Friday by calling Mrs. Margaret Norris. She died at the home of her daughter Mrs. B. H. Berkshire. The funeral was at 1 o'clock a. m., Sunday. Interment in the Petersburg cemetery on the family lot.

Lower Gunpowder.

Dry weather continues. Corn and tobacco crops very short.

F. H. Sebree and family spent last Sunday with Ohmar Adams and wife of Burlington R. D.

Howard Aylor is home on a visit from Lafayette, Ind., where he is taking a course in agriculture.

The hay press owned by Shinkle Bros., has been busy for quite a while pressing hay for the farmers of this community.

Oth Hubbard caught a 24-pound Buffalo fish on his line in the river Monday. He seems to be having pretty good luck fishing.

Oth Hubbard and wife entertained the following at dinner Sunday: Mr. Elsie Haas and wife, of Covington, Mr. Thos. Reib, of Covington, Mr. Boone Williamson of Grant R. D. and L. W. Hubbard wife and two children, Otho and Delbert, of this vicinity.

HEBRON THEATRE--Next Saturday

KATHERINE McDONALD IN

"CURTAIN"

Admission 22 Cents, Children 10 Cents
War Tax Included

WITH THE LAST WORD SAID

surviving relatives and friends are often seized with a vague fear, lest in preparation for the burial, their beloved Dead may fall into careless or desecrating hands.

All the work of this Establishment, is either done in person, or under my careful direction and control, by those fully qualified by character and experience to maintain its high reputation.

PHILIP TALIAFERRO,
Undertaker and Embalmer
Erlanger, Ky.

The Best Advertisement

IS A PLEASED CUSTOMER

Spectacles and Eyeglasses that Fit the face and Fit the sight the kind we sell.

Phone South 1746

WITH NOTCH, Jeweler.

DR. N. F. PENN, 613 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

Efficient, Service and Economy

IS MY SLOGAN

C. SCOTT CHAMBERS
Embalmer and Funeral Director

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

Public Sale

I will sell at public sale at my farm on the Frogtown Pike, 1-4 miles west of Dixie Highway, on

Tuesday, Aug. 29th, '22

The Following Property:

Farm Mare, 3-yr. old Mare, Cow-milking, Cow-dry, both fresh in January; 4 Heifers, Jersey Bull, Weber Road Wagon, Boxbed and Hayframe, Oliver Chilled Plow No. 20, Single Shovel Plow, Tongueless Rolling Harrow, "A" Harrow, 2-horse Sled, 2-horse Cultivator, 6-plate Cultivator, DeLaval Separator, Mowing Machine, Hayrake, Corn-Shell, set Wagon Harness, Grindstone, 2 Posthole Diggers, Double Trees and Single Trees, Corn Drill with fertilizer attachment, Feather Bed, and other articles.

TERMS OF SALE.

Sums under $10, cash; notes payable and negotiable at Florence Deposit Bank, Florence, Ky., six months without interest. Nothing to be removed until terms of sale are complied with.

CLARENCE TANNER, Prop.

LUTE BRADFORD, Auctioneer.

WALTER GRUBBS, Clerk.

Sale to Begin at 1 P. M.

A good home-made self-feeder for poultry reported to the U. S. Department of Agriculture by the county extension agent of Knox county, Indiana, is one made of an old mow wheel, a barrel with both ends knocked out, an old washub, and a small platform of rough boards. The wheel is first laid on the platform the barrel is then placed on the wheel, filled with dry mash, and the top turned over the top of it for a cover. A barrel should be used which leaves just enough space between its edge and the rim of the mow wheel to allow room to feed. This prevents the feed from being scratched outside the rim.

More Copies of Popular Film. To meet the demand for the use of the motion-picture film "Great Dairy Sires and Their Daughters," the U. S. Department of Agriculture is making six additional copies, is creating the supply from 12 to 18. With the additional number it is believed that service to persons desiring this educational film will be greatly improved.

The picture is a one-reel production showing outstanding sires, cows and progeny of the leading herds.

A cap to be mounted on the handle of a putter to pick up balls has been invented for golfers.

WE WANT EVERY MAN

in Boone and Kenton Counties

That has a farm large or small, or House and Lot to sell to list it with us and we will advertise and find a buyer if there is any.

The Wisenberger Real Estate Co.

BEN.

Phone South 6008

JOHN

515 Coppin Bldg. COVINGTON, KY.

Printed Stationery

AT THIS OFFICE
ENVELOPES, LETTERHEADS, NOTEHEADS, STATEMENTS

for business people.
for professional people.
for farmers.
for every one who wants to be considered up to date and going strong

Willard Batteries

AT A NEW PRICE

Ford Size	$15.85
Chrysler	15.85
Overland	15.85
Chalmers	19.10
Beick	15.85
Maxwell 6-volts	24.55
Maxwell 12-volts	24.55
Dodge	24.55

Weddle Battery Co.,

Aurora, Indiana.

REPRESENTING
Willard Batteries.

July 18-1922
Subscribe for the RECORDER

Notice to Shoppers.

Having now two trucks--a one and a two ton, I am prepared to do your hauling, large or small. Quick and efficient service.

Your Business Solicited.

W. M. Rachal, Jr.
Union, Kentucky.

The French Revolution. The French Revolution commenced July 14, 1789, with the destruction of the Bastille, and lasted until July 27, 1794, when a national convention deposed Robespierre and put an end to the Reign of Terror. In November of the same year the Directory was established. It remained in power until overthrown by Napoleon, November 9, 1799.

DO YOU TAKE THE RECORDER?

Try It One Year. You'll Like It.

Read Our Advertisements and Profit By Them.

THE COAL SITUATION

The County Judge has received the following letter:

August 21, 1922.

My Dear Judge:

I have been very much distressed at the quotations which mine operators in the State of Kentucky have been making on coal for domestic and other uses, and have taken the most vigorous action with the Washington authorities in order that a price fair to the operators and fair to the public might be established.

It is unnecessary to tell you that the supply of coal available falls far short of the needs of the country, and that Kentucky, in the discharge of a great public duty, must spare as much coal as possible to the other states of the Union. This requirement gives opportunity to those operators who fail to grasp the real significance of the situation to make demands upon the public in the way of prices for coal that cannot be justified. They are entitled to the same price for their product. In the same way the retailer who supplies your citizens is entitled to a fair margin over and above the cost to him of the coal and the freight.

I have established a Coal Distributing Committee with headquarters at Room No. 606 Republic Building, Louisville, Kentucky. It is the business of that Committee to allocate coal for those purposes which are vitally necessary to the health and welfare of the people of the State. That Committee, however, has need of active help in every county of the State, that it may know that the coal which it has been able to send into that county reaches ultimate consumers without any undue or unconscionable profit.

I therefore, ask you to function as guardian for your county and to notify me at any time that coal is priced to your citizens at more than the fair price. The fair price at which coal should come to your industries and your retail dealers is $1.50 per ton at the mines. Your dealers serving the general public with coal which they purchase from the mines should be allowed only a reasonable margin over that cost sufficient to pay haulage, yard expense, the overhead of the dealer and a normal profit. These margins were fixed during the war and what was known as the "Garfield Prices." They are undoubtedly available to the dealers of your neighborhood as indicating what a fair price handling margin should be.

Should you find mine operators charging your industries or coal dealers more than $1.50 for coal, please report the facts to me, together with the name of the mine so offending. Should you find any of your local dealers in your county adding an undue or unjustifiable margin over the fair price at which coal is being allocated to them, you should report the facts and their names to me.

My Distributing Committee intends to and will vigorously enforce the fair price thus outlined by the withholding of priority orders; by the refusal to supply cars for transportation or by coal shipments to mine operators or coal dealers who have seen fit to violate the fair price that has been established.

I will appreciate your acknowledgment of this letter, your active interest in this trying situation and your energetic service for the public good.

Most Respectfully Yours,

EDWIN F. MORROW,

Governor of Kentucky.

The Back Yard.

Many country people feel it is not necessary for them to clean up their back yards. People do not live together as thickly in country towns as in the cities, and the condition of the rear of a property may not be very conspicuous.

Yet it is difficult to keep such a spot wholly screened, and dirt and disorder can never be hid. A disorderly back yard affects the morals of a family and even of the owner. It gets people in a habit of loose and careless work. Frivolous and needless about a dwelling even if few people can observe it, adds to self respect even if few people can observe it, adds to self respect and confidence and makes a family feel that they are a success in life.

A Narrow Escape.

Mr. J. H. Jockey and his brother Frank Jockey, of Tennessee, and C. T. Claunch, of Erlanger, had a narrow escape from death last Monday evening. While going to Walton, they had just crossed the railroad track at Richwood, when a fast passenger train went by missing the auto in which they were riding by a few inches.

Automobiles Collided.

W. D. Sutton and L. A. Connor had an automobile accident Monday on the Florence Pike at the top of the Limaburg hill. The fender and running board of Mr. Connor's car was badly damaged. The front axle of Mr. Sutton's car was bent and the fenders considerably damaged. The occupants of the machines were not injured.

BY REP. ARTHUR B. ROUSE

(Chairman Democratic Campaign Committee)

There are several issues this fall, although, perhaps, the administration candidates will deny us some of them. The fall elections will be elections and not primaries. Genuine issues are to be contested. Sentiment has already been sounded out, and, prominent among these issues, I would list:

1 The Republicans' failure to enact tariff legislation with lower rates. Instead, they are building a tariff wall around the country to shut out imports. And if the tariff bill is passed before the fall elections it will be the paramount issue. However, if the Republicans are smart they will keep the tariff bill in conference until after the elections.

2 The revenue bill, which has reduced the taxes of the rich, but has not reduced the taxes of the poor. And the ship subsidy is a corollary of this administration error. It means more taxation. Certainly the farmers will stand for it. Realizing this, I think the Republicans would rather let the subsidy slide, so far as this session of Congress is concerned.

3 Newberryism. The fight on Sen. Newberry and Newberryism is not over. Quite naturally, Republicans would have the incident forgotten. But I am convinced there is still a profound feeling against the seating of the Michigan senator.

4 The dilly-dallying tactics of the administration on economic and industrial problems. This issue will have gained new impetus during the last few days. Here we are in the House, back at the President's request. We have been back four days, and there isn't a quorum.

These are the issues. Events if late in the industrial world have obscured the political undercurrent. People have been compelled to think, first, in terms of current industrial crisis. Were the administration leaders doing anything to counteract this force; were they doing anything worthy of equal mention, of equal consideration in the public mind, things would be different.

I hope the fall elections will tell the story. The people are worried about the industrial situation. They read of nothing but crises. Remedies are not forthcoming. The consciousness of this fact will be fully developed by fall, and with it will come the realization that there are real, live, political issues.

These are the products of the general discontent among all classes of voters. In various parts of the country these issues may have different weights. But they are there, all the same. The Democrats have plenty of talking points.

LEGALITY OF ACT TO BE SETTLED

Simmons Road Commission Bill Will Be Taken to Court of Appeals

Preparation of a petition requesting a declaratory judgment on the Simmons Road Commission act was begun at Louisville at a conference of Gen. W. L. Sibert, of Bowling Green, who is named as chairman of the State Highway Commission created by the bill; Senator R. C. Simmons of Covington, author of the act; Senator W. A. Perry, president pro tem of the upper house of the last General Assembly, and Judge Alex P. Humphrey, counsel for the plaintiffs.

The plaintiffs, according to Mr. Perry, will be General Sibert, Leslie B. Samuels of Bardonia, and M. L. Conley of Louisville, three of the four members of the commission named by the Legislature. Ben Weille of Paducah, the fourth member of the new commission, is said to prefer to be named as a defendant with the other members of the present commission, of which he also is a member.

Mr. Simmons, Mr. Perry and Judge Humphrey will act as attorneys for the plaintiffs and it is understood that Attorney General Charles L. Dawson will act for the defendants. The petition for a declaratory judgment will be filed within a few days, according to Mr. Perry, in the Franklin Circuit Court. From there it will go to the Court of Appeals.

"All parties concerned," Mr. Simmons said in explanation, "have consented to file a friendly suit to determine the legality of each. In this way we are having a dignified legal proceeding and not a mere scramble for certain."

Certain men have been named by the Legislature to hold office, beginning January 1, 1923, and they want the court to determine whether they have the right to take it. In this way the work of the present commission can proceed without interruption or disturbance, and the road work of the State will not be hampered by litigation.

It costs money to build good roads, but it costs more to drive away visitors by rough highways.

WASHINGTON COMMENT.

When the stalled trains, desert, by crews in Southern California, finally bore their suffering passengers out of the intense heat, they did so under armed guard, protecting the passengers.

In New Jersey a train was bombed as it passed regardless of the fact that it contained, not strike breakers or soldiers, but women and children returning from the seashore.

One St. Louis railroad bridge was damaged by explosion; rail spikes were drawn in an attempt to wreck a train near Chattanooga.

Attorney General Dougherty says that L. W. Wiam is responsible for much of the trouble incident to the rail strike.

And in the daily press here and there comes the hesitant query, "Have men the right to strike, after all, in transportation?"

From small beginnings and by careful steps the cause of unionism is a power for good in the world. It filled a need, it guarded interests otherwise not protected. It was conceived as a beneficent influence; it was to fight tyranny and oppression, and in the cause of that freedom guaranteed by the Constitution.

Its best friends believe it has gone too far; that it has so far overstepped its original purposes, so far encouraged, even if secretly, violence and bloodshed, with no care whether or not the innocent suffer with the guilty, that it must now be deprived of its misused power by the only power greater in the country today, the United States Government. From high and low, rich and poor, east and west, come demands that Congress make it possible for the intangible public affliction of either a railroad or a coal tie-up to happen again, a demand made without regard to whether or not it be a stockholder, employer, corporation, union, A. F. of L. or individual worker, who is forced to give over a private interest and a private war to the all important interest and right of the great majority.

The American Bar Association, in convention assembled, has made many recommendations, doubtless all wise, looking towards judicial reform. Chief Justice Taft, whose world-wide reputation as a jurist suffers not at all from his able ejection of needed legal changes, has outlined through this association to the legal profession of the country, the things which he believes should be done to make our judicial system better.

All of which is well, very well; but perhaps not well enough. Did it ever occur to a lawyer, do you suppose, to ask a layman for his ideas of judicial reform? It probably did not. The "legal mind" can not think as the layman thinks, and yet law is for the layman. Justice is for the layman, courts are for the layman.

If you have a case of any sort it is put on a docket. When it is reached, you must be there to defend or prosecute it. If they say to-morrow and you come to-morrow and bring fifty witnesses to-morrow, and the court isn't ready for you, you wait. The witnesses wait. The judge must not wait. If court ran on a schedule and the schedule ran out once in a while, and the court did nothing but hold its hands, more money would be saved than under the present rule, which is to keep the court busy, the hundreds of witnesses, lawyers, complainants, and defendants wait for a long time and lose money.

If you are sued, and any one can sue you for anything, whether you owe it or not, you must defend the suit. You must pay your lawyers; lawyers have to live. If it costs you a hundred, a thousand or fifty thousand dollars, you must pay it. If you win the unjust suit, you are told you have justice; but your bank account doesn't show it.

What we need is not reform of the law from within, so much as reform from without; what the law needs is the layman's point of view, which is that speed and absence of expense are both parts of true justice; that no decision, no matter how correct, is truly just if it has cost much money and time to obtain.

Don't forget the two games of ball at Burlington park next Monday. Burlington and Walton, Walton is one of the best amateur teams in Northern Kentucky and manager Kirkpatrick will try very hard to take their scalps.

NOTICE.

The regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Boone County Farm Bureau will be held in the office in Burlington, Monday, Sept. 1, 1922, at 10:30 a. m.

J. COLIN KELLY,

Secretary.

Dr. R. E. Cropper and wife are visiting Mr. Cropper's mother, Mrs. Lorena Cropper. Mr. Cropper has been located at Carterville, Georgia but will open an office for the practice of his profession at Winchester, this State.

The Tree Shaded Home.

There is a tremendous difference between country homes. Some people will live in a house year after year, perhaps for a life time, and make no effort to beautify it. If it stands out in the open country it is a bare, barren and forbidding spot on the landscape. If it is located in a town, it fails to do its share toward making the place attractive, and is a hard, unimaginative, unprepossessing home.

Country life has one great advantage in that it offers an infinite opportunity for adornment. Growth of vegetation is not hindered by hard paving, leaks from gas mains, etc., as in city streets. There is room enough for display of foliage and young trees can be had for very little money or labor.

Encouraged by these advantages, the majority of rural home owners usually do something to give their place character and individuality. Millions of such homes are little nests of charm and beauty that make us proud of their owners and a source of pride to their community.

One of the first things that a man should do on becoming the owner of such a home is to provide it with sufficient trees if it is not well planted. Such foliage is a shelter in the heat of summer, it tempers the air to a torrid day, it promotes health. If the young folks get discontented the sight of their home dwelling shaded by beautiful trees gets it held on their imagination, and creates an attachment that many dislike to break.

Furthermore such planting makes a place more valuable. Any one desiring a rural home would pay more for one well planted with trees, than for one that stood bare and forbidding under the naked sky. A town poorly planted with trees is a dreary looking place, but if each household does his share by planting his home lot, the character of the community changes and becomes attractive and winsome.

PIG CLUB SHOW

Enjoyed By Large Crowd—List of Winner

The Pig Club Show held at Rabbit Hash, last Saturday, the 26th ult., was enjoyed by a large crowd. The weather was cool, after the refreshing rains, making it an ideal day. The boys and girls of this locality were rewarded for their diligent work in growing out the splendid class of pigs. They were better than those shown at many of the large fairs. These gilts, will go on to the Northern Kentucky Fair, and some of the better ones to the Kentucky State Fair. The friends and relatives of the boys and girls were anxious on-lookers while the rings were being judged. Many shots and hats were in the air when the Hampshire of Wilford Aylor was made the Grand Champion of all Breeds. The winners were as follows:

Poland China

1st Gladys Kelly.
2nd Orville Kelly.
3rd Jack Acra.
4th Ivan Ryle.

Hampshire.

1st Wilford Aylor.
2nd Russell Stephens.
3rd Wilbur Acra.
4th Reuben Kirtley.

Duroc

1st Ivan Ryle.
2nd Sydney Craig.
3rd Sadie Craig.
4th Ida May Burcham.

The clock judging contest was entered into with a deal of "pep" by the club members. The grown-ups present were struck by the accuracy with which these young folks placed animals in the contest.

The winners were Orville Kelly first, with Wilbur Acra and Wilford Aylor tying for second place.

Mr. L. J. Horlacher, College of Agriculture, Lexington, led the judging and superintended the judging contest. He did the judging to the satisfaction of all and entertained the crowd with one of his usual good talks.

The music furnished by club members, Robert and Paul Hafer, and their sister, Alice, was a treat to all present.

The Breeders Auction Sale held in the afternoon distributed many good breeding hogs thru the community, however the prices were not very satisfactory considering the class of animals offered.

Big Revival Meeting

The revival at the Burlington M. E. church, conducted by Revs. Omer and Allen of the Christian church is still in progress, and is one of the largest and most interesting held in the town for some time. The order and attention is fine and the church is filled to its capacity every night.

Rev. Allen is an exceptionally fine, logical and entertaining speaker, and while his sermons are listened to, the church last Sunday night was overcrowded and a great many had to remain on the outside.

Life, it seems, is just one joy after another with other people.

A WEEK'S NEWS.

Judging from recent events, the primary system of selecting candidates for State offices is a failure, and we predict that the next Democratic ticket will be nominated by convention. By this method a better ticket can be nominated, with much less friction. The press of the State is busy at this time in their efforts to find a man for Governor who will suit all factions and at the same time give the State an administration that is sorely needed. The Outlook has in mind a man, in the person of Judge Ernest E. Clarke, of this city, who would fill every requirement that the press is asking. Judge Clarke is now a member of the Court of Appeals, and is one of the brainiest and most conservative public men in the State. He doesn't belong to any political faction, and would give every faction a square deal. He has no future political ambitions, and would not devote his whole time creating a machine to further his personal interests. He is just the kind of a man to give the State a business administration that the people are demanding.—Falmouth Outlook.

Suppose an editor would close up the office and take a two weeks' vacation like the doctors, lawyers and preachers? Such a howl would go up from his subscribers that he could hear it even if he was where Dr. Cook said he found the north pole. The doctors patients get well while he is vacationing. The lawyer's clients are hustling for the money to pay the bill when he returns, and the preacher's congregation are taking chances with the devil while the preacher is resting up his brain and recuperating; at some fashionable resort, where the ladies see to it that he is well entertained. But the editor's subscribers must not miss a number of the paper or something is turned loose.

The closing days of last week in this locality were reported the warmest experienced this summer. Thursday last corn was reported to be twisting up, tobacco turning up, stock and drinking water getting scarce, and that rain was badly needed by the growing crops, but instead of making a long article of this we are compelled to cut it short by the falling of nice rains Thursday night and early Friday morning.

A good way to keep your hall from being tracked up by your husband's muddy shoes is to keep a rolling pin or a flat iron handy in the sitting room and let him have it if you suspect him of bringing in a part of the garden walk. In a little while you will be surprised how readily he will take to the suggestion and will wipe his feet before entering the front door.

Next winter fully seventy-five per cent of our farmers will buy more or less feed. This feed will be a necessity in order to be able to feed a balanced ration. The price of feed is lower today by twenty-five per cent than prices by this winter. Money is worth six per cent so why not lay in the feed and put it away while roads are good and prices right.

Just as everyone was rejoicing over the fact that the coal strikers had gone back to work, and the splendid rain that visited this part of the country last Thursday night and early Friday morning, along came a fellow from the Blue Grass region of the State and predicts that we will have frost next Saturday, Sept. 2, and just to think—coal bins all empty.

Rev. William Dudley Nowlin, of South's Eminent Pastor-Evangelist, will begin a series of meetings at the Bellevue Baptist church, Sunday morning, Sept. 10th. See advertisement in this issue.

Miss Nell Martin and her mother and aunt, Miss Pink Cowen, are now occupying the new bungalow at the corner of Washington and Union streets. It is quite an improvement to the town.

J. B. Sanders, of Covington, and J. D. Robinson, of Nonpareil Park, were in Burlington Thursday of last week. Mr. Robinson had purchased several lots in Nonpareil Park from Mr. Sanders.

And if they don't get the industrial troubles settled before long, our leading statesmen won't be able to present any diploma to the sweet girl graduates next June.

The president is so busy with the strikes and the tariff, that he can't attend properly to his regulation job of laying corner stones.

The Farm Bureau held in a big supply of feed at their warehouse at Florence and at Burlington, held quarters, last week.

A. B. Remaker, of Burlington, was elected Treasurer of the Kentucky Bankers Association at West Baden, last week.

MANUFACTURE OF CIDER AND VINEGAR NOT PROHIBITED

To Federal Prohibition Directors,

Supervising Agents and Others:

Section 20 of Title of the National Prohibition Act provides that the penalties imposed in the act against the manufacture of liquor without a permit shall not apply to a person for manufacturing non-intoxicating cider and fruit juices exclusively for use in his home, but such cider and fruit juices shall not be sold or delivered except to persons having permits to manufacture vinegar.

The Bureau's interpretation of the foregoing provision is as follows: Any person may, without a permit, and without giving bond, manufacture nonintoxicating cider and fruit juices, and in so doing he may take his apples or fruits to a custom mill to have them pressed.

Fruit juices. After such nonintoxicating cider and fruit juices are made they must be used exclusively in the home, and when so used, the phrase "nonintoxicating" means non-intoxicating in fact and not necessarily less than one-half of one per cent of alcohol, as provided in Section 1, of Title 11, of said Act.

Or the person making such cider and fruit juices desires to do so, he may (1) sell such cider and fruit juices at any time to persons having permits to make vinegar; this he may do so under the provisions of said Section 29. (2) If he personally serves such cider and fruit juices at the time they are made, he may sell same to the public in general; this he may do under the provision of Section 4, of Title 11, of said Act. (3) Or he may sell said cider and other fruit juices so long as they contain less than one-half of one per cent of alcohol, but the purchasers thereof cannot use or possess the same after they contain more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol; this he may do under the provisions of Section 1 and 3 of Title 11, of said Act.

The dealer in the home may be allowed to turn to vinegar if the owner desires, provided he adds no sugar or other fermentable substance to the cider or fruit juices to increase the alcoholic contents thereof, inasmuch as such practice is held to constitute a mash fit for distillation within the provisions of Section 29, Revised Statutes; he may sell said vinegar to any one who may desire to purchase it; this he may do under the provision of Section 4 of Title 11, of said Act.

This regulation is not intended to cover the commercial use of cider and fruit juices, but merely the use of the same as applied to the home and as provisions are made in Section 29 of Title 11, of said Act.

JOHN F. KRAMER

Federal Prohibition Commissioner.

TENNESSEE BURLEY IS SIGNED TO POOL

Sumner County Growers Come Into Association—Membership Passes the 66,000 Mark—Porter Speaks in Indiana.

Lexington, Ky.—Burley Tobacco Association officials and workers who went to Tennessee last week to aid in signing up the tobacco crop of Sumner county to the Burley co-operative, returned Sunday, having signed before they left about 75 per cent of the crop and formed a co-operative organization of local growers and business men to sign up the rest of the county.

"We found the people there in a receptive frame of mind," said Assistant Chief of the Field Service, Division Wm. Collins, today, when asked what had been the result of the Kentuckians' visit. "The growers there readily signed up, after the establishment of a receiving plant at which they can deliver their crops. I believe that considerably more tobacco will come in there, and that the receiving plant will handle about a million pounds of tobacco this fall."

Jersey Day at Florence Fair

Friday Sept. 1st, will be Jersey Day at the Florence Fair, and the Boone County Jersey Breeders Club will have on hand at their booth plenty of fresh milk in bottles for all breeders and lovers of the Jerseys. Don't fail to attend the Fair on this day and call at the Jersey booth where you will be treated with genuine "Kentucky Hospitality" on Friday, Sept. 1st, Jersey Day at the Florence Fair.

HAD GOOD SUCCESS.

Courtney Kelly and Robt. Youell attended the Lawrenceburg fair last week and were successful with the horses and other stock they exhibited. They took one or more titles in each ring at which they had exhibited.

No young man ever found his for his percentage, though some of them act as if they were.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C., The Senate, by its action on sugar, has definitely raised the cost of all sugar to American consumers by about two cents per pound. Here are the basic facts about sugar, the U. S. refiners receive and refine for domestic consumption about 4 1/2 million tons of raw sugar in a year. About 1 million tons of this are produced in the United States proper; about 1 million other tons come from our island holdings—Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippines. The other 2 1/2 millions come from Cuba. It is alleged that Senator Smoot, representing both the beet sugar people and the Republican majority in the Senate, proposed to the Cuban sugar growers that the import tariff on their raw sugar would be held down to 2 cents if they would agree to limit sugar shipments to the United States to 2 1/2 millions of tons per annum. The effect would be to give this country just barely enough for its needs, thus enabling the sugar refiners to get a better price for their product and to more closely control the price. In other words, sugar would never be plentiful, and in the course of a few years, or at any time, it should have been a short crop here at home, our supply would not be sufficient for our needs, owing to the steadily increasing population. The 2-cent tariff means that the consuming public will pay one hundred millions per year into the Treasury as tax on the sugar coming in from Cuba; that is not so bad, in a way, as it helps pay the enormous bills of the government, but this tax puts up a wall of protection for the benefit of the sugar growers here at home, in Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippines, enabling them to charge two cents more per pound for their raw sugar. This takes eight millions additional from the pockets of the sugar-users and places it in the pockets of the sugar growers. This is typical of the Republican position on the tariff; it is to assess the general public to enrich special favored interests, which in turn can be counted upon to pay a portion of their artificial gains into the Republican campaign chest in order to enable this party of the few to continue to exploit the many. It is the same old practice of the despotic kings who sold privileges to friends at court. All Republican tariff bills resolve around the manufacturers' groups of the big industrial centers. The Democratic view of the tariff is that it should produce revenue to run the government, economically administered, while laying the lightest possible burden on the consumer. Of course, any tariff is bound to carry with it some incidental protection to the American manufacturer.

Is This True?

It is pretty hard to get service out of a certain class of people, unless there is some kind of notoriety that goes along with the service. This is often true in governmental matters. There is no special reason why the officeholding class should be holding office; that is to say, they are no better fitted, and are frequently less fitted than the ordinary run of men upon the street; they are in office because they want to be and enjoy being in office. Prominence is one of their appetites; publicity is one of their passions; they may know it in their hearts that they are inferior, yet they enjoy the feeling that the masses look up to them as superior beings. They like to keep themselves engaged in activities that will keep the gaze of the people toward them. For that reason, work of merit is often neglected; only the sensational and showy wins attention.

W. O. Rector Becomes Owner of Elijah Parker farm near Petersburg.
Capt. Elijah Parker and four daughters, Mrs. Hittfield and husband, Mrs. Blanche Cason and Miss Georgia Parker, of Sayler Park, O., Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, of Toledo, Ohio, were in Burlington Tuesday afternoon, conveying to W. O. Rector and wife their farm near Petersburg. Mr. Rector and family expect to move to their new purchase some time this fall.

Moonshine At Dam.

Moonshine was flowing at the dam in McVie last week, and it was thought that two of the men who had been drinking it would not recover from the effects. One of the men said he bought the liquor in Covington.

Harold Conner, Herbert Kirkpatrick and Lloyd Weaver gave the fish a trial in Gunpowder creek one day last week, but had no luck.

Don't forget the two games of ball at Burlington park Sept. 4th, (Labor Day).

Garnett W. Tolin is the owner of a Ford runabout.

This part of the country was visited by a fine rain Tuesday afternoon—replenishing the creeks and creeks that have been dry for sometime.

Mr. John Penn returned home last Friday from a visit with relatives at Georgetown.

For Sale—Registered Big Bone Poland China sow and nine pigs four weeks old. Hewitt Bros. Burlington R. D. 1. 11-12

RADIO RALF--

30 Cents in Soybean Seed Return $5.50 in Nitrogen

Lexington, Ky.—Investments for soybean seed made last spring at the rate of 30 cents an acre are returning Kentucky farmers from $3 to $8.50 worth of nitrogen an acre in the bean crop which is now reaching maturity throughout the state, according to Ralph Kenney, crops extension specialist at the College of Agriculture. Eighty per cent of this nitrogen, which is the most expensive plant food element required by Kentucky soils, will be returned to the land on many farms by hogging off the beans and the corn in which they are growing. In addition, it is estimated that the beans growing in the corn will produce 150 pounds more pork an acre than is obtained when corn alone is hogged down.

Results being obtained in Carroll county are said to be typical of those being reported by farmers in other sections of the state in showing the value of soybeans for soil improvement. One farmer in that county, Albert Davis, has soybeans of the Hollybrook variety growing in combination with corn that are estimated to contain $8.50 worth of nitrogen to the acre. This field of 2.27 acres of corn has just reached the stage at which fattening hogs can be turned into it. Its soy beans growing in another field of corn on this same farm were estimated by County Agent G. C. Rount to contain $5.10 worth of nitrogen an acre.

The same variety of beans growing in a field of Boone County White corn on the farm of W. M. Crouch in Carroll county have been estimated to contain $4.28 worth of nitrogen an acre. This same combination on the farm of Perry Gaines has produced nitrogen having an estimated value of $3.06 an acre. The low value of the nitrogen on this farm is attributed to a thin stand and the fact that three-fourths of the leaves had fallen from the plants when the estimate was made.

Green beans on a representative area in the various fields were picked and weighed in order to determine the respective yield in each case. The amount of nitrogen contained in the yield was determined from the fact that 1,000 pounds of beans contain about 8.6 pounds of nitrogen. This was valued at 20 cents a pound. Like other legumes, the beans took two-thirds of the nitrogen they produced from the air. In addition to the nitrogen added to the soil by the beans, considerable value is attached to the organic matter which will result from the decaying bean stalks and roots.

STATE NEWS.

Terrapins To Number of 220 Taken From Spring.
Lawrenceburg—After Sam Gude, tenant, had finished cleaning out a spring on the H. S. McBrayer farm, all exhumed from the sediment and mud. The number is remarkable in that it had been only two years since the same spring was cleaned, and 162 terrapins exhumed and dispatched.

Raised Bills Flood

Louisville, Banks Report
Louisville.—Phony $5 bills are flooding Louisville, according to local banks. The department of Justice has agents now at work trying to locate the maker of the notes. This man does the work, and does it rapidly as well as skillfully, without the use of engraving tools or pen and ink, is obvious when one of the bills is examined under the microscope. Nothing but an eraser, a green crayon and an ordinary lead pencil is used to raise a $1 United States Federal Reserve Bank note to $5.

Seven Thousand Want

Commission Abolished
Covington — Petitions containing the names of 7,974 persons supporting the movement to reestablish the Aldermanic form of government in Covington were filed in Kenton county court yesterday. John R. Read is to consider the petition before a decision will be made as to placing the issue on the ballot this fall.

Glasgow.—A team of mules driven by Mike Shives, 16, in Metcalfe county, ran away, throwing Shives against a tree, killing him instantly. His skull was crushed. One of the mules was badly hurt, but it died.

GUNPOWDER

J. W. Williams is numbered among the sick.

Mr. Criswell is building a large barn preparatory to housing a large cop of tobacco.

Lute Bradford is the first in this neck of the woods to get done tinning tobacco.

A protracted meeting will begin at Hopeful next Sunday evening, Sept. 3rd, and everybody is invited to attend these services.

Jerry Dixon and family and sister of Devon, attended church at Hopeful last Sunday, and motored to Petersburg in the afternoon.

For Sale—No. 1 fresh cow with second calf by her side, at a reasonable price. Appl to Ezra K. Tanner, Florence R. D. No. 1. Farmers phone. Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Rouse entertained their son Otis Rouse and family, of near Burlington and Frank Rouse and children, of Erlanger, last Sunday.

A much needed rain fell here on Friday of last week, which was a great blessing to all, as stock water was very scarce and pastures were almost completely dried up.

The following guests were pleasantly entertained at the hospitable home of C. T. Davis and wife in Erlanger, last Sunday: Mr. John Davis and sister Miss Clara, of Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goodridge, P. J. Allen and wife and this scribe and wife.

At the meeting of the Joint Council at Ebenezer last Saturday, each church Hopeful, Hebron and Ebenezer, were well represented. Another business that was transacted Mr. Henry Gettner was elected delegate to represent the charge at the meeting of Synod and Mr. Wilfno Brillock was lectured alternate. Another feature of the occasion was the beautiful spread which was prepared by the ladies of the church, and was enjoyed by all at the noon hour.

Corn Nearing Best Stage For Selecting Seed Ears.

Lexington.—Early corn in Kentucky is nearly mature at the present time and in another month will be ripe enough for farmers to select their supply of seed for next year, according to R. E. Stephenson, soils and crops specialist at the College of Agriculture. Practically all experiment stations in corn-growing states as well as scores of farmers in every state have shown by actual tests that field-selected corn given proper care after gathering produces highly profitable increases in yield over ordinary crib-selected seed. Ears gathered early from healthy, vigorous stalks and stored so that they will dry quickly give seed that germinate promptly and produce strong, healthy plants, it was pointed out.

Field selection is better than that done at hatching time for several reasons. In the first place, it permits the farmer to select a type of plant that most nearly meets his ideal as regards the size of stalk, position of the ear on the stalk and the type of husk. In the second place, it permits the selection of seed ears from plants that are free from disease.

The stalk itself is one of the most important points for consideration in the selection of seed corn in the field. Ordinarily, the most desirable ones are those that are strong and upright and not too high with the ear growing at convenient height. Corn harvest sometimes is a difficult task because of the great height of the ears. This is not a serious objection when silage is being grown. The best ears for seed hang tip downward and have a strong shank. The general type of the ear usually can be determined by stripping the husk back a short distance to expose the tip.

At least twice as much seed should be selected in the fall as will be needed for planting in the spring. By this means, only the very best will need to be used. After they have been gathered, the seed ears should be stored where they can be kept dry. Wide changes in temperature and damage from mice and rats are points to be guarded against in storing.

It is eminently fitting that the wireless telephone be used in fighting forest fires. It's a case of do Forest saving do forests.

The burning of the Four Courts in Dublin was a surprise. We didn't know that there were as many as four courts left in Ireland.

FOR SALE ETC

NOTICE.

We have been appointed the authorized sales and service station for the Willard Battery for Boone county. Also do recharging and repairing on all makes of Batteries. Work guaranteed. DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO., Erlanger, Ky.

WANTED

Hay to bale, Prices reasonable. P. H. Mathews, Bullittville, Ky. Phone 203-x 29 June 11

For Sale or Trade—For young stock, 10 year old sorrel saddle mare, road cart, 32 bushel of seed wheat. Harold Beemon, Florence, Ky. 014sept—pd

For Sale—No. 1 Jersey bull, three Registered best Big Type Poland China sows. W. M. Balsly, Burlington R. D. 3.

For Sale—38 good stock ewes—black faced, 1 to 5 years old and two Shropshire bucks. J. D. McNeely, Grant, Ky. 11—pd

For Sale—Silo 12x24, fine condition. W. Perry Carpenter, Florence, Ky.

For Sale—Seven 90 to 100 pound shoats, also one good Hampshire buck. J. J. Duncan, Burlington R. D. 1.

For Sale—1918 Dodge touring car A1 condition—this is a bargain. Dempsey Motor Car Co., Erlanger, Ky.

For Sale—Sow and nine pigs. Apply to Kenneth Aylor, Union, Ky. Farmers phone.

WANTED

Incubators any make or size over one hundred egg capacity. Also one coal stove brooder, one thousand chick capacity. E. G. Stephenson, Erlanger, Ky., Route 4. Phone 656, Consolidated and Farmers. 04sept—2tpd

LOST

9x12 Tan-Tent between Erlanger and Carrollton, Ky. Lost Tuesday August 21, 1922. Finder please notify Logan H. Foster, No. 3 Pike St., Covington, Ky., and receive liberal reward. 04sept—2t

For Sale—50 stock ewes from 1 to 4 years old in lots to suit purchaser. Chester Hill, Idlewild, Ky. 04sept—2t pd

UNION.

Geo. Rouse and wife entertained Sunday with a dining Claude Tanner and wife moved to Florence one day last week.

E. A. Blankenkner has beautified his residence by having it painted.

F. L. Wilson and L. R. Barlow attended the fair at Lexington, Monday.

Miss Susie Kathryn Bristow is at home after having had her tonsils removed.

N. S. Bristow recently entertained his nephew, Henry Childress, of Erlanger.

Owen Bradford and wife, of Florence, spent Sunday with Lynn Wilson and family.

Quite a number of Odd-Fellows from here attended lodge at Bu Bone, Saturday night.

Miss Henrietta Riley has returned to her work in Cincinnati, after spending her vacation with friends and relatives here.

Misses Juritta Smith, of Union pike, and Sue Bristow, of High St., were Thursday night guests of J. F. Frazier, of "Elm Tree Place."

BIG BONE.

Will Smith and wife, of Verona, are guests of relatives here.

Miss Katie Binder and Charles Jones attended church at Beaver, Sunday night.

Mrs. Nace Conley and three children of Detroit, Michigan, are visiting relatives here. Ann Dudgeon visited her brother Omer Dudgeon and wife, in Beaver the first of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eastman of Indianapolis, Ind., are visiting the latter mother, Mrs. Price. Louis Ryle and wife, of Hamilton, entertained Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Moore and Hugh West and three children of Verona. W. L. H. Baker and wife, Mrs. J. G. Fennell and Oral Smith, were the guests of A. A. Allphin and family, near Ryle, Gallatin county, Tuesday

A BARGAIN

Cincinnati Daily Enquirer

—AND—

The Boone County Recorder

YOU CAN GET

BOTH for $4.50 the YEAR

Send Your Subscriptions to the

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER

Burlington, Ky.

Ready for Business.

The Farm Bureau Warehouse at Florence is now in full operation and will keep on hand all kinds of Feed, Flour,

Wire Fencing, Coal, Etc.

Help Your Organization

With Your Patronage.

Base Ball

At Burlington,

Monday, Sept. 4th

Labor Day

Burlington vs. Walton

Two Games—10:30 a. m. and 2:30 p. m.

Come—And See Two Good Games—Come

PIC-NIC

At Harvest Home Grounds,

Monday, September 4th

Labor Day

Everybody—Old and Young are Invited

Dancing—Refreshments.

Music by Murphy's Jazz Band.

From 7:30 to 12 p. m.

Zimmer-McGlasson.

All obituaries, card of thanks and all other matter, not news, must be paid for at 5 cents per line.

Bullittsburg Baptist Church.
J. W. CAMPBELL, Pastor.
Sunday School every Sunday at 10:00 a. m.
Regular preaching services on the First and Third Sundays in each month at 11:00 a. m.

Boone Co. Lutheran Pastorate
REV. GEO. A. ROYER, Pastor.
Sunday Sept., 23rd
Hopeful 9:30 a. m., Sunday School.
Hopeful 7 p. m., Luther League.
Hopeful 8 p. m., Service—First of the special services.
Hebron 9:30 a. m., Sunday School.
Ebenezer 9:30 a. m., Sunday School.
Ebenezer 10:30 a. m., preaching.

BASE BALL.

The game of ball Sunday afternoon between Miamitown and Taylorsport at North Bend, to decide who was to hold second place in Down-the-River League, was won by Miamitown by a score of 6 to 3. Sanford and Zimmer were the battery for Taylorsport and they performed like big leaguers.

Quite a number of Boone county people attended the ball game at North Bend, Ohio, last Sunday.

Manager Kirkpatrick corralled his warriors last Saturday and pilots them over a rugged road to Walton with fire in their eyes to take the reins of the Walton aggregation. Upon their arrival in Walton the gang from Burlington found that the Walton manager had not been sleeping on his oars, but had assembled an aggregation of ball tossers that were prepared to do or die. The ball tossers from the Hub could not solve the delivery of the Walton twirler, and not one of them crossed the rubber, they swung the clubs in vain, their hits were few and far between, while the sluggers of the Walton team put six men on counting territory. The game was well played, but the local aggregation was out played by the Walton boys, who won by a score of 6 to 0.

Maintaining Physical Vigor.

A friend who attended church in a neighboring city, was introduced at the close of the service to a man who is 102 years of age. While a lot of people can't go to church if it is hot or rainy, yet this surprising veteran found no such difficulty. He was without and slightly hard of hearing, yet he reads the newspapers, finds satisfaction in church services, and seems to enjoy life.

Asked what was the secret of his prolonged health, he thought it was due to his keeping up the habit of walking. He can still tramp a mile or more without getting fatigued. It is safe to say that the folks of our automobile riding age, who must be hauled around everywhere by the gasoline horse, stand little chance of reaching 102.

Country Boys Who Rise.

Formerly many ambitious boys disliked to remain in the country, because they felt there was no opportunity to rise in life. They saw no chance to make money on the farm and even if they did, they felt that the countryman was laughed at, and there was no opportunity for him to go ahead, and attain a position of influence in politics or business.

To-day the country boys with gifts, if educated, can make faring pay. When comparatively young they can have a substantial position. The many organizations of country life give him a chance to become a leader. He can go into politics, win his way to the legislature or Congress if he has brains. He can take a position in the financial affairs of his county and state. He has a better chance for advancement than if buried in some large city.

Surprise Contests Improve Quality of Milk Delivered.

Surprise milk contests—contests in which the milk sold by various dealers in a city is compared by taking samples occasionally without warning—have been very effective in improving the milk supply of many cities. Contests of this kind carried out with the assistance of the United States Department of Agriculture have shown remarkable results in a number of western cities. The bacterial counts and the total milk solids for the cities were made up from the results of tests of samples from each of the delivery systems.

In Long Beach, Cal., the average bacterial count in the first contest was 118,238; in the last contest it was down to 11,823. In the first the average score of the milk sold there was 71.56, and in the last it was up to 90.67. The milk sold in Riverside, Cal., improved in bacterial count from 101,500 to 8,522, and rose in score from 82.03 to 93.63.

If a fraction of the energy spent in knocking one's home town, were given to working for progressive causes in that place, how our communities would go ahead.

TWO GAMES AT BURLINGTON.
Walton and Burlington will play two games of ball at Burlington next Monday, Sept., 4th. The first game will be called at 10:30 a. m., the second at 2:30 p. m.

"11"
cigarettes

They are GOOD! 10¢

TRI-STATE TOBACCO FAIR

Cincinnati, Ohio.—The spirit of Kentucky hospitality will be present in a literal sense at the Tri-State Tobacco Fair and Fall Festival, to be held under the auspices of a Greater Cincinnati Committee at the Kenton Tobacco Warehouse, Covington, Ky., October 21 to November 4th. The Covington Rotary Club is planning to have a receiving line of its members on the Festival grounds during the entire period of the Festival, to shake every visitor by the hand and bid him or her welcome. John W. Menzies, president of the Rotary Club, is arranging to appoint a welcoming committee for each day of the Festival.

A pen with which the Declaration of Independence was signed will be among the many notable exhibits in the historical display at the Festival. The pen was used by Abraham Clark, one of the signers of the Declaration, and was subsequently used by George Washington. Miss Jane Cameron became the owner of it, and it finally came into the hands of Charles Simpson, of 116 Linden St., Ludlow, Ky., who in turn, presented it to the John Holland Pen Co. The latter have loaned it to William H. Myers, managing director of the Festival, for the historical display.

Three entries have already been received in the "Who'll Be Queen?" Contest. They are: Miss Carrie Abney, 838 North Second St., Hamilton, Ohio; Miss Hazel Quirk, Hamilton Ave., North College Hill Ohio; and Miss Jeanette Ward, 916 Clark St., Cincinnati.

Many amusement features are being booked to make the Festival attractive. Among them will be a number of Carnival shows and stunts.

Racing For the Pennants.

While business men are worrying over strikes, and politicians are fiercely debating the issues of the campaign, a large section of the American public go on serenely indifferent to such minor interests. They are absorbed in the base ball news. On opening their daily paper, they pass rapidly by the world news, and are soon buried in the scores and percentages that tell what their favorite ball players did the day before.

Some say it indicates a lack of intelligence to show this absorbed interest in a mere game. Yet people could spend time on worse things. The type of fellow who used to pore over morbid and erotic sex stories, is now frequently concentrating his thought on this sport page, and he gets no wrong suggestions from it. The superb ball players who are in sight of a pennant must usually live clean lives. Their proficiency is not any lazy man's triumph. They are entitled to admiration for their tireless effort that has given them their high attainment of skill.

Morrow Appoints Judge to Hear Arguments On Simmons Bill

Frankfort, Ky.—Judge Sam Hurst of Easttown will preside over the Franklin Circuit Court at the trial of the case involving the constitutionality of the Simmons Road Bill and the personnel of the State Highway Commission after January 1, 1923.

Judge Robert L. Stout is in California, where he probably will spend the winter, and Gov. Edwin P. Morgan today stated that he had designated Judge Hurst, who was the only Judge available, to hold the September term in this county. The Governor found that most of the Circuit judges are busy in their own districts in September.

Judge Stout, who had attempted to resume his duties too soon after a serious operation a year ago, was compelled to retire from the bench temporarily until he regains his health.

Girls who use perfumes are said to be more likely while in the country to be stung by bees. However, perhaps they can sting some of the men in return.

The girl who was formerly called the old maid is better appreciated now as the one who refuses to sell out cheap.

So far no subscription papers have been passed around to provide fuel for the coal miners who continue on strike.

Many of the girls are not athletic, but they have eating records at the ice cream joints.

Public Sale.

I will offer for sale at public auction, at my residence four miles west of Burlington, near Commissary, on

Wednesday, Sept. 6th

The Following Property:

One good all-purpose Mare 8-yrs. old, one 1 five-year old Mare well broke, 4-year old well broke, 2-yr. old Colt, 5-yr old Horse broke to work, 17 Ewes, two Bucks, 2 milch Cows, 2 2-yr. old Calves—heifer and bull; Hayrake, Road Wagon, Buggy, Hillside Plow, 2 Double Shovel Plows, Wagon Harness, Pitchforks, Grubbing Hoes, 2 Posthole Diggers, pair beams, 1-2 interest in Cider Mill, 25-gallon Iron Kettle, 1-3 interest in Hog-box, Hayfork and Rope, Dinner Bell, 950 Tobacco Sticks, and other articles.

TERMS—All sums of $10.00 and under, cash; on sums over $10.00 six month credit will be given, purchaser to give note with good security before removing property.

W. T. RYLE.

Sale to begin at 1 o'clock sharp.

Exports and Prosperity.

Many people have argued that the United States can not be prosperous until conditions in Europe are all straightened out, so that they can buy American goods freely.

The figures just issued of American exports for the fiscal year ending June 30th last do not uphold this discouraging theory. These exports for the past year, though less than half the stupendous total for the flush times of 1920, yet reached the great sum of $3,771,181,000. The average for the pre-war years from 1911 to 1914, was only about $2,270,000,000. Of course prices are higher now, so totals mount up more. But the increase is nearly double the figures of the pre-war years, while prices can not average much over 50 per cent above pre-war figures now. Our foreign trade is very good, in spite of Europe's poverty.

If at any time business conditions are unsatisfactory, the trouble is not to be found across the world and in conditions beyond our power to remedy. It is right at home among ourselves, and is due principally to the lack of unity and harmonious cooperation among our own people.

The Sight Seeing Business.

In former years, when travelers visited a city or some noted region of natural beauty, and wished to observe the sights, they had to depend entirely on carriage and automobile drivers who would take them around individually, often at a high cost. Such tourist was beset by a yelling crowd of hackmen when he landed at the railroad station, and often became bewildered and irritated by their shrieking appeals to patronize their vehicles.

Some years ago enterprising people conceived the idea of providing big buses that should take these travelers around in parties, with the hope of reducing the cost of such transportation, also of pointing out the interesting sights more thoroughly and intelligently than many drivers would be able to do.

This method of sight seeing has become highly popular, and millions of people annually patronize this means of touring. These big machines are often disrespectfully referred to as "rubberneck wagons," but they are a mighty convenient way of touring and they help many people to become more intelligent about the beauties and wonders of the country and the characteristics and historic and business features of American cities.

These trips vary in interest and value. Some seem to depend principally upon the humorous persiflage and poetic outbursts of the "lecturer" who is supposed to keep his party amused and happy, even if they are not seeing much for their money. In others each trip is thoughtfully and carefully planned so as to give the traveler a comprehensive and intelligent idea of the community or district he has paid his money to see.

Such trips can be profitably operated not merely to view great scenic works of nature and large cities, but in many smaller communities where there are notable historic spots or industrial and civic development that will interest the tourists.

MARKETS.

Apples—Wentworth 50 to 125.
Potatoes $3.00 to $3.25.
Onions $2.00 to $2.25.
Wheat, No. 2 $1.12.
Corn 67 1/2 c.
Oats 36c.
Hay (Timothy) $15.00 to $18.00.
Bran 19.50 to $20.00.
Middlings $27.50 to $30.00.
Hogs $6.75 to $9.50.
Steers $7.85 to $10.15.
Cows $3.65 to $9.00.
Calves $11.00 to $12.00.
Lamb $11.50 to $13.00.
Ewes $3.50 to $7.65.
Butter 35c.

NOTICE.

The undersigned will receive sealed bids at the court house in Burlington for painting the jail building on the outside. Bidder to furnish all tools and materials. The jail to be painted two coats of lead and oil except the windows, which are to receive three coats. Bids must be in my hands on or before Sept. 2, 1922 at noon. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved.

C. A. FOWLER,
Jailer Boone County.

Public Sale

I will sell at public auction at the residence of the late Edward Beemon, 2 1/2 miles north-west of Union, on

Friday, Sept. 15, '22

Following Property:

Four cows, one to be fresh in September, one in December, and the other two in the spring, four Hogs, will weigh about 100 lbs., each, one Sow will farrow by day of sale, Road Wagon, two-horse Sled, Mowing Machine, two-horse Cultivator, "A" Harrow, Oliver "E" Plow, Shovel Plow, Double Shovel Plow, Garden Plow, two log Chains, two-horse Stretchers, Double Trees and Single Trees, 20 foot Ladder, Set Double plow Harness, Set Check Lines, one Side Saddle, Wheel Barrow, Corn Sheller, some Tobacco Sticks, three Iron Kettles, Lard Press, large Dinner Bell, Grind Stone, Sharpies Cream Separator, Cross-Cut Saw, One-man Hand Saw, Hoes, Rakes, Licks and Shovels, 2 milk Cans, one Range, one good Heating Stove, one Feather Bed, a lot of glassware and dishes and all household and kitchen furniture, and other articles too numerous to mention.

TERMS OF SALE

All sums of $10.00 and under cash; sums over $10.00 a credit of Nine Months without interest will be given, notes with approved security negotiable and payable at Union 1st post Bank. No property to be removed until terms of sale are complied with.

MRS. MINERVA BEEMON.
Lute Bradford, Auctioneer.
Sale to begin at 12 o'clock.

Any Make of Battery
RECHARGED
75c

Rentals for any make of car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.
Dempsey Motor Car Co.,
Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

Morgan Meeting Closed.

The two weeks' revival at the Morgan Christian church, conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Robert Carter, and Evangelist H. H. Webb, of Covington, closed Sunday night with 32 additions. This meeting was one of the best and most interesting held at the Morgan church in many years. Rev. Webb is an earnest worker in the Master's vineyard and is a splendid speaker. He made many warm friends during his stay at Morgan.—Falmouth Outlook.

County Road Engineer Porter and Chas. Westway, made a trip to Big Bone, Monday. Mr. Porter looking after the roads in that section of the county.

CAR SENSE

Spend
a Dollar
and
Save
Ten

Little defects grow into big ones in time if not corrected.
The correction of a small defect in its early stages costs but little.
When left until it grows into serious proportions its correction runs into money.
That is what makes the maintenance of a car so expensive to many people—neglecting the little things until they grow into big ones.
The better—the safer—the more economical way is to see the garage man at the first warning of trouble.
Today is always a good time to have it done.

EDDINS BROTHERS

TIRES, TUBES AND ACCESSORIES.
Burlington, Kentucky.
BRAKE BAND OIL—Guaranteed to stop Ford bands from chattering.
Agents for U. S. and Ajax Tires.

Established 1886.

A Bank Account IS ONE OF THE FIRST STEPPING STONES TO SUCCESS IN LIFE.

How are You Stepping!

This bank invites young men and women especially to open savings accounts. Officials of the bank are pleased at all time to give the benefit of their experience to customers and others who seek advice.
When in doubt come to this bank. Your success means greater success for us.

Has it ever occurred to you that a checking account is a very convenient thing to have?

Boone Co. Deposit Bank

Burlington, Kentucky.
N. E. RIDDELL, President. W. D. CROPPER, Cashier.
W. A. GAINES, Vice-Pres. G. S. KELLY, Asst. Cashier.

Petersburg Theatre

At Petersburg, Kentucky

Saturday Night, Sept. 2d

"Desert Gold"

At Burlington, Kentucky,

Saturday Night, Sept. 2d

"Lavender and Old Lace"

CHILDREN 10c. ADULTS 25c

War Tax Included Will Begin promptly at 8:00

COURTESY SERVICE STABILITY

A Letter Received from the Banking Commissioner.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 14th, 1922.

PEOPLES DEPOSIT BANK,
Burlington, Ky.

Dear Sirs:—

After a careful examination of your report and that of our Examiner, we find no complaint to make as to the management and condition of your bank; hence, we have marked the management and condition of your bank for the first half of 1922 EXCELLENT.

In the near future, we contemplate inaugurating a complete system of grading banks and we trust that you will be able to maintain your high standard under our new plan.

Yours truly,

JAMES P. LEWIS,
Banking Commissioner.

Flour—Flour—Flour

An excellent Flour—that makes excellent Bread, Pies and Cakes. New patrons are coming to this flour each day and recommend it highly. It's Rising Sun—

Fancy Patent, Golden Rod or Tube Rose.

Its sold on a positive guarantee to please you in every respect.

Ask Your Grocer—Insist On It.

Make bake day a glad day by using

RISEING SUN FLOUR

Why Not Something New?

What forms of amusement will we adopt in this town during the coming winter months?

Nothing new? When you have seen a play once you have seen it enough. Sitting through a second performance is wearisome and time wasted. It loses its novelty.

The usual round of socials and parties is much the same. People go and perform the same old threadbare stunts simply because they must have some form of recreation, and amusement.

The same diet is partaken of continually becomes nauseating. The stomach craves a change.

It is so with the mind. Without a change of mental stimulant the mind becomes stale and clogged and does not function to best advantage.

Something new is what we need, something that will induce each of us to look forward to the good times coming.

Why not form a local committee whose duty it will be to provide forms of public amusement that have never been thought of or tried before?

When half a dozen brainy heads get together an original stunt is generally the result.

Who owns those half dozen heads in this town?

Why not set them to work?

Why not a winter of real enjoyment instead of one of mere existence?

What do you say?

Something Good Ahead.

We accept the prediction of financial writers and prophets that better times are ahead, but we would like to know how far away they are.

Optimism is our creed, because it is to the optimists we must look for restoring the world and our particular portion thereof to something near the stability of pre-war days.

This old globe is in a sad state of confusion, bordering almost upon collapse, but there is comfort in the fact that conditions generally are steadily improving.

Something good ahead!

Let us make that a slogan, and labor unitedly and unceasingly until we can triumphantly announce that "something good is here."

Our numerous strikes and idle trains and shut down mines and all of the other annoyances have a tendency to create a spirit of pessimism in even the stoutest of hearts.

But pessimism does no good, and it does do a lot of harm.

A strong heart surmounts many difficulties before it accomplishes its purpose, but in the end it prevails where the weak heart falls by the wayside.

Yes, there is something good ahead.

Let's get it.

Dust Off The Old Book.

What is your favorite book?

Who is your favorite author?

A good word of fiction costs from one to three dollars. No pay, no book, and once read it has served its usefulness.

The stories contained in the Bible are more wonderful than the most lurid pages of fiction, stranger than any other words that have ever been penned by the hand of man.

The Bible has been read by countless millions and will be devoured by billions yet unborn.

You pay if you are able, but if you are unable to do so one is yours for the asking.

Is there dust on the Good Book in your home?

Keep in touch with the world if you don't want to get touched by it.

Many a home that should be ruled by happiness is swamped in misery. And why?

The perpetual fault finder is an effective home destroyer.

Happiness can not exist where there is no contentment, and contentment will not survive where either party resorts to continual hickering and fault finding.

Watch your tongue—or don't let it wag.

Swearing in the presence of children is a reprehensible habit which reacts as a boomerang to the man who does it.

A child respects its parents and others for what it finds them to be. It judges them for their acts as it is.

When a mother teaches a child that swearing is wrong, what must the child think of the father who swears as much when something goes wrong?

Control your cursing—or don't curse.

The world is hopping along at a rapid pace and has no intention of stopping.

The fellow who keeps up gossamer, while he who lags behind is left.

Step lively, or it may be useless to step at all.

Some people spend a lot of time bemoaning their fate and damning their luck.

The same amount of time and energy if spent in some useful pursuit in endeavoring to locate a profitable occupation, would produce the possibility of even thinking of better fate.

Think of the bright side of life—or don't think.

Notice Tax-Payers

Tax-payers of Boone County are hereby notified that I, or one of my deputies will be at the places and on the dates named below to collect the 1922 State, County and County School Taxes. Will also collect the 1922 Graded Common School taxes in Verona, Petersburg, Union and Florence Districts. Also the Consolidated School tax in the Bullittsville and Constance Districts on the same days that other taxes are collected:

BIG BONE, October 3rd
BEAVER LICK, October 4th
VERONA, October 5th
WALTON, October 6th
BELLEVUE, October 9th
CONSTANCE, October 10th

HEBRON, October 11th
UNION, October 13th
PETERSBURG, October 16th
FLORENCE, October 17th
RABBIT HASH, October 19th

Rates—State 40c; 10c on Live Stock, County 70c, 15c on Agriculture Products; School 40c on the 100; Poll $1.50. School Poll $1.00. Graded School Rates—Verona 60c; Petersburg 70c; Union 45c, and Florence 50c. Graded School Poll—Verona $1.00; Petersburg $1.50; Union $1.00; Florence 50c.

All unpaid taxes become delinquent after Nov. 30th. Six per cent penalty due State and County added after December 1st on all delinquent taxes; six per cent commission in addition is allowed Sheriff for collecting delinquent taxes. Cost of levy 60c, Advertising $1.00; Recording 60c.

Please make inquiries for the amount of your taxes before November 15th, as we cannot receive everyone's taxes on the last few days of November.

B. B. HUME, S. B. C.

Absolute Auction SALE

Wednesday, Sept. 6th

At 10:00 A. M. RAIN OR SHINE

My farm and all stock and tools located 1 1/2 miles east of Walton in Kenton county, Ky. Turn out High Street. Containing 53 acres, more or less, has a comfortable six room house, a new barn, smoke house with cemented cellar, fine cisterns and well, plenty of stock water, plenty of fruit for home use. This farm is fairly well fenced, mostly in grass and is productive land. This farm will positively sell to the highest bidder without by-bid or reserve. If you are looking for a farm, come over and bid what you think it is worth. $1,500 cash is all that is required as first payment.

Stock, Tools, Etc.—2 horses 7 and 8 years old, extra good, mare 6 years old, 6 cows from 4 to 7 yrs. old, 5 are fresh, 2 sows one has pigs, year old boar, 2 bails of baled wire, 100 hens, 300 fryers, 4 geese, 4 ducks, 6 tons Oats and hay mixed, 10 acres good corn, acre of tobacco in field, 3000 sawed tobacco sticks, road wagon, 2 small wagons, 2-h. sled, set work harness, extra set single work harness, 60-tooth harrow, platform wagon, 2 rubber-tired buggies, 2 sets buggy harness, disc harrow, binder, plows all kinds, all small tools, milk cans, butter crocks, cream separator, Incubator, Pararie State 280 eggs, milk crocks, some household furniture and many other articles. One Overland Touring Car, 4-cylinder, 1917 model.

TERMS—All sums of $10.00 and under, cash; over that amount a credit of 12 months without interest will be given, purchasers to give negotiable notes payable at the Equitable Bank, Walton, Ky., 7 per cent will be given for cash.

A. E. FOSTER & SON,
3 Pike Street, Covington, Ky.
LOGAN FOSTER, Auctioneer.

James Cassidy, Proprietor.

Once there was a time when brotherly love was known, when a spirit of fairness was in evidence, when a willingness to live and let live prevailed.

But that was yesterday, and yesterday is forever of the past.

We dream of the days that were, but make no effort to restore them to the time that is.

We pity the ancients because of the many things that they did not possess, and the Lord judges us because of the many things that we reject.

It is life, as we make it, and for which we must pay.

Perhaps you have noticed the fellow who is continually making a noise with his mouth.

He rambles along for an hour and at the end of that time nobody even remembers what he has said.

Wise men talk to a purpose. Others should not talk.

Thunder makes a big noise, but does no harm.

Family jars are both like and unlike thunder. They make a big noise, and they also do a lot of harm.

We listen to the rumble of thunder and forget it.

We wrangle in a family jar, and remember it.

Though we live in an age of wisdom and accomplish great things, we stoop to the little things that cloud our greatness in others.

We are reminded that there is still another advantage in going without a coat or vest in hot weather. We don't have to carry so many things around in our pockets.

If Mr. Harding doesn't use the Pig Stick soon, he may have to cut it up and use it for kindling next winter.

Louisville, Ky.—One man was killed, more than a score were injured and property damage estimated at from $500,000 to $1,000,000 was caused by a terrific storm which swept Louisville and Jeffersonville at 3 a. m., August 20th.

Hundreds of houses were uprooted by the winds, estimated at 3 miles an hour, trees were uprooted, telegraph poles were blown down and several churches and factory buildings were damaged.

The entire north side of Jeffersonville was swept by the gale, which is said to have been the worst in the history of the town. It cut a zigzag course ten blocks wide through the residential district, destroying property estimated at $400,000.

Two large buildings of the American Car Foundry Works, each covering a half block, were destroyed, and rolling stock being repaired was damaged, entailing a total loss of $200,000.

The Austria which is now sending out agonizing appeals for help to prevent her utter collapse is the same Austria which was issuing such arrogant ultimata in July, 1914.

Secretary Hughes says that Senator Newberry didn't get justice. Lots of Democrats who see him sitting in his seat in the senate feel the same way about it.

A man who died of starvation in Palm Beach was found to have $3,700 in his pocket. A little more and his savings would have been sufficient to buy a meal in Palm Beach.

Reports from Venezuela say that the army officers are contemplating a strike. Is that what you would call a general strike?

Kirtley McWethy
Petersburg, Ky.,

Confectioner

will have on hand
at all times

Ice Cream, Soft Drinks, Candies, Cigars, Cigarettes.

Open daily from 11 a. m. until 9 p. m. (except Saturday) which will be from 9 a. m. to 11 p. m.

WHEN IN TOWN GIVE HIM A CALL

There is jubilation among American Legion men in Louisiana. Getting a slow start, the state has just triumphantly passed the 500 per cent mark in the big membership campaign that is being waged over all the country by the American Legion to get new members and to reclaim any who have drifted away from the organization. Louisiana declares that it will show a membership of more than 10,000 before the National American Legion Convention meets in New Orleans in October.

Louisiana Legionnaires sent in only 169 memberships in June, and 700 in May. But with new impetus every post got busy, and the total since Membership Day was declared is a little less than 2,600.

Simultaneously with the Louisiana victory, the American Legion Weekly issued announcement that the Membership Contest would be continued until September 16. There are thirteen prizes being offered, ranging from $10 to $500. There also are various state apartments and post prizes.

Seeds for Fall Sowing

MICHIGAN ROSEN RYE, NEW SEED WHEAT, NEW TIMOTHY, CRIMSON CLOVER, ALFALFA CLOVER, ETC.
Get ready now. figure the amount you will need, write us for prices, buy your seed, and let's all be ready when the time comes.

Canning Supplies.

Mason Jars, Quarts, Pints, Half Gallons.
Star Tin Cans, Mason Jar Caps,
Large Jelly Glasses, Best Jar Rubbers,
Sealing Wax, Sticks, Wax Strings, Parowax.
Let Us Ship your Order by Freight or have Your Truckman Stop

Wichitas' Best Flour

Milled from best Kansas Hard Wheat
CAR DUE TO ARRIVE THIS WEEK
Sold from car at these special prices:
Bbl. $8.50; 1/2 Bbl. $4.35; 98-lb bag. $4.
SEND YOUR ORDER NOW.

Nobetter Coffee,
Pound 33c

RARUS FLOUR

Bbl. in wood.....$7.50;
98-Lb. Bag $3.50

PURE APPLE CIDER VINEGAR..... 45c Gallon
MIXED PICKLE SPICE..... 20c Pound

Northern Kentucky's LEADING GROCERS AND SEEDSMEN.

GEO. W. HILL & CO.

27-29 PINE ST.—26 W 7th ST. CON. KY.
Wholesale and Retail

HEATING SYSTEMS CALORIC - GOTTSCHALK

Pipeless Furnaces, Pipe Furnaces,
Hot Water, Steam and Vapor.

—WE REPAIR—

FURNACES AND ROOFS
The Gottschalk Furnace & Roofing Co.
Phone S. 1287 (Incorporated) COVINGTON, KY.

VULCANIZING.

Complete line of Goodyear, Goodrich and Kelly-Springfield Tires and Tubes, good Grade of Automobile and Tractor Oils and Greases.

Auto Accessories kept in stock.

GEORGE PORTER,
BURLINGTON, KY.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN,
DENTIST

Clayola Place, Florence, KY.
Teeth extracted painless. Bridge and Plate Work a Specialty.
All Work Guaranteed

JAMES L. ADAMS
DENTIST

Cohen Building
Pike Street, Covington, Ky.

F. W. Kassebaum & Son

GRANITE & MARBLE
MONUMENTS,

A Large Stock on Display to Select from.

Pneumatic Tool Equipment
118 Main Street,
AURORA, IND.

Isinglass Replaced, Cushions and Backs Rebuilt

Buggy and Wagon Upholstering
OF QUALITY

RUFUS W. TANNER
Auto Top Repairing

Boats covers for all makes of cars.
Dixie Highway Erlanger, Ky.
Phone Erl. 79-Y.

You Can Trade
the Article You
Don't Need For
Something You
Do by Advertising.

READ YOUR COUNTY PAPER
$1.50 The Year.

TAKE YOUR COUNTY PAPER
Take Your County Paper.

People who use the classified ads in this paper profit by them. The little ads bring quick results. What have you for sale or want to buy. The cost is too small to consider.

Subscribe for the RECORDER

BOONE CO. RECORDER

Published every Thursday
N. E. RIDDELL, Publisher.

Foreign Advertising Representative
THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION
Entered at the Postoffice, Burlington, Ky., as second-class mail.

ADVERTISING RATES.
Furnished on application. The value of the RECORDER as an advertising medium is unquestioned. The character of the advertisements now in its columns, and the number of them, tell the whole story.

Next Monday is county court and Labor Day.

Judge Gaines is holding court at Carrollton, this week.

All the schools of the county will open on Monday, Sept. 11th.

J. E. Weaver, of Union, was transacting business in Burlington, Mo., day.

If we can't get coal this winter we can at least keep warm under the collar.

Mrs. F. A. Hall spent several days last week, with her children in Newport.

A. E. Foster, of Covington, was in town Saturday of last week on real estate business.

It's easy to judge a girl by the company she keeps—if you are able to judge the company.

The State Conference of the M. E. Church South, is in session at Harrodsburg, Ky., this week.

All roads lead to the Florence Fair this week, which opened its gates yesterday for a four days meet.

Mrs. G. L. Alford, of Louisville, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. W. L. Riddell and other relatives and friends.

Mrs. Sol Winkle, who returned to her home from a Cincinnati hospital a few days since, is doing nicely.

Fact that a man can afford an automobile does not prove that his creditors can afford to have him buy it.

Those big girls that used to play dolls are now beating the boys in swimming and other athletic competitions.

Good rains fell here last Friday night and Thursday morning, with a decided change of temperature—for the better.

The rubberneck crowd might enjoy the bathing beaches more, if they could tell which were boys and which were girls.

Mrs. Elbert S. Ryle and children, of Jeffersonton, Ky., are visiting relatives and friends in and near Burlington.

Claimed some folks keep their potatoes in the bathtub, but in the modern sized tub there may be no other place.

The country folks have mostly learned city manners now, but the city folks act pretty green at the cattle show.

Miss Lillie Cramer, of Loveland, Ohio, was the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hall, last Sunday evening.

Miss Rachel Porter returned last week after spending several weeks visiting in Indianapolis, Ind., and Louisville, Ky.

Dr. L. H. Crisler, Health Officer, of Covington, is spending his vacation with relatives and friends in this neighborhood.

Everyone lost heavily by the coal strike, but that probably won't prevent another one being called in about eight months.

There will be no excuse for any one to go hungry for the want of canned fruits next winter—plenty of fruit of all kinds.

Some of these bobbed hair flappers differ from Uncle Reuben mostly in that they wear their whiskers on top of their heads.

Many of the people who buy hootch of the law breaking bootleggers are very indignant because the crime wave is not suppressed.

The politicians have not done much to settle the strikes, but they probably think they can get elected if they shake hands with enough people.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. King and daughter, of Dayton, Ohio, visited Mr. and Mrs. Eliza Poston last week. Mrs. King is a sister of Mr. Poston. Mr. and Mrs. King had just returned from a trip to Mammoth Cave.

Miss Rachel Porter, daughter of A. C. Porter, and who has been with her aunt, Mrs. Currie P. Riddell, was taken to Christ Hospital, Cincinnati, last Thursday, where she was operated upon Friday, for appendicitis by Dr. Langdale. She is recovering nicely from the operation and will return home in about ten days.

Miniature Bridge To Aid Engineer To Solve Problems.

A model of a reinforced concrete arch bridge 7 feet long has been constructed by the Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture, to determine just how masonry arch bridges should be designed when built on a skew. A skew bridge is one in which the roadway is not perpendicular to the abutments, as when a bridge crosses a stream diagonally.

It has been found that the stresses in a skewed bridge are considerably different from those in a bridge of the same span built perpendicular to the abutments, and failures have occurred because this was not taken into account in the design.

The problem is so complicated engineers of the bureau wish to check up their theoretical conclusions by making a faithful reproduction of a bridge, using similar materials and of such size that it can be tested in the laboratory.

Coal Strike and Public Utilities.

There is scarcely a public utility depending upon coal for power but what is beginning to feel the pinch of the mine strike. The greatest difficulty, however, has been with municipally owned plants. Several plants throughout the country, municipally owned and operated, have been compelled to discontinue service after ten o'clock at night in cities and towns, with a complete cessation of service on the faru lines, until the fuel administration promised to produce enough coal to resume operations.

During this time neighboring privately owned utilities were called upon in most instances to furnish electricity for the plants during the shortage with the natural feeling that there was a greater certainty of continuity of service from the privately owned than the municipally owned plants. This condition occurred at a time when privately owned companies on all sides were furnishing uninterrupted service night and day. The privately owned utilities had the foresight and business experience in the operation of public utilities to provide for this condition. In other words—in the emergency they were ready and the municipal plants were not.

It is interesting also to note that while there is a shortage of coal, a shortage of cars, a shortage of labor, the utilities have been equal to the emergency and have been furnishing service to the community, no matter what the cost. Despite the tremendously increased costs of operation public utilities have struggled along with plenty of electricity, water and street car service. Some of the utilities in Kentucky have been paying as high as $2.50 per ton for coal delivered in their town, with no increase in rates for service.

The Perils of Railroad.

Scientific achievement is continually trying to protect railroad travelers by new safety appliances. The working hours of trainmen have been cut down so that they should suffer less from fatigue and be in better condition to operate safely. Yet terrible accidents still occur. The disaster at Sulphur Springs, Mo., in which about 40 people lost their lives, is one more warning of the perils of railroading.

Many people will argue from such a disaster that automatic safety appliances must be generally installed, and elaborate apparatus devised and applied everywhere for protection of trains from human error by mechanical means.

Many roads need better signal systems and other forms of protection. But even when the best safety systems have been installed, human vigilance is still the traveler's best safeguard. The road that takes the most pains with the selection of its engineers and educates them to the highest standards of care, will be the safest to travel over.

No Protection From Toxins

Given By Canning Powders.

Canning powders can not be depended on for safety from food poisoning, according to the Bureau of Chemistry of the United States Department of Agriculture. Extensive experiments recently conducted to test the claims made by certain widely advertised and distributed canning powders, which consisted mainly of 95 per cent boric acid, with 5 per cent of salt added, have shown conclusively that the antiseptic properties of the powder only affect a few molds and microorganisms which are not responsible for spoilage in properly processed cans or jars.

Fruits and other acid products properly packed when fresh and in good condition keep without any canning preparations. Much larger amounts of canning powder than those recommended on the package had no effect whatever on the growth of spore-forming bacilli, which do not require free oxygen for growth, particularly the botulism forming bacillus botulinus, which has recently been responsible for many deaths.

That proposed duty of 119 per cent on white cotton gloves is a wicked thrust at the nation's pallbearers and hack-drivers.

After Lenin and Trotsky have had a little more of their own experience as dictators they might be able to qualify as union labor officials or big league umpires.

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

DE OLE OMANS KIN-FOLKS
GINALLY FETCHES LONG
A PECK O' TATERS WEN
DEY COMES T' VISIT
WE-ALL—EN DEN DEY
STAYS LONG 'NOUGH T'
EAT UP A BUSHEL!

Copyright, 1920 by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

The Big Industrial Quarrels.

If the big industrial quarrels of the present time could be submitted to an absolutely impartial arbitration, the decision might find about as much wrong on one side as the other. But when the workers try to settle such disputes by the strike method, they create disasters that overshadow the original wrongs and irreparably injure the whole community, themselves included.

When the workers strike, their effort is to stop the production of the necessities of life. The capitalists, with all their faults and selfishness, do not usually try to stop production, but endeavor to keep it going by hiring other men.

In ordinary industries, the rights of the people may be less seriously affected, because if some one factory or group of factories is closed, the people can obtain their supplies elsewhere.

But when a strike occurs on a nation wide scale by attempting to tie up the railroads, coal mines, etc., the effort is made to stop completely the production of the necessities of life in that line. Even if no violence is resorted to, the effort made to persuade all workers not to produce or distribute that necessity of life. Those who care to continue working and maintain the production of the necessities of life, are called scabs, and treated as yellow and held up to obliquy and contempt. In spite of all efforts, violence often breaks forth, and those who maintain production are subjected to assault and even murder.

These strikers take practically this position. Either the nation must consent to the terms the strikers consider just and right, or the necessities of life in their line can not be produced and distributed.

The American people will not indefinitely permit any body of people, capitalists or workers, to take this attitude of dictation, and refuse to permit the production of the necessities of life. They will demand that such bodies of people submit their quarrels to fair arbitration.

Better Rural Schools.

It will be generally felt in country towns, as was previously stated, that rural school teachers should work to make country life seem attractive to their pupils. But the objection will be raised that many of these teachers are quite young, they have had but little experience either of life or of teaching, and they may not be in a position to sway young people in a matter lying somewhat outside the scope of ordinary text book work.

Also many teachers are young girls from cities, who expect to teach a year or two in small towns, and then go on to large places. They may not themselves be very sympathetic with country life and perhaps are secretly longing to get away therefrom.

A teacher who is not heartily in accord with this idea of working to make country life attractive, is not well qualified to teach in a rural school. Normal schools and other institutions that prepare young people for teaching should make it clear to these young folks, that when they go into a rural school, it is their first business to work for country life and to make country life seem attractive to their young people. If they can not get that point of view they should stay in the cities. Most of them though, would get it very readily if it was urged upon them.

There ought to be some little handbook prepared for the use of teachers, on the subject of country life, that should show them how they can make their children enthusiastic for the rural community of the future.

The schools of Boone county have a great task before them to perform this mission. Everything possible should be done to encourage the young people to take hold of little enterprises of their own, and go in for boys and girls agricultural and home making clubs, so that they shall early get good ideas of rural development.

A financial dispatch from London says that "German marks have dropped to 34.40 to the pound." So they're selling them by avaricious weight now?

Trade Where They All Trade Fall Seeds -- New Crop

TIMOTHY—Car new crop timothy in transit, 99.50 per cent. pure. Send us your order to be shipped from car at wholesale prices.

Kentucky Blue Grass Seed—About half the price of last year's seed and fine quality. Alsike, Alfalfa, Sapling.

FLOWER SEED FOR FALL PLANTING.

Alyssum, Columbine, Poppy, Fox Glove, Hollyhock, Lockspur, (Delphinium) Pansy, Phlox, Sweet William, Pinks.

We are car load buyers of Pratt's High Grade Poultry and Dairy Feeds and have a car in transit from which we will make the following special prices.

Pratt's Cracked Corn, sifted and blown, 100 lb. bag.....$1.75
Pratt's Laying Mash, 100 lb. bag..... 3.00
International Scratch Feed, just right for growing chickens, and the finest feed produced, 100 lb. bag..... 2.75
Pratt's Large Scratch Feed, 100 lb. bag..... 2.25
Pratt's Victory Scratch Feed, 100 lb. bag..... 2.50
Pratt's Supreme Dairy Rations, 100 lb. bag..... 2.50

Try a bag or two of this Dairy Rations and prove to yourself the quality of same. Special prices in ton lots on all feeds.

GOLDEN BLEND COFFEE—the best for 25 years, - 33c
GEE WHIZ COFFEE—a 30c-value - 25c

One dollar's worth of Coffee sent postpaid.

GEO. C. GOODE

Groceries, Flour, Seeds, Medicines
19-21 Pike St. 18-20 West Seventh St.
WHOLESALE—"Covington's Largest Seed and Grocery House"—RETAIL
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.
Phones South 335 and 336.

FIRST-CLASS Shoe Repairing

Mail Orders at My Expense.
All work guaranteed. Mail your shoes to be repaired to
A. D. LAWRENCE, - - Erlanger, Ky.
37 Lexington Pike.
o-d-e-l-p

ITHACA WINS

Captain Paul A. Curtis Shooting Editor of Field and Stream says: "The first gun I ever bought was an Ithaca. It is just as strong and shoots just as hard as I did when it was a boy."

Catalogue Free Double for game $37.50 up. $1 in 1 lb barrel trap guns $7.50 up.
ITHACA GUN CO.
ITHACA, N. Y.
Box G.

22 Years Ago

Nobody swatted the fly.
Nobody wore a wrist watch.
Nobody had appendicitis.
Nobody wore white shoes.
Nobody sprayed orchards.
Nobody knew about radio.
Most young men had "livery bills."

Farmers came to town for their mail.
Many people read by the candle or kerosene light.

The heavens were not full of man-birds.

For the seas alive with underwater boats.

The butcher "threw in" a chum of liver.

The merchant "threw in" a pair of suspenders with every suit.

Young men learned trades at $5 per week.

The hired girl drew one-fifty a week and was happy.

Nobody listened in on the telephone.

There were no electric meters.

Nobody observed a sane Fourth.

Straw stacks were burned instead of baled.

Publishing a newspaper was not a business, it was a dueling game.

There were no Bolsheviks nor "isms."

The safety razor had not introduced the clean-shaven face.

"Equipped with gas" was prominent line flat-top-let advertisement.

Office folks didn't know about a fan in the summer time, and ice water was a treat.

Many folks retired at 9 p. m. and rose at 5 in the morning.

(Times have changed.)

An anti-saloon league official says:

"The ultimate enforcement of the prohibition law is certain. Yes, at the present rate the bootleggers will all be rich enough to retire in a few years."

Dodge Brothers

ANNOUNCE
A BUSINESS COUPE
Conservative changes in the body design of all other types.

Roadster.....$ 920

Coupe.....1,063

Touring Car. 955

Sedan.....1,550

Dempsey Motor Car Company

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY

Phone Erlanger, 70-L

Rural Letter Carriers PICNIC

To Be Held at Florence Fair Grounds.

Monday, Sept. 4, '22
(Labor Day)

Come and Enjoy a Day With Us
Bring Your Baskets.
Good Speakers

Speaking Will Begin at 10 A. M.

COMMITTEE ON ARRANGEMENTS.

J. P. TANNER. J. R. ROUSE. ELIJAH STEPHENS.
W. C. HUGHES. L. L. CHILDRESS. ROBERT WHEELER

ARE YOU A READER OF THE RECORDER?

If Not Try It One year.
Only $1.50 the Year

FLORENCE THEATRE
LORENCE, KY.

Every Tues. and Sat.

THE BEST

MOVING PICTURES

Admission, 22c &amp; 10c

NONPARIEL PARK

Miss Nora Cahill is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Jerry Conrad.

Mrs. Edgar Aylor spent Saturday afternoon in Cincinnati, shopping. The many friends of Mrs. Joe Baxter will be glad to know she is improving.

Chas. Nead, of Louisville, enjoyed a delightful visit with his parents the past week.

A large crowd attended the dance and fish fry at Nonpareil Park, Saturday evening.

Hubert Carey and sister had for their guest the past week, their nephew, of Illinois.

John Hogan and wife, of Erlanger, motored to Hopeful Sunday and attended church there.

Wm. Arnold and wife and son-in-law and wife, motored to Covington Sunday and visited relatives.

Stanley Lucas and wife were the guests Sunday of his parents, A. S. Lucas and family, of Erlanger.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Dunson and daughter Miss Ethel, and William Brown, spent Sunday with relatives in Cincinnati.

Emmett, Baxter and family, of Reading, Ohio, motored over Sunday and were guests of Albert Lucas and family.

H. C. Rednor and wife of Covington, enjoyed a visit with Mrs. Lora Laile and Sam Hambrick and family last week.

Mrs. Clifford Boyce and children, of Covington, were guests Tuesday of Cy Boyce and family, of Dixie Highway.

Kenneth Boyce, of Ludlow, is spending his vacation with his grandparents, J. P. Boyce and wife, of the Dixie Highway.

Mrs. Arthur Kraus and son Arthur, and Mrs. Mattie Hoover, spent Wednesday at the Zoo. They enjoyed the day very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Deall, Sr., and son Chas. motored to Lawrenceburg, Indiana, Sunday and visited John Utzinger and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Kraus and children spent Friday evening with his brother, Arthur Kraus and family, of the Dixie Highway.

Mrs. Stella Trilling and son Wm. of Silverton, Ohio, are enjoying a few weeks' visit with her parents, Joe Baxter and family.

Arthur Kraus wife and son Arthur, and Mrs. Mattie Hoover, of the Dixie Highway, attended church at Erlanger, Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Chipman, of the Dixie Highway, had as their guest the past week his sister, Mrs. Fannie Clutterbuck of Crescent Springs.

Emmett Baxter and family of Reading, Ohio, called on his parents, Joe Baxter and family, Sunday afternoon and A. S. Lucas and family, of Erlanger.

Rev. Ezra Keller and wife, (nee Lena Tanner) of Illinois, arrived here last week and will be the guests of relatives in Florence and attend the Florence Fair.

Mrs. Mary Carpenter, of Covington, and Mrs. H. Brown and children of Ohio, were guests Sunday afternoon of Joe Baxter and family, of Dixie Highway.

Elmer Cahill and family, of the Dixie Highway, have returned home after enjoying a week's visit with her brother, Frank Michels and family, of Milford, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Senour and children, of Blue Ash, Ohio, motored over Wednesday and were guests of Mrs. Senour's parents, Joe Baxter and family, of Dixie Highway.

Harvey Mitchell, of Philadelphia, Ohio, arrived Saturday to spend several weeks with her parents, Wm. Arnold and wife, of Nonpareil Park, and attend the Florence Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Chipman, of the Dixie Highway, entertained at dinner Sunday. The guests were Mrs. Fannie Clutterbuck, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Allen and children, of Crescent Springs.

Mrs. Elizabeth Shrum, of Covington, have returned home after a delightful visit with her cousin, Mrs. Mattie Hoover, Mrs. Shrum will soon leave for a three months' trip to California.

Robert Lucas, of Erlanger bought of J. B. Sanders last week a beautiful five room bungalow on the Dixie Highway. They will soon move to their new home. Mr. Lucas is in the real estate business with A. E. Foster and Son, of Covington.

Row. Wilford Mitchell and wife, remained at their home on Main Street with a dinner Sunday, the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. James Matthews and daughter, Helen, of Ballisville, Mr. C. T. Hall and family, of Verno, Ky., Mr. and Mrs. K. Kinkard, of Erlanger, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Renker, Bro. R. T. Renker, Miss Eva Renker, Alonzo, J. H. Paul Renker and Rev. G. R. Tamin.

Last Sunday a most enjoyable family reunion was held at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. O. Markberry of Goodridge Drive. A large number of friends and relatives came from far and near to do honor to the occasion, and about 40 guests were present. All came with well filled baskets and at noon a bountiful dinner was spread under the shade trees, and was enjoyed by old and young.

PETERSBURG.

J. B. Berkshire is employed in Cincinnati.

Cage Stephens is employed in Lexington.

We have had several nice showers the past week.

A number from here attended the Lawrenceburg fair last Saturday.

All roads lead to the old Boone county fair held at Florence this week.

The Haag Circus was highly appreciated by the community. A clean and nice show was given.

Mrs. Rebecca Moore, of Warsaw, is here with her mother, Mrs. John Bradburn, who is very poorly.

We extend heartfelt sympathy to Dr. C. F. Smith and wife, of Lawrenceburg in the tragic death of their daughter.

Mrs. Nina Moreland, Miss Brena Loniaker and Mrs. Maud Loniaker, who recently from the hospital, are getting along nicely.

Oliver Geisler and wife, of South Norwood, Cincinnati, spent most of his vacation with his father, Uncle and Aunt, the past week.

The convention of the Christian churches of Boone county was well attended. We believe much good was accomplished by the members and visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Perrin Loudon entertained Mrs. Loudon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Plum Gulley, brothers, sisters and cousins, of near Burlington, at dinner Sunday.

FLICKERTOWN.

J. W. White called on Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Utz Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Mattie Shinkle and children visited this scribe and family, last Thursday.

This neighborhood was represented at the Lawrenceburg fair. All report a good fair.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Ryle and Russell Finn, were pleasant callers here Friday afternoon.

Wm. Ruth, of Lawrenceburg, Indiana, is visiting his cousins, Wilber and Carrell Snyder, of Woolper.

Miss Mabel Gair, Jennie Pearl Witham and Leroy Voshell returned home Friday from camp at Alexandria.

Mrs. Wallace Moreland and family, of Addyston, Ohio, visited C. J. Hensley and family Saturday and Sunday.

Roy Mullens and family and grand-mother Mullens, and Miss Mullens, of Newport, were peasant callers Sunday evening.

Miss Alice White returned home Saturday from a week's visit with her cousin, Miss Jennie Whiteford, of Sparta, Indiana.

Mrs. Ed. Roy (nee Phillips) left Monday for her home in Arkansas, after a three weeks' visit with her cousin, Mrs. B. F. Akin and other relatives and friends.

Thomas Masters and wife and five daughters, John Hill, Courtney Williams, J. W. White and wife, and daughter Alice, dined with B. F. Akin and family, Sunday. B. F. Akin and family and J. H. Snyder and wife called in the afternoon.

HEBRON.

Ralph Jones is building an addition to his residence.

Lester Aylor wife and son and Frank Aylor and wife, spent Sunday at the Zoo.

A family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Rouse, last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Garnett entertained the young people with a play party last Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bullock and family entertained quite a number of their relatives and friends last Sunday.

The W. H. and F. M. Society will meet at the home of Mrs. Edgar Graves, of Bullittsville, Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 6th.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer King and daughter of Dayton, Ohio, were the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Poston, several days last week.

Mrs. Jane Conner was given a surprise birthday dinner last Sunday. All came with well filled baskets and a happy day was enjoyed by every one. Those present were Albert Willis and wife and son, Leon Aylor and two daughters, Samuel Aylor, wife and daughter, W. R. Garnett, Jane Crigler, Mrs. Brenda Garnett, Mrs. Bessie Ernst, Misses Ina Ogden, Helen Marie Burns and Mr. Chas. Garnett and Kenneth Anderson, son in the afternoon, Mrs. Otis Aglor and Mrs. Laura McGlasson were also present.

Labor day, Sept. 4th, Ludlow will cross bats with the Hebron boys. One will be called in the morning. Dinner will be served by the members of the Lutheran church. Immediately after the dinner there will be two or three prizes given on the hall park, after which will be another hall game. Supper will be served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Ayer, there will also be prizes given there for the young people. Supper will be served until 11:30 p. m. All are invited to attend and enjoy a good day and evening.

The best way to keep a secret is to forget all about it.

HEAR THE SOUTH'S EMINENT
Pastor--Evangelist
Bellevue Baptist Church, Grant, Ky.Beginning Sunday Morning,Sept. 10th, and Continuing for two weeks or Longer

Dr. Nowlin is not only a great exponent of the Gospel, but he is also an author of high esteem.

His rank is with the best as a New Testament scholar rightly dividing the word of God.

With the power of God working through him in conjunction with his clear sane logical thinking leads him to correctly interpret the word of God and prove the interpretation from the same.

He is truly a consecrated man of God and should be heard by both sinner and saint.

REV. WILLIAM DUDLEY NOWLIN, D. D.

Dr. Nowlin says:

We do good works not as a means, but as a result of salvation.

A peach tree is not a peach tree because it bears peaches, but it bears peaches because it is a peach tree.

Fruit is the result of life and not the cause of life.

It is not the name, but the doctrines, that identifies Christ's church.

God deals on the square; therefore we should live on the square.

Dr. Nowlin is a man with a busy life in the Lord's work and it was through providence that we have secured him. He has served as Editor of the Baptist State Paper of Florida and also Associate Editor with the venerable Dr. J. W. Porter, D. D., of the Western Recorder of Kentucky. Dr. Nowlin as an orator has no superior within our own beloved Southland, and has but few peers. He has successfully held meetings from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico and from the Pacific to the Atlantic.

Everybody Invited and Urged to Attend.

REV. C. L. NICELEY, Pastor.

BEAVER LICK.

J. O. Griffith is ill with shingles.

A badly needed rain fell in the neighborhood last week.

Robert Green is seriously ill with typhoid fever at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Delehaunty spent Saturday at Walton.

John Delehaunty shipped 25 head of lambs to market for which he received $258.90 net last week.

Mrs. W. C. Johnson and Master Charles Johnson, spent last Saturday afternoon at Walton.

William Wilson and son William, attended the Pure Bred Pig Show last Saturday at Rabbit Hash.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rich spent last week visiting Mrs. Rich's parents in Gallatin county.

Bro. J. M. Baker and family will spend this week at the M. E. Conference held at Harrodsburg, Ky.

Dr. R. E. Ryle, Mrs. Ryle and Master Wm. Ryle, attended the Ryle reunion near Rabbit Hash, last Sunday.

Elmer Denegan, of Covington, spent Saturday and Sunday at his old home in Beavert, and while here sold his nice home of 45 acres to Mr. J. M. Jack. Consideration not known.

BEECH GROVE.

A reunion of the Ryle family was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Ryle Sunday August 27th.

A large crowd of the family and their friends attended, and a most enjoyable day was spent by all present.

Mrs. Clyde Akin and children were week-end guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Pope.

Jesse West, who has been in bad health for several weeks, went to Cincinnati recently to consult a specialist.

Kirby Clore wife and daughter, Frances, and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. L. Kelly, spent Sunday with Ezra Aylor and family, of East Bend.

Rev. C. E. Baker and family, of Dover, Ky., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ryle, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Mosby Pope, Mrs. Amanda Ryle, Miss Little Ryle and W. M. Ryle and family, spent Monday in Cincinnati, visiting the Zoo.

DEVON

(Too Late for last Week.)

We are glad to learn that Mrs. Gus Schadler is improving from a recent illness.

Mr. Richard Luke and Mrs. Luke, of Covington, visited Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Riley, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pruitt visited their brother Charles Pruitt and family, near Ryland, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Riley, of Louisville, are the guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Riley.

Mrs. B. F. Bristow was the guest of her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Lampton, of Bank Lick, Tuesday.

It is of much interest to the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Riley to hear that Mr. Riley is improving nicely. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Fagin and daughter Stella-Elizabeth, visited relatives in Ft. Mitchell Sunday and went to Covington in the evening and were guests of Mrs. Nancy Calhoun and family.

Rev. H. C. Runyan, of Latonia, preached a fine sermon Sunday afternoon at Florence and also told of the delightful trip which he, his wife and friends enjoyed while he was on his vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hutsell, accompanied by a party of friends from the Florence Christian church Bible Class, left Monday morning for Petersburg to attend the Convention there Monday and Tuesday.

Mrs. Joseph Schadler was called to Covington by the death of her cousin, Mrs. Platt, who died at the Booth Hospital, on Thursday. Services were at the Madison Christian church Saturday. Burial in Highland cemetery.

Mr. Harry Hagb, Sr., and family, and Harry Hagb Jr., and family, of Pittsburg, Pa., arrived here last Monday evening and were the guests of their sister, Mrs. Hannah Miller, leaving Monday for their home after a delightful visit for a week here.

The passing of Summer can be told with exactitude by the decline in straw hat prices.

"The Devil Can Quote Scripture"

WE CAN'T

But we will be glad to quote you Lowest Prices ON THE VERY BEST

CLOTHING

We can beat the devil himself at that. We have greatly reduced the prices on our Summer Clothing, and if you fail to look them over, you are overlooking much.

If you are looking for a Suit, a Coat and Pants, or extra Pants that you can rely on, we have them.

Selmar Wachs

605 Madison Avenue,
Covington, Kentucky

FOR SALE

Farm of 25 acres at Hebron, Ky., house, barn and outbuildings. 180 acres, 11 room house, barn and outbuildings, near Lawrenceburg Ferry. Both tracts good farm land. P. MANNIN, Petersburg, Ky. 9-0055

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE.

All persons having claims against the estate of Deilie Utz, deceased, will present the same to the undersigned properly proven according to law, and all persons knowing themselves indebted to said estate will please come forward and settle. A. B. RENAKER, Executor.

Those New York safeblowers who had an actor as a confederate were simple acting in line with the well-known affinity of a ham and yeggs.

The passing of Summer can be told with exactitude by the decline in straw hat prices.

FORSALE

Five room house, Burlington Park Sub-Division, lot 50x150 feet. $1,500.00.

75 acres, 6-room house, E. A. Garb. $3,500.

222 acres 6-room house (W. O. Reitor) three miles from Burlington $10,800.

60 acres, 8 room house, Walton $7,000.

46 acres, 4-room house, Union, Ky., $5,800.

CLAUDE AGENT, Erlanger, Ky., Office Main Street. 00031 3t

Airships may be the coming means of travel, but none of the cross-tie dealers of our acquaintance are preparing to go out of business.

We all know a few things, but think we know more.

Notice of Election of Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association.

To Our Members:—

The annual election for delegates who will choose district directors of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association will be held between the hours of eight o'clock in the morning and four o'clock in the afternoon, Saturday, September 16, 1922. Each member of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association is entitled to one vote by ballot for such delegates.

Candidates for delegates will be nominated at mass meetings to be held in the court houses of all counties in the Burley district on Saturday, September 2, 1922, at 2 o'clock p. m. Twice as many candidates as the county may elect as delegates are to be nominated and each county is entitled to one delegate for each million pounds or majority fraction of a million pounds of tobacco of the 1921 crop delivered to the Association. In counties in which the amount delivered to the Association falls below a million pounds such county shall elect one delegate, who shall have such fraction of a vote as the amount of tobacco of the 1921 crop delivered to the Association may be to a million pounds.

Growers who may not be able to attend the election September 16, may vote by mail or send their ballots to the election officers and such ballots so voted must reach the election officers between the hours of 8 a. m. and 4 p. m., September 16th. If sent after 4 o'clock on the day of the election they cannot be counted in the result.

Delegates elected in the various counties will meet Monday, September 18, 1922, at the court house in that county of each district which delivered the largest amount of tobacco to the Association of the crop of 1921 and will there organize by the election of chairman and secretary and proceed to elect a director for said district to serve for the ensuing year.

Every member of the Association is urged to attend the mass meeting in his county September 2, to nominate delegates and the election September 16, at which delegates will be chosen.

By order of the Board of Directors of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association.

JAMES C. STONE,
President and General Manager.
H. LEE EARLEY,
Secretary and Treasurer.

Ce-re-a-lia Sweets

Who Says Dairying Doesn't Pay?

You can produce milk at a good profit. Ask any dairyman who feeds Ce-re-a-lia Sweets. They make money. They have more or better milk to sell. Their feeding costs are far less than yours compared to the size of the milk checks. Their cows keep in better physical shape than yours.

If you're buying feed because it's "cheap", you're cheating yourself—wasting milk as truly as if you poured it away. Ce-re-a-lia Sweets, rich in milk-making ingredients, isn't cheap to buy, but is most economical to use. It's all nutritious cereal stuffs with just enough molasses added to give it special relish. Cows do not tire of it. Ce-re-a-lia is flaky, clean and easy to handle—never cakes or lumps.

If you are using your home-grown ground corn this season, feed Ce-re-a-lia Sweets with it. It will double the flow of milk and keep the cows in good condition. Before you get in your next "big supply" of feed,

Try Ce-re-a-lia Sweets Four Weeks At Our Risk.

Feed Ce-re-a-lia Sweets to any cow for 4 weeks. She must give more or better milk, and she must show a bigger profit than she is giving you now, or you get every cent back. You'll need about three sacks to make the trial. Call on us for chart and details.

EARLY & DANIEL CO.

Covington, Ky.—Phone South 13
Erlanger, Ky.—Phone Erl. 31
Carew Bldg. Cincinnati, O.—Phone Main 662

Any Make of Battery
RECHARGED
75c

Rentals for any make of car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.

Dempsey Motor Car Co.,
Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

C. H. YUELL
Farms for Sale

At Bargain Prices.

Burlington, Ky.

Phone Burlington 65

Even a criminal kisses the Bible when the Judge tells him to.

PT. PLEASANT.

The reunion of the Anderson family was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore Sunday, August 20th. Those present were: Ed. Anderson and wife. William Hellebush and wife. Dorsey Anderson and wife. William Anderson and wife. Clyde Anderson and wife. Arch Help and wife. Dick Garnett and wife. Carl Anderson and wife. Dan Anderson and wife. Len Wooly and wife. Hubert Grimley and wife. Charles Tanner and wife. Woogie Anderson. Miss Eva Anderson. Miss Jennie Anderson. Miss Annie Laura Anderson. Miss Anetta Anderson. Harvey Anderson. Walter Anderson. James Austin Anderson. Wm. Anderson. Aaron Carder and wife. Dexter Carder and wife. Harvey South and wife. Emery Smith and wife. Lester Sorrell and wife. Misses Linda, Opel, Adena, and Messrs. Eugene, Chester and Caroline Farmer.

Mrs. Sarah Brown. Mrs. Jane Crigler. Miss Kittie Brown. Miss Clementine Walton. Miss Elinor Walton. Miss Edith Carder. Miss Susie Utz. Miss Margaret Helebusch. Miss Edith Help. Miss Alberta Grimley. Messrs. Willie Helebusch. Jack Helebusch. James and Leonard Utz. William Garnett. Lenton Vincent. Clinton Vincent. Charles Wooly. Daniel David Anderson. Master Miles Alden Smith. Geo. Heist. Virgil Heist. James and William Clark. Chas. Regenbogen. Thomas Watts. Robert Scholer.

A beautiful dinner was served on the lawn at the noon hour followed by a game of ball between the brothers and brother-in-law. Score 14 to 30 in favor of the brother-in-law. Mr. and Mrs. Adam Dolwick entertained quite a number of relatives and friends Sunday August 20 with a dinner. The honor guests being Mr. Louis Dolwick and daughter Evelyn, of Detroit.

FRANCESVILLE.

Mrs. Jameson Aylor does not improve very much. Several from here attended the Lawrenceburg fair Saturday. Miss Sadie Riemann has returned home from a visit with relatives at Rising Sun.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reitmann and children, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Will Reichenbach.

Mrs. Frank Aylor, of near Hebron, called on Mrs. Manlius Goodridge, Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Blackcar visited Mr. and Mrs. Herman Blackcar at Erlanger, Sunday Miss Elsie Blackcar accompanied them home for a visit here.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Scothorn, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Riddell and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Baker and little son, were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Grant, at Bullittsville.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Baker and son Ronald Lee, of Oakley, Ohio, spent Saturday night with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Scothorn. Mrs. Baker and son remained for a longer visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Manlius Goodridge had as guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Snyder Watts and family, of Cincinnati, Misses Laura and Lorena Goodridge and Misses Mary Frances and Dolly Goodridge.

RICHWOOD.

Mrs. Annie Hammond is improving slowly.

Mr. J. J. Cleek will have a sale Sept. 16th.

Utz & Layne will sell and deliver coal here this fall. Dudley Sheet will attend Cumberland College this term.

A truck load of Covington friends visited John Dufel, Sunday. Miss Lucille Sheet will leave soon to resume her studies at Midway.

Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Conner spent Sunday with Walter Grubbs. L. D. Jackson has gone into the grocery business at the old stand.

Thos. Carpenter and son took their share of premiums at Erlanger fair.

Ed. Hograffa and family, of near Independence, spent Sunday at Jas. Dobbins'.

Elmer Carpenter has accepted a position at the Dixie Terminal building, Cincinnati.

Rev. Baker, M. E. minister, will attend the Methodist Conference at Harrodsburg, Ky., this week.

Mutual Telephone Directors will meet Sept. 18th instead of the 2nd on account of the Florence fair.

The ice cream social and play at B. F. Hedinger's Saturday eve, for benefit of Richwood church, was a success.

Volney Dickinson hauled 24 members of Fowler Lodge, I. O. O. F. of Union, to Big Bone Saturday evening, where seven candidates were initiated. Florence Lodge, 27 strong, were also there and their team conferred the degree.

A New Tread—a Lower Price Reliable Goodyear Quality

Here is a new Goodyear Cord Tire—a big, sturdy, long-wearing tire—that sells at a price lower than you are asked to pay for many "long discount" tires of unknown value.

It has a different tread from the famous Goodyear All-Weather Tread Cord—a new tread with a deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern—and it sells for substantially less.

It has in it the same high-grade long-staple cotton, the same Goodyear patented group-ply construction, the same liberally oversize dimensions.

When you buy the 4 1/2-inch size, for example, you get a tire whose actual measurement is nearly 5 inches.

Don't confuse this Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord with other popular-price cords which sell at the same price or for slightly more.

In many cases, these other cords are made of inferior materials, with short-staple cotton as a foundation.

Get the tire that is good enough to carry the Goodyear name, that is built to safeguard the world-wide Goodyear reputation.

Compare these prices with NET prices you are asked to pay for "long discount" tires

30 x 3 1/4 Clincher.....	$12.50	32 x 4 Straight Side..	$24.50	33 x 4 1/4 Straight Side..	$32.15
30 x 3 3/4 Straight Side..	13.50	33 x 4 Straight Side..	25.25	34 x 4 1/4 Straight Side..	32.95
32 x 3 3/4 Straight Side..	19.25	34 x 4 Straight Side..	25.90	33 x 5 Straight Side..	39.10
31 x 4 Straight Side..	22.20	32 x 4 1/4 Straight Side..	31.45	35 x 5 Straight Side..	41.05

These prices include manufacturer's excise tax

Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord Tires are also made in 6, 7 and 8 inch sizes for trucks

FOR SALE BY
GEORGE PORTER
Burlington, Kentucky.

GOODYEAR

THE HOME RADIO

How to Make and Use It By A. HYATT VERRILL

XIII. AMMETERS

Ammeters are instruments designed to measure the flow of electricity through the wires and are often very essential parts of a radio outfit. They consist, as far as exterior appearances go, of a dial marked with figures and a hand or needle. Although they are not high priced and it is not advisable to try to make them, still there is nothing mysterious or complicated about them and the amateur, who likes to experiment with home-made instruments, can readily construct an ammeter which will work and is fairly reliable. This instrument is known as a "hot-wire ammeter" (Fig. 29).

Drawing an Audience. Professor Lettichuk, in his lecture to an audience of more than 40 before, Your townsmen are interested in science? The Local Editor—Not much. But my compositor is setting up the ad of your lecture on the "Comme Prouver" left the "out of" "Comme".

Biased Opinion. A Scotch preacher says clergymen make the best husbands and artists the worst. He puts only and navy officers next to the first. The first last name mentioned even mentioned, we suppose, the Scotch preacher has no children and no wife in his family.

LEGION NOTES

When Kate O'Hare, whose name is known more or less well, announced a speech at the State Capitol in Madison, Wis., she stirred up a hornet's nest. The local posts of the American Legion immediately protested vigorously against the State building being used for any such purpose, the protest being filed with the governor. He refused to have the speech prohibited.

"We are having a hard time in Wisconsin on account of the coming fall election," Edwa J. Barrett, Wisconsin department commander, who lodged the protest, wrote to headquarters following the incident. "The governor worked with us up to the point where he had to decide between Kate O'Hare and the American Legion, and he took sides with the former. Since that time we have had to get along without a governor."

Commander Barrett explained the Legion's attitude in a letter written to Thomas P. Hayden, an official of the Locomotive Firemen and Engine-men. He said:

"One hundred and thirty thousand Wisconsin soldiers went out from this state to defend its Capitol buildings and everything they represent, from the Red Flag of Anarchy, as well as from the encroachments of the Imperial German Government. Five thousand never came back—thousands of others were wounded and are in hospitals with disease which will eventually cause their deaths—others are mentally unbalanced and can never hope to again become useful citizens. With these sacrifices staring those who served in the face, we would be derelict in our duty if we did not protest vigorously against a woman who was convicted of espionage, an obstructor of the draft, and guilty of using the most violent language against the mothers of these soldiers and against the soldiers themselves."

New Orleans—The U. S. Navy will participate in the naval show to be held during the American Legion national convention in New Orleans next October, the convention committee has been informed by Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt. Representation will consist of at least one battleship or cruiser and a number of destroyers.

Twelve hydroplanes will fly from Pensacola to New Orleans and will remain on the Mississippi river for exhibition flights during the convention period. The order authorizing the New Orleans flight was issued by Admiral William A. Moffet, head of the Navy bureau of aeronautics, who a few weeks ago made the first hydroplane flight from Pensacola to New Orleans.

In addition, the Legion committee hopes to obtain a number of submarines. One flotilla of under-sea craft is on the way from Mare Island, Calif., to the East coast and it is believed that its schedule will enable the flotilla to make the port of New Orleans about convention time. Invitations to send ships to the Legion naval show have been dispatched to naval authorities of England, including Canada and Australia, France, Italy, Japan, Brazil and China.

Washington—At various informal meetings at the Capitol, according to information gathered by the national legislative committee of the American Legion, congressmen who have returned for the reconvening of congress, report that the only legislation of national importance discussed in their districts is the adjusted compensation bill for world war veterans. This is declared to be true to the exclusion of all such matters as the tariff and the proposed ship subsidy. Their information bears out the repeated statement that this is the one matter that the whole country is interested in and wants settled definitely without any further delay.

New Orleans—Queen Marie d'Arroumania and Mrs. Warren G. Harding have been invited to attend the national convention of the American Legion Auxiliary, to be held in New Orleans, October 16-20, Mrs. Lowell F. Hobart, Auxiliary national president, has announced.

The Auxiliary plans to entertain some of the most prominent men and women in the country during its sessions in New Orleans. John T. Hager, United States commissioner of education, has accepted an invitation to address the convention and a similar reply to the invitation is expected from George B. Uley, president of the American Liberty Association.

Other notables invited to the convention are: Mrs. M. P. Higgins, president of the National Parent-Teachers' Association; Mrs. Robert Hoover, president of the Girl Scouts of America; Mrs. George Mingo, president of the Daughters of the American Revolution; Mary Roberts Rinehart and a number of other well known writers are also expected at the convention.

Washington—The national legislative and military policy committees of the American Legion have taken steps to obtain from the house military affairs committee favorable report on a bill which has been introduced and which provides for the equitable distribution of war trophies to various states. This action has been taken so that the bill can be voted on during this session.

New Orleans—New Orleans is preparing an effective answer to the well known Army question, "When do we eat?" The reply will be ready for thousands of members of the American Legion who come to the Crescent City for that organization's annual national convention, October 16-20.

Delectable old-time Spanish and French creole dishes, instead of the ordinary victuals on the menu will appease the appetites the restaurant men say.

Descendants of old creole cooks and those whom they taught the mysteries of preparing famous dishes will concoct the "gumbo flet," "janibalays," "courtbouillon," "entremets" and "creole desserts" especially for veterans at the convention.

French drip coffee, aptly termed "morning joy," will be served, it is rumored, early in the morning at the visitor's bedside.

No careless hand can make a perfect salad. It looks simple enough when watching the cook throw in a dash of this, a pinch of that, and pour in finger and oil with seeming abandon. Yet the cook has acquired by long practice the simple touch that produces a masterpiece. Only artists will make the salads for Legionnaires.

Gumbo is a delicious soup that belongs particularly to the New Orleans cuisine. It is a product of both the Spanish and French types of cooking but belongs distinctively to neither, the flet used to thicken the soup is a powder made from the leaves of sassafras trees gathered and dried when very young and tender.

Sea foods are a staple but are found prepared in such enticing fashion and are so delicately seasoned that the appetite for them is never dulled. There is high voltage joy in masticating a mess of river shrimp, trout with tartar sauce, or a soft shell crab served in the New Orleans way.

Restaurants are making arrangements to feed the 150,000 guests expected. Tables are to be placed on the sidewalks and every available space that can be utilized for the quick serving of meals will be employed. There are scores of little French and Italian table d'hotes which serve a substantial meal at a reasonable price.

Thackeray, who was pretty high on the list of master eaters of his day, once said: "The old Franco-Spanish city on the banks of the Mississippi river, where, of all the cities in the world, one can eat the most and suffer the least; where a ragout and bouillabasse can be had the like of which was never eaten in Marseilles or Paris."

A tribute which only a Legionnaire can appreciate.

"Where one can eat the most and suffer the least."

From over all the country are arising protests from former service men, filled with anxiety concerning the welfare of their disabled buddies, over the interference of Brigadier Gen. Charles Sawyer with the planned hospital program of the Veterans' Bureau. Following the charges of A. A. Sprague, chairman of the national rehabilitation committee of the American Legion, Legion posts and papers, and individuals have voiced indignation, and demands that the President's personal physician step aside and permit the program to be carried out.

Action on General Sawyer's interference was one of the first questions considered at the Oregon department's convention, held at Dallas, Ore., and a resolution was adopted for the removal of Gen. Sawyer "from his position as co-ordinator of the Federal Hospitalization Board for the best interests of the disabled."

Legion papers and many of the daily papers of the country, large and small, have taken up the issue editorially, and most unanimously indorse the stand of the Rehabilitation Committee, and unite in demanding that General Sawyer stand aside. Many of the posts have sent telegrams direct to Gen. Sawyer. The following telegram, sent to the General by La Voiture No. 217, de La Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux Atlanta, Ga., is typical of the attitude shown:

"Voiture No. 217 de La Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux last night passed resolution strongly resenting your unwarranted action in personally blocking United States hospital program. We respectfully ask that you stand aside. It is the will of the American people that the money appropriated by congress be used immediately in building hospitals for disabled men. Here in the South we need 500 beds for mental cases. We know the needs of our disabled men, and you do not. In the name of humanity, we appeal to you to stand aside!"

Wallets Discarded By Pickpockets

Found but Cash was Carried Away. Lawrenceburg—In rubbish at their grounds, L. Cole, secretary found three pocket books wrapped in paper, and one contained notes for $7,072. The wallet had been taken from W. M. Ross by pickpockets. Other citizens whose losses in the same manner have been reported are H. K. Ward, notes for $650 and $5; L. K. Professor W. F. Smith $20; J. T. Green, $24; R. Riccison, $30 and John Phillips, $36.

Those Chinese revolutionists who fled on the American steamer "Alvin Dollar" evidently didn't realize the power of the great American dollar.

Revival Meeting

-AT-

Burlington Baptist Church

Burlington, Ky., Beginning

Sunday, Sept. 3rd, '22

We want Your Co-operation; we Invite You to Worship With Us.

A Place and a Blessing for All COME!

COMING

Tuesday, Sept. 5th

To Union, Ky., at 7:45 P. M.

"The Kansas Cyclone"

WILLIAM UPTON GUERRANT, Lecturer.

HOBART VAN BLARCOM, Baritone.

LOLA LEE MATTER, Pianist.

RUTH EMILE SCOTT, Soprano.

ETHEL HASSINGER, Violinist.

A BIG CONCERT—Solos, duets, trios, quartets, readings, etc. A concert of cheer and optimism. Two Hours of enjoyment.

ADMISSION 25 Cents.

Under the management of Presbyterian Society, Union, Ky.

A Lack of Interest

And Use of Spare Time.

Many are at a loss to know why they do not grow and improve and many never take the trouble to inquire for reasons of failure.

A great railroad man hit the cause of failure when he said one must possess an interest and burning desire to succeed, a desire and interest so strong that they will cause one to use all spare time in study, which produce intelligent development.

There is a cause for each and every effect and if one has the proper interest he will study until the cause is known. The average person wastes enough spare time that if spent in intelligent study along proper lines a fair education may be gained in any branch.

A waste of time is a waste of energy that will bring failure.

Edison says one must not be afraid to work 14 to 16 hours a day if necessary. If one is thoroughly interested in their work as Edison was in his inventions he will work and study using all spare time.

Garfield burned the midnight oil to get an education, he became president of the United States and a great educator.

Our boys are failures today because they had rather loaf than study, had rather run around at night than prepare for a hard days work on the morrow.

Our girls had rather do society than spend their time in getting an education that they may be successful when grown.

We must save our spare time and center interest upon that which causes us to be better prepared for our life work.

Lebanon Man to Head State Organization.

These officers have been elected by the Kentucky Bankers Association in convention at West Baden Springs: O. D. Thomas, Lebanon, president; D. B. Calvert, Corbin, vice-president of the national bank section; Sam W. Clements, Uniontown, vice-president of the state bank section; A. B. Louaker, Burlington, treasurer; Harry G. Smith, Louisville, re-elected secretary, and Dow Wilcox, Paducah, R. L. Ross, Mayfield, and A. T. Witt, Winchester, members of the Executive Committee.

The bankers passed recommendations providing for a close co-operation between the credit association and the bankers in the dissemination of credit information.

RECHARGE ANY BATTERY

75c

RENTED BATTERIES FOR ANY MAKE CAR WHILE WE ARE RECHARGING OR REPAIRING YOUR BATTERY.

Dempsey Motor Car Co., Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L.

Louisville, Ky.—Acting on a petition of ice cream manufacturers of Kentucky, the Bureau of Foods, Drugs and Hotels of the State Board of Health will hold a hearing in Louisville early in September to decide whether manufacturers of ice cream shall be permitted to reduce the percentage of butter fat from 10 per cent in plain cream, and 8 per cent in fruit cream to 8 and 6 per cent respectively, it was announced here by Miss Sarah H. Vance, director of the Bureau.

The manufacturers who have requested that this change in the regulations be made, Miss Vance says, give as their reason for it the fact that every State surrounding Kentucky has the lower percentage requirement and that the lower standard invariably results in an increased sale of dairy products.

Before the State Board of Health takes any action in the matter, however, Miss Vance added, it desires to know what other persons interested with, and for this reason dealers who handle ice cream and members of the general public that use it are invited to communicate their views to the Bureau of Foods, Drugs and Hotels before September 5th.

Perhaps if the government buildings at Washington were to be put under fuel rations this winter like other folks, some of our public men might realize a little better the need of doing something to prevent future coal strikes.

Present prospect for elections is that a considerable number of politicians will be invited to adorn and decorate their home towns by remaining within the same next year.

HEBRON THEATRE--Next Saturday

WILLIAM S. HART IN

"O'Maley of the Mounted"

Admission 22 Cents,

Children 10 Cents

War Tax Included

Mack Sennett Comedy

Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 4th and 5th

"THE SHEIK"

THE MOTOR FUNERAL CAR

has solved many problems in connection with the burial of the dead. It does away with the slow, tedious journey of the olden times to the cemetery, and saves needless exposure to the weather. Then, too, it enables us to serve friends at a distance, who wish to avail themselves of a modern and complete equipment in each department, where all details will be given personal attention.

Phone connection will bring prompt response and free counsel.

PHILIP TALIAFERRO,
Undertaker and Embalmer
Erlanger, Ky.

The Best Advertisement

IS A PLEASED CUSTOMER

Spectacles and Eyeglasses that Fit the face and Fit the sight the kind we sell.

Phone South 1746

DR. N. F. PENN, 613 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

Efficient, Service and Economy

IS MY SLOGAN

C. SCOTT CHAMBERS

Embalmer and Funeral Director

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

WE WANT EVERY MAN

in Boone and Kenton Counties

That has a farm large or small, or House and Lot to sell to list it with us and we will advertise and find a buyer if there is any.

The Wisenberger Real Estate Co.

BEN

Phone South 6008

JOHN

515 Coppin Bldg. COVINGTON, KY.

Printed Stationery

AT THIS OFFICE

ENVELOPES, LETTERHEADS, NOTEHEADS, STATEMENTS

for business people.

for professional people.

for farmers.

for every one who wants

to be considered up to date and going strong

WILLARD BATTERIES

Willard Batteries

AT A NEW PRICE

Ford Six	$15.85
Chrysler	15.85
Overland	15.85
Chalmers	19.10
Buick	19.15
Maxwell 6-volts	19.15
Maxwell 12-volts	24.55
Dodge	24.55

Weddle Battery Co.,

Aurora, Indiana.

REPRESENTING

Willard Batteries.

July 15-17

Subscribe for the RECORDER

Notice to Shippers.

Having now two trucks—one and a two ton, I am prepared to do your hauling, large or small. Quick and efficient service.

Your Business Solicited.

W. M. Rachal, Jr.
Union, Kentucky.

Where Camphor Comes From. Most of our camphor comes from Formosa, Japan and China. In China whole families sometimes have shares in a single tree, indeed the ownership of a tree has been known to be shared by 2,000 people.

A Town Character. Every town has a man who is a delightful chap as long as he doesn't have to pay for anything.—Athens Globe.

DO YOU TAKE THE RECORDER?

Try It One Year: You'll Like It.

Read Our Advertisements and Profit by Them.

The world's largest output of coal

37th Annual Meeting of the Boone County Harvest Home —ASSOCIATION—

TO BE HELD AT ITS GROUNDS, NEAR LIMABURG, KY.,

Saturday, Sept. 9th, '22

Admission 35 Cents, War-tax Included

DANCING FREE.

CHILDREN UNDER 10 YEARS FREE.

Good Music.

Good Refreshments on the Grounds.

No Gambling Allowed.

Don't Fail to Attend. Meet Your Friends.

NATIONAL MEETING PLAN- NED BY POOL LEADERS

All Leaf Co-operative To Be Represented At Conference This Fall
Called By Stone, Bingham and Sapiro in Ky.

Lexington, Ky.—Tobacco cooperative associations in all parts of the country will be represented by their executives, counsel, secretaries and warehouse directors at a meeting to be held some time this fall, either in Lexington or Louisville, it was announced at the offices of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association at Lexington.

The meeting will be in the nature of a conference to discuss the problems of kindred interest, such as taxes, possible adverse legislation against the tobacco industry, farm conditions over the country and other items of interest to farmers who also are tobacco growers.

The conference is being planned by President and General Manager James C. Stone, Judge Robert W. Bingham and Aaron Sapiro, general counsel of most of the tobacco co-operatives, who has had a part in the organization of all of them, including the new ones in Wisconsin and Connecticut. The leaders of the Burley Association have felt that there are so many matters of mutual interest to all the tobacco producers of the country that such a conference would result in much good to all the interests concerned.

FARM WOMEN IMPROVE

HOME SEWING METHODS.

Farm women in many sections are cooperating actively in clothing work as carried on with the assistance of State and county extension workers. In this work local representatives or leaders, selected by the various communities in a county, come together at some convenient point for training. Provided with the necessary teaching helps, these women repeat to organized groups in their own neighborhood the instruction they have received and gather up reports on work done. The success of local leadership is due not only to the ability and devotion of local women but to the simple, practical basis to which extension workers have reduced their teaching.

According to reports received by the United States Department of Agriculture the things that are receiving particular attention are the making and use of dress forms; alteration of patterns and making of fitted-to-measure foundation patterns; clothing construction processes; remodeling; renovation; garment finishes; use of machine attachments; clothing hygiene, including the selection of shoes and corsets; millinery; and selection of textile materials and ready-made clothing for quality and design. As a result of the work, farm women have been enabled to improve their ability and make garments and other articles of clothing at home.

LOWER GUNPOWDER

John Shinkle was seriously ill last Sunday night with acute indigestion.

Miss Emma Feldhaus spent Friday night with her cousin Miss Beatrice Feldhaus, of Normansville. Wm. Shinkle was called to the bedside of his brother James who is seriously ill at his home near Williamsburg.

Mrs. Lizzie Abdon, daughter of Eliah and Martha Sellers and wife of Tom Abdon, died at her home here August 26th, 1922. She was 36 years, six months and 19 days. She leaves to mourn her death her husband, eight children, a mother, two sisters and five brothers. The funeral was conducted August 30, by Rev. R. C. McReely. O. Scott Chambers having charge of the funeral.

RADIO RALF--

Wool Growers Vindicated

Recently the Gazette pointed out that the statement issued by the National Retail Clothiers' Association, to the effect that the proposed duty on the wools in the new tariff bill would advance clothing $5 a suit, was absolutely false. I also stated that if the statement was true why were 1,000,000 pounds of foreign wool being held in bond under the permanent bill passed. The truth was and is that the permanent bill is lower than the Emergency Tariff, now in effect, and, therefore, the wool could be brought in cheaper.

The proposed rate being lower, then clothing costs should not show an advance when clothing has continued to decline under the present emergency wool duty, which is higher than in the permanent bill. The Boston Transcript, an organ of the Boston wool trade, now agrees with the wool growers' view of the matter, for it says in its issue of Aug. 10th: "No longer does the idea prevail that there must be a 'boost' on men's clothing on account of the cost of raw wool or the tariff situation, and it is expected that the $25 suit can be offered quite as freely as was the $35 suit a year ago."

It is not nice that finally all of us, wool growers, wool dealers and wool manufacturers alike, should finally agree that the new wool schedule will not advance clothing costs.—R. A. Ward, Multnomah Co., Ore.

Charges that gasoline wholesalers throughout the State had been failing to pay the one cent a gallon gasoline tax at the rate of $200,000 a year were made by Rainey T. Wells, chairman of the State Tax Commission. As a result of these charges the commission issued orders that after September 1 the tax would be paid by the retailers instead of by the wholesalers, and took other steps designed to check the payment of the tax, which goes into the State road fund.

Rev. Tomlin will preach at the Methodist church next Sunday. Rev. Tomlin has been returned to this circuit by the District Conference, much to the delight of the members and the public generally.

J. C. Williams, of Bullittsville, and Miss Eva Akin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Akin, of Petersburg neighborhood, were granted a marriage license in Covington, Monday.

Rev. Allie Stith, of Tipton, Ind., was meeting with old friends in Burlington, Tuesday.

Fortunately men are not required to dress according to their means. There's a law against public nakedness.

FOR SALE ETC

For Sale—No. 1 Jersey cow with calf by side, 7 weeks old. L. T. Clore & Son, Burlington, Ky.

For Sale—Lot baled hay. No. 1 Timothy. Dr. R. H. Crisler, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 3.

For Sale—Stearns Vulcanizing outfit complete, air compressor, tank buffer, motor 2 horse. A complete shop outfit cost $500 will sell for $225. J. E. Snyder, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 3. Telephone 184, Burlington. 028sept—pd

For Sale—Thirty 10 lb. shoats. E. A. Martin, Burlington, Ky. R. D. 1. Phone 359. 014 sept—pd

For Sale—No. 1 Jersey bull three Registered best Big Type Poland China sows. W. M. Balsay, Burlington R. D. 3. 1t

For Sale—Fifteen good ewes. Apply to Robt. Dickerson, Union, Ky., R. D. 1t

We want your money! That is what we run the "Big Shop" for. BUT, we are glad and willing to give good value, for we want you to come again and again. "Facts is facts." We do the copies work! We can repair your farm tools, and do it right, and do it soon. CONNER & KRAUS, The "Big Shop," Florence, Ky.

For Sale—Barred Rocks of the Huey strain; prize winners in the club. Hatched average 9. Pullets $2.00 Cockerel $2.50 each. Kathryn Clore, Burlington, Ky. Phone No. 60. 1t—pd

For Sale—25 good stock ewes. G. T. Gaines, Burlington, Ky.

WANTED—Good tenant for 1923. R. B. Huey, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 1. Sept7—1t

For Sale—Good 9-year old horse—sound and will trade for anything. O. S. Eddins, Burlington, Ky.

We give 20 per cent cash discount or to reliable parties of the regular retail price of Columbia Gramophones, Starr Grant Pianos, Upright Pianos, Player Pianos and Starr Phonographs. Free delivery made anywhere. Write for catalog. RICE PIANO CO., Aurora, Indiana. 0-jani

For Sale—Rubber tired runabout and harness, also telephone box. Call Ed. Stott, Farmers or Consolidated phone. Mrs. J. T. Stamper, Petersburg, Ky. 1t—pd

For Sale—Two Hampshire bucks—2 and 4 years old. Wm. Stephens, Petersburg, Ky. 1t

MEN NOTICE.

Read this and see if you don't want some of the articles listed. Garden tools, tool handles, single trees, all kinds of hinges, scythes, brushes, rope, claw hammers, canvas gloves, etc., etc. HARDWARE & SPECIALTY CO., Hope Corner, Mgr., Farm Tool Bldg., Florence, Ky.

F. S.—Are you going to build fence this winter. DON'T FORGET WE HAVE WIRE STRETCHERS!

NOTICE—I will haul passengers from Rabbit Hash to Covington two days in each week—auto for hire at all times. M. B. Rice, Grant, Ky., R. D. 0sept28—pd

For Sale—Sow and seven 8-weeks old pigs. Ed. Berkshire, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 1.

NOTICE.

We have been appointed the authorized sales and service station for the Willard Battery for Boone county. Also do recharging and repairing on all makes of Batteries. Work guaranteed. DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO., Erlanger, Ky.

WANTED

Hay to bale. Prices reasonable. P. H. Mathews, Bullittsville, Ky. Phone 203-x 29June 1t

For Sale or Trade—For young stock, 10 year old sorrell saddle mare, road cart, 32 bushel of wheat. Harold Beemon, Florence, Ky. 014sept—pd

WANTED

Incubators any make or size over one hundred egg capacity. Also one coal stove brooder, one thousand chick capacity. E. G. Stephenson, Erlanger, Ky., Route 4, Phone 656, Consolidated and Farmers. 0sept5—2tpd

LOST

9x12 Tan Tent between Erlanger and Carrollton, Ky. Lost Tuesday August 21, 1922. Finder please notify Logan H. Foster, No. 3 Pike St., Covington, Ky., and receive liberal reward. 0sept5—2t

For Sale—50 stock ewes from 1 to 4 years old in lots to suit purchaser. Chester Hill, Idelwild, Ky. 0sept5—2t pd

WOMEN NOTICE.

Why don't you come in and get acquainted? Here are a few things you need. Sauce pans, kettles, skillets, and irons, water buckets, window screens and lots of other things you must see to appreciate. HARDWARE & SPECIALTY CO., Hope Corner, Mgr., Farm Tool Building, Florence, Ky.

A BARGAIN

Cincinnati Daily Enquirer

—AND—

The Boone County Recorder

YOU CAN GET

BOTH for $4.50 the YEAR

Send Your Subscriptions to the

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER

Burlington, Ky.

Moulting Time---End It Quick

Hurry the Feathers, then Biddy can get back to her old job and lay the eggs you are looking for. Just now she needs lots of Protein. Feathers are 85 per cent Protein. She will find Protein abundantly in Simco Buttermilk Egg Mash. And in the most acceptable form—the Buttermilk tickles her craw and makes her absorb 5 times as much Protein. Feathers first—Viva La Feather.

Hens helped through Moulting Time with Simco will meantime lay better than usual—and then, when Moulting is over they will make a bee line for the champion class. Satisfied Simco buyers will tell you so. Take Home a Sack of Simco.

FOR SALE BY

K. K. STEPHENS, Walton, Ky.

E. A. STOTT, Petersburg, Ky.

WM. FROST, Constance, Ky.

All obituaries, card of thanks and all other matter, not news, must be paid for at 5 cents per line.

Bullittsburg Baptist Church.
J. W. CAMPBELL, Pastor.
Sunday School every Sunday at 10.00 a. m.
Regular preaching services on the First and Third Sundays in each month at 11:00 a. m.

Boone Co. Lutheran Pastorate
REV. GEO. A. ROYER, Pastor.
Sunday Sept., 10th.

Hopeful 9:30 a. m. Sunday School.
Hopeful 10:30 a. m., Holy Communion.
Hopeful 7 p. m., Luther League.
Hopeful 8 p. m., Special Service.
Hebron 9:30 a. m., Sunday School.
Ebenezer 2:30 p. m., Divine Service.

Boone Co. Christian Pastorate
REV. C. C. OMER, Pastor.
Sunday Sept., 10th

Bullittsville—
Bible School.....10.00 a. m.
Preaching.....11.00 a. m.
Preaching.....7:30 p. m.
We begin our Evangelistic meeting on Monday night, Sept., 11th, assisted by Rev. C. W. Ribble, of Erlanger.
Pt. Pleasant—
Bible School.....10.00 a. m.

Don't forget the Harvest Home next Saturday.

China is treating Dr. Sun like he was a step-son.

Every farmer in the county should have his stock insured.

W. R. Rogers spent last Saturday afternoon and Sunday in Walton.

Joseph Fisher, of Verona, was a business visitor to Burlington, Tuesday.

The grass on the front lawn should begin to perk up a little soon after school opens.

Hon. W. W. Dickerson, of Cincinnati, was transacting business in Burlington, Monday.

Sheriff B. B. Hume and wife are spending a few days at Toledo, O., and Detroit, Michigan.

Wayne Phipps, of near Lawrenceburg, Ind., is visiting friends and relatives in this county.

Mrs. O. S. Eddins entertains some of her friends from the city several days last week.

Eureka, Cal., claims the distinction of being the farthest west city on the mainland of the U. S.

A newspaper editor speaks of the "noisy minority." Isn't that getting rather personal with Senator LaFollette?

Miss Bessie Kirkpatrick, who has been spending a few weeks with relatives in Cincinnati, returned home Monday.

The country is now to have a fuel commission, as though we didn't already have more than enough fuel commissions.

Frank Maxwell and wife, and Wood Waxwell, of Covington, spent Labor Day in Burlington, and attended the ball games.

A new edict in Russia restores banishment from the country as a punishment for crime. That ought to start a big crime wave.

Miss Rachel Porter, who was operated upon, one day last week, for appendicitis, is getting along as nicely as could be expected.

E. S. Horton, formerly of this county, but now residing in Indiana, had a valuable team of horses killed by lightning, a few days ago.

D. R. Elliott out on the Bellevue pike, has improved the appearance of his farm by cutting the bushes and briars along the road side.

The Breeders Mutual Fire and Lightning Insurance Co., is very prompt in paying for stock killed by lightning or otherwise, when insured.

Prince Henri de Craffentried Boni de Bourbon says he came to America to make a name for himself. We'd say he made a good one while he was at it.

Miss Ruth Kelly left Monday for Dry Ridge, Grant county, where she has been employed in the H. School. Miss Kelly taught in that school last year.

It sounds somewhat paradoxical when the fashion authorities tell the girls that they must not wear their short skirts any longer but wear them longer.

Alfred Albeis wife and daughter, Miss Atha, of Cincinnati, and Calvert Kirkpatrick and wife, of Bromley, spent Labor Day with Mrs. Vina Kirkpatrick and family.

County Clerk Miss Lizzie Rogers, has been out of duty for several days on account of having some dental work done, which has caused her a great deal of annoyance.

James A. Riddell, of the Hebron neighborhood, who has passed his 78th birthday, and has been an exhibitor at fairs for many years, was given quite an ovation at the Germantown fair last week, where he was an invited guest, with all expenses paid by the fair board.

Mrs. Mary Goodridge celebrated her 76th birthday, last Sunday, at her home out on R. D. 1. Those present were N. W. Carpenter and wife, T. Carpenter and wife, Mrs. Sarah Carpenter, Miss Bessie Baldwin, Miss Kittie Gaines, Elmer Goodridge, wife and daughter.

REVENGE IS SWEET!

But Oh, How Bitter, To Want Just One Game, and Then Not Git'er.

Large and enthusiastic crowds witnessed the two games of ball Monday between Walton and Burlington, the morning game going for ten frames. Walton failed to score in the first, in the second on a triple by Sprague and a single by Clay Roberts, one score was made. Walton scored two more in the sixth on singles by Clifton Roberts Ryan and another triple by Sprague, another in the seventh on singles by Glenn Benson and their final score was made in the eighth on a triple by Ryan and a single by Clay Roberts. Walton made a heroic effort to score in the tenth, with one down Mathews hit for three bases, Ryan went out on a fielders choice, with Sprague out it looked like Walton would score but Finn was on the job and Sprague was sent to first on four balls. Clay Roberts fled out. Burlington could do nothing with Benson's delivery until the fifth as only one hit, a triple by Ryle, had been made. Brady the first man up in the fifth was hit by a pitched ball, Kelly was passed, Clore reached first on a "bad" choice, Brady out at third. Finn laced the first ball pitched for a single over second scoring Kelly and Clore. In the sixth Berkshire the first man up reached first on a single, Ryle followed with a single and Conner hit the pill for three bases. Burlington scored on a fielders choice. Burlington made another bid for a run in the 9th when Tolin doubled and Acra singled but failed to score. As the morning was very hot the Burlington gang decided to end the game in the tenth and when Ryle hit the first man up was passed he took second on Conner's bunt and when he attempted to steal third Zimmer made an overthrow at third and Ryle put the winning run over the rubber. Hits by Walton 12, Burlington 8.

Innings 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10—
Walton.....0 1 0 0 2 1 1 0 0—5
Burlington.....0 0 0 2 3 0 0 1—8

The afternoon game was won by the Burlington team with their war clubs, fifteen hits were made good for thirty bases and eleven runs, while the Walton boys made thirteen hits good for twenty-one bases. Walton made three hits in the first and scored one run, in the second they were blanked but in the third they got busy with their bats, coupled with errors by the home team, four runs were put on counting territory. At this stage of the game the Burlington rooters were very quiet as the score was a tie at the end of the 4th inning three to five in Walton's favor. Christy pitched the first four innings and Brady the last five. Brady held Walton, as only one run was made off his delivery, a home run in the ninth by Ryan, a long fly that got by Acra. Burlington scored one in the first and could only get two men across the plate in the 3rd on two two baggers, a triple and a single, they did better in the fifth when they scored three on two triples and two singles, the seventh was their banner inning, when they got four men across the plate on a triple, three singles, and a base on balls in the eighth they made their final score on a base on balls, a double and single. Ryle for Burlington made five hits out of eight times at bat.

Innings 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9—
Burlington 10 2 0 3 0 4 1 x—11
Walton 10 4 0 0 0 0 1—6

In both games extra base hits were made by the following—two base hits Acra, Berkshire, Ryle, Conner, Brady, Kelly, Tolin, Mathews, Ryle 2; Three base hits Ryle 2, Kelly, Brady, Mathews, Ryan 2, Glenn 2; Sprague 2; Berkshire, Home Run Sprague, Ryan, Conner. Umpires—McElroy, Sullivan and Smith.

After Kelly made the catch of Zimmer's long fly and Sprague was doubled at first all the players left the field as the visitors seemed to have enough. The game ended with only two men out in the ninth.

When the old veteran, "Pap" Brady walked out to the pitcher's box he was given a rousing ovation by players and spectators.

The ball game on Lower Gunpowder, last Sunday between the married men and single men resulted in a score of 3 to 2 in favor of the married men. This was one of the most exciting games played at that place this season. Next Sunday East Bend will play Gunpowder on the same grounds.

At Hebron Monday, two exciting games were played between Hebron and the Ludlow White Sox. Ludlow took the morning game 2 to 1, and Hebron the afternoon game 8 to 7.

For Sale—Large Guernsey cow, second calf, seven weeks old. All around cow. Florence Marquis, Florence, Ky. It—pd

James Bullock and Frank Hosen, of Hebron, were transacting business at the hub, Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Jos. H. Walton, of Rabbit Hash, and Miss Rebecca Slett, of Beaver Lick, made the Recorder of a pleasant call Tuesday morning.

"111"
cigarettes

They are GOOD! 10¢

Timely Reminders.

Trim out old Cane Growth—Raspberries and blackberry plantations that have not been trimmed out by this time should be given careful attention at the first opportunity. The old canes are frequently diseased and should be removed. This practice also gives the young growth a chance to develop.

Crop Exhibits at Fairs—Start thinking about the exhibits of your farm produce at the County Fair or Farm Products Show. Selection should be made from now until the time of the exhibit. Farmers need vacations as much as do city folks, and the county fair offers big benefits to those who choose it as their vacation period.

Selling Graded Tomatoes—When tomatoes are very cheap and do not sell easily, try grading them. Dessert tomatoes are usually in demand when ordinary field run goes begging.

Locate Wet Spots Now—The farmer would do well to inspect his field of corn at this time, noting all low, wet areas that have failed to produce on a par with the rest of the field. Plans should be made now for draining these wet spots after the crop has been harvested and before cold weather sets in.

Baby Beef Pays Best—The safest kind of cattle to feed under average conditions are calves that are to be fattened and marketed as baby beef. They bring a higher price to the pound because they are in greater demand than heavier cattle. The initial investment is less for baby beef, and they require less feed to the hundred pounds gain.

Sell the Extra Cockerels Early—Get rid of the surplus cockerels as soon as possible. About ten days before marketing separate them from the pullets, confine them and feed the following mash twice daily, all the following Sept. 16, 1922: Two pounds—corn meal, one pound ground oats, one pound wheat shorts eight pounds buttermilk.

WILL HELP EMPLOY NURSE

Louisville, Ky. — The first ten counties in Kentucky which at the present time have no public health nurses to comply with conditions laid down by the State Board of Health, will be helped financially to employ a nurse by the State Board, Dr. A. T. McCormack, State Health Officer, announced here today.

The aid offered by the State board is payment of the nurse's full salary of $125 or $150 for the first three months of her employment. The board, after these three months, will continue to contribute $50 a month toward the payment of her salary for the balance of the first year of her employment.

The single condition specified by the board is that the counties must guarantee the payment of the remainder of the nurse's salary for 9 months and must provide transportation for her. This may be done by Fiscal Courts, municipalities, health and welfare leagues, Red Cross chapters or other organizations.

Three Kentucky counties already have made arrangements to take advantage of the Board's Health's offer. They are Knox, Letcher and Henry.

BEHIND THE MIRRORS

(Copyright, G. P. Putnam's Sons.)

Johnson. Hiram Johnson is a declining figure. The test of his leadership came when the vote was reached on the unseating of Senator Newberry for spending too much money in the Michigan primaries.

Johnson's great issue a year before had been sanctity of popular nominations. Yet when he had an opportunity to speak and act against a brazen, even though foolish, attempt to buy nomination, he was rushing across the continent—arriving after the vote had been taken.

The absence from the roll call and the theatrical attempt to make it appear accidental was typical. Johnson had won the Michigan primaries in the national campaign of 1920. The delegates were in control of Newberry's political friends. They remained first for Johnson through-out the balloting. Johnson avoided voting against their leader, although his principles required that he should lead the fight for his unseating.

Public Sale

I will sell at public auction at the residence of the late Edward Beemon, 2 1/2 miles north-west of Union, on

Friday, Sept. 15, '22

Following Property:

Four cows, one to be fresh in September, one in December, and the other two in the spring, four Hogs, will weigh about 100 lbs., each, one Sow will farrow by day of sale, Road Wagon, two-horse Sled, Mowing Machine, two-horse Cultivator, "A" Harrow, Oliver "E" Plow, Shovel Plow, Double Shovel Plow, Garden Plow, two log Chains, two-horse Stretchers, Double Trees and Single Trees, 20 foot Ladder, Set Double plow Harness, Set Check Lines, one Side Saddle, Wheel Barrow, Corn Sheller, some Tobacco Sticks, three Iron Kettles, Lard Press, large Diner Bell, Grind Stone, Sharpies Cream Separator, Cross Cut Saw, One-man Hand Saw, Hoes, Rakes, Lorks and Shovels, 2 milk Cans, one Range, one good Heating Stove, one Bath, 20 pounds of butter, 10 dishes and all household and kitchen furniture, and other articles too numerous to mention.

TERMS OF SALE

All sums of $10.00 and under cash; sums over $10.00 a credit of Nine Months without interest will be given, notes with approved security negotiable and payable at Union First Bank. No property to be removed until terms of sale are complied with.

MRS. MINERVA BEEMON.
Lute Bradford, Auctioneer.
Sale to begin at 12 o'clock.

Any Make of Battery
RECHARGED
75c
Rentals for any make of car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.
Dempsey Motor Car Co.,
Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

BURLEY GROWERS' MEETING.
Members of Burley Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association held their annual meeting at Burlington, Ky., Sept. 2nd, 1922, for the purpose of nominating delegates to be elected Sept. 16th, 1922.

Motion and second that Mr. C. O. Hempling be nominated as County Chairman of Boone County, carried. Motion and second that D. H. Vest be nominated as county secretary, carried.

Announcement of number of delegates to be nominated for Boone County.
Motion and second that Mr. Joe W. Cleek, and Mr. C. O. Hempling be nominated as delegates for annual election of director of Burley Association Sept., 16th, 1922.

Motion and second that county organization remain in tact and precinct chairmen be notified of the election, and to do all he can to see that there is a full vote cast, carried.
Motion and carried, that the following be nominated to serve on election committee Sept., 16th: F. H. Rouse, J. E. Gaines and Mr. Geo. Penn, Chairman.
D. H. VEST, Secretary.

WOMEN TO THE RESCUE

Kansas reports have indicated that many farmer's wives and daughters have turned out this year to help the men of the family harvest the crops. Feeling that imported labor costs more than it was worth, about 200 women around Parsons, Kan., went out in the fields and performed the tedious processes of harvesting. These girls did not have to use any make-up in order to produce good color in their cheeks.

The farmer is hard hit by the present price of wheat, but there is much resourcefulness in the farm family which helps meet the situation. A lot of girls and women are tired of the idea that a woman is physically inferior. Some of them seem to be disproving it, by giving a demonstration of their ability to do things.

BE SURE TO EXTINGUISH
Match, Cigar or Cigarette Before Throwing Away

The following officers of the Breeders Mutual Fire and Lightning Insurance Co., were elected Monday: L. T. Clore President; H. L. McGlasson, Vice-President; F. P. Rouse, Secretary; C. H. Youell, Treasurer; J. L. Kite, Agent; Hubert Conner, Adjuster.

Walter Florence, of the Hebron neighborhood, lost a valuable cow by lightning, one day last week. No insurance.

Necessity is the mother of many an invention that won't sell.

CAR SENSE

Spend a Dollar and Save Ten
Little defects grow into big ones in time if not corrected.
The correction of a small defect in its early stages costs but little.
When left until it grows into serious proportions its correction runs into money.
That is what makes the maintenance of a car so expensive to many people—neglecting the little things until they grow into big ones.
The better—the safer—the more economical way is to see the garage man at the first warning of trouble.
Today is always a good time to have it done.

EDDINS BROTHERS
TIRES, TUBES AND ACCESSORIES.
Burlington, Kentucky.
BRAKE BAND OIL—Guaranteed to stop Ford bands from chattering.
Agents for U. S. and Ajax Tires.

Established 1886.

A Bank Account IS ONE OF THE FIRST STONE-SUCCESSION STONES
SUCCESS IN LIFE.

How are You Stepping!
This bank invites young men and women especially to open savings accounts. Officials of the bank are pleased at all time to give the benefit of their experience to customers and others who seek advice.
When in doubt come to this bank. Your success means greater success for us.

Has it ever occurred to you that a checking account is a very convenient thing to have?

Boone Co. Deposit Bank

Burlington, Kentucky.
N. E. RIDDELL, President W. D. CROPPER, Cashier
W. A. GAINES, Vice-Pres. G. S. KELLY, Asst. Cashier.

Petersburg Theatre
At Petersburg, Kentucky

Saturday Night, Sept. 9th

"Little Miss Smies"
Sherley Mason

At Burlington, Kentucky,

Saturday Night, Sept. 9th

"Arabian Love"
John Gilbert
CHILDREN 10c. ADULTS 25c

War Tax Included Will Begin promptly at 8:00

COURTESY SERVICE FIRST STABILITY

A Letter Received from the Banking Commissioner.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 14th, 1922.
PEOPLES DEPOSIT BANK,
Burlington, Ky.

Dear Sirs:—

After a careful examination of your report and that of our Examiner, we find no complaint to make as to the management and condition of your bank; hence, we have marked the management and condition of your bank for the first half of 1922 EXCELLENT.

In the near future, we contemplate inaugurating a complete system of grading banks and we trust that you will be able to maintain your high standard under our new plan.
Yours truly,

JAMES P. LEWIS,
Banking Commissioner.

Flour—Flour—Flour

An excellent Flour—that makes excellent Bread, Pies and Cakes. New patrons are coming to this flour each day and recommend it highly. It's Rising Sun—

Fancy Patent, Golden Rod or Tube Rose.

Its sold on a positive guarantee to please you in every respect.

Ask Your Grocer—Insist On It.

Make bake day a glad day by using

RISEING SUN FLOUR

AS THE EDITOR SEES IT

Henry Ford recently announced that he would close his great automobile works because the steel trust wants to rob him in the price of the raw material that goes into the construction of his cars. He asserts that he will not be a party to such profiteering.

Although the closing of the Ford industry will bring hardships to millions of people, the stand taken by Mr. Ford is commendable.

As long as the American people meekly submit to being robbed by the robbers they will pluck them to the bone. And even the bone may soon disappear along with the pound of flesh.

If two valuable animals were fighting at death grips any person of intelligence would endeavor to separate them and preserve the usefulness of both.

The railroads and the coal mines and their employees are in just that condition of antagonism, with the entire nation facing appalling disaster as a result of the struggle.

Have we no public officials with sense and courage enough to step in and arbitrarily settle the strife in fairness to both sides?

Or is the welfare of the American people of less consequence than that of an animal?

Some people say that politeness costs nothing. But is that entirely true?

It is possible that a chronic grouch may at times assume a certain degree of courtesy, but it is invariably at the cost of a tremendous effort.

His natural inclination is to growl, and grumble, and snarl, and such people invariably follow the bent of their inclinations. To suddenly assume an attitude of politeness is foreign to his nature. It requires an effort, and no effort is without its cost.

But the greater the cost the more precious the jewel.

Give the polite grouch the credit that is his due.

We all have our faults, but in our own eyes they are generally considered to be virtues.

When commenting upon the delinquencies of our neighbors it might be well to consider that what we term his faults he may deem to be virtues.

It is difficult at times to understand our own minds, and quite impossible to follow the minds of others.

For this reason it is possible that in judging the other fellow we may lay ourselves open to being judged even more harshly by him, and with some measure of justice.

When you hear a windbag blowing in public don't believe everything he says. He doesn't believe the half of it himself.

And when making a big noise yourself be careful of what you say, or others may hang a wind-bag label onto you.

Some people believe in the prompt payment of debts, especially when they are coming to them. We are of the same, with a good many coming our way.

COAL, OR WORDS?

Winter is rapidly approaching, when coal will be needed to prevent the people of the north from freezing and millions of the south from becoming most damnably uncomfortable.

Trains must be kept running in order that food may be distributed to the people who need it. This, or they starve.

With this condition facing us the wage disputes between the railroads and coal corporations and their employees remain unsettled, with no apparent hope of an adjustment in sight.

The millions of men, women and children who are in no way responsible for this paralysis of two of the most vital industries of the country are shackled and helpless, with no way to turn, ground between the relentless stones of conflict that never cease to move.

They look to the congress to enact laws for their protection, and to the president and his assistants to put these laws into execution and enforce them.

It, therefore, is an opportune time to put a vital and leading question to congress and to the president.

"Are you going to discharge your duty to the American people as a whole, regardless of political considerations, or are you going to bow the neck of authority to the corporations or to the brotherhoods, or to both?"

A hundred million people want coal—not empty words.

BACK IN SCHOOL AGAIN

That means much to the children of this community. It means a continuation of the campaign of knowledge that is to turn them out finished and useful citizens of our country.

Let our duty to them does not end in returning them to their instructors. The latter will govern and guide them while in the halls of learning, but the teacher can not follow after they leave its doors.

Ours is the duty of sheltering and protecting them from the pitfalls of the street and the open, from the snares which to them appear to be but innocent forms of pleasure.

The responsibility of the teacher is heavy, but ours is infinitely more so.

Notice Tax-Payers

Tax-payers of Boone County are hereby notified that I, or one of my deputies will be at the places and on the dates named below to collect the 1922 State, County and County School Taxes. Will also collect the 1922 Graded Common School taxes in Verona, Petersburg, Union and Florence Districts. Also the Consolidated School tax in the Bullittsville and Constance Districts on the same days that other taxes are collected:

BIG BONE, October 3rd
BEAVER LICK, October 4th
VERONA, October 5th
WALTON, October 6th
BELLEVUE, October 9th
CONSTANCE, October 10th

HEBRON, October 11th
UNION, October 13th
PETERSBURG, October 16th
FLORENCE, October 17th
RABBIT HASH, October 19th

Rates—State 40c; 10c on Live Stock, County 70c, 15c on Agriculture Products; School 40c on the $100; Poll $1.50. School Poll $1.00. Graded School Rates—Verona 60c; Petersburg 70c; Union 45c, and Florence 50c. Graded School Poll—Verona $1.00; Petersburg $1.50; Union $1.00; Florence 50c.

All unpaid taxes become delinquent after Nov. 30th. Six per cent penalty due State and County added after December 1st on all delinquent taxes; six per cent commission in addition is allowed Sheriff for collecting delinquent taxes. Cost of levy 60c, Advertising $1.00; Recording .50c.

Please make inquiries for the amount of your taxes before November 15th, as we cannot receive everyone's taxes on the last few days of November.

B. B. HUME, S. B. C.

OPEN THE IRON DOORS.

The press and the consumers of this country should unite in a determined and relentless effort to prevent profiteering in coal prices this winter—if we get any coal at all.

Henry Ford has taken the lead in this movement and has been promptly supported by the city of Detroit. The coal profiteer will find little comfort there. He may even find a few prison bars.

But Detroit holds only a tiny proportion of the coal consumers of the United States. Though they lose in Detroit, a few dollars a ton tacked onto the price of coal throughout the country will filch hundreds of millions of dollars from the pockets of the consumers and transfer them to the swollen bank accounts of the profiteers.

It is folly to apply persuasive methods in attempting to prevent profiteering. A profiteer has no conscience, at best.

Prison cells are the only things that cause terror to them—the only curb that will have any lasting effect.

Open the iron doors and shove 'em in!

If the legal arms of the government and states fail to prosecute these "birds" then there is a drastic law that applies to dereliction of duty.

The Court of Appeals will open its Fall Term on Monday, Sept. 18th with the largest Criminal Docket in its history. There are 111 criminal appeals; most of them growing out of the Prohibition Act passed by the last Legislature and involving every phase of the act from the right to give away a drink, which is a criminal offense under the act, to the right of freedom from search and seizure.

The Civil Docket consists of 357 appeals, in which the usual run of legal questions are involved. Among those are the cases of Oris S. Ware, Commonwealth's Atty. Kenton county vs. Perry and Hutchinson Company and Thos. M. King vs. Commonwealth, from Jefferson county, which will be of general interest. The purpose of the Ware vs. Sperry and Hutchinson case is to test the legality of the Anti-Trading Stamp Act which passed the last Legislature after a very bitter and hotly contested fight in which a large lobby was very active—and it is rumored, much money. Similar acts making the issuing of trading stamps illegal have been declared unconstitutional in several other states. The intent of the King vs. Commonwealth case is to test the constitutionality of the Blue Sky Law and to get a ruling as to whether or not it applies to common law trusts in the event it is held to be constitutional.

The following cases were appealed from this county:

213 Souther vs. Belleau.

IT IS POSSIBLE.

Fat people are dissatisfied with their lot, and skinny ones are equally so, while the betwixts and between long to be something else. Some day the Creator may be able to please people in the way He makes them—and perhaps not.

Ditching doesn't cost money, but makes money. Orange county farmers found this to be true, even when they had to blast 400 feet of heavy shale to get their ditch.

J. Sloat Wells, of Chemung county, found that lime plus acid phosphate, plus stable manure, plus pasture mixture did wonders for eight acres that nearly were all played out.

What Would it Cost You to Mix this Perfect Ration?

Brewers' Grains Cottonseed Meal
Corn Meal
Wheat Bran
Wheat Middlings
Corn Gluten Feed
Old Process Oil Meal
Pure Cane Molasses

Here are eight well-known milk making feeds. You can buy them ready-mixed as Ce-re-a-lia Sweets. Or you can mix them yourself. Home mixing means tying up lots of money. You have to buy in immense quantities to get these good feeds cheaply. Even then—

Would you know just what proportion of each ingredient to use to get most milk and keep your cows in good physical shape? Could you be sure of a thorough mix? Could you add palatable cane molasses without making your feed lumpy—hard to handle? No.

But it can be done, is done with Ce-re-a-lia Sweets. We're so sure that Ce-re-a-lia will increase milk production that we offer:

FOUR WEEK'S TRIAL WITHOUT RISK

Feed Ce-re-a-lia Sweets to one cow for 28 days. If you don't get more milk—or richer milk—than now, you will get every cent back. Get details from

EARLY &amp; DANIEL,

Erlanger, Ky.—Phone Erlanger 31
Covington, Ky.—Phone South 15
Carew Bldg., Cincinnati, O.—Phone Main 662

Ce-re-a-lia Sweets

FEDERAL-AID ROADS

INCREASED 600 MILES.

Nearly 600 miles nearer the goal of a completed system of highways for the United States is the report of the Bureau of Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture for the month of July. The final goal, the construction of a system of approximately 180,000 miles of Federal-aid highway consisting of a network of trunk line and secondary roads reaching into practically every county is still a long way off, but we are 5,392 miles nearer than at the beginning of the year according to the bureau.

Completed Federal-aid roads now total 18,299 miles with 14,912 miles under construction and approximately 160 per cent complete. Including Federal-aid roads in all stages now total 40,338 miles.

There is no indication of any slackening of the greatly increased rate of progress which began with the season of 1921 as the States continue to pour in plans for new projects and place them under construction as rapidly as possible. Nearly twelve and one-half million dollars was obligated to new projects in June and July, and in the week ending August 5 reports were received of the letting of 68 new projects and announcements of 57 to be let.

A cursory perusal of periodicals published during the month of August in the early years of electrical development brings to light the following paragraphs which are of interest in view of present-day electrical development:

In August 1878, the Gaiety Theatre was the first public building in London to be illuminated by electric light and many visitors from the country were reported to have the impression that "half a dozen harvest moons were shining at once in the Strand."

In August 1879, electric light was installed in the Capitol at Washington, D. C.

During August 1881, electric illumination first enabled British iron works to carry on operations 24 hours in the day.

A report from a magazine published in August 1885 says: "Since the introduction of electric lights at Bar Harbor the number of wedding engagements has perceptibly decreased."

At the opening of a new theatre at Halle in August 1886, stipulation was made in contracts with employees that in event of any performance being interrupted by failure of the electric lights the employees should not be paid for that night's work.

Zoological gardens in England are in the market for American blons.

Seeds for Fall Sowing

MICHIGAN ROSEN RYE, NEW TIMOTHY, NEW SEED, WHEAT, CRIMSON CLOVER, ALFALFA CLOVER, ETC.

Get ready now. Figure the amount you will need, write us for prices, buy your seed, and let's all be ready when the time comes.

ARRIVED LAST WEEK

CARLOAD OF

Wichita's Best Flour

Milled from best Kansas Hard Wheat

Bbl. $8.50; 1/2 Bbl. $4.35; 98-lb bag, $4.

STILL THAT SAME GOOD DRINK

NOBETTER COFFEE

Pound.....33c

4 or More Pounds Sent Parcel Post Prepaid.

Rarus Flour

THE ALL PURPOSE FLOUR

Bbl. n wood.....$7.50; 98-Lb. Bag $3.50

PURE APPLE CIDER VINEGAR.....45c Gallon

MIXED PICKLE SPICE.....20c Pound

SACHRINE, 1 ounce can.....35c

Northern Kentucky's } LEADING GROCERS AND SEEDSMEN.

GEO. W. HILL & CO.
27-29 PINE ST.—36 W. 7th ST. COOK KY.
28 Chester St.—Scoury & Co. day
Wholesale and Retail
Groceries, Sashmen, Hardware, etc.

VULCANIZING.

Complete line of Goodyear, Goodrich and Kelly-Springfield Tires and Tubes, good Grade of Automobile and Tractor Oils and Greases.

Auto Accessories kept in stock.

GEORGE PORTER,
BURLINGTON, KY.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN,

DENTIST
In my new office
Clayola Place, Florence, Ky.
Teeth extracted painless. Bridge and Plate Work a Specialty.
All Work Guaranteed

JAMES L. ADAMS

DENTIST
Cohen Building
Pike Street, Covington, Ky.

You Can Trade the Article You Don't Need For Something You Do by Advertising.

READ YOUR COUNTY PAPER
$1.50 The Year.

TAKE YOUR COUNTY PAPER.

Take Your County Paper.

SCIENCE IN FARMING.

A sunflower sucks up 145 pounds of water during its growth.

Apparatus to eradicate wheat smut by the hot-water treatment before the grain is to be planted has been invented by an Indiana man.

Radium has been found to have a most stimulating effect on the growth of plants. It has made carrots and radishes grow nearly six times as heavy as those grown under similar conditions in ordinary soil.

It is impossible to get a crop of red clover without the aid of insects. The present scarcity of bumble bees is making itself felt in the smaller crops. Australia and the Philippine Islands have imported bumble bees for the sake of their clover crops.

F. W. Kassebaum & Son

GRANITE & MARBLE MONUMENTS,
A Large Stock on Display to Select from.

Pneumatic Tool Equipme't
118 Main Street,
AURORA, IND.

Isinglass Replaced, Cushions and Backs Rebuilt

Buggy and Wagon Upholstering

OF QUALITY
RUFUS W. TANNER

Auto Top Repairing
Seats covers for all makes of cars.
Dixie Highway Erlanger, Ky.
Phone Erl. 79-Y.

People who use the classified ads in this paper profit by them. The little ads bring quick results. What have you for sale or want to buy. The cost is too small to consider.

People who use the classified ads in this paper profit by them. The little ads bring quick results. What have you for sale or want to buy. The cost is too small to consider.

READ YOUR COUNTY PAPER
$1.50 The Year.

C. H. YOEUELL

Farms for Sale

At Bargain Prices.
Burlington, Ky.

Phone Burlington 65

FOR SALE

Farm of 25 acres at Hebron, Ky.—house, barn and outbuildings, 100 acres, 11 room house, barn and outbuildings, near Lawrenceburg Ferry. Both tracts good farm land.

E. MANNIN, Petersburg, Ky.

o-o-o-o

BOONE CO. RECORDER

Published every Thursday
N. E. RIDDELL, Publisher.

Foreign Advertising Representative
THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION
Entered at the Postoffice, Burlington, Ky., as second-class mail.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Furnished on application. The value of the RECORDER as an advertising medium is unquestioned. The character of the advertisements now in its columns, and the number of them, tell the whole story.

Earl Cropper spent last week with his mother, Mrs. Lorena Cropper.

R. E. Berkshire and family spent Sunday with relatives in Aurora, Indiana.

Dr. R. H. Crisler, of North Bend, was transacting business in Burlington, last Thursday.

After idling all summer, the time has come for many folks to celebrate Go To Work Week.

Wise home-makers know that the more a person works the more energy-yielding food he needs.

Protracted meeting is in progress at the Baptist church and will continue until further notice.

Granville Alford of Louisville, visited friends and relatives in Burlington, several days last week.

If the distribution of food is stopped by strikes, the consumer will have much food for thought.

Give 'em air! One authority estimates 1,000 pounds of hens require 3,401 cubic feet of air a day.

So far the fellows who encourage working people to go on strike have not won many popularity contests.

Uncle Ab says: "A community that doesn't pull together will get about as much work done as a balky team."

Miss Katharine Beerman, of Latonia, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Fred Morris, out on the East Bend pike.

R. H. Sandford, of Covington, spent several days with his brother, Tim Sandford and wife, the past week.

City girls are kicking against having to wear long skirts again. Of course—kicking is easier when they are short.

The hand that used to rock the cradle was last seen down on the beaches practicing the new swimming strokes.

Stanley Barker and wife, of Hamilton, Ohio, were guests of Hubert Rouse and family, from Saturday until Monday.

The apparent slacking up of the crime wave may be due to the fact that all the criminals have become bootleggers.

No one blamed the flappers for the coal strike, but of course they are responsible for everything else that has happened.

Ed. Hawes, wife and two daughters, of Covington, spent from Saturday until Monday evening with his mother, Mrs. Martha Hawes.

Miss Mary Gordon left last Thursday for St. Charles, Missouri, where she has accepted a position as a teacher in the Missouri State College.

At last accounts too many girls were competing in the bathing beauty contests, but not enough were bathing their hands in the wash tub.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the Annual Statement of the Boone County Board of Education by Supt., J. C. Gordon, County Supt., and Treasurer.

Following is a summary of school finances for year 1921-22:
Balance July 1, 1921.....$7,614.85
Total Receipts.....50,511.19
Total Paid Out.....50,465.68
Balance June 30, 1922...7,659.68

Boone has a school tax rate of 40c, a school term of nine months, and has no back debts whatsoever.

School conditions in Boone county are far better than similar conditions in other counties in the State, according to report by Supt., J. C. Gordon, county school superintendent.

The following interesting statistics we gather about other counties in the State:

Payette county pays a 50 cent rate for schools, has a nine months session, and is one hundred thousand dollars in debt.

Franklin county also pays a 50 cent rate, has only a seven months session, and is in debt to the extent of twenty-two thousand dollars.

Owen county patrons pay a 50 cent school tax, seven months school term and owes over six thousand dollars.

Harrison county pays a 40 cent rate, has only a seven months school term and owes sixteen thousand eight hundred dollars.

Weather Conditions Versus

Railroad Transportation.

Railroading has important weather problems to contend with, and its people must call on the Weather Bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture for continuous and reliable information as to conditions prevailing in various parts of the country in order to take adequate precautions to protect its age, loss of time, or other inconveniences.

Temperature extremes affect all steel and iron work, such as rails or car wheels. Warnings of very cold or very hot weather indicate that arrangements must be made to keep them in good running order by replacements or repairs. Snow is regarded as the great enemy of rail transportation, and information furnished by the snow reports of the Weather Bureau helps to forewarn the railroads as to districts where windbreaks or snowbanks should be erected or snowplows made ready. Heavy rains bring about floods which wash away bridges, undermine roadbeds, and cause landslides. Not all of the elements can be averted but directions can be made in time, and the damage by strengthening critical points.

Ice storms and thunderstorms often put electrified lines out of order. High winds will sometimes derail trains. Snow and sand, impelled by strong winds, often pile upon the tracks and delay transportation. Heavy rainfall produces luxuriant vegetation, which is a great nuisance on earth-ballasted roads, while any excessive moisture shortens the life of ties and other woodwork.

Weather affects not only the railroad tracks and rolling stock, but also the goods transported. This is especially true of perishable foods. In addition to precooling and icing stations which are maintained, refrigerators and heater cars are used, and a close watch kept on Weather Bureau announcements in the districts where perishables must be moved.

In The Looters' Hands.

The Fordney-McCumber Tariff monstrosity is now in the hands of the Senate and House conferees. This means that it is in the hands of the six Republicans who are a majority of the conferees. And this means, furthermore, that it will come out of their hands as an even more monstrous monstrosity than it is as it goes into them.

Headed by Fordney and McCumber, the Republican conferees will do as they please with the measure; and that they will please to please special interests and not the consuming public, is known from their record in drafting the bill. Their Republican associates on the conference committee were their right hand men in making the bill the monstrosity that it is. Smoot, himself, interested in the sugar business and the wool business, was a wheelhorse in pulling the rates of the new bill to heights never reached before in any tariff, while there is not in Congress more radical and uncompromising tariff looter than McLean of Connecticut.

These men will sit on the tariff bill behind closed doors—closed at least to the public—and there is practically no restriction on the alterations of it they may make. The Democrats and liberal Republicans made a few reductions on the rates of the bill as it came from McCumber's committee. What will happen to those reductions in McCumber and Fordney's conference committee?

It should be borne in mind that this conference committee will be free from the limitations which usually check the operations of similar conference committees. Heretofore when a tariff bill went to conference the conferees were limited to agreeing on either the maximum or minimum rates as fixed by the House and the Senate, or on a compromise between those rates. But in this case the House made an innovation by authorizing a free American valuation. Consequently there is a material difference between an ad valorem rate on the House basis and the same rate on a Senate basis. That difference, as it may be estimated by those dealing with it, opens up a wide range for increasing the already high rates of the bill as it goes to conference.

Some indication of the scope for raising rates which this affords Fordney, McCumber and their confederates may be seen in the fact that about nine-tenths of the duties fixed in the bill are ad valorem.—Courier-Journal.

An English hospital is teaching armless persons to write with a device strapped to their chests.

One district in Tennessee elected a dead man to Congress last week. Well, lots of them already up there are dead from the ears up.

Participants in the "No More War" campaign might warm up for a world-wide fight by a little preliminary practice in Ireland.

Russia, it is said, spent $2,000,000 at the Hague. That must have been about three boat loads of rubles.

When a woman tells a fellow that her husband is broken it is time for him to duck. She is looking for a repair man.

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

A MAN 'VISE ME WEN AH
SEES A HANT 'JES' T'
TELL MAH-SEF AH AIN' SKEERED BUT SHUCKS!
AH KNOWS WEN AH'S
TELLIN' A LIE!!

FARMERS TAKE UP TERRACING TO SAVE AND REBUILD SOILS

Lexington. — Terracing of farmland promises to fill an important place in preventing further soil erosion on Kentucky farms and rebuilding many of the 2,500,000 acres in the state that already are badly washed and gullied, according to Earl G. Welch, farm engineering specialist of the College of Agriculture. Demonstrations to show farmers how to terrace the rolling fields on their farms already have been held in Crittenden, Hopkins, Hart, Whitley and Powell counties while additional ones are scheduled for 17 other counties. One farmer in Hopkins county pointed out to members of the college engineering section that the demonstration conducted on his farm gave him a method of saving soil for which he had been looking 15 years. Counties in which demonstrations will be held in the near future include Carroll, Washington, Marion, Warren, Todd, Letcher, Laurel, Lee, Boone, Breckinridge, Henderson, McLean, Christian, Calloway, Knox, Boyd and Oldham.

Terracing has an almost statewide appeal in view of the fact that practically the entire surface of Kentucky is rolling and subject to serious damage through soil washing. Whether or not terracing is advisable depends upon the type of soil and the extent to which the land is rolling. In some counties, it may be advisable that all the rolling farm lands be terraced.

The broad-base level-ridge terrace is the type being recommended most commonly. This form of terrace is simply a ridge of earth about 18 inches high with a broad base that is shown up around the contour of the hill to catch the water and carry it around at a low rate of speed so that no sediment is carried away. By this method the water is carried around the hill and turned into a wood or sodded strip that will not wash.

The cost of terracing, insofar as the farmer's time and use of horse labor is concerned, does not amount to more than $1 or $1.50 an acre while no special engineering training is needed to lay out a terracing system, the tools needed include a level, measuring line and stakes while the construction requires only a turning plow, terrace drag or road grader. Details of terracing are contained in Circular No. 29 which may be obtained free by writing the Experiment Station at Lexington.

Many Hens are Returned As Culling Progresses.

Lexington, Ky.—With the annual fall poultry culling campaign in full swing in practically every section of Kentucky, thousands of hens are being returned to the farm flocks of the state, according to reports received daily by the extension division of the College of Agriculture from farmers in different counties. Results being obtained in culling demonstrations conducted by county agricultural agents and poultry specialists from the college indicate that practically every flock in the state has its quota of low-producing hens that have stopped laying to loaf until spring.

Paul Harrison, a Grant county farmer living near Mason, whose flock was culled as a demonstration, has reported that 10 hens removed from his mixed flock of 55 produced only two eggs during the week after culling. In addition, the egg production of the flock in this case was increased from 163 eggs during the week before culling to 225 eggs during the week immediately after the culling. The increased egg production was attributed to the fact that the 45 hens remaining in the flock after culling were allowed to utilize the feed which originally had been consumed by the 10 loafers.

Never tell a state joke. Forcing a laugh is too annoying to your friends.

Never judge a fashionable woman by her clothes. Eyestrain leads to blindness.

Some people don't believe in paying others back in their own coin. They keep it, instead.

Of course, if we can't get rid of the cold in any other way this winter we can put it in cold storage.

Trade Where They All Trade

Fall Seeds -- New Crop

TIMOTHY—Car new crop timothy in transit, 99.50 per cent. pure. Send us your order to be shipped from car at wholesale prices.

Kentucky Blue Grass Seed—About half the price of last year's seed and fine quality. Alsike, Alfalfa, Sapling.

FLOWER SEED FOR FALL PLANTING.

Alyssum, Columbine, Poppy, Fox Glove, Hollyhock, Locksper, (Delphneum) Pansy, Phlox, Sweet William, Pinks.

Michigan Rosen Rye, Fertilizers.

BINDER TWINE—Just the thing for tying up your Corn and Fodder, Lb.....10c

We are car load buyers of Pratt's High Grade Poultry and Dairy Feeds and have a car in transit from which we will make the following special prices.

Pratt's Cracked Corn, sifted and blown, 100 lb. bag.....$1.75
Pratt's Laying Mash, 100 lb. bag.....3.00
International Scratch Feed, just right for growing chickens, and the finest feed produced, 100 lb. bag.....2.75
Pratt's Large Scratch Feed, 100 lb. bag.....2.25
Pratt's Victory Scratch Feed, 100 lb. bag.....2.50
Pratt's Supreme Dairy Rations, 100 lb. bag.....2.50
Try a bag or two of this Dairy Rations and prove to yourself the quality of same. Special prices in ton lots on all feeds.

GOLDEN BLEND COFFEE—the best for 25 years, - 33c

GEE WHIZ COFFEE—a 30c-value - - - 25c

One dollar's worth of Coffee sent postpaid.

GEO. C. GOODE

Groceries, Flour, Seeds, Medicines
19-21 Pike St. 18-20 West Seventh St.

WHOLESALE—"Covington's Largest Seed and Grocery House"—RETAIL

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Phones South 335 and 336.

RECHARGE ANY BATTERY

75c

RENTED BATTERIES FOR ANY MAKE CAR WHILE WE ARE RECHARGING OR REPAIRING YOUR BATTERY.

Dempsey Motor Car Co., Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

If we could all go on a strike it would help some. Then everybody would have to go back to work.

There's a place in every head where knowledge is supposed to be. Sometimes it is there.

If it be true that every man is the architect of his own destiny, there are many who don't know how to draw.

Don't laugh at your own jokes. Others may wonder why you are making so much noise.

They tell us that renewed prosperity is just around the corner. But where in heck is the corner.

The good deeds of our neighbor invariably appeal to us—if she is young and pretty.

Winter, however, may not trouble to knock at our doors. It can always slide in through the cracks.

Every person has a reputation, and some are worth keeping.

Never mind what the other fellow thinks of you. He may be too courteous to say it.

Two Sisters Become

Brides and Celebrate

Louisville — Two sisters became brides but at separate ceremonies. Miss Olga G. Gettys, 16, and Geo. K. Scott, 21 years old, of Cincinnati, were married by Rev. Paul Reikow, Miss Nellie Gettys, 21, and John Bowling, 22 of North Vernon, Ind., were married in the office of Magistrate Bertlesman. The couple celebrated their marriage with a dinner.

The X-Ray has been found to be useful for examining timber up to 18 inches thick for internal knots, resin pockets, cracks and other defects.

Close plays in base ball are photographed with telescope lens by a camera that a Los Angeles man has designed for the purpose.

If the weather man will obligingly predict a severe winter it will help some, with no coal in sight. We know how to take his predictions.

It is plain to be seen that the governor of New York is not a politician. He used $8,000 of his own salary to pay state bills.

To help in folding business letters rapidly a device resembling an enlarged signet ring has been invented.

Underneath a new chair for children is a music box that plays when a child is seated.

Dodge Brothers

ANNOUNCE

A BUSINESS COUPE

Conservative changes in the body design of all other types.

Roadster.....$ 920

Coupe.....1,063

Touring Car. 955

Sedan.....1,550

Dempsey Motor Car Company

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY

Phone Erlanger, 70-L

"The Devil Can Quote Scripture"

WE CAN'T

But we will be glad to quote you Lowest Prices ON THE VERY BEST

CLOTHING

We can beat the devil himself at that. We have greatly reduced the prices on our Summer Clothing, and if you fail to look them over, you are overlooking much.

If you are looking for a Suit, a Coat and Pants, or extra Pants that you can rely on, we have them.

Selmar Wachs

605 Madison Avenue,

Covington, Kentucky

FIRST-CLASS

Shoe Repairing

Mail Orders at my Expense.

All work guaranteed. Mail your shoes to be repaired to

A. D. LAWRENCE, - - Erlanger, Ky.

at Lexington Pike.

adecp

Powerful Thought.

Oh if we would tear aside the veil and see but for an hour what it signifies to be a soul in the power of an endless life, what a revelation it would be.—Horace Bushnell.

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE.

All persons having claims against the estate of Della Uz, deceased, will present the same to the undersigned properly proven according to law, and all persons knowing themselves indebted to said estate will please come forward and settle.

A. B. RENAKER, Executor.

Speed of Animals.

Naturalists have measured animal speed by pursuing a motor car. A coyote registered 38 miles an hour, a prairie wolf 39 miles, grayhound 48, mule deer 47, elk 52 and antelope 62.

Next Saturday, Sept. 9th
See Wallace Reid in

"The Love Special"

Also a one-reel comedy.
No Advance in Admission.

COMING

Saturday, Sept. 16th
The Sheik

On this night the beautiful Electric Lamp will be given away to the lucky person.

Florence, Ky., Theatre

GRANT R. D.

Mrs. Edith Sipple is nursing Mrs. Hetha Kelly.

Louis Craig preached at the M. E. church Sunday night.

Miss Jane Kroger, of Dayton, Ky., is visiting Mrs. Clara Kelly.

Kenneth Hodges and wife, of Cincinnati, visited relatives here last week.

Born on the 24th ult., to Wilber Kelly and wife, a little girl—Kathryn Fay.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hankinson, of Marion, Indiana, are visiting relatives here.

Tom Craddock and wife, visited relatives near Burlington, last week.

Bert Smith was called to Big Bone last week to see his father, who was quite sick.

Lucien Clore and son Robert, of Burlington, spent Monday at Bluff Clore's.

Ernest McNeely is spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McNeely. We hope his health will be benefited by the change.

Perry Presser and son sold three head of cattle to Paris Foutty, of Rising, Sun, last week. Mr. Foutty is a butcher at that place.

Prof. E. S. Ryle and family visited at S. B. Ryle's and J. H. Walton's last week. They recently moved from Scottsville, Allen county, to Union, this county, where Mr. Ryle will superintend the High School.

FLICKERTOWN.

J. H. Snyder is on the sick list. Born to Dawson Day and wife a girl August 28th.

Ben Hensley was a pleasant caller here Sunday night.

Miss Eva Akin is visiting in Moore's Hill this week.

John Burns and wife visited Wm. Burns and mother, Sunday.

John Botts and son Karl are remodeling the Woolper school house.

Miss Mary Hensley and two sisters are visiting their brother Willis this week.

Lewis Bossard wife and daughter visited Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Utz, last Monday.

Miss Maud and Letha Deck visited Miss Alice White Saturday night and Sunday.

Mrs. Fannie Snyder visited E. L. Maxwell and family from Saturday until Tuesday.

F. M. Voshell, Less Sebree and Ed. Botts are attending the Indiana State Fair this week.

Walter Gaines and mother and F. M. Voshell and wife, were shopping in Aurora, Saturday.

William Ruth returned home Sunday after a week's visit with his cousin, Wilber Snyder.

Walter Kittle and wife, of Cincinnati, visited Mr. and Mrs. Jess Holt and family, last week.

Chas. Beechum and wife, of Addison, visited Mrs. James Burns and son Saturday and Sunday.

Owen Utz and wife, of Newport, visited his parents on lower Woolper, Saturday and Sunday.

Walter Shook and family returned to their home in Newport after a ten day's visit with Uncle Jas. Minor.

Mrs. J. W. White and daughter Alice, and Mrs. Less Sebree, called on Mrs. Eliza Voshell last Thursday.

Leroy Voshell captured two prairie dogs on his Jersey heifer at the Florence fair last week, one first and one second.

Mrs. Leonard Ruth, of Lawrenceburg, and Mr. Carl Mattox and wife, of Aurora, Ind., visited J. H. Snyder and family, Saturday and Sunday.

Edward Maxwell and family, Leo Snyder and family and Floyd Snyder, were called to J. H. Snyder's Saturday on account of him being seriously ill.

PETERSBURG.

Mrs. Carrie Deck is nursing Mrs. Boone Ryle.

Mrs. Bradburn and W. H. Hensley are both somewhat better.

Born to Boone Ryle and wife, a son—mother and son doing well.

Miss Henrietta Geisler was home Saturday and Sunday with her home folks.

Johnnie Bradburn and wife entertained some friends from the city Sunday.

Several from here went to Mr. Vile Sunday to see the dam under construction there.

Miss Alma Guley, of Burlington, spent the past week with her sister, Mrs. Perrin Loudon.

A glorious shower fell here last Sunday morning, giving a supply of water for all purposes.

Charlie Klop and wife, of Brookville, Indiana, visited their daughter Mrs. Wilson White.

Miss Kate Geisler has preserved, jellied and canned more fruit than any other person in town.

When in town be sure to stop at the High School and view the improvements that have lately been made.

Mrs. Effie Crisler, of Lawrenceburg, spent several days the past week with her parents, W. H. Hensley and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Stamper after spending several days last week with relatives and friends here, returned home a day or two ago.

The writer and wife are the possessor of a Bureau that was made 415 years ago, and a dropleaf table made about 75 years ago.

Mrs. Mattie Loder, of Frankfort, after spending six weeks vacation with her sister, Mrs. Theresa McWethy, returned home last Thursday.

Miss Olevia Hensley, who was staying at McVile, and who was struck by a truck, was thought to be badly hurt, but upon an examination at a hospital in Cincinnati was found not to be serious.

LABOR DAY.

This favorite holiday was established on the theory that it would furnish an occasion to consider the dignity and the rights of labor. But like all other popular holidays, its purpose is now looked at largely as a time for a general autumnal frolic, to which people are incited by the clear and tonic air of September.

Never before, however, was there a laborer's earnest consideration of the labor problem was more needed.

The country can not prosper with so much division and antagonism existing as is seen at the present time.

If the members of a business concern spend their time fighting each other, they will get no business. If capital and labor devote their energy to mutual bickering, the process of production will be costly, and the cause of human welfare will drag.

It has been easy however, to take too pessimistic a view about existing conditions, with two labor quarrels like the coal and railroad strikes taking a conspicuous position in the news.

It should be kept in mind that outside of these two fields, the number of strikes has not been as large during the past year as in many previous periods.

In many trades the capitalists and the workers seem to have reached the sensible conclusion that they have more to gain by efforts to work together than by fighting each other.

When they attain this point of view, their harmonious agreement cuts no figure in the newspapers and no one hears about it, but a new force is added to the production of the country.

Any way Labor Day gives hard working people a needed respite from their daily tasks. After men and women have had a healthful day in the open air, they are inclined to look at their difficulties with a little less bitterness and perhaps they are in a mood where it is easier to reach adjustments with their neighbors.

A. Z. SCOTT TELLS OF TRIP

On Thursday, August 10, at 6:30 a. m., we started for Kentucky with our cousins, Dr. C. G. Ryle and wife, in his Jewett car going by the way of Springfield, Decatur and Montezuma, Ind., the first day, a distance of 244 miles where we stayed all night.

The second day we went to Indianapolis, where we waited through the capitol building and viewed other things of interest. Then we took the Michigan Highway through Shelbyville and Greensburg to Versailles then No. 4 State Road to Rising Sun, Indiana, where we crossed the Ohio river into Kentucky making a distance of 419 miles in 18 hours driving time.

We spent two days visiting friends and seeing the country in Boone county, Kentucky, then we drove down to Mr. Ryle's home in Georgetown, which is in Scott county or the heart of the blue grass region.

At Frankfort we had the pleasure of seeing the capitol building which was erected in 1906-09, with a statue of Abraham Lincoln in the center of the building. We saw the spot where Wm. A. Goebel was shot, also, the graves of Goebel and Daniel Boone.

We drove by the Old Taylor brewery, also the Taylor and Camden Herford Farms and the Keenland Horse Farm. We came back thru the Cold Stream Farm where fine Duroc Jersey Hogs and Holstein cattle are raised, seeing one hog that cost $10,000 and one $7,500 then we were shown over the Walnut Hall farm which consists of 5,000 acres and they have 400 brood mares and sows as Peter Scott, Peter Volo, San Francisco, Guy Axworthy and Lou Prince ton as sires. To give an idea of the massiveness of this farm will say that the day before we visited this farm a barn valued at $35,000 was burned and one colt that was valued at $12,000 was lost in the fire. Everything else on this farm is in proportion in value.

We also saw Man of War, the champion running horse of the world who has run a mile in 1 minute and 35 and three fifths seconds and they have been offered $600,000 and state that he is not for sale at any price.

We returned home by rail coming by Cincinnati and visiting one of the largest zoos in this country then came to Perina and visited one day with W. D. Shier and family, arriving in Augusta, Tuesday noon, August 22nd.

When two fauls begin an argument the wise man keeps still.

HEAR THE SOUTH'S EMINENT Pastor--Evangelist Bellevue Baptist Church, Grant, Ky.

Beginning
Sunday Morning,

Sept. 10th, and Continuing for two weeks or Longer

Dr. Nowlin is not only a great exponent of the gospel, but he is also an author of high esteem.

His rank is with the best as a New Testament scholar rightly dividing the word of God.

With the power of God working through him in conjunction with his clear sane logical thinking leads him to correctly interpret the word of God and prove the interpretation from the same.

He is truly a consecrated man of God and should be heard by both sinner and saint.

REV. WILLIAM DUDLEY NOWLIN, D. D.

Dr. Nowlin says:

We do good works not as a means, but as a result of salvation.

A peach tree is not a peach tree because it bears peaches, but it bears peaches because it is a peach tree.

Fruit is the result of life and not the cause of life.

It is not the name, but the doctrines, that identifies Christ's church.

God deals on the square; therefore we should live on the square.

Dr. Nowlin is a man with a busy life in the Lord's work and it was through providence that we have secured him. He has served as Editor of the Baptist State Paper of Florida and also Associate Editor with the venerable Dr. J. W. Porter, D. D., of the Western Recorder of Kentucky. Dr. Nowlin as an orator has no superior within our own beloved Southland, and has but few peers. He has successfully held meetings from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico and from the Pacific to the Atlantic.

Everybody Invited and Urged to Attend.

REV. C. L. NICELEY, Pastor.

Willard Batteries

AT A NEW PRICE

Ford Size	$15.85
Chrysler	15.85
Overland	15.85
Chalmers	19.10
Buick	15.85
Maxwell 6-volts	15.85
Maxwell 12-volts	24.55
Dodge	24.55

Weddle Battery Co.,

Aurora, Indiana.

REPRESENTING

Willard Batteries.

July 19-47

BETTER-SIRES ENROLLMENT PASSES THE 8,000 MARK.

With the growing understanding of the utility value of pure-bred live stock and especially pure-bred sides, the list of persons enrolled in the "Better Sires—Better Stock" campaign is rapidly increasing. The middle of August it passed the 8,000 mark, signifying that many persons have filed statements with the United States Department of agriculture that their live-stock breeding operations will be conducted henceforth on a pure-bred-sire basis. This includes all classes of domestic live stock, including poultry.

In some counties of limited area the number of farms is relatively small. Gordon B. Nance, county agent of Oldham county, Ky., points out however, that although his county has only 1,086 farms, 10 per cent of the farmers have signed enrollment blanks, which signifies active participation in systematic live-stock improvement work.

No good work is ever lost; many laborers must be content to sow; others will come to reap the harvest.

—Max Muller.

The kind of Cake you dream of making

Better Biscuits, of Course

Telephone Flour

A Leader for
Ask Your

Forty-Five Years
Grocer

Take Your County Paper
Try It--- Only $1.50 The Year.

Annual Settlement and Audit Report

of the Boone County Board of Education and Treasurer

For Year July 1, 1921 to June 30, 1922:

Outstanding Indebtedness on July 1, 1921—None

Received During The Year:

State School Fund.....	$ 11,492.32
County School Taxation.....	80,640.00
Graded School Taxation.....	6,416.52
Other Receipts.....	1,983.35
Total Received During The Year.....	90,531.19

Paid Out During The Year:

Salaries of Teachers.....	$ 38,215.63
Salaries and Expenses of Administrative Officers.....	2,171.55
Postage and other Administrative Expenses.....	82.15
New Buildings and Grounds.....	2,288.32
Repairs and Improvements.....	1,409.39
Furniture and Equipment.....	1,066.34
Supplies—Incidentals.....	482.77
Fuel and Janitor Service.....	424.57
Tuition.....	406.00
Insurance.....	121.26
Paid to Graded Schools.....	5,107.38
Unclassified.....	1,831.73
Total paid during year.....	$ 50,466.36

RECAPITULATION.

Balance in Treasury July 1, 1921.....	$ 7,614.85
Total Receipts during year.....	90,531.19
Total of Balance and Receipts.....	98,146.04
Total paid out during year.....	50,466.36
Balance in Treasury June 30, 1922.....	$ 47,679.68

Assets—Values Estimated.

School Buildings and Grounds.....	$100,867.00
School Furniture and Equipment.....	18,211.00
Libraries.....	2,217.00
Office Equipment.....	50.00
Other Assets.....	138.00
Total Assets.....	$122,675.00

Liabilities—None.

I have examined the accounts of J. C. Gordon, County School Superintendent and Treasurer of the Boone County Board of Education, and find the receipts, disbursements, and balances as herein stated.

N. E. RIDDELL, County Judge.

L. T. CLORE, Chairman County Board Education.

J. C. GORDON, Co. Supt. and Secretary.

August 28th, 1922.

BIG BONE.

Uncle Dan Smith is very ill. Mrs. Lizzie Miller and son Wood, visited her children in Ludlow, last Sunday.

Mrs. Lucy Wolf and three children of near Richwood, were at the Springs Sunday.

Mrs. Tom Black, son Lucian and Miss Elva Hughes, made a business trip to Walton, Wednesday.

Mrs. Mollie Hendricks and daughter Helen, of Oxford, Ohio, were guests of Mrs. W. L. H. Baker several days last week.

Mr. Hawkins wife and baby, and Mrs. Maud Feldhaus, of Covington, were guests of Ernest Hughes and family, the first of the week.

Mrs. Georgie Wilkens and little daughter Dorothy, have returned to California after several weeks' visit with her mother, Mrs. H. F. Jones.

Geo. Baker and wife and Charles Thompson and wife, have returned from an extensive motor trip in the Great Lakes region, and other points of interest in the north. Mrs. Baker visited her brothers and sisters in Detroit.

GUNPOWDER

Rolly Stears has a good position at the Rolling Mill in Newport.

A heavy rain fell here last Sunday morning, sufficient to start the creeks running again.

Mrs. Geo. Miller, of Price pike, was the guest of Mrs. R. E. Tanner, one day last week.

J. W. Williams, whom we reported on the sick list has improved somewhat since our last report.

H. F. Uta and family and B. C. Surface visited at Richwood last Sunday and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Dixon.

Robert Robbins who is spending his vacation with home folks, has done the farmers uniform and preferred working rather than attend the fair, and what he has done to the bushes on his father's farm is plenty.

There were two land deals pulled off here last week. Geo. B. Miller sold his farm near here to a Covington party for $9,500 and Redmon Gossett sold his on our ridge to a Mr. Giffen, also of Covington, for $3,900.

BEAVER LICK.

A fine rain fell in this neighborhood last Saturday night.

Mrs. Harry Bailey has been ill for some time with stomach trouble. Miss Rena Calhoun, of Owensboro, Ky., spent last week with Miss Anna Clegg.

Mrs. James Abbott had her tonsils removed last Thursday at the Bethesda hospital, Cincinnati.

Mr. Joe W. Clegg shipped 14 head of fat cattle last week for which he received satisfactory prices. Howard Feldhaus and Miss Alice McCabe attended the dance at the Florence fair grounds last Saturday night.

Robt. Green, who has been seriously ill with typhoid fever for some time, remains very ill, we are sorry to hear.

Joe W. Clegg, O. W. Clegg and J. W. Conley attended the tobacco meeting at Burlington Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Slayback, Mrs. Mary Noel and Master William Ryle, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Johnson.

UNION.

Quite a number from here attended the Florence fair Friday and Saturday.

Miss Marietta Riley, of Cincinnati, spent the week-end with home folks at this place.

Frank Feldhaus has returned from two week's stay with friends in Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Dugan entertained quite a number of friends from the city Labor Day.

Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Tanner, (nee Jessie Clegg) are proud parents of a little daughter, which arrived the 3rd.

Mrs. Lottie Marshall and daughter, Miss Mildred, are now residents of our town, having rooms at the "Eagle Hotel."

Mr. Percy Dugan and little sister, Mary, spent a few days recently with his brother and wife, of "White Haven."

Misses Jurita and Wilberta Smith have returned to Chicago after spending the summer months with their grandparents, R. O. Smith and wife, of near here.

Prof. E. S. Ryle, of Allen county, but formerly of Boone, has moved here and will have charge of our school as Principal, while Miss Eunice Adams, as Assistant Principal, Miss Jane Bristow Intermediate and Mrs. Mattie Bristow Uitz, Primary teachers will assist him.

FLORENCE.

John Sells, of Covington, was calling on friends here Monday.

Edward Skirvin, of Covington was the guest of his sisters, Mrs. J. L. Corbin and Mrs. Lora Lail, Sunday.

Mrs. Gennie Dennis and Miss Minnie Myers, were the guests of Dr. T. R. Castleman and family, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Bradford spent Sunday and Monday with Tom Corbin and wife, at Hamilton, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Crouch, of Covington, spent from Saturday until Monday with Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Myers.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Mitchell left Tuesday for their home in Philadelphia, Ohio, after a visit with relatives here.

Mrs. R. H. Tanner entertained at supper Saturday night Dr. Wallace Tanner wife and children, of St. Petersburg, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haley and children, of Crescent Springs, spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bristol.

Mrs. Mike Cahill entertained last Sunday Lou Kroger and family, of Hamilton, Ohio, and Charlie Cahill and family, of Indianapolis.

Wilford Mitchell and wife, Harvey Mitchell and wife, Russell Mitchell and wife, all spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Will Arnold.

NOTICE.

All tax in the Bellevue Graded School District are now due and can be paid at the Citizens Deposit Bank, Grant, Ky. Penalty and 6 per cent will be added if not paid before December 1, 1922.

W. B. ROGERS,
Treasurer.
onept28—4t

The Breeders Mutual Fire and Lightning Insurance Co., paid the following losses last Monday: Williams Bros., Bullittsville, two cows, $90; William Clippin, Walton, one work horse, $75.

ANNUAL RYLE REUNION.

It is the custom of the Ryle family to meet together annually for a day of pleasure together, and the members of the family always look forward to this time when they can greet each other and talk over things of interest to all.

The 1922 reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Ryle at Beech Grove, August 27th. Five sisters and one brother were present and numerous other relatives and friends. Among the latter was the oldest person bearing the Ryle name, Mr. Gus Ryle, who is in his seventy-ninth year. It was a great pleasure also to have Mr. Jimmie Horton and his wife and their two sons with their families. There were many other from a distance, including Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Rue and their daughter Violet. Everybody enjoyed the day fully, a similar day may be had in the coming year, and not one of the number may be missing. The present were as follows:

W. H. Presser, H. M. Ryle, Perry Presser, L. C. Craig, Lee R. McNeely, R. O. Ryle, J. D. Horton, Jas. West, Bill Williamson, John Smith, Lloyd Clore, Hogan Wingate, C. S. Smith, Delphia Seabree, William Ryle, John Hoot, Mr. Ryle, Elijah Stephens, David Williamson, T. W. Ryle, L. Clore, Grant Williamson, Don Williamson, Cuss Ryle, Wm. Stephens, Raymond Smith, Geo. Rue, Marion McMullin, J. W. Seabree, W. J. McMullin, Ira Pope, A. G. McMullin, M. G. Pope, Ralph Cason, James M. Pope, J. G. Jones, Geo. Horton, Jas. York, Oliver Horton, Chas. Horton, B. C. Kirtley, R. Z. Cason, W. S. Stephens, H. J. Stephens, Oakley Stephens, James Smith, James R. Williamson, Edward Johnson, Russell Loudon, David S. Williamson, Robert Smith, Alvin E. Stephens, James E. Stephens, Reuben Kirtley, James L. McAttee, Sidney Craig, Jesse Lee Bagby, C. L. Nicely and family, Sheridan, Pope, Roy Beeson, Walter Hall, Hogan Ryle, Dr. I. L. Carlyle and wife, Bernard McNeely, Lewis L. Stephens, Wm. Ryle Presser, Robert Stephens, Kenneth Rue, Frank Wingate, Hiram Stephens, Mrs. J. H. Stephens, Mrs. Hogan Ryle and her three little girls, Mrs. L. C. Craig and her two daughters, Mrs. Ray Williamson, Mrs. James West and children, Mrs. Oliver Horton, Mrs. Chas. Horton, Miss Nora Ryle, Mrs. Geo. Horton and daughter, Miss Aline Ryle, Miss Fannie Smith, Mrs. Leola Pendry, Miss Della Carlyle, Mrs. Rebecca Loudon, Mr. R. E. Ryle and family, Mrs. R. Williamson and daughter, Mrs. Dave Williamson, John Ryle and family, Mrs. J. G. Jones, Mrs. H. J. Stephens, Mrs. Elijah Stephens, Mrs. Lucian Stephens, Miss Ethelene Seabree, Mrs. Caddie Williamson, Mrs. J. H. Broom, Miss Grace Bounds, Mrs. Everett Clore, Mrs. Lizzie Smith, Mrs. Fannie McNeely, Mrs. Sally Ryle, Mrs. Wm. Presser, Frances D. Presser, Mrs. C. S. Smith, Mrs. Mabel Seabree and her two daughters, Mrs. Perry Presser, Mrs. R. Z. Cason and children, Mrs. B. C. Kirtley, Mrs. Caroline E. McMullin, Mrs. Mandy Ryle, Mrs. James Horton, Mrs. J. W. Ryle, Mrs. Lewis Stephens and children, Mrs. Evalene Hall, Zelma Lee Stephens, Virginia Uitz, Lizzie Pope, Ida Mae Stephens, Julia Stephens, Elizabeth Ryle and Mrs. Grant Williamson.

BELLEVUE

Mrs. Julia Smith spent Sunday with Mrs. J. G. Smith.

Miss Julia Smith of Newport, is visiting relatives and friends here.

Miss Mazella Flick visited Mammoth Cave recently with a party of relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Lukenhoker spent Labor Day with relatives in Cincinnati.

Miss Virginia Botts, of Indiana, has been visiting relatives here the few days.

Mrs. G. N. Smith and son, of Coeburn, Va., spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Flick and family have been entertaining relatives from Ohio the past few weeks.

Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Omer and children, Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Cason and Miss Kathryn Maurer, were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Flick and family.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Lindburn and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Wingate and son, of Newport, attended the ball game at Burlington Monday afternoon.

The daily papers of last week gave anything but a hopeful view of the coal situation, flashing such head lines as "Coal Soaring" etc. We would like to think that coal will be down to a price that will be within the reach of the poor, but there is but little to sustain such a thought. There is some hope, however, in a series of government regulations, if not otherwise may place coal at a price that will enable the poor to keep the home fires burning."

Frank Allen, of Big Bone neighborhood, was transacting business in Burlington, Tuesday.

Very large crowds were in attendance at the Baptist church Monday and Tuesday nights to hear Rev. W. W. Adams, the pastor, who is conducting a series of meetings. Much interest is being manifested. Rev. Adams is a very interesting speaker.

Did You Get the Bottom Price, After All?

The man who buys a "long discount" tire usually finds himself troubled by the above question.

Did he pay less for the tire than his neighbor might have paid, or actually did he pay more?

Did he get the bottom price, when all is said and done, or could he have secured a still greater bargain?

Was the net price really more than he might have had to pay for a tire of established reputation and value?

In the belief that the average motorist prefers a frank and open transaction, we built the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord and discounted the "discount" in advance.

Instead of listing it at a high price, to enable the dealer to attract you with a so-called "long discount," we list it as low as we profitably can.

We build it of high-grade long-staple cotton, using the patented Goodyear method of group-ply construction, and sell it at a lower price than you are asked to pay for many "long discount" tires of unknown worth.

Compare these prices with NET prices you are asked to pay for "long discount" tires

30x3½ Clincher.....	$12.50	32x4 Straight Side..	$24.50	33x4½ Straight Side..	$32.15
30x3½ Straight Side..	13.50	33x4 Straight Side..	25.25	34x4½ Straight Side..	32.95
32x3½ Straight Side..	19.25	34x4 Straight Side..	25.90	33x5 Straight Side..	39.10
31x4 Straight Side..	22.20	32x4½ Straight Side..	31.45	35x5 Straight Side..	41.05

These prices include manufacturer's excise tax

Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord Tires are also made in 6, 7 and 8 inch sizes for trucks

FOR SALE BY

GEORGE PORTER

Burlington, Kentucky.

Any Make of Battery

RECHARGED

75c

Rentals for any make of car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.

Dempsey Motor Car Co.,
Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

THE HOME RADIO

How to Make and Use It By A. HYATT VERRILL
Copyright by Harper & Brothers

XIV. INDUCTANCES AND TUNING COILS

In order to receive and hear sounds sent from transmitting stations by radiophones clearly and without interference or confusion, a device of some sort is required which will cut out all waves save those desired. This is known as "tuning" and the instruments are called "tuners." There are now a great many different devices for tuning, such as tuning-coils, loose couples, vario-couplers, variometers, variable condensers, etc. Of these, all but the variable condensers (which see) are coils of various types, the simplest, but by no means the most efficient, being the simple tuning-coils. These consist of a coil of bare wire wound about a core or cylinder of wood, fibre or pasteboard and provided with sliding contacts as shown in Fig. 30, in which A is the coil, B, the slide rod and C, the slider.

By moving the slider from coil to coil of the wire the wave length of the receiving instruments may be adjusted to catch the desired sounds of that wave length. Such coils are very easily made by winding a pasteboard tube—which should be soaked in melted paraffine to render it waterproof—with bare copper wire about No. 18, making about 40 turns or leaving a space of about 1-16 inch between the turns. If two or more sliders or contacts are arranged still finer adjustment will be attainable while, by providing rotary switches with five contacts as shown in Fig. 31, still better results will be secured. Although, as stated, these coils are easily made, yet they are cheap and many prefer to purchase them ready made rather than bother making them. Simple coils or inductances, however, are even simpler, as they consist merely of a few turns of insulated copper wire wound on a pasteboard tube, the number of turns depending upon the wave lengths to be received. In some sets there is but one coil or helix Fig. 32, while in other sets there are two, a primary and secondary Fig. 33, and as a rule the coil should be tapped and the circuit connected at the tap-off Fig. 34. This is best done by taking a loop or twist in the wire at the desired point and then continuing winding as Fig. 35. Of course, in making the connection at this tap-off the wire should be scraped free of insulation to make the joint, after which it should be wrapped with adhesive tape. In making these simple inductance coils it is best to put on more turns of wire than you think is actually required, as it is far easier to remove one turn at a time, until the desired wave length is obtained, than it is to add turns after the instruments are set up. Similar simple coils are used in many parts of receiving sets, as in the radio-choke in Fig. 59, L, etc. By making several tap-offs and then leading them to the various contacts of a multiple-point switch, Fig. 36, C, excellent results may be obtained especially with the smaller crystal sets. This may be done, either by means of a single simple coil. Another way by which waves of varying lengths may be received by means of simple coils without tuning devices, is to have several coils of various sizes so arranged that they may be connected or disconnected with your set at will. This may be done, either by means of plugs and sockets as in Fig. 38, A, or by switches with several contacts as shown in Fig. 36, B. Still finer adjustment may be obtained by providing each coil with a slider or similar tuning device. This will give a wide range of wave lengths and will obviate all need of taking turns off the coils and as such coils are very easy to make you can have as many as you desire of different sizes.

Another very different type of inductance-coil consists of two windings, known as primary and secondary, and are similar to the ordinary armature coils used in older type automobiles.

ARE YOU A READER OF THE RECORDER?

If Not Try It One year.

Only $1.50 the Year

For Sale—Duplex Auto Knitter, has never been used. Apply to W. R. Davernville, Burlington, Ky.

LEGION NOTES

New Orleans—The American Legion, plan to carry out the largest convention in New Orleans, October 16-20, will have the way paved for them by a member of the convention committee. Announcement has been made that Theodore A. Silver, chairman of the convention historical records committee, will marry Miss Helen Hauley Smith, also of New Orleans, in the presence of his Legion buddies assembled in convention hall. A chaplain from one of the United States warships is to be sent to New Orleans for the convention will be asked to perform the ceremony. Eighteen flower girls are being trained and a detachment of boy scouts will act as ushers. Convention headquarters has received a number of inquiries regarding the holding of marriages during the Legion gathering which have been answered with the statement that all facilities will be provided to assist the lovers. Twenty Legionnaires were married at the Legion convention in Kansas last year.

New York—The American Legion Weekly has just inaugurated a plan for distribution of the Weekly which will financially benefit Legion men and at the same time make the bank balance of the post larger. By acting as local distributing agent for the new stand sales of the Weekly, a certain percentage of the total sales will go to the Legionnaire doing the distributing and to the post treasury. The new stand director of the Weekly has mapped out a plan for placing the Legion's magazine on the news stands which has features no other magazine can offer. Under this plan post treasuries and post membership can work up a steady income. Write the new stand director at the Weekly. He'll tell you more about making money pockets bulge.

New Orleans—Nationally prominent players from all sections of the country will compete for the tennis championship of the American Legion at the annual national convention of that organization in New Orleans October 16-20.

Washington—Resolutions against the employment by the government of women whose husbands are drawing salaries from governmental agencies were passed at a recent meeting of George Washington post of the American Legion at Washington, D. C. The Legion post named thirteen women, among them Mrs. Caroline Harding Votaw, Post 1000, Mrs. Votaw's sister. The Legion assumes Mrs. Votaw's husband holds the job of superintendent of prisons which pays $4,000 a year while she draws $5,000 as head of the industrial service section of the Veterans Bureau. The Legionnaires hold that one job in a family is enough and that the women's places should be filled by former service men.

New Orleans—More than 2200 sailors and 90 officers of the United States Navy will come to New Orleans during the American Legion National convention, October 16-20, as the result of a recent order made by Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt.

The naval men will come with a fleet of one cruiser and six destroyers ordered to New Orleans for the convention. The cruiser, Birmingham, flagship of Rear Admiral W. C. Cole, who will command the fleet, has a normal quota of 1,000 men and 60 officers. The six destroyers that will accompany the Birmingham will have crews of 200 men and five officers each.

Hydroplanes ordered to fly to the convention from Pensacola, Florida, will include some of the largest models in existence. Their wing span measures 100 feet. All planes will be twin screw equipped with Liberty motors.

Arrangements have been made for the appearance at the convention of a band of 20 pieces from the naval training station at Pensacola.

Jersey City, N. J.—According to a report received by the New Jersey American Legion State Senator Jos. F. Wallworth of Camden will introduce a bill in the legislature to have the people vote on what shall be done with the unexpended balance of $800,000 left after paying the state bonus. The introduction of the bill is contingent on Gov. Edward I. Edwards calling a special session of the legislature. The Legion seeks the special assembly in order that the fund may be used to build one or more hospitals for the care of sick and disabled world war veterans.

New Orleans—The life of the World War fighter on land and sea and in the air will be portrayed in the entertainment program for visitors to the American Legion National Convention in New Orleans, October 16-20, according to plans of the convention entertainment committee.

As Mr. James M. Cox peacefully tours Europe he must feel a warm feeling of gratitude to the several million voters who two years ago relieved him of the responsibility of sitting up nights worrying over the strikes, the bonus and the tariff bills.

Kid McCoy, the old prize-fighter, is living up to his old reputation as a glutton for punishment. He has just married his ninth wife.

RISING FROM THE RANKS

The railway, like the army of Napoleon, offers a career for talent, however obscure in origin. The presidents of the greatest systems are rarely if ever rich men or the sons of rich men who got their office because they were the holders of railway stock. Much of them is generally known they are men who began at the foot of the ladder and without any influence or anything to recommend them except their own ability and ambition climbed steadily to the top. It is said that at one of the conferences held in connection with the railway strike Mr. Hooper, chairman of the Labor Board, asked all the railway executives present who had "risen from the ranks" to stand, and every man of them got up.

President Underwood of the Erie began as a yard switchman and rose in eighteen years to be division superintendent. The president of the Central of New Jersey, Mr. Beeler, began as a train master's clerk. Mr. Rea, the head of the great Pennsylvania system left school at fifteen to go to work in the engineering department of the Pennsylvania. President Loece of the Delaware & Hudson began as a transit man for a surveyor. Those examples should be duplicated in every part of the country.

Fifty years ago Americans took it for granted that hard work and intelligence would advance a man rapidly to the top in any kind of occupation. We believe that they will do the same thing today, though it is the fashion to deny it. There is increased competition for the ordinary sort of jobs, but the men of first-rate ability are always in demand for the really difficult positions. Wherever a man of that sort exists and however far down in the ranks he may have begun, he will be sought out and advanced to positions of higher and higher authority. Business of every sort needs brains more than ever today, and brains can command their market.

Labor organizations have perhaps tended to some degree to introduce caste into industry and to make it a little more difficult for a man to pass from a laborer's position to an executive place; but the difficulty is not by any means so great as it may seem to be. Capacity, industry, ambition; that is an alliance which will not be denied today any more than it has been in the past.—Youth's Companion.

AIR SWALLOWING.

Most persons who have ever had anything to do with horses know how much trouble often results from the bad habit of wind sucking, or "cribbing." That the same condition may exist in a person is seldom realized.

Many persons suffer for years from flatulent dyspepsia that persists in spite of what they can do and that baffles the skill of the family doctor if he does not recognize the cause. One article of food after another is suspected of being the cause of the "dyspepsia" and is dropped from the diet until finally the sufferer is almost on starvation rations and yet has obtained no relief. In cases of the kind it is well to consider whether air swallowing may not be the cause.

Air swallowing may occur only at mealtime, or it may occur at any time. When air is swallowed at meals the trouble will begin very soon, sometimes even before the meal is finished, or indeed scarcely begun. The sufferer will feel "full" and perhaps will accuse himself of having overate when really he has eaten little. The feeling of distension is most uncomfortable; yet it hardly amounts to pain, and soon after the meal the sufferer belches a large volume of gas and at once feels great relief. Persons who swallow air continuously suffer with abdominal distention and with more or less dull pain almost without intermission.

The condition that air swallowing causes may be distinguished from true flatulent dyspepsia or from ulcer of the stomach by its occurring immediately after during the meal; whereas real indigestion, whether from ulcer or from other cause, comes at an appreciable interval after eating. In addition to the distress of the stomach air swallowing may cause serious heart disturbances such as an irregular pulse, pain over the heart, palpitation and even false angina pectoris. The cure rests on recognizing the cause and then breaking the habit.

HOME-SPUN YARN.

(Cornell Extension Service.) A few pits left in peach and plum preserves give them an excellent flavor, one housewife finds.

A lot of things around most houses might be of use to somebody, but their room is worth more than their presence to the present owners.

Aunt Ada's axioms: Our minds, like our attic, need a thorough cleaning out ever so often to get rid of the useless knickknacks that only take up space.

One housewife has a chair in her kitchen with one wide arm like those used in "one-arm" lunchrooms. She saves her strength by sitting down to a lot of her work.

Washing dishes in sinks that are too low for comfort—and can't be raised—makes easier by using a wooden rack under the dish pan to lift it to the proper height.

Horse Work More Costly

Than That Of Hired Hand.

Lexington, Ky.—Horses on Kentucky farms work so little during the year that the cost of a day's work of a two-horse team is more than the cost of a day's work done by a hired hand, according to W. D. Nicholls, head of the farm economics department of the College of Agriculture. Despite this fact, the average farmer does not worry as much about the high cost of horse labor as he does about the high wages paid to the hired help on the farm, he pointed out in showing how many farmers are overlooking a leak in the management of their business.

"On an average, Kentucky farmers probably get less than 1,000 hours of work out of each horse in a year. This is less than 100 days of ten hours each. Some farmers get an average of less than 75 days of work out of their horses or less than two and one-half hours a day for each work horse. Studies made in the state show that the best organized and managed farms get twice this average and thereby cut the cost of their team labor in two."

"Turning the work stock out on pasture with light feed when the animals are not doing hard work is one means of reducing the high cost of horse labor. Good farmers strive to carry work stock through the late fall and winter as cheaply as possible on sorghum and corn fodder and a little grain, saving the good hay for the time when teams are working hard in breaking land and cultivating crops. These same farmers make it a rule to feed only enough to meet actual needs of teams."

"Other methods of reducing the cost of horse labor might be outlined as follows:

"Keeping large brood mares that raise mules or draft coats and are worked during seasons when extra work stock is required."

"Breaking as much ground for corn and oats as is possible during the winter and early spring. This prevents a rush of team work late in the season when the weather is hot and the ground hard and dried out. However, care must be taken not to practice winter breaking on land which is so sloping as to be subject to washing."

"Hiring extra teams during the temporary rush periods. This practice, when possible, is much cheaper than paying the expenses of an idle team throughout most of the year."

WITH THE STATISTICIANS

A rainfall of one inch over one acre of ground would mean a total of 3,630 cubic feet, or 113 tons of water.

The chances of an oak tree being struck by lightning are 57 times greater than those of a beech.

The most rapid river of any size in the world is the Rhone in France, the current of which ranges as high as 40 miles an hour.

If Methuselah had invested $1 at interest at the age of 21 he would have died a millionaire.

The total number of telephones in use in the United States in January, 1921 was 13,413,379, one to every eight persons. The aggregate of wrong numbers given daily has not been estimated.

More than 45 per cent of all the farms in the United States are between 50 and 174 acres in size.

The vitality of the first to the ninth born children varies very little, according to Dr. Alfred Ploetz, of Munich, but from the tenth to the nineteenth the mortality is markedly greater.

At the top of Mount Everest, which is about five miles high, boiling water would be about 50 degrees cooler than it would be at the foot of the mountains. It wouldn't even make decent tea.

HOME-SPUN YARN.

(Cornell Extension Service.) Some one has estimated the most American housewives use not more than 30 different recipes. Count yours up and ask the State Agricultural College for its bulletins to lend variety to the family table.

Rice cooked in plenty of boiling salted water and drained as soon as soft is flaky and delicious—much different from the soggy, tasteless mess so often served, one housewife says.

Wise mothers, when they make daughter's school clothes, remember that the girl who is simply dressed is well dressed.

One housewife takes down the measurements of sweaters before she washes them and dries them on a Turkish towel. Then she pins them in shape to conform to the original measurements.

PUBLIC ALWAYS PAYS

Let no one deceive himself into thinking that we—that is, everybody—will not be required to pay the price of the present suspension and disorganization in industry. It is inevitable that we will be compelled to pay the last cent. The price will be discovered in the higher cost of everything that is essential in life—in food, in fuel, in clothing, and in other things. What hope there is of lower prices is being rapidly dissipated by the strikes now in progress.—Sioux City Journal.

We, however, are of the opinion that civilization is not on the decline. It has hit the bottom heretofore.

MONEY AND MATTERS.

Business Conditions.

Basic conditions have not changed during the last thirty days. The normal mid-summer slackening in business has been less noticeable than usual despite the fact that the railroad and coal strikes have continued to exert an adverse effect.

Evidence of the steadiness with which all classes of goods have been moving is the fact that carloadings for the month of July, exclusive of coal, were one-fourth greater than such loadings for July, 1921 and lacked very little of reaching the total for August, 1920, the highest recorded month for American railroads. Equally convincing evidence of the remarkable maintenance of business activity is the total of debits to individual accounts as reported by member banks to the Federal Reserve Board which were 13 per cent higher for the week ending August 9, 1922 than for the corresponding week in 1921.

On the basis of freight movements thus far in 1922, an unprecedented strain on the capacity of the railroads seems certain in the autumn as a result of the expected expansion of business, the delayed movement of coal, and the marketing of large crops. The roads have over 100,000 cars during the year, and have steadily improved their facilities in other ways, but it is nevertheless difficult to see how serious traffic congestion can be avoided.

Wholesale trade in most lines is satisfactory. It is apparent that retailers are continuing their policy of conservative orders, but reports from all parts of the country indicate that a good autumn business is expected. The most recent crop reports, together with the fact that aside from men out on strike, there are now fewer unemployed workers in the United States than at any time since the beginning of the business recession of 1920, amply justify this expectation.

The iron and steel industry is being increasingly affected by the difficulties arising from the coal and railroad strikes, but aside from the effects of the labor situation, the outlook for the industry on the basis of unfilled orders and other evidences of demand is for stable business to the close of the year.

Since the peak of the war debt was reached on August 31, 1919, the gross debt of the United States has been reduced some $3,600,000,000, of which roughly one billion was provided from surplus tax receipts. This surplus was obtained under wartime rates of taxation, which were continued through 1921.

It is not easy to measure the tax reduction accomplished under the revenue bill enacted last November. The amount of the savings to taxpayers is affected by changes in the method of determining taxable net income, as well as by some changes in rates effective in 1922. The net annual reduction in income and profits taxes due to these changes is estimated at $410,000,000, but the decline in net incomes prevents an accurate statement of savings to taxpayers. However, the notable achievement of the last year in reducing governmental expenditures encourages the hope of further reductions in tax rates.

MOST ANYTHING.

The girls who fix their hair while driving an automobile, should keep at least one hand on the wheel.

The Germans and Japanese would not probably object to a movement to stop the manufacture of firearms in this country.

Good many people are going to enjoy all the luxuries of life as long as they can borrow the money.

Automobile baby carriages are now invented, and pretty soon in this swift age the babies will be driving them.

Fuel administrators are being appointed and they should regulate the production of hot air.

Father Neptune seems to be taking an active interest in the naval disarmament program, having scrapped a dreadnaught each for France and Chile during the past week.

"Harding Weighs Strike Problem," says a headline. Well, he has a long weight to go.

Allthats necessary to settle the railroad strike is for some genius to incite the strikers to strike so that the strikers can have back their jobs as strike-breakers.

Some men die without a will, but Lord Northcliffe, who always did things thoroughly, left two wills.

The fact that the inventor of the kaleidoscope died the ripe old age of 82 is a testimonial to the long-suffering forbearance of the public.

That elephant in the Seattle zoo who was discovered eating razor blades was probably trying to put an edge on its appetite.

Ireland has her Cork, but when she starts to fighting it's mighty hard to stop 'er.

A Dublin paper predicts a truce in Ireland soon. Yes, a truce is essential so that the conflicting parties can agree on what they are fighting about.

From a financial standpoint, Lennie and Trotsky might be referred to as the boys who put the trouble in trouble.

HEBRON THEATRE--Next Saturday

"The Kentuckians"

Mack Sennett Comedy

Admission 22 Cents,

Children 10 Cents

War Tax Included

THE UNDERTAKERS DUTY

is not simply to prepare the body for burial, to embalm it if desired, or to furnish casket, hearse and coaches for the cemetery; though all of these are included.

But there should be other features of real service, which will not appear on his bill. With a sympathetic interest, he should seek to know and carry out the wishes of the family; to counsel with them and tactfully help them to the best solution of all problems that arise.

PHILIP TALIAFERRO,
Undertaker and Embalmer
Erlanger, Ky.

The Best Advertisement

IS A PLEASED CUSTOMER

Spectacles and Eyeglasses that Fit the face and Fit the sight the kind we sell.

Phone South 1746

DR. N. F. PENN, 613 Madison Ave. - Covington, Ky.

Efficient, Service and Economy

IS MY SLOGAN

C. SCOTT CHAMBERS
Embalmer and Funeral Director

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

WE WANT EVERY MAN

in Boone and Kenton Counties

That has a farm large or small, or House and Lot to sell to list it with us and we will advertise and find a buyer if there is any.

The Wisenberger Real Estate Co.

BEN Phone South 0008 JOHN

515 Coppia Bldg. COVINGTON, KY.

Printed
Stationery

AT THIS OFFICE

ENVELOPES, LETTERHEADS, NOTEHEADS, STATEMENTS

for business people.
for professional people.
for farmers.

for every one who wants
to be considered up to date and going strong

Ready for Business.

The Farm Bureau Warehouse at Florence is now in full operation and will keep on hand all kinds of Feed, Flour, Wire Fencing, Coal, Etc.

Help Your Organization
With Your Patronage.

DO YOU TAKE THE RECORDER?

Try It One Year. You'll Like It.

Send Our Advertisement and Profit By Them.

WASHINGTON COMMENT.

What sort of immigrants would you like to see come to the United States? Do you want people of good character, thrifty, young, able, vigorous; men and women anxious to "make good," to become good Americans, to be workers, savers, economic factors?

Or do you think America would be better off with drones, idlers, anarchists, Bolsheviks, and criminals?

If you had the right to say what Americans should emigrate to other lands, would you send the prosperous and the healthy minded, or the criminal and the loafer?

Of course you believe America should receive only the best immigrants. And, of course, if you could export emigrants, you would pick the least desirable to go away.

Other countries feel the same way. They, also, want good and not poor immigrants. They, also, would get rid of their ineffectives.

And we let them get away with it. Our selective immigration law says nothing of quality; let a man have enough money, or be able to show he won't be a public burden, and he can come in, up to a certain number. If England, France, Germany, Sweden, Norway do not want any of their citizens to come here, they can refuse them a passport. If such a citizen can get a passport, he can come in if a few formalities are observed. Our law checks numbers, not qualities!

Secretary of Labor Davis says it is all wrong; that the law should be revised; that what we need is to stop the undesirable at its source, not alone at our shores.

The American people, which means you, and you, and you, and only the American people, can take the immigration laws out of politics, and see that constructive ones are enacted.

The venerable and learned president of the American Federation of Labor, the Hon. Samuel Gompers, has recently congratulated organized labor upon the fact that since the armistice the average pay out of union workers is less than five per cent.

Few men have had longer, more honorable, or more constructive careers than Mr. Gompers. Through his common sense, administrative ability, and vision, organized labor has grown and prospered. He has made few mistakes, and always recovered from those.

But Mr. Gompers is not perfect; no human being is. And when he exults officially at the fact that organized labor has succeeded in holding off the day of complete return to normalcy, and has managed to keep its average wage at a point only five per cent below war-time levels, he is flying in the face of the whole American people, of which his organization is a part.

Chairman Martin B. Madden, of the House Appropriations Committee has just returned from abroad, and stated that he was most impressed with the willingness of the foreign workman to take the cut in wages made necessary by readjustment. Will some one versed in the relative brain power of the foreign and the American workman explain why the Englishman, the Frenchman, the German, the Belgian can see through the immutable economic laws which govern all industry and commerce and the American workman can not?

The price of anything is dictated by its cost. Its cost is the labor cost; the raw material cost is but labor cost under another name. Prices are high because labor is scarce or high priced. Labor is not scarce here; we have more men than there are jobs. Prices will come down when labor comes down, and not before. Normalcy will return when labor prices, as well as all other prices, are permitted to observe the law of supply and demand. Unions, organizations, laws, special privilege, may hold them up for a while, and permit Mr. Gompers to exult. Eventually they must, like water, find their natural level. The further that time is off the more the bulk of American people suffer, while the few are congratulated upon successfully resisting the will, the desire, and the right of the hundred and ten millions of men, women, and children who are the American people.

In carrying on experimental work in swine breeding, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has found that use of wire partitions in farrowing houses undesirable and is replacing them with solid wooden divisions about 32 inches in height. The wire fencing partitions permit drafts, which are bad for the comfort and health of the young pigs. Open partitions also permit sows to notice anything going on in adjoining pens, which often causes them to become nervous and irritable and sometimes try to fight each other. Sows at farrowing time must be kept as quiet as possible.

While people try to persuade the women folks that housework is honorable and praiseworthy, washing dishes is not yet considered one of the popular amusements.

Excellent Chance At Fairs

To Study Good Live Stock.

Exhibits of improved stock and poultry at county and State fairs this year promise to be unusually interesting, according to information received by the United States Department of Agriculture from many sources. In practically all parts of the country excellent live-stock exhibits are to be attractive features of fairs. The attention which breeders and farmers have been giving to good live stock, combined with good feed and care, have resulted in some exceptionally well-bred and well-fitted animals.

In encouraging farmers to take advantage of the opportunities which fairs and live-stock exhibits give for observing improved live stock and poultry the Department of Agriculture places emphasis on the following points: Live-stock displays afford an opportunity to study breeds and types and to see a large number of good animals. In the case of meat animals the size, conformation, and uniformity are worthy of special study in view of increasing tendency to raise purebred and high-grade stock as meat for the animals as well as for breeding.

Farmers attending live-stock displays obtain useful information by meeting others who are interested in superior breeding and feeding methods. Besides the ideas exchanged and information gained, new enthusiasm for the work is a common result. Animals and poultry may be purchased at most satisfactory prices. It is more satisfactory for a farmer to purchase animals at the home of the breeder than to buy fitted animals at fairs. Animals that have been prepared for exhibition usually are priced higher than unfitted ones of similar quality and breeding.

EVERYDAY ROMANCES

TRANSCEND NOVELS

Curious, Odd, and Strange Happenings of the Daily News.

A woman patient in a Chicago hospital was treated with a tube of radium inserted in an incision in her body. When this surprise was to be removed, it had disappeared. Rather than have the doctors suffer the loss of fourteen thousand dollars, she submitted to another operation to recover the tube which had burned through into another part of her body. The radium was found and the human radium mine recovered.

A Birmingham, Ala., man had the habit of sleep walking, well developed. A coroner's jury decided, after he was found with a bullet in him, that he had committed suicide while asleep, a case unique in annals of both law and medicine.

Montreal, Canada, is filled with independent young women who do not propose to abide by the dictates of Dame Fashion, but who will wear the short skirt of today regardless of what dress designers of Paris, London, and New York say is the style. The "No Long Skirt League" already has hundreds of members pledged to wear skirts of present day length.

A Honolulu man has applied for a divorce. His wife, he testifies, deserted him thirty-seven years ago. All these years he has been sure she would return to him, but has finally given up hope. He is awarded the prize, by his friends, of being the champion marital hopper in captivity.

A Muskegon, Mich., woman, in an endeavor to settle a family quarrel, left nearly two hundred thousand dollars to her daughter on condition that she apologized for her part in the quarrel to her brother. If she didn't, he was to receive the money. Readers have three guesses as to what she did.

THE COUNTY FAIR

September sees one of America's most typical institutions at its best, the cattle show and county fair.

While held for the purpose of promoting better farm production these shows serve primarily as a general picnic and frolic occasion. Merriment runs high as the barkers shout, and the crowd yells for the horse trot winners.

Uncle Reuben, who used to come down to these shows in all the glory of his bushy whiskers, has bought a safety razor, and has acquired collar and neckties. The rural maidens are there with their finery and able to achieve good color without running to the drug store. The country boys look rather bashful and they have not all attended dancing school. But their prize winning pig and corn suggest that they are climbing the path to success. It is a good honest looking crowd, and they earned their holiday by hard work and without any bluff.—Ex.

The farmers who won't exhibit at the cattle shows because they would not get any premiums, are about like the boy who would never go into the lake because he did not know how to swim.

TOBACCO POOL FOR ## 1922 CLOSES NOV. 6.

No Contracts Will Be Accepted After Date by Burley Co-operative 67,709 Growers Have Joined Lexington, Ky.—Tobacco growers who desire to market their tobacco this year co-operatively will have until Monday, November 6th, to sign the contract of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, according to the terms of a resolution adopted by the board of directors of the Association in regular monthly session here. After that date no new members will be received for this year, it was provided in the resolution.

A total membership of 67,709 was shown in the report of Assistant Chief of the Field Service Division William Collins, who estimated that the total number of members of the Association in Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia and Tennessee will be more than 75,000 before the tobacco of the 1922 crop is delivered to the Association.

Clifton Rodes, former manager of the West Virginia and Eastern Ohio territory, made his final report, showing that 2,938 growers in that territory had signed the contract, representing about 3,000,000 lbs. of the staff of Kentuckians now on duty in that territory be continued until the closing date.

HOME MANAGEMENT.

When the country women folks get together in their clubs, they have frequently felt they must do something ambitious in the way of literary study. They have had courses on poetry and drama. Perhaps, though, there are subjects nearer home that need as much attention. Many rural clubs of women have discussed the most efficient methods of doing housework and have found that they gained great benefit from each other.

Women who used to work after old fashioned methods that added to their fatigue and filled their days with laborious effort, have learned from such discussions how to save steps and economize time and much strength. The country woman's club is not merely a means of mental culture, but it should lighten woman's work by showing her how to perform her toilsome tasks with the least effort.

BOONE CO. AT STATE FAIR

Boone county is well represented at the State Fair at Louisville, this week. Farm Agent Sutton and quite a number of Boone county exhibitors are spending the week on the fair grounds and have a large number of hogs, cattle and poultry to exhibit. Mr. Sutton has several Boone county boys entered in the judging contest, and is satisfied that they will be successful and will win some of the prizes awarded in the judging contest. Jas. W. Huey, of Union, shipped seventy-five of his choice Plymouth Rocks, and he will bring back a number of blue ribbons.

The judging team is composed of Robert Hafer, Hebron, Orville Kelly, Grant, Arthur Maurer, Burlington and Lloyd Cole, Grant.

The following hog raisers in this county have exhibits: Wilford Aylor, Shipley Rocks, and he will bring back a number of blue ribbons. The judging team is composed of Robert Hafer, Hebron, Orville Kelly, Grant, Arthur Maurer, Burlington and Lloyd Cole, Grant.

The following hog raisers in this county have exhibits: Wilford Aylor, Shipley Rocks, and he will bring back a number of blue ribbons. The judging team is composed of Robert Hafer, Hebron, Orville Kelly, Grant, Arthur Maurer, Burlington and Lloyd Cole, Grant.

The following hog raisers in this county have exhibits: Wilford Aylor, Shipley Rocks, and he will bring back a number of blue ribbons. The judging team is composed of Robert Hafer, Hebron, Orville Kelly, Grant, Arthur Maurer, Burlington and Lloyd Cole, Grant.

The following hog raisers in this county have exhibits: Wilford Aylor, Shipley Rocks, and he will bring back a number of blue ribbons. The judging team is composed of Robert Hafer, Hebron, Orville Kelly, Grant, Arthur Maurer, Burlington and Lloyd Cole, Grant.

The following hog raisers in this county have exhibits: Wilford Aylor, Shipley Rocks, and he will bring back a number of blue ribbons. The judging team is composed of Robert Hafer, Hebron, Orville Kelly, Grant, Arthur Maurer, Burlington and Lloyd Cole, Grant.

The following hog raisers in this county have exhibits: Wilford Aylor, Shipley Rocks, and he will bring back a number of blue ribbons. The judging team is composed of Robert Hafer, Hebron, Orville Kelly, Grant, Arthur Maurer, Burlington and Lloyd Cole, Grant.

The following hog raisers in this county have exhibits: Wilford Aylor, Shipley Rocks, and he will bring back a number of blue ribbons. The judging team is composed of Robert Hafer, Hebron, Orville Kelly, Grant, Arthur Maurer, Burlington and Lloyd Cole, Grant.

The following hog raisers in this county have exhibits: Wilford Aylor, Shipley Rocks, and he will bring back a number of blue ribbons. The judging team is composed of Robert Hafer, Hebron, Orville Kelly, Grant, Arthur Maurer, Burlington and Lloyd Cole, Grant.

The following hog raisers in this county have exhibits: Wilford Aylor, Shipley Rocks, and he will bring back a number of blue ribbons. The judging team is composed of Robert Hafer, Hebron, Orville Kelly, Grant, Arthur Maurer, Burlington and Lloyd Cole, Grant.

The following hog raisers in this county have exhibits: Wilford Aylor, Shipley Rocks, and he will bring back a number of blue ribbons. The judging team is composed of Robert Hafer, Hebron, Orville Kelly, Grant, Arthur Maurer, Burlington and Lloyd Cole, Grant.

The following hog raisers in this county have exhibits: Wilford Aylor, Shipley Rocks, and he will bring back a number of blue ribbons. The judging team is composed of Robert Hafer, Hebron, Orville Kelly, Grant, Arthur Maurer, Burlington and Lloyd Cole, Grant.

The following hog raisers in this county have exhibits: Wilford Aylor, Shipley Rocks, and he will bring back a number of blue ribbons. The judging team is composed of Robert Hafer, Hebron, Orville Kelly, Grant, Arthur Maurer, Burlington and Lloyd Cole, Grant.

LEAF TOBACCO SELLING HIGHER THAN LAST YEAR

All Southern and Eastern markets are higher by from 4 to 5 cents than a year ago. Burley markets should, and doubtless will, show same improvement.

The KENTON LOOSE LEAF TOBACCO WAREHOUSE, Second & Scott Streets, Covington, Ky., is adding 100 per cent to its sales floor and printing room. This will enable it to unload the farmer rapidly and reduce the waiting to the minimum.

House will be open to receive tobacco November 20th, 1922. FIRST SALE will be held MONDAY, NOVEMBER 27th. These dates may be moved forward—the curing of the crop will decide.

Tobacco showing uncured stems does not sell to advantage, and offering of such tends to depress the market.

KENTON LOOSE LEAF TOBACCO WAREHOUSE, Incorporated

THE OPENING OF SCHOOL

The typical boy and girl is always supposed to view the passing of his vacation with reluctance. But observation of the kid crowd as it falls into line on the first day of school, does not usually support this theory.

It is a pretty merry looking bunch, and the majority do not feel badly to have their year's work laid out for them and to hear the word "Go."

Their spirit will of course flag as lessons get hard and they make failures. But the average child of today is fairly well convinced of the necessity of attending school. As one of them said the other day, "I do not want to be a dunce." They realize that the ends in life that they are going to desire, can be had only through knowledge and training. It is hard for children to bend down for a considerable period to any one line of work, but at least the modern child's reason tells him that he must try to get his lessons.

37TH HARVEST HOME.

A very large crowd attended the 37th Harvest Home last Saturday and enjoyed the occasion immensely. The day was an ideal autumn product, just such as the management had been wishing for, and the outpouring of people crowded the spacious beech woods, whose leafy branches made for them a cool, shady canopy, where they met with old friends they had not seen for years. The show of live stock was rather limited, but the exhibition of field and garden products, considering the drought, was very good—better than was expected, while the show of pantry and dairy and fancy needle work was up to that shown at any previous meeting of the Association.

The young people had exclusive possession of the pavilion and dancing was under way until the shades of evening began to fall when they reluctantly wended their way homeward.

The large crowd watched closely the work of the judges, and as the premiums were awarded in the lady's department, the successful competitors could be recognized in the crowd by the smiles that wreathed their countenances as soon as the much sought blue ribbon was tied on the meritorious article.

ABOUT THE NEWSPAPER

Speaking of what a newspaper does in a community the late U. S. Senator Davis, of Illinois, made an address in which he said:

"Every day a local paper gives from $200 to $1,000 in free lines to the county or town in which it is located, in boosting, praising, and for lodges, churches, schools, societies, etc. The editor in proportion to his means, does more for the town than any other man in it, and he ought to be supported, not because you like or dislike him and his style, but because a local paper is one of the county's best features. Today the local papers are doing more for less pay than anything on earth, and it's a fact in many cases of free notices."

W. H. HENSLEY DEAD

W. H. "Tip" Hensley, aged 81, well known citizen of Petersburg, died at his home at that place, Wednesday, Sept. 6th, after an illness of a few days from a stroke of paralysis. The funeral was conducted at the home, Friday, Sept. 8th at 2 p. m. Rev. R. H. Carter and K. P. Lodge, of which he was member, having charge of the services, after which the remains were laid to rest in the cemetery below town. He leaves to mourn his death a wife, who was a daughter of the late J. A. Tolin and wife, and a sister of Attorney S. W. Tollin, two daughters, Mrs. Dan Hoffman, of Petersburg, and Mrs. Will Croder, of Lawrenceburg, Ind., who have the sympathy of a host of friends in the community in which he was born and reared.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C.—The President surely realizes the truth of the old adage, "troubles never come singly." He has had all of the 57 varieties in the last few months. The soft coal strike worried him for weeks, while he worried the miners and operators with his impractical efforts to settle it; as soon as he took himself out of the equation the problem was promptly adjusted. Then the anthracite strike kept him as restless as a hen on a hot griddle until he finally gave that up in despair, whereupon the parties in immediate interest got together and patched up a peace of their own making. Then he again turned his attention to the railroad strike with the result that he made every union man in the country angry with his blanket injunction. Up to this time it has not had the slightest effect toward breaking the strike, but as in the coal strikes, operators and men are getting together with out go-betweens. The outstanding fact is that in all three strikes, Harding has absolutely failed to get results.

In the political field his influence seems to be equally powerless. In Indiana his ticket was snowed, in California a rampant progressive, Johnson, won heavily, in Wisconsin LaFollette made a fearless fight on everything that was dear to the President's heart, and won by a huge majority. Ganfield standing for the Harding policies, was smothered. In Iowa, Bookhart, who is denounced by the administration papers of the State, as a Socialist, got away with the Senatorial nomination. Even in Mississippi the Harding influence went far toward the defeat of Vardaman in the Democratic primary when it became known that the President had expressed the hope that he be returned to the Senate. In Michigan it looks like Townsend, close to Harding and Newberry, may slip through only by the force of the fact that the opposition is divided among three men. But there, as in Iowa, Massachusetts and Ohio, the Democrats expect to elect their candidate in November.

A few days ago there came up in the Senate a bill providing an additional federal judgeship for Michigan, and the Michiganans thought it very necessary—possibly to handle the case of the Michigan State Bar. At all events, they wanted the judgeship, but the bill failed because there were not enough Republican Senators on hand to bring it up. Among the missing were the two gentlemen accredited from Michigan here—Newberry and Townsend. Townsend was at home in Michigan to save his scalp, while Newberry was golfing at his summer home in Rhode Island. But why should he stay on the job? Does he owe the people of Michigan anything? He bought and paid for all he has gotten in Michigan politics.

NOTICE BURLEY GROWERS

Every grower of tobacco in Boone county who has made a contract should cast his vote for County Delegate on Sept. 16th. Our county delivered 1,325,934 pounds of tobacco to the warehouse this season, which entitles us to elect one delegate. Remember you should only vote for one name on the ballot. However, should you desire to vote for some one else you can do so by writing his name on the ballot, for which spaces will be provided. This is your organization. You are much interested as any other man in it, and the success of this great institution depends entirely on the ability, honesty and integrity of the men whom you select to represent you. Only a short time has elapsed since you began doing business, but in those few months a tremendous amount of work has been accomplished and many more things are being projected that will be of inestimable value to the business and in the marketing of your crop. It seems that the men who are managing this Association have been well chosen, they are every one intensely interested, and are apparently leaving no stone unturned to make this the best marketing co-operation in this country. Your organizational committee has made wonderful progress since the close of the campaigns last winter, many new contracts have been secured, and still are coming in, until now you have a county membership of over 1200. Surely that number of yours will not want to remain out much longer, for he knows he isn't doing just right by his community and he will be getting anxious to get in and help push (make out of that little word and see him now.) All previous contracts have been re-evaluated and are always anxious to do anything they can for you. They will furnish you any information you may want at any time or assist you in any way possible. This is Co-operation. DON'T FAIL TO VOTE.

C. O. HEMPELUNG, County Chairman.

What our public men need is more nerve and less nerve.

A WEEK'S NEWS.

Fuel control, as practiced by the men who are in charge of it, proceeds on the wrong principle. It accedes as a fixed fact the diminished supply, and does out coal in dribble, when it should make its principal problem increased production. A Coal Control with no coal to control is an absurd spectacle. The profiteering brokers have plenty of coal. There are mountains of coal above ground, but it is in control of rascals, whom the Fuel Control doesn't seem able to control. That is, we are witnessing a display of government with absolute power over the people, and no power at all over the groups that have forced all sorts of distress upon the people. This year everything seems to be "essential" except employment. Every kind of interest has been cared for except the interest of men who make their living by daily toil—Henry Ford.

Thomas Cowen, of Memphis, Tennessee, spent from Thursday until Monday with his sisters, Mrs. Laura Martin and Miss Pink Cowen and other relatives in Burlington, meeting old friends and acquaintances—although there are but few of those left, when he was a resident of the old town. It has been thirty years or more since he left, but he still takes a keen interest in the town where he first saw the light of day, and it is always a pleasure to have the "old boys" who have made good with their hands and brains in other states to make us a call. Although his hair is white, it is not caused from the weight of years, as he is looking hale and hearty and is the same jovial, companionable gentleman as of yore.

Esq. R. H. Tanner was called to Constance, last Thursday to hold an inquest. The body of an infant was found in the river by some boys who were swimming in the river just south of the ferry landing. The body of the infant had all the appearance of being prematurely born and had been in the water some time.

Old garments were remodeled by farm women last year, as a result of demonstrations by county extension agents, into 51,600 up-to-date articles of apparel, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture. Under similar instruction 105,000 new garments were made.

Joyous school children may now be seen running excitedly up and down the streets of Burlington with a happy smile of contentment on their faces which only school children can have. The Boone County High School started on its twelfth year Monday.

Mr. John Surface and Rev. Wilford Mitchell, of Florence, were business visitors to Burlington, last Friday morning. The latter secured from the County Clerk a license to perform marriages.

Claimed the country people are too curious about their neighbors, but that is a better quality than the indifference of the city folks who don't care whether you are sick, dead or in jail.

The cistern at the court house which has been dry for some time, was given a thorough cleaning and general over-hauling last week—now let it rain.

The Germans who now come so bitterly of their fate, are the same fellows that used to think it was a good thing to have a war occasionally.

Tomorrow, Friday, is the public sale of the personal property of Mrs. Minerva Beemon, at her home near Union. Sale will begin at 12 o'clock promptly.

Timothy Sandford and wife and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Allie Parsons, spent Sunday with Earl Sandford and family, at Bellevue, Campbell county.

Dr. L. C. Hafer, of Ludlow, was transacting business in Burlington, one day the latter part of last week. He made the printers a call.

Rev. E. R. Overly and wife, and Miss Bess Hall, of Newport, spent last Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hall.

Mrs. Eliza Walton has moved back to Burlington in order to send her children to school this fall and winter.

Any way the older unmarried girls of Burlington are not making any fuss about their seniority rights.

From reports articles sold at W. T. Ryle's sale on Wednesday of last week, brought fair prices.

On account of the dry weather some have commenced eating up their corn.

BURLEY ELECTION SET FOR SATURDAY

Delegates To District Conventions to be Chosen, Who Will Meet Monday and Elect Association Directors.

Saturday, between the hours of 8 a. m., and 4 p. m., the members of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association will hold their annual election in this county. Every member of the Association can vote, but he must do so on an official ballot which will be furnished him by the officers of election. It can be voted by mail or sent in by a friend, if the grower is not able to attend the election in person.

The election Saturday will be held in every one of the organized counties of the Burley district. The delegates chosen Saturday will meet Monday in that county in each district which delivered to the Association the largest amount of tobacco in the past year and will elect the director for that district. There are twenty-two of the districts and the twenty-two directors elected on next Monday will elect three directors at large, the entire board then proceeding to the election of the officers of the Association.

So far as can be learned there is no opposition to any of the present members of the directorate, with one or two exceptions, or to any of the officers of the Association who have conducted its business the past year.

The elections Saturday are to be in charge of men elected at mass meetings Sept. 2, when the candidates for delegates were nominated by the growers themselves. Blank spaces are left on every ballot, so that the grower may write in the names of any persons for whom he may desire to vote, in case he does not wish to vote for candidates whose names appear on the ballot.

Nearly 70,000 men and women will take part in Saturday's election, it was said at the offices of the Association.

MANY BY-PRODUCTS RETURN PROFIT TO CITRUS GROWERS

To offset the serious losses in the citrus fruit industry occurring thru bruised, undersized, or oversized oranges, grapefruit, and lemons usually allowed to go to waste, the Bureau of Chemistry of the United States Department of Agriculture has investigated methods for getting by-products that will return a profit to the grower. Some of these products require a preliminary expense for equipment but it has been demonstrated that the investment can soon be made profitable.

Grapefruit juice, which is increasing in popularity, can be easily made if directions for pressing, straining, pasteurizing, clarifying, sweetening and bottling the juice are carefully followed. These directions may be obtained from the department. A blend of grapefruit juice with loganberry juice has been found popular. Orange vinegar is a satisfactory substitute for apple vinegar and should be made in districts where many cut oranges would otherwise be a total loss. Citric acid is a valuable commercial article which can be made from cut lemons or lemons, if proper apparatus is installed.

Other by-products from citrus fruits often wasted include candied citrus peel, for use as a confection or by bakers, in place of citron, marmalades, jellies, butters and pectin.

The Hebron Theater will present to its patrons next Monday and Tuesday nights, Sept. 18th and 19th, "Fool's Paradise," the greatest screen entertainment yet made by that master of the photoplay, Cecil B. DeMille. "Fool's Paradise" is a $3.50 ticket entertainment if ever there was one. Admission 30, Children 15c. Don't fail to see this one.

Club girls baked 370,000 loaves of bread last year in connection with extension club work carried on by county extension workers, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture. More than 31,000 girls learned to make and judge good bread in these clubs during the year.

The Baltimore American says the anthracite coal strike will cost $2,000,000,000. The cost of the hard and soft coal strikes will be paid by 110,000,000 Americans, less the number of men engaged in digging coal or in operating mines.

The North Bend Association of Baptist in session at Union Wednesday and Thursday of this week is composed of twenty-two churches. The oldest church Bullittsburg, was organized in 1794.

Mrs. Stanley Stephens of Bellevue neighborhood, was taken to Cincinnati, Tuesday, where she was operated upon for some head trouble from which she has been a great sufferer for some time. Dr. Fishback performed the operation.

It used to take the old-fashioned fellow longer to get up his nerve to follow than it does the modern youth to meet, love, marry, hate and get divorced.

Astrakhan fur is made from the skin of newborn Persian lambs.

LEGION NOTES

Paris, France.—As a "counter-blast" to the feminine beauty contests which have swept across France this summer, the Paris post of the American Legion announces a "beauty contest" of its own. Instead of a competition to ascertain the most beautiful woman in the American colony here the ex-doughboys have started a search for the most handsome American man in Paris.

The Paris Legion post has a membership of more than 1,000. As fully as many more Americans are now located in the French capital the contest promises to be one of the most interesting of the many activities the Americans have engaged in this season. The usual photographs of entrants will be displayed and votes my men and women members of the colony will be tabulated and received by a board, the members of which are barred from competing.

So many stranded ex-service men have applied for help at the Legion headquarters here that the post has been forced out of its quarters at 10 Rue de l'Ellysee, by lack of funds. Instead of the several rooms the post had it is now housed in a single office on the third floor of the same building. The welfare work will be continued, however, as long as possible.

Cleveland, Ohio.—Johnny Kilbane, world's feather weight champion, asked American Legion men $100,000 to meet Eugene Crippi, champion of France, in a bout during the Legion national convention at New Orleans in October. After learning Kilbane's terms the Legion men started for New York without Johnny's signature to a contract.

Weatherly, Pa.—Weatherly, Pa., wanted a "better babies" clinic but rooms for the holding of the clinic were not available until the former service men of the town, comprising the American Legion post turned over the Legion club rooms to those sponsoring the move.

New Orleans.—A special message to American Legion members attending their national convention in New Orleans, October 16-20, has been sent by President Harding through a New Orleans newspaper.

In a letter addressed to Robert Ewing, publisher of the New Orleans States, President Harding stated: "Convinced as I am that this autumn's national convention of the American Legion will be for many reasons the most important yet held by this great organization, I am writing to tell you of my concern for its success. New Orleans as the municipal host to the convention will, of course, make the utmost contribution to the occasion. The fine hospitality that has made New Orleans and Louisiana famous, will impress upon their guests from other sections a realization of the greatness and variety of our country, its economic unity, and its singleness of purpose in behalf of the national aspirations. It is most desirable that the men of the Legion, who have served so nobly to establish our country's place in the world, shall embrace every opportunity to expand their knowledge of their native land.

"The nation as a result of the war's upheaval, confronts trying times and difficult problems, to whose settlement we must demand all that singleness of effort and willingness of sacrifice, that marked the common effort in the war. No class of our citizens knows well as these men of the American Legion what such effort and such sacrifice mean; none has proved so splendidly its readiness to respond as the first call. Therefore, in dealing with the problems of today and the possible crises of the future, none will be summoned with more confidence to help sustain the authority of the government.

"It is a satisfaction to know of your plans for special effort, through the New Orleans States, to contribute largely to the truly national character and significance of this gathering. I want to congratulate you upon them, and to hope for your fullest success."

President Harding has tentatively accepted an invitation to attend the Legion convention.

A model of the poultry house recommended for farm flocks by the State college of agriculture, attached to the county extension agent's automobile, has been carried by the agent in McDowell County, Mo., on his demonstration tour for several months. Special demonstrations of its construction were given at 14 community fairs. As a result 21 new poultry houses, modeled on this type, are under construction in the county, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture, and 27 poultry houses were re-modeled last year.

MORE PIGS RAISED BY SOWS PUT ON BALANCED RATION

Sows put on balanced rations raised 71 per cent more pigs than those receiving the same management but fed on low protein rations in a "Save the Pig" campaign carried on by extension workers in Kansas last spring.

After the rain Sunday night the mercury took a considerable drop and made life worth living.

NAMES OF TEACHERS AND WHERE THEY WILL TEACH

Following is a list of teachers and the names of the schools in which they are teaching in Boone county, outside of the independent Grade schools:

Name	School
Bertha Underhill	Victory
W. Keene Southern	Rucker
Elizabeth Bondurant	Bullittsburg
Lutie Kyle	Lytle
E. M. Rice	Beech Grove
Rachel Pottinger	Mt. Zion
R. Baker	Richwood
Mollie Newman	Midway
Virginia Clore	Lamaburg
Sarah Johnson	Kensington
Anna Clegg	Beaver Lick
Agnes Chandler	Beaver Lick
Mary G. Berkshire	Woolper
Gladya Wilson	Garrison
Marie Reeves	North Bend
Sadie Reiman	Francesville
H. L. Harrison	Bullittsville
M. L. Walton	Maple Hill
Mary Deck	East Bend
Dorothy Wilson	Stephenson
W. R. Tyree, Prim	Hebron
Hazel Grow Asst.	"
Chester Goodridge	"
Jessie Gordon	"
A. S. Paterbaugh	Big Bone
R. K. George	Hamitow
R. K. George	Hamitow
Ruth Clegg Asst.	"
Sallie Allphin	Mud Lick
Mary Eggleston	Taylorport
Florence Eggleston	Pt. Pleasant
J. E. English	Big Bone Springs
Flora Y. Tanner	Constance
Maud Tanner	"

KLANSMEN PRESENT PURSE AND FLOWERS TO PREACHER

Twelve hooded members of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan passed quietly down the aisle of the North Terre Haute, Ind., Baptist church and presented H. B. Hensley of Fort Worth, Texas, who was delivering an address in appreciation of the work of the Klan, with a bouquet of flowers and the following letter, containing a $15 contribution for the church, which he read:

"Rev. H. B. Hensley: We present you these flowers as a token of our appreciation of the good work you are doing."

"We wish to assure the good pastor of this church, the Rev. Mr. Adams, and his good people that we stand with them in the good work they are doing and in our desire to be helpful in the advancement of the Christian religion that we may have a united community in which to live. We present the treasurer of this church with this purse of $15, to be used as the church may direct.

Respectfully Yours, "TIE K. OF THE K. K. K."

Rev. Hensley, several years ago, was pastor of the Baptist church at Bellevue, this county.

HESSIAN FLY DAMAGE NOT CERTAIN YET.

Lexington, Ky.—The exact extent to which the Hessian fly probably will damage wheat sown in Kentucky this fall cannot be determined until the season is more advanced and the presence of the flies are observed on volunteer wheat in different sections of the state, according to Harrison Garman, entomologist at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. However, farmers are being warned to sow their grain after "fly-free" dates and to take other precautions in the way of well-prepared seed beds, the use of fertilizers and good seed in order to reduce the animal damage caused by wheat's worst insect pest. The fact that few reports have been received on damage done by the fly during the past year is no indication that the state's wheat crop will be free from the ravages of the insect this year, he pointed out.

"The condition of Kentucky's wheat crop has been improved materially from year to year because many farmers have adopted this practice of sowing their grain after dates on which the flies have disappeared. However, the insect will continue to present a serious problem to the grain growers of the state until every farmer adopts the practice of sowing after the fly-free dates. One farmer who sows before these dates can harbor enough flies in his grain to infest many acres the following year. The Hessian fly problem in Kentucky will be largely solved when every farmer waits until after the recommended dates for his community before sowing wheat."

Because of the life history of the insect, wheat sown in September is most sure to be badly infested. The adult flies become fewer in number toward the end of the month and when frosts come are largely destroyed. Wheat sown in October in Kentucky is not likely to be infested. In average seasons October 5th has been found to be the most favorable date for sowing in Eastern Kentucky, October 5 to 10 for Central Kentucky and October 10 to 14 for Western Kentucky. Well-prepared seed beds, the use of fertilizers and seed that is known to be strong and hardy all help to make wheat better able to withstand the attacks of the insect, crop specialists of the station say.

"Short measure selling" of gasoline is estimated by the National Motorists Association to be costing purchasers $90,000,000 a year.

FOR SALE ETC

For Sale—During September Barred Rock cockerels—cockered bred, parent stock, direct from Bradleys. $2.50 and up according to size. Also some choice cross-bred cockerels. FLORA G. ARNOLD, Petersburg, Ky., R. D. 1. o21sept—2tpd

For Sale—Shorthorn bull calf, and 2-year-old Hampshire buck—good ones. H. E. White, Burlington R. D. 1. 1t—pd

For Sale—Pure blood Duroc sow and six pigs seven weeks old. J. H. Humble, Erlanger, Ky., R. D. 4. Mt. Zion road. 1t—pd

NOTICE I will haul passengers from Rabbit Hash to Covington on Monday and Wednesday of each week—auto for hire at all times. M. B. RICE, Grant, Ky., R. D. osep28—pd

LOST On the streets of Burlington, a bunch of keys. Finder please return to W. R. Rogers, Burlington, Ky. 1t

For Sale—Six Beagle puppies, 5 weeks old. $10 each. Mrs. R. H. Walker, 203 W. 31st Street, Latonia, Ky. 1t—pd

For Sale—12 tons Timothy hay. $12.00 ton, also fresh Jersey cow with calf by her side. B. C. Graddy, Bullittsville, Ky. 1t—pd

STOCK EWES Will put out 25 to 100 good stock ewes on shares to a good sheep and lamb man. Will S. Norris, Union Stock Yards, Cincinnati, Ohio. o6oct—4t

For Sale—Yearling black faced buck, Jesse Eddins, Burlington R. D. 2. 1t—pd

For Sale—Steam Vulcanizing outfit complete, air compressor, tank buffer, motor 2 horse. A complete shop outfit cost $500 will sell for $225. J. E. Snyder, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 3. Telephone 184, Burlington. o28sept—pd

For Sale—Thirty 100 lb. shoats. E. A. Martin, Burlington, Ky. R. D. 1. Phone 359. o14 sept—pd

WANTED—Good tenant for 1922. R. B. Huey, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 1. Sept—tf

We give 20 per cent cash discount or to reliable parties of the regular retail price on Columbia Gramofones, Starr Grand Pianos, Upright Pianos, Player Pianos and Starr Phonographs. Free delivery made anywhere. Write for catalog. RICE PIANO CO., Aurora, Indiana. o-jani

NOTICE We have been appointed the authorized sales and service station for the Willard Battery for Boone county. Also do recharging and repairing on all makes of Batteries. Work guaranteed. DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO., Erlanger, Ky.

WANTED Hay to bale. Prices reasonable. P. H. Mathews, Bullittsville, Ky. Phone 203-x. 29june tf

For Sale or Trade—For young stock, 10 year old sorrel saddle mare, road cart, 32 bushel of seed wheat. Harold Beemon, Florence, Ky. o14sept—pd

NOTICE All tax in the Bellevue Graded School District are now due and can be paid at the Citizens Deposit Bank, Grant, Ky. Penalty and 6 per cent will be added if not paid before December 1, 1922.

W. B. ROGERS, Treasurer. osep28—4t

DIFFERENCES IN NAMES OF WHEAT BY-PRODUCT FEEDS.

Sectional differences in the use of names for by-products of wheat are often confusing, says the United States Department of Agriculture in calling attention to the terms used in the regions growing the three principal types of wheat. The near Northwest, which includes Minnesota, the Dakotas and parts of adjoining States, grows hard spring wheat. The Southwest, also Nebraska and Kansas, grows hard winter wheat; and the East and States as far west as Missouri and Iowa grow soft winter wheat. Of course, these areas overlap to some extent.

Most of the confusion has been caused by different names for shorts and middlings. In some parts of the country these terms are used synonymously, in others one may be used to the exclusion of the other. Where both are used there seems to be a tendency to apply the term "shorts" to the coarser materials, such as standard middlings; and the term "middlings" to the finer materials, such as red dog flour.

Hubert White and Courtney Kelly are attending the State Fair this week at Louisville.

HEBRON THEATRE--Next Saturday

Monte Blue in

"The Kentuckians"

Mack Sennett Comedy

Admission 22 Cents, Children 10 Cents

War Tax Included

THE HOME RADIO

How to Make and Use It

By A. HYATT VERRILL

Copyright by Harper & Brothers

XV. VARIO-COUPERS AND VARIOMETERS

Vario-couplers may also be home made if desired, but they are seldom very efficient and are very low in price. It is scarcely worth while to attempt their manufacture. They consist of two coils, one rotating within the other. The coils are made of wire to make a vario-coupler you will require a cardboard tube or a fibre tube about four and one-half inches in diameter and a five inch long. A rotor consisting of two coils, one rotating within the other, is connected to make a vario-coupler you will require a cardboard tube or a fibre tube about four and one-half inches in diameter and a five inch long. A rotor consisting of two coils, one rotating within the other, is connected to make a vario-coupler you will require a cardboard tube or a fibre tube about four and one-half inches in diameter and a five inch long.

coil are connected to the switch contacts as shown in the cut, with one of the primary wires in the switch post. Then, when the coupler is to be set up, the aerial is connected to one of the primary posts, the ground to the other, the secondary posts are connected with the grid circuit and the tickler posts to the plate and receiver circuits, all of which is shown in the diagram Fig. 40.

A variometer may be made in a very similar manner, using two cardboard tubes, one about four inches in diameter and three inches long; the other three inches long and about three and three-quarters inches in diameter. The dimensions should be such that the small tube can turn freely, without touching, within the larger tube and the smaller the space between the two the better; but you must remember to allow for the thickness of the wire to be wound upon the inner tube. First, measure carefully the exact centers, so that when a shaft is fastened to the inner tube, the rotor is passed through the larger tube, the inner one will rotate freely and evenly without touching or increasing the space. The entire efficiency of the variometer depends very largely upon the accuracy with which this is done. Starting with a small hole about 1/4 inch from the outer edge of the smaller tube, wind on about twenty turns of No. 24 double-coated, cotton-insulated copper wire, being careful to keep the turns separated. Then skip a space of about an inch, as shown in Fig. 41, and wind on another twenty turns, finally running the wire through a hole, fastening both ends with a drop of glue or sealing wax and, leaving five or six inches of free wire at each end. Starting the same way, wind the larger tube in exactly the same manner and being sure to wind in the same direction. When all are wound, mount the smaller tube on a shaft inside of the larger tube, fastening shaft by glue or sealing wax dropped on from inside, and mount as shown in Fig. 42. Finally, connect one end of the stator wire, leaving plenty of free wire to allow rotor to revolve, and lead the other two ends to binding posts, as shown, being sure to keep that to the rotor loose to allow free movement. The shaft to rotor should be equipped with knob and dial as shown in the cut and the whole mounted on a fibre or bakelite panel on a proper base.

60 Farms at Public Auction

Beginning, Tuesday, September 26, 1922,

THE FAMOUS

Shakertown Estate of 4113 Acres

at South Union, Ky. Subdivided into small farms. Finest tract of land in Kentucky. Write for beautifully illustrated "Booklet" describing this property. Wonderful opportunity for Farm seekers. New Ford Car given away. Terms only 10 percent cash. Hundreds of live stock to be sold.

SMITH & McCLANAHAN, Agts., Springfield, Tenn.

DO YOU TAKE THE RECORDER?

Try It One Year. You'll Like It.

Read Our Advertisements and Profit by Them.

All obituaries, card of thanks and all other matter, not news, must be paid for at 5 cents per line.

Bullittsburg Baptist Church.
J. W. CAMPBELL, Pastor.
Sunday School every Sunday at 10:00 a. m.
Regular preaching services on the First and Third Sundays in each month at 11:00 a. m.

Boone Co. Lutheran Pastorate
REV. GEO. A. ROYER, Pastor.
Sunday Sept., 17th.
Hopeful 9:30 a. m., Sunday School
Hopeful 7 p. m., Luther League.
Hopeful 8 p. m., Last Service of the Series.
Hebron 9:30 a. m., Sunday School.
Hebron 10:30 a. m., Divine Service.

Boone Co. Christian Pastorate
REV. C. C. OMER, Pastor.
Sunday Sept., 17th
Bullittsville—
Bible School.....10.00 a. m.
Preaching.....11.00 a. m.
Preaching.....7.30 p. m.
Services each evening during the week.....7.30 p. m.
Pt. Pleasant—
Bible School.....10.00 a. m.

Of course honesty is the best policy—when it wins.

Seventy-five per cent of all fires are said to be preventable.

Elmer Kelly has a badly sprained wrist, caused by his car kicking him.

Esq. Wm. Stephens, of Petersburg, was among the visitors to Burlington last Monday.

A New York shipment of bootleg whiskey was labelled "Lye." And, at that, it was probably no lie.

Grover C. Ransom, of Verona, was in Burlington last Monday on business pertaining to the settlement of an estate.

A newspaper editor says that the radio will revolutionize many things. It has already revolutionized the fake stock selling game.

That Illinois officer who found ten gallons of booze concealed in a merry-go-round horse probably considered it a spirited steed.

J. L. Kite sold one day last week to J. Frank Jockey, of Hickory Grove, Tenn., the Sam Pettit farm of 63 acres on the East Bend road.

H. L. Crosswaite, wife and daughter, of Cynthia, were the guests of their daughter, Mrs. Richard Pern and family, from Saturday until Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Walker, of Latonia, Ky., spent Saturday and Sunday in Burlington. They expect to move to Latonia as soon as they can secure a suitable location.

Burley Pool Certificate No. 54, 771 issued at Walton warehouse No. 101, to J. M. Stephens has no address, and has never been called for and no money been paid on same.

Mrs. G. L. Alford, of Louisville, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. W. L. Kiddell and other relatives for several weeks, returned to her home last Saturday.

Miss Rachel Porter, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at Christ's Hospital, Cincinnati, two weeks ago, returned home last Friday. She is doing nicely.

Mrs. Thos. Stephens, who was operated on at the Deaconess Hospital, Cincinnati, about three weeks ago, returned to her home last Sunday. She is rapidly recovering from the operation.

A part of the W. P. Carpenter farm on the Dixie Highway, was sold a few days ago to a party from Covington at $3350 per acre. The price realized was account of the land lying on the Dixie Highway.

Boone High School began the 1922-23 term Monday with the following corps of teachers:
Elmer E. Clifford, Principal.
Estelle Huey, Asst. Principal.
J. C. Gray, Assistant.
Nannie Cason, Intermediate.
Elizabeth Kelly, Primary.

Rev. Tomlin, who has been returned to the Florence and Burlington Methodist churches for another year by the District Conference, preached at the Burlington Methodist church last Sunday morning, the night services being omitted on account of the protracted meeting at the Baptist church.

Large crowds are attending, and great interest is being manifested in the protracted meeting in progress at the Baptist church, the past week. Rev. W. W. Adams, who is conducting the meetings, is a young man of deep spirituality, forceful as a preacher and untiring in his efforts for souls. There had been seven additions to the church up to Sunday night, as follows: Grover Jarrell, Elizabeth Hensley, Robt. Hensley, Wilton Stephens, Elbert Rouse, W. R. Davallville, and Charles Brinkle, Jr.

BASE BALL.

Manager Kirkpatrick escorted his "Hitless Wonder" to Petersburg, last Saturday afternoon, and Petersburg played a game of ball, and the Kirkpatrick aggregation were kept busy chasing the pill. The Burlington gang were not playing the game, either in the field or at the bat. Christy had the Burlington team at his mercy, he allowed only one hit to be registered off of his delivery. Petersburg was on the job all during the game, and easily won by the score of 8 to 0. Wash the dust out of your eyes before you go on the ball field again boys, and practice up on swinging at the pill so that a few hits can be made up, as runs cannot be scored without the proper use of the bat.

Next Saturday, Sept. 16th, Burlington ball club will play Petersburg at Burlington park. This will be a good game as Petersburg took the first game 8 to 0. Come out and see them battle for the second.

BURGLARS FOILED BY BUCKSHOT.

About 8 p. m., Sunday night, Wm. Tandenshall, and Irvin Martin, of Covington, attempted to break into the store of Lawrence Kenney, on the Dixie Highway, at Devon. The store had been broken into several times before, and Mr. Kenney had Charles Cummings, who had been employed by Mr. Kenney, to sleep in the store. Cummings had just gone to bed when he heard steps on the porch and saw two men, one of the men knocked the glass out of the window and while reaching in to release the lock Cummings fired, the shot taking effect in Tandenshall's forearm and hand. Tandenshall and Martin ran to the railroad and went on to Covington, where Tandenshall had to go to St. Elizabeth Hospital to have his wounds dressed. Deputy Sheriff Utz went to the hospital Monday morning where Tandenshall admitted that he and Irvin Martin had planned to rob the store, and that in attempting to get in the building he had received the wound. Tandenshall will be brought to Burlington for trial as soon as his wounds have sufficiently healed.

Violence and Accidents Lead.

Louisville, Ky. — More persons came to their death in 1921 in Kentucky by violence and in accidents than were carried off by any diseases except pneumonia and tuberculosis, it is shown by figures made public by the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Board of Health. Violent and accidental deaths were 1,789, according to the figures, while deaths from tuberculosis were 3,135, and pneumonia was responsible for 2,031.

Total deaths from accidental causes were 1424, the largest single item, according to J. F. Blackerby, director of the bureau, being burns of various kinds, which were responsible for 196 deaths. Railroad accidents occasioned the next largest number of fatalities, being responsible for 140 deaths, and then in order come mine and quarry accidents, 138 deaths; automobile accidents, 93 deaths, and accidental poisonings, 16 deaths.

Of the 375 deaths by violence, 173 were suicides and 202 homicides. In connection with these, Mr. Blackerby pointed out, referring to the need of more stringent legislation against the carrying of firearms, that over half of the suicides were by means of some kind of firearms, and that in the case of the homicides firearms were used in 90 per cent of the murders.

New Orleans—Big guns and other materials of warfare will be exhibited by the United States War Department during the American Legion convention in New Orleans, October 16-20, convention headquarters has been advised by Major General C. C. Williams, chief of ordnance of the U. S. Army.

Ten carloads of ordnance, including virtually everything in the way of war materials, from hand grenades to 155-millimeter guns, will comprise the exhibit. The ordnance which will be brought on flat cars, will be on display in a prominent site near convention hall. Daily maneuvers, in which all the latest tactics of warfare will be demonstrated, are scheduled during the five convention days.

The exhibit will be held under the direction of a number of ordnance officers sent from the government arsenal at Rock Island.

Hebron Theatre

Monday and Tuesday,
Sept. 18th and 19th

PRESENTS

"Fool's Paradise"

AN ALL-STAR

Cecil DeMille Production.

Admission 30 Cents.
Children 15 Cents.

Including War Tax.

"111"
cigarettes
They are GOOD! 10¢

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Colvin paid a visit to State Treasurer Wallace yesterday. Something like this tete-a-tete seems to have resulted:

"I see," remarked Mr. Colvin "that you have on your books a balance of $533,786.65, of the school fund."
"Yes," replied Mr. Wallace—"on my books."

"Saturday," Mr. Colvin reminded Mr. Wallace, "you will be called upon for $386,451.03 of that money for distribution to the counties and cities, to pay teachers' salaries."

"I cannot answer that call."
"You cannot pay less than $400,000 out of a balance of more than $500,000 of the fund in your hands collected for the schools?"

"It is not in my hands. I borrowed it from the schools to pay other expenses of the State Government."
"Then the teachers cannot get their salaries because you have borrowed the school money to pay the salaries of State officials, your own probably included?"

"The teachers will be paid in warrants," announced the State Treasurer.

"Oh," comprehended Mr. Colvin. "Then they may get some cash if they discount the warrants deep enough to tempt the shavers?"

"Well, warrants are warrants, you know."

And warrants draw interest do they not?"

"To be sure."

"To be sure, indeed. It shouldn't have taken a State Treasurer to tell a Superintendent of Public Instruction that."

"This interest," continued the Superintendent, still in quest of knowledge—"when do you pay the interest on the warrants?"

"Oh, I don't pay it," with patient forbearance, but beginning to be bored.

"Of course, not you personally, but the Treasury, the people who got the money borrowed from the school fund—when do they pay the interest?"

"My dear sir my dear sir! Can't you understand? We borrow the money from the schools and we make the schools pay the interest."

"Ah, I begin to see! How obtuse I was!"

"That is our Financial System, you know."

"Yes? So that is what you call it—Financial System?"

"The Governor is very proud of our Financial System. He once issued a public statement in praise of it."

"It's some Financial System, I must admit. While it is in the main similar to the financial system of the successful bank defaulter, it has some points of superiority to that. The defaulter borrows from the bank without asking the bank's consent, just as you borrow from the schools without asking their consent. But there is this difference between the two systems: the defaulter does not make the lending bank pay the interest on its loan, while you do make the lending schools pay the interest on their loans."

"But there's another difference, which you fail to mention. We pay back the principal of the loans."

"If we don't you get the money. Some bank defaulter has been known to do that also. Well, Mr. Treasurer," rising to go, "and so compels me to concede that your Financial System is away yonder ahead of anything conceived even by those stellar financiers, John Law and Colonel Sellers. All the same, I want the money for the teachers Saturday."

"You'll get warrants."

"I won't take warrants."

"What are you going to do about it?"

"I'll see you later. And, confidentially, I'll see—just between you and me, as a matter of good faith and not for publication, as it were—I'll see your Financial System damned."

—Courier-Journal.

C. T. Claunch made the following real estate deals the past few days:
From Rev. W. A. M. Wood, of Erlanger, to Mr. Wade, of Devon, a five room house on Cowie Avenue, Erlanger, Ky., for.....$3,500.
From Earl Madden, of Erlanger, to Mr. Reed, of Ohio, a three room house on Clay street, Erlanger, Ky., for.....$1,150.
From Reddon Gossett, Union, to Mr. Griffith, of Covington, a 31-acre farm on the Union and Florence pike for.....$3,850.
(Has been sold to Mr. Cranmer, of Cincinnati.)
From Mr. Steltenkamp, of Elmore to Mr. Wm. L. Lullow, Ky., a four-room house and lot 125x100 ft. near Nonpareil Park, for.....$4,000.

COATS OF SOFT CLOTH

Happy is the little girl who is destined to own a coat of duvetine like the one pictured. It bears a strong resemblance to the garments of her elders, with its collar and wide cuff bands of fur. It has a strap belt of the material and ties for the waist, also flushed with fascinating balls of fur at the ends.

Any Make of Battery
RECHARGED
75c
Rentals for any make of car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.
Dempsey Motor Car Co.,
Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L.

Tutt's Pills
Unrivalled as an
ANTI-BILIOUS MEDICINE
stimulate torpid liver, strengthen digestive organs, regulate the bowels, relieve sick headaches.

WAKING UP THE CHILDREN

One reason why in past years rural prosperity dragged, was that there was so little effort to arouse the mentality of the children in the schools. Bright pupils would go ahead naturally without urging. They got an education that unfitted them for rural life. They got it into their heads that the only thing for them to do was to go on to the cities. The majority of them left home and country life dragged.

Meanwhile what became of the other type of children. They were regarded mostly as dullards. They were given lessons of book knowledge, which they learned with difficulty. Frequently these children had fine possibilities and were very observant from the book of nature and could do practical things well. But they could not get their book lessons and the school failed to arouse their mentality.

That type of children years ago was quite apt to stay in the country. They made honest, faithful workers. But they had never been taught to think or to plan or to originate anything, and they carried on farming and other occupations in the old fashioned way, not very successfully. They could not make country life seem attractive to their children when the next generations came along.

The rural school of today must deal more intelligently with the children of this type, who learn with difficulty through books, yet who may be just as capable as any others if their powers are once aroused. They have to be approached in a different way, through their powers of observation and practical things rather than through book study exclusively.

Manual training and courses in agriculture will arouse their mentality and enable them to work efficiently at practical occupations. They can be helped to become successes in country life and accomplish the things their fathers were unable to attain as a result of the lack of practical education.

MARKETS.

Wheat $1.05.
Corn 64.
Oats 36.
Hay (Timothy) $17.00.
Bran $21.00.
Middlings $23.00.
Potatoes $3.00 to $3.50 barrel.
Onions $1.25—1.00 lbs.
Apples $2.00 to $2.50 barrel.
Butter (Creamery) 36.
Fancy Dairy Butter 30c.
Hogs $6.80 to $9.50.
Beef Steers $7.70 to $10.40.
Cows and Heifers $4.75 to $9.25.
Feeders $8.65 to $8.10.
Veal Calves $11.00 to $12.25.
Pig Lambs $12.25 to $13.25.
Ewes $3.75 to $6.75.

An agricultural scientist says that farmers will soon be doing all their work by electricity. Well, they are already shaking their fodder.

Isn't it wonderful what a "religious smile" some people can wear during a protracted meeting?

CAR SENSE

Spend a Dollar and Save Ten	Little defects grow into big ones in time if not corrected. The correction of a small defect in its early stages costs but little. When left until it grows into serious proportions its correction runs into money. That is what makes the maintenance of a car so expensive to many people—neglecting the little things until they grow into big ones. The better—the safer—the more economical way is to see the garage man at the first warning of trouble. Today is always a good time to have it done.
--	---

EDDINS BROTHERS
TIRES, TUBES AND ACCESSORIES.
Burlington, Kentucky.
BRAKE BAND OIL—Guaranteed to stop Ford bands from chattering.
Agents for U. S. and Ajax Tires.

Established 1886.

A Bank Account IS ONE OF THE FIRST STEPPING STONES TO SUCCESS IN LIFE!

How are You Stepping!
This bank invites young men and women especially to open savings accounts. Officials of the bank are pleased at all time to give the benefit of their experience to customers and others who seek advice.
When in doubt come to this bank. Your success means greater success for us.

Has it ever occurred to you that a checking account is a very convenient thing to have?

Boone Co. Deposit Bank

Burlington, Kentucky.
N. E. RIDDELL, President W. D. CROPPER, Cashier
W. A. GAINES, Vice-Pres. G. S. KELLY, Asst. Cashier.

Petersburg Theatre

At Petersburg, Kentucky

Saturday Night, Sept. 16th

"Singing River"

Wm. Russell

At Burlington, Kentucky,

Saturday Night, Sept. 16th

"Little Miss Smies"

Sherley Mason

CHILDREN 10c. ADULTS 25c

War Tax Included Will Begin promptly at 8:00

COURTESY SERVICE FIRST STABILITY

A Letter Received from the Banking Commissioner.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 14th, 1922.

PEOPLES DEPOSIT BANK,

Burlington, Ky.

Dear Sirs:—

After a careful examination of your report and that of our Examiner, we find no complaint to make as to the management and condition of your bank; hence, we have marked the management and condition of your bank for the first half of 1922 EXCELLENT.

In the near future, we contemplate inaugurating a complete system of grading banks and we trust that you will be able to maintain your high standard under our new plan.

Yours truly,

JAMES P. LEWIS,

Banking Commissioner.

Flour—Flour—Flour

An excellent Flour—that makes excellent Bread, Pies and Cakes. New patrons are coming to this flour each day and recommend it highly. It's Rising Sun—

Fancy Patent, Golden Rod or Tube Rose.

Its sold on a positive guarantee to please you in every respect.

Ask Your Grocer—Insist On It.

Make bake day a glad day by using

RISING SUN FLOUR

Business is still making remarkable progress when the present obstacles which face it are taken into consideration. The surprising thing is that the result of these obstacles has been more immediately disturbing. The fact that they have not further evidence that our return to more normal conditions, prior to the present labor disturbance, was more complete than many people thought.

The fact is that the full force of these disturbances has not yet struck us. Without doubt we are passing through one of the most serious labor situations we have faced in our history. It would, therefore, be little less than blind folly to suppose we will not pay for this economic interruption. Possibly, as a people, we should be excused for not being unduly concerned, for a surface view might lead us to think that business was going on as usual. The effects of the coal and rail strikes, however, have scarcely been felt when compared with the effects which will soon become apparent and which inevitably we must face—and pay for. Increased cost of fuel means increased cost of manufacturing, which in turn must be passed on to the consumer. Likewise, any interruption to transportation produces the same results.

Some lines of business were only needing an encouraging excuse to return to former industry conditions; there are beginning evidences that the coal and rail strikes are furnishing those encouragements. Two months ago we pointed out certain disturbing undercurrents whose unchecked tendencies would hinder our return to business readjustment. The first of these was a growing tendency of increased cost of production paralleling increased production. The second element was that the larger facilities occasioned by war-time expansion was a constant encouragement to over production. The third element mentioned at that time was the persistent report of labor shortage, together with the returning evils of bonuses and the offering of premiums. The first and third of these tendencies have not been checked. In fact they are rapidly growing. The evidences now are that the manufacturers we had in mind at that time have seen the danger of overproduction and are protecting themselves.

During the past 60 days, however, other disturbing elements have injected themselves into the situation which forces us to enlarge our former citations, and therefore increase our warnings to our readers.

We should not be carried away or deceived by the rush of increased business activity that will follow the temporary settlement of the coal and rail strikes. Such activity will be uneconomic, as it could have been prevented. It will, therefore, be as the influx of air filling a vacuum caused artificially interrupted and the effort to readjust itself to where it would normally have been at this season of the year might well deceive the unthinking.

The present situation recalls three old but very appropriate maxims—
"The darkest hour is just before the dawn."
"Wouldst thou both eat thy cake and have it?"
"For whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

Almost unnoticed, while our attention has been fixed on the strikes, comes the one big beam of hope through our complexities—a bountiful harvest. Among the important features of the government August crop reports were the three billion bushel corn crop indicated for the fourth time in the history of American farming, a record crop of hay and the second largest crop of white potatoes ever grown. As crops are true economic wealth and since it has been proven we cannot have genuine prosperity without the purchasing power of the farmer, the abundant crops go far in aiding a return to that genuine prosperity.

Much credit should be given the American farmer for there is little doubt that he has been the greatest sufferer during the readjustment period, yet with but little complaint and with no sulking he went about his business of sowing a crop, and today in return for his labors he is reaping a bountiful harvest. All during the summer he has been busy raising the food stuffs to feed the people of a nation among whom are those, who because of their inability to reach agreements over non-essentials, have interrupted industry and penalized a whole people by needlessly raising consumption costs.

The Japanese beetle was much more abundant during the present season, and over a wider area. Serious damage to the foliage of many trees was caused by the immense number of beetles, especially fruit trees and certain varieties of shade trees, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. There was important injury to only fruit, particularly early apples and early peaches.

Mrs. Lela Cook, of Twenty Miles Stand, Ohio, and Mr. Edgar Carbo, of Loveland, Ohio, were married in Lebanon, Ohio, Tuesday, August 29, 1922.

Mr. Wilford Akin of Twenty Miles Stand and Miss Jennett Carter, of Cozydale, Ohio, were married in Lebanon, Ohio, Tuesday, August 29th, 1922.

The only audible sound in many towns is the knocking of the knockers.

Notice Tax-Payers

Tax-payers of Boone County are hereby notified that I, or one of my deputies will be at the places and on the dates named below to collect the 1922 State, County and County School Taxes. Will also collect the 1922 Graded Common School taxes in Verona, Petersburg, Union and Florence Districts. Also the Consolidated School tax in the Bullittsville and Constance Districts on the same days that other taxes are collected:

BIG BONE, October 3rd
BEAVER LICK, October 4th
VERONA, October 5th
WALTON, October 6th
BELLEVUE, October 9th
CONSTANCE, October 10th

HEBRON, October 11th
UNION, October 13th
PETERSBURG, October 16th
FLORENCE, October 17th
RABBIT HASH, October 19th

Rates—State 40c; 10c on Live Stock, County 70c, 15c on Agriculture Products; School 40c on the $100; Poll $1.50. School Poll $1.00. Graded School Rates—Verona 60c; Petersburg 70c; Union 45c, and Florence 50c. Graded School Poll—Verona $1.00; Petersburg $1.50; Union $1.00; Florence 50c.

All unpaid taxes become delinquent after Nov. 30th. Six per cent penalty, due State and County added after December 1st on all delinquent taxes; six per cent commission in addition is allowed Sheriff for collecting delinquent taxes. Cost of levy 60c, Advertising $1.00; Recording 60c.

Please make inquiries for the amount of your taxes before November 15th, as we cannot receive everyone's taxes on the last few days of November.

B. B. HUME, S. B. C.

$1,200.00 to be Paid in Premiums to Growers

$400.00 TO OHIO.

$400.00 TO KENTUCKY.

$400.00 TO INDIANA.

Kenton Loose Leaf Tobacco Warehouse

Covington, Ky., August 28th, 1922.

DEAR SIR:—

Below we give you tabulated Cash Premium List of Prizes offered on BURLEY LEAF TOBACCO by the KENTON LOOSE LEAF TOBACCO WAREHOUSE, to be exhibited at the TRI-STATE TOBACCO FAIR and FALL FESTIVAL to be held at KENTON LOOSE LEAF TOBACCO WAREHOUSE, Second and Scott Streets, COVINGTON, KY., commencing October 21st and closing November 4th:

	BRIGHT LEAF	RED LEAF	LUGS	TRASH
1st Prize	$50.00	$50.00	$50.00	$50.00
2nd Prize	25.00	25.00	25.00	25.00
3rd Prize	15.00	15.00	15.00	15.00
4th Prize	10.00	10.00	10.00	10.00

Your entry fee will be sample or samples of Tobacco entered or exhibited by you. These samples, for obvious reasons, must be retained by the Warehouse and can not be surrendered. The premiums offered are liberal, and so distributed that each State, OHIO, INDIANA and KENTUCKY, will compete within or against itself. Samples may be brought to the Warehouse as early as October 9th, but not later than OCTOBER 19th. The Judges must have ample time to examine samples offered or competing. So please be on time if you wish to enter this contest.

All entries must be of BURLEY TOBACCO GROWN IN 1922 and belong to the GROWER OR FARMER. Each sample must weigh at least FIVE POUNDS—may be more, but not less. The tobacco exhibited must be stripped from the stalk and regularly tied in hands. This contest is open to all—POOLER OR NON-POOLER.

KENTON LOOSE LEAF TOBACCO WAREHOUSE CO.

per W. H. WHITEMAN, President.

Kenton Loose Leaf Tobacco Warehouse will have its first sale for the season of 1922-1923 on November 27th, 1922. Will be open to receive tobacco November 20th, 1922.

FOURTH CLASS POSTMASTER EXAMINATION.

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination to be held at Burlington, Ky., on October 7th, 1922, as a result of which it is expected to make certification to fill a contemplated vacancy in the position of fourth-class postmaster at Florence and other vacancies as they may occur at that office, unless it shall be decided in the interests of the service to fill the vacancy by reinstatement. The compensation of the postmaster at this office was $801—for the last fiscal year.

Applicants must have reached their twenty-first birthday on the date of the examination, with the exception that in a State where women are declared by statute to be of full age for all purposes at 14 years, women eighteen years of age on the date of the examination will be admitted.

Applicants must reside within the territory supplied by the postoffice for which the examination is announced.

The examination is open to all citizens of the United States who can comply with the requirements. Application blanks, Form 1753, and full information concerning the requirements of the examination can be secured from the postmaster at the place of vacancy or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

Applications should be properly executed and filed with the Commission at Washington, D. C., at the earliest practicable date.

At last reports the coal prospects for winter were still quite dark.

Dodge Brothers

ANNOUNCE

A BUSINESS COUPE

Conservative changes in the body design of all other types.

Roadster.....	$ 920
Coupe.....	1,063
Touring Car.....	955
Sedan.....	1,550

Dempsey Motor Car Company

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY

Phone Erlanger, 70-L

ARE YOU A READER OF THE RECORDER?

If Not Try It One Year

Only $1.50 the Year

Seeds for Fall Sowing

MICHIGAN ROSEN RYE, NEW TIMOTHY, NEW SEED, WHEAT, CRIMSON CLOVER, ALFALFA CLOVER, ETC.
Get ready now. figure the amount you will need, write us for prices, buy your seed, and let's all be ready when the time comes.

ARRIVED LAST WEEK

CARLOAD OF

—Wichita's Best Flour—

Milled from best Kansas Hard Wheat

Bbl. $8.50; ½ Bbl. $4.35; 98-lb bag. $4.

STILL THAT SAME GOOD DRINK

NOBETTER COFFEE

Pound.....33c

4 or More Pounds Sent Parcel Post Prepaid.

Rarus Flour

THE ALL PURPOSE FLOUR

Bbl. n wood.....$7.50; 98-Lb. Bag $3.50

PURE APPLE CIDER VINEGAR.....45c Gallon

MIXED PICKLE SPICE.....20c Pound

SACHRINE, 1 ounce can.....35c

Northern Kentucky's LEADING GROCERS AND SEEDSMEN.

GEO. W. HILL & CO.

27-29 Pike St. - 2nd Fl. - KY. -
Phone 1000 - Source All -

Sole Mill Customers - It Pays - Sole Customers - It Pays -

VULCANIZING.

Complete line of Goodyear, Goodrich and Kelly-Springfield Tires and Tubes, good Grade of Automobile and Tractor Oils and Greases.

Auto Accessories kept in stock.

GEORGE PORTER,
BURLINGTON, KY.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN,

DENTIST

In my new office

Clayola Place, Florence, Ky.

Tooth extracted painless. Bridge and Plate Work a Specialty.

All Work Guaranteed

JAMES L. ADAMS

DENTIST

Cohen Building

Pike Street, Covington, Ky.

F. W. Kassebaum & Son

GRANITE & MARBLE

MONUMENTS,

Large Stock on Display

to Select from.

Pneumatic Tool Equipme't

118 Main Street,

AURORA, IND.

Isinglass Replaced, Cushions and

Backs Rebuilt

Buggy and Wagon Upholstering

OF QUALITY

RUFUS W. TANNER

Auto Top Repairing

Sets covers for all makes of cars.

Dixie Highway Erlanger, Ky.

Phone Erlr. 70-Y.

People who use the classified ads in this paper profit by them. The little ads bring quick results. What have you for sale or want to buy. The cost is too small to consider.

C. H. YUELL

Farms for Sale

At Bargain Prices.

Burlington, Ky.

Phone Burlington 65

FOR SALE

Farm of 26 acres at Hebron, Ky.,—house, barn and outbuildings. 100 acres, 11 room house, barn and outbuildings, near Lawrenceburg Ferry. Both tracts good farm land. E. MANNIN, Petersburg, Ky. 9-60th

BOONE CO. RECORDER

Published every Thursday
N. E. RIDDELL, Publisher.

Foreign Advertising Representative
THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION
Entered at the Postoffice, Burlington, Ky., as second-class mail.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Furnished on application. The value of the RECORDER as an advertising medium is unquestioned.
The character of the advertisements
now in its columns, and the number
of them, tell the whole story.

B. C. Gaines and wife spent last week at West Baden, Indiana.

Farmers have been busy the past week putting their tobacco in the house.

Being taught to practice self help, the kids are raiding the pantry for the new jam supplies.

A wise man is expert in judging the mind of a woman, especially if she "objects" to a kiss.

Several of the Burlington fans witnessed the Price Hill games at Norwood, Ohio, Sunday afternoon.

The fashion of distributing "stunning" clothes, and Father may be stunned when he gets thee bill.

"Finker" Hall and family, of near Moore's Hill, Ind., spent last Sunday with Grant Williamson and family.

Country editors no longer take apples in payment of subscriptions.
Once quartered, an apple soon decays.

The women are crowding the men out of the business offices, but perhaps the men can get jobs as house-cleaners.

Mrs. Mary Goodridge, from out on R. D. 1, was the guest of Mrs.
Sarah C. Penter several days the past week.

The boys show their interest in rural education, by taking steps at once to get acquainted with the school teacher.

Some people seem to think that the way to get more of the necessaries of life is to stop the production of them.

Allie Parsons and wife, of Milan,
Indiana, spent from last Thursday until Monday with Timothy Sandford and wife.

Claimed that people should be able to live until they are 125, that a good many fairly young folks act that much old already.

Ira Ryle and wife, and some friends from near Lawrenceburg, Indiana, were visiting relatives in this county, last Sunday.

Good many couples in getting married, solemnly promise to love, honor and cherish one another until they get tired of it.

The 120th meeting of the North Bend Association of Baptists met with the church at Union, Wednesday, for a two days session.

Some people think there will be a lot of social unrest until the men are allowed to have saloons and occupy their minds by getting drunk.

Not many of the boys will attend the rallies where their congressman speaks, but they are apt soon to get acquainted with the new school-marm.

The stock market is reported in a hesitating mood indicating that for some unaccountable reason the cowardly and pusillanimous lambs refuse to walk up and be shorn.

The County Judge has received from the State Road Department the plans of the Dixie Highway from Florence to near Rickwood. The distance to be reconstructed is 26,796-
8 feet.

Elza Poston and wife had as guests his father and mother, Mr.
and Mrs. John Poston, of Hebron, his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs.
King, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter
Kline, of Dayton, Ohio, Sunday.

Elmer Kelly and wife entertained
Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Rector,
Mr. and Mrs. Price Conner, of near Independence, H. W. Rouse, Franklin Rouse, Maurice Rouse, wife and daughter, Dorothy, of Lima, and
Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Rouse.

The big corn men gather their next year's seed this month. One good plan is to have a special box on the wagon, if the corn is gathered.
If it is cut and shocked, it is well to go through with a basket and select the choice ears for special care. This means extra work, but it also means extra bushels.

When various spring grains are available the grasshoppers prefer ants to any of the others, reports a United States Department of Agriculture investigator in Montana.
However, when food is scarce the hoppers will not go far out of the way to search for the plants that please their palates most.

Yes, it's quite true that women's skirts are coming down. We mean they are to be made longer.

The men don't like it, and many of the women are peeved over the latest decree of fashion.

But the longer a dress is the more the dressmakers can charge for making it. Then the manufacturer who makes the goods, and the merchant who sells them, all get a crack at the customer in the increased amount of material required.

Still, there is an element of good in almost everything that comes along. Masculine eye strain will be considerably relieved. That will compensate some.

And now another thought pops
out. It will hit the optical people, because there will be less demand for long distance magnifying glasses.

Shucks! It's all muddled up any way we look at it.

The only way of escape is to quit looking. But what red blooded man will voluntarily do that.

Give unto the needy in proportion as the Lord gives unto you—but don't expect that alone to open the pearly gates.

The fellow who is able to give a dollar to charity and does out a nickel gets credit from the Lord for only the nickel he gives.

The poor person who gives more than he can really afford gets credit far beyond the amount given.
You may hide your ability to give from human eyes, just as you hide your wealth from the assessor, but the All Seeing One knows of every penny you possess.

The pearly gates are easily opened—and they are just as easily closed.

Are you troubled with insomnia?
It's easily cured in most cases.

Walk a mile before breakfast
Hotfoot it, and don't lag.

Put in eight hours of good hard work, and don't loaf on the job.

Eat three square meals a day, chew your food properly, and drink
oddes of water.

Walk two miles more after supper,
and push yourself along.

Go to bed only when you begin to feel drowsy.

You'll sleep.

In 1921 the women of America spent more than $28,000,000 for hair neils.

When the hair is worn bobbed
there is but little need for a net.

Mr. Thrifty Father, why kick when your daughter wants to discard her long hair?

Some people imagine that the farmer is a lucky dog who lives in plenty and has nothing to do but enjoy life.

It may be true, but most farmers would rather trade jobs with the merchant, or the banker, or the doctor, or lawyer, or most any of the other fellows who work eight hours a day and then quit.

Farmers are leading an independent life, but they pay for all of their independence in grit, and sweat, and hard work, many more than eight hours a day.

Who is willing to trade places with any of the farmers hereabouts, prosperous and happy as they are?
Imagination carries us a long way, but it drops us back with a thud.

May riches come to you—if you get a part of them.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

When you put your thinking cap on after the evening meal, what is the trend of your thoughts?

High prices of everything you use.
Business stagnation.

Political corruption.

Grafting prohibition agents.

Booze scandals.

Divorces in high life.

Murders and robberies.

These are a few of our multitudinous thoughts that fit through the average mind, with their long trail of dissatisfaction and disgust.

Try a change of thought for a few evenings—something along these lines:

Is the home life what it should be?

Is the proper amount of care and supervision being exercised over the growing children?

Are the best efforts being put forth for the improvement of conditions in the home community?

Does the proper spirit of amity and unity prevail among the business interests of our town.

Are you a booster of the home town, or are you a critic?

Thoughts often come unbidden, but it is not difficult to divert them to certain lines if one so desires.

Try it for the welfare of those about you.

It may result in greater peace of mind for yourself.

Pigs, poultry, potatoes, bread, canned vegetables and meats and other products which boys and girls enrolled in extension clubs grew or prepared following demonstrations by county extension workers were shown in 4,200 exhibits at county, district and State fairs last year, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture.

The Chamber of Commerce movement is accomplishing wonders, but in some cities the officials thereof judge from the name that it is a place to sleep in.

WHERE TO DEAL IN CINCINNATI

WESTHEIMER &amp; CO.

STOCKS BONDS

Phone Main 567 326 Walnut St.

Y. M. C. A.

Automobile School

Day or Night Classes

Get a Good Job

Unskilled Labor Turned Away

LEARN TO BE AN

AUTOMOBILE MECHANIC

Men Who Are Skilled Always Have Work

Garage

Men who know how are needed

Skilled Labor Gets A Job

Come in and let us tell you all about this school

Y. M. C. A. Elm and

Central Parkway

Cellar Doors Gratings Machine Parting

THE J. G. FREILINGER

IRON WORKS

All kinds of Work

Central Machine

Prompt Attention to Mail Orders

Phone Main 192

SECOND STREET—Bet. Race and Elm

The Best Place in Cincinnati for Dentistry

Gold Crowns and Bridge Work $5.00

Plates $7.50 Fillings $1.00

Tooth Extracted without pain

Write us for information

Dr. Hall's Expert Dentists

216 W. 5th St. Bet. Elm and Plum

Cincinnati, Ohio

BUSINESS-BUILDING

ADVERTISING--

OF EVERY KIND

The WASHBURN-FLARSHHEIM CO.

Home Office Cincinnati

34 Blymwerf Bldg.

It Will Pay To Take This Ad to Cincinnati

COUNTS CELEBRATES 10 YEARS' SUCCESSFUL EXTENSION WORK

Ten years of successful extension work was celebrated August 5th by farmers and farm women of Sussex

County, N. J. Results of this work in improved farm and household practices adopted are reported to the United States Department of Agriculture as follows:

Two lime-crushing plants are operating in the county to meet the local demand for lime. Ten years ago most farmers in the county were in doubt about the need for using lime to correct soil acidity. Some 2,000 farmers are growing alfalfa. In 1912

there were only a dozen alfalfa fields in the county and alfalfa was generally considered an unsuccessful crop. In 10 years there has been a marked increase in purebreds in the dairy herds of the county.

Eighty-five per cent of the farms have silos; only about 25 per cent had them in 1912. The canning of peas, beans, and corn is commonly practiced throughout the county, but when extension work was first begun there were only a few women who could can successfully. Two extension workers are now employed by the county for the improvement of farm and farm-home practices.

THE VIEWS OF AUTUMN.

The pessimist says that autumn is a

Kline's

421-423 RACE STREET

CORRECT ATTIRE FOR WOMEN AND MISSES

SEND IT TO US --

Hemstitching 10c a yard.

EMBROIDRY, EMBROIDRY, EMBROIDRY

MAIL ORDERS GET SPECIAL ATTENTION

ADVANCE PLEATING AND BUTTON SHOP

108 OPERA PLACE CINCINNATI

ARTIC

Ice-making and Refrigeration practices for Butcher Shops, Creameries,

Dairies, Confectioneries—Plans installed

complete—Repairs and emergency repairs

—Supplies of every description

Briggs and Eastwood Cincinnati, O.

1022 Central Ave.

Harness and Saddles

New and used sets complete—Repairing

all styles and makes Harness

Mail orders and express get prompt attention

MAX KURZYNSKI

1606 Central Ave. West 3296

—Ship By Parcel Post—

The Model Laundry Co.

First Class

Work and Service

We Pay Charges One Way

YVCA CAFETERIA for men and women

REST-ROOMS for shoppers

20 E. EIGHTH STREET

VACATION COTTAGE

July to September at EPWORTH HEIGHTS

Ship Your Poultry to an Established Reliable House

TOP PRICES. DAILY RETURNS.

Write or Wire for Prices

THE PETERS POULTRY COMPANY

CAPITAL $50,000.00

104-6-8-10 W. Court St. Phone Chas 1957 CINCINNATI, O.

CLIP THIS DIRECTORY

OF SQUARE-DEAL

CINCINNATI FIRMS

YOUNG MEN AND YOUNG WOMEN

FIT YOURSELF FOR LIFE'S WORK

with a Technical Training at the

OHIO MECHANICS INSTITUTE

INTENSIVE 2-YEAR COURSES in Industrial Electrical

Engineering, Industrial Mechanical Engineering,

Architecture, Industrial Art, Lithography, Power

Landing Course.

4-YEAR TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL COURSES—Special

Courses in Chemistry, Freshman Drawing, Industrial

Art, Lithography, Lithography, Lithography, Lithography, Machine Shop Work, Mathematics, Mechanical Drawing, Photography, Printing, Wood Work.

Registration Day—Day School, September 13, 14, 15,

1922; Night School, September 27, 28, 29, 1922.

Write Today for further information in the Register Central Parkway &amp; Walnut St., Cincinnati, O.

K. SHOKLER &amp; SON

FURS

REPAIRED REMODELED

Mail orders solicited

140 W. 7th St. Cincinnati, O.

—INVESTMENTS—

Preferred Stocks

Municipal Bonds

Breed, Elliott &amp; Harrison

322 Walnut St. Phone Main 310

MILNER MUSICAL CO.

40 WEST SIXTH STREET

CINCINNATI, OHIO

EVERYTHING MUSICAL

NEW PLAYER PIANOS

$335 and up

HYDRO-TORON TIRES

GUARANTEED 10,000 MILES AGAINST

Stone Bruises—Rim Cuts—Blow Outs

30x3 1/2 $14.00

OTHER PRICES IN PROPORTION

MAIL ORDERS PROMPTLY FULFILLED

AUTO ACCESSORIES CO.

Capital 17 CINCINNATI, OHIO 909 Vine St.

Desmond's Lace Store

Complete Line of

Laces Veilings

Corsets and Hosiery

515 Race St.

For Quality

Price

Variety

PIGGY WIGGLY

Groceries

ELECTRIC

Lowest Prices—Largest Stock

ERTEL LIGHTING CO.

320 West Fourth St.

Write for Prices

Trade Where They All Trade

Fall Seeds--New Crop

TIMOTHY—Car new crop timothy in trans-sit, 99.50 per cent. pure. Send us your order to be shipped from car at wholesale prices.

Kentucky Blue Grass Seed—About half the price of last year's seed and fine quality.
Alsike, Alfalfa, Sappling.

FLOWER SEED FOR FALL PLANTING.

Alyssum, Columbine, Poppy, Fox Glove, Hollyhock, Lockspur, (Delphneum) Pansy, Phlox, Sweet William, Pinks.

Michigan Rosen Rye, Fertilizers.

BINDER TWINE—Just the thing for tying up your Corn and Fodder, Lb. .... 10c

We are car load buyers of Pratt's High Grade Poultry and Dairy Feeds and have a car in transit from which we will make the following special prices.

Pratt's Cracked Corn, sifted and blown, 100 lb. bag ..... $1.75

Pratt's Laying Mash, 100 lb. bag ..... 3.00

International Scratch Feed, just right for growing chickens, and the finest feed produced, 100 lb. bag ..... 2.75

Pratt's Large Scratch Feed, 100 lb. bag ..... 2.25

FLORENCE.

Mrs. Betty Long spent Monday with Mrs. J. G. Scott.

Mrs. John Conrad spent Monday with Mrs. A. M. Yealey.

Mrs. Perry Utz was the guest of Mrs. I. Mrs. Lon Tanner, Sunday.

Willard Mitchell and wife will move this week to Mt. Carmel, Ky.

Miss Kathryn Kelly, of Cincinnati, spent Thursday with Mrs. Dunson.

Misses Florence and Ethel Marquis were the guests of Mrs. Ed. Sidner Sunday.

Miss Carrie Clark, of Covington, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Clarkson, Geo. and Fritz Drinkenberg, spent Sunday at St. Bernard.

Mrs. Sally Fulton is spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Auld-bright, at Avondale.

Miss Mamie Robinson, of Devon, spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Wilford Mitchell.

Mrs. J. O. Carpenter entertained Sunday, Cliff Norman and wife, of Covington, and Mr. John Roberts.

The friends of Ed. Kraus were very sorry to hear of the loss of his home, which was destroyed by fire Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tanner and little son left last week for a visit with Dr. Cole and wife, at Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Brown and Mr. McGregor, of Cincinnati, were guests of Mrs. Lora Lail and family, Saturday afternoon.

The relatives here of John Cahill have received the announcement of his marriage to Miss Madeline Du-Bvnd, at Brooklyn, New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman List and children, have returned to their home in Hamilton, Ohio, after a visit with Miss Kate Aydelotte and sister.

Mr. and Mrs. John Surface, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Renaker, Chas. Aylor and family and Paul Ferris, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Snyder, all attended the birthday dinner at Ernest Horton's Sunday.

Little Dorothy Lail, daughter of Gordon Lail and wife, having swallowed a penny last Sunday a week, was taken to Cincinnati to a specialist last Friday and had it removed from her throat. She is getting along very nicely.

A family reunion was celebrated Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Houston and father. Those who enjoyed the day were: Mr. and Mrs. Will Houston, Mr. Raymond Houston, Miss Artie Mae Houston, Mr. Roy Redmon, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Houston and daughters Wilma and Dorothy, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Houston and son Arnold, all of Covington; Miss Edna Houston of Louisville; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Henlev, and Mrs. Jesse Eddins and Mrs. Sallie Clore, of Burlington; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gibbs, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Houston and son, Robt. Lewis, all of Florence; Miss Carolyn Houston of Crescent Springs; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Weaver and two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Newman, all of Union. Well filled baskets were brought by all and things looked like anything, but hard times.

RICHWOOD.

J. T. Powers has been ill.

Miss Hammond is improving slowly.

Geo. Moore has moved onto the C. D. Tanner farm.

Chicken thieves are frequent visitors in our vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Hunter have moved to Cincinnati.

Wiley Grubbs and Frank Youell are working in the city.

Dudley Sleat left Tuesday to enter Cumberland College.

Thos. Carpenter and family are now residing in Florence.

Mr. D. B. Dobbins is in a very serious condition at his home.

Miss Lucille Sleat left Wednesday for Midway to resume her studies.

Mrs. Carey Carpenter has been staying with her husband at the hospital.

Don't forget J. J. Cleek's sale on Sept. 16th and D. B. Dobbins' on Sept. 23rd.

Mrs. J. H. Moore, mother and two children left Monday for a visit to Toledo, Ohio.

Tobacco is growing out wonderfully since the drought and a great deal has been housed.

Fowler Lodge No. 201, I. O. O. F. members please attend lodge Sept. 16th, 8 p. m. Important.

Carey Carpenter who was operated on for appendicitis at Speers hospital, is recovering slowly.

Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Waller, son-in-law and daughter, of Glenoe, were week-end guests of J. T. Powers.

Joe Kuchler has moved from the C. D. Tanner farm to the one purchased by him in Kenton county.

Dr. Wallace Tanner and family of Florida, were the guests of T. E. Dixon and family, one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Glacken have returned to their home in Erlanger after a week's visit to D. B. Dobbins.

Have you paid your Mutual Telephone Co. assessment? If not, why not? Others do and you should—Adv.

Some night hawk carried off a coop of fliers for J. J. Cleek, leaving the coop several hundred yards from the house, minus the chickens.

Europe is getting excited because her aviators have discovered how to operate gliders, like Orville and Wilbur Wright did in America twenty-five years ago.

SPECIAL

Sept. 16th &amp; 17th

The SHEIK

with Agnes Ayres and Rudolph Valentino

A first lovely English girl hated the bronzed Arab chief who had captured her in the desert; then she sees his tyranny over a hundred tribes, hate turns to fear, and fear to fascination. The Sheik is determined to make her love him. Does he succeed? That is the plot of this wonderful Paramount picture.

Nine reels of the greatest picture ever screened.

Admission 33c and 17c

CORINNE GRIFFITH

in

"What's Your Reputation Worth?"

Tuesday, Sept. 10th

Admission 22c and 10c

The "SHEIK" at Florence, Ky., Theatre

PT. PLEASANT.

(Too Late for Last Week.)

Miss Edith Carder attended the Harvest Home at Cheviot, O., last Thursday.

Mrs. H. A. Jergens has returned home after a pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Robinson, of Ludlow.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker Hollis and little son, have been enjoying a visit at Somerset, Ky., for the past week.

Miss Sarah E. Tanner spent several days of last week with Miss Gladys Jergens.

The reunion of the Jergens and Kramer families was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jergens Sunday Sept. 3rd. The threatening weather caused a great delay however, the guests arrived in time to do justice to a bountiful dinner which was served on the lawn at the noon hour. Those present were: Mrs. Will Kramer, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. W. Davies, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kramer and son, Mr. and Mrs. W. Kramer, Mr. and Mrs. F. Jergens, and children, Mr. and Mrs. J. Jergens, Mr. and Mrs. J. Kramer and children, Mrs. G. Kramer and children, Mr. and Mrs. A. Jergens and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. L. Kramer and children, Mrs. Aaron Carder, Mrs. Dexter Carder, Misses Mabel and Edith Carder.

UNION.

J. W. Conner spent a couple of days here the past week.

Carroll Dugan and wife entertained Sunday with a dining.

Mrs. Owen Blankenbaker has as her guest her mother, Mrs. McAtee.

Sol Long, of Florence, was mingling among old friends here Saturday.

Mrs. Maud Feldhaus has as her guest her sister, Mrs. Hawkins, of Covington.

Andy Holtzworth and family have moved to the Huey bungalow on High street.

Claude Tanner wife and little daughter spent the week-end with relatives here.

Mrs. Nannie Crouch is seriously ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James A. Huey.

Mr. and Mrs. Garber have returned from a pleasant visit to friends and relatives in Virginia.

Mrs. Lula Quisenberry has been called to the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Crouch, who is very ill.

Miss Jennie Cleek, of Latonia, spent Saturday night and Sunday with her parents, B. L. Cleek and wife, of near here.

GUNPOWDER

Newton Marksberry went to Covington on business on Thursday of last week.

The meetings at Hopeful are still going on and will continue through the week.

Mr. Charles Gerhard and wife, of Independence, visited Hopeful church last Sunday.

There was a large crowd present at the communion services at Hopeful, last Sunday.

L. H. Busby, Roy Lutes and Wm. Thomas, colored, are attending the State Fair at work.

Redmon Goss's farm, on our ridge has been sold again, and a Mr. Cramer is now the owner.

Cutting tobacco is the order of the day, and the crop is an average for this part of the county.

Ellie Hlograffa and family, of near Independence, were among the visitors at Hopeful last Sunday.

Edward Kraus, who lives on the Burlington pike near Florence, had the misfortune to lose his residence by fire last Saturday. The day was started from an oil stove.

There were big diggings at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Horton last Sunday, the occasion being his birthday. Quite a number of their relatives and friends were present with well filled baskets with good things to eat, which were served in the shade on the lawn. The day was greatly enjoyed by all present.

IDLEWILD.

J. S. Asbury is home from a visit in Mason county.

Miss Mary Rector is attending school in Petersburg.

Mrs. Chester Grant's little daughter, Rena Mae, is ill.

Mrs. Wm. Terrell Berkshire began her school at Woolper Monday.

Mrs. Ben S. Houston is in Paris for a visit with her niece, Miss Maud N. Asbury.

W. O. F. Harter, of Marietta, O., was the mid-week guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Asbury.

Miss Francis Berkshire is home from a delightful visit with friends in Toronto, Canada.

Miss Lizzie Graddy, of Lexington, spent Tuesday with her brother, B. C. Graddy and Mrs. Graddy.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Grant took two of their children to Cincinnati Thursday to be operated on for adenoids.

Miss Maud Norman Asbury left Saturday for Paris where she will teach Home Economics in the High School.

Dr. Tom Randall, of Owenton, and Dr. Marcus Randall, of Louisville, were recent guests of their brother, E. Y. Randall and Mrs. Randall.

Mrs. E. A. Martin and Miss Mattie Kreylich are teaching in Florence. Mrs. Martin is assistant principal, Miss Kreylich is teacher.

seventh and eighth grade work.

HEBRON.

The Helper's Circle will meet with Miss Nanni Lodge Wednesday afternoon Sept. 25th.

Morris Rouse and family moved from Limaburg to a portion of Byron Garnett's residence last week.

Mrs. Laura Crisler, of Petersburg, and Mrs. Maggie Heist, of Calais, were the guests of M. L. Aylor and wife, Saturday night and Sunday.

School began here Monday Sept. 11th with the following teachers: Mr. Tyree, of Irvin, Ky., as Principal, Miss Grow, of Wisconsin, Miss Jessie Gordon and Chester Goodridge, both of Hebron.

The members of Hebron Lutheran church went to extend heartiest thanks to each and every one who attended the Labor Day dinner, supper, bazaar and ball game, and all those who so liberally donated for the benefit of the church, those who so willingly assisted in the work that made it a grand success both socially and financially. Also the Covington and Ludlow friends who donated so liberally. Mr. and Mrs. John T. Aylor for the use of their home and lawn on that day and Mr. Harry Leidy for the Delco light plant which made the lawn look beautiful. It was said to have been the largest crowd ever in Hebron. Amount taken in at the dinner, ball park and other donations was $402.40.

A returning traveler says there are great opportunities in Russia for money and brains. But who would venture into business in Russia if he had either?

Send For This Booklet

It tells you about the operations of this interesting and successful REAL ESTATE MORTGAGE AND COMMERCIAL FINANCING company and the untold investment opportunity offered in its stock.

$12 per Share

ALL COMMON STOCK

Resources, $2,500,000.

Over 3,200 Stockholders.

Dividends Paid Quarterly at the Rate of 11 Per Cent Per Annum.

Take advantage of your opportunity to secure some of this safe and profitable financial security before the advance in price makes it impossible to obtain.

We will accept all issues of Liberty Bonds at the prevailing market, plus accrued interest, in payment.

Platt Brothers Co.

INVESTMENT SECURITIES

Diale Terminal Bldg., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Information Coupon—Mail To-Day

PLATT BROTHERS COMPANY, DIAL TERMINAL BLDG., CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Without obligation on my part, mail me your illustrated booklet about this CINCINNATI FINANCE CO. stock.

Name .....

Address .....

City .....

State .....

Zip .....

Send me your booklet and I will send you $1.00

in cash or in stock of the Platt Brothers Co.

if I so desire to purchase the same

at the price of $12.00

per share

plus accrued interest

"I knew him when he was a boy"

What one is there of us that has not felt the glow of satisfaction over the outstanding success of a life-long friend? Often a surprise—seemingly "all of a sudden." Yet neither surprising nor sudden, when you stop to think back over each step of his progress.

THE United States Rubber Company—makers of U. S. Royal Cords—were first to conceive, make and announce the balanced tire. A tire in which there is such complete unity of action in tread and carcass that neither will give way before the other.

First to conceive, make and announce a complete line of tires—a tire for every need of price and use under one standard of quality.

First to tell the public about the good and bad in tire-retailing. (You remember the phrase "Go to a legitimate dealer and get a legitimate tire.")

First also to arouse industrial and trade minds to the need of a new kind of tire competition. (Competition for better and better value. Greater and greater public confidence.)

THESE high spots along the U. S. road to leadership indicate the intent—the will to win by the quality route in a price market.

Now that so many car-owners have given their verdict for quality tires in general, and U. S. Tires in particular—a number of dealers and car-owners whose vision has been clouded by "discounts," "sales" and what not, are beginning to remember that they "knew him when he was a boy."

United States Tires are Good Tires

Copyright U. S. Tire Co.

U. S. Royal Cord Tires

United States Rubber Company

The Oldest and Largest Rubber Organizations in the World

Two hundred and thirty-five Branches

Where You Can Buy U. S. Tires:

D. R. BLYTHE, Burlington.

Boone Co. Motor Co., Florence

R. A. BRADY, Grant

PETERSBURG GARAGE, Petersburg.

HEBRON GARAGE, Hebron

L. C. SCOTHORN, Idlewild

UNION GARAGE, Union

FIND A BETTER WAY.

The settlement of the great coal strike assures us that the people will not freeze this winter. For so much we are thankful. But it does not contain any assurance that the same conditions will not prevail a year hence, with all of their attendant ills and inconveniences to the nation.

A better way of settling labor difficulties should be found, and that agency should be the congress and the federal government.

The laborer is forced to pay the same high prices for everything he uses as are paid by other people. He therefore is entitled to a wage that will enable him to live in reasonable comfort, educate his children, and lay by a sufficiency for the time when his days of usefulness will be over.

The employer is entitled to the same consideration, as he is required to live under the same high priced conditions. He should be assured a fair profit on his investment.

The great army of consumers, who outnumber these elements many times over, are also entitled to consideration—but seldom receive it. They are the goats in every strike that occurs, the victims who in the end pay the penalty without hope of redress.

There should be no strikes, but there should be some method of assuring labor a square deal at the hands of the employing corporations for without such protection the laboring man would be crushed and labor to atoms.

Arbitration between labor and capital is hopeless. That has been proven in the past. Neither side seems willing to recede from its demands, or to accept a compromise, knowing that any such compromise simply means a short period of renewed activity and then a return to the merry war.

Congress could authorize and the president could appoint commissions in the several lines of industry whose duty it would be to settle all such controversies with justice to both sides, and at the same time regulate the prices of the commodities in order to protect the consuming public from profiteering.

The brain of one man—Judge Landis—has revolutionized baseball, because that brain is fair and just to all, and from its edicts there is no appeal. And the baseball world has never been so free from trouble as it is today.

What Judge Landis can do to baseball other men of ability and fairness can do in the coal, railroad, building and other industries.

The only things required are the authority and the men.

Henry Ford's financial statement shows that he has only $146,000.00 cash in bank, so it's no wonder he feels that he can't afford to buy coal at the impending high prices.

SIMCO

BUTTERMILK

EGG MASH

Makes Champion Layers!

Moulting Time---End It Quick

Hurry the Feathers, then Biddy can get back to her old job and lay the eggs you are looking for. Just now she needs lots of Protein. Feathers are 85 per cent Protein. She will find Protein abundantly in Simco Buttermilk Egg Mash. And in the most acceptable form—the Buttermilk tickles her craw and makes her absorb 8 times as much Protein. Feathers first—Viva La Feather.

Hens helped through Moulting Time with Simco will meantime lay better than usual—and then, when Moulting is over they will make a bee line for the champion class. Satisfied Simco buyers will tell you so. Take Home a Sack of Simco.

FOR SALE BY

E. K. STEPHENS, Walton, Ky.

E. A. STOTT, Petersburg, Ky.

WM. FROST, Constance, Ky.

A BARGAIN

Cincinnati Daily Enquirer

—AND—

The Boone County Recorder

YOU CAN GET

BOTH for $4.50 the YEAR

Send Your Subscriptions to the

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER

Burlington, Ky.

"The Devil Can Quote Scripture"

WE CAN'T

But we will be glad to quote you Lowest Prices
ON THE VERY BEST

CLOTHING

We can beat the devil himself at that. We have greatly reduced the prices on our Summer Clothing, and if you fail to look them over, you are overlooking much.

If you are looking for a Suit, a Coat and Pants, or extra Pants that you can rely on, we have them.

Selmar Wachs

605 Madison Avenue,

Covington, Kentucky

NONPARIEL PARK

Mrs. Wm. Arnold spent Friday in Cincinnati.

Mr. I. D. ... a business trip to Cincinnati, Friday.

Mr. Allen Grossman left for Chicago last week on business.

Quite a number from here attended the Harvest Home Saturday.

D. Lucas purchased a new Ford car last week. So look out girls.

Frank Sayre is spending a few months with friends in Pittsburg, Penn.

Cecil Tanner and wife left last week for Wilmore, Ky., to attend school.

Mrs. Chas. Chipman is visiting her brother William Price and family, of Williamstown.

Mrs. Chas. Snyder, who has been very ill at the home of her father, improves slowly.

Mr. C. W. Myers has been on the sick list the past week at her home on Main-st.

Geo. Markberry and family will move to their new bungalow on Shelby street this week.

Elmer Acree and wife, of Erlanger, moved Friday to their new home in Nonpareil Park.

A. L. Roades and brother have returned home after a two week's visit in Tenn., visiting relatives.

The many friends of Joe Lucas regret to hear of him being ill at his home on the Dixie Highway.

Owen Bradford and wife visited her brother Tom Corbin and family, of Hamilton, Ohio, last week.

Rev. Wilford Mitchell and wife leave this week for Maysville, Ky., to attend college there this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Sorrell, of Limaburg, (near Clara Anderson) left for their home in Lexington Sunday.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Baptist church held a very interesting meeting Thursday at the church.

Rome Respass and family returned home after a few months visit in Canada, at their summer home there.

Mr. A. S. Lewis and son Albert, have started to build Miss Belle Long's new bungalow on her farm.

Miss Klee Stephens and Miss Gertrude Stephens were week-end guests of Miss Evelyn King, of Nonpareil Park.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Worster and children, were Sunday guests of her father, J. Fullilove and wife, of Erlanger.

The many friends of Mrs. Wm. Arnold regret to hear of her illness the past week at her home in Nonpareil Park.

Miss Kathryn Keiser, of Walnut Hills, spent Thursday night with Mrs. L. Dunson and brother, William Brown, of Main-st.

Kirtley Secrests and family left last week for Nashville, Tenn., to spend the winter so that the children can attend college there.

Mrs. Chas. Chipman of the Dixie Highway, was called to Williamstown Thursday on account of the death of her cousin, James Price.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Boyce, of the Dixie Highway, had for the 12 guests Sunday Spencer Rouse wife and father and Mr. Hamilton, of Gunpowder.

Mrs. Clifford Boyce and children, of Covington, and Miss Louise Groger enjoyed a visit with J. P. Boyce and family, of Dixie Highway, last Sunday.

Miss Elizabeth Dell Goodridge, Miss A. Kenney, Miss Kathryn Bowers and Miss Jane Scott, will leave Tuesday for Villa Madonna to attend school.

Robert Tanner wife and little son of Main-st., are spending several weeks with Dr. Cole and wife, of Columbus, Ohio, where Robert is taking treatment.

Albert Boyce and family and Lawrence Myers and family, left Wednesday for a motor trip to Flint, Michigan, to visit their parents, Mr. Henry Myers and family.

The many friends of J. C. Williams, of Bullittsville, were surprised to hear of his marriage to Miss Eva Akin, of Petersburg, last week. They will make their home at Bullittsville.

The many friends here were surprised to hear of the wedding last Thursday of Melvin Eddins (Pete) to Miss Ola Wright, of Covington formerly of Tennessee. They will make their home in Covington.

Rev. J. Garber and family have returned from a delightful visit in West Va. He filled his regular appointment at the Baptist church and preached two excellent sermons last Sunday morning and evening.

Ed. Kraus and family are spending a few days with his brother Arthur Kraus and family of the Dixie Highway. The many friends of Ed.

are sorry to hear of the bad luck of losing his house and contents by fire last Saturday afternoon.

The many friends and relatives of Ernest Horton, of Hopeful neighborhood gave him a pleasant surprise Sunday when they all began to arrive at his home with well filled baskets of good eats to celebrate his birthday. The day was much enjoyed by every one in a social good time. At noon the table was spread in the yard under the shade trees.

About 50 guests were present.

(Too Late for Last Week)

Carl Anderson and wife will soon move to their new bungalow on the Dixie Highway.

Otto Boyce, of Covington, called on his brother Cy Boyce and family, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. John King, of Nonpareil Park, was the guest of relatives in Newport, Sunday.

Carl Anderson and wife were Sunday guests of his parents, Ed. Anderson and wife, of Limaburg.

Mrs. Cliff Boyce and children and Mrs. Ola Right, of Covington, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Cy Boyce.

Tom Corbin and wife, of Hamilton, Ohio, visited relatives here last week and attended the Florence fair.

John Powell Crouch and wife, of Covington, were week-end guests of C. W. Myers wife and son, of Main street.

Mrs. Geo. Fullilove, of Erlanger, has returned to her home after a visit to her daughter, Mrs. M. I. Baker, of Limaburg.

Mrs. J. T. Williams and daughter, Glen Rose, of Bullittsville, enjoyed a visit last week with her mother, Mrs. Ola Carpenter.

Mr. and Mrs. John Nead and children left Sunday for their home in Mt. Sterling, Ky., after spending the summer with his parents, Tom Nead and wife.

Harvey Mitchell and wife, of Philadelphia, Ohio, left Monday for their home after a week's visit with William Arnold and wife, and G. K. Kindard and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Chipman entertained at supper Saturday evening Mrs. Geo. Fullilove, of Erlanger, and Mr. and Mrs. H. Peck and two sons, of Dayton, Ky.

Fannie Clutterbuck and Mrs. Margaret Gross, of Crescent Springs, have returned home after a visit of two weeks with Chas. Chipman and family, of Dixie Highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Arnold, of Nonpareil Park, had for her guests Sunday G. K. Kindard and wife, of Erlanger, Russell Mitchell and wife, of Florence, Harvey Mitchell and wife, of Philadelphia, Ohio, and Rev. Wilford Mitchell and wife.

VERONA.

Several from this place will attend the State Fair at Louisville, this week.

Michaela Farrell, who has been confined to his bed with typhoid fever, is able to be out.

Farmers generally are very busy cutting and housing their tobacco, of which there is a good crop.

J. M. Powers is having his residence here repainted, which adds to the appearance very much.

Bro. Jackson and wife will move to Louisville the 20th of this month where he will enter the seminary.

The Graded School began here today (Sept. 11th) with a good corps of teachers and a large attendance.

Mrs. T. W. McClue departed this life Sept. 8th after several weeks of intense suffering of cancer of the liver. She leaves a husband and son.

Edgar McClure and many friends to mourn her death. She was a member of New Bethel church, where her funeral was held Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives. Rev. Jackson preached the funeral. The remains were interred in New Bethel cemetery. J. L. Hamilton had charge of the funeral arrangements.

"Remember the days of thy youth." You worked hard and received little pay, but now you want a small fortune for doing nothing.

PETERSBURG.

John Geisler was at work last week on the improvements at the school.

Frank Geisler is painting J. B. Berkshire and Mrs. Cropper's residences.

High School began Monday with a large attendance, R. H. Carter principal.

Joe Walston got the contract for conveying the school children to and from school.

Mr. Frank Miller and wife, of Indianapolis, were here last week visiting Mr. Bradburn and family.

The late rains have proved a blessing in many ways. Revived vegetation, grass and filled the empty cisterns.

Bud Moreland bought the soft drink cafe in Aurora of Ed. Loniaker and took possession on Labor day. His family will move there shortly.

There are more demands for houses than can be filled. People are selling their farms and stock and coming to Petersburg and getting rich.

Some ask what the news is this week in the Recorder. I tell them to send $1.50 and they will get the news 52 weeks during the year, which would only take a little over three pecks of potatoes for a year's reading.

Again the Death Angel visited town last Wednesday and removed from our midst William H. Hensley who had been a patient sufferer for the last two years. He was a true and faithful companion, a loving and indulgent father, a respected citizen and a brave soldier during the Civil war. He was 81 years 6 months and 20 days of age at the time of his death. Two daughters, Mrs. Dan Hoffman, of this place, and Mrs. Will Crisler of Lawrenceburg, Ind., and his wife survive. A brief funeral service was held at his home by Rev. R. H. Carter Friday at 2 o'clock p. m., after which the K. of P. Lodge took charge of the remains and placed in their last resting place in the cemetery here. It would be well for us all to try to emulate his foot-steps through this life.

BIG BONE.

Brady Anderson made a business trip to Burlington, Tuesday.

Miss Idamay Moore is visiting Miss Helen Hendrix in Oxford, O.

Mrs. Mary Ann Noel was the guest of Mrs. H. E. Miller, the first of the week.

Mrs. Mollie Ross was called to the city Sunday to see her son Tom who is very ill.

Mrs. Mary Howlett's sale Friday, was well attended and things sold very reasonable.

Charles Johnson visited his grandfather in Patriot, Ind., the latter part of the week.

Our school commenced Monday under the management of Mr. Elmer English of Walton.

Married Sept. 2nd, Mr. Forest Black and Miss Edith Dudgeon. We extend congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Vest and three children of Verona, were the guests of Douglas Moore and family, Friday.

BEECH GROVE.

Mrs. Geo. Smith and son George, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ryle.

David Williamson was the guest of his son Grant Williamson and family, last Monday.

Grant Akin has returned to his home in Rising Sun, after a visit to his aunt, Mrs. Don Williamson.

Mrs. Manly Ryle son and daughter, have returned home after a visit to her sisters at Florence and Union.

Beech Grove school opened Monday morning with Mrs. Josephy: Rice teacher. Miss Lutie Ryle will teach at Locust Grove.

CONSTANCE.

School is in progress with Mrs. Flora Tanner and Miss Maud Tanner teachers.

Concrete steps on the upper side of the pike are quite an improvement in this village. Mr. Klaser and Mr. Bogenstein have just completed them.

Prof. Horace Cleveland was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Riggs a few days week before last. He begins teaching this week at the Military school in Tenn.

FOXES HEAD LIST OF PUREBRED ANIMALS IMPORTED LAST YEAR

In the list of importations of purebred animals for which the U. S. Department of Agriculture issued certificates of pure breeding during the last fiscal year foxes stood at the top in numbers, dairy cattle were next, with dogs a close third. Beef cattle, horses, and sheep, formerly imported in large numbers, were almost in the same class with cats.

Very few horses have been brought in during recent years, and the number of beef cattle and sheep has decreased, partly on account of foot-and-mouth disease, which existed in England a part of the year. However, since the war fewer farm animals of all kinds have been coming into this country.

The total number of all kinds brought in during the year was 2,639. There were 967 foxes, all from Canada; 761 dairy cattle, mostly from the Channel Islands and Canada; 591 dogs, a large part of them from England, Germany, and Canada; 151 horses; 17 beef cattle; 42 sheep; and 20 cats.

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord

Discounting the "Discount" in Advance

You don't have to be a shrewd bargainer to get the bottom price on the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord.

Instead of listing it at a high price, to enable the dealer to attract you with a so-called "long discount," we list it as low as we profitably can.

You can see from the figures below that its advertised price is lower than the net price you are asked to pay for many "long discount" tires of unknown value.

We believe the average man would rather buy tires on this frank and open basis, and assure himself a product of recognized worth.

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord is made of high-grade long-staple cotton, and it embodies the patented Goodyear method of group-ply construction.

In design, materials and manufacture it is a representative Goodyear product, built to safeguard the world-wide Goodyear reputation.

It has a different tread from the famous All-Weather Tread Cord—a new tread with a deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern—and it sells for substantially less.

Compare these prices with NET prices you are asked to pay for "long discount" tires

30x3 1/2 Clincher.....	$12.50	32x4 Straight Side..	$24.50	33x4 1/2 Straight Side..	$32.15
30x3 1/2 Straight Side..	13.50	33x4 Straight Side..	25.25	34x4 1/2 Straight Side..	32.95
32x3 1/2 Straight Side..	19.25	34x4 Straight Side..	25.90	35x5 Straight Side..	33.80
31x4 Straight Side..	22.20	32x4 1/2 Straight Side..	31.45	35x5 Straight Side..	41.05

These prices include manufacturer's excise tax

Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord Tires are also made in 6, 7 and 8 inch sizes for trucks

FOR SALE BY

GEORGE PORTER

Burlington, Kentucky.

GOODYEAR

DISEASES PLAY HAVOC IN MANY SWINE HERDS

Lexington, Ky.—Infectious swine diseases, parasites and various other troubles are making it increasingly difficult for the Kentucky farmer to produce pork at a profit, according to reports being received by the veterinary department of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station from all over the state. Cholera, abortion, bowel troubles and intestinal trouble during the last few months, the reports indicate.

"Hogs should be vaccinated with both the serum and virus in all cases where symptoms and lesions indicate that the disease may be cholera," Dr. W. W. Dimock, head of the department said. "In early stages of the symptoms, a number of pigs may become infected and die provided the disease is cholera. Even though the disease is not cholera the cost of vaccination is not lost for the owner has an immune herd once he has vaccinated."

"Bowel troubles, which seem to be on the increase, have been investigated at the station for the last three years with the result that considerable progress has been made in controlling them. These troubles are most prevalent among shoats. As soon as trouble from this source becomes apparent, the animals should be given a purgative and then moved to clean sod pastures after the medicine takes effect. Plenty of fresh water, ground feed and the use of an intestinal antiseptic have been found to be helpful in controlling this trouble."

"Experiments are under way on a number of farmers in the state to determine whether or not abortion in swine can be controlled by the use of vaccines. A number of sows in different herds that aborted during spring have been vaccinated and rebred to determine the value of this treatment. The vaccine is furnished free by the station."

"The common round worm of hogs seems to be the most troublesome parasite, this worm being most serious in pigs from four weeks to five months old. Oil of chenopodium which may be purchased at any drug store, is said to give results equally as good as those obtained by the use of higher priced drugs. Two cubic centimeters of the oil of chenopodium are given with about 30 cubic centimeters of castor oil to a pig weighing from 40 to 100 pounds."

Public Sale.

I will sell at public sale at my farm on the Dobbins' Road, one-half mile south of the Frogtown Pike,

Saturday, Sept. 23d,

1922, Beginning at 1 o'clock.

The Following Property:

Three Work Horses, 4 No. 1 Cows, 2 No. 1 Brood Sows, 10 Shoats weighing 75 lbs. each, Spring Wagon and Harness, Chest of Tools, half interest in Rick of Hay, Stack of Mowed Oats, Cream Separator, Farming Implements, Buggy and Harness, Household Goods, and other articles.

Terms of Sale

All sums of $10.00 and under, cash; on all sums over $10.00 a credit of six months without interest will be given, purchaser to give note with good security, negotiable and payable in Union Deposit Bank, Union, Ky.

D. B. DOBBINS.

N. W. Burkett, Auctioneer.

Farms for Sale

Money to Loan on

Real Estate

J. L. KITE,

Burlington, Kentucky

Any Make of Battery

RECHARGED

75c

Rentals for any make of car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.

Dempsey Motor Car Co., Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L.

Wives should be kind to their husbands. They are worth as long as their money holds out.

BEANS IN CORN BUILD UP SOILS AT LOW COST

Lexington, Ky.—With corn and soybeans in the best stage for hogging off in practically all parts of the state, many Kentucky farmers are finding that growing the beans in the same row with corn offers a means of bringing about considerable soil improvement at small cost. Results being obtained by farmers in all sections of the state who co-operated with the extension division of the College of Agriculture in conducting demonstrations on their farms show that nitrogen valued as high as $11.50 was obtained thru the use of about 30 cents worth of bean seed.

The highest value in nitrogen produced during the summer that has been reported up to the present time was the $11.50 worth obtained by H. J. Miller, a Warren county farmer, who lives near Bowling Green. Another farmer in the same county who grew beans in corn obtained $5.44 worth of nitrogen from each acre of his beans while a third Warren county farmer, R. H. Meng, had soybeans that produced $8.16 worth of nitrogen an acre. Howard Menz, of the same county, obtained $6.43 worth of nitrogen from each acre of beans which he grew with corn.

Good stands of beans were obtained in each of these four cases despite the fact that the soybeans were grown with corn. In addition, each farmer reported that the yield of his corn had been reduced little if any by the beans. The stand of beans was heaviest on the farm of Mr. Miller where five bean stalks were found to every one of corn. Eighty per cent of the nitrogen produced, which is the most expensive plant food element required by Kentucky soils, will be returned to the land when the beans and corn are hogged down. In addition, it is estimated that the beans growing in the corn will produce 150 pounds more of pork an acre than is obtained when corn alone is hogged down.

The amount of nitrogen produced in the bean yield on each farm was determined from the fact that each 1,000 pounds of green beans contain about 6.8 pounds of nitrogen which was valued at 20 cents a lb. Two-thirds of this expensive plant food element was taken from the air, soils and crops specialists estimate. The amount of digestible feed produced by beans and corn growing together is said to be ten per cent higher than that produced when the beans and corn are grown separately.

FARMERS FIND CULLS DO NOT PRODUCE EGGS

Lexington, Ky.—Eighty hens culled from the flock of 180 Brown Leghorns owned by W. W. Hampton, an Oldham county farmer who lives near Goshen, failed to produce a single egg during the week after they were removed from the flock, according to a report which he has just made on the culling demonstration conducted on his farm by poultrymen of the College of Agriculture. Scores of reports being received on similar demonstrations conducted in all parts of the State during the last few weeks, the agricultural agents and county agents show that practically every poultry flock in the state contains a surprising percentage of boarder hens that can be disposed of without reducing the egg production of the flock.

During the week before culling the 180 hens in Mr. Hampton's flock produced a total of 180 eggs. During the week after the 80 boarder hens were removed, the 100 hens produced as many eggs as the 180 had produced during the week before culling.

Similar results were obtained by Mrs. Lee Kendall, who lives near Campbellsville, Taylor county, and who also had her flock culled as a demonstration for farmers. The county keepers in that section of the state. Fifteen hens removed from her flock of 48 Barred Plymouth Rocks because they showed the characteristic signs of being low producers failed to lay a single egg during the week after culling. During the week before culling, the 48 hens in the flock produced a total of 32 eggs while the 33 hens that were kept as layers produced 24 eggs during the week after culling.

Sixty hens in a mixed flock owned by Mrs. Charles Gentry, Fayette county, produced a total of 69 eggs during the week before the culling demonstration on her farm while the 50 hens that were kept as layers laid a total of 57 eggs during the week after culling. The 10 hens removed as culls failed to produce an egg during the week after they were removed.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this method of expressing our thanks to the good people of Petersburg for their kindness during the illness and death of our husband and father, W. H. Hensley. The Wife and Children.

Five thousand deputies will be sworn in to enforce the Daugherty injunction against the railroad strikers. That ought to protect jobs for some of those who are out of work as a result of the strike.

A magazine article asks "What can a Rich Man Do?" Well, among other things, he can get a seat in the Senate, if he's rich enough.

SCRUB COWS EAT PROFITS FAIR EXHIBIT WILL SHOW.

Lexington, Ky.—"Do you keep cows or do cows keep you?" will be one of the questions that will confront Kentucky farmers and dairymen when they visit the coming State Fair, according to N. R. Elliott, who is in charge of the educational exhibit which will be made by the extension division of the College of Agriculture. The question will form the main theme of the exhibit which will be made by the college dairy department to show why farmers and dairymen cannot afford to keep low-producing cows.

The college exhibit will be made up of twelve displays to show different phases of farm and home work being carried on over the State. As in former years, the exhibit will be housed in the grand stand building.

The exhibit of the dairy department will be built around the models of two cows—one a well-bred high-producing animal and the other a scrubby, boarder type of individual found on many farms. A huge bank book will be displayed over the models of the animals to show the profits that each type of cow returns to the farmer during a year. The records of the well-bred cow will show that the milk and cream alone from ten cows of the high producing type yield almost two and one-half times as much profit during the course of a year as that from ten cows of the scrub type. Feed records from the same farms will show that the ten poor cows consume as much a year as do the ten profitable cows.

The value of the well-bred cows will be further emphasized by other facts which will be displayed with the two models. The relative value of the calves from the well-bred and scrub cows, the amount of feed consumed during a year by each type of cow and the amount of labor required to take care of them will be shown by means of actual results obtained on the two farms.

DRAINS RECLAIM FIELD FOR MUEHLBERG FARMER

Lexington, Ky.—A tile drainage system installed at a cost of $3.02 an acre has enabled W. G. Duncan, who operates a farm near Greenwood, Muhlenberg county, to convert one of the poorest pieces of his land into the most productive, according to a report which he has just made on a demonstration conducted in co-operation with the extension division of the College of Agriculture.

Before being drained the 10-acre field had a number of seepage spots and was so wet that many parts of it could not be cultivated in the spring. A portion of it was drained naturally but despite this fact, the major part of the field was extremely wet during most of the season because of the dense clay subsoil. Previous to this, the field had never produced a crop yield that was large enough to pay for the cost of cultivation.

Now that the field is properly drained, Mr. Duncan says that it is one of the best ones on the farm. A heavy crop of soybeans produced on it during the summer is considered good evidence that the drainage system accomplished its work. The value of the system was further demonstrated during the early summer when no water was left standing on the field after a four-inch rain. The tile were installed at an average depth of three feet in laterals that were placed approximately 80 feet apart. The cost of $3.02 an acre included the cost of the tile, freight charges, and the labor of digging the trenches and laying the tile.

Many farmers are expected to drain their wet fields during the coming year as a result of similar demonstrations being conducted in all sections of the state. Farmers who are contemplating the installation of a drainage system are being urged to lay out their proposed lines and order the necessary tile at once so as to have them on hand when the best season for laying them arrives. The trenches are best dug during the winter and early spring when the ground is soft and labor plentiful.

If the area to be drained is more than seven or eight acres, or if the grade of the tile lines is less than three feet in every 100 feet, the drainage survey and the depth of the trenches at every 50-foot station should be determined from levels taken by an engineer, according to Earl G. Welch, farm engineering specialist of the college.

WHAT IS YOUR BOY DREAMING ABOUT?

Artists have frequently painted pictures of country boys dreaming of glittering futures in distant cities. They pictured the boys in their homely farm clothes, looking at some glorious vision of business buildings and commercial scenes far away and imagining themselves as becoming men of wealth.

Meanwhile such a boy is not usually much use about his home. His eyes are on too distant things. He has his visions come to little. If he has imagination, it should be cultivated by giving him little enterprising jobs of his own. Let him have his own garden or a few flower plants. Then perhaps instead of dreaming of distant New York or Chicago, he will think of the prize he could win in the juvenile exhibit. That's the kind of dream for the country boy.

RENTERS TURN ATTENTION TO FARM LEASE CONTRACTS

Lexington, Ky.—Many Kentucky farmers who operate rented land are now studying the problem of leasing contracts for the coming year, according to inquiries being received by the farm economics department of the College of Agriculture. The demand for information of this kind is being met thru the distribution of a special publication entitled, "Share Leasing Contracts for Kentucky Farms," which points out that the question of satisfactory leasing contracts is of considerable importance in view of the fact that about one-third of the farmers in the state are either renters or share croppers.

Members of the college economics department are urging that farmers in these two classes make early plans to acquaint themselves with lease contracts that will work out profitably both for the landlord and the tenant. Studies made by the department over a period of several years have brought to light rented farms in various parts of the state for which leasing contracts have been worked out that are profitable and satisfactory to all parties concerned.

By far the greater number of farm tenants in Kentucky raise tobacco or tobacco and corn on shares, the publication states. Some of the satisfactory conditions for raising tobacco and corn, wheat and hay on shares together with points on share renting for dairying are outlined. A model share lease that provides for a joint interest in tobacco, corn hay and hogs together with a tobacco, corn and live stock share lease are contained in the new publication.

The two general types of share cropping plans in use in Western Kentucky also are outlined together with a model lease for farmers in that section of the state. Considerable attention is paid in the new publication to the general form of the share lease and the fundamental points that need consideration when it is made.

ENCOURAGING FOOD PRODUCTION.

A big movement was made when the old time cattle shows were made the opportunity for spreading ideas of scientific food production. Formerly agricultural colleges were considered theoretical affairs by the farmers, and the advice of specialist professors was looked upon with some contempt. The "hog" colleges began to set up tents at cattle shows and would show one pile of ears of corn grown with scientific treatment, and one pile without. Even the most hard shelled farmer could see the difference with those shrewd old eyes of his. He began to prick up his ears and slide into the tent where these despised professors were lecturing. Thus ideas of better farming have spread until the county gets such results as the bumper crops of 1922.

RECORD HEIGHT REACHED BY WEATHER BUREAU BALLOON

A record height for the Washington district was reached recently by the balloon sent up by the Weather Bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture in connection with its observations of upper air conditions. The balloon was seen to burst at 22,590 meters, a height of about 13 miles, after being watched 123 minutes.

The aerological service of the Weather Bureau releases a balloon filled with hydrogen gas twice daily at 8 a. m., and at 3 p. m., from the roof of the Weather Bureau Building provided there is no rain. The object is to get the direction and velocity of wind movements at various elevations as far as the balloon can be observed. These balloons are small, about 2 1/2 feet in diameter when inflated, and made of the finest quality of uncolored rubber. The watching is done through a theodolite, and the time is kept by a clock which sounds an alarm every minute. The distance the balloon travels is calculated from known computations of how high a balloon of given weight will rise per minute.

The information obtained is useful to those interested in flying, and when recorded on charts showing conditions at various elevations for each of the 15 stations of the Weather Bureau scattered over the United States which make these particular observations it is an aid in the daily task of weather forecasting. An unusual point in connection with this record height reached on August 17 was the fact that, although the general drift of winds in the Washington district is from west to east, the prevailing winds on this day were from the east and northeast.

NOTICE TO PAINTERS

Bids will be received by the undersigned for painting the tinwork on the Court House and also painting the jail. Bids will be received until noon September 30th, 1922. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. Specifications may be had by calling on the undersigned.

C. A. FOWLER, Jailor.

By order of the Fiscal Court.

A noisy tongue is readily heard. So is a pig's grunt.

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

MISS LUCY SAY SHE YES!
KNOW AH KIN EAT
MO'N ENNY-BODY SHE
EVUH SEED, EN AH SPEC'
DAT SO, CEP'N AH AIN'
NEVUH HAD DAT MUCH
SOT BEFO' ME!!

Copyright, 1921 by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

SAVE THE FORESTS AND FOREST LANDS OF KENTUCKY

A Plea to the Citizens of the State.

Kentucky's forests are rapidly disappearing, and she is making no provision for re-forestation. Until the year 1912 forestry work in the State was under the Department of Agriculture, but practically nothing was being done. That year, however, the Legislature of Kentucky appropriated $15,000 annually to be used by a regular developed Forestry Commission.

The Legislature of 1920 abolished this appropriation. It also abolished the Commission and placed the Forestry Department under the Department of Agriculture with only $6,000 with which to do business. This small amount was so circumscribed by specifications that over one-half of it is useless for any constructive work. In fact, over one-half of this appropriation of $6,000 is turned back each year into the State Treasury because it is practically wasted if it is used. The small fund allowed by the Legislature of Kentucky cuts the State off from the use of national funds to supplement its own, so as to secure adequate protection from forest fires.

Indiana, Ohio and Illinois all have forestry commissions with ample funds and well developed plans. Naturally the public mind in these States is adjusting itself to a real constructive campaign for more trees, larger tracts of forests, and fire prevention in forest lands. While this is being accomplished north of the Ohio River, the work of educating the public in Kentucky is virtually at a standstill. This is especially disheartening as the mountains of the State are badly in need of replanting in forests, because these areas can never become good farming lands.

Blessed as Kentucky is with wonderful natural resources, it seems tragic that her forests should be allowed to go to waste without making some provision for the future. At the present rate of destruction Kentucky will soon be entirely without her valued wooded areas. The loss of forests is certain to mean more destructive floods, less revenue from lands which can only produce timber, and loss of no means least, the loss of beautiful wooded areas as playgrounds and outing places for the generations yet unborn.

W. C. HANNA,
State Commissioner of Agriculture.
F. C. DORSEY,
Chairman Agricultural Committee,
Kentucky Bankers Association.
E. R. WOODS,
President Kentucky Farm Bureau.
JAMES SPEED,
Kentucky Editor Southern Agriculturist.

RECHARGE ANY BATTERY 75c

RENTED BATTERIES FOR ANY MAKE CAR WHILE WE ARE RECHARGING OR REPAIRING YOUR BATTERY.
Dempsey Motor Car Co., Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

FIRST-CLASS Shoe Repairing

Mail Orders at my Expense. All work guaranteed. Mail your shoes to be repaired to A. D. LAWRENCE, - - Erlanger, Ky. 87 Lexington Pike. o-d-e-l-p

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE.

All persons having claims against the estate of Della Ute, deceased, will present the same to the undersigned properly proven according to law, and all persons knowing themselves indebted to said estate will please come forward and settle.
A. B. RENAKER, Executor.

FAITH IN THE UNDERTAKER

in his full appreciation of the dignity and delicacy of his calling—is essential to the peace of mind of surviving relatives and friends.

Only those who by character, habits and personality can command this confidence and respect, is fitted for the singular service.

This business always has been, and always will be, conducted on the basis of this belief

PHILIP TALIAFERRO,
Undertaker and Embalmer
Erlanger, Ky.

The Best Advertisement IS A PLEASED CUSTOMER

Eye-glasses Fit the face and Fit the sight the kind we sell.

Phone South 1746
WITH HUTCH, Jeweler
DR. N. F. PENN, 613 Madison Ave. - Covington, Ky.

Efficient, Service and Economy IS MY SLOGAN

C. SCOTT CHAMBERS
Embalmer and Funeral Director
WALTON, KENTUCKY.

WE WANT EVERY MAN in Boone and Kenton Counties

That has a farm large or small, or House and Lot to sell to list it with us and we will advertise and find a buyer if there is any.

The Wisenberger Real Estate Co.
BEN Phone South 6008 JOHN
515 Coppin Bldg. COVINGTON, KY.

Printed Stationery

for business people.
for professional people.
for farmers.
for every one who wants to be considered up to date and going strong

AT THIS OFFICE
ENVELOPES, LETTERHEADS, NOTEHEADS, STATEMENTS

Ready for Business.

The Farm Bureau Warehouse at Florence is now in full operation and will keep on hand all kinds of Feed, Flour, Wire Fencing, Coal, Etc.

Help Your Organization With Your Patronage.

PICNIC

At Harvest Home Grounds,
Saturday, Sept. 16th '22

Everybody—Old and Young are Invited
Dancing—Refreshments.
Music by Murphy's Jazz Band.
From 7:30 to 12 p. m.
Zimmer-McGlasson.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

Vol. XXXVII

Established 1875

BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY,

THURSDAY SEPTEMBER 21, 1922

$1.50 Per Year

No 50

UNDESIRABLE ALIENS REFUSED CITIZENSHIP

District of Columbia Judge Withholds Final Papers.

Refusal final citizenship papers by Justice Bailey of the District of Columbia Supreme Court, seven aliens are protesting at being the first examples of unsuccessful applicants for any other reason than failure to pass the required examination.

The men were shown to have used their citizenship in other countries as a means of avoiding service in the United States armed forces during the war, and it was proved that none of them served in the countries of their origin. The judge held that men who would serve neither their own country, because of residence in this, nor this country, because of citizenship in other countries, were not fit to become citizens of the U. S.

Legislative comment on the action of the judge has been very favorable, and some Senators have pointed out the importance of other jurists taking equal care and pains in granting final citizenship papers. In this connection, quotations have been made from a report of the House of Representatives Committee on Immigration and Naturalization which show the importance of safeguarding citizenship in the U. S. According to the report, a survey of 460 State institutions, a survey of 210,835 inmates, found 21.14 per cent of this fifth of a million inmates to be of foreign birth, and 44.09 per cent either of foreign birth or having at least one-third of total expenditures to the foreign stock which has arrived in the U. S. within this generation.

If the States on the average spend 21 per cent of their total revenues for maintaining inmates, about 7 per cent of the total revenue is spent in raising for degenerate and dependent foreign human stock.

THE NEW SCHOOL YEAR.

The real New Year for multitudes of children and young people is not January 1, but the day when school or college begins. Then is the time for their new resolves of effort.

One of the big problems of successful school management, is to keep the classes working together and prevent the slower pupils from falling behind. Where some of the work of the whole group must suffer. The bright students become tired of the slow progress, and may put their surplus energy into mischief. The capable teacher devotes her earnest effort to explain away the difficulties that perplex the more sluggish minds.

Parents are keenly ambitious in these times, and hate to see their children fall back. Some who have not fully kept up, attend study camps in summer, while others are given make-up tasks at home under a tutor or parental instruction. Many children who have required their special attention, have so proved by the effort that thereafter they should keep up.

Yet complaints are often heard that the schools drive their young people too hard. A nervous child who is doing the best he can but is worrying about his work, is evidently getting wrong treatment. It will do some of these no harm to drop back a year, and they should not feel any disgrace in it.

Other children would be able to do their work all right if they would play games and exercise in the open air all they want, instead of spending spare hours in aimless loafing. A child with a good vigorous body can usually do the work of the ordinary school course.

The RECORDER offers its best wishes for the new year of school, and hopes that the teachers will receive hearty home support and that the pupils will find the satisfaction that comes from well learned lessons.

A SUPERB RECORD OF BENEFICENCE.

It is now estimated that the total amount of money spent through the American Relief Administration for the starving people of Europe will total about $48,000,000. Here is a splendid gift, one that will be remembered through the ages to the credit of America.

Such an outpouring of money could not have been made a few years ago. At that time many people were not interested in making any gifts to foreign peoples. They took the selfish attitude that a starving man must be a citizen of the United States, before they would open up their tightwad purses and give him a cent.

The war made us feel differently. It showed us that the heart should not shut up when it comes to a national boundary, and that suffering and destitution in one land has harmful effects in all countries.

So far none of the corner loafers has expressed approval of the low skirt styles for women.

ERECTING ROAD SIGNS

With the hope of controlling hair brained automobile speeders public authorities and automobile agencies are placing many warning signs along the highways. While some dare devils can not be influenced by this or any other form of regulation other than some drastic penalty, yet these notices will effect the driving of most people and must reduce accidents.

The man who habitually pays no attention to such signs has no business to operate a car on the highways. If public sentiment were sufficiently active he would be frequently hauled before the authorities and lose his right to run a machine.

Warning signs of course should be erected with judgment. If a place is marked "dangerous" that can not fairly be called so, the effect is harmful, as speeders would get the notion that the notices could safely be ignored.

REVIVAL CLOSURE.

The revival meeting which had been in progress for two weeks at the Burlington Baptist church, closed last Sunday night, with twenty-five additions to the church—twenty by conversion and four by letter. Rev. Adams, pastor of the church, is a very earnest, logical and forceful expounder of the gospel, and during the short time he has been in the community has endeared himself, not only to the members, but to the citizens of the town and county. The baptizing of the twenty converts took place last Sunday afternoon, on Woolper creek in the presence of a very large crowd.

Rev. Adams left, Monday morning for Louisville, where he will resume his studies in the Baptist Theological Seminary. He will continue to fill his regular appointments at the Burlington church, during the school term.

Following are the names of those who united with the church:

FOR BAPTISM

Earl Smith, M. A. Yelton, Grover Jarrell, Wm. Davrainville, Chas. Birkle, Newton Sullivan Sr., Wilton Stephens, Franklin Huey, Kenneth Rue, Robt. Hensley, Elbert Rouse, Jno. P. Duncan, Garret Tolin, Mrs. Garnett Tolin, Helen Walton, Mrs. J. E. Smith, Zelma Rue, Elizabeth Hensley, Martha Kelly, Kathryn Huey.

BY LETTER

Joseph O. Huey, Otis Rouse, Mrs. Jos. Huey, Mrs. W. C. Delph.

COUNTRY WOMEN.

A good many people living in cities have been led to believe that farmer's wives are a discontented class of people, lonely amid isolated surroundings, and generally unhappy. Statistics have been quoted tending to show that a disproportionate number of farm women go insane.

The Farmer's Wife magazine recently asked this question to a large number of country women: "Do you want your daughter to marry a farmer?" Seven thousand answers were received and 94 per cent of these women said "Yes."

This proves clearly enough that life on the farm or country home is on the whole very pleasant and successful. By far the best opportunity for the country girl today is to marry a farmer's son, assuming of course he has substantial qualities and is personally worthy.

Such a choice assures the girl of the basic necessities of life. Periods of unemployment will not wipe out their income. If business depressions come, food will still sell. Even if their cash income is cut down, they can raise all their food on their home place, provide their own fuel, and pay rent themselves. They should sell enough of the place to provide taxes, clothing, an automobile, and necessary incidentals. And when good times come, farm products sell freely at good prices, and they make a substantial advance.

The old time isolation of rural life at which the women folks used to fret, has disappeared. The telephone gives them social life more intimate than that of the cities. The automobile places them closely in touch with the communities within easy driving distance. It is the choice life of the future and more and more girls are seeing it. Now the thing for them is to show their brothers and some other girl's brothers, that this thing is so.

READ IT CAREFULLY.

In this issue will be found a notice to contractors for the construction of that part of the Dixie Highway from Florence to Richmond. If you want to bid on the work don't fail to read it carefully before bidding.

NOT PROVING A SUCCESS

Consolidated schools are not proving as successful as was expected, and the little red school house will be used.

If you are looking for something nothing, trouble is easy to find.

WASHINGTON COMMENT.

"A General Strike."

Do you remember, grown-up-man-who-reads-this, when you climbed up the long, long stairs to the dark and mysterious attic? And the other children, told you to watch out for the "bogie man?" And you jumped and shivered and shook with terrified delight?

There wasn't any "bogie man" really. It was just a dear figment of childish imagination.

Nor is there any real grown up "bogie man," not even when he masquerades by the name of "General Strike." There are those hot-headed and under-educated members of society who would like to frighten the rest of these agitators. But they forget, they all have some, and America, where all have some, and many have much, opportunity to learn; where standards of living are high; where men are safe and secure in their homes; where a man's house is his castle, and each man's wife and children his to protect and love and keep, and never a man or a Government to say him nay.

The American... the true, rabid, patriotic, flag-loving, land-loving, home-loving American, can no more be led into making himself a part of a Bolshevik bogey man than he can be led into mass murder for the establishment of a soviet, a la Russia.

The indignation, the revolt, the emphatic negatives to talk of a general strike, came first of all from American workmen, who are Americans, first, and members of a union, second, or organization only after they have expressed their Americanism and their belief in, and adherence to, American principles and the American Government.

Our childish tormentors could never produce their "bogie man." As long as Americans are Americans first, no agitator can produce the General Strike bogey man!

It is always much easier to say of anything "this is wrong" than to say of the same thing "this is the way it should be done."

Destructive criticism is easy. Constructive criticism is difficult. It is simply enough to ask what is the matter with the church? or "what is the trouble with religion?" and as simple to answer, "it is old fashioned" or "it isn't modern enough" or "it lacks courage" or some other complaint which makes no suggestion.

Of course, there is nothing the "matter" with religion. The belief in a Supreme Deity, and worship of that Deity is an ingrained human fundamental. The "matter" is not with the religion, but with the means taken to spread, to teach, to use that religion.

And the "matter," to many people who try to think constructively is that those in authority in the churches place too much emphasis upon the mechanics of religion and not enough on the spiritual things of that religion. Church fathers, elders, deacons, and dignitaries meet and spend precious time discussing what words to leave in and what to take from the ritual; they waste time and effort trying to decide whether this ban shall be removed and that one put on, while people hunger to be taught of God.

Let the churches forget internal fights over nonessentials, and devote new and better ways of teaching men and women the spirit of true religion, and it will be the Sunday morning picture house manager who waits that the church takes all his audience, not the clergyman who sorrow that his flock would rather see a picture than listen to him!

SCHOOL TEACHERS

The new school year brings back the bright faced group of women girls who teach in the public schools. Formerly regarded as an old maidish and bookish kind of person, the modern school teacher has developed into a young person whose charms considerably agitate the masculine heart.

Proof of this is found in the rapid change that takes place in school teaching forces. Constantly the superintendents are having to find new ones, since these girls disappear so fast into the state of matrimony. These girls do not commonly marry the kindred plates of the Smart Set, but they know enough to pick solid and substantial men.

Many school teachers may say this is an overdrawn picture, as they lead quiet, hard working lives in places where they are not known and have few friends. There are many of this type also. Whatever their temptations, they are doing some of the finest work of the community, and are entitled to much honor and social recognition.

Some people seem to think they are better off on Sunday getting smashed up on the motor roads, than they would be sitting quietly in a church pew and listening to a uplifting sermon.

DINNER TIME

There has always been considerable discussion in families and among medical men, as to whether the heartiest meal of the day should be eaten at noon or at night. Some light on this question is given by a canvass made of the views of physicians by the "Medical Review of Reviews."

It will be something of a shock to the millions of conservative people who still follow the old plan of having dinner at noon, that only seven physicians represented in this canvass favor the hearty mid day meal. The general sentiment was that breakfast should be heavy, while the noon day lunch should be light, which brings the big meal of the day to the night.

It seems to be considered in many circles more fashionable to have dinner at night. This point of view may have started from the fact that in large cities a great body of people are away from home at noon.

Their offices or shops are at some distance from their homes, hence they naturally patronize restaurants and lunch rooms for their noon day meal. Millions of them eat out of the traditional dinner pail or the modern thermos bottle.

Naturally when all these folks return to their homes at night they desire a hearty meal. As city manners frequently set the pace for country customs, many people who formerly had the old time noon day dinner, have moved their heavy meal over to six o'clock, to conform to the prevailing style, though the whole family may return home at noon.

Some doctors used to say that people with weak digestion did better to eat a light supper and take their hearty meal at noon. But the canvass referred to above indicates that the night dinner idea is spreading. Custom and style often govern such matters, and many people who have a sneaking preference for the hearty noon day meal will feel they must have the late dinners to keep up with the game.

LITTLE MEN.

The word "dwarf" carries an undesired stigma, for, except for height and weight many dwarfs are perfectly normal both in form and in intellect. To distinguish between a small person and a dwarf is hard. Anyone below three feet in height certainly is abnormal; perhaps three feet six inches should mark the small man from the dwarf.

Folklore and tradition include many references to races of pygmies that Homer and Herodotus have described as well as the fairies, gnomes, elves, and other little folk of song and story. People today regard them as being mythical, but Stanley's discovery of a race of pygmies in Africa proves that the tradition is based on fact. Small races of that sort are probably the result of inbreeding, which, aided perhaps by insufficient food and unhygienic surroundings, is known to cause animals to decrease in size. In our large cities we see examples of inbreeding in certain groups of our foreign population who live in colonies.

Just what causes sporadic cases of dwarfism like Gen. Tom Thumb, Commodore Nutt, and other celebrities of a former generation is not known; probably the cause is some deficiency in the secretion of the pituitary or some deficiency in the secretion of the thyroid gland. In another form of dwarfism—that which is associated with idiocy, and which is known as cretinism—the cause is deficiency in the secretion of the thyroid gland. In some cases dwarfism is congenital; in some it is owing to arrested growth.

Besides the ordinary dwarf and the idiot there is another form which is owing to arrested growth of the bones of the extremities and of the face. With persons of that sort the legs and the arms are short, but the bones are thick in proportion to their length and usually are more or less bowed; the head, however, is large, for the growth of the bones of the skull is not arrested. Fortunately, the muscular system is well developed.

Unlike giants, dwarfs are usually long-lived—at least they do not die early merely because they are dwarfs. As yet no treatment is known for under-sized children except feeding with thyroid and pituitary gland extracts. In the case of cretins the thyroid extract, if the use of it is begun early, will effect a cure.—Ex.

NOTICE OF ELECTION

The annual election of the Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Co. will be held at their office in Burlington, Ky., Monday, October 2, 1922. All persons desiring their name on the official ballot notify me at once.

R. B. HUEY, Secretary, Burlington, Ky.

R. B. Alpbach resigned as Oil Inspector of Boone County, effective July 1, 1922, and Robt. C. Walton, was appointed to fill the vacancy.

CARD OF APPRECIATION

Burlington, Ky., Sept. 18, 1922.
Burlington, Ky.,
My Dear Sir:

I desire to express to your office force my personal appreciation of the fine spirit shown by you in connection with my efforts in our community, looking to the betterment of our people religiously. For you personally and for each man who works with you, I have a great big "thank you."

It is humanly impossible for me to rid myself of the debt under which you and the people of your community have placed me. Our program has been community wide in its plan, and indeed there has come back a community response. This is for the good of all of us. I rejoice in it. And why shouldn't it be so? Surely there can be unity of effort for the highest things of life.

In addition to the numerical increase in church membership, I desire to call special attention to the fact that during the two weeks just closed our people reported nearly ten thousand chapters read in the Bible. This is a healthful sign; this the greatest twentieth century need. Also, our young men have organized themselves into a Bible Class—twenty-five strong, with a community wide program.

Of the free-will offering made to me of $250.00, part ($76.00) given by the men of Burlington who, for the most part, are not members of my church, means most to me. I am deeply conscious of my unworthiness of such tokens of appreciation and confidence from you men.

The best I can offer in service to Burlington is but a mere pittance in comparison with what my heart feels that I owe you. My best wishes to you and to all our people.

Respectfully,
W. W. ADAMS.

FALSE PRETENSES

Carl Belding, of Ludlow, Ky., was arrested last Friday by Deputy Sheriff L. T. Utz under a warrant charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses. Belding is accused of collecting money from W. Busby money under the agreement that Busby's garage was to be one of the service stations of the Cincinnati Motor Club, and Busby was also to be a member of the club. Busby says that he paid to Belding $10.00 and finds that Belding is not connected with the motor club, and that Belding not only defrauded him but attempted to defraud others. Belding was released under a $1,000 bond signed by C. C. Edmonds, of Covington. Belding's examining trial will be held in Burlington Sept. 30th, 1922.

THE COUNTRY SCHOOL'S YEAR.

The country town and the city have this in common, that at about the same date in early fall the school houses open up again, and the young folks resume their study.

The country school does not commonly have the facilities of the big city school houses. The majority of the country schools are small affairs, without the enthusiasm that goes with big numbers and without the help of fine equipment.

But they usually have one thing that city schools lack, and that is a group of children that have been trained to work and are ambitious to learn. This makes a tremendous difference in the atmosphere and achievement of a school. When those youngsters finish their courses, they have usually made the best of their opportunities, which it not always the case in fine and elaborate city educational plants.

120TH ANNUAL MEETING.

The 120th annual meeting of the North Bend Association of Baptists closed a very interesting two days meeting at Union, last Thursday, and were highly entertained by the good people of that neighborhood.

Since the organization of the Association meetings have been held with one of the churches in the district, but, we understand that there is a movement on hand to have meetings held at one certain point in the district hereafter, which if successful will not make it so hard on any one church.

At the close of the conference Rev. L. L. Henson, pastor of First Baptist church, Covington, was elected Moderator, Rev. A. H. Ellis, pastor of South Side Baptist church, Covington, was chosen Asst. Moderator, and W. T. Perry, Covington, was re-elected Secretary and Treasurer.

Rev. J. C. Bow, of Louisville, urged the Baptist throughout the south to raise $75,000.00 for educational and missionary purposes. Reports of churches in the conference were approximately $108,000.

A large part of the tobacco crop was put in the house last week.

A WEEK'S NEWS.

The noise of a tongue indicates the wisdom of the brain.

E. E. Dixon, of Richmond neighborhood, was a business visitor to Burlington, last Friday.

Mr. Jack Frost is expected to make this part of the country a visit most any time in the near future.

The folks who can't stand digging in the dirt, usually go to places where they have to do a lot of digging in their pockets.

Carl Botts and E. R. Duncan were in Detroit, Michigan, last week. They drove new automobiles from Detroit to Cincinnati.

Any way the tin can tourists don't have to worry about the duty of tipping every body they see in the hotels along the route.

The congressmen seem to be in the position where they don't dare work at Washington, and don't dare stay near their districts.

The Burlington and Florence pike has been scarified and drained from Burlington to Florence, and has improved that road wonderfully.

Hon. R. C. Green, of Walton, President of the Walton Bank and Trust Co., was in Burlington last Thursday transacting business.

These are times when the unemployed folks in the cities come back to the country, while Father remarks "Kill the prodigal, the calf returns."

Miss Sallie Rogers spent several days last week at Blanchester, Ohio, where she attended an Association of Primitive Baptist in session at that place.

Many men are not able any longer to shine their own shoes. They should look out also lest they overdo as the result of dressing themselves without assistance.

A writer on fashions says there is no good reason why girls should continue to wear short skirts. Lots of girls, however, seem to feel that they have two very good reasons.

Fewing to the success of some automobiles in throwing railroad trains off the track, the movement to go over crossings ahead of the locomotives seems to be becoming more popular.

The saving of the tobacco crop is progressing rapidly, some of our best farmers already being done cutting and housing. Considering the drought, the quality of the weed is very good.

H. M. Holladay, of Idlewild neighborhood, was a business visitor to Burlington, last Thursday. While in town he called at the Recorder's office and had his name placed on our list of readers.

For the longest flight in a motorless airplane a Berlin newspaper has offered a prize of 100,000 marks. That would be just about enough to enable the winner to buy a postal card to write home announcing the victory.

John W. Hogan, formerly one of the good citizens of Union neighborhood, but now of Erlanger, and Mr. Wm. Wilson, a State Revenue man, of Covington, were in Burlington a few hours last Thursday afternoon.

The Federal census is generally regarded as being the ultimate truth. In 1920 it shows there were 1,060,858 working girls between the ages of 10 and 15 years of age. On the face of these returns, child labor has been cut nearly in half since 1910.

Sale of the personal property of Mrs. Minnie Beemon at her home last Friday afternoon was attended by a good sized crowd and things sold at fair prices. Mrs. Beemon and daughter will make their home with Mrs. Beemon's nephews, William and Leonard Hewitt, over on Woolper Heights.

Our old friend, L. S. Beemon, from out on the Burlington and Florence pike, was a caller at this office, one day the latter part of last week, and for one who has passed his four-score-and-ten, is still hale and hearty and seems to be enjoying life. He can sit and read the finest of print without glasses.

As an evidence of the intense heat that prevailed in this locality the past few months, a unique curiosity was brought to this office one day last week by Lloyd Weaver from off his farm down on Gunpowder creek. This is an ear of popcorn in which many of the grains are popped open—the same as if they had been popped in a popper. A lot of many people may not believe it was popcorn, but we have the ear on exhibition at our office.

SOYBEANS PROVE WORTH TO MORGAN COUNTY MEN

Lexington, Ky.—Soybeans have proved their worth to farmers in another Kentucky county, according to R. L. Stephenson, soils and crops specialist of the College of Agriculture, who recently returned from Morgan county where the beans were grown for the first time this summer. In view of the good showing which the beans have made as soil improvers and a hay crop it is probable that the acreage seeded in the county will be increased next year.

A few Morgan county farmers planted the soy in their corn for soil improvement purposes while others seeded the beans broadcast for hay. Good results were obtained in both cases. Large numbers of nodules, that contain the bacteria capable of drawing nitrogen from the air, were found on the roots of the plants indicating that a considerable amount of this valuable plant food will be added to the soils of the county by the soybeans.

Cowpeas formerly constituted the chief legume crop grown in the county but in many cases the beans have given better results this year than the peas. Despite the fact that most of both the beans and peas were grown on good bottom land, the soybeans demonstrated that they were better able to withstand the drought experienced throughout the state this year. One skeptical farmer in the county who was growing the beans and peas side by side to determine which was best suited for his land produced about 3,000 pounds of peas and 4,000 pounds of beans an acre.

Beans being grown in the same row with corn are probably giving the greatest satisfaction since farmers of the county have found that this is an economical method of supplying humus and nitrogen to improve their depleted soils. A large part of the bottom lands of the county must be seeded to corn year after year. By growing beans with the corn and sowing a cover crop in the fall to prevent erosion and leaching and to furnish a crop to plow under in the spring, the fertility of the Morgan county lands can be more effectively maintained than in any other way.

POULTRY CULLING CALENDAR.

Culling demonstrations will be held on the following farms on dates and time named below:

MONDAY SEPT., 25th

W. R. Morris, Erlanger, Rural Road 10:30 a. m.
Harve L. Tanner up Geo. Rouse Creek 1:00 p. m.
Mrs. Stanley Conrad, Hebron and Limaburg pike 2:30 p. m.
William Crigger, Hebron pike, 4:00 p. m.

TUESDAY SEPT., 26th

Peggy Teet, Verona, 9:00 a. m.
J. T. Edwards, Verona, 10:30 a. m.
John Tom Roberts, Verona, 1:00 p. m.
Mrs. Betty Hamilton, Verona, 2:30 p. m.

WEDNESDAY SEPT., 27th

Frank Scott, Rabbit Hash River Road 9:00 a. m.
Bob Hodges, East Bend 10:30 a. m.
Mrs. J. Colin Kelly, Rabbit Hash, 1:30 p. m.

THURSDAY SEPT., 28th

Mrs. Dick Uitz, Burlington North Bend Road 8:30 a. m.
Mrs. Edgar T. Ayler, Union pike 10:30 a. m.
Mrs. Jerry Dixon, Dixie Highway, 1:30 p. m.

Mrs. Goebel Stephenson, Dixie Highway, 3:30 p. m.
Mr. J. R. Smith, Poultry Department, Lexington, will assist in these demonstrations. Perhaps you do not know that one-third of your hens are loafers. Don't let them fool you any longer. This is the proper time of year for culling. We cannot reach every flock, but are anxious that everyone attend one of these demonstrations and learn to pick out the loafers. Fifteen to twenty-five persons should attend each demonstration.

W. D. SUTTON,
County Agent

Railway train service between Oklahoma City and Tulsa was held up for several days recently by the drilling of a gas well some 150 feet from the tracks. The well proved to be a "gas" well and the escaping gas was so thick over the railway that it was feared operation of trains through it might result in ignition and consequent loss of life and property.

The Amalgamated Shoe Workers of America organized in Boston last June as a consolidated organization, including all branches of the shoe trade and many independent unions under one head, is approaching the 100,000 mark in its membership.

James W. Huey was awarded $5 blue and nine second premiums on the Barred Rocks that he exhibited at the State Fair.

Maurer & Ryle, have sold their store in Bellevue to W. E. Yelton.

The days of courtship are when man is what he isn't.

RADIO RALF AND HIS FRIENDS---

I MUST GET RALF INTERESTED IN SHAKESPEARE'S WRITINGS AS HE GROWS UP—AND NOW IS THE TIME TO BEGIN!!

RALF, WHO WROTE HAMLET?

COME, COME! YOU KNOW WHO WROTE HAMLET!

THE LITTLE RASCAL—T'LL BET HE DID—HE'S ALWAYS UP TO SOMETHING!!

BASE BALL.

Petersburg came up last Saturday afternoon with a ball team that was prepared to take into camp Kirkpatrick's warriors, and for a while it looked like the Burlington team would do the taking, but they could not go the route, so the strong aggregation drought by manager Gordon won the game. The score was 3 to 2 in favor of the Burlington team until the 8th inning, when Christy the first man up tripped, followed by errors of omission as well as commission, of the Burlington team, and resulting in three runs for the visitors. Black and Christy pitched good games but Black's support failed at critical times. The score by innings follows:

Innings 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9—T
Petersburg 0 1 0 0 1 0 3 0—5
Burlington 2 1 0 0 0 0 0 0—3

Home Runs—Ryle, Cinner.
Three base hits—Shinkle, Christy, Kelly.

Two base hits—Nixon, Christy.
Struck out by Black 13, by Christy 12, bases on balls off Christy 3.

A large and enthusiastic crowd witnessed the game. Squire Stephens is a good roofer for his club but Eugene Berkshire is a roofer without a peer.

Hebron will play Burlington next Saturday. Hebron has a strong team and Manager Kirkpatrick will have to present a strong line-up to defeat the Hebron boys.

Aubrey Finn pitched for Williams-town against Warsaw last Sunday at Williams-town, and won his game by a score of 7 to 3.

Taylorport was defeated by Miamtown, last Sunday, at Miamtown by a score of 8 to 1.

MARKETS

Butter—Creamery 34-36c
Dairy butter 30c.
Apples $2.50 to $4.00 barrel.
Potatoes, white $2 to $3.50 barrel.
Sweet potatoes $2.50 to $3 barrel.
Hams, sugar cured 25 to 27c lb.
Breakfast bacon 25 to 27c pound.
Dry salted sides 12 1/2c pound.
Lard 12 to 12 1/2c pound.
Wheat $1.15.
Corn 66 1/2 to 67c.
Oats 42c.
Eggs 78c.
Bran $2.50.
Middlings 23.00.
Hogs $7.75 to $10.05.
Steers $7.75 to $10.75.
Cows and Heifers $4.00 to $9.50.
Feeders $5.60 to $8.25.
Fat Calves $11.50 to $13.50.
Feal Lambs $13.00 to $14.00.
Ewes $3.75 to $7.00.
Poultry $2.50.
Chickens 5 lbs. and over 26c.
Chickens 4 lbs. and over 18c lb.
Ducks 22c pound.
Geese 16 cents pound.
Guineas $3.00 dozen.

ERLANGER FAIR ASSOCIATION
ELECTS OFFICERS

At a meeting of the directors of the Erlanger Fair Association, last Friday night, the following officers were elected: Polk Laffoon, President; D. E. Castleman, Vice-President; Alex M. Bower, Secretary and Treasurer; J. B. Dillon, L. A. Bentler, A. A. Shearer, Harry Hartke, John Allison, Dr. James P. Riffe, Louis Fritz and C. E. Quick, directors.

ROUTE REVERSED

The Postoffice Department at Washington has ordered a reverse of Rural Route 1—the carrier now making the trip out the Petersburg pike, returning via Bellevue pike. This was done in order to relieve the carrier of the heaviest part of the mail on the first part of the route.

W. E. Yelton has purchased the store of Maurer & Ryle at Grant, and will have a sale at his farm on the Bellevue and Petersburg pike, near the bridge across Woolper creek October 10th.

The Peoples Deposit Bank has installed an Arcola Hot Water Heating Plant, and they will have no trouble keeping the banking rooms comfortable regardless of the weather.

Mrs. B. F. Rudy, of Paris, Illinois, Mrs. Schmuck and Mrs. Kate Lewis, of Norwood, Ohio, were calling on Miss Mary A. Thompson, Tuesday morning.

DOLLAR BILLS SHOW BEST METHODS OF FEEDING HOGS

Lexington, Ky.—Money literally talked to farmers who attended the recent Kentucky State Fair in showing them the wide difference in profits per acre that are obtained from different methods of fattening hogs for the market. One hundred twenty-five $1 bills, valued into four equal lots, were displayed in glass cases by the animal husbandry department of the College of Agriculture to show the relative value of different methods of hog feeding as determined in experiments conducted on the agricultural experiment station farm. Practically every farmer who passed through the grandstand building where the college exhibits were housed stopped to examine this striking display and study the wide range in profits obtained from the different methods.

Forty-eight bills were displayed in the first case which pointed out that hogging down corn and feeding tankage in self feeder had proved to be the most profitable method of producing pork. The $48 represented the profits obtained from one acre by means of this method of feeding. The next case displayed 35 bills to show that hogging down corn and soybeans grown in the same row had not proved as profitable as the corn and tankage combination. The next case displayed an even smaller number of dollars, only 25 being exhibited in this one to show the profits obtained from an acre when corn alone was hogged down as a method of producing pork. Soybeans hogged down and supplemented with corn hand fed in amounts equal to two and one-half per cent of the total live weight of the animals presented a weak argument, as a pork producing combination. The case representing this combination contained only 14 bills to show the profits obtained from an acre by this method of feeding.

A typewritten page passed out to farmers who were interested in the exhibit showed the first combination had produced 100 pounds of pork with less than half of the others the cost in this case being $4.79. One hundred pounds of pork produced by hogging down corn and soybeans cost $6.06 while 100 pounds produced when corn alone was hogged down cost $6.44. Hogging down soybeans and hand feeding corn produced 100 pounds of pork at a cost of $10.

J. W. CLEEK ELECTED
DELEGATE BY BURLEY-POOL

At the election of members of the Burley Tobacco Pool held at the Farm Bureau, last Saturday, J. W. Cleek, of Beaver, was elected County Delegate over C. O. Hempling by a vote of 229 to 140—only 369 votes being cast out of a membership of over 1200. The delegates chosen Saturday met at Williams-town Monday and elected a director for the district.

ALEXANDER GRAHAM BELL

The death of Alexander Graham Bell brings reflections upon his service in the progress of humanity. Surely he should be ranked one of the greatest contributors to the spread of knowledge.

Today we are apt to accept the telephone as just something quite common and not at all thought about. Indeed, there will be many ready to classify it as a public nuisance, at least, on occasion, as Bell himself did.

Yet it is quite obvious that without the telephone we could not now run our every-day affairs under the methods which have grown since Bell patented his device, in 1876, after discovering its principle while straightening a tangle of wire and magnets in his little workshop.

The wireless has come, and the radio, and the phonograph, and telegraphy by wire has been perfected so that many messages can be sent by operators over a single strand simultaneously. But none of these achievements, as far as least, is to be compared with the telephone in its adaptability for the dissemination of information, particularly within a community.

Certainly a part of Bell's monument should be the eternal gratitude of housewives on farms, to cite one class benefitted by his work. He put them in touch with the world outside, made it possible for them to know what goes on each day, instead of each week or month. He did much to make their isolation bearable—Finance and Industry.

FOR SALE ETC

For Sale—During September Barred Rock cockerels—cockerel bred, parent stock, direct from Bradleys. $2.50 and up according to size. Also some choice cross-bred cockerels.

FLORA G. ARNOLD,
Petersburg, Ky., R. D. 1.
02sept—2tp

NOTICE

I will haul passengers from Rabbit Hash to Covington, on Monday and Wednesday of each week—auto for hire at all times.

M. B. RICE,
Grant, Ky., R. D.
02sept28—pd

STOCK EWES

Will put out 25 to 100 good stock ewes on shares to a good sheep and lamb man. Will S. B. Jones, Union Stock Yards, Cincinnati, Ohio.
05oct—4t

For Sale—Stearns Vulcanizing outfit complete, air compressor, tank buffer, motor 2 horse. A complete shop outfit cost $500 will sell for $225. J. E. Snyder, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 3. Telephone 184, Burlington.
02sept—pd

WANTED—Good tenant for 1922. R. B. Huey, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 1.
02sept—tf

We give 20 per cent cash discount or to reliable parties of the regular retail price on Columbia Gramofones, Starr Grand Pianos, Upright Pianos, Player Pianos and Starr Phonographs. Free delivery made anywhere. Write for catalog.

RICE PIANO CO.,
Aurora, Indiana.
0-jan1

NOTICE

We have been appointed the authorized sales and service station for the Willard Battery for Boone county. Also do recharging and repairing on all makes of Batteries. Work guaranteed.

DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO.,
Erlanger, Ky.

WANTED

Hay to bale. Prices reasonable. P. H. Mathews, Bullittsville, Ky. Phone 203-x
29june tf

For Sale or Trade—For young stock, 10 year old sorrell saddle mare, road cart, 32 bushel of seed wheat. Harold Beemon, Florence, Ky.
01sept—pd

NOTICE

All tax in the Bellevue Graded School District are now due and can be paid at the Citizens Deposit Bank Grant, Ky. Penalty and 6 per cent will be added if not paid before December 1, 1922.

W. B. ROGERS,
Treasurer.
02sept28—4t

FOR SALE

Eight-horse Power International Gasoline Engine International Feed Grinder. Small mill for grinding Table

All in first-class condition—will sell quick for $125.00.

CALVIN CRESS,
Union, Ky.

LOST

At Bullittsburg church on Sunday Sept. 17th, 1922, watch. Finder will please return to Allie Winston, Bullittsville, Ky.

For Sale—Ten nice shoats, will weigh 100 pounds each. W. E. Connelly, Union, Ky.

For Sale—Barred Rock cockerels. $1.50. Lucy Gaines, Burlington R. D. 3.

For Sale—Chesterwhite sow and seven 80-pound shoats. B. D. Rice, McVillie, Ky.
02sept—2t

FIRE WOOD FOR SALE

100 ricks—16 inch wood ready for delivery. Will cut any length desired, $8.25 per rick at Harvest Home grounds.

H. R. LEIDY,
C. H. YOEUELL

NOTICE

Beginning the first of October I will receive cream once a week—Burlington on Tuesday and at Union on Thursday.

J. O. HUEY.

HEBRON THEATRE--Next Saturday

Monte Blue in

"The Kentuckians"

Mack Sennett Comedy

Admission 22 Cents,

Children 10 Cents

War Tax Included

THE HOME RADIO

How to Make and Use It

By A. HYATT VERRILL

XVI. SIMPLE CRYSTAL DETECTOR RECEIVING SET

A very simple and effective little set (Fig. 43) under favorable conditions and with a good aerial, will pick up the broadcast music, signals and other sounds from stations at considerable distances. No specific range for this or any other set can be given, for the efficiency of any set depends upon a great many conditions and influences. The length and height of aerials, the proximity of high buildings, electrically charged cables or wires, the perfection of insulation of aerial adjustment of instruments; all affect the range of a receiving set and, in addition, there are climatic and other conditions to be taken into consideration.

In the diagram A represents the aerial, which should be a single wire as nearly 150 feet in length as possible and as high as it can be placed. B is the ground which should be made by scraping a spot on a gas, water or radiator pipe and soldering the wire in place. C is a variable condenser in the ground lead, and for this set should be about .0005 microfarads. D is the crystal detector. E the telephone head set and F a variometer.

The variable condenser and variometer may be purchased ready-made from any dealer in radio supplies and while they may be made at home yet it is far more satisfactory and about as cheap to purchase the stock instruments. The same is true of the crystal detector and head set. You should, however, be careful in selecting the galena crystal to be used with such an outfit as this mineral varies greatly in its sensitiveness. The best plan is to purchase a pound or two of the crystals and test a number of pieces by means of a buzzer. You will probably find that while some crystals are absolutely useless others are fair and a few are very sensitive. To make up such a set is very simple, as the various parts are merely connected with insulated copper wire, as shown in the figure, using binding posts which may be purchased for a few cents. The whole may then be mounted on a piece of fibre-board or bakelite or it may be set up on a neat board or block and enclosed in a case with a hinged cover. Such a set, including all connections, wires, insulators for aerial, etc., should not cost over $20, and will be found far superior to many ready-made sets costing much more.

Crystal Detectors and How to Make One.—The crystal detectors used in sets such as described are of various forms, Fig. 44, but in all the principle is the same and they all consist of a crystal cup or holder, binding screws and an adjustable contact of fine wire. They are not expensive instruments and it is usually easier and cheaper to purchase them ready-made than to make them, but they are very easy to construct and any boy can make a practical detector in a few hours. One of the simplest is shown in Fig. 45, and consists merely of a fiber base, a strip of brass about .16 or .18 inch thick bent in the form shown, a brass plate which can be moved from side to side on a pivot, to hold the crystal; a fine coated wire and binding posts. The plate holding the crystal is connected with one post and the brass strip holding the wire to the other post. If possible, use platinum wire for the contact, but this is not essential.

Notice to Contractors.

Sealed bids will be received by the State Highway Commission at the office of the State Highway Engineer, Old Capitol Building, Frankfort, Kentucky, until 2:00 p. m. on the 27th day of September, 1922, for the improvement of the Lexington-Covington Road from Richmond, station 224 plus 00 to Florence, station 491 plus 96.8 in Boone county, a distance of approximately 5.1 miles.

This road is officially known as State Project No. 6 Sec. A on the State Primary System in Boone county. This project is also known as Federal Aid Project No. 82.

This improvement will consist of sloping the road constructing necessary drainage structures and surfacing it to a width of 18 feet with Reinforced Concrete or Rock Asphalt or Bituminous Concrete, Topsoil Mix on concrete base in accordance with approved plans and specifications.

Instructions to bidders, forms of proposals and specifications may be secured at the Office of the State Highway Engineer, Old Capitol Building, Frankfort, Kentucky.

Blue prints of this work are on file at the division headquarters at Covington, Kentucky, also at the Court House at Burlington, Kentucky. Contractors desiring to obtain copies of plans may secure from the Department of State Roads and Highways by forwarding check of $4.20 for complete set of plans or any part of same at the rate of 90c per sheet, made payable to the State Treasurer, credit of the State Road Fund.

Each bidder must accompany his bid with a bond or certified check for $1500 payable to the State Treasurer, credit of the Department of State Roads and Highways.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

APPROXIMATE QUANTITIES.

Items.	Reinf. Conc.	Rock Asphalt	Bit Conc
Clearing and Grubbing	1 acre	1 acre	1 acre
Removing trees and stumps	20 each	20 each	20 each
Excavation—earth	10615 cu. y.	10615 cu. y.	10615 cu. y.
" " " " " " " "	4659 " "	4659 " "	4659 " "
" " " " " " " "	4659 " "	4659 " "	4659 " "
Scarifying and reshaping	48500 s. y.	48500 s. y.	48500 s. y.
18" Rtd. Vlt. Pipe	216 lin. ft.	216 lin. ft.	216 lin. ft.
24" " " " " " " "	86 " "	86 " "	86 " "
18" D. S. Vlt. Pipe	200 " "	200 " "	200 " "
24" " " " " " " "	852 " "	852 " "	852 " "
1 : 3 : 6 Eno. Conc.	28 cu. y.	28 cu. y.	28 cu. y.
18" Reinf. Conc. Pipe	416 lin. ft.	416 lin. ft.	416 lin. ft.
24" " " " " " " "	388 " "	388 " "	388 " "
Class "A" Conc. hd walls	81 cu. y.	81 cu. y.	81 cu. y.
18" Vlt. Pipe	944 lin. ft.	944 lin. ft.	944 lin. ft.
Rtd. Cable Guard Rail	1550 " "	1550 " "	1550 " "
Removing Hedge Fence	1050 " "	1050 " "	1050 " "
Reinf. Conc. Paving	58594 s. y.	58594 s. y.	58594 s. y.
Rock Asphalt surf.	58594 s. y.	58594 s. y.	58594 s. y.
Concrete Base	58594 s. y.	58594 s. y.	58594 s. y.
Bit. Conc. surf.	58594 s. y.	58594 s. y.	58594 s. y.

STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION
By Jos. S. Rouse,
State Highway Engineer.

All obituaries, card of thanks and all other matter, not news, must be paid for at 5 cents per line.

Bullittsburg Baptist Church.
J. W. CAMPBELL, Pastor.
Sunday School every Sunday at 10:00 a. m.
Regular preaching services on the First and Third Sundays in each month at 11:00 a. m.

Boone Co. Lutheran Pastorate
REV. GEO. A. ROYER, Pastor.
Sunday Sept. 24, 1922

Hopeful 9:30 a. m., Sunday School
Hopeful 10:30 a. m., Regular Lord's Day Service
Evensong 2:30 p. m., Divine Service.
Hebron 9:30 a. m., Sunday School.

Boone Co. Christian Pastorate
REV. C. C. OMER, Pastor.
Sunday Sept. 24th

Bullittsville—
Bible School.....10:00 a. m.
Preaching.....11:00 a. m.
Preaching.....7:30 p. m.
Pt. Pleasant—
Bible School.....10:00 a. m.
Preaching.....11:00 a. m.
No evening service.

There were 4,590 Indians living in Oregon when the last census was taken.

Mrs. Eunie Willis is visiting her son Albert and wife, in Bullittsville neighborhood.

Denzil Carpenter went to Georgetown to resume his studies in Georgetown College.

Arlie Adams and family, of Cincinnati, spent Sunday with friends out on the East Bend pike.

Miss Edna Gordon left Monday for Lexington, where she has enrolled in State University.

The big raise in the price of eggs makes the poultry game a good one if properly fed and cared for.

James A. Huey and Dr. O. E. Senour, of Union, were business visitors in Burlington, last Tuesday.

Albert Stephens, of Lexington, is visiting his mother, Mrs. Lizzie Stephens, in Locust Grove neighborhood.

Misses Isabelle Duncan and Mary Bess Cropper left Monday morning for Georgetown, where they will attend college.

William Finn, after spending his vacation, returned to Lexington last Monday to complete his course at State University.

Sheriff B. B. Hume and wife returned home Sunday from Detroit Michigan, and other lake cities, where they had been on a vacation.

Garnett W. Huey and wife, of White's Creek, West Va., are guests of his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Huey, near Commissary.

James L. Clure, of Newport, spent Monday night and Tuesday with friends in and near Burlington. Jim is always glad to visit the scenes of his boyhood days.

Mr. and Mrs. Walton Dempsey, of Erlanger, spent last Friday evening with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marce Riddell, and attended the meeting at the Baptist church.

Newton York, Charles Westbay, Rex Berkshire, Martin Williams, and Herbert Kirkpatrick witnessed the ball game at Cheviot, Ohio, last Sunday between Cleves and Cheviot.

Harry Pace, who is employed at the dam at McVie as engineer, was the guest of his nephew, County Road Engineer O. R. Porter, and family, last Saturday night and Sunday.

Miss Eunie Willis, who has been at home with her mother for several weeks, returned to Cincinnati, last Sunday, where she is employed as a nurse in the Good Samaritan Hospital.

Miss Bessie Kirkpatrick was operated upon at Seaton Hospital, Cincinnati, one day last week, for appendicitis and from last reports was getting along as nicely as could be expected.

Judge Sidney Gaines and wife, of Walton, spent last Sunday afternoon with relatives in Burlington. The Judge left yesterday (Wednesday) for Prestonsburg, Floyd county, to try a murder case.

Ray Botts and family, of Locust Grove neighborhood, entertained at dinner last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Utzinger and daughter, Mayor Clarence Hopping wife and son, of North Bend, Ohio, and Mr. Oscar Brown and family.

Mamie Fisher, nine months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fisher, of Graves Ave., Erlanger, passed away Thursday morning. Funeral services were conducted at the home Friday afternoon at three o'clock by Rev. Cutts, after which the remains were taken by Undertaker Philip Tallaferro to Highland cemetery for interment.

Dr. L. C. Cowen and wife, of Rising Sun, Ind., spent Monday night with his sisters, Mrs. Laura Martin and Miss Pink Cowen. The doctor is an old Burlington boy and his many friends here, where he first saw the light of day, were glad to see him looking so well. They were enroute home from a visit to his brother, James A. Cowen at Sparta, who is in very poor health.

BARKER DECLARES BURLEY GROWERS IN GOOD POSITION

Director of Warehouses Assents Supply of Good Tobacco Outside of Association Insignificant and Holdings of Pool Needed

Lexington, Ky.—On his return from West Virginia where he had been to arrange for the immediate construction and opening of receiving plants for the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association, Director of Warehouses Ralph M. Barker declared that the Association growers need not worry over any danger of a necessity of holding their crops long. He said the supply of tobacco outside the Association is insignificant, as shown by market and government reports and that every pound the Association has will be needed.

Mr. Barker pointed out the fact that the Association had nearly 90 per cent of the 1922 crop signed up and that the amount that would be sold outside the Association would not exceed sixty million pounds. He said this would leave about fifteen million pounds each of tobacco available for the four leading manufacturers, and that this would not be a drop in the bucket of the needed supply. For that reason he expressed the opinion that the big manufacturers would soon take all the holdings of the Association and that they would take them even if they were larger than they will be.

$105 A WEEK
According to Senator McCumber himself some of the manufacturers of knit goods—stocking, hosiery, etc.—appeared before the Finance Committee while it was cooking up the Tariff Bill and based their claim for high protection upon the high wages they were paying.

"We are paying," Senator McCumber admits they explained, "$105 per week to the knitters." "And they ask the American people," says Mr. McCumber, "and have the effrontery to ask Congress to give them a rate which would protect them with these absurd wages, and compel the American people to foot the bill." Apparently they saw no reason why the American people should not be compelled to foot their bill, as long as they are compelled to foot the bills of many favorites of Mr. McCumber's committee and party.

Mr. McCumber's committee did not give the knitters a high rate as asked, but it gave the American people to foot their bills. It gave them, indeed, a rate so high that in the Senate a combination of Democrats and liberal Republicans cut it down. Yet the tariff on knit goods which the manufacturers asked in order to pay their employees $105 a week was no higher than Mr. McCumber's committee and the Republican Senate granted other manufacturers and producers.

A pertinent and unanswered question is, why the tariff on knit goods raised at all by Mr. McCumber and his committee?

If, under the Underwood tariff, the manufacturers of knit goods can pay wages of $105 a week, and if Mr. McCumber thinks these wages absurd, why did he not reduce the Underwood rate?—C. J.

Boone Did Well

Boone county exhibitors at the state fair last week were successful in a number of the exhibits and captured premiums totaling $850. Marvin Kendall of Florence, took $135 in premiums on seven Chesterwhite hogs, Chester Tanner, of Florence, was among the premium winners. J. W. Cleek won a number of premiums with his Poland Chinas, and captured the Grand Champion premium on his aged sow.

The show of Jerseys was the largest ever held at the fair, and the awarding of premiums was not completed until Friday morning, and Boone county breeders were awarded a number of premiums.

James W. Huey, of Union, and Mr. Derringer, of Springfield, who purchased his breeding stock from Mr. Huey, captured all of the premiums save one, awarded of Barred Plymouth Rocks. No one has a better strain of Barred Rocks than can be found on the farm of Mr. Huey in this county. Boone county was awarded sixth in the Junior Judging contest of thirteen entries. Robert Hafer, of Hebron, was first on the Boone county team.

JOSEPH B. ACRA, DEAD.

News reached here, one day last week, that Joseph B. Acra, aged 76 years had died at the home of his son, Lewis, near Rising Sun, Indiana. Death was due to paralysis. Joseph Acra was a son of the late Robert Acra and wife, who many years ago resided on the farm now owned by County Tax Commissioner, J. S. Cason. Joseph Acra was a kind hearted man and his many friends in this county are sorry to hear of his death.

WILLIAM COPPIN, DEAD

William Coppin, aged 59, Vice-President of the John R. Coppin Co., Covington, died suddenly last Saturday night when seated at his desk in the Coppin store.

Diamond mines in South Africa are restricting their output.

"111"
cigarettes
They are GOOD! 10¢

SOYBEANS PROVE WORTH TO MORGAN COUNTY MEN

Lexington, Ky.—Soybeans have proved their worth to farmers in another Kentucky county, according to R. E. Stephenson, soils and crops specialist of the College of Agriculture, who recently returned from Morgan county where the beans were grown for the first time this summer. In view of the good showing which the beans have made as soil improvers and a hay crop it is probable that the acreage seeded in the county will be increased next year.

A few Morgan county farmers planted the soy in their corn for soil improvement purposes while others seeded the beans broadcast for hay. Good results were obtained in both cases. Large numbers of nodules, which contain the bacteria capable of drawing nitrogen from the air, were found on the roots of the plants indicating that a considerable amount of this valuable plant food will be added to the soils of the county by the soybeans.

Cowpeas formerly constituted the chief legume crop grown in the county but in many cases the beans have given better results this year than the peas. Despite the fact that most of both the beans and peas were grown on good bottom land, the soybeans demonstrated that they were better able to withstand the drought experienced throughout the state this year. One skeptical farmer in the county who was growing the beans and peas side by side to determine which was best suited for his land produced about 3,000 pounds of peas and 4,000 pounds of beans an acre.

Beans being grown in the same row with corn are probably giving the greatest satisfaction since farmers of the county have found that this is an economical method of supplying humus and nitrogen to improve their depleted soils. A large part of the bottom lands of the county must be seeded to corn year after year. By growing beans with the corn and sowing a cover crop in the fall to prevent erosion and leaching and to furnish a crop to plow under in the spring, the fertility of the Morgan county lands can be more effectively maintained than in any other way.

WHEAT FIELDS ARE BOOSTED WITH CARE ON FOUR TOPS

Lexington, Ky.—Despite the fact that average wheat yields in Kentucky during recent years have been low, a few progressive farmers have demonstrated that yields as high as 30 or 35 bushels an acre can be obtained. Those who have obtained these profitable yields usually are farmers who give attention to about four main factors, such as seed bed preparation, fertilization, the use of good seed and proper planting dates, soils and crops specialists at the College of Agriculture say.

"One of the first things to which the successful farmer gives attention in making plans for his wheat crop is the preparation of the seed bed. Wheat demands a soil that is firm and fine. A loose soil means almost certain failure. Wind-blown clods contribute toward reducing yields. In cases where it is necessary to plow land for wheat, this operation should be performed in ample time to allow for thorough preparation of the seed bed.

"The fertilizer most commonly used for wheat in Kentucky is acid phosphate, this material being applied with limestone and some times with a light application of stable manure. The best farmers use 200 pounds or more of acid phosphate an acre. On poor soils, about 200 lbs. of acid phosphate with a light application of manure give good results. When clover is seeded in the wheat, better results are obtained by using limestone with the acid phosphate and manure.

"Experience has shown that farmers who get the highest yields in their communities also give considerable attention to their seed wheat, using not only clean, plump seed but also a variety that is adapted to their soils. In view of the fact that there is a wide difference in the way different varieties yield under different conditions, it is important to select a suitable variety. Many farmers prefer hardseed wheat or soft, wet soils.

WILL HAVE SALE

Edgar Hensley will have a sale of his stock farming implements, etc., during October. Mr. Hensley and family will move to Burlington in a few weeks.

FOR WEAR ANYWHERE

One of those charming, always-ready suits, which can be worn anywhere, helps to strengthen the belief that this fall's suits are the most attractive presented for many seasons. It is made of suede-finished cloth and has a straight-line, loose coat of medium length to be worn over a simple one-piece dress. Suggests a square neck and a stitched inverted plait down the front. A novel braid embroidery adorns the coat, and a collar of dyed fox completes it.

Any Make of Battery
RECHARGED
75c
Rentals for any make of car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.
Dempsey Motor Car Co.,
Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L.

Tutt's Pills
Induce regular habit, good digestion. Relieve the constipated and debilitated and tone up the system.
AGAINST MALARIA

Fords for Sale.
7 first-class Touring and Runabout Fords.
These Cars will be sold at a Bargain.
Hicks & Myers,
Florence, Ky.
Authorized Ford Dealers.

MOVING FOR COMFORTS.
Some people move from country towns to the cities because they think they get more comforts. They have perhaps lived in dwellings without modern conveniences, or on streets or roads having no sidewalks or only poor ones. They look for gas or electricity or running water or modern plumbing, which they may not have had in their rural homes.
There is something rather soft and luxurious about this eagerness to get more physical comforts. Millions of people have lived happy and successful lives without things we call modern improvements. These advantages are rapidly being introduced into country homes anyway and in a few years they will have become the rule. But if necessary, and if they only think so, folks can be happy without them.

STATE NEWS.
SNAKE ON PLAYGROUND
(Riverside Cor. Booneville Courier)
A large copperhead snake was killed on the playground last week.

STORK MISCOUNTS TWICE
(Rocky Hill Cor. Smith Grove Times)
Mrs. Mrs. Martha Vincent and Mrs. Belle Durbin of Kyrock, gave birth to twins last week.

RADIO FOR INFIRM
(Louisville Herald.)
Inmates of the Home for Aged and Infirm at St. Helens may now "listen in" on concerts and doings of the outside world, a new radio receiving set having been installed in the home. Funds for the set were raised thru private subscriptions, friends of the institution contributing to the fund.

EVER-BEARING PEPPER
(Murray Ledger.)
Mrs. J. C. Dunn, of near Dexter, has a pepper plant that she grew to maturity in a pot the past winter and which bore peppers all during the winter and has also produced a large number of peppers this summer. She expects to preserve the plant thru the coming winter.

American freight cars are about twice the size of those on English railways.

CAR SENSE

Spend a Dollar and Save Ten
Little defects grow into big ones in time if not corrected.
The correction of a small defect in its early stages costs but little.
When left until it grows into serious proportions its correction runs into money.
That is what makes the maintenance of a car so expensive to many people—neglecting the little things until they grow into big ones.
The better—the safer—the more economical way is to see the garage man at the first warning of trouble.
Today is always a good time to have it done.

EDDINS BROTHERS
TIRES, TUBES AND ACCESSORIES.
Burlington, Kentucky.
BRAKE BAND OIL—Guaranteed to stop Ford bands from chattering.
Agents for U. S. and Ajax Tires.

Established 1886.
A Bank Account IS ONE OF THE FIRST STEPPING STONES TO SUCCESS IN LIFE.
How are You Stepping!
This bank invites young men and women especially to open savings accounts. Officials of the bank are pleased at all times to give the benefit of their experience to customers and others who seek advice.
When in doubt come to this bank. Your success means greater success for us.
Has it ever occurred to you that a checking account is a very convenient thing to have?

Boone Co. Deposit Bank
Burlington, Kentucky.
N. E. RIDDELL, President W. D. CROPPER, Cashier
W. A. GAINES, Vice-Pres. G. S. KELLY, Asst. Cashier.

The New Rising Sun Flour
WILL PLEASE YOU
Recently added milling improvements together with carefully selected milling wheat coupled with years of knowing how makes RISING SUN FLOUR second to none.
ASK FOR IT.
Fancy Patent-Golden Crown-Red Star

Peoples Deposit Bank
Burlington, Ky.
Pays
4 Per Cent
On Time Deposits.
Also the Taxes on Same.
Capital & Surplus $150,000

W. L. B. ROUSE, President C. H. YOEUELL, Vice-President.
A. B. RENAKER, Cashier.
Nell H. Martin, Asst. Cashier. L. C. Beemon, Asst. Cashier.

Petersburg Theatre
At Petersburg, Kentucky
Saturday Night, Sept. 23rd
"ROUGH DIAMOND"
TOM MIX
At Burlington, Kentucky,
Saturday Night, Sept. 23rd
"Singing River"
Wm. Russell
CHILDREN 10c. ADULTS 25c
War Tax Included Will Begin promptly at 8:00

BOONE CO. RECORDER

Published every Thursday
N. E. RIDDELL, Publisher.Foreign Advertising Representative
THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Entered at the Postoffice, Burlington, Ky., as second-class mail.

ADVERTISING RATES.
Furnished on application. The value of the RECORDER as an advertising medium is unquestioned. The character of the advertisements now in its columns, and the number of them, tell the whole story.

"Our political system is sound," chirps a candidate. Good—sound is noise.

Be discriminating in the joys of youth, lest they lead to the follies of old age.

When is a millionaire not a millionaire? When he has it in roubles or marks.

Keep your troubles to yourself. You may soon become tired of them and cast them aside.

Political fireworks are being reported, perhaps meaning simply that the gas bag blew up.

Formerly used to smell of gasoline, but now many of them have other odors.

Slippery roads are blamed for many automobile accidents, but slippery brains cause still more.

Imagine what a row there would be if husbands wives ordered them to wear the new long skirts.

Much complaint about the money kings, but they may not cost us as much as the queens of fashion.

Many cities are having a "most beautiful girl" competition, but what the men want is the best pie-maker.

The bootleggers do not seem to mind fines, as they can always charge enough more on the next lot to make up.

Every time the railroad employers and employees get together to shake hands, somebody starts to shaking fists.

The people who invest in Get Rich Quick stocks at least succeed in joining the Get Poor Quick movement.

Prominent among the evils from which the country is now suffering is the deplorable lack of butter in the ham sandwich.

An Ohio newspaper reporter was arrested for writing a news story on Sunday. Evidently their blue laws need a blue pencil.

After complaining that their hometown is slow, some folks proceed to make it look slower by throwing litter into the streets.

Southern negroes are said to be distilling an intoxicating beverage from cotton seed. Maybe it's a new kind of cotton gin.

Claimed there is too much "muddy thinking." This is not surprising when you consider how many people's names are Mudd.

Mr. Cox is perhaps the first man who ever opened a campaign for the Presidency of the U. S. by a speaking tour of Europe.

There is much complaint of political apathy, but it may be simply because the people are tired of the goods offered them for sale.

There are many folks in Kentucky who would never bother to acquire wealth, as it would involve the necessity of doing some work.

A railroad official says there is too much reckless railroading these days. The traveling public would prefer to see more reckless railroading.

That there is not a great deal in a name is shown by the fact that the aviator who flew from the Atlantic to the Pacific in 24 hours was Lieut. Doolittle.

The American people are listening with pleasure to much polished political oratory, but they remember that polished things are some times slippery.

The adjournment of Congress does not take place when the business is done, but when the speeches are made you can look for the solons to come home.

The automobile speeders will run about as they want to, but it is hoped they will not feel it necessary to smash down the safety signs along the highways.

Though Mr. Lincoln said you couldn't fool all the people all the time, many folks succeed in fooling them long enough to get elected to public offices.

It is entirely unnecessary for the European papers to deny that Austria has a coalition government. It is perfectly obvious that Austria has no government at all.

Mr. Cox apparently abandoned his belief that we should eventually join the League of Nations. He says we should stay out until we settle our domestic troubles.

An anarchist agitator says there is a slow fire burning under America. Maybe that accounts for the exceptionally warm August and September we've been having.

Justice Clarke said the Supreme Court a decidedly left-handed compliment when he announced that was resigning so he could devote his life to useful service.

OLD KENTUCKY LOG HOUSE FORMALLY PRESENTED TO STATE

The Old Kentucky Log House on the State Fair grounds was presented to the State of Kentucky last Thursday, Sept. 14, 1922, by Mr. Arthur Krook, Editor of the Louisville Courier Journal. Mr. Krook said:

"Because it was The Louisville Times which conceived the Eighteenth Century log house standing in the midst of the Twentieth Century State Fair it becomes my privilege to offer the house and its furnishings into the keeping of the State of Kentucky, the birth of which it symbolizes."

"No care more tender could be invoked than that of Kentucky for the cradle of her greatness. In houses like this lived the Virginian and the Carolinian and the Marylander. The most axes hewed its timbers and cleared the wilderness. In houses like this were born the Homeric heroes of the Statehood period on whose genius and culture the fame of Kentucky rests today. In houses like this, the shadows of the Clays and Breckinridges, the Underwoods, the Taylors, the Hendersons and Helms fell athwart the threshold. To Boone and Kenton this rude architecture marked the progress of "the West" from the Dark and Bloody Ground to the new white man's State, nourished at the breast of Virginia. And to that mighty product of the Anglo Saxon race, Abraham Lincoln, this was a mansion beside the poor but in which he was born."

Reflected Culture.

"These log houses, furnished with the Colonial simplicity and beauty which reflected the culture of their owners, were still standing when the War of the States divided Kentucky's sons into parties of almost equal size, animated by ideals of equal worth. Few pioneer homes survived that war. Now, save for one or two, the log houses are gone. That the Golden Age they marked might forever be remembered, it was an inspiration to embalm the architecture and history of that age here on the grounds of the Kentucky State Fair in 1922. The inspiration was not mine. It was the thought of an associate, Mr. Woodson, but The Times espoused it, and so true and fine it was that the Kentucky Jockey Club without solicitation, supplied the large sum of money necessary to accomplish it; and the architect, the builder and the carpenter have each in fidelity and excellence carried to unmarred achievement the beauty of the original thought."

"In the name of Kentucky's noble past and in the hope of a worthy future, I am requested by the management of the State Fair and the Kentucky Jockey Club to offer this Old Log House, with its Lenses and Penates, to the State's chief officer, himself a descendant of the pioneers, the Governor of Kentucky."

Governor Accepts House

Mr. Morrow said:

"The Commonwealth of Kentucky accepts today this building, a sturdy log cabin, as an emblem of its growth, its prosperity, and as standing for the lives and character of its people."

A log cabin, timbers rough hewn from the forest, notched at the corners, with its chimneys and chimneys, its rafters of unfinished oak; not the creation of artistic achievement, but so simple, so natural, and yet so plain, that it stands for and is 'home' and no building ever erected by human hands has more beautifully expressed all of the sentiment, all of the tenderness, all of the glory of that simple word 'home.'

"A log cabin—the sound of the word makes us think of the silence of the forest, the murmur of streams, the tenderness of spring, of bud and bloom, the radiance and sunshine of summer, the glory of autumn, her arms filled with gathered sheaves of golden grain, the fields and hills covered with tapestries of red brown and gold, woven by the hand of Indian Summer."

Calls Up Many Thoughts

"Just a log cabin, and we think of hearts of oak and souls of high resolve, of men who were men and mothers who were mothers in a land of trackless wilderness, when the canebrakes were forced to give way to the waving corn of the Bluegrass; when the schoolhouse took the place of the wigwam of the Indian; when the home fires glowed where once the red fires of the council lighted the face of those who danced the dance of war and death."

A log cabin, sturdy and rugged and rough hewn. As rugged as the faith of men who builded them; as staunch as the character of those who lived within them; as tender as the mothers who cradled their siren lullabies as they rocked their babies on the puncheon floor and made of the simple cabins a palace and a home."

A log cabin, from whose rude portals there came men to guard and guide and save the republic."

A log cabin, once the home of our forefathers, those whose blood still runs within our veins; and as we, their children, gaze to-day upon this symbol, we see no longer staunch old logs, but love turns them into hands which served and hearts which loved and souls which prayed into the men and women who made Kentucky, who by their service gave to us the fairest land that the good God ever made, and who held against necessity, against want, against foes without and foes within that which we call, with our hearts trembling, on the words, "The Commonwealth of Kentucky."

Heirs of Great Heritage

"God bless those early cabin builders; God bless their spirit among their children; God grant that we who hold all from those who gave all, shall be worthy of the love and service and character and patriotism which have come to us as the heirs of the great heritage."

"Help us as we pray 'God of our fathers, known of old, great Lord of Hosts, be with us yet, lest we forget, lest we forget.'"

The crowd which had been attracted to the house by the firing of the Governor's salute covered the front lawn and extended to the roadway. Governor Morrow and his party went in through the side gate. Before his arrival Mrs. Morrow had been presented to Aunt Rosie Gayheart and her daughter, Julie, from the headwaters of Troublesome Creek, Knott county, who spin and weave at the house. The Governor was also introduced to them before the ceremonies began.

Just Smiles

Beats Heaven

All people in California are boasters, but the people in Pasadena lead the procession. This is one of their stories:

A man died, went to heaven and St. Peter politely was showing him the sights. Presently they came to a large cage filled with men and women.

"What does this mean?" "Why do you have these people shut up?"

"Well, it's this way," said Saint Peter. "These people are from Pasadena and it's the only way we can keep them from going back."

How Beautiful

The patter of tiny feet was heard from the head of the stairs. Mrs. Kinderby raised her hand warning the others to silence.

"Hush," she said softly. "The children are going to deliver their goodnight message. It always gives me a feeling of reverence to hear them—they are so much nearer the Creator than we are, and they speak the love that is in their little hearts never so fully as when the dark has come. Listen!"

There was a moment of intense silence. Then—

"Mamma," came the message in a shrill whisper, "Willie found a bed-bug!"

Good Look

When the new husband reached home from office he found his wife in tears.

"Oh, John," she sobbed, "I had baked a lovely cake, and put it out in the back porch for the frosting to dry, and—"

"Well, don't cry about it, sweetheart," patting the pretty flushed cheek; "I know a man who will give me another dog!"

Always Loyal

A well-known Scotch professor was occasionally called to Balmoral to attend the late Queen Victoria and was extremely proud of the honor.

One day a notice appeared in the university which stated that Prof. ——— could not attend his class that day because he had been called to Balmoral to see the Queen. A waghish student saw the notice and wrote underneath it: "God save the Queen."

He Reassured Her

An American bride went to live in that faraway American dependency, the Philippine Islands, where all the household servants are native "boys."

One day just as she had finished dressing, the boy entered the room: "Juan!" she rebuked. "You should never enter my room without knocking; you might have found me dressing."

"Oh, no, Senora," he reassured her. "I watch through the keyhole!"

Well Pested.

The brother and sister in a Grand street family had discussed the expected new arrival in the family.

One morning William said to Jane: "I know something you don't know."

She replied, "No, you don't and I know their names."

"Huh, how can that be?"

"Well, I was in the room when the doctor came out and slapped pa on the back and said 'Twins, old man, twins,' and pa said, 'Hell and Damnation.'"

WAY OVER TWO POUNDS (Liberty News.)

Editor Walton, of the Interior Journal, in a recent issue of his paper told about one of his party, bringing to his office a tomato that lacked an ounce of weighing two pounds. Mr. Walton will have to dig up another tomato if he wants the blue as Mrs. G. R. Cowden, one of our townsmen brought to this office a tomato which weighed two pounds and 4 1/2 ounces.

If you cannot carry an undertaking through to completion do not begin. The world is full of wrecks who found a place to stop.

Trade Where They All Trade
Fall Seeds--New Crop

TIMOTHY—Car new crop timothy in transit, 99.50 per cent. pure. Send us your order to be shipped from car at wholesale prices.

Kentucky Blue Grass Seed—About half the price of last year's seed and fine quality. Alsike, Alfalfa, Sapling.

FLOWER SEED FOR FALL PLANTING.

Alyssum, Columbine, Poppy, Fox Glove, Hollyhock, Lockspur, (Delphneum) Pansy, Phlox, Sweet William, Pinks.

Michigan Rosen Rye, Fertilizers.

BINDER TWINE—Just the thing for tying up your Corn and Fodder, Lb. .... 10c

We are car load buyers of Pratt's High Grade Poultry and Dairy Feeds and have a car in transit from which we will make the following special prices.

Pratt's Cracked Corn, sifted and blown, 100 lb. bag.....	$1.75
Pratt's Laying Mash, 100 lb. bag.....	3.00
International Scratch Feed, just right for growing chickens, and the finest feed produced, 100 lb. bag.....	2.75
Pratt's Large Scratch Feed, 100 lb. bag.....	2.25
Pratt's Victory Scratch Feed, 100 lb. bag.....	2.50
Pratt's Supreme Dairy Rations, 100 lb. bag.....	2.50

Try a bag or two of this Dairy Rations and prove to yourself the quality of same. Springfield, Mo. Lots on all feeds.

GOLDEN BLEND COFFEE—the best for 25 years, - 33c
GEE WHIZ COFFEE—a 30c-value - 25c

One dollar's worth of Coffee sent postpaid.

GEO. C. GOODE

Groceries, Flour, Seeds, Medicines
19-21 Pike St. 18-20 West Seventh St.

WHOLESALE—"Covington's Largest Seed and Grocery House"—RETAIL

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Phones South 335 and 336.

EXTENSION METHODS STUDIED BY 110 NEGRO PASTORS

Practical suggestions for the improvement of farming methods and living conditions in farm homes in their districts are being given by 110 negro pastors and presiding elders in Alabama, Georgia, and neighboring States who attended a three-weeks school of methods held at Gammon Theological Seminary, Athens, Ga., in May and June, as reported to the United States Department of Agriculture. The school program included a series of effective demonstrations by extension workers from Tuskegee Institute, Ala., who conduct movable school programs in the rural districts of Alabama.

The pastors attending the Athens school were given instruction in soil management, crop production, farm carpentry, including the making of home conveniences, poultry keeping, care of gardens and fruit, proper methods of cooking and food preservation, sanitation and home nursing. According to reports received by the department, these pastors are putting on similar demonstrations in their communities and at conferences of rural pastors in their districts.

REPUBLICANS ALREADY PREPARING ALIBIS THIS DEMOCRATIC YEAR.

Attempts to place the blame for the Republican defeat that is already foreseen on Nov. 7, and the preparation of alibis, are just now engrossing the minds and time of Republicans in the House and the Senate.

Western Republicans in the House of Representatives say that the eastern wing of the party has "spilled the beans" and made it difficult for the G. O. I. to win. The eastern Republicans retort that the "farm bloc" is responsible for the impending debacle. Others think the seat of Newberry is the outstanding sin, and blame the Senate. Republican Senators are convinced that the popular branch is a "mad House" and utterly inept.

President Harding is not forgotten as an explanation of the unpopularity and unacceptableness of Republican policies and candidates. He is taxed with all Attorney General Daugherty's offenses and mistakes and shortcomings. His Republican critics even, apply the word, "wabble" to their titular leader. His champions rejoice with something about "wiggle," intending it for Congress.

The only thing beyond controversy is that there are a good many reasons why the Republicans can't win. And these reasons have all been furnished by the Republicans themselves.

SISTERS MEET AFTER YEARS (Stanford Journal)

For the first time in a number of years the "sisters" in the King family were together. The father and mother, Hon. and Mrs. B. R. King had as their guests at their home at Moreland, the following daughters and sons: Mrs. Ada K. Fishback, Paris, Ky.; Mrs. George B. Pruitt, Moreland; Mrs. Jas. Elkin, Montgomery, Ala.; Mrs. J. Portland.

'Well Bet You Two Sacks of Feed

"You'll get more milk or better milk and make more money on a cow fed four weeks on Ce-re-a-lia Sweets." That's our bet. If we lose, we pay back every cent the feed cost.

YOU can't lose, so why not have us deliver two sacks of Ce-re-a-lia Sweets for the trial, right off!

In short and long tests, Ce-re-a-lia Sweets proves its economy every time. Milk checks increase—feeding costs shrink.

No danger of having your cows go "off their feed" on Ce-re-a-lia Sweets. They crave its variety of good cereals, its sweet flavor. They digest Ce-re-a-lia Sweets better than average feeds and show their appreciation in the milk pail.

Get details of four weeks' trial today.

EARLY & DANIEL CO.
Covington, Ky.—Phone South 13
Erlanger, Ky.—Phone Erl 31
Carew Bldg., Cincinnati, O.—Phone Main 662

Stop at The PALACE HOTEL 6TH &amp; VINE

A home hotel—comfortable, large, airy rooms. Clean and economical. A safe place for your wife or daughter.

CINCINNATI, O.

ARE YOU A READER OF THE RECORDER?

If Not Try It One year.

Only $1.50 the Year

"The Devil Can Quote Scripture"

WE CAN'T

But we will be glad to quote you Lowest Prices
ON THE VERY BEST

CLOTHING

We can beat the devil himself at that. We have greatly reduced the prices on our Summer Clothing, and if you fail to look them over, you are overlooking much.

If you are looking for a Suit, a Coat and Pants, or extra Pants that you can rely on, we have them.

Selmar Wachs

605 Madison Avenue,

Covington, Kentucky

PICNIC

At Harvest Home Grounds,

Saturday, Sept. 23, '22

Everybody—Old and Young are Invited

Dancing—Refreshments.

Music by Murphy's Jazz Band.

From 7:30 to 12 p. m.

Zimmer-McGlasson.

RICHWOOD.

Mrs. Annie Hammond is still very poorly.

Rector Brothers are housing a twenty-acre crop of fine tobacco.

A large crowd surprised J. O. Richards Sunday, it being his birthday.

They say they are going to build the Dixie Highway this fall. Who are they?

Carey Carpenter returned home from Speers Hospital Monday, and is improving slowly.

The J. J. Cleck farm was not sold the day of the sale, but Mr. Cleck has had several prospective buyers.

Mr. Cleck's sale was well attended and cows brought from $40 to $60, Horses $90 and other things sold fairly well.

D. B. Dobbins aged 75 years two months and nine days old passed away last Friday at 11:30 a. m., at his late home. He was well known, well liked, everybody's friend and no one enemy. The large crowd of friends that attended his funeral showed the people honored and loved him. He leaves three sisters, Mrs. Anna Hammond, Mrs. Belle Northcutt, Mrs. Fannie Snow, and two brothers, James and Wm. Dobbins. Funeral services were held at Hopeful Sunday at 2 p. m., by Rev. Royer and interment at that cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Asher Cummins and family, of Louisville, Mrs. Fannie Snow, James Misses Maggie and Bessie Snow, of Ft. Mitchell, Wm. Dobbins, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cummins, Mr. and Mrs. Iva Cummins, of Covington; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Snow and Miss Agnes Covington; Mrs. Sallie Lancaster and family, of Williamstown, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lancaster, of Covington, were among those who attended the D. B. Dobbins funeral from a distance.

A surprise dinner was given in honor of J. O. Richards' fiftieth birthday. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Newman, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Newman and baby, Mr. and Mrs. John Newman and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Webb Newman, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Norman, Misses Addie and Tena Norman, of Covington, Cliff Norman, of Covington, Mr. and Mrs. John Sommers, Mr. Tom Sommers, Ben Ammerman passed away at his home in Elizabethtown, Ky., Tuesday evening. His remains were forwarded to Williamstown, Ky., Sunday morning, and after services at Mt. Carmel church his remains were laid to rest in the local cemetery. Mr. Ammerman is survived by his widow, two sons and two daughters. Undertaker Philip Tallaferra had charge of the funeral arrangements.

FOR SALE

35 acres, six room house, barn etc., near Union, Ky. . . . . $3,500

75 acres, six room house, barn etc., near Burlington, Ky. . . . . $7,300

31 acres, four room house, barn etc., near Florence, Ky. . . . . $3,900

60 acres, eight rooms, barn etc., near Walton, Ky. . . . . $6,750

C. T. CLAUNCH,
Elizabethtown, Ky.
Sept.—21

GUNPOWDER

The work of filling silos began last week.

E. E. Tanner is the first in this neck of the woods to get done cutting corn.

L. H. Busby, who contracted to do a lot of stone work near Ebenezer, will complete the job this week.

The meetings at Hopeful closed last Sunday night. There were four additions, Mr. and Mrs. Gerhart and Misses Cora and Clara Clegg.

A thief has been operating a profitable business here by taking tires off of autos. One night last week some one took a tire off of Elva Drunkenburg's machine during services at Hopeful, and last Saturday night some one took all of the tires off of Geo. Bradford's machine.

After a lingering illness of several years, D. B. Dobbins, a highly respected gentleman, died at his home near Richmond, last Friday, at the advanced age of 75 years. The remains were brought to Hopeful last Sunday, and after a very appropriate service conducted by Rev. Royer, were buried in the Hopeful cemetery, in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing friends and relatives.

Sunday Sept., 10th, a number of relatives and friends gave Ernest Horton quite a surprise, it being his thirty-fifth birthday. Everybody came with well filled baskets and at the noon hour the table was spread on the lawn with every thing good to eat. Those present were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rue, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rudisell, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Horton, all of Cleves, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Rue and Miss Violet Rue; of Hoover; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tanner and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Wilkerson and family, Mr. John W. Gormley, Miss Mae Gormley, all of Covington; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Garnett and daughter Helen and Mr. L. F. Kash, of Latonia; Mrs. Mattie Rouse and granddaughter Martha Elizabeth Gormley, Mr. James E. Rouse, Lawrence C. Rouse, all of Erlanger; Mr. and Mrs. Jno. D. Schaeffer, of Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Surface, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Renaker, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Aylor, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Snyder, Miss Irene Aylor, Mr. Paul Harris and Wilford Aylor, of Florence; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rouse, Ella Marie Rouse, Lottie Rouse, Rosa Belle Rouse, John Edgar Rouse, Kenneth Rouse, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Blankenbaker, Francis Blankenbaker, Miss Emma Welch and Mr. E. H. Blankenbaker, all of Union Pike; Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Snyder, Miss Elizabeth Snyder, Mr. Chas. Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Tanner, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Robbins, Lula Robbins and Alfred Robbins, all of Hopeful; Miss Virginia Criser, Mrs. Glen Criser, Mr. Wm. Nixon and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Grant, of Gunpowder. All enjoyed the day and wished Mr. Horton many more happy birthdays.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lutes and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Groger and children, Mrs. Maggie Clarkson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Afterkirk, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Newman and daughter, John Marshall, Louis Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Richard, of Covington, Grant Richards of Covington and Mrs. Henderson Ellis and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lipscomb, of Bellevue, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Carr, of Bellevue, Ralph Lipscomb, of Bellevue, Otis Frakes, of Covington, Nelson Carr, of Covington, Miss Thelma McIntyre, of Covington, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Carr and daughter, of Covington; All left wishing Mr. Richards many more happy birthdays.

DEVON

Hiram A. Rivard was in Florence Monday on business.

Mrs. Eugene Riley visited her sister Mrs. Kidwell and family, of Richmond, recently.

The farmers are hustling with their fall work while they are having such beautiful weather.

Mrs. John Pruett and Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Ruttsell were shopping in Cincinnati, Saturday.

Mrs. H. P. Dixon has a new Ford which she purchased of Mr. Victory of Erlanger, last week.

Miss Ella Mae Kenney is a pupil at Villa Madonna, having entered school there last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Edwards and little daughter Helene, were in Covington, shopping Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kenney visited their daughter Miss Ella Mae Sunday at Villa Madonna.

Mrs. Chas. Williams, of Banklick, spent Saturday the guest of her family.

Will Haycock, Mrs. Haycock and sisters, who are their guests, from Ohio, visited friends here Thursday of last week.

Misses Virgie, Mabel and Edith Easton, of Latonia, spent Sunday with their grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Easton.

Mr. Geo. Stone and sisters Misses Fannie and Minnie, of Covington, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Riley, last Friday.

The Baptist Association was royally entertained by the Union Baptist church and the noble people of that community, last week.

Master E. K. Rivard and little sister Marguerite, were guests of their grandmother Mrs. Chas. Williams, of Bank Lick, part of last week.

Miss Mattie Lee Riley began her school here on the 11th, and the patrons are very fortunate in procuring her for their teacher this year.

A number from this neighborhood attended the funeral of their friend Daniel Dobbins, at Hopeful Sunday. Another good man has been, called home.

Robert Woodward has a nice position in the Independence H. school. He is a young man of "true steel" and we think he will make good where ever he is called.

Mr. L. L. Lampton and sister, Mrs. B. F. Bristow and H. M. Fagin, were in the city Friday and brought Mrs. Lampton home from the hospital.

The many friends of Mrs. Lampton are glad to learn that she is improving nicely.

UNION.

Mrs. Nannie Crouch still remains quite ill.

We are sorry to learn of the death of D. B. Dobbins which occurred at his home Friday Sept., 15.

Mrs. Julia Dickerson spent a few days the past week with her sister, Mrs. J. R. Williams, of Gunpowder.

Mrs. John Taylor and two little daughters, of Alabama, are here on a visit to her parents, J. A. Huey and Mrs. Huey.

Mrs. Joe Myers, of Hamilton, O., was here last week and attended the Association, also visited friends here and in Walton neighborhood before returning home.

E. A. Blankenbaker and family entertained at dinner Sunday M. P. Barlow and family, of Pleasant Valley, J. S. Surface and wife, and Mrs. Lucy Tanner, of Florence, and G. C. and L. R. Barlow and families.

About eight hundred attended the Association here last Wednesday and four hundred Thursday. Only thirteen delegates remaining over night. Not like old times when automobiles were unknown. The members of the Baptist church thank all who so kindly aided them during the Association.

Louisville, Ky.—The School of Public Health, operated jointly by the University of Louisville and the State Board of Health, which has for its function the training of public health nurses and physicians now is fully opened. The Division of Laboratory Technicians opened last week and the School proper opened today.

In addition to the public health nurses who are taking the course there are also veterans of the World War enrolling which will equip them to serve as competent sanitary engineers. The faculty of the Institution is the same as last year.

"These classes are not as large as I would like to have them," said Dr. A. T. McCormack, State Health Officer, "for I believe they are conducted with the greatest wealth in physical well-being to Kentucky. One thing is certain, Kentucky needs more public health nurses and more sanitary engineers than possibly are obtainable. If our enrollment would double what it is, there still would be positions open to all graduates and the State would need far more persons than we could train."

The United States takes one-half of Brazil's export of sugar, coffee and rubber, and more than three fourths of her hides and skins.

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord

A Popular-Priced Cord Tire Without a Rival

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord Tire is built with genuine high-grade long-staple cotton as a foundation.

It is liberally oversize—the 4½-inch tire, for example, measuring nearly 5 inches.

The deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern of its tread affords excellent traction even in snow and mud, engaging the road like a cogwheel.

The scientific distribution of rubber in this tread—the wide center rib and the semi-flat contour—gives a thick, broad surface that is exceedingly slow to wear.

This new tire is a genuine Goodyear through and through—in design, in material, in construction.

It costs less to buy than the net price you are asked to pay for many "long discount" tires of unknown reputation and value.

Why be satisfied with less than this efficient tire can give—why take a chance on an unknown make?

Compare these prices with NET prices you are asked to pay for "long discount" tires
30x3¼ Clincher.....	$12.50	32x4 Straight Side..	$24.50	33x4½ Straight Side..	$32.15
30x3½ Straight Side..	13.50	33x4 Straight Side..	25.25	34x4½ Straight Side..	32.95
32x3½ Straight Side..	19.25	34x4 Straight Side..	25.90	33x5 Straight Side..	39.10
31x4 Straight Side..	22.20	32x4½ Straight Side..	31.45	35x5 Straight Side..	41.05

These prices include manufacturer's excise tax

Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord Tires are also made in 6, 7 and 8 inch sizes for trucks

FOR SALE BY

GEORGE PORTER

Burlington, Kentucky.

GOODYEAR

HOUSE CONSTRUCTION GETS ATTENTION OF POULTRYMEN

Lexington, Ky.—With the dull season of the farm poultry business close at hand, many Kentucky farmers are expected to take advantage of the opportunity to get their hen houses in shape for the winter, poultrymen at the College of Agriculture say. The annual fall culling of the flocks will soon be finished while many other details connected with the farm flock already have assumed minor importance for this year. In this state, where the climate is subject to sudden changes of temperature, fowls need suitable houses before they can produce the largest number of eggs in winter. The more comfortable a hen is made the greater her egg production is apt to be.

Successful poultrymen now recognize that the poultry house should fulfill at least six main requirements. These are: 1—Plenty of fresh air. 2—Plenty of sunlight. 3—Dryness. 4—Freedom from drafts. 5—Durability. 6—Low cost.

While these are some of the main points to be considered in building or remodeling poultry houses, there are a number of others that should receive attention. Among other things the nests, roosts and equipment of the house should be so arranged that all of the floor space may be used for scratching.

Placing the house on a good foundation that is constructed to be rat proof and free from moisture is another important point. Solid concrete walls or posts can be used although wooden posts are used most commonly. Solid concrete foundations and floors are meeting with increased favor among poultrymen. In building the walls, it is important to remember that they should be constructed to prevent drafts, retain heat, prevent the condensation of moisture and have a smooth surface that may be kept free of mites and other vermin. The two most popular styles of roof are the half-monitor and the shed-roof. The former is satisfactory when the house is deeper than 16 feet while the chief advantage of the latter is its ease of construction and economy of material.

Extension circular No. 107 has been prepared by the College to enlighten farmers and poultrymen with their oft housing problems. It may be obtained free by writing the Experiment Station, Lexington.

The Lord built wisely when He made woman's hands smaller than man's. Otherwise how could a wife go through her husband's pockets?

Public Sale.

I will sell at public sale at my farm on the Dobbins' Road, one-half mile south of the Frogtown Pike,

Saturday, Sept. 23d,

1922, Beginning at 1 o'clock.

The Following Property:

Three Work Horses, 4 No. 1 Cows, 2 No. 1 Ercod Sows, 10 Shoats weighing 75 lbs each, Spring Wagon and Harness, Chest of Tools, half interest in Rick of Hay, Stack Mowed Oats, Cream Separator, Farming Implements, Buggy and Harness, Household Goods, and other articles.

Terms of Sale.

All sums of $10.00 and under, cash; on all sums over $10.00 a credit of six months without interest will be given, purchaser to give note with good security, negotiable and payable in Union Deposit Bank, Union, Ky.

D. B. DOBBINS.

N. W. Burkett, Auctioneer.

Farms for Sale

Money to Loan on

Real Estate

J. L. KITE,

Burlington, Kentucky.

Oct-5

"The Angelus" Sold for $100.

"The Angelus" was painted by Jean Francois Millet, a French landscape painter, in 1850. It was sold by him for 500 francs (about $100). In 1890 the painting was purchased for $150,000 and passed in the Louvre.

Any Make of Battery RECHARGED

75c

Rents for any make of car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.

Dempsy Motor Car Co., Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

Daily Thought.
"Virtue is bold and goodness never fearful"—Shakespeare.

LEGION NOTES

New Orleans—Headquarters for the various state departments, American Legion Auxiliary and the American Legion at New Orleans during the national convention, October 16-20, have been selected according to an announcement received from convention headquarters.

American Legion national headquarters will be at the Grunewald Hotel, which will also accommodate the distinguished guests and the following state departments: Alabama, Arkansas, California, Canada, Florida, Indiana, Iowa, Louisiana, Michigan, Missouri, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Washington, Texas and Wyoming.

The St. Charles Hotel will be departmental headquarters for the following delegations: Alaska, Arizona, Colorado, Connecticut, District of Columbia, Delaware, Georgia, Illinois, Kansas, Kentucky, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, North and South Carolina, North and South Dakota, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, West Virginia, Vermont and Wisconsin.

The Monteleone Hotel will house the delegations and be departmental headquarters for Idaho, Maine, Maryland, Mexico, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Panama, Philippine Islands and Utah. The delegation from Tennessee and the Black military organizations will be cared for at the Planters Hotel.

American Legion Auxiliary national headquarters will be at the Bienville Hotel, which will also house the distinguished guests of that organization.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Virgil E. Goldsmith, attached to the U. S. S. Hudson, flagship of the American Asiatic fleet, has asked the American Legion to help locate his brother, Wm. Goldsmith, a discharged sailor who has not been heard from since September, 1919. At that time Goldsmith was employed in Lafayette, Indiana. His brother believes he is somewhere in the West or in Alaska.

New Orleans—All letters leaving the New Orleans postoffice will advertise the American Legion national convention, October 16-20, convention headquarters here has been advised.

Four special die hubs, operating on canceling machines in the postoffice will bear the following legend: "American Legion National Convention, October 16-20. The postmarks ruling means that the Legion stamp will appear on 300,000 pieces of first class mail daily, sent out from the New Orleans office to all parts of the country."

Wives of congressional medal of honor men have been invited to accompany their husbands to the American Legion national convention in New Orleans, October 16-20. Their expenses will be paid by the Legion convention committee.

The entire capacity of the parking yards of the Illinois Central and the Louisville and Nashville railroads in New Orleans has been reserved for prospective visitors to the American Legion national convention in New Orleans, October 16-20. The yards will accommodate 210 cars.

New Orleans labor unions are preparing to entertain Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, during his stay at American Legion national convention in New Orleans, October 16-20. Funds for the entertainment project were raised at a Labor Day celebration.

An exhibition of products and industries of Panama will be brought to New Orleans during the American Legion national convention, October 16-20. The plan will represent an outlay of several thousand dollars. It will include a special edition of the "Panama Canal Observation Post," a Legion publication which will issue 50,000 copies of a 32-page newspaper.

New Orleans—Major Gen. John A. Lejeune, commandant of the United States Marine Corps, is expected to dedicate the historic Spanish Fort to the memory of those garrisons which protected the northern entrance of New Orleans from roving buccaners and hostile Indians in the days of Spanish dominion of Louisiana, during his visit to the American Legion national convention next month.

General Lejeune, who led the Fifth Marines in the World War, is a native of Louisiana, and it is considered peculiarly fitting that he should officiate at the ceremonies commemorating the faithful performance of hazardous duty by the early garrisons of the fort.

A detail of marines and the New Orleans marine band will assist in the dedication exercises, which will take place, October 18. Immediately after the ceremonies a banquet will be given to Gen. Lejeune and national Legion officers.

A guard of honor composed of the Australian Imperial Forces similar to the one that escorted the 27th division in their parade thru the streets of New York, will march in the American Legion national convention parade in New Orleans, October 14-20. All Anzac wishing to participate in the guard are asked to communicate with Staff-Sergeant M. J. Beck, postoffice box 856, New Orleans. Kanakee, Ill.—During the last eight months the Kanakee, Illinois, American Legion post cared for 250 ex-service men who became stranded in the town. In addition it investigated a large number of cases which proved fraudulent and drove out 800 fakers who were endeavoring to enlist sympathy and obtain money under false representations.

The acumen of a junior officer of the army, poring over records of the government back in 1919, led to the uncovering of fraud and criminal conspiracy practiced against the government on gigantic scale by contractors during and after the world war, Marquis James declares in the third series of articles captioned, "Who Got the Money?" which he has written for the American Legion Weekly. The complete article will appear in that magazine's issue of September 21.

The startling discovery by the junior officer led the article says, to the secret establishment in fourteen cities of units of the contract audit section of the finance department of the War Department. This was in June, 1920. No publicity was given the investigation of these units, nothing said concerning their establishment. For months they worked. And in the first authorized publication of their activities, Brigadier General Kenzie Walker, chief of finance of the Army, furnished Mr. James with the following figures:

With only 17,000 out of 150,000 war contracts audited approximately $46,000,000 has been found to be due the United States from war contractors.

Of this sum $15,138,000 has been collected and returned to the Treasury by the War Department. Claims totaling $4,400,000 have been referred to the Department of Justice and the general accounting office.

The balance of $26,000,000 is in process of effort at collection by the audit section.

So startling were the disclosures made in auditing the few of the many war contracts, that Congressman Roy O. Woodruff of Michigan was moved to explain in a speech in the house. "The findings of the contract audit section form a positive and tangible basis for action by the Department of Justice," and to predict that there would be eventually a recovery by the army auditors of "at least $750,000,000 which was wrongfully and fraudulently taken from the government by those war contractors whose operations have, incident to the audit of their contracts, shown unmistakable criminal dishonesty."

Some typical instances of discovered fraud and profiteering are cited as having been handled by the contract audit section in its investigations—a manufacturer using government material on a contract calling for use of his own material, and pocketing the difference of $700,000 and like cases. Contracts connected with the building of the war cantonnments—sixteen in all—at a cost of $206,632,920, also are scrutinized and considered in detail, with some of the testimony given before the House Committee on war expenditures, headed by Representative William J. Graham of Illinois, included. The sixteen contracts have cost, it was figured by this committee, not more than $128,000,000—or $78,500,000 less than was paid under the "cost-plus" system that obtained.

Witnesses testified that on cantonnment contract jobs there were fifty to sixty per cent too many men employed—the more money expended the greater the pretense of profit. Contractor. That valuable lumber and materials, worth millions, were wasted or destroyed; that at Camp Sherman, for instance, to quote from the testimony of Joseph E. Poole, a foreman under Contractor A. Bentley & Sons, who was working on the hospital at the time, "In the wards they had absolutely no heat except from oil stoves. I have seen boys suffering in there and the steam fitters shooting craps and cooking hot dogs in those diet kitchens. I reported it to the Acons, the block boss and he told me afterwards: 'It was the worst I have ever seen. They would shoot craps and they would play freeze-out and then eat hot dogs standing around a gasoline torch, while the soldier boys were sick in those wards suffering with the cold. Actually pinched blue, their finger nails blue.'"

And many others testified that the cantonnments were built by the contractors on the principle of "the more you spend the more you get," and "Get while the getting is good."

And the government, spurred on by the great need of cantonnments at once to house the fast growing army, was victimized, mulcted of millions. A quarter of a million dollars was lost, it is charged, in the government's settlement with the American Can Company, which landed contracts for 89,000,000 bread cans at 5 to 6 1/2 cents apiece, though other bidders were trying to get the job for 4 to 5 cents apiece. The article says: When the Armistice came the company had $87,000 worth of tin plate on hand which the government permitted the company to keep at 68 per cent of cost price, though the market price of tin plate had fallen only nine per cent. Machinery costing $16,000 and good for 12 years was sold for $38,000. "Henry Moss & Company sold the Government 195,000 branding irons, or one for every three horses and mules bought during the war. The government also bought 20,000 lbs. of copper from this contractor for 39 1/2 cents a pound and sold it back to him at 11 cents. Extravagance attendant on the building of the powder plant at Nitro, West Virginia, was discovered by the Graham committee, together with evidence tending to explain why the contract for building this plant, let to E. I. Du Pont de Nemours & Company, was summarily canceled. Some pre-contract activities of Daniel Cuffield, agent of the DuPont Engineering Company, a subsidiary of the power concern, the Graham committee reported, "tinctured with fraud." The contract was let after its cancellation, to the Thompson-Starrett Co., this company receiving a fee of $760,000, plus "very heavy" engineering, field, administration and other charges.

According to the Graham committee findings, "Men were employed at fanciful and exorbitant wages. Boys received carpenters wages. Men were paid to carry refuse from one part of the work to another and back again. Lumber was destroyed by the wholesale. Great masses of hardware were destroyed willfully. Immense quantities of California redwood pipe was put underground to rot."

An engineer who recommended its use got $100,000 for his advice." There was "palpable fraud" in the settlement of the chain of the Standard Steel Car Company of Chicago, the Graham Committee charged, by which the company got $3,000,000, and it charged further that the $3,600,000 Claims Board Settlement with the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company was "fraudulent per se." The article brings forward many others, and concludes:

"The list could be continued greatly, but this would add little to what is apparent, namely, that when Uncle Sam went into the market to buy what he required to win the organized industries of the country saw him coming from a long way when our Uncle Sam met these industries there was enacted a scene which recalls the story of 'Little Red Riding Hood.'"

25 YEARS OF AGRICULTURAL INVESTIGATION IN ALASKA

In 1897 the present chief of the division of insular stations, States Relations Service, made a survey of Alaska for the United States Department of Agriculture to determine the agricultural and horticultural possibilities of the Territory. An expedition, headed by the chief, was established shortly afterwards at Sitka. The visit of the chief was recently repeated, to learn at first hand the development that has taken place in the intervening 25 years.

It has been fully demonstrated that Alaskan agriculture can be self-sustaining. There are now five Alaskan experiment stations—at Sitka, Rampart, Kodiak, Fairbanks, and Matanuska—which have introduced a number of improved varieties of hardy grains, including wheat, oats, rye, and barley, all of which are being grown successfully on Alaskan farms, as well as vegetables, fruits and ornamentals of various kinds. These have aided settlers materially in increasing their local food supply and in improving their home surroundings. Whereas only two satisfactory gardens were growing in southeastern Alaska in 1897, excellent crops of radishes, lettuce, onions, potatoes, peas, beans, cabbage, cauliflower, turnip, and other vegetables are now growing almost everywhere. In many places strawberries, raspberries, currants, and gooseberries are produced abundantly. Small dairies have been established near a number of Alaskan towns. At Skagway oats and vetch were grown this year to fill a silo for winter feed for the cows.

Among the striking investigations at the Sitka station are those with strawberries and potatoes. More than 2,000 hybrid strawberries came into bearing in July, the results of crosses made with native species and some cultivated varieties, all having the characteristic aroma and flavor of the coast species parent. The station hybrid grown and producing berries of excellent quality. Several hundred seedling potatoes are being tested to determine their value for Alaskan conditions.

In view of improving trade conditions, the work of the Alaskan stations may be expected to aid materially in building up the agriculture of the Territory and in supplying food to its population.

MOONSHINE FLOWING FREELY. Deputy sheriffs L. T. Uls and Herbert Snyder were called to the Bellevue neighborhood last Thursday to investigate the liquor traffic. They had been informed that bootleg liquor was flowing freely, but by the time they got there the party suspected had disposed of all liquor he had and no arrests could be made.

Some kettle never get as far as the kettle. They marry.

The Los Angeles people claim they have a pint and a half of wine for every man, woman and child in the country. Perhaps this accounts for the rapid growth of Los Angeles.

Dress materials that do not rumple are popular with the young people. Smooth cloth tell no tales.

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

TAIN NO SENSE ER DE
STO-KEEPUH CHEATING!
ME OUTEN MAH MONEY.
CASE HE KNOW GOOD
EN WELL HE GWINE
GIT IT ALL ENNY-HOW!

Copyright, 1923 by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

GLASS STOMACH INDICATES DIGESTIBILITY OF FOODS

It is now possible to determine the digestibility of foods and whether or not it is necessary to cook them, without conducting feeding tests, thus saving much time and expense, say the specialists of the Bureau of Chemistry, U. S. Department of Agriculture, who have adapted a chemical method to this work. The method is carried out by the use of laboratory apparatus that might be called an artificial stomach since by its use it is possible to imitate at least a part of the digestive processes.

The protein to be tested, those from beans, for instance, are placed in glass containers in a dilute solution of hydrochloric acid similar to that found normally in the stomach, the proper quantity of pepsin is added, and the mixture is placed in an incubator where the temperature is kept at the same point as that of the human stomach, about 37 degrees centigrade. After a certain number of hours the contents of the container are sampled and analyzed. The digestive effect is measured by the ratio of what is known as amino nitrogen to total nitrogen. By running through cooked and uncooked protein from beans it is possible to determine which is the more easily artificial stomach, and consequently by the stomach itself.

After the food has been acted upon by the pepsin and hydrochloric acid, it is treated with trypsin and a dilute alkaline solution as nearly as possible like the digestive juices found in the small intestine. This second process tells the investigator what the probable digestive action on any particular food will be in the intestine.

In the human or animal body there are, of course, other factors that enter into the digestion of food or feeds, but the "artificial stomach" will tell if one protein is more digestible than another and whether it is more digestible when cooked or raw. It does not tell what kinds of protein are contained in a food or whether the variety is sufficient for all the needs of the body.

Auto-suggestion is said to be a cure for most of the ills of life, but many feel that the auto-suggestion they get from their families will cost them about 1,000 bones for a satisfactory car.

Speak softly to your wife. She hasn't forgotten how to contrast growl of today with your purr of courtship days.

Local wise man insists that only snakes have forked tongues. And at that he may be correct.

NOTICE TO PAINTERS

Bids will be received by the undersigned for painting the tinwork on the Court House and also painting the jail. Bids will be received until noon September 30th, 1922. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. Specifications may be had by calling on the undersigned.

C. A. FOWLER, Jailer.

By order of the Fiscal Court.

RECHARGE ANY BATTERY

75c

RENTED BATTERIES FOR ANY MAKE CAR WHILE WE ARE RECHARGING OR REPAIRING YOUR BATTERY.

Dempsey Motor Car Co., Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

FIRST-CLASS Shoe Repairing

Mail Orders at my Expense. All work guaranteed. Mail your shoes to be repaired to

A. D. LAWRENCE, Erlanger, Ky. 87 Lexington Pike.

Take Your County Paper.

WHEN THE SHADES ARE DRAWN

and the tender ministry of the living must give place to the service of the undertaker, it is a real comfort to surviving friends, to feel sure that the preparation for burial will be conducted with dignity and proper respect for the lately departed one.

Then, too, Modern Science has found a way through the art of Embalming, not only removing the peril of contagion, but also of restoring the natural flush of health, so that the latest picture in memory will be pleasant to recall.

This process is a part of our service which we will gladly explain to anyone interested.

PHILIP TALIAFERRO,
Undertaker and Embalmer
Erlanger, Ky.

The Best Advertisement IS A PLEASED CUSTOMER

Spectacles and Eyeglasses that Fit the face and are the kind we sell.

Phone South 1746
WITH METCH, Jeweler
DR. N. F. PENN, 613 Madison Ave. - Covington, Ky

Efficient, Service and Economy IS MY SLOGAN

C. SCOTT CHAMBERS
Embalmer and Funeral Director
WALTON, KENTUCKY.

WE WANT EVERY MAN in Boone and Kenton Counties

That has a farm large or small, or House and Lot to sell to list it with us and we will advertise and find a buyer if there is any.

The Wisenberger Real Estate Co.
BEN Phone South 8008 JOHN
515 Coppin Bldg. COVINGTON, KY.

Printed Stationery for business people. for professional people. for farmers. for every one who wants to be considered up to date and going strong

AT THIS OFFICE ENVELOPES, LETTERHEADS, NOTEHEADS, STATEMENTS

Ready for Business.

The Farm Bureau Warehouse at Florence is now in full operation and will keep on hand all kinds of Feed, Flour, Wire Fencing, Coal, Etc.

Help Your Organization
With Your Patronage.

Cincinnati Daily Enquirer —AND—

The Boone County Recorder
YOU CAN GET BOTH for $4.50 the YEAR

Send Your Subscriptions to the BOONE COUNTY RECORDER Burlington, Ky.

WASHINGTON COMMENT.

History is full of tales of desperate chances which succeeded because some man was not afraid to lead. In America today exists a chance, far from desperate, and but waiting a great leader who will point the way... who will be he?

The press is full of "remedies" for the industrial unrest which results in strikes and lockouts. Editorial after editorial explains that all that is needed is a fuller understanding between capital and labor; a mutual forbearance, a playing each into the other's hand, a cooperation between them for their mutual advantage.

All, it is explained, which is needed is for some great cooperation to lead the way and treat labor as something to be considered, consulted, profited, and helped, or some great body of labor to lead the way and instead of seeing how much they least work, to try the other scheme and see how much they can do in a given time to profit the employer and let the wages depend not on organization and threat, but upon the work done and the spirit of cooperation.

That's all! But as yet the leader does not appear. No great cooperation as yet fails to get the best of the bargain if it can when making terms with labor. No labor organization as yet has considered the employing interest before it's own. And if you ask why, the answer is plain; because men are selfish, because men distrust each other, because experience has to be trusted.

Then the answer, the real answer, is an inculcation of a spirit of unselfishness, and a spirit of trust. All must practice the Brotherhood of Man. Then, and not until then, will the leader arise who will make capital and labor truly fraternal instead of opponents.

We all see. But we do not all see clearly. When we see an evil, we often say, "Let us pass a law against it" in the child-like belief that what is forbidden is eradicated.

A prohibitory law may, or may not, be necessary. But unless, behind that law, is the will of us all that that thing not to be done, the law does more harm than good. People can not be made over by law. They can be made over by one, and only one thing, education. If we find a bad ball game before 11 o'clock on Tuesday, let a law passed against playing ball until midnight on Tuesdays. But unless the community feels that what we think is an evil is really evil, the boys and the ball players will play when they get ready, and the community will go to see them do it, law or no law.

There are many people in this country who know the evils of child labor, and many states have laws relating it. But the law is often broken, and there are many places where there is no law about it. The way to eliminate the evil of child labor is to educate the whole country in regard to it; the law will follow automatically, and the evil be as much ended as piracy, or burning at the stake, or the ducking stool.

There are many people in this country who know the evil of transportation problem is not solved, while strikes and lockouts continue to interrupt it. The way to make adequate is not to pass law after law forbidding this and compelling that, but to educate the all of us so that we all know that the whole people's right is superior to any right of any group.

Education—not only the wisdom in books, but in the ability to think, is what we all need. Good schools, good teachers.

AURORA FARMER'S FAIR.

October 6th-7th.

The Aurora Farmers' Fair is to be larger and better than ever this year. We have secured expert judges for each line of produce. J. W. Schwap of Purdue University will judge the live stock. W. W. Zike, who judged the poultry at the State Fair this year will judge our poultry. C. F. Troyer, the world's champion corn grower, will judge the corn and vegetables. C. L. Burkholder of Purdue University will judge the fruit. Miss Neva Stephenson of Purdue will judge the girls' club work and also the work in the ladies' departments.

The premium list has been revised again this year making several changes and including several new items. Some of the biggest changes were made in the poultry department. Instead of showing in pairs we will show single birds. There will be four classes in each breed including cock, cockerel, hen and pullet. There will also be a utility class of three hens for each group of breeds. This will give the poultry man an opportunity to show his birds on their individual merits. This classification corresponds to the classification of all of our big poultry shows. Each exhibitor will be expected to furnish his own coops.

Everybody is invited to attend this fair and bring as much of their farm produce as possible.

OPENING OPPORTUNITIES

The question whether young people stay on the farm depends largely on whether they can see a business opportunity there. The supposed glitter of the white lights of the city is not so powerful an influence in pulling them away, as their idea that there is no opportunity for business success in farming.

The only way you can convince the boy, is to let him make some tests for himself under favorable auspices. Give him a chance for a little special training in some agricultural school or course, and let him try what he can do with a garden or pigs or calves. If he makes some money of his own on a little scale, he will believe that when he gets ready to try farming on a man sized basis, there is a chance there that is worth his attention.

COUNTRY ROADSIDES

There is complaint of the way many country districts allow the weeds and brush to grow along their roadsides. This gives an uncultivated and wild appearance to the territory, which may have a certain rough picturesque quality, but it makes a locality look uncared for.

A writer in the Indiana Farmers' Guide notes that if a roadside is mowed three times a season for two years, it will grow grass instead of weeds. A man's land would look so much better to be lined by a strip of grass than by these tangles of weeds and brush, that it would seem to pay a real estate owner to have this work done. If a man has anything to sell, a clean roadside is good advertising.

AUTUMNAL EVENINGS.

Summer evenings are a period of romance and still peace, when people take moonlight walks and sit on park benches and enjoy nature or sentiment. As cooler weather drives them indoors, the current of their thought changes.

Home life is supposed to be broken up in these days of shows and entertainments. Yet few people care to keep going night after night. A great deal of quiet reading and talk is going on in the home circles of Boone county as the long evenings come on.

The children find themselves once more up against their school lessons. The teachers feel that after the rest of vacation, pupils can do some real study and of now is the time to make a long start on the 10 months program. Hence knitted brows and absorbed faces on the young folks as they dig into their next day's lessons.

The older people begin to plan for activities for fall and winter, and the fireplaces are held around the firesides. By October the results will be seen in new programs and machinery.

THE COMMON LOT

People sometimes imagine that if they could only acquire a position of eminence, wealth, or other form of so called success, they would be perfectly happy. The falsity of such an illusion is illustrated by the distressing illness of Mrs. Harding.

Here is her husband, who has attained the most exalted position in the world, honored all over the globe, and assured of success and abundant living for the rest of his life. Yet his wife falls sick just as if she were the helmsman of some common laborer, and he must struggle against the black forebodings and anticipations of grief just as if he were some common and obscure man.

In addition his lot is infinitely worse, because while carrying all this anxiety, he must also bear the black forebodings and anticipations of grief just as if he were some common obscure man.

In addition his lot is infinitely worse, because while carrying all this anxiety, he must also bear the black forebodings and anticipations of grief just as if he were some common obscure man.

EVERYBODY TURN OUT.

There will be a box social and "Country Store" held at the Burlington High School building next Friday night, Sept. 29th. The evening will be made one of enjoyment and fun to all who attend. Matters being enlivened by a contest to decide the prettiest girl present. The pupils of the school are behind the movement and all money derived is to go to the Athletic Fund. So everybody turn out and have a good, social evening, meanwhile promoting the interests of your school.

BOONE HIGH SCHOOL

Many husbands will breathe more freely when they get their wives safely past the millinery openings.

AMERICAN SHIPS
PRIDE OF AMERICANS.

Progress in Elimination of Aliens on United States Ships is Marked

Washington — An all-American fleet, manned by all-American crews, has been criticized abroad as a selfish and non-trustworthy ideal. Naturally, with American wages paid by the Government to sailors on Shipping Board vessels, higher than obtainable under any other flag, foreign seamen have flocked to ships under the Stars and Stripes. In such numbers did they come that more than a third of our crews were not citizens of the country whose pay they took.

Those in authority, becoming alarmed, began to give preference to seamen of American birth, or naturalization, and recruiting officers were instructed to expedite the Americanization of American ships, built with American money to serve American interests. This order has borne fruit, and according to recent statistics, the end of the fiscal year saw 92 per cent of the 85,000 seamen employed Americans, either by birth or naturalization.

It is pointed out that not only is this policy best serving American interests in times of peace, but that in the event of war the United States will be able to call upon a much larger body of trained men, both for transport work and for recruits for an expanding Navy than if a third or more of its crews could not be used because of foreign citizenship.

KENTUCKY CHILDREN'S HOME.

So great is the problem of the homeless child in Kentucky; so intertwined with church, school and society that the only institution in the State — the Kentucky Children's Home Society — is taxed to capacity and must construct another building, if hundreds are to be given shelter and a home.

More than $100,000 is needed and to raise this sum the Society will start immediately a campaign throughout the various counties and in the schools that the donations by the children may build the third unit of the cottage village at Lyndon, a memorial dedicated to the homeless little ones.

For a quarter of a century the Society was housed in Louisville in an old room of residences. Geo. L. Schon, Supt., struggled for a decade to raise money to buy the 87 acre tract at Lyndon and last spring his dreams were realized when two units of the village were completed and ready for occupancy. To the new Home were moved the 160 little children.

Despite the lateness of the year, each boy began planting a garden with the result that enough food was raised to supply the table and to preserve more than 1,000 gallons of food for winter use.

At this time, to withhold help from the Kentucky Children's Home Society means the counties must take up the work of caring for the homeless hundreds in the state, with the attendant increase in county taxes and the increase in delinquency thru the evil surroundings of the poorhouses in which they must find shelter.

For this humanitarian cause, the people of the state are asked for $100,000 by Christmas in order that work may be started by early spring.

FIFTY-CENTS A TON—APPARENTLY IGNORE NEW LAW REGULATING PRICE

Mine Owners Claim, However, To Be Seeking Arrangements With Jobbers And Dealers to Make Retail Price to Consumer Reasonable.

Columbus, O.—In the absence of a Fuel Administrator the price of coal at the mines in Ohio has been advancing fifty cents a ton. This rise is admitted by the representatives of the Coal Association with headquarters in this city, though accompanying explanation was added.

Governor Harry L. Davis left the city for a few days after his meeting with the operators' committee. The next meeting of the committee will be within a few days. On that day decision is expected as to terms and conditions. It is possible that an administrator then may be appointed but this is not regarded as certain by any means.

In the interim the operators proposed, as though nothing had taken place, although under the terms of the new law they may not make contracts which will be binding if the price does not comport with that which later may be fixed by the state. For the present it is figured roughly that the average price a ton will be $5.

SOME NICE CATTLE

B. H. Berkshire, of Petersburg, passed through Burlington one day last week, with 50 head of cattle he had purchased on the Cincinnati market. He was taking them to C. C. Hughes' farm out on the East Bend pike where he will graze them for a few weeks. They were nice ones.

THRIFT IN THE COUNTRY

One great reason why country life is more satisfactory in the long run than a city residence can ever be, is that the country is favorable to thrift. It is easier for people to save money in the country, hence people stand a better chance of attaining an independent position.

In the cities, there is a lack of normal and natural enjoyments. The beauty of nature is absent, and the country sports are not easy to enjoy. People who do not own an automobile are shut off from a great deal that the country folks have without cost. Hence a multitude of city folks have to keep car purely for pleasure purposes, thus constituting a drain on their incomes. The countryman's car is used largely for his business.

Young people are constantly tempted in cities to spend their money for things or to extravagance. They see in the store windows and can not resist the temptation to buy them.

In the country, people enjoy the beauty of nature, the interesting ways of farm animals and pets, the warm and cordial social life, and these things take the place of costly pleasures. People are not all the time being persuaded and solicited to buy the things they do not need. They acquire a good sense of the value of money, and find it easier to save and that it can be done without self denial.

While the great majority of city people are close to the wind all the time, the majority of country people are always steadily going ahead. They get the good things of life, and at the same time if reasonably industrious and prudent, they acquire a reserve against old age and a steady return of interest coming in.

GREAT REVIVAL GLOES AT BELLEVUE.

There were Twenty-seven additions to the Church, Fifteen of whom were Baptized last Sunday Afternoon.

The revival of the Baptist church at Bellevue, which had been in progress for two weeks, closed last Sunday night with twenty-seven additions. Rev. Nicely, the pastor, and the church was assisted by Evangelist W. D. Nowlin, of the south. Rev. Nicely and the church had every thing in readiness when the evangelist arrived and the meeting began at once with great audiences and interest. The preaching was of the highest type of evangelistic preaching and the singing of the best. Fifteen of the converts were baptized in the river Sunday afternoon.

BEN A. TERRILL, DEAD

Ben A. Terrill, aged 56 years passed away at his home in Erlanger Tuesday morning after a lingering illness of several months. Funeral services were held at the residence Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock by Rev. Cutts of the Baptist church in the presence of a host of relatives and friends. The large number of beautiful floral pieces showed the esteem in which Mr. Terrill was held in this community.

He is survived by his widow and two daughters. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker Philip Taliaferro.

Benj. Terrill was born and reared in Bullittville neighborhood, and was a son of the late Dr. Jonas Terrill and wife.

The remains were taken to Union and interred in the cemetery at that place.

GETTING THE DOPE

J. J. Kirkpatrick has established a radio receiving station in his shop on Washington street, and every evening, and every Sunday morning he receives sermon and music broadcast from stations from all cities within a radius of 400 or 500 miles. This probably is the greatest invention of man, and has been perfected so as to receive the voice for thousands of miles distant. Quite a number of present last Sunday week and listened to a sermon that was preached at Louisville. Mr. Kirkpatrick established this station at a cost of $300 or $400 just merely to keep abreast of the times and the amusement of himself and his friends.

BAPTISTS MEET AT UNION

The North Bend Association of Baptists met with Union Baptist church on Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 13th and 14th. It was estimated that between 800 and 900 delegates and visitors were present the first day, and about 400 the second day. It was a great association. The various reports indicated splendid work and progress during the past year. Union Baptist church wishes to express her sincere appreciation for the hearty co-operation of the entire community in helping to make her entertainment of the Association a success.

JOHN H. GAIBERK, Pastor.

Some people never dip into other people's affairs. They plunge instead

CHATAUQUA NEWEST EDUCATIONAL PLAN

Extension of Regular Chatauqua Courses to Junior Citizens Will Aid Schools

Washington—The Chatauqua system is a fixture in American life. Begun when educational and recreational facilities were difficult to obtain in smaller communities, the system has made a place for itself in rural and semirural America, which grows with the increase of knowledge and transportation facilities.

The benefits of Chatauqua are now to be provided for children in connection with "grown-up" Chatauqua.

The Chatauqua Manager's Association of America and Canada has announced a plan for a National organization which will have the services of an advisory committee of four of the best known authorities in the country on young people's development, to coordinate the work into a national unit and map out a comprehensive plan for a period of years.

HUMAN LIFE FROM MVNY ANGLES

(By Walter Matthews.)

GOODNESS

Going to church regularly, and becoming a member of a church organization, and assuming a haughty, proud, disdainful, overbearing attitude toward those who do not profess to be so saintly, does not constitute real goodness.

A Chinese proverb says: "There are two perfectly good men—one dead, and the other unborn."

He is good who renders good service to others with an unselfish motive. If the good service he does is not appreciated, and if he can still entertain only the kindest feelings toward the recipient of his favor, indeed, if he suffers a loss, or injury, in consequence of his act, and yet feels no sense of regret, as some one has said: "Even if such an act should prove his death, his virtue is at its summit; it is heroism complete."

He that does good to another does good to himself, for he will inevitably reap the reward in consciousness, whatever the consequence may be. By having an intense, overwhelming desire to do good without any thought of how it may eventuate in our own affairs makes us a channel through which love and wisdom may flow; helps to narrow the power of what seems to be evil, and will certainly help to bring peace and harmony into every relation of life.

Why should men and women struggle so hard, while passing through this earthly existence, for place, power and material possessions? Many forget that everything on this earth, and in the Universe, belongs to God, and the more material possessions they hold the greater becomes their personal responsibility to bring "peace on earth good will to men," and that all they can possibly take with them into the next life are the experiences they have accumulated while here and the consciousness of the good or evil they have done.

ALL EXCEPT FOUR BURLEY DIRECTORS ARE RE-ELECTED.

Reuben F. Offutt, Dr. S. A. Whitsett, of Indiana, Herdy Myers and Hon. Elliott Northcutt, of West Virginia, are the New Members.

Lexington, Ky.—In the election of directors for the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association Sept. 18, all save four of the first board were returned as members of the new directorate, which assumes its duties Wednesday, October 4.

In the Nineteenth district, Mr. Thompson S. Burnam, of Richmond, voluntarily retired. In the fifth district Reuben F. Offutt, of George town, was elected to succeed F. V. Nunneley. In the seventh district Dr. S. A. Whitsett, of Kent, Indiana, was chosen in place of Everett M. Clure, of Aurora. In the thirteenth district, Herdy Myers, of Carlisle, was named as the successor of Carroll D. Asbury, of Augusta.

E. A. Martin, of Idlewild neighborhood, met with a very serious and painful accident, last Thursday. While working with the engine of a haybaler a piece of wire on the belt caught in a ring on one of his fingers. The ring was broken into and the finger badly lacerated. It is supposed the belt flew off striking him in the head knocking him unconscious. He was alone and no one at the house, but he succeeded in getting to the house and called some of the neighbors over the phone, then called Dr. Duncan who dressed the wound, but Mr. Martin was so dazed that he could not tell just how he was hurt.

A WEEK'S NEWS.

For an organization which was in the formative stage only a year ago The Burley Tobacco Marketing Association has had a remarkable growth. There have been few dissensions in the new organization and its success has been beyond the expectations of most of its members. Even the few who remain on the outside are willing to admit that but for the organization they would have received a much lower price for their last year's crop than they did, and those who are inside are so well satisfied that little doubt remains of its future success. It is to be regretted that there are still a few who refuse to join but even they may some of these days see the error of their ways and come in.—Grant County News.

Mr. T. J. MacNeal, formerly of Boone county, and ex-Mayor of Ludlow, but now making his home with his son at Carlisle, Pa., sent us a post card one day last week from McAlpin Hotel, New York City, on which he said, "I am seeing some of the sights of the Eastern cities. On the card is a picture of the Hudson Terminal and Tubes Buildings—these buildings are twin structures and together form the largest office building in the world. The weight is estimated at 200,000 tons, resting on a cofferdam 400x178 feet, 75 to 98 feet deep. It is 22 stories 375 feet high and has office room for 20,000 people. Twin tubes enter the basement from Jersey City.

This week will see by far the greater part of the tobacco crop of this county safely housed. The crop will be below the average in pounds but will make up in quality what it lacks in weight. It seems a little remarkable that the crop is as good as it is when we consider that this has been one of the driest seasons in 14 years. The corn crop has also grown out wonderfully and there is a good average crop of that cereal in the county, all of which goes to prove that a little rain just at the right time is better than a lot of rain at the wrong time.

The rain of last week was welcomed by some but not by others. While rain was needed there are quite a few farmers who would have been glad to have had a few more days of fair weather so that they could have finished cutting their tobacco. While by far the larger part of the tobacco crop is housed quite a number of farmers still have small amounts standing in the field. Unless it is not too ripe this will not damage by the rainfall unless frost should come which does not seem very likely just now.

If some of the country stores would complain about big city competition a little less, and holler a little more about their own goods, they would save some of this trade that now goes to distant cities.

Mrs. Agnes Corbin, of San Francisco, and sister, Mrs. Margaret Heist of Los Angeles, Cal., and Mrs. B. J. Crisler, of Petersburg, were the guests of Mrs. Fannie Rice, last Thursday and Friday.

Grant Williamson and family and Johnny Feely and wife, of Bullittville neighborhood, were guests last Sunday of Tinker Hall and wife, of near Moore's Hill, Indiana.

A Mr. Schuler, of Cincinnati, was buying stock hogs in this section of the county, last week. He bought 65 head which he had shipped to a farm near Oxford, Ohio.

Lacy Cropper and wife, and his mother, Mrs. Belle Cropper, of Petersburg, were guests of Mesdames Fannie and Lorena Cropper, last Friday afternoon.

One cause of automobile accidents is the number of sentimental young men who think they have acquired skill in driving their cars with one hand.

Wallace Rice, Mrs. Pink Rice, of Idlewild neighborhood, and R. B. Carver, of Petersburg, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Rice.

This is said to be women's year in politics, but they have graciously decided to let the men have most of the offices a little while longer.

Whatever the government predictions may say, a good many folks seem to think that the weather in this country is going to be dry.

Farmers of this county have been very busy the past few weeks cutting corn and getting their tobacco in the house.

Complaint is made about the American home, but what the bleachers want to see is the American home run.

One more thing this country needs is more hygiene and less high jinks.

Next Monday is county court.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C.—In this column, under date of July 31, the statement was made that when Congress would adjourn, some time along in the fall, there would be no bonus legislation, and that Republican members who were voting for it were doing so with their fingers crossed, knowing the President would veto the bill. This writer went further and gave the entire plan which would be followed—that the bill would pass both Houses, would be vetoed by the President, and that the effort to pass it over his veto would succeed in the House and fail in the Senate. This was not prophecy—it was written from knowledge of the Republican plan to hold the soldier vote in line for the Republican members and those Republican Senators who have to go before the people in November. When they voted for it and made tearful appeals for other votes they knew their votes would not make the measure into law, for they knew it would fail in the manner stated in the letter above mentioned, which appeared in hundreds of newspapers throughout the country.

It is estimated that the bonus bill would have cost the taxpayers about four billions, scattered over a general increase in the price of goods. Secretary Mellon can not see how the people could pay the price, but they have no hesitancy in approving the new tariff bill, which will take from the people's pockets, in increases in the cost of manufactured articles, almost four billions each single year until the awakened and outraged public drive the law and its makers out into the cold. Mellon himself will be the greatest beneficiary, in all likelihood, of all the men who will fatten their present wealth off of the needs of the people. This modern Shylock controls, as merely a part of his great wealth, all of the aluminum manufacturing in the land. His influence has raised the tariff rates on imported aluminum wares to such a high point that there will be no importations; his companies will have no competition in the domestic market. The public will simply have to pay. There is no escape. Under the new law, with the help of a little joker, the import duty on aluminum wares is 71 per cent, while under the Underwood law it was 20 per cent. The latter rate protected the American aluminum worker and put much revenue in the Treasury; the new rate keeps out the foreign wares, hence the Treasury will get no revenue therefrom, while it gives Mellon's companies a complete monopoly. They have suffered so little from foreign competition in the past that they have exported heavily, selling their goods in Europe in competition with cheap labor. Mellon is a director in the Aluminum Company of America, of the Aluminum Cooking Utensil Co., of the Aluminum Ore Co., of the American Metal Co., of the Northern Aluminum Co., of the Pressed Metal Radiator Co., and of the United States Aluminum Co. Under this prohibitive tariff rate a peculiar result obtains: The Treasury will receive no revenue, while the public will be mulcted shamefully, yet will have to pay other taxes to the Treasury to make up for those lost because the tariff is so high as to prevent importations.

LILAC BUSH IN BLOOM
SECOND TIME IN SEASON
Hopkinsville—W. R. Graves has a tree in a lilac bush that is bearing its second crop of leaves and is blooming for the second time this summer. Recently the bush dropped all its leaves and now has a new suit. Mr. Graves pulled a bunch of blossoms in every way the equal of those which appear at the usual time in the spring.

FARM BUREAU SUES CLERK
SHERIFF IN TAX INCREASE
Mayfield—Validity of the increase in taxes ordered by the State Tax Commission will be tested in the courts. The Graves County Farm Bureau filed suit against the county clerk and sheriff. The court is asked to restrain these officials from collecting the taxes asked by the special board named at the instance of the State commission.

One hundred million fruit cans were manufactured in San Jose, Cal., this year to take care of the output of 40 canneries in that section.

FRANCESVILLE.
The school here is closed on account of diphtheria. Misses Anna and Dottie Goodridge were shopping in Cincinnati, one day last week. Miss Gladys Wilson, who is teaching school at Grice, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Wilson. Mr. Frank Estes spent a few days last week with J. S. Eggleston and family at Pt. Pleasant. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Brown and children, Mrs. W. H. Eggleston and Edward Eggleston, visited Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bette near Waterloo, Sunday. Miss Rhoda Eggleston of the Pt. Pleasant neighborhood, was a Saturday night and Sunday guest of her cousin, Miss Alice Eggleston. We are glad to report that Mrs. Jemason Taylor is improving. Miss Beulah Selman, of Taylorsport, spent Saturday night and Sunday with her cousin, Miss Laura Goodridge.

RADIO RALF AND HIS FRIENDS---

By JACK WILSON
Copyright 1922 by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate

AURORA FARMER'S FAIR

Aurora, Indiana

2-BIG DAYS-2
October 6 and 7
LIBERAL PREMIUMS

Industrial Exhibit of Made in Aurora Products. For further Information and Premium List, address

Robt. L. Johnson, Sect. Aurora, Ind

OCTOBER IS BEST MONTH TO PICK BREEDING HENS

Lexington, Ky.—Within the next four or five weeks every farmer in Kentucky should select and mark the best hens in his poultry flock in order that these birds may be used in special breeding pens next spring, according to J. R. Smyth, poultry extension specialist of the College of Agriculture. Many farmers who keep poultry as a sideline as well as source of experienced poultry breeders in the state have found that the egg production of most any flock can be increased by selecting the highest producing birds in the flock and mating them with desirable males for the production of hatching eggs. October is perhaps the best month for selecting such a pen since it is possible to pick out the high producing hens at that time of the year. Farmers who wait until spring to pick out their breeding hens will find that they are unable to distinguish easily between heavy layers and those that produce only a small number of eggs during the year. After the hens have been selected they should be marked with leg bands or some other device in order that they may be recognized in the spring when the time for mating arrives. Only those hens that are not moulting or those that have just started should be selected when breeding hens are being picked in October. The yellow color also should be faded from the shanks and the beaks of birds belonging to yellow-shanked breeds. Vigorous hens having a bright, clear, prominent eye with an eyelid that is free from fat usually will have many of the characteristics that are desirable in breeding hens. It is important that all hens selected for the breeding pen be laying at this time of the year. Soft, pliable pelvic bones that are wide apart and a soft pliable abdomen that has at least two and one-half fingers depth between the pelvic bones and the end of the breast bone usually can be taken as an indication that the hen is still laying. No bird should be selected that is not a good representative of the breed. From 12 to 18 Leghorn hens should be picked for every room that will be used in the spring breeding and from 10 to 12 birds of other breeds.

THIRD STORE ROBBERY IN THREE WEEKS IS MYSTERY
Bowling Green—After following a trail in three counties, bloodhounds lost the scent of a person who entered the general store of Luther Cox at Three Forks, making the third robbery of the establishment within three weeks. The trail crossed the Barren river and stopped at a point where horse tracks were seen.

MOTHER VISITING SON DROPS DEAD AT WORK
Paintsville—Mrs. John McKenzie, Ashland, who was visiting her son in the Volga neighborhood, dropped dead while preparing breakfast at his home. The custom of slitting a baby's ear "to make it bright and lively" is still practiced in parts of Wales.

WELL! - WELL!
Look Here
—GRAND—
Masquerade Dance
—AND—
PICNIC
At Harvest Home Grounds,
Saturday, Sept. 30, '22

From 7:30 to 12 p. m.

Music by Murphy's Jazz Band.
Dolwick Refreshments—Coffee and Sandwiches.
Comical and Fancy Dress :: Prizes.
LET'S ALL GO.
Zimmer-McGlasson.

BOONE COUNTY
Chester White Breeders Association
Announces its Second Annual Sale of Big Type Chester Whites
At Florence, Ky.,
Monday, October 9th, 1922

Watch next week's paper for particulars.
Write for Catalog.

ROBT. CLORE, Secy. CHESTER L. TANNER, Pres.
Burlington, Ky. Florence, Ky.

WINE CACHE IN MINE CAUSES HOPKINS ARREST.

Bedford—Pete Simpson, who jumped from a second story window of his home in this county when sought by officers who say they found a still, hash and liquor concealed in a sink hole on the farm where he lived was captured across the river in Indiana and returned to county authorities.

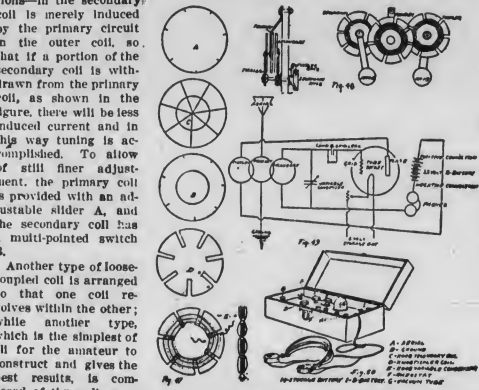

'SHINE SOLD AT CHURCH, GRANT OFFICERS TOLD

Williamstown—Sheriff's officers went to Stringtown seeking a moonshine still at which it is alleged illicit whiskey was made and peddled at a nearby church where revival services are in progress. They were unsuccessful, it being reported that the still was moved over the county line.

THE HOME RADIO
How to Make and Use It By A. HYATT VERRILL
Copyright by Harper & Brothers

XVII. LOOSE COUPLED COILS

Coils, or, as they are more often called, tuning coils, are very essential parts of radio telegraphy and telephony. The old style tuning coil, as used in wireless telegraphy, has been largely superseded by the type known as loose-coupled coils or adjustable coils which may be altered or adjusted to tune much finer or more closely than by the old type coil. Although it is not difficult to make a loose-coupled coil yet, as is the case with many of the parts of radio sets, it is as cheap and far more satisfactory to purchase them ready made. The conventional type of loose-coupled coil consists of two distinct coils, one within the other, as shown in Fig. 46. One of these is the primary coil, the other the secondary or induction coil. The two are so arranged that the inner or secondary coil slips back and forth within the larger or primary coil, thus varying the coupling or induction, for the electricity or oscillations—in the secondary coil is merely induced by the primary circuit in the outer coil, so that if a portion of the secondary coil is withdrawn from the primary coil, as shown in the figure, there will be less induced current and in this way tuning is accomplished. To allow of still finer adjustment, the primary coil is provided with an adjustable slider A, and the secondary coil has a multi-pointed switch B.

Another type of loose-coupled coil is arranged so that one coil revolves within the other; while another type, which is the simplest of all for the amateur to construct and gives the best results, is composed of three discs or coils "finger-wound" which may be adjusted back and forth. To make one of these inductors you will require some stiff, smooth cardboard, heavy Bristol board, thin fibreboard or similar composition and about half a pound of No. 24 D. C. C. wire. Also, in setting up and arranging the coils, you will require binding posts, knobs, a little sheet brass and a few other odds and ends. With a pair of dividers or compasses draw three circles on the cardboard or fibre, each about four to five inches in diameter, having all exactly the same size. Then, using the number, scribe off an unequal number (five, seven, or nine) marks around the circumference of each circle. Fig. 47, A. Next, still using the dividers, draw a smaller circle, say one and one-half inches to two and one-half inches in diameter within each circle (B). If the circles are four inches in diameter use a smaller circle inside, if five inches the larger one, and with a rule draw radiating lines one-fourth of an inch apart from each of the marks on the outer circumference to the center of the circle (C). With a pair of scissors or a sharp knife (if cardboard is used) or a fine saw (if fibre), cut out the discs and cut slots in each disc according to the marks, as shown at (D). Next, if you have used cardboard, give each slotted disc a thorough covering with shellac, using at least three coats, and when thoroughly dry proceed to wind the discs or coils. In doing this, start the wire—being sure to leave enough for connections—at a point at the inner end of one slot and wind over one segment and under the next, and as the number is uneven you will find that the wire will thus cross at the center (E). The number of times the wire should be passed can only be decided upon by experimenting after the coil is in use, but, as a starter, about twenty-five or thirty turns on one, about one and one-half times as many, or any thirty-eight to forty-five on the second, and twice as many on the third as on the first, or from fifty to sixty, will be somewhere near right. Then, by removing or adding a few turns, as you adjust your receivers you can finally secure the very best results. To mount this coil so it may be used, the coil or disc with the least turns, or, in other words, the primary coil, should be mounted rigidly and immovably and should be connected by means of binding posts to the aerial and ground wires. The secondary coil and the tickler coil should then be fastened to brass or metal strips about two or two and one-half inches long, one-sixteenth inch thick and half an inch wide. One end of each strip should be attached by small bolts or screws to the coils and the other end

FOR SALE
Eight-horse Power
International Gasoline Engine
International Feed Grinder.
Small mill for grinding Table Meal. Two Balts
All in first-class condition—will sell quick for $125.00.
CALVIN CRESS,
Union, Ky.

Be careful to whom you give advice. They might take it.

On Naming Babies.
A law was passed recently in Norway prohibiting the bestowal of ridiculous names on babies. Also no French child may be given a name that does not occur in the official list drawn up for the purpose, comprising 13,000 items.

Daily Thought.
"The not what man does which exalts him, but what man would do."—Browning.

All obituaries, card of thanks and all other matter, not news, must be paid for at 5 cents per line.

Bullittsburg Baptist Church.
J. W. CAMPBELL, Pastor.
Sunday School every Sunday at 10:00 a. m.
Regular preaching services on the First and Third Sundays in each month at 11:00 a. m.

Boone Co. Lutheran Pastorate
REV. GEO. A. ROYER, Pastor.
Sunday October 1st

Hopeful—
9:30 a. m. Sunday School
7:30 p. m., Luther League.
Hebron
9:30 a. m., Sunday School.
10:30 a. m., Sermon by Rev. V. Y. A. Tressler D. D. and Opening of Church.
7:30 p. m., Opening service of series of meetings to continue every evening during the week.

Boone Co. Christian Pastorate
REV. C. C. OMER, Pastor.

The report of the Boone county Banks will appear in next week's issue.

Miss Beattie Baldwin, daughter of father C. M. Baldwin at Madison, Indiana.

The Y. W. A. will meet at the home of Mrs. Eveline Hall next Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

Perry Barlow, of Pleasant Valley neighborhood, shipped a truck load of fat cattle to market Monday.

Rev. W. W. Adams filled his appointments at the Baptist church last Sunday morning and evening.

Ed. Graham and wife, of Greensburg, Indiana, were visitors to Burlington, last Saturday and Sunday.

Atty. Chas. Strother and William Brittenhelm, of Walton, were transacting business in Burlington, last Saturday.

The mail is now being delivered on the winter schedule, one hour later than during the summer months.

Mr. Clark Perkins died in Nebraska several days ago. Mr. Perkins was a grandson of the late Arthur Blythe.

Jesse Kirkpatrick and Elza Poston are building a garage for L. R. McNeely near his home on Washington street.

James M. Barlow and Mrs. Lloyd Weaver and little son Albert William, were Sunday guests of Milton Beemon and wife.

Mrs. N. W. Carpenter and Mrs. Allice Snyder are spending a few days with Grover Snyder and wife, of North Madison, Indiana.

Mrs. H. W. Shearer and little daughter, Helen Hall, spent Saturday night and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Alge who live down on Woolper creek, entertained quite a number of friends and relatives from Covington and Newport Sunday.

A large number of Boone county people will attend the Farmers Fair to be held at Aurora, Ind., October 6th and 7th. There will be on exhibit products that are made in Aurora, and the exhibit will be worth going miles to see.

Our old friend Chas. Beall, of the Hebron neighborhood, was transacting business in Burlington, one day the latter part of last week. He never fails, when in town, to call on the typists and crack a few jokes, and we are always glad to have him call.

Selected seed corn was planted on 1,600,000 additional acres in 1921 through the influence of demonstrations by county extension workers, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture, and 160,000 farmers selected seed corn for the next year's use.

GOOD REMINDER

A few cool mornings during this month were sufficient to remind quite a few residents of Burlington that the question of fuel took on a more serious aspect than was suggested during the hot months. But the matter of obtaining coal now seems a much easier proposition than the matter of digging up the "coini" to pay for it. It may be, however, that the State government may take a hand in setting a reasonable price on coal, but if not many Burlingtoners are doomed to have to shovel the ax and hike it to the woods or freeze. We shiver at the thought of having to drag ourselves "back to the tall and uncut" on a cold, frosty morning to get fuel enough to keep from freezing.

C. T. Claunch, real estate agent of Erlanger, has made the following sales the past week:

From E. E. Connelly, Erlanger, to Rev. W. M. Wood, Erlanger, a 10-room house, for $4,000.
From Andy Scheben, Erlanger, to Rev. T. J. Markatery, Erlanger, a five-room house, $2,800.
From Raymond Johnson, Elmore, to V. T. Wood, Crescent Springs, a three room house, $1,550.
From Thos. Duval, Elmore, to Wm. Schmidt, Cincinnati, $1,200.
From Wm. Guenther, Elmore, to Steltenkamp, Elmore, five room house, $2,300.

BASE BALL.

In the game of ball between Burlington and Hebron, at the High School campus last Saturday, with the score a tie—6 to 6, and Hebron was at the bat in the last inning, Hebron refused to play the game out when the third man was called out on three strikes, and left the grounds.

These clubs will play at Hebron next Saturday. A professional umpire will call the game. Hits—Burlington 7; Hebron 9. Struck out by Black 19, by Huey 9.

The Grant County News of last week in giving a write-up of the game of ball at that place between the home team and Warsaw team, says:

"Mr. Finn our new slab artist, was on the rubber for the local boys and he twirled a very masterly game, allowing the hard-hitting Warsaw outfit (that beat Owenton two out of three games this season) only four scattered hits and forced 15 of them to hit the ozone."

Finn of Cincinnati, twirled the game for Williamstown and pitched a classy brand of ball, allowing only four hits, and getting eleven strikeouts—Warsaw Independent.

No, no, Mr. Independent. Finn is a county boy, born and reared on the "classic waters" of Woolper creek.

James Pettit, Herbert Kirkpatrick Lloyd Weaver, Rex Berkshire and Howard Kirkpatrick witnessed the game of ball at Redland park last Sunday afternoon between Price Hill and Pittsburg. A crowd of 8,000 people witnessed the game.

Petersburg defeated Rising Sun last Sunday by a score of 8 to 4.

BUT NO VETO HERE

In the President's admirable message to Congress vetoing the Soldier Bonus Bill may be found convincing reasons why the Fordney-McCumber Tariff Bill should not receive the signature of Mr. Harding which it will receive.

"These ex-soldiers," says the President, "who served so gallantly in war, and who are to be so conspicuous in the progress of the republic in the half century before us, must know that nations can only survive where taxation is restrained from the limits of oppression, where the public treasury is locked against class legislation."

If those words are applicable to the Soldier Bonus Bill—and they undoubtedly are—what honest-minded, straight-thinking fellow citizen of Warren G. Harding's can justly say that they are not tenfold more applicable to the piece of legislation known as the Fordney-McCumber Tariff Act?

From "aluminum" to "zinc," the tariff schedules in that misbegotten measure spell nothing less than "oppressive taxation" to the American taxpayer.

Directly and openly the Soldier Bonus Bill proposed to tax the people additionally to the extent of $5,000,000,000.

Indirectly and covertly, the Fordney-McCumber Tariff Bill proposes to tax the American people not less than $6,000,000,000, not as a total but annually.

Unlike the ex-service men, the beneficiaries of this tariff tax have done the nation no signal service. For fifty years they have sapped the nation's economic vitality. Their covetousness is unrestrained. With each successive Congress their unsated appetite for privilege demands more blood of their victims.

As an example of "oppressive taxation" the Fordney-McCumber Tariff Bill is in a class by itself, recording the high-water mark in "class legislation" by the American Congress.

Yet, after vetoing the Bonus Bill on the ground that that bill is class legislation, exacting oppressive taxation, Mr. Harding will approve the Tariff Bill.

Of these two measures, the Soldier Bonus Bill, unsound though it may be, has at least this advantage over the Fordney-McCumber Tariff Bill. The Bonus Bill was worked up and worked out in the open. Its proponents frankly made known what they wished and why they wished it. The Fordney-McCumber Bill was cooked up in secret. Its schedules were written by agents of the protested interests. It represents systematic, technically legalized by act of Congress.

If there is one sound reason why the Bonus Bill should have been vetoed there are at least ten equally sound reasons why the Tariff Bill should be vetoed.

When he vetoed the President will voluntarily provide the country with a most glaring example of inconsistency.—C. J.

NOTICE.

All members of the Burlington Baptist church are urgently requested to meet at the church Sunday morning October 1st at 10:30 a. m. to take action on providing Sunday school room and other alterations to the church building. Let all members be present.

L. T. CLORE, Clerk

No, money is not the root of all evil. It is the whole tree.

"111"
cigarettes
They are GOOD! 10¢

ASPIRANTS FOR BEAUTY.

One feature of the past season has been the large number of beauty contests held in many cities, culminating in a national carnival at Atlantic City.

Those who find themselves left behind in such competitions, or who know far too well that they could take no position in them, should not feel badly about it. While physical beauty is a gift that all women desire and may wear cherish and ennobles, yet it carries with it many dangers.

The girl of woman who has this form of beauty is the subject of attention and adulation. Things come easily to her. She finds plenty of dance partners and other forms of invitation, including offers of marriage. If she goes into business she attracts the interest of men and sometimes seems to succeed without much effort.

Yet this condition tempts a pretty girl to think she can win out on her face alone and usually it takes a lot more than that to accomplish anything in the business world.

A certain type of men have their minds on feminine beauty, and spend much of their thought and effort in pursuit of young women who have this gift. A good many of these are light and unworthy fellows, who have made a special study of the art of pleasing women and they appear quite smooth while on their good behavior. If they marry such a girl, they may lose interest in her as differences of temper appear so that many unions formed on this basis end in failure.

Many pretty girls are sweet tempered and sensible, and if so their physical attractions prove helpful. But in the long run a friendly nature and earnest effort are the best dependence for success. The world's standard of female beauty also changes somewhat. The was doll type of prettiness is not so much in vogue as it was. People want more brains and vivacity behind the face.

A BIG ONE

Elmer Kirkpatrick had on exhibition on the streets last Friday evening, a tomato of the "Beefsteak" variety that weighed 30 ounces.

SHORT MEASURE GASOLINE

Motorists lose $90,000,000 a year it is estimated by the National Motorists' Association, as the result of being given short measure on gasoline.

As a general rule people who buy gasoline in their home towns and of the standard dealers whom they know will avoid most of these losses. Some of course occur through carelessness and every dealer needs to watch his own measurements carefully to make sure that he is not unintentionally giving short value.

The gasoline expense is a big item in these times for the owners of motors and the public has a right to take that the utmost care be used so that every customer shall get what he pays for.

SCHOOLS OF BOONE COUNTY

The schools of Boone county have been in operation for three weeks, and everything points to a very successful year in school work. The Boone County High School with a splendid corps of teachers and an enthusiastic and efficient Board of Education will do their part—the rest remains for the parents, guardians, and pupils. Have you, dear parents, yet called on the teacher of your child or children? No. Well, you should do so. For upon the school room training depends much of your child's future usefulness. The school room is the foundation not only of an education, but the stepping stone to character—molding, without which learning is of but little use. The patient, tired teacher appreciates at least an occasional kind word; why not lend your assistance?

GIRL 20, FALLS DEAD ON

STREET IN FORT THOMAS
Fort Thomas—Rose Walsh, 20, daughter of Daniel Walsh, contracting carpenter, Newport, dropped off a sidewalk, and when persons began to reach her side she was lifeless. Death was due to heart disease, induced by a lung ailment.

FOR OVER 40 YEARS

HALLE'S CATARRH MEDICINE has been used successfully in the treatment of Catarrh.
HALLE'S CATARRH MEDICINE cures all cases of Catarrh. It is a powerful medicine by local application, and the internal medicine, a tonic, which acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces thus reducing the inflammation and all discharges.
P. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

TYPICAL OF THE STYLES

Everyday dresses for little folks whether made of cotton or wool goods, are simply designed and usually made with knickers to match. Their adornment is provided for by very simple, ornamental stitchery, often in bright colors, of mercerized or wool yarn. Cotton and wool crepe, serge, jersey and other durable materials are used while to finish these pretty dresses with a little careful needlework.

Tutt's Pills
Enable Dyspeptics to eat whatever they wish. Cause food to assimilate. Nourish the body, give appetite.
DEVELOP FLESH

Any Make of Battery
RECHARGED
75c
Rentals for any make of car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.
Dempsey Motor Car Co.,
Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

Send For This Booklet

It tells you about the operation of the REAL ESTATE MORTGAGE AND COMMERCIAL FINANCING company and the unusual investment opportunity offered in its stock.

$12 per Share
ALL COMMON STOCK.
Resources, $2,500,000.
Over 2,200 Stockholders.
Dividends Paid Quarterly at the Rate of 11 Per Cent Per Annum.

Take advantage of your opportunity to secure some of this safe and profitable financial security before the advance in price to $14 which will take place shortly.

We will accept all issues of Liberty Bonds at the prevailing market, plus accrued interest, in payment.

Platt Brothers Co.
INVESTMENT SECURITIES
Ohio Terminal Bldg.,
Cincinnati, Ohio.

Information Coupon—Mail To-Day

PLATT BROTHERS COMPANY,
DIME TRUST CO.,
CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Without obligation on my part, mail me your illustrated booklet about The CINCINNATI FINANCE CO. stock.

Name .....

Address .....

LEAVES $17,250 CASH TO

RELATIVES, CEMETERY
Louisville—Cash bequests totaling $17,250 were provided by Mrs. Henrietta H. Fries, in her will. The remainder of the estate, of a total value of $25,000, was left to her husband, Charles Fries, who was named executor without surety. Included in the bequests was one of $500 to the Baltimore Hebrew Congregation Center, at Baltimore, Md., to be used for the upkeep of the grave of her first husband, Seligman Landberger. Fourteen nephews and nieces were named for bequests ranging from $500 to $2,000.

CAR SENSE

Spend a Dollar and Save Ten

Little defects grow into big ones in time if not corrected.
The correction of a small defect in its early stages costs but little.
When left until it grows into serious proportions its correction runs into money.
That is what makes the maintenance of a car so expensive to many people—neglecting the little things until they grow into big ones.
The better—the safer—the more economical way is to see the garage man at the first warning of trouble.
Today is always a good time to have it done.

EDDINS BROTHERS
TIRES, TUBES AND ACCESSORIES.
Burlington, Kentucky.
BRAKE BAND OIL—Guaranteed to stop Ford bands from chattering.
Agents for U. S. and Ajax Tires.

Established 1886.

A Bank Account IS ONE OF THE FIRST STEPPING STONES TO SUCCESS IN LIFE.

How are You Stepping!
This bank invites young men and women especially to open savings accounts. Officials of the bank are pleased at all time to give the benefit of their experience to customers and others who seek advice.
When in doubt come to this bank. Your success means great success for us.

Has it ever occurred to you that a checking account is a very convenient thing to have?

Boone Co. Deposit Bank
Burlington, Kentucky.
N. E. RIDDELL, President W. D. CROPPER, Cashier
W. A. GAINES, Vice-Pres. G. S. KELLY, Asst. Cashier.

The New Rising Sun Flour

WILL PLEASE YOU
Recently added milling improvements together with carefully selected milling wheat coupled with years of knowing how makes RISING SUN FLOUR second to none.
ASK FOR IT.
Fancy Patent—Golden Crown—Red Star

COURTESY SERVICE FIRST STABILITY

Peoples Deposit Bank

Burlington, Ky.
Pays
4 Per Cent
On Time Deposits.
Also the Taxes on Same.
Capital & Surplus $150,000

W. L. B. ROUSE, President. C. H. YUELL, Vice-President.
A. B. RENAKER, Cashier.
Nell H. Martin, Asst. Cashier. L. C. Beemon, Asst. Cashier.

Petersburg Theatre

At Petersburg, Kentucky
Saturday Night, Sept. 30th
"A Certain Rich Man"
Robert McKim

At Burlington, Kentucky,
Saturday Night, Sept. 30th
"ROUGH DIAMOND"
TOM MIX
CHILDREN 10c. ADULTS 25c
War Tax Included Will Begin promptly at 8:00

DEMOCRATIC TICKET

For Congress
HON. A. B. ROUSE

As the Editor Sees It.

We wouldn't be bothered so much with bad roads if we were more prompt in repairing them when they first begin to go to pieces. If you dip a saw into a pail of water and wipe it off thoroughly after, no harm will be done. But if the dampness is allowed to remain a few hours the saw will be a mass of rust.

Saws do not cost much, but we are careful to keep them free from rust. Roads cost many thousands of dollars, and we allow them to become ruined from neglect.

Can you supply a satisfactory reason for such marvelous inconsistency?

Make home attractive for the children and they will not hunger for the attractions of the street.

Children are not interested in market quotations, or political discussions, or the latest number of scandal. They require diversions suitable to their age, and when these diversions are not to be had in the home their minds naturally turn to where they are to be found.

Parents who understand this have little difficulty in controlling their children and making them a credit to the community.

There are lots of soft snaps in this world, but they seldom come to people who are looking for them.

The young man who starts out to hunt them generally dies an old man who failed to find them.

Honesty, thrift and perseverance will produce them in time, but an eternity of mere seeking will be of no avail.

When you find a man whom dogs and cats instinctively avoid he is invariably a person you will do well to avoid yourself.

Dogs and cats understand human nature about as well as some of us mortals know it. They respond quickly to kindness, and are extremely sensitive to brutality. The claws under the polished human surface are not easily concealed from them.

Keep your eye on the dog, and you will soon get the number of its master.

If a lion cub becomes unruly the mother lioness does not mince matters. She administers prompt punishment by a swipe with one of her paws.

Some people could take a leaf from the lion's book with profit to themselves and to their children.

But they don't, and the child pays for its mollicoddling long before it reaches maturity.

The lioness knows, remembers, and acts.

Many humans know, forget, and repent.

And still, we wouldn't care to be a beast, though their intelligence does at times appear to be superior to ours.

Mr. Hoover has talked much of preventing profiteering in coal this winter. The people listened, and wondered if he really meant what he said.

Now it's up to Mr. Hoover—bang up against him.

If he climbs up into the skies, gets a firm grip upon coal prices, and jerks them back again, we will believe that he is a man of truth.

But if he does not—well, he won't be the first man who has bluffed his way through a sea of political and profiteering filth.

The people are looking your way, Mr. Hoover.

Will you make good, or have you been making a bluff?

HERE IT IS AGAIN

Is it to be another German European war?

It looks like it.

The Turk wants his capital city again, or he wants a fight.

The allies don't want him to have the territory of which they deprived him, and at the same time they dread another world conflagration.

If it comes to a finish, Turkey can reasonably expect aid from Russia, and in such an event the allies would be facing a hostile army of five or six millions trained and seasoned veterans, hungry for plunder and slaughter. And none of this vast order have any particular regard for the human side of modern warfare.

Temporary arrangements may suspend hostilities for a time, but in the end only another resort to arms can effect a final and lasting adjustment of the European and far eastern situations.

Seldom does a smoldering fire fail to break out afresh and consume the fuel at hand.

During the last 11 years one of the largest American corporations engaged in the manufacture of carpets has distributed a total of $1,000,000 in bonuses among its 7,000 employees.

Notice Tax-Payers

Tax-payers of Boone County are hereby notified that I, or one of my deputies will be at the places and on the dates named below to collect the 1922 State, County and County School Taxes. Will also collect the 1922 Graded Common School taxes in Verona, Petersburg, Union and Florence Districts. Also the Consolidated School tax in the Bullittsville and Constance Districts on the same days that other taxes are collected:

BIG BONE, October 3rd
BEAVER LICK, October 4th
VERONA, October 5th
WALTON, October 6th
BELLEVUE, October 9th
CONSTANCE, October 10th

HEBRON, October 11th
UNION, October 13th
PETERSBURG, October 16th
FLORENCE, October 17th
RABBIT HASH, October 19th

Rates—State 40c; 10c on Live Stock; County 70c, 15c on Agriculture Products; School 40c on the $100; Poll $1.50. School Poll $1.00. Graded School Rates—Verona 60c; Petersburg 70c; Union 45c, and Florence 50c. Graded School Poll—Verona $1.00; Petersburg $1.50; Union $1.00; Florence 50c.

All unpaid taxes become delinquent after Nov. 30th. Six per cent penalty due State and County added after December 1st on all delinquent taxes; six per cent commission in addition is allowed Sheriff for collecting delinquent taxes. Cost of levy 60c, Advertising and recording 60c.

Please make inquiries for the amount of your taxes before November 15th, as we cannot receive everyone's taxes on the last few days of November.

B. B. HUME, S. B. C.

AND SO IT GOES

Many of the ills afflicting humanity are unnecessary and could be avoided.

Procrastination is their greatest friend.

When we feel out of sorts, or off our feed, it is a warning that our system is not functioning as nature intended it should.

Right then is the time to apply corrective measures. But that is what most of us fail to do. We daily along, hoping that it will wear itself out, and in the end the doctor does the work that nature should do with but slight assistance from us.

But, then, doctors must earn fees in order to live, and some one must pay those fees.

If we are neglectful of ourselves we are at least good to the docs.

And so it goes.

IT ALL DEPENDS

When you form an opinion, how long does it last? That depends upon the thoroughness with which you have analyzed your subject.

Hasty impressions only last until the truth becomes known, and the truth is only to be determined by first uncovering the facts in the case.

Dig into the fountain of knowledge, as well as into the soil. You will learn more and make fewer mistakes.

NO SUCH ANIMAL

Periodically some one starts out to investigate marketing conditions with a view to applying corrective measures. And just as periodically that same one is sidetracked or choked off by the profiteering "interests" involved.

Everybody knows that we are sorely in need of a better method of getting the products of our farms to the tables of the actual consumers.

Everybody expects that some day this problem will be solved, but few people hope to live to see that day.

A great avalanche of snow rushing down a steep mountain side can't be checked in its destructive course until it expends its force upon more even ground.

The profiteering "interests" those human leeches who are sweeping the country from end to end and from side to side, are just as destructive in their relentless power, and will not be stayed until barred by death or prison doors.

Find the man who can find the way and we may hope for ultimate relief. He must first be born and reared to man's estate. There's no such animal now.

Two Wayfarers

Two wayfarers met on the road to Normalcy.

"How's everything?" asked the first traveler.

"Rotten," said the second traveler.

"How's everything with you?"

"The same way. What's the name of that tavern down the road?"

"It's called 'Reduced Wages' and offers food and beds to all who come."

"I know a better inn back this way a bit, called 'Idleness.' The food and beds are poor, but the oratory's great."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Flapper Styles.

The latest thing is the dishrag sweater. "Ought to go nicely with the bath towel skirt."

The names of Oriental rugs are taken from the towns, states or tribes by whom or where they were woven, and have been handed down from generation to generation by word of mouth.

FERTILIZERS USED ON ONE-THIRD OF KENTUCKY'S FARMS.

Lexington, Ky.—Commercial fertilizers are being used on about one-third of the farms in Kentucky, according to R. E. Stephenson, soils and crops specialist of the College of Agriculture. From two to four million dollars worth is applied annually, about one half this amount being used in 20 counties in the central-western part of the state where there is a general need phosphorus before they can produce the largest crop yields.

Probably the most economical fertilizer for Kentucky farmers to use on unlimed soils is a combination of rock phosphate and manure. When these two are properly used and legumes grown, it is not necessary for the farmer to purchase either nitrogen or potash for ordinary farm crops. Acid phosphate used in connection with limestone is the best treatment and is being used in larger quantities each year. This is due to the fact that most soils in the state are acid and cannot give the best results until they are limed. Acid phosphate usually gives better results than rock phosphate on limed soils.

Many farmers are using acid phosphate for the benefit of all their soils and adding limestone to get a stand of some legume crop which in turn is depended upon to take nitrogen from the air and add it to the depleted soils. However, for truck crops and tobacco, a nitrogenous fertilizer some times is purchased and used in connection with acid phosphate. Nitrate of soda and sulphate of ammonia are being used principally for this. Acid phosphate used with limestone is unsurpassed for quick results on sour soils. Basic slag phosphate also is meeting with considerable favor among farmers of the state. It is especially satisfactory for securing a stand of grass when limestone cannot be used.

SEVEN EVENTS TO AFFECT PRICES OF FARM PRODUCTS

Lexington, Ky.—Markets for farm products, especially poultry, will be affected to a considerable extent during the remainder of the present year, by at least seven important holidays, according to O. B. Jessness, head of the section of markets of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. While Thanksgiving and Christmas are the two most important events, various others, especially Jewish holidays of which there are several during the coming months, are expected to have an important effect on the markets for certain products. New York City is the leading live poultry market of the country with the result that prices received by farmers in this state will be influenced to a considerable extent by the demands of markets in that city.

Day of Atonement is the nearest holiday of any consequence, this one being celebrated October 22d. All prime flocks, especially White Leghorn chickens and roosters, are in demand for this event. September 24 to 29 include the best New York marketing days for products in demand for this holiday. Feast of Tabernacles, which will be celebrated four days later, October 6, will create a demand for ducks, fowls and fat geese. The best New York marketing days for products in demand for this holiday are October 2 to 4.

The folks who spent about six months planning for their summer vacation, are now going to spend six months more talking about it.

NOTICE OF ELECTION

The annual election of the Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Co. will be held at their office in Burlington, Ky., Monday, October 2, 1922. All persons desiring their name on the official ballot notify me at once.

R. B. HUEY, Secretary, Burlington, Ky.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

In as much as it has pleased our Heavenly Father to call from our midst into His own Glorious presence our beloved co-laborer, Mrs. Katie Huey, beloved wife of Deacon R. L. Huey, and mother of five daughters, Mrs. Jessie Rouse, Miss Jeanette Huey, Mrs. Ruth Green, Mrs. Sarah Miller and Mrs. Anna Smith, and whereas the Woman's Missionary Union of the Big Bone Baptist church has lost a loyal and consecrated member who desired above all the extension of Christ's Kingdom in this world of sin.

Therefore be it resolved 1st That we bow in humble submission to the Divine Will of our Heavenly Father who doeth all things best for his children.

Resolved 2nd. That we as members of this Missionary Union will ever cherish her memory and imitate her Godly example.

Resolved 3rd. That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to the sorrowing ones left behind, ever reminding them that their loss is Heaven's gain.

Resolved 4th. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved husband and to each of the children. A copy to be spread upon the minutes of this Society and one sent to each of the Boone County Recorder and the Western Recorder for publication.

J. A. Miller, Mrs. J. A. Miller, Mrs. N. H. Clements, Committee.

Senator New Returns Beverage Silence for Silence

Republicans of Indiana have opened the Congressional campaign with the determination to make a vigorous fight—against one another.

Senator New, who was defeated for renomination by Albert J. Beveridge, has begun the fight. He has flouted Beveridge and Beveridge's following by announcing that he will not make any speeches for his successful opponent in the recent Republican primary.

Clarence B. Martin, who managed Beveridge's campaign before the primary and who is now head of the Republican headquarters bureau in Indianapolis, inquired of Senator New about his itinerary during the coming campaign. The latter replied: "My itinerary will be easy to arrange, since I will follow the same route as that of Beveridge in 1916."

This caustic statement referred to Beveridge's refusal to make any speeches for New when he was a candidate six years ago.

Senator New's attitude is to be the cue for a great many Indiana Republicans. If New won't talk for Beveridge it is pretty certain that a good many of his followers won't vote for Beveridge either.

At first there was an effort to make it appear that the story of New's refusal to make at least an oratorical contribution to Beveridge's candidacy was a fabrication. But New has confirmed it.

"I am not going to make any speeches in the campaign," he said when interviewed in Washington by the correspondent of the New York Times.

Claimed that longer skirts for women mean more accidents, but perhaps the men can keep their eyes on the traffic better.

Buy Your

FALL SEEDS AT HILL'S

You will get the best seed obtainable and save money by buying direct at WHOLESALE PRICES

FANCY NEW TIMOTHY
MICHIGAN ROSEN RYE
EANCY SEED WHEAT
ALFALFA, BLUE GRASS.

SEND A POSTAL CARD FOR PRICES. Buy your seed now and be ready to plant when the time comes.

Hill's Seeds Do Grow.

Quotations to Farmers' Union.

Northern Kentucky's } LEADING GROCERS AND SEEDSMEN.

VULCANIZING.

Complete line of Goodyear, Goodrich and Kelly-Springfield Tires and Tubes, good Grade of Automobile and Tractor Oils and Greases.

Auto Accessories kept in stock.

GEORGE PORTER,
BURLINGTON, KY.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN,
DENTIST
In my new office

Clayola Place, Florence, Ky.
Teeth extracted painless. Bridge and Plate Work a Specialty.
All Work Guaranteed

JAMES L. ADAMS
DENTIST
Cohen Building

Pike Street, Covington, Ky.

You Can Trade
the Article You
Don't Need For Something You
Do by Advertising.

RECHARGE

ANY BATTERY

75c

RENTED BATTERIES FOR ANY MAKE CAR WHILE WE ARE RECHARGING OR REPAIRING YOUR BATTERY.

Dempsey Motor Car Co., Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

READ YOUR COUNTY PAPER

$1.50 The Year.

If the conservative citizen drives his automobile fast, he is likely to run into somebody, and if he drives slow, somebody is likely to run into him.

F. W. Kassebaum & Son
GRANITE & MARBLE

MONUMENTS,

A Large Stock on Display to Select from.

Pneumatic Tool Equipme't

118 Main Street,

AURORA, IND.

Isinglass Replaced, Cushions and Backs Rebuilt

Buggy and Wagon Upholstering

OF QUALITY

RUFUS W. TANNER

Auto Top Repairing

Seats covers for all makes of cars.

Dixie Highway Erlanger, Ky.

Phone Erl. 79-Y.

People who use the classified ads in this paper profit by them.

The little ads bring quick results. What have you for sale or want to buy. The cost is too small to consider.

C. H. YUELL

Farms for Sale

At Bargain Prices.

Burlington, Ky.

Phone Burlington 65

FOR SALE

Farm of 25 acres at Hebron, Ky., house, barn and outbuildings, 100 acres, 11 room house, barn and outbuildings, near Lawrenceburg, Ky. Both tracts good farm land. E. MANNIN, Petersburg, Ky. o-0018

BOONE CO. RECORDER

Published every Thursday
N. E. RIDDELL, Publisher.Foreign Advertising Representatives
THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION
Entered at the Postoffice, Burlington, Ky., as second-class mail.ADVERTISING RATES.
Furnished on application. The value of the RECORDER as an advertising medium is unquestioned. The character of the advertisements new in its columns, and the number of them, tell the whole story.

O. R. Porter and wife attended the Falmouth Fair, last Saturday.

A bee hasn't much to say, but he carries his point.

The county road crew are scarilying and rolling the Union pike.

An autumn tinge can be noticed on the foliage of the shade trees about town.

Hon. E. E. Fry, of Walton, spent a few hours in Burlington last Friday with friends.

The rain of last week will do much good, and grass will get another start; it's cold.

If people were not so deaf to all warnings, they would not go blind through drinking poison hooch.

New concrete steps have been put in front of the doors at the Postoffice—which were very badly needed.

Judge Sidney Gaines will convene the Grant county circuit court next Monday, Oct. 2nd, for a three weeks term.

Another sign of the prevailing unrest and turmoil is that the housewives have started fall housecleaning.

Thos. Bably, of Ludlow, was lit this part of the county the latter part of last week, on the hunt of stock hogs.

Now that dirt farmers are getting put on public boards, it is time to have the women represented by diaphanous housewives.

Many pumps in cisterns about the town are in working order since the fine rain of last Wednesday and Wednesday night.

The country boy may not have as brilliantly shined shoes as the city fellow, but he is able to wield the shoe brush himself.

Mrs. Geo. Piper and daughter, Miss Garnett, of San Antonio, Texas, are visiting her sisters, Mrs. N. E. Ridgell and Mrs. Geo. Blythe.

The men of course despise subservient to fashion, but it is a terrible crime to be seen with a straw hat on after the bell has rung.

Grover Snyder and wife, of North Madison, Ind., visited their parents and other relatives in and near Burlington, the latter part of last week.

R. G. Huey and family, of Boyd county, returned to their home last Monday. They had been the guests of Mr. Huey's parents and other relatives and friends.

Robert Coffman, of Walton, was in Burlington last Friday. Mr. Coffman qualified as Oil Inspector of Boone county and will assume the duties October 1st, 1922.

L. C. Beemon, assistant cashier at the Peoples Deposit Bank, bought one day last week, of H. W. House his house and two acres of land on the Hebron and Limsburg pike.

Reports received by the U. S. Department of Agriculture indicate that 2,215,000 farmers, or an average of about 1,100 per county, adopted methods introduced by the county extension agent in handling their live stock or crops in 1921.

GoFreys Morgan, Secretary of the State Farm Bureau, was in conference with Farm Agent Sutton last week. They arranged for a number of meetings to be held in different parts of the county in the interest of the Boone County Farm Bureau, announcement of which will be made later.

Harry Dougherty finished prizing 6,820,000 pounds of green tobacco for the Bunley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association, in this city. This tobacco was taken in at the loose leaf houses here last winter and N. C. Ridgeway &amp; Co. secured the contract to redry and prize it. The tobacco was graded into thirty-two grades and is now in storage in the brick warehouse across the railroad ready for shipment when sold by the Association.

A lot of this tobacco sweated out and made fine types of tobacco, and will bring good prices. Mr. Dougherty has been complimented for the excellent order in which this tobacco has been placed in storage.

Mr. Dougherty is local Secretary of the Association, and has given entire satisfaction.—Fendleton Outlook.

BEES SUFFER AS DROUTH
RETARDS FLOWER GROWTH

Lexington — Drouth experienced throughout Kentucky during the last few months has worked a severe hardship on bees in the state by reducing the number of blossoms and flowers from which they draw their food supplies, according to H. H. Jewett, bee specialist of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. As a result of this condition, beekeepers are being advised to feed any colony which may have failed to secure sufficient stores to carry it safely through the winter.

"This is the time of the year when successful beemen begin their preparations for the proper wintering of their colonies. An abundance of food of good quality, plenty of young bees and vigorous young queens are the best possible insurance of success next season. Add to these, suitable protection for the winter months and the beekeeper has done his part to prepare for the crop to come.

"One of the most urgent demands confronting the beekeeper at this time of the year is to see that there are plenty of young bees in every hive before it is placed in winter quarters. If colonies were requeened earlier in the season, there should be plenty of young bees present. Hives also should be examined at this time of the year and the amount of stores in each determined. The equivalent of three full frames of brood is enough to carry the colony safely through the winter. From 40 to 50 pounds of stores should be left in each hive.

"It is not a paying proposition to carry any but strong colonies through the winter. All weak colonies should be united with strong ones unless there is some particular reason why it is desirable to save the weak ones. If the colonies are weak through the fault of their queens, the poorer ones should be killed before uniting. If there is no choice of queens, they may be allowed to fight it out for supremacy. The colonies should be placed in their winter quarters after the first killing frost."

SPUD SEED CERTIFICATION
GETS UNDER WAY IN STATE

Lexington, Ky.—Forty Jefferson county farmers who are members of the certified seed potato growers' association recently organized in that county have made a good start with their plans to produce "pedigreed" potato seed, according to J. S. Gardner, vegetable gardening extension specialist of the College of Agriculture, who recently completed the first field inspection of their plots for the present season. Another inspection of the plants in the field will be held later in the season while the tubers also will be inspected in the bin before the stock can be completely certified and pronounced fit for sale as such. The 40 farmers are the growers of 150 acres of potatoes which will be certified this year and which are the first to be grown under a similar plan in the state.

The inspection, which was held for the chief purpose of detecting some of the more serious potato diseases, revealed the fact that the Jefferson county growers maintained a percentage of disease less than the minimum allowed for certified potato stock. Mosaic, leaf roll, blight and black scurf were the chief diseases looked for in the inspection.

Despite the fact that the Jefferson county potatoes got off to a late start because of weather conditions, the crop considerably and indications are that the growers will obtain satisfactory yields. All growers concerned are enthusiastic about the prospects for this year's crop and the future of their newly formed association, Mr. Gardner reported.

Since the formation of the Jefferson county association, the production of certified seed potatoes has aroused considerable interest among farmers in other sections of the state. Organization of a second association has just been completed in Shelby county, five farmers being charter members of it. C. W. Guthrie has been named secretary of the new association.

MEN AND STYLE.

Formerly there were a great many men who were very anxious about having the latest styles of clothing. They inquired anxiously when making purchases or ordering clothes, as to what details of dress were the correct thing at that particular time, and felt shame-faced if they wore a certain cut after it had become somewhat passe.

The swell dressers of society may still show this stocky desire to conform to the prevailing mode. But there is a great number of men, probably more than ever before, who take what is handed out to them as the correct thing without inquiry, or caring whether it is swell or not. What they desire is something that is comfortable, good-fitting and will retain its good appearance. The day when politicians and business men thought they must wear "plug hats" in order to make a dignified appearance, long since passed.

New Orleans—Forty typewriters will be provided for newspaper men "covering" the American Legion national convention, October 15-20, by the Remington Typewriter Co., the convention publicity has been advised.

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

DE OLE OMAN MOPPED
UP WID ME DIS MAWNIN'
EN DEN SAY SHE THU
WID ME, EN AHLL TELL
DE WORL' AH SUTNY
LOOKS LAK AH'S THU
WID !!

Copyright, 1922 by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

SOYBEAN AND CORN GROWERS
STUDY SEED SAVING METHODS

Lexington, Ky.—Now that corn and soybean crops are growing in parts of the state, many farmers who have the two crops growing together are wondering how they can harvest enough bean seed to plant soys in all their corn next year. Pulling a half ton or more of beans and stalks, storing them in the barn for a while and then later hauling them out is perhaps the best method of solving this problem, according to Ralph Kenney, soils and crops specialist of the College of Agriculture.

"A half ton of beans and stalks can be pulled with little difficulty, and thrown into a wagon bed driven through the corn field. Leaving the stalks and the beans in the barn until late winter before the seeds are hauled out is a first-class method of storing them since they are kept loose and dry. If the beans are threshed immediately after being pulled, they are apt to be ruined if they become damp afterwards or are damp when threshed.

"Commercial seed growers usually have one and a half tons of soybean straw from a crop that yields 20 bushels of seed an acre. Since this is the case, a half ton of good dry bean stalks and pods can be expected to yield five or six bushels of good, bright seed. The beans do not crack to a serious extent when stored and are not molested by rats and mice when stored in piles."

WATER SUPPLIES POLLUTED
BY POOR SEWAGE DISPOSAL

Lexington, Ky.—Improper disposal of sewage accounts for the large number of contaminated water supply systems that are to be found in both country and city, according to a new circular entitled, "Septic Tanks For Sewage Disposal," which has just come off the press at the College of Agriculture and which is being distributed free to interested persons. The new publication points out that the septic tank with the submersible system is only superior to cesspools, chemical closets and other means of sewage disposal but also has proved to be the most satisfactory method of disposing of waste in rural homes where running water is available.

A septic tank is an underground water-tight tank in which the soil matter in sewage is liquefied by decay before being discharged from the tank into the disposal beds, space for which usually is available on every farm. Work of laying the tile and constructing the tank can be done by the average farmer. In addition the tank can be built at some time when other work is not pressing, thus making it possible to utilize labor. Most of the materials needed for the average tank can be found on the farm so that the actual cash outlay for a concrete septic tank will not be high. When properly installed, this method of sewage disposal requires little attention.

Important points to be considered in constructing the tank together with important factors that must be considered in building the disposal bed are outlined in a new circular which contains many drawings and illustrations to show the proper methods of construction. Working plans for two common types of septic tanks—single and double chamber tanks—along with the method of constructing forms, mixing and placing the concrete, a discussion of steel reinforcements and suggestions in regard to the operation of septic tanks are given in the new publication. Complete bills of material for both the single and double chamber tanks also are given in the circular. It is No. 131 and may be obtained free by writing the Experiment Station, Lexington.

NOTICE

All persons having valid and subsisting claims against the estate of Martha Warner, dec'd must present same to me at my office in Burlington Ky., proven as by law required. S. W. TOLIN.

Administrator with the will an executor of Martha Warner, deceased.

Now don't become peeved when we tell you that some people's memories are better than yours. They remember things that never happen

Trade Where They All Trade

WE ARE MOVING

A large amount of that new crop Timothy Seed and every one who sees it says it is as fine as can be. The germination is 94 per cent. and purity 99.65. Blue Grass has advanced due to the pool in Central Kentucky—we have high-grade seed. Clover is not as big a prospect as it was 30 days ago. New crop not yet in store, but hulling has commenced. You can depend on us for good clean seed. That is one of the factors that has made us

"Kentucky's Largest Seed and Grocery House."

KANSAS KREAM FLOUR--

A wonderful flour, makes more and better bread, good to the last crumb; is gaining in popularity every day—once you try it you will be a booster for it.

Bbl. in 98-lb. bags--Special....$7.00

"THE FLOUR THAT NEVER FAILED"

Send us your orders for anything and be convinced that we can save you money.

SEED WHEAT: Marvelous—a bearded wheat. Poole—a beardless wheat—thoroughly cleaned and graded, but . . . $1.75.

GEO. C. GOODE

Groceries, Flour, Seeds, Medicines

19-21 Pike St.

18-20 West Seventh St.

WHOLESALE—"Covington's Largest Seed and Grocery House"—RETAIL

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Phones South 335 and 336.

Public Sale.

I will sell at public auction at my place on the Petersburg and Bellevue Road, at Woolper Bridge, on

Tuesday, Oct. 10, 1922

The Following Property:

35 Sheep, 10 Young Cows--1 Holstein, 9 Jerseys, Bull Calf, Bay Mare 11 yrs. old, Horse 11 years old, big Mule 10 years old, yearling Mule, White Sow and 8 pigs, Red Sow and 8 pigs, Sow and 4 pigs, 2 bred Sows, 9 135-lb. Shoats, 7 50-lb. Shoats, Duroc Boar, 2 sets Double Harness, Buggy Harness, 100 ft. Hay Rope and Pulleys, Top Spring Wagon, Road Wagon, Haybed, Corn Planter, Riding Oliver B Plow, No. 20 Oliver, Dixie Plow, Jumping Plow, 5-Shovel Cultivator, 2-horse Cultivator, Disc Harrow, Hinge Harrow, Hayrake, Sled, Cider Mill, Large Iron Kettle, 6-horse Mogul Engine, Saw and Frame, Feed Grinder, Power Cutting Box, Wheelbarrow, Dinner Bell, Work Bench and Vice, lot of Tobacco Sticks, Cream Separator, Gravel Bed, 4 Stand Bees, about 20 tons Hay, some baled Straw, 17 acres of good Corn, etc.

Cattle have all been tuberculin tested.

TERMS OF SALE.

A credit of 6 months will be given, without interest, on all sums of $10.00 and over, purchaser to give note with good security payable at Citizens Deposit Bank, Grant, Ky. On all sums under $10.00 a cash discount of 3 per cent will be given.

W. E. Yelton.

J. M. EDDINS, Auctioneer.

Sale to begin at 12 o'clock sharp.

NOTICE TO PAINTERS

Bids will be received by the undersigned for painting the tinwork on the Court House and also painting the jail. Bids will be received until noon September 30th, 1922. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. Specifications may be had by calling on the undersigned.

C. A. FOWLER, Jailer.

By order of the Fiscal Court.

FIRST-CLASS

Shoe Repairing

Mail Orders at my Expense. All work guaranteed. Mail your shoes to be repaired to A. D. LAWRENCE, Erlanger, Ky. 87 Lexington Pike.

DO YOU TAKE THE RECORDER?

Try It One Year. You'll Like It.
Read Our Advertisements and Profit By Them.

Sat. Sept. 30th

Douglas MacLean
"The Home Stretch"
Also Comedy

Tuesday, Oct. 3rd

William Duncan
"No Defence"
And Comedy

Florence, Ky., Theatre

OPENING

DANCE

Florence Ky. Theatre

Friday Night, Oct. 6th

GOOD JAZZ BAND

Subscription $1.00

Ladies Free.

Florence Amusement Co.

NONPARIEL PARK

Miss Anna Aylor, of Louisville, is visiting relatives here.

Mrs. Wm. Arnold made a business trip to Cincinnati, Monday.

Mrs. H. L. Tanner enjoyed the week-end with relatives in Newport.

Mrs. John Garber and baby called on Mrs. C. W. Myers Saturday afternoon.

The many friends regret to hear of Mrs. John Benham being ill the past week.

Robert Lucas and family were the guests of Chas. Chipman and wife, Sunday evening.

The many friends of Dr. Frank Farrer regret to hear of his illness the past week.

Dr. Chas. Souther and wife, of Cincinnati, have returned home from a trip to Detroit.

Mr. C. W. Myers and Mrs. Lou Thompson spent Wednesday in Cincinnati, shopping.

Miss Minnie Ryle was the week-end guest of her sister Mrs. Lula Presser, of Union.

Miss Jessie Freeman and mother were guests Tuesday of Mrs. Harry Alridge, of Covington.

John Hogan and wife, of Erlanger, were guests Wednesday of Jno. Surace and wife, of Main-st.

Rev. John Garber and family were guests Sunday of Lute Renaker and wife, of the Dixie Highway.

Mrs. J. G. Renaker was the Tuesday afternoon guest of Elmer Cahill and family, of Dixie Highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Betts, of Cincinnati, were guests last Wednesday night of Fritz Tanner and wife.

Mrs. Susie Groger and baby, of Covington, were Wednesday guests of her mother, Mrs. J. P. Boyce.

Mrs. Mose Aylor, of Hebron, had her guests Sunday Mrs. Joseph Baxter and Mrs. Amanda Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Baker, of Hebron, entertained at their home Sunday with a lovely dinner in honor of Miss Minnie Baxter and Chas. Beall and Miss Nannie Lodge.

Friends of Miss Idelle Stephens will be interested to hear of her marriage to Peter Kraus, of Patriot, Indiana, formerly of Big Bone, which occurred in Covington last week.

Revival services will begin at the Florence Christian church Sunday Oct. 1, 1922, and will continue every night for two weeks, beginning at 7:30 p. m. Bro. Runyan will be the preaching. Come and worship the preaching. Come and worship the preaching.

Walton Lodge No. 183, held a very interesting meeting last Saturday night, Sept. 23, to initiate several candidates and confer degrees.

The celebrated team from Venus Lodge of Florence, attended. There is no better working team in Kentucky. All Odd-Fellows were invited to be present.

BEECH GROVE.

Miss Marie Horton is visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. W. Ryle.

Elijah Scott was the guest of David Williamson and wife, Sunday.

Mrs. Katie Eubanks and son, of Gallatin county, visited Mrs. Mat Ryle and family, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Williamson and little daughter Rose Anna, spent Sunday with Cecil Williamson and family.

Mrs. David Williamson recently entertained Mrs. Earl Wade, Mrs. Stanley Powell, Mrs. Baker and Miss Lespes, of Rising Sun.

Ben Scott and Mrs. Edith Sipple attended a wedding supper at the home of Frank Merriek Saturday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ashcraft.

An interesting program was rendered by the pupils of Beech Grove school Friday afternoon under the direction of Mrs. Rice, teacher.

A number of the patrons of the school were present. All expressed themselves as much gratified at the progress their children are making in their school work.

LIMABURG.

Miss Betty Dean, of Cincinnati, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. P. Brothers, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Brothers entertained Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. Leser Baruschlegle, of Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wolfe and son Elton, spent the week-end with Mrs. Ada Love, of Covington.

Friday Miss Bell Baker entertained at dinner for Mrs. Geo. Baker, of Limaburg, Mrs. John Poston, of Hebron, and Mrs. Nellie Garnett, of Hebron.

Mrs. M. I. Baker entertained in honor of her husband's birthday anniversary Sunday covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Graves and children, of Bullittsville, Mr. and Mrs. James Bullock, and children, of Hebron, Mrs. Geo. Fullinwe, of Erlanger, and Mrs. Mary Baker.

The many friends regret to hear of the little daughter of Chas. Sykes and wife being very ill the past week.

Mrs. J. P. Boyce of Dixie Highway, had for her guest Monday her sister, Mrs. John Meiman and daughter, of Erlanger.

Miss Carrie Clark, of Covington, was the week-end guest of her parents, John Clark and wife, of Shelby street.

Mrs. Lute Bradford and baby, of Greenpowder, were guests Saturday of Owen Bradford and wife, of Shelby street.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet Thursday Sept. 28th at the church. All members are requested to be present.

Mr. Ed. Sydnor and Miss Anna Carthens were guests Wednesday afternoon of Mrs. Lloyd Aylor and mother.

Ezra Carpenter, of Ohio, enjoyed several days last week with his parents, Butler Carpenter and wife, of Erlanger.

Miss Allen Tanner returned home after a visit with her parents the past week, H. L. Tanner and wife, of Hopeful.

Mrs. Chas. Chipman and Mrs. Lennie Baird called on Mrs. Robert Lucas Wednesday afternoon on the Dixie Highway.

Mrs. Chas. Chipman of the Dixie Highway, was the guest Friday afternoon of Mrs. Allen Grossman, of Crescent Springs.

The Ladies of the Baptist church will give a supper at the I. O. O. F. Hall Saturday evening, Oct. 14th. Everybody welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Tanner (nee Belle Long), are rejoiced over the arrival of a fine baby boy at their home since last week.

Mrs. Fannie Clutterbuck, (nee Fannie Chipman) will leave soon for the winter with her daughter, Eva in Dayton, Ohio.

C. W. Myers and Sam Hicks have dissolved partnership agents for Ford cars. Mr. Hicks will return to his business at Union.

Mrs. Harry Barlow and son and Miss Osa Barlow, called on Mrs. Fritz Tanner Saturday afternoon at her home on Shelby-st.

The many friends of Rev. Wilford Mitchell and wife have received word they are delighted with their new home in Mt. Carmel, Ky.

Mrs. Jennie Dennis and Miss Minnie Myers, of Cincinnati, were the week-end guests of Dr. T. B. Castleman and wife, of Main-st.

Mr. Osborn of Main-st., has purchased Vernie Chipman's barber shop. Mr. Chipman is thinking of spending the winter in Florida.

Mrs. Sallie Fulton, Mrs. Charles Fulton, Miss Anna Carlton, and Mrs. Ed. Osborn, were guests Wednesday of Mrs. J. R. Whitson, of Erlanger.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Jones (nee Fanny Craven) are rejoiced over the arrival of a fine baby girl since last week at their home on the Burlington pike.

WHERE TO DEAL IN CINCINNATI

More for your money or your money back

Fogel's

S. W. Cor. Seventh & Central Ave.

Women's and Children's Coats Suits Dresses Millinery Etc.

FLOOR BRUSHES, FIRRE BROOMS, JANITOR SUPPLIES

Call and See Us Before Buying

METAL BOUND BRUSH & BROOM CO.

121 E. CANAL BOULEVARD

Agents Wanted Cincinnati, Ohio

Cellar Doors Machine Furling Buckraming

THE J. G. FREILINGER IRON WORKS

All Kinds of Welding General Machine Work

Prompt Attention to Mail Orders

Phone Main 2187

SECOND STREET—Bet. Race and Elm

Y. M. C. A. Automobile School

Day or Night Classes

Get a Good Job

Steady Work

Unskilled Labor Turned Away

LEARN TO BE AN AUTOMOBILE MECHANIC

Men Who Are Skilled Always Have Work

GARAGE

SKILLED LABOR WANTED

Men who know how are needed

Skilled Labor Gets A Job

Come in and let us tell you all about this school

Y. M. C. A. Central Parkway

FILING & PAYING VOCATION

Good business proposition open to those who understand filing. Placement bureau to help students get positions. Write for booklet.

SCHOOL OF FILING & INDEXING

MARY O. RINEHART, Director

Globe-Werneke Co. CINCINNATI

124 E. Fourth St.

BEADS MAKE YOUR OWN

Portieres, Chains, Bells, Ornaments, Tassels, etc. Results

How. Design sheet free. Portiere Sample No. 6, large line 10c. Portiere Sample No. 7, best line on market 15c. Sample line No. 1, for necklaces, etc. 10c. Sample line No. 2, for necklaces, etc. 10c. Sample card of Embroidery Beads, 35c. May be returned or credited on order.

W. E. JOHNS & CO.

49 Fifth St. Bldg.

JOHNSTON'S PAINT AND VARNISHES

For Every Conceivable Purpose

The Certain-To-Satisfy Kind

Look and Wear Well—A Trial Will Convince the Most Skeptical

Prices Right. Quality Guaranteed.

Color Cards and Prices Upon Request

Wholesale and Retail

THE R. F. JOHNSTON PAINT COMPANY

S. E. COR. PEARL & MAIN STS. CINCINNATI, OHIO

MAGNUS WHITE

Manufacturing Optician

EYES EXAMINED

521 MAIN ST.

2 Doors North of P. O.

GIBSON TENOR BANJOS SAXOPHONES

BAND AND ORCHESTRA INSTRUMENTS AND MUSIC

FILLMORE MUSIC HOUSE

528 Elm St. Cincinnati, Ohio

See how your LAUNDRY is handled

Visit one of the modern MODEL LAUNDRY CO. plants during National Laundry Visiting Week, Oct. 23 to 28.

Observe how your bundle gets more thorough washing, and gentler handling.

WOOD ALCOHOL IN BOOZE

IS NOT THE ONLY THING THAT DESTROYS EYE SIGHT

YOUR OWN CARELESSNESS.

In not consulting a competent oculist when your eyes get weak, or burn, may lead you into severe eye trouble. DON'T NEGLECT YOUR EYES.

Consult us at the first hint of trouble.

The Standard Optical Company, 13 Emery Arcade Cincinnati,

Ship Your Poultry to an Established Reliable House

TOP PRICES. DAILY RETURNS.

Write or Wire for Prices

THE PETERS POULTRY COMPANY

CAPITAL $50,000.00

104-6-8-10 W. Court St. Phone Canal 1957 CINCINNATI, O.

HOTEL ALMS

—250 ROOMS

Cincinnati's Only Suburban Hotel

Sulphur Vapor Baths Beauty Shoppe

DAN M. MYERS, Manager

SEND IT TO US ...

Hemstitching 10c a yard.

PLEATING, BUTTONS COVERED, EMBROIDRY, E BRAIDING

MAIL ORDERS GET SPECIAL ATTENTION

ADVANCE PLEATING AND BUTTON SHOP

108 OPERA PLACE CINCINNATI

QUEHL SIGN CO.

SIGNS

Electric and Painted

316 Main Street Cincinnati, Ohio

Any Make of Battery

RECHARGED 75c

Rentals for any make of car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.

Dempsey Motor Car Co.,

Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

Les't You Forget.

M. Cleek's Sale at Verona, Saturday, Oct. 7th, 1:30 p. m.

S. H. Dicke's Sale at Union, Friday, Nov. 3d, at 1:30 p. m.

W. B. Johnson

Auctioneer, Walton, Ky.

HEBRON.

Mrs. Ralph Jones, who has been very ill is improving.

Mrs. Frank Aylor spent the week-end with Mrs. Harry Roberts, of Erlanger.

Mrs. oe Baxter, of Nonpareil Park and Mrs. J. S. Lodge, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Mose Aylor.

Wm. Crigler and family spent last Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Graves, of Bullittsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Ludwick and son, of Cincinnati, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Garnett Friday night and Saturday.

Chas. Beall and Miss Minnie Baxter, of Nonpareil Park, and Miss Nannie Lodge, were the guests of Ed. Baker and family, last Sunday.

There will be church services next Sunday morning at 10:30, also service on Sunday night and each night for the next two weeks following. All are welcome at these services.

NOTICE

For Starks Delicious, Golden, Delicious, apple trees and all other kinds of trees and ornamental shrubs and trees. M. L. Aylor, Bonded Salesman, Phone Hebron, Ky.

ol9oct—pd

DISSOLVED PARTNERSHIP

C. S. Hicks and Chas. W. Myers, of Florence, have dissolved partnership, and Mr. Hicks will have the sale of Ford cars at Union and Mr. Myers at Florence.

You Can't Fool All of the People All of the Time

Reprinted by permission from The Saturday Evening Post, Copyright, 1922, by the Curtis Publishing Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

"LITTLE BROTHER"

"Beware of fake stock promoters promising impossible returns on your money. Safeguard your savings by investing in United States Government Treasury Savings Certificates. On sale at practically all postoffices, and costing $800, $50 and $20 each. They increase 25 per cent in five years to $1,000, $100 and $25 each, respectively. Can be cashed at any time prior to maturity. Ask your postmaster."

FARM FOR SALE.

120 acres 3 miles of Amers, Ind., on good pike, half mile of church school house passes the door, half of this farm is a tobacco land and well watered for stock, 7 room house, large barn and all necessary outbuildings. This farm must sell. Price $9,000. Also some baby farm near Florence, Ky.

W. L. SATCHELWILL,

6-Oct19 Florence, Ky.

It is never amiss to speak of the good qualities of your neighbor. He might return the compliment.

FOR SALE

35 acres, six room house, barn etc., near Union, Ky. .... $3,500

75 acres, six room house, barn etc., near Burlington, Ky. .... $7,800

31 acres, four room house, barn etc., near Florence, Ky. .... $3,000

60 acres, eight rooms, barn etc., near Walton, Ky. .... $6,750

C. T. CLAUDCH,

Erlanger, Ky. 6-Oct19

Subscribe for the RECORDER

Farms for Sale

Money to Loan on Real Estate

J. L. KITE,

Burlington, Ky. 6-Oct19

Subscribe for the RECORDER

"The Devil Can Quote Scripture"

WE CAN'T

But we will be glad to quote you Lowest Prices
ON THE VERY BEST

CLOTHING

We can beat the devil himself at that. We have greatly reduced the prices on our Summer Clothing, and if you fail to look them over, you are overlooking much.

If you are looking for a Suit, a Coat and Pants, or extra Pants that you can rely on, we have them.

Selmar Wachs

605 Madison Avenue,
Covington, Kentucky

Public Sale

I will offer for sale at public auction at my place of business in Burlington, Ky., on

Saturday, Sept. 30th

in order to reduce stock. I will mention only a few the articles which I will sell, as follows:

A large lot of Winter Footwear—Men's, Women's and Children's; Men's Pants, Hunting Coats and Leather Leggings, Boys' Suits and Pants, Lot Shot Guns, Rifles and Shells, Lot Aluminum, Granite and Tinware, Lot of Congoleum, Several Boss Heating Stoves, one Cole's Hot-Blast Range, a lot of Chopping Axes, and other useful pieces for the farm.

I haven't mentioned 10 per cent of the articles I will offer at this sale. These goods are of high quality. Come out, there will be lots of bargains.

Also twenty good black faced ewes, and one 3 year old Hampshire Ram; Ford Truck good as new.

W. L. Kirkpatrick,

Sale to begin at 12 o'clock.

GUNPOWDER

P. J. Allen and wife spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Utz.

The fine weather of last week gave the growers an opportunity to handle their tobacco and the crop is nearly all in the barns in good condition.

The work of filling silos is about completed, and cutting corn is now the order of the day. The crop is much better than the farmers were expecting.

Wm. Busby has bought the toll gate house on the Burlington pike near Florence, and will move to it in the near future.

The following young men have packed their grips and left to resume their studies at the following colleges: Harold Beemon will attend Wittenberg college at Springfield, Ohio, Robert Robbins at State University at Lexington, Geo. Robbins at Berea college and C. S. Acra will leave for Richmond, Ky., in a few days where he took a special course during the summer. These are all worthy young men, and we wish for them success in their undertakings.

PETERSBURG.

Mrs. Bradburn still remains very poorly.

Bud Moreland and family have moved to Aurora.

Eugene Witham has sold his river farm to J. H. Huey.

Assessor J. S. Cason was calling on our citizens last Saturday.

Dr. G. F. Smith, of Lawrenceburg, was in our town last Saturday.

Mrs. Theresa McWehly spent a couple of days last week in Lawrenceburg with friends.

Mrs. Holt Wite and Lizzie Jones are sure faithful daughters to their mother, who is quite ill.

L. S. Chambers is operating a bus line between Aurora and Dillboro, Ind. Making three trips daily.

Milton McWehly wife and little son spent several days last week with her father and brothers in Rising Sun.

Mrs. W. T. Stott is able to get around again after getting a fall on the porch at her home, which injured her hip.

Born to Ralph White and wife on the 26th a 10-pound daughter (Belle Wilson). Dr. G. F. Smith attending physician.

W. T. Ryle and family, of near Cominsbury, moved into our town last week. We are glad to welcome them as our citizens.

Several changes are being made. Lyman Christy has moved to the Applegate building and Wilson White and wife will occupy the house he vacates.

PT. PLEASANT.

Mrs. Henry Jergens is on the sick list.

Gordon Souther left Friday to attend the State Fair.

Mrs. Dunham and sons and their wives, of Ludlow, called on Mrs. Sallie Souther Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kelsoe of Detroit, Michigan, spent last week with their daughter, Mrs. Harvey Souther.

The Ladies Aid met at the church Friday, finished some work on hand and planned a social to be announced later on.

Mrs. Aggie Corbin, Mrs. Maggie Host and daughter Edith, of California, and two gentleman friends of Covington, motored out through this part of the county last Wednesday calling on old friends and viewing the scenes of their childhood.

Gordon Souther attended State Fair at Louisville last Saturday, visited relatives at Eminence, Ky., Saturday night and Sunday and returned home Monday feeling much refreshed.

Little Dorothy A. Souther, the 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keene Souther, met with quite a painful accident Sept. 6th. She was playing near a bed of apparently dead ashes left from the day before and stepped on live coals, burning the left foot badly. Dr. Nunneley was called immediately and has given on the child the closest attention. He thinks the foot will continue healing without further trouble.

BIG BONE.

Mrs. Curtis Johnson attended services at the Chapel Sunday.

John Binder and wife, and son Edie, were in Aurora, Ind., Sunday.

Mrs. H. H. Jones visited relatives in Ludlow several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Littoral made business trip to the city, Saturday.

Conner Carrol and wife entertained quite a number of relatives last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Justis and son, of Walton, visited Joe Green and family, Sunday.

J. D. Moore has gone to Lexington but will return for the Jr. Supper on the 30th at the Hall.

Joe Moore wife and baby of Covington, visited relatives here the latter part of the week.

Russell Miller wife and two children of Covington, were guests of Mrs. H. E. Miller several days last week.

Melvin Moore and wife entertained Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Moore and Hugh Vest wife and children, of Walton.

FOR SALE ETC

FARMERS!

Have you cut your corn yet? You haven't? Well what we started to say is that we have corn knives. They're "dandies" too. Better come and see them. HARDWARE & SPECIALTY CO., Hope Conner, Mgr., Florence, Ky. It—pd

For Sale—Two pure bred Poland China boars—eligible to register. Thos. Hensley, Burlington, Ky. It—pd

For Sale—Three S. C. White Leghorn cockerels—bred from prize stock, eligible to register. Mrs. Harold Gaines, Burlington, R. D. 1. It

For Sale—Sorrel mare 7 years old, sound and will work anywhere, and perfectly gentle. Any woman or child can drive her. Call B. B. Hume, Burlington, Ky.

You can look over our shop FREE. You can talk to us and get estimates on your work FREE. You can have printed matter, telling about our line, FREE. What's the use of not giving us a call? CONNER & KRAUS, Farm Tool Service Station, Florence, Ky.

NOTICE

I will haul passengers from Rabbit Hash to Covington on Monday and Wednesday of each week—auto for hire at all times.

M. B. RICE,

Grant, Ky., R. D. osept28—pd

STOCK EWES

Will put out 25 to 100 good stock ewes on shares to a good sheep and lamb man. Will S. Norris, Union Stock Yards, Cincinnati, Ohio. o5oct—4t

For Sale—Stearns Vulcanizing outfit complete, air compressor, tank, buffer, motor 2 horse. A complete shop outfit cost $500 will sell for $225. J. E. Snyder, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 3. Telephone 184, Burlington. o28sept—pd

WANTED—Good tenant for 1928. R. B. Huey, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 1. Sept7—1t

We give 20 per cent cash discount or to reliable parties of the regular retail price on Columbia Grafonolas, Starr Grand Pianos, Upright Pianos, Player Pianos and Starr Phonographs. Free delivery made anywhere. Write for catalog.

RICE PIANO CO.,

Aurora, Indiana. o-jan1

NOTICE

We have been appointed the authorized sales and service station for the Willard Battery for Boone county. Also do recharging and repairing on all makes of Batteries. Work guaranteed.

DEMPEY MOTOR CAR CO.

Erlanger, Ky.

For Sale—Chesterwhite sow and seven 80-pound shoats. B. D. Rice, McVine, Ky. o28sept—2t

WANTED

Hay to bale. Prices reasonable. P. H. Mathews, Bulittsville, Ky. Phone 203-x 29june 1t

NOTICE

All tax in the Bellevue Graded School District are now due and can be paid at the Citizens Deposit Bank, Grant, Ky. Penalty and 6 per cent will be added if not paid before December 1, 1922.

W. B. ROGERS,

Treasurer. osept28—4t

FIRE WOOD FOR SALE

100 ricks—16 inch wood ready for delivery. Will cut any length desired, $3.25 per rick at Harves Home grounds.

H. R. LEIDY,

C. H. YOELL.

NOTICE

Beginning the first of October I will receive cream once a week—Burlington on Tuesday and at Union on Thursday.

J. O. HUEY.

For Sale—Two mules five months old, also one coming 3-year old. Apply to Manley Guiley, Burlington R. D. 3.

MARKETS

Hay (Timothy) $15.50 to $16.00.
Hay (Clover) $13.50 to $15.00.
Bran $23.00 to $23.50.
Middlings $23.00 to $24.00.
Wheat $11.15.
Corn 69c.
Oats 43c.
Ear Corn 65c.
Butter (Creamery) 36 to 38c.
Butter (Dairy) 30c.
Apples—.50 to 3.00 barrel.
Onions $1.75 to $2.00 100 lbs.
Potatoes $2.50 to $3.00 barrel.
Sweet potatoes $2.50 to $3.00 barrel.
Hogs $7.75 to $10.60.
Steers $7.50 to $10.00.
Cows $5.75 to $9.25.
Feeders $5.65 to $8.25.
Calves $10.00 to $12.50.
Fat Lambs $13.25 to $14.75.
Yearlings $9.25 to $12.25.
Ewes $9.50 to $7.10.

No man is ever old as long as he considers himself young.

The new Goodyear
Cross-Rib Tread Cord

A Real Cord Tire for Small Cars at a Popular Price

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord in the 30 x 3 3/4 inch clincher type is a tire that the small car owner will warmly welcome.

It gives him, at a price lower than the net price he is asked to pay for many "long discount" tires, every advantage of quality cord tire performance, for it is a quality tire through and through.

It is made of high-grade long-staple cotton; it embodies the reliable Goodyear quality of materials; its clean-cut tread engages the road like a cogwheel.

The scientific distribution of rubber in this tread—the wide center rib and the semi-flat contour—gives a thick, broad surface that is exceedingly slow to wear.

The tough tread stock in this tire is carried down the side-walls clear to the bead, making it rut-proof to an extraordinary degree.

In every particular it is a representative Goodyear product, built to safeguard the world-wide Goodyear reputation.

Despite its high quality, and the expertness of its construction, it sells at a price as low or lower than that of tires which lack its important features.

The 30 x 3 3/4 inch Cross-Rib
Cord clincher— $12.50

This price includes manufacturer's excise tax

Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord Tires are also made in 6, 7 and 8 inch sizes for trucks

FOR SALE BY

GEORGE PORTER

Burlington, Kentucky.

GOODYEAR

"GOOD HEALTH WEEK"

Louisville, Ky.—The week from October 23 to 29 definitely has been fixed as the date of "Good Health Week" in Kentucky, Dr. A. T. McCormack, State Health Officer, announced here today.

"There have been," he said in explanation of what is proposed, "various good health weeks previously, principally instigated by health officials and officers of different kinds. The 'Good Health Week' in October will be entirely different."

"The desirability of good health made such an appeal to the commercial world that organized industries have built up an organization to put over campaigns in different parts of the country emphasizing the value of health from an industrial point of view. We have succeeded in persuading this organization to put across the campaign in Kentucky."

"The slogans of 'Good Health Week,' Dr. McCormack said, 'will be: 'Healthy people work better.' 'Healthy people buy more goods,' and 'The health and longevity of its people are a nation's greatest asset.'"

TABLE READY SHOWING JULY BIDS ON FEDERAL-AID ROADS

Accepted bid prices on Federal-aid roads averaged for the whole U. S. for the month of July are given in a monthly table issued by the Bureau of Public Roads of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The prices are as follows: Common excavation, 31 cents per cubic yard; unclassified excavation, 63 cents per cubic yard; and rock excavation, $1.29 per cubic yard. The following prices per cubic yard are for surfacing material in place on the road: Gravel, $1.55 sand clay, $1.43; and crushed stone $2.72. Surfacing per square yard in place on the road cost as follows: Gravel, 50 cents; bituminous macadam, $1.64; bituminous concrete, $2.40; plain cement concrete $2.00; brick, $3.40. Reinforcing bars, 4 1/2 cents per pound, and structural steel 8 cents per pound, both in place.

There is considerable variation in the cost of the various items in the different States, due to various reasons. The complete table listing the items by States may be obtained on request from the Bureau of Public Roads.

Length and flexibility of spring suspension are increased in a new English automobile by linking an additional spring between the end springs on each side.

SIMCO BUTTERMILK EGG MASH

Makes Champion Layers!

Moulting Time---End It Quick

Hurry the Feathers, then Biddy can get back to her old job and lay the eggs you are looking for. Just now she needs lots of Protein—Feathers are 85 per cent Protein. She will find Protein abundantly in Simco Buttermilk Egg Mash. And in the most acceptable form—the Buttermilk tickles her craving and makes her absorb 3 times as much Protein. Feathers first—Viva La Feather. Hens helped through Moulting Time with Simco will moult lay better than usual—and then, when Moulting is over they will make a bee line for the champion class. Satisfied Simco buyers will tell you so. Take Home a Sack of Simco.

FOR SALE BY

E. K. STEPHENS, Walton, Ky.

E. A. STOTT, Petersburg, Ky.

WM. FROST, Constance, Ky.

HEBRON THEATRE--Next Saturday

CHARLES RAY IN

"An Old Fashioned Boy"

Comedy "Fickle Fancy"

Admission 22 Cents,

Children 10 Cents

War Tax Included

Judging from the number of murders in the ovine picture world, it might be said that the wages of the cinema is death.

The interest rate in Russia is 72 per cent, but anybody foolish enough to want to borrow Russian money wouldn't mind paying such a rate.

LEGION NOTES

New Orleans—Thousands of ex-service men are expected to attend the American Legion national convention in New Orleans, October 16-20, as a result of the announcement of a railroad rate of one fare for the round trip.

Announcement of the reduced rate was made by E. A. Simon, chairman of the Legion's national transportation committee. The rate has been accepted as official by Hanford MacNider, Legion national commander.

The reduced fare, which will be effective on all railroads will apply to members of the American Legion and its Auxiliary, widows of deceased members of the Legion and to delegates to the convention of the Interallied Veterans' Federation to be held the week before the Legion gathering.

Legion convention officials estimate that a crowd of 100,000 visitors will attend the national gathering as a result of the fare reduction. Several thousand Legionnaires are also expected to take advantage of the 50 per cent reduction granted on all vessels of the United States Shipping Board. The round trip rate to New Orleans from Cincinnati is $30.23, and from Louisville is $28.60.

New Orleans—David Lloyd George, British premier, may be a visitor to the American Legion national convention in New Orleans October 13 to 20, if the political situation in England will permit his absence from the country. The premier has received a special and urgent invitation from the Legion to be its guest at the fourth annual gathering and he has indicated that he would accept unless prevented by urgent affairs of state.

New Orleans—A railroad rate of one fare for the round trip will prevail for delegates and visitors to the American Legion national convention in New Orleans October 16-20, the local convention committee has been advised by E. A. Simon, chairman of the Legion's national transportation committee. The rate has been accepted as official by Hanford MacNider, Legion national commander.

The reduced fare, which will be effective on all railroads, will apply to members of the American Legion and its Auxiliary, widows of deceased members of the Legion and to delegates to the convention of the Interallied Veterans' Federation to be held the week before the Legion gathering.

Washington — American Education Week has been set for Dec. 3 to 9, inclusive, it was announced today by Garland W. Powell, assistant national director of Americanism for the American Legion, which inaugurated the movement last year and is receiving the cooperation of the United States Bureau of Education and the National Education Association.

The week will be observed on a larger and broader scale than last year, the National Education Association and the United States Bureau of Education cooperating with the American Legion. Invitations also have been issued for the cooperation of all national organizations engaged in educational work, the chambers of commerce, clubs and civic societies.

The state and county superintendents of public schools will be requested through the United States Bureau of Education to devote the week to the American Legion's program, which will begin on Sunday, December 3, when ministers of all denominations will be urged to preach sermons either morning or evening on the benefits of education. Mass meetings also will be held throughout the country, at which speakers supplied by the American Legion will give addresses on the subject.

A national drive will be made Monday, Dec. 4, with the slogan, "Americans all by 1927," to help immigrants become Americans, and start their education in the duties of citizenship.

The next day, Tuesday, will be devoted to patriotism, with the subjects of "universal" use of the English language in the United States, music as a nation builder, "the flag the emblem of freedom," and "the citizens' duty to vote," being emphasized.

Better paid teachers, more school houses and the schools' influence on the coming generation will receive attention Wednesday, Dec. 6. The next day, Thursday will be devoted to the cure of illiteracy.

The American Legion will endeavor to have every citizen adopt an illiterate to the end that illiteracy will be wiped out in this country by 1927. It will be the citizens' duty to teach the illiterate to read and write, sending the name to the American Legion for systematic follow-up educational work in Americanism.

"This day will be a declaration of war on Bolshevism," Mr. Powell said. "We must not be content to teach every one to read and write, but immediately follow it up by instilling loyalty to American ideals."

An equal opportunity for all in education will be urged Friday, Dec. 8. A nation-wide study will be made of rural and city schools in a comparative way, also of high schools and colleges.

Education that a sick body makes impossible, attention will be called to Saturday, Dec. 9, to physical education.

When Washington Knocked Out Columbus

No! Not a prize fight, but a knock-out blow for the early development of Kentucky. Washington, D. C., vs. Columbus, Ky.

Here's the story in brief:

The first Congress was called upon to decide upon a location for the Capital of these United States.

Thomas Jefferson, then Secretary of State under President Washington, wanted it at Columbus, Ky.

If you would know why his plan failed—why Washington was finally selected as the Capital—

Read the Entire Interesting Story in the

Louisville Post

This is but one of the many interesting stories of little known facts about the 120 counties of Kentucky which will come from the pen of the Louisville Post's gifted special writer, Mr. Ralph Coghlan.

Some of the others are: The story of Fluorspar, one of the most valuable metals in industry. How Paducah got its High School gymnasium. When King George ate Kentucky ham. The county which does not contain one illiterate child. Mayfield, "the old-fashioned girl," how she surpassed the country club flapper in everything really worth while. How $300,000 was spent by one county to get out of the mud. When President Tyler was a coal miner in Kentucky.

This series will begin Monday, October 2, and continue daily thereafter. Don't miss the first one.

Telegraphic World News

Because of the difference in time most foreign news breaks best for the evening metropolitan papers. The latest, up-to-the-minute, dependable foreign news is a worth-while feature of the Louisville Post. Its bond and market reports are not only accurate, but complete up to the closing of the New York market.

Everybody Laughs At Mutt & Jeff

The Louisville Post has the best Funnies—Bud Fisher's Mutt and Jeff, "Them Days is Gone Forever," "Can You Beat It," Goldberg's famous characters, Webster's Cartoons—"Life's Darkest Moment" and others—Irvin S. Cobb's laughable stories. A full page of wholesome laughs every evening.

The Woman's Page and Ann Stirling Column

Every woman reader finds a real charm in this page. The Ann Stirling column never fails to instruct and interest. Children never tire of the Bedtime Kiddie Stories. Dr. Brady's Health Talks contain wholesome advice. And there are many more equally worth-while features.

Mail Coupon NOW

Political Articles of Special Interest

The famous Washington letters of David Lawrence appear exclusively in the Louisville Post. Sterling Americanism—America and Kentucky first, last and always—is the keynote of the virile Post editorials.

Have the Post Delivered by Mail Three Months, $1.25

Once you have read the Post you will wonder how you ever got along without it. Its dependable news service—its many features—its page of nightly laughs—you'll enjoy them all—so will all the family. Send in your three months' trial subscription today—enclosing $1.25. Don't miss the first of the special features—beginning October 2.

The Louisville Post,
Kentucky's Most Interesting Newspaper,
Louisville, Ky.

Louisville Post,
Louisville, Ky.

I want the Louisville Post, with the Coghlan articles on Kentucky counties and other famous Post features. Start October 2.

Name .....
Street .....
R. F. D. ....
Post Office .....

Dodge Brothers

ANNOUNCE A BUSINESS COUPE

Conservative changes in the body design of all other types.

Roadster.....$ 920
Coupe.....1,063
Touring Car. 955
Sedan.....1,550

Dempsey Motor Car Company

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY

Phone Erlanger, 70-4

WHEN THE SHADOWS ARE DRAWN

and the tender ministry of the living must give place to the service of the undertaker, it is a real comfort to surviving friends, to feel sure that the preparation for burial will be conducted with dignity and proper respect for the lately departed one.

Then, too, Modern Science has found a way through the art of Embalming, not only for removing the peril of contagion, but also of restoring the natural flush of health, so that the latest picture in memory will be pleasant to recall.

This process is a part of our service which we will gladly explain to anyone interested.

PHILIP TALIAFERRO,
Undertaker and Embalmer
Erlanger, Ky.

The Best Advertisement

IS A PLEASED CUSTOMER

Spectacles ..... Fit the face and Fit the sight the kind we sell.

Phone South 1746

DR. N. F. PENN, WITH NOTCH, JEWELL
613 Madison Ave. - Covington, Ky

Efficient, Service and Economy

IS MY SLOGAN

C. SCOTT CHAMBERS
Embalmer and Funeral Director

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

WE WANT EVERY MAN

in Boone and Kenton Counties

That has a farm large or small, or House and Lot to sell to list it with us and we will advertise and find a buyer if there is any.

The Wisenberger Real Estate Co.

BEN Phone South 8008 JOHN
515 Coppel Bldg. COVINGTON, KY.

Printed Stationery

AT THIS OFFICE
ENVELOPES, LETTERHEADS, NOTEHEADS, STATEMENTS

for business people.
for professional people.
for farmers.
for every one who wants
to be considered up to date and going strong

Ready for Business.

The Farm Bureau Warehouse at Florence is now in full operation and will keep on hand all kinds of Feed, Flour, Wire Fencing, Coal, Etc.

Help Your Organization With Your Patronage.

A BARGAIN

Cincinnati Daily Enquirer

—AND—

The Boone County Recorder
YOU CAN GET

BOTH for $4.50 the YEAR

Send Your Subscriptions to the
BOONE COUNTY RECORDER
Burlington, Ky.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

Vol. XXXVII

Established 1875

BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY,

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1922

$1.50 Per Year

No 52

WASHINGTON COMMENT.

A chorus of indignant and emphatic negation greets the labor proposal to amend the Constitution of the United States so that "The United States Supreme Court will have the power to review an act of Congress and to declare such an act unconstitutional. But in the event Congress for a second time enacts the legislation in question it will be beyond the power of the court and will stand as the final and unassailable law of the land."

An army of organizations and editorial writers vehemently protest against any such drastic revision of the fundamentals of the Government of the United States as would put in the hands of Congress alone, without any concurrence by the forty eight States, the power to change the Constitution.

With all due respect to the Congress, it is nevertheless true that it does make mistakes, and that probably in the future, as at times in the past, it will be swayed by passion, prejudice, self-interest, and partisan politics. Congress is made up of human beings, and can not, of course as a body, be more perfect or more wise than the average of its membership. The United States has grown in one hundred and forty-six years from a baby nation to the mightiest on earth. Our people are more free, have more prosperity, less war, greater opportunities, more justice, less governmental ills than any other people. This growth and these results have come under the beneficent and wise laws which spring from a Constitution unalterable save by a long, difficult, and thoughtful program of State acquiescence. To substitute for this proved successful plan a new scheme by which we will have no fundamental law not changeable at will by Congress is a proposal which will not only never be accepted by the American people, but which will injure, not help the cause of those who propose it.

Why is education in the United States fighting for existence? Why is it that children have so little opportunity? Why is it that so many illiterates are permitted to grow up to take their ineffective places in society to the detriment of all? Why is it that this, the richest and most prosperous of nations, can do so little to aid itself educationally?

There can be only one answer: because the Nation, as a Nation, has no education plan, policy, or organization devoted to education; because as a people, we regard educational facilities and programs as local issues; because we have no Department of Education, as we have a Department of Agriculture or War or Interior.

Washington, D. C., is the Nation's property; it is generally regarded by us all as our pride, our beauty, our very own. But only from a standpoint of architectural beauty; not from a standpoint of leading in civil improvement. Many of the schools are neglected; many of the children run two shifts a day in order to accommodate the children which crowd them. Portable buildings, insanitary buildings, buildings so old and out of date they are shamed by the schools of municipalities of twenty-five thousand people, are pressed into service. Teachers are underpaid; education suffers.

Washington people have no vote; their own money for their own schools; Congress does, or rather does not do it!

A CARD

From Rev Sam Allen and Wife

Lamar, Mo., Sept. 26.
Dear Bro. Hickman and each and everyone at Dear Old Burlington. Excuse card this time as we are busy visiting ha, ha. We had a great trip through but encountered some bad weather and fierce roads in Mo. Preached to a crowded house in my old home town here last night, it did my soul good. But I tell you it will be a long time before people get as near and dear to us again as the Burlington folks. They and their beautiful little city now seem a vital part of our lives. We will live over and over again those sweet and blessed days spent together, the memories of which shall make our lives worth while always. Each of you must realize that it would be impossible to write to all separately, but we think of and love each one sure as there is a God in Heaven. We would appreciate a card or letter from any and all. We have no special favorites in Burlington—they are all our favorites. Give love and best wishes to each and all, and may God ever bless and keep us all my prayer.

LULA AND SAMMY

B. H. Berkshire, of Petersburg, passed through Burlington last Friday with another fifty head of cattle, which he bought on the Cincinnati market the day before. This makes 100 head he has on pasture on C. Hughes' farm out on the East Bend pike.

MCKINNEY-THOMPSON

A marriage of interest to many in Lawrenceburg and Aurora was that of Miss Agnes Thompson to Mr. James A. McKinney on Friday afternoon at two o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents in Aurora, Rev. W. E. Fisher, of the M. E. church reading the marriage ceremony. The attendants were Miss Frances Kerr, of Aurora, and Mr. Dan McKinney of Indianapolis. Two small nieces of the bride, Mellett Ann and Helen Berkshire, of Burlington, were the ribbon carriers. The home was attractive with its decorations of ferns and cosmos in pink and white. The bride wore a gown of dark blue crepe and hat in harmony. Only the immediate family were present. Following an hour of congratulations and serving of refreshments, Mr. and Mrs. McKinney left for a motor trip to Indianapolis and on to Lafayette, where they received an enthusiastic greeting from the Purdue students.

It is nevertheless true that it does make mistakes, and that probably in the future, as at times in the past, it will be swayed by passion, prejudice, self-interest, and partisan politics. Congress is made up of human beings, and can not, of course as a body, be more perfect or more wise than the average of its membership. The United States has grown in one hundred and forty-six years from a baby nation to the mightiest on earth. Our people are more free, have more prosperity, less war, greater opportunities, more justice, less governmental ills than any other people. This growth and these results have come under the beneficent and wise laws which spring from a Constitution unalterable save by a long, difficult, and thoughtful program of State acquiescence. To substitute for this proved successful plan a new scheme by which we will have no fundamental law not changeable at will by Congress is a proposal which will not only never be accepted by the American people, but which will injure, not help the cause of those who propose it.

BOONE COUNTY BANKS.

The statements of the banks in Boone County and the two in Erlanger are published in this issue of the Recorder. By reading these statements you will find that the banks are in a fine condition, and are a credit to the community. Our best citizens are officers in these institutions and you will find that they have been conducted in a manner satisfactory to the stockholders and the Banking Department of the state. These banks have a combined deposit of $2,759,068.00, the loans amount to $3,073,241.21. Only a few years ago the deposits amounted to $1,000,000.00. The combined capital, surplus and undivided profits amount to $7,050,960. The banking business is one of the most important as business could not be successfully transacted without your banks.

ANOTHER WORLD TRAGEDY

The world stands aghast at the dreadful news from Smyrna, Asia Minor, where 250,000 Christian people are supposed to have lost their lives at the hands of the avenging Turks. This frightful tragedy could never have happened, if these barbarous people had not received outside assistance. Indignation will run high in this country against any government that has equipped this army for this fiendish slaughter.

It is a land of cruelty and revenge, and the Turks may have had some provocation for their deeds of horror. But they are the supreme offenders when it comes to acts of murder and rapine. The U. S. should exert the strongest possible influence to hold them within the bounds to which their populations fairly belong. And some way must be found to obtain security for the Christian people that live within this territory.

Democratic Bonus Proposal Rejected By Republicans.

Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives, in a minority report on March 20, 1922, recommended that whatever kind of bonus or adjusted compensation Congress shall deem justly due the World War veteran should be paid from taxes levied on excess profits and great wealth. This proposal was rejected by the Republican House, which, with the Republican Senate, had previously voted to repeal excess profits taxes amounting to $450,000,000 and high surtaxes aggregating $61,500,000 a year.

Recalling that many big monopolistic corporations which have "profited" upon the people and the Government since January 1, 1916, to the extent of more than $40,000,000,000 of net profits and who are continuing their profiteering, the Republicans, the Democratic minority said: "For this purpose we favor the reenactment of the surtax on the large multimillionaires which was repealed by the Republicans in their revenue act of 1921, and a reenactment of the excess profits tax which was also repealed by them in said act."

Both eggs and poultry are recognized as among our most valuable foods, but the United States Department of Agriculture is setting out to find definite information regarding their vitamin contents. Experiments are being carried on with rats and pigeons to show how they compare in this respect with beef, pork, and other common foods.

The lady man makes many excuses that are unnecessary. Nobody expects anything from him.

STOP! LOOK! LISTEN!

What The Boone County National Farm Loan Association is Doing.

Long Time Loans at 5 Per Cent.

Since the Boone County National Farm Loan Association was organized at Burlington last January we have closed loans and have applications approved ready for closing loans to the amount of over $100,000.00.

The borrower who secures a Federal loan is given 34 1/2 years in which to repay the loan and his semi-annual payments are very small, about the same as paying interest, and at the end of 34 1/2 years the whole debt is liquidated by these small semi-annual payments. The paid portion of a loan may be paid any time before 34 1/2 years if desired.

This is the easiest and most convenient plan known to pay off a mortgage. The interest is 5 1/2 per cent and can not be raised during the life of the loan.

We have some blank applications on hand now and are able to take your application at once and get your loan through promptly.

This is strictly a farmers organization. No one can get a loan from the Federal Land Bank unless he is an actual farmer.

Anyone already carrying a mortgage on their farm or desiring to execute a new mortgage and desire to take advantage of this plan offered by the Government may call on us and we will be glad to go into all details with them.

Boone County National Farm Loan Association.
A. B. Renaker, Secy-Treas., Burlington, Ky.

CONTRACT LET

Bids were received by the State Highway Engineer, at Frankfort, Sept. 27th, for the construction of the Lexington pike for a distance of five miles beginning at Florence. A number of bids were received, the lowest made by Billiter & Oliver. Three different types of road were in the specifications. The bid of Billiter & Oliver for reinforced concrete was $155,000.00. This bid will be referred to the State Highway Commission at their next meeting to be held October 9th with a recommendation from the State Engineer that it be accepted. The Commission will no doubt accept the bid and award the contract to Billiter & Oliver, and they will begin the construction of the road at once, as they have just completed a road in Ohio, and are now ready to move to the Lexington Highway. Part of this road should be completed before work will have to be suspended for the winter.

THIS RESTLESS AREA.

On Sunday afternoons on the leading automobile routes within driving distance of any good sized city, one observes long processions of automobiles tearing around the country, many running at high rates of speed, some getting smashed up. The vast number of people thus engaged shows the intense dislike of the age for quiet, and its keen desire for motion and something new.

Up to a certain point it is a healthy tendency. It gives people fresh air and needed change and may on the whole be a physical benefit. If people would indulge in such a diversion in moderation it would be wholly helpful.

But when it breaks up family life and simple pleasures and leads to reading and rebellion, when it leads people to give up walking habits needed for health, the benefits become questionable.

A STORY OF COMMUNITY BUILDING.

Northfield, Minnesota, gives a fine example of community building. This place, when it began its efforts for better marketing system to handle dairy products, had farmer accounts in the local banks amounting to $520,000. Now the farmer deposits are $4,000,000.

One reason for this success is that the farmers have specialized on one breed of cattle—Holsteins in this case, and have a reputation for that breed as well as for the quality of their products. They have a splendid three story community building where 15 farmer's clubs meet and all kinds of social events are going on. A country town like that is the best place in the world to live in, and it will hold its young people.

Demonstrations were carried on by county extension agents in 1921 on 250,000 farms with a variety of crops and animals. In connection with these demonstrations, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture, 75,000 field meetings were held, with an attendance of 1,000,000.

THE TESTING OF CHARACTER.

The opening of school and colleges is a somewhat anxious time for many parents, since their young people are going away from their homes for the first time to schools and colleges. Also many who have quit school have recently taken business and other positions at places at some distance from home. Fathers and mothers in many cases feel serious doubt as to how these youngsters are going to conduct themselves when they get away from the restraints of their early youth.

A boy of this type was receiving a long list of final charges from his mother. Rendered somewhat desperate, he finally broke out. "Mother, if you have not been able to show me how I ought to behave in the eight years you have had me at home, it is too late to start in now."

There is much truth in that. A young person's character is somewhat determined by the time one reaches the age of 18. Those who run wild after that period must previously have manifested flaws of character, which could usually have been corrected if parents were watchful and wise and firm.

Fortunately the young folks that have had good homes are likely to be true to the example that has been set before them. The thought of that loving influence back in the old town that longs to see them do well, is a restraining force in many circumstances of moral peril.

The boys and girls who are making their first start in the world this fall should realize how much they owe their parents, who have struggled and denied themselves to give the young people all they could. Those that prove unworthy show a yellow streak of ingratitude, they incur the contempt of the community, and they spoil their futures by their failure to make good.

WE HAVE BOTH KINDS

With some people—a great asset is such a disposition—hard times, gloomy weather, nor even ill health, seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium. The town of Burlington possesses one or two such individuals. Fortunately indeed is the man who can accept the reverses of life with a smile, and takes the bad with the good as just a "matter of course." Such dispositions and even temperaments seem to disturb their equilibrium.

NO DANGER FROM POOL.

Stone Says There Has Been No Violence But Warns Friends of the Association To Leave Exhibit Alone.

Lexington, Ky.—There has not been any violence and there will be no violence on the part of members of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association, President and General Manager James C. Stone said, when asked about the truth of reports emanating from loose leaf warehouse sources in Northern Kentucky that threats had been made against the concern which is holding a tobacco fair at Covington next month and which has been publishing advertisements of the fair stating that it is open to "poolers and non-poolers alike."

According to Mr. Stone's statement there not only has been no violence on the part of members of the association, but the officers and directors of the organization will not tolerate any unlawful or violent conduct on the part of its members toward those not in the association.

Discussing the reports of alleged threats against the concern, President Stone said:

"I fear the wish is father to the thought in this case. . . nothing would please the enemies of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association better than some such overt act on the part of members. So far as I have been able to learn there have been no threats on any of our members in Northern Kentucky, but they have resented the attempt of this warehouse management to induce members of our association to deliver to this concern tobacco known to be pledged to the association, and it is that very thing against which our members have been warned."

"We are publishing a similar warning in the October number of The Burley Tobacco Grower, calling attention to the fact that the delivery of tobacco to this so-called 'fair' is a violation of the contract and warning the warehouse concern itself that the association has a means of protection against that kind of practice, in the cooperative marketing law, and will use that law if a pound of our tobacco is delivered by any of our members to that concern."

If those who choose to stay outside the association want to have a tobacco fair, or want to boost the Kenton Loose Leaf Warehouse, it is their right and privilege to do so, but no member of the Burley Association in any part of the Burley district can deliver tobacco to this so-called fair without violation of his agreement with the association. Our legal department now is working out the necessary steps to protect us in this matter."

LEST WE FORGET.

Just to remind the people of Boone county that the Red Cross is still an organization. Do you know? That at last we have our work extended to "Civilian Relief." Five cases have been reported and investigated in the last six months. Four visits to homes made. Surgical supplies issued in one case. Hospital bill of $74 paid. Three hundred dollars loaned without interest to a family who upon investigation were found to be worthy. Five hundred dollars set aside for needy school children. While only $58 and forty cents has been used of the fund to date. We might have helped more if the cases had been reported. The Truant Officer reported most of these. The teachers could be a great help to us by reporting these cases.

In Home Service, which takes in all phases of ex-service work, nine separate cases have been handled. This includes the correspondence, preparation of affidavits, arrangements, or examinations, compensation and vocational training. The Veterans Bureau of which District No. 7 is located in Cincinnati, effects the co-operation of the American Red Cross and commends us for the help given them through this hour of service. Further they are glad to confer with us regarding any case. A gift of ten dollars was given U. S. Veterans Hospital No. 69 at Fort Thomas which was added to their loan fund and used for Kentucky men only. A box of surgical supplies has also been sent this hospital.

The Y. W. A. of Burlington, which has been sewing for needy children has agreed to help the Red Cross in this line of work. We would be glad for other organizations to co-operate with us.

While the Junior organization is not yet perfected it is nearing completion and will shortly be functioning as an independent organization which will be of great benefit to the schools.

All that is needed to make the "Peace Time Red Cross" a benefit to any community is the sympathy and interest of the people.

Publicity Committee.

The Boone County High School Basketball teams went to Walton, last Friday, and the boys teams lost both games to Walton. Score, first team 29 to 13; 2nd team, 21 to 2. The girls team won their game. Next Friday afternoon Petersburg High school team will play at Burlington. Game starts at 8 p. m.

Soundal gather no more. It travels too rapidly.

RADIO RALF AND HIS FRIENDS---

for health building nutritious bread - and rolls

Telephone Flour

A Leader for Ask Your

Forty-Five Years Grocer

PETERSBURG.

The farmers are busy cutting corn sowing grain and digging potatoes. Deputy Sheriff Herbert Snyder was mingling among friends here Saturday.

The remains of Thos. Nettles were interred in the cemetery here Sunday.

The coal merchants expect to have coal in their yard in a short time.

Our old friend J. M. Botts seems to have forgotten that Petersburg is on the map.

The owners of the Aurora ferry are making arrangements to build a new ferry boat.

We are told that Boone Ryle has sold his residence to Joseph Smith of North Madison.

Walter Rector came near losing a good milch cow last week from eating too much new corn.

Mrs. Harry McWethy, of Dillboro, was visiting friends and relatives here the past week.

October 14th our scribe will arrive at his 75th mile stone in this life.

During that time he has been a ruler for this paper for forty-seven years and is still able to perform manual labor sufficient to provide himself and wife's maintenance.

WHAT IS SUCCESS?

(Tom Dreier, in Forbes Magazine.) One man of our acquaintances earns $15,000 a year. Another man we know just as well, earns $3,000.

If you were asked to tell us which is the more successful, the chances are, ten to one, that you would answer, "Why, the one who earns $15,000 a year."

If you made that answer you would be wrong. No man's success can be measured by the size of his income.

It happens that the $15,000 man spends far more than he earns. He is in debt all the time and if his income ceased for any reason he would be dead broke.

The other man who only earns $3,000 a year, not only lives within his income, but carries a life insurance policy for the protection of his family, and as a result of his thrifty habits, has $10,000 scattered around in various savings banks, and in one cooperative society.

Perhaps more important than the money this second man has, is the peace of mind that is his. He has played the game of life according to the rules and is conscious of the fact that he has done good work. He enjoys life because his mind is not cluttered up with worries over debts and other negative things.

Public Sale.

I will sell at Public Auction at my farm, on the Burlington and East Bend pike, 4 1-2 miles south of Burlington, Ky., on Wednesday, Oct. 18,

The Following Property:

Two good work horses, 7 cows—all tested, 2 sows and pigs, Hampshire boar eligible to register, mowing machine, hayrack, riding plow, Oliver plow, single plows, double shovel, hillside plow, buggy good as new, buggy pole, road wagon, harrow, log chain, pitchforks, cycle grinder, corn-sheller, 2-horse sled, drag, harness, bridges, 10 tons hay, corn, good cook stove, Beatrice churn, Linoleum—4 yds. square, gasoline stove, cream separator, 3 milk cans, cross-cut saw, and many other articles not mentioned.

TERMS—All sums of $5.00 and under, cash; on sums over that amount a credit of 9 months will be given, purchaser to give note with good security, payable at Peoples Deposit Bank, Burlington, Ky.

EDGAR HENSLEY.

J. M. EDDINS, Aucr. LEWIS STEPHENS, Clerk. Sale to begin at 12:30 o'clock.

MARKETS

Wheat (Cincinnati) $1.15.
Corn 70c.
Oats 45c.
Bran $24.00.
Middlings $25.00.
Rye $77 to $79.
Timothy hay $16.50 to $17.50.
Clover hay $16.50 to $16.50.
Apples $2.75 to $3.00 barrel.
Potatoes $3.50 to $4.00.
Sweet potatoes $2.00 to $2.50.
Hogs (Chicago) $8.00 to $10.30.
Steers $7.50 to $11.28.
Cows $3.75 to $9.25.
Feeders $9.75 to $11.25.
Calves $9.25 to $12.25.
Fat Lambs $12.50 to $14.40.
Ewes $3.50 to $7.00.
Butter—Creamery 37 to 39c.
Butter—Dairy Fancy 30c.
Butter—No. 1 28c.

There will be a box social and Fish Pond held at Burlington High School building next Friday, October 6th at 7 o'clock p. m. The evening will be made one of enjoyment and fun for all who attend. Matters being enlivened by a contest to decide the Most Popular girl present. The pupils of the school are behind the movement and all money derived is to go to the Athletic Fund. So everybody get out and have a good, social evening, meanwhile promoting the interests of your school.

If the advocates of impartial law enforcement will stand up and be counted we fear the result will be nothing. Everybody wants himself to be exempt.

FOR SALE—Big Tyne Poland China Boar, 3 years old—registered. FRANK WALTON, Grant, Ky. Can Phone

THE HOME RADIO

How to Make and Use It By A. HYATT VERRILL

XVIII. AMPLIFIERS

Amplifiers, which are devices designed to increase the volume of sound, are very simple affairs and while they may be bought ready-made any person can construct one in a few hours at much less cost. The most expensive part of an amplifier is the bulb or vacuum-tube and as such tubes as Myers are much cheaper than others and are exactly as good for amplification—though less efficient in the sending set—money can be saved by using them. A one-step amplifier, on such a set as described previously, will greatly increase the clearness and loudness of messages and by adding two or more, and using a loud tone horn or phone, music, singing, etc., can be produced to fill a large room or hall. In using two or more steps of amplifiers it is merely necessary to duplicate the first, which is shown in Fig. 52. The only thing to be borne in mind is always to turn the transformers at right angles to each other for each step. This is essential in order to break up the magnetic fields and prevent the machine from squealing or roaring. Another point to bear in mind is that the shorter the grid leads the more efficient the whole.

In the figure, A is a jack or plug-socket which is connected as shown, the outer arms a being connected back to the phone connections on the detector or original receiver set. Then, by inserting the plug of the phone between these (a a) the contact with

B B is broken and you can listen-in as usual, while, by removing the plug and placing it at C, the message is amplified before you receive it. In the figure, D P represents the primary terminals and D S the secondary terminals of the transformer and which will be found marked P and S on the transformer binding-posts. E, in the illustration, is the grid; F the amplifying tube plate; G the B batteries of 45 volts; H the storage battery, and L the rheostat. Fig. 51. The same six-volt storage battery used on the detector set supplies the current for the amplifier and the connections to which are shown at H. Although a grid-leak is not essential to this amplifier one may be used if desired and should be shunted in as shown at K. One rule which you should always remember in setting up an amplifier or other radio apparatus is to keep all wires as short and direct as possible for otherwise the set will howl and buzz. Another thing is to keep all wires free and clear and where they cross keep them well apart. Also, never run two wires parallel if it can be avoided and if it cannot be avoided run them parallel for as short a distance as possible.

Dodge Brothers

ANNOUNCE

A BUSINESS COUPE

Conservative changes in the body design of all other types.

Roadster....$ 920
Coupe.....1,063
Touring Car. 955
Sedan.....1,550

Dempsey Motor Car Company

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY

Phone Erlanger, 70-L

HEBRON THEATRE--Next Saturday

Good Show and Comedy

Admission 22 Cents, Children 10 Cents
War Tax Included

Lands Posted.

All character of trespassing on our farms is positively prohibited, and we will prosecute all guilty parties. No hunting, trapping or snaring will be allowed.

James C. Allen, Hamilton
Your name will be put in the list of those posted until Jan. 1st for 50 cents.

A word and a blow makes many a free show.

All obituaries, card of thanks and all other matter, not news, must be paid for at 5 cents per line.

Bullittsburg Baptist Church.

J. W. CAMPBELL, Pastor.
Sunday School every Sunday at 10.00 a. m.
Regular preaching services on the First and Third Sundays in each month at 11.00 a. m.

Boone Co. Christian Pastorate

REV. C. C. OMER, Pastor.

SUNDAY OCT. 8th

BULLITTSVILLE—10.00 a. m.

Preaching—11.00 a. m.

PT. PLEASANT—10.00 a. m.

Preaching—7.30 p. m.

A very small crowd attended court Monday.

Edgar C. Riley, of Lexington, attended court Monday.

John Walton, of Commissary, is erecting a tenant house on his farm.

Dr. M. A. Yelton shipped a truck load of fat hogs to market, Tuesday morning.

Elmer Kirkpatrick and family entertained a number of relatives at dinner last Sunday.

Congressman A. B. Rouse, wife and children were in Burlington last Sunday a few hours.

Furnish Penn, of Sadiville, Scott county, is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Penn.

About twenty-five or thirty Kenton county people spent Sunday at the Cliffs on Middle creek.

Mr. A. Yelton, of Johnstown, Bracken county, is the guest of his son, Dr. M. A. Yelton and wife.

Miss Cordie Early, of Petersburg, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Berkshire several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Rouse entertained a number of their relatives and friends at dinner, last Sunday.

Mrs. C. C. Roberts, of Walton, is the guest of her brother W. R. and Misses Sallie and Elizabeth Rogers.

Joe Walton, of near Commissary, shipped two of his fine Hampshire pigs to a party in North Carolina, last week.

The British troops in Constantinople number more than 7,000 men and cost the British taxpayers $200,000 a week.

David Williamson, of Carlton precinct, came up Monday and is helping his son Grant, to cut and house his crop of tobacco.

Miss Hattie Rouse, of Florence, was transacting business in Burlington, Tuesday morning. She made the Recorder office a pleasant call.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Rice entertained last Sunday, J. J. Maurer and family, of Bellevue, and C. L. Gaines and family, of Limaburg.

Miss N. L. Martin, Asst. Cashier of the Peoples Deposit Bank, entertained the officers and directors at her home on Washington street, Monday.

At Burlington next Saturday Petersburg will be on hand to try the Burlington team for the second time. Manager Kirkpatrick is preparing for a large crowd.

Ralph Cason, of the Bellevue precinct, brought to this office Tuesday morning an English Rambo apple that weighed one pound. It is enough to make several pies.

The Jno. R. Coppin Co., Covington, has a message in this issue for you—read it and give them a call when in that city. They now have on display their Fall and Winter supplies of goods.

Miss Vienna Ellis passed away at the home of her niece Mrs. W. T. Berkshire last Sunday evening at 5 p. m. Funeral services were held at Highland Chapel Tuesday at 2 p. m. Rev. Carter officiating. Undertaker C. Scott Chambers had charge of the funeral arrangements.

Sterling Rouse, of Pt. Pleasant neighborhood, brought to this office Tuesday a lot of nice peaches of the Krummels October and Martha Fern Kling varieties for which he has our thanks. Mr. Rouse is one of the county's best fruit growers, and is also agent for the Stark Nursery Co.

Mrs. Leslie Harrison and others have filed a petition in the county court seeking to establish a passway over the lands of Snyder Bros. to the county road. Geo. McGlasson, W. L. Cropper and the County Road Engineer were appointed commissioners to report on the establishment of the passway.

Uncle Ad. Robbins, who passed his 93rd year, July 12th, was a caller at this office, last Saturday morning, and renewed his subscription to the Recorder for another year. Mr. Robbins is enjoying good health for one of his years and is still able to do little chores and make trips up in town once or twice a week.

Miss Evelyn Rouse, one of the operators at the Telephone Exchange, was taken to Christ's hospital, Cincinnati, Monday, where she was operated upon for appendicitis. She rallied from the operation nicely and from last accounts was doing as well as could be expected. Her many friends hope for her a speedy recovery.

BASE BALL.

It was a good, clean game, full of excitement and speculation. We refer to last Saturday, that all important game of ball between Hebron and Burlington at Hebron. It was a great game, an exciting game enjoyed by a good sized crowd of local fans of each team. It was the second of a three game series, the first being forfeited to Burlington on account of Hebron refusing to play the game out. It was a pitchers battle between Black and Neal Brady, of Ludlow, who had been pitching for the Toledo, Ohio team of the American Association, and one in which Black had the best of it, and it was anybody's game until the last man was out in the ninth. In the 8th Berkshire got to first on a hit; with two out Cloré came to bat and with a triple scored Berkshire, winning the game—2 to 1.

Manager Kirkpatrick with his slugger journeyed to Hebron last Saturday afternoon and was the strong aggregation of players of the Hebron team. Hebron had prepared for this game and obtained the services of some extra good players. Both teams played good ball and the fans witnessed one of the most excellent and interesting games played this season. Neal Brady for the Hebron club struck out 9 of the Burlington nine. Black for Burlington made 15 of the Hebron boys go to the bench. He strike out route. Only three of the Hebron boys could get the ball in safe territory off Black. Burlington landed on Brady for seven safeties. Ryle, who was catching the game for Burlington, injured his hand, so he could not continue catching for Burlington and McInerney, who was playing the field for Hebron, finished the game for Burlington. Score by innings:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Burlington	0	0	1	0	0	1	0	1	0
Hebron	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	1

Don't forget the ball game at Burlington park next Saturday afternoon, between Burlington and Petersburg. This will be the best game that has been played this season in the county.

Everybody regrets very much that Leslie Ryle got his finger hurt, as he is one of the best ball players in the county and an all-round clever fellow whom every one likes.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

A surprise was given in honor of Mrs. Margaret Clarkson on October 1st. Those present were: Mrs. M. E. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Clarkson and children, Mr. and Mrs. Len Wilson, Albert Wilson, Miss Anna Lee, Sarah Blanche and Lucille Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Afterkirk, Mrs. Mae Brooks, of Saylor Park, Ohio; Alice Tanner, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Tanner and children, Miss Lennie Moore, of Beaver Lick; Miss Lee Horde, of Beaver Lick; Miss Edna and Gilbert Coppage, Mr. Louis Richards, Mr. Garnet, of Covington; Mrs. A. L. Lancaster, of Covington; Miss Sybil Lancaster, Covington; Mr. and Mrs. Owen Bradford, Florence; Mr. and Mrs. John Sommers, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Newman, and Mrs. Croger and children, Miss Myrtle Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hollis, Covington; Miss Dorothy Ellis Karner, Covington, Mr. Harold Ellis, Covington; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Carr and daughter Helen, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McIntyre, Miss Thelma McIntyre, Mr. Otis Richards, Mr. Nelson and Clarence Carr, Charles McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lipscomb, of Bellevue; Lyall Lipscomb, Bellevue; Miss Helen Meyers, Bellevue; Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lipscomb, and children, of Dayton, Ohio.

A SURPRISE DINNER.

Forty-one friends and relatives of Mrs. Clara Crisler gathered at the Midway school yard with well filled baskets Sept. 24th. Those present were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Seidinger and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sittler and family, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Mullins and baby, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Fugate and family, Mrs. Veria Ages and children, Miss Rosa and Lena Pettit, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Horton and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mullins, Mrs. Vina Horton, Mr. and Mrs. Owen McMullen and son, Misses Ada and Anna McMullen, Miss Mamie McMullen and Walter O'Yrk. All reported a pleasant day.

EVERYBODY COME

The Y. W. A. of the Union Baptist church will have a supper consisting of chicken soup, sandwiches, salad, pickles and a coffee at the school house Saturday night, OCTOBER 7th.

W. C. Watts filed suit against the Board of Education and B. B. Hume, Sheriff of Boone county last Monday attacking the tax voted and levied for the purpose of building the Consolidated School at Hebron. A number of reasons are set out in the petition why the tax should not be levied and the building erected. Sheriff Hume was enjoined from collecting the tax. The suit will determine the question whether the Hebron Consolidated school has been established as the law requires.

Charles Maxwell, son of Mrs. Wm. Craddock, joined the Navy at Cincinnati, Monday, and will leave on the 12th inst. for headquarters.

GRANT R. D.

Charley Stephe's new house is progressing nicely.

Everett Cloré and family Sunday-ed at Hogan Ryle's.

Charley Cantwell spent a few days last week with his sister in Harrison Ohio.

A large crowd attended the baptizing Sunday afternoon in Middle creek.

The Ladies Aid Society met with Mrs. Clara Dean and Rena Presser, Thursday.

Jesse West and wife spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Noah West.

Cleveland Blades and Martin Williams, of Covington, were Sunday guests of Chas. Stephens.

Mrs. Jake Cook returned home Tuesday from a visit with her daughter Mrs. Cam White.

Misses Viola and Artie Stephens spent a few days last week with their aunt and cousin in Cleves, O.

Miss Viola Stephens and Joseph Brady spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Walton, of Erlanger.

Mrs. Cam White and children, of Petersburg, were Saturday night and Sunday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Cook.

Z. T. Kelly visited relatives in Indiana last week.

There seems to be an epidemic of colds in the neighborhood.

Raymond Ashcraft and wife are visiting his people in Grant county.

J. H. Walton and J. C. Kelly attended court at Burlington Monday.

Mrs. Mollie Cook, of Grant, spent last week with her daughter, Mrs. Dode Pope.

Mrs. Fanny McNeely had as week-end guests several relatives from Gallatin county.

Mrs. Clara Dean and Clara Dean Presser entertained the Bellevue W. M. S. last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Smith and son visited Mrs. Smith's parents near Union, Saturday and Sunday.

Quite a crowd attended the pie supper given at the Hall Saturday night by the Pythian Sisters, and a nice social was realized.

Wm. and Raymond Hankinson and families and families, and Miss Mary Hankinson, visited at Hobart Lamkins in Patriot, Ind., Sunday.

Bruce, Percy and Dora May Ryle celebrated their birthdays with a party Saturday afternoon. Ice cream and cake were served and games played.

DEVON

Quite a number of silos were filled in this neighborhood last week.

Mrs. Hannah K. Miller is home after a pleasant visit to friends in the city.

Mr. Charles Summet and mother, were guests of Ben Bristow and family, Sunday afternoon.

Water is getting very scarce with quite a few of our farmers. A nice rain would be much appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Rouse and son Bobbie, of Florence, were calling on friends in this neighborhood Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Wm. L. Schild and Mrs. Burndt, of the Dixie Highway, were guests Thursday afternoon of Mrs. Ben Bristow.

We learn with much regret of the illness of our friend Mrs. John Hogan, of Erlanger, and wish her a speedy recovery.

The farmers have been blessed with fine weather for their fall work. Most of the tobacco in this locality is now in the barn.

Mrs. Billy Garges and daughter, and sister Mrs. Lisle Callahan, of Covington, spent Sunday the guests of friends here.

Bro. Runyan, of Latonia, began a series of meetings at the Florence Christian church Sunday evening. All are cordially invited to come out and bring their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Fagin are receiving congratulations upon the arrival of a fine son, whom they have named Howard Bristow. Many thanks to Dr. Rankin, of Walton.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hutless and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Ryle and children, and Mrs. Maria Roache of Cold Springs, Campbell county, Sunday recently with Mrs. Annie Kenney and son, of Beaver.

Mrs. L. N. Wilson and sister Miss Almada Wilson, of Bank Lick, Mrs. Frank McCoy, Mrs. Eli Carpenter and Mrs. Hannah K. Miller spent Tuesday with Mrs. Ben Bristow.

CONSTANCE.

Mrs. Sam Aylor will move this week into the Fugate house.

Miss Elmer Walton was the guest Saturday night of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kottmyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eubanks are the happy parents of a little child, born Sept. 22nd.

Mrs. Richard Eubanks has returned to her home after being operated on in a hospital.

Zetta Ellis, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ellis, who was very ill, is slightly better.

Mr. Harry Klesner has gone to Wheeling, West Va., for a month. He writes home that he likes the place very much.

At the election of the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co., held Monday, the following directors were elected for the ensuing year: C. O. Cleek, O. K. Powers, T. E. Garrison, John L. Jones, Jasper Sullivan and W. L. B. Rouse.

FOR SALE ETC

For Sale—Two and one-half barrel cool winter apples. R. Z. Cason, Petersburg R. D.

For Sale—Lot Rhode Island Red cockerels. Mrs. Walter Hall, Burlington, Ky. 1t—pd

For Sale—1921 Dodge Touring car in excellent condition, also Ford truck—this is a bargain. Dempsey Motor Car Company, Erlanger, Ky.

For Sale—Fairbanks & Morris gasoline engine, 2-h p. with A. B. C. power washing machine. Ida M. Conner, Rabbit Hash.

For Sale—Good Jersey cow and calf. Grace Scott, Grant, Ky.

For Sale—Fernbank wagon scales—capacity ten tons. Price reasonable. Ernie Ruckless, Ludlow, Ky., R. D. 2. 1t—pd

For Sale—20 bushel Keifer pears, 500 bushel winter apples. Lot sweet cider. Ed. Berkshire, Burlington R. D. 1. 1t

ROR RENT—The first floor of the Modern Woodmen building, better known as the old Grange Hall school house, located on the Union and Hathaway pike, about 2 miles from Union and two miles from Hathaway. Splendid location for a grocery store, moving picture show, etc. Will rent cheap if rented at once. For particulars call on or address Walter Craddock, Hiram Stephens or Lloyd E. Tanner, Union, Ky. 012oct 2tpd

For Sale—Pair 4-year old mules, 15½ hands tall, sound and good workers, well matched in size and gait. Priced to sell as I have no use for same. Lloyd E. Tanner, Union, Ky. 1t—pd

For Sale—Registered Hampshire boar at a reasonable price. 2nd premium at Florence fair. Call on or address L. L. Weaver, Union, Ky. 0-0ct19 3t—pd

For Sale—Several nice model—Master Strain White Wyandott roosters. Mrs. A. L. Nichols, Burlington, Ky., R. D. No. 2. 1t—pd

For Sale—Pure bred Chester-white sow, eligible to register. B. D. Rice, McVillie, Ky. 0-0ct12—pd

STOCK EWES
Will put out 25 to 100 good stock ewes on shares to a good sheep and lamb man. Will S. Norris, Union Stock Yards, Cincinnati, Ohio. 0-0oct—4t

We give 20 per cent cash discount or to reliable parties of the regular retail price on Columbia Grafonolas, Starr Grand Pianos, Upright Pianos, Player Pianos and Starr Phonographs. Free delivery made anywhere. Write for catalog.

RICE PIANO CO.,
Aurora, Indiana.
0-jan1

NOTICE.
We have been appointed the authorized sales and service station for the Willard Battery for Boone county. Also do recharging and repairing on all makes of Batteries. Work guaranteed.

DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO.
Erlanger, Ky.

WANTED
Hay to bale. Prices reasonable. P. H. Mathews, Bullittsville, Ky. Phone 203-x
29june 1t

FIRE WOOD FOR SALE
100 rocks—16 inch wood ready for delivery. Will cut any length desired, $3.25 per rick at Harvest Home grounds.
H. R. LEIDY,
C. H. YOEULL.

FOR SALE
Eight-horse Power International Gasoline Engine International Feed Grinder. Small mill for grinding Table Meal. Two Belts. All in first-class condition—will sell quick for $125.00.
CALVIN CRESS,
Union, Ky.

FOR SALE
83½ acre, two miles from Burlington, Ky., good seven room house, large barn, plenty of water, fruit trees, about 40 acres cultivated, bal. in grass. A real sure enough bargain and should be seen to be appreciated. If sold at once $5,000. Four acres, Burlington pike, level and best soil; good water supply frame house four rooms. Don't overlook this bargain $8,000.
HAWKINS & CHAMBERLAIN,
Covington, Ky.
28 E. 7th St. Phone S. 7536

See our agent, T. E. Henry, Florence, Ky., and make arrangement to inspect the above property. We have many other farms and houses in and about Florence and Erlanger.

A racking nervous headache?
MENTHOLATUM
chases it away.

CAR SENSE

Spend
a Dollar
and
Save
Ten

Little defects grow into big ones in time if not corrected.
The correction of a small defect in its early stages costs but little.
When left until it grows into serious proportions its correction runs into money.
That is what makes the maintenance of a car so expensive to many people—neglecting the little things until they grow into big ones.
The better—the safer—the more economical way is to see the garage man at the first warning of trouble.
Today is always a good time to have it done.

EDDINS BROTHERS

TIRES, TUBES AND ACCESSORIES.
Burlington, Kentucky.
BRAKE BAND OIL—Guaranteed to stop Ford bands from chattering.
Agents for U. S. and Ajax Tires.

Established 1886.

A Bank Account

IS ONE OF THE FIRST
STEPPING STONES TO
SUCCESS IN LIFE.

How are You Stepping!

This bank invites young men and women especially to open savings accounts. Officials of the bank are pleased at all time to give the benefit of their experience to customers and others who seek advice.
When in doubt come to this bank. Your success means greater success for us.

Has it ever occurred to you that a checking account is a very convenient thing to have?

Boone Co. Deposit Bank

Burlington, Kentucky.
N. E. RIDDELL, President W. D. CROPPER, Cashier
W. A. GAINES, Vice-Pres. G. S. KELLY, Asst. Cashier.

The New Rising Sun Flour

WILL PLEASE YOU

Recently added milling improvements together with carefully selected milling wheat coupled with years of knowing how makes RISING SUN FLOUR second to none.

ASK FOR IT.

Fancy Patent—Golden Crown—Red Star

COURTESY SERVICE FIRST STABILITY

Do Not Read this Ad

We refer you to our strong statement in another column made under the call of the Banking Commissioner.

Peoples Deposit Bank

Burlington, Ky.

Petersburg Theatre

At Petersburg, Kentucky

Saturday Night, Oct. 7th

"Guiles of Women"

Will Rogers

At Burlington, Kentucky,

Saturday Night, Oct. 7th

"Prisoners of Love"

BETTY COMPTON

CHILDREN 10c. ADULTS 25c

War Tax Included Will Begin promptly at 8:00

DEMOCRATIC TICKET

For Congress
HON. A. B. ROUSE

As the Editor Sees It.

Some people read much, but do very little thinking. They see the words in print before them, but not the great fundamental truths that inspire those words.

The habit of reading is one of inestimable value to the individual, but it should not be carried beyond the point where intelligent thought can dissect the subject and master the secrets that are not otherwise revealed.

Cramming the mind is like jamming the cylinder of an engine. It becomes too tight to function, and is thus rendered useless.

Read a little, think a lot, and you will travel easier and go farther on your way.

When you come to the forks in the road, what do you do? Does instinct tell you which way to go?

Instinct may lead you astray occasionally, but in a society of cases it will point the way you should go.

The man who cultivates is instinct and acts upon it moves forward.

He who gropes in doubt stands still.

We should never allow ourselves to become perfectly contented. This may seem strange advice, but it isn't.

When we are perfectly contented before is nothing else that we desire, and without desire there can be no ambition, no incentive to push forward and accomplish greater things.

Perhaps the turtle on a log on a sunny day is content with his lot. But who wants to be a turtle?

Carpenter, idol of the French prize fighting ring, was knocked out by Jack Dempsey pugilist who fought nothing worse than mosquitoes during the war.

Now Mr. Carpenter has been knocked out by a negro practically unknown to the sawdust ring.

A few more knockouts from gentlemen of doubtful standing may induce him to knock himself out of the business of battering other people up for money and do something that is really worth while.

As a soldier during the war Carpenter made an excellent record. As a professional bruiser he is outclassed.

He has yet time in which to become a man.

It is unwise to frighten your child by picturing a bogie man who is laying in wait to devour it.

Timidity is natural to the young, and cowardice is but a step removed from timidity.

You don't want your child to develop a yellow streak.

Don't convince yourself that you can save nothing on your present income, no matter how small it may be.

The mind that can not plan is incapable of accomplishment, and employers know full well that the man who can not save on a moderate income is not the person to whom a greater one should be paid.

Ability will always find a way, and ability is what employers want these days.

Do you ever change your mind? The stubborn man seldom changes his. That is the reason why he is known as a stubborn one instead of a successful one.

Great minds are susceptible to change upon submission of proof. Little ones are unable to grasp the proof, and therefore always remain little, and in time become stubborn.

When a strong mind changes it is invariably for the better.

That makes it even stronger, as the small one becomes smaller.

WHY NOTHING BUT SMOKE? Periodically—almost daily—the newspapers of our large cities contain lurid stories of fabulous sums of money involved in run running cases unearthed by the prohibition agents. Sometimes it is with the connivance of some of the agents themselves.

Names, facts, and dates are often given, and there appears to be no doubt as to the correctness of these statements.

Presumably the evidence is passed on to the public prosecutors, whose duty it is to convict law violators and send them to jail.

But, presumably, some of these prosecutors are afflicted with a habit of failing them at the most critical time.

Why so much smoke and no fire? Why so much evidence and no little prosecution?

Is it a case of graft, fear to prosecute, or just plain inefficiency?

It whatever case it may be, why do we keep such birds in public office?

Every man is honest when it pays him to be so.

Notice Tax-Payers

Tax-payers of Boone County are hereby notified that I, or one of my deputies will be at the places and on the dates named below to collect the 1922 State, County and County School Taxes. Will also collect the 1922 Graded Common School taxes in Verona, Petersburg, Union and Florence Districts. Also the Consolidated School tax in the Bullittsville and Constance Districts on the same days that other taxes are collected:

- |                          |                           |
|--------------------------|---------------------------|
| BIG BONE, October 3rd    | HEBRON, October 11th      |
| BEAVER LICK, October 4th | UNION, October 13th       |
| VERONA, October 5th      | PETERSBURG, October 16th  |
| WALTON, October 6th      | FLORENCE, October 17th    |
| BELLEVUE, October 9th    | RABBIT HASH, October 19th |
| CONSTANCE, October 10th  |                           |

Rates—State 40c; 10c on Live Stock, County 70c, 15c on Agriculture Products; School 40c on the $100; Poll $1.50. School Poll $1.00. Graded School Rates—Verona 60c; Petersburg 70c; Union 45c, and Florence 50c. Graded School Poll—Verona $1.00; Petersburg $1.50; Union $1.00; Florence 50c.

All unpaid taxes become delinquent after Nov. 30th. Six per cent penalty due State and County added after December 1st on all delinquent taxes; six per cent commission in addition is allowed Sheriff for collecting delinquent taxes. Cost of levy 60c, Advertising 60c.

Please make inquiries for the amount of your taxes before November 15th, as we cannot receive everyone's taxes on the last few days of November.

B. B. HUME, S. B. C.

UP TO THE PRESS.

"The newspapers ought to quit publishing so much scandal." You can hear such remarks any day in the year, and from highly intelligent people.

But we disagree. They do not stop to think. Unfortunately, we have reached the point in this country where but little respect is shown for our laws because the laws are indifferently enforced, or not enforced at all.

Certain people can evade aheri with ease. Others, less fortunate, must pay the penalty. Occasionally there is a notable exception to this rule, but only occasionally.

We are losing our respect for law and its manner of enforcement. But it is different with the great newspapers of the country—and also with the smaller ones. They tell the truth as they find it. The man of great wealth who forgets his manhood is as pitilessly exposed as the one without a dollar—perhaps more so.

This pitiless publicity of the press is the one safeguard that tands between respectability and a reign of debauchery that would rival the days of Sodom and Gomorrah.

There are millions of pure and high minded people in this country, but there are other millions who reek with clandestine infamy.

Some agency must keep this debauched element in check for the welfare of society in general.

The press, through its publicity, is meeting with a reasonable degree of success, where the law is but a dismal failure.

Think before you criticise.

This and That.

Statisticians say that the average life of a $5 bill is ten months, but we could never make one last anything like that long.

Among those who will probably be able to bear the coal shortage with fortitude might be mentioned the sellers of oil and gas heaters.

A subscriber writes in to ask if a "living wage" is the wage one lives on until he can get more.

That printers' strike in Austria may help stabilize currency by reducing the supply.

Chancellor Wirth says that America should take more interest in Europe's affairs. America might take more interest if she could collect more interest.

A New York professor says that we should have a new national anthem—one which comprehensively voices our hopes and aspirations. What's the matter with "How Dry I Am"?

Some moving picture star could pull off a unique press-agent stunt by remaining married for as long as a year.

One of Mr. Wilson's friends says that "Tomully is a dead issue." The Tumulty and the shouting dies.

It is to be hoped that "the next war" in Europe can be delayed long enough for all the premiers, chancellors and ex-emperors to write their memoirs of the last war.

SCALE OF LIVESTOCK RATES

As the result of a compromise reached between Southern Livestock Shippers and railroads, a scale of livestock rates will be established throughout the South in lieu of the rates which the carriers endeavored to make effective June 1st. The compromise scale is slightly higher than that proposed by the shippers in the formal complaint, but materially lower than the one which the railroads sought to make effective. A few examples of the proposed and agreed rates follow:

Cattle per minimum ear, 50 miles; railroads originally proposed $43.00;—compromise scale, $28.00; 100 miles railroads proposed $57.00;—compromise scale, $38.00; 150 miles railroads proposed $68.00;—compromise scale, $48.00; 200 miles, railroads proposed $79.00;—compromise scale $48.00; 200 miles, railroads proposed $79.00;—compromise scale $55.00.

Double deck rates will be established on hogs, sheep, calves, goats, lambs and kids, on the same basis per hundred pounds as applies to the cattle, with a $2,000 pound minimum on hogs and calves, and a 18,000 pound minimum on sheep, goats, lambs and kids. Small stock now moving in the South has not heretofore enjoyed double deck rates and the new rates will carry with them a provision whereby the single deck rates may be furnished in lieu of the double deck rates and the lower rate will be protected.

This compromise was effected on the 14th day of the hearing for the Interstate Commerce Commission and it is significant that the railroads first proposed a compromise shortly after the witnesses from the County Farm Bureau in Kentucky began their testimony, all of which showed that the cattle industry was in no shape to stand any further increase in freight rates. All Farm Bureau members, who cooperated in this case can feel that they played a most important part in effecting this compromise.

If YOU HAVE

no appetite, indigestion, Wind or Stomach, Backache, "run downs," you will find Tutt's Pills what you need. They tone the weak stomach, and build up the system.

WORK AGAINST HOG CHOLERA EXTENDED TO OTHER STATES

The United States Department of Agriculture this year extended its cooperative hog-cholera control work to South Dakota, Washington, New Mexico, and West Virginia, making a total of 34 States in which work is being done in cooperation with State authorities. Co-operation among the different agencies is now at its best and is therefore more effective than ever.

The object of the work with the various States is to prevent and control outbreaks of hog cholera and to prevent the spread of the infection and to reduce losses.

During the year hog cholera has been kept well under control, but special care must be taken in October November and December, when usually there is an increase in its prevalence. Farmers will save more; hogs and prevent disastrous losses if they do not delay reporting immediately to the State veterinarian, the county agricultural agent, the representative of the Bureau of Animal Industry, or local veterinary practitioner any suspicious cases of sickness among the hogs. Antihog-cholera serum is not a cure but a preventive treatment, and should be applied as soon as possible when the disease appears in the herd or in the neighborhood. The prevention treatment is a good insurance against losses from hog-cholera.

RECENT INVENTIONS

Small enough to be carried in a pocket is a French inventor's shaving outfit which includes a battery and electric light for use in the dark.

Glass paper weights have been invented with the upper sides so curved that they form convex lenses that magnify objects under the weights.

Vibrations of automobile frames, airplane wings and other moving objects are measured and recorded by a new machine of French invention.

Operating on the rocket principle, a hose nozzle has been invented that drives its way through clogged sewers by forcing water behind it.

Easily portable apparatus has been invented by a Yale University scientist to revive smoke and gas victims by forcing oxygen into their lungs.

For the comfort of persons of smaller stature than usual who drive automobiles a back rest has been invented that is resilient and ventilated to keep a user cool.

A French jeweler is making ornaments from the wings of butterflies mounted between sheets of thin celluloid cut to fit their forms and protect them from breaking.

Many protests have been registered against the exorbitant price of coal, and with just cause. But so long as the public contents itself with protesting, the operators will content themselves with pocketing their enormous profits.

About the only way to prevent wars is for every nation not involved to refuse to lend money or sell supplies to the combatants. But what country has ever been known to sidetrack a lot of fat war contracts?

Fortunately, the near east is far away. We don't have to plunge.

What Is Seed?

WEBSTER gives this answer: A ripe ovule, consisting of an embryo with one more integuments, or coverings; by germination it produces a new plant.

We Have That Kind

- FANCY NEW TIMOTHY
- MICHIGAN ROSEN RYE
- FANCY NEW SEED WHEAT
- CRIMSON CLOVER
- ALFALFA CLOVER
- FANCY KENTUCKY BLUE GRASS

Let us give you prices in large and small quantities.

Hill's Seeds Do Grow.

Northern Kentucky's LEADING GROCERS AND SEEDSMEN.

GEO. W. HILL & CO.
27-29 PINE ST. - 88 WYTH ST. COK. KY.
No. 1 Hill Customer - It Pays -
No. 2 Hill Customer - It Pays -
No. 3 Hill Customer - It Pays -
No. 4 Hill Customer - It Pays -
No. 5 Hill Customer - It Pays -
No. 6 Hill Customer - It Pays -
No. 7 Hill Customer - It Pays -
No. 8 Hill Customer - It Pays -
No. 9 Hill Customer - It Pays -
No. 10 Hill Customer - It Pays -

VULCANIZING.

Complete line of Goodyear, Goodrich and Kelly-Springfield Tires and Tubes, good Grade of Automobile and Tractor Oils and Greases.

Auto Accessories kept in stock.

GEORGE PORTER,
BURLINGTON, KY.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN, DENTIST

In my new office
Cloyola Place, Florence, Ky.
Teeth extracted painless. Bridge and Plate Work a Specialty.
All Work Guaranteed

JAMES L. ADAMS, DENTIST

Cohen Building
Pike Street, Covington, Ky.

You Can Trade the Article You Don't Need For Something You Do by Advertising.

RECHARGE ANY BATTERY 75c
RENTED BATTERIES FOR ANY MAKE CAR WHILE WE ARE RECHARGING OR REPAIRING YOUR BATTERY.
Dempsey Motor Car Co., Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L.

FARM FOR SALE.

120 acres 4 miles of Aurora, Ind., on good pike, half mile of church, school bus passes the door, half of this farm is a tobacco land and well watered for stock, 7 room house, large barn and all necessary outbuildings. This farm must sell. Price $6,000. Also some baby farms near Florence, Ky.

W. L. SATCHEL, Florence, Ky.

C. H. YOEUELL Farms for Sale

At Bargain Prices.
Burlington, Ky.
Phone Burlington 65

FOR SALE

Farm of 25 acres at Hebron, Ky.—house, barn and outbuildings, 100 acres, 11 room house, barn and outbuildings, near Lawrenceburg Ferry. Both tracts good farm land.
E. MANNIN, Petersburg, Ky.

BOONE CO. RECORDER

Published every Thursday
N. E. RIDDELL, Publisher.

Foreign Advertising Representatives
THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Entered at the Postoffice, Burlington, Ky., as second-class mail.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Furnished on application. The value of the RECORDER as an advertising medium is unquestioned. The character of the advertisements now in its columns, and the number of them, tell the whole story.

Conspicuous among the flower exhibits are the artificial roses on the girls' cheeks.

M. G. Martin and wife, of Florence, spent Sunday with W. R. Rogers and sisters.

These are said to be advancing times, and they seem to be as respects prices anyway.

Miss Bessie Baldon visited her father, C. M. Baldon, at North Madison, last week.

The people are all willing to work nowadays, provided they are not asked to get their hands dirty.

"Flow, gently, sweet Afton" sang the old timers, but the modern sports want something bowing besides water.

Mrs. Asa McMullen spent the latter part of last week with her niece, Mrs. Geo. Eschenchide and family, of Latonia.

Perhaps it would be easier to find servants if so many of them were not planning to become movie actresses.

All that has got to be done to satisfy the people is to raise everybody's wages and reduce the prices on everything.

Mrs. N. W. Carpenter and Mrs. Alice Snyder visited Grover Snyder and wife at North Madison, Indiana, last week.

Many of these girls who are looking for frank, sincere and truthful men, yet cover up their natural faces with false color.

There is a widespread demand for a large number of the politicians to celebrate old home week thru the next term of office.

Many editors feel that the Turks must be put down, if they have to shed the last trace of ink in their typewriter ribbons to do it.

The football teams began practice some time before the colleges opened, but not many of the students did any advance studying.

The country towns that cut down on the cost of their schools perhaps feel their children can get along with less developed brains.

Edgar Penn, wife and daughter, of Detroit, Michigan, spent several days last week, with his father, Mr. John Penn, and brother Geo. Penn and family.

How can the city store sell as cheap as the one in a country town, when the cost of operating the city store is based on high cost living in the big centers?

The city man gets his health by going out in the fields and losing expensive golf balls, the country man gets his by going out in the same fields and creating useful products.

L. W. Gulley and wife, Albert Pettit, Newton York, Sam Pettit and two daughters, Harry Gulley and wife, Robert Gulley and wife, spent Sunday with relatives in Grant county.

Here's a case of hard luck. A young man biffed a ball player with a pop bottle gave his victim a lot of sympathetic notoriety, but failed to get his own name in the newspapers.

One of the triumphs of modern science in America is going to be accomplished soon, when the number of automobiles owners will exceed the number of people who are able to walk.

Harry Gibson and wife, and M. Wilbur and wife, of Rising Sun, Indiana, passed through Burlington last Sunday, enroute to Cincinnati. They stopped long enough to fix a puncture on their automobile.

L. E. Keller, of Covington, is a candidate for Congress in opposition to Hon. A. B. Rouse. Mr. Keller is the candidate of a few disgruntled labor agitators, and will not be supported by any of the leaders in either the Republican or Democratic parties. Mr. Keller and his friends certainly can see that there is no chance for him to be elected.

If Mr. Keller is properly advised he will not permit his name to go on the ballot, and by so doing he would save himself of being so badly defeated that he can never again offer himself as a candidate for any office within the gift of the people.

THE CLAYHOLE WIDOWS

Suits filed by widows of three Democrats killed in Clayhole precinct, in Breathitt County, Nov. 8, 1921, to recover damages from Mitchell S. Crain, the reputed Republican boss of Breathitt, and fourteen others, will recall to many Kentuckians the damage suit filed by the widow of James B. Marcum twenty years ago.

Mrs. Marcum's husband was assassinated by a bunch of thugs, to procure from Hargis and others a compensatory damages. The civil suit was effective, although the defendants in that action never were convicted of the crime.

Politically the situation in Breathitt at this time is the reversal of the situation in Breathitt when Judge Hargis was the political boss. The Courier-Journal's interest in the widows of Clayhole precinct is not greater than was its interest in the dependents of James B. Tarcum, who was assassinated by a clique of criminals who were Democrats, their head a member of the governing body of the Democratic party in the State, and a leader powerful in the Tenth Congressional District.

The Courier-Journal has, in advance of submission of testimony in the civil suit of the widows of Clayhole precinct, no opinion as to whether the defendants named by the widows of the men who were in fact responsible, as conspirators, for the deaths of the three men. The principle upon which the suits are based is excellent. It sometimes is easier to win a suit for damages in such a case than to convict for murder upon the same evidence.

If suits for damages were more often instituted by or in behalf of dependents of murdered men crimes of violence might be rarer than they are.—Courier-Journal.

PERITONITIS

Peritonitis is an inflammation of the peritoneum, or the membrane that lines the abdominal cavity. Circumstances may bring about the condition. Such diseases as tuberculosis or cancer or a penetrating wound of the abdomen or other injury to the abdomen may cause it; or the perforation of any one of the abdominal viscera—such as the bursting of a neglected appendix or perforation of a bowel in typhoid fever—may cause it.

In former days the operation of laparotomy was likely to be followed by peritonitis; but with the perfecting of modern surgical asepsis such a tragic accident as that has become rare. Finally, acute peritonitis may occur suddenly in a person who apparently is in good health but who, without knowing it, has been harboring a gastric or intestinal ulcer.

In most cases acute general peritonitis is a secondary disease and occurs in persons who are already ill with typhoid fever or with some other illness; for that reason the beginning of it may be unnoticed. A case of peritonitis may or may not have warning symptoms, such as chills, fever, loss of appetite, nausea vomiting, and so on; but it is pretty sure to have one definite symptom, severe pain. Soon the pain becomes excruciating; the patient cannot bear to be moved or touched; the abdomen is distended and exquisitely sensitive; and the pain is greatly increased by the vomiting that usually occurs at such a time. The patient's breathing is rapid and light, and the voice usually sinks to a whisper. Needless to say, only the physician can judge of what to do. In most cases the treatment is surgical and is carried out as speedily as possible. When for any reason a surgical operation is out of the question the physician has to depend upon morphine to relieve the pain, and upon such other applications as may be needed. He alone has the right to say what the patient shall eat. Above all until the doctor arrives the family should refrain from administering alcohol or anything else with a view to relieving the pain or "keeping up the strength."

ODDITIES THE WORLD OVER

The boats used on the Tigris today are identical in shape with those seen in Babylonian sculptures of 3,000 years ago.

Some Welsh mothers put a pair of tongs in the baby's cradle in the belief that it will protect the infant from all harm.

In many parts of Britain the superstitious believe that it is fatal to allow an infant to look in a mirror before it is a year old.

Point Barrow, the largest Eskimo village in Alaska, has seven white people and 600 Eskimos. It also contains thirty hospital within a radius of 1,000 miles.

Milford Castle, an ancient seat in Somersetshire, England, is famous as having been built in shape of an ac of clubs because, it is said, the money with which it was originally constructed was won by the turning up of that card.

The strikes, it is said, cost the public two billion dollars; the soldiers' bonus is estimated to cost us seven billions; and the Democrats say the new tariff will cost another three billions. At this rate it won't be long until our national anthem is "Our country, 'tis of thee, sweet land of penury."

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

OLE CLOES SHINES
JES' EZ MUCH EZ
NEW CLOES DOES,
CEP'N HITS A DIFFUNT
LOOKIN' SHINE!!

Copyright, 1921, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

STATE NEWS.

MAD DOG BITES MASTER AND THREE CHILDREN

Lawrenceburg — Hydrophobia treatment is being given to Lyle Bond, his wife and one of the children of Rev. R. R. Rose, who were bitten by a dog belonging to Bond, which was killed.

DIVING OF SPRINGBOARD SUSTAINS FATAL INJURY.

Bardonia—Louis D. Walrath, Jr., 17, grandson of Mrs. S. A. Humphrey, of this city, died at Meadville, Pa., of spinal injuries received in diving off a springboard into a creek near his home.

RAT BITE SERIOUS FOR GRAVES COUNTY INFANT.

Mayfield—Serum treatment is being given the infant of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Rhodes, this county, who became seriously ill when bitten thru the finger by a large rat.

WOMAN BURNED CHURCH ORGAN, FLED, IS CHARGE

Henderson—A warrant has been issued against Mrs. C. H. Baldwin, of Bordley, Union county, who is alleged to have destroyed an organ in the Christian church there by chopping it to pieces and burning the pieces in front of the church. Magistrate Geo. Pate, of Bordley, said Mrs. Baldwin had left the county before the warrant could be served. She is charged with destroying church property.

TOOTH PULLING CAUSES

PNEUMONIA AND DEATH.

Whitesburg—Jonah V. Beverley, of Osborne's Gap section, died at his home after a brief illness. Beverley about two weeks ago had a tooth extracted it is said. The place inflamed, causing high fever, and pneumonia developed, his death following. He leaves a wife and one child. Beverley was a former revenue collector in the Virginia district.

DOCTOR LEAVES TWO WILLS KIN TO CONTEST EITHER

Louisville—County Judge Harry E. Tinscher took under submission a question involving the probate of one of two wills of Dr. Maurice S. Hord, who died leaving an estate valued at $10,000. No matter which instrument is put to record it is said an appeal will be taken for Thomas Hord, a half-brother, who claims to be the only heir-in-law beside Mrs. Bertha Abbott Hord, the widow. The half brother was not named a beneficiary.

SUES HEALTH BOARD FOR DEMANDING VACCINATION

Newport—Suit to enjoin members of the Campbell County Board of Health from enforcing the compulsory vaccination for school children order was filed in the circuit court here by Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Audes, whose daughter, Margaret, eight years old, has been refused admission to the public school because she had not been vaccinated.

CAR SHORTAGE SERIOUS IN WESTERN KENTUCKY

Hickman—The C. M. & G. railroad of this city, branch of the I. C. railroad, received instructions to place an embargo on all outgoing cars unless loaded with food or perishable stuff. The embargo will be felt by the shippers of this section. For the past two weeks they have been greatly handicapped by the shortage of cars.

You can often tell a wise man by the things he doesn't say.

Any Make of Battery
RECHARGED
75c
Rentals for any make of car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.
Dempsey Motor Car Co.,
Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

Trade Where They All Trade

WE ARE MOVING

A large amount of that new crop Timothy Seed and every one who sees it says it is as fine as can be. The germination is 94 per cent. and purity 99.65. Blue Grass has advanced due to the pool in Central Kentucky—we have high-grade seed. Clover is not as big a prospect as it was 30 days ago. New crop not yet in store, but hulling has commenced. You can depend on us for good clean seed. That is one of the factors that has made us

"Kentucky's Largest Seed and Grocery House."

KANSAS KREAM FLOUR--

A wonderful flour, makes more and better bread, good to the last crumb; is gaining in popularity every day—once you try it you will be a booster for it.

Bbl. in 98-lb. bags--Special...$7.00

"THE FLOUR THAT NEVER FAILED"

Send us your orders for anything and be convinced that we can save you money.

SEED WHEAT: Marvelous—a bearded wheat. Poole—a beardless wheat—thoroughly recleaned and graded, but... $1.75.

GEO. C. GOODE

Groceries, Flour, Seeds, Medicines

19-21 Pike St.

18-20 West Seventh St.

WHOLESALE—"Covington's Largest Seed and Grocery House"—RETAIL

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Phones South 335 and 336.

Public Sale.

I will sell at public auction at my place on the Petersburg and Bellevue Road, at Woolper Bridge, on

Tuesday, Oct. 10, 1922

The Following Property:

35 Sheep, 10 Young Cows—1 Holstein, 9 Jerseys, Bull Calf, Bay Mare 11 yrs. old, Horse 11 years old, big Mule 10 years old, yearling Mule, White Sow and 8 pigs, Red Sow and 8 pigs, Sow and 4 pigs, 2 bred Sows, 9 135-lb. Shoats, 7 50-lb. Shoats, Duroc Boar, 2 sets Double Harness, Buggy Harness, 100 ft. Hay Rope and Pulleys, Top Spring Wagon, Road Wagon, Haybed, Corn Planter, Riding Oliver B Plow, No. 20 Oliver, Dixie Plow, Jumping Plow, 5-Shovel Cultivator, 2-horse Cultivator, Disc Harrow, Hinge Harrow, Hayrake, Sled, Cider Mill, Large Iron Kettle, 6-horse Mogul Engine, Saw and Frame, Feed Grinder, Power Cutting Box, Wheelbarrow, Dinner Bell, Work Bench and Vice, lot of Tobacco Sticks, Cream Separator, Gravel Bed, 4 Stand Ees, about 20 tons Hay, some baled Straw, 17 acres of good Corn, etc.

Cattle have all been tuberculin tested.

TERMS OF SALE.

A credit of 6 months will be given, without interest, on all sums of $10.00 and over, purchaser to give note with good security payable at Citizens Deposit Bank, Grant, Ky. On all sums under $10.00 a cash discount of 3 per cent will be given.

W. E. Yelton.

J. M. EDDINS, Auctioneer.

Sale to begin at 12 o'clock sharp.

BRIEFS ABOUT WOMEN

Women in Great Britain must be 30 years old before they can vote.

English women of the Sixteenth century smoked cigarettes imported from India.

A famous man dress designer of London declares that he considers American women smarter nowadays, even than the Parisians.

Some of the big English steamship lines contemplate the example of the Scandinavian lines by installing women cooks on their vessels.

Probably the most costly monument ever erected to a woman is the Victoria Memorial in London, the cost of which exceeded half a million dollars.

An Oklahoma girl-wife of 17 has caused something of a sensation by casually giving her baby away on the train to a woman who expressed interest in it.

Women employed as readers in press-clipping bureaus often have to memorize 5,000 names and subjects.

Eighty women Justices of the Peace, who came from all parts of the United Kingdom, attended the summer school for women Magistrates held recently at Oxford University.

Under the English common law the father is recognized as the sole legal parent, the mother having no voice in the upbringing of the child, either as regards religion or education.

A news story from Germany says that the ex-Kaiser distrusts the whole world. That makes the distrust thoroughly mutual.

NOTICE TO PAINTERS

Bids will be received by the undersigned for painting the tinwork on the Court House and also painting the jail. Bids will be received until noon September 30th, 1922. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. Specifications may be had by calling on the undersigned.

C. A. FOWLER,

Jailer.

By order of the Fiscal Court.

FIRST-CLASS

Shoe Repairing

Mail Orders at my Expense.

All work guaranteed. Mail your shoes to be repaired to

A. D. LAWRENCE, - Erlanger, Ky.
87 Lexington Pike.

Saturday, Oct. 7
Seven Reel
PARAMOUNT PICTURE
"Proxies"
Also Comedy
Tuesday, Oct. 10th
Seven Reel Special
"THE HEART OF MARYLAND"
Admission 22c-10c

Florence, Ky., Theatre

NONPARIEL PARK

Miss Minnie Baxter spent Friday in Covington, shopping.
Mrs. Homer McCrandner spent last Friday in Cincinnati, shopping.
Mrs. J. O. Carpenter spent Friday in Covington with Mrs. Cliff Norman.
Mr. Frank Sayer, Jr., has returned home after several week's trip to Pittsburg.
Mrs. Joe Baxter had as her guest Wednesday, Mrs. Mary Carpenter, of Covington.
Mrs. Taylor Brooks, of Saylor Park, is visiting Mrs. Maggie Clarkson, of Union.
Miss Minnie Cahill and Mrs. J. G. Renaker spent Thursday in Cincinnati, shopping.
Mrs. Chas. Chipman spent Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Lee Whitson and family.
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kraus have for their guest his sister, Mrs. Emma Barnes, of Colorado.
Harold Ellis, of Covington, is the guest of his aunt, Mrs. Otis Richards, of Gunpowder.
Mr. and Mrs. Joe Graves, of Erlanger, were the guests Thursday of Mrs. Mattie Whitson.
A number from here attended the funeral of Thos. Dorsey, of Erlanger, Wednesday morning.
Mrs. Albert Fisk and Mrs. Effie Snyder, of Erlanger, spent Thursday afternoon with friends here.
Mrs. Leslie Sorrell, of Lexington, was the guest Thursday of Mrs. Carl Anderson, of Dixie Highway.
Mrs. Lee Lancaster and daughter, Sybil, of Covington, are guests of Mrs. Maggie Clarkson, of Union.
Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Sorrell (nee Clara Anderson) of Lexington, Ky., spent the week-end with home folk.
Mrs. Wm. Tryling and son, of Cincinnati, were the week-end guests of her parents, Joe Baxter and wife.
Mrs. Owen Bradford has returned to her home in Florence after several days visit with Maggie Clarkson.
Mr. and Mrs. H. Peck and son, of Dayton, Ky., motored out Saturday afternoon and attended the land sale.
Milton Caldwell, of Berry, Ky., motored here Sunday and was the guest of Miss Eva Renaker, of Main street.
Mrs. Joe Baxter, of Nonpareil Park, was the guest Friday of her brother, Ed. Snyder and wife, of Main-st.
Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Whitson, of Nonpareil Park, were the Sunday guests of Newton Haley and wife, of Erlanger.
The many friends of Mrs. John Morgan, of Commonwealth Ave., Erlanger, regret to hear of her being seriously ill.
Don't forget to attend the big dance at Florence Theater Friday night Oct. 6th. Good music. Everybody invited.
Newton Renaker, of Winchester, Ky., was the guest several days last week of J. G. Renaker and other relatives here.
Miss Louise Groger, of Covington, spent the week-end with her parents, J. P. Boyce and wife, of the Dixie Highway.
Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Eddins, of Covington, were Sunday guests of his parents, Lee Eddins and family, of Florence.
Mrs. Susie Groger and baby, of Covington, spent Monday evening of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Boyce, of the Dixie Highway.
Robert Tanner and family, of Columbus, Ohio, have returned home after several week's visit with Dr. Cole and wife.
Mrs. Owen Bradford, of Shelby, was the guest of Mrs. Maggie Clarkson and other relatives at Union last week.
Mr. Ed. Chipman and mother, of Williamstown, spent the week-end with Charles Chipman and family, of Dixie Highway.
Mrs. J. P. Boyce, of the Dixie Highway, spent Monday in Covington with her daughter, Mrs. Susie Groger and family.
The Ladies Aid Society of the Baptist church, Florence, will give a supper Saturday evening, Oct. 14th, at the L. O. O. F. Hall.
Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cahill, of the Dixie Highway, entertained at supper Wednesday evening, Jas. Rice and family, of Erlanger.
Mrs. Linda Ross, of Union, has returned from several week's stay at her sister's Mrs. Angeline Lancaster at Mt. Washington, Ohio.
Mrs. Maggie Clarkson, Mrs. Taylor Brooks and Mrs. Ross, of Union, attended the lot sale at Nonpareil Park, Saturday afternoon.
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kraus had for their guests Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Kraus and children and Mrs. Emma Barnes, of Colorado.
Mrs. Melvin Eddins (nee Pearl Knight) of Covington, has returned home after a two week's visit in Tennessee visiting her relatives.

Revival services are being held at the Christian church, Florence. Evening service 7:30 p. m. Bro. Runyan, of Latonia, is conducting the meeting.
Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Corn, of Erlanger, entertained at dinner Sunday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Beall, Sr., of Union, and Miss Minnie Baxter.
Miss Ella Mae Kenney, Miss Elizabeth Goodridge, Miss Jane Scott and Miss Kathryn Bowers, who attend college at Villa Madonna, spent the week-end with home folks.
Geo. Cody, of Nonpareil Park, was brought to his home Tuesday from St. Elizabeth hospital, Covington, after several month's stay there, suffering with a broken limb.
Miss Florence Marquis, of Burlington Pike, left Wednesday for Los Angeles, Cal., to visit her sister, who will accompany her home to spend several months.
Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Chipman, of the Dixie Highway, had for guests Sunday afternoon Roscoe Boyce and wife, of Norwood, Ohio, Eliza Harrison, of Norwood, Mrs. Sallie Dunaway and son Earl, of Erlanger, and Ed. Chipman, of Williamstown.
Dr. T. B. Castleman and wife entertained at their beautiful home Wednesday evening with a supper. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Albert Souther, Chester Souther and wife of New York, Mr. Jessie Corwin, of New York, Dr. Chas. Souther and wife, of Cincinnati, Miss Minnie Myers and Mrs. Jennie Dennis, of Cincinnati.
Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Talbott entertained with a dinner at their home in honor of Courtney Williams and bride (nee Eva Akin) last Sunday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Lane Riggs, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Dickerson, of Union, Miss Lottie Williams, Miss Martha Williams, of Covington, and Mrs. Russell Corbin, of Carthage, Ohio.
LOWER GUNPOWDER
Tom Rheib and family visited Oth Hubbard and wife, Sunday.
Services at Big Bone church last Sunday night well attended.
John Aylor and family were the guests of John Jones, Jr., and family Sunday.
Dolphie Schreeb and family, and Raymond Smith and family, visited F. H. Seebree and family Sunday.
William Shinkle and family and Len Hubbard and family visited Mr. Sam Hubbard and wife Sunday, who are expecting to move to Muncie, Indiana, soon.
(Too late for last week.)
Sam Hubbard and family visited relatives here Saturday and Sunday.
The pie supper given at Hamilton school building Friday night was well attended and pies sold for good prices. Scholars are hoping to get a basket ball team organized soon.
Wedding bells are ringing in our neighboring vicinity. (But then that isn't my news.)
Mrs. Roxie Aylor has been visiting her son Ezra Aylor, the past week.
Mrs. Edward Abdon, who has been ill with typhoid fever, is recovering.

BEECH GROVE.

Mrs. John Conley is visiting relatives here.
Clyde Akin and family were the guests of Lawrence Pope and wife, Sunday.
David Williamson is spending a few days with his son Grant and family, of Burlington.
Mrs. Don Williamson and Mrs. Ray Williamson spent Friday with Mrs. Boone Williamson.
Miss Madeline Huey will take Mrs. Elmer Rice's place as teacher of Beech Grove school Oct. 2.
Mrs. Leola Williams, of Pittsburg, and little granddaughter Virginia Lee Hahn, are visiting her parents, G. A. Ryle and wife.
Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Ryle, Mrs. Leola Williams, little Virginia Lee Hahn and Mrs. David Williamson, were guests of Manley Ryle and wife Friday.

RICHWOOD.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carpenter will move to Florence.
Mrs. Anna Hammond will move to rooms in Mrs. Susie Adams' home at Nonpareil Park.
Eldridge Carpenter, Ben Northcutt and Bill Carpenter, filled silos last week.
James Dobbins, Wm. Gatewood, Walter Grubbs and William Dixon, were in Burlington Monday.
Miss Emma Welsh, of Florence, spent several days the past week with Mrs. Eldridge Carpenter.
Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Tanner, of Erlanger, were guests of Walter Grubbs and family one night last week.
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Myers, of Hamilton, Ohio, has purchased Mr. Henry Carpenter's property here, and moved in.
The family of the late D. B. Dobbins wish to thank the kind friends and neighbors for their aid in their time of distress to Revs. Baker and Royer for their comforting words, and thanks to the donors of the beautiful floral remembrances, and to Scott Chambers for his efficient manner in conducting the burial services.
An inventor has devised a practical process for making the movies talk. Well, that's the only way that some of them could be made any worse than they are.

VERONA DEPOSIT BANK
Report of the condition of the Verona Bank, doing business at the town of Verona, county of Boone, State of Kentucky, at the close of business on the 15th day of Sept., 1922.

RESOURCES
Loans and Discounts.....	$156,075.20
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured.....	498.88
Stocks, Bonds and other Securities.....	4,944.00
Due from Banks.....	10,999.05
Cash on hand.....	2,404.50
Banking House, Furniture and Fixtures.....	2,800.00
Total.....	$177,222.63
LIABILITIES
Capital Stock paid in, in cash.....	$15,000.00
Surplus Fund.....	12,000.00
Undivided Profits, less expenses and taxes paid.....	2,359.82
Deposits subject to check.....	$59,894.90
Time Deposits.....	$87,968.41
Total.....	$177,222.63

STATE OF KENTUCKY COUNTY OF BOONE
We, W. M. Whitson and O. K. Whitson, President and Cashier of the above named Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of our knowledge and belief.
W. M. Whitson, President.
O. K. Whitson, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 23rd day of Sept., 1922.
A. C. Roberts, Notary Public.
My Commission expires February 19th, 1925.

WALTON BANK AND TRUST CO.
Report of the condition of the Walton Bank & Trust Co., doing business at the town of Walton, County of Boone, State of Kentucky, at the close of business on the 15th day of Sept., 1922.

RESOURCES
Loans and Discounts.....	$295,728.47
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured.....	775.78
Stocks, Bonds and other Securities.....	24,880.98
Due from Banks.....	19,933.05
Cash on hand.....	5,601.71
Checks and other cash items.....	20.14
Banking House, Furniture and Fixtures.....	3,014.99
Total.....	$349,855.12
LIABILITIES
Capital Stock paid in, in cash.....	50,000.00
Surplus Fund.....	10,000.00
Undivided Profits, less expenses and taxes paid.....	2,632.58
Deposits subject to check.....	$137,734.06
Demand Certificates of Deposit.....	$125,468.44
Notes and Bills Rediscounted.....	5,922.51
Other Liabilities not included under any of above heads Trust Funds.....	$18,097.53
Total.....	$349,855.12

STATE OF KENTUCKY COUNTY OF BOONE
We, R. C. Green and A. R. Johnson, President and Cashier of the above named Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of our knowledge and belief.
R. C. Green, President.
A. R. Johnson, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 21st day of September, 1922.
T. F. Curley, Notary Public.
My Commission expires January 26, 1926.

EQUITABLE BANK & TRUST CO.
Report of the condition of the Equitable Bank & Trust Co., doing business at the town of Walton, County of Boone, State of Kentucky, at the close of business on the 15th day of September, 1922.

RESOURCES
Loans and Discounts.....	$385,235.56
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured.....	1,097.17
Stocks, Bonds and other Securities.....	500.00
Due from Banks.....	42,984.26
Cash on hand.....	6,485.26
Banking House, Furniture and Fixtures.....	3,000.00
Total.....	$439,302.93
LIABILITIES
Capital Stock paid in, in cash.....	50,000.00
Surplus Fund.....	10,000.00
Undivided Profits, less expenses and taxes paid.....	4,392.99
Deposits subject to check.....	$222,658.25
Time Deposits.....	$146,751.69
Reserve for taxes and interest.....	5,500.00
Total.....	$439,302.93

STATE OF KENTUCKY COUNTY OF BOONE
We, D. B. Wallace and John C. Miller, President and Cashier of the above named Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of our knowledge and belief.
D. B. Wallace, President.
John C. Miller, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 20th day of September, 1922.
Jno. L. Vest, Notary Public.
My Commission expires Feb. 7, 1926.

CITIZENS DEPOSIT BANK.
Report of the condition of the Citizens Deposit Bank, doing business at the town of Grant, County of Boone, State of Kentucky, at the close of business on the 15th day of September, 1922.

RESOURCES
Loans and Discounts.....	$128,890.71
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured.....	48.63
Stocks, Bonds and other Securities.....	7,500.00
Due from Banks.....	36,063.90
Cash on hand.....	6,569.05
Banking House, Furniture and Fixtures.....	1,349.10
Total.....	$180,427.39
LIABILITIES
Capital Stock paid in, in cash.....	$15,000.00
Surplus Fund.....	7,500.00
Undivided Profits, less expenses and taxes paid.....	5,773.07
Deposits subject to check.....	$53,601.59
Demand Certificates of Deposit.....	$98,552.73
Total.....	$180,427.39

STATE OF KENTUCKY COUNTY OF BOONE
We, Henry Clore and H. A. Rogers, President and Asst. Cashier of the above named Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of our knowledge and belief.
Henry Clore, President.
H. A. Rogers, Asst. Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 21st day of Sept., 1922.
C. E. McNeely, Notary Public.
My Commission Expires April 20, 1925.

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK.
Report of the condition of The Erlanger Deposit Bank, doing business at the town of Erlanger, County of Kenton, State of Kentucky, at the close of business on the 15th day of Sept., 1922.

RESOURCES
Loans and Discounts.....	$473,149.64
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured.....	1,113.13
Stocks, Bonds and other Securities.....	6,000.00
Due from Banks.....	77,500.27
Cash on hand.....	9,111.05
Banking House, Furniture and Fixtures.....	2,001.00
Other Real Estate.....	4,000.00
Total.....	$572,875.18
LIABILITIES
Capital Stock paid in, in cash.....	50,000.00
Surplus Fund.....	43,000.00
Undivided Profits, less expenses and taxes paid.....	10,421.08
Deposits subject to check.....	$216,211.69
Demand Certificates of Deposit.....	$253,242.41
Total.....	$572,875.18

STATE OF KENTUCKY COUNTY OF KENTON
We, W. A. Price and W. P. Gardner, President and Cashier of the above named Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of our knowledge and belief.
W. A. Price, President.
W. P. Gardner, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 23rd day of Sept., 1922.
L. A. Bentler, Notary Public.
My Commission expires March 15th, 1926.

CITIZENS DEPOSIT BANK.
Report of the condition of the Citizens Deposit Bank, doing business at the town of Erlanger, County of Kenton, State of Kentucky at the close of business on the 15th day of Sept., 1922.

RESOURCES
Loans and Discounts.....	$115,795.38
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured.....	806.82
Stocks, Bonds and other Securities.....	65,418.25
Due from Banks.....	31,005.56
Cash on hand.....	4,188.80
Checks and other cash items.....	335.86
Banking House, Furniture and Fixtures.....	17,000.00
Improvement Fund.....	2,000.00
Other Assets not included under any of the above heads.....	3,622.86
Total.....	$240,173.47
LIABILITIES
Capital Stock paid in, in cash.....	25,000.00
Surplus Fund.....	12,000.00
Undivided Profits, less expenses and taxes paid.....	3,958.97
Deposits subject to check.....	$127,166.45
Time Deposits.....	$52,048.05
Total.....	$240,173.47

STATE OF KENTUCKY COUNTY OF KENTON
We, E. H. Blankenknecker and C. I. Davis, President and Cashier of the above named Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of our knowledge and belief.
E. H. Blankenknecker, President.
C. I. Davis, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 23rd day of Sept., 1922.
L. A. Bentler, Notary Public.
My Commission Expires March 14, 1922.

PEOPLES DEPOSIT BANK.
Report of the condition of The Peoples Deposit Bank, doing business at the town of Burlington, County of Boone, State of Kentucky, at the close of business on 15th day of Sept., 1922.

RESOURCES
Loans and Discounts.....	$460,215.64
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured.....	135.71
Stocks, Bonds and other Securities.....	114,101.00
Due from Banks.....	27,016.33
Cash on hand.....	8,295.58
Checks and other cash items.....	996.65
Banking House, Furniture and Fixtures.....	2.00
Total.....	$610,762.91
LIABILITIES
Capital Stock paid in, in cash.....	50,000.00
Surplus Fund.....	100,000.00
Undivided Profits, less expenses and taxes paid.....	10,114.38
Deposits, subject to check.....	$35,031.75
Time Deposits.....	$14,917.66
Due Banks and Trust Companies.....	699.17
Total.....	$610,762.91

STATE OF KENTUCKY COUNTY OF BOONE
We, Ezra A. Blankenknecker and J. L. Frazier, President and Cashier of the above named Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of our knowledge and belief.
Ezra A. Blankenknecker, President.
J. L. Frazier, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 23rd day of Sept., 1922.
W. M. Rachal, Notary Public.
My Commission expires Jan. 24th, 1926.

BOONE COUNTY DEPOSIT BANK
Report of the condition of The Boone County Deposit Bank, doing business at the town of Burlington, County of Boone, State of Kentucky, at the close of business on 15th day of September, 1922.

RESOURCES
Loans and Discounts.....	$185,638.13
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured.....	428.74
Stocks, Bonds and other Securities.....	88,106.53
Due from Banks.....	27,540.97
Cash on hand.....	5,844.10
Checks and other cash items.....	621.20
Banking House, Furniture and Fixtures.....	1.00
Other Real Estate.....	6,787.65
Total.....	$314,958.32
LIABILITIES
Capital Stock paid in, in cash.....	30,000.00
Surplus Fund.....	50,000.00
Undivided Profits, less expenses and taxes paid.....	9,605.04
Deposits subject to check.....	$114,451.07
Time Deposits.....	225,853.28
Total.....	$314,958.32

STATE OF KENTUCKY COUNTY OF BOONE
We, N. E. Riddell and W. D. Cropper, President and Cashier of the above named Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of our knowledge and belief.
N. E. Riddell, President.
W. D. Cropper, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 22nd day of September, 1922.
G. S. Kelly, Notary Public.
My Commission Expires January 13, 1925.

HEBRON DEPOSIT BANK.
Report of the condition of The Hebron Deposit Bank, doing business at the town of Hebron, County of Boone, State of Kentucky, at the close of business on the 15th day of September, 1922.

RESOURCES
Loans and Discounts.....	$70,140.01
Due from Banks.....	11,889.23
Cash on hand.....	3,528.17
Banking House, Furniture and Fixtures.....	4,200.00
Other Assets not included under any of the above heads current expense and interest paid.....	542.61
Total.....	$90,300.02
LIABILITIES
Capital Stock paid in, in cash.....	20,000.00
Surplus Fund.....	2,000.00
Undivided Profits, less expenses and taxes paid.....	175.97
Deposits subject to check.....	$1,727.37
Time Deposits.....	$5,238.12
Other Liabilities not included under any of above heads Premium on Loans.....	1,158.58
Total.....	$90,300.02

STATE OF KENTUCKY COUNTY OF BOONE
We, J. B. Cloud and J. C. Hankins, Vice-President and Cashier of the above Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of our knowledge and belief.
J. B. Cloud Vice-President.
J. C. Hankins, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 22nd day of Sept., 1922.
Hubert Conner, Notary Public.
My Commission Expires January 23, 1924.

UNION DEPOSIT BANK
Report of the condition of The Union Deposit Bank, doing business at the town of Union County of Boone, State of Kentucky, at the close of business on the 15th day of Sept., 1922.

RESOURCES
Loans and Discounts.....	$80,516.32
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured.....	2,407.37
Stocks, Bonds and other Securities.....	10,000.00
Due from Banks.....	8,493.00
Cash on hand.....	2,396.92
Other Assets not included under any of above heads.....	454.39
Total.....	$104,268.39
LIABILITIES
Capital Stock paid in, in cash.....	20,000.00
Surplus Fund.....	10,000.00
Undivided Profits, less expenses and taxes paid.....	2,496.54
Deposits subject to check.....	$40,555.08
Time Deposits.....	$26,216.77
Bills Payable.....	5,000.00
Total.....	$104,268.39

STATE OF KENTUCKY COUNTY OF BOONE
We, Ezra A. Blankenknecker and J. L. Frazier, President and Cashier of the above named Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of our knowledge and belief.
Ezra A. Blankenknecker, President.
J. L. Frazier, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 23rd day of Sept., 1922.
W. M. Rachal, Notary Public.
My Commission expires Jan. 24th, 1926.

FLORENCE DEPOSIT BANK
Report of the condition of The Florence Deposit Bank, doing business at the town of Florence, County of Boone, State of Kentucky, at the close of business on the 15th day of September, 1922.

RESOURCES
Loans and Discounts.....	$220,543.74
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured.....	362.71
Stocks, Bonds and other Securities.....	3,601.03
Due from Banks.....	23,140.74
Cash on hand.....	8,753.75
Banking House, Furniture and Fixtures.....	3,501.00
Total.....	$259,902.45
LIABILITIES
Capital Stock paid in, in cash.....	$15,000.00
Surplus Fund.....	20,000.00
Undivided Profits, less expenses and taxes paid.....	7,471.47
Deposits subject to check.....	$107,459.98
Time Deposits.....	$109,377.50
Cashier's checks outstanding.....	93.50
Total.....	$259,902.45

STATE OF KENTUCKY COUNTY OF BOONE
We, C. F. Blankenknecker and J. G. Renaker, President and Cashier of the above named Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of our knowledge and belief.
C. F. Blankenknecker, President.
J. G. Renaker, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 26th day of September, 1922.
J. F. Murray, Notary Public.
My Commission expires Jan. 10th, 1926.

STATE OF KENTUCKY COUNTY OF BOONE
We, N. E. Riddell and W. D. Cropper, President and Cashier of the above named Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of our knowledge and belief.
N. E. Riddell, President.
W. D. Cropper, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 22nd day of September, 1922.
G. S. Kelly, Notary Public.
My Commission Expires January 13, 1925.

FARMERS BANK
Report of the condition of The Farmers Bank, doing business at the town of Petersburg, County of Boone, State of Kentucky, at the close of business on the 15th day of Sept., 1922.

RESOURCES
Loans and Discounts.....	$170,662.60
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured.....	492.25
Stocks, Bonds and other Securities.....	2,600.00
Due from Banks.....	16,889.71
Cash on hand.....	2,503.24
Banking House, Furniture and Fixtures.....	1,400.00
Total.....	$194,547.81
LIABILITIES
Capital Stock paid in, in cash.....	15,000.00
Surplus Fund.....	15,000.00
Undivided Profits, less expenses and taxes paid.....	2,749.09
Deposits subject to check.....	$60,485.74
Time Deposits.....	$1,312,447 151,798.21
Due Banks and Trust Companies.....	10,000.00

OPENING DANCE

GIVEN AT THE
Florence Ky. Theatre,
Friday Night, Oct. 6th, 1922
Good Jazz Band.
 Subscription $1.00 Ladies Free.
 Dancing from 9 to 1.
Florence Amusement Co., -- Florence, Ky.

HEBRON.

Mike Dye and wife were guests of Harold Crigler and family, Sunday.
 A large crowd attended the re-opening services of the church here last Sunday.
 Mrs. Laura Conner is with her daughter, Mrs. Allen Goodridge, who has been ill.
 Hubert Conner and two sons Cecil and John, and Ralph Jones, moved to Bank Lick, last Sunday.
 Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Holden and family, of Alexandria, Ky., have been visiting her sister, Mrs. Henry Getker and other relatives.
 Mr. and Mrs. John T. Aylor had as guests last Sunday Lloyd Aylor and family, Mrs. Fannie Clutterbuck and Edgar Aylor and wife, of Florence.
 Myron Garnett and family, Miss Allene Stephens, Harry Reitmann, Chester Goodridge and Paul Poston, spent Sunday with Miss Mildred Plore, of Cincinnati.

FLICKERTOWN.

J. W. White and wife visited at Lawrenceburg, Ind., Sunday.
 Mrs. James Burns is visiting her daughters at Addyston, Ohio.
 Elbert Sullivan and wife visited his parents, one day last week.
 Chas. Snelling has bought Chas. Shinkle's farm. Price not known.
 Bob Snow will move to the house recently vacated by Willis Hensley.
 Miss Alice White, Maud and Leatha Deck visited Mrs. J. H. Snyder, Sunday.
 Miss Naoma Beemon visited Chas. Akin and wife from Friday until Sunday.
 Leland Snyder and family visited in Locust Grove neighborhood, last Sunday.
 Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Voshell were shopping in Aurora, Ind., one day last week.
 The Ladies Aid Society will meet Thursday with Mrs. Stephen Gaines and family.
 A Mr. Jackson, of Lawrenceburg, was here one day last week wanting to buy cattle.
 Walter Gaines and wife and mother visited Judge Gaines and wife, at Walton, Sunday.
 Geo. Shinkle and family, Mrs. Mattie Shinkle called on J. W. White and family, Saturday.
 B. F. Akin and J. W. White filled their silos last week. Finn Bros., will fill theirs this week.
 James Minor called on ye scrible Friday morning and reported every thing on lower Woolper all O. K.
 Mrs. B. F. Akin and daughter Hazel, and Mrs. Laura Seebree, visited Courtney Williams and wife, Friday.
 C. J. Henaley shipped by truck last week a load of lambs and hogs for which he received satisfactory prices.
 Henry Jump traded horses with Mr. Craddock one day last week, and seemed well pleased with his trade.
 Wm. Hewett and aunt, Mrs. Minerva Beemon, visited Ben Hewett and family, near Cleves, Ohio, Sunday.
 Ed. Berkshire and wife, Mrs. Tom Fenton, and Bert Berkshire, were here one day last week fishing. They caught nine bass and several cat fish.
 Mr. and Mrs. Carl Algie and son, entertained with a music party last Saturday night, which was enjoyed by all present. At 11 o'clock they served refreshments to the delight of all present.

ERLANGER

Mrs. John Hogan, of Commonwealth Ave., has been very ill, but is better.
 Mr. Will Wolfe of Dixie Highway, is visiting his nephew, Will Wolfe, Jr., of Erlanger.
 Marie Underhill spent last Sunday with Miss Annie Crigler of Commonwealth Ave.
 Mrs. Florence Smith, of Bellevue, Ky., spent last week with her son Charles, of Erlanger.
 Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beall, Sr., and son Charles, of Bullittville, and Miss Minnie Baxter, of Nonparel Park, spent Sunday with Allie Cora and wife.
 Mrs. Ada Rice and Luellen Lillison, of Latonia, are at the bedside of their mother, Mrs. J. H. Hogan.
 Edna Riley, of North Bend, Mrs. Charles and Roberta Stevens, of Bullittville, and Milton Souther of Burlington, were guests of Mrs. Chester Davis, Sunday.

BIG BONE.

Marion Walton has a Ford car. Bill Abdon has bought a nice driving horse.
 Hon. A. A. Allphin, of Ryle, Gallatin county, visited his sister, Mrs. J. G. Fennell, Sunday.
 Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Slayback, of Beaver, visited the latter's sister Mrs. Jane Stevens, of Covington, visited her parents several days last week. J. L. Jones and family.
 Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Coles, and Geo. Abdon, of Rising Sun, Indiana, were guests of Lise Abdon and family, Sunday.
 Geo. Baker and wife had as guests Friday J. M. Baker and wife and Mrs. Everett Wolf and two children Fay and Baker, of near Richmond.
 C. A. Slater, of Ludlow, and Wm. Sparkes, of Crittenden, Grant county, were at the Springs Tuesday and attended the sale of Marquette on Wednesday.
 Mr. and Mrs. W. L. H. Baker and son Stewart, of Ft. Thomas, were at their country home Saturday and Sunday, and attended the Jr. speaking Saturday night.

IDLEWILD.

A. H. Norman spent the week-end in Union with his sister, Mrs. W. M. Rachal and Mr. Rachal.
 Mrs. Foster Wilson, of Covington, is the guest of her kinswoman, Mrs. William Terrell Berkshire.
 Mrs. Robert E. Grant's children have recovered from their operations and entered school Monday.
 Mrs. Ben S. Houston is home from Paris, where she spent the past three weeks with her niece, Miss Maud N. Ashbury.
 Mrs. Robert Stark Hannah and children will arrive this week from an extended visit with relatives in Toronto, Canada.
 Mrs. W. M. Rachal, Sr., and Mrs. William T. Spears, of Union, spent Thursday with their sister, Mrs. Jas. S. Ashbury, who has been quite ill.
 Mr. E. A. Martin is rapidly recovering from the serious injury he received two weeks ago, when he was struck by a broken belt on his gas oil engine.
 Miss Vienna Ellis, one of the aged and most respected citizens of the community, passed to her reward Sunday afternoon after a lingering illness.

LIMABURG.

Mrs. J. P. Brothers was shopping in Cincinnati, Wednesday.
 Mrs. Harriet Utz was the guest of her nephew, Wm. Utz, last week.
 Mrs. Cecil Gaines was the guest of her brother last week at Walnut Hills, Ohio.
 Mrs. Leslie Sorrell, of Lexington, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Anderson.
 Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Jones are rejoicing over the arrival of a nine pound baby girl.
 Geo. Weyer, of Anderson's Ferry, was the guest of his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Baker, Sunday.
 M. I. Baker and wife entertained at dinner Friday for their uncle, R. T. German, of Cincinnati.
 Mary Ellen Crigler has spent the past two weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Houston, of Covington.
 H. E. Leidy and wife entertained at dinner Friday for Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Anderson and daughter, Mrs. Leslie Sorrell.
 Mrs. J. P. Brothers is entertaining her mother, Mrs. J. H. Deares, and grandfather, Mr. R. F. German, both of Cincinnati.

PEOPLE FOR WHOM THE BEST IS NONE TOO GOOD
 Are always the most enthusiastic concerning the excellence of our
Dry Cleaning and Dyeing
 We have one of the most efficient
Remodeling Departments
 in the country. Furs transformed into the most very quickly. Men's and women's garments altered in any way desired.
 Wedge fur skins and remodel them in any way.
 We tailor make men's or ladies' suits $50.00 up. Latest styles. We pay $2.50 railroad fare on every custom-made suit ordered from us.
 Send goods parcel post. We have no agents.
THE TEASDALE CO.
 625-627 Walnut St.
 CINCINNATI, O.

VERONA.

The health of the community generally good.
 Farmers are through cutting tobacco and are cutting corn.
 James Wasson and Raymond Benson are painting Concord church.
 Miss Mary Ransom who is teaching school at Crittenden, spent Saturday and Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Mattie Ransom.
 J. D., Ella and Katie Powers, J. M. Powers and wife, and A. C. Roberts and wife, attended the Falmouth fair on Friday and report a good fair.
 Rev. J. Nuten Powers has traded his property in Verona for the Russell Jump farm two miles south of town, consisting of 48 acres, with stock and farming utensils.
 Joseph Florence leparted this life Sept. 14th, of infirmities of age. The leparted was 80 years old. The funeral was held at Salem church. Rev. Jackson preached the funeral, after which the remains were interred in Salem cemetery by the side of his former wife.

BEAVER LICK.

Allie Roter has been ill with lumbago.
 Quarterly meeting of Chapel next Sunday.
 Mrs. Sam B. Sleet is ill with typhoid fever and appendix trouble.
 Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Griffith.
 John Sam Moore is repairing the pike from Big Bone to Beaver, which was badly needed.
 Robert Green, who has been ill with typhoid fever for some time, improves very slowly.
 W. C. Johnson shipped a truck load of lambs last week for which he received satisfactory prices.
 Charles Johnson lost starter crank off of his Buick car going to Walton to school last Friday morning. Finder call Beaver 92.
 Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Griffith and son and Mr. G. L. Miller, of Big Bone, returned home by way of Rising Sun, Indiana, from Martinsville, Indiana, where they had enjoyed themselves for two weeks.

GUNPOWDER

L. T. Utz and mother visited relatives at Lexington recently.
 The corn crop is mostly in the shock and rowing grain is the order now.
 Edward Busby, who is an expert with autos is running a truck for Ross Conrad.
 H. F. Utz and family, P. J. Allen and wife and B. C. Surface, broke bread with this writer last Sunday.
 Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rouse entertained the following last Sunday: M. F. Rouse and family of near Limaburg, R. F. Snyder and wife and B. A. Rouse and family.
 J. W. Quigley, of near Limaburg, has bought the Conrad property in Florence consisting of residence, garage and blacksmith shop, formerly owned by Phil Lambert.
 Mr. Florence is numbered among the unfortunates, he had a cow killed by lightning recently, and some one relieved him of all of his chickens but two, one night last week.
 The many friends of Miss J. W. Hogan, of Erlanger, will no doubt be grieved to hear of her illness. She was stricken rather suddenly and her condition is very serious at the time of this writing.

UNION.

G. E. Rouse has purchased a new Fordson and hay scale.
 Mrs. Sallie Hedges is the guest of Miss Mary Hedges, of Covington.
 J. R. Williams and family spent Sunday with J. B. Dickerson and family.
 Mrs. G. C. Barlow and daughter, Miss Edna, were shopping in the city Friday.
 Mrs. Ada Bachelor and son Roy, spent the week-end with friends in the Long Branch neighborhood.
 Mrs. Kirtley Adams, of Covington, spent last Thursday with her mother, Mrs. N. S. Brown.
 Miss Lucy Newman is enjoying a visit with her sister, Mrs. Bertha Weldon, of Advance, Indiana.
 Mr. Porter, with his road outfit, have greatly improved our pike from Union to Gunpowder by scarifying and rolling it.
 The basket ball game here Friday afternoon between Union and Bellevue resulted as follows: First team girls, 18 to 2 in favor of Union. First team boys, 78 to 6 in favor of Union.
 Mrs. B. L. Norman entertained in a charming manner last Wednesday with an early autumn porch party and luncheon. The following were the guests: Mesdames J. W. Conner, J. W. Taliaferro, William Smith, N. S. Bristow, James A. Huey, J. J. Garrison, Joseph Huey, S. C. Hicks, Katherine H. Rachel and Miss Nannie Burkett.
 We note with regret that some men are not entering the church. And possibly they note with regret that they are never personally invited.

HOW'S THIS?

HALLOW CATARRH MEDICINE will do what we claim for it--rid your system of Catarrh or Discharge caused by Catarrh.
 HALLOW CATARRH MEDICINE consists of an Ointment which quickly Relieves the catarrhal inflammation, and the Internal Medicine, a Tonic, which aids through the blood in the various tissues, thus enabling to restore normal condition.
 Sold by druggists for over 40 Years.
 F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.

Your Greatest Opportunity

To Buy the Best Swine for Breeding purposes for the following year, will be at

Boone Co. Chester White Breeders Association

SALE

At Florence, Ky., 1 o'clock P. M.

Monday, October 9th,

42-HEAD-42

Of the best Chester Whites in the State will be sold at this sale. This offering consists of spring Boars and Gilts and fall Boars and Gilts.

The majority of this offering is sired by Dadianias' Boar--the Association Boar, which is a great boar, and won premiums all over Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky in 1921 and 1922. If you want something good, come to this sale and you can sure get it.

Catalogues are now ready to mail. Let us send you one.

This will absolutely be one of the best sales in Kentucky this fall.

BE SURE AND ATTEND. DON'T MISS IT.

LEVI P. MOORE, Rochester, Ind., Fieldman.

COL. H. T. WALKER, Montpelier, Ind., Auctioneer.

The Boone Co. Chester White Breeders Ass'n.

CHESTER L. TANNER, Pres.

ROBT. CLORE, Secty.

Florence, Ky.

Butlington, Ky.

Any Make of Battery
RECHARGED
75c

Rentals for any make of car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.

Dempsey Motor Car Co.,
 Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

Les't You Forget.

M. Cleek's Sale at Verona.

Saturday, Oct. 7th, 1:30 p. m.

S. H. Dickey's Sale at Union.

Friday, Nov. 3d, at 1:30 p. m.

W. B. Johnson

Auctioneer, Walton, Ky.

Farms for Sale

Money to Loan on

Real Estate

J. L. KITE,

Burlington, Kentucky.

o-oct5

NOTICE

For Starks Delicious, Golden, Delicious, apple trees and all other kinds of trees and ornamental shrubs and trees. M. L. Ayler, Bonded Salesman, Phone Hebron, Ky.

o19oct--pd

NOTICE

All persons having valid and subsisting claims against the estate of Martha Warner, dec'd must present same to me at my office in Burlington, Ky., proven as by law required.

S. W. TOLIN.

Administrator with the will annexed of Martha Warner, dec'd.

NOTICE

All persons indebted to the estate of D. B. Dobbins will settle same at once. All persons having claims against D. B. Dobbins, deceased, will present same to me proven as the law requires.

JAMES DOBBINS, Executor,

Walton, Ky.

The Whole Store Is Now In Readiness to Supply Your Fall and Winter Needs.

You will enjoy a shopping tour through the store these early Fall days. You will see all the lovely fall and winter fashions in their newest and most delightful versions. And you will gain so many ideas for making the home bright and cozy and beautiful--new Rugs, new Hangings, new Housefurnishings.

A Hearty Welcome Awaits You at

Coppin's

Covington, Ky.

"The Devil Can Quote Scripture"

WE CAN'T

But we will be glad to quote you Lowest Prices

ON THE VERY BEST

CLOTHING

We can beat the devil himself at that. We have greatly reduced the prices on our Summer Clothing, and if you fail to look them over, you are overlooking much.

If you are looking for a Suit, a Coat and Pants, or extra Pants that you can rely on, we have them.

Selmar Wachs

605 Madison Avenue,

Covington, Kentucky

Subscribe For The Recorder.....$1.50 p

THE COUNTRY MAN'S INDEPENDENCE

It is one of the misfortunes of city life, that the average man has nothing to show for all his effort and pains over a period of years. He works hard, but most of his income goes into high rents and high prices for food and clothing and amusements. Such a family has little to exhibit as fruition for years of toil.

Here is where country life is radically different. If the country man owns a farm and he worked on it industriously his property is improving year by year. Every season should show some substantial gain, the buildings constantly growing a little neater and better cared for, provided with more conveniences, adorned with more of beauty in the way of flowers, trees and shrubbery. A man feels a growing sense of pride when he sees the gains that he makes year by year. It is a pleasure to him every day, no merely to exhibit his improvements to his friends, but to enjoy the right of them and think of the steps upward by which he has climbed.

It is the same with the man who locates in a country town center, and works to build up some business or to improve his home. All the time if he works thoughtfully and faithfully, he is bettering his position, and making his home or his business more attractive and substantial.

It may be said that the country man has to work harder to do this than if he were employed at some city job. But there is this difference. The city man is usually working for some one else, and it is difficult for a person to put the same enthusiasm into building up another man's property, as he can into improving his own.

The country man has a far better opportunity to make a start and secure some property of his own, on which every stroke of work counts steadily toward permanent betterment of his own possessions, and to which his family can contribute their efforts too.

SIX PECKS AN ACRE FOUND BEST RATE TO SEED WHEAT.

Lexington, Ky.—Plantings made at the rate of six pecks of seed an acre have given the best yields on the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station farm where experiments have been conducted for many years to determine the best rate of seeding in Kentucky, according to E. J. Kinney, a member of the station agronomy department. This amount is sufficient in nearly all cases but to sow less than six pecks an acre is only advisable where the soil is extremely rich or the seedlings are made very early in the season. The statement was made in response to scores of inquiries being received at this time of the year from farmers in all parts of the state who are making preparations for wheat plantings.

Some years, five pecks of seed an acre have given yields just as large as those obtained from six pecks of seed but in no case have the yields from the smaller amount of seed been larger. On very rich tobacco and, four pecks of seed an acre occasionally have given yields as large as those from other rates of seeding. However, on corn land where wheat does not stand so readily, seedings made at a lower rate than six pecks an acre practically never have given yields quite as large as those obtained from six pecks of seed an acre.

Occasionally, in very severe winters, seven to eight pecks an acre have given larger yields than those obtained from six pecks an acre. Kentucky farmers often sow five pecks an acre, or even a bushel of tobacco land. Under most conditions this rate of seeding will give practically a full crop. It is true that wheat will stand out extensively when sown thin but is more likely to starve in such cases and seldom yields as well. Seven pecks to the acre probably would be advisable if the wheat is to be pastured to a considerable extent.

IGNORING RURAL INTERESTS

For a long time the politicians were not much interested in rural industry and felt that the country people could not be trusted to walk up to the polls and vote the old ticket same as usual. They have learned better now, and the politicians listen respectfully to the opinions held by country people.

Some other folks need to learn the power of the country people too. Food producers are going this year to lose hundreds of millions of dollars as the result of strikes. Yet many people think they can tie up transportation and mining, while they fight out their private quarrels. It is true that the American people taught these folks a lesson that no one has the right to involve the country folks in such losses by stopping the country's leading industries.

A man of 70 has renewed his fingernails 186 times, and has grown 7 feet 9 inches of nail on each finger.

A Kansan is the inventor of a method for making rivers protect their own banks by depositing silt behind framework and brush during spring floods.

A governmental laboratory in Europe has installed a hydraulic press for testing concrete that has a crushing force of 4,000 tons to the square inch.

GROUND GRAIN NEEDED PART OF RATION FOR LAYING HENS

A mash composed of ground grains or their by-products and some form of animal protein is an essential part of a ration for both growing chickens and laying hens. The reason is that birds putting on growth or producing eggs can not assimilate enough nutriment from whole or cracked grains to supply the maximum need. When the grain is ground, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture, little work is required of the gizzard, and much more of the feed can be used in making flesh or eggs.

The scratch grain part of the ration, however, is needed to give the gizzard something to do in order to keep the birds in health. For laying hens the scratch grain thrown in the litter provides an incentive to needed exercise.

It was once thought that the mash should be fed wet to produce the best results, but experiments have proved that in spite of the slightly better palatability of wet feed, the convenience of feeding it dry overbalances any slight gain in production. Feeding it dry is now the usual method. Digestibility is not increased by wetting.

The principal objection to wet mash is that it requires too much labor. It must be moistened, then carried to the hens about a day, and the troughs must be cleaned after each feeding. Cleanliness is absolutely essential, because indigestion and diarrhea will result from feeding in dirty troughs. On the other hand, the dry mash hopper may be filled once a week or even less frequently, and needs no further attention. Hens do not overeat of dry mash as they sometimes do of wet feed.

EGGS AND POULTRY PLentiful FORECAST FOR THIS WINTER

This fall and winter eggs and poultry will be plentiful and prices should be low enough to make them economical. Just now storage houses are full of eggs and farmers have increased their flocks of poultry to an unusual extent. On August 1st there were 4,812,248 cases of eggs in storage, which is about 35 per cent more than the average at this season for the last three years.

Eggs start moving out of storage in summer and the greatest sales of such eggs come in fall and early winter. As a rule, the bulk of storage eggs are sold before the 1st of January, the activity of the market after that date depending on whether the weather is severe or mild enough to stimulate egg production. An open winter practically eliminates the storage egg early in the season. But this year, regardless of the state of the weather, eggs should be available at very reasonable prices from the start.

Poultry farming, both as a specialty and as a side issue on other farms, has been one of the best paying lines of agricultural work during the last two or three years, which accounts for the large supplies on hand this year. Prices to the farmer, however, have now reached a low point on both eggs and poultry, and he is not marketing poultry freely, but is holding his birds for better prices or using them on the table at home. Poultry fattening stations that are usually crowded at this season are now only about two-thirds full.

FOR CHILDREN'S BIRTHDAYS—PURE-BRED PIG OR CALF

In selecting birthday and Christmas gifts for children in rural communities, why not give a pure-bred pig, calf, or other animal? This is the suggestion of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, which, with the various States, is conducting the "Better Sires—Better Stock" campaign. A recent questionnaire study of the utility value of pure-bred live stock, showed, among other results, that home influence is an important factor governing the breeding of superior domestic animals. In fact, it ranks in importance next to the sales, fairs, and shows, taken collectively. When parents show their interest in good stock the children are more likely to do so.

One breeder told of receiving some pure-bred live stock as a wedding gift from his father-in-law. That beginning was an important influence, which resulted in an entire herd of well-bred, profitable animals, a practical influence in the couple's prosperity and happiness.

Gifts of good live stock, the department points out, are not only acceptable in themselves but with proper handling multiply and give pleasure, satisfaction, and financial benefits from an indefinite period.

IN THE FIELD OF SCIENCE

For the benefit of future generations a Berlin library is collecting durable phonograph records of the voices of famous persons.

France is planning an international university in which students from several countries could be brought together in peaceful rivalry.

The Soviet Government of Russia has erected a radiophone station at Moscow from which messages and press news are broadcasted.

German engineers have estimated that the rivers and lakes of Southern Bavaria could be made to produce 200,000 hydro-electric horse power.

FARM BOYS AND GIRLS VIE IN INTERSTATE EXPOSITION

Farm boys and girls enrolled as club members by extension agents cooperatively employed by the United States Department of Agriculture and the State Agricultural colleges were represented by champion demonstration and judging teams from the 12 central States at the interstate boys' and girls' club exhibit and encampment at Sioux City, Iowa, September 18 to 23. Over 3,900 of these teams competed in 1921 for representation at Sioux City, putting on nearly 10,000 public demonstrations of club activities. The total enrollment in the 12 States last year was more than 130,000 club members, whose production was valued at $2,640,000.

The United States Department of Agriculture cooperated this year with the State agricultural colleges and the fair association in the installation of a striking series of 12 booths in the special boys' and girls' club building, exemplifying the leading lines of club work, as follows: Illinois, corn; Iowa, poultry; Kansas, pigs and sorghum; Michigan, handicraft; Minnesota, bread; Missouri, home management; Montana, clothing; Nebraska, radio; North Dakota, potatoes; South Dakota, food; Wisconsin, dairying; Wyoming, canning.

The fact that farm boys and girls are making a substantial contribution to the agriculture and life of their communities is being strongly emphasized throughout the exhibit. In addition to putting on exhibits and demonstrations these young farmers and home makers are receiving practical instruction in better farming and home making and in developing their abilities for leadership.

NATION'S BUSINESS TURNING TO HIGHWAY TRANSPORTATION

That the business of the Nation is turning more and more to highway transportation is indicated by statistics on motor-vehicle registration as of July 1, compiled by the Bureau of Public Roads of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Registration of passenger cars, taxis, buses, and motor trucks totaled 10,620,471 on this date, an increase of 157,175, which is a healthy growth, as the first half of the year is the off season for registration of new vehicles.

The surprising fact, however, is that of the 157,174 increase in registration, motor trucks constituted 116,701 against 55,030 passenger cars and 5,443 taxis and buses. This means an increase of over 16 per cent of the number of motor trucks at the beginning of the year. Figures are not available to show what part of the increase of 5,443, or nearly 11 per cent, in the taxi and bus registration is due to the increase in the number of buses traveling the rural and suburban routes, but it is very probable that a considerable part of the increase is due to the development of this new form of transportation.

It has been frequently said that the traffic is always ready and waiting when good roads are built, and that the commercial vehicle as a class is more handicapped by lack of good roads than the pleasure vehicle. The increase in the registration of commercial vehicles, coupled with the present activity in highway construction, seems to bear out this statement in the opinion of department officials.

The table of statistics issued by the bureau shows a registration of 9,467,974 private cars, 55,990 taxis and busses and 1,096,605 motor trucks, making a total of 10,620,471. Motor cycles are not included, there being 149,924 against 196,231 at the beginning of the year.

HOME-SPUN YARN (Cornell Extension Service.)

The windows from business envelopes come in handy to mend torn books and sheet music because the print shows through them.

Is there a shoe scraper on the back steps? Might better leave the winter's barn dirt there than on the kitchen floor for mother to clean up.

Aunt Ada's axioms: Folks that have a real interest in the future of this country take pains to see that their schools are at least as comfortable as their stables.

Shaking the wrinkles out of clothes while they are wet and before hanging them on the line, and folding them neatly, when taking them down save time in ironing, one housewife finds.

The prompt application of cold water hardens hot grease spilled on the floor, and keeps it from going into the wood. Then it's easy to scrape it off and remove the stain with a wet cloth, sprinkled with a little washing soda.

PROFESSIONAL CAMOUFLAGE (Boston Transcript)

"Doctor, if there is anything the matter with me, don't frighten me half to death by giving it a long scientific name. Just tell me what it is in plain English."

"Well, sir, to be frank, you are lazy."

"Thank you, doctor. Now tell me the scientific name for it; I've got to report to the misus."

An Iowa man who had chewed tobacco for 32 years swore off on his 94th birthday. Probably figured that he'd better conquer the habit in his youth before it got a grip on him.

Just Smiles

Efficient Treatment
"Do you guarantee results in your nerve treatment?" asked the Caller.
"You bet I do," replied the Specialist.
"Why, last week a man came to me for nerve treatment and when I got through with him he tried to borrow $500 from me."

What he Didn't Say
The priest was remonstrating with one of his flock in an effort to make him give up drink. "I tell you, Pat," he said, "you should give it up. Whiskey is your worst enemy."
"Me enemy, is it, ather?" said Pat with a twinkle; "and it was yer Reverence's self that told us only last Sunday that we should love our enemies."

Not a Proposal
Doctor—You are slightly morbid, my dear lady. You should look about you and marry again.
Widow—Oh, doctor, is—is this a proposal?

Doctor—Allow me to remind you, madam, that a doctor prescribes medicine—but he doesn't take it.

Prayer Answered.
The pastor of the village church had received a call from a distant city. A maiden lady in the church was curious about the matter. One day, meeting the pastor's little girl, she asked her if her father was going to accept the call. The reply was: "Well, father is up stairs praying for light, but mother is packing up."

A Sad Loss.
Senator Blackburn, of Kentucky, had gone to pay a visit to a friend in a distant city. His friend met the Senator as he alighted from the train.

"How are you, Joe?" his friend asked.
"I'm up against it," was the reply.
"I lost the best part of my baggage," "Did you misplace it or was it stolen?" his friend asked.

"Neither," said the Senator. "The cork came out."

Tough Ancestry.
"Of course, I don't know," began the sarcastic boarder, "but it strikes me this chicken is the mother of the chicken!" interrupted the landlady.
"Oh, nothing," answered the lodger, "only it is evidently the offspring of a hard-boiled egg."

An Apt Misquotation
The minister was attempting to carve a very tough fowl at the Xmas dinner. As he was trying to separate the dish to the other side of the table, he calmly picked it up and gravely said: "What God hath joined together let no man put asunder."

No Escape.
Hotel Clerk—"The guest in No. 206 says he had a nightmare last night."
Proprietor—"Well, charge it on his bill—ten dollars for livery."

She Agreed With Him.
It was Johnson's humor to be anti-Scottish. He objected theoretically to haggis, though he ate a good plateful of it.

"What do you think of the haggis?" asked the hospitable old lady, at whose table he was dining, seeing that he partook so plentifully of it.
"Humph!" he replied with his mouth full, "it's very good for hogs!"
"Then let me help you to some more of it," said the lady, helping him bountifully.

Willing To Pay
A Bishop of the Episcopal church lived all his life unwed. A friend mentioned that one of the states was imposing a tax on bachelors, to be increased a certain percentage for each ten years of bachelorhood, and added: "Why Bishop, at your age you would have to pay a hundred dollars a year."

"Well," said the Bishop, "it's worth it."

INTERESTING BREVITIES

Machine-made papers have less strength than hand-made papers.

The seven-masted schooner Thomas Lawson carried 43,000 feet of canvas.

During a plague in Norway, out of 2,000,000 people, but 300,000 survived.

A Italian composer named Scarlatti wrote 100 operas and 3,000 cantatas.

Last year 10,731 passengers were carried to and from England by flying machines.

According to old belief, girls born in July are likely to be faithful in love and friendship.

A close shave!
MENTHOLATUM
comforts and helps

When a Life is Lost

It is a natural desire that the funeral be conducted tenderly and with dignity and reverence; that the lines of pain and suffering be removed; that the drawn and sunken features of the loved one be restored.

This is not vanity on the part of the surviving family; but rather the duty and their friends, as they look upon the face of the departed, may cherish in memory the face they knew and loved in life.

This is a part of the service included with the many other features that we employ, to lessen the suffering which is so apt to be forcibly present.

PHILIP TALIAFERRO,
Undertaker and Embalmer
Erlanger, Ky.

The Best Advertisement

IS A PLEASED CUSTOMER

Spectacles and Eyeglasses that Fit the face and Fit the sight the kind we sell.

Phone South 1746

DR. N. F. PENN., 613 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

Efficient, Service and Economy
IS MY SLOGAN

C. SCOTT CHAMBERS
Embalmer and Funeral Director

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

WE WANT EVERY MAN

in Boone and Kenton Counties

That has a farm large or small, or House and Lot to sell to list it with us and we will advertise and find a buyer if there is any.

The Wisenberger Real Estate Co.

BEN Phone South 6008 JOHN
515 Coppin Bldg. COVINGTON, KY.

Printed Stationery

for business people.
for professional people.
for farmers.
for every one who wants to be considered up to date and going strong

AT THIS OFFICE
ENVELOPES, LETTERHEADS, NOTEHEADS, STATEMENTS

Ready for Business.

The Farm Bureau Warehouse at Florence is now in full operation and will keep on hand all kinds of Feed, Flour, Wire Fencing, Coal, Etc.

Help Your Organization
With Your Patronage.

A BARGAIN

Cincinnati Daily Enquirer

—AND—

The Boone County Recorder

YOU CAN GET

both for $4.50 the YEAR

Send Your Subscriptions to the
BOONE COUNTY RECORDER
Burlington, Ky.

REPEATERS IN CAPITAL CITY SCHOOL CLASSES

Educators See Danger To Children In Inefficient Education.

Washington—A report just compiled in the public schools of Washington shows that out of nearly 27,000 children in the first four grades, more than 8,000 have repeated one or more semesters. Commenting upon the report, Superintendent of Schools Frank Ballou, said:

"The educational situation revealed by the statistics on repeating in the primary grades demands immediate consideration. These facts should prompt us to ask ourselves whether we, as teachers and school officers, are doing all we ought to do, or what we ought to do, for these pupils who are so frequently failing of promotion. Are those pupils having a square deal educationally?"

The blame for the condition can not well be laid to inefficient teaching, but to overcrowding. Overcrowding schools is not confined to the Nation's Capital, although the school situation in Washington is deplorable. Schools are overcrowded all over the country, due to the inhibition of building during the war. But it is pointed out that the remedy of more building is not one which will help the children of today, if the erection of more buildings is postponed until the future. The children of today are growing up. The child who repeats several classes is losing time. He will get to the high school so late that he will not be able to graduate, but will in many cases go to work unprepared, adding one more to America's already large number of partially educated men.

More schools, more rooms, more teachers means smaller classes; and smaller classes mean better classes. Teachers may, indeed, ask themselves with Dr. Ballou whether they have done their best for the child who can not be promoted, but city governments, which fail to provide facilities with which teachers can do their best, must also bear their proportion of responsibility for the grave situation which must inevitably confront the United States if it continues to neglect the very foundation of healthy national growth; education of its youth.

NATIONAL HONESTY.

A business man who deals considerably with Chinamen remarks that he always feels sure that the members of this race will pay their debts. If an unknown Chinaman asks for something on credit, he feels perfectly safe in letting him have the goods, knowing well from long experience that at the proper time the broad faced man from the orient will turn up with the cash.

No Chinaman in China could thus feel sure that every American would pay what he owed. A streak of dishonesty runs through our country, and a business man want to feel sure of a man's record before letting him have any credit.

Before looking down on a race like the Chinese, it would be well to improve on our own business morals. The fact that so many Americans are dishonest, is a blot on this fair country. It is an obstacle to national prosperity, and to American efforts to obtain business in foreign lands.

HAZING IN SCHOOLS

About this time there are always reports of serious injuries to students in schools and colleges, as the result of rough treatment in hazing. Formerly innumerable freshmen were put under pumps, thrown over fences, tossed in sheets, and made to do various disagreeable stunts. Most institutions have now forbidden the students thus to torment the newcomers. But the practice still breaks out.

Hazing results from the same motive that leads the big boys in school to annoy and mistreat the younger ones. It has been said that it was the means of taking down some obnoxious youngsters that swelled around too much, but the boys of sophomore age are not mature enough to decide which freshmen need such correction. It is time to stop this mean spirited sport.

Beautiful Autumn Days.

With the bass biting in the creeks, squirrels barking in the hickory nut trees, and the Bob-whites whistling in the fields, makes a stroll through the country these beautiful autumnal days, when you can gather the wild flowers, such as the Brown-Eyed Daisies, the Golden Rod and Farewell-to-You, a pleasure and delight to those who enjoy being out in the open, roaming over the hills and valleys—there is nothing more enjoyable.

Yelton Sale Well Attended

A good sized crowd attended W. E. Yelton's sale Tuesday, and everything sold brought fair prices. Mr. Yelton will engage in the merchandise business at Bellevue, having bought out Maurer & Ryle.

MAKING COUNTRY LIFE POPULAR

In attempting to build up a modern and progressive country life, the supremely important thing is to induce the young people of the community, the majority of them, to remain in their home neighborhoods and take hold and help the general movement of rural progress. We need their youth, their hope, their energy. How can we induce them to cast in their lot with the country?

While offering of a better business chance in the country is of equal importance, it remains true that if young people can have a good time in their home surroundings, half of their restlessness is cured.

It is a perfectly possible thing to have our rural communities offer so many good times to our active young people, that they will become attached to their home localities and exceedingly reluctant to leave them. If this can be accomplished, our neighborhood will see a great uplift in the energy and enterprise of all this young life.

COMMUNITY TEAM WORK.

A tremendous change has come over city and town life during recent years. Communities are cleaning up, painting up, improving the schools, making better roads, laying out parks, and playgrounds, beautifying their exteriors, working for better citizenship.

They are ambitious for better business and industrial results, and are accomplishing large gains through chambers of commerce and other business associations.

This great wave of effort has come about from the growing conviction that great advances could be made, if the mass of the people could be enlisted in efforts for civic and industrial development. Formerly people were individualists.

Most of them played lone hands. They just worked for their own advancement, and few of them cared anything about community progress. Now people are turning in to work for the benefit of the community as a whole, realizing that if the community gains, everybody gains. Yet there is still a lot of the old selfish spirit left.

BOONE HIGH SCHOOL BASKET BALL TEAM WINS FIRST GAME 19 TO 16. BURLINGTON SECOND TEAM DEFEAT VISITORS BY THE CLOSE SCORE OF 9 TO 8. WHILE THE PETERSBURG GIRLS WON 8 TO 1.

Petersburg High School Basketball team played Boone High at Burlington Friday afternoon. The Boone boys' fast team won by a score of 19 to 16. This game was a well played one, and it required two extra five minute periods to decide the game. The Boone 2nd team defeated the Petersburg 2nd team in a close score of 9 to 8. The junior teams showed that they are well versed in the game and will be close to the senior team in a short time. The Petersburg girls ran away in their game with the Boone girls, and defeated them by a score of 8 to 1. If the Boone girls expect to win games they must get more pep and play the game, and the score will not be against you.

	Score	B	P
First Team	19	16
Second Team—Boys	9	8
Girls	8	8

RECENT INVENTIONS

Apparatus has been designed for photographing valuable documents and records on films like those used for motion pictures that can be stored in small space in fireproof vaults.

English inventors of a storage battery driven electric truck have equipped it with poles with which it can renew its charge of electricity from overhead wires of street car lines.

Chiefly for use in industrial schools, but also available for factories, a portable disk grinder has been invented that can be operated by connection with an electric light socket.

A metallic nonbreakable phonograph record blank has been invented which is claimed to enable any person to make his own record with the use of an ordinary phonograph.

For dressing the surfaces of roads, a rubber planter in Ceylon has invented a solution of scrap rubber and bark from rubber trees, which is heated and spread while liquid.

Work Begun On Basement

Work of excavating for the basement under the Baptist church was commenced last week. With favorable weather, it is thought the work will be completed during the month of October. When finished it will be a great convenience, as well as a delight to the members of the church.

JUDGE BINGHAM TAKES $600,000 BURLEY STOCK

LEADER OF TOBACCO COOPERATIVE AGAIN MANIFESTS HIS CONFIDENCE IN SYSTEM—OLD OFFICERS RE-ELECTED

Lexington, Ky.—For the second time evidencing his absolute confidence in the success of the co-operative plan for marketing burley tobacco, Judge Robert W. Bingham, of Louisville, who led personally and with his newspapers, the campaign for the organization of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, last Wednesday subscribed for $600,000 of the $720,000 of warehouse stock available and thus furnished the funds necessary for the financing of the warehouse end of the business until next year.

Judge Bingham, at the meeting of the bankers at Lexington at which the first advances on the tobacco delivered last fall were raised, made a loan of a million dollars to the Association, out of a total of $5,500,000 which was advanced by the banks of the district and by individuals for ninety days, but which was repaid within forty days.

The chief business of the meeting which was the first meeting of the new board, was the provision for warehouse matters, the re-election of officers, which was done unanimously, and hearing reports from the directors as to the feeling in their respective districts. The latter showed that the growers stand solidly behind the officials in their handling of the affairs of the Association and that they approve the policy of President James C. Stone in his orderly merchandising of the crop.

Appause greeted the statement by Judge Bingham that he would take $600,000 of the issue of warehouse stock and President Stone said it would be easy to place the remaining $120,000 of the issue.

THE COUNTRY CHURCH

The country church can be made one of the most useful elements in building up a rural community, but it must always be made the most prominent feature. But it takes something besides preaching to capture the popular heart. The interest of non-church goers can be won a great deal more readily, if it is seen that the church is taking hold of community problems and accomplishing something along the lines of everyday life.

Country people are exceedingly busy and lack time for carrying on public enterprises. Many ministers make themselves tremendously valuable in a community, by taking hold of the things that no one else seems to have any time to tackle. So they often run Boy Scout and other organizations that will give an outlet for the activity of the kid element. Or they find women who will get the girls working in some similar society. Many of them have launched the farmers to form clubs to promote their interests and have given a boost to other movements of community service.

If a minister and the church people can thus fill up the gaps in community and provide it with the machinery needed to function in an efficient way, such a religious society will have no trouble in getting a good congregation to attend its preaching services, and the children will be sent to Sunday school.

The people will recognize that here is an organization that is getting things done which the community needs, and they will feel that such a society is entitled to have heavy co-operation, and that it gives a full return and more for whatever it costs.

TRADE FOLLOWS GOOD ROADS.

There is a famous old saying to the effect that "Trade follows the flag." Merchants say that if you establish lines of ships to foreign lands carrying the flag of a certain nationality, and run in the interest of that country, they will develop commerce with the countries thus touched.

A similar truth exists in regard to country life. Trade follows good roads. If one country center is 10 miles from a neighborhood over a good road, and another is five miles over a poor road, the center with the improved highway will get the bulk of that trade. Driving over rough and jolty roads is an annoyance to the traveler, it takes time, it does injury to automobiles and other vehicles.

The advancing town is the one that is improving roads that feed its business. The golden days of autumn are now with us, with cold weather not far away. How's your coal bin?

THE ADMIRATION OF BIGNESS.

When people from different cities get together, the first question they usually ask is "What is the population of your place?" They brag about their respective growth and make extravagant claims of what the next census will show.

Many cities are constantly twitting each other about their population. The inhabitants of one place will charge that the other counts in tourists and convention attendees as residents. A city that has a growing population taunts the others that go ahead more slowly.

People who come from small places dislike to admit that their residence is in such a community, and quite frequently register at hotels as being from the nearest large city. Increase in population should bring new advantages. But often it may bring disadvantages too, if the people who come in do not preserve the ideals of the older residents.

More bigness does not necessarily make a city any more desirable. The people who think they acquire some credit because they come from some metropolitan center are mistaken. The big city includes a vast and heterogeneous mass of people, who have less civic spirit than you can find in country towns.

The American people have had great admiration for more bigness. Formerly people used to brag if they lived in a big house, but now they are coming to see that such grandeur brings a great deal of work and that a small home may be more artistic and comfortable. While the community is working for the population growth to which it should naturally aspire, it should pay still more attention to fitness of community life, and seek to develop excellence in its schools and homes and all civic institutions.

WASHINGTON COMMENT.

"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."

So said John, and ever since man has glorified the hero who sacrificed his own life for another. History is full of examples, and peace as well as war has its heroes. Sometimes the hero is not even a man, but a human being, but a humble animal; a dog, perhaps, whose love of his master is greater than his love of life.

A dog, so say the scientists, has only instinct. A dog, say the wise men, does not think or reason; he does but react to his environment. Doubtless they know, but if a dog does not think or reason, what holds a dog to his master's side in the face of certain and painful death?

Trapped in the plant of the Long Island Waste Company, John Bracken, watchman, died from fire and fumes. When they severely burned in a futile effort to rescue man and dog that he, too, may die.

Probably dogs do not reason or think; the scientists are usually right. Probably John Derrick did not think of anything but his love for his friends when he fought fire for their lives. Would that more of us could learn the lesson of brotherhood and these have learned it, man and dog. Perhaps the little hero pup did not die in vain, if his selfless heroism brings home to us who read, the lesson which John read to us so many years ago.

The Country Family's Reading.

One reason why rural communities are making such excellent progress is that the great majority of country families are persistent readers. They are keeping up with the times as never before. They usually take the local paper of their home town, which is for them the most important publication of all. It promotes community sentiment in relation to progressive measures, and enables people to take advantage of all the opportunities of the neighborhood.

Country families usually also take publications that keep them well up with the general news of the country and with conditions in their own line of business. Their reading sows the seed and all that is needed to make it spring up and bear fruit is good leadership.

World's Series Received Over Radio.

The World's Series between the Giants and Yankees was received in Burlington over the radio, inning by inning, and play by play. The fans knew the score by 8 o'clock each afternoon.

Tobacco Crop Housed

The tobacco crop housed this section is housed, also filled, and now the farmers are turning their attention to sowing small grain.

Joy rides frequently have a way of ending in a sorrow walk.

A WEEK'S NEWS.

Conditions abroad and the state of the exchanges are not such as to encourage any idea that there is to be any large increase in European business in the near future. Exports from the United States to countries where general business shows improvement, such as Australia, the leading South American countries, Central America, and the West Indies will probably increase somewhat but these countries are primarily dependent on conditions in the international market for raw materials, chiefly agricultural, and their inhabitants are therefore in a position differing in no important way from that of the American farmer. They will unquestionably buy more freely than they bought last year but not extravagantly.

It may well be that prices in some lines may continue to tend upward as price and wage readjustments proceed but any rapid general upward tendency in the prices of goods ready for the ultimate consumer would be checked by unwillingness and inability on the part of purchasers throughout the world to follow up the market. Manufacturers and merchants will still find it essential to pursue a policy of careful and economical operation, for the best prospect of profits lies not in rapidly rising prices but in operating efficiency and gradually expanding volume of business.

The Republican party has no candidate for Congress in opposition to Hon. A. B. Rouse, they recognize the fact that Congressman Rouse has represented the people of this district satisfactorily and that he should have no opposition, but a man without a party from Covington, says that he is an Independent, and will make the race as the candidate of a few disgruntled folks, and his name will appear on the ballot, this will necessitate the people of Boone county to go to the polls November 7th and cast their vote for Hon. A. B. Rouse, regardless of party. Certainly no Boone county citizen could think of casting his vote for the Independent candidate who has no claim or right upon which he can expect the vote of a single Boone county voter. Let us all go to the polls November 7th and cast our votes for Hon. Arthur Rouse.

More than half of the sugar consumed in the United States comes from foreign countries, reports the United States Department of Agriculture. Of the 5,632,598 short tons consumed during the year ending June 30, 1922, 1,348,190 tons were produced in the United States. Hawaii, Porto Rico, and the Philippines supplied 1,334,553 tons and most of the remainder came from Cuba.

In the spring of 1921 seven farmers in a Georgia county were induced by the county extension agent, to make a trial cooperative shipment of 20 pounds of surplus lemons. In June, 1922, fourteen months later, according to a report made to the United States Department of Agriculture, this new farm industry had grown to a shipment of 10,000 lbs., shipped from that county during the month.

The production of crimson clover seed in the United States has never equaled the planting requirements in this country and considerable quantities are imported each year from France and Germany, according to the United States Department of Agriculture.

Eleven hundred and nine tags for auto licenses have been issued in Boone county this year by the county clerk. The next thing in order is to secure your hunting license, so when you go into the fields with your gun and dog you will not be violating the law.

Nearly 3,700,000 gallons of maple sirup were produced last spring in the 13 important producing states, the largest in four years, and 53 per cent more than in 1921, according to the United States Department of Agriculture.

There is not much more for the cow punchers to do on the western plains, but a good man with a lasso would come in mighty handy around the cities to yank some of these motor speeders off their seats.

While the city folks are standing around watching other people do things, the country folks take hold and do them themselves. And then some people wonder why it is that country boys usually succeed best.

The candidates should be careful not to ask how much money their friends are spending for them, as they might be out of luck when it would be illegal for them to know.

The people who think the country can be made more prosperous by issuing a lot more money, might be making a pie bigger by cutting it in smaller pieces.

Month of Sept., Driest on Record. According to reports the month of September was the driest ever recorded in this county.

Marketed Hogs

Beemon & Bradford, of Pleasant Valley neighborhood, shipped a truck load of nice porkers to Cincinnati market last Friday.

Improving Looks of Premises

L. A. Conner has had a nice concrete pavement put in front of his premises and around his house, also a nice walk across Torrid street to the opposite corner.

Don't Forget Sale

Don't forget the sale of personal property of Edgar Hensley, at his farm on the East Bend pike, next Wednesday, October 18th. Sale will begin at 12:30 sharp.

Will Have Sale.

In another column in this issue will be found an adv. of the sale of the personal property of P. H. P. Hensley and outcutter, at one of the Park farm near Petersburg. Sale will be held Saturday, Oct. 1, beginning at 12:30 o'clock.

A Grand Success.

The Box Social and Fish Pond held at the Boone County High School building, last Friday evening, was one of enjoyment and fun for the large crowd present, and the pupils of the school who were behind the movement deserve credit for the manner in which it was pulled off. In the contest for the most popular girl, Miss Marie Stephenson was the winner, receiving 735 votes; Miss Beatrice Huey was second with 622 votes. Total receipts of the evening $116.46, expenses $13.00, leaving a balance of $103.46 which is to go to the Athletic Fund.

SOCIAL CLIQUES

As the autumnal season comes on and society doings begin, some people complain because they are not included in any special social set. They claim that the life of the community is "cliquey" as they call it, and they grow bitter because they are not invited to this or that gathering.

In social life like seeks like. The folks who enjoy society doings of a certain type get together with those of similar tastes. Those who are left out commonly fare hard, if they try to "butt in" where they are not asked.

The best thing they can do is to form social circles of their own. If they are not asked to join a certain card club, let them get together and make up one of their own. They can find plenty of others that have been left out and would like to join. They will have a much better time and count for much more if they start something on their own hook, than they are always trying to cultivate the favor of some former State legislator, or some other big name, seeking to worm their way into circles they are not asked to join.

ROBBED BY NEGROES.

O. S. Ware and J. T. Murphy, Kentuckians, Hold-Up Victims, Declared War on Highwaymen.

Orie S. Ware 501 Garrard street, Covington, Ky., Kenton County Commonwealth Attorney, and John T. Murphy, attorney and former State Legislator, 276 West Oak street, Ludlow, Ky., were robbed last Friday night by two negro youths when on Third street, between Vine and Race streets, Cincinnati.

The two attorneys had come from Frankfort, Ky., where they had been arguing before Court before State in the case of James Powers, convicted of the murder of Morris Lee, Covington theater manager. Murphy had pleaded for a new trial for his client, and Ware had represented the state. They had intended to leave the train at Ludlow, but were carried past the station to the Central Union Railway Station.

The attorneys decided to walk from the station to the Dixie Terminal to board a Ludlow car, and were on their way there when held up. Mr. Ware reported that he had been robbed of $48 and lodge cards. Mr. Murphy was robbed of a billfold containing $35, he said.

"Stick-up men will get the limit in my bailiwick from now on," Ware said in reporting the robbery to Detectives Wm. Cleary and Withrow Grannan.

Mr. Murphy intimated that retaining fees would be increased.

Over 350,000 farmers, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture, introduced legumes, principally soy beans, cowpeas, velvet beans, and alfalfa into their cropping system as a result of demonstrations in the use of legumes in soil improvement given in 1921 by agricultural extension agents.

The splendid weather that has prevailed this fall was brought to a close the latter part of last week, when the mercury dropped from the thirties down to 50, making it a very pleasant.

LEGION NOTES

Washington. — The government paid 43.8 cents a pound for roast beef which was later sold to Philadelphia brokers for 1.6 cents; once in private hands, this beef went to the market at 9.1 cents a pound wholesale; but for the short time that the army was in the retail store business, it sold this same beef direct to the consumer for more than 31 cents a pound. Such was only one minor item in one sale.

This charge was made public here today by American Legion officials in announcing that the American Legion Weekly next Friday, in an expose of war and postwar profiteering in meat, sugar and mosquito bars will declare that official Washington is considering the replacement of incompetent men and the punishment of the dishonest. The article in the Legion publication was written by Marquis James following weeks of investigation and says in part:

"In a transaction between the Quartermaster Corps and Thomas Roberts & Co., brokers of Philadelphia, 5,600,466 pounds of roast beef which cost 43.8 a pound was sold for 1.6 cents, netting a neat profit of a shade under 600 per cent, the government standing a loss which amounted to $2,392,948.05.

"The foregoing is only a minor item in one sale to this fortunate Philadelphia firm.

"The War Department, through the superior sagacity of its former Director of Sales, E. C. Morse, twice indicted, calls his disposal of surplus meats 'a feat believed impossible.'

"Why the Roberts transaction, which took place shortly after Mr. Morse's retirement from government service, and in which Mr. Morse's private business associates participated, was not altogether impossible is something that it is hard to understand.

"When the Armistice came, men began to sift back to the proper levels where normal standards obtained. In the sale of our army surplus property, a colossal business, undertaking involving billions of dollars, no such reaction to normal is noted. There was no war. The emergency had passed.

"There is Earnest C. Morse, during whose tenure as Assistant Director and Director of Sales the Government disposed of nearly a billion and three-quarter dollars' worth of materials, and we are informed by the War Department that the bulk of these sales were made under the direct supervision of Mr. Morse. What other merchant is there who in a year has done a billion-dollar business?

"When the government had a billion-dollar business to do did it select a commercial figure of adequate magnitude? Did it offer $50,000 or $500,000 as the wage of that figure, which any private firm would have been glad to offer? The government did not.

New Orleans — New Orleans has chosen her most delightful period of the year for her 'at home' to the American Legion members during their national convention, October 16-20.

Train windows will frame scenes of Louisiana's harvest, Negro women will be cutting sugar cane, rice and hay, and cotton pickers will be filling their huge burlap bags with the downy balls of cotton.

Temperature will range from 65 degreesahrenheit at night to around 80 degrees at noon-time. There will be very little if any rain during the week as the middle of October in New Orleans is the driest period.

In a word "Indian Summer" weather is reported for the ex-servicemen's gathering by the government forecast with the assurance that it will be neither too hot or too cool.

New Orleans — A reunion of the doughboy and the doughnut will be effected when Salvation Army girls distribute thousands of doughnuts, and cups of hot coffee to visitors at the American Legion national convention in New Orleans, Oct. 16-20.

During the war the Salvation Army won the hearts of all American fighters with the doughnuts prepared often times within range of the German guns.

Two booths will be established by the Army in convention hall and "doughnut dugouts" will be placed in the downtown streets. A rest room, the replica of the familiar war camp huts in France, will be installed.

Under the direction of Lieut. Col. George Wood, commander of the Southwestern Division of the Salvation Army, officers and lassies from all parts of the country will be assembled at the Legion gathering. The army girls who come will be assigned solely to the work of making and serving doughnuts and coffee. Some of those who will serve in this capacity are Salvation lassies who were active in overseas service.

While at dinner, one day last week, some one rolled into it. See three "mammoth" pearls of what variety we do not know, but what puzzles us is—how they managed to get them through the office door.

It is not at all necessary to side-step the fellow with a chip on his shoulder. He'll be careful not to let you jostle it off.

RADIO RALF AND HIS FRIENDS--

WIN $2,000.00

$5,000.00 IN CASH FREE TO EVERYBODY
Find the Objects in This Picture Starting With Letter "S"

The picture above contains a number of objects and articles the names of which start with the letter "S". HOW MANY CAN YOU FIND? You can readily see such objects as "Stump," "Stork," "Saw," etc. The others are just as easy to find, and you don't have to turn the picture upside down or sideways in order to see them. Just make a list of all the objects and parts of objects shown in the picture, the names of which start with the letter "S." Sixty big cash prizes will be given for the sixty best answers submitted. The answer having the largest and nearest correct list will win First Prize; second best, Second Prize, etc.

IT'S EASY TO PLAY

This is a puzzle game in which the whole family may join in—Father, Mother, Sister and Brother—all of you can receive equal enjoyment while hunting "S-words." It is simply a test of your skill, your ability to find objects and articles shown in the picture, whose names begin with the letter "S." Determine the prize you win. Gather all the members of your family together, then evening and see which of you can find the most.

60 Cash Prizes

Winning answers will receive prizes as follows:	Class A.	Class B.	Class C.	Class D.
First...	$2,000	$750	$400.00	$50.00
Second...	1,000	500	250.00	40.00
Third...	500	250	125.00	30.00
Fourth...	300	150	75.00	25.00
Fifth...	200	100	50.00	20.00
Sixth...	100	50	30.00	15.00
Seventh...	50	25	20.00	10.00
Eighth...	30	15	15.00	7.50
Ninth...	20	10	10.00	5.00
Tenth...	10	5	7.50	4.00
11th to 60th...	10	5	5.00	3.00
61st to 60th...	5	3	3.00	1.00

NO MONEY NECESSARY

It's interesting, educational and fun—volunteer and costs nothing to try. It is not a subscription contest and you don't have to send in a single subscription in order to win a prize. We know this is the best puzzle you have ever seen—nothing hard, just different. That's all. We venture to say that you never have had as much fun as you will have while playing this game. Do not delay—start your list of "S-words" tonight and see if you will not agree with us.

YOU CAN WIN $2,000.00

It costs nothing to take part in The Enquirer's Puzzle Game. You don't even have to be a subscriber and you don't have to send in a single subscription to win a prize. If your answer is awarded first prize the judges you will win $2,000.00. However, if you would like to win more than $2,000.00 you can by sending in one or two subscriptions to The Enquirer with remittance to cover.

BETTER HOW! If you have sent in one three-months subscription to the Daily and Sunday Enquirer by mail at $1.75 or by carrier at $1.85; or one three-months Daily subscription by mail at $3.00; or one six-months Daily subscription by mail at $5.00; or one year's Rural Route edition subscription at $10.00, and your answer is awarded First Prize by the judges, you will receive $400.00. (See column of Prizes in Class "C.")

OR, if you have sent in one yearly subscription to the Daily Enquirer by carrier at $7.50; or one six-months subscription to the Daily and Sunday Enquirer by mail at $6.75; or one six-months Daily subscription by mail at $3.00; or one year's Rural Route edition subscription at $10.00 each, and your answer is awarded First Prize by the judges you will receive $750. (See column of Prizes in Class "B.")

BETTER STILL! If your answer is awarded first prize and you have sent in one yearly subscription to the Daily and Sunday Enquirer, either by mail or by carrier, or one yearly Daily only by mail subscription or two daily only by carrier subscriptions or three Rural Route edition subscriptions to qualify, your answer will win BIG CASH PRIZES in Class "A." First Prize, $2,000.00; Second, $1,000.00; Third, $500.00. This is absolutely all you need. Your own subscription will count for you or you can send in the subscriptions of a neighbor or friend. Subscriptions may be either new or renewal and we can take them to start at any future time. You don't even have to be a subscriber to The Enquirer to take part in the big Fun Game. It is free to all. Get started to-day.

Extra Copies of the Puzzle Picture Sent Free Upon Request.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

"The Cincinnati Enquirer"

Payable in Advance.

daily & Sunday $3.50	3 mos., daily & Sunday 2.75
daily only 3.00	6 mos., daily only 6.00
daily & Sunday 5.75	6 mos., daily & Sunday 7.50
daily only 1.50	12 mos., daily only 12.00
daily & Sunday 15.00	12 mos., daily & Sunday 15.00

ROUTE EDITION OF THE ENQUIRER!
DAILY ONLY 12 MONTHS $4.00.

The six-month subscriptions will count same as one year. Two three-month subscriptions will count as one for six months. Papers will not be delivered where carrier service is available.

Two six-months subscriptions will count same as one year. Two three-months subscriptions will count same as one six months. Paper will not be delivered by mail where carrier service is available.

ADDRESS ALL COMMUNICATIONS TO
H. C. KLOECKER CINCINNATI ENQUIRER CINCINNATI OHIO
Puzzle Game Manager

Hon. Jno. L. Vest, of Walton, was a business visitor to Burlington, Tuesday.

Miss Zelma Rue, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irven Rue, was rushed to a Cincinnati hospital last Saturday night, where she was operated upon for appendicitis. She had been ill only a short time, but the appendix had ruptured.

The contract to reconstruct the Dixie Highway from Florence for a distance of five miles, has been awarded to Billiter & Oliver, and they expect to begin the reconstruction of the pike in a short time.

Don't forget the game of ball at Burlington next Saturday afternoon between Burlington and Petersburg. This will be one of the best games of the season.

There will be a meeting of the Boone County Farm Bureau members held at Florence, Ky., Saturday evening Oct. 14, at 7:30 o'clock. All members are urged to be present.

CLEM KENDALL
We thoroughly believe in fostering infant industries. That's the reason we say so many kind things of young people who get married.

By JACK WILSON
Copyright 1923 by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate

THE HOME RADIO

How to Make and Use It By A. HYATT VERRILL
Copyright by Rca per R. B. Johnson

XIX. A SIMPLE VACUUM TUBE RECEIVING SET

This set is one of the simplest that can be devised to use a vacuum tube detector and it may be set up by anyone at a lower cost than the ordinary crystal sets may be purchased ready-made. Moreover, tuning in this set is simplified to the minimum, there being but two adjustments to be made, the variable condenser and the rheostat. The whole set is plainly shown in Fig. 54, A being the aerial, B the ground, C the variable condenser, D the inductance, E the grid-leak, F the fixed condenser, G the grid, H the plate of tube, I the rheostat, J the six-volt battery, K the phone receivers and L the 22 volt B-battery.

The single inductance used is easily made by winding a pasteboard tube about three inches in diameter and two inches long with about forty-six turns of No. 26 double-covered, cotton-insulated copper wire. There should be a tap-taken at the twenty-third turn (which is done by making a loop in the wire) and then the next twenty-three turns wound on. The fixed condenser and grid leak can be made as described in the article on "condensers" and the grid-leak, for best results, should be 'variable,' which is easily arranged by using a paper and pencil leak and by adding lines or erasing them as you need 'water' your densers." The fixed condenser should be about .001 mfd. and the variable condenser of from .0003 to .0007 mfd. Be sure to place the phone receivers and B-battery in series, the positive pole of the battery being connected to the tap-off on the inductance and the negative pole being led to the receivers as shown. In setting up and tuning you will very likely find it necessary to take one or two turns of wire from the upper end of the coil, which is easily done. In operating this set first bring the tube filament to a point where the oscillations produce a squeal or howl with the variable condenser set at zero. Then, by moving the condenser pointer over the scale slowly and carefully, you can determine the best point to receive signals. When this is determined, adjust the rheostat until the filament oscillates and then decrease the brightness a little. With a little practice and by marking the knobs you will be able to readily adjust the set very accurately and quickly.

Dodge Brothers

ANNOUNCE

A BUSINESS COUPE

Conservative changes in the body design of all other types.

Roadster....	$ 920
Coupe.....	1,063
Touring Car..	955
Sedan.....	1,550

Dempsey Motor Car Company

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY

Phone Erlanger, 70-L

A Real Farm to be Sold

Public Auction

—AT—

22 1/2 ACRES

Situated on the Nicholson and Walton Pikes and the Cobb Pike, in Kenton county, Ky., about 2 miles from Nicholson and 3 miles from Walton. Rural mail and milk routes and telephone lines all at hand. Close to schools and churches and every convenience. This land is all in grass and lays well. I don't know where you could find a better little farm.

Saturday, Oct. 21st, 1921

[At 10:00 A. M.]

Has a nice 5 room dwelling and all necessary out-buildings. Has a large barn 60x80, or a clearen, one well and good spring. This property will sell to the highest bidder so be sure and be on hand. We will drive you out and show you this farm before day of sale as we are proud to show this kind of property.

You may miss a Bargain if You fail to Come.

[Reasonable Terms made known on day of sale.]

A. E. FOSTER & SON, Agents

Logan-Foster, Auc., No. 3 Pike St., Covington, Ky.

All obituaries, card of thanks and all other matter, not news, must be paid for at 5 cents per line.

Bullittsburg Baptist Church.
J. W. CAMPBELL, Pastor.
Sunday School every Sunday at 10.00 a. m.
Regular preaching services on the First and Third Sundays in each month at 11:00 a. m.

Boone Co. Christian Pastorate
REV. C. C. OMER, Pastor.
SUNDAY OCT., 15th
BULLITTSTOWN
Bible School..... 10.00 a. m.
PT. PLEASANT
Bible School..... 10.00 a. m.
Preaching..... 11.00 a. m.
Preaching..... 7:15 p. m.

Boone Co. Lutheran Pastorate
REV. GEO. A. ROYER, Pastor.
SUNDAY OCT., 15th
HOPEFUL
9 a. m..... Sunday School
7:30 p. m..... Luther League
HEBRON
9:30 a. m..... Sunday School
10:30 a. m..... Holy Communion
8 p. m..... Concluding service
.....series of meetings

This has been a delightful fall so far.
John P. Duncan spent last week at Lexington.

The ample trees are holding on to their foliage rather stubbornly.

Elijah Stephens is having a barn built on his farm on the Florence pike.

Mrs. Fred Morris spent the latter part of last week with her mother at Latonia.

Rev. Tomlin preached at the M. church last Sunday morning and evening.

Rev. Adams filled his appointment at the Baptist church last Sunday morning.

An uncommonly good crop of tobacco has been housed in this county this fall.

T. H. Sandford and wife attended the Farmers' Fair at Aurora, Ind., last Friday.

A fine rain fell in this section of the county last Saturday afternoon and Saturday night.

Edward Hawes and daughter Miss Frieda, spent the week-end with Mr. Hawes' mother and sister.

Edward Hensley's residence and the Telephone Exchange have been given a fresh coat of paint.

Asa McMullen and wife and J. B. Rouse and wife, attended the fair at Hamilton, Ohio, last Thursday.

Mrs. John Conrad, of the Lima-burg neighborhood, was transacting business in Burlington, Monday.

Bernard Rogers and wife, of Bellevue, were the guests of Hubert Gaines and wife, last Saturday.

If you want a good Poland China gilt or bear come to Cleek's Sale, October 25, at his farm at Walton, Ky.

Burgiss Howard and wife, of Petersburg, spent Saturday night and Sunday with Thos. Hensley and family.

Mrs. W. L. Riddell and Miss Elizabeth Huey visited Mrs. Carrie Alford, of Louisville, from last Friday until Tuesday.

Chas. Westby, L. L. Eddins, T. H. Sandford and W. H. Rouse motored to Hamilton, Ohio, and attended the fair, last Thursday.

Mrs. Walton Dempsey, of Erlanger, spent last Thursday night and Friday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marce Riddell.

You are invited to spend Wednesday, October 25 with me. Free lunch at 11:30. Sale at 1:30 o'clock. J. F. Cleek, Walton, Ky.

H. E. White is having a large barn erected on his farm out on the East Bend pike. J. M. Botts and A. L. Nichols are the builders.

The Democratic party is to abandon the mule as its party device. That will remove the last suggestion of kick from the old organization.

This last Kentucky State Fair, I won 17 ribbons on my Poland Chinna. I sell Wednesday, October 25 the same line of breeding that won for me. J. F. Cleek, Walton, Ky.

Thirty-three citizens reported incomes in excess of $10,000 last year. But surely there are more bootleggers than that in the country.

A. B. Renaker, wife and daughter, Mary Louise, and Misses Pink Cowen and Nell Martin, spent Sunday with friends and relatives in Avondale, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Hensley entertained last Sunday, H. T. Gaines and wife, Nathaniel Chadwick and family, of Covington, and Burgess Howard and wife, of Petersburg.

Dr. H. H. Hays formerly of the Bullittsville neighborhood, but now of Cleves, Ohio, was in Burlington one day the latter part of last week, meeting with his many friends.

Mr. Charles Price, who moved from Covington to the Bullittsville neighborhood, a few days ago, sent us $1.50 to have his name enrolled as one of our readers—for which he has our thanks.

Public Sale

I will sell at public auction at my residence near Lima-burg, Boone County, Ky., on

Thursday, Nov. 2d, '22

The Following property:

Live Stock, Farm Implements

2 good work horses—7 yrs. old and an aged horse, 6 cows—2 fresh and 2 fresh in Nov. and 2 later, 2 yearling heifers, 10 good sheep, Duroc registered sow and 7 pigs, 125 shocks corn, 10 tons Clover hay, 7 tons Red top and Timothy mixed, 1 1-2 tons Soy Beans, ton of Blue Grass and Alfalfa, stack wheat straw, 2 Oliver Chilled Plows, side-swing, 2 double shovels, 2 single shovels—large and small one, tooth harrow, 2 Acme harrows—one new, Disc harrow, International riding cultivator—good as new, good 2-h. sled, road wagon and box-bed, haybed, 1-h. open top spring wagon, top spring wagon, 2 buggies—1 steel tire, 1 good as new rubber tire, 2 sets buggy harness, set of spring wagon harness, double set work harness, double trees, boys' saddle—has never been used, man's saddle and bridle, bicycle, Fruit tree spray and extra hose, axes, hoes, pitchforks, shovels, 2 picks, iron wedges, 2 cross-cut saws, cutting-box, tarpaulin, 3 ladders, Sharpless Separator No. 3, milk cooler, lot milk cans, 2 iron kettles, lawn swing, 3 churns, lot crimp wire and barbed wire, lot patent fence hooks and clamps, 2 grain cradles, 2 scythes, 2 wagon jacks, rifle 22, shot gun—new, feather bed, lot carpets and linoleum, spinning wheel and reels, McCormic mower and hayrake, 14 tooth harrow, lot locust posts, lot end posts, corn marker, Gasoline engine with log saw and two blades and buzz saw attachments, also Bosch magneta, Household and Kitchen Furniture.

TERMS—All sums of $10 and under, cash; on all sums over $10 a credit of nine months will be given, purchaser to execute note with approved security before removing property. Notes payable at Florence Deposit Bank, Florence, Ky.

JOHN D. AYLOR.

Lute Bradford, Auct.

Sale to begin at 10 a. m.

Lunch Served.

BASE BALL.

From the large crowd that gathered at Burlington last Saturday afternoon to witness the second game of ball between Burlington and Petersburg, shows that interest is running high, and would have been one of the most interesting games pulled off in the county. Both teams were on hand and ready to play but "Jupiter Plavus" interfered and kept one or the other from getting a terrible "walloping." These two teams play at Burlington next Saturday afternoon. Come out and see the best game of the season.

The Burlington base ball fans received the "World's Series" games played by play by radio. The radio set of Jesse Kirkpatrick that is in the Boone County Deposit Bank was used to receive the broadcast of the games, and the different plays were broadcasted in a very few seconds after they had been made. The New York Giants won four games, while the best that the New York Yankees could do was to play a tie game. The Yankees were out played and out generated by the Giants. The Giants pulled from behind in two games and won out. The local telephone operators were given the score, and they kept their subscribers informed of the progress of the game. The week day games were received from the broad casting station of the Crosley Manufacturing Co., Cincinnati. The game played Sunday was broadcasted by the Courier-Journal and the Louisville Times, Louisville, Ky., who have one of the best broadcasting stations in this part of the country.

The sale held by the Boone County Chesterwhite Association held at the Florence Fair grounds Monday October 25, was attended by a large number of hog raisers. The association sold forty-two hogs that had been bred by members of the association for an average of just a few cents less than $27.00 per head. The hogs sold were spring and fall yearlings. G. S. Benjamine, of Portland, Michigan, the largest Chesterwhite breeder in the United States, was present and purchased several pigs. J. W. Varnedale, of Burgin, Ky., and R. E. Cunningham, of Salvisa, were present and made purchases. The association served lunch to all present. The members of the association were well pleased with this sale and expect to conduct other sales in the near future. The association expects to make Boone County a Chesterwhite center.

OYSTER SUPPER AND AN OLD FASHIONED PLAY PARTY

The Modern Woodmen of America will give an Oyster Supper and an Old Fashioned Play party at Grange Hall, October 27th. Every body invited.

o-oct28—3t

FOR SALE ETC

For Sale—Lot good winter apples. J. W. Goodridge, Burlington, Ky. 1t—pd

APPLES, APPLES!
For Sale—Such varieties as Jonathan, King David, Black Ben, York Imperial and Champion. Priced RIGHT. B. T. Kelly, Burlington, Ky. R. D. 2. o19oct—pd

For Sale—Three Buff Rock roosters, pure bred. Stock hatched last spring from eggs bought from Pitt Poultry Farm. Price $2.00 each. Mrs. Sallie Hughes, Big Bone, Ky. Phone No. Beaver 82. 1t—pd

For Sale—Pair work mules; fresh cow and two Poland China hogs; eligible to register. Thos. Hensley, Burlington, Ky. 1t—pd

For Sale—Duroc Jersey boar, 2 years old. Wm. Stephens, Petersburg, Ky.

APPLES FOR SALE
Roman Beauty's, Kelly's Favorites, Pippins, SWEET CIDER. F. Easton, Burlington R. D. 1. o-oct19—pd

For Sale—Lot good winter apples. $2.50 barrel. R. Z. Cason, Petersburg R. D. 1t—pd

ROR RENT—The first floor of the Modern Woodmen building, better known as the old Grange Hall school house, located on the Union and Hathaway pike, about 3 miles from Union and two miles from Hathaway. Splendid location for a grocery store, moving picture show, etc. Will rent cheap if rented at once. For particulars call on or address Walter Craddock, Hiram Stephens or Lloyd E. Tanner, Union, Ky. o12oct 2tpd

For Sale—Registered Hampshire boar at a reasonable price. 2nd premium at Florence fair. Call on or address L. L. Weaver, Union, Ky. o-oct19 3t—pd

For Sale—Pure bred Chesterwhite sow, eligible to register. B. D. Rice, McVie, Ky. o-oct12—pd

We give 20 per cent cash discount or to reliable parties of the regular mail price on Columbia Grafonolas, Starr Grand Pianos, Upright Pianos, Player Pianos and Starr Phonographs. Free delivery made anywhere. Write for catalog.

RICE PIANO CO.
Aurora, Indiana. o-jun1

WANTED

Wanted to buy. Prices reasonable. P. H. Mathews, Bullittsville, Ky. Phone 203-x

20June 1f

NOTICE.

We have been appointed the authorized sales and service station for the Willard Battery for Boone county. Also do recharging and repairing on all makes of Batteries. Work guaranteed.

DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO.
Erlanger, Ky.

FIRE WOOD FOR SALE
100 ricks—16 inch wood ready for delivery. Will cut any length desired, $3.25 per rick at Harvest Home grounds.

H. R. LEIDY.
C. H. YOEEL.

FOR SALE
Eight-horse Power International Gasoline Engine International Feed Grinder. Small mill for grinding Table Meal. Two Belts. All in first-class condition—will sell quick for $125.00.

CALVIN CRESS.
Union, Ky.

DO IT RIGHT
(By Walt Mason)

If you have a task to do, do it right; if you're making Irish stew, do it right; if you're darning Father's sock, if you're putting down a walk, if you're winding up a clock, do it right. Sloppy work will hurt your fame; do it right; careless workmanship's a shame; do it right; when you paint the kitchen floor, when you fix the stable door—whatsoever be your chore, do it right. If you'd play a game of ball, do it right if you'd write a noble poem, if you'd punch a neighbor's dome, do it right. Though you have a humble task, do it right; if an Easy street you'd back, do it right; for the fellows who advance, taking hold of every chance, profiting by circumstance, do it right. If your duty's high and great, do it right; if you labor for the state, do it right; high or low, it's just the same; man should always play the game, he must, if he'd sidestep shame; do it right.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 9.—Fifty-four million pounds of tobacco were sold late today by the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, through President and General Manager James C. Stone, of the association, to R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company through the Kentucky Vice President, T. H. Kirk.

Some people never have to pay bills. Nobody will trust them.

Burns and scalds!
MENTHOLATUM
cools the pain and heals the blisters

CAR SENSE

Spend
a Dollar
and
Save
Ten

Little defects grow into big ones in time if not corrected.

The correction of a small defect in its early stages costs but little.

When left until it grows into serious proportions its correction runs into money.

That is what makes the maintenance of a car so expensive to many people—neglecting the little things until they grow into big ones.

The better—the safer—the more economical way is to see the garage man at the first warning of trouble.

Today is always a good time to have it done.

EDDINS BROTHERS

TIRES, TUBES AND ACCESSORIES.

Burlington, Kentucky.

BRAKE BAND OIL—Guaranteed to stop Ford bands from chattering. Agents for U. S. and Ajax Tires.

Established 1886.

A Bank Account

ONE OF THE FIRST STEPPING STONES TO SUCCESS IN LIFE.

How are You Stepping!

This bank invites young men and women especially to open savings accounts. Officials of the bank are pleased at all time to give the benefit of their experience to customers and others who seek advice.

When in doubt come to this bank. Your success means greater success for us.

Has it ever occurred to you that a checking account is a very convenient thing to have?

Boone Co. Deposit Bank

Burlington, Kentucky.

N. E. RIDDELL, President W. D. CROPPER, Cashier
W. A. GAINES, Vice Pres. G. S. KELLY, Asst. Cashier.

RISING SUN FLOUR

IS GIVING WONDERFUL SATISFACTION

Have You Tried a Sack?

The following merchants in Boone

County can supply you:

E. A. STOTT, Petersburg.

W. G. KITE, Waterloo.

CRAIG & RYLE, Rabbit Hash.

J. D. MOORE, Big Bone.

Insist on This Flour.

YOU WILL BE DELIGHTED.

COURTESY SERVICE STABILITY

Do Not Read this Ad

We refer you to our strong statement in another column made under the call of the Banking Commissioner.

Peoples Deposit Bank

Burlington, Ky.

Petersburg Theatre

At Petersburg, Kentucky

Saturday Night, Oct. 14th

"The Highest Bidder"

MADGE KENNEDY

At Burlington, Kentucky,

Saturday Night, Oct. 14th

"EARTHBOUND"

With Wuydhour Standing

CHILDREN 10c. ADULTS 25c

War Tax Included Will Begin promptly at 8:00

DEMOCRATIC TICKET

For Congress
HON. A. B. ROUSE

As the Editor Sees It.

Has the United States government been duped and tricked into committing an act of folly?

Our government was prompt in the disbanding of its great army and the scrapping of its navy. This is in accordance with the provisions of the Washington conference agreement.

The army has vanished, and but a shell remains.

The navy is sadly depleted and most of its teeth have been drawn. Munitions have disappeared, and the spirit of patriotism has waned.

Our means of adequate defense against sudden attack no longer exist.

Now comes the startling information that Washington has abruptly called a halt in the wrecking of our fighting ships. We are told that other nations have ignored their agreements and have done no real scrapping of ships at all.

At the time of the Washington conference many writers and others warned the government against placing implicit faith in the pacifist tendencies of governments across the water.

Present facts would indicate that their warning was well timed, but quite in vain.

What next?

It is to be hoped that peace of the lasting kind will eventually be restored in the far east. But should we be disappointed in this, in the event of a resort to arms the government should clearly understand that it is no affair of ours and that we want no hand in it.

It is mandatory that American citizens in the troubled area be protected, and removed if advisable, and the entire navy should be employed for this purpose if necessary. But right there our activity should cease.

America for native born or naturalized Americans, and no foreign entanglements.

That is good enough for us.

Are you always right in your judgment?

Many people think they are—no person is ever.

Nineteen hundred years ago we had one perfect man, whose judgment was never at fault. Because of his perfection he died upon a cross, his agony shared by thieves.

Since then the world has never known another.

Why, then, should we humble mortals that we be, imagine that our judgment is never at fault, or that we are incapable of falling into error?

The next time we get into argument, and lose your temper, and are on the point of resorting to force, stop and think of the years that have flown since the manger ennobled the beginning and the blood stained cross witness the end of perfection in mankind.

It is barely possible that you may sometimes be in error.

If a merchant, or a banker, or a farmer, or an editor becomes involved in a row with his employees and has to close down his business for weeks or months, he accepts his loss as a man should.

The coal operators, however, are not of this class. They are adding their loss onto the public in the shape of enormously increased prices of coal, and are profiteering in a conscienceless and shameless manner.

And since Washington appears unwilling to perform its duty, the public becomes the goat and pays its pound of flesh.

This is the best country under the sun. It will be an even better one when you do your full duty as a citizen. America needs the best that is in each of her sons.

CLUB BOYS ARE SUCCESSFUL FARMERS.

Four farm boys who have been enrolled for three or more years in the work, since its inception ten years ago, develop into successful farmers, and community leaders was shown in a recent survey made by extension service of the Iowa State College of Agriculture, in Blackhawk, Marshall, Clinton, Boone, Scott, and Jackson counties.

In making the survey 215 for 10 members were visited who were attending an agricultural course. Eighteen of them are prominent in community organizations.

Twelve are attending the college of agriculture in Boone county, of 17 former club boys, 11 are breeders. Each of the 215 members were asked the question: "What is the most important thing you have gotten out of the two most popular courses?"

"It kept me on the track," "It got me interested in the stock."

THERE'S A REASON

Many husbands resent the waning of congeniality in the home, and this resentment leads to estrangements that often end in the divorce courts.

It never occurs to them that they may be responsible for such an unfortunate condition of affairs.

In his courting days a young man is very attentive to the lady of his choice.

Nothing within his means is too good for her. She is the constant recipient of endearing terms, the choicest of gifts, and solicitous attentions.

All of these are pleasing to the young girl just entering the door of matrimony, and she confidently expects them to continue throughout the years of married life.

In time they marry, and all runs smoothly and sweetly until the inevitable jar occurs. That jar begins to peel off the glamour, and soon the young man begins to think occasionally, and then more frequently, of his friends on the outside, and of the good times he had with "the boys."

While the thoughts of the husband are thus occupied, the mind of the young wife turns to the many beautiful things that were promised for the home—but are not.

This is the beginning of a road that is long, and weary of travel. The evening fire burns the husband's chair vacant, quite frequently, but the wife is in here—alone.

She notices the difference—feels it—resents it.

And when resentment enters, congeniality disappears.

BUILDER AND DESTROYER

Bickering, fault finding and back biting will retard the growth of any town. There can be no real prosperity where these are uppermost in the minds of a considerable portion of the population.

Consideration and energetic co-operation will materially advance the interests of any community. These form the groundwork of all great municipalities.

Natural advantages have much to do with future success, but natural advantages alone will not suffice. Co-operation is an essential element, but it never marches side by side with bickering and fault finding. The latter are destroyers—not builders.

Possibly we are not over burdened by the destroying element in this community, but such as we have is entirely too much.

Community advancement means personal sacrifice to the individual, and this is best achieved thru energetic and persistent co-operation.

WHY HOLD HIM BACK?

Every young man is entitled to a fair opportunity in the business and social world.

He is entitled to be judged by his own moral qualifications, and not by the standard of the parents who brought him into the world.

Such is sometimes, but not often the case.

Many a young man of great promise is seriously hampered by the reputation of one or both of his parents. The sins of the father are visited upon the son, and the innocent youth suffers for the acts of the guilty adult.

This is true because as a civilized people we are not yet entirely civilized. A polished veneer covers the surface, but often fails to penetrate to the heart.

Give the young man a fair chance, and let his own acts make or break him.

Is your eyesight good? Make use of it—read everything in this paper.

Just skimming through it is like snatching the husks and overlooking the kernels of corn. Rushing through its pages as you do through life will cause you to miss many items of news that are of value to you.

Louisville, Ky.—Told away with vaccination and with laws making it compulsory where persons do not submit to it voluntarily would be to retrogress three centuries to the time when everybody had smallpox.

Judge A. M. Caldwell of the Campbell County Circuit Court declared in a decision Friday in which he re-affirmed the right of the State Board of Health to require that all school children be vaccinated.

This decision was handed at Newport in a case in which an organization named the Medical Liberty League sought an injunction against the State Board of Health to prevent enforcement of its rule that all school children and teachers must be vaccinated. Judge Caldwell refused to grant the injunction, mentioning decisions of the State Appellate Court holding that rules of the State Board of Health have the same weight as statute law.

Former Senator Beckham represented the State Board of Health in the action; County Attorney C. G. Matz, Campbell county, and former Senator W. B. Spence, the City of Newport.

Farmers in Independence County, Ark., have shipped cooperatively this year 15 carloads of hogs fed and standardized for shipment according to methods advocated by extension workers. A report to the United States department of Agriculture says they received $360 a carload over the local price offered.

Don't deceive yourself. It makes you an easy mark for others.

To follow who looks for trouble generally dodges it when it comes.

GOOD CARE AND FEED

MAKE FALL PIGS PAY

Lexington, Ky.—Fall litters of pigs can be made a paying proposition on Kentucky farms provided the animals are given the right kind of care and fed a balanced ration, according to E. S. Good, head of the animal husbandry department of the College of Agriculture. In the past, some farmers have said there was no money in raising fall litters because the pigs did not grow out sufficiently to pay for the time in caring for them and the feed which they ate.

Farmers who have carried out recommended practices in caring for their fall litters have demonstrated that this is not true.

"It must be remembered that if a sow is maintained for one litter of pigs that the expense on each pig is twice as great as it is when the sow is allowed two litters a year. Winters that are mild compared to those of northern states make Kentucky especially adapted for the raising of fall litters.

"At this time of the year, the sow with a fall litter should be on full feed and kept there, until her pigs are weaned at about eight weeks of age. After weaning the young animals can be put on a pasture of rye, barley or wheat and allowed a mixture of seven parts of corn, three parts of middlings, and one part of tannage, being fed what they will clear up twice a day without waste. Excellent results also can be obtained by allowing the pigs corn in one self feeder and tannage in another. A good mineral mixture for the young animals can be made of equal parts of finely ground limestone and salt. They should be accustomed to this gradually after which it can be put in a self feeder. Raw bone meal improves this mixture. Another good mineral mixture can be made of two bushels of slack coal, two quarts of slacked lime, two pounds of salt, one bushel of wood ashes and one and one-fourth pounds of iron sulphate. The iron sulphate should be either dissolved or finely ground and all the materials mixed together.

"If the pigs are lousy at weaning time, they should be sprayed with crude oil, warm days being best for doing this. If there is reason to believe they are infested with worms oil of chenopodium, which may be purchased at any drug store should be given. Two cubic centimeters of the oil of chenopodium are given with about 30 cubic centimeters of castor oil to a pig weighing from 40 to 100 pounds.

TREATMENT OF THE ACUTE ABDOMEN.

The term "acute abdomen," really nonsensical, is used like a temporary blanket to cover every acute and painful condition arising within the abdominal cavity until a diagnosis can be made and the right name of the trouble is known. In this article we give some suggestions for first aid in cases of acute abdomen.

It should be understood that in every case of severe abdominal pain that does not of its own accord subside within a short time, as every simple colic will, and that persists despite the use of ordinary domestic remedies, there must be no delay in calling in the physician. Time is of supreme importance in treating acute abdominal diseases, for such troubles become worse rapidly, and giving or withholding appropriate treatment, whether medical or surgical, may within a few hours tip the scale toward life or death. The pain is what usually calls most loudly for relief and is often the only symptom that the unprofessional attendant perceives; in some cases of acute abdomen—for example, during the passage of a gallstone or of a kidney stone—the pain is everything and if it can be relieved the patient is well for the time being.

Pain is best treated with heat; use hot wet cloths over the abdomen and hot bottles in the bed—the patient should be protected by a blanket from direct contact with them—or give a full hot bath to relieve the spasm.

If the patient has been constipated, and the trouble is simple colic, relief may perhaps be obtained by giving an enema—not more than a pint of warm soap suds or oil. Cathartics should never be given, for in certain cases they might cause rupture of an intestine and so make the condition much worse. No harm can come, however, from giving two or three tablespoonfuls of mineral oil by the mouth; when there is a kink or a twist in the bowels the oil may help nature to straighten it. Narcotics and stimulants should never be given except under orders of the physician; and if the case is so that nothing except an opiate will subdue the pain, then it is high time that the doctor be called in.

Many farm boys who enroll as club members in the production of live stock and crops become successful farmers is demonstrated in the case of eight young men living in Itaska County, Minn., who carried out club demonstrations from three to four years. According to a report to the United States Department of Agriculture four of them are now engaged in general farming, three of whom are growing certified potato seed, one is a dairy farmer, two are students at Minnesota college of agriculture, and one is studying for the ministry.

For Starks Delicious, Golden, Delicious, apple trees and all other kinds of trees and ornamental shrubs and trees, M. L. Aylor, Bonded Salesman, Phone Hebron, Ky.

o19oct—pd

NOTICE

All persons having valid and subsisting claims against the estate of Martha Warner, dec'd must present same to me at my office in Burlington Ky., proven as by law required.

W. L. SATCHWILL, Administrator with the will annexed of Martha Warner, deceased.

NOTICE

All persons indebted to the estate of D. B. Dobbins will settle same at once. All persons having claims against D. B. Dobbins, deceased, will present same to me proven as by law required.

JAMES DOBBINS, Executor, Walton, Ky.

NOTICE

All persons indebted to the estate of D. B. Dobbins will settle same at once. All persons having claims against D. B. Dobbins, deceased, will present same to me proven as by law required.

JAMES DOBBINS, Executor, Walton, Ky.

NOTICE

All persons indebted to the estate of D. B. Dobbins will settle same at once. All persons having claims against D. B. Dobbins, deceased, will present same to me proven as by law required.

JAMES DOBBINS, Executor, Walton, Ky.

NOTICE

All persons indebted to the estate of D. B. Dobbins will settle same at once. All persons having claims against D. B. Dobbins, deceased, will present same to me proven as by law required.

JAMES DOBBINS, Executor, Walton, Ky.

NOTICE

All persons indebted to the estate of D. B. Dobbins will settle same at once. All persons having claims against D. B. Dobbins, deceased, will present same to me proven as by law required.

JAMES DOBBINS, Executor, Walton, Ky.

NOTICE

All persons indebted to the estate of D. B. Dobbins will settle same at once. All persons having claims against D. B. Dobbins, deceased, will present same to me proven as by law required.

JAMES DOBBINS, Executor, Walton, Ky.

Be - a - HILL - Customer - It - Pays

Fancy New Timothy

HILL QUALITY—THE BEST OBTAINABLE.

Rosen Rye GENUINE MICHIGAN

Cheaper and Better than Common Rye

FANCY SEED WHEAT

MEDITERRANEAN BEARDED.

—WRITE FOR PRICES.—

THE HIGHEST GRADE COFFEE ON THE MARKET

Nobetter Coffee

Pound 33c

COSTS LESS THAN ONE CENT A CUP.

LAY IN YOUR WINTER SUPPLY NOW

Rarus Flour Every Pound Guaranteed

NEW GOODS ARE ARRIVING DAILY

Rolled Oats, Hominy, Oatmeal, Canned Goods, Etc., Etc.

Northern - Kentucky's - Leading - Grocer - and - Seedsmen

FOR EVERY WINTER'S DAY

One of those soft, rich pile fabrics that appear this season with new names of their own too numerous to mention, makes the regal-looking coat shown above. It has a large shawl collar and deep cuffs of fox fur. The very wide, full sleeves are almost covered with silk embroidery and it is lined with crepe de chine and looks warm and sumptuous.

An ugly cut?
MENTHOLATUM
is antiseptic and healing.

FARM FOR SALE.

120 acres 4 miles of Aurora, Ind., on good pike, half mile of church school bus passes the door, half of this farm is A 1 tobacco land and well watered for stock, 7 room house, large barn and all necessary outbuildings. This farm must sell. Price $9,000. Also some baby farms near Florence, Ky.

o-Oct19 W. L. SATCHWILL, Florence, Ky.

NOTICE

For Starks Delicious, Golden, Delicious, apple trees and all other kinds of trees and ornamental shrubs and trees, M. L. Aylor, Bonded Salesman, Phone Hebron, Ky.

o19oct—pd

NOTICE

All persons having valid and subsisting claims against the estate of Martha Warner, dec'd must present same to me at my office in Burlington Ky., proven as by law required.

W. L. SATCHWILL, Administrator with the will annexed of Martha Warner, deceased.

NOTICE

All persons having valid and subsisting claims against the estate of Martha Warner, dec'd must present same to me at my office in Burlington Ky., proven as by law required.

W. L. SATCHWILL, Administrator with the will annexed of Martha Warner, deceased.

VULCANIZING.

Complete line of Goodyear, Goodrich and Kelly-Springfield Tires and Tubes, good Grade of Automobile and Tractor Oils and Greases.

Auto Accessories kept in stock.

GEORGE PORTER,
BURLINGTON, KY.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN,

DENTIST

In my new office

Cloyden Place, Florence, Ky.

Teeth extracted painless. Bridge and Plate Work a Specialty.

All Work Guaranteed

JAMES L. ADAMS

DENTIST

Cohen Building

Pike Street, Covington, Ky.

F. W. Kassebaum &amp; Son

GRANITE &amp; MARBLE

MONUMENTS,

A Large Stock on Display

to Select From.

Pneumatic Tool Equipment

118 Main Street,

AURORA, IND.

Isinglass Replaced, Cushions and

Backs Rebuilt

Buggy and Wagon Upholstering

OF QUALITY

RUFUS W. TANNER

Auto Top Repairing

Seats covers for all makes of cars.

Dixie Highway Erlanger, Ky.

Phone Erl. 79-Y.

People who use the classified ads in this paper profit by them.

The little ads bring quick results. What have you for sale or want to buy. The cost is too small to consider.

C. H. YOEUELL

Farms for Sale

At Bargain Prices.

Burlington, Ky.

Phone Burlington 65

Take Your County Paper.

BOONE CO. RECORDER

Published every Thursday
N. E. RIDDELL, Publisher.

Foreign Advertising Representative
THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION
Entered at the Postoffice, Burlington, Ky., as second-class mail.

The Recorder Stands For BETTER FARMING, BETTER CIT-IZENS, BETTER HOMES!
ADVERTISING RATES.

Furnished on application. The value of the RECORDER as an advertising medium is unquestioned.
The character of the advertisements
now in its columns, and the number
of them, tell the whole story.

Good many folks may call for kick, but very few want any kickers.

Today, (Thursday) is Columbus
Day, and the Banks are all taking a holiday.

It is amazing how some men will swell around in a new automobile bought with borrowed money.

It is amazing what splendid ambition some of the men show when the boss is looking at them.

The leaves are falling, but for some reason taxes and prices fail to follow this excellent example.

The modern girl has a case of flapperitis, while the modern politician is infected with flopperitis.

Not many men of Burlington have been heard singing "Home Sweet Home" in housecleaning time.

The politicians are willing to make their campaign on moral issues if there are any votes in the same.

A political party may be thoroughly bad and yet get in by proving that its opponents are worse.

The modern boy is willing to work provided he is paid as much as his boss used to get a few years ago.

The politicians claim to sympathize with the people, and anyway they usually "take care" of their healers.

A water congress has been held in Arkansas, a subject that seems to have unpleasant suggestions for many people.

The public might be a little more enthusiastic about the benefits of strikes, if it did not have to pay the full cost of them.

It looks as if the suffering coal miners have got to be paid enough so that they can enjoy a five months vacation each year.

As some boys and girls know more than their parents and teachers, they are leaving school because they need no more education.

People who have large supplies of cloth to sell will not probably put up any powerful opposition to longer skirts for women.

The community has got used to seeing women wear knickers, but it is claimed that in some rural districts they scare the cows.

One way to celebrate Better Homes Week would be for the girls to look at the mirror a little less and the kitchen stove a little more.

The candidates will feel that the women who are splitting their ballots would better remain at home and split up the kitchen kindling.

A Swedish inventor has patented a glass bottle that won't break. Now for some genius to invent a broken bottle that won't cut an automobile tire.

People could buy Christmas presents much better now than they can ten weeks later, but probably they want to get their toes trodden on in the holiday rush.

Building good roads and then not taking care of them by careful maintenance, shows about as much sense as working hard for money and then leaving it lying around loose.

The people who were going to have Germany wiped off the map, include some of the same ones who put up $500,000,000 to buy German marks worth one tenth of one cent each.

Senator Smoot says that no "honest and sane person can claim that the price of clothing is enhanced by the tariff." We predict that it's going to be mighty hard, if that is true, to find an honest and sane tailor.

There has been an uncommon rush of Americans to Europe this year. It is estimated that they left $750,000,000 in the impoverished countries of the continent. Isn't Mr.
Volstead's successful little foreeign tour yet?

The 1,000 negro farm boys enrolled in "top and livestock clubs" in 1921, and under the direction of agricultural extension workers, raised products valued at $250,000, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture.

FARMERS TAKE STEPS TO MAKE POULTRY PAY.

Lexington, Ky.—Kentucky farmers are showing increased interest in the many practical steps that can be taken to make poultry raising more profitable in the state, poultrymen at the College of Agriculture say. Birds of excellent quality that have been exhibited by farmers at the many county and district fairs held over the state during the summer just past, new poultry houses being built in many sections of the state and inquiries from farmers as to the best methods of flock feeding mark the progress that is being made by the improvement of the state's farm poultry business, they say.

"One of the things that every farmer can do at this time of the year toward making his farm poultry flock more profitable is to separate hens and pullets and put the latter in their winter quarters where they can be fed for winter egg production," J. R. Smyth, one of the college poultrymen said, "Getting the birds in good flesh at this time of the year and keeping them in that condition is the best way to get heavy winter egg production and avoid fall and winter moulting among pullets. This can be done easily if the pullets receive all the mash and grain they will eat."

"Experiments have shown that a mash made of 150 pounds each of middlings and bran and 100 pounds each of corn meal and tankage is an excellent one for pullets at this time of the year. This should be placed in a hopper and kept before the birds at all times. In addition, they should receive all the grain they will eat. A good grain mixture may be made of 70 pounds of corn and 30 pounds of oats or wheat.
Many poultrymen make a practice of keeping grain on the floor of the house all the time or in hopper where the birds can pick at it whenever hungry."

30,000 BUSHELS OF RYE
FOR COVER CROP BEING PLANTED IN CHRISTIAN.

Lexington, Ky.—More than 30-000 bushels of rye, most of which is of the Roken variety, is being used by Christian county farmers this fall as seed for cover crops that are being planted to protect fields from erosion and leaching during the coming winter, according to R.
E. Stephenson, soils and crops specialist at the College of Agriculture, who has just returned from a trip to that section of the state. Despite the fact that Christian county in the past has been one of the leading wheat producing counties in the state, the acreage of cover crops seeded this fall is expected to exceed that of wheat.

The seeding of cover crops on land that grew cultivated crops during the summer just past is now in full swing in practically every section of the state. The importance of this farm practice has been stressed during the last few years by the college extension division with the result that the acreage of such crops has fairly to be increased in many counties of the state during the present fall.

HAILSTONES KILL STOCK
AND HURT PEOPLE ON TRAIN

Speaking of hailstones, it is seldom that even the oldest inhabitant can beat this report sent in to the United States Department of Agriculture by one of the field workers at the station in Colorado:

"Most of the hailstones have occurred since the winter wheat was harvested. In some sections such severe storms were experienced that corn and row crops were cut to the ground, small pigs and poultry were killed outright, and buildings were severely damaged."

"A St. Louis and Denver train on the Burlington line was caught in a very severe storm and was compelled to stop until the storm passed over. During the storm all of the windows and ventilators on the north side of the coaches and many of those on the south side were broken out. The hailstones were said to be simply pieces of rough ice, many of them the size of hens' eggs. The stones were so large and driven with such a strong wind that they went through both sashes and the screens in the Pullman car windows. Where the curtains were pulled down as a last resort, they were ripped to shreds. The passengers took refuge under the seats on the north side of the cars. After the storm the hall was said to be several inches deep over the floors of the cars, and when the train was finally able to pull into Akron, a distance of four miles, many of the passengers were given medical treatment for gashes made by flying glass and bruises made from the hailstones. The train was abandoned at Akron and a new train made up to carry the passengers on east."

A man in California had a portion of his property destroyed by his liability for $1,184.25. The 685.16, he had in his own pocket
1897 at 10 per cent per month interest. The man who where the creditors would be glad to see the bankrupt certificate and two cents on the dollar.

Don't insist upon keeping your light under a bushel. It may be putting a perfectly good bushel to propagate waste.

MONEY AND MARKETS
(Business Conditions)

The foremost question of the moment is whether the remarkable activity of the midsummer months will be followed by a period of gradually and conservatively increased business or whether it is the fore-runner of a period of secondary inflation. The indications point clearly to the former condition that good business based primarily on domestic requirements is ahead for the autumn months but that inflation in the generally accepted sense will not occur.

Manufacture is on a satisfactory basis, excepting in so far as some industries have suffered from lack of coal and inadequate transportation facilities. Crop yields are excellent for practically all crops except cotton, according to the September estimates, and the foremost — for a cotton crop more than two million bales above that of last year. Unemployment is practically non-existent. The retail and wholesale business in the United States during the autumn will show considerable expansion over that of the corresponding period of 1921.

It must nevertheless be recognized that even though crops are large, dollar wheat, a considerable decline in the price of hogs since the first of June, and relatively low prices of other agricultural products have reduced the purchasing power of the farmer. The situation is similar in respect to other important classes of raw materials. These conditions and the fact that not far from one million men were continuously out of work as a result of strikes during the greater part of the summer, are major factors which have effectively blocked inflation at this time. Business is being booked for requirements of the immediate future and forward buying is cautious. Good business is assured but it is not reasonable to expect a boom.

RURAL SCHOOL CHILDREN
NEED HOT NOON LUNCHES

Lexington, Ky.—With the opening of schools throughout Kentucky and the prospect of cold weather in the near future, the problem of the noon day lunch for children in rural schools again has come to the front as an important one that demands attention, according to Miss May-belle Cornell, head of the home economics department of the College of Agriculture. That this problem is receiving due consideration in many parts of the state is shown by the fact that a considerable number of schools are serving at least one hot dish to supplement the cold lunch brought by the children. However, the serious need of the hot lunch is realized by comparatively few persons.

"Under average conditions, rural school children in Kentucky follow a daily program that makes it necessary for them to get along on little more than two meals a day. As a rule they have breakfast at about 6 o'clock in the morning and by recess time are hungry enough to eat most the lunch which they have brought from home. What may be left after recess is insufficient for the noon lunch with the result that they go home hungry about 4 o'clock to eat another lunch that leaves them without any appetite for the evening meal. No man is willing to work on less than three full meals a day.
School children, therefore, who are growing and studying can hardly be expected to do their best work on two meals a day."

"Perhaps the first requirement for starting a hot school lunch in any school is an active organization of persons interested in the welfare of the children that can superintend the project. This may be a parents-teachers' association, a community club or a group of farm women. The teacher of the school should naturally be a supporter of the project since she should be interested enough in her pupils to see that they are kept fit physically."

"Complete details dealing with starting a school lunch, financing the project, the equipment necessary, 18 suggested lunches and more than 20 score of recipes are given in extension circular No. 95 which may be obtained free by writing the Experiment Station, Lexington."

THE FRUIT STEALERS

Formerly fruit stealing was largely confined to boys. Many youngsters have always made themselves nuisances by their lawless depredations. But however mean such mischief might seem, you could at least recognize that it was the work of immature young folks who would know better when they got older.

But a new type of garden raiders has come up in recent years, consisting of grown up men, who make no excuse of youth or immaturity. They make a business of it, and go out on dark nights with bags, usually in automobiles, so that they can make their forays over a wide area. The honest farmer or gardener, who has toiled all summer, comes out those fine morning and finds that some unscrupulous youth or immature gardener and at his work is a good watch dog will with well respected teeth is an excellent protection against such rascals, and must farmer and gardeners need one in these times.

If your home life is not what it should be, start a reform movement yourself. The other party may only be waiting for the dominant voice to speak.

Trade Where They All Trade

WE ARE MOVING

A large amount of that new crop Timothy Seed and every one who sees it says it is as fine as can be. The germination is 94 per cent.
and purity 99.65. Blue Grass has advanced due to the pool in Central Kentucky--we have high-grade seed. Clover is not as big a prospect as it was 30 days ago. New crop not yet in store, but hullinhas commenced. You can depend on us for good clean seed. That is one of the factors that has made us

"Kentucky's Largest Seed and Grocery House."

KANSAS KREAM FLOUR--

A wonderful flour, makes more and better bread, good to the last crumb; is gaining in popularity every day--once you try it you will be a booster for it.

Bbl. in 98-lb. bags--Special...$7.00

"THE FLOUR THAT NEVER FAILED"

Send us your orders for anything and be convinced that we can save you money.

SEED WHEAT: Marvelous--a bearded wheat. Poole--a beardless wheat-- thoroughly recleaned and graded, bu . . . $1.75.

Geo. C. Goode
GROCER & SEEDSMAN

19-21 Pike St.

18-20 West Seventh St.

WHOLESALE—"Covington's Largest Seed and Grocery House"—RETAIL

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Phones South 325 and 836.

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

TALK ABOUT A "PEACEFUL SMOKE" BUT 'TWO'N BE PEACEFUL EF YOU GITS
HOL' ONE DEM 'SE-GARS
LAK WHUT DE STO-KEEPUH
GIMME W'EN AH PAID
'IM UP YISTIDY!!

Copyright, 1921 by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Any Make of Battery
RECHARGED
75c

Rentals for any make of car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.

Dempsey Motor Car Co.,
Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

FIRST-CLASS
Shoe Repairing

Mail Orders at my Expense.
All work guaranteed. Mail your shoes to be repaired to
A. D. LAWRENCE, - - Erlanger, Ky.
37 Lexington Pike.

PEOPLE FOR WHOM THE BEST IS NONE TOO GOOD

Are always the most enthusiastic concerning the excellence of our Dry Cleaning and Dyeing

We have one of the most efficient
Remodeling Departments
in the country. Fur transformed into the mode very quickly. Men's and women's garments altered in any way desired.

Wedgy for skins and remodel them in any way.

We do men's or ladies' clothing, hats, coats, suits, etc. We also do a large amount of dry cleaning, pressing, and dyeing.

THE T. E. B. CO.

625-57 Walnut St.

LEXINGTON, KY.

If you were to call a preacher a middleman he might vigorously object, and yet that is exactly what he is when he ties the customary knot.

Ce-re-a-lia
SWEETS

It Pays

To Please Your Cows

The best feed in the world won't produce milk if your cows turn their nose away from it. Cows munch the last morsel of Ce-re-a-lia Sweets, not because of its "high protein" or its "guaranteed analysis," but because it tastes good. We could make up a ration with exactly the same percentages of protein, carbohydrates and fat, but without such a large pleasing variety of ingredients, without including appetizing molasses, but your cows would digest less, tire of its sameness, give less milk.
Ce-re-a-lia won't lump or cake. Easy to handle. If you're feeding home-grown ground corn this year, feed Ce-re-a-lia Sweets along with it. Use the usual roughage.

Four Weeks' Trial At Our Risk

Feed one cow 4 weeks on Ce-re-a-lia Sweets and make us prove these two points: First,
that you will get more milk or better milk.
Second, that your actual profit will be greater; if Ce-re-a-lia costs more than you're paying now, the improvement in flow or test must more than make it up. Money back if either test fails. Ask us for details.

EARLY &amp; DANIEL,

Erlanger, Ky.—Phone Erlanger 31
Covington, Ky.—Phone South 12
Carew Bldg. Cincinnati, O.—Phone Main 662

HEBRON THEATRE--Next Saturday

DOROTHY DALTON IN

"The Idol of the North"

SENNETT COMEDY

"The Unhappy Finish"

Admission 22 Cents, Children 10 Cents

War Tax Included

DO YOU TAKE THE RECORDER?

Try It One Year. You'll Like It.

Read Our Advertisements and Profit By Them.

NONPARIEL PARK

Mrs. Will Arnold had for her guest Thursday her sister, of Newport.

Mrs. Chas. Chipman of the Dixie Highway, spent Thursday in Cincinnati, shopping.

John O. Roberts spent Friday in Covington with Mrs. Cliff Norman and Mrs. Harry Brown.

Wm. Arnold and wife had for their guest several days the past week his father, of Sherman, Ky.

John Williams and wife, of Gunpowder, returned home Friday after a visit with relatives in Erlanger.

Mrs. Anna Hammond, of Richmond, moved in Tuesday in rooms of Mrs. Susie Adams in Nonparel Park.

Rev. Garber came home last Sunday from the Seminary at Louisville to fill his appointment at Florence church.

Frank Tanner and family, of Erlanger, moved in rooms of Mrs. J. O. Carpenter last week on Main street.

Miss Kathryn Keller, of Walnut Hills, enjoyed a visit Thursday evening with Mrs. I. Dunson and brother William Brown.

John King sold his place last week to a gentleman of Dayton, Ky. Mr. King and family will move to Detroit, Michigan.

Mrs. DeWitt Barnes, of Abilene, Kansas, is visiting her brother, Arthur C. Kraus and family, of the Dixie Highway.

Miss Edna Turner and friend of Silverton, Ohio, enjoyed a visit with Joe Frazer and wife of Dixie Highway, the past week.

Rev. Wilford Mitchell and wife, of Mt. Carmel, Ky., are enjoying a two weeks' visit here with J. G. Renaker and wife and other relatives.

Ed. Kraus and family, of Burlington pike, spent a few days the past week with his brother Arthur Kraus and family, of Dixie Highway.

The Ladies of the Baptist church will give a supper, Oct. 14th, at the I. O. O. F. Hall, Florence. Come and enjoy a good supper and music.

Chas. Chipman, of Dixie Highway, spent Sunday and Monday in Elizabethtown guests of his brother, Ed. Chipman, and attended court there.

Mrs. W. W. Belle and Mr. and Mrs. Grover Jones, of Lockland, O., were here Friday for a short visit with Mrs. Mattie Hoover, of Dixie Highway.

Mrs. Leslie Sorrell, of Lexington, returned to her home last week after several days visit with her folks. She is delighted with her new home in Lexington.

Mrs. Caroline Senour will return to her home in Erlanger this week after spending the summer with Mrs. Tom Corbin and Will Senour, of Hamilton, Ohio.

Albert Lucas and family and Mrs. Joe Lucas, Mrs. Arch Lucas and daughter, Miss Archmarie, motored over last Sunday and visited Rock Springs on Middle creek and the Dam at McVillie.

Rev. Wilford Mitchell underwent a surgical operation in Cincinnati last week for the removal of his tonsils and throat trouble. As soon as he is sufficiently recovered he will return to his home near Mysville, Ky.

Mrs. and Mrs. Roscoe Boyce, of Norwood, Ohio, entertained at their beautiful home with a dinner, Wednesday, in honor of Mrs. Charles Chipman and mother, Mrs. Chipman, and Mrs. Sallie Dunaway and son, Earl.

BEECH GROVE.

Miss Lottie Ryle was the guest of Miss Elizabeth Ryle, of Locust Grove, Friday night.

Mrs. and Mrs. Harry Hamilton are the proud parents of a little daughter since Oct. 2nd—Laura Kathryn.

David Williamson spent last Sunday with his brother-in-law, Tony Rue, of McVillie, who is seriously ill.

Don Williamson and wife and M. R. Ryle and family, were guests of T. D. McVillie and family, Sunday.

Manley Ryle and Ben Scott attended a meeting of the Masonic Lodge at Rising Sun, Monday night.

Master Wm. Ryle Presser spent several days last week, with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Mat Ryle.

Mrs. Don Williamson, Mrs. Ray Williamson, Miss Blanche Williamson and Mrs. James West, spent last Saturday in Covington.

PETERSBURG.

D. B. Hoffman is having a concrete border put around his cemetery lot.

But Stamper spent last week out in the country helping his son Kenneth house his crop of tobacco.

E. C. Riley expects to finish filling his other silo this week, then he will have plenty feed for the winter.

Mrs. Will Crisler, of Lawrenceburg, spent several days last week with her mother, Mrs. W. H. Henley.

The McWehly sisters will dispose of all their household and kitchen furniture at public auction Thursday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason, of Toledo, Ohio, are here with the latter's mother, who is not expected to survive much longer, Mrs. John Bradburn.

We were favored last Friday and Saturday with a visit by Bro. Harry E. Acers, of Rabbit Hash. He looks hale and well for a boy 55 years of age.

All roads from here led last Friday and Saturday to Aurora to the Farmers' Fair. The town was deserted Saturday as to citizens—the Fair and game of ball at Burlington drew them from town.

Saturday, Oct. 14

Douglas MacLain
"One a Minute"

Also Comedy

Tuesday, Oct. 17th

Bryant Washburn
"Amateur Devil"

And Comedy.

Admission 22c-10c
COMING
"AFFAIRS of ANATOL"

Florence, Ky., Theatre

VERONA.

Mrs. Ella Vest is quite poorly.

Rev. J. N. Poyner has moved to the Ratcliff property, now owned by Berry Johnson.

Rev. C. B. Jackson, of Louisville is helping in a protracted meeting at Southside, Covington.

Rev. Owen, of Louisville, delivered a good sermon to New Bethel members last Sunday night.

N. B. Hamilton was taken to a Chicago hospital last Wednesday where he will undergo an operation for an incurable trouble.

Mathew, the son of Charles Sturgeon, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital last Tuesday and operated upon for an infection of the leg.

Charles W. Lewis departed this life October the 5th, of acute indigestion. He departed was in his 70th year. Rev. Jackson preached the funeral discourse in the presence of large gathering of friends and relatives last Sunday morning at eleven o'clock, after which the remains were laid in New Bethel cemetery. J. L. Hamilton had charge of the funeral arrangements.

ERLANGER

Miss Annie Crigler was shopping in the city Saturday.

Miss Annie Crigler spent Wednesday with Mrs. Mallie Beemon.

E. E. Conneley and family were visiting near Big Bone, Sunday.

Mrs. John Hogan is at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Wilson, of Latonia.

Mr. John Whitson was the guest of his son Charles, at Walton, the past week.

Charles Smith, wife and daughter, Thelma, were visiting Mrs. Arthur Betts, of Clifton Heights, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whitson and son, Walter, of Walton, and John Vanarsdale, were guests of Mrs. Mattie Cook, Sunday.

HEBRON.

Rev. Royer preached some very interesting sermons the past week.

Communion services next Sunday morning at 10:30 at Hebron church.

Ralph Jones and wife spent Sunday with his parents, of Burlington pike.

Mrs. Laura McGlasson and son Howard, have moved to Ludlow for the winter.

Miss Allene Stephens, of Bullittsville, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Bluffe Wingate.

J. H. Mannin and wife were the guests of Ed. Wayman and wife, of Ft. Mitchell, last Sunday.

Miss Nannie Lodge spent several days last week with her aunt, Miss N. Louise Lodge, of Ludlow.

Miss Lydia Aylor, who has a good position in Cincinnati, is spending her vacation with her parents.

Mrs. Lee Bockhorst and son, of Price Hill, are spending several weeks with her mother, Mrs. C. G. Smith.

Mrs. Myrtle Crutcher and daughter, and Mrs. Lizzie Graves, were shopping in Cincinnati, last Saturday.

The services that have been in progress for the past week will continue on this week, closing next Sunday night.

Lester Aylor and family, Frank Aylor and wife and Hubert Rouse, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mose Aylor, last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Clark and family, of New Baltimore, O., spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Chester Anderson and family.

Mrs. Mary Baker, of Lima, spent last week with her sister, Mrs. Eliza Poston and other relatives and attended church services.

Levis Beemon is having a porch added to the house he recently purchased of Hubert Rouse, also a new garage built. John Dye and Edward Baker are doing the work.

Benj. Paddock, Cecil Conner, Claude and Lowell Tanner, attended Aurora Street Fair last week, taking several premiums on their poultry they had on exhibition.

Elmer Goodridge and family had as guests last Sunday Lillian Thompson, and family, of near Taylorport, Verona Township and family, Luther Rouse and family, John Dye and family, Earl Aylor and family, and Albert Gether and wife.

Morris Rouse and family had as guests last Sunday Earl Garnett and family, of Ludlow, M. I. Baker wife and mother, of Lima, Frank Rouse and wife, of Burlington, Mrs. Pullen, of Erlanger, W. R. Garrett and wife, Myron Garnett and family, Mrs. Nellie Garnett, Mrs. Eliza Poston, Ray Garnett and Harry Reistman.

SAVE YOUR MONEY
One box of Tutt's Pills saves many dollars in doctor's bills. A remedy for diseases of the liver, sick headache, indigestion, constipation, biliousness; a million people endorse.

Tutt's Pills

GUNPOWDER

Robt. Tanner is on the sick list.

B. A. Rouse and wife were shopping in Covington last Saturday afternoon.

Wm. Busby has his house about ready to occupy and will probably move this week.

Arthur Tanner, who is an expert engineer, was operating the steam roller on our pike last week.

A Mr. Snyder, of near Petersburg, was the guest of L. T. Utz last Sunday, and attended church at Hopeful.

Several from this neighborhood attended a big dinner at the home of E. H. Snyder and wife in Florence, last Sunday, the occasion being his birth anniversary.

Just fifty years ago Uncle Noah Surface who was superintending the Hopeful Sunday school, secured a prize of a nice Bible to the person who would memorize the most verses in the Bible. Mrs. Ruth Cloud, (nee Quick) was awarded the present, and wishing that it returned to the Surface family, she presented it to Mrs. Wm. Graves, of Bullittsville recently, she being the daughter and youngest child of Mr. Surface.

FLORENCE.

Suite a number of friends and relatives gave Mr. Ed. Snyder, of Florence, a surprise Sunday, that being his sixty-first birthday. It was rather cool for the occasion, but all enjoyed the hot coffee and everything else good to eat at the noon hour. Those present were: Perry Barlow and wife, Harry Barlow wife and daughter, Ethel Mae, Robt. Snyder and wife, J. D. Schaeffer and wife, Mrs. Mattie Rouse, Jos. Cornely and daughter, Martha Elizabeth; Ben Rouse wife and children, Rosa Belle, John Edgar, Lottie Mae, Kenneth and Ella Marie; J. G. Renaker and wife, Ezra Tanner and wife, Ernest Horton and wife, daughter Viola Pearl; Mrs. Louisa Davis, J. S. Surface and wife, Chas. Garnett wife and daughter, Helen Elizabeth; Mrs. Lucy Tanner, Mrs. Cora Blankenbaker, Mrs. Lizzie Bartell, J. P. Tanner and wife, C. F. Blankenbaker wife and daughters, Francis Marie and Edna Jettens, Chas. Aylor wife and children, Irene and Wilford; Alfred Tanner, Emma Welsh, Edward Bentham wife and daughter, Lena Francis, Orville Tanner, Rosa Barlow, Elizabeth Snyder, Jack Renaker, Bill Hoosier, Lawrence and Jas. Rouse, Ellen Baker. All enjoyed the day if it was cool, and they all departed wishing Mr. Snyder many more happy birthdays.

BIG BONE.

Louis Ryle was in the city Wednesday.

John Sam Moore made a business trip to Burlington, Tuesday.

Mrs. W. L. H. Baker visited her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Melvin and family, Wednesday.

Mr. Thompson and children, of Ft. Thomas, were visiting Mrs. W. L. H. Baker, Sunday.

There will be a pie social at the school house Friday night, Oct. 13th. The public is invited.

Mrs. Lizzie E. Miller visited Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Griffith, near Beaver, the first of the week.

Louis Ryle and wife, of Hamilton, were pleasant guests of Douglas Moore and family, Sunday.

Mrs. Lillie Hoff and two children, of Hamilton, were guests of R. N. Moore and family, Wednesday.

Mrs. Roy Pitcher and daughter, of the city, visited her parents, Benj. Hedges and wife, Saturday and Sunday.

RICHWOOD.

Chas. Carpenter will fill his silo today (Monday).

Theo. Carpenter filled his silo last Thursday and Friday.

Albert Lucas and family, of Florence, spent Sunday with A. E. Tanner.

Dean Stroble, of Covington, spent Wednesday night with Walter Grubbs.

An auto struck a valuable Beagle hound for Theo. Carpenter and badly injured it.

Mrs. Maggie J. J. Sommer and Mrs. Maggie Clarkson, attended the Hamilton fair.

BELLEVUE

G. T. Rue's condition does not improve.

Mrs. Chas. Batchelor is very ill at this writing.

Mrs. Clarence McCarty is spending a few days with relatives in Cincinnati.

Mrs. Josie Maurer and sons, of Burlington, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Maurer.

Mrs. J. J. Rogers entertained the Ladies Aid of eleven-year Christian church last Thursday.

Capt. Jack Lindenbarn and sister, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lindenbarn and daughter, of Newport, Ky., were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Smith.

That crisis in the Near East will have to show more pain if it expects to get any front page attention during the World's Series.

Public Sale.

We will sell at public auction on the Elijah Parker farm, on the Petersburg and Bellevue Pike, three miles from Petersburg, Boone County, Ky., on

Saturday, October 21, 1922

The Following Property:

10 or 11 Cows, one Bull, three Sows, thirty-one Pigs, Poland China Boar, Buggy, Carriage, Spring Wagon, Mowing Machine, Hayrake, Spraying Machine, Cream Separator, Grind Stone, Tobacco Sticks, Hoes, Rakes, 14 bundles of Shingles, Sideboard, Hatrack, Home Comfort Range, Oil Stove, Beds and Bedding, Bookcase, and other articles.

Terms Made Known on Day of Sale.

Elijah Parker and Daughters.

Sale will begin at 12:30 o'clock.

Willis Smith, Auct

Notice Tax-Payers

Tax-payers of Boone County are hereby notified that I, or one of my deputies will be at the places and on the dates named below to collect the 1922 State, County and County School Taxes. Will also collect the 1922 Graded Common School taxes in Verona, Petersburg, Union and Florence Districts. Also the Consolidated School tax in the Bullittsville and Constance Districts on the same days that other taxes are collected:

BIG BONE, October 3rd

BEAVER LICK, October 4th

VERONA, October 5th

WALTON, October 6th

BELLEVUE, October 9th

CONSTANCE, October 10th

HEBRON, October 11th

UNION, October 13th

PETERSBURG, October 16th

FLORENCE, October 17th

RABBIT HASH, October 19th

Rates—State 40c; 10c on Live Stock, County 70c, 15c on Agriculture Products; School 40c on the $100; Poll $1.50. School Poll $1.00. Graded School Rates—Verona 60c; Petersburg 70c; Union 45c, and Florence 50c. Graded School Poll—Verona $1.00; Petersburg $1.50; Union $1.00; Florence 50c.

All unpaid taxes become delinquent after Nov. 30th. Six per cent penalty, due State and County added after December 1st on all delinquent taxes; six per cent commission in addition is allowed Sheriff for collecting delinquent taxes. Cost of levy 60c, Advertising $1.00; Recording 60c.

Please make inquiries for the amount of your taxes before November 15th, as we cannot receive everyone's taxes on the last few days of November.

B. B. HUME, S. B. C.

Any Make of Battery
RECHARGED 75c

Rentals for any make of car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.

Dempsey Motor Car Co.,
Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

No Cause for Alarm

Let the icy breezes of the north come; we can keep you warm with plenty of good

COAL

We have on hand several cars of Stearns Block Coal, and plenty in transit due to arrive in a few days at our Erlanger yards now in a few days for this winter's supply; will also have on hand in a short time some Run of Mines Coal, Cannel Coal and Coke—the best money can buy, at the right price.

See us before you lay in your coal for the winter. We can save you money. We can also furnish you Building Material of every description.

T. W. SPINKS CO.,
L. E. L. RICE, Mgr. Erlanger, Ky.

Will Have Sale

Jno. D. Aylor, near Lima, will have a sale of a large amount of livestock, farming implements and other property on Thursday, Nov. 2nd, 1922. The sale will begin at 10 a. m. A good lunch will be served. A credit of Nine months will be given on purchases of over $10.

DON'T MISS IT

Petersburg and Burlington ball teams hook up at Burlington park next Saturday afternoon. A large crowd will be present to witness the game.

MARKETS.

Wheat $1.18.
Corn 67c.
Oats 40c.
Bran $20.00.
Timothy hay (Chicago) $22.00.
Midlings $21.00.
Butter 43c.
Hogs $8.00 to $10.00.
Steers $7.15 to $11.00.
Cows and Heifers $5.65 to $9.00.
Calves $6.75 to $10.25.
Lambs $12.25 to $14.25.
Ewes $5.50 to $6.75.

Subscribe for the RECORDER.

Les'r You Forget.

S. H. Dickey's Sale at Union, Friday, Nov. 3d, at 1:30 p. m.

W. B. Johnson
Auctioneer, Walton, Ky.

Lands Posted.

All character of trespassing on our farms is positively prohibited, and we will prosecute all guilty parties. No hunting, trapping or snaring will be allowed.

Name Precinct
B. C. Allen.....Hamilton
Julia S. Dinamore.....Bellevue
Your name will be put in list of those posted until Jan. 1st for 50 cents.

READ YOUR COUNTY PAPER $1.50 The Year.

FLICKERTOWN.

Herbert Snyder visited at Wilhamstown Sunday.

Mrs. B. F. Akin called on Mrs. I. H. Snyder, Thursday evening.

Miss Hazel Brady visited her cousin, Alice White, last week.

Miss Hazel Akin visited her sister, Mrs. Courtney Williams, last week.

J. H. Snyder wife and son, Carroll, visited J. W. White and family Sunday.

Seebree Bros. took a premium on their corn at the Farmers' Fair at Aurora.

Several from this locality attended the Farmers' Fair at Aurora, last Saturday.

Courtney Williams and wife were guests of B. F. Akin and family, last Saturday night.

County Farm Agent Stottom was at James Gaines' Saturday and culled his flock of chickens.

Walter Gaines is building an addition to his house. J. B. Berkshire is doing the carpenter work.

Charles Akin and wife and Mrs. Julia Beemon called on Chas. Beemon and wife, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. J. W. White, Mrs. C. J. Hensley and Hazel Brady, visited Mrs. Fannie Gaines and family, Thursday.

Mrs. Mattie Shinkle returned to her home Friday after several days' visit in the North Bend neighborhood.

LATE CORN THIS YEAR IS

WELL SUITED FOR SILAGE

Lexington, Ky.—Practically all late corn grown in Kentucky during the summer just past will be better suited for silage than for any other form of feed, according to Wayland Rhoads, beef cattle specialist of the College of Agriculture. As a result of dry weather experienced throughout the state during the corn growing season, the late corn crop contains more stalk than grain, thus making it especially desirable as silage. Any farmer who has a field of late corn and an empty silo has the possibilities for a full supply of good winter feed for his cattle.

"Of the 11,000 silos in the state, practically all of them will be filled this fall. During the last two years when labor costs were high and feed costs low, there have been a few cases where the silo was not as profitable as dry feeding. However, many farmers have found that the silo was a great saver of feed even under these conditions. Having proved its value to the farmer who keeps ten cows or more throughout the winter, the silo is now past the experimental stage. In the case of a dairy, this method of storing feed saves from 30 to 40 per cent of the feed bill. Where steers are to be fattened in the winter feed lot, the feeding of silage in the ration is the general rule because of the cheap gains which can be produced by this method. On farms where a breeding herd is kept, the silo is even more valuable.

"If cattle are to be carried thru the winter and finished on grass the following spring and summer, the same field of corn that is fed dry will feed one-third more cattle if placed in the silo. The gains made by the cattle the following spring on grass are about the same under the two methods of feeding. If the corn has become dry before the silage is made, it is best to add water as the silo is being filled."

The Cincinnati Enquirer is taking a straw vote on the gubernatorial and senatorial election in Ohio this fall. A compilation of the vote to last Monday shows, for Governor, Thompson, Republican, 1,675; for Donkey, Democrat, 2,028. For U. S. Senator, Pomerene, Democrat, 1,952; for Fess, Republican, 1,552. Three hundred and ninety-nine voters who cast their votes for Harding will vote for the Democratic candidate for Governor. A like swing over the State will wipe out the enormous Republican majority of 1922.

R. H. Stephens and son, B. C., of near Rabbit alth, were in Burlington a few hours Monday. They were enroute to the sale of Chester white hogs at Florence.

Governor Cox gave the German Red Cross a million marks, but probably made it up by going without cigarettes for a couple of days.

You will miss the best game of ball that has been played in the county if you miss next Saturday's game at Burlington.

Miss Bessie Kirkpatrick, who was operated upon at the Seaton hospital, Cincinnati, a few weeks since, returned home Sunday.

Not much coming and going the past week in Burlington. Farmers have been a busy set the past few weeks.

Alfred Albeis wife and daughter, of Cincinnati, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Lavinia Kirkpatrick and family.

Mrs. H. W. Shearer and daughter, of Newport, spent Saturday night and Sunday with her parents.

Timothy Westbay, of Covington, was transacting business in Burlington, Monday.

Work of scarifying the repairing the Union pike is progressing rapidly.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C.—The President says the election of a Democratic House this fall would be a calamity. In the judgment of the Democratic leaders of the House and Senate this is correct—a certain degree. It would undoubtedly be a calamity to the President, to the Republican party and to the special interests which dominate the administration for their own gain; it would be such a calamity as befell Taft in 1910, when the Democrats took possession of Congress and put squarely up to Taft a splendid program of progressive legislation. They put a stop to his favors to corporate greed and laid the foundation for the great Democratic victory of 1912 which itself was followed by the greatest era of prosperity ever known in the "seven years of plenty" described in the Bible. To the people suffering under war taxes four years after the conclusion of the war and now under a new high tariff law, it would be a blessed relief, as it would be to the Treasury, facing a deficit which the President says will reach 762 millions. But the Republicans are not only very apprehensive that there will be a Democratic House elected, as shown by the fear voiced by the President, but they anticipate the reduction of the Republican majority in the Senate to so great that they expect the loss of the Senate with the Progressive-Farm Bloc Republicans, to be able to control legislation in that body. They can see the loss of Frelinghuysen in New Jersey, Calder in New York, the Iowa seat for which they have nominated Brookhart, a Socialist, Towns in Michigan, probably Lodge in Massachusetts, and others. On the other hand, the Democrats are expected to retain the seats of Reed of Missouri and Pomerene of Ohio, two of the most valuable Democratic fighters in the Senate.

It has long been a proverb that "chickens come home to roost" in the case of the Fordney tariff law it might be more appropriate to call them buzzards, for they are birds of ill-omen. They are already coming. The Fordney law puts a greatly increased tax on sugar coming in from Cuba, a thing which increases the price of the commodity to every American user, but lessens Cuba's market for her principal product. Naturally the Cubans are in a bad frame of mind; like the remainder of humanity, their most sensitive nerves are those which extend to the pocketbook. They are retaliating by placing a tax of 100 per cent on all American shoes entering the country—the result is simply stated—no American shoes will enter. This means the cutting of the sale of about $14,000,000 worth of shoes each year, affecting the shoe business, factory employees and even the tanner and producer of hides. Does any one think that the remainder of the countries of the world will witness this performance on the part of Cuba and not take similar steps? They are all hit by our tariff law and it is only natural that they should retaliate; they will do what any of us would do if the price of the goods they buy from those who buy from them, they will decline to purchase the wares of those countries which shut out their products by high tariff walls like the Fordney law. Their best method of doing this is by fighting us with our own weapons—retaliatory tariffs.

Does anyone suppose that England, France, Italy, Japan, will hesitate to do the thing which our best friend among the nations has just done? Cuba owes her national existence to the United States, yet she has no hesitancy in fighting back. Just the other day Senator Caraway returned from Europe with the observation that they are all antagonistic to us. No one doubts this, for too many evidences of its truth have appeared in the press. If Cuba can cut deeply into our sales of one product by one tariff rate, what can all the countries of Europe do to us in their wrath? Already the great trade which filled thousands of ships under the work of Democratic administration has dwindled to less than half of what it was three years ago, hundreds of great steel vessels are swinging idly at their chains, hundreds of wooden vessels, new and capable, have been sold for less than one per cent of their cost with the proviso that they must be broken up to prevent their sailing in competition with the vessels of the shipping trust. These are some of the buzzards that are coming home to roost on Uncle Sam's high tariff fence:

"First a spect and then a vulture. Till the air is thick with pinions."

These are the first of the hastening ill of Republicanism—tariffs wars, idle ships Treasury deficiencies.

BOONE COUNTY COURT

H. O. Adams &c.,

Notice is hereby given that the petition and report of the viewers who were appointed to report on a proposed alteration of the public road from Hathaway down Riddell's Run for a distance of about one mile, will be up for hearing in the Boone County Court at Burlington, Ky., Nov. 8, 1922, and all objections to the report must be made on or before said day.

O. R. PORTER,
Road Engineer

WHERE TO DEAL IN CINCINNATI

WESTHEIMER &amp; CO.

STOCKS BONDS GRAIN
Phone Main 567 328 Walnut St.

YWCA CAFETERIA for men and women
REST-ROOMS for shoppers
30 E. EIGHTH STREET
VACATION COTTAGE
July to September at EPOWORTH HEIGHTS

Cellar/Doors Machine Forging
Cedar Gratings THE J. G. FRELINGER
IRON WORKS
All Kinds of General Machine Work
Prompt Attention to Mail Orders
Phone Main 567
SECOND STREET—3rd, 4th and Elm

The Best Place in Cincinnati for Dentistry.
Gold Crowns and Bridge Work $5.00
Plates $7.50 Fillings $1.00.
Teeth Extracted without pain.
Write us for information.
Dr. Hall's Expert Dentists
216 W. 5th St. Bet. Elm and Plum
Cincinnati, Ohio

More for your money or your money back

Fogel's
S. W. Cor. Seventh & Central Ave.

Women's and Children's Coats Suits Dresses Millinery Etc.

Klines

421-423 RACE STREET
CORRECT ATTIRE FOR WOMEN AND MISSES

SEND IT TO US—
Hemstitching 10c a yard.
PLEATING, BUTTONS COVERED,
EMBROIDERY, & BRAIDING
MAIL ORDERS GET
SPECIAL ATTENTION
ADVANCE PLEATING AND BUTTON SHOP
108 OPERA PLACE CINCINNATI

FLOOR BRUSHES, FIBRE
BROOMS, JANITOR SUPPLIES
Call and See Us Before Buying
MAIL ORDERS GET & BROOM CO.
121 E. CANAL BOULEVARD
Agents Wanted Cincinnati, Ohio

ARCIC
Ice-making and Refrigerating
Machines for Butcher Shops, Creameries, Dairies, Confectioneries—Plants installed
complete—Repairs and emergency repairs
—Supplies of every description
Briggs and Eastwood
1022 Central Ave. Cincinnati, O.

See how your LAUNDRY is handled
Visit one of the modern MODEL LAUNDRY CO. plants during National Laundry Visiting Week, Oct. 23 to 28.
Observe how your bundle gets more thorough washing, and gentler handling.

BUY YOUR FRESH FRUITS and VEGETABLES FROM—
SHIP YOUR COUNTRY PRODUCE TO—
FLATOW, RILEY & CO.
Front Street, Between Main and Walnut Cincinnati, Ohio

K. SHOKLER &amp; SON

FURS
REPAIRED REMODELED
Mail orders solicited
140 W. 7th St. Cincinnati, O.

—INVESTMENTS—
Preferred Stocks
Municipal Bonds
Breed, Elliott & Harrison
322 Walnut St. Phone Main 310

Harness and Saddles
New and used sets complete—Repairing
all types etc.—Jakes Harness
Mail orders and express get prompt attention
MAX KURZYNSKI
1603 Central Ave. West 3296

For Quality
Price
Variety
PIGGY WIGGLY
Groceries

WE REPAIR—Electric Motors, Re wind

Armatures, etc. They can't come too little, or too big Cincinnati Electrical Repair Co.
322 Sycamore Street, Cincinnati, Ohio
Phone Main 2182
NEW & RE-BUILT MOTORS FOR SALE

Y. M. C. A.
Automobile School
Day or Night Classes
Get a Good Job
Steady Work
Unskilled Labor Turned Away
LEARN TO BE AN AUTOMOBILE MECHANIC
Men Who Are Skilled Always Have Work

Garage
Men who know how are needed
Skilled Labor Gets A Job
Come in and let us tell you all about this school
Y. M. C. A. Central Parkway

Garage
Men who know how are needed
Skilled Labor Gets A Job
Come in and let us tell you all about this school
Y. M. C. A. Central Parkway

5 1/2% FIRST MORTGAGE
CERTIFICATES
$100-$2500-$10000—secured by First Mortgage on real estate and guaranteed by U. S. Prouty Guaranty to mail investors.
THE TITLE GUARANTEE & TRUST CO.
S. E. Cor. Court and Main Sts.

Coppin's

New Silks and Woolens

Silk Crepe de Chine $1.50 Yard
Fine grade all-silk crepe de chine firmly woven and will not pull. Black, white, rose, coral, seal, pumpkin, pink and navy. 40 in. wide. An extraordinary value.

Canton Crepe $2.79 Yard
Excellent quality for dresses; all silk; 40 inches wide; in brown, clunder, midnight, flame, jade, navy and black. Very special value.

Black Duchesse Satin $2.00 Yard
All silk—of good, heavy quality—with rich, lustrous finish of rare quality; 36 inches wide.

Black Chiffon Taffeta $1.49 Yard
Heavy all-silk taffeta with lustrous chiffon finish; 30 in. wide.

Rhama Crepe $3.69 Yard
A very serviceable silk-and-wool fabric in a roughish new weave that will drap most gracefully; 40 inches wide.

Fancy Printed Satins $1.49 Yard
An extensive array of beautiful new design in attractive color combinations for kimono and linings; soft finish; 36 in. wide.

Rhodesia Suiting $1.59 Yd
Very smart for one-piece dresses and suits. 40 inches wide; in navy, brown, taupe, cadet, black and Burgundy.

Wool Eponge $2.00 Yard
A very youthful fabric; 42 inches wide; in black, navy, brown, khaki and Burgundy.

Velour Coating $2.75 Yard
One of the most popular fabrics for winter coats. Tan and gray herringbone mixtures; also solid navy, deer, tortoise, polo and sorrento; 54 inches wide.

Normandy Coating $5.45 Yard
A soft, velvety, deep pile coating. In navy, reindeer, taupe, black, fawn and sorrento; 54 in. wide.

Plaid-Back Polo Coating $4.95 Yard
Double thickness and wonderfully warm? Blue, gray and heather mixtures with fancy plaid backs; 64 inches wide.

Wool Bengaline $1.69 Yd
Just the weight for one-piece dresses. Black, brown, navy and Burgundy; 40 inches wide.

PUBLIC SALE

According to experts, your general health as well as your state of mind are influenced largely by the way you use your legs. Persons with irritable tendencies invariably acquire the habit of crossing the legs. For them to keep the legs parallel is to invite a feeling of uneasiness. Brain-workers, too, find it easy to fall into the habit of crossing the legs. When overworked with work, this the favorite attitude. Engrossed with important problems requiring initiative, and the legs unfold. This is because the best train of thought happens when the legs are thrust straight out. Sitting with the legs crossed is also a frequent cause of obesity. If you wish to remain slim and possess a good figure, don't cross the legs. Instead, copy your cat, and stretch all you can. Habitual "leg crossing" may interfere with one's sleep. Instead of lying at full length in bed, there is a marked tendency to huddle. Then it is that the internal organs become cramped and their action retarded. Sound, refreshing sleep is checked, and you lie awake half the night. When it is time to arise, you feel you could sleep.

PUBLIC SALE

I will sell at public sale at my place on the Hebron and Linaburg pike, near Harvest Home grounds, on SATURDAY, OCT. 28, 1922.

The Following Property:
Ten good milk cows—all tuberculin tested; four sows and twenty-five pigs. Will also offer for sale the tobacco barn, known as the Hiram Long barn, and one acre of ground, on the Florence pike. The right to reject any and all bids on barn is reserved.

Terms made known day of sale.
JOHN CONRAD.
Sale to begin at 1 o'clock.

Misses Myrtle Beemon and Artie Borders, of Pleasant Valley neighborhood, spent last Saturday night and Sunday with Mrs. Lloyd Weaver.

King Constantine, it is reported, is going to live in Denmark. Then there will, sure enough be "something rotten in Denmark."

NO ONE APPRECIATES

The real comfort of a snug, warm SUIT or OVERCOAT as the man who does not own one. You owe it to yourself to dress warm and comfortable. As usual the Wachs' Store is well prepared to care for every requirement in Mens', Young Mens' and Boys'.

Suits and Overcoats.

If Quality, Style and Workmanship and Price interest you, we know we can please you. A large line of Corduroy and Duck Garments on hand.

Selmar Wachs

605 Madison Avenue,
Covington, Kentucky

Public Sale.

I will sell at Public Auction at my farm, on the Burlington and East Bend pike, 4 1-2 miles south of Burlington, Ky., on

Wednesday, Oct. 18,

The Following Property:

Two good work horses, 7 cows—all tested, 2 sows and pigs, Hampshire boar eligible to register, mowing machine, hay-rake, riding plow, Oliver plow, single plows, double shovel, hillside plow, buggy good as new, buggy pole, road wagon, harrow, log chain, pitchforks, cycle grinder, corn-sheller, 2-horse sled, drag, harness, bridles, 10 tons hay, corn, good cook stove, Bentwood churn, Linoleum—4 yds. square, gasoline stove, cream separator, 3 milk cans, cross cut saw, and many other articles not mentioned.

TERMS—All sums of $5.00 and under, cash; on sums over that amount a credit of 9 months will be given, purchaser to give note with good security, payable at Peoples Deposit Bank, Burlington, Ky.

EDGAR HENSLE

J. M. EDDINS, Aucr. LEWIS STEPHEN
Sale to begin at 1230 o'clock.

Subscribe For The Recorder.....$1.50 p

FLUSHING EWES INCREASES
LAMB YIELD, TESTS REVEAL

In six years' work, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has found that by extra feeding (commonly called "flushing") at breeding time, its Southdown ewes yielded 198 more lambs per 1,000 ewes than Southdown ewes otherwise given the same care and kept under the same conditions.

Good blue grass, mixed timothy and clover, or soy-bean pasture, if available, furnish the most satisfactory and economical means of flushing; but if a drought has prevented good pasture, a supplementary grain ration has been found to give approximately as good results in increasing the number of lambs as the extra good pasture. A ration of oats alone, or equal parts by measure of corn, oats, and bran in the amount of about one-half to three-fourths pound per ewe per day, is a good one to use.

Flushing increases the size of the lamb crop in two ways—it puts the ewes in better condition to make sure of their getting in lamb and it increases the proportion of twin lambs. Sheep breeders are constantly striving to increase the proportion of lambs born to the number of ewes in their flocks, but they have in most cases paid little attention to the condition of the ewes at breeding time. A little extra care, attention just as the breeding season opens will bring results next spring.

PROMPT ACTION AGAINST HOG CHOLERA SAVES HEAVY LOSS.

Watch for the first hog to show signs of cholera, advises the U. S. Department of Agriculture. If the herd is treated immediately it is generally possible to save the herd with but few losses. If the disease, however, is allowed to reach all the animals before the serum preventive treatment is applied heavy losses may be expected. Anthog cholera serum is a preventive and not a cure for hog cholera, the department points out.

Whenever a hog dies of an unknown cause the owner should watch his herd closely for at least a week, and if any more hogs in the herd begin to show signs of sickness, a veterinarian should be called immediately, for the chances are that hog cholera has reached the herd and prompt action in applying the serum is the only thing that will save the well animals. A high temperature, from 105 to 108 degrees F., in a hog that staggers when it walks, is a pretty good indication of hog cholera. Such hogs should be segregated and not allowed to mingle with other hogs or to wander about, for they will spread the disease wherever they go, sometimes in places where it is impossible to disinfect. Hogs that die on the farm should be buried, or, preferably, burned, in order to prevent birds, insects, and animals that visit the carcass from spreading the disease.

Usually the disease is most prevalent during the fall months and losses are invariably heavy in herds where owners neglect to immunize their hogs before the disease reaches them, or fail to call a veterinarian immediately on its first appearance.

POISON IVY OFTEN BLAMED FOR HARM BY OTHER PLANTS

Although poison ivy is one of the worst offenders, it frequently is blamed for poisoning caused by other plants says Dr. W. W. Stockberger, of the United States Department of Agriculture. The department has a list of more than 100 of such plants that grow in this country, and it is probable that there are others that may be poisonous to some persons. Not all of these plants are equally poisonous, and, too, there is great variation in the susceptibility of persons.

Because some of these common plants are used for ornament in the home is no reason to fear them and in the great majority of cases the irritation of the skin is mild. This would probably hold true of such plants as the tomato, geranium, daffodil, and many others that are known to cause skin poisoning. Such plants, though, as the nettles, are irritating to most persons.

In the long list of plants having these toxic properties are the following, which are well known, but not all of them generally known to be poisonous: Aconite, allanthes, asparagus, catapla, dog fennel, lady's slipper, wild carrot, hog, lobelia, oleander, nightshade, ox-eye daisy, pansy, pokeweed, smartweed, primula, buttercup, poison elder or poison dogwood, mullein, bloodroot, cocklebur, and the mustards. The pollen of the Easter lily has been known to cause irritation of the skin, but this is probably as rare as poisoning by leaves of the geranium or the carrot. Some of these plants are poisonous when taken internally but the list has been made out on the basis of being irritating to the skin.

Both feed and care of 1,600,000 hens giving no returns were saved in 1921, reports to the United States Department of Agriculture show, when farm women, practicing for the first time the methods of identifying nonlayers demonstrated by agricultural extension agents, culled these "layers" from their flocks.

The early bird catches the worm, and is often bugged by the bunter.

TOO MUCH RED TAPE SPOILS THINGS

In most everything there is too much red tape. In the army, the navy, and in fact most all the government, there is a vast amount of stuff to be handled when usually there is a near-cut to most all the departments. After a man has served in the army, has answered his country's call, fought like the very Old Harry, comes home all bent and broken, he believes he is entitled to a pension; he files his claim, then the wheel begins to turn out the three-l to make "Red Tape" and after the man has suffered untold agonies for the want of medicine and medical attention, is half-fed and half-clothed for many years, the tape finally is all fixed and he gets his $60.00 per month or twenty cents a day.

Not only in this department, but in all branches of business. A fellow hurries down into the city, he wants about thirty cents worth of goods; he runs from his car into the store, asks to be waited on quickly in order to get out a first. The girl behind the counter gets up leisurely and asks just what price stuff you desire. She then takes her time in getting it down from the shelf, or out of the showcase, and you anxiously wait. Finally you make a grab for the goods, laying down the exact change, but you have just bought it. It must go to the wrapper to be wrapped up, then the cash is sent to the fourth or fifth floor, you wait more, finally it is tenderly handed to you. Then you fly for the car, but alas, there hangs from the door handle or the steering wheel a little more red tape, and the next morning it is "Good morning, Judge."

System in all things is all right, but there is such a thing as going entirely too far. This red tape stuff, always reminds me of a young man who called at the house of a celebrated physician and asked to see the doctor. The office nurse asked him if he had an appointment and he told her he had none. The nurse then consulted the doctor's appointment list and said: "I think I can work you in after the patient who is now with the doctor. So please go inside that room and take your clothes off." "Take my clothes off?" "What for?" The nurse was firm. She said, "The doctor has made it an absolute rule not to see anybody unless that is done. It saves time." "But I don't want to take off my clothes" the young man insisted. He did not believe in this red tape stuff. "Well," said the nurse, "I am sorry, but you can't see the doctor. That's that." "I am game," said the young man, and he went into the room. A few minutes later the doctor entered the room and found the young man awaiting him, stark naked. "Well sir," said the doctor, "what seems to be your trouble?" "Doctor," the young man replied graciously, "I called to see if you would renew your wife's subscription to the Ladies Home Journal." There is just about as much sense in the experience of this boy as there is in many of the red tape business of today.

There is always some pleasure in going to lodge. We know before we go that we are not going to be bothered with a lot of red tape, and we know further, that when we get there we will not find a bunch of fellows running up to someone and shaking his hand and calling him "General, Colonel, Judge, Governor, Doctor" or some other sweet name. We know full well that each will be called by no other name than brother. We know too, that when the gavel is sounded that it means business, real business, with no flare or glare. We need not have any greater title, there is no name sweeter. It carries all the dignity that is needed. It teaches men that we are on a common level, yet, it is a high level, far above the grosser things of the everyday thought and actions. It blends communion and makes it sweeter and purer. It is the cement of love, stronger than any other title known to man.

FARM SHORT COURSE
TO OPEN NOVEMBER 1.

Lexington, Ky.—The first term of the annual two-term short course in practical agriculture offered to farm men and boys of the state by the College of Agriculture will open on Nov. 1, according to an announcement by Thomas P. Cooper, dean of the college. Almost 30 subjects including a variety in soils and crops, livestock, entomology, farm economics and horticulture will be offered for study, the instruction in these to be given by members of the regular college faculty. The first term will end Dec. 21 while the second term will open Jan. 2 and continue until Feb. 24. Either one or both courses may be taken.

Some of the subjects which will be given attention are: the soils and crops course include soil fertility, soil physics and management, farm crops, plant diseases, gas engines and tractors, sanitary equipment for the farm hygiene and sanitation. Under these various heads, the students will study why soils differ in producing power, how poor soils can be made to produce larger crops, what commercial fertilizers should be used and how, how soils have been formed, the manner of planting different crops, methods of controlling field, orchard and garden crop insects, stationary gas engines and tractors, and water supply and sewage disposal systems.

Just Smiles

No Concentration.
(Birmingham Age-Herald.)
"Would you call Mrs. Gadder an inquisitive woman?"
"Not unduly so, for a member of her sex."

"No?"
"After she has tried unsuccessfully for six months to find out the income of a neighbor something else is sure to attract her attention."

What More Would You Ask?
(Boston Post)

Mother—Billy, your music teacher is waiting for you in the parlor. Are your hands and face clean?
Billy—Yes, mum.

Mother—Have you washed your ears?
Billy—Well, I've washed the one that'll be next to him.

It's A Poor Rule, Etc.
(Boston Transcript.)

"Johnny," said his mother, "you should not eat so much between meals. It will take away your appetite at meal time."

"Don't see why it should," replied Johnny. "My eating at meal times never takes away my appetite for eating."

True To Form.

Samuel yompers said at a banquet in Washington:
"The millennium is still a long way off, of course, but the worker isn't the slave he used to be. Few of life's pleasures are denied to the worker today."

"A professional was giving a new club member some pointers in lawn tennis."

"Hold your racket loosely, sir," he said. "Loosely, man loosely! You hold it as stiff as if you were a hod-carrier."

"But," said the new member mildly, "I am a hod-carrier."

The Higher The Lower.

A man asked for a Pullman berth, and was told that there was a difference of 50 cents between an upper and a lower berth. The conductor pointed out: "The lower is higher than the upper. The higher price is for the lower. If you want it lower you'll have to go higher. We sell the upper lower than the lower. Most people don't like the upper, altho it is lower, on account of being higher. When you occupy an upper you have to get up to go to bed and get down to get up."—London News.

Caught Him At Last.

The parliamentary candidate for a certain agricultural district was a perfect wonder. He was never shy of telling voters why they should return him as their M. P.

"I am a practical farmer," said he boastfully at one meeting. "I can plough, reap, milk cows, work a chaff-cutter, shoe a horse—in fact, I went on proudly, 'I should like you to tell me any one thing about a farm which I cannot do.'"

Then, in the impressive silence, a small voice asked from the back of the crowd:

"Can you lay an egg?"

The Ideal Neighbor.

(Life)
He is just old enough to suit the husbands and young enough to suit the wives. He has money enough to do everything the neighbors want to do, but not enough to make any of them envious.

He is busy enough to be an example to the lazy husbands and leisurely enough to make a good companion for them. He can lend any kind of automobile or garden tool, can play chess, checkers, cribbage, bridge, pinocle, poker, golf, swim, and ride; he likes to fish and knows just where to go for bait, canned or bottled. He can change a tire and start an unstartable car.

He admires everybody's children and everybody's house, lawn, pictures, books, cars, dogs and putters. He is the ideal neighbor. There is only one disagreeable thing about him. Nobody likes him.

IN THE WORLD'S WORKSHOP

Belfast has the largest rope works in the world.

The first oil-pipe line in America was opened June 4, 1879.

The International Chamber of Commerce is to hold its second meeting in Rome next March.

In 10 years the annual production of artificial silk yarn in the United States has increased from 1,500,000 to more than 20,000,000 pounds.

Labor leaders and health workers in Minneapolis are co-operating to stimulate the unions of that city to promote the health of their members.

In the United States there is produced each year enough soap to supply every man woman and child in the country with 21 pounds of this commodity.

Hall's Catarrh Medicine

Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE consists of an Ointment which Quickly Relieves all applications, and the Internal Medicine, a tonic, which assists in improving the General Health. Sold by druggists for over 40 Years. J. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

COST OF HORSE LABOR
CAN BE CUT DOWN NOW

Lexington, Ky.—With the harvest season almost ended in Kentucky, farmers can cut the cost of their horse labor by economizing in the feeding and care of work stock during the coming winter, according to W. S. Anderson, a member of the animal husbandry staff of the College of Agriculture and a well known authority on horses. Only a small part of the average number of work animals will be needed on the farm between now and the time of early spring plowing. This form of economy is especially important at this time in view of the fact that the chief consideration of the farmer is to reduce cost of production and of operation.

"Work stock in the early fall months will do well with a third to a half grain ration and access to a good pasture field. The grain can be gradually lessened until the animals are consuming only the roughage of the pasture which may be supplemented by stover, straw or rough hays. If a shed can be provided so that the work stock can go into it to protect themselves from severe storms, they will do well the entire winter running at large in a boudary. As cold weather comes on and grass disappears, some suitable roughage must be provided. Access to a straw or hay stack or plenty of corn stover will enable the animals to go through in fair flesh. Some grain will be given, however, in the coldest and toughest weather.

"It is not necessary that idle stock be kept in stalls and fed like stock which is in the harness daily. Freedom of a field where plenty of exercise can be had and access to a reasonable amount of roughage is all that is necessary. This method of carrying work stock through the winter cuts off the big items of daily attention such as feeding, watering and cleaning stalls. A big part of the grain feed also is saved by this method of handling the animals.

"Horses and mules that will not be needed for heavy road work for some months to come should have their shoes removed and if their feet are strong to bear up, they should be allowed to go without shoes from this time until spring work begins. A considerable item of expense can be saved in this way."

Sued For $2,408,267. That Amount Paid Unlawfully For Planes, Is Charge.

Part of Money Used For Operation of Amusement Park, Cincinnati Federal Official Declares.

Dayton Ohio—Suit was filed in Federal Court here by the United States Government through Thomas Morrow, Cincinnati, attorney for the Southern District of Ohio, against the Dayton Airplane Company, formerly known as the Dayton-Wright Airplane Company, for $2,408,267.

It is charged that this amount was paid unlawfully by the government to the company on airplane contracts during the World War. Of the amount which the United States is seeking to recover, the suit charges that $849,830 was paid illegally by officers of the government to the Dayton company as a bonus. Interest on the total amount from June 11, 1918, is demanded in the suit. Seven contracts are mentioned in the petition. The suits attack the validity of every cost-plus contract with the government during the World War and this phase is said to form the basis of the suit against the Dayton company.

FRANCESVILLE.

(Too Late For Last Week.)

Rev. B. F. Swindler spent Sunday at James Beall's.

We are glad to report that Howard Ryle, who had diphtheria, has now recovered.

The Francesville school, which has been closed on account of diphtheria in the neighborhood, started Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reitmunn entertained Mr. and Mrs. James Noble and children and Mrs. S. C. Eggleston and children, Sunday.

Manlius Goodridge and son, and Misses Emma and Mary Francis Goodridge spent Sunday with Will Goodridge and family, at Hebron.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kilgour had as guests Sunday, Mrs. Lillie Garr and Lottie Blankenbaker, of Louisville, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Aylor and Mrs. Will Reitmunn.

Mrs. John Cava, Sr., Mrs. Manlius Goodridge, Mrs. Sadie Goodridge and son, Mrs. Harry Kilgour, Mrs. Emmet Kilgour and two children, and Mrs. Frank Aylor, spent Friday at Mrs. Will Reitmunn's.

Thomas Nettles who has lived for the last two years on Andy Muntz's farm, passed away last Friday morning, Sept. 29th. He has been in ill health for several months. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at Bullittville church and the remains were taken to Petersburg where he was laid to rest in the cemetery at that place.

The critic says that Mr. Harding has never taken a positive stand for or against anything. That will be news to the supporters of the Bonus Bill, who had begun to suspect that the President was not entirely in favor of it.

Maybe Bill Hohensolern is planning marriage so he can get somebody to promise to obey him.

The Best Advertisement

IS A PLEASED CUSTOMER

Spectacles and Eyeglasses that Fit the face and fit the sight the kind we sell.

Phone South 1746

WITH MATCH, Jawner.

DR. N. F. PENN, 613 Madison Ave. - Covington, Ky

Efficient, Service and Economy

IS MY SLOGAN

C. SCOTT CHAMBERS

Embalmer and Funeral Director

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

Printed Stationery

AT THIS OFFICE

ENVELOPES, LETTERHEADS, NOTEHEADS, STATEMENTS

for business people.
for professional people.
for farmers.
for every one who wants to be considered up to date and going strong

THE CALL FOR THE FUNERAL DIRECTOR

pre-supposes a stricken home, and a call for sympathy as well as service.

Only one who responds in this spirit, has sensed the real dignity of his calling and the opportunity of helpfulness to his neighbors.

With this of course must be a thorough knowledge of his business, combined with wisdom in counsel and suggestion.

PHILIP TALIAFERRO,
Undertaker and Embalmer
Erlanger, Ky.

A BARGAIN

Cincinnati Daily Enquirer

—AND—

The Boone County Recorder

YOU CAN GET

both for $4.50 the YEAR

Send Your Subscriptions to the

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER

Burlington, Ky.

SIMCO
BUTTERMILK
EGG MASH

Makes Champion Layers!

Moulting Time--End It Quick

Hurry the Feathers, then Biddy can get back to her old job and lay the eggs you are looking for. Just now she needs lots of Protein—Feathers are 85 per cent Protein. She will find Protein abundantly in Simco Buttermilk Egg Mash. And in the most acceptable form—the Buttermilk fiddles her crum and makes her absorb 8 times as much Protein. Feathers first—Viva La Feather. Hens helped through Moulting Time with Simco will meantime lay better than usual—and then, when Moulting is over they will make a bee line for the champion class. Satisfied Simco buyers will tell you so. Take Home a Sack of Simco.

FOR SALE BY

E. K. STEPHENS, Walton, Ky.

E. A. STOTT, Petersburg, Ky.

WM. FROST, Constance, Ky.

FINEST QUALITY
DOUBLE STRENGTH
MADE AND GUARANTEED
THE SIMCO FOOD CO.

67 TRAINS TO HAUL POOLED TOBACCO SOLD

Magnitude of Biggest Burley Deal On Record Explained By R. E. Beatty—Hogheads Would Reach 50 Miles

Lexington, Ky.—Some idea of the magnitude of the deal by which the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., takes over practically all the holdings of the 1921 crop in the hands of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association may be gathered from figures given out by Warehouse Manager Robert E. Beatty, of the Lexington district, last Wednesday.

Manager Beatty said that it would require 67 freight trains, of fifty cars each, to carry the 54,000,000 pounds sold, that the tobacco would fill 3,375 standard freight cars, and that, if the hogheads containing it were placed end to end they would reach for a distance of more than fifty miles.

Official figures from the department of agriculture at Washington, received in Lexington on Wednesday show that the Burley crop of 1921, not counting the association sales, averaged nine cents a pound more than that of 1920, as it brought 23.2 cents a pound, as compared with 13.37 cents a pound for the 1920 crop. This was paid in spite of the fact that the 1921 crop was inferior to that of 1920. According to the department report the increase was due to the movement to market tobacco cooperatively.

According to the report the average production per acre, in all parts of the burley district, was 855 lbs., to the acre.

In a summary of tobacco markets from 1916 to date, just made public by the R. M. Barker Tobacco Co., of Carrollton, and distributed to the trade, loose leaf sales show a gradual increase in prices from 1916 up to 1919 and including the latter year when the apex of $32.66 was reached. In that year Lexington sold 63,101,712 pounds at an average of $43.46.

The market summary covers every known burley market and the figures by years are as follows:

Year	Lbs. Sold	Average Price
1916	265,429,825	$16.68
1917	252,381,587	24.78
1918	329,638,370	32.06
1919	309,339,021	32.66
1920	297,493,340	13.37
1921	57,600,273	22.21

Members of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association say that the average of the entire 1921 crop will not be known until the last of the Association holdings have been paid for and checked up. The loose leaf warehouses are compelled by state law to report their sales monthly, giving a sworn statement of tobacco sold and prices received for it, but as this law applies only to auction markets, it does not require reports from the burley cooperative and, except for the month of February last, none has been made to the department. This was the first month of the association's activities and the tobacco sold by it during that month averaged $29 a hundred pounds, according to the report of Commissioner of Agriculture W. C. Hanna, who strongly commended the organization and said then that it was likely the growers in the association would receive more for their tobacco than the farmers who choose to sell outside the pool.

THE COMING ELECTION.

Boone county citizens must not forget the election that will be held Tuesday, November, 7th. You will find on the ballot under the Democratic device the name of Hon. Arthur B. Rouse for Congress. The Republicans have no candidate but the name of L. E. Keller, who styles himself an independent, will appear on the ballot as an independent. The voters of Boone will not look for that name but will vote for our own candidate. Mr. Keller does not expect the vote of either the Democrats or Republicans. He is the candidate of a few disgruntled fellows and agitators. The voters of Boone county will not support his candidacy, but will vote for Hon. Arthur B. Rouse who has faithfully served his people since he has been a member of Congress, and who has done more for his constituents than any man who has represented this district. He stands high at Washington and the citizens of Boone county are proud to know that he was born and reared in our county. "I will give him a large vote on November 7th."

A Very Short Time

A very short time remains for you to list your property for taxation. Tax Commissioner Cason has been a very busy man since the first of July—visiting the taxpayers in each precinct in a big job, especially when you have to make two or three trips to see some of them. You can give in your list any day in the week at the office in the court house.

MAKING COUNTRY LIFE POPULAR.

Suppose you were to take 100 young men who have left country towns and have gone on to the cities, and ask them why they left their old homes, at least 50 of them would give as their reason that their old home was a "dead town," that there was "nothing doing" there, as they express it. They would find fault with the monotony of the old place and its lack of interesting life.

"You can't live on scenery alone," said one bright young woman who lived for some years in a beautiful rural neighborhood, but finally became disgusted with the quiet life and went on to a large city.

If the country people want to make their home towns popular, if they want to retain their young people to cultivate the old farms and put new "pep" in the business and civic life of the place, they must have a little more going on than these young folks will enjoy.

But middle aged and elderly people—those that take all their energy to make a living, and they can not devote their time and effort to amusing the young crowd and making them contented.

There seems to be a lack of initiative among the young folks of many communities. They complain bitterly that their town is "dead" yet no one seems to have energy enough to start something to make it more interesting. Instead of holding a meeting and organizing a football or baseball team, the young fellows will linger around the curbstones and exchange cheap gossip and watch the people that pass by. One of the biggest problems of country life is to provide leadership for young people when they get into this aimless and purposeless attitude of mind. But many country towns have solved this problem.

WEATHER PROHIBITS

The weather is considered by society folks to be the lowest limit of conversation. The man who can think of nothing to say except some seemingly wise and commonplace remark about the weather is considered zero as a talker.

Nevertheless, the weather is one of the most vital influences affecting community life. If it is favorable, the crops flourish, food prices become reasonable and human welfare is increased. But if droughts prevail or if there is an overabundance of moisture, then crops fail off, prices are high and business suffers.

People who live in the country are specially likely to get interested in the weather, as their minds are freer from distractions. The heavens above them are a kind of screen drama, which the contending forces of the air are forever playing their game.

The weatherwise man watches the conflict of sunshine and storm with fascinated interest. It is a kind of game of solitaire, and he pits his past observations against the uncertainties of a changeable climate, and wins if he is right.

The people who talk about the weather may seem dull and commonplace. But they have at least acquired a habit of observation and reflection. They take a vast body of phenomena, and they classify it in their own minds, watch the sequence of clouds and sunshine, and form conclusions as to what results follow certain conditions and appearances. Thus the skies are a kind of book in which many unlearned men have read. From them they gain not merely skill in forecasting weather changes, but they acquire a touch of scientific and investigating spirit. Good weather observation, though often uneducated, are apt to be common sense folks who watch closely the life about them and form somewhat wise conclusions.

HUGHES CARRYING ON

It was two weeks before the election of 1920 that Charles E. Hughes got into the campaign. It is now announced that during the last two weeks of this campaign he will get into it.

In 1920 Mr. Hughes got into the campaign by signing a proclamation to the American people that the only way to insure America's entrance into the League of Nations was to elect Warren G. Harding President.

In 1922 Mr. Hughes is to go to Massachusetts to speak for Henry Cabot Lodge, who two years ago invented the policy of repudiation of the League of Nations which Mr. Harding adopted and who, while Mr. Hughes was urging the election of Harding to take America into the league, was urging the election of Harding to keep America out of the league.

Harding was elected and America has been kept out of the league. Lodge was right and Hughes was wrong. Yet Mr. Hughes promptly took an office under President Harding to carry out the policy—the Lodge-Harding policy—of keeping America out of the league.

In that respect he has served the President faithfully. And now he goes to Massachusetts to serve Mr. Lodge by urging his re-election to the Senate.

A PERPLEXING PROBLEM

Three Youths Lodged in Jail Charged With Robbery.

Sheriff Hume arrested Irvin Martin, Edward Voss and William Tatterhall who attempted to break into the store of Lawrence Kenney on the Dixie Highway a few days ago. Sheriff Hume located Martin and Voss in Covington, Tatterhall had been confined in St. Elizabeth hospital where he had been receiving treatment for the wound he received while attempting to unlock the window to the store. The oldest one of these boys is just past seventeen, while the other two are sixteen. They were lodged in jail to await final disposition of their case. They reside in Covington, and just what to do with these boys is a problem hard to solve.

POSTOFFICE TEST

Arthur B. Rouse, of the Sixth Kentucky District, is one of the members of Congress making a study of the postal business.

The Post Roads Committee of Congress has arranged for the collection of data on the cost of handling of mails in several classes.

Several Kentucky cities will be included in the tests which are to be made, but a delay was occasioned because Uncle Sam couldn't see where the cash to pay for the tests was coming from.

A probe of the Post Office Department will find that a considerable saving could be made if there was less "government business" and more business for the government transmitted.

Representative Rouse has taken the stand that there is too much free government stuff going through the mails, needlessly increasing the cost of handling of the mails.—Kentucky Post.

RAINS ARE HELP

Good showers near the end of the week ending October 10 caused an improvement in pastures and insured germination of grain recently sown, according to a summary of weather and crop conditions for that period, issued by J. L. Kendall, meteorologist, for the U. S. Weather Bureau.

"Considerable wheat and barley are sown during the week," says the summary, "but most of it was done in corn stubble, as the soil has continued too dry for much progress with plowing. Germination has been unsatisfactory, some grain dying soon after sprouting.

Better results are now possible in seeding and soil preparation, but considerably more rain is needed to thoroughly soften the ground, also for pastures, clover, alfalfa and for replenishing stock water.

"Cutting late corn and housing late tobacco is nearly finished. Conditions have been exceptionally favorable during the period of harvest for drying out the corn and curing tobacco. The result, corn will be ready to crib earlier than usual, and the color and quality of tobacco has been improved.

"Some late potatoes that are still green will be benefitted by the rains, but the high temperatures of the past ten days caused premature drying of the plants and a lessening of the yield.

COUNTRY INSIGHT.

A man who lives in a large city recently said that when he wanted to get a broad view of public affairs that would set him right on questions that perplexed him, he was not accustomed to go to any of his own neighbors. He liked to go back to his old home out in the country and talk these modern problems over with his relatives and friends out there.

He found these country folks were doing good reading and thinking. They judged public events by high ideals and were not carried away by facts and fancies. They knew what was going on too, and he often got inside information, as they questioned every visitor that came to their town about matters of public interest and were up to date on all questions. The intellectual leaders of the future will come from the country quite as much as from the cities.

Time Will Soon Arrive.

Soon the time will arrive when the boy, with his gun and dog, will put in his odd time scouring the hills and valleys in quest of rabbits, quail, squirrels, or, in fact, anything that looks good to try his marksmanship on, if nothing more than your favorite milk cow. But what care you for a little thing like that, when it so vividly reminds you of your boyhood days, when you—did the very same thing?

Woods are Beautiful

The woods now present a most beautiful appearance. Cool weather and Jack Frost excel any artist known in the land, and they do their work without loss of time or a mistaken stroke of the magic brush.

COLLEGE DEBATES.

The visit to this country of a team of debaters from Oxford University, England, to meet various teams of students from this country, ought to stir up interest in debating contests both in colleges and high and other schools. It is frequently complained that while the athletes are idolized, the boys that win the debates get only brief paragraphs in the newspapers.

A public debating contest tests a man's intellectual mettle. It is one thing to get up a fine sounding speech, but quite another to put together an argument that will influence the beliefs of those who hear. The men who have learned to do that have acquired a lesson that should open the doors of success to them.

Odd and Curious. Notes in Daily Press Everywhere.

Swiss insurance companies have increased their rates on women as much as 15 per cent. The reason given is that short skirts, high heels, and low necks increase the likelihood of a woman falling and hurting herself or catching pneumonia.

Michigan had a law which prohibited an unnaturalized citizen from possessing firearms. The State Supreme Court said it was unconstitutional on the ground that it was not right to give a skunk a stronger weapon against its enemies than a farmer might possess against hawks and foxes who steal chickens.

A Sioux City, Iowa, policeman had a great deal of trouble with a certain girl auto-stealer, whom he arrested and warned time and again. Finding his remonstrations of no avail, the officer married her to reform her. Speeding is said to be on the increase on the beats of marriageable policemen in Sioux City.

HOW FAME IS REACHED.

One of America's best known men died the other day, Rear Admiral Charles E. Clark, who commanded the Oregon when she made her famous trip from San Francisco to Cuba during the Spanish war.

The reason for Admiral Clark's ability to make a great emergency might be perceived from the note written in the journal of a member of the crew of the Oregon. This man wrote while on the Chilean coast on that historic voyage: "We all think Capt. Clark is going to be a ring-tailed snorter for fighting. I don't think it will be easy to whip him, he seems to be so quick to catch on to every little thing, he is all over the ship at once and he talks to everybody, stops anyone to ask them anything he wants to know about the ship."

This fellow, who had no special education, thus came pretty near saying what constitutes genius. The ability to handle a multiplicity of small details and make them work together to the desired end is the secret of attainment.

THE ROAD PROBLEM.

Unless the roads of Boone county are rebuilt we will soon be without public highways. If they are rebuilt the State will have to take over the main thoroughfares and the county will be relieved of the burden of keeping them up, and we will therefore have good roads at the State's expense.

It is an important question and the present road conditions are serious.

The bad roads are costing the county citizens thousands of dollars in repair bills of rolling machinery besides not being able to travel them with loaded wagons.

Quite a number of our county roads have received but little attention for years and it is up to the county and the people to do something with them.

Speak Well of Your Town.

To speak well of your town or county is to invite people to locate there. To "knock" the town or county and its people renders you disagreeable to those who have spent their lives in the town and county. Get out of the habit of knocking; have a word of encouragement for your neighbor and see if you do not feel better and sleep better.

Swiped Crank Off Ford

Some sneak thief went into J. J. Rouse's barn out on the Florence Pike, one night last week, and stole the crank axle of a Ford truck. A good load of buck-shot will put a stop to this petty thievery some of these nights.

Will Operate Blacksmith Shop

Frederick Birke, who has been working for W. A. Gaines & Son, near Idlewild, moved to Rabbit Hash, last Thursday, where he will operate a blacksmith shop. Fred is one of the best in the county.

Out-Door Sports Over.

The season for sports fair and other outdoor games for this year is over and soon the sportsmen will be giving their full attention to the Bob White and Cotton tails.

WASHINGTON COMMENT.

Washington Comment "If the great daily papers of the U. S. are not controlled by a power behind, which uses their influence for private and personal rather than for public and economic purposes, why is it that none of them carry criticisms against the honesty of the press when such are uttered by people whose experience and services to the country entitle them to be heard?"

The question is often heard in Congress. Senator Hefflin, of Alabama, said in a speech in the Senate recently:

"I am not afraid of the press. I am the firm friend of the honest press. God knows I would not hamper the press in the discharge of its duty, or take away from it any of its rights and privileges to give the news to the people, and print the views of those who own the papers; but I am against the scheme that some of them have of suppressing news of events of importance that take place right here in this Chamber, around this Capitol, that the people of the country are entitled to know about. Why is it that you never see a line about a lot of important matters discussed in this Chamber?"

This speech was reported in few if any of the great metropolitan dailies, nor was the interjection made by Senator Watson, of Georgia, with Senator Hefflin's permission. Senator Watson said, in part: "The time is coming when the press will have to be free if it wants to exist. This country can not live and tolerate a press which it knows is a hiring press. It will not pay for such papers. People will not buy from those who advertise in such papers, and the worst of the fight is lost."

"When the espionage law was passed and so many hundreds of newspapers were crushed by arbitrary orders of the Post Office Department, freedom of press was more in danger than it ever had been since our Government was established or since Charles Fox, John Grey, and John Wilkes had made their noble fight in England for the freedom of the press, and Thomas Erskine had made his glorious fight for trial by jury instead of arbitrary directions of verdicts by judges. That time is coming again. The forces of conflict are arraying themselves against each other again. That battle is irresistible. Nothing on earth can stop it and nothing on earth can silence the people. They are going to be heard, or we will have a revolution in this country."

The foundation stone on which America is built is liberty. Liberty of speech, liberty of thought, liberty of political action, liberty of conduct within the laws of the land, liberty to worship God, liberty from tyranny, oppression, slavery; liberty of opinion. Take away liberty and there is no United States.

A controlled press is a blow at liberty. A great newspaper is a public institution. Its owners, publishers, and editors have the American right of liberty to their opinions, personal and political; they have no moral right to attempt to color the thoughts of their readers by suppression or alteration of the truth. A newspaper which suppresses truth, or one which changes truth to lie for its own purposes is no newspaper, it is merely then a mouthpiece.

Great newspapers are expensive, they require vast capital to conduct. As such they can be controlled if there is interest enough behind them to buy them. But there is not money enough in America to buy and control all the papers of the U. S. The country press, the smaller papers, the weeklies, the county-seat papers, are too numerous and too red-blooded with patriotic American owners and editors to be bought.

Against the evils of a controlled press the American people must fight, and fight hard; the penalty of losing the battle is to see this country a democracy only in name, an oligarchy in fact. In that battle the field artillery and skirmish line, the trench diggers and the advance guard is the country press.

The flame of truth is white hot and fatal to evil. Lucky the people who read the journal of a man unafraid of its heat; fortunate the editor who can look his readers in the face and say "I keep the holy fire."

LITTLE COUNTRY SCHOOL.

Parents sometimes complain that their children do not get along so well in a small rural school as they might in some big city building where the name of the teacher is known to all.

They think there is inspiration in numbers and that the competition of large classes would stir up their own slow moving youngsters.

But if they were to move their children into such a school, they might be disappointed. In such crowded classes each child gets only a slight fraction of the teacher's time. Many children are swallowed up and ignored in the congested rooms of city schools, and many fail of correct development because the teacher is too busy to look after them.

A WEEK'S NEWS.

Over in Ohio they are going to vote again this fall on the wet and dry issue. Voting on this issue has become one of the leading industries in the Buckeye State. The vote this year will be on the modification of the Volstead Act to the extent of permitting the sale of light wines and beer containing 2.75 per cent. alcohol. If the wets are successful one can legally manufacture and sell light wine and beer in the Buckeye State without violating the state prohibition law. But the federal law prohibits the very thing the state law will sanction. If a straw vote being conducted by Cincinnati's leading newspaper is a real straw showing which way the wind blows, the wets will win overwhelmingly. But they won't get their drinks.

"This is the way an exchange puts it: 'The pawpaws have been yellowed by the first touch of frost. The crop through Kentucky is abundant. Wild grapes are also ripe; persimmons are plentiful; walnut trees are breaking down with the weight of nuts; 'possums are as numerous as the hair on a coon dog's back, the frost is on the pumpkin and the corn is in the shock; and the colored population will at once proceed to become happy and greasy.'

J. L. Stephens, of Lawrenceburg, Indiana, and Everett Rye, of East Bend, were transacting business in Burlington, last Friday. Mr. Stephens was one of the Commissioners of Boone county about thirty years ago, being elected to that office just after the new court house was built.

Either Mr. Hughes is a much changed man since he got deep into politics, or the American people were much mistaken in their conception of him a few years ago as a man of rooted convictions and stalwart courage to stand by them.—Ex.

Lloyd Weaver harvested a very fine crop of Bull Moose potatoes last week. He dug from one hill one last week 35 potatoes, 15 of which were extra large ones and the remainder were as large as hen eggs.

The Boone County Banker's Association will meet in Burlington Friday October 20th, for the purpose of electing officers and transacting other business of importance. All banks should be represented.

Tobacco should be housed away from exposed places in the barn and stripped early as receiving places will likely be opened a month earlier, if people have season for stripping.

Don't wait until you lose a good horse or some other stock and then regret your farm—put now. Send the Recorder 50 cents and have your name in the list of those posted.

The dirt roads were never known to be in better condition than they are this fall. It has been dry ever since spring, and they have become thoroughly packed.

Miss Graham Roberts, of Walton, was the guest of W. R. Rogers and sisters, Misses Sallie and Elizabeth, several days the latter part of last week.

Mrs. R. S. Cowen, who fell down a flight of stairs at her home a week or ten days ago, and badly bruised herself, is able to be up and about again.

Coal is selling today at 47 cents per bushel delivered. It will pay to burn some old thickets and burn wood at least until towards spring.

The frost is upon the pumpkin vines; the fodder is in the shock, and those who have coal in the house, had better keep it locked.

"The melancholy days have come; the saddest of the year." You can neither get a whisky punch, or a glass of lager beer.

Speculators have begun to offer attractive price for best crops of burley tobacco which is making the growers feel good.

Now is the time to lay in a few sacks of potatoes for the winter. Indications are that prices will go higher.

Some of the real estate agents were kept busy several days the past week showing farms to prospective buyers.

The work of removing the dirt for the basement under the Baptist church is progressing rapidly.

Just enough people left in Burlington, last Thursday, to get up a game of horseshoe pitching.

For the past week or more fires have felt very comfortable.

FLICKERTOWN.

John Walton is filling his silo this week.

Herbert Snyder visited at Finn Bros. Sunday.

Wilber Snyder was shopping in the city, Saturday.

The city people have begun gathering the walnut crop.

Dawson Day and family visited near Idlewild, Sunday.

Edward Maxwell has been on the sick list for several days.

Henry Deck and wife have a little son born Thursday night.

John Finn visited his brothers, Russell and Aubrey, Sunday.

The Ladies Aid Society met with Mrs. Fannie Gaines, Thursday.

Mrs. F. M. Voshell and son Leroy, were shopping in Aurora, Saturday.

Owen Utz and son, Onie, visited James Minor Saturday and Sunday.

James Snyder and wife were visiting in Lawrenceburg, Indiana, last Sunday.

Roy Mullen wife and children taken dinner with Miss Alice White, last Sunday.

Jasper Utz returned home Sunday, after two months stay on lower Woolper.

The frost almost ruined the late tobacco that was not cut in this neighborhood.

Leland Snyder and family visited Ransom Ryle and family, near Watertown, Sunday.

Ed. Berkshire and wife were here one day last week making trouble with the finny tribe.

Mr. W. T. White and family, of Williamstown, spent Saturday night with J. W. White and family.

J. W. White and wife and W. T. White and family, taken dinner with Russell Finn and wife, Sunday.

quite a number for this neighborhood attended the ball game at Burlington Saturday afternoon.

J. W. White and family entertained with a chicken soup Saturday night. Seventy-five were present. All ate hearty of the soup. The young folks danced and played party games until 12 o'clock, then all departed for home. All reported a good time.

GRANT R. D.

Mrs. Ira Smith is at Union at the bedside of her mother, who is very ill.

Robert Smith and wife, of East Bend, have a baby boy—Howard Edward.

Reuben Hager and wife, of Cincinnati, visited his relatives in East Bend, Sunday.

Fred Birkle and family are now residents of Rabbit Hash, and the blacksmith shop is running in full blast.

Rev. Whitaker is conducting a meeting at the East Bend Methodist church. His sermons are very clear and logical.

We extend our sympathy to Chas. Bachelor and wife, and to Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Clements and wife in the loss of their infant children recently.

Chas. Craig and family visited his father in Rising Sun, Sunday.

Miss Mary Craig, who recently married Harold Richmond, will leave soon with her husband for their future home in Indianapolis.

Those on the honor roll at Maple Hill school for the first month are Ida Mae Wilson, Helen Clore, Coretta Ryle, Ethel Merick, Elizabeth Craig, Hazel Clore, Sadie Craig, Fay Conner, Fay Craddock, Gladys Kelly, Martha Pope, Vernon Smith, Emerson Pope, Martin Williamson, Ivan Ryle and Jennings Craig. Ida M. Wilson and Coretta Rice missed no words in spelling during the month.

UNION.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Newman entertained several guests Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Holtzworth spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. H. Senour.

Mrs. S. C. Hicks, who is at the hospital for treatment, is improving very nicely.

Mrs. J. W. Criswell has returned home after a few days' visit with her parents, near Cynthia.

Mrs. J. T. Bristow and daughter Sue, and niece, Anna Mae, were in the city shopping, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Garber and Babe and Hazel L. Criswell, attended the oyster supper at Florence, Saturday night.

Honor Roll of Union Graded School.

GRADE ONE
Johnye Dickerson.
J. M. Huey.
Marie Carroll Head.

SECOND GRADE
Harry Glenn Dickerson.
Anna Eliza Gossett.

THIRD GRADE
Hattie Mae Carpenter.

FOURTH GRADE
Elberta Ryle.
Lassing Huey.
Mae Huey.
Forest Marsh.

SIXTH GRADE
Mildred Williams.
Virginia Carpenter.

EIGHTH GRADE
Agnes Afterkirk.
Ralph Barlow.
Ethel Williams.
La Verne Sullivan.
James Feldhaus.

GRADE NINE
Elizabeth Weaver.

GRADE ELEVEN
Anna Mae Bristow.
Eude Katherine Bristow.
Virginia Ute.

RADIO RALF AND HIS FRIENDS---

By JACK WILSON

Copyright 1922 by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate

ARE YOU A MEMBER

Of the great farmer's organization that has just sold 54,000,000 POUNDS OF BURLEY TOBACCO IN ONE SALE AND TO ONE CONCERN?

THIS SALE practically cleaned up the 1921 crop and at very satisfactory prices. We are, therefore, in a very strong position for handling the 1922 crop and our success is assured.

55,000 GROWERS stuck together this past season and saved the day for all of you.

70,000 GROWERS are now banded together in the determination to bring about Better Living Conditions for their families, and they make this

FINAL APPEAL TO NON-MEMBERS

To sign up before November 6 and lend their strength to this great cause.

WE WANT EVERY TOBACCO GROWER IN THE ASSOCIATION.

Our interests are identical. We seek to market tobacco in such a way that you will get the profit, instead of dividing it with speculators, pinhookers and loose leaf warehousemen.

STANDING ALONE YOU CAN DO NOTHING.

UNITED, the banks of the Burley district, your merchants and the United States government, itself, will back you as they have backed us in the past year.

BEWARE OF FALSE PROPAGANDA being circulated by those who seek to continue living off your work, as they have lived in past years. Didn't they tell you that our holdings could not be sold? Their other statements are just as far from the truth.

RESULTS ARE WHAT COUNT, and the accomplishments of this organization during its first year of operation should convince the most skeptical that

CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING IS THE SOLUTION OF THE TOBACCO GROWERS' PROBLEM.

Therefore, we

RESPECTFULLY INVITE YOU TO SIGN

A contract and become a member, with all the rights and privileges of our present membership. Write this office for a contract at once, or secure one from your neighbor.

DON'T WAIT TO BE SOLICITED,

For we may not have an opportunity to visit our growers in the short time from now until November 6

BETTER TIMES HAVE COME--WON'T YOU HELP TO CONTINUE THEM?

Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-Operative Association,

(Incorporated)

620 South Broadway,

Lexington, Kentucky.

FOR SALE ETC

For Sale—Buggy and harness in first-class condition. Price $50.00. Luke Bros., Burlington, Ky., R. D. 1. Wm. T. Ryle farm. 1t—pd

For Sale—35 Chesterwhite pigs. M. Tate, Erlanger, Ky., R. D. 5. Box 4. o26oct—2t

For Sale—Twenty Big Type Poland China pigs—seven of these will weigh from 50 to 60 pounds each. H. S. Dixon, Erlanger, Ky. 1t

For Sale—Square Piano. Telephone Consolidated Burlington 130. 1t

Wanted—Tenant for 1923. Apply to B. E. Aylor, Burlington, Ky. 1t—pd

AGENTS WANTED

New home beverage, delightful and refreshing. Something new. Big earnings for hustler. Exclusive territory. Write at once. CROWN MALT EXTRACT CO., 125 E. McMicken Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio.

LOST

Ladies hand bag containing ladies gold watch, also five dollars in gold money in two pieces. If found return to Mrs. F. F. Robinson, Richmond, Ky.

For Sale—Seven shoats, will weigh about 75 lbs., each, also good rubber tired buggy. Franklin Rouse, Burlington R. D. 2. 1t—pd

APPLES, APPLES!

For Sale—Such varieties as Jonathan, King David, Black Ben, York Imperial and Champion. Priced RIGHT. B. T. Kelly, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 2. o19oct—pd

APPLES FOR SALE

Roman Beauty's, Kelly's Favorite, Pippins. SWEET CIDER. F. Easton, Burlington R. D. 1. o19oct—pd

The Tri-State Pays Transportation 41c

—and—

Week Oct. 16 to 22d incl. Per pound Butterfat

"I have always shipped cream to The Tri-State and always will ship it there because I get more money there than any other place."—Wm. Harping. (Printed by Permission)

Shipping your own can of cream DIRECT to The Tri-State will make you more money than any other work connected with the Dairy.

WRITE FOR FREE TRIAL CANS.

The Tri-State Butter Co.

CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Cash Capital and Assets $1,000,000.00.

For Sale—Registered Hampshire boar at reasonable price. 2nd premium at Florence fair. Call on or address L. L. Weaver, Union, Ky. o-oct19 3t—pd

We give 20 per cent cash discount or to reliable parties of the regular retail price on Columbia Grafonolas, Starr Grand Pianos, Upright Pianos, Player Pianos and Starr Phonographs. Free delivery made anywhere. Write for catalog. RICE PIANO CO., Aurora, Indiana. o-jan1

NOTICE.

We have been appointed the authorized sales and service station for the Willard Battery for Boone County. Also de recharging and repairing on all makes of Batteries. Work guaranteed. DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO. Erlanger, Ky.

WANTED

Hay to bale. Prices reasonable. P. H. Mathews, Bullittsville, Ky. Phone 203-x 29 June 1f

FIRE WOOD FOR SALE

100 ricks—16 inch wood ready for delivery. Will cut any length desired, $3.25 per rick at Harvest Home grounds.

H. R. LEIDY, C. H. YOEUELL.

WANTED TO RENT

100 to 150 acre Stock Farm. Will pay cash rent. WILL S. NORRIS, Union Stock Yards, Cincinnati, Ohio.

L. C. Beamon and family have moved to their country home get on the Hebron and Linsburg pike. Ed. Hensley and family will occupy the residence they vacated.

THE HOME RADIO

How to Make and Use It By A. HYATT VERRILL

Copyright by Macmillan &amp; Co.

XX. REGENERATIVE RECEIVING SET

A regenerative set is one in which the wireless waves or oscillations entering from the aerial are regenerated and increased by means of the vacuum bulb and for this reason, as well as on account of other factors, it is far superior to any style of crystal set. Roughly, a vacuum bulb or tube detector is about thirty times as efficient as the best crystal detector and moreover, with such sets, one or more steps of amplification may be used, thus increasing the sounds to almost any extent. One of the great advantages of regenerative sets is that they will permit of tuning out interferences and the better the set and the more efficient the various units, the clearer and better the results obtained. I have already described how to set up a small regenerative set under "coils," but there are various other methods of arranging or assembling regenerative sets. One of the best is the set used with a vario-coupler and variometers which is illustrated in Fig. 55. By using two variometers and a vario-coupler, as shown, great selectivity of the circuit is obtained and by hooking on amplifiers and using a loud speaker phone, music, songs, speeches, etc., may be reproduced as loudly as a good phonograph. The only objection to such a set is that there are several adjustments to be made in tuning as there are the three knobs to look after. In making this set it is not advisable to attempt to make either the vario-coupler or the variometers, for while these instruments look simple, special tools and long practice and skill are required to construct them properly. Also, when purchasing these, select those in which the coils are not varnished or shellacked as these coverings invariably decrease the efficiency of a coil. The other parts required, aside from ordinary insulated electric bell wire, binding posts and a panel or base, are the vacuum bulb or tube detector; the socket for the tube, a grid-leak and condenser (which you can readily make yourself if desired), the rheostat, a variable condenser of .0005 mfd.; the six volt storage battery; B-battery and a pair of 2000 ohm resistors.

By studying the diagram, you will easily see how the set should be arranged and hooked up, but, if you desire, the wires may be altered to run either in other angles or directions, the main thing being to keep them as short and direct as possible and to avoid running them parallel or crossing them. The aerial A is led in and connected to the primary of the vario-coupler B, the other terminal of the vario-coupler being connected with the variable condenser C and the latter being connected with the ground-wire D. From the secondary coil of the vario-coupler E, one wire is led to the phone or receivers, F, a connection being made at G, with the storage battery H and the rheostat I. The other wire from E, is led to the grid-leak condenser J, then to the grid-leak and condenser K, then to the vacuum-tube grid L. The plate-connection of the tube M, is wired to the plate-variometer N, and from here the wire runs to the B-battery O, the other terminal of which leads to the phone-receivers, F. The whole affair, when finally connected and mounted on a neat bakelite or fibre base, should be enclosed in a neat case with a hinged cover, in order to protect the instruments from dust and disturbance and yet allow inspection or adjustment. Of course the adjusting or tuning knob and the outside connections for aerial, ground and batteries should be led through the case or box to binding posts on the exterior. If the whole set is arranged compactly and neatly and you make an attractive, well finished case, the set will be the equal in appearance, as well as in efficiency, of any ready-made set costing several times as much.

A Real Farm to be Sold

—AT—

Public Auction

22 1/2 ACRES

Situated on the Nicholson and Walton Pikes and the Cobb Pike, in Kenton county, Ky., about 2 miles from Nicholson and 3 miles from Walton. Rural mail and milk routes and telephone lines all at hand. Close to schools and churches and every convenience. This land is all in grass and lays well. I don't know where you could find a better little farm.

Saturday, Oct. 21st, 1921

At 10:00 A. M.

Has a nice 6 room dwelling and all necessary out-buildings. Has a large barn 50x60, one cistern, one well and good spring. This property will sell to the highest bidder no bid to be made and be on hand. We will drive you out and show you this farm before day of sale as we are proud to show this kind of property.

You may miss a Bargain if You fail to Come.

Reasonable Terms made known on day of sale.

A. E. FOSTER &amp; SON, Agents

Logan Foster, Auct., No. 3 Pike St., Covington, Ky.

All obituaries, card of thanks and all other matter, not news, must be paid for at 5 cents per line.

Bullittsburg Baptist Church.

J. W. CAMPBELL, Pastor.
Sunday School every Sunday at 10.00 a. m.
Regular preaching services on the First and Third Sundays in each month at 11:00 a. m.

Boone Co. Christian Pastorate

REV. C. C. OMER, Pastor.
Sunday October 22nd.

Bullittsville—

Bible School 10.00 a. m.

Pt. Pleasant—

Bible School 10.00 a. m.

Officers will have charge of morning services.

Evangelistic meeting will begin Tuesday October 24th, 7.15 p. m.

Boone Co. Lutheran Pastorate

REV. GEO. A. ROYER, Pastor.

Sunday October 22nd

Hopeful 9:30 a. m., Sunday School.

Hopeful 10:30 a. m., Regular Service.

Hebron 9:30 a. m., Sunday School.

Hebron 2:30 p. m., Regular Service.

Hebron 7:30 p. m., Young People's League and Teachers Training.

Hopeful 7:30 p. m., Luther League.

Hopeful 2 p. m., Saturday, October 21st, Council meeting.

Atty. Richard Northcutt, of Covington, was transacting business in Burlington, last Friday.

Since the recent rains stock water is now plentiful and small grain and grass are growing nicely.

The public sale of John Conrad's advertised in last week's paper for October 2th, has been called off.

Mrs. Fannie Rice and Mrs. James Kelly visited relatives in Erlanger and Ludlow, several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Gano, of Clifton, Ohio, were calling on Miss Mary Thompson, last Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Bunker and Mrs. A. B. Sanford, of Cincinnati, were visitors to Burlington, Monday.

E. C. Riley, of Dayton, Ohio, was in town a short time Sunday enroute to visit relatives in Idlewild neighborhood.

Miss Eunie Willis, who is a nurse at a hospital in Cincinnati, spent Saturday night and Sunday with her mother.

Mrs. Lucy Cloud, who resides out on the Burlington and Bellevue pike celebrated her 84th birthday last Sunday.

Boone county people captured quite a number of premiums on poultry at the Aurora, Ind., Farmers Fair, last week.

Martin Williamson, of the Locust Grove neighborhood, spent Saturday night and Sunday with Grant Williamson and family.

Rev. W. G. Tomlin, pastor, who is attending school at Wilmore, preached at the Methodist church, Sunday morning and evening.

Frank H. Rouse is attending the Masonic Grand Lodge at Louisville, this week. Mr. Rouse is representing the local Masonic Lodge.

J. H. Stephenson, of Florence, and L. K. Cropper, of Petersburg, are serving as grand jurors in the United States court at Covington.

Robert McGlasson, of Hebron, is in Louisville this week, representing Hebron Masonic lodge at the annual meeting of Masonic Grand Lodges.

The people who step on the gas frequently have to breathe it later in the form of an anesthetic at the hospital where their injuries are being treated.

Candidates for office in Kentucky are now demonstrating to their own satisfaction that the safety and prosperity of the country roads on their being elected.

Wallace Grant, of Trinidad, Colorado, who was visiting his father, Dr. J. M. Grant, at Petersburg, spent last Saturday in Burlington, meeting with many of his old friends.

Rev. W. W. Adams occupied the pulpit at the Baptist church last Sunday morning. Rev. Adams has been called by the Baptist church for full time, and they will have services every Sunday.

The coal situation here is not altogether bright. A large number of those who usually lay in their winter supply in the spring neglected to do so this year and they together with those who can only buy coal as they need it, are uneasy as to the outcome.

Newton York had on exhibition on the streets one evening last week, a potato vine of the Maggie Murphy variety, that measured four feet long. He dug from that one vine 9 large potatoes, 18 smaller ones and quite a number about the size of a marble.

The platform of L. E. Keller who is a candidate for Congress, contains a number of planks, several of which are so anarchistic and revolutionary that no one who looks to the welfare of his country can support. Not one citizen of Boone county should cast his vote in support of Mr. Keller and his radical ideas. No one can read the platform of Mr. Keller and then cast his vote in his behalf.

BASE BALL.

Petersburg and Burlington ball teams met on the grounds of the latter for the last game of the season Saturday afternoon. Managers Gordon and Kirkpatrick presented good line-ups and the large crowd present enjoyed the game. The Petersburg boys could do nothing with Black's delivery until the eighth, when they made three runs on a single, base on balls and Snellings 4-bagger, they had made one run in the 6th frame. The Kirkpatrick aggregation presented the Gordon aggregation with a run when Snelling was safe at first on an error followed by two other errors, which permitted Snelling to cross the plate in safety. Ruth opened the seventh with a three base hit but Black was equal to the emergency, and put on the breaks, and Petersburg could not get Ruth across the plate. Burlington opened up on Christy in the third when Black pulled one, for a nice single. Weimer was passed, Kelly doubled and Ryle tripped, and when the smoke had cleared away three runs had been chalked up for the Burlington nine. Another run was scored in the 7th by Burlington on a pass to Weimer, an error, and a hit by Ryle, which scored Weimer. This was a well played game and had to be called in the ninth on account of darkness. Games played in October should be called not later than 2 o'clock. A number of those who came quite a distance to witness this game were compelled to leave before it was over. The score by innings follows:

Innings 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9

Petersburg 0 0 0 0 1 0 3 0—4

Burlington 0 0 3 0 0 0 1 0—4

Struck out by Black 17; by Christy 9; Hits off of Black 5; off Christy 9; Three base hits—Ruth, Ryle, Brady, Home run—Snelling. Two base hits—Kelly, Weimer. Base on balls by Black 1; by Christy 2. Umpires—Clare and Graves.

Burlington will go to Petersburg next Saturday afternoon and try to win the game of ball that was called on account of darkness. The game will be called at 2 p. m.

The case of W. C. Watts against the Boone County Board of Education was heard on preliminary motions by Judge Sidney Gaines, last Saturday, to dissolve and set aside the order made, restraining the board from collecting the ten cent tax on the property within the boundary of the Hebron Consolidated District. The Plaintiff was represented by Atty. O. M. Rogers and the Defendant by Atty. W. W. Dickerson. The court heard the arguments of the attorneys, and dissolved the restraining order although, he said, that he was uncertain as to the proper construction of the statute authorizing the establishment of the consolidated school. The case will be prepared and the questions involved submitted to the Court of Appeals. The courts of Kentucky usually decide all questions seeking to improve the schools of Kentucky in favor of the better schools, and will not set aside anything done for the betterment of schools on the grounds of mere irregularities or technicalities.

This year's crops in Boone county have been growing under rather remarkable weather conditions. From the planting of the corn and setting of tobacco to the harvesting of the same the rainfall was so light as to be almost negligible. Yet we grew a fair crop of both. In fact many people say they have the best crop of corn they ever raised. All of which shows that a little rain at the right time is all that is needed in growing crops.

Little Miss Zelma Ave, who was operated on at a Cincinnati hospital, one day last week, is getting along nicely and if nothing happens will be able to come home in a week or two.

The sheriff has given everybody a chance to pay their taxes before the penalty is added, so if you have to pay a penalty it is your own fault and not his.

E. G. Cox, of Petersburg, was a business visitor to Burlington, last Friday.

Halloween Supper
The Y. W. A. of the Union Baptist church will give a supper consisting of oyster stew and other delicacies of the season, Oct. 31st, and will begin serving at 6 p. m., in Mr. Hick's garage.

LOCUST GROVE.
A number of relatives and friends assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Botts last Sunday with well filled baskets, the day being a surprise to the latter's mother, Mrs. Mary Brown. At the noon hour a large table was spread in the yard with all the good eatables of the season, and a pleasant day was enjoyed by all. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Jacob and children, Lewis and Ruth; Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Jacobs, of New Alen, Ind., Raymond Helms, of Guilford, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hopping and son, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Pierson and son, Leona, Mrs. Chas. Utzinger and children, Louis and Charles, Mrs. Robert Lyons and son, Elmer, and Miss Florence Criss, of North Bend, Ohio.

Burlington will play ball at Petersburg Saturday at 2 P. M.

*A million men have turned to
One Eleven
Cigarettes
—a firm verdict for superior quality.*

15 for 10c

"11"
cigarettes

The American Tobacco Co.

Comfort and Convenience.

The days are getting shorter and colder, and now is the time to think about Delco Lights, Arcola Heating Systems, and Hot Water Heat. See

H. R. LEIDY,

Florence, - - - Kentucky.

R. D. Phone—Burlington.

Will gladly give you estimates on any of the above conveniences.

Public Sale.

In order to close out a lot of useful articles, I will offer for sale at public auction at my place of business in Burlington, Ky., on Saturday, October 21st,

The Following Articles:

14 Good Stock Ewes	60 rds. 47 in. Woven Fence
13-yr-old Hampshire Ram	50 yd. High Grade Lawn Fence
1 good Buck Lamb	Several Yard Gates
1 Ford Runabout good as new	2 Glide-away Tracks for large barn doors, with rollers
1 20 Model Maxwell Towing Car	Enterprise Lard Press
Winchester Rifle, No. 22	2 Boss Coal Heaters
Stevens Rifle, No. 22	2 Wood Heaters
2 No. 2 Cream Separators	1 Extra good Man's Saddle
100 rds. 32 in. Woven Fence	Boys' Macinaws and Leggings
60 rds. 26 in. Woven Fence
100 pairs Men's, Womens. and Children's high grade Shoes, Men's Coats and Pants, Boys' Suits, in all sizes, Men's Hunting Coats and Leather Leggings, Men's, Women's and Children's Gloves, hundreds of other useful articles.

Come Early---I would like to start this sale at 12 o'clock sharp.

W. L. Kirkpatrick.

PT. PLEASANT.

Mr. Henry Jergens and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Getker, of Hebron.
Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Souther were entertained at dinner Sunday the following guests: Bro. Omer wife and children, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Smith and son, and Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Thayer and daughter.
The new lights at the church were well liked by all. Protracted meeting will begin next Tuesday night. Regular church services next Sunday morning in charge of the Deacons and Elders, as Bro. Omer is called away for that day. Come, come.

ERLANGER

There will be a social at the Baptist church Saturday night.
Floyd Ryle visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ryle and wife, Sunday.
Allie Corn and wife spent Sunday with Geo. Kreylich's near Burlington.
Mrs. Chas. Yelton and Mrs. Milla spent Sunday with friends at Burlington, Ky.
Mr. Chas. Crayner, of Florence, was the Sunday guest of Lynn Childress and attended church here.
Mrs. Will and Ben Houston and Artie Redmon, of Covington, spent Thursday with Miss Annie Crigler.

CAR SENSE

Spend
a Dollar
and
Save
Ten

Little defects grow into big ones in time if not corrected.

The correction of a small defect in its early stages costs but little.

When left until it grows into serious proportions its correction runs into money.

That is what makes the maintenance of a car so expensive to many people—neglecting the little things until they grow into big ones.

The better—the safer—the more economical way is to see the garage man at the first warning of trouble.

Today is always a good time to have it done.

EDDINS BROTHERS

TIRES, TUBES AND ACCESSORIES.

Burlington, Kentucky.

BRAKE BAND OIL—Guaranteed to stop Ford bands from chattering.

Agents for U. S. and Ajax Tires.

Established 1886.

A Bank Account

IS ONE OF THE FIRST STEPPING STONES TO SUCCESS IN LIFE.

How are You Stepping!

This bank invites young men and women especially to open savings accounts. Officials of the bank are pleased at all time to give the benefit of their experience to customers and others who seek advice.

When in doubt come to this bank. Your success means greater success for us.

Has it ever occurred to you that a checking account is a very convenient thing to have?

Boone Co. Deposit Bank

Burlington, Kentucky.

N. E. RIDDELL, President W. D. CROPPER, Cashier

W. A. GAINES, Vice-Pres. G. S. KELLY, Asst. Cashier.

RIISING SUN FLOUR

IS GIVING WONDERFUL SATISFACTION

Have You Tried a Sack?

The following merchants in Boone

County can supply you:

E. A. STOTT, Petersburg.

W. G. KITE, Waterloo.

CRAIG & RYLE, Rabbit Hash.

J. D. MOORE, Big Bone.

THOS. HUFF, Hamilton, Ky.

Insist on This Flour.

YOU WILL BE DELIGHTED.

COURTESY [SERVICE FIRST] STABILITY

Making a Selection.

In making a banking connection be sure that you select a bank that is large enough and strong enough to care for your every need in stormy as well as fair weather.

THIS—THE LARGEST BANK IN THE COUNTY—OFFERS YOU THIS KIND OF A BANKING CONNECTION.

Capital and Surplus, $150,000.00

4 per cent and the Taxes paid on Deposits.

We do business for our customers.

Peoples Deposit Bank

Burlington, Ky.

W. L. B. ROUSE, President. C. H. YOEUELL, Vice-President.

A. B. RENAKER, Cashier.

Nell H. Martin, Asst. Cashier. L. C. Beemon, Asst. Cashier.

Petersburg Theatre

At Petersburg, Kentucky

Saturday Night, Oct. 21st

"The Penalty"

LON CHANEY

At Burlington, Kentucky,

Friday Night, Oct. 20th

"Bunty Pulls the String"

RUSSELL SIMPSON

CHILDREN 10c. ADULTS 25c

War Tax Included Will Begin promptly at 7:30

DEMOCRATIC TICKET

For Congress
HON. A. B. ROUSE

As the Editor Sees It.

Chickens come home with painful results at times.
A wild and reckless motorist was in the habit of tearing through the country and terrifying pedestrians and other drivers by his terrific speed.

Protests only served to afford him greater amusement.

Recently he took his wife for a long distance tour, and proceeded to glimpse only the high spots enroute. The inevitable happened—and he took her home in a coffin instead of in a car.

The dead is entitled to sympathy.

Hard coal is beginning to find its way into family bins again, and the price is said to be considerably lower than the public was warned a few weeks ago that it would have to pay.

Such astounding generosity on the part of the coal barons is as amazing as it is welcome.

But is it generosity?
There are many jails in this country, and perhaps the profiteering "barons" have seen the handwriting on the wall—ditto the yawning doors.

Here's hoping they look again, and often.

Don't lose any sleep over the dire consequences that are predicted as a result of the president's enforcing of the prohibition law against foreign ships with liquor aboard entering our ports.

Ship owners on the other side of the Atlantic may boycott our ports for a short time in an effort to bluff us into letting down the booze bars for them and keeping them up against our own ships—a condition much to their liking and with juicy pickings.

But it will be only a question of time when they will be around begging for an opportunity to eat out of our hand again.

The American hand is too full to be long overlooked by the hungry and the greedy.

This country is in need of a greater respect for law and order. It is likewise in need of more officers who possess the honesty and nerve to enforce that law.

As long as VOTE spells "law" we will continue to be long on laws and short on their enforcement.

In the meantime, the people who put these birds into public office have no reason to complain of the things they don't do.

Prophets are having a hard time these days.

They may be a wise prognosticator in the morning and a d—m liar by night. They don't know how to predict, and yet they just can't keep still.

If you don't believe that this in the truth without varnish, just tell us what the allies and the Turks will be doing by tomorrow.

Within twenty-four hours you may have to save your face by declaring that you never said it.

Give it a whirl.

Germany declares she will not go into the league of nations until the United States does.

Now if Uncle Sam will just keep out until Germany has gone in we may be able to escape some of these foreign entanglements.

Fine. Splendid! Bully!

Many of life's lessons are taught on the athletic field. That is particularly true in regard to the advantages gained by the spirit of unity or "team work."

The youngest high school student has learned that his team can not win unless all play together. Many splendid professional ball teams made up of smart and snappy players, have lost out because the members had jealousies or were playing for their own individual records.

School and college athletic teams usually show a fine team spirit. They throw their last ounce of energy into the effort to win. They sink personal differences and loyally obey their leaders. They devote long hours of practice and think and plan for success.

If people will only put this same loyal and enthusiastic team work into the effort to advance their home towns, they could go ahead and accomplish results that heretofore have been considered beyond reach.

Exhibits of improved livestock and poultry at the county and state fairs this year were viewed with great interest by thousands of farmers, and as a result it is believed by livestock specialists that many new sires will find their way to the butcher's block, and pure-breds will take their places at the head of farm flocks and herds.

As we understand the situation in the Near East, the Allies want Kemal to get a bump on himself.

BITING OFF THEIR NOSES

The Attorney General of the U. S. rules that no foreign ship with liquor aboard can enter an American port. This is in accordance with one of the provisions of our prohibition law.

Whether that law is best for the country or not, is a matter upon which public opinion is acutely divided.

But some of our foreign friends have taken umbrage at the ruling and have threatened a wholesale boycott of American ports. They intimate that American tourists will find it inconvenient to journey to Canada in order to take ship for a trip abroad.

Foolish babble of irresponsible tongues!

They take it for granted that Americans can not exist without flocking over to Europe and strewing their gold broadcast.

Instead, they might with advantage to themselves reason thusly:

1. If other nations put into effect a shipping boycott of our ports there is nothing to prevent Americans from putting a financial boycott into effect against Europe.

2. America could exist very comfortably without any contact whatever with Europe.

3. European countries would find themselves mightily distressed if suddenly shut off from all financial aid from this country.

4. Rich Americans are foolish enough to spend their money abroad when conditions are normal. But when a foreign conspiracy is hatched up against our country it is quite possible even for people of wealth to line up behind the good old flag and tell all conspirators to go where it is warmer.

Talk sense, cousins. We are not all fools on this side of the Atlantic.

TRAVELS OF A DOLLAR

Consider the rounds of a dollar when spent at home.

The farmer receives it in exchange for produce he ships to the city markets.

He pays it to the grocer.

The grocer's wife must have a new gown, and it goes to the dry goods man.

That gentleman pays it to his clerk, and the latter hands it over to the shoe dealer.

Mr. Shoe Dealer wants a new suit, and the clothing man gets it.

A car goes on the blink and the clothier transfers it to the garage man.

The garage man is a pious sort of a bird and drops it into the collection box at Sunday morning services.

Then it reaches the church treasurer, and he tickles the palm of the preacher with it, and the ministerial gentleman slips it to the milliner in exchange for a hat for Mrs. Preacher—or as part payment therefor.

Mrs. Milliner needs some face cream, and the beauty parlor or drug store gets it.

Then it goes to another grocer for foodstuffs, and the grocer hands it over to the farmer for produce, and the dollar starts on another round of calls.

A sort of endless chain, you know.

But if the farmer had sent that dollar to a catalogue house where in heck would it be by this time?

Certainly not in this community!

Work never kills a lazy man.

KENTUCKY CATTLE JUDGING TEAM TENTH IN CONTEST

Lexington, Ky.—The dairy cattle judging team that represented the College of Agriculture in the students judging contest held in connection with the National Dairy Show at St. Paul, finished tenth in competition with nineteenth other teams from agricultural colleges over the country, according to word received from Prof. J. L. Hopper, head of the college dairy department and coach of the team.

The teams from North Dakota, Oregon, Iowa, Purdue, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Tennessee, Michigan and Cornell finished in the order named ahead of Kentucky. The Kentucky team was fourth in the judging of guernsey cattle and seventh in the judging of Holsteins. J. E. Humphrey, Lexington, was tied for first honors in the judging of Holsteins.

The Farmers' Fair which is to be held in Warsaw in the near future probably Nov. 3rd and 4th, is under way and final plans will be made on Monday evening when a permanent organization of farmers and business men will be effected. The plan proposed is to elect as permanent officers of the organization farmers and put some of the business men or commission men temporarily to assist in the fair. The plan is to make it strictly a farmers' fair and if beneficial to them with the organization in their hands it will continue in future years. Any and all farmers are urged to be present at the meeting Monday night and take part in the organization.

The real object of the Farmers' Fair is to encourage the production of better crops, better live stock and better poultry thus realizing a greater return for his efforts.—War saw Independent.

A military expert remarks that the Turkish situation couldn't be any worse. Oh yes, just suppose that Ireland were located in Asia Minor.

BEST METHOD FOR CURING MEAT WILL BE EXPLAINED.

Lexington, Ky.—Best methods for the home curing of meats will be explained to farmers in many Kentucky counties during the coming winter by means of meetings and demonstrations to be held by the extension division of the College of Agriculture, according to an announcement by Grady Schladt, swine specialist of the College, who will have charge of the work. The meetings, which already have been started and which will continue until the first of February of next year, will be confined to the eastern and western parts of the state. Curing by use of salt and sorghum molasses, which is one of the oldest and most successful methods known, will be advocated through the meetings. At the present time, almost two-thirds of the farmers in the state cure their meat by the use of salt alone.

The method which will be advocated already has been tested out and found successful by a number of farmers. Twenty farmers in Lawrence, Boyd and Floyd counties last year cured their meat by the sorghum molasses method while more than 40 farmers in Marshall county found the same method highly successful when they tried it out last year.

Some of the points which Mr. Schladt will stress in the meetings are: 1.—Be sure that the carcass is thoroughly cooled out as animal heat promotes rapid spoiling. 2.—Trim hams, shoulders and bacon neatly. Fat edges do not make a good cured product. They should be rendered in to lard or made into sausage. 3.—Put a heavy layer of salt on each layer of meat, or bury the meat in salt, as it is being packed in a large churn or oak barrel. 4.—Two days for each pound are required for a single piece to cure. That is, a 10-pound ham should cure 20 days. A curing day is any one in which the temperature is above freezing. 5.—After the meat is removed from the salt, brush off the crusty layer, wash in luke warm water, hang up and let drip for 12 hours. 6.—Smoke with hard wood, hickory preferred, for about six days or until the meat is an amber color. 7.—Apply warm sorghum molasses to meat until all pores are filled. 8.—Let hang several days before making second application of molasses. 9.—Wrap with heavy paper, then fifth muslin cloth. Make insect proof. 10.—Hang in dark, dry place with hock joints of hams down.

Some of the points which Mr. Schladt will stress in the meetings are: 1.—Be sure that the carcass is thoroughly cooled out as animal heat promotes rapid spoiling. 2.—Trim hams, shoulders and bacon neatly. Fat edges do not make a good cured product. They should be rendered in to lard or made into sausage. 3.—Put a heavy layer of salt on each layer of meat, or bury the meat in salt, as it is being packed in a large churn or oak barrel. 4.—Two days for each pound are required for a single piece to cure. That is, a 10-pound ham should cure 20 days. A curing day is any one in which the temperature is above freezing. 5.—After the meat is removed from the salt, brush off the crusty layer, wash in luke warm water, hang up and let drip for 12 hours. 6.—Smoke with hard wood, hickory preferred, for about six days or until the meat is an amber color. 7.—Apply warm sorghum molasses to meat until all pores are filled. 8.—Let hang several days before making second application of molasses. 9.—Wrap with heavy paper, then fifth muslin cloth. Make insect proof. 10.—Hang in dark, dry place with hock joints of hams down.

Some of the points which Mr. Schladt will stress in the meetings are: 1.—Be sure that the carcass is thoroughly cooled out as animal heat promotes rapid spoiling. 2.—Trim hams, shoulders and bacon neatly. Fat edges do not make a good cured product. They should be rendered in to lard or made into sausage. 3.—Put a heavy layer of salt on each layer of meat, or bury the meat in salt, as it is being packed in a large churn or oak barrel. 4.—Two days for each pound are required for a single piece to cure. That is, a 10-pound ham should cure 20 days. A curing day is any one in which the temperature is above freezing. 5.—After the meat is removed from the salt, brush off the crusty layer, wash in luke warm water, hang up and let drip for 12 hours. 6.—Smoke with hard wood, hickory preferred, for about six days or until the meat is an amber color. 7.—Apply warm sorghum molasses to meat until all pores are filled. 8.—Let hang several days before making second application of molasses. 9.—Wrap with heavy paper, then fifth muslin cloth. Make insect proof. 10.—Hang in dark, dry place with hock joints of hams down.

Some of the points which Mr. Schladt will stress in the meetings are: 1.—Be sure that the carcass is thoroughly cooled out as animal heat promotes rapid spoiling. 2.—Trim hams, shoulders and bacon neatly. Fat edges do not make a good cured product. They should be rendered in to lard or made into sausage. 3.—Put a heavy layer of salt on each layer of meat, or bury the meat in salt, as it is being packed in a large churn or oak barrel. 4.—Two days for each pound are required for a single piece to cure. That is, a 10-pound ham should cure 20 days. A curing day is any one in which the temperature is above freezing. 5.—After the meat is removed from the salt, brush off the crusty layer, wash in luke warm water, hang up and let drip for 12 hours. 6.—Smoke with hard wood, hickory preferred, for about six days or until the meat is an amber color. 7.—Apply warm sorghum molasses to meat until all pores are filled. 8.—Let hang several days before making second application of molasses. 9.—Wrap with heavy paper, then fifth muslin cloth. Make insect proof. 10.—Hang in dark, dry place with hock joints of hams down.

Some of the points which Mr. Schladt will stress in the meetings are: 1.—Be sure that the carcass is thoroughly cooled out as animal heat promotes rapid spoiling. 2.—Trim hams, shoulders and bacon neatly. Fat edges do not make a good cured product. They should be rendered in to lard or made into sausage. 3.—Put a heavy layer of salt on each layer of meat, or bury the meat in salt, as it is being packed in a large churn or oak barrel. 4.—Two days for each pound are required for a single piece to cure. That is, a 10-pound ham should cure 20 days. A curing day is any one in which the temperature is above freezing. 5.—After the meat is removed from the salt, brush off the crusty layer, wash in luke warm water, hang up and let drip for 12 hours. 6.—Smoke with hard wood, hickory preferred, for about six days or until the meat is an amber color. 7.—Apply warm sorghum molasses to meat until all pores are filled. 8.—Let hang several days before making second application of molasses. 9.—Wrap with heavy paper, then fifth muslin cloth. Make insect proof. 10.—Hang in dark, dry place with hock joints of hams down.

Some of the points which Mr. Schladt will stress in the meetings are: 1.—Be sure that the carcass is thoroughly cooled out as animal heat promotes rapid spoiling. 2.—Trim hams, shoulders and bacon neatly. Fat edges do not make a good cured product. They should be rendered in to lard or made into sausage. 3.—Put a heavy layer of salt on each layer of meat, or bury the meat in salt, as it is being packed in a large churn or oak barrel. 4.—Two days for each pound are required for a single piece to cure. That is, a 10-pound ham should cure 20 days. A curing day is any one in which the temperature is above freezing. 5.—After the meat is removed from the salt, brush off the crusty layer, wash in luke warm water, hang up and let drip for 12 hours. 6.—Smoke with hard wood, hickory preferred, for about six days or until the meat is an amber color. 7.—Apply warm sorghum molasses to meat until all pores are filled. 8.—Let hang several days before making second application of molasses. 9.—Wrap with heavy paper, then fifth muslin cloth. Make insect proof. 10.—Hang in dark, dry place with hock joints of hams down.

Some of the points which Mr. Schladt will stress in the meetings are: 1.—Be sure that the carcass is thoroughly cooled out as animal heat promotes rapid spoiling. 2.—Trim hams, shoulders and bacon neatly. Fat edges do not make a good cured product. They should be rendered in to lard or made into sausage. 3.—Put a heavy layer of salt on each layer of meat, or bury the meat in salt, as it is being packed in a large churn or oak barrel. 4.—Two days for each pound are required for a single piece to cure. That is, a 10-pound ham should cure 20 days. A curing day is any one in which the temperature is above freezing. 5.—After the meat is removed from the salt, brush off the crusty layer, wash in luke warm water, hang up and let drip for 12 hours. 6.—Smoke with hard wood, hickory preferred, for about six days or until the meat is an amber color. 7.—Apply warm sorghum molasses to meat until all pores are filled. 8.—Let hang several days before making second application of molasses. 9.—Wrap with heavy paper, then fifth muslin cloth. Make insect proof. 10.—Hang in dark, dry place with hock joints of hams down.

Some of the points which Mr. Schladt will stress in the meetings are: 1.—Be sure that the carcass is thoroughly cooled out as animal heat promotes rapid spoiling. 2.—Trim hams, shoulders and bacon neatly. Fat edges do not make a good cured product. They should be rendered in to lard or made into sausage. 3.—Put a heavy layer of salt on each layer of meat, or bury the meat in salt, as it is being packed in a large churn or oak barrel. 4.—Two days for each pound are required for a single piece to cure. That is, a 10-pound ham should cure 20 days. A curing day is any one in which the temperature is above freezing. 5.—After the meat is removed from the salt, brush off the crusty layer, wash in luke warm water, hang up and let drip for 12 hours. 6.—Smoke with hard wood, hickory preferred, for about six days or until the meat is an amber color. 7.—Apply warm sorghum molasses to meat until all pores are filled. 8.—Let hang several days before making second application of molasses. 9.—Wrap with heavy paper, then fifth muslin cloth. Make insect proof. 10.—Hang in dark, dry place with hock joints of hams down.

Some of the points which Mr. Schladt will stress in the meetings are: 1.—Be sure that the carcass is thoroughly cooled out as animal heat promotes rapid spoiling. 2.—Trim hams, shoulders and bacon neatly. Fat edges do not make a good cured product. They should be rendered in to lard or made into sausage. 3.—Put a heavy layer of salt on each layer of meat, or bury the meat in salt, as it is being packed in a large churn or oak barrel. 4.—Two days for each pound are required for a single piece to cure. That is, a 10-pound ham should cure 20 days. A curing day is any one in which the temperature is above freezing. 5.—After the meat is removed from the salt, brush off the crusty layer, wash in luke warm water, hang up and let drip for 12 hours. 6.—Smoke with hard wood, hickory preferred, for about six days or until the meat is an amber color. 7.—Apply warm sorghum molasses to meat until all pores are filled. 8.—Let hang several days before making second application of molasses. 9.—Wrap with heavy paper, then fifth muslin cloth. Make insect proof. 10.—Hang in dark, dry place with hock joints of hams down.

Some of the points which Mr. Schladt will stress in the meetings are: 1.—Be sure that the carcass is thoroughly cooled out as animal heat promotes rapid spoiling. 2.—Trim hams, shoulders and bacon neatly. Fat edges do not make a good cured product. They should be rendered in to lard or made into sausage. 3.—Put a heavy layer of salt on each layer of meat, or bury the meat in salt, as it is being packed in a large churn or oak barrel. 4.—Two days for each pound are required for a single piece to cure. That is, a 10-pound ham should cure 20 days. A curing day is any one in which the temperature is above freezing. 5.—After the meat is removed from the salt, brush off the crusty layer, wash in luke warm water, hang up and let drip for 12 hours. 6.—Smoke with hard wood, hickory preferred, for about six days or until the meat is an amber color. 7.—Apply warm sorghum molasses to meat until all pores are filled. 8.—Let hang several days before making second application of molasses. 9.—Wrap with heavy paper, then fifth muslin cloth. Make insect proof. 10.—Hang in dark, dry place with hock joints of hams down.

Some of the points which Mr. Schladt will stress in the meetings are: 1.—Be sure that the carcass is thoroughly cooled out as animal heat promotes rapid spoiling. 2.—Trim hams, shoulders and bacon neatly. Fat edges do not make a good cured product. They should be rendered in to lard or made into sausage. 3.—Put a heavy layer of salt on each layer of meat, or bury the meat in salt, as it is being packed in a large churn or oak barrel. 4.—Two days for each pound are required for a single piece to cure. That is, a 10-pound ham should cure 20 days. A curing day is any one in which the temperature is above freezing. 5.—After the meat is removed from the salt, brush off the crusty layer, wash in luke warm water, hang up and let drip for 12 hours. 6.—Smoke with hard wood, hickory preferred, for about six days or until the meat is an amber color. 7.—Apply warm sorghum molasses to meat until all pores are filled. 8.—Let hang several days before making second application of molasses. 9.—Wrap with heavy paper, then fifth muslin cloth. Make insect proof. 10.—Hang in dark, dry place with hock joints of hams down.

Some of the points which Mr. Schladt will stress in the meetings are: 1.—Be sure that the carcass is thoroughly cooled out as animal heat promotes rapid spoiling. 2.—Trim hams, shoulders and bacon neatly. Fat edges do not make a good cured product. They should be rendered in to lard or made into sausage. 3.—Put a heavy layer of salt on each layer of meat, or bury the meat in salt, as it is being packed in a large churn or oak barrel. 4.—Two days for each pound are required for a single piece to cure. That is, a 10-pound ham should cure 20 days. A curing day is any one in which the temperature is above freezing. 5.—After the meat is removed from the salt, brush off the crusty layer, wash in luke warm water, hang up and let drip for 12 hours. 6.—Smoke with hard wood, hickory preferred, for about six days or until the meat is an amber color. 7.—Apply warm sorghum molasses to meat until all pores are filled. 8.—Let hang several days before making second application of molasses. 9.—Wrap with heavy paper, then fifth muslin cloth. Make insect proof. 10.—Hang in dark, dry place with hock joints of hams down.

Some of the points which Mr. Schladt will stress in the meetings are: 1.—Be sure that the carcass is thoroughly cooled out as animal heat promotes rapid spoiling. 2.—Trim hams, shoulders and bacon neatly. Fat edges do not make a good cured product. They should be rendered in to lard or made into sausage. 3.—Put a heavy layer of salt on each layer of meat, or bury the meat in salt, as it is being packed in a large churn or oak barrel. 4.—Two days for each pound are required for a single piece to cure. That is, a 10-pound ham should cure 20 days. A curing day is any one in which the temperature is above freezing. 5.—After the meat is removed from the salt, brush off the crusty layer, wash in luke warm water, hang up and let drip for 12 hours. 6.—Smoke with hard wood, hickory preferred, for about six days or until the meat is an amber color. 7.—Apply warm sorghum molasses to meat until all pores are filled. 8.—Let hang several days before making second application of molasses. 9.—Wrap with heavy paper, then fifth muslin cloth. Make insect proof. 10.—Hang in dark, dry place with hock joints of hams down.

Some of the points which Mr. Schladt will stress in the meetings are: 1.—Be sure that the carcass is thoroughly cooled out as animal heat promotes rapid spoiling. 2.—Trim hams, shoulders and bacon neatly. Fat edges do not make a good cured product. They should be rendered in to lard or made into sausage. 3.—Put a heavy layer of salt on each layer of meat, or bury the meat in salt, as it is being packed in a large churn or oak barrel. 4.—Two days for each pound are required for a single piece to cure. That is, a 10-pound ham should cure 20 days. A curing day is any one in which the temperature is above freezing. 5.—After the meat is removed from the salt, brush off the crusty layer, wash in luke warm water, hang up and let drip for 12 hours. 6.—Smoke with hard wood, hickory preferred, for about six days or until the meat is an amber color. 7.—Apply warm sorghum molasses to meat until all pores are filled. 8.—Let hang several days before making second application of molasses. 9.—Wrap with heavy paper, then fifth muslin cloth. Make insect proof. 10.—Hang in dark, dry place with hock joints of hams down.

Some of the points which Mr. Schladt will stress in the meetings are: 1.—Be sure that the carcass is thoroughly cooled out as animal heat promotes rapid spoiling. 2.—Trim hams, shoulders and bacon neatly. Fat edges do not make a good cured product. They should be rendered in to lard or made into sausage. 3.—Put a heavy layer of salt on each layer of meat, or bury the meat in salt, as it is being packed in a large churn or oak barrel. 4.—Two days for each pound are required for a single piece to cure. That is, a 10-pound ham should cure 20 days. A curing day is any one in which the temperature is above freezing. 5.—After the meat is removed from the salt, brush off the crusty layer, wash in luke warm water, hang up and let drip for 12 hours. 6.—Smoke with hard wood, hickory preferred, for about six days or until the meat is an amber color. 7.—Apply warm sorghum molasses to meat until all pores are filled. 8.—Let hang several days before making second application of molasses. 9.—Wrap with heavy paper, then fifth muslin cloth. Make insect proof. 10.—Hang in dark, dry place with hock joints of hams down.

Some of the points which Mr. Schladt will stress in the meetings are: 1.—Be sure that the carcass is thoroughly cooled out as animal heat promotes rapid spoiling. 2.—Trim hams, shoulders and bacon neatly. Fat edges do not make a good cured product. They should be rendered in to lard or made into sausage. 3.—Put a heavy layer of salt on each layer of meat, or bury the meat in salt, as it is being packed in a large churn or oak barrel. 4.—Two days for each pound are required for a single piece to cure. That is, a 10-pound ham should cure 20 days. A curing day is any one in which the temperature is above freezing. 5.—After the meat is removed from the salt, brush off the crusty layer, wash in luke warm water, hang up and let drip for 12 hours. 6.—Smoke with hard wood, hickory preferred, for about six days or until the meat is an amber color. 7.—Apply warm sorghum molasses to meat until all pores are filled. 8.—Let hang several days before making second application of molasses. 9.—Wrap with heavy paper, then fifth muslin cloth. Make insect proof. 10.—Hang in dark, dry place with hock joints of hams down.

Some of the points which Mr. Schladt will stress in the meetings are: 1.—Be sure that the carcass is thoroughly cooled out as animal heat promotes rapid spoiling. 2.—Trim hams, shoulders and bacon neatly. Fat edges do not make a good cured product. They should be rendered in to lard or made into sausage. 3.—Put a heavy layer of salt on each layer of meat, or bury the meat in salt, as it is being packed in a large churn or oak barrel. 4.—Two days for each pound are required for a single piece to cure. That is, a 10-pound ham should cure 20 days. A curing day is any one in which the temperature is above freezing. 5.—After the meat is removed from the salt, brush off the crusty layer, wash in luke warm water, hang up and let drip for 12 hours. 6.—Smoke with hard wood, hickory preferred, for about six days or until the meat is an amber color. 7.—Apply warm sorghum molasses to meat until all pores are filled. 8.—Let hang several days before making second application of molasses. 9.—Wrap with heavy paper, then fifth muslin cloth. Make insect proof. 10.—Hang in dark, dry place with hock joints of hams down.

Some of the points which Mr. Schladt will stress in the meetings are: 1.—Be sure that the carcass is thoroughly cooled out as animal heat promotes rapid spoiling. 2.—Trim hams, shoulders and bacon neatly. Fat edges do not make a good cured product. They should be rendered in to lard or made into sausage. 3.—Put a heavy layer of salt on each layer of meat, or bury the meat in salt, as it is being packed in a large churn or oak barrel. 4.—Two days for each pound are required for a single piece to cure. That is, a 10-pound ham should cure 20 days. A curing day is any one in which the temperature is above freezing. 5.—After the meat is removed from the salt, brush off the crusty layer, wash in luke warm water, hang up and let drip for 12 hours. 6.—Smoke with hard wood, hickory preferred, for about six days or until the meat is an amber color. 7.—Apply warm sorghum molasses to meat until all pores are filled. 8.—Let hang several days before making second application of molasses. 9.—Wrap with heavy paper, then fifth muslin cloth. Make insect proof. 10.—Hang in dark, dry place with hock joints of hams down.

Some of the points which Mr. Schladt will stress in the meetings are: 1.—Be sure that the carcass is thoroughly cooled out as animal heat promotes rapid spoiling. 2.—Trim hams, shoulders and bacon neatly. Fat edges do not make a good cured product. They should be rendered in to lard or made into sausage. 3.—Put a heavy layer of salt on each layer of meat, or bury the meat in salt, as it is being packed in a large churn or oak barrel. 4.—Two days for each pound are required for a single piece to cure. That is, a 10-pound ham should cure 20 days. A curing day is any one in which the temperature is above freezing. 5.—After the meat is removed from the salt, brush off the crusty layer, wash in luke warm water, hang up and let drip for 12 hours. 6.—Smoke with hard wood, hickory preferred, for about six days or until the meat is an amber color. 7.—Apply warm sorghum molasses to meat until all pores are filled. 8.—Let hang several days before making second application of molasses. 9.—Wrap with heavy paper, then fifth muslin cloth. Make insect proof. 10.—Hang in dark, dry place with hock joints of hams down.

Some of the points which Mr. Schladt will stress in the meetings are: 1.—Be sure that the carcass is thoroughly cooled out as animal heat promotes rapid spoiling. 2.—Trim hams, shoulders and bacon neatly. Fat edges do not make a good cured product. They should be rendered in to lard or made into sausage. 3.—Put a heavy layer of salt on each layer of meat, or bury the meat in salt, as it is being packed in a large churn or oak barrel. 4.—Two days for each pound are required for a single piece to cure. That is, a 10-pound ham should cure 20 days. A curing day is any one in which the temperature is above freezing. 5.—After the meat is removed from the salt, brush off the crusty layer, wash in luke warm water, hang up and let drip for 12 hours. 6.—Smoke with hard wood, hickory preferred, for about six days or until the meat is an amber color. 7.—Apply warm sorghum molasses to meat until all pores are filled. 8.—Let hang several days before making second application of molasses. 9.—Wrap with heavy paper, then fifth muslin cloth. Make insect proof. 10.—Hang in dark, dry place with hock joints of hams down.

Some of the points which Mr. Schladt will stress in the meetings are: 1.—Be sure that the carcass is thoroughly cooled out as animal heat promotes rapid spoiling. 2.—Trim hams, shoulders and bacon neatly. Fat edges do not make a good cured product. They should be rendered in to lard or made into sausage. 3.—Put a heavy layer of salt on each layer of meat, or bury the meat in salt, as it is being packed in a large churn or oak barrel. 4.—Two days for each pound are required for a single piece to cure. That is, a 10-pound ham should cure 20 days. A curing day is any one in which the temperature is above freezing. 5.—After the meat is removed from the salt, brush off the crusty layer, wash in luke warm water, hang up and let drip for 12 hours. 6.—Smoke with hard wood, hickory preferred, for about six days or until the meat is an amber color. 7.—Apply warm sorghum molasses to meat until all pores are filled. 8.—Let hang several days before making second application of molasses. 9.—Wrap with heavy paper, then fifth muslin cloth. Make insect proof. 10.—Hang in dark, dry place with hock joints of hams down.

Some of the points which Mr. Schladt will stress in the meetings are: 1.—Be sure that the carcass is thoroughly cooled out as animal heat promotes rapid spoiling. 2.—Trim hams, shoulders and bacon neatly. Fat edges do not make a good cured product. They should be rendered in to lard or made into sausage. 3.—Put a heavy layer of salt on each layer of meat, or bury the meat in salt, as it is being packed in a large churn or oak barrel. 4.—Two days for each pound are required for a single piece to cure. That is, a 10-pound ham should cure 20 days. A curing day is any one in which the temperature is above freezing. 5.—After the meat is removed from the salt, brush off the crusty layer, wash in luke warm water, hang up and let drip for 12 hours. 6.—Smoke with hard wood, hickory preferred, for about six days or until the meat is an amber color. 7.—Apply warm sorghum molasses to meat until all pores are filled. 8.—Let hang several days before making second application of molasses. 9.—Wrap with heavy paper, then fifth muslin cloth. Make insect proof. 10.—Hang in dark, dry place with hock joints of hams down.

Some of the points which Mr. Schladt will stress in the meetings are: 1.—Be sure that the carcass is thoroughly cooled out as animal heat promotes rapid spoiling. 2.—Trim hams, shoulders and bacon neatly. Fat edges do not make a good cured product. They should be rendered in to lard or made into sausage. 3.—Put a heavy layer of salt on each layer of meat, or bury the meat in salt, as it is being packed in a large churn or oak barrel. 4.—Two days for each pound are required for a single piece to cure. That is, a 10-pound ham should cure 20 days. A curing day is any one in which the temperature is above freezing. 5.—After the meat is removed from the salt, brush off the crusty layer, wash in luke warm water, hang up and let drip for 12 hours. 6.—Smoke with hard wood, hickory preferred, for about six days or until the meat is an amber color. 7.—Apply warm sorghum molasses to meat until all pores are filled. 8.—Let hang several days before making second application of molasses. 9.—Wrap with heavy paper, then fifth muslin cloth. Make insect proof. 10.—Hang in dark, dry place with hock joints of hams down.

Some of the points which Mr. Schladt will stress in the meetings are: 1.—Be sure that the carcass is thoroughly cooled out as animal heat promotes rapid spoiling. 2.—Trim hams, shoulders and bacon neatly. Fat edges do not make a good cured product. They should be rendered in to lard or made into sausage. 3.—Put a heavy layer of salt on each layer of meat, or bury the meat in salt, as it is being packed in a large churn or oak barrel. 4.—Two days for each pound are required for a single piece to cure. That is, a 10-pound ham should cure 20 days. A curing day is any one in which the temperature is above freezing. 5.—After the meat is removed from the salt, brush off the crusty layer, wash in luke warm water, hang up and let drip for 12 hours. 6.—Smoke with hard wood, hickory preferred, for about six days or until the meat is an amber color. 7.—Apply warm sorghum molasses to meat until all pores are filled. 8.—Let hang several days before making second application of molasses. 9.—Wrap with heavy paper, then fifth muslin cloth. Make insect proof. 10.—Hang in dark, dry place with hock joints of hams down.

Some of the points which Mr. Schladt will stress in the meetings are: 1.—Be sure that the carcass is thoroughly cooled out as animal heat promotes rapid

ROONE CO. RECORDER

Published every Thursday
N. E. RIDDELL, Publisher.

Foreign Advertising Representative
THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Entered at the Postoffice, Burlington, Ky., as second-class mail.

The Recorder Stands For
BETTER FARMING, BETTER CITIZENS, BETTER HOMES.
ADVERTISING RATES.

Furnished on application. The value of the RECORDER as an advertising medium is unquestioned. The character of the advertisements in its columns, and the number of them, tell the whole story.

Hickory nuts and walnuts are said to be very plentiful.

The Recorder will post your farm for 50 cents entire hunting season.

A large number of motorists passed through Burlington, last Sunday.

Ezra Aylor, of Limaburg, was a business visitor to Burlington, last Friday.

Deputy Sheriff Herbert Snyder was transacting business at the Hub last Friday.

One more thing this country needs is fewer fashion models and more models of conduct.

Several coal bins about town have been filled the past week with coal at 45 cents per bushel.

Congressman A. B. Rouse and Attorney Chas. Strother, were in Burlington, last Thursday.

It is not expected that the government will have any trouble in filling the job of liquor taster.

The politicians are carefully counting noses to see if they can afford to come out for moral issues.

Cleek's Poland China Sale in new sale pavilion, rain or shine, Wednesday, October 25, 1922.

A large number of men feel that they would be able to get married if they could find a rich wife.

Send for one of Cleek's Big Type Poland China sale catalogs. He sells Wednesday, October 25, 1922.

The attitude of many employees on the liquor question should promote the sale of breath sweeteners.

The undertaking business will no doubt remain good as long as the bootleg trade keeps on brisk.

The students who use automobiles are not usually charged with over-speeding on the way to school.

So far no one has started a subscription paper to help John D. and Henry Ford pay their heavy taxes.

In spite of the benefit of physical exercise, it is difficult to induce the boys to turn the ice cream freezer.

The town that gets more trade than it wants, can always keep more from coming by letting its roads run down.

No one has claimed that the girls are wearing short sleeves so that they can wash dishes any more conveniently.

The politicians all stand for economy, but many of them would not oppose a movement to increase their own salaries.

The dirt taken out from under the Baptist church was used in making a fill on Nicholas street between Jefferson and Orient.

Up-to-date hotels are equipped with a machine which will clean, dry and sterilize 2,000 glasses and 2,500 plates in one hour.

Many automobile speeders think it is mighty queer that three year old kids show such immature judgment when they cross a street.

These fellows who steal fruit should examine the seats of their trousers to see whether they will hold a watchdog's teeth.

Kaiser Bill wants to die in Germany. He passed up the chance to do so when it was offered to him about November 11, 1918.

After she has got her money so depreciated that it isn't worth anything, Germany will no doubt hand it over in payment of her war debts.

Some folks would celebrate Better Homes Week with more enthusiasm if it did not carry unpleasant suggestions of cleaning up the back yard.

The poets are singing about the beauty of the autumn leaves, but what is most needed is some one who will rake up those leaves from the front lawn.

Many young people are attracting musical notice, consisting largely of the haste of the neighbors to shut their windows when they begin practicing.

GENERAL ROGER WILLIAMS
THE JOINS BURLEY POOL

Lexington Business Man and Former Officer on Militia and Army Puts His Crop Into Association

General Roger D. Williams, former adjutant general of Kentucky and an army officer in the Spanish-American and World Wars, has signed a contract of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, declaring that he believed it had been demonstrated to the satisfaction of every reasonable man that the co-operative marketing of Burley tobacco is "the only way" to sell it. "I think it is a good proposition," said General Williams, "and that every grower of burley tobacco ought to get in. I have been a little slow in signing myself, I will admit, but you can say that I am convinced that the Burley Association not only has done a great thing for all of us who grow tobacco, but that it has found the only right method of selling tobacco so as to eliminate the profits of speculators and others which rightly belong to the producers themselves."

"The Burley Tobacco Growers' Association, to my mind, has clearly demonstrated the success of its system of marketing. I signed the contract as soon as it was presented to me by Albert T. Day, of the Association."

"The Burley Tobacco Growers generally should congratulate themselves on the personnel of their management. With such management, composed as it is of men who know tobacco thoroughly, with a loyal membership, which the Association has proved it has, and the confidence of the banking and business public, it is evident to me that it is time now for all growers of Burley tobacco to come into the Association."

BIG ROAD-BUILDING PROGRAM AHEAD

Fifteen to twenty years of building good roads lie ahead of the U. S. Under the program which the country has adopted there will be built, during that time, 180,000 miles of improved highways which will constitute the Federal-aid highway system and an equal or greater mileage of State and local roads. When the great job is one, the transportation facilities of the country will far exceed those of any other nation, past or present, in the world. The highways of the ancient Romans, whose fame has come through the centuries, will pale by comparison.

Details of this vast road-building program are to be presented before the Highway Education Board at its conference in Washington October 26 to 28, inclusive, by State Highway Engineers and officials of the Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture, to whom has been entrusted the work of planning and supervising the construction of Federal-aid highways. The plan will be presented to enable the Board to proceed authoritatively with its work of devising aids for schools and colleges to which road-builders of the country are turning for competent highway engineers.

Officials of the bureau place the aggregate cost of the Federal aid program alone at about $3,000,000,000, spread over the twenty-year period. They base this estimate on an average cost of $17,000 per mile. The average cost in turn, takes into consideration all classes of improved roadways from the cheapest to the most expensive type. Approximately one-third of the proposed system, or 60,000 miles of improved highways, already are either built or building.

The program is a new one. Up to comparatively recent years, road-building in the United States had been conducted without special regard to a national system. Highways had been constructed where needed without considering whether they would like up in the most effective manner with the whole network of roads to be spread over the Nation. Engineers had sought more to meet immediate and local demands than the longer requirements of the States and nation.

The present Federal-aid road-building program, officials of the bureau state, will contemplate the construction of only such roads as fit into the national program and contribute to the national system. At the same time the roads will be so selected as to serve the most important local requirements. With marked modifications, the system adopted in building the railways of the country will be borne in mind in the construction of the country's new highways. There will be main lines of highway communication between centers and thousands of miles of feeder roads, reaching back into the more sparsely settled regions and into the rich agricultural sections, to tap areas whose population and products will flow over the new system.

New roads will be planned and built—thousands of miles of them—where they will fit in most advantageously with the entire program. The bureau is continuing its research work into most efficient methods of road-building, including the character and wearing power of materials, resisting qualities of varying subsoils, etc., and has amassed a considerable store of valuable information of which will be available for the highway engineer of tomorrow, whom the office is seeking to have educated in practical and modern methods.

"COLD IN THE HEAD"

An acute attack of Nasal Catarrh. Those subject to frequent "colds" are generally in a "run-down" condition. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a Treatment consisting of an Ointment, to be used locally, and a Tonic, which acts quickly through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces, building up the System, and making you less liable to "colds." Sold by druggists for over 40 Years. W. C. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.

FAYETTE BOY STARTS UNCLE IN PUREBRED HOG BUSINESS

Lexington, Ky.—A good example of how junior agricultural club work gets adult farmers, as well as country boys, interested in purebred livestock and better methods of doing things on the farm is to be found in the experiences of Clifton Ware, an 11-year old Fayette county boy, who is one of the charter members of a pig club organized in the spring of 1921 by County Agent W. R. Gahbert and the extension division of the College of Agriculture. The pig bought for $20 from Tom Powers, of Crittenden, by Clifton at the time he became a member of the club already has returned him $70 and in addition he has the original gilt, four boars and one sow. His uncle, Leas Darnaby, with whom he lives, who is now an enthusiastic and successful purebred hog raiser says, "If it hadn't been for Clifton, I never would have thought of being a land China breeder."

The business of raising purebred pigs began in earnest for young Ware this last spring when his pig farrowed nine little ones. Three of the gilts from the litter were sold to other club members for $15.00 each while one of the boars was sold for $25.00 to head a Poland China herd near Jackson, Ga. With the mother sow and four boars and one gilt from her first litter remaining, Clifton added another gilt costing $18.00 to his herd and at the present time has the foundation for a good start in the purebred hog business. That he already is meeting with success in his work is shown by the fact that he has won cash prizes on his pigs for the last two seasons at the Bluegrass Fair.

Clifton's uncle, Mr. Darnaby, became so interested in the work of his nephew that he decided to enter the Poland China business. Soon after Clifton made his start, Mr. Darnaby purchased five pigs and at the present time has a herd of 51 hogs after selling eleven. His experiences so far with purebreds have made him enthusiastic about the way they respond to good feed and care by putting on weight. Practically all the hogs in his herd carry the blood of prominent Poland China sires and dams.

The newspapers tell of a former newsboy who is now president of a Western university, but fail to ascribe any reason for the decline in his money-making ability.

A Michigan editor says that the Ford presidential boom was a self-starter. There are lots of other people, however, who think it was started by a crank.

Commissioner's Sale,

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.
Florence Deposit Bank, Plaintiff
vs.
John C. Eiler, etc., Defendant
By virtue of a Judgment and order of the Boone Circuit Court, rendered at the August Term thereof 1922, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court House door in Burlington, Boone County, Ky., to the highest bidder at Public Sale on Monday the 6th day of Nov. 1922, at 1 o'clock p. m., or thereabouts being County Court day, upon a credit of Six and Twelve months, the following property to-wit:

The said land is in Boone County, Ky., and bounded as follows:—Beginning at a stone in a line of Jacob Youell corner with Wayne Rusk, thence with a line of Rusk s87°40' 10.50 chains, to a locust post, thence s14°w 54°40' chains to a stone, thence n82°e 10.83 chains to a locust post, corner with John Powers and Rusk, thence with Powers line s14°w 9.24 chains to a post corner with Powers and Daniel Dobbin, thence with Dobbin line s14° 11.19 chains to a stone corner with Dobbin's and Jas. Rogers, thence with Rogers line and along a line of Youell n85°w 24.23 chains to a stone, a corner of Youell, thence with Youell's line n24°e 24.23 chains to the beginning containing 45.47 acres more or less. Also the following real estate to-wit: Beginning at a corner of Benjamin Stephens, thence along an outlet on the western side n24°e 1300 feet in a line with a drain post to the center of the road, thence s87°40' 20 feet, thence s with a parallel line 1300 feet to Benjamin Stephens, thence to the beginning, 20 feet, being same property conveyed to defendants by deed dated January 19th, 1920, and recorded in deed book 61 page 514.

Or sufficient proof to produce the sums of money as ordered to be made. For the purchase price the purchaser, with approved security or securities, must execute bond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a Judgment, with a lien retained therein until all the purchase money is paid. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Amount to be raised by sale $2,905.82.

R. E. Berkshire M. C. B. C. C.

The Roosevelt Hospital was opened at New York City, Nov. 4, 1871.

Trade Where They All Trade

$25.00 Cash Prize

to the owner of the oldest DeLaval Cream Separator. If you have an old DeLaval still in use send us the serial number, the size and date of purchase if possible, also state what service you have had from same.

This is a very simple and easy matter and if you have the oldest machine in Kentucky you will receive a cash prize of

$25.00

Sooner or later you will use a DeLaval. All hand sizes on hand, and will BE GLAD TO DEMONSTRATE.

Send us your orders for anything and be convinced that we can save you money.

Geo. C. Goode
GROCER & SEEDSMAN

19-21 Pike St.

18-20 West Seventh St.

WHOLESALE—"Covington's Largest Seed and Grocery House"—RETAIL

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Phones South 835 and 836.

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

BOSS GWINE ROUN' TALKIN' BOUT HE JES' EECHIN' T'
STAHT A GYANDEN --- YASSUH, AH KNOWS SUMPN'
BOUT DAT-- HE DOOS
DE EECHIN' EN AH DOOS
DE SCRATCHIN'!

Any Make of Battery

RECHARGED

75c

Rentals for any make of car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.

Dempsey Motor Car Co., Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

FIRST-CLASS Shoe Repairing

Mail Orders at My Expense.

All work guaranteed. Mail your shoes to be repaired to A. D. LAWRENCE, - - Erlanger, Ky. 37 Lexington Pike. o-deepd

PEOPLE FOR WHOM THE BEST IS NONE TOO GOOD

Are always the most enthusiastic concerning the excellence of our

Dry Cleaning and Dyeing

We have one of the most efficient

Remodeling Departments

in the country. Furs transformed into the mode very quickly. Men's and women's garments altered in any way desired.

Wedge for skins and remodel them in any way.

We tailor make men's or ladies' suits $50.00 up. Latest styles. We pay $2.50 railroad fare on every custom-made suit ordered from us.

Send quick return post. We have no agents.

THE TEASDALE CO. 625-627 Walnut St. CINCINNATI, O.

The Kaiser's memoirs conclusively prove that he didn't fail because of any lack of self-confidence.

TO THE INVESTING PUBLIC:

IT IS NECESSARY FOR YOU TO ACT ON OR BEFORE SATURDAY OCTOBER 21st.

In order to make certain the securing of

CINCINNATI FINANCE CO.

Stock at $12 Per Share

The Board of Directors has ordered an advance in the price to $14 per share, effective on that date. Take advantage of your opportunity to secure some of this high-grade financial security before this advance, which is being made because of the rapidly growing business of the Company and the showing of net earnings.

Subscriptions accepted for five or more shares, which can be purchased for cash or on our convenient installment plan of 20% down, balance in four monthly installments. Dividends are paid quarterly at the rate of 11% per annum on all cash or installment payments. Your money begins to earn immediately.

MAIL ORDERS REACHING OUR OFFICE POST-MARKED NOT LATER THAN OCTOBER 21st, WILL BE ACCEPTED AT $12.

Mail or telephone in your order for some Cincinnati Finance before the advance.

PLATT BROTHERS COMPANY

GEORGE W. PLATT, President FRED J. RUH, Treasurer
MUMFORD F. PLATT, Secretary

Investment Securities

Dixie Terminal Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

TELEPHONES MAIN 3108-7

Stop at The PALACE HOTEL

A home hotel—comfortable, large, airy rooms. Clean and economical. A safe place for your wife or daughter.

CINCINNATI, O.

ARE YOU A READER OF THE RECORDER?

Subscribe For The Recorder.....$1.50 per year

SPECIAL
Saturday, Oct. 21

"The Affairs of Anatol"

The Greatest Cast
Ever Assembled.

Wallace Reid
Gloria Swanson
Bebe Daniels
Monte Blue
Wanda Hawley
Agnes Ayers

Admission 30c-15c

Florence, Ky., Theatre

NONPARIEL PARK

Mrs. Wm. Arnold spent Thursday in Cincinnati, on business.

Owen Bradford and wife spent last Sunday with relatives in Union.

Mrs. Chas. Fulton spent Monday at Saylor Park, Ohio, on business.

Tom Nead and son John, motored to Indiana, Sunday to visit relatives.

Miss Maggie McAlister spent the week-end with relatives in Cincinnati.

Mr. Robert Houston spent the week-end in Covington with relatives.

Mrs. C. H. Norman, of Covington, spent Tuesday with Mrs. J. O. Carpenter.

Elmer Cahill spent Monday with Ben Michels, of Ft. Pleasant neighborhood.

Sol Sol Long will soon leave for the sunny south to spend the winter months.

C. H. Norman and wife, of Covington, spent Sunday with J. O. Carpenter and wife.

Miss Mary Utz, of Burlington, spent the week-end with Miss Pearl Marksberry.

Mrs. Stanley Lucas and Mrs. T. B. Castleman, spent Saturday in Cincinnati, shopping.

The many friends here regret to hear of the death of Mr. Ezra Rudicill, of Covington.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Fulton and mother will soon move to Saylor Park for the winter.

The many friends of Mrs. Mattie Wilhoit regret to hear of her being seriously ill at her home.

Miss Mamie Robinson, of Richmond, was the week-end guest of Mrs. Eva Renaker, of Main-st.

The many friends here of Shirley Corbin, of Hamilton, Ohio, regret to hear of his seriousness illness.

Sam Lunsford, of Erlanger, is building a four-room bungalow on Eastern Ave., in Nonparel Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Gebbard, of the Dixie Highway, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Michels in Ohio.

Mrs. G. H. Ellis and children, of Latonia, spent Tuesday with A. M. House and wife, of Dixie Highway.

Russell Yealey has returned home after enjoying a few days visit with Dr. Cole and wife, of Columbus, O.

Case Drunkenburg and Miss Minnie Cahill spent Sunday evening with Chas. Carpenter and wife, of Union Pike.

Miss Anna Dunade, of Walnut Hills, Ohio, is enjoying a visit with Mrs. Carrie Carpenter, of Union Pike.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Goodridge and family moved last week to their beautiful home they just had built this summer.

Miss Eva Renaker entertained last Sunday evening Miss Mamie Robinson, Clarence Carpenter and Vernice Chipman.

Miss Nora Cahill and Miss Mary Conrad enjoyed a visit at Greensburg, Indiana, with relatives the past week.

Chas. Chipman wife and mother, Mrs. Mary Chipman, were Sunday guests of Lonnie Baird and wife, of Erlanger.

Chas. Nead and wife, of Louisville, is enjoying a visit with his parents, Tom Nead and wife, of Bank Dick street.

John W. Utzinger and family, of Lawrenceburg, were the week-end guests of Chas. Beall and family, of Bullittsville.

H. Highhouse and wife, of Ludlow, spent Sunday with Ed. Osborne and wife, and attended church Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Arthur Kraus and son, and Mrs. Mattie Hoover, of the Dixie Highway, spent Tuesday in Cincinnati, shopping.

Emmett Baxter and family, of Reading, Ohio, motored over Sunday and were guests of his parents, Geo. Baxter and family.

Harry Brown and wife, of Covington, motored out Sunday and were guests of her father, J. O. Rolenis, of Shelby-st.

Mrs. W. L. Turling and son Wm. C. Cincinnati, spent the week-end with her parents, Joe Baxter and wife, of Dixie Highway.

J. G. Renaker and wife, Miss Eva Renaker and Mr. Milton Caldwell, attended the theater in Cincinnati, one evening last week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Murray and daughter, of Newport, spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kraus, of Dixie Highway.

Miss Elizabeth Bell Goodridge and Miss Jane Scott, and Miss Kathryn Bauers, of Villa Madona, spent the week-end with home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Kindard, of Erlanger, had for their guests Sunday, Rev. Wilford Mitchell and wife and Russell Mitchell and wife.

Miss Lottie Williams, of Cincinnati, was the week-end guest of her aunts, Mrs. Martha Bradford and Miss Bessie Talbot, of Main-st.

Mrs. Newton Haley entertained Thursday evening at her home with a shower in honor of her sister, Mrs. Earl Gray (nee Lucille Stephens.)

Mrs. Chas. Sydnor, who underwent an operation last week at a hospital in Cincinnati, for the removal of her tonsils, is improving very slowly.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bradford, of Shelby-st., had for their week-end guests Miss Martha Williams, of Covington, and Russell Corbin, of Carthage, Ohio.

A large crowd attended the oyster supper given last Saturday night by the ladies of the Baptist church. It was a great success. A nice sum being realized.

Mrs. Mallie Beemon entertained at dinner Sunday Lester Aylor and wife, of Hebron, Lonnie Acra and wife and Wm. Utz wife and mother, Mrs. Mary Utz, of Hopeful.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Glacken, of the Dixie Highway, entertained with a supper Monday evening in honor of Rev. Wilford Mitchell and wife, Russell Mitchell and wife and G. K. Kindard and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Beall, Sr., of Bullittsville, entertained last Sunday with a dinner. The guests were Jno. Utzinger and family, of Lawrenceburg, Ind., and Miss Minnie Baxter, of Nonparel Park.

Mrs. Mary Chipman will return to her home Thursday, in Dayton, Ohio, after spending the summer with relatives here. Mrs. Chas. Chipman will accompany her home for a few days visit with relatives.

Mrs. Chas. Chipman entertained at her home on the Dixie Highway with a dinner Thursday. Covers were laid for Mrs. Roscoe Boyce, of No. wood, Ohio, Mrs. Sorrell and daughter, Mrs. Sallie Dunaway and son Earl, of Elanger, Mrs. Clark Allen and baby, Mrs. Allen Grossman and four daughters of Crescent Springs.

Mrs. J. P. Boyce, of Dixie Highway, Mrs. Chas. McKindly, of Erlanger, Mrs. Mary Chapman, of Dayton, O. The members of D. & A. Lodge, of Erlanger, surprised Mrs. Cora Lalle Thursday afternoon at her home on the Dixie Highway with a shower.

About eighteen members were present. The guests were Mrs. Charles Chipman, Mrs. H. G. Collins, Mrs. Walter Kemp, Mrs. Basil Rider, Mrs. Ella Rider, Mrs. R. A. Rhodes, Mrs. T. B. Calen, Mrs. Joe Gettner, Mrs. Otto Schneider, Mrs. W. D. Points, Mrs. Arthur Rost, Mrs. Whitot Ashcraft, Mrs. Joe Drysdale, Mrs. Wilfred Barton, Mrs. Jess Courtney, Mrs. Gordon Lalle, Mrs. Lora Lalle and Miss Martha Barton.

Announcement was made Tuesday, of the marriage of Miss Lucille Stephens, of Erlanger, and Mr. Earl Gray, of Hartwell, Ohio. The ceremony took place Saturday at 4:30 p. m., at the home of Rev. H. C. Rynyan, in Latonia, in the presence of Ben Stephens, father of the bride, her sisters, Mrs. Newton Haley and Ida Lee, Newton Haley and Mrs. H. C. Highhouse, of Ludlow. They will be at home to their friends at 11 Commonwealth Ave., Erlanger. The bride formerly was a member of the Kentucky Post business staff, employed in the Newport office.

The Death Angel visited our community Sunday afternoon and took from our midst Miss Anna Walker, of Florence. She had been ill for a long time, and all that loving hands could do was done until death relieved her suffering. She was a faithful member of the Catholic church of Florence. The funeral took place Tuesday morning at the St. Paul church. A very appropriate funeral sermon was preached after which the remains were laid to rest in St. Mary's cemetery. The bereaved ones have the sympathy of the entire community.

DEVON

T. J. Hutsell and John Pruett were business visitors at Whitesboro, Monday.

Mrs. Ben Bristow and Mrs. L. N. Wilson, were guests Thursday of Mrs. Eli Carpenter.

Guy Collins and Miss Mildred Boyce, of Covington, were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fagin.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hutsell and Mr. and Mrs. John Pruett, attended services at the new Christian church in Latonia, Sunday.

Brother Kunyan closed a very successful meeting at the Florence Christian church Sunday afternoon. The new members were baptized last Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kenney entertained in honor of their daughter, Miss Ella May, Sunday. The guests present were Mrs. Anna Kenney and son Roy, and Miss Jane VanLandingham, of Walton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Coombs and wife, Mrs. George Eaton and children, of Ft. Mitchell, and Miss Mary Elizabeth and Margaret Russell Childress, of Erlanger, were Sunday afternoon guests of B. F. Bristow and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Dixon, of Richmond, entertained Sunday with a family reunion. Jas. Bristow and wife, Naomi Dixon, John Dixon and sisters, and Jerry Dixon and family, were among the guests from this place who attended the reunion.

It is with deep regret that we learn of the untimely death of one of our Boone county boys and brave ex-servicemen, Fleming Fields, who was killed Monday at South Lebanon, Ohio, while at his work as foreman on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

IDLEWILD.

The first frost of the season came Friday, the 13th. Very little damage was done.

Mrs. Bird McCord has as her guest this week, Mrs. Emma Holton Lyons, of Delhi, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stephens, of Covington, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Stephens.

Mrs. R. S. Hannah and Miss Frances Berkshire, spent Tuesday shopping in Cincinnati.

Tommy Masters, the efficient clerk in Scott's store, has been ill a week with tonsillitis.

Master Edward Helm, of Petersburg, spent Sunday with his friend, Mrs. Ben S. Houston.

Mrs. W. T. Berkshire entertained a number of friends from Indiana Sunday with a delightful dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Walton moved Thursday from the farm to their home in Petersburg, where they will spend the winter.

Mrs. W. M. Rachel, Sr., Mrs. Wm. T. Spears and Master John M. Rachel, drove over from Union Friday for a day with Mrs. J. S. Asbury.

E. Y. Randall, one of our best farmers, has built an addition to his barn, also put up and filled a big silo, adding much to the appearance and comfort of his attractive place.

With the growing season almost ended, except for very late tobacco and a small amount of the late corn, Kentucky's crop conditions Oct. 1 indicated the production of a crop of only about 89,578,000 bus. compared to 82,150,000 bus. produced in 1921 and a 5-year average crop of 97,152,000 bus.

While the state's tobacco crop of all types this season is estimated at 154,045,000 pounds compared to last year's crop of 125,710,000 lbs. and a 5-year average crop 1916-20 of 146,000,000 pounds of tobacco of all types. The United States entire tobacco crop of all types this season is estimated to be 1,355,456,000 pounds compared to last year's crop of 1,075,418,000 pounds and a 5-year average crop 1916-20 inclusive of 1,377,866,000 pounds.

Estimates of other important crops produced in Kentucky this year are given below, with comparisons with 1921 crops—oats, 4,941,000 bus. compared to 5,587,000 bus. in 1921; barley 168,000 bus. compared to 144,000 bus. last year; Irish potatoes 5,043,000 bus. compared to 3,770,000 bus. last year; sweet potatoes 1,805,000 bus. compared to 1,872,000 bus. last year; sorghum molasses 4,143,000 gallons compared to 4,480,000 gallons last year; clover seed 42,000 bus. compared to 34,000 bus. last year; apples 4,875,000 bus. compared to 636,000 bus. last year; and pears 138,000 bus. compared to 4,000 bus. last year.

All these estimates are subject to revision either downward or upward later in the season, depending on whether the yield is found to be greater or less than expected.

MT. ZION.

Roger Robinson, who has been ill with typhoid fever, is improving slowly.

Gilbert Smith, who has been confined to his room for several months is improving slowly.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bassett and children spent Sunday evening with Elmer Glacken and family.

Mrs. Sarah Glacken has returned to her home after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Tanner, of Wilmore, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Huey, and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Aylor, spent last Sunday with Ben Northcutt and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Holtzworth and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Holtzworth, spent Sunday visiting friends in Cincinnati and Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Eli Surface and son, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Surface and son, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Utz and daughter, spent Sunday with Joseph Surface and wife, of Florence.

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, entertained with a dinner Sunday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Smith, and family, of Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Robinson and family, of Dudley pike, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Goin, of Union, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Abdon and family, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Richmond.

Public Sale.

We will sell at public auction on the Elijah Parker farm, on the Petersburg and Bellevue Pike, three miles from Petersburg, Boone County, Ky., on

Saturday, October 21, 1922

The Following Property:

10 or 11 Cows, one Bull, three Sows, thirty-one Pigs, Poland China Boar, Buggy, Carriage, Spring Wagon, Mowing Machine, Hayrake, Spraying Machine, Cream Separator, Grind Stone, Tobacco Sticks, Hoes, Rakes, 14 bundles of Shingles, Sideboard, Hatrack, Home Comfort Range, Oil Stove, Beds and Bedding, Bookcase, and other articles.

Terms Made Known on Day of Sale.

Elijah Parker and Daughters.

Sale will begin at 12:30 o'clock.

Willis Smith, Auct

Notice Tax-Payers

Tax-payers of Boone County are hereby notified that I, or one of my deputies will be at the places and on the dates named below to collect the 1922 State, County and County School Taxes. Will also collect the 1922 Graded Common School taxes in Verona, Petersburg, Union and Florence Districts. Also the Consolidated School tax in the Bullittsville and Constance Districts on the same days that other taxes are collected:

BIG BONE, October 3rd
BEAVER LICK, October 4th
VERONA, October 5th
WALTON, October 6th
BELLEVUE, October 9th
CONSTANCE, October 10th

HEBRON, October 11th
UNION, October 13th
PETERSBURG, October 16th
FLORENCE, October 17th
RABBIT HASH, October 19th

Rates—State 40c; 10c on Live Stock, County 70c, 15c on Agriculture Products; School 40c on the $100; Poll $1.50. School Poll $1.00. Graded School Rates—Verona 60c; Petersburg 70c; Union 45c, and Florence 50c. Graded School Poll—Verona $1.00; Petersburg $1.50; Union $1.00; Florence 50c.

All unpaid taxes become delinquent after Nov. 30th. Six per cent penalty due State and County added after December 1st on all delinquent taxes; six per cent commission in addition is allowed Sheriff for collecting delinquent taxes. Cost of levy 60c. Advertising $1.00; Recording 60c.

Please make inquiries for the amount of your taxes before November 15th, as we cannot receive everyone's taxes on the last few days of November.

B. B. HUME, S. B. C.

No Cause for Alarm

Let the icy breezes of the north come; we can keep you warm with plenty of good

COAL

We have on hand several cars of Stearns Block Coal, and plenty in transit due to arrive in a few days at our Erlanger yards now in a few days for this winter's supply; will also have on hand in a short time some Run of Mines Coal, Cannel-Coal and Coke—the best money can buy, at the right price.

See us before you lay in your coal for the winter. We can save you money. We can also furnish you Building Material of every description.

T. W. SPINKS CO.

LYMAN L. RICE, Mgr.

Erlanger, Ky.

FOR OLD AND YOUNG
Tutt's Liver Pills act as kindly on the delicate female or infirm old age as upon the vigorous male.
Tutt's Pills
Tone and strengthen the weak stomach, bowels, kidneys and bladder.

Uncle Ab says: If you feel mean stop and ask yourself if it didn't come from making some one else feel mean, and then remember that you're always glad when others gain happiness from you.

FOR SALE

10 acres of good land on the Burlington and Florence pike, 13.4 miles west of Florence. Good 10-room brick dwelling. All out-buildings in good condition. Never failing supply of water. This property will make a fine country home.

MRS. G. A. SNYDER,

Florence, Ky.

09nov—4t

Coal is not money, but it is less plentiful.

Any Make of Battery

RECHARGED

75c

Rentals for any make of car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.

Dempsey Motor Car Co.,
Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

Les't You Forget.

S. H. Dickey's Sale at Union, Friday, Nov. 3d, at 1:30 p. m.
Cleck's Hog Sale, near Richmond, Wednesday, Oct. 25th.
Lucy Williams' Sale at Banklick, Thursday, Oct. 26th.

W. B. Johnson
Auctioneer, Walton, Ky.

Lands Posted.

All character of trespassing on our farms is positively prohibited, and we will prosecute all guilty parties. No hunting, trapping or snaring will be allowed.

Name _____ Precinct _____
B. C. Allen ..... Hamilton
Julia S. Dinmore ..... Bellevue
B. H. Berkshire ..... Petersburg
Your name will be put in the list of those posted until Jan. 1st for 60 cents.

Subscribed for the RECORDER

Cold Weather Needs

The whole store is now splendidly equipped to supply your needs for cold weather apparel, home furnishings and other needs. This list will, perhaps suggest some of the cold weather necessities you need:

BLANKETS	GAS HEATERS
COMFORTS	KNIT UNDERWEAR
SWEATERS	WOOLEN DRESS GOODS
FURS	WOOLEN COATINGS
OUTER APPAREL	WOOLEN SUITINGS
WOOL HOSE	LOUNGING ROBES.

Coppin's
COVINGTON

My Winter Stock is Complete.

I have all sizes and kinds of Ball Band Boots and Rubbers—the best rubber goods on the market, if once used always used. They speak for themselves, and
MY PRICES ARE RIGHT.

It is a pleasure to have a customer come in and say, "I want another pair of shoes like those you sold me." That is what Endicott-Johnson Shoes have done for me; they are the best leather shoe for the price, and I have most any kind you want. All we ask is "give them a trial."

Dress Goods.

Some pretty patterns of Dress Gingham, Outing Flannels, Percaloes, and other Dress Goods.

Sweaters—Yes we have them. Come in and look them over—winter—cold weather is coming.

Underwear.

You will find my stock of Underwear for the whole family the best grade, at a very low price. I bought before the last advance was put on by the manufacturers.

FLOUR It will pay you to buy flour now. I still have some at the old price.

Coffee! Coffee!!

Try a pound of our good coffee. You will want more of it.

D. R. Blythe

Burlington, Kentucky.

GUNPOWDER

Robt. Tanner, who we reported on the sick list in our last, is still confined to his room.

P. J. Allen sent a load of porkers to market last week, and the price received was satisfactory.

There was another land deal pulled off here a few days since, and a Mr. Marksberry, of Erlanger, became owner of the Harve Rouse farm.

The work at the old Tanner burying ground is not quite completed, and all who are interested will meet there next Saturday afternoon to complete the work.

Wm. Busby moved to the place he bought on the Burlington pike, Wednesday of last week. We are sorry to lose them from our ridge, but our loss will be others gain.

The following guests enjoyed the day very pleasantly at the hospitable home of Mrs. Alice Daughters and daughter, Mrs. Edna, in Cincinnati, last Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cummins, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Cummins, of Covington, Ward Daughters and family, of Cincinnati, Wm. Dobbins, of Covington, H. P. Utz and family, P. J. Allen and wife, and this scribe and wife.

BEECH GROVE.

David Williamson and wife spent Sunday at Tony Rue's in McVillie. Sam Pope and family were guests of Lawrence Pope and family, Sunday.

Mrs. Harry Hamilton and children have returned to their home after spending several weeks with her parents, Lawrence Pope and wife.

The infant daughter of Sidney Clements and wife was buried at Bellview Saturday. Mrs. Clements has been critically ill but is improving.

PETERSBURG.

Jack Frost played havoc with the vegetation here last week.

Wood Sullivan put a new roof on part of his residence last week.

Mrs. Maud Howard has gathered enough walnuts to last her one year.

E. C. Riley, of Lexington, spent the past week in this neighborhood. Hubert Walton and family moved back to their town residence, last week.

John and Frank Geisler are erecting their sister, Kate, a summer kitchen.

Robt. Nixon is running two teams hauling gravel on the Petersburg and Bellevue pikes.

Mrs. Bob Hoffman made her son and family a week's visit in Cincinnati, Ky., last week.

Wallace Grant and wife spent several days the past week with Dr. J. M. Grant and wife.

Miss Janie Hurd, who was born and raised here, is a nurse in the Soldier's Home at Dayton, Ohio. She is a daughter of Geo. Hurd.

When you want to hear from your friends and know what business transactions are taking place, just read the Boone County Recorder.

Quite a large crowd attended the McWeathy's sisters' sale of household and kitchen furniture, on Thursday of last week. High prices prevailed.

The birthday of your scribe passed off as quietly as the day he was born. He worked all day repairing shoes, not that day he was born, but last Saturday. While at work Mrs. Bud Stammer presented him with a rich lemon pie and a handkerchief to wipe his mouth when done eating.

J. W. Moreland, of Aurora, was over Friday and finished digging his sweet potatoes.

Deep interest is felt by the city people in their country relatives along about cider time.

PENDLETON COUNTY.

(Falmouth Outlook)

The old blue hen owned by Mrs. Alice Bonar, of this city, cashed in last week after seventeen years of faithful service. This hen has a record which is hard to beat. During her sojourn she laid 1,500 eggs and raised sixteen broods of chicks.

We never expected to live long enough to see a hound dog sell for more than a horse, mule, cow or five times as much as a sheep. Nevertheless this day has dawned, and it is a straw that shows how the wind is blowing. There are people who will pay more to satisfy their appetite for pleasure than they will for the real, substantial things of life. A dog is a liability, while a horse, mule, cow or sheep is a valuable asset.

The directors of the Pendleton County Farmers' Fire Insurance Company held their regular monthly meeting at their office in this city Saturday. The directors accepted $14,525 worth of new business and attended to other regular business. The new business consisted chiefly of policies on new buildings erected recently in the county. This home company is saving the people of Pendleton county thousands of dollars each month in rock-ribbed insurance.

The would-be grand old men of small towns are full of conceit as a dog is of fleas. If they ever had an original idea in their lives they wouldn't be posing as grand old men, for they would have died young from the effect of the idea. Their grandness consists of egotism, conceit and ignorance. They are very particular to select strangers coming to town to impress them with their grandness and tell them what a hick of a town this would have been if they had not been reared in it. You see them occupying chairs on public platforms close to the speaker, when they can look wise and have the speaker refer to them as the wise men of the town.

Pendleton county has the driest season since 1908, and consequently all crops were cut short, corn suffering the greatest. From the amount of rain that fell during the months of June, July, August and September, it is surprising that crops did as well as they have. The corn and tobacco crops in the bottom land are good, but the corn crop on the hill land has been cut 50 per cent. The quality of tobacco in the county this year will be far above the average. The weather has been ideal for the tobacco to cure a bright color. Pendleton had a very short crop last year, and 37 per cent was green. This year we will produce about 3,500,000 pounds of high-grade tobacco.

HEBRON.

Church services Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

Emmett Riddell and family spent Sunday with relatives at Dayton, O. The Helpers Circle will meet with Mrs. Edward Baker Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Henry L. Aylor, who was operated upon some time ago, is doing nicely.

Lester Aylor and family spent Sunday with Mrs. Mallie Beemon, of Florence.

John Dye and wife entertained several of their relatives at dinner last Sunday.

Mrs. Wm. McGlasson lost a large blue shawl. Anyone finding it please leave it at George's store.

Mrs. Henry Uick, of Ludlow, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Nellie Garnett, Saturday and Sunday.

Frank Aylor and wife had as their guest several days last week, her cousin, Chas. Bryant, of Dayton, O.

Miss N. Louise Lodge, of Ludlow, is spending her vacation with Mrs. Amanda Lodge and other relatives here.

Myron Garnett and family and W. R. Garnett and wife, spent from Friday until Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tucker, of Manson, Indiana.

Harry Reitman and Miss Allene Stephens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Stephens, of Bullittville, were married in Covington, last Friday afternoon.

Ledie Baker and family and Miss N. Louise Lodge, of Ludlow, and Mrs. Amanda Lodge and daughter, were the guests of Edward Baker and family, Sunday.

A very interesting two weeks meeting closed at the Lutheran church here last Sunday night. Five new members were added to the church list. They were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jones, Mrs. Harvey McGlasson and son Lloyd, and Edward Baker.

Quiet as a Cemetery.

Last Thursday being Columbus Day the town was very quiet—both banks were closed and very few visitors in town, and the officers at the court house were all taking a holiday.

At any rate, Germany will either come back or stay back.

An ugly cut?
MENTHOLATUM
is antiseptic and healing.

Folks surely do crowd around for your biscuits.

When you make 'em with-

Makes all pastries better!

Telephone Flour

A Leader for Ask Your

Forty-Five Years Grocer

BOONE COUNTY COURT

H. O. Adams & Co.,

Notice

Notice is hereby given that the petition and report of the viewers who were appointed to report on a proposed alteration of the public road from Hathaway down Riddell's Run for a distance of about one mile, will be up for hearing in the Boone County Court at Burlington, Ky., Nov. 6, 1922. Any and all objections to the report must be made on or before said day.

O. R. PORTER,
Road Engineer.

Public Sale

I will sell at public auction on the Andy Muniz farm, 2½ miles north of Taylorsport, Ky., on

Saturday, Oct. 28, 1922

The following Property:

Three Horses, 3 Cows, 4 Shoats, 100 Chickens, Road Wagon, Bug, Spring Wagon, 2 land Plow, Riding Cultivator, 2 Double Shovels, Cream Separator, 300 sticks of Tobacco, some Corn in the field, Buggy Harness, Wagon Harness, Riding Breaking-up Plow, and other articles.

TERMS OF SALE.

A credit of nine months will be given on all sums of $5.00 and over, purchaser to give note with good security, payable at Peoples Deposit Bank, Burlington, Ky. Sums under $5.00, cash.

MRS. PRUDA NETTLES.
Sale to begin at 12 o'clock.

General Trucking

At Your Service

WALTER HUEY

Florence, Ky.

Phone 266-X

BIG BONE.

Uncle Dan Smith is very ill at this writing.

Mrs. H. E. Miller made a business trip to the city the first of the week.

Edna May Kite has returned home from the hospital very much improved.

The pie social was a success. Had a large attendance and realized nearly $14.95.

Mrs. May Price and children are visiting relatives in Indianapolis, Indiana, this week.

Mrs. Lizzie E. Miller and son Wood, visited Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Griffith near Beaver, Sunday.

Mrs. Curtis Johnson and Mrs. Mary Noel were pleasant guests of Dr. Kyle and family, Wednesday.

Everett Judge wife and two children were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Judge near Itchwood, the latter part of the week.

NOTICE

All election officers are notified to return keys to ballot boxes at once.
M. E. ROGERS,
County Clerk

NO ONE APPRECIATES

The real comfort of a snug, warm SUIT or OVERCOAT as the man who does not own one. You owe it to yourself to dress warm and comfortable. As usual the Wachs' Store is well prepared to care for every requirement in Mens', Young Mens' and Boys'

Suits and Overcoats.

If Quality, Style and Workmanship and Price interest you, we know we can please you. A large line of Corduroy and Duck Garments on hand.

Selmar Wachs

605 Madison Avenue,

Covington, Kentucky

Dodge Brothers

ANNOUNCE

A BUSINESS COUPE

Conservative changes in the body design of all other types.

Roadster.... $ 920

Coupe..... 1,063

Touring Car. 955

Sedan..... 1,550

Dempsey Motor Car Company

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY

Phone Erlanger, 70-L

HEBRON THEATRE-- N xi Saturday

Good Show

Admission 22 Cents, Children 10 Cents

War Tax Included

DO YOU TAKE THE RECORDER?

Try It One Year. You'll Like It.
Read Our Advertisements and Profit by Them.

28 PORKERS GAIN 1,030 POUNDS IN 30-DAY TRIAL

Lexington, Ky.—Market hogs can be fed for as short a time as one month and still make money for their owners, according to results obtained by W. F. Wilson, a Pulaski county farmer living near Nancy, who has just completed a hog feeding demonstration which he carried out in cooperation with County Agent W. C. Wilson and swine specialists of the College of Agriculture. Despite the fact that they were fed for only 30 days, the 28 purebred Hampshire hogs used in the demonstration made a profit of $28.25. This return of more than a dollar an animal is said to be exceptionally good in view of the short feeding period.

During the 30-day feeding period, the 28 hogs made a total gain of 1,030 pounds, or 36.8 pounds each, which was an average daily gain of 1.22 pounds for each animal. They weighed 96.2 pounds each at the beginning of the demonstration and 133 pounds each at the end of the 30 days. Seven and one-half hours of labor valued at 15 cents an hour were required to take care of the animals during the feeding period. They were sold for $242.55.

In getting the 1,030 pounds of gain on his hogs, Mr. Wilson fed 63 bushels of corn, 75 pounds of stalkage and 1,500 pounds of skim milk. The pigs also had the run of a good red and sweet clover pasture. A total of $49.8 pounds of corn, or 6.24 bushels; 145.8 pounds of skim milk or 17 gallons, and 7.2 pounds of tankage were used. These feeds cost $53.4 when corn was valued at 75 cents a bushel, skim milk at 32 cents a 100 pounds and tankage at $4 a hundred pounds. The corn was fed in a self feeder but the tankage and skim milk were hand fed, the former being allowed only twice a week. The total cost for each 100 pounds of gain was $6.26. In view of the fact that his pigs had the run of a good pasture, Mr. Wilson probably would have obtained cheaper gains by feeding either the skim milk or tankage alone to balance the corn feed.

GRAIN FED CATTLE PAYING FARMER MORE THAN FEEDERS.

Lexington, Ky.—Grain fed cattle at the present time are selling at prices well above those being paid for feeder steers, according to Wayland Rhoads, beef cattle specialist of the College of Agriculture. This is a good guide for cattle men and indicates that it may be more profitable to feed steers cut or shocked corn for about a month or six weeks longer while they are still on grass instead of letting them gain what they can on grass alone and then selling them as feeders. On the other hand, the farmer who is going to keep his steers and sell them as fat cattle this winter must be on guard as soon as the first freezes come and pastures get short to prevent costly shrinkage in his cattle. Feeding should start as soon as possible after the first heavy freezes of the year.

A ration for a feeding period of from 100 to 140 days that has given good gains in many feed lots of the state as well as on the college farm is made of cottonseed meal, broken ear corn, silage and all the hay or straw that the steers will clean up. A daily feed of this ration for each 1,000 pounds of live weight should average about three pounds of the cottonseed meal, 45 pounds of the silage and 10 pounds of corn. However, the amount fed at the beginning of the feeding period is less than this and is gradually increased until the animals are getting even more than this amount near the end of the period. In a long feeding period of more than 100 days, the corn is left out of the ration for the first 60 days.

A good ration for farmers to feed who have no silage and who wish to feed for a shorter period is made of cottonseed meal, clover hay, broken ear corn and fodder or straw. A daily feed of this ration for each 1,000 pounds of live weight should average about two pounds of cottonseed meal, six pounds of clover hay and 12 pounds of corn with all the fodder or straw that the steers can clean up. These amounts are reached by gradually increasing the feed. If a full feed of clover hay is fed with corn, good gains will be made without the cottonseed meal. Cheap gains can be made by feeding cottonseed meal at the average rate of about three pounds a day for each 1,000 pounds of live steer and allowing a full feed of shocked corn.

The American Bankers' Association showed good courage in holding their convention in New York City, considering the large number of people there who are desirous of borrowing money.

The biggest obstacle to business success in the way of most country merchants, is found in their lack of enterprise in advertising and their failure to realize what publicity could do for them.

While the daylight saving movement has encountered much objection any proposition to set the clocks back so that people could live longer, would meet with an enthusiastic reception.

Public Sale

I will sell at public auction at my residence near Limaburg, Boone County, Ky., on

Thursday, Nov. 2d, '22

The Following property:

Live Stock, Farm Implements

2 good work horses—7 yrs. old and an aged horse, 6 cows—2 fresh and 2 fresh in Nov. and 2 later, 2 yearling heifers, 10 good sheep, Duroc registered sow and 7 pigs, 125 shoeks corn, 10 tons Clover hay, 7 tons Red top and Timothy mixed, 1 1-2 tons Soy Beans, ton of Blue Grass and Alfalfa, stack wheat straw, 2 Oliver Chilled Plows, side-sweeper, Dixie, 2 double shovels, 2 single shovels—large and small one, tooth harrow, 2 Acme harrows—one new, Disc harrow, International riding cultivator—good as new, good 2-h. sled, road wagon and box-bed, haybed, 1-h. open top spring wagon, top spring wagon, 2 buggies—1 steel tire, 1 good as new rubber tire, 2 sets buggy harness, set of spring wagon harness, double set work harness, double trees, boys' saddle—has never been used, man's saddle and bridle, bicycle, Fruit tree spray and extra hose, axes, hoes, pitchforks, shovels, 2 picks, iron wedges, 2 cross-cut saws, cutting-box, tarpaulin, 3 ladders, Sharpless Separator No. 3, milk cooler, lot milk cans, 2 iron kettles, lawn swing, 3 churns, lot crimp wire and barbed wire, lot patent fence hooks and clamps, 2 grain cradles, 2 scythes, 2 wagon jacks, rifle 22, shot gun—new, feather bed, lot carpets and linoleum, spinning wheel and reels, McCormick mower and hayrake, 14 tooth harrow, lot locust posts, lot end posts, corn marker, Gasoline engine with log saw and two blades and buzz saw attachments, also Bosch magnet, Household and Kitchen Furniture.

TERMS—All sums of $10 and under, cash; on all sums over $10 a credit of nine months will be given, purchaser to execute note with approved security before removing property. Notes payable at Florence Deposit Bank, Florence, Ky.

JOHN D. AYLOR.

Lute Bradford, Auct.

Sale to begin at 10 a. m.

Lunch Served.

WHERE DO WE COME IN,

Perhaps it may not be entirely clear to Europe why Secretary Hughes should issue a statement expressing the gratification of the American Government at the course of the Entente Allies in their proposals to the menacing Turks.

As we have washed our hands of all that business over there, they may secretly wonder why we should take it upon ourselves publicly to express our approval or disapproval of how others attend to that business.

To volunteer such expression, as our Secretary of State, is to take an attitude in which we may be judged, is misjudged, as gratuitously officious.

There is one feature of the situation, however, in which we have a clearer right to concern ourselves.

It will be remembered that shortly before America entered the World War the President of the U. S. addressed the Allies asking them to state the purposes for which they were fighting. In January of 1917 the French Premier, speaking for all the Allies, made a formal reply to this request, in which he set forth ten purposes for which the Allies declared they were at war. Number 6 of these was:

6. Liberation of the population subjected to the bloody tyranny of the Turks; rejection out of Europe of the Ottoman Empire as foreign to Western civilization.

By the Allies' proposals to Kemal, which Secretary Hughes approves, no population subjected to the bloody tyranny of the Turks is liberated; while instead of enforcing rejection out of Europe of the Ottoman Empire its return to Europe is assented to.

When America declared war as an associate of the Allies it was with the knowledge that one of the proclaimed purposes for which they were fighting was that defined as No. 6 in Premier Briand's reply to President Wilson. America helped to win that war and therefore has a legitimate interest in the attainment of the ends for which it was waged.

Still, if Secretary Hughes should express dissatisfaction with the return of the Turks to Europe the Allies might remind him that while America helped to win the war it refused, when the war was over, to help secure the purposes for which it had been fought, rejecting both the Treaty of Peace and the League of Nations, which were designed to secure those purposes, and refusing to offer anything in place of them.—Courier-Journal.

No one who has listened patiently to the arguments of the canvassers who sell stuff from door to door has claimed that the art of eloquence has died out.

At the present rate of increase Japan will have a population of 85,215,000 persons in 1928.

GRANT COUNTY.

(Grant County News.)

Grant, Boone and Kenton counties have made provisions for construction of the Dixie Highway through-out their entire length of concrete. Scott county has done little or nothing along his line. Grant dug deeper than any of the counties mentioned, though the poorest in assessed valuation of any. Scott with nearly double the property valuation of Grant cannot afford to do as much. Scott county, get busy.

The coming November election will be a rather tame affair in Grant county. Voters will have the privilege of voting only for congressman. The ballot will contain three tickets, the Democratic, Socialist and Nonpartisan. Congressman Arthur B. Rouse, who has represented the district for ten years is the democratic nominee and will probably poll his full party strength in so far as it turns out at the polls. It is not expected that there will be heavy vote and it is hardly probable that either the socialist or non-partisan ticket will have more than a scattering following. There is no doubt about Rouse representing the district for another two years.

The Northern Kentucky Good Roads Association, with headquarters in Covington, has prevailed on the Boone county authorities to do some work on the Dixie Highway this fall in Boone county so that traffic over that highway will not be impeded. The Boone county part of this highway is in a deplorable condition and the Good Roads Association is to be commended for its work, but we fail to understand why the efforts of the association are confined to Boone county when the five miles of the Dixie Highway in Kenton, extending from the Grant county line on the south, to the Boone county line on the north, is just about as poor a condition as Boone county's part and will be impassable before spring if it is not repaired.

WITH THE STATISTICIANS

An expert cigarette maker will 2,500 cigarettes a day.

Portuguese is the language of about 20,000,000 people.

Women farmers in the U. S. number over 200,000.

The oldest national flag in the world is that of Denmark, which has been in use since the year 1219.

The total of motion picture theaters throughout the world is estimated at 47,000.

The average time each finger nail takes to reach its full length is four and a half months.

The first Catholic synod to be held in Poland for more than 100 years has just taken place at Warsaw.

PROCLAMATION

Acting under the responsibility and authority imposed upon it by law, the State Board of Health of Kentucky hereby calls the attention of the fathers and mothers and the school authorities in the State to the existence of diphtheria in epidemic form in many sections of the State. Repeated warnings that this would occur have not been heeded. Parents are urged to promptly isolate all children with sore throats until seen by their family physician; teachers are requested to send home from school all children having sore throats, with a note to the parents urging that they be immediately seen by their family physician; physicians are requested to have on hand an adequate supply of antitoxin and to administer at least 10,000 units to each case seen as soon as possible. Antitoxin may be secured at reduced wholesale prices from this Board or from the depots established in each county in the State. County Boards of Health are requested to arrange for an adequate supply of antitoxin for use with the indigent at the expense of each county.

Parents with children are urged to confer with their family physician and have their children tested, and, if necessary, immunized against diphtheria so as to avoid this danger. There were 652 children who died in 1921 with this disease. These deaths were wholly unnecessary and ought not to have occurred and would not if proper attention had been paid to the cases. The law requires that no child be released from quarantine until its throat has been found free from germs by a recognized laboratory. Most of these deaths were due to violation of this law and the courts of the State are requested to enforce it.

Given under our hands and the seal of the Board at Louisville this 12th day of October, 1922.

L. L. McMURTRY,

President.
A. T. McCormack,
Secretary.

Just Smiles.

The teacher of one of our county schools asked a little girl named Francis to use the word "furlong" correctly in a sentence.

The little one thought earnestly for a few moments and then replied: "My sister Lillian had a beau once but not fur long."

It was Sunday morning and Garland's mother was trying desperately to teach him the golden text, which was: "Whosoever ye sow, ye shall also reap." On the way to church his mother asked him to repeat the golden text. He thought meditatively a moment and then said: "Whatever ye sow, it will always rip."

The Best Advertisement

IS A PLEASED CUSTOMER

Spectacles and Eyeglasses that Fit the face and Fit the sight the kind we sell.

Phone South 1746

WITH MOTT, JEWELLER.

DR. N. F. PENN., 613 Madison Ave., - Covington, Ky

Efficient, Service and Economy

IS MY SLOGAN

C. SCOTT CHAMBERS

Embalmer and Funeral Director

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

Printed Stationery

AT THIS OFFICE
ENVELOPES, LETTERHEADS, NOTEHEADS, STATEMENTS

for business people.
for professional people.
for farmers.
for every one who wants to be considered up to date and going strong

BEREAVED FRIENDS

committing to our care for preparation and burial, the beloved form of mother, wife or sister, may feel assured of the same respectful and tender treatment as we would give our own dear ones.

PHILIP TALIAFERRO,
Undertaker and Embalmer
Erlanger, Ky.

A BARGAIN

Cincinnati Daily Enquirer

—AND—

The Boone County Recorder

YOU CAN GET

both for $4.50 the YEAR

Send Your Subscriptions to the

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER

Burlington, Ky.

Announcement.

Owing to the dry weather, which so materially retarded farmers from stripping their crops, the entry date for samples at the TRI-STATE TOBACCO FAIR AND FALL FESTIVAL has been extended, and including,

October 23d,

Kenton Loose Leaf Tobacco Warehouse Company

(Incorporated)
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Subscribe For The Recorder.....$1.50 per year

"PROSPERITY CERTAIN"
SAYS BIG BUSINESS*Country Making Rapid Strides Return to Best of Times.

Washington. — From all sides comes assurance that the country is making rapid progress towards a super-normalcy, which will spell full dinner pails, coal bins and bank accounts. Roger W. Babson, noted statistician, says that we are at the beginning of an upward swing to a peak of prosperity which will not be reached for two years at least.

B. C. Forbes has charts and figures to prove that the country is due entering the period of good times from the period of bad times which were the direct result of war inflation.

The Department of Labor finds that the Nation is calling for labor, and that the unemployment situation of a few months ago is so altered as to be unrecognizable.

The coal strike is over and while coal will not be plentiful, there is no famine or fuel hardship in sight. Textile strikes in New England are rapidly being settled; the railroad strike is "off" so far as the carriers and the public are concerned; and the steel industries show a large unfilled tonnage and increase in employment.

Building construction all over the country has taken a new lease of life, and the housing shortage which is practically Nation wide, is being to some extent relieved if not cured.

The new tariffs have not proved as upsetting in financial circles as its opponents prophesied, and the recent announcement of the Government that no new taxes were in prospect, and the shelving of the bonus bill idea for an indefinite period have proved the spectre of increased income taxes.

SHIFTING POPULATION

The rapid changes in population are a notable feature of many cities nowadays. People will move away from a community and feel badly about parting with their friends. Then if they come back in two or three years, they may find so many removals of people whose intimacy they valued, that they do not feel at home and have no desire to remain for good.

Some sections and cities are much more conservative about changes than others. In some towns families will remain for a long time, occasionally for their whole lives. But even in the more permanent kind of places, the changing population is much larger than it used to be.

The tendency of the times is to set people adrift from their old homes. Formerly young families attended schools in their own neighborhood, and were not generally inclined to settle elsewhere. Now a multitude of them go far away to schools and colleges where they meet others from all over the country, and they lose the old locality and home feeling. They look for a new opportunity, regardless whether it is any where near their homes or not.

Many young people, if they do not advance in one job within a short time, will quit it and go elsewhere. Of course people often need to try various opportunities before they find the right one, yet when they make a change, they abandon the benefits of whatever reputation and experience they had acquired in the old place.

This changeability has some benefits, and it creates a bright and alert population that does not easily get into ruts. Yet it makes it difficult to develop good civic spirit, as people who stay only a short time in a place do not get much interested in it. But with the modern tendency urging people to win their own homes and take more part in the organized life of their community, perhaps take more part in the organized life of their community, perhaps the coming generation may not be as restless as the one now on the stage.

WOMEN IN BANKING

The number of women listed as "bankers" who attended the recent convention of the American Bankers' association at New York, was an interesting feature of that event. Where formerly women held merely minor positions in banks, now a considerable number of them are holding important executive positions.

Banking is a business in which much depends on the correct judgment of character. The bank official needs a kind of sixth sense, to spot the people who are weak, incompetent and crooked tendencies, who should never be permitted to borrow money. Women, with their keen intuition, ought to be good on this form of insight, after they have mastered the technique of banking, which they can easily learn in schools.

Go to the polls Tuesday November 7th and cast your vote for Hon. Arthur B. Rouse and show to the man from Kenton who is an Independent, that he should not have permitted his name to go on the ballot.

THE SIMPLE HOME WEDDING.

The autumn season is a favorite time for weddings and it witnesses some splendid displays in the form of nuptial ceremonies. A typical fall wedding with charming attendants, harmonious costumes, romantic music, and moral loveliness is about the acme of human spectacles, and anyone should be glad to be asked to witness so lovely a picture.

But many young couples feel they would do better to make a simple, start, and not tax the old folks for fine effects. Every girl would like to idealize her wedding and make it a beautiful spectacle and ask in all her friends, but the majority of brides deny themselves this satisfaction in these times.

The quiet home marriage suggests domestic tastes, a love of simplicity and a deep affection for family and intimate friends. Father and the bridegroom have little use for finery, and commonly feel that money spent for substantial furniture costs more than for transient festivities. But the autumnal bide is all right, whatever she does, and the blessings of the community go with her.

WASHINGTON COMMENT.

A resolution calling upon President Harding to order discontinuance of war games as not being "in harmony with the spirit which promotes good will," was adopted by the Pennsylvania branch of the Women's International League of Peace.

Dear ladies, why? Can your servant use a vacuum cleaner if she be not trained in its handling? Can you cook a good meal without practice to learn how? Can you make a home without knowledge?

How can any army be worth anything to a country if it be not trained?

If, indeed, your convictions are that this country needs no soldiers, that it should scrap every gun, put every soldier to making roads or hoeing the fields, there are none will quarrel with your right to offer such resolutions in your meetings, though there will be many who will disagree with your conclusions.

But to admit that we need an army, and yet resolve that we should not train it; to agree that armed bodies of men are required for protection, for police duty, for the lawing of that mantle of law and peace about our citizenship, which is the guarantee of the Government to us all in the enjoyment of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, and then to say that these who are our guardians can not be trained without violation of the "spirit which promotes good will," is not to impress those who listen to you with your good sense or your vision.

President George Washington, who was "first in peace," when peace was possible, said:

"There is nothing so likely to produce peace 'as to be well prepared to fight the enemy.' I think it would be right for us to hold forth at least every appearance of preparation and vigor, and really to do what our abilities and the circumstances of our finance may well justify."

Let us have peace, indeed. But let us not have the foolish peace of ignorance and folly, but the bright peace of a strong people, protected with trained men against the enemies of society, of national security, of God.

THE COUNTRY FOLKS VOTE

It used to be said some years ago that if election day proved to be rainy, two thirds of the people living in the rural districts would not bother to vote. Many of them were very pessimistic about all parties and candidates and condemned the whole lot and would not bother to vote for any of them. The result of that policy was that for many years rural interests were ignored.

Today the country people, while it means an effort for many of them to get to the polls, realize that the suffrage is a duty and a privilege, and that if they neglect to exercise the interests of the rural sections will not get proper attention. It is worth a great deal of sacrifice to turn out and unless the country towns make the effort, they will see many things go wrong.

When we consider the fact that tobacco crops of 1921-22 have both been short crops, we can see that nature has done much to help make the pool a go. In other words, had the crops of tobacco for the past two seasons been record breakers what now would be the result in prices. It is a well known fact the world over that supply in a measure regulates the demand. Hence it would be well for our farmers to not depend entirely upon the weed of their money crop and to work for quality instead of quantity, for we know that there is always a demand for a fine crop.

People who have money to burn seldom carry matches.

FIFTY YEARS AS A SCHOOL TEACHER*Miss Mary Ann Thompson The Town's Oldest Citizen Passes Away.

Again we are called upon to chronicle the death and to give expression to our grief at the loss of another of our oldest and most highly respected citizens.

On last Friday night, October 20, 1922, at 9 o'clock a venerable life was brought to a close by the hand of Death, when Miss Mary A. Thompson, aged 94 years 6 months and 14 days departed this life at the home of Mrs. Katherine Tanner and sister, Miss Mary Purlong, when she was taken the first of the month she might receive the care and attention this good old lady so richly deserved. She had been in declining health the past six months, and everything that the hands of loving friends could do was done for her during her last days on earth.

MISS MARY ANN THOMPSON.

Miss Mary A. Thompson was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., April 6th, 1828, being the daughter of Archibald and Susan Thompson, who preceded her to the grave nearly forty years ago. She came to Burlington with her parents in 1832, where she lived until death.

She attended the common school until 1845, when she taught her first school, and for fifty years taught in the public schools of the county, besides many private schools, retiring in 1895. She was always keenly interested in education, was fond of reading, and was considered not only one of the best read women of this section but one of the most able and pleasant conversationalists. No school teacher in Boone county was more widely known than Miss Mary Thompson, and during her long career as a teacher she had as her pupils many who are now leading citizens of the different states, while she lived to see many of her former pupils pass to their reward.

Miss Mary Thompson was probably the oldest citizen in the county having lived in Burlington ninety years. During her long life she has seen many changes in this country. Railroad building was in its infancy. Steamboats, no tumpkins, no buggies, no automobiles, no flying machines, no telephones or telegraphs, clothing was made by hand, horseback was the mode of travel, flatboats instead of steamboats. Indians were plentiful and warlike.

Year after year Miss Mary was a school teacher, receiving many hundreds of boys and girls whom she passed on to the duties of life. And the innumerable caravan that passed over her horizon conceived a very real affection for the enlightened instructor and the gentle disciplinarian who had formed their minds and characters during their most impressionable years, and her reward was the fullness of years, and gratitude of many hundreds of pupils.

Miss Mary Thompson has passed through many periods of sunshine and sorrow. Such lives are not ended by death, for the glowing memory of their life on and on, in the communities in which they flourish, from them comes inspiration and ideas that conquer the years and the troubles and cares that come up and make of them only little jolts of life that strengthen instead of weaken hearts of the people in the community in which they live.

The funeral services were conducted at the Burlington Methodist church, of which she had been a member since girlhood, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in the presence of a large assembly of friends from all parts of the county. Rev. G. R. Tomlin, the pastor, officiating, after which the remains were taken to the cemetery, just north of town, and laid to rest by the side of her father and mother who preceded her to the grave in 1884.

The pall-bearers were composed of her old pupils, as follows: George Glythe, C. A. Fowler, W. D. Crayner, M. Riddell, Charles Weidman and E. A. Hall.

Philip Calverton, of Eldersburg, had charge of the funeral arrangements.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE SEW-ING CIRCLE.

One does not have to read newspaper articles or dissertations of experts in economics to get the drift of the new Fordney-McCumber tariff law. The law being now in operation the questions assume the practical form which its framers and supporters intended. It has already begun to yield its anticipated and desired practical results.

An advertisement published by an enterprising merchant at Johnstown, Pa., who appeals to his customers to patronize a special linen sale which offers the last chance for the ladies of Johnstown to purchase linens at pre-tariff prices makes this observation pertinent, and at the same time establishes the fact that his merchant has a heart.

The price of certain goods is given at $10. The price which he will be compelled to charge as a result of the new tariff he states will be $14.50. Another article which he offers at $3.75 will sell at $5.00 when the new tariff is added. He offers still another article at $4.50, which after the recent action of the Republican Senate in giving the profiteers their new boost in "protection," will be sold at $7. This bill amounting to $3.55 for household linen necessities will be increased by $8.75 as soon as the prices imposed by the new tariff comes into vogue.

We do not know the politics of this merchant. It makes no difference. Possibly like thousands of others, he may be a Republican in name and a Democrat in fact, but it is perfectly clear that he knows what the effect of his law is to be. The baneful consequences of its passage in taxing the American home for the benefit of monopoly is perfectly plain to him. That he proposes to give the women of his community the benefit of the brief period of lower prices is to his credit.

This incident, the lesson of which will soon be learned in every community in the land, clinches the fact that we need a Democratic administration to provide a tariff law in which the interests of common folks are taken into consideration.

The present legislative monstrosity Democrats are pledged to wipe from the books. A good start for the goal will be made by returning a Democratic House in November. Every home and every woman in America is interested.

THE BLIND.

One day last week we noticed a colored man as he was wending his way home from work, where he had been knocking round, walking along the streets of our town with a walking stick to direct his course. It was a beautiful autumn day, the lawns and sidewalks which he traveled were dotted with leaves, the shade trees with their beautiful tinted foliage furnished a scene no artist's brush could paint. This lovely sight, while not enjoyed by some, would be the greatest blessing possible to the colored man, if he could see. He could never be, he is blind. And so it is with all of our burdens of life, they are so trivial that to some poor soul they would be a blessing. We complain of our work, our daily vocation which would be a rare privilege to some who are physically unable to perform them. We complain of the conveniences afforded us when they would be a luxury to some one less fortunate; we complain of our health when there are millions worse off; we complain about our job when thousands have no job at all, and we complain about the government when we belong to the freest people under God's sun.

No longer than the day before we heard a young man complaining about the dead town and no doubt he was right in a way. Burlington can not afford the amusements a larger town could, but think of the poor blind man, he would give all that he ever expected to possess could he but view the sights this season of the year affords, the green grass, the blooming flowers and other wondrous beauties of nature, that we in our unappreciative, thoughtless way overlook. So let's try to think more of those that are less fortunate than ourselves, and less of the luxuries that tend to make us dissatisfied with life. Think of the blind man.

BEHOLD THE AUTO

The automobile is a large iron and rubber contrivance for transforming gasoline into speed, luxury, excitement and obnoxious fumes. It consists of a handsome leather-upholstered carriage body, mounted on fat rubber tired wheels and contains a gizmo full of machinery suffering from various ailments. It has run over on hundred miles and ten thousand people. It can transport seven people from the front porch to the back station, the bankruptcy court, or the golden gate in less time than any other known method.—Ex.

The college sophomores feel that the traditions of their school may be maintained by passing the year out as a group.

BANKERS' MEETING.

The Boone County Bankers' Association met in the court house in Burlington, last Friday afternoon, and elected officers as follows:

R. C. Green, Walton, President.
J. L. Frazier, Union, V-President.
A. E. Renaker, Burlington, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Association had been advised that the banks of the State had not been assessed on the same basis of value, and steps were taken to correct the inequality, and Atty. Jno. L. Vest, Vice-President of the Equitable Bank & Trust Co., Walton, was selected to look after the interest of all Boone county banks.

Those present were, John Cloud, Hebron; O. S. Watts, and William Stephens, Petersburg; Henry Clore, Grant; J. L. Frazier, Union; J. G. Renaker, Florence; A. E. Renaker, and W. D. Cropper, Burlington; D. B. Wallace, Jno. L. Vest and R. C. Green, Walton.

A representative of the Tri-State Co-operative Milk Producers Association was present and outlined to the Bankers their business prospects and the manner of financing the company.

Making Country Life Popular.

In any community, rural or urban, athletic sports are one of the best means of popularizing a town. In the business men will contribute liberally to equip a ball ground and support a fast team. If drawn trade, it makes people contented, keeps the crowd at home, and it is an excellent stroke of business.

So in the country, if you want to make a town popular both with young and old, one of the best things you can do is to give a little encouragement to athletic sports. Every town ought to have a good ball ground, with a stand large enough so spectators can watch games comfortably. There should be enough tennis courts so that all the young folks can play this splendid game. Every country town is putting in golf links, not the costly lay-outs you find near the cities, but simple little courses that do not cost much and prove enormously popular.

Some towns have these facilities, but they complain that the younger element does not attend to it, and do not have games and contests going on as they might. If some society or group of business men offer a prize to the team winning a championship for the season, it amazes the young men, and it is amazing to see several teams of complete pennants, which stand as the symbol for success and achievement.

Rival neighborhoods and towns often get so excited over these competitions that they are the chief subject of conversation and the people gather for miles around to see the local athletes contend for the mastery. A town where there is this interest is one where the young crowd is contented. The fellow who likes to do things finds his attention is occupied by his healthful competition, and he does not get restless and complain that he lives in a dead town.

JOINING THE ORGANIZATIONS.

It is through organization that any community gets ahead. The individual may make suggestions and try to do a little in his own way, but he can't accomplish much alone. It is when people get together and put their united force and sentiment back of public movements, that you begin to get results. The first step toward team work is to select the organization with which one is most in sympathy and ally oneself with them.

The person who joins a church affiliates himself with the noblest effort of history and one that develops those ideas of integrity and generosity without which no community can even hold its own. Those who enter fraternalities unite themselves to a grand movement of brotherhood that works constantly for unity.

People need also to join movements aimed to produce better civic business, and educational conditions. When you get folks in a place well enlisted in such associations, you have the facilities ready for a great movement of team work.

LAUGHING AT THE COUNTRY

Years ago the funny men of the cities were all the time laughing about the country folks. "Farmer Cornstassel," "Uncle Reuben" and other alleged typical rustic characters were constantly being made fun of.

You don't see much of that wit now. The country has become too popular. A great many of the brightest people are settling in rural surroundings, and the countryman of bushy whiskers is getting to be just as nearly an extinct type as in the cities. Everywhere there are no longer folks, but city life produces quite as many as the country. It is pretty hard to tell a country crowd from a city one in these times, and if there is any difference, the rural element looks more awake.

Ben J. Green had the first town continental express route.

A WEEK'S NEWS.

It would not have been necessary and the county would have saved the expense of holding an election in this county November 7th, if the revolutionist and agitator from Kenton county had not been a candidate for Congress—not on the Republican or other party ticket, but as an Independent, a man without a party, is asking the voters of this district to send him to Congress. The people of Boone county will not vote for that candidate, but will cast their votes for Hon. Arthur B. Rouse, regardless of party affiliation, because he has faithfully, honestly and impartially performed his duties as a congressman, and the people of the county of his birth will rally to his support November 7th. It is hard to understand how any one can read the platform of the man without a party, and then cast his vote for him. That platform can not be supported by thinking men and women.

Beginning next Friday night, October 27th, at Burlington Theatre, manager Berkshire will present to the patrons Ruth Roland in "White Eagle," a spectacular sensational western Thriller—Indians, Cowboys, Rough Riding, speed action, Pep. Don't fail to see these serials.

It will not be many days until the hunting season will open. Have you posted your farm? If not you had better. Send 50 cents to the Recorder and we will run your name until the hunting season closes.

The Sheriff made his last rounds last week visiting the precincts for the purpose of collecting taxes. All those who failed to meet him now have to come to the office in Burlington to pay their taxes.

Supt. J. C. Gordon and wife moved to Walton, last Friday, where they will make their future home. Burlington people hate to lose this good family from their midst, but Burlington's loss is Walton's gain.

The sale of the personal property of Edgar Hensley, held at his farm near Grove neighborhood, last Wednesday, was attended by a large crowd, and everything sold brought good prices.

On next Thursday, Nov. 2nd, Jno. D. Aylor will have a public sale of his personal property at his farm near Limaburg. This will be one of the biggest sales of the season.

It is well for the firemen to be alert, but not necessary for them to come out merely because the men's suppers send forth a powerful cloud of smoke.

Mrs. Martha McFarland and Mrs. T. D. Bentley, of North Middletown, Ky., are the guests of their daughter and sister, Mrs. J. H. Jockey and Mr. Jockey.

While the city folks are hanging on to the straps of the street cars, the country folks are comfortably getting over the roads in their automobiles.

Jack Frosts visits to this part of the country, several mornings the past week, did very little damage, as everything had been put out of his reach.

Let the Recorder post your farm for you. Don't wait until you lose a good cow or horse and then post it. NOW. It will only cost you 50 cents.

Mrs. Alice Snyder has moved to Elmer Kelly's residence in the north end of town—occupying the rooms vacated by Eliza poston and family.

A California murderer asked that a jazz band play while he was being hanged. We know of nothing which could make death more welcome.

Mayor Thompson of Chicago says that America made a fatal mistake when she declared war against Germany. Yes! that to Germany.

Last Thursday four flying machines were sailing over this section of the county. Some claim they were looking for moonshine stills.

Mesdames Chas. W. Guernsey, C. T. Davis and Chas. W. Goodridge, of Erlanger, were calling on Burlington friends, last Saturday.

Many amateur sportsmen banging away at game in the woods, but the attitude of the game seems to be that it should worry.

Observations from the dance hall sometimes suggest that the so-called fox trot looks more like a calf trot.

Mrs. J. H. Jockey entertained a number of her friends at her home on "Breezy Bluff," last Sunday.

The European nations will probably pay their debts to us if we lend them money to do it with.

MT. ZION.
Mr. Freddie Stephens of Devon, spent Sunday with Harold Smith.
Mrs. Sarah Robinson is spending a few days with Elmer Glacken and family.
Miss Rachel Pottenger spent the week-end with Mr. Wm. Carpenter and family, of Richmond.
Gilbert Smith, who has been confined to his room for several months, is now able to be out again.
Mr. and Mrs. Eli Surface spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pearson, at Fern Bank, Ohio.
Miss Mamie Robinson spent last Thursday with Miss Frances Smith, who has been ill the past week.
Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Surface entertained Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McClurg and family, of Erlanger.
We are sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Jaa. Smith, of Union. The family has the sympathy of the community.
Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bassett and family spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Florence and family, of Walton.
Mrs. Cora Stephens returned home from Wilmore, Thursday where she has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Tanner.
Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bassett and family, and Miss Frances Smith attended Methodist church at Florence, last Sunday night.
Mrs. Laura Davis and son, of Newport, Mrs. J. Young and sons, of Covington and Mr. and Mrs. Loren Abdon and family, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Smith and family.
Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken and daughter Sarah, entertained at dinner Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Porter and son, of Verona, Mr. and Mrs. John Powers, Mr. and Mrs. Carey Carpenter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Carpenter and daughter Ruth, Mrs. John Wood and family, and Mrs. Henry Carpenter.
The picnic given at Mt. Zion school house Saturday by Miss Rachel Pottenger was well attended. The Richmond school was well represented and gave the Mt. Zion children a hot race in their racing and jumping contests. Mt Zion coming out ahead. Plenty of good things to eat and all the ice cream anybody could wish for, which was the teachers treat. The children certainly enjoyed the dinner and good time, as well as the parents and visitors. We are hoping to have many more good times like that in the near future.

FOR SALE ETC
For Sale—Twenty 100 lb. shoats, suitable for feeders, also Hereford bull. J. B. Walton, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 1. Consolidated phone 44-X. 1t
For Sale—Hampshire sow and 7 pigs, No. 1 cow and calf, Wyanadotte cockerels. Geo. Blythe, Burlington, Ky. o2nov
Wanted—Wood to saw. Price reasonable. R. D. Grant, Idlewild, Ky. Phone 353-X. onv16-4t
For Sale—Young Jersey cow with third calf. S. B. Scott, Grant, Ky., R. D. 1t—pd
For Sale—10 Poland China shoats. Will average 50 pounds each. Kenneth M. Stamper, Burlington R. D. 1. 1t—pd
For Sale—Forty fall pigs. Ralph Cason, Petersburg, Ky., R. D. 1t—pd
For Sale—Upright Piano $25.89, also Beagle hound $20.00. R. H. Walker, Latonia, Ky., R. D. 3. Box 52. 1t—pd
For Sale—Medium size Moore's Heater in good condition. A. E. Acra, Burlington, Ky.
For Sale—35 Chesterwhite pigs. M. Tate, Erlanger, Ky., R. D. 5. Box 4. o26oct-2t

WANTED
Hay to bale. Prices reasonable. P. H. Mathews, Bullittsville, Ky. Phone 202-X. 29june tf
FIRE WOOD FOR SALE
100 ricks—16 inch wood ready for delivery. Will cut any length desired, $3.25 per rick at Harvest Home grounds.
H. R. LEIDY,
C. H. YOEUELL

GUNPOWDER
After an illness of several days Rybert Tanager is able to be out again.
H. F. Utz and family visited in Covington last Sunday, and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cummings.
P. B. C. Surface spent a day and night recently with his sister, Mrs. Wm. Graves, and Mr. Graves, of Bullittsville.
Mesdames Lizzie Bartell, Cora Blankenbaker and Lilly Bradford, of Florence, visited Mrs. J. H. Tanner and Mr. Tanner, on Thursday of last week.
The following enjoyed a good dinner and a pleasant time socially at the home of P. J. Allen and wife, last Sunday: Dr. L. E. Rouse and family, of Ludlow, M. L. Rouse and wife, Carl Rouse and this writer and wife.
Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Tanner were very agreeably surprised last Sunday when about eighty persons assembled at their home with well filled baskets which consisted of everything good to eat, and was enjoyed by all present at the noon hour. It was all so an enjoyable affair socially. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Aylor and son, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Blankenbaker and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Blankenbaker and daughter, Mr. E. H. Blankenbaker, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Barlow and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Barlow and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Barlow and children, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Barlow and daughter, Mrs. Malie Beemon, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bentham and daughter, Mrs. Louisa Davis, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Garnett and daughter, Wm. Huser, M. and Ms. E. Horton and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Horn and daughter, Mrs. A. B. Myers, Rev. Geo. A. Royer wife and daughter, Mr. J. S. Rouse, Mrs. Mattie Rouse and two sons and grand-daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Renaker, Mr. A. J. Renaker, Mr. R. T. Renaker, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Schaffer, Mrs. Edward Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Surface, Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Tanner, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tanner, and family, Mr. C. E. Tanner, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Tanner Arvise Tanner, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Utz and son, Miss Emma Welch and Mr. and Mrs. Wilkerson and children.

MOONSHINERS CAUGHT.
Lafe W. Burk, Albert Kane and William Brown were arrested Monday morning by Deputy Sheriffs Utz, Snyder and Percival, after the sheriff had searched the premises occupied by Burk, near McVillie and finding the largest moonshine still that had been captured to date. The officers found a number of pint and half pint bottles partially filled with moonshine, and also a large jug with one gallon of moonshine in it. The still was of about 30-gallon capacity and made of copper, and was found in the yard near the dwelling under a lot of old roofing, the jug of liquor was found in the barn under the hay. It appears from the evidence obtained by the officers that Burk had been making and selling moonshine to the workmen on the dam at McVillie for some time.

RADIO RALF AND HIS FRIENDS---

FOR SALE ETC

For Sale—Twenty 100 lb. shoats, suitable for feeders, also Hereford bull. J. B. Walton, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 1. Consolidated phone 44-X. 1t
For Sale—Hampshire sow and 7 pigs, No. 1 cow and calf, Wyanadotte cockerels. Geo. Blythe, Burlington, Ky. o2nov
Wanted—Wood to saw. Price reasonable. R. D. Grant, Idlewild, Ky. Phone 353-X. onv16-4t
For Sale—Young Jersey cow with third calf. S. B. Scott, Grant, Ky., R. D. 1t—pd
For Sale—10 Poland China shoats. Will average 50 pounds each. Kenneth M. Stamper, Burlington R. D. 1. 1t—pd
For Sale—Forty fall pigs. Ralph Cason, Petersburg, Ky., R. D. 1t—pd
For Sale—Upright Piano $25.89, also Beagle hound $20.00. R. H. Walker, Latonia, Ky., R. D. 3. Box 52. 1t—pd
For Sale—Medium size Moore's Heater in good condition. A. E. Acra, Burlington, Ky.
For Sale—35 Chesterwhite pigs. M. Tate, Erlanger, Ky., R. D. 5. Box 4. o26oct-2t

WANTED
Hay to bale. Prices reasonable. P. H. Mathews, Bullittsville, Ky. Phone 202-X. 29june tf

FIRE WOOD FOR SALE
100 ricks—16 inch wood ready for delivery. Will cut any length desired, $3.25 per rick at Harvest Home grounds.
H. R. LEIDY,
C. H. YOEUELL

We give 20 per cent cash discount or to reliable parties of the regular retail price on Columbia Grafonolas, Starr Grand Pianos, Upright Pianos, Player Pianos and Starr Phonographs. Free delivery made anywhere. Write for catalog.
RICE PIANO CO.,
Aurora, Indiana.
o-jani

NOTICE.
We have been appointed the authorized sales and service station for the Willard Battery for Boone county. Also do recharging and repairing on all makes of Batteries. Work guaranteed.
DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO.
Erlanger, Ky.

HEBRON.
Mrs. Arthur Gordon has been ill for several weeks.
Mrs. Laura M. Glasson and son, Howard, of Ludlow, spent Sunday here.
Rev. C. C. Omer attended a Christian church convention at St. Louis, Mo., last week.
The Young People's League, teachers training and sermon by the pastor Sunday night.
Mrs. Alice Carder, of near Constance, spent several days last week with Mrs. Vernon Tupman.
The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Riley, who was sick several days last week, is improving.
Miss Jessie Gordon entertained her Sunday school also Chas. Riley's class at her home last Friday night.
Mr. and Mrs. Morris Rouse and daughter, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rouse, of Burlington.
Miss Alice Hafer of this place and Dr. L. C. Hafer and family of Ludlow, spent Sunday at Carrollton, the guests of relatives.
Mr. John Poston, who was seriously ill last week, was taken to Christ Hospital, Saturday afternoon. Died Sunday night.
A miscellaneous shower was given Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reitman last Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Garnett. They received a nice lot of presents.
Hubert Conner and Benj. Paddock returned home Saturday night from Bellefontaine, Ohio, where they had been attending a Holstein cattle sale several days last week. They purchased several nice cows.

MOONSHINERS CAUGHT.
Lafe W. Burk, Albert Kane and William Brown were arrested Monday morning by Deputy Sheriffs Utz, Snyder and Percival, after the sheriff had searched the premises occupied by Burk, near McVillie and finding the largest moonshine still that had been captured to date. The officers found a number of pint and half pint bottles partially filled with moonshine, and also a large jug with one gallon of moonshine in it. The still was of about 30-gallon capacity and made of copper, and was found in the yard near the dwelling under a lot of old roofing, the jug of liquor was found in the barn under the hay. It appears from the evidence obtained by the officers that Burk had been making and selling moonshine to the workmen on the dam at McVillie for some time.

Ce-re-a-lia Sweets
SEE-REE-ALE-YA
You Make More Money
The secret of making money in the dairy business lies in using a feed which will produce all the milk a cow is capable of giving.
Ce-re-a-lia Sweets is not a cheap feed, but it's the most economical feed you can use. It actually increases the flow of milk. Feed Ce-re-a-lia Sweets, and your bank account will show a bigger profit at the end of the month.
Ce-re-a-lia Sweets is a scientific mixture of eight well-known milk producing feeds. It's clean and flaky—never cakes or lumps. And how the cows do like that molasses flavor!
Try Ce-re-a-lia Sweets Four Weeks at Our Risk
Here's how you can prove to your own satisfaction that Ce-re-a-lia Sweets will actually make you more money. Feed Ce-re-a-lia Sweets to one cow for a month. Keep a record of the milk she gives. If you don't get more milk or better milk, if you are not entirely satisfied, you will be refunded every cent you paid for the feed. Get details from
EARLEY & DANIEL CO.,
Erlanger, Ky.
EARLEY & DANIEL CO.,
Covington, Ky.
EARLEY & DANIEL CO.,
Cincinnati, Ohio.

Public Sale.
I will continue my auction sale at my store,
Saturday, Oct. 28, '22
There are hundreds of useful articles which I did not get to offer at the last sale. There will be lots of bargains. Tell your friends and come early.
W. L. KIRKPATRICK.
Sale to begin at 12 o'clock.
J. M. EDDINS, Auctioneer.

NOTICE.
All hunting and trapping on my place is positively forbidden.
J. H. WALTON,
Rabbit Hash.
German hotels now charge foreign guests an additional tax of 80 per cent. American hotels, however, make no such discrimination—they charge all guests alike, both native and foreign.
PRECINCT WORKERS NOTICE
There will be a meeting of all precinct workers of the county at Bullington on Saturday, Oct. 28th at 1 p. m. Please arrange to be present and have your reports complete for there is business of importance.
C. O. HEMPFING,
Chairman Boone County Burley Tobacco Growers Inc.

THE HOME RADIO
How to Make and Use It By A. HYATT VERRILL

XXI. TRANSMISSION OR SENDING
I have already described the difference between interrupted waves and continuous waves and how the human voice, or other sounds, if transmitted by the ordinary interrupted waves of a wireless telegraph sender, would be broken up and unintelligible. I have also explained how continuous waves are capable of carrying such sounds without breaking them up; but while sounds of voices, music, etc., cannot be properly transmitted over an interrupted wave yet code signals or alternate dots and dashes may be transmitted over continuous waves by means of instruments which break or interrupt such waves, so that a radio-telephone may be used to send both telegraphic and telephonic messages and a radio telephone receiver will receive both.
The principal item and most essential part of the sending or transmission apparatus, known as the radio-telephone, is the device by which the continuous waves are produced. The instrument which was first devised for this purpose was an ordinary arc-light, but this is now given place to a device known as a vacuum-tube oscillator which is similar to an ordinary incandescent light with specially prepared filament and other devices. The operation of the arc-light was as follows: If a condenser and inductance coil are shunted across the current in such a way that the current in the condenser is charged and the potential difference across the arc increased. This still further charges the condenser which discharges through the coil and again becomes charged in the reverse direction, the whole operation being repeated over and over again with extreme rapidity—as many as one million discharges a second being usual. Diagrammatically this arrangement is shown in Fig. 56, in which A represents the aerial, B the ground, C the coil, D the telephone receiver, E the condenser, F the light, G the dynamo or other source of electricity. The vacuum-tube on the other hand, acts in a very different manner. When this is charged with electricity the filament discharges an immense number of electrons upon a plate with incalculable rapidity Fig. 57, and this, by means of various appliances, produces the oscillating currents of extremely high frequency, or continuous waves. Unlike the arc light, moreover, the vacuum tube is employed in receiving, the incoming waves varying the current through the filament and so altering the flow of electrons, thus transforming the vacuum-tube from an oscillator to a detector.
It must not be supposed, however, that an oscillator, a condenser, a coil and an aerial and ground are all that are necessary in order to send wireless telephonic messages. In addition, there are numerous appliances for tuning or adjusting wave lengths, modulating, amplifying and other purposes and in a large station these are very complicated and powerful. For example, the Westinghouse station at Newark uses five 250 watt tubes—two being used as oscillators and three as modulators—and which work in conjunction with two fifty watt speech amplifiers. The current used in lighting is ten volt A. C. with five amperes of radiation. For sending the sounds, microphones are used and to maintain an even cool temperature on the tubes a rotary fan is employed. In this station the coil or inductance is a flat or pancake helix wound with half-inch copper ribbon while a special motor generator furnishes a 2,000 volt current for the plate. The aerial is of the multiple-tuned type of six 150-foot wires at a height of 210 feet above the ground with a counterpoise of twelve wires on thirty foot spreaders twenty feet above the roof and below the aerial. As a lead-in, a ten wire cable on hoops two inches in diameter is used.
This, however, is one of the largest and most powerful stations in the world and for amateurs nothing so complete, so large or so powerful is ever required. For ordinary purposes, a very small sending set is all that is necessary and even for the smallest license is required, for while there is no objection to any one sending a receiving set and listening-in to anything that is in the air, a multitude of signals and sounds being sent is a great nuisance and interferes with every legitimate sending station by confusing the sounds and creating interferences. In fact, the greatest trouble in listening-in is interference and it is far more difficult to tune out the weak waves from nearby amateur sending instruments than to tune to the desired signals from the large stations.
Also, it is far more difficult to construct and set up a transmitting set than a receiving set and hence I advise all amateurs to leave the sending alone, or else make no attempt to install or use a transmitting set until thoroughly familiar with the subject and no longer an amateur. But as no book on wireless telephony would be considered complete without a description and instructions as to rigging up sending sets, a few simple directions and figures are given.

Bargains! Bargains!
An opportunity to Buy Goods at
Greatly Reduced Prices.
Each and every article of my entire stock including Farm Fence, Ball Band Rubber Goods, Dry Goods and thousands of articles carried in stock in a general store, will be offered at strictly
Wholesale Prices.
Sale to begin
Saturday, Oct. 28, 1922
and will continue until stock is disposed of. Give me a call as I will be in a position to
SAVE YOU MONEY,
J. W. Grant,
Bullittsville, Kentucky.

All obituaries, card of thanks and all other matter, not news, must be paid for at 5 cents per line.

Bullittsburg-Baptist Church.
J. W. CAMPBELL, Pastor.
Sunday School every Sunday at 10:00 a. m.
Regular preaching services on the First and Third Sundays in each month at 11:00 a. m.

BIG BONE.

Uncle Dan Smith remains quite poorly.
Stewart Baker was at the Springs Sunday.
Mrs. W. H. L. Baker has returned to Ft. Thomas for the winter.
Ed. Abdon moved from East Bend to J. M. Baker's place last week.
Mrs. Geo. Slayback was the guest of Mrs. Curtis Johnson, Tuesday.
James Kite made a business trip to the city the last of the week.
Russell Miller, wife and children of Devon, were at the Springs, Sunday.
B. B. Hume, sheriff of Boone-co., was in this burg the first of the week.

Tom Story and wife, of Florence, visited John Glone and family, last Sunday.

Born—To Charles Abdon and wife near Richmond a nine pound boy—When?—Ed.

Ross Atha arrived from Detroit, Michigan, Friday, very much pleased with his trip.

M. V. Black, of Covington, was the guest of relatives here the last part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Binder, Sr., and Mike and Eddie, attended services at South Fork, Sunday.

Charles Melvin wife and children were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Norman near Union, the first of the week.

J. L. Jones and wife entertained for dinner Sunday his children and grandchildren, and his brother Jas. Jones, of Mo.

Mrs. Thos. Huey was taken to a hospital Friday. She underwent an operation for a nose trouble. She is doing nicely at this writing.

Harry Alphin wife and baby, of Ryle, and Elmer Denegun, of the city, were guests of Mrs. Sallie Hughes and family, Sunday.

Hikers from Erlanger, twenty in number, hit the Springs about two o'clock Sunday afternoon. Mrs. H. E. Miller had dinner awaiting for them.

Married in Covington Saturday Oct., 21, Mr. Ray Sparks and Miss Neoma Dugdon. They are splendid young people and the community extends congratulations.

RULING

ON VACCINATION UPHOLD

Appellate Court Refuses Injunction Against Barring Children From Newport Schools

A decision was handed down by the Kentucky Court of Appeals in the case of Walter Andes against the Campbell County and Newport Boards of Health, in which the court upheld the decision of Circuit Court Judge A. M. Caldwell, who refused to enjoin the health officials from prohibiting the eight-year-old daughter of Walter Andes from attending school because she had not been vaccinated. When the injunction sought by Andes was refused, Horace Root, attorney for Andes, appealed the case.

The Appellate Court in its decision says:

"The fact that smallpox does not exist at the present time in Campbell County or territory adjacent thereto is immaterial, since the existence of a reasonable apprehension of a smallpox epidemic is sufficiently shown to warrant the enforcement of Rule 76 of the Kentucky Board of Health, requiring teachers and pupils of public schools to be vaccinated."

The decision has a direct bearing on the fight being waged in Dayton, Ky., against vaccination by a branch of a society whose headquarters are in Chicago. The society placarded the city with posters denouncing the vaccination laws.

Before Jack Dempsey agrees to fight the African Siki, he should reflect on what George Washington said about the danger lurking in foreign entanglements.

That 400 per cent dividend declared by the Standard Oil Company will be of help to the stockholders in paying for their gasoline at the increasing prices.

President Harding's letter commending the record of the last Congress merely confirms the impression that the President is easy to please.

The ex-Kaiser says he was brought up with the Bible. The Bible, however, appears to have survived the experience without visible injury.

That shipping route to be opened by the Soviet government thru the Arctic Sea will probably turn out to be a frost.

New York's wealthiest retired boot-leger has gone to Italy to live, probably attracted by the boot-leg shape of the country.

Anyhow, the king of Greece and the Sultan of Turkey had enough sense to get in out of there.

Rev. Geo. V. Moore will preach at Burlington next Sunday morning and evening.

BASE BALL.

Manager Kirkpatrick and his ball players journeyed to Petersburg last Saturday and took Manager Gordons stars into camp before a large crowd of rooters. Black and Christy were in good form, but Black had the better of the argument and had Petersburg at his mercy except in the 3rd inning, when Shinkle the first man up, was nipped on four balls, Christy followed with a hit when Everhart with fire in his eyes, landed on one of Black's fast ones, and the ball landed in deep center for a home run, driving Shinkle and Christy in ahead of him. Petersburg scored another run in the 4th on two hits and a sacrifice. The Burlington boys got busy in the second when Brady hit for a base and Black followed with a home run. Another run was scored in the third on a hit by Kelly, who stole second and scored on Kuhn's double, and they could do nothing further with Christy's bats until the 8th when Kuhn singled, Ryle singled, Brady singled and Black landed on another for his second home run in the game, good for three runs. Both teams played good ball and the spectators enjoyed the game very much. The score by innings follows:

Innings 0 2 1 0 0 0 3 0—B Burlington
0 0 3 1 0 0 0 0—A Petersburg

How runs—Black 2; Everhart, Two base hits—Kuhn; Hits by Burlington 12; by Petersburg 5; Struck out by Black 13; Christy 7. Base on balls off Christy 2; off Black 2. Umpires—Brady and Blackburn.

Bryan Snelling, catcher for Petersburg, was hit on the arm by one of Black's fast balls and fractured the bone in his forearm.

RICHWOOD.

A car load of coal arrived here Monday.

Mrs. James Smith died Sunday morning at 4 o'clock at her home.

Wm. Glacken and Elmer Carpenter had corn cuttings the past week.

Silo filling is over, Ben Carpenter being the last to fill a few days ago.

Mrs. B. P. Tanner and daughter, of Lexington, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Cleck.

Fowler Lodge, I. O. O. F. will give a chicken supper at their hall Saturday evening Nov. 25th.

James Donnelly, who died at his home after an illness of several weeks, made his home here for several years.

Many scholars of Miss Mary Ann Thompson who was buried at Burlington Monday, were sorry to hear of her death.

Mrs. Fanny Sleet and Miss Mary Fennell attended a surprise birthday in honor of Mrs. M. F. Rouse, near Burlington, Sunday.

The ones that are breaking windows, destroying property and taking property from the Excelsior Grange Hall are hereby warned that they will be prosecuted to the extent of the law if they do not stop their unlawful doings.

Mrs. T. E. Dixon was given a surprise birthday dinner by near relatives and friends at her home in Richmond on Sunday October 15th. All took well filled baskets of good things to eat, and was very much enjoyed by all. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. James Dobbins, Mrs. Belle Northcutt, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Elsie Hogrefe and daughters, Marie Hogrefe and Mrs. Frank Dougherty, Mr. J. B. Dixon, Miss Mary Dixon, Miss Jennie Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dixon, son Jerrold Dixon and daughter Susan Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Carpenter and sons John Carpenter and Earl Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Dixon and son Ben Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Bristow, Mrs. Anna Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Dixon and daughters, Sara Virginia and Mary Alice, Miss Emma Welsh, Miss Martha Kruse, Mrs. Tom Millichamp, Miss Mayme Dixon, Miss Viola Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge Carpenter.

FLICKERTOWN.

J. H. Snyder was shopping in the city last Friday.

Car Mullen of Newport, was a visitor here Saturday night.

Blufe Wingate and family visited Wm. Burns and mother, Sunday.

Miss Neoma Beemon visited Alice White from Saturday till Monday.

Wilber Snyder and Amiel Hensley called on Richard Hensley, Sunday.

J. H. Snyder wife and son Carroll, visited Ed. Maxwell and family, last Sunday.

Bryan Snelling got his arm broken by a pitched ball Saturday at Petersburg.

Chas. Akin and wife and Mrs. Beemon, visited L. P. Sullivan and family, Sunday.

F. M. Voshell and family, visited Wm. Lowe and family at Sparta, Indiana, Sunday.

Mr. J. W. White visited in Cincinnati, Covington and Newport from Thursday till Sunday.

Mrs. Aggie Bushhorn, of Moores Hill, Ind., is visiting her sister, Mrs. P. M. Voshell this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Day entertained with a dance and cards last Saturday night. Quite a good crowd was in attendance and all reported having a good time.

Boone Post No. 4, American Legion, will have appropriate ceremonies on Armistice Day, Nov. 11th.

Next week's Recorder will contain the program.

THE RURAL CHILD DEFICIENT IN THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL SUBJECTS

Does the child in the one-teacher rural school have opportunities equal to the child in the city in learning to read, spell, manipulate figures, and to know the facts in American history.

The answer to this question is, "No," according to comparisons made in four States—Kentucky, Virginia, New York and North Carolina.

This answer is based on results found in recent surveys made in these States. The achievements of the children were measured by the same or similar standardized tests. Due allowances were made for the fact that the elementary course in North Carolina and Virginia is seven years instead of eight.

What The Reading Tests Show

The reading tests point out that in Kentucky, New York and North Carolina the small rural schools are getting results which are a full year behind those of the city schools. The comparison in New York further shows that the four-teacher rural schools make a better showing than the one-teacher rural schools. In Virginia seventh-grade rural pupils show a deficiency of one-half a year when compared with corresponding grades in the cities.

What The Spelling Tests Show

Just as in reading, the results of the spelling tests in Kentucky show that the small rural schools are one year behind those of the cities. The reports for New York and Virginia say in general that the spelling tests give additional evidence of the inferior schooling to be found in the one-teacher schools. The report for North Carolina states that as a rule city schools spell correctly less than eight words and the rural schools less than six words in twenty.

What The Arithmetic Tests Show

The addition scores taken in connection with the age of the pupils in Kentucky indicate that the work of these grades in the one-room schools is about two and three-quarter years behind that of the same city grades; addition and multiplication scores show them to be one year behind in New York. The report for North Carolina says that seventh-grade rural children have little more than fourth-grade ability in addition when measured by the achievements of children in good schools; that of Virginia states that seventh-grade children in one-teacher schools are two years behind those in the cities.

What The History Tests Show

The Virginia survey does not record examinations in history. The tests given in the three remaining States were of two types—instruction questions and thought questions. The comparisons follow:

On the basis of results obtained in other States eighth-grade pupils in one-teacher schools in Kentucky answered fewer fact questions than sixth-grade children elsewhere, and they were almost a complete failure in questions requiring interpretation of the passage to be read. In New York eighth-grade children in the larger rural schools stand about midway between New York City seventh and eighth grades; those in the smaller rural schools are a year short of those in the larger rural schools. Seventh-grade rural children in North Carolina did only half as well as sixth-grade children are expected to do.

Causes of Inferior Work in Rural Schools.

Each one of the surveys analyzes the causes of the differences between the achievements of rural and city school children. In each instance they are practically the same. Briefly stated, the outstanding causes of poor work in the small rural schools are due to short school terms, irregular attendance, the lack of well-trained teachers, the absence of uniform standards of achievement in elementary grades, the dearth of special classes for unusual children, the inadequacy of supervision and poor financial support.

The Remedy.

All of the surveys recommend that the condition can be greatly remedied by the consolidation of one-room schools. This does not mean that the mere size of a school is in itself accountable for the difference in the scores. It means that the larger school unit is superior because of the advantages that go with it, such as increased revenue, better buildings, better teachers, better equipment, better classification, better instruction, and better supervision.

POOL MEMBERS ARE #### WARNED NOT TO

BUY TOBACCO

President Stone Declares Such Practice, Even With Intent to Sell Thru Cooperative Organization, Violation of Basic Principle of Organization.

Lexington, Ky.—Members of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association have no right to buy tobacco outside the Association and sell it thru the Association, President and General Manager James C. Stone said, nor have they, under the by-laws of the Association, the right to buy the tobacco of the fellow members of the Association, even with the intention of selling it thru the Association, Mr. Stone declared.

Now smoked
by a million men who love
a superior cigarette

PARDON RECORDS.

By Observer

Louisville, Ky.—A drive upon the pardon records of Governors of Kentucky for the last ten years, disclosing the activity of Democrats and Republicans, alike, indicates the trend along which an effort will be made to nominate a Democrat for Governor next year.

The disclosures, indicating pernicious political activity, are being sponsored by one of the newspapers committed to the "business man for Governor" campaign. The angle taken in these sensational publications is that any man who is in the Governor's chair with an eye glued upon a more exalted political office will do everything he can to further that ambition.

And one of the ways to feather nests with votes in the past has been to be a ready distributor of pardons, especially to large families who have a relative behind the bars, or to political leaders with a friend in trouble, provided these leaders hold certain political subdivisions of the state in the hollows of their hands. It is significant to note that although a number of candidates have been tipped as prospective seekers after the Democratic nomination for Governor, none of the Democratic dailies of this city has espoused the cause of any. The candidates most frequently discussed are of the school designated by the business-man-for-Governor element as of the professional politician type. The three Democratic dailies of Louisville, for example, all appear to be in favor of a still unnamed business man for Governor. None has boasted the stock of any of the man back up certain elements in the party.

It is understood, however, that one of the active seekers for the nomination bore the lions in their den by visiting a number of editorial sanctums to learn how he stood in their regard with respect to the chair of the Chief Executive. The answer, it appears, was the same everywhere. No personal objection to the man himself was offered, but the reply was advanced that, if possible, a business man candidate would be more welcome.

However, if the candidate of the progressives does not land, it is not likely that these papers will do anything but back the winner, and a candidate who stands in position of second choice all around cannot be said to be in a weakened place. Enquirer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth and sister, Miss Mamie Paulding, of Walnut Hills, Ohio, were visitors to Burlington, last Sunday.

Mrs. Sarah Carpenter spent several days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Carpenter in the Locust Grove neighborhood.

Some ditching and repairing of the Bellevue and Burlington pike is being done. That pike is in very bad repair.

Dr. L. H. Crisler, wife and daughter, of Covington, spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Fannie Rice and family.

Some folks are so busy cursing the politicians, that they can't find any time to clear up their home places.

Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Carpenter entertained a number of friends and relatives at dinner, last Sunday.

W. R. Rogers and sisters, Misses Sallie and Elizabeth, spent Sunday with Miss Eugenia Riley at Union.

Elmer Kelly and wife spent Sunday with his brother, Charles and family, in Waterloo neighborhood.

One thousand gallons of paint is required to paint the dome of the Capitol in Washington.

Mrs. Fannie Snyder, of Petersburg, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Alice Snyder.

CAR SENSE

Spend
a Dollar
and
Save
Ten

Little defects grow into big ones in time if not corrected.
The correction of a small defect in its early stages costs but little.
When left until it grows into serious proportions its correction runs into money.
That is what makes the maintenance of a car so expensive to many people—neglecting the little things until they grow into big ones.
The better—the safer—the more economical way is to see the garage man at the first warning of trouble.
Today is always a good time to have it done.

EDDINS BROTHERS

TIRES, TUBES AND ACCESSORIES.

Burlington, Kentucky.

BRAKE BAND OIL—Guaranteed to stop Ford bands from chattering.
Agents for U. S. and Ajax Tires.

Established 1886.

A Bank Account IS ONE OF THE FIRST STEPPING STONES TO SUCCESS IN LIFE.

How are You Stepping!

This bank invites young men and women especially to open savings accounts. Officials of the bank are pleased at all time to give the benefit of their experience to customers and others who seek advice.
When in doubt come to this bank. Your success means greater success for us.

Has it ever occurred to you that a checking account is a very convenient thing to have?

Boone Co. Deposit Bank

Burlington, Kentucky.

N. E. RIDDELL, President W. D. CROPPER, Cashier
W. A. GAINES, Vice-Pres. G. S. KELLY, Asst. Cashier.

RIISING SUN FLOUR

IS GIVING WONDERFUL SATISFACTION

Have You Tried a Sack?

The following merchants in Boone

County can supply you:

E. A. STOTT, Petersburg.

W. G. KITE, Waterloo.

CRAIG & RYLE, Rabbit Hash.

J. D. MOORE, Big Bone.

THOS. HUFF, Hamilton, Ky.

Insist on This Flour.

YOU WILL BE DELIGHTED.

COURTESY SERVICE STABILITY

Making a Selection.

In making a banking connection be sure that you select a bank that is large enough and strong enough to care for your every need in storm as well as fair weather.

THIS—THE LARGEST BANK IN THE COUNTY—OFFERS YOU THIS KIND OF A BANKING CONNECTION.

Capital and Surplus, $150,000.00

4 per cent and the Taxes paid on Deposits.
We do business for our customers.

Peoples Deposit Bank

Burlington, Ky.

W. L. B. ROUSE, President. C. H. YOEUELL, Vice-President.

A. B. RENAKER, Cashier.

Neill H. Martin, Asst. Cashier. L. C. Beemon, Asst. Cashier.

Petersburg Theatre

At Petersburg, Kentucky

Saturday Night, Oct. 28th

"The Great Lover"

CLAIRE ADAMS

At Burlington, Kentucky,

Friday Night, Oct. 27th

"Just Out of College"

JACK PICKFORD

CHILDREN 10c. ADULTS 25c

War Tax Included Will Begin promptly at 7:30

DEMOCRATIC TICKET

For Congress
HON. A. B. ROUSE

As the Editor Sees It.

In the elections this fall how many people will really know anything about the qualifications of the men for whom they vote?

In this country there is a popular fallacy to the effect that the people select their own candidates.

But they do not. The average voter is merely a sheep who follows the bell weather. The unseen hands that pull the strings after election trot out a number of candidates who will be amenable to dictation, and the voter is magnanimously permitted to take his choice among this hand picked bunch.

The winner knows in advance that in important matters his mind will not be his own. But it befuddles Mr. Voter, and that is all that is required.

But the case is doubly, our political arena is occupied by a limited number of giants and millions of docile lambs.

No, not that protest, brother. We admit that there are exceptions to most rules, but in this one the exceptions are distressingly small, few and far between.

Greece has asked the U. S. to lower the immigration bars and allow an additional 1 million Greek refugees to enter this country.

There can be but one answer to such a request.

If money and food and clothing are needed to care for these people America will contribute her share, and probably more, as she has always done in the past.

We respect the foreigner who comes to us and becomes a constructive and productive citizen of the United States. But we are surprised with aliens whose principal aim in life is to curse the government that feeds them, and we want no more of them.

It is time for all good citizens to rally around the slogan of America for Americans, and put a padlock on the door.

What are we to believe? One day we are reading reign dispatches that England and France are at odds.

Then we learn that they are in complete accord.

The next day we are told that they are on the verge of an open rupture.

In the run of a week we have about seven different versions, in all of which we are expected to place implicit faith.

What are we to believe? Simply this: Either European statesmen and officials have no minds of their own, or many of our foreign correspondents are the biggest liars on earth.

Beyond this, play safe, by believing nothing.

Is there a wall paper trust? If so, it is in danger of going to pieces. At the present rate of exchange it is about as cheap to paper your house with German marks and Russian rubles as it is to spread on good American wall paper.

The wall paper industry should register a vigorous and vociferous protest against their foreign invasion of its legitimate field.

When we see a fellow using the American flag to attract attention to his business enterprises, we can not help but wonder how much affection for the flag he would display if it led him to where the bullets fly thickly and rapidly and his indiscriminate.

What think you?

BOONE GIRLS DOING GOOD BAS.

KET BALL WORK

Evelyn Witham, daughter of J. P. Witham, of Verona, is doing splendid work on the basketball team at Eastern. The girls have been practicing for some time and expect to begin the season early. Eastern has fine material for a real team this year and under the direction of Miss Katharine Hammond, coach and director of Physical Education at Eastern, a brilliant season is anticipated.

Evelyn is showing up fine in practices and will add much to the strength of the team. She is trying for the position of center. She played at that position for two years on the Petersburg High School team, which won a silver loving cup at Dry Ridge and lost only five games in four years.

Miss Witham is a member of the Junior class at Eastern and is doing fine class work. She is a girl of many accomplishments. She won the medal in domestic Science for her bread at the tournament at Independence, Ky., in 1918.

The farmer who goes into the live stock game without having a supply of home-grown feeds or who has not taken the production of these into consideration will not get very far.

St. holders in private banks in Sweden must be native Swedes.

WHAT PUNISHMENT?

Gland piracy is the latest and most ungodly of all nefarious practices this nation has ever produced.

Medical science has demonstrated that youthful vigor may be restored to old men by the grafting of the manhood gland of a young and robust person.

This discovery has produced the gland pirate, who abducts his victim, has a gland removed by an expert surgeon, and then throws the unsexed unfortunate out to be found by some pedestrian.

The respectable element of the medical fraternity is up in arms and demanding that this new and ghoul-ish practice be crushed in its incipency.

But it will not be crushed as long as judges and lawyers and police officers talk only in terms of jail sentences, as they are now doing.

Where there are senile and doddering old fossils of wealth who crave to become young bucks again there will always be found unscrupulous surgeons and gland pirates willing to serve them for a share of that wealth.

The manhood of our young men must be protected at all hazards and at all costs.

We believe in law and order, but the sacredness of a God made person is above all man made laws, until that person by his own act forfeits the rights which God endowd him.

What punishment would you consider adequate to the crime?

AND NOW IT IS BOTH.

Hurrah!

Femininity has spoken, and short skirts are not to be doomed entirely, according to some of the leading modistes.

It is to rest with the women themselves, and especially with the younger set.

If a girl has pipe stem legs, or if her ankles are large and unshapely, she may take refuge behind the long skirt and be quite in style.

But if her limbs are of that beautiful contour which commands admiration and excites envy, then short skirts may continue to be worn and masculinity may continue to stare.

As a matter of fact, it is going to be a hard job to induce a young woman who has been admired for her shapely legs to tuck them out of sight again.

And of a certainty few men can be found who will aid the long skirt movement.

Life is too sweet as it is—for the men.

Hurrah again!

"HELL AND MARIA"

President Harding and Gen. Dawes are close friends, and the world is constantly singing the praises of the chief executives.

Dawes went to New York recently and in the course of a "Hell and Maria" speech characterized Congress as a "conglomeration of cowardly peewees"—and congress frothed.

Then he dashed off and dined with the president.

Now the president is out in a statement in which he lauds the work of congress as the best yet, a veritable mountain of constructive achievement—and congress simmers.

Does this disprove the ancient theory that "great minds run in the same channel?"

Or perhaps one of these two divergent minds is not great?

Or perhaps they can't find the channel?

"Hell and Maria!"

Columbus, Ohio—"Hold to your 1918 war savings stamps until they mature, two months hence, on January 1st," is the advice of P. J. Wood, Director of the Government Savings Organization in the Fourth Federal Reserve District. Director Wood pointed out that the cash value of a $5.00 war savings stamp during October is $4.69, but that if held until January 1st it will be worth its face value of $5.00. Owners of these stamps are also warned not to exchange these stamps for securities of doubtful value, even though offers are made to take in the stamps at their face value of $5.00 each. It is suggested, in this connection, that such owners consult with their local bank or building and loan institution for advice regarding the reinvestment of the money to be returned by the government in the redemption of the 1918 war savings stamps.

Plans are now being formulated to handle the redemption of the 1918 war savings stamps, $90,000,000 of which still remain in the hands of persons residing in the Fourth Federal Reserve District. It is hoped, of course, that the greater part of this stupendous sum will be reinvested in Treasury Savings Certificates, which are, according to Government Savings official, "grown-up" war saving stamps. These certificates are on sale at practically all post offices in denominations of $1,000, $100 and $25, costing $82, $82, and $20.50 each, respectively.

The best place for a farmer to become a business man is on his own farm; and the farmer who does not know whether a cow pays for her feed is no business man.

To convert any proscribing far into a churn a dasher has been patented with a spiral handle, which revolves as it is moved up and down through a top screwed to the jar.

FOR CONGRESS

In all States members of the lower house are to be elected next month; in approximately one-third of the States Senators are to be chosen. In the latter class, where no Senator is to be chosen, but a full delegation in the House is to be named, is Kentucky.

One responsibility—and a very grave one it is—imposed upon members of the Senate. This responsibility is that of determining the fiscal policy of the Government. How much the Government is to spend to carry on its business; what the money is to be expended for; why it is to be so expended; how and from whom it is to be raised before it is spent—these are the most important things that members of the House at Washington are, by the Constitution, authorized to take interest in and to act upon.

At the special and regular sessions of the Sixty-seventh Congress, laws were passed on these subjects. These laws affect the income and the outgo of the Government, and of every citizen. The party now in power enacted these laws. The most important feature of this class of legislation is the Fordney-McCumber Tariff Law, which was placed on the statute book by a Republican Congress and signed by a Republican President.

Each candidate for Congress in every district in the country is either in favor of it or against it.

Law. With few exceptions, Republican candidates favor it. With few exceptions, Democratic candidates oppose it. If the Democratic candidate for Representative in Congress is elected, he will be pledged to do all in his power to repeal this law. If the Republican candidate is successful, he will be pledged to do all in his power to support and maintain it.

Easily paramount, therefore, of all issues in these races for election of members of the House of Representatives at Washington is the question of taxation, especially as that question is now concretely presented in the Fordney-McCumber Tariff Law.

If the people of Kentucky, for example, are in favor of this law, Republican Congressmen should be sent to Washington. If the people of this State are opposed to that law, Democratic Congressmen should be elected.

It is needless—also it is futile—to lug other irrelevant issues into these races for the House of Representatives.

What the people want to know is whether or not a system that already nets the Government a deficit of $650,000,000 annually is to be sustained. They want to know whether or not tax laws that increase the cost of living and reduce the wage level throughout the country are to be maintained and expanded.

Fronted now with this simple issue, voters should have no hesitation as to whom they should vote for. When they put political unbecomely to one side and get down to brass tacks, they will make their decisions surely. With the remainder of the country, Kentucky should wash its hands of the preferential class government that has been set up at Washington.—Courier-Journal.

Just Smiles

An Omaha woman sat up for her husband until one o'clock in the morning, intending to discuss with him the sinfulness of his ways. Finally she gave it up and went upstairs only to find him in bed and fast asleep there for many hours. As he hadn't been out at all.

An Indulgent Father.

"And so my daughter wants to marry you, does she? What for?"

"Why, sir—I—I—don't exactly know, sir."

"Neither do I," the old man mused. "The whims of that child are absolutely unaccountable. First she wanted a doll and she cried until she got it."

Then she wanted a dog, and next pony. Now she wants a monkey.

His Party.

A matron of determined character was encountered by a young woman reporter on a country paper, who was sent out to interview leading citizens as to their politics.

"May I see Mr. Jones?" she asked of a stern looking woman who opened the door at one house.

"No, you can't," answered the matron decisively.

"But I want to know what party he belongs to," pleaded the girl.

The woman drew up her tall figure. "Well, take a good look at me," she said, "I am the party he belongs to!"

Little Charlotte accompanied her mother to the home of an acquaintance. When the dessert course was reached the little girl was brought down and given a place next to her mother at the table. The hostess was much given to talking, and quite forgot to give little Charlotte anything to eat. After some time had elapsed Charlotte could hear her no longer. With this she rising high in her throat, she held her plate as high as she could.

"Dona," she said, "I am the party he belongs to!"

In Siberia is composed one-ninth of all the land surface of the globe.

OF DEEP-PILE FABRIC

For all-round wear there is no better or handsomer coat than one made of a lustrous, deep-pile fabric like the model illustrated. Bishop sleeves and a long scarf collar are among its distinguishing features, the scarf ending in silk and chenille fringe. The lining is of one of the finest silk, and there are small pockets at the sides that will help keep the fingers warm in zero weather.

$49.50
and a Ford Chassis
Gives You This Classy
Ames Racer

Turn your old Ford into a snappy new Racer, with speed, style, class, by mounting this popular new Ames body on your old Ford chassis. Trimmed and painted—hood and body—New York Red, striped with silver. Note how Ames special Radiator Shell, with high full streamline hood, produces the most effective cooling only in high grade Sport Cars. Equipment includes gas line extension, radiator filler pipe, trunk with Yale lock and all necessary attachments for mounting. Some material used as in high grade cars. Anyone with wrench and screw driver can mount in an hour. Length, 110 inches.

Delivered to Your Home, $49.50

Here's the chance for every young man to have a car of his own at a trifling cost—a car that will rank favorably with any roadster in appearance, speed and economy. If you haven't a Ford, you can pick up a Ford at a bargain price. A little cost. No risk at all—we guarantee you will be pleased or we will refund your money.

Mounted Free—We will mount a new Ames body on your old Ford chassis at no extra cost, if you will drive to Owensboro. We will take away your car a day or two off and see the country.

This offer holds good for 30 days only
THE F. A. AMES CO., Incorporated
The World's Largest Builders of Special Bodies for Fords
Established 1881
100 Elizabeth St., Owensboro, Ky.

A close shave!
MENTHOLATUM
comforts and heals

POOR FEED CUTS DOWN
WINTER CROP OF EGGS

Lexington, Ky.—Three-fourths of the hens on Kentucky farms would lay more eggs in the winter if they were fed right, according to J. E. Smyth, poultry specialist of the College of Agriculture. This has an important bearing on the profits that farmers make from their flocks because eggs are higher in price in the winter than they are at other times of the year. The flock that produces a large number of eggs during the coming four or five months will pay far more profit on a yearly basis than one that yields the largest number of eggs in the spring and summer months.

"Experiments that have been carried out on the college farm and tested that have been made by farmers of the state show that some form of animal protein, such as milk, meat scrap or tankage is necessary if hens are to lay the most eggs in winter. If as much milk as is gained a day for every 30 hens, can be had, it is not necessary to feed a dry mash containing this protein. A grain mixture made of 70 parts of corn and 30 parts of oats or wheat should be given along with the milk. It probably will be best for farmers to use wheat along with the corn this winter as Kentucky oats this year turned out to be of poor quality. Ground limestone also should be kept before the hens at all times as this is needed for making egg shells.

FARMS FOR SALE.

13 acres, five room house etc., near Devon, Ky. $2750

Two acres and six room house, Union, Ky. $2025

Thirty-one acres, four room house, etc., near Florence, Ky. $3900.

One hundred and one acres, four room house, etc., near Burlington, Ky. $4000.

C. T. CLAUNCH,
Erlanger, Ky.
Nov 2-2t

ONE POUND OF NOBETTER
COFFEE

MAKES THIRTY-FIVE CUPS OF THE BEST COFFEE
YOU EVER DRANK. IT COSTS YOU 33c PER POUND, LESS THAN ONE CENT A CUP.

Isn't a Cup of GOOD Coffee worth a Penny? Buy from our agents

Burlington, Ky. .... W. L. Kirkpatrick
Butler, Ky. .... C. B. Stith
Berry, Ky. .... C. Spradling
Crittenden, Ky. .... Gus Schiller
Erlanger, Ky. .... M. J. Mitchell
Falmouth, Ky. .... W. C. Thorp and B. Beaugrand
Grant, Ky. .... F. H. Brown
Hebron, Ky. .... M. L. Crutcher
Kelat, Ky. .... M. Petty & Sons
Morgan, Ky. .... Walter Dance
Nepton, Ky. .... Thos. Ryan
Verona, Ky. .... N. M. McCormick

If none of our agents are near you, we will deliver you four pounds or more by Parcel Post Prepaid.

Northern Kentucky's LEADING GROCERS AND SEEDSMEN.

GEO. W. HILL & CO.
Be A Hill Customer — It Pays —
27-29 PINE ST.—20 W 7th ST. COV. KY.
In CHAS. CITY — SOUTH BEND — INDIANAPOLIS
Groceries — Canned Goods — Wholesale and Retail

VULCANIZING.

Complete line of Goodyear, Goodrich and Kelly-Springfield Tires and Tubes, good Grade of Automobile and Tractor Oils and Greases.

Auto Accessories kept in stock.

GEORGE PORTER,
BURLINGTON, KY.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN,
DENTIST
In my new office
Clayola Place, Florence, Ky.
Teeth extracted painless. Bridge and Plate Work a Specialty.
All Work Guaranteed

JAMES L. ADAMS
DENTIST
Cohen Building
Pike Street, Covington, Ky.

F. W. Kassebaum & Son
GRANITE & MARBLE
MONUMENTS,
A Large Stock on Display
to Select from.
Pneumatic Tool Equipme't
118 Main Street,
AURORA, IND.

Isinglass Replaced, Cushions and Backs Rebuilt
Buggy and Wagon Upholstering
OF QUALITY
RUFUS W. TANNER
Auto Top Repairing
Seats covers for all makes of cars.
Dixie Highway Erlanger, Ky.
Phone Erl. 79-Y.

You Can Trade
the Article You
Don't Need For Something You
Do by Advertising.

RECHARGE
ANY BATTERY
75c
RENTED BATTERIES FOR ANY MAKE CAR WHILE WE ARE RECHARGING OR REPAIRING YOUR BATTERY.
Dempsey Motor Car Co.,
Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

FOR SALE
Farm of 26 acres at Hebron, Ky., house, barn and outbuildings. 160 acres, 11 room house, barn and outbuildings, near Lawrenceburg, Ky. Both tracts good farm land.
E. MANNIN, Petersburg, Ky.

C. H. YUELL
Farms for Sale
At Bargain Prices.
Burlington, Ky.
Phone Burlington 65
Take Your County Paper

People who use the classified ads in this paper profit by them. The little ads bring quick results. What have you for sale or want to buy. The cost is too small to consider.

Subscribe For The Recorder ..... $1.50 per year

FLORENCE THEATRE
FLORENCE, KY.
Every Tues. and Sat.
THE BEST
MOVING PICTURES
Admission, 22c & 10c

NONPARIEL PARK

Mrs. Arthur Kraus spent Saturday in Covington, shopping.
Mrs. Wm. Arnold made a business trip to Cincinnati Saturday.
Mrs. Maggie Clarkson was visiting relatives in Covington, last week.
Mrs. Cora Laile visited her mother, Mrs. Cohan, of Erlanger.
Mrs. Maggie Watson, of Union, spent the week-end with Mrs. John Swin.
Mrs. Emma Louis is enjoying a trip in St. Louis, Mo., the past month.
Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ellis and family were Sunday guests at J. O. Richards.
Miss Archmarie Lucas had for her guest Sunday Miss H. H. Hedy, of Covington.
Mr. and Mrs. James Nutter, of Erlanger, spent Sunday with Gordon Laile and family.
The many friends of Mrs. Matt Wilhoit regret to hear that she is in a serious condition.
Mrs. Elmer Acker was the guest Sunday afternoon of Mrs. Frank Tanner, of Florence.
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Arnold had for their guests Sunday G. K. Kindard and wife, of Erlanger.
Lon Renaker went to St. Elizabeth's hospital one day last week where he underwent an operation.
Mrs. Butler Carpenter called on Mrs. Mat Wilhoit Monday afternoon, who is seriously ill.
Mrs. Katie Laile is spending a week with her daughter, Mrs. Sullivan and family, of Erlanger.
John Powell Crouch and wife, of Covington, spent the week-end with C. V. Myers and wife, of Main-st.
Clarence Carpenter, Chas. Corbin and Johnny Meiman left Wednesday for Florida to spend the winter.
Mrs. Chas. Chipman returned to her home Monday from a delightful visit with relatives in Dayton, Ohio.
Mrs. John Conner, Mrs. George Markberry and Mrs. John Surface, spent Wednesday in Covington shopping.
Mr. and Mrs. Arch Lucas entertained Sunday night at supper Rev. John Garber wife and baby, of Union.
Mrs. J. P. Groger, of the Dixie Highway, had for her week-end guests her three children, of Covington.
Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nead and son John, spent Sunday with Clarence Quick and family, of Independence Pike.
Mr. and Mrs. John Sommers and Mrs. Maggie Clarkson, were visiting at Mrs. Owen Bradford's Sunday evening.
Mrs. Ezra Wilhoit and Miss Alberta Stephens spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. John King and daughter Evelin.
The Ladies Aid Society of the Baptist church will meet Thursday Nov. 2, at the home of Mrs. John Garber, of Union.
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kraus and son Arthur, and Miss Mattie Hoover, of Dixie Highway, attended church in Newport Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lancaster and daughter Sybil, of Covington, were week-end guests of Mrs. Maggie Clarkson, of Union.
Mrs. Henry Myers and daughter, of Detroit, Michigan, are enjoying a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Boyer, of the Dixie Highway.
The many friends will regret to hear of Mrs. Chas. Carpenter being very ill the past week of asthma at her home near Richmond.
Mrs. E. E. Kelly and daughter, Miss Kathryn, and J. D. Lucas, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith, of near Burlington.
Dr. Charles Southern and wife, of Cincinnati, spent Sunday afternoon with his parents, Albert Southern and wife, of the Dixie Highway.
Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cravens and children, and Mrs. Chas. Snyder and daughter, spent Sunday with Lou Clegg and family, 11 Union.
The many friends of Mrs. Otis Richards will be glad to know she is improving after a few weeks' illness at her home on Gunpowder.
Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Myers entertained at dinner Sunday Rev. Ellis. Rev. Ellis preached two excellent sermons at the Baptist church.
Mr. and Mrs. Louis Houston and son Robert, and Mr. Bob Houston, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Markberry, of Crescent Springs.
Albert Lucas had the misfortune this week to lose a fine horse by slipping on the Dixie Highway and breaking his hip. It had to be killed.
B. B. Hume purchased last week the property on the Burlington Pike of Mrs. Sallie Snyder, which comprised a brick house and 10 acres of land.
Mrs. Chas. Snyder, who underwent operation at Speer's hospital a few days ago, having her tonsils removed, is recovering rapidly at this writing.
Mrs. Ed. Snyder of Shelby street, delightfully entertained the Ladies

Hallow'een Dance
Friday Evening,
Novemb'r 27
Hall of
Florence Amusement Co.
Florence, Ky.
Admission $1.00. Ladies Free.

Aid Society of the Baptist church at her hospitable home last Thursday, October 19th. Quite a number were present.
Mr. Geo. Markberry sold his beautiful new bungalow on Shelby street last week to Mrs. Sallie Snyder, of Burlington Pike. We are glad to welcome her in our town.
Geo. Scott and wife and Miss Mary Whitson motored down to Villa Madonna, Sunday afternoon and were the guests of her daughter, Miss Jane Scott and Miss Kathryn Baucus.
Don't forget to attend prayer meeting Wednesday evening at the Baptist church at 7:30. Mr. Nutter, of Erlanger, will be the leader. The subject, "Second Coming of Christ." Everybody welcome.

PT. PLEASANT.
Uncle Scott Walton doesn't improve in health.
Clarence Hankins is improving his farm by building a new barn.
Mrs. Agness Vickers is nursing Mrs. Belle Hood, who is very ill.
Mr. Geo. Darby and family visited relatives in Sayler Park, Sunday a week.
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Whitcomb of Delhi, spent Sunday with Wm. Tupman and family.
Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Dolwick entertained a number of relatives and friends at dinner, last Sunday.
Mrs. Anna Ruekel, Miss Elsie Gross and Mr. Edward Gross, spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Gross.
Tom Bonar entertained with a "hushing bee" Saturday night. The large crowd reported having a jolly good time.
Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tanner and daughter Miss Beulah, and Mrs. J. Aylor, spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Tanner.
Fraternal meeting began Tuesday night. Bro. Bibble from Erlanger, assisted by our regular pastor, Bro. Omer, are conducting the services. Come out and help make this meeting a success.
Mr. Howard Tanner, Mr. Harvey Souther, Mr. Fred Gross, Mr. Henry Jergens and Mr. Bill Peters graded and worked the noble known at Riggs Lane, last Saturday afternoon. The community is deeply indebted to these gentlemen for their public spiritedness.
The Ladies' Aid met at the home of Mrs. Dexter Carder last Wednesday. Twenty ladies were present, and nine new members were recorded. This was one of the best meetings had for quite a while, and a quilt was very nearly finished. Three more quilts are on hand to be finished before Christmas.
The Young Ladies Sewing Circle of the Pt. Pleasant church met at the home of Miss Mabel Dolwick last Thursday to sew for the Orphans Home. Miss Gladys Jergens read a letter of thanks from the Home for the first consignment of finished garments recently sent in. All donations of money or material thankfully received.

VERONA.
The Verona bank has installed a Radio receiving instrument.
Arch Noell has purchased the Edward Stone property in town, and will move to it soon.
The lectures at St. Patrick church here last week, were well attended by all denominations.
Rev. Bankmaster had a Radio apparatus installed at his home, and is getting the latest news.
Edward Farrer has approved the appearance of his property here in town by having laid cement walks.
The Baptist Sunday school convention will be held at the Glenloch church the fifth Sunday in October. Miss Grace Ransom, of Covington, visited her sister and mother, Mrs. Mattie Ransom, last Saturday and Sunday.
The pie social at the Grad-school building Friday night, was well attended and pronounced a grand success.
Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Powers and family, J. M. Powers and wife, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Conrad, of Dry Ridge.
Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Brown, of Bellevue, are the proud parents of a son, who was born October 24th, 1922.

WHERE TO DEAL IN CINCINNATI

More for your money or your money back

Fogels

S. W. Cor. Seventh & Central Aves.

Women's and Children's Coats Suits
Dresses
Millinery
Etc.

BIG 1 CENT SALE
Now going on—You can buy Blankets, Clothing and Shoes for 1c an extra one

Cincinnati Salvage Co.
10 W. Pearl St. Cincinnati, O.

—Ship By Parcel Post—

The Model Laundry Co.

First Class
Work and Service
We Pay Change: One Way

Y. M. C. A.
Automobile School
Day or Night Classes

Get a Good Job

Steady Work

Unskilled Labor Turned Away

LEARN TO BE AN
AUTOMOBILE MECHANIC

Men Who Are Skilled Always Have Work

BEADS MAKE YOUR OWN
Portieres, Chains, Baggy Ornaments, Tassels, etc. Results pleasing, work fascinating. We teach you how. Design sheet free. Portiere Sample No. 6, large line 10c. Portiere Sample No. 7, best line on market 25c. Sample line No. 1, for necklaces, etc. 10c. Sample line No. 2, better line, 25c. Sample card of Embroidery Beads, 35c. May be returned or credited on order.

N. E. JOHNS & CO.
49 Fitzcarrig Blg., Cincinnati, O.

AMERICAN AUTO HOTEL
425 to 431 W. 5th St.
Cincinnati, Ohio
30c to 4 1-2 Hrs. 50c to 8 1-2 Hrs.
Daytime
TOURISTS WELCOME

THE J. G. FREILINGER
IRON WORKS
All Kinds of Welding
General Machine Work
Prompt Attention to Mail Orders
Phone, Main 2067
SECOND STREET—Bet. Race and Elm

SKILLED LABOR
who know how are needed

Y. M. C. A. Central Parkway

JOHNSTON'S PAINT AND VARNISHES
For Every Conceivable Purpose
The Certain-to-Satisfy Quality
Look and Wear Well—A Trial Will Convince the Most Skeptical
Prices Right. Quality Guaranteed.
Color Cards and Prices Upon Request

Wholesale and Retail
THE R. F. JOHNSON PAINT COMPANY
S. E. COR. PEARL & MAIN STS.
CINCINNATI, OHIO

QUEHL SIGN CO.
SIGNS
Electric and Painted
316 Main Street Cincinnati, Ohio

SEND IT TO US—
Hemstitching 10c a yard.
PLEATING, BURNING COVERED, EMBROIDRY, & BRAIDING
MAIL ORDERS GET SPECIAL ATTENTION
ADVANCE PLEATING AND BUTTON SHOP
104 OPEN PLACE CINCINNATI

FRESH FISH
EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR

ANDERSON
INDEPENDENT FISH CO.
Wholesale Shippers of Fish & Oysters
138 W. Court St. Phone: Canal 2273

GIBSON TENOR BANJOS
SAXOPHONES
BAND AND ORCHESTRA
INSTRUMENTS and MUSIC
FILLMORE MUSIC HOUSE
525 Elm St. Cincinnati, Ohio

WOOD ALCOHOL IN BOOZE
IS NOT THE ONLY THING THAT DESTROYS EYE SIGHT
YOUR OWN CARELESSNESS
In not consulting a competent oculist when your eyes get weak, or burn, may lead you into severe eye trouble. DON'T NEGLECT YOUR EYES.
Consult us at the first hint of trouble.

The Standard Optical Company, 13 Emery Arcade Cincinnati, O.

BUY YOUR FRESH FRUITS and VEGETABLES FROM—
SHIP YOUR COUNTRY PRODUCE TO—
FLATOW, RILEY & CO.
Front Street, Between Main and Walnut Cincinnati, Ohio

HEMSTITCHING Done in 3 Sizes—Regular Hemstitching 10c yard
ALL MATERIALS.
CLOTH COVERED any style or amount.
Mail Orders Promptly Attended To.

ALBERT BANASCH CO., 614 RACE ST., CINCINNATI, O.

FRESH FISH
EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR

ANDERSON
INDEPENDENT FISH CO.
Wholesale Shippers of Fish & Oysters
138 W. Court St. Phone: Canal 2273

Any Make of Battery
RECHARGED
75c

Rentals for any make of car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.

Dempsey Motor Car Co.,
Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

Public Sale.

I will sell at public auction at my farm 33 miles west of Union, Boone county, Ky., on Saturday, Nov. 4, 1922

The following property:
Two good milch cows, good rubber tired buggy, new set buggy harness, work harness, set new chck lines, wheat-fan, corn-sheller, hill-side plow, Dixie plow, molasses pan, cross-cut saw, some household and kitchen furniture and many other articles not mentioned.

Terms—All sums of $5.00 and under, cash; on sums over that amount a credit of 6 months will be given purchaser to give note with good security, payable at Union Deposit Bank, Union, Ky.
OWEN MC MULLEN.
Lute Bradford, Auctioneer.
Sale to begin at 12 o'clock.

The Tri-State Pays Transportation 43c
—and—
Week Oct. 23 to 29th incl. Per pound Butterfat

"I have always shipped cream to The Tri-State and always will ship it there because I get more money there than any other place."—Wm. Harping.
(Printed by Permission)

Shipping your own can of cream DIRECT to The Tri-State will make you more money than any other work connected with the Dairy.

WRITE FOR FREE TRIAL CANS.

The Tri-State Butter Co.
CINCINNATI, OHIO.
Cash Capital and Assets $1,000,000.00.

LUTE BRADFORD, AUCTIONEER
FLORENCE, - - KY.

List your sales with me as I have a wide acquaintance and know all good buyers.

Reference—Florence Deposit Bank, Florence, Ky.

READY FOR SERVICE
During the World War the Red Cross became a synonym for usefulness and devoted service. Our present work is an attempt to perpetuate the willing spirit of those days of stress and strain to try to salvage something of the practical usefulness that sprang so readily into being in the days of war's necessity. There are still perils to face. We are glad we have our work extended to civilian Relief, but we want you to know that this work is financed by the money secured by the yearly drives only. Last week one case was reported in Civilian Relief, investigated and helped. The Y. W. A. of Burlington, did the sewing for this case. Any other organizations wishing to cooperate with the Red Cross will communicate with Mrs. G. W. Tolin, Burlington, Ky. Red Cross duty never ends. Before one task is finished another awaits. In caring for the dead and injured, and in providing shelter and food for the homeless, Red Cross expended during the past year seven hundred and seventy-eight thousand three hundred and forty-six dollars. The knowledge that this organization equipped and ready is watchfully waiting for the first call of necessity is alone sufficient to justify its existence and to call for the earnest support and hearty cooperation of people everywhere.

Publication Committee.

Tutt's Pills
Cleanses the system
ANTI-BILIOUS MEDICINE
stimulates torpid liver, strengthens digestive organs, regulates the bowels, relieves sick headache.

If you can't sidetrack trouble, step over it.

Les't You Forget.
S. H. Dickey's Sale at Union, Friday, Nov. 3d, at 1:30 p. m.

W. B. Johnson
Auctioneer, Walton, Ky.

Lands Posted.
All character of trespassing on our farms is positively prohibited, and we will prosecute all guilty parties. No hunting, trapping or snaring will be allowed.

Name
B. C. Allen.....Precinct
Julia S. Dinsmore.....Bellevue
B. H. Berkshire.....Petersburg
Lucy E. Hance.....Hamilton
J. H. Jockey.....Burlington
S. B. Scott.....Grant
J. H. Walton.....Carlton.
Your name will be put in the list of those posted until Jan. 1st for 50 cents.

FOR SALE
10 acres of good land on the Burlington and Florence pike, 1 1/2 miles west of Florence. Good 10-room brick dwelling. All out-buildings in good condition. Never failing supply of water. This property will make a fine country home

MRS. G. A. SNYDER,
Florence, Ky.
09nov-4t

NOTICE
All persons indebted to the estate of D. B. Dobbins will settle same at once. All persons having claim against D. B. Dobbins, deceased, will present same to me proven as the law requires.

JAMES DOBBINS, Executor,
Walton, Ky.

Whatever medicine may be needed by the sick Man of Europe, it certainly isn't a nerve tonic.

In a way, young ladies are excusable for looking their fellows up to the candy counter and bidding them buy. Husbands are less tractable than lovers.

Don't worry over the stinginess of your neighbor. Ten years hence he may have a plenty while you are hunting a square meal.

It is just as well, perhaps, that men do not understand the minds of women. Vanity doesn't like to be perpetually jolted.

Cold Weather Needs

The whole store is now splendidly equipped to supply your needs for cold weather apparel, home furnishings and other needs. This list will, perhaps suggest some of the cold weather necessities you need:

BLANKETS	GAS HEATERS
COMFORTS	KNIT UNDERWEAR
SWEATERS	WOOLEN DRESS GOODS
FURS	WOOLEN COATINGS
OUTER APPAREL	WOOLEN SUITINGS
WOOL HOSE	LOUNGING ROBES.

Coppin's
COVINGTON

My Winter Stock is Complete.

I have all sizes and kinds of Ball Band Boots and Rubbers—the best rubber goods on the market, if once used always used. They speak for themselves, and

MY PRICES ARE RIGHT.

It is a pleasure to have a customer come in and say, "I want another pair of shoes like those you sold me." That is what Endicott-Johnson Shoes have done for me; they are the best leather shoe for the price, and I have most any kind you want. All we ask is "give them a trial."

Dress Goods.

Some pretty patterns of Dress Gingham, Outing Flannels, Percales, and other Dress Goods.

Sweaters—Yes we have them. Come in and look them over—cold weather is coming.

Underwear.

You will find my stock of Underwear for the whole family the best grade, at a very low price. I bought before the last advance was put on by the manufacturers.

FLOUR It will pay you to buy flour now. I still have some at the old price.

Coffee! Coffee!!

Try a pound of our good coffee. You will want more of it.

D. R. Blythe

Burlington, Kentucky.

BIG STOCK SALE

Having decided to quit the dairy business, I will sell all of my stock on my farm situated on the Dixie Highway between Erlanger and Florence in Kenton Co., 7 1/2 miles south of Covington, on

Wednesday, Nove'ber 1st, 1922

Rain or Shine, at 10:00 A. M.

22-Head of Stock-22

DESCRIBED AS FOLLOWS:

Holstein and Jerseys—8 cows or more fresh by day of sale; balance will be fresh about Dec. Here you will find some of the best cows in Northern Ky., as great care has been spent in the selection of this herd. They are all tubercular tested, if you are looking for cows don't miss this sale. Also 3 horses all good, Weber road wagon, Spring Wagon, new set double Work Harness, 1 ton Ford truck 1919 model, stock body, 6 10-gal. milk cans, 2 milk pails, Oil Stove, Wood Bedstead.

Also same time and place I will offer my Real Estate, consisting of 75 acres together with all improvements—all A No. 1.

Terms—All sums of $15.00 and under, cash; over that amount a credit of six months without interest, notes with approved security payable at Erlanger Deposit Bank, Erlanger, Ky. 4 per cent discount for cash.

Logan H. Foster & Co., Agents

Logan Foster, Auctioneer

R. M. Lucas Clerk

JOE FRAZER

CHAS. CHIPMAN Props

The fact that American citizens bought eighty billion German marks shows that Mr. Barnum was ultra-conservative in his estimate of the sucker birth-rate.

The price of hard coal is put at eight—and so is the coal.

Several North Carolina citizens were injured last week when run over by a runaway elephant. James M. Cox had exactly the same experience two years ago.

Money never makes a man, but it makes a lot of them.

GRANT R. D.

Frank Merrick has purchased the Louis Craig farm.
Louis Merrick bought a Ford from Wilson Conner, last week.
Mrs. Eva Collins, of Cincinnati, visited relatives here Friday.

Mrs. Edith Hodges fell from a buggy Sunday and broke a couple of ribs.
J. C. Kelly is attending United States court at Covington, this week.

Mrs. Ira Smith was called to Union Saturday by the death of her mother.

Mrs. Helen Cunningham and little daughter Jane, of Marietta, O., are visiting her sister, Mrs. Lolla Rice.

Dode Pope has rented Mrs. Annie Ryle's farm and will move there this week. Mrs. Ryle will occupy the house he now lives in at Rabbit Hash.

Mrs. Lucy Ryle, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Nettie Stephens, visited her son Clarence at Georgetown, last week. Dr. Ryle and wife accompanied them home and will make a short visit.

ERLANGER

Reuben Conner is visiting in Indiana.

Mrs. Maggie Cook is visiting at Georgetown.

Mrs. J. Whitson attended church at Florence, Sunday.

Mrs. Benl Terrell was visiting her father at Union, Sunday.

Henley Smith entertained his best girl at Mrs. Cates Sunday.

Mrs. Mike Corbin was the guest of Mrs. Ben Corbin, the past week.

Mrs. J. B. Buckner, of Cincinnati, was calling on friends here Sunday.

Mrs. Harry Ryle was the guest of her sister at Roachdale, Ind., last week.

Mrs. J. Smith, of Somerset, Ky., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T.B. Grissom.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Smith spent Saturday and Sunday at her father's at Union.

John Hogan and wife have returned to their home from their daughters at Latonia.

Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Arnold are the guests of her brother, Dr. C.E. Gardner, of McComb, Ill.

Mrs. Rachel Denedy has returned from a visit with her sister, Mrs. Claud Powers, at Mt. Sterling, Ky.

Mrs. Chas. Cleek and Mrs. Wm. Sutherland, of Erlanger, spent last Sunday at Mrs. Hattie Rouse's at Florence.

IDLEWILD.

A fine crop of nuts is being gathered.

Assessor Cason was busy in our neighborhood last week.

Mrs. Bird McCord spent the mid-week with kinpeople in Owenton.

Miss Mattie Kreylich is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Kate Riley, in Ludlow.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Taylor Gaines have been ill the past week with colds.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Rector will move to their new home below Petersburg November 6th.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kreylich are in Louisville this week attending the Eastern Star convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Grant, of Trinidad, Colo., were dinner guests of Mrs. R. E. Grant, Thursday.

Miss Maud N. Asbury, of Paris, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Asbury.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Graddy and Mr. Bruce Campbell, were guests last Sunday of Dr. and Mrs. M. J. Crouch in Union.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Berkshire entertained about sixty of their friends in a delightfully informal way, Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman, who have been the house guests of Mrs. Geo. Kreylich, left Saturday for their home in Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Barrick and Mrs. Martin, left Saturday for Harrodsburg, after a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Ransdell and interesting family, of Harrodsburg, spent the past week with Rev. J. W. Campbell and Mrs. Campbell.

After spending the summer with friends and relatives in Boone, Mrs. R. S. Hannah and children left Wednesday for their home in Los Angeles, California.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Mr. John Poston, of Hebron, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, last Saturday, where he was operated upon for a locked jaw, but when the surgeon made the incision it was found that nothing could be done. Mr. Poston died Sunday night. Funeral services were held at Hebron, Wednesday.

Public Sale.

We will sell at public auction on the R. A. Brady farm on the Middle Creek road, 3 miles from Bellevue, Ky.,

Wednesday, Nov. 1st, 1922

The Following Property:

10 Cows, 2 Bulls, 11 head of young Cattle, pair six-year old Mules, 10-year old Mule, 2-year old Colt, aged Horse, Sow and ten Pigs, Sow that will farrow by day of sale, 6 40-lb. Shoats, Heavy Brood Sow, 5 130-lb. Shoats, 4 sets of Work Harness, Cream Separator, and many other articles.

TERMS OF SALE.

All sums of $10.00 and under, cash; on sums over that amount a credit of 12 months without interest will be given purchaser to give note with good security, payable at the Peoples Deposit Bank, Burlington, Ky.

Enzweiler & Stephens.

Sale will begin promptly at 12 o'clock noon.

Public Sale

I will sell at public auction on the Andy Muntz farm, 2 1/2 miles north of Taylorsport, Ky., on

Saturday, Oct. 28, 1922

The following Property:

Three Horses, 3 Cows, 4 Shoats, 100 Chickens, Road Wagon, Buggy, Spring Wagon, 2 land Plow, Riding Cultivator, 2 Double Shovels, Cream Separator, 300 sticks of Tobacco, some Corn in the field, Buggy Harness, Wagon Harness, Riding Breaking-up Plow, and other articles.

TERMS OF SALE.

A credit of nine months will be given on all sums of $5.00 and over, purchaser to give note with good security, payable at Peoples Deposit Bank, Burlington, Ky. Sums under $5.00, cash.

MRS. PRUDA NETTLES.
Sale to begin at 12 o'clock.

General Trucking

At Your Service

WALTER HUEY

Florence, Ky.

Phone 266-X

BULLITTSVILLE

Very sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Mary Ann Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Courtney Williams got several pieces of new furniture last week.

Mrs. J. W. Grant and Mrs. Clint Riddell are visiting their sister, Mrs. Baker, of Oakley, Ohio.

Mrs. Snow, mother of Bryan Snow, of this place, is very low at this writing of dropsy.

Mrs. Lydia Wunder spent from Tuesday until Friday of last week with Mrs. Joshua Masters.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Steffen, of Covington, were calling on the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Birke, Sunday.

Mrs. Carrie Garnett, of Missouri, returned home last week after a visit of some time with her sister, Mrs. Thomas Grant.

Mrs. John Heist, Mrs. Chas. Batchelor and Mrs. Leslie Harrison, all of Bromley, came out and spent the day quilting at Mrs. Joshua Masters, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Keeler Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stephens and daughter Roberta, and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Southern, spent the day Sunday with Mrs. Myron Garnett, of Hebron.

The Christian church workers of Boone county will meet in conference at Ft. Pleasant church next Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m. Geo. V. Stone will make the address.

NO ONE APPRECIATES

The real comfort of a snug, warm SUIT or OVERCOAT as the man who does not own one. You owe it to yourself to dress warm and comfortable. As usual the Wachs' Store is well prepared to care for every requirement in Mens', Young Mens' and Boys'

Suits and Overcoats.

If Quality, Style and Workmanship and Price interest you, we know we can please you. A large line of Corduroy and Duck Garments on hand.

Selmar Wachs

605 Madison Avenue,

Covington, Kentucky

Dodge Brothers

ANNOUNCE

A BUSINESS COUPE

Conservative changes in the body design of all other types.

Roadster.....$ 920

Coupe.....1,063

Touring Car. 955

Sedan.....1,550

Dempsey Motor Car Company

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY

Phone Erlanger, 70-L

HEBRON THEATRE--Next Saturday

"Burglar Proof"

With Bryant Washburn and Lois Wilson

Comedy "Sweetheart Days"

Admission 22 Cents,

Children 10 Cents

War Tax Included

DO YOU TAKE THE RECORDER?

Try It One Year. You'll Like It.

Read Our Advertisements and Profit By Them.

THE DIXIE AIR LINE

Roads designated, roads heralded, roads proclaimed as certainties of the near future, in Kentucky, are not tantamount to roads constructed.

The Dixie Air Line, south of Somerset, to which the State Highway Commission offers aid, still is in the air. If the present system of lick-and-a-promise road making in Kentucky continues, and if the construction of the Dixie Air Line progresses no more rapidly than the construction of the eastern leg of the Dixie Highway in Kentucky has progressed, speculation of Kentuckians upon the pleasure of driving over that route may be, for a long time, idle speculation. Nevertheless, the possibility of the Dixie Air Line, as a "scenic highway" and as a developer of territory much in need of such an aid to development, are alluring.

McCreary County, which recently adopted a $200,000 bond issue in behalf of the Dixie Air Line in that county, is one of the most rugged of the mountain counties. In the proposed road, described as a straight road from Cincinnati to Lookout Mountain, Louisville would have easy access to the mountains of Kentucky, and to a singularly attractive section of the mountains.

Most of the distance covered, from Louisville, would be over roads long improved, and through a section of which no Kentuckian wearies.

From Boyle county, in the meadows, to Pulaski, in the mountains, in the highlands, would be a drive—between late breakfast and early luncheon—which would be of great interest to Louisville. It would be for the Bluegrass an example of the mountain coming to Mahomet. From Lexington to Cumberland Falls, in Pulaski, or to the wild valleys of Bear Creek and Cumberland River, in the vicinity of Stearns, would be a mere jaunt, not a tour.

The first improved road into the mountains from Central Kentucky will be an asset to Louisville and to Central Kentucky as well as to the mountain counties for which it provides an outlet to the improved roads of Central Kentucky.

Projects under discussion include the Kyva Highway from Winchester to the Virginia line, the Dixie Highway to the Tennessee line and the Dixie Air Line.

For the last six years the Dixie Highway in Eastern Kentucky has been heralded as a road soon to be improved completely and open to traffic as an all-the-year road. The mountains remain locked from the rest of the State by roads really unfit for use, albeit determined motorists have driven over them more or less for several years.

The difficulties encountered by the promoters of each of these projects show clearly that Kentucky must have a new road-making plan, or continue suffering the handicap and the ill advertisement, of being a State without a cross-State road improved all the way.—Courier-Journal.

EXTRAVAGANCE

Sam Simpkins bought a motor car, a wagon of real class; its body was the latest style, the windshield was plate glass. It had a nice ball-bearing top, with dust-proof piston rings; and cantilever running boards, and epileptic springs. It had a one-man steering wheel, the tires were deep and wide; there was a case for powder puffs with looking glass inside. It had a Goodyear starter with disappearing seat, and latest Firestone tires, with dimmers all complete. When Samuel bought this wondrous boat, he paid one hundred down, and gave his note for nineteen more to the dealer there in town. He put a mortgage on his house and everything he had, even his wife's pet Jersey cow, a present from her dad. But all this did not worry Sam or seem to spoil his fun; "I'll pay it in a year," said he, "I'll never miss the mon." He drove nine hundred thousand miles, to place near and far; he really had no time to work for riding in that car. His year was up before he knew, and came the reckoning day, when Sam's needs must face the debts he had no cash to pay. He lost his little house and lot, his furniture and cow; he still has left the motor car, but no one wants it now. He's working in a pickle mill for just two bucks a day, trying to make back what he lost, at least that's what they say. That he's a sadder, wiser bird, there surely is no doubt, but he has just himself to blame; there's none to help him out. I says to Aunt Miranda Jane, "It really is too bad; but I ain't a mite surprised, that's all the sense he had. To go in debt for luxuries that we can do without, is nothing short of foolishness, there's not the slightest doubt I will allow that we are queer, but none can say of us that we have gone in debt to buy a motor bus.—H. C. Fort.

The man with a big income complains of the troubles he has in spending his money, and the man with a small income complains of the troubles he has in not having one to spend.

Formerly cities competed to see which could produce the most statemen, but now they are anxious to show themselves the birthplace of movie stars.

It is rumored that the shoe shining places are not much in favor of legnor skirts for women.

Public Sale

I will sell at public auction at my residence near Limaburg, Boone County, Ky., on

Thursday, Nov. 2d, '22

The Following property:

Live Stock, Farm Implements

2 good work horses—7 yrs. old and an aged horse, 6 cows—2 fresh and 2 fresh in Nov. and 2 later, 2 yearling heifers, 10 good sheep, Duroc registered sow and 7 pigs, 125 shocks corn, 10 tons Clover hay, 7 tons Red top and Timothy mixed, 1 1-2 tons Soy Beans, ton of Blue Grass and Alfalfa, stack wheat straw, 2 Oliver Chilled Plows, side-sweeper, 2 double shovels, 2 single shovels—large and small one, tooth harrow, 2 Acme harrows—one new, Disc harrow, International riding cultivator—good as new, good 2-h. sled, road wagon and box-bed, haybed, 1-h. open top spring wagon, top spring wagon, 2 buggies—1 steel tire, 1 good as new rubber tire, 2 sets buggy harness, set of spring wagon harness, double set work harness, double trees, boys' saddle—has never been used, man's saddle and bridle, bicycle, Fruit tree spray and extra hose, axes, hoes, pitchforks, shovels, 2 picks, iron wedges, 2 cross-cut saws, cutting-box, tarpaulin, 3 ladders, Sharpless Separator No. 3, milk cooler, lot milk cans, 2 iron kettles, lawn swing, 3 churns, lot crimp wire and barbed wire, lot patent fence hooks and clamps, 2 grain cradles, 2 scythes, 2 wagon jacks, rifle 22, shot gun—new, feather bed, lot carpets and linoleum; spinning wheel and reels, McCormic mower and hayrake, 14 tooth harrow, lot locust posts, lot end posts, corn marker, Gasoline engine with log saw and two blades and buzz saw attachments, also Bosch magneta, Household and Kitchen Furniture.

TERMS—All sums of $10 and under, cash; on all sums over $10 a credit of nine months will be given, purchaser to execute note with approved security before removing property. Notes payable at Florence Deposit Bank, Florence, Ky.

JOHN D. AYLOR.

Lute Bradford, Auct.

Sale to begin at 10 a. m.

Lunch Served.

MOST ANYTHING.

There's a reason why fortunes smiles upon some people. They grab it.

The talkative man is heard by many people and remembered by few.

Some people are peacocks. They attract most attention when strutting.

A swelled head is like an over-fated tire. It is too insecure for safety.

Having a mind of your own is not sufficient. You must know how to use it.

Move lively. You can't keep in touch with the world while lagging behind.

We have no comment to make on the booze situation. Comment is superfluous.

Even the penniless man is fortunate in a way. He has no fear of being bunked.

Don't advocate giving the devil his due. You might not like your future home.

Every man should write his own epitaph for his tombstone. He knows what to leave off.

Be wary of the young lady who is sad and dispirited. It may be only a means to the end.

"Give us this day our daily bread," but for heaven's sake don't boost the price.

The little things of life cause some people many worries, while the big ones just slide by.

Lloyd George's memoirs will bring him 90,000 pounds. That's what you might call heavy reading.

The man with money has many friends, but if he is wise he never puts them to the test.

Stand perfectly still when a woman throws a stone at you. If you dodge you may get hit.

That Mexico revolution reported down at Juarez indicates that Mexico is back to normalcy.

It is rather a misnomer to refer to the coal operators as profiteers. A stronger term should be applied.

Try to make yourself better than your neighbor, and we will tip him off to do the same. That would help some.

The death of the soldier bonus bill did not surprise anyone. The boys should have demanded it in advance.

It may be true that this country needs a spiritual awakening, but it's a certainty that most of us are sound sleepers.

New York State has 8,500 one-teacher school buildings. But just because they are small is no reason why they cannot be equipped adequately, and many districts are realizing this.

BIG BURLEY SALE.

Members Respond Finely Says, Colins, To Result Achieved For Them And All Urged To Get Outsiders In.

Lexington, Ky.—With hundreds of contracts being signed in all parts of the Burley district, as a result of the sale of 54,000,000 pounds to the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company the past week, the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association is believed to have added more than 1,500 members the past week. The contracts of 450 new members, signed before the sale last Monday, have been received at the offices of the Field Service Division, Assistant Chief William Collins said today.

Kehoe Speaks In Bracken.

Brooksville, Ky., Oct. 14.—In an address to the growers of Burley tobacco here today, Vice President James N. Kehoe, of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, rendered an account of the stewardship of the officials of the Association, declaring that their business was being handled as economically as possible, consistent with good business practices and that the growers would find themselves much better off financially when they receive their final payment for their tobacco than those who chose to remain outside the organization the first year of its existence.

Mr. Kehoe told eloquently of the handicap under which the growers labored under the old system of marketing. He related his own experience as a land owner, when he received $137 as his share of a crop of 4,000 pounds of tobacco in the winter of 1920, his tenant, of course, receiving a similar sum, and declared that that experience "cured him forever" of dumping his tobacco.

Mr. Kehoe told how successfully the Association had handled the crop of 1921, of the establishment of a credit, of securing the necessary warehouses, and finally of the big sale the past week to the R. J. Reynolds Company. He was frequently interrupted by applause as he told what had been accomplished for the growers and for better living conditions by the Association in the first year of its existence.

Samuel Gompers' denunciation of our Mexican policy is interesting in that it is the first intimation that we have a Mexican policy.

Hindoes believe that a man will have bad luck if he kills a cow—and he surely will if he kills it with his automobile.

Mr. Harding's assistance on a subsidy for American ships indicates that he knew Mr. Daugherty was going to close their bars.

1922-23 While it is always difficult to foretell absolutely what the fur market is going to be, the prospects for the coming season seem so favorable that there is little doubt but that it will prove a record year.

Many elements enter into this, including even the weather, which is most uncertain of all. The last two winters have been exceptionally mild, and for this, as well as other reasons, many old weather prophets are foretelling a hard and bitter one to come this year.

As regards the trade itself, the recent steadiness which has made itself felt in almost all lines of business, is equally apparent in the fur business. A bumper crop is expected, but he has been for two years. Unemployment is rapidly dropping out of sight, and a note of encouragement seems to be apparent everywhere.

In the last few weeks there has been a noticeable steadiness of prices with a decided tendency toward a rise in many lines. This same influence has been noticeable in the fur business. The market is strong. Raccoon seems especially popular and has scored a heavy advance. Muskrat has advanced decidedly, and skunk and wolf are popular. Mink, while not so greatly in demand as last year, is still holding its own.

Taken all in all, it would seem to a very profitable season to repay his efforts. It will be a year which will reward those trappers who have observed the rules of the game, not only in conserving the supply of furs but also in observance of the game laws, but also in trapping only when trapping is really justified by results obtained.

A HYMN OF PRAISE

My auto 'tis of thee, short road of poverty of thee I chant. I blew a pile of dough on you three years ago; now you refuse to go—or won't or can't. Through town and countryside you were my joy and pride, a happy day. I loved thy gaudy hue, the nice white tires new; but you're down and out for true, in every way. O thee, old rattlesnake, came many bumps and knocks; for thee I grieve. Badly thy top is torn; frayed are thy seats and worn; the whooping cough affects thy horn, I do believe. Thy perfume swells the breeze, as we pass by. I paid for thee a price 'twould buy a mansion twice; now everybody's yell "ice"—I wonder why. Thy motor has the grip, thy spark plug has the pip, and woe is mine. I too, have suffered chills, fatigue and kindred ills, endeavoring to pay my bills, since thou wert mine. Gone is my bankroll now, no more 'twould choke a cow, as once before. Yet, if I had the gun! so help me, John—amen, I'd buy a car again and spend some more.—Hay City Motorman.

The Best Advertisement

IS A PLEASED CUSTOMER

Spectacles and Eyeglasses that Fit the face and Fit the sight the kind we sell.

Phone South 1746

DR. N. F. PENN. 613 Madison Ave. - Covington, Ky.

Efficient, Service and Economy

IS MY SLOGAN

C. SCOTT CHAMBERS

Embalmer and Funeral Director

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

Printed Stationery

AT THIS OFFICE ENVELOPES, LETTERHEADS, NOTEHEADS, STATEMENTS

for business people. for professional people. for farmers. for every one who wants to be considered up to date and going strong

THE UNDERTAKERS DUTY

is not simply to prepare the body for burial, to embalm it if desired, or to furnish casket, hearse and coaches for the cemetery; though all of these are included.

But there should be other features of real service, which will not appear on his bill. With a sympathetic interest, he should seek to know and carry out the wishes of the family; to counsel with them and tactfully help them to the best solution of all problems that arise.

PHILIP TALIAFERRO, Undertaker and Embalmer Erlanger, Ky.

A BARGAIN

Cincinnati Daily Enquirer

—AND—

The Boone County Recorder

YOU CAN GET

both for $4.50 the YEAR

Send Your Subscriptions to the

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER

Burlington, Ky.

SIMCO BUTTERMILK EGG MASH

Makes Champion Layers!

Moulting Time—End It Quick

Hurry the Feathers, then Biddy can get back to her old job and lay the eggs you are looking for. Just give her needs lots of Protein. Feathers are 85 per cent Protein. She will find Protein abundantly in Simco Buttermilk Egg Mash. And in the most acceptable form—the Buttermilk tickles her craw and makes her absorb 3 times as much Protein. Feathers first—Viva La Feather. Hem helped, through Moulting Time with Simco will meantime lay better than usual—and then, when Moulting is over they will make a bee line for the champion class. Satisfied Simco buyers will tell you so. Take Home a Sack of Simco.

FOR SALE BY

E. K. STEPHENS, Walton, Ky.

E. A. STOTT, Petersburg, Ky.

WM. FROST, Constance, Ky.

CROP INCREASE FIRST YEAR
ALMOST PAYS FOR DRAINAGE

Lexington, Ky.—The cost of draining many fields on Kentucky farms can almost be paid for by the crop increases obtained the first year after the tile is put in, according to results obtained during the summer just past by W. G. Duncan, who is cooperating with County Agent F. O. Townes and the farm engineering section of the College of Agriculture in carrying out a drainage demonstration on his farm near Leitchfield, Muhlenberg county. It cost him $32.02 an acre to put in the drainage system but the crop of cowpeas hay from each acre of the drained area this year was valued at $23.88 more than that from each acre of the undrained section. The drainage system therefore has only $8.14 an acre of having paid for itself.

The field being used in the demonstration contains about 20 acres, eleven of which were drained. The other nine acres had better soil on them and since they were not as wet as the eleven acres, they were left undrained so that the yields from a part of the same field that was not drained. The system was put in during this last spring, all the trenches for the tile being dug by hand. The cost of $32.02 an acre for putting in the tile probably could have been reduced had some of this work been done last fall. Immediately after the drains had been put in, the entire 20 acres was treated with acid phosphate, which was applied at the rate of 200 pounds an acre, and the field planted to cowpeas.

When the cowpeas were cut this fall, it was found that the undrained part of the field yielded 3,750 pounds of cowpeas hay an acre while the drained part of the field yielded 5,350 pounds of hay an acre, or 1,592 pounds more an acre than the undrained area. This increase in the yield was valued at $23.88 since the hay sold for $30 a ton.

FARMERS FAVOR PLAN
FOR BETTER POULTRY

Lexington, Ky.—Scores of requests for the certification of poultry flocks that have been received in the last few weeks of the College of Agriculture from farmers in every part of the state indicate that Kentucky poultry raisers are anxious to better the quality of their stock and breed their hens so they will lay more eggs, according to J. H. Martin, in charge of the college poultry work. Four flocks in the state already have been certified since the work was started a few weeks ago by the college poultrymen. A total of about 50 farmers and poultrymen have made requests to have their birds certified.

The certification of poultry flocks as it is being carried out at the present time involves two points by which it is hoped the quality of poultry stock in the state can be improved and the egg production of flocks increased. The first of these points is the picking out and marking of the best laying hens in the flock and mating them with a good cockerel to furnish a special breeding pen. The second point in certification is the distribution of cockerels and hatching eggs from these pens to other farmers in the state so that they can get a definite start in improving their flocks.

Halloween night was appropriately observed by a number of our citizens by a party at the Burlington Theatre, it was typical of the Halloween spirit, Hobbies, witches and Ghosts were there and paraded the streets and visited the different residences. A good time was had by both old and young. The pupils of Boone High School gave a Halloween social at the High School building and an enjoyable time was had.

Dr. L. C. Cowen and wife and Mr. Harris, of Rising Sun, were guests of friends and relatives in Burlington, Monday afternoon.

W. C. Watts, J. E. Snyder and H. W. Snyder, of Bullittsville, were in Burlington Tuesday transacting business.

J. J. Kirkpatrick has sold to W. D. Cropper a Crosley Radio Receiver, which he will have installed in his residence.

The government will find it utterly impossible to make our American ships dry. The bottoms will always be wet.

H. C. Beemon, of Hopeful neighborhood, spent last Sunday with his sister, Mrs. W. L. Kirkpatrick and family.

When a woman wants to know of the defects in her new seakins coat she has but to show it to her dearest friend.

Bernard Rogers, of the Bellevue neighborhood, shipped two truck loads of fat hogs to market Tuesday.

Mrs. J. H. Jockey's mother and sister, after a pleasant visit with her, left for their homes, last Sunday.

Geo. Bradford, of Pleasant Valley neighborhood, was a business visitor to Burlington, Tuesday.

Earl Cropper spent Saturday and Sunday at home with his mother, Mrs. Lorena Cropper.

THE CLORE FAMILY

Crawfordsville, Indiana,
Sept. 15, 1922.

To Lewis Clore,
Burlington, Boone Co., Ky.

As far back as I can trace the Clores is as follows:

John Clore came from Bavaria, Germany in about 1730, married... Coffey. They had nine children, will name one of them, our descendant Michael Clore, who was born Dec. 1, 1746, his wife's name... married was Weaver. They had 15 children. I will here give the names of Michael Clore's Sr. children. The Michael Clore that was born Dec. 1, 1746 was the son of John Clore from Germany, are as follows: Aaron Clore, born 28 July, 1770. He went south, do not know where, he was the father of 10 children. Michael Clore, Jr., born Feb. 10, 1772, married Elizabeth Rice. He was Cave Clore's father, who was my father. I was born in Boone county March 9, 1843, and was the father of 11 children. John Clore, born Sept. 22, 1773, was the father of seven children, Levy Clore, born March 10, 1775, married Toby Yeager, lived in Boone county, Ky. They had 11 children. Mary Clore, born Dec. 27, 1776, married John Wilson, they lived near Taylorsport, Boone county, Ky., had 8 children. Israel Clore, born April 15, 1779, married Francis Deer, lived near... Indiana, had 9 children. Elizabeth Clore, born Jan. 30, 1781. Ann Clore, born Dec. 15, 1782, married John Finkhach, lived in Madison Co., Va. Had 12 children. Roda Clore, born July 5, 1784. Jeremiah Clore, born 14th of April 1786, married Sally Deer, and lived in Rising Sun, Ind. They had 12 children. Gideon Clore, born April 7, 1788, married Johanna Deer, lived near... and lived near Bellevue, Ky. Their children were Jonas Clore, Church Clore, Leonard Clore, John Clore and Elizabeth Marshall. Margaret Clore, born Jan. 25, 1790, married John Deer, lived near Waveland, Indiana. They had 9 children. Julia Clore, born July 1, 1791. She had one child. Sarah Clore, born April 19, 1793. She had two children. William Clore, born Sept. 12th, 1798, lived in Madison county, Va.

Yours Truly,
JOHNSON CLORE.

FARMERS FAVOR PLAN
FOR BETTER POULTRY

Lexington, Ky.—Scores of requests for the certification of poultry flocks that have been received in the last few weeks of the College of Agriculture from farmers in every part of the state indicate that Kentucky poultry raisers are anxious to better the quality of their stock and breed their hens so they will lay more eggs, according to J. H. Martin, in charge of the college poultry work. Four flocks in the state already have been certified since the work was started a few weeks ago by the college poultrymen. A total of about 50 farmers and poultrymen have made requests to have their birds certified.

The certification of poultry flocks as it is being carried out at the present time involves two points by which it is hoped the quality of poultry stock in the state can be improved and the egg production of flocks increased. The first of these points is the picking out and marking of the best laying hens in the flock and mating them with a good cockerel to furnish a special breeding pen. The second point in certification is the distribution of cockerels and hatching eggs from these pens to other farmers in the state so that they can get a definite start in improving their flocks.

Halloween night was appropriately observed by a number of our citizens by a party at the Burlington Theatre, it was typical of the Halloween spirit, Hobbies, witches and Ghosts were there and paraded the streets and visited the different residences. A good time was had by both old and young. The pupils of Boone High School gave a Halloween social at the High School building and an enjoyable time was had.

Dr. L. C. Cowen and wife and Mr. Harris, of Rising Sun, were guests of friends and relatives in Burlington, Monday afternoon.

W. C. Watts, J. E. Snyder and H. W. Snyder, of Bullittsville, were in Burlington Tuesday transacting business.

J. J. Kirkpatrick has sold to W. D. Cropper a Crosley Radio Receiver, which he will have installed in his residence.

The government will find it utterly impossible to make our American ships dry. The bottoms will always be wet.

H. C. Beemon, of Hopeful neighborhood, spent last Sunday with his sister, Mrs. W. L. Kirkpatrick and family.

When a woman wants to know of the defects in her new seakins coat she has but to show it to her dearest friend.

Bernard Rogers, of the Bellevue neighborhood, shipped two truck loads of fat hogs to market Tuesday.

Mrs. J. H. Jockey's mother and sister, after a pleasant visit with her, left for their homes, last Sunday.

Geo. Bradford, of Pleasant Valley neighborhood, was a business visitor to Burlington, Tuesday.

Earl Cropper spent Saturday and Sunday at home with his mother, Mrs. Lorena Cropper.

True
Detective Stories
VANISHING MAN

Copyright by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.

WHEN Gideon Rabshaw, chief of detectives of Cleveland, Ohio, was notified over the long distance wire from Buffalo, that the police of that city had captured the four men responsible for the murder of Patrolman Leroy Bouker, he smiled, shrugged his shoulders, and muttered: "Fine work! That much is out of the way!"

But, had Rabshaw only known it, his troubles were only beginning for one of the bandits, a man by the name of Meaney, determined to fight for his life with every weapon that the law afforded him.

Securing an attorney familiar with the kinks and twists of criminal law, he quickly arranged for the manufacturing of an alibi which appeared to be ironclad. Half a dozen witnesses swore that, at the time Bouker was shot, Meaney had been in their company, and that it was physically impossible for him to reach the scene of the crime in time to take part in the murder. Meaney's lawyer followed his client's instructions to "make the alibi good enough for me to have 24 hours clearance—once I'm out of Cleveland I never find me" and the district attorney, rather than imperil the entire case, decided to drop the proceedings against Meaney and concentrate his attack upon the other three men who had the foresight to provide themselves with capable legal assistance. Therefore, in spite of the pleadings of Chief Rabshaw, Meaney was released.

Less than twelve hours later, the chief of detectives secured evidence that rattled the carefully prepared alibi—evidence which proved that Meaney had been directly implicated in the murder. But it was too late. The gunman had vanished, apparently into thin air!

Spurred on by a realization that he had had the man he wanted, actually lodged in jail, only to have him slip through a loophole in the legal wall which surrounded him, Rabshaw determined to nail the escaped murderer, as he stated, "it took ten years and every man on the force to do it."

The city of Cleveland was combed from one end to the other. Every known meeting place in the underworld was watched and raided and closed.

But the days lengthened into weeks, and the weeks into months, and still there was no trace of Meaney.

At night, when his day's work was finished, Rabshaw would relieve the man always on watch at the former Meaney home, for the chief had a theory that some day the fugitive would provide the clue which would lead them to the man they wanted.

"Yes, I know it's hard work and tedious work," Rabshaw would say, as he took up his nightly vigil. "But there's no woman alive that can outwit us if we keep steadily at it."

As several proved, however, Rabshaw was wrong. The clue which led to the final capture came from another and unexpected source.

It was some eleven months after the Bouker murder—after Meaney had been traced to Toledo and Pittsburgh and St. Louis and Toronto and various points in between, the police always one jump behind him—that Rabshaw dropped into the Cleveland post-office to purchase a stamp. There was nothing unusual in the action itself. He had bought stamps at that window hundreds of times before. But there was something in the attitude of the woman ahead of him, the something turtive about the manner in which she attempted to conceal the address of the letter which she carried, which made the chief of the detectives wonder what was wrong.

When he caught a flash of her face, half-hidden under a long black veil, he had an intuition that he knew her reason for trying to prevent anyone from seeing the letter. The woman was Meaney's sister-in-law.

As she purchased the stamp and bent forward to affix it, Rabshaw stepped swiftly out of line, and succeeded in catching a glimpse of the envelope. One glance was all he needed. The missive was addressed to John M. Oliver, at a number which Rabshaw knew was in a secluded and quiet part of Indianapolis.

Early the following morning Rabshaw took up his vigil outside the house where Oliver was supposed to be living. But no one answering to the description of the missing man made his appearance, so the Cleveland chief determined to force the issue by sending two of the local police in to find out if anyone by that name resided there. Scarcely had they reported that Oliver lived there, but was out at the time, than Meaney strolled down the street and started to mount the steps of the house, totally unsuspecting of his danger. An instant later, Rabshaw was upon him, his automatic ready for action, but the fugitive, realizing the folly of opposition to superior force, threw up his hands and surrendered.

"You've got me," he admitted. "Just when I thought I was safe, too. How'd you manage it?"

"A little matter of a postage stamp," said Rabshaw, and it wasn't until after he had commenced his life term in the Ohio penitentiary, that Meaney discovered the loophole which he had overlooked, the trivial detail which had enabled Rabshaw to trace him when every other means had failed.

FOR SALE ETC

For Sale—Hampshire sow and 7 pigs, No. 1 cow and calf, Wyandotte cockerels. Geo. Blythe, Burlington, Ky.
02nov

Wanted—Wood to saw. Price reasonable. R. E. Grant, Idlewild, Ky. Phone 353-X.
0nov16-4t

WANTED
Hay to bale. Prices reasonable. P. H. Mathews, Bullittsville, Ky. Phone 203-X
29June 1f

FIRE WOOD FOR SALE
100 ricks—16 inch wood ready for delivery. Will cut any length desired, $3.25 per rick at Harvest Home grounds.

H. R. LEIDY,
C. H. YOEILL.

We give 20 per cent cash discount or to reliable parties of the regular retail price on Columbia Grafonolas, Starr Grand Pianos, Upright Pianos, Player Pianos and Starr Phonographs. Free delivery made anywhere. Write for catalog.

RICE PIANO CO.,
Aurora, Indiana.
0-jan1

NOTICE.
I am authorized to appear for the authorized sales and service station for the Willard Battery for Boone county. Also do recharging and repairing on all makes of Batteries. Work guaranteed.

DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO.,
Erlanger, Ky.

NOTICE.
All hunting and trapping on my place is positively forbidden.

J. H. WALTON,
Rabbit Hash.

NOTICE.
No Dog or Hunting Licenses will be mailed unless 5c postage accompany orders.

M. E. ROGERS,
County Clerk.

WANTED—A first-class farmer—white or colored, good milker. Top wages to GOVERNMENT. C. W. Reagan, Erlanger, Ky. Price Pike R. D. 4.
1t-pd

For Sale—Barred Plymouth Rock Cockerels—from bred to lay pen. Fine color. $2.00 each now. Mrs. B. C. Graddy, Burlington, Ky. Consolidated phone.
1t-pd

For Sale—10 good white pigs 8 weeks old. Harry Kilgour, Burlington R. D. 3.
1t-pd

WANTED—Man and wife, woman to do general housework. Good pay, permanent job. White or colored. B. D. Rice, Grant, Ky.
2nov-1f

For Sale—19 Chesterwhite shoats, will weigh about 35 or 40 pounds. R. P. Martin, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 2. Phone 226.
1t-pd

For Sale—Hot Blast Coal Heater, a good one. J. E. Riddell, Ludlow, Ky., R. D. 2.
1t-pd

For 1,000 Locust posts. Van Hill, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 1.
1t-pd

WANTED—To winter five or six cows. J. D. McNeely, Grant, R. D. 1.
1t-pd

For Sale—Mammoth Single Comb Black Minorca Cockerels. Pape Strain $3.00 each. Edward Smith, Rising Sun, Indiana.
0nov16-3t

WANTED—Farm hand by day or month. Apply to Claude Greenup, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 3.
0nov9-2tpd

For Sale—Buff Leghorn cockerels—280 strain. Mrs. S. B. Nunnell, Bullittsville, Ky.
0nov9-pd

For Sale—Good cow and calf, also two Poland China hogs, eligible to register. Thos. Hensley, Burlington.
1t-pd

GROWERS CANNOT SIGN UP
1922 CROP AFTER NOV. 6

PRESIDENT STONE SAYS THAT DATE IS FINAL SO FAR AS
THIS YEAR'S TOBACCO IS CONCERNED.

Lexington, Ky.—Tobacco growers who may remain out of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association with a view of testing the loose leaf markets, and if they find the prices at auction not high enough, bringing their tobacco to the burley association to be sold, will find themselves "out of luck," according to a statement from President and General Manager James C. Stone, made public Thursday.

The statement is contained in a letter to Buford E. Allen, chairman of the organization in Fayette county, and was given in reply to an inquiry from Mr. Allen as to whether the date of November 6th, set by the board of directors of the association as the closing day for the books this year would be observed.

In his letter, President Stone says that the date set by the directors of the association is final and that no contracts will be received after November 6th, on this year's crop.

THE HOME RADIO

How to Make and Use It By A. HYATT VERRILL
Copyright by Harper & Brothers

XXII. THE SIMPLEST SENDING SET

Although it may be possible to devise a transmission set or radiophone which is simpler than that shown in Fig. 58, it is questionable if anything simpler would really be efficient. At any rate, this is so extremely simple that the veriest amateur should have no difficulty in setting it up. It has only two adjustments, the rheostat and the variable condenser. Moreover, it is a very cheap set and, aside from the variable condenser, E the B-battery of from 60 to 120 volts. F the six volt battery, G the rheostat, H the tube plate, I the grid, J the phone transmitter.

To make the inductance, wind the two inch cardboard tube with thirty-eight turns of No. 16 double cotton covered wire or B. & S. wire. When twenty turns have been taken, twist a loop in the wire as a tap-off and from the batteries, there is nothing which need be purchased ready-made (except wire) other than the following:

- 1 Variable condenser of .0005 mfd.
- 1 Microphone or telephone transmitter.
- 1 Rheostat.
- 1 Vacuum tube and socket.
- 1 Cardboard tube about two inches in diameter and about three inches long.

The diagram needs no explanation as to details. A being the aerial, B the ground, C the tap-off of inductance, then continue winding the other eighteen turns. The tap-off should have the insulation scraped off in making the connection at C, after which the joint should be covered with adhesive tape. If, when using the set, any difficulty is experienced it may be tuned to a different wave length by taking off one or two turns of the wire at top or bottom, or both, of the inductance. For an aerial use No. 14 phosphor bronze 7 strand or No. 14 plain copper, using an aerial at least 150 feet long and of several wires and, if possible, use a counterpoise as described under "Aerials."

Bargains! Bargains!

An opportunity to Buy Goods at Greatly Reduced Prices.

Each and every article of my entire stock including Farm Fence, Ball Band Rubber Goods, Dry Goods and thousands of articles carried in stock in a general store, will be offered at strictly Wholesale Prices.

Sale to begin

Saturday, Oct. 28, 1922

and will continue until stock is disposed of. Give me a call as I will be in a position to

SAVE YOU MONEY.

J. W. Grant,

Bullittsville, Kentucky.

American Legion

DANCE

At Florence, Ky., Theatre,

Saturday Night, Nov. 11th, '22

Dancing from 8:30 to 12:00

Good Music

EVERYONE INVITED.

DO YOU TAKE THE RECORDER?

Try It One Year. You'll Like It.

Read Our Advertisements and Profit by Them.

All obituaries, card of thanks and all other matter, not news, must be paid for at 5 cents per line.

Bullittsville Baptist Church.

J. W. CAMPBELL, Pastor.

Sunday School every Sunday at 10:00 a. m.
Regular preaching services on the First and Third Sundays in each month at 11:30 a. m.

Boone Co. Lutheran Pastorate

REV. GEO. A. ROYER, Pastor.

Sunday Nov. 5th

Hopeful 9:30 a. m., Sunday School.
Hopeful 7 p. m., Luther League.
Hebron 9:30 a. m., Sunday School.
Hebron 7 p. m., Luther League.
Ebenezer 10:30 a. m., Divine Service.

Boone Co. Christian Pastorate

REV. C. C. OMER, Pastor.

Sunday Nov. 5th.

Bullittsville—
Bible School 10:00 a. m.
Pt. Pleasant—
Bible School 10:00 a. m.
Bellevue—
Preaching 11:00 a. m.
Preaching 7:00 p. m.

GO TO THE POLLS NEXT TUESDAY AND VOTE FOR HON. ARTHUR B. ROUSE FOR CONGRESS.

Last Sunday was an ideal autumn day.

Born to J. Howard Huey and wife Oct. 30th, a girl.

Mrs. Alice Snyder is visiting relatives at Petersburg.

Prof. S. B. Ryle, of Union, spent Saturday in Burlington with friends and relatives.

The work on Sam Lunsford house is progressing nicely. He is building a six-room bungalow.

J. W. Ryle, of Waterloo neighborhood, was a business visitor to Burlington last Monday.

Jno. Fennell, of Big Bone neighborhood, was transacting business in Burlington, last Friday.

John Rogers, of Bellevue neighborhood, shipped a truck load of fat hogs to market, Monday.

L. R. McNeely and wife spent last Sunday with his father and mother in Waterloo neighborhood.

Shelby Cowen, of Covington, spent Sunday with his aunts, Mrs. Laura Martin and Miss Pink Cowen.

A. Albeiz and family, of Cincinnati, spent Sunday with Mrs. Albeiz's mother, Mrs. Vina Kirkpatrick.

Calvert Kirkpatrick and family, of Bromley, were guests of Mrs. Vina Kirkpatrick and family, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marce Riddell spent Sunday with his father, J. A. Riddell, in Constance neighborhood.

Mrs. J. M. Thompson, of Aurora, Ind., is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. R. E. Berkshire and family.

J. W. Cleek, of Beaver, and D. H. Vest, of Walton, attended the tobacco meeting at the court house last Saturday.

Ed. Hawes, of Covington, spent Saturday night and Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Martha Hawes and daughter, Miss Mamie.

Miss Ruth Kelly, who is teaching in the Dry Ridge, Grant county, Hi School, spent the week-end with relatives and friends here.

Grant Williamson and family spent last Sunday with his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. David Williamson, in Waterloo neighborhood.

Boone Post No. 4, American Legion, will have appropriate Armistice Day exercises at Florence Nov. 11th. The program appears in another column.

Let all attend the exercises to be held by Boone Post No. 4, American Legion at Florence, Nov. 11, Armistice Day. Do not forget the dance in the evening at Florence Hall.

J. J. Kirkpatrick, of Burlington, has the agency for one of the best Radio receiving sets manufactured. He will install all sets that he sells and instruct the purchaser in their use.

Miss Mary Roberts, who is employed in the Postoffice, Cincinnati, spent several days the past week with her uncle and aunts, W. R. Rogers and sisters, Misses Sallie and Elizabeth.

A reunion of the Huey family was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Huey in Bellevue neighborhood, last Sunday. There were about thirty present and a pleasant day was enjoyed.

Boone Post No. 4, American Legion, have prepared an excellent program for Armistice Day, Nov. 11, at Florence. The day's program will end with a dance in Florence Hall at night. Let everybody attend.

J. H. Slater and son, Dr. Slater and Henry Quick, all former citizens of Boone county, but now residents of Ludlow, were in Burlington for a short time Sunday afternoon, meeting with many of their old friends.

Mr. John Herbstreit, of Constance, was transacting business in Burlington, Monday. Mr. Herbstreit, who is in the trucking business, said he gathered nine bushels of string beans from his vines on Friday of last week.

BASE BALL.

The kid ball team of Petersburg High School headed by R. H. Carter, principal, came up last Thursday afternoon and met the kid team, managed by Prof. J. C. Gray, of the Boone High School, and the way they beat Prof. Gray's boys was a "scaley" affair—19 to 6. The Petersburg kids not satisfied with a slice of bacon—took the whole side, in fact they captured the whole hog. The Burlington boys were out played at every position. The "Babe Ruth" of the Petersburg team secured three home runs.

The Petersburg ball club will play a team of All Stars, Saturday, Nov. 4th, at Petersburg. The All Stars will be picked from Lawrenceburg, Burlington, North Bend, Aurora and other points. Geo. Boehler, of Lawrenceburg, will play with the All Stars, who pitched for Tulsa, Okla., the past season, winning the pennant. The proceeds of this game will be for the benefit of Bryan Snelling, who had his arm broken in the last game played.

MRS. MIKE DYE, OF HEBRON NEIGHBORHOOD MET WITH A VERY SERIOUS ACCIDENT LAST FRIDAY.

Mrs. Mike Dye, of Hebron neighborhood, met with a very serious and painful accident, last Friday. While driving along the Hebron and Limsburg pike in a spring wagon, and when near the John Crigler residence one of the clips that holds the shafts on the axle, broke, letting it drop, which caused the horse to lunge and run. Mrs. Dye, who held onto the lines, was dragged from the wagon over the dash board and a considerable distance before she released the lines. When assistance arrived and physicians called it was found that she had sustained a broken shoulder, hips and badly bruised about the head. She was carried into a residence near by and after her wounds were dressed and relieved of her sufferings, she was rushed to a hospital in Cincinnati. Mrs. Dye is a daughter of Mrs. Mary Craven, and her many friends throughout this part of the county hope for her a speedy recovery.

OCTOBER 1922 WILL GO DOWN IN HISTORY AS ONE OF THE WARMEST EXPERIENCED—TEMPERATURE AVERAGING 60 DEGREES

The month of October, 1922, will go down in history as one of the warmest Octobers ever experienced in this part of the country—the temperature for the month averaging 60 degrees, with very little rainfall. With apple trees and tomato vines that were not killed by frost blooming and bees swarming reminds one of spring time. With the thermometer registering near the 80 mark, last Sunday was a beautiful day and everybody that could get out was out enjoying the sunshine and scenery that the country affords at this season of year.

NOTICE.

The Directors of the Farm Bureau are requested to be present at the regular meeting at their office in Burlington at 10:30 a. m., Monday, Nov. 6th.

J. COLIN KELLY, Sec'y.

CARD OF THANKS

We hereby express our sincere thanks to relatives, friends and kind neighbors for favors and sympathy shown us in our late sorrow and bereavement in the loss of our dear husband and father, John Poston. Wife and Children

Rev. Geo. V. Moore, of the Christian denomination, preached two excellent sermons at the Burlington Methodist church, last Sunday morning and evening. His theme at the night services—"The Church and Youth," was one of the most entertaining and impressive talks that has been delivered from a pulpit in Burlington in many a day.

H. C. Trimble, wife, grand-son, and a lady friend of Columbia, O., were visitors to Burlington, last Sunday. Mr. Trimble is the man who helped set the types for the first issue of the Recorder, in Sept., 1875. He worked in the Recorder office four years—leaving Burlington in 1879, and this was his first visit back to the old town, and there are very few living who were citizens of the town at that time. Mr. Trimble, like the rest of us, has aged some, but looks hale and hearty, altho he has passed the three-score and ten. He operates a Linotype on the Cincinnati Enquirer, where he has been employed since he left Burlington.

NOTICE

A meeting of the Farm Bureau is called at the Florence Warehouse for Saturday night, Nov. 4th. Every member of Boone County Poultry Association and other interested poultrymen are urged to attend. Plans and selection of committees for our early winter poultry and corn show will be made at this time.

CIEM KENIA, President.

Probably they call it the bone-dry law because it's such a bone of contention.

A million men
have turned to
One Eleven
Cigarettes
—a firm verdict for superior quality.

15 for 10c

"111"
cigarettes

The American Tobacco Co.

FEEDING HOG SALE!

BIG TYPE POLAND CHINA

At Farm 2 miles north of Walton
Saturday Afternoon, Nov. 4th

At 1:30 P. M.

50 Feeding Shoats
15 Good Spring Gilts
1 Spring Boar

Shoats will be sold in lots of FIVE.

Gilts will be sold without registration papers.

J. F. CLEEK.

COL. W. B. JOHNSON, Auctioneer.

Public Sale.

We will sell at the residence of Mrs. G. A. Snyder on the Burlington and Florence pike two miles west of Florence, Boone County, Ky., on SATURDAY, NOV., 11, 1922. The Following Property: Three ton of good Timothy hay in barn. Lot Farming Implements. Household and Kitchen Furniture and other articles. Terms—CASH. Sale will begin at 1 o'clock p. m. A. G. FISK AND OTHERS. nov9-2t

The people of Boone county should rally to the support of anything that is championed by Boone Post No. 4, American Legion. The boys of the Post expect the support of Boone county people and they are entitled to that support, and it is hoped that a large crowd will attend the exercises to be held at Florence, Nov. 11.

The 52,000 farm girls enrolled in canning clubs last year, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture, canned 2,200,000 quarts of fruits and vegetables. These young home makers also made 510,000 quarts of jelly.

There will be a Box Supper and Home-made candy at the Bullittsville Christian church Friday evening, November 10th, beginning at 7:30. Everybody is invited to attend and bring a box. Proceeds to go for the benefit of the church.

A honey seeker out in Galandale, Wash., ties cotton on a bee and follows it to its cache.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Huey, of Community neighborhood, spent last Sunday with their son Howard and family, in North Bend neighborhood.

CAR SENSE

Spend
a Dollar
and
Save
Ten

Little defects grow into big ones in time if not corrected.

The correction of a small defect in its early stages costs but little.

When left until it grows into serious proportions its correction runs into money.

That is what makes the maintenance of a car so expensive to many people—neglecting the little things until they grow into big ones.

The better—the safer—the more economical way is to see the garage man at the first warning of trouble.

Today is always a good time to have it done.

EDDINS BROTHERS

TIRES, TUBES AND ACCESSORIES.

Burlington, Kentucky.

BRAKE BAND OIL—Guaranteed to stop Ford bands from chattering.

Agents for U. S. and Ajax Tires.

Established 1886.

A Bank Account IS ONE OF THE FIRST STEPPING STONES TO SUCCESS IN LIFE.

How are You Stepping!

This bank invites young men and women especially to open savings accounts. Officials of the bank are pleased at all-time to give the benefit of their experience to customers and others who seek advice.

When in doubt come to this bank. Your success means greater success for us.

Has it ever occurred to you that a checking account is a very convenient thing to have?

Boone Co. Deposit Bank

Burlington, Kentucky.

N. E. RIDDELL, President W. D. CROPPER, Cashier
W. A. GAINES, Vice-Pres. G. S. KELLY, Asst. Cashier.

RISEING SUN FLOUR

IS GIVING WONDERFUL SATISFACTION

Have You Tried a Sack?

The following merchants in Boone County can supply you:

E. A. STOTT, Petersburg.
W. G. KITE, Waterloo.
CRAIG & RYLE, Rabbit Hash.
J. D. MOORE, Big Bone.
THOS. HUFF, Hamilton, Ky.

Insist on This Flour.

YOU WILL BE DELIGHTED.

MAKING A SELECTION.

In making a banking connection be sure that you select a bank that is large enough and strong enough to care for your every need in stormy as well as fair weather.

THIS—THE LARGEST BANK IN THE COUNTY—OFFERS YOU THIS KIND OF A BANKING CONNECTION.

Capital and Surplus, $150,000.00

4 per cent and the Taxes paid on Deposits. We do business for our customers.

Peoples Deposit Bank

Burlington, Ky.

W. L. B. ROUSE, President. C. H. YOEUELL, Vice-President.
A. B. RENAKER, Cashier.
Nell H. Martin, Asst. Cashier. L. C. Beemon, Asst. Cashier.

Petersburg Theatre

At Petersburg, Kentucky

Saturday Night, Nov. 4th

"Made In Heaven"

Also Second Episode of "WHITE EAGLE"

At Burlington, Kentucky,

Friday Night, Nov. 3rd

"Made In Heaven"

Also Second Episode of "WHITE EAGLE"

CHILDREN 10c. ADULTS 25c

War Tax Included Will Begin promptly at 7:30

DEMOCRATIC TICKET

For Congress
HON. A. B. ROUSE

As the Editor Sees It.

Some men think there are too many women's clubs. We think there are not enough.

There was a time when women were expected to sit demurely in the home and keep the cat company during the absence of her "lord and master." But happily that day has passed into history.

Woman, by her own efforts, has emancipated herself. She is a property holder, a voter, an office holder, a rapidly increasing power in the business world, and is entitled to her proper sphere in life.

She cannot determine the proper duties and responsibilities of her sphere by remaining at home or by discussing current topics over the back yard fence.

Healthy club life cultivates the mind and brings to the surface the best that is in both man and woman.

At the club she meets her friends, learns their views, hears all sides of questions that are before the public, and is therefore better able to determine the proper course to pursue.

Join a woman's club. It is one of the best things that you can do.

When shivering in the cold this winter do not allow your thoughts to dwell too much upon shivering.

That is oppressive.

Turn them toward the warm and sunny days of another summer. That would be anticipative.

Dwelling too much upon disagreeable things shuts out the brighter side of life. It stifles enthusiasm and renders impotent many of the best efforts of mankind.

We have but one life to live upon this earth, and that life will be only as we make it.

Bright spots should be cultivated until they become the predominant side of existence. Dark ones should be eradicated and then forgotten.

Shiver—but think of the sunny days ahead.

In Chicago a reckless motorist passed a street car on the left or forbidden side, and killed a little girl.

A judge promptly imposed a prison sentence of from one to fourteen years.

That's the kind of judge to have. Fines mean nothing to the automobile "Smart Aleck," but iron bars are a holy terror to him.

And since fines will not check him, prison bars should detain him.

A life for a life, though, might be a more adequate punishment in many cases.

Will money buy anything? It would almost seem so.

In one of our large cities two supposedly reputable citizens have confessed to perjuring themselves in giving testimony that freed a murderer from paying the penalty of his crime.

They promised $10,000 each for their perjured testimony. They received $125 each.

Is American manhood slipping away, or are only the black sheep being exposed?

"I don't like this town."

It is only occasionally that we hear such a remark, but when we do we wonder how much the people of the town like the person who makes it.

Most of us like this town because we know and like each other. We enjoy our daily interchange of views. But we feel sorry for the poor fellow who is "out of time." He reminds us of a fiddle with a busted string.

His noise is not music to our ears.

STRANGE QUESTION PROPOUNDED BY CONFLICT OF LAWS.

Washington. — Edward Everett Hale's famous story, "The Man Without a Country," is being played in real life by many "Women without a country."

Legislators interested in immigration and naturalization laws are puzzled as to the best method to unravel a snarl produced by a conflict between United States and British naturalization laws.

In real Britain an English woman who marries an American loses her British nationality.

According to a new United States law, an American woman who marries a foreigner retains her citizenship in this country. The law further provides that foreign women who marry American citizens, do not by that act become citizens of this country.

The result has been confusion; a British woman marrying an American, by the laws of her country, is no longer British, and by the law of this country is not American. Much embarrassment is being caused by questions of passports, since each office, American and British, sends the British wife of an American citizen to the other's office for papers.

Venus possesses an atmosphere as dense as our own, astronomers say.

HEED THE SIGNAL.

A danger signal has been hoisted which should be heeded by every law-abiding person if we as a nation are not to come to grief.

That signal is the prevalence of crime and graft and contempt for law that is becoming daily more pronounced in all sections of the country.

Newspapers are filled with reports of this abyss of depravity into which we are falling, but their words seem to fall upon deaf ears. Little is ever done about them.

True, while the subjects are fresh in the minds of the people, through widespread publicity, official investigations are profusely promised, and sometimes started—but too often suddenly abandoned. Pigeon holes are safe places for them until the storm blows over.

But why are so many of our law enforcement officers the country over so derelict in their sworn duty?

Why are there so many "investigations" started and so few cases actually brought to trial?

The answer is simple.

Because the law-abiding element of our population storms for a few days and then forgets, while the lawbreaker sits tight until the storm subsides and then goes right ahead with his criminal practices, knowing full well that there is little likelihood of any one being on his trail.

And because, again, we as citizens are derelict in our own duty. When those of us who vote leave the polls we seem to consider that we have properly and fully performed our duty.

And still again, the average reputable citizen shrinks jury duty as he would avoid a pest, while the underworld is always ready to fill the juries with their own disreputable class.

While we are thus asleep the criminal element is wide awake and extending its destroying tentacles into every walk and activity of life, undermining everything that works for law and order and good government, and gradually attaining a power of numerical supremacy that is appalling to contemplate.

The danger signal is out.

Will it be heeded? Or will respectability surrender its control of affairs to perfidy, rascality and debauchery?

ROBBING THE FARMER

Somebody somewhere is robbing the farmer of his legitimate profits, to the detriment of the nation as a whole.

With the improved methods of agriculture, and the consequent increase in production, the farmer's profits should be far in excess of what they are today.

From one end of the country to the other the consumer continues to pay high prices for farm products, only a small portion of which as a rule goes to the farmer.

Who gets the difference? Who is lining his pockets at the expense of both the farmer and the consumer? Many official investigations have been started—but are still to be heard from.

Many promises have been made—but are yet to be kept.

Many people are wondering how long this condition will continue—but they will keep on wondering.

Because, as a matter of fact, there appears to be no one with moral, physical and POLITICAL courage enough to unearth the robbers and give them their just deserts.

ARE YOU A PATRIOT?

Mr. Webster defines a patriot as being "one who loves and serves his country."

We really have no desire to raise a delicate question on this community, but we candidly wonder how many of us can qualify in that class.

Can you?

COUNTY LIVE-STOCK SALES IMPROVES OLDER METHODS

A method that should be found effective in improving live stock in all parts of the country has been tried out with much success recently in Tennessee, says a report to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. It consists of a series of county sales of pure-bred sires of all kinds.

The sales have consisted largely of beef bulls, dairy bulls, and boars, although a few rams also have been included. The sales are advertised intensively in the counties in which they are held. Small advertisements are posted before the sale the local papers run articles on the value of pure-bred sires.

In that State it has been found that better results are obtained from the county sale than from sales conducted by a large section or from State sales.

Farmers are more apt to attend these sales where they can haul the purchases home or ship only a short distance. At a number of these sales the number of sires sold has varied from 20 to 60.

One of the big advantages is that good blood produced in the county remains there and improves the general run of live stock instead of being scattered far and wide.

The department looks upon this plan as an important aid in the better sires—better stock movement. It is an excellent supplement to other methods now in use.

That Chicago man who has divorced and remarried his wife three different times ought to be able to get wholesale rates from the lawyers and ministers.

FARMER MAKING TEST ON BIGGER YIELDS OF WHEAT

Lexington, Ky.—J. R. Steward, one of the progressive farmers in the Henshaw community of Union county, has started a well planned demonstration on his farm to find out how much the wheat yields on farms in that section of the state can be raised by the use of limestone and acid phosphate, according to a report from County Agent L. C. Brewer. Mr. Steward, who is co-operating with County Agent Brewer and the extension division of the College of Agriculture in carrying out the demonstration, will use a ten-acre field in comparing the value of limestone alone, limestone and acid phosphate used together, and acid phosphate alone for boosting wheat yields. Results of the demonstration are expected to prove of considerable value to farmers in that district.

Before the wheat was sowed, one-half the field had limestone applied to it at the rate of two tons an acre. When the wheat was sowed, acid phosphate also was applied to one-half the field at the rate of 200 lbs. an acre, the material being spread in the opposite direction to that in which the limestone was put on. By this means, the ten-acre field was divided into four experimental plots of two and one-half acres. One of the plots had an application of limestone alone, another received no treatment, the third received acid phosphate alone while the fourth was given a treatment of both limestone and phosphate. The whole field was sowed with a Union county strain of bearded wheat.

The results which will be obtained by Mr. Steward are expected to be in line with those that have been obtained on the soil experiment fields maintained in different sections of the state by the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. Limestone used alone on these fields has not given a very large increase in the yield of wheat. Acid phosphate used alone has given results a little better than those obtained by using limestone alone. Limestone and acid phosphate used together, however, have practically doubled the yield of wheat when several crops were averaged.

A combination of these two materials also has given good increases in the yield of clover that usually follow wheat. On the experiment fields, this increase has amounted to more than a ton an acre. Spring sowings of clover made in wheat that was treated with acid phosphate and limestone the previous fall are almost sure to give good results.

CROP ROTATIONS NEEDED TO BUILD UP WORN SOILS

Lexington, Ky.—Farming practices that have been followed in Kentucky in the past have put many farmers of the state in need of a crop rotation system that will build up their worn soils, according to R. E. Stephenson, soils specialist of the College of Agriculture. In diversified farming, which is most common in Kentucky, it is hard to make soils richer or even keep up the fertility which they already contain without a good system of rotating crops. At the present time, few farmers in the state use crop rotation, but the number is increasing as better farmers are being developed. Kentucky needs rotations that provide for more legumes and, on the rougher lands, more grass and clovers.

"Some of the things that a good rotation should provide for are:—About the same acreage of each crop every year. 2.—One or more cash crops. 3.—A hay crop. 4.—In most cases, a sod-forming crop that will last for several years. 5.—One or more legumes. 6.—The alternation of tilled and untilled crops. 7.—The alternation of deep and shallow-rooted crops. 8.—Crops that will distribute labor, save equipment and cut down the amount of supervision that is necessary. 9.—The planting of crops in the best order to control insects and plant diseases. 10.—The keeping of livestock. 11.—The use of manure on the profitable crop. 12.—Some crop on the land at all times. 13.—The use of by-products to prevent waste."

"The most common rotations run for three, four and five years or else for an indefinite length of time. A common three-year rotation includes corn or tobacco followed by wheat or some other small grain and then clover and grass. Corn, oats and clover is not common in some sections. A common four-year rotation in the State is corn, soybeans, or cowpeas, wheat or other small grain and clover or grass. Some farmers lengthen the rotation one year by leaving grass and clover for a year longer and using it for pasture.

"On land that washes badly, good farmers use a rotation that allows for a clover or grass crop from year to year. In this case the land is broken from sod only often enough to renew the stand of grass or clover and only one or two cultivated crops are grown in succession.

It would never do to settle all of our strikes and other troubles at once. We would have nothing left to worry about.

Never despise the perspiring boy behind the soda fountain. He can give you an extra allowance of cream if he so desires.

In 1860 the steamship Great Eastern crossed the Atlantic in a record time of 11 days.

THE TRUE SHIRTWAIST

The true shirtwaist of fine cotton, wash silk or linen, makes its appearance every season for the benefit of sportswomen and for wear with plain tailored suits. A late model is pictured above, made of dimity with tucks down the front and on the sleeves and cuffs. It fastens with pearl buttons.

Louisville, Ky. — Manufacturers of ice cream in Kentucky will not be permitted to lower the percentage of milk fat in their product, it was announced here by the State Board of Health, the announcement coming as a negative answer to a petition filed by the manufacturers with the Board in August.

The present law requires that plain ice cream contain not less than 10 per cent butter, and that fruit and nut ice creams contain not less than 8 per cent. Ice cream manufacturers requested that minimum requirements for all three kinds be reduced to 8 per cent.

Action on the petition was taken by the State Board of Health, according to Miss Sarah H. Vance, director of its Bureau of Foods, Drugs and Hotels, until after she had investigated the matter thoroughly and had made inquiries as to the procedure in other States at the recent convention of the National Food Officials' Association in Kansas City.

Refusal of the request was necessary, Miss Vance says, because of the fact that a majority of the states of the Union have a butter fat requirement at least as high as Kentucky's. She also was advised not to permit the butter fat standard to be lowered by the Chief of the Bureau of Chemistry of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Miss Vance adds.

PENDLETON COUNTY.

(Falmouth Outlook)

Twenty years ago there were 100,000 gallons of whisky stored in the bonded warehouse in Pendleton county. There is not a single gallon in the county today. And still there are some people who do not believe in evolution.

It is being circulated by the enemies of the tobacco pool that the officers of the Association are paid enormous salaries, and the expenses will eat up the larger part of the growers' money. All this is being told to dissatisfy the individual poolers. It has been proven that this present plan of the Association is far the cheapest to market tobacco both for the seller and buyer than any plan in the history of the trade. Remember, this plan has eliminated the speculators, middlemen and hordes of hangers-on in the trade. There is now only one buyer and one seller.

Last year tobacco growers paid $1.25 or more a hundred pounds to sell their tobacco on the few loose leaf floors that were open. Counting every possible item that will enter into the cost of selling under the co-operative marketing system, the cost will not exceed 75 cents a hundred pounds, a saving of $1,875,000 of the last year, based on a crop yield of 250,000,000 pounds for the entire burley district. The non-poolers will also have to add to the regular warehouse expense of $1.00 per hundred for some drone to boost his tobacco when the auctioneer reaches his pile of tobacco on the floor.

Farmers all over the country have at last seen the necessity of organizing to protect their interests. They have a perfect right to demand a living price for that which they produce, as the price for that which they buy is set by the drones who control big business. The time is fast approaching when the man who works hard on the farm will make as much money as the dudes who are riding on the farmers' backs. Wages in almost every line of endeavor are twice as much as it is on the farm, but it can not remain thus. Conditions will have to change or something is going to happen. The time has come when a man with a $5,000 or $10,000 farm has to hump to make enough to pay his taxes. We predict that there is a better day in sight for the tillers of the soil.

The American people insist that the trusts obey the law, but they give the most prominent social recognition to the wealthy men who dodge around the law.

ONE POUND OF NOBETTER COFFEE

MAKES THIRTY-FIVE CUPS OF THE BEST COFFEE YOU EVER DRANK. IT COSTS YOU 33c PER POUND, LESS THAN ONE CENT A CUP.

Isn't a Cup of GOOD Coffee worth a Penny? Buy from our agents

Burlington, Ky. .... W. L. Kirkpatrick
Butler, Ky. .... C. B. Sixth
Berry, Ky. .... C. Spradling
Crittenden, Ky. .... Gus Schiller
Erlanger, Ky. .... M. J. Mitchell
Falmouth, Ky. .... W. C. Thorp and B. Beaugrand
Grant, Ky. .... F. H. Brown
Hebron, Ky. .... M. L. Crutcher
Kenton, Ky. .... Sam Jackson
Kelat, Ky. .... M. Petty & Sons
Morgan, Ky. .... Walter Dance
Nepton, Ky. .... Thos. Ryan
Verona, Ky. .... N. M. McCormick

If none of our agents are near you, we will deliver you four pounds or more by Parcel Post Prepaid.

Northern Kentucky's LEADING GROCERS AND SEEDSMEN.

GEO. W. HILL & CO.

Be a Hill Customer — It Pays — 27-29 PINE ST. — 26 W 7th ST. COV. KY. — 26-28 W 7th ST. COV. KY. — 26-28 W 7th ST. COV. KY. — 26-28 W 7th ST. COV. KY.

VULCANIZING.

Complete line of Goodyear, Goodrich and Kelly-Springfield Tires and Tubes, good Grade of Automobile and Tractor Oils and Greases.

Auto Accessories kept in stock.

GEORGE PORTER,
BURLINGTON, KY.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN,
DENTIST
In my new office
Clayola Place, Florence, Ky.
Teeth extracted painless. Bridge and Plate Work a Specialty.
All Work Guaranteed

JAMES L. ADAMS
DENTIST
Cohen Building
Pike Street, Covington, Ky.

You Can Trade the Article You Don't Need For Something You Do by Advertising.

RECHARGE ANY BATTERY 75c

RENTED BATTERIES FOR ANY MAKE CAR WHILE WE ARE RECHARGING OR REPAIRING YOUR BATTERY.

Dempsey Motor Car Co., Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L.

FOR SALE

Farm of 25 acres at Hebron, Ky.—house, barn and outbuildings, 180 acres, 11 room house, barn and outbuildings, near Lawrenceburg Ferry. Both tracts good farm land. E. MANNIN, Petersburg, Ky. 0-0016

F. W. Kassebaum & Son
GRANITE & MARBLE
MONUMENTS,
A Large Stock on Display to Select from.
Pneumatic Tool Equipm't
118 Main Street,
AURORA, IND.
Isinglass Replaced, Cushions and Backs Rebuilt
Buggy and Wagon Upholstering
OF QUALITY
RUFUS W. TANNER
Auto Top Repairing
Seats covers for all makes of cars.
Dixie Highway Erlanger, Ky.
Phone Erl. 79-Y.

People who use the classified ads in this paper profit by them. The little ads bring quick results. What have you for sale or want to buy. The cost is too small to consider.

C. H. YUELL
Farms for Sale
At Bargain Prices,
Burlington, Ky.
Phone Burlington 65

Take Your County Paper.

Subscribe For The Recorder.....$1.50 per year

BOONE CO. RECORDER

Published every Thursday
N. E. RIDDELL, Publisher.

Foreign Advertising Representative
THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Entered at the Postoffice, Burlington, Ky., as second-class mail.

The Recorder Stands For
BETTER FARMING, BETTER CITIZENS, BETTER HOMES

ADVERTISING RATES.
Furnished on application. The value of the RECORDER as an advertising medium is unquestioned. The character of the advertisements now in its columns, and the number of them, tell the whole story.

Today Japan is a close rival of Germany in the manufacture of rubber toys.

More than 13,000,000 life insurance policies were issued in America in 1921.

In Ku, central Africa, a couple must be engaged two years before marriage.

The first school in the Pacific Northwest was opened in 1833 at St. Vancouver.

In ceylon are to be found snails which attain a length of from four to five inches.

Europe owes us $1,000,000,000 of interest every year on public and private loans.

Algerians have found that foreign seeds grow better in their country than their own.

Things are getting so at the swell hotels that you pay the waiter and tip the proprietor.

Chicago has one cold storage plant which will accommodate 21,000 tons of meat.

Eight hours constitutes a day's labor—or at least that is what some people are paid for.

Success does not always come to him who waits. The hustler steps in between and hogs it.

Some people gain riches in their dreams and proceed to spend them in their waking hours.

Few difficulties are too great to be overcome by the person who says "I will" and lives up to it.

Game is getting scarce in the woods, but some hunters succeed in popping over the farmers' cows.

Some people form their political convictions at about the date they decide which side is going to win.

In the cities they are trying to abolish unnecessary noises and in the country to stop unnecessary silence.

One good way to avoid sickness is to stop reading a lot of the health stuff that gets your mind on diseases.

GO TO THE POLLS NEXT TUESDAY AND VOTE FOR HON. ARTHUR B. ROUSE FOR CONGRESS.

The candidates who used to kiss the babies should be watched in these times, or they may be kissing the voters.

It seems rarely superfluous to tag the newly wedded couples as "just married," as the fact is so perfectly obvious.

Heating potato chips in the oven for a minute or two makes just the difference between soggy and crispness.

Aunt Ada's Axiom—Sparing the rod is more likely to spoil the child than is sparing praise when it's well deserved.

The folks who complain that they are never noticed, are often the same ones that never did anything to attract notice.

It was not difficult to make the kids get up in the morning in the good old days when they had pie for breakfast.

The prudent landlady who wants something left over for next day, rarely ventures to put pumpkin pie on the table.

Don't make your broom stand on its feet all day. When its not in use hang it up and take the weight off the straws.

Great Britain will now be ruled by Bonar Law. Meanwhile, the United States will continue to be ruled by boner laws.

Most women are seen with their hair lopped down over their ears, but none have been detected with their mouths covered.

The modern politicians never bribe anybody, but they can of course promise lucrative offices to their deserving friends.

The political experts are announcing with some confidence that if the Republicans don't win the election, the Democrats will.

Wonder how long the women folks would wear the long skirts, if the men make a law that they must encumber themselves in this way.

One undeniable argument can be put up in favor of many of the political candidates to the effect that they need the salary of the office.

Some gluttons for trouble poke sticks in hornets' nests, but George Harvey achieves the same end by publicly announcing that women have no souls.

LESS VOLATILE MOTOR FUEL —PRODUCES PRACTICALLY SAME MILEAGE AS PRESENT GRADE.

That gasoline considerably heavier and less volatile than the grade now in general use will produce practically the same automobile mileage per gallon is shown by tests made under Government auspices to determine what is the best motor fuel for the average automobile.

Four typical automobiles, representing nearly 75 per cent of all passenger cars on the road, were selected for the tests, which were made by the Bureau of Standards at Washington, with the co-operation of the American Petroleum Institute, the Society of Automotive Engineers and the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce. The schedule of tests represented as nearly as possible, all of the conditions of operation to which the average passenger car is subjected in service.

It was demonstrated that in spite of the fact that the oil industry has been compelled to make increasingly heavy fuel in order to meet the demand, the lessened volatility of commercial gasoline has not only not affected the mileage per gallon, but that even heavier.

With the constantly increasing number of automobiles in use and the consequent growth of the demand for motor fuel, the necessity of obtaining an increased gasoline yield from crude petroleum will be appreciated especially when it is considered that the greater the yield, the lower the cost of production and, therefore, the price to the consumer.

The tests are being continued to determine if the heavier grades of gasoline will produce the same results in winter and also whether the tendency of the heavier grades to dilute crank-case lubricants is too great to compensate for the more abundant supply of fuel.

In view of the results thus far achieved, however, it is believed that any such subsidiary problems as remain will be readily solved by the co-operative efforts of oil and automotive engineers.

PIONEER LIMESTONE USER SHOWS VALUE OF MATERIAL

Lexington, Ky.—Limestone began building up the farm of R. B. Bewley, near Brandenburg, Meade county, about 15 years ago and since that time the use of it has made such marked changes in his land that farmers in that section of the state, as well as Mr. Bewley himself, no longer doubt the value of this material for boosting crop yields. The use of acid phosphate with the lime has added to the good results which Mr. Bewley has obtained in building up his land. This last summer, the clover on his farm was as fine and thick as that seen on river bottom land while it is not unusual for him to get corn yields of more than 50 bushels an acre. He undoubtedly is one of the pioneer users of limestone in Kentucky, according to R. E. Stephenson, soil specialist of the College of Agriculture, who recently completed some work in that part of the state.

When Mr. Bewley moved on the farm about 2 1/2 years ago, a fertilizer dealer advised that it would be a waste of money to put fertilizer on a farm as poor as the one Mr. Bewley had just purchased. However, after reading agricultural college bulletins that told about the things limestone would do for poor soils, Mr. Bewley decided to give it a trial and so about 15 years ago he burned some limestone rock which he had on his farm and put it on 15 acres of land at the rate of three tons to the acre. This field at the present time is growing a good stand of clover in spite of the fact that no lime has been used on it since.

Since that time, a small area of new land has been limed each year with the result that 100 of the 240 acres in the farm have been treated with stone. From three to seven tons of either burned or crushed limestone were used on the stone was a product of the farm and could be burned in Mr. Bewley's own kilns. However, results obtained on soil experiment fields in the state indicate that about one ton of burned lime or two tons of crushed stone will give good results. For the last three or four years Mr. Bewley has used crushed stone and finds that it gives good results. The poor soil on Mr. Bewley's farm that has not been limed grows little but broom sage, briars and bushes while the use of limestone on what once was gullies has given a good stand of clover.

EDITORIAL BITS

"Make your mind behave!" advises a centenarian. How can you with a flapper walking three steps ahead of you?—Milwaukee Journal.

Thirty days hath September, April June and November. All the rest are thirty-two—unless you make your own homebrew.—Life.

It is not true that the Hohenzollerns will go to Paris for their honeymoon.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

You never hear of a man bragging about his pet coal dealer.—Washington Post.

As thirty Americans are disposed to view the matter, the three-mile limit is just the limit.—Boston Transcript.

Advertising And Newcomers.

The people who have recently changed their residence constitute an opportunity for business enterprise. Such folks, if strangers in their new locality, are in doubt as to where they would better do their trading and their business can be had by those who go after it.

What usually happens in such a case, is that the newcomer in a town begins to study the newspapers. He looks them over carefully to see which stores are doing the most attractive and reasonable advertising, and he looks up those places and visits them first.

Years ago when most people lived year after year in one place the number of newcomers in a city and its suburbs at any time was a small proportion. Advertising paid even in those days, but there was not the chance to get a considerable new trade all at once as the result of interesting a lot of new comers who had no fixed buying habits.

Today a constant shift of population is quietly going on all the time. Newcomers in a city are specially interested in advertising, because it gives them valuable suggestions as to where they should give their patronage. They feel the need of economy, as they have been under the expense for moving, and any chance to save a dollar looks good to them. They are attracted to merchants who show enterprise and initiative. These folks constitute a body of people who can easily be attached and made permanent customers by the merchants who take pains to announce and describe the offerings they make to the public.

Many business concerns have built a large trade out of their constant appeal to recently arrived residents. Such newcomers search the newspapers advertising with unusual thoroughness, and they are in a mood where their patronage is offered to those who solicit it with the most enterprise.

THE CHOICE OF FRIENDS AND READING.

Your family is worth the best you can give it. You desire for their enjoyment the best house, the best food, the best clothes that you can afford. And you are very careful that they cultivate the right kind of friends. But are you just as careful about choosing the right kind of reading? You should be, for reading has a marked influence upon character, especially the reading that comes under the eyes of the young and impressionable. If you choose The Youth's Companion you are giving your family an acquaintance with the best there is in periodical literature. If you see The Companion in a house you may be sure it is a safe family to tie up to—a family worth knowing. Try it for a year and see.

The 52 issues of 1923, will be crowded with serial stories, short stories, editorials, poetry, facts and fun. Subscribe now and receive:

The Youth's Companion—52 issues in 1923.

2. All the remaining issues of 1922.

3. The Companion Home Calendar for 1923. All for $2.50.

4. Or include McCall's Magazine, the monthly authority on fashions. Both publications, only $3.00.

THE YOUTH'S COMPANION, Commonwealth Ave. & St. Paul St., Boston, Mass. Subscriptions received at this Office.

NOT AN EXPERIMENT

The satisfactory sale of 54,000,000 pounds of tobacco practically the entire holdings of the Burley Tobacco Co-operative Association, is accepted everywhere as a demonstration of the success of the young organization. It has dispelled every lingering doubt of that success, and its stimulating effect has been instantly felt in the dark tobacco region, where a duplication of the service is promised; where with similar efficiency of management and similar loyalty of membership a duplication of the success is inevitable.

But why should there have been any doubt that the Association could and would do what it was meant to do? Why was such a demonstration as we have now had in any way necessary? Only the conservatism of those who were the victims of the old system can explain that.

Co-operative marketing is not a new, untried experiment. It has long proved itself to be no more favorable to its functioning than those of tobacco, and it is going to prove itself in fields that are regarded as much less favorable for the working of the plan.

Here, and not in the quick nostrum provided by the new tariff law, lies the hope of the farmer for better things.—Courier-Journal.

ACRIGRAPHS

(Cornell Extension Division.)

Heap high the farmer's wintry hoard!

Heap high the golden corn!

No richer gift has Autumn poured

From out her lavish horn!

—Whittier.

He who would look with contempt upon the farmer's pursuit is not worthy the name of a man.—Beecher.

A doctor says dish-washing is the best cure for neurasthenia. Which dooms that once popular disease to hibernation.—Wichita Eagle.

Stevenson devised an instrument called a dynamometer to measure the force of waves.

Trade Where They All Trade

$25.00 Cash Prize

to the owner of the oldest DeLaval Cream Separator. If you have an old DeLaval still in use send us the serial number, the size and date of purchase if possible, also state what service you have had from same.

This is a very simple and easy matter and if you have the oldest machine in Kentucky you will receive a cash prize of

$25.00

Sooner or later you will use a DeLaval. All hand sizes on hand, and will BE GLAD TO DEMONSTRATE.

Send us your orders for anything and be convinced that we can save you money.

Geo. C. Goode

GROCER & SEEDSMAN

19-21 Pike St.

18-20 West Seventh St.

WHOLESALE—"Covington's Largest Seed and Grocery House"—RETAIL

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Phones South 335 and 336.

Any Make of Battery
RECHARGED
75c

Rentals for any make of car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.

Dempsey Motor Car Co.,
Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

FIRST-CLASS Shoe Repairing

Mail Orders at My Expense.
All work guaranteed. Mail your shoes to be repaired to

A. G. LAWRENCE, Erlanger, Ky.
87 Lexington Pike.
o-deelp

FARMS FOR SALE.

13 acres, five room house etc., near Devon, Ky. .... $2750
Two acres and six room house, Union, Ky. .... $2625

Thirty-one acres, four room house, etc., near Florence, Ky. $3900.
One hundred acres, 4-room house, etc., near Burlington, Ky. $4000.

C. T. CLAUNCH,
Erlanger, Ky.
nov2-2t

NOTICE

For Starks Delicious, Golden, Delicious, apple trees and all other kinds of trees and ornamental shrubs and trees. M. L. Ayler, Bonded Salesman, Phone Hebron, Ky.
o19oct—pd

NOTICE

All persons having valid and subsisting claims against the estate of Martha Warner, dec'd must present same to me at my office in Burlington Ky., proven as by law required.
S. W. TOLIN.
Administrator with the will annexed of Martha Warner, deceased.

FARM FOR SALE.

120 acres 4 miles of Aurora, Ind., on good pike, half mile of church, school bus passes the door, half of this farm is A 1 tobacco land and well watered for stock, 7 room house, large barn and all necessary out-buildings. This farm must sell. Price $20,000. Also some baby farms near Florence, Ky.
W. L. SATCHELL,
Florence, Ky.
o-Oct19

Okra gives a distinctive taste to soup. Try it also in gravies, mixed pickles and in stews. It may be put up by the cold-pack method or dried for winter use.

Between 3,000,000,000 and 5,000,000,000 pounds of cotton have been exported from the United States during each of the past 20 years, except in 1918, when exports were slightly over 2,000,000,000 pounds, and in 1912, when they exceeded 5,000,000,000 pounds, according to the United States Department of Agriculture.

Keep Your Feet Dry

Nothing like a pair of "Ball-Band" Arctics for keeping your feet dry and warm in the very worst weather. You can laugh at freezing cold, deep snow, slush and mud if you wear "Ball-Band."

"BALL-BAND"

"Ball-Band" Arctics save you money by protecting your leather shoes from destructive soakings, too.

Ten million people look for the Red Ball Trade Mark when they buy Rubber Footwear. Make your choice of styles from our complete assortment of "Ball-Band."

H. S. Anderson

RISE SUN, INDIANA.

Comfort and Convenience.

The days are getting shorter and colder, and now is the time to think about Delco Lights, Arcola Heating Systems, and Hot Water Heat. See

H. R. LEIDY,

Florence, - - - - - Kentucky.
R. D. Phone—Burlington.

Will gladly give you estimates on any of the above conveniences.

ARE YOU A READER OF THE RECORDER?
Subscribe For The Recorder.....$1.50 per year

DEMOCRATIC TICKET

For Congress
HON. A. B. ROUSE

As the Editor Sees It.

*****
Some men think there are too many women's clubs. We think there are not enough.

There was a time when women were expected to sit demurely in the home and keep the cat company during the absence of her "lord and master." But happily that day has passed into history.

Woman, by her own efforts, has emancipated herself. She is a property holder, a voter, an office holder, a rapidly increasing power in the business world, and is entitled to her proper sphere in life.

She cannot determine the proper duties and responsibilities of her sphere by remaining at home or by discussing current topics over the back yard fence.

Healthy club life cultivates the mind and brings to the surface the best that is in both man and woman. At the club she meets her friends, learns their views, hears all sides of questions that are before the public, and is therefore better able to determine the proper course to pursue.

Join a woman's club. It is one of the best things that you can do. When shivering in the cold this winter do not allow your thoughts to dwell too much upon shivering. That is oppressive.

Turn them toward the warm and sunny days of another summer. That would be anticipative. Dwelling too much upon disagreeable things shuts out the brighter side of life. It stifles enthusiasm and renders impotent many of the best efforts of mankind.

We have but one life to live upon this earth, and that life will be only as we make it. Bright spots should be cultivated until they become the predominant side of existence. Dark ones should be eradicated and then forgotten. Shiver—but think of the sunny days ahead.

In Chicago a reckless motorist passed a street car on the left or forbidden side, and killed a little girl. A judge promptly imposed a prison sentence of from one to fourteen years.

That's the kind of judge to have. Fines mean nothing to the automobile "Smart Aleck," but iron bars are a holy terror to him.

And since fines will not check him, prison bars should detain him. A life for a life, though, might be a more adequate punishment in many cases.

Will money buy anything? It would almost seem so. In one of our large cities two supposedly reputable citizens have confessed to perjuring themselves in giving testimony that freed a murderer from paying the penalty of his crime.

They promised $10,000 each for their perjured testimony. They received $125 each. Is American manhood slipping away, or are only the black sheep being exposed?

"I don't like this town." It is only occasionally that we hear such a remark, but when we do we wonder how much the people of the town like the person who makes it.

Most of us like this town because we know and like each other. We enjoy our daily interchange of views. But we feel sorry for the poor fellow who is "out of time." He reminds us of a fiddle with a busted string.

His noise is not music to our ears. STRANGE QUESTION PROPOUNDED BY CONFLICT OF LAWS.

Washington. — Edward Everett Hale's famous story, "The Man Without a Country," is being played in real life by many "Women without a country."

Legislators interested in immigration and naturalization laws are puzzled as to the best method to unravel a snarl produced by a conflict between United States and British naturalization laws.

In real Britain an English woman who marries an American loses her British nationality. According to a new United States law, an American woman who marries a foreigner retains her citizenship in this country. The law further provides that foreign women who marry American citizens, do not by that act become citizens of this country.

The result has been confusion; a British woman marrying an American, by the laws of her country, is no longer British, and by the law of this country is not American. Much embarrassment is being caused by questions of passports, since each office, American and British, sends the British wife of an American citizen to the other's office for papers.

Venus possesses an atmosphere as dense as our own, astronomers say.

HEED THE SIGNAL.

A danger signal has been hoisted which should be heeded by every law-abiding person if we as a nation are not to come to grief.

That signal is the prevalence of crime, and graft and contempt for law that is becoming daily more pronounced in all sections of the country.

Newspapers are filled with reports of this abyss of depravity into which we are falling, but their words seem to fall upon deaf ears. Little is ever done about them.

True, while the subjects are fresh in the minds of the people, through widespread publicity, official investigations are profusely promised, and sometimes started—but too often suddenly abandoned. Pigeon holes are safe places for them until the storm blows over.

But why are so many of our law enforcement officers the country over so derelict in their sworn duty?

Why are there so many "investigations" started and so few cases actually brought to trial?

The answer is simple. Because the law abiding element of our population storms for a few days and then forgets, while the law breaker sits tight until the storm subsides and then goes right ahead with his criminal practices, knowing full well that there is little likelihood of any one coming on his trail.

And because, again, we as citizens are derelict in our own duty. When those of us who vote leave the polls we seem to consider that we have properly and fully performed our duty.

And still again, the average reputable citizen shirks jury duty as he would avoid a pest, while the underworld is always ready to fill the juries with their own disreputable class.

While we are thus asleep the criminal element is wide awake and extending its destroying tentacles into every walk and activity of life, undermining everything that works for law and order and good government, and gradually attaining a power of numerical supremacy that is appalling to contemplate.

The danger signal is out. Will it be heeded? Or will respectability surrender its control of affairs to perfidy, rascality and debauchery?

ROBBING THE FARMER

Somebody somewhere is robbing the farmer of his legitimate profits, to the detriment of the nation as a whole.

With the improved methods of agriculture, and the consequent increase in production, the farmer's profits should be far in excess of what they are today.

From one end of the country to the other the consumer continues to pay high prices for farm products, only a small fraction of which as a rule goes to the farmer.

Who gets the difference? Who is lining his pockets at the expense of both the farmer and the consumer?

Many official investigations have been started—but are still to be heard from.

Many promises have been made—but are yet to be made. Many people are wondering how long this condition will continue—but they will keep on wondering.

Because, as a matter of fact, there appears to be no one with moral, physical and POLITICAL courage enough to unearth the robbers and give them their just deserts.

ARE YOU A PATRIOT?

Mr. Webster defines a patriot as being "one who loves and serves his country."

We really have no desire to raise a delicate question on this community, but we candidly wonder how many of us can qualify in that class. Can you?

COUNTY LIVE-STOCK SALES IMPROVES OLDER METHODS

A method that should be found effective in improving live stock in all parts of the country has been tried out with much success recently in Tennessee, says a report to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. It consists of a series of county sales of pure-bred sires of all kinds.

The sales have consisted largely of beef bulls, dairy bulls, and boars, although a few rams also have been included. The sales are advertised intensively in the counties in which they are held. Small advertisements and posters are used, and for some time before the sale the local papers run articles on the value of pure-bred sires.

In that State it has been found that better results are obtained from the county sale than from sales conducted by a larger section or from State sales. Farmers are more apt to attend these sales where they can haul the purchases home or ship only a short distance. At a number of these sales the number of sires sold has varied from 20 to 60. One of the big advantages is that good blood produced in the county remains there and improves the general run of live stock instead of being scattered far and wide.

The department looks upon this plan as an important aid in the better sires—better stock movement. It is an excellent supplement to other methods now in use.

That Chicago man who has divorced and remarried his wife three different times ought to be able to get wholesale rates from the lawyers and ministers.

FARMER MAKING TEST ON BIGGER YIELDS OF WHEAT

Lexington, Ky.—J. R. Steward, one of the progressive farmers in the Henshaw community of Union county, has started a well planned demonstration on his farm to find out how much the wheat yields on farms in that section of the state can be raised by the use of limestone and acid phosphate, according to a report from County Agent L. C. Brewer. Mr. Steward, who is co-operating with County Agent Brewer and the extension division of the College of Agriculture in carrying out the demonstration, will use a ten-acre field in comparing the value of limestone alone, limestone and acid phosphate used together, and acid phosphate alone for boosting wheat yields. Results of the demonstration are expected to prove of considerable value to farmers in that district.

Before the wheat was sowed, one-half the field had limestone applied to it at the rate of two tons an acre. When the wheat was sowed, acid phosphate also was applied to one-half the field at the rate of 200 lbs. an acre, the material being spread in the opposite direction to that in which the limestone was put on. By this means, the ten-acre field was divided into four experimental plots of two and one-half acres. One of the plots had an application of limestone alone, another received no treatment, the third received acid phosphate alone while the fourth was given a treatment of both limestone and phosphate. The whole field was sowed with a Union county strain of bearded wheat.

The results which will be obtained by Mr. Steward are expected to be in line with those that have been obtained on the soil experiment fields maintained in different sections of the state by the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. Limestone used alone on these fields has not given a very large increase in the yield of wheat. Acid phosphate used alone has given results a little better than those obtained by using limestone alone. Limestone and acid phosphate used together, however, have practically doubled the yield of wheat when several crops were averaged.

A combination of these two materials also has given good increases in the yield of clover that usually follow wheat. On the experiment fields, this increase has amounted to more than a ton an acre. Spring sowings of clover made in wheat that was treated with acid phosphate and limestone the previous fall are almost sure to give good results.

CROP ROTATIONS NEEDED TO BUILD UP WORN SOILS

Lexington, Ky.—Farming practices that have been followed in Kentucky in the past have put many farmers of the state in need of a crop rotation system that will build up their worn soils, according to R. E. Stephenson, soils specialist of the College of Agriculture. In diversified farming, which is most common in Kentucky, it is hard to make soils richer or even keep up the fertility which they already contain without a good system of rotating crops. At the present time, few farmers in the state use a rotation, but the number is increasing as better farmers are being developed. Kentucky needs rotations that provide for more legumes and, on the rougher, lands, more grass and clovers.

"Some of the things that a good rotation should provide for are:—About the same acreage of each crop every year. 2.—One or more cash crops. 3.—A hay crop. 4.—In most cases, a sod-forming crop that will last for several years. 5.—One or more legumes. 6.—The alternation of tilled and untilled crops. 7.—The alternation of deep and shallow-rooted crops. 8.—Crops that will distribute labor, save equipment and cut down the amount of supervision that is necessary. 9.—The planting of crops in the best order to control insects and plant diseases. 10.—The keeping of livestock. 11.—The use of manure on the profitable crop. 12.—Some crop on the land at all times. 13.—The use of by-products to prevent waste."

"The most common rotations run for three, four and five years or else for an indefinite length of time. A common three-year rotation includes corn or tobacco followed by wheat or some other small grain and then clover and grass. Corn, oats and clover are not uncommon in some sections. A common four-year rotation in the State is corn, soybeans, or cowpeas, wheat or other small grain and clover or grass. Some farmers lengthen the rotation one year by leaving grass and clover for a year longer and using it for pasture.

"On land that washes badly, good farmers use a rotation that allows for a clover or grass crop from year to year. In this case the land is broken from sod only often enough to renew the stand of grass or clover, and only one or two cultivated crops are grown in succession.

It would never do to settle all of our strikes and other troubles at once. We would have nothing left to worry about.

Nearly teem the perspiring boy behind the soda fountain. He can give you an extra allowance of cream if he so desires.

In 1860 the steamship Great Eastern crossed the Atlantic in a record time of 11 days.

THE TRUE SHIRTWAIST

The true shirtwaist of fine cotton, wash silk or linen, makes its appearance every season for the benefit of sportswomen and for even with staid tailored suits. A late model is pictured above, made of dimity with tucks down the front and on the collar and cuffs. It fastens with pearl buttons.

Louisville, Ky. — Manufacturers of ice cream in Kentucky will not be permitted to lower the percentage of milk fat in their product, it was announced here by the State Board of Health, the announcement coming as a negative answer to a petition filed by the manufacturers with the Board in August.

The present law requires that plain ice cream contain not less than 10 per cent butter, and that fruit and nut ice creams contain not less than 8 per cent. Ice cream manufacturers requested that minimum requirement for all three kinds be reduced to 8 per cent.

Action on the petition was taken by the State Board of Health, according to Miss Sarah H. Vance, director of its Bureau of Foods, Drugs and Hotels, until after she had investigated the matter thoroughly and had made inquiries as to the procedure in other States at the recent convention of the National Food Officials' Association in Kansas City.

Refusal of the request was necessary, Miss Vance says, because of the fact that a majority of the states of the Union have a butter fat requirement at least as high as Kentucky's. She also was advised not to permit the butter fat standard to be lowered by the Chief of the Bureau of Chemistry of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Miss Vance adds.

PENDLETON COUNTY.

(Falmouth Outlook)

Twenty years ago there were 100,000 gallons of whisky stored in the bonded warehouses in Pendleton county. There is not a single gallon in the county today. And still there are some people who do not believe in evolution.

It is being circulated by the enemies of the tobacco pool that the officers of the Association are paid enormous salaries, and the expenses will eat up the larger part of the growers' money. All this is being told to dissatisfy the individual poolers. It has been proven that this present plan of the Association is far the cheapest to market tobacco both for the seller and buyer than any plan in the history of the trade. Remember, this plan has eliminated the speculators, middlemen and hordes of hangers-on in the trade. There is now only one buyer and one seller.

Last year tobacco growers paid $1.25 or more a hundred pounds to sell their tobacco on the few loose leaf floors that were open. Counting every possible item that will enter into the cost of selling under the co-operative marketing system, the cost will not exceed 75 cents a hundred pounds, a saving of $1,875,000 the last year, based on a crop yield of 250,000,000 pounds for the entire burley district. The non-poolers will also have to add to the regular warehouse expenses of $100 per hundred for some drone to boost his tobacco when the auctioneer reaches his pile of tobacco on the floor.

Farmers all over the country have at last seen the necessity of organizing to protect their interests. They have a perfect right to demand a living price for their tobacco which they produce, as the price for that which they buy is set by the drones who control big business. The time is fast aping when the man who works hard on the farm will make as much money as the dudes who are riding on the farmers' backs. Wages in almost every line of endeavor are twice as much as it is on the farm, but it does not remain thus. Conditions will have to change or something is going to happen. The time has come when a man with a $5,000 or $10,000 farm has to hump to make enough to pay his taxes. We predict that there is a better day in sight for the tillers of the soil.

The American people insist that the trusts obey the law, but they give the most prominent social recognition to the wealthy men who dodge around the law.

ONE POUND OF NOBETTER COFFEE

MAKES THIRTY-FIVE CUPS OF THE BEST COFFEE YOU EVER DRANK. IT COSTS YOU 33c PER POUND, LESS THAN ONE CENT A CUP.

Isn't a Cup of GOOD Coffee worth a Penny? Buy from our agents

Burlington, Ky. .... W. L. Kirkpatrick
Butler, Ky. .... C. B. Stith
Berry, Ky. .... C. Spradling
Crittenden, Ky. .... Gus Schiller
Erlanger, Ky. .... M. J. Mitchell
Falmouth, Ky. .... W. C. Thorp and B. Beaugrand
Grant, Ky. .... F. H. Brown
Hebron, Ky. .... M. L. Crutcher
Kenton, Ky. .... Sam Jackson
Kelat, Ky. .... M. Petty & Sons
Morgan, Ky. .... Walter Dance
Nepton, Ky. .... Thos. Ryan
Verona, Ky. .... N. M. McCormick

If none of our agents are near you, we will deliver you four pounds or more by Parcel Post Prepaid.

Northern Kentucky's LEADING GROCERS AND SEEDSMEN.

GEO. W. HILL & CO.
27-29 PINE ST. - 26 W. 7th ST. CO. KY.
Be a Hill Customer — It Pays —
We carry over 1000 varieties of seeds and plants.

VULCANIZING.
Complete line of Goodyear, Goodrich and Kelly-Springfield Tires and Tubes, good Grade of Automobile and Tractor Oils and Greases.
Auto Accessories kept in stock.
GEORGE PORTER,
BURLINGTON, KY.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN,
DENTIST
In my new office
Clayola Place, Florence, Ky.
Teeth extracted painless. Bridge and Plate Work a Specialty.
All Work Guaranteed.
JAMES L. ADAMS
DENTIST
Cohen Building
Pike Street, Covington, Ky.

You Can Trade the Article You Don't Need For Something You Do by Advertising.
RECHARGE ANY BATTERY 75c
RENTED BATTERIES FOR ANY MAKE CAR WHILE WE ARE RECHARGING OR REPAIRING YOUR BATTERY.
Dempsey Motor Car Co., Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L.

People who use the classified ads in this paper profit by them. The little ads bring quick results. What have you for sale or want to buy. The cost is too small to consider.

C. H. YOEUELL
Farms for Sale
At Bargain Prices, Burlington, Ky.
Phone Burlington 65
Take Your County Paper

Subscribe For The Recorder ..... $1.50 per year

BOONE CO. RECORDER

Published every Thursday
N. E. RIDDELL, Publisher.

Foreign Advertising Representative
THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Entered at the Postoffice, Burlington, Ky., as second-class mail.

The Recorder Stands For
BETTER FARMING, BETTER CITIZENS, BETTER HOMES"

ADVERTISING RATES.

Furnished on application. The value of the RECORDER as an advertising medium is unquestioned. The character of the advertisements now in its columns, and the number of them, tell the whole story.

Today Japan is a close rival of Germany in the manufacture of rubber toys.

More than 13,000,000 life insurance policies were issued in America in 1921.

In Ku, central Africa, a couple must be engaged two years before marriage.

The first school in the Pacific Northwest was opened in 1833 at St. Vancouver.

In ceylon are to be found snails which attain a length of from four to five inches.

Europe owes us $1,000,000,000 of interest every year on public and private loans.

Algerians have found that foreign seeds grow better in their country than their own.

Things are getting so at the swell hotels that you pay the waiter and tip he proprietor.

Chicago has one cold storage plant which will accommodate 21,000 tons of meat.

Eight hours constitutes a day's labor—or at least that is what some people are paid for.

Success does not always come to him who waits. The hustler steps in between and gains it.

Some people gain riches in their dreams and proceed to spend them in their waking hours.

Few difficulties are too great to be overcome by the person who says "I will" and lives up to it.

Game is getting scarce in the woods, but some hunters succeed in popping over the farmers' cows.

Some people form their political convictions at about the date they decide which side is going to win.

In the cities they are trying to abolish unnecessary noises and in the country to stop unnecessary silence.

One good way to avoid sickness is to stop reading a lot of the health stuff that gets your mind on diseases.

GO TO THE POLLS NEXT TUESDAY AND VOTE FOR HON. ARTHUR B. ROUSE FOR CONGRESS.

The candidates who used to kiss the babies should be watched in these times, or they may be kissing the voters.

It seems rarely superfluous to tag the newly wedded couples as "just married," as the fact is so perfectly obvious.

Heating potato chips in the oven for a minute or two makes just the difference between soggy and crispness.

Aunt Ada's Axem—Sparing the rod is more likely to spoil the child than is sparing praise when it's well deserved.

The folks who complain that they are never noticed, are often the same ones that never did anything to attract notice.

It was not difficult to make the kids get up in the morning in the good old days when they had pie for breakfast.

The prudent landlady who wants something left over for next day, rarely ventures to put pumpkin pie on the table.

Don't make your broom stand on its feet all day. When its not in use hang it up and take the weight off the straw.

Great Britain will now be ruled by Bonar Law. Meanwhile, the United States will continue to be ruled by boner laws.

Most women are seen with their hair lopped down over their ears, but none have been detected with their mouths covered.

The modern politicians never bribe anybody, but they can of course promise lucrative offices to their deserving friends.

The political experts are announcing with some confidence that if the Republicans don't win the election, the Democrats will.

Wonder how long the women folks would wear the long skirts, if the men make a law that they must encumber themselves in this way.

One undeniable argument can be put up in favor of many of the political candidates to the effect that they need the salary of the office.

Some gluttons for trouble poke sticks in hornets' nests, but George Harvey achieves the same end by publicly announcing that women have no souls.

LESS VOLATILE MOTOR FUEL—PRODUCES PRACTICALLY SAME MILEAGE AS PRESENT GRADE.

That gasoline considerably heavier and less volatile than the grade now in general use will produce practically the same automobile mileage per gallon is shown by tests made under Government auspices to determine what is the best motor fuel for the average automobile.

Four typical automobiles, representing nearly 75 per cent of all passenger cars on the road, were selected for the tests, which were made by the Bureau of Standards at Washington, with the co-operation of the American Petroleum Institute, the Society of Automotive Engineers and the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce. The schedule of tests represented as nearly as possible, all of the conditions of operation to which the average passenger car is subjected in service.

It was demonstrated that in spite of the fact that the oil industry has been compelled to make increasingly heavy fuel in order to meet the demand, the lessened volatility of commercial gasoline has not only not affected the mileage per gallon, but that even heavier fuel will produce results just as satisfactory.

With the constantly increasing number of automobiles in use and the consequent growth of the demand for motor fuel, the necessity of obtaining an increased gasoline yield from crude petroleum will be appreciated especially when it is considered that the greater the yield, the lower the cost of production and, therefore, the price to the consumer.

The tests are being continued to determine if the heavier grades of gasoline will produce the same results in winter and also whether the tendency of the heavier grades to dilute crank-case lubricants is too great to compensate for the more abundant supply of fuel.

In view of the results thus far achieved, however, it is believed that any such subsidiary problems as remain will be readily solved by the co-operative efforts of oil and automobile engineers.

PIONEER LIMESTONE USER SHOWS VALUE OF MATERIAL

Lexington, Ky.—Limestone began building up the farm of R. B. Bewley, near Brandenburg, Meade county, about 15 years ago and since that time the use of it has made such marked changes in his land that farmers in that section of the state, as well as Mr. Bewley himself, no longer doubt the value of this material for boosting crop yields. The use of acid phosphate with the lime has added to the good results which Mr. Bewley has obtained in building up his land. This last summer, the clover on his farm was as fine and thick as that seen on river bottom land while it is not unusual for him to get corn yields of more than 50 bushels per acre. He undoubtedly is one of the pioneer users of limestone in Kentucky, according to R. E. Stephenson, soil specialist of the College of Agriculture, who recently completed some work in that part of the state.

When Mr. Bewley moved on the farm about 24 years ago, a fertilizer dealer advised that it would be a waste of money to put fertilizer on a farm as poor as the one Mr. Bewley had just purchased. However, after reading agricultural college bulletins that told about the things limestone would do for poor soils, Mr. Bewley decided to give it a trial and so about 15 years ago burned some limestone rock which he had on his farm and put it on 15 acres of land at the rate of three tons to the acre. This field at the present time is growing a good stand of clover in spite of the fact that no lime has been used on it since.

Since that time, a small area of new land has been limed each year with the result that 190 of the 240 acres in the farm have been treated with stone. From three to seven tons of either burned or crushed limestone the burned lime were used large because the stone was a product of the farm and could be burned in Mr. Bewley's own kilns. However, results obtained on soil experiment fields in the state indicate that about one ton of burned lime or two tons of crushed stone will give good results. For the last three or four years Mr. Bewley has used crushed stone and finds that it gives good results. The poor soil on Mr. Bewley's farm that has not been limed grows little but broom sage, briars and bushes while the use of limestone on what once was gullies has given a good stand of clover.

EDITORIAL BITS

"Make your mind behave!" advises a centenarian. How can you with a flapper walking three steps ahead of you?—Milwaukee Journal.

Thirty days hath September, April June and November. All the rest are thirty-two—unless you make your own homebrew.—Life.

It is not true that the Hohenzollerns will go to Paris for their honeymoon.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

You never hear of a man bragging about his pet coal dealer.—Washington Post.

As thirty Americans are disposed to view the matter, the three-mile limit is just the limit.—Boston Transcript.

Advertising And Newcomers.

The people who have recently changed their residence constitute an opportunity for business enterprise. Such folks, if strangers in their new locality, are in doubt as to where they would better do their trading and their business can be had by those who go after it.

What usually happens in such a case, is that the newcomer in a town begins to study the newspapers. He looks them over carefully to see which stores are doing the most attractive and reasonable advertising, and he looks up those places and visits them first.

Years ago when most people lived year after year in one place the number of newcomers in a city and its suburbs at any time was a small proportion. Advertising paid even in those days, but there was not the chance to get a considerable new trade all at once as the result of interesting a lot of newcomers who had no fixed buying habits.

Today a constant shift of population is quietly going on all the time. Newcomers in a city are specially interested in advertising, because it gives them valuable suggestions as to where they should give their patronage. They feel the need of economy, as they have been under heavy expense for moving, and any chance to save a dollar looks good to them. They are attracted to merchants who show enterprise and initiative. These folks constitute a body of people who can easily be attached and made permanent customers by the merchants who take pains to announce and describe the offerings they make to the public.

Many business concerns have built a large trade out of their constant appeal to recently arrived residents. Such newcomers search the newspapers advertising with unusual thoroughness, and they are in a mood where their patronage is offered to those who solicit it with the most enterprise.

THE CHOICE OF FRIENDS AND READING.

Your family is worth the best you can give it. You desire for their enjoyment the best house, the best food the best clothes that you can afford. And you are very careful that they cultivate the right kind of friends. But are you just as careful about choosing the right kind of reading? You should be, for reading has a marked influence upon character, especially the reading that comes under the eyes of the young and impressionable. If you choose The Youth's Companion you are giving your family an acquaintance with the best there is in periodical literature. If you see The Companion in a house you may be sure it is a safe family to tie up to—a family worth knowing. Try it for a year and see.

The 52 issues of 1923 will be crowded with serial stories, short stories, editorials, poetry, facts and fun. Subscribe now and receive:

1. The Youth's Companion—52 issues in 1923.
  2. All the remaining issues of 1922.
  3. The Companion Home Calendar for 1923. All for $2.50.
  4. Or include McCall's Magazine, the monthly authority on fashions. Both publications, only $3.00.
- THE YOUTH'S COMPANION, Commonwealth Ave. & St. Paul St., Boston, Mass. Subscriptions received at this Office.

NOT AN EXPERIMENT

The satisfactory sale of 54,000,000 pounds of tobacco practically the entire holdings of the Burley Tobacco Co-operative Association, is accepted everywhere as a demonstration of the success of the young organization. It has dispelled every lingering doubt of that success, and its stimulating effect has been instantly felt in the dark tobacco region, where a duplication of the service is promised; where with similar efficiency of management and similar loyalty of membership a duplication of the success is inevitable.

But why should there have been any doubt that the Association could and would do what it was meant to do? Why was such a demonstration as we have now had in any way necessary? Only the conservatism of those who were the victims of the old system can explain that.

Co-operative marketing is not a new, untried experiment. It has long proved itself fields no more favorable to its functioning than those of tobacco, and it is going to prove itself in fields that are regarded as much less favorable for the working of the plan.

Here, and not in the quick nostrum provided by the new tariff law, lies the hope of the farmer for better things.—Courier-Journal.

ACRIGRAPHS

(Cornell Extension Division.)
Heap high the farmer's wintry hoard!
Heap high the golden corn!
No richer gift has Autumn poured
From out her lavish horn!

—Whittier.

He who would look with contempt upon the farmer's pursuit is not worthy the name of a man.—Beecher.

A doctor says dish-washing is the best cure for neurasthenia. Which dooms that once popular disease to glorious oblivion.—Wichita Eagle.

Stevenson devised an instrument called a dynamometer to measure the force of waves.

Trade Where They All Trade

$25.00 Cash Prize

to the owner of the oldest DeLaval Cream Separator. If you have an old DeLaval still in use send us the serial number, the size and date of purchase if possible, also state what service you have had from same.

This is a very simple and easy matter and if you have the oldest machine in Kentucky you will receive a cash prize of $25.00

Sooner or later you will use a DeLaval. All hand sizes on hand, and will BE GLAD TO DEMONSTRATE.

Send us your orders for anything and be convinced that we can save you money.

Geo. C. Goode
GROCER & SEEDSMAN

19-21 Pike St.

18-20 West Seventh St.

WHOLESALE—"Covington's Largest Seed and Grocery House"—RETAIL

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Phones South 335 and 336.

Any Make of Battery
RECHARGED
75c

Rentals for any make of car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.

Dempsey Motor Car Co.,
Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

FIRST-CLASS Shoe Repairing

Mail Orders at My Expense.
All work guaranteed. Mail your shoes to be repaired to

A. G. LAWRENCE, - - Erlanger, Ky.
87 Lexington Pike.
o-decld

FARMS FOR SALE.

13 acres, five room house etc., near Devon, Ky. .... $2750
Two acres and six room house, Union, Ky. .... $2625
Thirty-one acres, four room house, etc., near Florence, Ky. $3900.
One hundred acres, 4-room house, etc., near Burlington, Ky. $4000.
C. T. CLAUNCH,
Erlanger, Ky.
onov2-2t

NOTICE

For Starks Delicious, Golden, Delicious, apple trees and all other kinds of trees and ornamental shrubs and trees. M. L. Aylor, Bonded Salesman, Phone Hebron, Ky.
o19oct-pd

NOTICE

All persons having valid and subsisting claims against the estate of Martha Warner, dec'd must present same to me at my office in Burlington Ky., proven as by law required.
S. W. TOLIN.
Administrator with the will annexed of Martha Warner, deceased.

FARM FOR SALE.

120 acres 4 miles of Aurora, Ind., on good pike, half mile of church school bus passes the door, half of this farm is A 1 tobacco land and well watered for stock, 7 room house, large barn and all necessary out-buildings. This farm must sell. Price $6,000. Also some baby farms near Florence, Ky.
W. L. SATCHELL,
Florence, Ky.
o-Oct19

Okra gives a distinctive taste to soup. Try it also in gravies, mixed pickles and in stews. It may be put up by the cold-pack method or dried for winter use.

Between 3,000,000,000 and 5,000,000 pounds of cotton have been exported from the United States during each of the past 20 years, except in 1918, when exports were slightly over 2,000,000,000 pounds, and in 1912, when they exceeded 5,000,000,000 pounds, according to the United States Department of Agriculture.

Keep Your Feet Dry

Nothing like a pair of "Ball-Band" Arctics for keeping your feet dry and warm in the very worst weather. You can laugh at freezing cold, deep snow, slush and mud if you wear "Ball-Band."

"BALL-BAND"

"Ball-Band" Arctics save you money by protecting your leather shoes from destructive soakings, too.

Ten million people look for the Red Ball Trade Mark when they buy Rubber Footwear. Make your choice of styles from our complete assortment of "Ball-Band."

H. S. Anderson

RISEING SUN, INDIANA.

Comfort and Convenience.

The days are getting shorter and colder, and now is the time to think about Delco Lights, Arcola Heating Systems, and Hot Water Heat. See

H. R. LEIDY,

Florence, - - - - - Kentucky.
R. D. - - - - - Phone-Burlington.

Will gladly give you estimates on any of the above conveniences.

ARE YOU A READER OF THE RECORDER?
Subscribe For The Recorder ..... $1.50 per year

Saturday, Nov. 4

DOROTHY GIST

"The Ghost in The Garret"

A woody romance of love, and and crooks and spooks, in a haunted house. In 30 shivers, 10 shrieks and 50 uproarious laughs.

Tuesday, Nov. 7

Oonway Tearle

"REFFREE"

COMING SOON

"Forever"

Florence, Ky., Theatre

NONPARIEL PARK

Mrs. Wm. Arnold made a business trip to Cincinnati, Saturday.

Mrs. Myrtle Marshall visited relatives at Buffalo Ridge, the past week. Dr. Cole and wife, of Columbus, Ohio, visited the past week with relatives here.

Mrs. Lonnie Baird, of Erlanger, spent Sunday with Mrs. Chas. Chipman, of Dixie Highway.

Mr. and Mrs. John King and children, will leave soon for Detroit, Michigan to visit relatives.

Mrs. J. O. Carpenter was the guest last Friday of Mrs. Mildred Marshall and mother, of Union.

The many friends regret to hear of Mr. and Mrs. McHenry's little daughter being ill at her home on Shelby-st.

Bro. Senour and family, of Blue Ash, Ohio, were guests Sunday of Joe Baxter and family, of the Dixie Highway.

Arthur Kraus and son, Arthur, and Mrs. Mattie Hoover, of Dixie Highway, attended church in Newport, Sunday.

Mrs. Chas. Aylor and daughter, Irene, have returned home after a visit with her sister, Mrs. Mattie Rouse, of Erlanger.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Beall, Sr., and son Charles and Miss Minnie Baxter, attended the Jake Cleek sale Wednesday, near Walton.

Mrs. J. T. Williams and daughter, Glen Rose, of Bullittsville, were the guests the past week of her mother, Mrs. Ola Carpenter.

Miss Gertrude Meiman, of Erlanger and Johnny Meiman, spent last Wednesday with Mrs. Lewis Houston, of Dixie Highway.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Boyce had for their guests Sunday, Spencer Rouse and wife and Mr. Milton Hamilton, of Gunpowder neighborhood.

Russell Mitchell, Jack Renaker and R. T. Renaker motored to Mt. Carmel, Ky., and spent the week-end with Rev. Wilford Mitchell and wife.

A large crowd attended the mask Halloween dance Friday night at the Hall. It was enjoyed by old and young, and was a grand success.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Williams entertained with a dinner in honor of Dr. T. B. Castleman and wife.

Those present were Stanley Lucas and wife, Miss Minnie Myers' and Mrs. Ola Carpenter.

Mrs. Joe Baxter left last Sunday a week for a visit with Ed. Baxter and family, of Sharonville, O., and Roy Senour and family, of Blue Ash, Ohio, also Emmett Baxter and family, of Beading, Ohio.

Miss Irene Brown, daughter of Robert Brown and wife, of Florence, and Mr. Goebel Herrington, of Covington, surprised their friends last Saturday afternoon by going to Newport, where they were married. The community extends congratulations.

Clarence Carpenter, Chas. Corbin and Johnny Meiman left Wednesday to motor through to Florida. The home folks received cards Saturday they would land in Georgia Saturday and were enjoying the trip very much, beautiful scenery and country.

MT. ZION.

Miss Maggie Northcutt spent Sunday with Miss Sarah Glacken.

Services at Ebenezer church Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Ell Rice and Howard Kelly, of Burlington, are building a barn for Elmer Glacken.

Mrs. Geo. Bassett and son spent last week with her mother, Mrs. Craig, of Sadienville, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Surface spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Alan Utz and daughter.

Mrs. J. O. Richards and Mr. Lewis Richards, who have been confined to their room the past week, are improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glacken and children spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Robinson and son, of Richmond.

Mrs. Sarah Robinson has returned to her home at Richmond after spending several days with Elmer Glacken and family.

Several men gathered at the Mt. Zion road Saturday morning, and gave the road a good working, and hauled rock.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Holworth and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Holworth spent Sunday with Covington friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dixon and family entertained at dinner Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dixon and children, Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. James Brainerd, Mrs. H. P. Dixon, Mr. John Ben Dixon and sisters, Misses Mary and Jennie Dixon,

BEECH GROVE.

Lewis Craig preached at Beech Grove school house Saturday night.

Mrs. Hogan Ryle and children were guests of Lewis Beemon and family near Limaburg, Sunday.

Miss Bettie Williamson spent the past week with her niece, Mrs. Raymond Hightower.

Miss Beatrice Cook, of Dayton, Ky., and her mother, are visiting A. D. Williamson and wife.

Lewis Merrick and wife, of Rabbit Hash, were guests of Jas. West and wife, Saturday night and Sunday.

G. A. Ryle and wife were guests of their grand-daughter Mrs. Leland Snyder, near Petersburg, Sunday.

Grant Williamson and family, of Burlington, were Sunday guests of his parents, David Williamson and wife.

Mrs. Lawrence Pope returned home Sunday after a week's visit to her sister, Mrs. Owen Presser, near Union.

Mrs. Johanna Stephens recently visited her brother, J. W. Ryle and wife and Mrs. Amanda Ryle and family.

Mrs. Raymond Hightower and little daughter and Miss Bettie Williamson, were guests of Don Williamson and David Williamson and wife, Friday of last week.

FLICKERTOWN.

James Gaines bought a nice driving horse last week.

Ezra Beemon called on William Burns Sunday morning.

Walter Snyder called on Richard Hensley Saturday night.

Owen Utz and family, of Newport, visited James Minor, Sunday.

J. W. White finished putting in a nice crop of alfalfa hay last week.

Mrs. Mattie Shinkle and children were pleasant callers here Sunday.

J. H. Snyder and son Carroll, visited in the city Saturday and Sunday.

Richard Pligg visited his sister, Mrs. Bob Snow, Saturday and Sunday.

J. B. F. Akin and wife, Chas. Akin and wife and Mrs. Rosie Beemon, visited near Bullittsville, Sunday.

Mrs. Ora Ogden and Mrs. Everett Barnes visited Mrs. Hattie Shinkle last Friday.

Mr. James and Walter Gaines finished picking their large crop of fine apples last week.

Frank Lay and family, of Lawrenceburg, Bellamy Stevens of Lancers, and Stanley Lonaker, called on this scribe and family, Sunday.

Leroy Voshell taken several premiums at the High school fair at Petersburg, Saturday.

HEBRON.

Mr. Tyree was the week-end guest of friends at Owenton.

M. L. Crutcher and family visited his brother, Sam Crutcher and family, of Crutcher, last Sunday.

Robt. McGlasson and family spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Ray Rogers and Mr. Rogers, of Latonia.

Friends here of Phil Glass, our blacksmith, were sorry to hear of the death of his father, who died suddenly last Sunday.

Several from here received invitations to the wedding of John Baker and Miss Louise Brown at the home of the bride, last Saturday evening.

Edward Baker and family and Miss Nannie Lodge attended a dinner given at the home of Leslie Baker and family, of Ludlow, in honor of John Baker and bride, last Sunday.

James Barlow and son Chester, and Chris Whitaker and wife had as guests last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Arch Acra and family, of Waterloo.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Barlow and son, Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Looney and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Newsbaker and family and Miss Lorena Barlow, all of Kenton county, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Anderson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Aylor and daughter.

The many friends of Mrs. Alice Dye were sorry to hear of the serious injury she received last Thursday afternoon near Wm. Crigler's residence, the horse she was driving became frightened and began running, throwing her out of the wagon.

Her right hip and arm near the shoulder were broken. Friends soon gathered and she was taken to the home of her son Harold near by, where Drs. Hafer and Sayre were called, after an examination it was found she had to be taken to a hospital.

On Friday morning she was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

ERLANGER

Mrs. A. W. Corn is on the sick list.

Maria Underhill visited Miss Annie Crigler Sunday.

Mrs. J. A. Huey, of Union, visited friends here last week.

C. Ruse, of Price Hill, Sunday.

Mr. P. H. Shearer returned Tuesday from a visit to Jackson, Ohio.

Mrs. H. G. Buckner has been confined to her room for several days.

Rev. Miles Smith, of Norwood, was visiting his father here last week.

Mr. Frank Mitchell, of Louisville, the guest of C. T. Shearer.

Vin. Taliferro was the guest of J. J. Garrison at Union, last week.

Mrs. J. W. Parish leaves for a protracted stay at Indianapolis, with her son and wife.

The meeting of the Parents and Teachers Association was well attended Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hudley of Ft. Thomas, were entertained by C. W. Gurney and wife, Friday.

Evangelistic Services

Big Bone Baptist Church

BEGINNING

Monday, Nov. 6th, 1922

Rev. J. B. Degarmo, Evangelist

DON'T MISS A SINGLE SERVICE

Resolve now to hear every message of this Great Man of God.

American Legion

EXERCISES

For Armistice Day

November 11th, 1922

At Florence, Kentucky.

Band Concert Beginning Promptly at 12 o'clock noon.

12:45 P. M. Parade of all Exservice Men.

1:15 Speaking by State Legionaire of prominence.

2:15 Foot Ball Game between Boone Post and Erlanger Post Am. Legion.

This program will begin promptly and each number will be held on scheduled time. The public is invited to attend and give us their hearty co-operation.

Any Make of Battery

RECHARGED

75c

Rentals for any make of car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.

Dempsey Motor Car Co.,
Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

Les't You Forget.

F. H. Dickey's Sale at Union, Friday, Nov. 3d, at 9:00a. m.

W. B. Johnson
Auctioneer, Walton, Ky.

Lands Posted.

All character of trespassing on our farms is positively prohibited, and we will prosecute all guilty parties. No hunting, trapping or snaring will be allowed.

Name

B. C. Allen.....Hamilton

Julia S. Dinsmore.....Bellevue

B. H. Berkshire.....Petersburg

Lucy E. Hance.....Hamilton

J. H. Jockey.....Burlington

S. B. Scott.....Grant

J. H. Walton.....Carlton

Ira Aylor.....Union

Arminia Aylor.....Richwood

James W. Ryle.....Waterloo

S. B. Ryle.....Grant R. D.

Addie Harding.....Burlington

Jake Reiman.....Bullittsville

B. C. Graddy.....Bullittsville

E. H. Crisler.....Bullittsville

Your name will be put in the list of those posted until Jan. 1st for 50 cents.

NOTICE

All persons indebted to the estate of D. B. Dobbins will settle same at once. All persons having claims against D. B. Dobbins, deceased, will present same to me proven as the law requires.

JAMES DOBBINS, Executor,
Walton, Ky.

LUTE BRADFORD,
AUCTIONEER
FLORENCE, - - KY.

List your sales with me as I have a wide acquaintance and know all good buyers.

Reference—Florence Deposit Bank, Florence, Ky.

O-decl

BOONE COUNTY COURT

H. O. Adams &c.,
Notices

Notice is hereby given that the petition and report of the viewers who were appointed to report on a proposed alteration of the public road from Hathaway down Riddell's Run for a distance of about one mile, will be up for hearing in the Boone County Court at Burlington, Ky., Nov. 6, 1922. Any and all objections to the report must be made on or before said day.

O. R. PORTER,
Road Engineer

Public Sale.

I will sell at public sale at my residence on the Waterloo and Bellevue pike on

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 7th, 1922.

The Following Property:

Four No. 1 cows, giving milk.

Three 2-year-old Heifers.

Eight gallon milk cans.

Five gallon milk cans.

Terms—A credit of six months will be given, purchaser to give note with good security payable at Citizens Deposit Bank, Grant, Ky. Sale will begin at 2 p. m.

W.E.RICE.

Most grasses seed themselves in the fall. That's one reason for re-seeding now by sowing a little good seed before the autumn rains.

HEADLIGHTS ON HIGHWAYS

Systems of Federal-aid highways designated by the State Highway Departments of Maryland, Arizona, Montana, Colorado, New Mexico, Wyoming, Idaho, and Vermont have been approved by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Improved roads in Wyoming have increased from a total mileage of 1,724 in 1914 to 8,867 in 1921, according to the Bureau of Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture.

A total of 33.3 miles of bridges, exclusive of small structures, have been completed on Federal-aid roads.

When children and workers in our eastern cities are underfed and corn in Iowa, potatoes in Virginia, and fruit in California are allowed to rot, something is wrong with the system of transportation. Highway transport can play an important part in the solution.

Eighteen feet of roadway is the minimum width recommended by the Bureau of Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture for primary roads.

Trunk-line highways mean too much to the commerce of the Nation to allow them to be closed by snow. Now is the time to lay plans for snow removal.

Mail 389 Letters Every Second.

Every second of the twenty-four hours of every day 389 letters are dropped into letter boxes, mail slots or postoffice boxes in the U. S. according to estimates just made at the Postoffice Department.

The number of letters mailed every minute reaches 23,334.

The number mailed every hour totals 1,400,000 in round numbers. And for the year the grand total of letters handled by the Postoffice Department reaches the astounding figure of 12,000,000,000.

Ewald Guttschnecht, 20 years old, of Blackhawk county, Iowa, has been a pig club member for 4 years.

In that time, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture, he has sold $3,000 worth of swine. He now has 63 head of pure-bred hogs, has built a modern hog house, and uses the mineral feed mixtures recommended by the State agricultural college with good results.

Public Sale

I will sell at public auction on the Murphy farm, 1-4 mile east of Big Bone Sarings, to the highest bidder, beginning at 1 o'clock p. m., on

Friday, Nov. 10, '22

The Following Property:

Black horse mule 5-yrs. old well broke, horse colt 2 1-2 yrs old, Jersey cow 4-yrs. old eligible to register, Jersey cow 4-years old, Shorthorn cow 6-yrs. old, Poland China sow will farrow last of Dec., 5 shoats will weigh 50 or 60 lbs. 2-h road wagon, rubber tired buggy newly painted, rockbed, steel tire runabout, McCormick mowing machine, standard disc harrow, Hoosier disc corn-drill, double "A" harrow, iron double shovel, 2 sets work harness, pair check lines, pair blind bridles, Iowa cream separator, 5-gal. cream can, Perfection washing machine, 2 one-man's saw, 2 axes, 50-egg incubator, Goodwill range, Globe's Art range, 6 kitchen chairs, bedstead, and many other small articles.

TERMS OF SALE.

All sums under $10.00, cash; on all sums of $10.00 and over a credit of six months. Purchaser to give note with approved security before removal of property, payable at Union Deposit Bank, Union, Ky. Three per cent. discount for cash.

H. L. Pitcher,
Big Bone, Ky.

LUTE BRADFORD, Auct.

There have been revivals where hundreds of sinners have repented and embraced the faith, but it remains for a Cynthiana church to break the record. It is recorded that at the Christian church there three Millions were added to the congregation—Thomas J. Millon, Mrs. Millon and Miss Millon.—Cynthiana Democrat.

Life is short, but many people manage to let it drag along.

No, a dollar doesn't go as far as it used to. In the old days a woman could buy her costume, which consisted of three petticoats, a dress that reached from her ears to the floor, bustle and padding and all the trimmings for less money than a girl now spends for an outfit that hasn't as much material in it as one of the old fashioned petticoats did.—Sam Hill.

Subscribe for the Recorder.

The Tri-State Pays Transportation 45c

Week Oct. 29th to Nov. 5 incl.

Per pound Butterfat

"I have always shipped cream to The Tri-State and always will ship it there because I get more money there than any other place."—Wm. Harping.

(Printed by Permission)

Shipping your own can of cream DIRECT to The Tri-State will make you more money than any other work connected with the Dairy.

WRITE FOR FREE TRIAL CANS.

The Tri-State Butter Co.
CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Cash Capital and Assets $1,000,000.00.

PETERSBURG.

We are having fine fall weather. Dol Allen has bought a large lot of hay.

Pratt Holloway has his new automobile about ready.

Eugene Gordon spent the past week in Cincinnati.

The Graded School Fair proved to be quite a success.

Boone Ryle and family are domiciled in their new home.

John Gelsler is doing some work on W. T. Stott's farm houses.

The Petersburg Coal Co. are unloading a large of Campbell Creek coal.

The game of basket ball here Saturday afternoon was won by the old team.

Bolivar Shinkle Jr., and family are visiting his wife's parents, Philip Kloppe, of Lawrenceburg.

Miss Nellie Tafferty is still furnishing different families with coffee cakes every Saturday.

Mrs. King, sister of Capt. Allen, left Thursday to spend the winter with her son and family in the south.

Miss Henrietta Gelsler, of South Norwood, Ohio, was the guest of her father, uncle and aunt, Saturday and Sunday.

Walter Rector has sold his town residence to Doc Houze and will move to his farm on Gunpowder in a few weeks.

Mrs. Milo Atkinson is here from the south visiting her mother, Mrs. Chambers and other relatives. She looks as if the south agrees with her.

Deputy Sheriff Snyder was here Saturday. I do not know whether he was looking for something to drink or hunting for those that were drinking.

The protracted meeting that is in progress at the Christian church here for the past week, will continue indefinitely. Bro. Lacey is delivering fine sermons.

Mr. Bernard Berkshire furnished White Bros. with a fine young beef dressed and sliced, ready for the cook. It surely was fine, being a yearling, and was sold for a price that people could afford to buy.

GUNPOWDER

H. F. Utz is somewhat disabled with a lame back.

Mrs. B. D. Clore is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. Benj. A. Floyd.

A shower of rain would be very acceptable as water is getting very scarce with a great many.

Mrs. Mintie Utz entertained Mr. Nellie Garnett and Misses Hettie Rouse and Ada Aylor, last Tuesday.

Quite a number of friends met at the home of E. H. Blankenbaker last Sunday and enjoyed a big dinner and a pleasant time socially.

The following guests were present and joined this scribe in the celebration of his birth anniversary last Sunday: J. C. Hankins and wife, Chas. Riley and family, of Hebron; Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Davis and Mrs. B. D. Clore, of Erlanger; L. H. Rouse and wife, B. C. Surface, Mrs. H. F. Utz and daughter Mary and P. J. Allen and wife, and as a token of friendship each one left a useful present and wishing many returns of the happy occasion. Many thanks.

Chicken thieves who have been operating in this neighborhood met with rather a warm reception when they attempted to steal Edward Busby's chickens one night last week. He discovered the intruder before he reached the chicken house and fired two shots, but he failed to capture him, but he left without asking any questions, and I wish to say that there are other guns loaded and will be used if this stealing business is continued. L. H. Busby has only about fifty chickens left out of 200, and that kind of business is getting very common on our ridge.

The problem of preserving viable seeds in the tropical climate of Guam from harvest until next planting season has been solved by the Federal agricultural experiment station on that island by devising a simple container made of metal or glass, so surrounded by coconut oil or other slowly volatile oil as to make it moisture, insect, and rat proof. Seeds free from insects and insect eggs and properly dried when placed in the tank will keep in good condition and maintain their germinating power indefinitely.

DEVON

Jas. W. Bristow wife and mother Sunday with Mr. Jerry Dixon and family.

Mrs. Frank McCoy was called to Louisville last week by the death of her cousin.

Mrs. Hannah Miller was the guest Wednesday of Mrs. Reichthoven, of near Independence.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Huttsell visited friends near Verona, Mrs. Cluster and family, Saturday.

Mrs. L. N. Wilson, of Bank Lick, visited friends here Tuesday and Wednesday of last week.

Jas. W. Bristow, Mrs. Bristow and mother, Mrs. Dixon, were in the city Saturday shopping and took in a show.

Mr. J. Edmond Bristow, of Sharonville, Ohio, spent part of last week here the guest of his brother, Benjamin and family.

Mrs. Eugene Riley had for her guest from Friday evening until Monday mornin, her niece, little Miss Beulah Pickett, of Independence.

Mr. and Mrs. Omer Easton are deceiving congratulations upon the arrival of a fine daughter, Oct. 27th, whom they have named Nellie Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fagin, daughter Stella Elizabeth, and son Master Howard Bristow, and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bristow, visited Mrs. Nance Callahan and family, Saturday, in Covington.

Hiram Rivard, Mrs. Rivard and attractive children, Master E. K. and Marguerite and friend Miss Kincir, were guests Sunday evening of Benj. Bristow and family. Miss Kincir returned for a longer visit.

Mrs. Annie Kinney and son Roy, of Beaver, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Huttsell Sunday, and in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Huttsell and guests visited Miss Ella Mae Kinney at Villa Madonna College, where Miss Ella Mae is attending school.

Benjamin Bristow, of Deevon, and brother Edmond, of Sharonville, O., visited their brother N. S. Bristow and family, of Union, from Tuesday evening until Thursday afternoon.

Ed, as we all call him, was glad to meet his Kentucky friends, and they enjoyed having him with them.

It is with much regret we learn of the death of our friend Mrs. Baker, of Bank Lick. She was called home on Sunday evening, Oct. 22. Funeral was from the Baptist church and burial in Independence cemetery. We extend to the aged husband and her children our sympathy. Mrs. Baker had lived the life of a true christian and was called to rest in her 83rd year.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Schadler entertained Saturday evening with a shower in honor of their son Archie and bride (nee Miss Agnes Parker) who were married in Covington October 21st. Quite a number of guests responded to invitations and many useful presents were received by the bride and groom. Music was enjoyed and a nice lunch served by Mrs. Jos. Schadler assisted by her daughters, Miss Lucy, Mrs. Chas. Glass and Mrs. Chas. Schadler. Mr. Schadler and bride will reside in Covington, where Mr. Schadler has a railroad position. The happy couple have the very best wishes of their many friends here.

AFFIDAVIT CAN BE FURNISHED WITH THIS

The best snake story of the season comes from the W. H. Rodgers farm, a few miles below town. And it is a true snake story, too—true as gospel.

A few days ago Mr. Rodgers was on the farm and when near the barn saw a big black snake, which he promptly killed. He noticed that midway of the serpent's body, which was five feet long, there was a big bulge. George Riggs, who was with him, decided to find out what caused the enlargement of the snake's body and cut the reptile in two just above the enlarged portion of its body. Further examination showed that the snake had swallowed two white glass eggs of the kind usually used as rat eggs in hen's nests.

It is common knowledge that snakes of several varieties will swallow whole hen's eggs, and the counterfeit eggs used by some farmer in that neighborhood were so much like the real thing that the snake did not realize that he was being "gobbed."

RICHWOOD.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Powers have a new Ford car.

Wedding bells are tuning up—will tell you next week.

Elmer Glacken and family Sunday with Robert Robinson.

Several car loads of coal were received here the past week.

Joseph Myers has dismantled the shop here and erected a new garage.

J. Wood Carpenter and family spent Sunday with Theo. Carpenter.

Miss Jennie Cleek, of Covington, spent the week-end with her parents here.

Henry Dixon has been helping out at the Erlanger Deposit Bank for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Carpenter, of Hamilton, Ohio, spent the week-end at B. L. Cleek's.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Robinson, of Ludlow, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Robinson.

Mutual Telephone Company meets next Saturday. Stockholders are welcome and suggestions are solicited.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Dameron, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Sommers and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lipscomb, of Independence, spent Sunday with Mr. Wallace Dameron at Verona.

It will soon be election time, and there is one man that our county should be proud of and glad to cast our votes for, a man that climbed the ladder of fame, and that has not forgotten us, and is always the same, Arthur B. Rouse. He will win, but that is not the point, make it a large win. Go vote and make him proud and glad to have been born in old Boone. The initials of his name The Hon. A. B. Rouse, Burlington, Boone County, Ky., U. S. A. Thank you.

BEAVER LICK.

Roth Atha spent several days last week in the city.

Will Wilson shipped a truck load of fat hogs last week for which he received satisfactory prices.

Miss Anna Cleek spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mrs. Sam B. Sleet at the Bethesda hospital, Cincinnati.

Robt. Green, who has been ill with fever for several weeks, has improved, and is able to resume his farm labors.

The members of the Beaver Christian church put a new roof on their church building last week and made some other needed repairs.

Mrs. J. O. Griffith was awarded first premium on her Angel Food cake at the Covington Tri-State fair over 78 opponents, last week.

A great many from this neighborhood attended the funeral of Mrs. Ernestine Alphin Whitson at South Fork, last Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Sam B. Sleet was operated on for appendicitis at the Bethesda hospital, Cincinnati, last Thursday, and is doing as well as could be expected.

PT. PLEASANT.

Mrs. Sallie Souther entertained Bro. Ribble and Mrs. Omer and family at supper last Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tanner entertained them at dinner Sunday.

A wonderful series of meetings are now in progress at the Pt. Pleasant and Christian church, one of the best protracted meetings had for many a day. The crowds have increased from night to night and Sunday night the house was filled to overflowing.

Bro. Ribble is a very fluent speaker and has a wonderful way of explaining the mysterious truths of the Gospel. Bro. Omer preached at Erlanger Sunday morning and evening, but was present at the conference held at Pt. Pleasant in the afternoon. All enjoyed Bro. Moore's address. We were especially favored with a duet by Misses Maud and Margery Tanner. The meetings will close at the end of this week and the invitation is extended to all to come the last few nights.

IN LOVING MEMORY

Of our Dearly beloved father Charles W. Darby, who passed away Oct. 25th, 1921.

October recalls sad memories Of a loved one gone to rest, And those who think of him today, Are those who loved him best.

His parents Mr. and Mrs. George Darby wife Mrs. Kitty Darby, and four children.

Mrs. Prude Nettles, of Franceville neighborhood, was transacting business in Burlington, Monday, and while in town called at this office and had the date on her subscription moved up another year. Mrs. Nettles expects to move to Lawrenceburg, Ind., in a few days, and wants to keep posted as to what the people are doing back in her old home.

Shipments from the barreled apple areas have been double those of last season, plainly showing the heavier production in these sections, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. To October 1 official reports indicate a total movement of approximately 15,000 cars. That is about half as many as were shipped during the entire 1921-22 season.

A vote was recently taken on the wet and dry question among the inmates of the prisons in the United States. More than 13,000 voted dry, and only 909 voted wet, which shows that even the lawbreaker is capable of right thinking and dreads the results of drink.

Have all your pastries good all the time

A rich, wholesome flour - especially biscuits

Telephone Flour

A Leader for Ask Your

Forty-Five Years Grocer

General Trucking

At Your Service

WALTER HUEY

Florence, Ky.

Phone 266-X

Burns and bruises?
MENTHOLATUM
cools and heals.

Learn A Trade

Hundreds of big jobs now open paying from $10 to $50 a month. Trained men placed every day. Students qualify in 3 weeks. Short time offer includes railroad fare, board and tools. FREE. Offer may be withdrawn without notice. Write now for terms and BIG FREE BOOK.
Rabe Auto & Tractor School, dept. K-29
5th & Walnut, Cincinnati, O.
(No facilities for colored students)

FOR SALE

Farm of 75 acres three miles below Petersburg, Ky. Twelve acres of bottom land, eight acres of clover, balance in blue grass. Six room house, one four-room log house, 3 barns and other obs. buildings. Good tobacco and alfalfa land.
CHARLIE WHITE,
Petersburg, Ky.

Radio Receiving Sets

INSTALLED BY

J. J. KIRKPATRICK

Burlington, Ky.

Do not buy your Radio Outfit until I quote you on one of the best outfits. Installed ready to receive from the Broad Casting Stations in New York, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Nebraska, Georgia, and other points.

Statement of the Ownership, Management, Circulation, etc. Required by the Act of August 24, 1912. Of Boone County Recorder published weekly at Burlington, Ky., for Oct. 28th, 1922.
Editor N. E. Riddell, Burlington, Managing Editor N. E. Riddell, Burlington, Ky.
Business Manager N. E. Riddell, Burlington, Ky.
Publisher N. E. Riddell, Burlington, Ky.
Owners: N. E. Riddell, Burlington, Ky.
Known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders, holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities—There are none.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 28th day of Oct. 1922.
G. S. KELLY, Notary Public, in and for Boone County, Kentucky. My commission expires Jan'y 18th, 1926.

The raising of martens in captivity is now commercially possible as a result of the discovery of their breeding season by naturalists of the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture. These valuable fur bearers mate late in July and in August, and appear to have a gestation period of 8 months, much longer than most animals of the same breeding season was in the fall or winter, the young being born in the spring.

NO ONE APPRECIATES

The real comfort of a snug, warm SUIT or OVERCOAT as the man who does not own one. You owe it to yourself to dress warm and comfortable. As usual the Wachs' Store is well prepared to care for every requirement in Mens', Young Mens' and Boys'.

Suits and Overcoats.

If Quality, Style and Workmanship and Price interest you, we know we can please you. A large line of Corduroy and Duck Garments on hand.

Selmar Wachs

605 Madison Avenue,

Covington, Kentucky

Dodge Brothers

ANNOUNCE

A BUSINESS COUPE

Conservative changes in the body design of all other types.

Roadster....$ 920

..... 1,063

Touring Car. 955

Sedan..... 1,550

Dempsey Motor Car Company

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY

Phone Erlanger, 70-L

FOR SALE

Farms Near Rising Sun, Ind

- No. 1. 54 acre Stock Farm on pike 3 miles from town.
- No. 2. 100 acre Stock Farm, on pike 1.4 mile from town.
- No. 3. 90 acre Bottom Farm, on pike 2 1/2 miles from town.
- No. 4. 200 acre Bottom and hill, on pike 3 miles from town.

ALL FARMS WELL IMPROVED.

No. 4. Is on State Highway—100 hill, 100 bottom land, 9-room dwelling with bath, electric lights and furnace, and has 3 barns and tenant house and 2 good orchards. Also other farms.

W. M. GREEN, Agent, Rising Sun, Indiana.

ARE YOU A READER OF THE RECORDER?

If Not Try It One year.

Only $1.50 the Year

"Hold-Up!"

Says Federal Judge, Granting Injunction Against Federal Reserve Bank.

Dramatic Measure Alleged By Catlettsburg Institution To Force It To Join System.

In a decision handed down in the United States District Court at Covington, Ky., Judge A. J. Cochran granted a temporary injunction against the Federal Reserve Bank at Catlettsburg, Ohio, which had been sought by the Farmers and Mechanics' Bank of Catlettsburg, Ky., to prevent the Reserve Bank or its agents from interfering with the complainant bank in charging exchange on drafts, or otherwise interfering with the bank or its officers in conducting their business. Methods alleged to have been employed by men purporting to be agents of the Federal Reserve Bank were severely criticized by Judge Cochran, who likened the alleged attempts of the agents to force the Catlettsburg bank to join the Reserve Bank to the methods employed by the "night riders" of Kentucky in forcing farmers to join the tobacco pool.

Judge Cochran holds that the complainant bank has a right to conduct its business in conformity with the Federal reserve system if it desires, and declared some of the methods of the alleged agents in gathering up many drafts from farmers and business men in the vicinity of Catlettsburg, and then presenting them for payment at the same time for the alleged purpose of harassing the bank, cause it to carry a large cash reserve and to injure its credit to be unjustified.

Says It Was "Holdup."

"Such a course of procedure," said Judge Cochran, "is a kind of a refined highwayman. It was a hold-up," added the jurist. "It is one of the inalienable rights of a person to be unprogressive, selfish and mean," the opinion recited. "This," Judge Cochran added, "is said without intending to so characterize the plaintiff's position. No other person," he added, "has the right to coerce him into being otherwise."

"The idea that there is such a right as at the bottom of the night rider troubles in Kentucky," the opinion recited, "and those in the pool thought those out of it were selfish and mean, and undertook to coerce them into joining the pool by shooting into their homes."

DISCOLORATION OF THE SKIN.

The color of the skin varies greatly, not only in the different races of mankind but in the individuals of the same race and from time to time in the same person. The color of the skin is such a characteristic racial feature that men are divided into the white, the black, the yellow and the red races; and in the West Indies it is usual to speak of a brown race.

What causes the difference in color is the presence of pigment in the deeper part of the epidermis, so the difference really is only skin-deep, and if there were no other distinguishing racial characteristics the color of the skin would be of little moment. Long exposure to the weather, sun or wind, turns the uncovered parts of the skin of the white race dark, as we see in the coat of tan that city dwellers proudly bring back with them from their summer outings. But it is not weather or climate that causes racial difference in color, for in America, in Africa and in Eastern Asia we find red men, black men and yellow men all living under identical climatic conditions. Moreover, the black races do not grow lighter when removed to northern climes; nor do whites become permanently darkened from the tropics.

A change in the color of the skin is often an important indication of disease. A yellow discoloration, jaundice—points to disease of the liver or to some form of blood poisoning. A blue discoloration—cyanosis—indicates imperfect aeration of the blood in consequence of a weakened heart, clogging of many of the air cells in the lungs, as in pneumonia, and so forth. A "blue baby" is born with an opening between the two sides of the heart, so that much of the venous blood, instead of being sent to the lungs to be aerated, is returned with all its impurities and lack of oxygen into the arteries. In Addison's disease the skin and the mucous membranes are permanently stained brown. Prolonged use of nitrate of silver as a medicine occasionally colors the skin bluish gray.

In the skin disease known as vitiligo the skin is decolorized; chalky areas of various sizes appear chiefly on the face, the neck and the backs of the hands. The affection is more common in the black races. The affection is more common in the black races. The evenness and partial discolorations of the skin that usually are called eruptions are also distinctive symptoms of acute disease, a study of which often aids the physician in his diagnosis of a fever.

Mr. Gompers says that Mr. Daugherty is "an irresponsible agitator." Well, at any rate, he is responsible for having agitated Mr. Gompers. Owls cast up in pellets indigestible parts of food swallowed.

This and That

For still another reason winter will be welcome. We are not so apt to become overheated during our arguments.

Few men are more important than others think them. The fellow who resorts to excuses when in love seldom does even that much after marriage.

During courtship a woman sees the best side of a man. After marriage she wonders how it escaped.

A head crammed with wisdom is of no value unless it has an outlet.

The person who pays as he goes never arrives too soon.

Excuses will take you a long way, and also by the wrong route.

Calling a spade a spade may be commendable, but using it accomplishes more definite results.

Worry never produces anything but more worry.

Second thoughts are best only when they are an improvement over the first.

A fresh shave keeps many a man from looking his true part.

A good way to resist temptation is to refuse to be tempted.

It isn't to be wondered at that an expert tax-drawer has to die. St. Peter collects in full at the estate.

If you can't move forward in life, stand still. There at least will be a few who will not pass you.

People who have axes to grind have no use for the man who has no grindstone.

Bobbe chair will grow out in time, but what is to become of the short skirts?

We know a fellow who refers to his wife as his "better half" when the neighbors know quite well that she is the whole thing.

TAKING ADVANTAGE OF A GOOD OPPORTUNITY.

The Elizabethtown News credits the following to an anonymous exchange:

I desire to thank my friends and neighbors most heartily for their united aid and enthusiastic co-operation during the last illness of my late husband, who escaped from me by the hand of death on Friday last while eating breakfast. To those friends who contributed so cheerfully and willingly toward making the last moments and funeral of my husband a success, I desire to remember most kindly, hoping these few lines will find them enjoying the same good blessing. I have a good milk cow and a roan gelding horse five years old, which I will sell cheap; also a quantity of real good gent's clothing, both upper and under. God moves in a mysterious way. His wonders to perform; He plants His foot steps on the sea, and rides upon the storm. Also a black and white goat very cheap.

UNCLE SAM, BOOTLEGGER, TO RETIRE

The biggest bootlegger in the world is about to go out of business after having made war on all the other bootleggers who were interfering with his monopoly.

The Harding administration, after having sold liquor on board American ships, owned by the Government itself, during the last eighteen months, has been forced to pay some heed to the criticisms leveled at it by those who oppose as well as those who favor prohibition.

The opinion of the Attorney General comes as no surprise in the truth of the charges that were made against Chairman Lasker and other members of the Shipping Board and which they continued for months to deny, namely, that the only place in which the Constitution and laws of the United States were not respected and obeyed was on board the Government's own vessels and under its own flag. All the while these denials were being reiterated and reiterated, the Shipping Board was advertising its bootlegging activities abroad and the Federal Prohibition officers were pursuing and prosecuting bootlegging at home.

This practice of law-breaking, misrepresentation and hypocrisy of one branch of the Republican administration has been at last made the subject of open avowal by another branch of the administration.

EXPERIMENTS SHED NEW LIGHT ON CAUSES OF ROTS OF CORN

The severity of the rot, stalk, and ear rots of corn, diseases found to be more or less widely distributed throughout the corn belt, can be greatly reduced by properly balancing the fertilizing elements in the soil and by planting selected strains of corn. These conclusions are the result of investigations carried out by the United States Department of Agriculture, in cooperation with a number of State experiment stations in the Middle West.

In the past it was not thought that the corn plant was particularly sensitive to the balance of the various elements in the soil, but now the damage caused by these rots is believed to depend largely upon these conditions and upon climatic factors. Also the nature of the plant itself—what plant breeders call the genetic composition—has much to do with its susceptibility or resistance to these rots. In the experimental fields self-fertilized strains of corn of many different varieties are shown.

ing peculiarities formerly regarded as symptoms of rot, stalk and ear rots, and many strains are being isolated which, even though self-fertilized for many generations, show resistance to the organisms associated with the rots.

Reducing the losses from these rots is a complex problem, requiring much more investigation. At present the department can go farther than to say that primarily it involves a careful consideration of environment, soil fertility, and the nature of the particular strain of corn.

GOOD SEED CORN PLENTIFUL PROPER STORAGE IMPORTANT

Lexington, Ky.—Weather conditions in Kentucky this summer and early this fall have been such that farmers of the state should have no trouble in gathering plenty of first-class seed corn, according to E. N. Fergus, a member of the soils and crops department of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. The biggest seed corn problem right now is to get the grain dried out and stored in a good place before freezing weather comes. Much valuable time that would be lost in making extra germination tests in the spring can be saved by taking a little time now to make sure that seed corn is properly stored.

The important point in storing seed corn is to place the ears where air can circulate around each one of them and at the same time to make them safe from rats and mice. On the average farm, about the only way to protect stored seed corn from these pests is to hang it in the top of cribs, sheds, attics or dry basements. The ears can be strung on binder twine or hangers can be made of wire fence. If desirable wire hangers can be bought at reasonable prices.

There are various ways of storing seed to provide ideal drying conditions such as shelves, drying racks and posts studded with nails upon which the ears are stuck. The chief requirement is to have plenty of space between the ears so that they can be done drying before freezing weather. There is not much danger of injuring the germination of the seed by storing it in a room that is kept at a temperature of 70 degrees throughout the winter, although high temperature that would dry the corn out excessively are to be avoided.

Democrats Blocked Foreign Debt Cancellation.

Republican organs, speaking apparently from Presidential inspiration, are giving almost daily assurances that the Harding administration can't shunt and won't cancel the foreign debts.

These reassurances are superfluous in view of the laws passed by Congress on the subject of the debts, their term and the rate of interest to be paid by the debtors. But they provoke questions. Why all the vociferations from the White House? Who has been pressing the administration to cancel the debts? What leads the advocates of cancellation to suppose that this policy would meet with approval in official quarters?

One thing remains perfectly fresh in the public mind. That is that the administration fought fiercely for a law that would have permitted the President and the Secretary of the Treasury to work their own will and way in the matter and manner of collecting, deferring, reducing, refunding and forgiving these billions of debts. Only the insistence of Democrats explains the present law, which limits the maturity of the loans and fixes a minimum rate of interest on them.

Is it the recollection of the administration's former attitude that has led some one to believe that its official representatives would cancel the debts if they could?

Louisville, Ky.—If deaths in Kentucky are as numerous during the second six months of the calendar year 1922 as they were during the months from January through June, the State's death rate will be materially higher than it was in 1921, J. F. Blackerby, director of the State Department of Health's Bureau of Vital Statistics, announced here.

The death rate for the first six months of this calendar year was 11.2 which is an increase of 10 percent from the 10.1 rate for 1921. This rate of increase probably will be maintained throughout the entire year, Mr. Blackerby said.

Deaths from influenza, he added, contributed most to the general increase, there being 892 deaths from this cause, as against 177 for same period in 1921 and 263 for that entire year.

"The increase in the influenza death rate," Mr. Blackerby added, "is generally attributed to the fact that the period of immunization of those vaccinated during the epidemics of 1918 and 1919 has expired. With the subsidence of the general alarm prevalent at that time, general use of the serum was more or less abandoned and the early symptoms of those affected were not considered serious enough to cause calling a physician. The call (our figures show) was for the undertaker instead in a pathetically large number of cases."

Bill Hohensollern's new bride will bear the title of "Queen of Prussia," which is entirely accurate except for the fact that she won't be a queen and there isn't any more Prussia.

FOR OVER 40 YEARS

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE has been used successfully in the treatment of Catarrh.

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE consists of an Ointment which Quickly Relieves the local application, and the Internal Medicine, a Tonic, which acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces, thus reducing the inflammation. Sold by all druggists.

J. C. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

Commissioner's Sale.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky. Florence Deposit Bank, Plaintiff

John C. Elder, etc., Defendant By virtue of a Judgment and order of Sale of the Boone Circuit Court, rendered at the August Term thereof 1922, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court House door in Burlington, Boone County, Ky., to the highest bidder at Public Sale on Monday the 6th day of November 1922, at 10 o'clock p. m., or thereabout, being County Court day, upon a credit of Six and Twelve months, the following property to-wit:

The said land is in Boone County, Ky., and bounded as follows:—Beginning at a stone in a line of Jacob Youell corner with Wayne Rusk, thence with a line of Rusk s87 1/2° 10.50 chains, to a locust post, thence s21 1/4° 5.46 chains to a stone, thence n82° 10.83 chains to a locust post, corner with John Powers and Rusk thence with Powers line s14° 9.24 chains to a post corner with Powers and Daniel Dobbins, thence with Dobbins line s14° 11.19 chains to a stone corner with Dobbins and Jas. Rogers, thence with Rogers line and so a line of Youell n85° 24.23 chains to a stone, a corner of Youell, thence with Youell's line n24° 22.43 chains to the beginning containing 45.44 acres more or less. Also the following real estate to-wit: Beginning at a corner of Benjamin Stephens, thence along an outlet on the western side n24° 1300 feet in a line with a drawn post to the center of the road, thence s87 1/2° 20 feet, thence s with a parallel line 1300 feet to Benjamin Stephens, thence to the beginning, 20 feet, being same property conveyed to defendants by deed dated January 19th, 1920, and recorded in deed book 61 page 514.

Or sufficient thereof to produce the sums of money so ordered to be made. For the purchase price the purchaser, with approved security or securities, must execute bond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a Judgment, with a lien retained therein until all the purchase money is paid. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Amount to be raised by sale $2,905.82.

R. E. Berkshire M. C. B. C. C.

Public Sale.

I will sell at public auction at my farm 3 1/2 miles west of Union, Boone county, Ky., on

Saturday, Nov. 4, 1922

The following property:

Two good milch cows, good rubber tired buggy, new set buggy harness, work harness, set new check lines, wheat-fan, corn-sheller, hill-side plow, Dorn plow, molasses pan, cross-cut saw, some household and kitchen furniture and many other articles not mentioned.

Terms—All sums of $5.00 and under, cash; on sums over and amount a credit of 6 months will be given purchaser to give note with good security, payable at Union Deposit Bank, Union, Ky.

OWEN McMULLEN, Lute Bradford, Auctioneer. Sale to begin at 12 o'clock.

NOTICE

On and after this date I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by anyone other than myself.

D. H. CRILLER.

Tutt's Pills

Induce regular habit, good digestion. Relieve the dyspeptic and debilitated and tone up the system.

AGAINST MALARIA*THE BENEFITS OF FOOTBALL

While some anxious parents have dreaded to see their boys go in for football, the sentiment among educators is that the game has useful results for young men. The principal of a noted boy's school said the other day there would be a great loss if the game was given up. His sentiments would generally be echoed by others in similar positions.

They learn self control, gentlemanly behavior in times of strain, sportsmanlike conduct, quickness of thought, and physical courage. This principal has felt that the gains from football are so great that he makes it his practice to get out on the field personally and supervise the play to make sure his boys are well trained. The gains of life are not attained without taking some chances.

Some people are quite justified in thinking there is no such thing as a secret. They spill everything they know.

The Best Advertisement

IS A PLEASED CUSTOMER

Spectacles and Eyeglasses that Fit the face and Fit the sight the kind we sell.

Phone South 1746

WITH NOTCH, Jeweler.

DR. N. F. PENN, 613 Madison Ave. - Covington, Ky

Efficient, Service and Economy

IS MY SLOGAN

C. SCOTT CHAMBERS
Embalmer and Funeral Director

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

Printed Stationery

AT THIS OFFICE

ENVELOPES, LETTERHEADS, NOTEHEADS, STATEMENTS

for business people.

for professional people.

for farmers.

for every one who wants

to be considered up to date and going strong

WHEN DEVOTION DOES ITS BEST

and medical skill fails to stay disease and death, you turn for aid to the funeral director to take from you all care and responsibility for fitting and final ministrations to the one taken from your home.

It will not be enough for you to think of him as a good neighbor, or even a valued friend, as much as that would mean to you at such a time. But you would know of his fitness for the delicate duties you entrust to him; for his skill in embalming and restoring the facial appearance of life; for his tenderness in caring for the loved one.

It is with just such service as this, that by careful study, instruction and practice, we are prepared to respond promptly to any call made upon us by the bereaved.

PHILIP TALIAFERRO,
Undertaker and Embalmer
Erlanger, Ky.

A BARGAIN!

Cincinnati Daily Enquirer

—AND—

The Boone County Recorder

YOU CAN GET

both for $4.50 the YEAR

Send Your Subscriptions to the

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER

Burlington, Ky.

12 Farms at Auction!

The Famous Farm of Mose Wall, located near Auburn, Franklin and Russellville, Ky., divided, to be absolutely sold to the highest bidders.

Wednesday, November 8th, '22

Lot of fine horses and personal property. Write for "Booklet" gives all information about this big sale. Do it now. Grand opportunity for Farm Seekers.

SMITH & McCLANAHAN,
Springfield, Tennessee.

HEBRON THEATRE--Next Saturday

William S. Hart in his latest play,

"WHITE OAK"

Max Sennet--"Officer Cupid"

Admission 22 Cents, Children 10 Cents

Wax Tax Included

All obituaries, card of thanks and all other matter, not news, must be paid for at 5 cents per line.

Bullittsburg Baptist Church.
J. W. CAMPBELL, Pastor.
Sunday School every Sunday at 10:00 a. m.
Regular preaching services on the First and Third Sundays in each month at 11:00 a. m.

Boone Co. Lutheran Pastorate
REV. GEO. A. ROYER, Pastor.
Sunday Nov. 12th
Hopeful 9:30 a. m., Sunday School
Hopeful 10:30 a. m., Regular Service.
Hopeful 7:30 p. m., Luther League.
Hebron 9:30 a. m., Sunday School.
Ebenezer 2:30 p. m., Regular Service.

Boone Co. Christian Pastorate
REV. C. C. OMER, Pastor.
Sunday Nov. 12th.
Bullittsville—
Bible School 10:00 a. m.
Preaching 11:00 a. m., and 7:15 p. m.
Pt. Pleasant—
Bible School 10:00 a. m.

Edgar C. Riley, of Lexington, attended court Monday.

Frank Scott, of Rabbit Hash, was a visitor to Burlington, Monday.

M. G. Martin and wife, of Florence, spent Sunday in Burlington.

Attorney D. E. Castleman, of Erlanger, attended court last Monday.

There were hardly enough people at court Monday to get up an argument.

A. W. Corn, Courtney Walton and R. C. Gaines, were in Burlington, Monday.

James A. Huey, of Union, was among those in attendance at court, Monday.

Tim Sandford is serving on the United States Jury in Covington, this week.

Elbert Scott, of Rabbit Hash, was transacting business in Burlington last Saturday.

John Maurer and wife, of Bellevue, were guests of Thos. Rice and wife, Sunday.

You should attend the Armistice Day exercises to be held at Florence Saturday Nov. 11th.

Dr. Gordon McKim and family, of Cincinnati, were guests of S. W. Tolin and family, last Sunday.

Due to the protracted dry spell stock water is becoming very scarce in many parts of the county.

James Smith, wife and son, Julius, of Bellevue, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Josie Maurer and family.

Boone Post No. 4, requests you to be present at their exercises to be held at Florence next Saturday.

Owen Ross and wife, of Hopeful neighborhood, were Monday guests of W. L. Kirkpatrick and family.

P. G. Cropper, of Louisville, spent Sunday with his mother and brother, Mrs. Fannie Cropper and W. D. Cropper.

Judge J. M. Lassing and wife and Mrs. R. A. Brady, left Wednesday morning for their winter home at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Albert Pettit and family, L. W. Culley and family and Newton York, spent Sunday with William Horton and family, on Gunpowder.

R. E. Berkshire and family, Mrs. Sarah Carpenter and Mrs. John M. Botts, spent Sunday at Petersburg, and attended the baptizing.

Misses Etta Beemon and Nellie Robbins, of Hopeful neighborhood, were guests of Mrs. W. L. Kirkpatrick and family, last Friday.

Mrs. D. R. Kittle, of the Petersburg neighborhood, was a visitor to Burlington, last Saturday. She made the Recorder office a pleasant call.

George Loze, one of our good friends, and his father, of Constance, were business visitors to Burlington, Monday. They made our office a pleasant call.

Moses Scott, of Rabbit Hash, was a business visitor to Burlington last Monday. Mr. Scott is one of the few remaining Confederate veterans in the county.

J. W. Grant, of Bullittsville, was a business visitor to Burlington Saturday, and reported that his sale of merchandise at wholesale prices was attracting a number of buyers.

B. W. Campbell and family, of Cincinnati, were in Burlington for a short while last Sunday. They spent the day at the Harvest Home grounds bringing their lunch with them.

On account of the repair work going on at the Baptist church, services were held at the Universalist church last Sunday morning and evening by the Baptist congregation.

A number of Boone county tobacco growers signed with the Burley Tobacco Co-operative Association the past few days, making the county close to 100 per cent in the association.

J. M. Wilson, one of the hustling young farmers of Union precinct, was transacting business in Burlington, last Saturday morning. He called at this office and had his farm posted against hunters.

BIG TAX HELD DUE IN BINGHAM CASE

HIGH COURT RULES $1,901,142
MORE MUST BE PAID FROM FLAGLER ESTATE.

SCHOOLS GET HUGE SUM

Frankfort, Ky.—Kentucky's State revenues will be increased $1,901,142.01 by the decision in the Bingham inheritance tax cases in which the Court of Appeals affirmed the judgment of the Jefferson Circuit Court, fixing the amount subject to the tax at $63,306,573.68, but reversing the judgment as to the interest due on it. The lower court directed that interest at six per cent be collected by the State on the amount due from the estate of the judgment in the County Court. The Court of Appeals in an opinion by Judge Clarke held that the interest became due eighteen months after Mrs. Lily Flagler Bingham's death, which occurred July 27, 1917.

The value of the estate established by the judgment is $35,987,205.99 less than the Commonwealth contended for, and $24,629,811.64 more than the administrator admitted. The total inheritance tax on the estate will be $2,330,919.14, of which $1,029,776.19 has been paid, leaving a balance now of $1,901,142.91 due, exclusive of interest for over four years.

School Fund Gets Big Sum.

The State school fund will be the greatest beneficiary, receiving approximately $855,514.26 of the sum due. The general fund will receive $712,928.55, the road fund $142,585.71, the sinking fund $47,628.57, the University $38,174.99 and each of the two Normal Schools $20,705.34, on the apportionment under the tax levy law. If the estimate of the Budget Commission that general revenues this year will exceed expenditures by $1,000,000, the $712,928.55 received into the general fund from the Bingham estate can be added to the million in reducing the State's floating debt.

CHARLES R. SLEET EXPIRES

Heart Stroke Ends Career of Head of Live Stock Firm.

Charles Robert Sleet, 39 years old, President of Greene, Embury and Co., live stock brokers, died of heart disease at his home, 641 East Mitchell Ave., Cincinnati, Sunday.

Mr. Sleet was born in Boone county, Ky. He went to Cincinnati in 1902 and a few months later became affiliated with the company. In 1914 he succeeded the late Talton Embury as President of the firm.

He was a Shriner and member of the Business Men's Club and of the Western Hills Golf Club. Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Genie Dickerson Sleet; his father, Geo. W. Sleet and his brother, John Sleet, of Walton.

Funeral services were conducted Monday at the residence at 2 o'clock. Burial in Highland cemetery.

OVER HIS HEAD

A Baptist minister who practised immersion was asked to tell what was his most awkward experience.

He said: "One Sunday afternoon I was to have an immersion in the river on the outskirts of town. A great crowd had assembled. There were two candidates for baptism. One was an extraordinarily tall woman, coming almost up to my own 6 foot 3 in. height. The other was a little runt of a man hardly five feet tall. When it came time for the ceremony I took the towering lady by the arm, intending to immerse her first and told the little man to follow us. The lady and I had gone into the water until I was about up to our waists when I heard tittering among the spectators. Looking back to discover the cause of this untimely levity, I beheld the little candidate for baptism coming along—swimming!"—Judge.

Very small crowd in attendance at court Monday.

Don't fail to see Dorothy Dalton in "Behind Masks" at Florence Theater, next Saturday night, Nov. 11th. At Burlington Theater, on Friday night, Nov. 10th, "The Love of the Soul" will be thrown on the screen.

Grant Williamson, Chas. Westbay, Howard Kirkpatrick and Omer Porter witnessed the game of ball at Lawrenceburg, Ind., Sunday between the teams of that place and North Bend. The game went ten innings and was called on account of darkness with the score tied 5 to 5.

A French newspaper—says Columbus did not benefit the world when he discovered America. But where else would Europe borrow the money for her wars?

Public Sale

I will sell at public auction on the Murphy farm, 1-4 mile east of Big Bone Springs, to the highest bidder, beginning at 1 o'clock p. m., on

Friday, Nov. 10, '22

The Following Property:

25--Sheep 2 to 3 years old--25

Black horse mule 5-yrs. old well broke, horse colt 2 1-2 yrs old, Jersey cow 4-yrs. old eligible to register, Jersey cow 4-years old, Shorthorn cow 6-yrs. old, Poland China sow will farrow last of Dec., 5 shoats will weigh 50 or 60 lbs. 2-h road wagon, rubber tired buggy newly painted, rockbed, steel tire runabout, McCormick mowing machine, standard disc harrow, Hoosier disc corn-drill, double "A" harrow, shovel, 2 sets work harness, pair check lines, pair blind bridles, Iowa cream separator, 5-gal. cream can, Perfection washing machine, 2 one-man's saw, 2 axes, 50-egg incubator, Goodwill range, Globe's Art range, 6 kitchen chairs, bedstead, and many other small articles.

TERMS OF SALE.

All sums under $10.00, cash; on all sums of $10.00 and over a credit of six months. Purchaser to give note with approved security before removal of property, payable at Union Deposit Bank, Union, Ky. Three per cent. discount discount for cash.

H. L. Pitcher,
Big Bone, Ky.

LUTE BRADFORD, Auct.

HOWE PROPOSES PARDON REFORM

JOHN HOWE PROSECUTING ATTORNEY OF THIS DISTRICT GIVES LOUISVILLE POST INTERVIEW.

John Howe, prosecuting attorney of this district and resident of Carrollton, also Secretary of the Commonwealth's Atty. Association of the state in an interview with the reporter of the Louisville Evening Post suggested a plan to curb the pardoning evil in the state of Kentucky. For some time the Post has been waging a fight on Governor Morrow and his predecessors on their pardon records. Mr. Howe called attention to the fact that when pardons are sought, it is a time long after the conviction of the prisoner when no one takes the personal trouble to present the side of the Commonwealth and society at large; that only the appeal of the accused is presented for consideration and that the pardon board and Governor are confronted with a one sided case. Mr. Howe suggests that when a man or woman is sentenced to serve a term in the state reformatory that a complete copy and record of the trial be filed with the authorities to grant a pardon, so when the matter of a pardon comes up for consideration the Governor will have a complete and correct history of the case and can arrive at a just conclusion. Mr. Howe states that such a plan will serve as a protection to the Governor as well as society. Mr. Howe was former president of the Commonwealth Attorney's Association and the plan he proposes will not doubt meet a favorable reception throughout the state by members of the bar.—Warsaw Independent.

LAND OF TOMORROW

(Elizabethtown News.)

In Judge Charles Kerr's "History of Kentucky," which has just been printed, he says that the word "Kentucky" is, of course, an Indian word, but that instead of meaning "Dark and Bloody Ground," which has been a most unfortunate title for the state, it means "The Land of Tomorrow."

Good for Judge Kerr. If there was nothing more in his history than abolishing "Dark and Bloody Ground" and substituting for it "The Land of Tomorrow," his work would be worth while.

We do not know how dark the ground has been, but we do know that it has been bloody and that it still is bloody from murders and unpunished crime. Perhaps the unfortunate name which has clung to it has been responsible for much of the bloody ground.

The "Land of Tomorrow" is the land of promise. It is a land to be desired. It is a land of hope. All these things are suggested by the new definition for Kentucky.

Kentuckians have always been the children of hope. They are expecting something better tomorrow. No matter what misfortune comes our way it is natural for Kentuckians to throw it off with the thought that it can't last always but will be better tomorrow. The Bible, however, says "Take no thought of tomorrow" but we Kentuckians must take thought of "The Land of Tomorrow."

Now that we have abolished the name of the "Dark and Bloody Ground" we should by all means get rid of the crime wave which has made the record of the state fit its name.

To do this we must have a court that will interpret the laws to protect society and not the criminal class.

We must elect a governor who will not turn murderers upon society to commit other murders. We must limit the parole system to minor offenses.

We must shelve the professional politician and not let these men select the positions they want but have the people select the men they want to serve them.

Remember there can be no "Land of Tomorrow" without the land of today. Let's clean house and get ready for our new name. Let's look up and forward and, as "The Land of Tomorrow" is the Promised Land, be worthy to possess it. Our citizenship should become worthy of this wonderful commonwealth of ours with its beautiful rivers, its blue-green and its mountains. Its richness in variety of production and its inexhaustible supply of coal and other minerals should make it one of the greatest of all the states.

"The Land of Tomorrow" must be our inheritance. It means anticipation, hope and perseverance. The new name of Kentucky suits us. Let us each and every one strive to be worthy of it. Heaven is also the Land of Tomorrow and we would borrow some of the virtues of the heavenly kingdom to make Kentucky a heaven here upon earth.

The basket ball teams from Veon High School came down last Friday and took three games from the teams at the Boone County High School.

The storage bins and the corn cribs should be put in readiness for the season's crops before the rush of harvest comes.

CAR SENS

Spend a Dollar and Save Ten

Little defects grow into big ones in the corrected.
The correction of a small defect stages costs but little.
When left until it grows into serious proportions its correction runs into money.
That is what makes the maintenance of a car so expensive to many people—neglecting the little things until they grow into big ones.
The better—the safer—the more economical way is to see the garage man at the first warning of trouble.
Today is always a good time to have it done.

EDDINS BROTHERS

TIRES, TUBES AND ACCESSORIES.

Burlington, Kentucky.

BRAKE BAND OIL—Guaranteed to stop Ford bands from chattering.

Agents for U. S. and Ajax Tires.

Established 1886.

A Bank Account

IS ONE OF THE FIRST STEPPING STONES TO SUCCESS IN LIFE.

How are You Stepping?

This bank invites young men and women especially to savings accounts. Officials of the bank are pleased at to give the benefit of their experience to customers and who seek advice.

When in doubt come to this bank. Your success means success for us.

Has it ever occurred to you that a checking account is a very convenient thing to have?

Boone Co. Deposit Bank

Burlington, Kentucky.

N. E. RIDDELL, President. W. D. CROPPER, Cashier.

W. A. GAINES, Vice-Pres. G. S. KELLY, Asst. Cashier.

Rising Sun Fancy Patent Flour

That looks good, tastes good and really is good, deliciously good, with that tasty, melting flavor and texture—to win real appreciation.

You get full nutrition and full value when you buy RISING SUN FANCY PATENT FLOUR.

FOR SALE BY

Your Grocer. Insist on It.

COURTESY SERVICE FIRST STABILITY

Making a Selection.

In making a banking connection be sure that you select a bank that is large enough and strong enough to care for your every need in stormy as well as fair weather.

THIS—THE LARGEST BANK IN THE COUNTY—

OFFERS YOU THIS KIND OF A

BANKING CONNECTION.

Capital and Surplus, $150,000.00

4 per cent and the Taxes paid on Deposits.

We do business for our customers.

Peoples Deposit Bank

Burlington, Ky.

W. L. B. ROUSE, President. C. H. YOEILL, Vice-President.

A. B. RENAKER, Cashier.

Nell H. Martin, Asst. Cashier. L. C. Beemon, Asst. Cashier.

UNCLE

Petersburg TheSS COUPE

At Petersburg, Kentucky

Saturday Night, Nov. 11, changes in

"The Love of the design of all

Also Third Episode of "WHITE EAGLE" ... $ 920

At Burlington, Kentucky, ... 1,063

Friday Night, Nov. 10, ... 955

Also Third Episode of "WHITE EAGLE" ... 1,550

"The Love of the So Car Compa

Also Third Episode of "WHITE EAGLE"

CHILDREN 10c. ADULTS

War Tax Included Will Begin promptly

nger, 70-L

"H

Federal Ticket

For Congress
HON. A. B. ROUSE

The Editor Sees It.

MAKE THEM MAKE GOOD

Many parts of the country the people have spoken again and again, and a new crop of officials are coming into office. They keep only a small proportion of their campaign promises; the rest is history as no other officials ever do before.

When promises come easy to a politician, it is part of the game. When they come, quite as often, they are the result of the game. That, at least, is part of the game. Now that these elections are over, and new officials are entering into their careers, the public should be prompt in reminding them of the promises they made. They were professed to make them. They were professed to make them. They were professed to make them.

There is no indication that a man has a reputation of truth in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases. It is in all cases.

NO BADGE OF DISHONOR.

A city paper lays stress upon the fact that a great many of the criminals of this country are of foreign birth.

The editor of that sheet might also have stated with justice, that hundreds of thousands of our best citizens are also of foreign birth.

There are two vital causes which contribute to the present state of lawlessness on the part of certain foreigners now resident in this country.

First, our immigration laws are entirely too lax. Foreigners are admitted without proper investigation as to their characters in their own lands.

Second, upon arrival in this country the foreigner, unable to speak our language, is practically turned loose upon an indifferent public, to become a good citizen or a curse to us—as his inclinations and past training may lead him.

What we need is a system whereby a foreigner can be taken in hand upon arrival and converted into a good citizen.

If we are lax in our methods of treating him when he first comes to us, we should not be surprised if the criminal element of our population gains an ascendancy over him before he has familiarized himself with the benefits to be derived from good citizenship.

The possession of a foreign name is by no means a badge of dishonor, either in this or in any other country.

FACIAL PARALYSIS

In most cases facial paralysis is the result of a disorder of the nerve controlling the muscles of the face; that is, it is a symptom of a neuritis rather than a change in the muscles themselves, though change is not impossible. The face nerve may be affected in various ways, as for example by direct injuries, by tumors, by inflammation, and especially by middle-ear disease or mastoid trouble that has spread. Facial paralysis is a grave complication of middle-ear disease or of mastoiditis.

The great majority of people who seek the physician to find relief for facial paralysis blame a "cold" as the beginning of their trouble, and observation seems to prove that many persons, especially those who are inclined to be rheumatic, have acquired the ailment from sitting close to a "nuous cold draft," as tobacco smoking. There is a kernel of wisdom in "rough a hole, wind blow on you, your soul."

When a person has facial paralysis the muscles on the affected side cannot work. The forehead will wrinkle, the eye cannot close; the corner of the mouth hangs down, and the whole face appears to be drawn to the opposite side. Moreover, the sufferer cannot speak distinctly.

Facial paralysis generally comes suddenly, and the cause and the severity of it determine the course that it will run. Mild cases generally recover in from four to six weeks; and severe cases may last for six months or longer. The cases that are secondary to middle-ear disease are more serious, for when there is destruction of the parts of the ear through which the facial nerve may also be destroyed. In ordinary cases the outlook is favorable.

The treatment depends upon the underlying conditions; in mild, undisturbed cases the treatment will be that of "colds" in general with special treatment to relieve local pain. Electric treatment of the paralyzed muscles should follow. The patient himself can help much with the massage.

RANGE CATTLE ARRIVES

In Ohio From Colorado—Shipment Totals 28 Carloads.

Columbus, Ohio. — Twenty-eight carloads of feeder cattle have arrived in Ohio from the Colorado range. The purchase of the cattle was made by the Ohio Live Stock men's fall by purchasing agents of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, and the State Live Stock Shippers' Association.

The volume of orders has grown to such an extent that an additional man was sent into the West to aid in the purchasing and shipping. Order feeder cattle were in the hands of the purchasing agent, Scott O'Day, and Harry G. Beale, when the latter started on their second buying trip last week.

Reports reaching the offices of the Federation indicate that the purchasers served in the first shipments are pleased with the stock delivered.

HOME-SPUN YARN

(Cornell Extension Division)

In the fall, try planting pansy seed shallow, and sweet peas deep, or next spring's blooming. And no turnips may iris be transplanted in the autumn.

Keeping the cloths, used to oil furniture, in a covered earthenware or fire.

When there's a big apple crop, and at other times—give the children apples instead of cookies, when they're hungry between meals.

Aunt Ada's Axioms: Having husband help with the dishes once in awhile and making his regular job two different things.

Fall Weather Excellent for Maturing of Crops.

Our greatest industry is agriculture, and it is indeed a great relief to come to the verge of the winter months with a well-provisioned national pantry.

This week the Federal Department of Agriculture issued its preliminary estimates of the harvests of 1922. The total acreage in cultivated crops this year was about .3 per cent less than last year, but the aggregate production in 1922 was about 7.2 per cent higher than last year. In 1921 final yields per acre were about 8.3 per cent below the average. Corn was the only important food crop which showed a material decrease as compared with last year. Other cereal crops, and rice, potatoes, apples, and peaches increased from 1.9 to 107.6 per cent over the preceding year. The Department also issued its estimate of the world's production of wheat this year and the stocks carried over from last year. The total for Europe (excluding Russia) is 985,650,000 bushels, against 1,215,084,000 bushels at this time last year. The European shortage, therefore, assures a demand for the surplus of the United States. It is not often that summer wheat as it has this year until the last field of late planted corn has matured, before turning the farmer's crops over to the care of autumn.

Prices of farm products are low, much lower than they ought to be according to farmers, when it comes to the seed, fertilizer, planting, tending, and harvesting are taken into consideration. There is a little upward trend to farm prices and farmers are selling much of their produce, grain and cattle in an effort to get funds with which to pay off their bank obligations.

In the face of many discouragements during the past year, farmers are planting a large acreage of wheat and in addition are feeding many cattle for the eastern markets even though the majority of them are fed range cattle during the operation. In some sections of central Ohio, stock men are special-izing in the production of "baby beef," getting the calves from the dam two years, lost money by the early in the spring.

Kentucky where the principal tobacco crop we get a very favorable report.

The principal item of interest just now is that the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association has just made a sale of about 54 million pounds of tobacco to one of the largest sales in the history of the industry. It is understood that this sale will bring the time to the growers much nearer and strengthen the position of the Association.

The Burley crop of 1922 is expected to be smaller than anticipated for the season because of the drought, and on that account, the coming crop no doubt will bring favorable prices.

The Burley Association now has approximately 70 thousand members as compared to about 55 thousand last year, showing that a large number of additional members have been obtained this year. The sale of the tobacco held by the Association will, no doubt, mean that other growers will be encouraged to become members. The organization drive for a trial of western Kentucky was continued until October 28th, and there does not seem to be any doubt but that more than the required sign-up will be obtained by that date.

KERNELS

In 1918 there was 58,112 divorces in Japan.

There are eleven muscles in the human tongue.

The Pennsylvania was the largest vessel afloat in 1896.

Men of the British navy must enlist for a period of twelve years.

Scott is said to have written "Waverley" in less than six weeks.

Ugo Bassi, a monk, memorized all of Dante's Divina Commedia.

Shakespeare wrote several of his best plays before he was thirty.

The Baltic Sea has an average depth of only forty-three yards.

So voracious is the cod that it will swallow anything it sees in motion.

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

PAHSON SO KEEN T' SWELL DE MEMBERSHIP O' DE CHUCH, BUT HE TUK IN A NIGGUH DIS LAS' PAS' SUNDAY WHUT SHO AIN' SWELL IT NONE -- WEN HE JINED EY'BODY ELSE QUIT!

Copyright, 1921 by Wm. C. Messinger Syndicate

Got a cold? MENTHOLATUM clears it out.

MICE AND RABBITS START DAMAGING WORK ON TREES.

Lexington, Ky.—This is the time of the year when farmers and orchard owners must be on guard to keep their fruit trees from being girdled and ruined by rabbits and mice, according to W. W. Magill, orcharding specialist of the College of Agriculture. These rodents often damage trees before owners know it, and in some cases do more harm than insects. Fruit trees in some parts of the state already have been almost completely ruined by rabbits and mice. Cleaning the trash and rubbish away from the trees and then placing tobacco stems, newspapers or woven wire netting around them is the best way to stop the damage caused by these rodents.

"Cleaning the trash and rubbish away from around trees with a hoe or mattock is a big step in stopping the damage done to trees by mice since these pests make their roadways under this trash. Woven wire netting costs more than corn or tobacco stalks but it is cheaper in the long run since it can be used for seven or eight years while the corn or tobacco stalks must be replaced each year. A piece of woven wire 18 inches high and from 18 to twenty-four inches long, when bent around the tree and fastened at the ends, will stand out far enough to shield the tree and give enough room for the tree to make several years' growth. The mesh of the netting should not be larger than one inch. Trees can be saved by the use of the wire netting for a cost of about four cents each. In case a deep snow falls, trees may be shielded by lifting a cylinder of wire and packing the cylinder at the base of the tree. This will save the tree from the mice their work under the crust of bits which work on top.

BARGAIN EYE

spend money of seeing his much of a his dol-prospect upon

A mere hant down merely for the purpose name in print. He is a business man to part with of securing a legitimate gain.

He doesn't advertise goods that he can not recommend, because he knows that such an imposition upon the public in a country town would soon put him out of business.

He doesn't gouge his customers because he knows they would soon go elsewhere and buy for less than he would.

It is reasonable to suppose, therefore, that when he does advertise an article that article is worth having and the price is within reason.

When you buy from a local merchant that merchant's reputation for square dealing is behind the goods you buy.

Keep these common sense facts in mind, and use your bargain eye upon the advertising pages of this paper and the merchants who tempt them.

That Ohio man who was sent to prison for marrying 40 times in 32 years should have been given a hero medal instead of a jail sentence.

LUDEX'S
MENTHOL COUGH DROPS
For nose and throat
Give Quick Relief

Mr. Farmer

BUY WHERE YOUR DOLLAR GOES THE FARTHEREST

If you intend to lay in a supply of Groceries for the winter.

If you want value for every penny expended.

If you want Quality Goods that are guaranteed to give satisfaction.

If you want Price, Quality and Service—

REMEMBER

That HILL sells to the farmer at WHOLESALE PRICES. Send us your order or better still, drop in and see us.

Big Sandy Sorghum Molasses

Clear in color and heavy in body. 5 Gallon Cans.....$5.00

RARUS FLOUR

The fully guaranteed finest Patent Soft Winter Wheat Flour. Ask your neighbors.

Northern Kentucky's } LEADING GROCERS AND SEEDSMEN.

GEO. W. HILL & CO.
27-29 PINE ST.—20 W 7th ST. COV. KY.
Wholesale—Retail

VULCANIZING.

Complete line of Goodyear, Goodrich and Kelly-Springfield Tires and Tubes, good Grade of Automobile and Tractor Oils and Greases.

Auto Accessories kept in stock.

GEORGE PORTER,
BURLINGTON, KY.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN, DENTIST

In my new office
Clayton Place, Florence, Ky.
Teeth extracted painless. Bridge and Plate Work a Specialty.
All Work Guaranteed

JAMES L. ADAMS, DENTIST

Cohen Building
Pike Street, Covington, Ky.

F. W. Kassebaum & Son

GRANITE & MARBLE MONUMENTS
A Large Stock on Display to Select From.
Pneumatic Tool Equipment
118 Main Street, AURORA, IND.
Lingglass Replaced, Cushions and Backs Rebuilt
Buggy and Wagon Upholstering OF QUALITY

RUFUS W. TANNER

Auto Top Repairing
Seats covers for all makes of cars.
Dixie Highway Erlanger, Ky.
Phone Erl. 79-Y.

People who use the classified ads in this paper profit by them. The little ads bring quick results. What have you for sale or want to buy. The cost is too small to consider.

RECHARGE ANY BATTERY 75c

RENTED BATTERIES FOR ANY MAKE CAR WHILE WE ARE RECHARGING OR REPAIRING YOUR BATTERY.
Donipsey Motor Car Co.
Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

C. H. Farms for Sale

At Bargain Prices.
Burlington, Ky.
Phone Burlington 65

Take Your Country

BOONE CO. RECORDER

Published every Thursday
N. E. RIDDELL, Publisher.

Foreign Advertising Representative
THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION
Entered at the Postoffice, Burlington, Ky., as second-class mail.

The Recorder Stands For
BETTER FARMING, BETTER CITIZENS, BETTER HOMES"

ADVERTISING RATES.

Furnished on application. The value of the RECORDER as an advertising medium is unquestioned. The character of the advertisements now in its columns, and the number of them, tell the whole story.

Thanksgiving comes on Thursday, November 30th, the last day of the month.

The women are no doubt improving political life, but pumpkin pie is not what it used to be.

On the railroads they use block signals, but what they need on the automobile roads is blockhead signals.

The smart Alecks who make fun of the country folks, would usually be glad to trade bank balances with them.

The people who are always knocking often wonder why they never get elected to positions of influence in the community.

The political platforms claim to stand for sound principles but many people think they contain more sound than substance.

The financiers warn us against the economic crisis, but in most families they are used to having 'em just before each pay day.

If the parents raise questions about any movie picture the children will tell father and mother whether they can safely see it.

Some folks in the coal famine regions could stand suffering from cold, but the thought of exercising a bucksaw is unsupportable.

That college established in California for teaching baseball playing will probably take up Latin and Greek as an athletic course.

That army aviator who flew at the rate of 248 miles per hour was traveling just a trifle slower than the Greeks evacuating Asia Minor.

Some people are anxiously asking what this world is coming to, but if you asked them they could not probably tell what it is going from.

Now that "interpretive dancing" is being taught, the girls will learn how to express their feelings when the boys tread on their party shoes.

The officials who look at their job as feeding at the public crib, are apt to be sent out to the old rock pasture to provide for themselves.

Some householders of Boone county are solving the raking up leaves problem by waiting until the wind blows them off to their neighbors'.

Among those who are suffering from that "gone feeling" that the medicine men tell about, is the householder about two days after pay day.

Mr. McAdoo says that if he were to deny being a candidate for President nobody would believe it. He probably wouldn't believe it himself.

The people who kick against the school appropriations are often the same ones that complain because the schools do not fit children properly for country life.

The country man used to be caricatured as wearing bushy whiskers, but the sale of safety razors in the country per capita probably exceeds that in the cities.

After telling the world how badly they long for peace, the Germans proceed to depreciate their money so that they won't be able to pay for the damage they did.

The men who no longer take off their hats when women are present in an elevator, should now crowd into the elevator first and let the women take the next trip up.

The harmful effect of taking the promise to obey out of the marriage service is already seen in the case of many wives in Boone county who refuse to vote as their husbands tell them to.

C. T. Clauch, of Erlanger, has sold the following property:

From J. T. Cramer, Lexington, Ky., to J. O. Richards, a 31-acre farm, two miles south of Florence, for $1,850.00.

From Chas. B. Yelton, Erlanger, to J. J. Wilber, Latonia, a business, and three lots, on May for $4,500.00.

H. H. Taylor, Erlanger, to J. H. Covington, a 3-acre lot, on May street, Erlanger, for $1,400.00.

STATE NEWS.

CHILD WEIGHING POUND AND HALF LIVES 4 DAYS

Middlesboro.—The one-and-a-half pound baby boy born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis, Binghamton, died after living for four days. Seven years ago a daughter weighing two and one-half pounds was born to them and she is now a vigorous young school girl.

THIRD KILLING TO TAKE PLACE IN SAME FAMILY

Hazard.—Jack Jones, 30, charged with having killed John White, 21, on Lost creek, was allowed bail of $10,000. The tragedy was the third to take place in the same house within two years, the others killed being Thornton Russell and Reuben Wootton.

HOG FRIGHTENS HORSE; RIB PIERCES GIRL'S LUNG.

Augusta.—A horse driven by Miss Nellie McClanahan took fright at a hog on the side of the road, bolted and upset the buggy. She sustained a broken rib, which was forced thru or left lungs, and other severe injuries.

RAINS THREE WEEKS ON LITTLE SPOT, ALLEGED

Morgantown.—For three weeks with a clear blue sky overhead there has been incessant rainfall on a tract of ground six feet square, it is alleged. Hundreds of persons have journeyed to the place. The "wet spot" is on the farm of B. B. Sucklett, it is alleged.

MAT DOG BITES THREE CHILDREN IN A FAMILY.

Ashland.—A mad dog attacked and bit the three children of Mrs. Charles King, whose ages range from 1 to 11 years. Analysis of the animal's brain showed rabies and anti-rabic serum will be administered to the children.

POT OF OLD GOLD COINS WORTH $48,000 IS DUG UP IN PULASKI

While digging a pit for a sawmill near Mt. Victory, Pulaski county, it has just become known. Dave Jones drove his pick into a pot containing the equivalent of $48,000 in English gold of ancient coinage. The pot has been in the custody of the State Banking Commissioner at Frankfort for further investigation and proof of original ownership. The money is to be kept twelve months, during which time claims may be filed for ownership, but if these are not properly proved Jones gets the money.

Jones sat down and tried to count the money when he found it and estimated it at $18,000, but the Frankfort authorities weighed it to ascertain its value. The bore bore the initials 'J. B.'

In pioneer Kentucky days this section was the scene of the operations of a band of robbers who killed a number of settlers. It is supposed that either some settler buried the money to hide it from them, or that it was hidden there by the robbers.

Curiosities 125 Years Old. (Greenville Leader.)

In tearing down an old building, on what is known as the old Abe Barker home lot on Upper Street, is Augusta, built more than 125 years ago, workmen found a number of curiosities. One was a hat, made from heavy side leather, on the Fedora style and in two parts, fastened together with copper hooks and adjustable to any size head. In the front of the hat were two brass holders, used probably to carry a helmet. The generally accepted theory is that this was a war hat, used in fighting Indians.

Another relic was a wooden lock, made from mahogany, trimmed with metal, and used on an inside door. The lock works perfectly and is in a perfect state of preservation.

A wooden sausage stuffer, mounted on a bench, was also found. The sausage was forced through a six-inch box by the aid of a wooden lever, thence through a small hole into the casings. J. D. McKibben now occupies the old Barker home.

Lawrenceburg, Ind.

Mr. Henry Myers purchased the George Wood farm Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Records had for their guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Lee West, Mr. John West and Mrs. Oliver Dean and little daughter, all of Kentucky, Mr. R. E. Justice, of Chicago, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Lee Records and son, Carl, of Brookville, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Burce and two grandchildren Bernard and Clyde, of Lawrenceburg, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Ashcraft and son, Earl, of Aurora, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Records and three children, Nellie, William and little John Kenneth, all of Lawrenceburg, Mrs. Laura Acre, of Auburn, Ind., and Mrs. Gust Welch and little son Paul, of Ludlo Hill, Ind.

We are sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. James Smith, of Union, and extend our sympathy to the husband and children.

FOR OVER 40 YEARS

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE has been used successfully in the treatment of Catarrh. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE consists of an Ointment which Quickly Relieves by local application, and the Internal Medicine, a Tonic, which acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces, thus reducing the inflammation. Sold by all druggists. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

THE LONG CHRISTMAS GIFT

There are many good gifts that one can choose at Christmas, but for lingering satisfaction, long-drawn out, what is there, after all, that can be named in the same breath with The Youth's Companion? The fun is only begun with the first Christmas number. Thereafter, through the 52 weeks of the long, long years, it is constantly supplying fresh sources of amusement and information. Now is the beginning of a new serial, then it is a contribution of vital interest to the youth interested in sport or science, next it is a brand new story by C. A. Stephens or A. S. Pier, or a tale of wild adventure in the old Indian days, by men who have actually lived among and powdered with the Redskins. But why say more? No other Christmas gift is welcomed with so much pleasure. Try it and see.

The 52 issues of 1923 will be crowded with serial stories, short stories, editorials, poetry, facts and fun. Subscribers now and receive 1. The Youth's Companion—52 issues in 1923.

2. All the remaining issues of 1922.

3. The Companion Home Calendar for 1923. All for $2.50.

4. Or include McCall's Magazine, the monthly authority on fashions. Both publications, only $3.00.

THE YOUTH'S COMPANION, Commonwealth Ave. & St. Paul St., Boston, Mass.

KENTUCKY NOW FOURTH IN PUREBRED CAMPAIGN

Lexington, Ky.—In three months during the summer just past, Kentucky went from fifth to fourth place among all states in the number of farmers who have enrolled in the nation-wide "Better Sires-Better Stock" campaign by agreeing to use nothing but purebred Sires in all their breeding work, according to the latest quarterly report on the project which has just been received at the College of Agriculture. During those three months, from July 1 until Oct. 1, more farmers were enrolled in the movement in Union county than in any other county in the country, according to the report. County Agent L. C. Brewer, working in cooperation with the College extension division here, enrolled 70 farmers in the drive for better livestock. Of the 573 enrollments that were obtained throughout the United States during the 3 months named, 246 came from Kentucky.

The drive for better livestock, which is being carried on in all states of the country by state agricultural colleges in cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture, is now in its fourth year stood at the bottom of the list of all states when the work started but has made steady progress and at the present time is preceded by Ohio, Virginia and Nebraska in the order named. Oldham county where County Agent Gordon R. Nance is directing the work, has taken a prominent place in the drive, that county being one of 15 in which more than 100 farmers are enrolled.

Up to the present time, Oldham county is the leading one in Kentucky in the campaign, 11 per cent of the farmers in that district or 120, being enrolled. Union county is second, Christian third, Wayne 4th and Fulton 5th. Other Kentucky counties in which good work is being done in the drive to improve livestock are Todd, Allen, Barren, Carroll, Muhlenberg and Nelson. County Agents in many counties of the state are making a definite start toward bettering livestock conditions by making livestock surveys to find out the number of grade, scrub and purebred animals in their districts.

NAMING THE FARM (Des Moines Capital)

The Farm Bureau organization of Grundy County announces that its members have started a "name your farm" movement, which promises good results. Eighty-one farmers have already filed names with the County Recorder and many others are ready to follow their example. This idea, which is as old as the business of farming, ought to appeal to all farmers. It will not be a guarantee of contentment and prosperity, but it can easily be made a stepping stone in that direction.

The individual farm is more than a place to live; it is a big industrial institution, which is as truly deserving of a name as the individual establishment, which does business in a city.

There are many hundreds of Iowa farms that have undergone remarkable development in recent years. City dwellers, who have never visited a modern Iowa farm, have no idea of the extent of their progress. These farms have every modern convenience.

After a few years have passed the name of a farm may become to be a great asset and, in the course of a few generations, it may become to be a matter of community pride as well as family pride in ownership.

Most people are moral in their own estimation.

Trade Where They All Trade

$25.00 Cash Prize

to the owner of the oldest DeLaval Cream Separator. If you have an old DeLaval still in use send us the serial number, the size and date of purchase if possible, also state what service you have had from same.

This is a very simple and easy matter and if you have the oldest machine in Kentucky you will receive a cash prize of $25.00

Sooner or later you will use a DeLaval. All hand sizes on hand, and will BE GLAD TO DEMONSTRATE.

Send us your orders for anything and be convinced that we can save you money.

Geo. C. Goode
GROCER & SEEDSMAN

19-21 Pike St.

18-20 West Seventh St.

WHOLESALE—"Covington's Largest Seed and Grocery House"—RETAIL

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Phones South 335 and 336.

Any Make of Battery
RECHARGED
75c

Rentals for any make of car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.
Dempsey Motor Car Co.,
Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

FIRST-CLASS Shoe Repairing

Mail Orders at My Expense. All work guaranteed. Have your shoes to be repaired to
A. G. LAWRENCE, Erlanger, Ky.
37 Lexington Pike.
o-dep10

Tutt's Pills
Unquestioned as an
ANTI-BILIOUS MEDICINE
stimulate torpid liver, strengthen digestive organs, regulate the bowels, relieve sick headache.

BURLEY HOUSES TO OPEN IN DECEMBER

Directors Hear of Saving of $750.000 Through Air-Drying of the Green Tobacco—Membership Close to 75,000 Mark Set as Goal.

Lexington, Ky.—Receiving plants of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association will be opened to receive the 1922 crop some time between the first and fifteenth of December, according to information given the members of the Board of Directors of the Association, in regular monthly session at Lexington last week, at which all the directors were present. They heard a report on the expense of marketing the tobacco of the members, which with every possible item of cost added will not exceed 75 cents a hundred pounds, as contrasted with the average of $1.25 a hundred pounds for the growers who sold outside the Association; learned that they had increased the value of their tobacco $750,000 by proper guarding and air-drying; and listened to a brief but feeling and eloquent contrast of conditions prevailing now in the Burley district, and those which existed in the crop year of 1920-1921 by Judge Robert W. Bingham, of Louisville, who also reported to the directors on the success of the dark tobacco growers in forming their co-operative association.

NOTICE.
All hunting on my place positive ly forbidden
ROBERT L. DAY.

Before laying limeum be sure the door underneath is even and smooth

Keep Your Feet Dry

Nothing like a pair of "Ball-Band" Arctics for keeping your feet dry and warm in the very worst weather. You can laugh at freezing cold, deep snow, slush and mud if you wear "Ball-Band."

"BALL-BAND"

"Ball-Band" Arctics save you money by protecting your leather shoes from destructive soakings, too.

Ten million people look for the Red Ball Trade Mark when they buy Rubber Footwear. Make your choice of styles from our complete assortment of "Ball-Band."

H. S. Anderson
RISING SUN, INDIANA.

Dodge Brother

ANNOUNCE
A BUSINESS COUPE

Conservative changes in the body design of all other types.

Roadster....$ 920
Coupe.....1,063
Touring Car. 955
Sedan.....1,550

Dempsey Motor Car Compa

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY

Phone Erlanger, 70-L

Saturday, Nov. 11
DOROTHY DALTON
in
Behind Masks
COMEDY
Tuesday, Nov. 14
Gladys Walton in
The Trouper
COMEDY
Special Nov. 18
"Forever"

Florence, Ky., Theatre

THE ELECTION

New York elected a Democratic Governor by 500,000.
Massachusetts elected a Democratic ticket by 40,000.
The Beer and Wine amendment carried by a large majority in Illinois.
Democratic National Committee claim they have elected a Governor in Kansas.
Senator LaFollette has been elected.
Senator Townsend, Republican wins Michigan.
Kentucky county gave A. B. Rouse for Congress 1700 majority.
Ohio elected Pomerehne, Dem., U. S. Beer amendment wins by 90,000, the race for Governor close with Donahay, Dem., in the lead.

County Vote	House	Keller
Burlington No 1	109	1
Burlington No 2	80	2
Bellevue	48	1
Union	101	1
Florence No. 1	171	2
Florence No 2	72	0
Walton No 1	81	2
Walton No 2	132	0
Bullittsville	81	0
Elton	46	2
Constance	46	2
Rabbit Hash	100	1
Hamilton	34	1
Petersburg No 1	83	0
Petersburg No 2	79	0
Boover	33	0
Verona	66	4
Total	1353	23

House	Keller
Gallatin	664
Carroll	1221
Fendleton	1601
Grant	1000
Trimble	270
Campbell	3743
Kenton	6486
Boone	1553

Rouse's majority will exceed 7,000.
Kenton and Campbell county returns not completed.

NONPARIEL PARK

Mrs. Russell Mitchell spent Friday afternoon in Covington, shopping.
John King and wife will soon leave for Detroit, Michigan to visit relatives.
Mrs. J. O. Carpenter spent Friday with Mrs. Clifford Norman, in Covington.
A. M. Yealey purchased the B-B Allen dwelling on Burlington pike, last week.
Mrs. Joe Baxter, of Dixie Highway, returned home Sunday after a week's visit in Ohio.
Rev. Wilford Mitchell of Mt. Carmel, Ky., enjoyed a few days visit with relatives the past week.
Don't forget to attend the Legion dance Saturday evening Nov. 11th at Florence hall. Everybody welcome.
Mrs. Lonnie Baird and Mrs. Chas. Chipman attended the Tri-State Festival in Covington, Friday.
Joe Baxter, of Dixie Highway, spent Sunday at Blue Ash, O., the guest of Roy Senour and family.
Mrs. Brady Sayre and children, of Covington, were week-end guests of Ed. Sydnor and wife, of Shelby-st.
Ben Lemmons, of Norwood, Ohio, visited J. G. Renaker and wife and other friends here one day the past week.
Miss Elizabeth Dell Goodridge, of Hills Madonna, spent the week-end with her parents, W. H. Goodridge and wife.
Mrs. Sallie Snyder, of Burlington, moved this week to her new bungalow she purchased of George Markberry recently.
Mrs. Ed. Newman and Mrs. Jennie Baird called on Mrs. Chas. Chipman Saturday afternoon, and attended the John King sale.
Mrs. Wilford Mitchell and brother M. T. of Mt. Carmel, Ky., are enjoying a week's visit with their sister, Mrs. Wm. Lee, of Millsburg, Ky.
Frances Adams and wife (nee Rebecca Hambrick) have gone to housekeeping in rooms of Mr. and Mrs. A. Shroat, on Dixie Highway.
The Ladies Aid Society met last Thursday with Mrs. John Garber, of Union. An enjoyable day was spent and a very interesting meeting held.
Edward Newman and wife, of Goodpounder, were guests Wednesday of Chas. Chipman and wife and attended the Triager and Chipman sale.
Wm. Brown and bride have returned from their honeymoon trip and have gone to housekeeping in rooms of J. G. Renaker on Dixie Highway.
Tommie Easton and sister entertained at their home on Price pike Tuesday evening with a Halloween party. About fifty guests were present. The evening was spent playing

WHERE TO DEAL IN CINCINNATI

WESTHEIMER & CO.
STOCKS BONDS GRAIN
Phone Main 567 326 Walnut St.

Kline's
421-423 RACE STREET
CORRECT ATTIRE FOR WOMEN AND MISSES
SEND IT TO US---
Hemstitching 10c a yard.
PLEATING, BUTTONS COVERED,
EMBROIDERY, BRAIDING
MAIL ORDERS GET
SPECIAL ATTENTION
ADVANCE PLEATING AND BUTTON SHOP
108 OPERA PLACE CINCINNATI

INVESTMENTS
Preferred Stocks Municipal Bonds
Breed, Elliott & Harrison
322 Walnut St. Phone Main 310

Y. M. C. A. Automobile School
Day or Night Classes
Get a Good Job
Steady Work
Unskilled Labor Turned Away
LEARN TO BE AN AUTOMOBILE MECHANIC
Men Who Are Skilled Always Have Work
Garage
SKILLED LABOR WANTED
Men who know how are needed
Skilled Labor Gets A Job
Come in and let us tell you all about this school
Y. M. C. A.
Elm and Central Parkway

WE REPAIR—Electric Motors, Re-wind Armatures, etc. They can't come too little, or too big.
Cincinnati Electrical Repair Co.
322 Sycamore Street, - Cincinnati, Ohio
Phone, Main 2183
NEW & RE-BUILT MOTORS FOR SALE

ARCTIC
Ice-making and Refrigerating Machines for Butcher Shops, Creameries, Dairies, Confectioneries—Plants installed complete—Repairs and emergency repairs—Supplies of every description
Briggs and Eastwood
1022 Central Ave. Cincinnati, O.

For Quality Price Variety
PIGGLY WIGGLY
Groceries

5 1/2% FIRST MORTGAGE CERTIFICATES
$100-$500-$1000—Secured by First Mortgage on real estate and guaranteed by us. Prompt attention to mail inquiries.
THE TITLE GUARANTEE & TRUST CO.
S. E. Cor. Court and Main Sts.

Fogel's
S. W. Cor. Seventh & Central Ave.
Women's and Children's Coats Suits Dresses Millinery Etc.

BUY YOUR FRESH FRUITS and VEGETABLES FROM—
SHIP YOUR COUNTRY PRODUCE TO—
FLATOW, RILEY & CO.
Front Street, Between Main and Walnut Cincinnati, Ohio

5 1/2% FIRST MORTGAGE CERTIFICATES
$100-$500-$1000—Secured by First Mortgage on real estate and guaranteed by us. Prompt attention to mail inquiries.
THE TITLE GUARANTEE & TRUST CO.
S. E. Cor. Court and Main Sts.

Any Make of Battery
RECHARGED
75c
Rentals for any make of car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.
Dempsey Motor Car Co.,
Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

Les't You Forget.
F. H. Dickey's Sale at Union, Friday, Nov. 3d, a 900. ta m.
W. B. Johnson
Auctioneer, Walton, Ky.

Lands Posted.
All character of trespassing on our farms is positively prohibited, and we will prosecute all guilty parties. No hunting, trapping or snaring will be allowed.
Name Precinct
B. C. Allen.....Hamilton
Julia S. Dinsmore.....Bellevue
B. H. Berkshire.....Petersburg
Lucy E. Hance.....Hamilton
J. H. Jockey.....Burlington
S. B. Scott.....Grant
J. H. Walton.....Carlton
Ira Aylor.....Union
Arminia Aylor.....Richwood
James W. Ryle.....Waterloo
S. B. Ryle.....Grant R. D.
Addie Harding.....Burlington
Jake Reitman.....Bullittsville
B. C. Graddy.....Bullittsville
William Phillips.....Carlton
J. M. Wilson.....Union
J. J. Tanner.....Burlington
Chester Aylor.....Burlington
Elmore Ryle.....Burlington
Jasper Sullivan.....Grant
Alonzo Gaines.....Constance
Joe E. Scott, Jr.....Florence
J. Colin Kelly.....Carlton
Your name will be put in the list of those posted until Jan. 1st for 50 cents.

LUTE BRADFORD, AUCTIONEER
FLORENCE, - - KY.
List your sales with me as I have a wide acquaintance and know all good buyers.
Reference—Florence Deposit Bank, Florence, Ky.
o-deol

Statement of the Ownership, Management, Circulation, etc. Required by the Act of August 24, 1912.
Of Boone County Recorder published weekly at Burlington, Ky., for Oct. 29th, 1922.
Editor N. E. Riddell, Burlington, Managing Editor N. E. Riddell, Burlington, Ky.
Business Manager N. E. Riddell, Burlington, Ky.
Publisher N. E. Riddell, Burlington, Ky.
Owners: N. E. Riddell, Burlington, Ky.
Known bondholders, mortgages, and other security holders, holding 1 percent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities—There are none.
N. E. RIDDELL.
Sworn to and subscribed before me this 28th day of Oct. 1922.
G. S. KELLY, Notary Public, in and for Boone County, Kentucky.
My commission expires Jan'y 13th, 1925.

Radio Receiving Sets
INSTALLED BY
J. J. KIRKPATRICK
Burlington, KY.
Do not buy your Radio Outfit until I quote you on one of the best out fits. Installed ready to receive from the Broad Casting Stations in New York, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Nebraska, Georgia, and other points.

FOR SALE
Farm of 75 acres three miles below Petersburg, Ky. Twelve acres of bottom land, eight acres of clover, balance in blue grass. Six room house, one four-room log house, 3 barns and other out buildings. Good tobacco and alfalfa land. Price $50.00 per acre.
CHARLIE WHITE,
ojan1—pd Petersburg, Ky.

General Trucking
At Your Service
WALTER HUEY
Florence, Ky.
Phone 266-X

An ugly cut ? MENTHOLATUM is antiseptic and healing.

American Legion EXERCISES

For Armistice Day

November 11th, 1922

At Florence, Kentucky.

Band Concert Beginning Promptly at 12 o'clock noon.

12:45 P. M. Parade of all Exservice Men.

1:15 Speaking by State Legionaire of prominence.

2:15 Foot Ball Game between Boone Post and Erlanger Post Am. Legion.

This program will begin promptly and each number will be held on scheduled time. The public is invited to attend and give us their hearty co-operation.

Public Sale.
We will sell at the residence of Mrs. G. A. Snyder on the Burlington and Florence pike two miles west of Florence, Boone County, Ky., on FRIDAY, NOV. 10th, 1922.
The Following Property:
Three ton of good Timothy hay in barn.
Lot Farming Implements.
Household and Kitchen Furniture and other articles.
Terms—CASH.
Sale will begin at 1 o'clock p. m.
A. G. FISK AND OTHERS.
ono9v—2t

Financial Statement of Farm Bureau
Statement of the Boone Co. Farm Bureau as of Nov. 1, 1922.
OCTOBER 1922.
Bdsiness transacted at Florence.....$ 4185.52
Bdsiness transacted at Burlington..... 1149.19
Total bdsiness for October..... $5334.71
Balance in cash on hand Oct. 1, 1922..... $3829.40
Deposited during October..... 5632.45
Total..... $9461.85
Checks drawn during October..... 5965.25
Balance on hand November 1st..... $3496.60
Accounts receivable..... 1423.26
Stock on hand—Florence..... 2454.00
Stock on hand—Burlington..... 390.00
Total..... $7763.86
Accounts payable..... $3263.02
Note..... 3000.00
Total..... 6263.02
Balance..... $1500.84
G. M. PENN.,
Manager.

Un-gava, a northeastern territory in the Labrador peninsula, has been known as the territory of New Quebec since 1912, when it was ceded to the province of Quebec. Hudson straits is on the north of it, Hudson bay and James bay on the west, the province of Quebec proper on the south, and the Atlantic ocean on the east. Un-gava bay is in the north of Ungava, opening into Hudson Strait. The territory has an area of 351,780 square miles, and a population of 11,000—8,000 being white people, 2,000 being Eskimos, and the rest Indians.

Fans Used in Church Services.
Fans were used in the religious services of the early Christians in the Middle Ages, to keep them from the sacred elements. These were round, with silver bells.
Subscribe for the RECORDER

Woman Wrote Famous Hymn.
One of the most famous of children's hymns, "I Think When I Read That Sweet Story of Old," was written many years ago by a young English woman, Jennine Thompson.
TAKE YOUR COUNTY PAPER

The Tri-State Pays Transportation 45c

Week Nov. 6th to Nov. 12 incl. Per pound Butterfat

CUT OUT THE MIDDLEMAN. We guarantee cream and cans against loss. The Tri-State handles more cans of cream direct from producers than any creamery in the world.

The Tri-State patrons pay no toll to agents, station buyers or any other third parties.

Shipping your own can of cream DIRECT to the Tri-State will make you more money than any other work connected with the Dairy. Write for Free Trial Cans.

The Tri-State Butter Co.

Cash Capital and Assets $1,000,000.00.

CINCINNATI, OHIO.

PETERSBURG.

Bryan Snelling's broken arm is getting along nicely.

Walter Rector and family will move back to his farm this week.

W. C. Yates and wife are visiting his brother, down south, who is quite ill.

Harry E. Acra, of Rabbit Hash, was calling on your scribe, last Sunday.

Mrs. W. T. Evans is improving nicely since she returned from the hospital.

Mrs. Alice Snyder, of Burlington, spent last week with her sister, Mrs. Fannie Snyder.

Mrs. Josephine Baker is waiting on Mrs. Howard Huey, of North Bend neighborhood.

Men, women and children spent much of their time, last week, raking and burning leaves.

Mrs. Perrin Loudon and children are visiting her parents, Plum Guley and family, near Burlington.

The game of ball between the All Stars and the Petersburg team was won by Petersburg 8 to 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith are domiciled in their new home, which he purchased of Boone Kyle on Front street.

White Bros., butchered, dressed and cut up a 600 pound beef and three hogs that averaged 260 pounds which they disposed of last week.

The protracted meeting at the Christian church resulted in 20 additions, 17 by confession and by statement. Bro. Lacy surely did show true words to them. Those by confession were immersed just after the morning service by Bro. Carter in the Ohio river, Sunday.

White Bros., butchered, dressed and cut up a 600 pound beef and three hogs that averaged 260 pounds which they disposed of last week.

The protracted meeting at the Christian church resulted in 20 additions, 17 by confession and by statement. Bro. Lacy surely did show true words to them. Those by confession were immersed just after the morning service by Bro. Carter in the Ohio river, Sunday.

White Bros., butchered, dressed and cut up a 600 pound beef and three hogs that averaged 260 pounds which they disposed of last week.

The protracted meeting at the Christian church resulted in 20 additions, 17 by confession and by statement. Bro. Lacy surely did show true words to them. Those by confession were immersed just after the morning service by Bro. Carter in the Ohio river, Sunday.

White Bros., butchered, dressed and cut up a 600 pound beef and three hogs that averaged 260 pounds which they disposed of last week.

The protracted meeting at the Christian church resulted in 20 additions, 17 by confession and by statement. Bro. Lacy surely did show true words to them. Those by confession were immersed just after the morning service by Bro. Carter in the Ohio river, Sunday.

White Bros., butchered, dressed and cut up a 600 pound beef and three hogs that averaged 260 pounds which they disposed of last week.

The protracted meeting at the Christian church resulted in 20 additions, 17 by confession and by statement. Bro. Lacy surely did show true words to them. Those by confession were immersed just after the morning service by Bro. Carter in the Ohio river, Sunday.

White Bros., butchered, dressed and cut up a 600 pound beef and three hogs that averaged 260 pounds which they disposed of last week.

The protracted meeting at the Christian church resulted in 20 additions, 17 by confession and by statement. Bro. Lacy surely did show true words to them. Those by confession were immersed just after the morning service by Bro. Carter in the Ohio river, Sunday.

White Bros., butchered, dressed and cut up a 600 pound beef and three hogs that averaged 260 pounds which they disposed of last week.

The protracted meeting at the Christian church resulted in 20 additions, 17 by confession and by statement. Bro. Lacy surely did show true words to them. Those by confession were immersed just after the morning service by Bro. Carter in the Ohio river, Sunday.

White Bros., butchered, dressed and cut up a 600 pound beef and three hogs that averaged 260 pounds which they disposed of last week.

The protracted meeting at the Christian church resulted in 20 additions, 17 by confession and by statement. Bro. Lacy surely did show true words to them. Those by confession were immersed just after the morning service by Bro. Carter in the Ohio river, Sunday.

White Bros., butchered, dressed and cut up a 600 pound beef and three hogs that averaged 260 pounds which they disposed of last week.

The protracted meeting at the Christian church resulted in 20 additions, 17 by confession and by statement. Bro. Lacy surely did show true words to them. Those by confession were immersed just after the morning service by Bro. Carter in the Ohio river, Sunday.

White Bros., butchered, dressed and cut up a 600 pound beef and three hogs that averaged 260 pounds which they disposed of last week.

The protracted meeting at the Christian church resulted in 20 additions, 17 by confession and by statement. Bro. Lacy surely did show true words to them. Those by confession were immersed just after the morning service by Bro. Carter in the Ohio river, Sunday.

White Bros., butchered, dressed and cut up a 600 pound beef and three hogs that averaged 260 pounds which they disposed of last week.

The protracted meeting at the Christian church resulted in 20 additions, 17 by confession and by statement. Bro. Lacy surely did show true words to them. Those by confession were immersed just after the morning service by Bro. Carter in the Ohio river, Sunday.

White Bros., butchered, dressed and cut up a 600 pound beef and three hogs that averaged 260 pounds which they disposed of last week.

The protracted meeting at the Christian church resulted in 20 additions, 17 by confession and by statement. Bro. Lacy surely did show true words to them. Those by confession were immersed just after the morning service by Bro. Carter in the Ohio river, Sunday.

White Bros., butchered, dressed and cut up a 600 pound beef and three hogs that averaged 260 pounds which they disposed of last week.

The protracted meeting at the Christian church resulted in 20 additions, 17 by confession and by statement. Bro. Lacy surely did show true words to them. Those by confession were immersed just after the morning service by Bro. Carter in the Ohio river, Sunday.

White Bros., butchered, dressed and cut up a 600 pound beef and three hogs that averaged 260 pounds which they disposed of last week.

The protracted meeting at the Christian church resulted in 20 additions, 17 by confession and by statement. Bro. Lacy surely did show true words to them. Those by confession were immersed just after the morning service by Bro. Carter in the Ohio river, Sunday.

White Bros., butchered, dressed and cut up a 600 pound beef and three hogs that averaged 260 pounds which they disposed of last week.

The protracted meeting at the Christian church resulted in 20 additions, 17 by confession and by statement. Bro. Lacy surely did show true words to them. Those by confession were immersed just after the morning service by Bro. Carter in the Ohio river, Sunday.

White Bros., butchered, dressed and cut up a 600 pound beef and three hogs that averaged 260 pounds which they disposed of last week.

The protracted meeting at the Christian church resulted in 20 additions, 17 by confession and by statement. Bro. Lacy surely did show true words to them. Those by confession were immersed just after the morning service by Bro. Carter in the Ohio river, Sunday.

GRANT R. D.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Clore spent Saturday in Cincinnati. In Geo. Walton, Jr., attended the races at Latonia, one day last week.

Mrs. Helen Cunningham returned to her home in Marietta, Ohio, Saturday.

Ruth and Harry Carlyle are visiting their grandfather at Seymour, Indiana.

The moonshine shone some in Rabbit Hash Saturday night (tongue twister).

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stephens, of Kansas City, Mo., are visiting relatives here.

Louis Craig is attending a meeting of the M. E. preachers at Fort Thomas, Ky.

Roy Ryle had a couple of ribs fractured while doing carpenter work on the dam at McVillie, Saturday.

Mrs. Belle Beemon, of Latonia, is visiting her daughter Mrs. May Clore. She will stay until after the election.

Val Hillis, of Rising Sun, has purchased from Bob Wilson and Morris Rice, the store house now occupied by the latter.

Rev. W. A. M. Woods preached at the Baptist church Friday night. Rev. C. C. Clanch, of Erlanger, conducted the singing and rendered a solo which was appreciated. Rev. Avery, who has been conducting a meeting there being sick, the meeting was closed Saturday night.

RICHWOOD.

Corn shucking is now on docket. Rye seed is getting hard to secure.

Our county road crew is working near here.

Mary are compelled to haul water for stock and household.

Hunting season is at hand, but some of the fellows can't wait.

We have a new game warden hereabouts. Stop, look and listen.

Mrs. Jane Belle Northcutt is visiting Mrs. A. P. Glackes, of Erlanger.

Rev. Moore is holding revival services at the Christian church near Georgetown.

Halloween passed quietly and a few little harmless pranks were pulled off here.

Mrs. Anna Hammond, Mrs. Fannie Snow and Miss Bertie Snow, were visiting the Dobbins homestead Sunday.

The Fowler Lodge I. O. O. F. supper will be held Nov. 25th. Saturday evening oyster soup and trimmings, and ice cream and cake will be served.

Mrs. Will Smith was surprised by about forty of her friends and relatives Sunday who came with well filled baskets and enjoyed a fine dinner and a splendid time.

Walter O'Neal, of Newcastle, Ind., and Miss Alma Conner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Conner, were quietly married in Covington Monday.

"Counterfeit! Don't know nuthin' 'bout no counterfeit!"

"Well, you can't leave camp without the counterfeit."

Rastus thought it over and his grievances mounted high within him. The time had come for action.

With a swift motion he produced a razor from his puttee and flourished it open under the sentry's nose. "Ten, Mistah Sentry, Ah don't want no trouble, but—Ah got a mother in heaven, and a father in hell, and a gal in this year town, and Ah'm shuah gwine to see one of dem tonight!"

"Pass?" asked the sentry.

"Yessuh, here 'tis, suh."

"Counterfeit?"

"Counterfeit! Don't know nuthin' 'bout no counterfeit!"

"Well, you can't leave camp without the counterfeit."

Rastus thought it over and his grievances mounted high within him. The time had come for action.

With a swift motion he produced a razor from his puttee and flourished it open under the sentry's nose. "Ten, Mistah Sentry, Ah don't want no trouble, but—Ah got a mother in heaven, and a father in hell, and a gal in this year town, and Ah'm shuah gwine to see one of dem tonight!"

"Pass?" asked the sentry.

"Yessuh, here 'tis, suh."

"Counterfeit?"

"Counterfeit! Don't know nuthin' 'bout no counterfeit!"

"Well, you can't leave camp without the counterfeit."

Rastus thought it over and his grievances mounted high within him. The time had come for action.

With a swift motion he produced a razor from his puttee and flourished it open under the sentry's nose. "Ten, Mistah Sentry, Ah don't want no trouble, but—Ah got a mother in heaven, and a father in hell, and a gal in this year town, and Ah'm shuah gwine to see one of dem tonight!"

"Pass?" asked the sentry.

"Yessuh, here 'tis, suh."

"Counterfeit?"

"Counterfeit! Don't know nuthin' 'bout no counterfeit!"

"Well, you can't leave camp without the counterfeit."

Rastus thought it over and his grievances mounted high within him. The time had come for action.

With a swift motion he produced a razor from his puttee and flourished it open under the sentry's nose. "Ten, Mistah Sentry, Ah don't want no trouble, but—Ah got a mother in heaven, and a father in hell, and a gal in this year town, and Ah'm shuah gwine to see one of dem tonight!"

"Pass?" asked the sentry.

"Yessuh, here 'tis, suh."

"Counterfeit?"

"Counterfeit! Don't know nuthin' 'bout no counterfeit!"

Just Smiles

Two young kindergarten teachers, intelligent and attractive, while riding downtown in a street car were engaged in an animated discussion. In the seat behind them sat a good-natured, father-looking Irishman enjoying a nap. Finally one kindergarten inquired of the other:

"How many children have you?"

"Twenty-two," she replied. "And how many have you?"

"Oh, I have only nineteen," replied the first.

At this point the Irishman, now wide awake with his seat and without any formality, inquired in a loud voice:

"What part of Ireland did you come from?"

She—"Is it true you get a headache when you ride horseback?"

He—"Oh, no, quite the opposite."

Men are like corks—some will pop. Others have to be drawn out. It depends on the stuff they have in them.

OH THESE MEN

A bright little girl, aged four, and her brother, aged six, were spending the night with their aunt. When bed time came, the aunt asked them how they said their prayers. The little girl answered, "Sometimes I say times to muddle's knees and sometimes to the side of the bed."

"And how about you, little boy?" asked the aunt.

"Oh, I don't need to pray; I sleep with daddy."

"What do you think is the cause of so many unhappy marriages?"

"Too many people are married before they get sense enough to stay single."—Miami Herald.

You don't know me, do you Bobby? asked a lady who had recently been baptized.

"Sure I do," piped the youth. "You're the lady what went in swimming with the preacher last Sunday."

Rastus, high private in the rear rank, was distinctly unlucky. For various pet misdeeds he had been in the house for several weeks, and tomorrow his regiment went overseas. With some difficulty he prevailed upon his company officer to grant him a midnight pass for the last night.

Armed with his pass, and arrayed in all his martial glory, he approached the white sentry who guarded the camp gates.

"Pass?" asked the sentry.

"Yessuh, here 'tis, suh."

"Counterfeit?"

"Counterfeit! Don't know nuthin' 'bout no counterfeit!"

"Well, you can't leave camp without the counterfeit."

Rastus thought it over and his grievances mounted high within him. The time had come for action.

With a swift motion he produced a razor from his puttee and flourished it open under the sentry's nose. "Ten, Mistah Sentry, Ah don't want no trouble, but—Ah got a mother in heaven, and a father in hell, and a gal in this year town, and Ah'm shuah gwine to see one of dem tonight!"

"Pass?" asked the sentry.

"Yessuh, here 'tis, suh."

"Counterfeit?"

"Counterfeit! Don't know nuthin' 'bout no counterfeit!"

"Well, you can't leave camp without the counterfeit."

Rastus thought it over and his grievances mounted high within him. The time had come for action.

With a swift motion he produced a razor from his puttee and flourished it open under the sentry's nose. "Ten, Mistah Sentry, Ah don't want no trouble, but—Ah got a mother in heaven, and a father in hell, and a gal in this year town, and Ah'm shuah gwine to see one of dem tonight!"

"Pass?" asked the sentry.

"Yessuh, here 'tis, suh."

"Counterfeit?"

"Counterfeit! Don't know nuthin' 'bout no counterfeit!"

"Well, you can't leave camp without the counterfeit."

Rastus thought it over and his grievances mounted high within him. The time had come for action.

With a swift motion he produced a razor from his puttee and flourished it open under the sentry's nose. "Ten, Mistah Sentry, Ah don't want no trouble, but—Ah got a mother in heaven, and a father in hell, and a gal in this year town, and Ah'm shuah gwine to see one of dem tonight!"

"Pass?" asked the sentry.

"Yessuh, here 'tis, suh."

"Counterfeit?"

"Counterfeit! Don't know nuthin' 'bout no counterfeit!"

"Well, you can't leave camp without the counterfeit."

Rastus thought it over and his grievances mounted high within him. The time had come for action.

With a swift motion he produced a razor from his puttee and flourished it open under the sentry's nose. "Ten, Mistah Sentry, Ah don't want no trouble, but—Ah got a mother in heaven, and a father in hell, and a gal in this year town, and Ah'm shuah gwine to see one of dem tonight!"

"Pass?" asked the sentry.

"Yessuh, here 'tis, suh."

"Counterfeit?"

"Counterfeit! Don't know nuthin' 'bout no counterfeit!"

The Four Selling FLOORS

of this Great Store are filled to the maximum with the choicest merchandise of the season. Fashionable clothes for Men, Women and the Younger Set, Costumes, Accessories, Decorative Furnishings for the home. And every new shipments of Holiday Merchandise are arriving.

Coppin's
COVINGTON

Northern Kentucky's Greatest Store

SIMCO
BUTTERMILK
EGG MASH

Makes Champion Layers!

Moulting Time---End It Quick

Hurry the Feathers, then Biddy can get back to her old job and lay the eggs you are looking for. Just now she needs lots of Protein—Feathers are 85 per cent Protein. She will find Protein abundantly in Simco Buttermilk Egg Mash. And in the most acceptable form—the Buttermilk tickles her craw and makes her absorb 3 times as much Protein. Feathers first—Viva La Feather.

Hens helped through Moulting Time with Simco will meantime lay better than usual—and then, when Moulting is over they will make a big line for the champion class. Satisfied Simco buyers will tell you so. Take Home a Sack of Simco.

FOR SALE BY

E. K. STEPHENS, Walton, Ky.

E. A. STOTT, Petersburg, Ky.

WM. FROST, Constance, Ky.

NO ONE APPRECIATES

The real comfort of a snug, warm SUIT or OVERCOAT as the man who does not own one. You owe it to yourself to dress warm and comfortable. As usual the Wachs' Store is well prepared to care for every requirement in Mens', Young Mens' and Boys'.

Suits and Overcoats.

If Quality, Style and Workmanship and Price interest you, we know we can please you. A large line of Corduroy and Duck Garments on hand.

Selmar Wachs

605 Madison Avenue,

Covington, Kentucky

FOR SALE

Farms Near Rising Sun, Ind

- No. 1. 54 acre Stook Farm on pike 2 miles from town.
- No. 2. 100 acre Stock Farm, on pike 1-4 mile from town.
- No. 3. 90 acres Bottom Farm, on pike 2 1/2 miles from town.
- No. 4. 200 acres Bottom and hill, on pike 3 miles from town.

ALL FARMS WELL IMPROVED.

No. 4. Is on State Highway—100 hill, 100 bottom land, 9-rovin dwelling with bath, electric lights and furnace, and has 3 barns and tenant house and 2 good orchards.

Also other farms.

W. M. GREEN, Agent, Rising Sun, Indiana.

ARE YOU A READER OF THE RECORDER?
If Not Try It Oneyear.
Only $1.50 the Year

Manila is the greatest hemp market in the world.

ROCK PHOSPHATE PROVES BEST ON UNLIMED SOILS.

Field tests have been carried on in the state for a number of years to help farmers get bigger crop yields prove that rock phosphate is one of the best sources of phosphorus for thousands of acres of unlimed soils in Kentucky, soils and crops specialists at the College of Agriculture say. Results from this material have been especially good on corn, measure soils in the western part of the state and on the Waverly soils bordering the bluegrass region. Soils in both these regions have little or no natural limestone in them. On the coal measure soils, the average crop yields have been eight per cent greater from raw rock phosphate than from acid phosphate when the same outlay of cash for fertilizers was made in both cases.

On the field maintained by the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station at Greenville to represent thousands of square miles of territory in the western coal fields, raw rock phosphate has made the yields of corn, wheat and soybeans one-fourth larger than they were when no treatment was given the soils. The yield of clover on this field has been more than doubled by use of the rock phosphate. This field gets an application of 1,000 pounds of raw phosphate an acre once every four years.

Best results are obtained from rock phosphate if the farmer uses it with the idea of permanently making the soil richer. This material does not give quick results unless large quantities of it are used at one application. The cash outlay for 1,000 pounds, which would be about the right amount to put on an acre, would be about $5. However, this is enough fertilizer for four or five years.

Stable manure should be used with the rock phosphate when it is applied to soils that are very poor in order to furnish nitrogen and humus. It is not uncommon to find soils so badly washed or so poor in humus, due to careless farming, that no form of phosphorus would show results. Building up the humus supply of these soils by using manure or growing legumes is essential before good returns will come from phosphorus.

SEPTIC SORE THROAT

Septic sore throat is a form of sore throat that occurs in limited epidemics, which merely means that all the cases apparently arise from a common source. The malady occurs almost always in what are called milk epidemics; that is, it is contracted through drinking milk or cream from a cow that has a streptococcus abscess of the udder. The cow usually acquires the infection from a milkmaid who has a sore throat, and she returns it to man with accomplice interest. The disease is not contagious in the ordinary way; there is slight danger of acquiring it merely from being in the presence of a person who already is suffering with it.

The attack begins suddenly with chills, rapidly rising temperature, pains and soreness in the limbs with headache in the case of children there are nausea and vomiting. Pain in swallowing is present from the start, and examination shows the throat to be extremely red and covered more or less with a grayish white pellicle that may be either thin and barely discernible or thick and matted like the false membrane of the throat during diphtheria. Usually the pulse is very rapid, but in exceptional cases it is as slow as it is during heat or even slower. If it is slower, you should look after the heart, for it is probable that the poison of the disease is acting either on the heart or on its regulator nerve. As almost invariably in a case of sore throat, the patient is greatly depressed physically and often is mentally depressed as well; he feels ill through and through. In sympathy with the inflammation of the throat membrane at the back of the throat and the tonsils the glands of the neck become swollen, sometimes excessively, and some of them may form abscesses and, breaking down, discharge a quantity of matter.

Septic sore throat, severe as its symptoms sometimes are, is not of ten fatal—death occurs in not more than two or three cases out of every hundred—but the disease leaves the patient weak for a long time. Though the acute attack lasts for only three or four days, the patient should not go back to work too early, for if he does he will almost surely suffer a relapse within a week or so. For some time the tonsils are likely to remain swollen, though they will not be painful.

NO EXPERT.

Judge—What had the defendant been drinking when you arrested him?

Cop—Whisky, I think, your Honor.

Judge—You think? You think? Aren't you a judge?

Cop—No, your honor, only a patrolman.

Lloyd George's continued activity in the way of speech-making shows that a man may be out but he's never down.

Pity the woman who says she is perfectly contented with her married life. She is probably making the best of a bad bargain.

HAPPINESS, AND HOW TO GET IT

(By Harriet Luella McCollum)

Happiness is a STATE OF MIND.

Having made no dogmatic statement let us now examine it and see if this definition fits you and me, Jane, Jack and Sally—everybody.

Many of us think wealth is happiness; we think if we only had a million dollars we would be happy. But would we? Let's examine a few millionaires for happiness. Happiness glows in the face and manner of a person and invariably manifests in kindness, even love, for everybody. But have you noticed smiles wreathing the faces of many millionaires? No? You are right, and furthermore most of them will tell you they are not happy; that money does not bring happiness but on the contrary causes and worry. Uneasy lies the head that wears the crown.

But this does not mean that ALL millionaires are unhappy; some are quite happy in spite of their money. It isn't the money that brought them happiness, that keeps them happy, but the achieving of ends, the accomplishment of tasks that set themselves money to them, it is but an incident. It is the successful exercise of their own abilities that brings them happiness, for them, and they will tell you further it is the continuation of this exercise this achievement, this accomplishment that keeps them happy. Many of them give their money away, establish educational foundations, charities, and other benevolences for the people.

Now we have the happy and an unhappy millionaire. Both have an equal amount of money, yet the effect of it is exactly opposite, one happy, the other unhappy.

And where is the difference? Just this; the unhappy millionaire loved money for its own sake; what it could buy him, believing that it could buy him happiness. He worked for it, slaved for it and got it, and is now worried to death trying to keep it—certainly not a happy state. To the happy millionaire money is only an incident, forgotten in the joyous progression of achievement. Both are merely states of mind, their respective reactions to one and the same thing, wealth. But if you think you will be happy with money I will show you, during this course, how to make a million dollars. I've made more than a million—and spent most of it educating young people; Service to humanity, helping people to help themselves and others, is my idea of happiness; it is happiness to me.

Others of us will say Love is Happiness. Surely we are nearer the race ideal with it than with money. But what is love but a state of mind. Because of the lack of space we will have to rely on our one illustration to demonstrate our principle, to exemplify our definition, and rush on to the subject of happiness, which is far more important than defining it.

First approximate to yourself your idea of Happiness. Get it firmly fixed in your mind whether it be the making of money, the winning of love, fame, whatever it is, and we shall set out with it. Whatever your idea of happiness may be you will see that it is a state of mind.

Now you can control the making of this state of mind; in fact, you can MAKE it. Nothing can effect you except as you let it. It's all in the way you look at it, the point of view, your interpretation of the event. A crowd watches a man's home burn. One is filled with sorrow for his loss; another with joyous excitement, still another with concern for the safety of his own home in the immediate neighborhood; others experience other emotions, yet the fire is the self same fire; each sees the same fire, the same home burning, and reacts differently. Why? Merely because of his individual point of view, his state of mind created by his indulgence.

You may select your indulgence, select only that which you will accept, and reject all other impressions. Thus, you can build a habit of happiness selecting only the things that you believe will bring you happiness, dwell upon them, and build them into your life, into your mind, thus creating the state that is happiness to you.

Let us prove it by illustration: Think of a thing, and Create it. Think of a person, and tell us that "As a man thinketh in his heart so is he." The psychologist says, "As a man thinketh habitually so is he, and that circumstances and condition need not control his thought but rather his thought control these."

In addition to creating happiness in your mind, there is a transcendental law, the law of attraction, that attracts the things to us that we habitually think about. Like attracts like. Thoughts of happiness—whatever your thoughts of happiness may be—will attract happiness to you. Happy thoughts crystallize into the circumstances of happiness. To control our circumstances and conditions we have but to control our thought; even more, to CREATE the circumstances and conditions we desire we have but to think only of these with expectant faith of realizing them whether they be of happiness or anything else.

Remember, Happiness is not dependent upon circumstances but upon the interpretation of it, the state of mind you create and habitually hold, which, in turn, creates the desirous circumstances to accompany your idea of happiness. Follow your idea of happiness.

If you would live happily now and forever after, smile and laugh, cultivate the genius for seeing the funny side of everything, even so-called "misfortunes" and get the habit of happiness. Be like the Chinaman who could not control his laughter, just before his execution, because they were going to hang the wrong man.

TODD FARMER ROTATES CROPS BY GOOD SYSTEM

Lexington, Ky.—D. N. Russell, a Todd county farmer, living in the southern part of the county, is using a system of rotating crops on his farm that could be used with good results by many other farmers of the state, according to R. E. Stephenson, oils specialist of the College of Agriculture, who has just returned from there. Chief among the good points of Mr. Russell's rotation is the fact that he has a legume, sweet clover, growing on his land at least half of the time. Almost all the fertility from this clover goes back to the land either in the form of manure produced by the grazing animals or in the form of the crop rotting in the soil. Mr. Russell's rotation provides for some growing crop on the land all the time leaving no bare fields to wash and leach. The rotation includes corn or tobacco followed by wheat with the sweet clover sown in the wheat.

The sweet clover is pastured off to some extent but for the most part is allowed to mature seed. The matured seed crop is plowed under for corn or tobacco and another round of the rotation started. After the first seeding of sweet clover in this rotation, no more seedings are necessary as a seed crop is plowed under once each rotation.

Mr. Russell this last summer had one field of sweet clover which had gone one round of the rotation. The clover had come back from the seed plowed under and made a dense stand in spite of the fact that it was topped when the wheat was cut and in addition had been grazed with cattle. Next year, this clover should produce a large amount of grazing judging from the growth made during this last summer. In addition, enough seed should be matured to turn under.

The soil on which the rotation is being used comes from the St. Louis limestone formation and is a rich type when cared for properly. A light application of limestone and acid phosphate is all that is needed to give legumes, such as sweet clover, a start. There are thousands of acres of these limestone soils in the state that can be kept in high state of fertility through the use of a rotation such as Mr. Russell's.

"The federal prohibition act has been magnificently enforced by an efficient corps of officers and by attaches of the district attorney's office and I am going to serve notice that sentences will be meted out by me that will uphold hands of these capable officials," said Judge A. M. J. Cochran in U. S. District Court Wednesday afternoon just before he handed out penitentiary sentences in flagrant violations of the Volstead act.

In discussing the enforcement of the Volstead act and apparent determination of a certain class of citizens to violate its terms, Judge A. M. J. Cochran, U. S. District Court at Covington, said from the bench late Wednesday: "My personal opinion is that the national prohibition act is a great law and has done much good. It is an excellent law and should and will be enforced."

"If it were not for the fact that conditions in his section of the eastern Kentucky district are so bad it would not be necessary for me to inflict such severe penalties for violations of this act."

"The Volstead act is not to be winked at because it is a federal law and must be obeyed."

"Federal prohibition officers here have done magnificent work and deserve to have their hands upheld by this court."

"In the past persons violated the law under belief that they could come into this court with guilty pleas and get off with a fine. I want to say right now that there will be no more fines, but persons can expect to go to the federal penitentiaries if they insist upon breaking this law. I would be derelict in my duty if I did not do everything possible to enforce terms of this law by inflicting heavy penalties. Conditions here are bad and no mercy will be shown violators."

Judge Cochran paid a high tribute to the efficiency of Sawyer Smith, district attorney; John Shepard, assistant; Rodney Bryson, assistant, and Miss John Billingsly, secretary to Smith.

BE PACHENT

The following reply to a dun was actually received by a New Jersey firm:

Dear Sir: I received your letter about what I owe you, now be pachent. I ain't forgot you and as soon as folks pays me I'll pay you.

If this was judgment day and you no more prepared to meet your God than I am your account, your shore going to hell.

True Detective Stories
IROQUOIS MURDER

THERE are many who have ridiculed the methods by which Craig Kennedy, Sherlock Holmes and other master sleuths of fiction have arrived at their infallibly correct conclusions by deductive reasoning or by mechanical apparatus which registers every fraction of a heartbeat or every minute change in the suspect's respiration.

But every now and then these same methods are used by detectives in real life, frequently with a great degree of success. For example, there was the Hotel Iroquois murder case in which Police Commissioner Dougherty of New York applied a mixture of the Holmes and Kennedy rules in such a manner as to make the guilty man practically convict himself, although at the time he was ignorant of the fact that he was doing it.

William H. Jackson, a wealthy guest of the hotel, was found dead in his room one morning, stabbed through the heart. His gold watch and several other pieces of jewelry had not been touched, but the only money in his clothes were three twenty-five cent pieces in one of his vest pockets. As Jackson was known to have carried a good deal of money, the supposition was that he had been murdered by someone who had either lost his nerve or who feared to take the watch and jewelry because they could be too easily traced.

Even Commissioner Dougherty's knowledge of working the criminal mind could find little that could be dignified by the term "clue." Jackson had evidently returned to his room rather late the night before—in fact one of the clerks recalled seeing him enter shortly after midnight—but the elevator boy said that he had come up alone, and that no one had gone up or come down from the same floor for several hours afterwards.

"That means nothing," Dougherty pointed out. After a careful examination of the room and the body of the murdered man, Dougherty returned to his office and contented himself with seeing that the machinery of the police was kept carefully oiled. But to no effect. As days passed without further developments, the public began to criticize and find fault.

Finally, when the wave of criticism had reached a height that he could no longer afford to overlook it, Commissioner Dougherty decided to try a method which, as he phrased it, "was a shot in the dark—and a hundred-to-one shot at that."

"All we've been able to find out," he said to one of his lieutenants, "is that Jackson was stabbed by a left-handed man, standing behind him and slightly to one side of him. Jackson dropped without a sound and the murderer was able to lift his roll without disturbing the body in the slightest. The whole thing probably didn't take more than sixty seconds. Now, excluding the guests in the hotel at the time—most of whom it's manifestly impossible to reach—I want you to round up every person who was in the Iroquois that night. Find out which ones are left-handed, and bring 'em down here and let me talk to 'em."

"Third degree, chief?"

"No," snorted the commissioner. "That wouldn't do in this case. At least the old-fashioned kind wouldn't. I'm going to try something new. It's a gamble, but we've got to take a chance."

One by one the left-handed brigade was marched into Dougherty's office. One by one he put to them a set of questions, one of the first of which regarded their health and the state of their pulse. Once he had his finger on the suspect's wrist, he never lifted it until the final question had been asked and answered.

It was not until the commissioner commenced to question Paul Geidel, the elevator boy who had taken Jackson up to his floor the night that he had been murdered, that he noted any material change in the pulse beats of the persons he was examining. When he asked Geidel what he had done immediately after Jackson had stepped out of his car, the boy's pulse hesitated and then commenced to race. But his voice was quiet enough as he replied that Jackson had asked him for some ice water, that he had brought it, placed it outside his door, and gone on with his work.

Instantly a thought flashed into Dougherty's mind—"Jackson opened the door, produced a roll of bills, asked for change for a dollar, and tipped Geidel a quarter, slipping the other three into his vest pocket. Geidel, seeing the money, murdered Jackson either then or later. At least he knows something about the crime. His pulse is proof of that!" But, aloud, the commissioner only said: "You're left-handed, aren't you?"

"No, sir," replied Geidel, promptly. "Right-handed." And again his pulse was racing.

"That'll do," Dougherty concluded. "Thank you for coming here."

The instant the boy left the commissioner ordered his followers. Two days later he was arrested and finally convicted—one of the few cases on record where a man's inability to control his heart-acting during the strain of lying, provided the initial indication of his guilt.

The Best Advertisement

IS A PLEASED CUSTOMER

Spectacles and Eyeglasses that Fit the face and Fit the sight the kind we sell.

Phone South 1746

WITH MOTCH, Jeweler.

DR. N. F. PENN, 613 Madison Ave. - Covington, Ky

Efficient, Service and Economy

IS MY SLOGAN

C. SCOTT CHAMBERS

Embalmer and Funeral Director

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

Printed Stationery

AT THIS OFFICE
ENVELOPES, LETTERHEADS, NOTEHEADS, STATEMENTS

for business people.
for professional people.
for farmers.
for every one who wants to be considered up to date and going strong

THE FUNERAL DIRECTOR'S SERVICE

in addition to the preparation for burial of the deceased—with scientific embalming when desired—may well include kindly thoughts for the living.

These may find expression in many ways of helpfulness, by counsel or suggestion, or by little ministries of good will and sympathy, which cost little but mean much to surviving friends.

PHILIP TALIAFERRO,
Undertaker and Embalmer
Erlanger, Ky.

A BARGAIN!

Cincinnati Daily Enquirer

—AND—

The Boone County Recorder

YOU CAN GET

both for $4.50 the YEAR

Send Your Subscriptions to the

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER

Burlington, Ky.

12 Farms at Auction!

The Famous Farm of Mose Wall, located near Auburn, Franklin, and Russellville, Ky., divided, to be absolutely sold to the highest bidders.

Wednesday, November 8th, '22

Lot of fine horses and personal property. Write for "Booklet" gives all information about this big sale. Do it now. Grand opportunity for Farm Seekers.

SMITH &amp; McCLANAHAN,

Springfield, Tennessee.

HEBRON THEATRE--Next Saturday

THOMAS MEIGHAN in

"Frontier of the Stars"
Comedy--"Astray from the Steerage"

Admission 22 Cents,

Children 10 Cents

War Tax Included

ONE COUNTY RECORDER.

Vol. XXXVII

Established 1875

BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1922

$1.50 Per Year

No 6

POOL HAS 75,000

NOW, PREPARES TO RECEIVE NEW CROP

Barker Says It Is Not Necessary To Haul To Larger Towns In Order To Get Best Results In Grading

Lexington, Ky.—With the goal of 75,000 members, set some time ago for the present year achieved, the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association officials now are giving their attention to preparation to receive the 1922 crop, for which receiving plants of the association will be open some time between December 1 and December 15. No more 1922 crops will be received.

Director of Warehouses Ralph M. Barker said that some growers had been grading under the impression that they would have to bring their tobacco to one of the larger delivery points in order to obtain the best grading, and therefore, the best price. That is a mistaken idea, Mr. Barker declared.

"One of the primary objects of the organization of the Burley Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association," he said, "was to see that every tobacco grower gets the same price for the same quality of tobacco and to end the injustice of the old system of selling, by which some crops sold at 30 cents a pound and tobacco of equal quality sold for fifteen cents a pound. It does not make any difference where the grower delivers his tobacco, he will get the same grading service, whether he delivers at one of the larger receiving points or at the smallest receiving point in the district. The graders of the association at these smaller points are men of just as much ability and of as high character as the graders at the largest point in the district.

"We hope that growers will deliver their tobacco to the nearest receiving plant of the association, instead of hauling their tobacco long distances with the mistaken idea of getting a better service. The men who will grade our tobacco this year will be the best we can get, no matter to what point they may be assigned, and the grower will get just as good service at the smallest as at the largest point of delivery."

Additional new contracts received Saturday at the field service division of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association increased the total number of tobacco growers who have come into the Association since last fall to more than 21,500 and the total to slightly more than 100,000, including several hundred contracts still in the hands of assistants of Chief William Collins or still held by county chairmen.

With the goal of 75,000 members reached and exceeded by more than 2,000 officials of the Burley Association are jubilant at the result of the drive for new signers. The acreage added by the recent campaign and since the close of the drive last fall is in excess of 42,000, placing the co-operative in control of more than nine-tenths of the crop of 1922.

CONTRIBUTING TO THE HOME

Much is said of the failure of parents to make country homes attractive to young people. The young crowd visit city relatives and return dissatisfied with their relatively plain surroundings. But perhaps these young people have never been taught to make their own proper contribution to their own homes.

The young people of Boone county have received untold blessings from their parents. It would be a fine thing if in return they would brighten up some corner of the old home. Let them raise a little flower bed of their own or plant a few shade trees, or possibly learn to paper and paint a room in the home, and they will feel a greater pride and sense of ownership. With many young people, life is too much getting and too little giving.

TOO MANY POTATOES

Many potato growers are discouraged at the low prices of this year. The crop for 1922 is about four bushels per capita, while the average consumption is about 3 1/2 bushels per capita.

Potatoes are one of the standard foods, and one of the most appetizing when attractively cooked. Three and a half bushels of potatoes per person per year seems a rather low amount for such a vital and inexpensive staple. By advertising the benefits of potatoes and promoting knowledge of how to cook them attractively, it should be possible to increase consumption of this product.

In the election in Dearborn county, Indiana, Tuesday, of last week, Dr. Geo. F. Smith, a former Boone county boy, was elected Coroner of that county, by a majority of 931 over his Republican opponent.

Paderewski could play the piano when he was 3 years old.

ELECTION CLAIMS

One of the typical methods of old time politics was for campaign managers and candidates to issue exaggerated claims. Many committees, while privately realizing that the drift was against them would put out assertions that they would gain a sweeping victory, and make claims in figures which the results proved to be ridiculous. They felt that if they showed doubts, their workers would lose heart and voters fall away. But they overdid the thing.

It is doubtful if the politicians of the future will place much reliance on mere boasting. As people give up the fireworks methods of the past, they look more for calm and practical reasoning. The thoughtful voter is rather repelled by a bragging spirit. He wants to see the methods of the business office prevail in politics. "Hurrah Boys" canvasses do not convince him that a candidate can manifest efficiency in his job.

UNGRATEFUL CHILDREN.

Social workers say that one cause of the money difficulties seen in some families, is that the children fail to make a fair return to their parents for what they have received.

There are indolent and grown up young people who accept support from parents who are hard up, even though these young folks have not acquired family ties of their own. There are widows who get little or no help from adult and able bodied sons, who have no dependents of their own.

Such ungrateful fellows may refuse to pay any more for their board than will cover the bare cost of the food, and sometimes they sponge on parents without paying anything at all. Their mothers may be afraid of offending them and driving them away from home and into bad courses that they put up with their neglect. Many hard hearted children make a little return for the wealth of affection and service they have received.

ARMISTICE DAY.

Every American citizen has come to the realization 'ere this, that we now have another National Holiday, rivaled only by July 4th, in patriotic importance—this is Armistice Day, which was celebrated in a glorious and appropriate manner, before a crowd of twelve hundred people at Florence Fair Grounds, Florence, Ky., last Saturday.

The program began with a parade of ex-service men, led by a brass band, which started at the lower end of the town and marched to the fair ground where the Rev. G. A. Royer delivered a short prayer and very appropriate talk, after which the crowd, soldier boys and band adjourned to the foot-ball field, where the Erlanger team met a team composed of American Legion members. This was a very thrilling and interesting struggle. The Erlanger boys opened up in the first period by some brilliant forward passes and end runs from fake formations which resulted in four touchdowns by the end of the first half. In the second half some of the greenness had worn off the Legion boys and the Erlanger forward passing game was stopped to nothing. The Legion team got away with one nice forward pass and several nice gains through the line, but lack of practice in a varied attack kept them from counting.

While the Erlanger team must be given credit for being fast and aggressive, the Boone Post boys with a little more practice will give them a taste worth watching, and it is proposed that these two teams play a return game at Erlanger Thanksgiving Day. The final score was 26 to 0, Erlanger making four touchdowns and two points after touchdowns.

The Legion boys, responsible for this affair deserve credit, and here's hoping they will try to duplicate it on the same day next year.

Ditty of the Dear Due Dollar.

An editor has been inspired, after looking over his list of delinquent subscribers, to compose the following: "How dear to our hearts is the old silver dollar when some kind subscriber presents it to view; the Liberty head without necktie or collar, and all the strange things which to us seem so new; the widespread eagle, the arrows below it, the stars and the words with the strange things they tell; the coin of our fathers, we're glad that we knew it; for some time or other 'twill come in right well; the spread-eagle dollar, the star-spangled dollar, the old silver dollar we all love so well."

In view of the irritating delay of France in ratifying the naval treaties, President Harding might reflect that the rest of those soldiers now stationed in Germany are needed at home.

That New York banker who has been given a million dollars in recognition by the Soviet government ought to be able to do a Russian business.

WASHINGTON COMMENT.

The Prince of Wales, heir to the English Throne, has been installed as Senior Grand Warden of the Grand Lodge of England. Were it only an estimable and pleasant young man who was thus honored, the matter would be of no special importance. But the heir to the British Throne is not permitted to follow his own will and bent as he pleases; he may never forget, in playing the man, that he is also Prince of the Realm.

It should be a sufficient answer to any of the detractors of the Order of Freemasonry that the President of this great Republic is a Freemason; that many of his predecessors have been Freemasons, and that the first President, Washington, was not only a Freemason, but devoted his time and attention to the order, and became Master of his lodge.

But for those whose admiration of the order are given more to those who rule by hereditary right than those who win to power by their own abilities and the will of the majority, the fact that the future King of England becomes a Senior Grand Warden of the English Grand Lodge is a sufficient proof that the order is not against Freemasonry by those who are its enemies and who know not whereof they speak, are but the fulminations of minds untutored.

Freemasonry stands for patriotism, for law and order, for fear and love of God, without regard to church or creed, for charity, for toleration, for brotherly love and relief of distress, for education, for freedom; in other words, for the ideals of all enlightened and civilized nations. That the future ruler of a great country should take his place officially in the Grand Body of the order, obviously with the consent and encouragement of the rulers of Great Britain, should make those who slander the order for their own ends pause to wonder if the Masonic virtues of silence and circumspection are not ones which they had better cultivate.

Statistics published by the health service of the American Red Cross show that deaths among children of school age due to accidents are proportionately much larger than among either young children or older persons. Out of 1,000 deaths of children between the ages of five and nine, 167 are due to accidents; of children between ten and fourteen, 177 are due to accidents. In proportion deaths due to accident among children under five years of age and among adults are quite small.

No parents need to be told that the most valuable possessions they have are their children. But it appears that there is great need for some power to instill into the minds of civil authority the conviction that the most valuable asset the state possesses is its children.

Accidents do not "happen." There is a cause for every accident. Particularly in the case of traffic accidents, which are assuming alarming proportions in the larger centers. Of what use is it to the municipality, or the state to spend large sums in educating a child to grow up to be a good citizen if it permits him to be killed by an automobile before he becomes an economic factor in the community?

Cities and traffic bureaus search madly for remedies for traffic accidents; "safety zones" are proposed, debated, held; new and more drastic traffic rules are formulated, and more or less enforced; more severe penalties are inflicted by judges for driving recklessly, but the accidents continue.

It would seem that the engineering brains which built a Panama canal, took two million men to Europe in the face of submarines, and built and perfected the largest railroad and telephone systems in the world, might solve this problem, too. But while the remedy is left in the hands of policemen to formulate, no matter how interested or willing, or given the answer to the problem for while into the hands of aldermen, mayors, and leading citizens, no matter how well-meaning, we will still continue to kill our children.

Traffic accidents to the young is a subject of national concern, state concern, city and town concern, of great gravity and magnitude that their prevention deserves the consideration of the very best minds in the country.

HENRY GORDON

The news reached here last Sunday morning that Henry Gordon, son of W. R. Gordon, of Petersburg, had died at a Cincinnati hospital that morning following an operation for appendicitis, was a shock to his many friends in this part of the county, where he was well known. A few if any knew of his being ill. He was a bright, honest, upright young man, and held a lucrative position with the Standard Oil Co., Cincinnati, and lived with his wife and children at Norwood, Ohio. Besides his wife and children and parents, he leaves many friends who are grieved to hear of his passing away.

THE ROOTING SPIRIT.

Those who understand the psychology of athletics say that the rooting of the students of a college or school for their team does help them win. It gives them faith in each other and puts a kind of do or die determination into them.

So rooting spirit in a community is a tremendous factor in its advance. In a city where there is a loyal and confident and hopeful feeling, people are incited and encouraged to start progressive enterprises. They have faith that they can get support.

If such a spirit can prevail in Burlington the business men will feel that their place is receptive to new ideas, that the people are wide awake enough to take advantage of specially favorable opportunities to buy goods, that trade can be drawn from longer distances. New undertakings are courageously begun in such places, and the rooting spirit carries the town on to a higher level of prosperity.

HOW TO KEEP YOUR MONEY AND MAKE IT EARN MORE.

"Every man who has any money should make an unalterable rule never to spend, lend nor invest under pressure," is the sound advice given by Herbert N. Casson in Forbes Magazine, New York.

There are so many rogues, relatives and beggars in the world, that a man with money must consider himself a fort.

He must not allow himself to be taken by assault.

He must always be on guard. He must protect himself from the money wanters—the parasites who live by persuading other people out of their money.

Always when you are asked for money, postpone your answer until the next day—there is a rule that would have saved you many a loss.

There are so many persuasive people in the world that it is hard for a man to keep what he has.

The art of getting other people's money has been developed to a very high point, by parasites and Governments as well as by rogues.

Always, in the investment of your money, when a man says, "Now or never," tell him "Never."

It is while you are waiting for a golden opportunity by waiting till tomorrow, but in the long run you will have more money and fewer regrets.

When you are minding your own affairs and playing your own game, be as quick as you can; but when you are parting with money or property, go slow.

You may easily lose in a minute the savings of a whole year. Never buy, give, lend or invest under pressure.

RICH AND POOR.

The growth of cities and the tendency of rich and poor to draw away from each other, form lines of division through American social life, creating class feeling and making it difficult to get unity of action. Social bitterness grows in such an atmosphere and revolutionists who grate about an overturn find willing listeners.

F. J. Stimson, former ambassador to Argentina, remarked in an address the other day, that in some ways the countries of South America have solved such social problems better than we have. In Buenos Ayres, he said, there is not a poor family that is not in direct touch with some rich family.

"I never called their attention to a case of distress," he said, "without a remedy being forthcoming in 10 minutes or less." If worthy people in trouble found equally quick relief in this land a great deal of bitterness would disappear.

J. WOOD RIGGS DEAD.

In the passing away of Mr. J. Wood Riggs, at a hospital in Cincinnati, last Thursday, where he had been for some time for the treatment of a disease of the lungs, the county lost one of its most valuable citizens, the neighborhood and the Pt. Pleasant Christian church, a most devoted member. Mr. Riggs was a prominent citizen and farmer of the Pt. Pleasant neighborhood until about two years ago, when he embarked in the merchandising business at Cincinnati. He was twice married, after the death of his first wife, who was a daughter of the late Cyrus Riddell, he married a Miss Ware, who survives him, and who has the sympathy of all in her sorrow and grief.

The demonstration on tobacco grading will be worth your time to attend the Corn and Poultry Show at Florence, next Wednesday and Thursday. This show is a free-for-all, so don't be afraid to enter and exhibit. Admission free.

Bluff Wingate, of the Hebron neighborhood, will have a sale of his personal property, Saturday, November 25th. Mr. Wingate has accepted a position with a Telephone Co., in Ohio, near Sardinia, and will leave for that place about the first of December.

"HOME OF SCIENCE IN AMERICA" STARTED

Million Dollar Building in Nation's Capital Begun.

Washington.—The National Academy of Science, chartered by Congress in 1863 as an advisor to the Government, has laid the cornerstone of its new Temple of Science, which is to be completed within the year. The building will occupy ground facing the beautiful Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D. C., and will not only provide a home for the Academy, but an enduring exhibit of matters scientific, which the majority of people can never know except from books.

It is planned to have Faucault's famous experiment, making visible the rotation of the earth by the reflection of a long pendulum of slow period, constantly on exhibition to show a greatly enlarged camera image of the sun in such a way that visitors may see the sun spots, not by pictures, but in nature, and to exhibit other physical, chemical, and electrical experiments so that the sightseer may know at first hand some of the more elaborate demonstrations usually only available thru college laboratories.

The million dollars the building is to cost has been raised entirely by volunteer contributions by scientific men and women and those who believe in the application of the sciences as the trust and most important education.

BE CAREFUL WITH FIRE.

A fire of unknown origin started in the woods owned by Oscar Hann, about one mile from town, on the East Bend pike Sunday evening about five o'clock. About 100 people responded to the alarm of fire given by the telephone operators, and in a short while the fire was under control. The ground was covered with leaves and brush, and spread rapidly, burning over about four acres. A number of campers had spent the day in the woods and the supposition is that they threw a lighted cigarette or cigar in the leaves which were very dry and easily ignited. If the fire had spread to the adjoining fields it would have taken heroic efforts to have controlled it.

WORK OF A CIGARETTE STUB

A timely discovery early last Sunday morning prevented the destruction of Postmaster Hickman's residence by fire. Mrs. Hickman, who had gone to bed, smelling something claimed the smelled smoke, which started an investigation, and when Mr. Sam Kennedy, who was in the room looked out of the window he discovered the roof on the "ell" of the building in flames. Quick work on his part and some others of the family, and a few buckets of water soon extinguished the fire, but not until a considerable hole had been burned through the roof to the ceiling. The origin of the fire is thought to have been caused from a cigarette stub thrown out the window on to the roof.

AN OLD CITIZEN GONE

In the death of Mr. Scott Walton, which occurred at his home in Point Pleasant neighborhood on Wednesday last week, the community and county has lost another of its good citizens. Funeral services were conducted from the residence Friday morning, burial at Hebron cemetery.

DAMM FAMILY MAKES GOOD

The Damm family has lived in Mahaska County, Iowa, for about four years. There are fourteen Damms, the parents and twelve children. People of the state still clearly remember how widely this family of Damms was advertised when it landed in Iowa, fresh from Holland. They were poor folks, had just enough money to get them across the sea to this land of plenty, says the Cedar Rapids Gazette. Arriving in Okoskaloosa after a day's travel, the family, the Damms began a search for a farm to rent. They settled in Richmond township, Mahaska county.

Last week they bought the farm. It comprises about 400 acres, and they paid $60,000 for it. Four years ago they didn't have $80 among them. Today they have a farm worth 1,000 times that humble amount.

The Damms are rich because of their own efforts, their alone. No one helped them. They applied Dutch industry to rented farm and now they own the farm.

There's no need of bolshevism in this country as long as the poor immigrants can do what the Damms did, and there is no place for the Bolsheviki or the red flag. The Damms furnish telling evidence against the creed of those who claim that they do not get "a square deal."—South Louisville Bank News.

In a burst of enthusiasm the Kaiser's bride says she loves him more than anybody does. But she couldn't love him as much as he does.

A WEEK'S NEWS.

According to F. A. Grove, who is delivering lectures in different parts of the State on the Russell doctrine, millions on earth now living will never die and that in 1925 the Savior will return to earth, when His Kingdom will be established. Prophecies of the day of reckoning have been made many times in the past and will continue so until the end of time and people will continue to believe such foolish doctrines so long as they select a few passages of scriptures and place such interpretation on them that suits their argument and overlook the teachings of the good book as a whole. Every passage has a meaning but to get the real meaning of some we must know others.

Under a ruling from U. S. Commissioner David H. Blair, Washington, every taxpayer carrying on the business of manufacturing, purchasing or selling any commodities or merchandise, except the business of growing and selling products of the soil, shall, for the purpose of determining the income under the Federal income tax act of 1921, keep permanent books of account or records. This includes inventories, such as are necessary to establish the amount of gross income and deductions, credits and other information required under the income tax act.

Andrew Carnegie failed to realize his famous ambition to die a poor man, so far as ordinary standards go. He was worth $23,000,000 at his death, after having devoted his last eighteen years almost exclusively to philanthropy. But he succeeded in giving away $350,000,000, a new record that has been equaled only by John D. Rockefeller, in amount, and probably never has been approximated as to number of people benefited and sum-total of service to mankind.

From the list of farmers that have posted their farms against hunting, there will be very little territory for a fellow to hunt over. Better get permission before going on another man's land to hunt.

Mrs. Geo. F. Piper and daughter, Miss Garnett, left last Thursday for their home at San Antonio, Texas, after six week's visit with her sisters, Mrs. Geo. Blythe and Mrs. N. F. Riddell.

Following is the official vote of Boone county cast for Congressman at the election Tuesday of last week: Rouse, 1331; Keller, 23; Brinkman, 2 and Shepherd, 4.

The Ladies Aid Society of Bellevue Christian church was handsomely entertained by Mrs. Edgar Berkshire at her home out on the Bellevue pike, last Thursday.

Harold, the ten year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Arnold, was taken to a Cincinnati hospital Sunday night for treatment and possibly a surgical operation.

The bond issue in the town of Walton carried by a vote of 152 for to 4 against. The proceeds are to be used to improve the Walton Fire Department.

Many young men in Kentucky studying to be bankers and manufacturers, and the first thing they should do is to learn to sweep out the office floor.

Mr. Geo. Drunkenburg, of Florence precinct, was a business visitor to Burlington, last Friday. He made the Recorder office a pleasant call while in town.

A. L. Renaker, real estate agent, sold to J. G. Jones, one day last week, the Lizzie Stephens farm out on the East Bend pike. Price not known.

Notwithstanding the drought and scarcity of grass, stock looks about as well as it generally does at this season of the year.

From the election returns from Indiana it is evident that you couldn't fool the voters of that state with "A Beverage."

Mr. Kasabomb, the tombstone man of Aurora, Ind., was transacting business in Burlington, Monday.

Don't fail to see "Don't Neglect Your Wife," at Burlington Theater next Friday night, Nov. 17th.

County Farm Agent, W. D. Sutton and wife have moved into part of C. E. White's residence.

Robt. L. Brown, of Florence, was a business visitor to the county seat, last Saturday.

So far this has been a very unpleasant November for the Republicans—politically.

It is better to live and help live, than it is to live and let live.

KENTUCKY CROP REPORT.

Kentucky's total production of tobacco, of all types, in 1922 is estimated at 446,400,000 pounds in the November crop report for Kentucky issued today by the Louisville office of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics in cooperation with State Commissioner of Agriculture W. C. Hanna. This is about 37 per cent increase over the 325,710,000 pounds produced in Kentucky in 1921, but only about 26 per cent of the state's average annual production of 467,000,000 pounds from 1916 to 1920, both inclusive. Both burley and dark types show a sharp increase in acreage in Kentucky this year compared to 1921, the per cent of increase being greater in the dark districts than in the burley districts. The average yield per acre this year in Kentucky, including all types of tobacco, is 800 pounds, as compared to 846 lbs. in 1921 and the 10-year average of 852 pounds per acre. The United States entire tobacco crop, of all types, is estimated at 1,930,255,000 pounds in 1921 and an average annual production of 1,377,865,000 pounds 1916-20, inclusive. Quality of tobacco in Kentucky is reported as 88 per cent this season compared to 84 per cent in 1921, while the quality of the United States total crop is 84 per cent this season compared to 79.7 per cent last year.

The Kentucky corn crop this season is estimated at 90,748,000 bushels compared to 82,150,000 bushels last year and an average annual production of 97,152,000 bushels in 1916-20, inclusive, while this year's Irish potato crop in Kentucky is estimated at 4,720,000 bushels or 25 per cent more than the 3,770,000 bushels produced in this state in 1921. Other crops reported for Kentucky are: Sweet potatoes 1,818,000 bushels; apples 5,070,000 bushels; pears 15,000 bushels; clover seed 45,000 bushels; rye 3,384,000 gallons.

It is estimated that approximately 5 per cent of Kentucky's acreage of corn this season was put into silos, the average yield per acre being only about 5.5 tons. About 83 per cent of this season's corn crop in Kentucky is reported as being marketable, and farmers also report they have only 6 per cent of last year's Kentucky corn crop still on farms. The average yield of corn per acre this year in Kentucky is 28 bushels, compared to 25.6 bushels per acre last year and a 10-year average of 27.3 bushels.

Washington.—Congress was called in special session by President Harding for the purpose of grappling with the Administration's program before the regular session in December. The proclamation calling Congress together at noon on Nov. 20 gives no intimation of its purpose other than the explanation that public necessity requires it.

In the background are the two important features of the program which were left alone by the last session until after elections and the amendment of the Esch-Cummins Transportation Act. Minor measures may occupy the attention to loan Liberia $5,000,000 and the anti-lynching bill, but they will be side attractions to the big show.

The call for the extra session is interpreted as registering the intention of the Administration to attempt a leadership which has been absent during the first two years of its history and force through as much legislation as the time will allow. The personnel of the Senate and the House leaves no doubt but that the administration measures will have hard sledding and the ship subsidy bill will have no chance at all.

Go to church Sunday. When the preacher orates upon the delinquencies of mankind you can always reflect that there are exceptions to every rule.

"War Paint" Comes Soon.
One of the very earliest flowers to appear above the carpet of leaves of a bygone year, says the American Forestry Magazine, is the bloodroot, so named because of the reddish juice which exudes from the stems and root-stocks when they are injured and which was at one time used by the aboriginal tribes as war-paint.

Origin of "Man of Straw."
The term "a man of straw" comes to us from the time when there was a case of persons who attended the law courts prepared to give evidence on any cause to any effect—for a consideration. To indicate their profession they wore wisps of straw in their shoes.

Odd Australian Birds.
Among the odd birds of Australia are the black swan, the lyre bird, the honeyeater and the brush turkey. Then there are several mammals whose young are produced from eggs like those of a bird, and then nursed by the mother to maturity. Among these animals are the water mole or duckbill and the porcupine ant-eater.

Fans Carried Into Battle.
In the same shape (segment of a circle) that they are made today and were so popular with both Japs and Chinese that even the artisans carry them in one hand and work with the other. The Chinese even carried them into battle.

Opportunity passes the man who waits for it.

RADIO RALF AND HIS FRIENDS---

JACK WILSON

THE SOLEMN DUTY OF EVERY CHAPTER.

To Officers and Chapters of The American Red Cross:

Membership in the Red Cross is both a privilege and a patriotic duty of American citizenship. Congress created it as the national and international agency of the United States to meet all great emergencies. The demands upon it locally, nationally, and internationally are persistent and insistent by suffering peoples at home and abroad.

The Red Cross Roll Call is our annual call to arms. Every member is expected to stand at attention and respond "ready" and to renew allegiance to the army of service. Only in this way can the work of the Red Cross be done.

There may be a few communities where the officers of Chapters do not recognize their obligation and their duty, but fail or neglect to have this Roll Call to members of the Red Cross having the spirit of service. Such conduct is not only unpatriotic and inexcusable, and is like a picket sleeping at his post. That persons in positions of leadership should stand idle when there is so much to do, while other devoted Red Cross men, women and children elsewhere are hard at work, is beyond belief. Such conduct is most inconsiderate and denies to others opportunity for service. No person should hold an office in a Red Cross Chapter and fail to obey this manifest call of duty.

The Red Cross is an army. Its members constitute this noble army fighting the battle of humanity. It is the army whose badge is service to all mankind, to humanity everywhere, of whatever religion, race, color, or creed. If a Chairman, or other Chapter officer is unwilling to have the Roll Call and afford the public an opportunity of enrolling in this army, resignation should at once be tendered and some other persons in sympathy with the spirit of the Red Cross should step into the leadership, to the end that the Chapter may take its place and march forward with the army already at work.

The emergency is here. It is now facing the Red Cross at home and abroad. Our own exercise men and disasters at home are constantly with us. And now, the American Red Cross has responded to the appeal of the President of the United States and has definitely undertaken the work of saving the Christian and other refugees who have been driven by the Turks from Asia Minor into Greece.

There is no room for slackers. Persons who cannot hear this call should aid in finding others who are willing to work and whose hearts respond to the cry of suffering humanity.

FEEDERS COVET SUPREME HONORS.

The struggle for grand championship honors in the carloads of fat cattle contest at the International Live Stock Exposition, Chicago, December 2nd to December 9th, is creating more interest this year than ever before. The coveted prize has gone to Illinois master feeders for the last six shows and veterans of the feed-plot in other states are planning to make a determined effort to put a stop to this winning streak. Ohio and Iowa have both held the championship at various times in the past.

Never try to lead a man, girls. Just lead him in the direction you want him to go and then let him take the lead.

Few of our thoughts are entirely our own. We just can't resist the temptation to share them with other people.

Capt. Henry Kottmyer, of Constance, was transacting business in Burlington, Tuesday.

B. D. Rice is selling out his stock of goods consisting of shoes, overalls, underwear, etc., at his store at McVillie.

John Stephenson, of near Lima, burg, sent a six week's old calf to market last week that weighed 290 lbs., that brought him $98.40. Who can beat it?

Mrs. Prince Bonar and daughter Florence, of Foster, Ky., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Porter. Mrs. Prince is a aunt of Mrs. Porter.

PT. PLEASANT.

We welcomed Sunday night's gentle rain, as water was getting very scarce here.

Miss Lizzie Walton, of Petersburg, has been visiting Miss Nora Rucker the past several days.

Mr. Frank Hood and Miss Cecil said were quietly married in Petersburg, Friday, Nov. 24th, where they will reside. We congratulate them.

The old friends and neighbors of Mr. J. Wood Riggs were shocked to hear of his death and all extend the deepest sympathy to the bereaved family.

Mr. Geo. Heist, Mr. Earl Johnson, and Mrs. Kittie Darby united with the Pt. Pleasant Christian church during the protracted meeting and were baptized last Tuesday afternoon in the Fifth Street Christian church in Covington.

Mr. Joe Moore, aged 79 years, father of Mr. Charles Moore, died last Friday, Nov. 10th at Longview Asylum. His remains were brought to the home of his son where the funeral was held Monday. Interment at Constance cemetery.

Mr. Howard Tanner met with a painful accident last Thursday while sawing wood with a power saw, the third finger on the left hand was caught in the saw and was badly mangled, cutting off part of the finger with the nail. He was taken to Dr. Slater and has been under treatment ever since.

W. S. Walton, another one of our old citizens passed on his reward last Wednesday, Nov. 8th, aged 81 years and 4 months. He had been a faithful member of Pt. Pleasant Christian church for years, and was held in the highest esteem by all his friends and neighbors. He leaves to mourn him one daughter, Mrs. Parker Hollis and a little grandson. The funeral service was held at the home Friday by his pastor, Rev. C. C. Omer. Burial at Hebron cemetery.

CONSTANCE.

The Death Angel has visited this village and removed from our midst one of our most highly respected citizens, James Woodford Riggs, who was born in Kenton county, near Independence, August 29th, 1843. When one year old his parents moved to Pt. Pleasant neighborhood, where he lived for 69 years, when he sold his farm and moved to Constance. He engaged in the grocery business over a year ago. He was married to Miss Sadie Riddell in Aug. 1870, to this union three daughters were born; his wife died in 1880, leaving the three little girls. He was united in marriage to Miss Carrie Weir, May 27th, 1885. He died Nov. 9th, 1922, aged 74 years, 2 months and 10 days. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, one daughter, five grandchildren, two grandsons, one boy, who made his home with them since childhood, Horace S. Cleveland, and several nephews and nieces, and many other relatives and friends. He and his wife united with the Christian church at Pt. Pleasant in 1868, and have been faithful members ever since. Mr. Riggs held the office of Elder at the time of his death. Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord, yet saith the spirit that they may rest from their labors and their works do follow." He will be missed by all who knew him. He was a man of kind and gentle disposition and had many friends. He was an Odd-Fellow and held an office in the Building Association.

One by one we cross the river,
One by one we are passing o'er,
One by one the crowns are given
On that bright and happy shore.
Dolwick Bros., are improving their garage.

Mr. John Wernitz, Sr., is serious y ill at his home here.
Julius Ayler strained his ankle and is laid up at home.
Mr. Martin is improving the appearance of his home considerably. Mr. Schukler is doing the work.

W. L. Kirkpatrick entertained the following at dinner Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Owen Rose, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Acra, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Ayler, Mr. Susan Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Jane Beemon, Miss Etta Beemon, Miss Laura Beemon, Mr. Garnett Kirkpatrick, and Warren Carneth Kirkpatrick.

During the extremely dry weather hunters should be very careful when they go into the fields about fire.

FOR SALE ETC

For Sale—Nice Rhode Island B-1 cockerels. Mrs. S. W. Hall, Burlington, R. D. 1. 1t—pd

LOST

Ciceronian Society Pin. Initials "B. C."—Found on the back. If please return to this office. Reward.

For Sale—B. S. Bred male birds $1.50 each. Eggs from Hubert Conner's stock. Mrs. Eli Fisk, Hebron, Ky. 1t—pd

For Sale—11 ewes and one buck, good grade ewes, back registered, also Jersey cow. Grace Scott, Grant Ky. 022nov—2t

For Sale—2 1/2 acres of land, good land, about 3/4 mile west of Burlington on Bellevue and Burlington pike. N. E. Riddell, Burlington, Ky. 1t

Lost—Black Satin Pillow applied in blue and yellow, between Anderson Ferry and Burlington. Mrs. O. S. Eddins, Burlington, Ky. 1t

For Sale—Balsy's Closing out Big Turkey Poland Chinas. One boar—Balsy's Buster, one gilt. Others Inquire. W. M. Balsy, Burlington R. D. 3.

For Sale—Hot Blast heater, a good one. Mrs. Lorena Cropper, Burlington, Ky. 1t

For Sale—Two farms, one at Lawrenceburg Ferry, one of the finest views on the Ohio river. 160 acres. Will divide and sell 60 acres with all buildings if desired. Ten room house, fine outbuildings. One at Hebron, Ky. of 25 1/2 acres, well improved, house and barn, and small buildings.

E. MANNEN.

Petersburg, Ky. 030nov—4t

For Sale—Large size Moore's Heating stove in fine condition. W. H. Goodridge, Florence, Ky. 016nov—2t

For Sale—Lot picked Ben Davis and other apples at 75 cents per bushel. J. As. E. Gaines, Burlington, Ky. R. D. 1. 0nov16—2tpd

Wanted—Wood to saw. Price reasonable. R. E. Grant, Idlewild, Ky. Phone 353-X. 0nov16—4t

WANTED

Hay to bale. Prices reasonable. P. H. Mathews, Bullittsville, Ky. Phone 203-X. 29June tf

We give 20 per cent cash discount or to reliable parties of the regular retail price on Columbia Grafonolas, Starr Grand Pianos, Upright Pianos, Starr Pianos and Starr Phonographs. Free delivery made anywhere. Write for catalog.

RICE PIANO CO.,

Aurora, Indiana. 0-Jan1

NOTICE.

We have been appointed the authorized sales and service station for the Willard Battery for Boone county. Also do recharging and repairing on all makes of Batteries. Work guaranteed.

DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO. Erlanger, Ky.

NOTICE.

All hunting and trapping on my place is positively forbidden.

J. H. WALTON, Rabbit Hash.

NOTICE.

No Dog or Hunting Licenses will be mailed unless 5c postage accompanies order.

M. E. ROGERS, County Clerk.

For Sale—Mammoth Single Comb Black Minorca Cockerels. Pape Strain $3.00 each. Edward Smith, Rising Sun, Indiana. 0nov16—3t

Texas, the greatest pecan nut producing area in the world, has about one-third yield this year.

When one woman tells you that another woman is "simply the limit," you have every reason to believe that she is or she isn't.

By JACK WILSON

Copyright 1922 by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate

THE HOME RADIO

How to Make and Use It By A. HYATT VERRILL

XXIV. AN EFFICIENT 5-WATT TRANSMITTER

For those who wish a more powerful and efficient set for sending this is to be highly recommended. Under favorable conditions it should have a range of from 25 to 40 miles. Moreover, it is not an expensive set to make and, exclusive of batteries, should not cost over $35.00 to $45.00. The diagram as given in Fig. 60, makes the wiring very plain, being the aerial, B the ground, O the ammeter, D the inductance, E the variable condenser, F the fixed condenser, G the grid-leak, H the modulation transformer, K the grid, L the plate, M the rheostat, N the choke-coil, O the rectifier, P the current transformer.

Although practically every part of this set can be made, with the exception of the ammeter, rheostat, microphone, and modulation transformer coil, still it is almost as cheap and much more satisfactory to purchase the variable condenser, the choke-coil, the inductance D is easily made, the plate coil being wound with No. 18 cotton insulated wire on a cardboard tube three and one-half inches in diameter, using twenty-six turns and is tapped at the thirtieth turn. The aerial coil is the same size of wire, but with only eight turns. The space between windings or turns should be about one-half inch. The choke-coil may be purchased as such, but an ordinary spark coil—using the secondary winding—may be used and an old Ford spark coil with contact-breaker screwed down may be used for the modulation transformer. The ammeter used should be one of low reading scale or, if desired, an ordinary 3 volt flashlight bulb may be used instead.

Another point to remember is always to disconnect the high voltage current from the plate when not in use and when using the set always light the filament in the tube with the low voltage battery before turning on the high voltage current. The switch on the microphone circuit also should always be thrown off, thus disconnecting the phone from the battery, when not in use. To tune this set it is only necessary to adjust the variable condenser until the ammeter or flashlight shows the highest reading.

DEVOL BARN PAINT

If you could actually see how sure your outbuildings were being destroyed by the action of the elements, you'd be convinced that the way to save money is to use good paint, and use it now!

The saving can be effected by the application of Devol Barn Paint. In the manufacture of this product only the most basic materials in proportion to years of experience have been used to the best.

Devol Products are time-tested and proven, backed by 168 years' experience of the oldest paint manufacturing concern in the U. S. Founded 1754.

A. M. HOLTZWORTH,

UNION, KY.

ARE YOU A READER OF THE RECORDER?

If Not Try It One year.

Only $1.50 the Year

Shackle for Prisoners.

When it is necessary to take criminals on long journeys by train constant vigilance is required to prevent attempts to escape. Now, however, Popular Mechanics Magazine describes a shackle which should discourage this quite effectively. It consists of a 60-pound steel ring which fits loosely around the ankle and a separate steel housing that goes under the foot and supports the weight of the ring when the wearer is sitting or standing still.

Ancient wisdom.

A great civilization flourished in the valley of the Nile some 3000 B. C. These Egyptians worshipped the dung beetle, the scarabaeus, possibly recognizing its scavenging powers. The well of Joseph, near the great pyramid, is excavated through nearly 300 feet of solid rock. The ancient Hebrews were the founders of real public health. The laws of Moses, who was born about 1800 B. C., apply about as well today as when first promulgated.

All obituaries, card of thanks and all other matter, not news, must be paid for at 5 cents per line.

Bullittsburg Baptist Church.
J. W. CAMPBELL, Pastor.
Sunday School every Sunday at 10:00 a. m.
Regular preaching services on the First and Third Sundays in each month at 11:00 a. m.

Boone Co. Lutheran Pastorate
REV. GEO. A. ROYER, Pastor.
Sunday Nov. 19th
Hopeful 9:30 a. m., Sunday School.
Hopeful 7 p. m., Luther League.
Hebron 9:30 a. m., Regular Service.
Teacher Training.
Hebron 7 p. m., Luther League.

Boone Co. Christian Pastorate
REV. C. C. OMER, Pastor.
Sunday Nov. 19th.
Bullittsville—
Bible School 10:00 a. m.
Preaching 11:00 a. m.
Pt. Pleasant—
Bible School 10:00 a. m.
Bellevue—
Preaching 7:15 p. m.
Service each evening during the week conducted by Rev. C. G. Ribble.

Burlington Baptist Church
REV. W. W. ADAMS, Pastor.
Sunday Nov. 19th
Bible School 10 a. m.
Worship 11 a. m., Sermon subject: "John the Forerunner of Christ. His Message."
B. Y. P. U. 6 p. m.
Worship 7 p. m., Sermon subject: "Sermon, 'His Power and His Weakness.'"
Prayer meeting weekly, Wednesday 7 p. m.

Cider and apple butter are plentiful.

Three heavy frosts do not always bring rain.

The beer and wine amendment in Ohio was defeated by 175,000 votes.
Sorghum molasses and pumpkin pie are now on the bill-of-fare—go away.
So far November has furnished some beautiful Indian summer weather.

Col. Thos. Judge, of Union, was transacting business at the "Hub," last Friday.

The bankers call money legal tender but trying to get it is generally a tough proposition.

V. W. Gaines and son, Melvin, of Cincinnati, were in Burlington on business, last Friday.

Newton York has been nursing one of Job's comforters on his arm for several days.

Ed. Hensley and wife and James D. Aera and wife attended church at Bellevue, last Sunday.

Mrs. Lorena Cropper has returned home after a visit of several days with friends at Erlanger.

W. R. Rogers has had the roof on his residence painted. Herbert Kirkpatrick was the brush artist.

Sam Kennedy, of Cincinnati, spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hickman.

Mrs. H. W. Shearer, of Newport, has been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hall, for several days.

Lawrence Kenney and James H. Dobbins, of near Richwood, were business visitors to Burlington, last Saturday.

Mr. Francis Green and friend, of Cincinnati, were guests of Mrs. Sarah Carpenter and grand-daughter, Miss Bessie Baldon, last Sunday.

Mesdames Anna Gaines and Ida Balsly, of Bullittsville neighborhood, were the guests of Mrs. Lorena Cropper, several days the past week.

Geo. Hewett, who is employed at the Fernbank dam, spent last Sunday with his family. They expect to move to Saylor Park, Ohio, in a few days.

The Kansas paper, "The Appeal to Reason," has discontinued publication, probably realizing its futility of such an appeal in these hectic days.

A scientist has discovered that gorillas are becoming thinkers. No such discovery appears imminent, however, regarding the mass of our citizens.

Misses Isabelle Duncan and Mary Bess Cropper, who are attending Georgetown College, spent Saturday and Sunday at home with their parents.

William Gaines, wife and daughter, of Carrollton, spent Saturday and Sunday with his sister, Mrs. J. E. Smith and other relatives in and near Burlington.

All roads will lead to Florence next Wednesday and Thursday, where the corn and poultry show will be in full blast. This promises to be the biggest event of its kind ever staged in our progressive little town. Florence welcomes you.

There was a general exodus of sportsmen Wednesday morning to fields in the county as the open season for shooting quail and rabbits opened that morning. Sportsmen say that birds are more plentiful in the county than for several seasons.

MRS. JAMESON AYLOR

Death is a sad thing, even when it lays its icy hands on the aged, but it is doubly sad when it enters the home and removes therefrom the young—a mother.

Another home has again been made sad and lonely by death. On Sunday night, Nov. 12th, 1922, at 8:00 o'clock the death angel knocked and found admittance into the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Aylor, near Francesville, and carried into that beautiful beyond, where there is no suffering, pain, nor sorrow, the wife of their son, Jameson, who she was a number of months had been a sufferer of heart trouble. She battled bravely for life while every effort was put forth for her recovery, but the frail body was overpowered and after all a mighty blow swept it away and she closed her eyes forever on this world to open them in a happier one where there is no painful separation, no more sickness and death.

Mrs. Aylor was 21 years of age, and was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Aylor, who was married to Jameson Aylor about two years ago. Besides her husband and a four months old baby, she is survived by her father and mother, one sister and a brother, and a host of friends and relatives who sympathize with the griefed ones in their hour of affliction.

Funeral services were conducted at the Hebron Lutheran church, Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 p. m., in the presence of a large assembly of relatives and friends, Rev. H. C. Runyan, of Latonia, officiating. Burial was in Hebron cemetery.

Mrs. Jenny Myers Dennis Dead.

Mrs. Jenny M. Dennis, of Atlanta, Ga., passed away suddenly Sunday night at her home at 1:30 p. m., in the presence of a large assembly of relatives and friends, Rev. H. C. Runyan, of Latonia, officiating. Burial was in Hebron cemetery.

Mrs. Dennis was born and reared in Florence, she is survived by her husband the Rev. Dennis and one daughter of Atlanta, Ga., and one sister Miss Minnie Myers of Bellevue, Ky.

Undertaker Philip Taliaferro, had charge of the funeral arrangements.

Juanita Baker, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Baker, of Erlanger, passed away Thursday evening. Funeral services were held at the late residence Saturday morning, interment following in Highland cemetery. Undertaker Philip Taliaferro had charge of the funeral arrangements.

THREE "HARD" WINTERS IN 100 YEARS.

When looking over the records of the last century, three winters stand out prominently as representatives of the severe type. The first in 1855-56, the second in 1874-75, and the third in 1917-18. These closely approximate the idea of an old-fashioned winter, but few persons will remember the first one.

During the winter of 1855-56 the ground was snow-covered for 13 consecutive days, from December 29 until the middle of February. There were 100 days with freezing temperature, although midday temperatures were above freezing at frequent intervals. Freezing occurred on every date, with three exceptions, from December 26 to March 20 inclusive. The coldest was four degrees below zero January 9.

The winter of 1874-75 was equally severe, there being 103 days with freezing. Freezing occurred on every date from December 29 to February 20, fifty-four consecutive days and the longest period of its kind to be found in the record. The coldest was five degrees below zero January 10.

The more recent winter of 1917-18 has 48 consecutive days with freezing, from December 21 to February 6 inclusive. The coldest was four degrees below zero Dec. 30. There was a total snowfall of 36.9 inches, and the ground was snow-covered for 45 days.

If we consider individual months we will find the extremes fairly well distributed through the century. The warmest Decembers occurred in 1847 and 1889, and the coldest in 1831 and 1876. The warmest Januaries were in 1870 and 1913, and the coldest in 1857 and 1893. The warmest Februaries were in 1834 and 1890, and the coldest in 1838 and 1885. The warmest March records appear in 1859 and 1921, the coldest in 1843 and 1885.

RADIO BRINGS SUPREME FAITH

(New York Sun.)

"Hello, Bill. What's the idea of a raincoat and goggles on a bright sun-shiny day like this?"

"Well, you see, I got the weather reports by radio every night, and last night is prophesied rain for today."

"That's funny. Maybe you didn't have the thing tuned right."

Just Smiles

"Why did that prize fighter have a detective as a sparring partner?"
"He wanted to do a little shadow boxing."—Punch Bowl.

"I hear Bill has taken to boxing?"
"Yes, he's helping an undertaker."—Punch Bowl.

She: "Oh Algy, you English are so slow."
He: "Er—I'm afraid I don't grasp you."
She: "That's just it."—Brown Jug.

Willie: "Wish I had a million."
Tillie: "If you don't quit scratching, I'll believe you have."—Octopus.

She: "So you've been deceiving me!"
He: "Why what do you mean?"
She: "Don't attempt to deny it. I saw a memorandum on your desk to buy new ribbons for the typewriter."—Purple Cow.

Henry: "Emma, what do you say about signing up for a life game with me, huh?"
Emma: "I'm in, where's the diagram?"

"Say Pa,"
"Well, my son,"
"I took a walk thru the cemetery today and read all the inscriptions on the tombstones."
"Well, what of that?"
"Why, where are all the wicked people buried?"

"Look here!" exclaimed the stranger, as he stumbled into his twentieth puddle, "I thought you said you knew where all the bad places were on this road?"

"Well," replied the native who had volunteered to guide him through the dark, "we're a findin' em, ain't we?"

Verney Sanders dished this out to "Next to Reading Matter" in the Times:

"You see it's this way: I am a Democrat, my wife is a Republican the baby is wet and the cow is dry and my dog is a Socialist."

I replied: "I can easily see how you can be a Democrat, your wife a Republican, your baby wet and your cow dry, but where and how did the dog get to be a Socialist?"

"Well, all the dog does is just sit around on his haunches all day and howl."

FALL FRUIT TREE SETTING UNDER WAY OVER KENTUCKY

Lexington, Ky.—The fall planting of fruit trees is on in full swing in almost every part of the state, according to W. W. Magill, orchard extension specialist of the College of Agriculture. Nurseries are making numerous shipments of young trees while scores of farmers are making plans for their future orchards. The care that is given the young trees from the time they arrive at the railroad station until they are planted is a larger part in determining whether or not they live, Mr. Magill says.

Trees from the nursery should be heeled in at some spot convenient to the orchard site just as soon as possible after they arrive. This is done by digging a trench deep enough to fully cover the roots and sloping considerably more on one side than it does on the other. The trees are then separated and their roots placed close together along the trench with the trunks on the sloping side. The soil is then carefully worked around the roots and tramped down solid.

A good way to keep the tree roots from drying out while the planting is being done is to put the tree in a barrel or tub half full of a thick mud made by mixing water and clay soil. The barrel or tub and the trees can be moved easily from place to place if they are placed on a sled or wagon. Most commercial growers of the fall, since the soil is more tillable at this time and becomes firmly settled around the roots of the young trees before they start growing in the spring. However, if bad weather stops the planting before the trees are all set those that are left can be caused of and kept over for spring planting. Damage from rabbits to the newly set trees can be stopped by putting poultry netting two feet high around them.

Apple trees are best planted about 35 by 35 feet and peach trees about 24 by 24 feet apart. When the holes for the trees are being dug, the top and sub soil can be placed around the roots of the trees. It is not a good practice to mix straw, manure or leaves with the dirt as the holes are being filled as these tend to stop the rise of water through the soil and may cause the tree to die because of lack of moisture. Care should be taken to pack the soil well around the roots.

Nobody wants to hear of your troubles. They would rather tell you their own.

FOR SALE

A new five-room house and three acres of land on the Burlington pike, one-half mile from Florence.

Mrs. E. B. WHESTER
Nov 16 21 Florence, Ky.

Demas, the Deserter

By REV. J. R. SCHAFER
Director of Evening Classes, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

TEXT—Demas hath forsaken me, having loved this present world—1 Tim. 1:10.

This is the shortest biography in the annals of men—yet the tragedy of a lifetime is pictured in these few words. Demas, the deserter. What an exclamation! How base and vile. Of all men, he is the most despicable.

Centuries ago the war of Christendom had just begun. Travelling worldwide, the great general of the cause recruited patriots to its standard in city village and hamlet. He came into Colosse one day and gathered a crowd in the market place. He told the story of the awful conflict raging—he called for volunteers—and a fine specimen of Greek youth, educated in the subtleties of philosophy, cultured in the fine arts of his renowned land, initiated into all its secrets of pleasure and enchantment, stepped out of the throng. He had been thrilled by the recital of brave deeds, moved by sacrifice and suffering. The appeal of his soul, a burning desire was kindled to follow this great leader. He enlisted beneath the banner of the cross. He swore allegiance to the Christ of Calvary. He left home and kindred. He became a staff-officer to the great general of the Christian forces. For several years he shares the honors of war, the spoils of victory, until one day in a fierce conflict with the enemy the great Commander is taken prisoner and cast into a dungeon in Rome to await execution. This was Rome for the gallant young captain. Disappointed, disconsolate, he deserted.

General Paul writes a letter to Colonel Timothy of his staff and tells him the sad news. What a tragedy! He has fought side by side with the greatest and grandest of soldiers, he has shared the triumphs of the cross from Antioch to Rome; then he deserted to the ranks of the enemy, forsaking Christ for the world. No wonder the heart of the apostle is almost broken. It seems we can hear the sob of his sorrow in these words:

How can we account for this desertion?

I. Demas Was Never a True Soldier. A true soldier fights until peace is proclaimed or death rewards his faithfulness. He may lose courage at times when hard pressed, may doubt and falter, may even be defeated in battle, but he can never, never desert. Desertion is the proof of a superficial motive, the result of an attachment. His heart, soul, will, life, have not been abandoned to the cause. The Apostle John has explained this experience. When referring to the multitude of disciples who deserted Jesus, he says: "If they had been of us, they would not have gone out from us."

Demas is always present in history of the church. Thousands under the spell of battle sounds and enlistment appeals have professed allegiance to Christ. They have put on the uniform, taken their place in the ranks, perfected the drills, gone into battle, but when real testing came, they were reported missing.

II. Demas Reveals the Deception of the World. It is possible to so closely resemble a Christian that only God can tell the difference. Wheat and tares look exactly alike until harvest. Soldiers wear the same uniform, fight under the same banner, follow the same commander until the crisis comes, then they reveal their true nature. The same campaign is one of deception. He seeks to deceive men and women with a form of godliness, lifeless and worthless. The more nearly the counterfeit resembles the genuine, the greater the deception. Hundreds of unconverted people have been deceived. A profession, a uniform, a dress parade, a battle have been the hoist of discipleship, but their name is Demas, for when wounds, bloodshed and sacrifice came, they deserted.

III. Demas Shows the Subtle Attraction of the World. Who can deny the fascination, the bewitchery of this world? Its sights charm like the mirage, its sounds enchant like siren voices, its fleeting treasures create a riot of passion, its pomp and pride intoxicate the soul. Demas loved the world; it was fatal. He never really opened his heart to the love of eternal things. "If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him." Friendship with the world is enmity to God. To set the affection on things on the earth, is to deny heaven its rightful obligation. To follow the world's maxims and principles is to discount the Word of God and the guidance of His Spirit. To live for a good time in a doomed world where sinners are going the downward path to hell, is for Nero to fliddle while Rome burns, for the captain to dabble while the Titanic sinks. God has not only to salvation, but out of the world, "Come ye out from among them and be ye separate."

Angels Unaware.

Do not, forgetful to entertain strangers, for thereby some have entertained angels unaware. —Hebrews 13:2.

CAR SENSE

Spend a Dollar and Save Ten

Little defects grow into big ones in time if not corrected.
The correction of a small defect in its early stages costs but little.
When left until it grows into serious proportions its correction runs into money.
That is what makes the maintenance of a car so expensive to many people—neglecting the little things until they grow into big ones.
The better—the safer—the more economical way is to see the garage man at the first warning of trouble.
Today is always a good time to have it done.

EDDINS BROTHERS
TIRES, TUBES AND ACCESSORIES.
Burlington, Kentucky.
BRAKE BAND OIL—Guaranteed to stop Ford bands from chattering.
Agents for U. S. and Ajax Tires.

Established 1886.

A Bank Account

IS ONE OF THE FIRST STEPS TO SUCCESS IN LIFE.

How are You Stepping!

This bank invites young men and women especially to open savings accounts. Officials of the bank are pleased at all time to give the benefit of their experience to customers and others who seek advice.

When in doubt come to this bank. Your success means greater success for us.

Has it ever occurred to you that a checking account is a very convenient thing to have?

Boone Co. Deposit Bank

Burlington, Kentucky.
N. E. RIDDELL, President W. D. CROPPER, Cashier
W. A. GAINES, Vice-Pres. G. S. KELLY, Asst. Cashier.

Rising Sun Fancy Patent Flour

That looks good, tastes good and really is good, deliciously good, with that tasty, melting flavor and texture—to win real appreciation.

You get full nutrition and full value when you buy RISING SUN FANCY PATENT FLOUR.

FOR SALE BY
Your Grocer. Insist on It.

MAKING A SELECTION.

In making a banking connection be sure that you select a bank that is large enough and strong enough to care for your every need in stormy as well as fair weather.

THIS—THE LARGEST BANK IN THE COUNTY—OFFERS YOU THIS KIND OF A BANKING CONNECTION.

Capital and Surplus, $150,000.00

4 per cent and the Taxes paid on Deposits.
We do business for our customers.

Peoples Deposit Bank

Burlington, Ky.
W. L. B. ROUSE, President. C. H. YOEUELL, Vice-President.
A. B. RENAKER, Cashier.
Neil H. Martin, Asst. Cashier. L. C. Beemon, Asst. Cashier.

Petersburg Theatre

At Petersburg, Kentucky
Saturday Night, Nov. 18th

Don't Neglect Your Wife

Also Fourth Episode of "WHITE EAGLE"

At Burlington, Kentucky,
Friday Night, Nov. 17th

"Don't Neglect Your Wife"

Also Fourth Episode of "WHITE EAGLE"

CHILDREN 10c. ADULTS 25c

War Tax Included Will Begin promptly at 7:30

As the Editor Sees It.

Many young girls, even of tender years, resort to paints and powder in order to enhance the charm with which nature has provided them. In time they marry, and their husbands are chagrined to learn that much of their marvelous beauty was purchased by the box. Think it over, girls.

If nature provides you with intelligence and character you are possessed of something of far greater value in the eyes of a manly man than all artificial facial adornments combined.

Criticism, if constructive, is good for our community and for our people.

But criticism, with nothing better to offer, becomes pessimism, and is destructive. It breeds dissatisfaction over conditions that exist without offering any means of correcting them.

The next time you feel like criticizing those in authority, be charitable enough and fair enough to withhold that criticism until you are in a position to suggest a suitable remedy.

You may not speak at all.

Are you a persistent cusser, brother? If so, don't be surprised if young son follows in your footsteps.

The example of the father can hardly be denied the son.

Habits formed in youth are seldom changed or forgotten in adult years.

People who are unable or unwilling to raise children properly should refrain from bringing them into the world.

If a man promises to pay you a certain bill on a certain day you expect him to keep his promise.

If he fails to pay his credit is impaired, your confidence in his good intentions is shaken, and your respect for him is in a measure destroyed.

And all for one little broken promise.

It requires many years of correct living to build up a reputation of value.

One false step may destroy it.

Look before you step and THINK BEFORE YOU PROMISE.

Yards of cloth dyed red, or white, or blue, or all of these colors mean nothing. You may pass them a thousand times without giving them a second thought.

But work that cloth into an American flag and it becomes at once the symbol of the greatest heritage of mankind—liberty.

The man who loves his country will respect its flag. He will not treat it as yards of cloth.

The man who does not respect his flag can not, under any possible stretch of the imagination, be classed as a lover of his country.

We have many of the one, and too many of the other.

Study your neighbors, and your friends, but let that study be in a spirit of fairness and impartiality.

They all have their faults, which are more often upon the surface and open to criticism.

But they also have their good qualities, which are generally under the surface, felt only by the few and unknown to the many.

Most men have more good qualities than bad ones. But the bad ones like the skunk, command instant attention, while the good ones are passed by without notice.

BABYZING AMERICA

A year old baby may be large, and healthy, and vigorous, and strong, and if afforded proper protection it may grow into a mighty man of prowess.

But remove its protector during its years of helplessness and it becomes an easy prey to any aggressor.

It is so with this country.

Numerically, commercially and financially we are strong, and healthy, with a progressive and successful future ahead of us.

But, like the baby of tender years we are only safe so long as we have a protector capable of repelling aggressive forces which greed and avarice may bring against us.

That protector is the navy of the United States.

If Congress persists in reducing the navy to a state of impotence it will be helpless against sudden foreign invasion. And that, apparently, is what a majority of our senators and congressmen are intent upon doing.

If financial retrenchment is necessary, we suggest that a horde of political baracles be piled loose from the public payroll.

But keep the navy in a condition where it can afford us the necessary protection until an army can be formed.

If compelled to depend upon congressional oratory to defend us against foreign invasion we will be in a sad state indeed, regardless of the volume of noise that bunch can produce.

Babysizing America is the last step in congressional incompetency.

Honor Law advises the Britishers to "sit still and go slow," but fails to explain how they can sit and go at the same time.

ONE LESSON LEARNED

What is the lesson you learned at the recent election? Or did you learn any lesson at all?

In certain communities throughout the country the law abiding element did little else than talking and more systematic work in getting respectability to the polls. As a result, a better class of people were elected to office in such communities, and law enforcement will be more rigid in future.

In other sections respectability was asleep at the switch, with the result that justice and right will be side tracked until time for another election.

Respectability, when energetic and wide awake, will prevail.

When asleep, it is of no avail.

Such, as we see it, is the principal lesson to be learned from the recent battle of the ballots.

TWENTY YEARS FROM NOW

What does the future hold in store for us as a nation?

Within the next twenty years, unless there is a radical change for the better in the relations of labor to capital, we will be torn by internal dissensions, if not prostrated by open civil war. Present conditions can not endure forever.

If the smoldering discontent now prevalent breaks out into revolution it will leave us a nation of cripples from self inflicted wounds.

That will be the psychological moment for a foreign nation with a grudge to launch an invasion against us with every hope of definite results.

The animosity between labor and capital must be removed in a fair and just manner, for the permanent good of both sides and of the millions of people in between.

It is more profitable to provide for the future than to bemoan the past.

West Virginia moonshiners are said to be using skunks to outwit the revenue officers. The scent of the skunk obliterates that of the hootch, and officers are unable to locate the stills. Of course, if an odoriferous animal happens to fall into the mash it only serves to increase the flavor of the forbidden beverage.

MAKING COUNTRY LIFE POPULAR

There is something inspiring about achievement. When you journey to some famous city and see wonderful buildings, fine artistic homes, a tremendous fabric of commerce and industry, you are incited to go back and try to do something yourself along the line of attainment. And the way to success is always open to those who know how to play the game.

Fortune does not come by luck, not usually. Success comes from play, the reorganized game of business, taking advantage of economic law, giving the people some better service than they had before.

The pages of any well circulated magazine or newspaper will give the ambitious man hints about the way of business. In the magazines he will see the notices of products that have been boomed by advertising. He will note many articles whose name has become a household word, all thru the power of publicity. A few years ago the producers of these articles may have been obscure men. But they had faith to go ahead and promote their products through publicity, and a great harvest has resulted.

So it is in the use of publicity in the newspaper field. You will find many wonderful successes in retail trade that have been produced by advertising. If you could look back a number of years you could find in many cases that these firms were unknown or non-existent, or only starting in a small way.

Their owners were students of human nature. They knew that if a concern kept its name and its business before the eyes of the people, if it constantly told about the things it was selling, it would arouse public interest and get more than its share of trade. When people get that idea and advertise intelligently and give good stuff, success is sure to come as anything can be in this world of change. It is a short path to success, and the door is always open to newcomers.

A taxpayer in Henry county writes the Henry County Local, as follows: "If taxes indicate prosperity, I am accumulating wealth at an alarming rate. For instance, my taxes, State and county, in 1915 were ..... $ 5.75

1916 were ..... 8.03
1917 were ..... 12.00
1918 (added 3 rooms to my house) ..... 25.85
1921 were ..... 36.30
1922 were ..... 39.90

All this for a half acre of ground in Lockport, Ky., I want to sell out."

A frog that barks like a dog and squeals like a pig has been discovered in Santo Domingo. In pre-Volstead days such a critter would have been a common sight in any American barroom.

One inexplicable thing about the election returns is why the newspapers should have listed Senator Reed's re-election among the Democratic victories.

Only brilliant people can afford to look bored.

SUNRISE

The result of Tuesday's elections, hardly less impressive than the result of the national elections two years ago, is impressive more as a Republican defeat than as a Democrat victory. Its significance is not as a demonstration of confidence in the Democrats but of condemnation of the Republicans, or of those Republicans who have administered the Government since the 4th of March, 1921. Returning a verdict on the record of the Republican party since it assumed national power, the electorate of the country has adjudged the Republican party as deserving a beating and has used the Democratic party as the available club with which to administer the beating.

And a thorough beating it is. A tremendous Republican majority in the House of Representatives has been all but wiped out, while the Republican majority in the Senate has been cut down to an extent that had not been dreamed of by either party in the campaign.

Caldwell, a member of the Senate Finance Committee and a leader in the drafting and enactment of the Fordney-McCumber Tariff Bill, has been routed by a Democrat. The upsurge in his State has turned out one of the best Governors New York has ever had, powerless, with all his merit and ability, to withstand the forces against the Washington regime that have swept New York, like the rest of the country; forces which it is apparent would have proved calamitous in the State even if the Democrats had been led by a man less strong than Smith, who by his defiance of Hearst and the sinister influences of his party made a powerful and effective appeal to public confidence.

From Delaware once more comes a Bayard to the Senate, to take the place of a moneyed lobbyist of the subsidized interests.

Indiana replaces with a Democrat, Senator New, one of President Harding's most loyal supporters.

Iowa sends to the Senate Brookhart, Republican in name only, who made his winning contest in direct, strenuous opposition to the Harding policies.

All of Senator France's money could not save him in Maryland and a Democrat is to succeed him.

Frelinghuysen, the President's special champion and spokesman, has been snowed under in New Jersey by a Democrat.

McCumber, who gave his name and political life to the Administration's tariff inquiry, leaves a vacant seat for a Democrat.

Ohio's great majority for her "favorite son" two years is dispelled, a Republican Senator managing to squeeze through, but the President's particular protegee being engulfed in the contest for Governor.

West Virginia expels Sutherland from the Senate to put in a Democrat.

Michigan washes her hands of Senator Townsend, the consistent and persistent advocate of Newberry, and for the first time since the organization of the Republican party commissions a Democrat to the U. S. Senate.

And Massachusetts—glory be!—Massachusetts manifests her appreciation of Henry Cabot Lodge by treating him as if he were the villain of a movie slapstick "comedy." She biffs and bumps him from pillar to post, from the roof to the cellar. Heaves him into the lime vat; and then, pinning the rose of his little 1,500 majority on what is left of his coat, sets him back in his Senate seat, the sorriest of figures, all that remains of him who but yesterday posed as the all-puissant leader of the "most august deliberative body in the world."

Even this poor consolation would not have been left to Lodge if the counterfeited Democrats of the Walsh machine had opposed him with real Democratic whom Republicans who gagged at Lodge and his foreign policy could have voted for without holding their noses.

Or were it in question of the rebuke or its nature. The rebuke in blasting and its meaning cannot be blinked even by the most short-sighted. The country has turned against the Administration because the Administration has not done what it should have done and has done what it should not have done. It has belied Charles Evans Hughes' promise that it would pursue an enlightened foreign policy. Making campaign claims that it has fully redeemed its promises, it has kept none of them except to a favored class at the expense of the unfavored and unclassical. Instead of the reduction of the masses it has piled upon them billions of additional taxes by means of the highest tariff in the history of American high tariffs. Boasting that the Republican party is the only party capable of attending to the business of the nation, it has frittered away the lives of two Congresses without leadership and without achievement except in the provision of favors to its masters, its one further known purpose being to provide favors for the Shipping Trust.

If the showing of this election cannot stir the Administration out of its fatuousness it is, of course, hopeless. But even before the election it had been exhibiting signs of dissatisfaction with the Lodge policy of aloofness to which it has adhered. If, failing to read the meaning of the election, it shall still adhere to that policy, the abolition of the policy is only postponed until the people have a chance to abolish the Administration.

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

AH TO! KUNL BOB AHS
JES' THIRTY-FO' YEAH
OLE, BUT HE 'LOW
DEY CAIN' NO NIGGUH IN DE WORL' EVUH GIT EZ
UGLY EZ AH IS IN DAT
SHAWT A TIME!!

Copyright, 1921 by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

Lips cracked and sore?
MENTHOLATUM
quickly heals them.

If the Administration cannot read that meaning of the election returns the country can read it. For whether Washington can see it or not, the sun that rose on Wednesday morning shone on an America taking the first step toward a resumption of its place in the world of men and affairs.

As for the Democrats, they should draw no false conclusions from Tuesday's storm. They have done little in the present Congress, except to fight the tariff outrage, to prove their worth. They have been too weak to cut much figure, one way or another.

But they will be strong in the new Congress, and the manner in which they employ their strength will mark the measure of their right to appeal to the country two years hence on their own merits rather than on the demerits of their antagonists.—Courier-Journal.

DON'T SHOOT.

Don't hunt off your own land without license.

Don't shoot without this year's hunting license.

Don't shoot doves before September 1st nor after December 15th.

Don't kill more than 15 doves in one day.

Don't shoot quail before November 15th nor after January 1st.

Don't kill more than 12 quail in one day.

Don't shoot squirrel before July 1st nor after December 15th.

Don't kill woodcock before November 15th nor after January 1st.

Don't kill more than six woodcock in one day.

Don't kill wild turkey, imported pheasants or Hungarian partridges before November 15th, 1924.

Don't shoot, buy or sell rabbits before November 15th nor after January 1st.

Don't snare rabbits at any time.

Don't hunt, pursue, chase, catch, kill, injure or molest any deer before November 15th, 1925.

Don't kill any wild duck, wild geese or jacksnipe before September 15th nor after January 1st.

Don't set steel traps before November 15th nor after January 1st.

Don't set traps before October 1st nor after February 15th.

Don't kill any wood duck, elder duck, or swan at any time.

Don't kill trap nor have in your possession at any time any song or insectivorous birds.

Don't wait until November 15th to buy your hunter's license.

DO IT NOW.

Don't kill all the quail in a covey—leave some for seed.

Don't forget to feed the birds during the winter.

Don't fail to notify your Local Warden or this Department of those who violate the law.

A fellow who hunts without a license is a cheater—see that he obeys the law.

R. S. TUTTLE, Executive Agt., Game and Fish Commission, Frankfort, Ky.

FARM PHILOSOPHY.

Though we've moved ahead from ox-carts to motor cars since the Civil War, yet we can't seem to train the oldtime dorky to carry a safety razor.

Some people are born to ill luck. An old woman, who has passed nearly five thousand medical recipes in a book during the past 48 years, has never been ill a day, and she is growing discouraged.

Hills of rhubarb may be placed in the cellar for winter forcing. They'll give tender stalks if planted in moist ashes and kept at growing temperature.

Mr. Farmer

BUY WHERE YOUR DOLLAR GOES
THE FARTHEREST

If you intend to lay in a supply of Groceries for the winter.

If you want value for every penny expended.

If you want Quality Goods that are guaranteed to give satisfaction.

If you want Price, Quality and Service—

REMEMBER

That HILL sells to the farmer at WHOLESALE PRICES. Send us your order or better still, drop in and see us.

Big Sandy Sorghum Molasses

Clear in color and heavy in body.
5 Gallon Cans.....$5.00

RARUS FLOUR

The fully guaranteed finest Patent Soft Winter Wheat Flour. Ask your neighbor.

Northern Kentucky's } LEADING GROCERS
AND SEEDSMEN.

GEO. W. HILL & CO.
27-29 Pike St. - 24 W 7th St. COOK, KY.
De A Hill Customer - It Pays -
Dealers - Societies - Wholesale and Retail

VULCANIZING.

Complete line of Goodyear, Goodrich and Kelly-Springfield Tires and Tubes, good Grade of Automobile and Tractor Oils and Greases.

Auto Accessories kept in stock.

GEORGE PORTER,
BURLINGTON, KY.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN,
DENTIST

In my new office
Clayola Place, Florence, Ky.
Teeth extracted painless. Bridge and Plate Work a Specialty.
All Work Guaranteed

JAMES L. ADAMS
DENTIST

Cohen Building
Pike Street, Covington, Ky.

F. W. Kassebaum & Son
GRANITE & MARBLE
MONUMENTS,

A Large Stock on Display to Select from.

Pneumatic Tool Equipme't
118 Main Street,
AURORA, IND.

Isinglass Replaced, Cushions and Backs Rebuilt

Buggy and Wagon Upholstering

OF QUALITY

RUFUS W. TANNER

Auto Top Repairing
Seats covers for all makes of cars.
Dixie Highway Erlanger, Ky.
Phone Erl. 79-Y.

People who use the classified ads in this paper profit by them. The little ads bring quick results. What have you for sale or want to buy. The cost is too small to consider.

C. H. YUELL

Farms for Sale

At Bargain Prices.

Burlington, Ky.

Phone Burlington 65

Take Your County Paper.

Subscribe For The Recorder.....$1.50 per year

BOONE CO. RECORDER

Published every Thursday
N. E. RIDDELL, Publisher.

Foreign Advertising Representative
THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION
Entered at the Postoffice, Burlington, Ky., as second-class mail.

The Recorder Stands For
BETTER FARMING, BETTER CITIZENS, BETTER HOMES"

ADVERTISING RATES.
Furnished on application. The value of the RECORDER as an advertising medium is unquestioned. The character of the advertisements now in its columns, and the number of them, tell the whole story.

The love of woman is past understanding—when bestowed upon some men.

Listen to the man who brags. It is the only way he can make himself heard.

Washington State provided 59,328 men to all branches of service in the World War.

The fellow who gets what he wants is seldom satisfied. It isn't just as he wants it.

Avoid the clinging girl, fellows. She'll be a hard one to shake off after marriage.

Don't gamble. You cannot afford to rob the loser and he can not afford to rob his family.

There are two sides to every question, but the milk of the coconut is always in the middle.

People who laboriously climb to the top don't find so much trouble in sliding down again.

It's fortunate we can't have everything we want. There'd be no joy left in anticipation.

The side stepping politician frequently steps directly under the wheels of the handwagon.

Bad milk can be detected over the telephone by means of a newly designed electrical apparatus.

Many people are judged by their associates, and likewise by those who decline to associate with them.

Take the kids in when they ask for automobile rides. It might hurt them to walk a quarter of mile.

Russia has promised Turkey her moral support—which means that Turkey will remain unsupported.

Alderman of the city of London may not retire voluntarily from office without paying a fine of $5.

'Nothing thing needed in this country is fewer "chickens" on the boulevards and more poultry in the back yard.

Music may be sweet, but not so much as the silence that falls over the country after a political campaign.

The disappearing looks of the leaders of fashion bother the short skirted girls more than the chill winds of winter.

Some folks claim the barbers charge too much, but we can all get Mother to cut off our waving locks for nothing.

The dressmakers say this is a colorful season, but the cheeks of many of the girls suggest they are overdoing the idea.

Anyway the women won't have to spend quite so much time darning stockings when the long skirts become universal.

Might be a good idea for the income tax dodgers to pick out a good comfortable cell in the federal jail before the rush comes.

Splendid time to buy Christmas presents, now, but most people prefer the tag ends of the stock the week before the holiday.

The politicians say the country is ruined if the election goes against them, but do not usually emigrate when that result happens.

The ditches along the automobile roads not merely serve to carry off the water, but they form a soft spot for the automobile speeders to land in.

These men who seek a corset effect in their clothes should make the picture complete by wearing lace edging on the bottoms of their trousers.

Long shirts may not be any more appropriate, but they help the manufacture induce the women folks to throw away their garments and buy new.

It is pretty difficult to remove the barriers of misunderstanding between nations, but anybody can take down the rickety looking old fences that disfigure some of the back yards of Burlington.

MAKINK COUNTRY LIFE POPULAR.

In some progressive rural communities, they call in October or November a meeting at which they plan out the activities of the town for the winter.

They look over their social undertakings and decide that certain forms of activity are essential to make a well rounded community life. They need a dramatic club, for instance. There are young people who have a talent for putting on plays and merely need a little leadership. If no provision is made for them, they will be restless all winter. The result may be that by another year their discontent may have become so active that they have gone off to some larger place.

But if these young folks are incited to go ahead and get up two or three plays, the whole current of their thought for that season is modified. Their ambition has found an outlet. They have a good time, and decide that their old burg, which they had been looking at with some contempt, is a mighty fine place after all. Their undertaking has broadened their powers, given them self confidence. They begin to look at their home town in a new light, and feel that it could advance in many ways and become an ideal place to live in.

Such a meeting as that described will decide what forms of activity are needed and will appoint committees to promote them. Some of these efforts may fizzle out. But others succeed, they give people an outlet for talent, they create wholesome diversions, and they brighten up a community amazingly. Where the winter had been regarded as a season promising but little enjoyment, it is found to be full of pleasant life and interesting experiences. Helpful social activities like dramatic clubs, musical and literary clubs, well managed dances, indoor games, make a world of difference in a country town. Perhaps our folks in Burlington need such a movement to plan out well rounded social activities for the season of 1922-1923.

OHIO AND THE PRESIDENT

Whatever the general result of Tuesday's balloting, it can not be said that Ohio has repudiated the President.

It is true that the Democrats have elected their candidate for Governor. But on the other hand Ohio is sending a Republican to replace Atlee Pomerene in the Senate. And this State will have more Republicans in the next House than it had in the House which was elected in 1918—a Republican year.

Taken as a partisan matter, and in view of the predictions in newspaper polls and elsewhere of a Democratic landslide in Ohio, the election returns in this State are distinctly encouraging to Republicans. Of course the wet and dry question beclouded the issue to a certain extent. In the cities Republicans voted for Democrats at the top of the State ticket because the Republican candidates for Governor and Senator were regarded as dry. In the rural districts the reverse was true.

Atlee Pomerene will retire to private life with the admiration and respect of every fair-minded man and woman who has followed his career in the Senate.

Senator Pomerene has been described, and without justice, as the strongest man in the Democratic party. If he had won by a large majority Tuesday, he would have been one of the candidates—perhaps the favorite candidate—for the Democratic Presidential nomination in 1924.

But politics, like history, regards no other virtue as the equal of the great virtue of success. That Senator Pomerene should have been beaten by Dr. Fess was not surprising in itself. The new Senator-elect from Ohio is himself a man of great courage and ability, as well as one of the ablest campaigners in American public life. But the Pomerene should have trailed along in the voting behind Vice Donahay is one of the posterous things that happen occasionally in American politics.—Times-Star.

STATE TO HAVE EXHIBIT AT CHICAGO EXPOSITION

Lexington, Ky.—Kentucky is to have a creditable exhibit of its agricultural products in the Great International Grain and Livestock Exposition which opens at Chicago December 2.

Through the liberality of Judge Robert W. Bingham of Louisville and other prominent citizens interested in the movement, Geo. D. Karsner, widely known grain expert here, has been authorized to assemble exhibits, comprising corn, wheat, field seeds, hemp and tobacco and take it to Chicago as the State's official display.

Efforts are being made to have the Kentucky Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association to loan some fine samples of its various grades of burley tobacco to add to the magnitude of the exhibit.

A man who had been shot in the leg was arrested in New York for holding up traffic. The only way for avoiding being arrested in a New York shooting scrape is to be the man who does the shooting.

Slam is one of the few monarchies of the tropics.

CATARRH

Catarrh is a Local disease greatly influenced by Constitutional conditions. HAL'S CATARRH MEDICINE consists of an Ointment which gives Quick Relief by local application, and the Internal Medicine, a Tonic, which acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surface and assists in ridding your System of Catarrh.

Sold by druggists for over 40 Years.

F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.

PENDLETON COUNTY.

(Falmouth Outlook)

The only thing that has never evolved, is the long-haired reformer.

He is the same today as he was six thousand years ago. If he was made from the dust of the earth, it must have come from the swamps. If he descended from the monkey it must have been from one that had been disappointed in love.

Good roads mean good farmers, with good buildings, good grade, and registered stock, a prosperous, intelligent and happy people. Bad roads or mud roads mean a one-gallus farmer, wearing a con-skin cap and raising razorback hogs, lousy calves, dissatisfied people, and the boys and girls leaving the farm for the cities as soon as they are grown.

It is reported that one of our newly married ladies in town kneads bread with her gloves on. This incident may be somewhat peculiar, but there are many such. The columnar paper needs bread with his shirt on, and unless he gets a raise of a German mark in his salary he will need bread without a shirt on, and this is no Garden of Eden in the winter time.

The drouth has continued in Pendleton county until it has become distressing to say the least. We have not had a rain since the latter part of May that filled the creeks or wet the ground down to any considerable depth. Most all the creeks in the county are dry as a bone, and only springs here and there are running any water; cisterns are giving out and wells are failing. Many of our farmers on the ridges are out of both stock and drinking water, and are hauling water or driving their stock a great distance. This condition should be a severe lesson to our people, and they should guard against this in the future by digging ponds or wells.

EPIDEMIC JAUNDICE

Last winter an epidemic form of jaundice known as Weil's disease was observed in many parts of the country, and the medical and health journals since then have occasionally reported cases of it. Probably it is the same disease that was first described a century ago in Minorca and that later was observed in Japan and in Europe, especially among troops in the Great War. Possibly our returning army may have brought it back with them.

The disease begins suddenly with light chills, high fever, dizziness, prostration, a feeling of faintness, colic and diarrhoea. After a few days jaundice appears, but usually it is not intense; then the patient becomes weaker and seems to be very ill. The tongue and lips are covered with blackish fur such as you see in cases of prolonged typhoid fever; the patient is frequently sick at the stomach and occasionally vomits. Hiccups and stiff neck and pains in the joints are not uncommon; nose-bleed and hemorrhage from the lungs or from the stomach may occur; black-and-blue spots may appear on various parts of the skin. Signs of inflammation of the kidneys are often present. The eyes become red and are sensitive to the light. At the end of a week or ten days the fever breaks, and the patient recovers; but convalescence is greatly prolonged; many weeks may pass before he recovers his health and strength.

A microscopic animal organism similar to that which causes yellow fever causes epidemic jaundice. Indeed, the symptoms of the two diseases do not differ much; yellow fever, however, is much the severer and is generally fatal. In spite of the apparent gravity of the symptoms, epidemic jaundice is seldom fatal in this country and in Europe; but it is said that in Japan almost one third of the persons who suffer with it die. The infecting germ is found in rats as well as in man and is believed to enter the body of the sufferer through the skin of the feet or of the hands when they are brought into contact with earth soiled with the discharges of the infected rat or person. There is no known cure for the disease; the treatment is directed to alleviate the symptoms as they arise.

A New York man was financing a scheme to sell gasoline at 2 cents a gallon was arrested for obtaining money under false pretenses. What about the men who are selling it at 22 cents a gallon and declaring 400 per cent dividends?

Commissioner's Notice.

Boone Circuit Court.
W. L. Cropper, Adm of
John W. Hill dec'd etc Plaintiff
vs. Notice to Claimants
Laura Hill, etc., Defendants
All persons having claims of any kind against the estate of John W. Hill, dec'd., and not heretofore presented to me in this case will file and present same to me properly proven at my office in Burlington, Ky., on or before December 4th, 1922.
R. E. BERKSHIRE, M. C.

Trade Where They All Trade

$25.00 Cash Prize

to the owner of the oldest DeLaval Cream Separator. If you have an old DeLaval still in use send us the serial number, the size and date of purchase if possible, also state what service you have had from same.

This is a very simple and easy matter and if you have the oldest machine in Kentucky you will receive a cash prize of

$25.00

Sooner or later you will use a DeLaval. All hand sizes on hand, and will BE GLAD TO DEMONSTRATE.

Send us your orders for anything and be convinced that we can save you money.

Geo. C. Goode
GROCER & SEEDSMAN

19-21 Pike St.

18-20 West Seventh St.

WHOLESALE—"Covington's Largest Seed and Grocery House"—RETAIL

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Phones South 838 and 336.

Any Make of Battery
RECHARGED
75c

Rentals for any make of car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.

Dempsey Motor Car Co.,
Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

Tutt's Pills

Induce regular habit, good digestion, relieve the dyspeptic and debilitated and tone up the system

AGAINST MALARIA

FERTILITY WORTH MILLIONS
LEAVES SOILS IN LEAF CROP

Lexington, Ky.—Close to $6,000,000 worth of soil fertility will be taken away from Kentucky farms when the state's estimated 1922 crop of 500,000,000 pounds of tobacco is marketed, according to R. E. Stephenson, soils specialist of the College of Agriculture. This is a heavy drain on the fertility of the state's farms that takes away plant food worth more than twice the amount that is returned in commercial fertilizers. Stalks that are produced along with the leaf crop make good fertilizer and if they are used carefully will help considerably toward checking the annual drain on soils that grow tobacco, Mr. Stephenson says.

A total of 150,000,000 pounds of tobacco stalks, or 75,000 tons, are produced along with a crop of 500,000,000 pounds of leaf. Figured at the cost of commercial fertilizers, the value of the nitrogen, potash and phosphorus taken from the soil by a ton of stalks alone is worth $18. At this rate, the 75,000 tons of stalks produced in the state this year contain fertilizer worth $1,350,000. This makes the value of the stalks greater than the commercial fertilizer used on the tobacco crop.

Tobacco is especially rich in nitrogen and potash and therefore it makes a good supplement for phosphate fertilizers. A ton of the stalks contains about as much nitrogen and potash as eight tons of stable manure. They should, therefore, be spread over as large an area as possible when being used on the farm. The stalks also are excellent for top dressing young grass or small grain in the spring.

Both the nitrogen and the potash in tobacco is quite soluble and leaches away easily. When the stalks are left in piles exposed to the weather there is, therefore, a considerable waste of fertilizer. The fact that they contain about $18 worth of plant food to the ton makes it important that they be taken care of so that their value will not be destroyed during the winter. Storing the stalks in a shed until spread on the field is the best means of making sure that none of the fertility which they contain will be wasted.

Keep Your Feet Dry

Nothing like a pair of "Ball-Band" Arctics for keeping your feet dry and warm in the very worst weather. You can laugh at freezing cold, deep snow, slush and mud if you wear "Ball-Band."

"BALL-BAND"

"Ball-Band" Arctics save you money by protecting your leather shoes from destructive soakings, too.

Ten million people look for the Red Ball Trade Mark when they buy Rubber Footwear. Make your choice of styles from our complete assortment of "Ball-Band."

H. S. Anderson

RISING SUN, INDIANA.

Dodge Brothers

ANNOUNCE

A BUSINESS COUPE

Conservative changes in the body design of all other types.

Roadster.....$ 920
Coupe..... 1,063
Touring Car. 955
Sedan..... 1,550

Dempsey Motor Car Company

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY

Phone Erlanger, 70-L

SPECIAL
Saturday, Nov. 18
Elsie Ferguson and Wallace Reid in
"Forever"
Admission 28c-10c

FREE SHOW
Tuesday, Nov. 21
We celebrate our Anniversary with Constance Talmage in Experimental Marriage
Also Ruth Roland in
"The Timber Queen"
EVERYBODY WELCOME

Florence, Ky., Theatre

NONPARIEL PARK

Vernie Chipman has been ill the past week.
Master Frank Cravens has been ill the past week.
Russell Corbin, of Carthage, Ohio, spent the week-end with home folks.
Mrs. Harvey Mitchell, of Franklin, Ohio, is the guest of relatives here.
Mrs. L. P. Aylor and daughter have been ill the past week with tonsillitis.
John Tucker is building a 4-room bungalow on his baby farm in Nonpareil Park.
A large crowd attended the Albert Fisk sale Tuesday afternoon. Everything sold well.
Paul Renaker has returned home from Dry Ridge, where he had been visiting relatives.
Miss Anna Carlton spent Tuesday in Covington, guest of Mrs. Bradley Sayre and family.
Miss Mamie Robinson, of Richmond, was the guest Thursday of Mrs. Eva Renaker.
Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Norman, of Covington, were Sunday guests of J. O. Carpenter and wife.
Ben Frank Bristow and wife, of Devon, attended Baptist church at Florence, Sunday morning.
The many friends hear of Edward Snyder regret very much to hear of his being ill with tonsillitis.
Rev. Wilford Mitchell and wife attended the funeral last week of Mr. Applegate of Maysville, Ky.
Miss Alberta Stephens and Mrs. Ezra Wilhoit spent Tuesday afternoon with relatives in Erlanger.
Miss Martha Williams spent the week-end with her aunts, Mrs. Martha Bradford and Bessie Talbot.
Miss Josie Freeman and mother spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Aldridge, of Covington.
J. P. Boye and wife of the Dixie Highway, spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Boye, of Erlanger.
Prayer meeting Wednesday night at the Baptist church at 7:30. Leader, A. S. Lucas. Subject "Book of Life."
R. T. Renaker has returned home after a two week's visit with Rev. Wilford Mitchell and wife at Mt. Carmel, Ky.
Mrs. Bertha Fullilove, of Erlanger, was the guest Friday afternoon of Mrs. Chas. Chipman of the Dixie Highway.
John P. Crouch and wife, of Covington, spent the week-end with C. W. Myers and family and other relatives here.
Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Baird, of Erlanger, were Sunday afternoon guests of Mrs. Chas. Chipman of Dixie Highway.
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Betts, of Cincinnati, attended the Armistice Day exercises at Florence and called on friends here.
Chas. Chipman, of Dixie Highway, spent several days the past week at Williamstown, Grant county, attending court there Monday.
Mrs. E. Bauers ad sons had for guests Sunday James Brown and family, Homer McCrander and family and friends of Cincinnati.
Mrs. Carrie Carpenter and son Edward, were called last week to Maysville, Ky., on account of the death of Mr. Applegate there.
Mrs. Claud Caldwell and son have returned to their home in Covington after a week's visit with Ezra Wilhoit and wife, of Nonpareil Park.
Fresie O'Connor, Miss Nora Cahill and Mrs. Jerry Conrad, were guests Saturday afternoon of Elmer Cahill and wife, of Dixie Highway.
Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Houston entertained at dinner Sunday her father, John Meiman, Miss Gertrude Meiman and Joe Meiman, of Erlanger.
Paul Aydelotte of Louisville, returned to his home here after several months stay, and will spend the winter with his father, Wm. Aydelotte.
Dr. Frank Sayre and wife had for guests Sunday Miss Minnie Myke, of Cincinnati, Rev. Dennis and daughter Helen, and a lady friend of Georgia.
Mrs. Harry Dinn, of Hebron, entertained Wednesday her mother, Mrs. M. Beemon and two daughters, Mrs. Blackburn and two children and Mrs. Lottie Wingate.
Jack Schaffer and wife, of Cincinnati, were guests Sunday of her parents, Edward Snyder and wife, and attended the surprise dinner to J. G. Renaker and wife.
Mrs. Dora Cole has returned to her home in Columbia, Ohio, after a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. A. M. Yealey and family of Main-st.
Rev. Dennis and daughter of Salva, Georgia, were called here the past week by the death of his wife, which occurred at the home of Dr. T. B. Castleman last Sunday night.

This scribe received a letter last week stating that Chas. Corbin, Clarence Carpenter and Johnnie Veiman enjoyed a three days stop over at Spring Place, Ga., on their way to Florida, where they were entertained by the Misses Inez and Rouse, formerly of Boone county, and also their friend Miss Lucy Kemp.
The sudden death of Mrs. Jennie Dennis was a shock to this community last Sunday night at the home of Dr. T. B. Castleman and wife. She had been in poor health for several years, but nothing serious. She leaves a husband, Rev. C. Dennis and one daughter of Georgia. The funeral took place Wednesday afternoon at the home of Dr. Castleman. The floral pieces were beautiful. The family have the sympathy of the community. Philip Taliaferro, undertaker, had charge of the funeral arrangements.
The friends of J. G. Renaker and wife surprised them Sunday when about fifty came with well filled baskets, and at the noon hour a lovely dinner was spread on tables in the beautiful yard. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Perry Barlow and daughter Rosa, Mr. and Mrs. John Surface, Mr. and Mrs. James Tanner, Edward Bentham and daughter, Rev. Royer wife and daughter Mabel, William Brown and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Cahill and daughter Minnie, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Blankenbaker and daughter, Irene, Ernest Horton and wife and daughter Irene, Mrs. Davis Jack Schaffer and wife, Tanner Garnett and wife and daughter, Miss Hattie May Bradford, Miss Steph- ens, Eva Renaker, Minnie Robinson, Marie Jetter, Ora Dobbins, Ruth Hill and daughter Cahill, Mrs. Chas. Scott and daughter Lucile, Jack Renaker, Lon Renaker, Paul Renaker, R. T. Renaker. All enjoyed the day.

PETERSBURG.
Mrs. Amanda Jarrell has been ill the past week.
Mrs. W. T. Evans is quite poorly at this writing.
Frank Geisler has his new garage completed.
Charlie Shinkle put a new roof on his barn last week.
Several farmers are hauling corn over the river.
G. B. Yates bought a fresh cow from Cam White last Friday.
Bud Moreland, of Aurora, spent Sunday with his family here.
Pratt Holloway has his new automobile completed. It is a dandy.
J. C. Bailey of Ohio, was here Sunday looking after his cemetery lot.
Pratt Holloway is having a new garage built on his lot. John Geisler, builder.
Mrs. Milton McWethy spent last week with her brothers in Rising Sun, Ind.
The coal the Petersburg Coal Co. has in their yard is giving entire satisfaction.
Several from here attended the Armistice day exercises at Florence, last Saturday.
Walter Rector and family moved from town to their farm on Gunpowder, last Thursday.
Doc House will take possession of the house he purchased of Walter Rector in a few days.
Who said there were no Democrats in old Kentucky. We know there was in the Sixth Congressional District.
John Wilson and wife from down in the bottoms, were guests of the latter's mother, Mrs. Jennie Jones, last Sunday.
Some of our good poultrymen will be heard from at the Corn and Poultry Show to be held at Florence next Wednesday and Thursday. It seems that a great many of our folks will declare a two day holiday and join in this rustic celebration.
We received news Sunday of the death of Henry Gordon, of South Norwood, Cincinnati, Saturday evening after a few days illness of blood poison and pneumonia. He was the son of W. R. Gordon of this place. He leaves a widow and three children to mourn his death. The funeral was held at his home Tuesday at 11 o'clock a. m. Burial in the Petersburg cemetery.

FLICKERTOWN.
Mrs. B. F. Akin was quite ill last week.
Wm. White and wife visited at M. Voshell's Sunday.
Herbert Snyder called on his brother James Sunday.
The Ladies Aid met with Mrs. J. W. White last Tuesday.
Mr. and Mrs. Jess Holt entertained Saturday night with a party.
Edward, Bert and Wm. Berkshire were fishing on Woolper Saturday.
Lewis Hensley and family will move to this locality in the spring.
J. W. White and wife called on Ed. Berkshire and family, Saturday.
Mr. Kettle and wife of the city, called on Jess Holt Saturday night and Sunday.
Mrs. B. F. Akin and daughter Hazel called on Mrs. Henry Deck, last Friday.
Miss Alice White visited her cousins in Lawrenceburg, Indiana, from Friday until Monday.
Mr. Clark Nowlin wife and two daughters of Ft. Mitchell, Roy Mullens and sons and Carl Mullens of Newport, were Sunday guests of J. W. White and wife.

Dance
Friday Night,
Nov. 17, 1922
At Florence Theatre
Aicheles - Jazz - Band
Gents $1.10. (Including Tax)
Ladies Free.
Dancing from 8:00 to 12:00.

IDLEWILD.
A light shower fell here Sunday night.
Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Martin spent Armistice Day in Florence.
Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stephens are housekeeping in Petersburg.
Mrs. J. W. Campbell returned Friday from Cynthia, where she was delegate to the W. M. U.
R. E. Grant is supplying the neighborhood with an excellent quality of fresh beef and pork.
A. H. Norman spent Sunday in Union with his sister, Mrs. W. M. Rachal, Sr., and Mr. Rachal.
A new concrete porch and coat of paint has added much to the appearance of the Holliday cottage.
Miss Maud Norman Asbury, of Paris, G. O. Asbury, of Maysville, C. T. Asbury and son Charles, of Lexington, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Asbury.
Mrs. J. T. Gaines entertained a dozen congenial friends at dinner Friday night to meet Miss Mary Roberts, of Covington, who has been her house guest the past week.
Mrs. Geo. Kreylich is spending this week in Washington, D. C., enjoying the sights of that beautiful city, and also attending the Eastern Star Convention in session there.

BEECH GROVE.
Miss Elizabeth Ryle was the guest of Miss Lutie Ryle, last Friday night.
Clyde Akin and family were the guests of Kirby Clore and family, Sunday.
Mrs. Raymond Hightower and daughter spent Sunday with relatives at McVillie.
Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Pope were guests of James Jones and family, near Locust Grove, Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bagby and son Jesse Lee, and Mrs. Alice Marshall, were guests of Mat Ryle and family, Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery Williamson were guests of their son Ray and family, Friday and Saturday of last week.
Mr. and Mrs. Don Williamson had as guests last Wednesday G. A. Ryle and wife, David Williamson and wife and Mrs. Manley Ryle.
A pie social was given at Beech Grove school house last Friday night. The proceeds will be used to purchase song books for the school.

BELLEVIEW
T. Z. Roberts spent Sunday with T. B. Cason and sister.
J. J. Maurer was piloting on the steamer Midred last week.
Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Rector have moved to Rising Sun, Indiana.
C. S. Smith visited his daughter, Mrs. Joe Wilson, near Union, last week.
Mrs. H. D. Brady and son Joseph, spent Sunday with Mrs. J. G. Smith and son Julius.
Mrs. C. S. Smith is visiting her daughter Mrs. Dolpha Seebree, near Locust Grove.
H. D. Brady and family have moved to the farm of R. A. Enzweiler on Middle creek.
Mrs. Lee Waters and children, of Aurora, Ind., are visiting her sister, Mrs. Patty Smith.
Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Sinke, of Chicago, Ill., are visiting his sister, Mrs. C. A. Berkshire.
Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Stephens entertained the young people with a party last Friday night.
Joshua and G. W. Rice have returned home after a lengthy visit with relatives in Illinois.
Ralph Cason and family spent last Sunday with his brother, C. Cason and family, near Burlington.
W. E. Yelton, who purchased the stock of merchandise recently of Maurer & Ryle, moved his family here last week.
Mrs. K. K. Berkshire visited her brothers H. M. and B. W. Clore and families, in Rabbit Hash neighborhood, last week.
John Kipp and family, Charles White and family, and D. C. Pope and family, were Sunday guests of T. W. Cook and family.
Mrs. Edgar Berkshire entertained the Ladies Aid of the Bellevue Christian church last Thursday at her home on the Bellevue and Burlington pike.
Children and grand-children to the number of forty gathered at the home of Mrs. Georgia Louden last Sunday and celebrated her sixty-eighth birthday.
Beginning Sunday night Nov. 19, there will be services at Bellevue Christian church for one week. Rev. R. H. Erlanger, will conduct these services assisted by Rev. C. Omer. You are invited to each of these services.

Perhaps the straight and narrow path is hard to find because it is overgrown with weeds.

LABOR WANTED
WORK CLOSE TO HOME.
Come at once and see us.

LUMBER
FOR SALE

We have rough lumber only—mostly Oak and Poplar, suitable for building barns; also narrow strips for fencing. 2"-3" Tobacco Strips.

H. T. WHITSON LUMBER CO.
Erlanger, Ky.

MAKE A START
By Doing Your Christmas Shopping Now.

No need to tell you the many advantages of doing your Christmas Shopping early—before salespeople become tired out, before the store is crowded, while merchandise is at its freshest—you know all this.

The difficulty is just to get started, isn't it?

Well, why not sit down right now; make out a gift list and come down to the store tomorrow, resolved to choose at least One Christmas Gift. "Once begun, half done" is a true old saying.

Coppin's
COVINGTON
Northern Kentucky's Greatest Store

CEMENT IS PRODUCT OF FIERY FURNACE
Fierce Heat Required to Fuse Raw Materials

TREMEMDOUS forward strides in American industry have developed in each branch some particular spectacular phase that illustrates graphically this development.

In steel manufacture it is the operation of the open hearth and blast furnace. In the manufacture of glass it is the glass blower who holds the interest. Shipbuilding finds its focal point in the launching of some ocean greyhound. In the manufacture of Portland cement it is the super-heating of finely ground material in gigantic kilns.

Kilns Tail as Twenty-story Building.
The accompanying illustration shows one end of a kiln used in modern cement plants. In many cases its weight will exceed 275,000 pounds, empty. The foundations that support it are heavy enough to hold a ten-story building. One of the largest kilns, if set on end, would be as tall as a twenty-story office building and a touring car could run through it with room to spare. Not only in massive proportions is the kiln of interest. A greater degree of heat is required in the operation of these kilns than in most any other industrial process.

"Like Looking at Sun."
Where the materials enter the kiln the temperature is approximately 1,000 degrees Fahrenheit. By the time the powdered material has completed its three-hour journey through the 125 feet or more of brick-lined "furnace," the heat has reached anywhere from 2,500 to 3,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

The workman watching through his peephole in the end of the kiln must wear smoked glasses. It is like looking at the sun. In a large plant a dozen or more of these kilns roar and revolve side by side in one great room. Estimating a single kiln's output at 25 barrels an hour, it would mean that nearly 5,000 pounds of pulverized coal had been blown into it to provide the tremendous heat necessary. It requires 200 pounds of this specially prepared coal to manufacture a single barrel of cement weighing 375 pounds.

Sinking Mine Shafts.
In the cementation process of sinking mine shafts through water bearing grounds, holes are first drilled in a circle around the proposed location of the shaft. Cement and water are injected into the holes with a force pump. The cement spreads through the loose ground, and on setting forms a water-tight wall, inside of which the shaft can be sunk without difficulty.—Indianapolis News.

Masterlinck's "Blue Bird."
Maurice Masterlinck's "Blue Bird" is a fairy story. The Belgian author has said of it: "This 'Blue Bird' of mine is just a fantasy, a fairy tale. We all seek happiness, do we not? Well, the 'Blue Bird' is happiness—the bird that is never caught. Quite simple, just a story for children—of all ages. Some people see mystic meanings in it, but I—I see none. It was a distraction, a holiday task."

Any Make of Battery
RECHARGED
75c
Rentals for any make of car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.
Dempsey Motor Car Co.,
Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

Lands Posted.
All character of trespassing on our farms is positively prohibited, and we will prosecute all guilty parties. No hunting, trapping or snaring will be allowed.

Name Precinct
B. C. Allen.....Hamilton
Julia S. Dinsmore.....Bellevue
B. H. Berkshire.....Petersburg
Lucy E. Hanc.....Hamilton
J. H. Jockey.....Burlington
S. B. Scott.....Grant
J. H. Walton.....Carlton
Ira Aylor.....Union
Armita Aylor.....Richwood
James W. Ryle.....Waterloo
A. H. Hardin.....Burlington
Jake Reitman.....Bullittsville
B. C. Graddy.....Bullittsville
R. H. Crisler.....Bullittsville
William Phillips.....Carlton
J. M. Wilson.....Union
J. J. Tanner.....Burlington
Chester Aylor.....Burlington
Elmore Ryle.....Burlington
Jaasper Sullivan.....Grant
Alonso Gaines.....Constant
Joe E. Scott, Jr.....Florence
J. Collin Kelly.....Carlton
Wilber D. Kelly.....Grant
Robert L. Day.....Hebron
W. A. Gaines & Son.....Burlington
Mrs. W. H. Marshall.....Carlton
Joan W. Scott, Sr.....Florence
Mary M. Terrell.....Petersburg
Grace Scott.....Union
Mrs. A. G. Finnell.....Grant
Ross Russ.....Florence
Your name will be put in the list of those posted until Jan. 1st for 50 cents.

LUTE BRADFORD,
AUCTIONEER
FLORENCE, - - KY.
List your sales with me as I have a wide acquaintance and know all good buyers.
Reference—Florence Deposit Bank, Florence, Ky.
o-decl

Radio Receiving Sets
INSTALLED BY
J. J. KIRKPATRICK
Burlington, Ky.
Do not buy your Radio Outfit until I quote you one of the best outfits. Installed ready to receive from the Broad Casting Stations in New York, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Nebraska, Georgia, and other points.

FOR SALE
Farm of 75 acres three miles below Petersburg, Ky. Twelve acres of bottom land, eight acres of clover, balance in blue grass. Six room house, one four-room log house, 3 barns and other out buildings. Good tobacco and alfalfa land. Price $50.00 per acre.
CHARLIE WHITE,
ojan1—pd Petersburg, Ky.

General Trucking
At Your Service
WALTER HUEY
Florence, Ky.
Phone 266-X

A snuffy cold?
MENTHOLATUM
clears the nose passages.

J. C. GORDON
Superintendent of Schools
OF BOONE COUNTY
Will be in his office in Burlington the first and second Monday and the third and fourth Saturday in each month.

FIRST-CLASS Shoe Repairing
Mail Orders at my Expense.
All work guaranteed. Mail your shoes to be repaired to
A. G. LAWRENCE, - - Erlanger, Ky.
o-decl
87 Lexington Pike.
Not Till Then.
The motorist's happiest dream will come true when a gallon of gasoline will last a year and every tire is guaranteed for a million miles.

HEBRON THEATRE

Wednesday, Nov. 22

With an All Star Cast.

Begorrah yez can't get ahead of an Oirshman whin it comes to makin a foine pitocher. Faith an' the loikes o' yez should be after seein' it. Sure there's a grand foight an' three love stories wid the breath of auld Erin in every scene.

UNION.

The Baptist W. M. U. met all day Tuesday with Mrs. A. Y. Foley.

The Y. W. A. meets Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Chas. Hedges.

Miss Hazel Senour was the guest of Miss Maud Tanner, the week-end.

Miss Sara Wilson spent one night last week with her cousin, Miss Sue Bristow.

The Odd-Fellows Lodge will give a supper Saturday night, Nov. 25th at their hall.

Carroll Dugan recently visited his father at Warsaw, and while there purchased a fine milch cow.

Mrs. N. S. Bristow and Miss Etgenia Riley attended the W. M. U. convention at Cynthiana, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaines Huey spent Sunday at Walton, the guest of Mrs. Huey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Edwards.

P. T. Fall has returned to his home in Alexandria, Ind., after a pleasant visit with friends and relatives here.

Mrs. S. C. Hicks who has been in Spears hospital for several weeks, is very much improved, and is expected home this week.

Quite a number from here attended Armistice Day exercises, which was celebrated at the fair grounds at Florence, Saturday afternoon.

G. C. Clarkson has had the house which he recently purchased of L. R. Barlow, moved across the pike on to his farm, and expects to occupy it in the spring.

Rev. Hagens, of Lexington, is conducting a very interesting revival meeting at the Richmond Presbyterian church. Several from this place have been attending.

Rev. DeGarmo is assisting Rev. J. A. Miller pastor of the Big Bone Baptist church to carry on a series of meetings. You are invited to attend the services, evening and morning. Evening services at 6:30.

HONOR ROLL OF UNION GRAD. ED SCHOOL.

Eleventh Grade—Susie Kathryn Bristow.

Ninth Grade—Elizabeth Weaver.

Eighth Grade—Agnes Barker.

Ralph Barlow.

Ethel Williams.

Sue Bristow.

Lloyd Rouse.

La Verne Sullivan.

Sixth Grade—Mildred Williams.

Fourth Grade—Lassie Hays.

Elberta Ryle.

Third Grade—Hattie Mae Carpenter.

Second Grade—Anna Eliza Gossett.

First Grade—Johnny Dickerson.

Patsy Huey.

J. M. Huey.

Nellie Hicks.

(Too Late for Last Week.)

Mrs. Rice, of Indiana, is with her sister, Mrs. Delahanty.

Mrs. Dunbar entertained several of her friends to dinner, Sunday.

Mrs. Julia Dickerson was on the sick list several days the past week.

L. R. Barlow and family spent Sunday with F. L. Wilson and family.

Miss Marietta Riley, of Cincinnati, spent the week-end with home folks.

J. R. Williams and family spent Sunday with J. B. Dickerson and family.

Mrs. Lucy Delahanty is slowly improving after having been ill more than two weeks.

P. T. Fall, of Alexandria, Ind., is the guest of friends and relatives in and around Union.

Mrs. Nannie Crouch does not improve as much as her many friends would like her to do.

Prof. and Mrs. Ryle united with the Baptist church Sunday morning, bringing their letters from Scottsville.

Another big basket ball game was pulled off here Friday afternoon between Union and Hebron, resulting in Union winning the game 47 to 16.

The community has lost one of its best and most highly respected citizens in the death of James Delahanty which occurred at his home near here October 22nd, after an illness of two weeks. To the bereaved family we extend our heartfelt sympathy.

A woman candidate for office in Honolulu preceded her campaign speeches with a hula-hula dance, but she is not the first candidate to try to wiggle into office.

HEBRON.

Luther Rouse and wife entertained several relatives last Sunday.

Hubert Conner purchased a small farm of Edward Ernst a few weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Getker moved into their new bungalow last week.

Miss Loretta Weigle, of Cincinnati, was the guest of Myron Garnett and wife, last Sunday.

Friends and relatives here of Mrs. Jameson Aylor were sorry to hear of her death last Sunday night.

The young people's Missionary Society will meet with Mrs. Elmer Goodridge Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Edward Wilhoit of Springfield, Mo., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Gordon and other relatives.

Mrs. Harold Crigler was at St Elizabeth hospital last Friday to see Mrs. Mike Day and reports her getting along nicely.

Several from here attended the funeral services of Mr. Wood Riggs at the residence last Saturday afternoon. Burial at Hebron cemetery.

Edward Baker and family of this place, Leslie Baker and family, of Ludlow, and John Baker and wife, of near Bromley, spent last Sunday with Mrs. N. Baker and son.

The funeral services of Mr. Scott Walton were held at the residence last Friday. The remains were conveyed to Hebron cemetery by U. detaker W. A. Bullock.

The folks in and around Hebron are laying their plans to cop a lion's part of the $300.00 premium list offered at the Florence Corn and Poultry Show the 22nd and 23rd. This will be the second Harvest Home of the season.

BIG BONE.

Charles Miller was in our burg Sunday.

Poke Hamilton was in Independence the first of the week.

John Finnell made a business trip to Walton one day last week.

Ira Smith and wife, of Rabbit Hash, were guests of relatives here Friday.

Teddy Baker made a trip to Rising Sun, Ind., with Harry Moore Wednesday.

Mr. Abdon and wife visited Mrs. Bob Coles and family, in Rising Sun, Ind., last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Loomis of Independence, were at Henry Pitcher's sale Friday.

Joe Moore wife and little son of Covington, were guests of R. N. Moore and family Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Sallie Bagby and two children of Independence, visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. Poke Hamilton Friday.

Born October 30th to Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hiseva (nee Audra Taylor) of Passaic, N. J., a ten pound baby girl—Audra Justina. Mother and baby doing fine.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Moore and little son Melvin, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jones, Fredy and Miss Bertha Grigory were guests of J. C. Miller and family of Walton, Sunday.

A. A. Alphin and wife, Bert Alphin and Miss Sallie, and Mrs. Sara E. Roberts, of Ryle, Gallatin county, attended the funeral of Mrs. J. M. Baker Saturday and spent the afternoon with this scribe.

Mrs. Meacy Gregg Baker, wife of J. M. Baker, died November 9th, 1922. She was 68 years 9 months and 18 days. She was a member of the M. E. church at Beaver for forty years. She was the mother of five children. Mrs. Leslie Moore, Mrs. Everett Wolf and Miss Katie. G. W. Baker and Mary preceded her to the grave 14 years ago. She leaves one sister Mrs. J. S. Moore, who is the last of the family. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. M. Baker of the M. E. church at 10 a. m., last Saturday after which the interment took place in the Baker cemetery in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends.

Card of Thanks—We hereby desire to express our sincere and heartfelt thanks to our friends and relatives for their sympathy and kindness shown in the loss of our beloved mother, Meacy Gregg Baker. Also to the choir for the beautiful songs rendered, to the donors of the beautiful floral offerings, to Bro. Baker for his consoling words.

The Family.

A little late, but still in the ring—Edgar Berkshire, the "Isaac Walton" of this part of the country, landed a 34 pound bass on Woolper creek one day last week. W. C. Weaver and son Lloyd, one day last week, caught 13 pounds of nice fish in two hours, on Gunpowder creek.

BEAVER LICK.

Stock water is very scarce in this neighborhood.

Mr. Joe W. Cleek is ill with rheumatism of the knees.

John Delahanty finished gathering his large crop of corn last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Slayback spent last Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Johnson.

The Christian church Missionary Society met with Mr. and Mrs. Wilson last Thursday.

Elmer Denegan has improved his house in Beaver by putting on new weatherboarding and papering.

Will Wilson has improved his home by laying concrete walks. Mr. Joe Besterman doing the work for him.

A great many from this place will attend the Corn and Poultry Show at Florence next Wednesday and Thursday.

Dr. R. E. Ryle was called to Chicago by telegram that his brother-in-law had died suddenly. He left immediately.

Mr. G. O. Cleek shipped 43 head of 221 pound hogs last week to the Cincinnati market for which he received $8.75 per hundred.

GUNPOWDER.

A. Rouse and family visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rouse, last Sunday.

From talk heard there will be several showing poultry, corn, etc., at the Corn and Poultry Show at Florence, the 22nd and 23rd.

Mrs. Day, formerly of this neighborhood, got now a resident of Covington, visited friends here and attended church at Hopeful, last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Uts entertained the following on Wednesday of last week: Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Dotbins, of Richmond, and this scribe and wife, the occasion being the sixth anniversary of their daughter Mary's birth.

There was a large crowd present at the Armistice day celebration at Florence last Saturday, and the program was enjoyed very greatly by all present. Some of the speakers who were on the program failed to come and Rev. Royer delivered a brief but very appropriate and eloquent address.

Lute Atchford and Ed. Clarkson while out joy riding a few days since ran their machine into a wire fence. The machine was in good running order and the road which they were traveling was perfectly level and dry but they say the machine skidded is the cause of the accident. Fortunately there was no one hurt but the fence was disfigured somewhat.

RICHWOOD.

Fowler Lodge supper Nov. 25th p. m. at Hall Union.

Walter Grubbs and family spent Sunday with M. Grubbs.

Woodford Carpenter has returned from a trip to Lexington.

Mrs. L. A. Tanner, of Florence, is visiting her father, M. Grubbs.

Robt. Marston has sold his property near here and purchased a lot in Erlanger, and will build a home there.

Electric lights will be installed in several residences near Richmond church and in the near future Union will be included.

Fowler Lodge conferred a degree on a candidate Saturday eve. and Wednesday evening the team will practice team work.

Elmer Carpenter's horse ran away Sunday night Nov. 5th, losing a plaid auto robe some where between W. E. Glacken's and his home. Finder please notify him.

A machine struck one of William Carpenter's mules near Theo. Carpenter's one day last week, badly hurting it, and the driver of the machine kept on his way. A phone call headed them in Walton where it was arrested. The mule was so badly injured it was killed.

GRANT R. D.

Dode Pope and family spent Sunday at Bellevue.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Ward, of Marietta, Ohio, are visiting relatives here.

J. H. Walton shipped two truck loads of fat hogs to Cincinnati, last week.

David Ryle, of Newport, spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives here.

Quite a crowd attended the picnic at Beech Grove school house Friday night.

Mrs. Mamie Berkshire and children visited at Bluff and Hubert Clark's last week.

Charles Craig and wife had as Sunday guests Karl Rouse and family, of Burlington and Chas. Craig, Sr., of Rising Sun.

We are glad to welcome Walter Rector and family back to this neighborhood whence he moved from Petersburg last week.

Those on the Honor Roll of Maple Hill school for the second month of school are Ida Mae Wilson, Marguerite H. Sack, Craig, Elizabeth Craig, Martin Birkle, Gladys Kelly, Mary Pope, Edgar Clure, Ward Rice, Hazel Clure, Martin Williamson, Carroll Williamson and Fay Connor. Hazel Clure was neither absent nor tardy.

The most regrettable thing about the passing of the Sultan of Turkey is that now we must expect to see his memoirs published in the newspapers.

Corn and Poultry Show

At Florence, Kentucky

Wednesday and Thursday,

November 22 & 23

All Classes in Poultry, Corn, Potatoes and Tobacco; four premiums on each class, with specials offered.

$300 in Premiums.

Tobacco, grading demonstration by official grader.

Soil Exhibits, with liberal premiums.

Guessing Contest on production of trap-nest hens, premiums

Speaking program, motion pictures.

Free turkey to lucky person.

For Catalogue write Ben Paddock, Hebron, or County Agent Sutton, Burlington, Ky.

COMMITTEE.

GEO. B. MILLER,
C. G. KINSEY,

H. L. TANNER,
BEN PADDAK,

CLEM KENDALL,
R. C. LUTES.

Free--Admission--Free.

YO-HO!

Oyster Supper!

at Hopeful Lutheran Church

Thanksgiving Eve,

Wednesday, Nov. 29th.

Pumpkin Pie 'n' Ev'rything.

Everybody Welcome

Public Sale.

I will offer for sale at my place, at the old Prable place on the pike between Hebron and Constance on

SATURDAY, NOV. 25th, 1922.

The following property:

One good four-year-old horse.
Good milch cow.
Sow and 8 pigs 3 months old.
1915 Buick Roadster.
Three dozen Barred Rock chickens
One-horse plow.
Buggy and harness.
Two Wood Heaters.
Cook Stove.
New Bedstead.

Many other articles too numerous to mention.

TERMS—All sums of $5.00 and under cash, all sums over $5.00 a credit of SIX MONTHS will be given purchasers to give note with good security, payable at the Hebron Deposit Bank. No goods to be removed until terms of sale are complied with.

BLUFFE WINGATE.
Charles Garnett Auctioneer.
Sale to begin at 1 o'clock sharp.

FOR SALE Bank Stock

As Administrator of Joseph Florence, I will sell at public sale at the Verona Bank, Verona, Ky.,

Saturday, Nov. 25th, '22

at 1:30 p. m.

Verona Bank Stock, par value, $700.00

Sanders Bank Stock, par value, $250.00

Terms made known day of sale.

O. K. WHITSON, Admr.

The Best Test of a Play.

If I were a dramatist I would tell the plots of my plays to a child under nine years old. If his interest wavered, I would despair; if I could hold his attention, I should hope.

Not to close his book for such a purpose—be sure she had the child-like mind. It is in the hour before or after bedtime that you will find our critic most responsive. You have in him then a fastidious audience and his "yes" or "no" which happened that will be your best applause—W. M. Lettis in the Yale Review.

NO ONE APPRECIATES

The real comfort of a snug, warm SUIT or OVERCOAT as the man who does not own one. You owe it to yourself to dress warm and comfortable. As usual the Wachs' Store is well prepared to care for every requirement in Mens', Young Mens' and Boys'

Suits and Overcoats.

If Quality, Style and Workmanship and Price interest you, we know we can please you. A large line of Corduroy and Duck Garments on hand.

Selmar Wachs

605 Madison Avenue,

Covington, Kentucky

This Car Only $99 If You Have a Ford Chassis

Here is the chance of a lifetime to get a Roadster of real class—just like this picture—a car that anyone would be proud to own and drive, by mounting this beautiful

Ames Sport-Roadster Body on a Ford Chassis

If you have a Ford Chassis, all it will cost you is $99 for this Complete Ames Body. If you haven't a Ford you can pick up a good second-hand chassis at a bargain price, and a very low cost have a car in the $1200 to $1500 class. Finished in Richmond Blue, striped in silver, Double panel plate glass ventilating windshield. Tailored one-man top. Beveled plate glass rear vision light. Fitted curtains that close car up snugly.

Mounted Free We will mount a new Ames Body on your old Ford chassis at no extra cost, if you will drive to Owensboro. We are not far away. Take a day or two off and see the country. Body shipped, if you prefer, with full instructions for mounting. Anybody can do it. Send for free circular describing full line of Ames Bodies for Ford Cars. SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS TO LIVE DEALERS.

THE F. A. AMES COMPANY, Incorporated
The World's Largest Builders of Special Bodies for Fords
Established 1881
100 Main Street, Owensboro, Kentucky

It is almost entirely the individual's fault if he is not happy, for happiness is a cast of mind. One of the greatest of all poets said: "There is nothing either good or bad in this world—but thinking makes it so."

Happiness rests, not in the pocket nor even in the belly, health, but in the mental attitude of our surroundings, and in consequence with our lot. We cannot entirely govern our surroundings, but each of us is captain of his own soul. Thank God for what you have got—Sir Alfred Fripp.

John Woolman, He believed that love could reach the witness for itself in the hearts of all men through all entanglements of custom and every barrier of pride and selfishness. The event justified his confidence; wherever he went, hard hearts were softened, avarice and love of power and pride of opinion gave way before his testimony of love.—Whittier.

Japanese "Animal Holidays." As we left Matsuy, Japan, by steamer, an agriculturist on board the vessel told me of the custom of giving holidays to oxen and horses. The villagers carefully brush their animals, decorate them, and lead them to pasture where, tethered to rings attached to a long rope "they may graze together pleasantly."—London Telegraph.

Have Settled Plan for Work. Some men are in a state of perpetual confusion. They are always apparently as busy as bees, but they never achieve anything it is no use working unless there is a settled plan. The day's activities should be carefully scheduled—no many hours for work, so many hours for study, so many for healthy relaxation.—Sir H. Woodman Garbithglo.

Understanding. To realize that we don't understand everything is understanding.—Archibald Clibbe.

DAIRY PROFITS MAY DROP
IF COWS' NEEDS SLIGHTED

Lexington, Ky.—The time of the year is about here when the profits from Kentucky farm dairy herds begin to drop unless cows are given good feed and kept in comfortable barns, according to J. J. Hooper, head of the dairy department of the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky. He says that at long or as severe as those of the famous dairy sections of the North, the same careful methods that help northern dairymen and farmers get bigger profits from their dairy cows can be used to advantage by farmers in this state.

"From now until next spring, the cows should have a pound of mixed feed for every three and one-half pounds of milk that they give, and in addition should be fed 10 pounds of clover, alfalfa, or cowpea hay and 30 pounds of alfalfa daily. A good grain mixture may be made of four pounds of corn meal, two pounds of bran or shipstuf and two pounds of cottonseed meal. If silage cannot be fed, some succulent feed, like beet pulp, should be used unless the cows can get plenty of green grass.

"Dairy cows cannot be given good care at this time of the year unless they are kept in a barn all night and part of the day. This being the case, comfort and healthful surroundings for the cow are of first importance. Plenty of light, good ventilation and lots of clean bedding are the big items in making the cow comfortable. There should be four square feet of window glass for each stall or stanchion while the windows should be well distributed so that each stable gets plenty of light. In order to get enough air, each cow requires at least 500 cubic feet of space. The air in the stable must be changed frequently if it is to stay fresh at all times. This should be done without causing drafts of cold air on the cows or without unduly lowering the temperature in the stable. Fresh air may be admitted through windows hinged at the bottom and tipping inward.

"Bedding the cows fresh twice a day with clean straw helps to keep them clean and comfortable. Just before milking is a good time to clean up and add fresh straw."

BARRED ROCK PULLET SETS
NEW MARK ON STATION FARM

All previous records for the number of eggs laid in a year by individual hens in the experimental flock of the College of Agriculture have been broken by a Barred Plymouth Rock pullet that has just completed her first year of laying with a total of 263 eggs to her credit, according to an announcement by J. Holmes Martin, in charge of the college poultry work. This is three more eggs than were laid by a White Leghorn hen that has held the farm record since 1919. The most striking thing about the new record as seen by poultrymen here is that good breeding, the right kind of feed and proper care made it possible for a hen to lay 200 eggs more in a year than the average hen on Kentucky farms lays. The new holder of the farm record is the result of only three years' work on the part of the station poultrymen that lay a large number of eggs in a year.

The new record holder started laying Nov. 3, 1921 and from that time until her first year was completed laid consistently every month. Now that her first year of laying has been finished, the amount of protein that has been fed her in the past is being cut down so that she will go into a molt and come back into laying in time to produce eggs for the spring hatching season. She laid 23 eggs in November, 27 in December, 21 in January, 22 in February, 27 in March, 21 in April, 25 in May, 18 in June, 20 in July, 20 in August, 22 in September, 14 in October and one during the first two days of November. The largest number of eggs which she laid on successive days was 22, this having been done between May 18 and June 8.

Aside from the fact that she is a bird of good size and has desirable Barred Plymouth Rock type and color, the new holder of the farm record is an example of what breeding, good feed and the right kind of care will do in raising the number of eggs that chickens lay, Mr. Martin says. Her mother was a hen that laid only 161 eggs in her best year but laid for 11 months, thus showing that she had the power to continue laying over a long period of time. In addition she was a hen that had another desirable characteristic in that she layed until late in the fall before going into a molt.

ETHER WAVES TRAVEL FAST

The ether waves—those used in wireless—are known among scientists as Hertzian waves, named after the man who discovered them. The length of these waves varies from only a few inches to the immense size of 25 miles or more. Yet, despite this, they all travel at a fixed speed of 184,000 miles a second.

If the time some people spend in fretting over unfavorable conditions could be spent in improving their property, they would not have to fret.

In older times a favorite remedy for coughs consisted of snails boiled in barley water.

LEGION NOTES

Racine, Wis.—The popular American Legion Drum Corps at the national convention in New Orleans was tendered a rousing reception on their return to Racine that reminded them of the welcome home from the war.

When National Vice Commander Edward J. Barrett announced that the first official act of the new executive committee had been to designate the corps as the official American Legion Corps, and as such the boys would be sent to the next convention in San Francisco, the members forgot their blisters received in New Orleans, stood up on their hind legs and yelled. It warmed the hearts of the Junction merchants, who made this honor possible.

The dinner to the corps was given by the Elks, long a sort of adopted daddy to all legionnaires. The city council then the trip of the corps to New Orleans gave the community thousands of dollars worth of valuable advertising.

Chicago, Ill.—The people of Illinois will vote upon the question of a soldiers' bonus in Nov. A $50,000,000 bond issue is proposed, the bonds to mature in twenty years. According to Omar H. Wright, chairman of the committee on taxation of the Illinois Bankers' Association, the payment of the bonus will add but a little more than 2 per cent to the state taxes.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Relatives have requested the American Legion to assist in finding the whereabouts of Fred Hainford Goodwin, of 546 East Market street, Indianapolis, who disappeared October 28. He is 31 years old and weighs 145 pounds. His hair is light brown and eyes are blue. He is 5 feet, 9 inches tall. When he left home he wore an army shirt and trousers, a faded blue serge coat and a faded green cap. Goodwin served 18 months with the 150th Field Artillery of the Rainbow Division. Relatives fear he has suffered a mental lapse.

Indianapolis, Ind.—State and city officials of the American Legion with members of the national headquarters staff welcomed Alvin M. Owsley newly elected Legion national commander, to Indianapolis this week where the Texas orator has assumed his duties as head of one million executive men.

Led by a color guard of Marines, bearing the Stars and Stripes and the Legion national headquarters banner, and the 11th Infantry band, stationed at Fort Benjamin Harrison, a parade was formed from the Indianapolis Union Station, through the downtown streets to the national headquarters building.

One of the first acts of the national commander was to announce the appointment of Gerald W. Powell, of Cumberland, Md., as director of the Legion's national Americanism commission. Mr. Powell has been assistant director of Americanism during the last year. He was an aviator and fought in France.

The Legion commander returned from New York where he and Lemuel Bolles, national adjutant, bade farewell to the twenty-three foreign delegates who attended the recent International Veterans Association convention in New Orleans.

This international organization of world war fighters has the greatest possibilities in developing world peace," the commander stated. "The men who fought the war are the men who can keep the peace. Their recent convention at New Orleans marks an epoch in the history of efforts toward international peace."

Wig Wag

Bilkens showed up with a set of hand-carved features that resembled the field after Chateau-Thierry.

"Pet's sake!" gasped a friend. "What happened to your face? Been in an accident?"

"None," returned Bilkens sadly. A deaf and dumb barber shaved me and he was feeling chatty."—American Legion Weekly.

TESTIFYING FOR GILMER

That the upper classmen in the United States Naval Academy will make a bold effort to save their accused classmates from dismissal on account of hazing, is being rear admiral Henry B. Wilson, superintendent of the academy, as approving to them the practices in which they are alleged to have been engaged, was indicated strongly.

Midshipman Willis C. Parker testifying in the trial of the defense in the trial of Midshipman John P. Gilmer, Jr., stated that the superintendent had intimated that he was in favor of hazing, Parker said this statement was made last May when the members of his class were about to become first classmen and the superintendent had assembled them in Memorial Hall to talk to them about their duties and obligations as first classmen.

The superintendent according to Palmer, had intimated that he was in favor of hazing but checked himself and said "I must not say that. It is against the law, but the truthfulness ought to be taken out of the plagues."

Aesthetic friends in the cities are writing out to know what the Farm Bureau would cast for them. It is interested in choice furniture.

True
Detective Stories
ALL EVIDENCE

Copyright by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.

C. D. WEST, head of the prosecution department of the National Association of Credit Men, leaned back in his chair and placed the tips of the fingers of his left hand precisely against the tips of the fingers of his right hand that was secured to him during the consultation of a different problem.

"Why on earth, Edwards, didn't you come to me with this story before? It's too late to help you now. Your stock's gone, your credit ruined, and they've talked you dry. A word to the association in time would have saved you money and us time."

"I didn't dare to come out in the open," groaned the man on the other side of the desk. "They had the goods on me, too, remember. I did hire a private detective agency, but—"

"Private detectives!" snorted West. "Detectives of any kind are practically useless in cases connected with commercial crimes. There's nothing that can be done in this case, but there is a way in which you can assist the law, and the men who deceived you and possibly make a grubstake for yourself. Listen."

Less than six months later, a Mr. Elstein, who called himself a "credit manager," wandered into the office of Henry W. Easton, lawyer, and after seeing that he was the man he was fully clothed, inquired if Easton remembered Edwards, the shoe dealer, whom they had nicked some time before.

"The name's familiar," replied the lawyer, "but I don't recall the details."

"Oh, it was the same old game," granted Elstein. "I got him to come up and talk to me, and he suggested that he ship the bulk of his stock out of town to me—I'd sell it, and we'd split with him after the usual fees had been deducted."

"I remember now. Then, when he came back here and timidly asked for his part of the take-off, I told him he was lucky not to be in jail for violating six or eight different statutes. Our fees, as I carefully explained to him, more than ate up the proceeds of his stock at a forced sale, and he really owed us money! You should have seen his face then. But what's the trouble? Has he made a peep to the police?"

"No, nothing like that," Elstein replied. "But I happened to be passing through Villarsburg the other day, and who should I run into but Edwards. Prosperous, too. I knew him in a minute, and wondered where he'd gotten his money. Followed him down the street ways, and found that he'd opened another store. Flashy, but good-looking. Somebody's evidently stacked him, and he's trying his luck, but he's nearly on the rocks again!"

"What? On the verge of bankruptcy?"

"Exactly; only this time he evidently intends to work the game all his own. You can't blame him for that, after he's been burned once."

"But," protested Easton, "he can't handle it by himself!"

"That's what I figured," said Elstein. "But, naturally, I didn't put the matter up to him. Things have been pretty dull around here for a while. Why don't you run up and see Edwards? Admit that we didn't do as well for him the first time as we might have, and make him a guarantee of $2,500 on a 40-60 split."

"Right!" snapped the lawyer. "I'll take a run up there tomorrow."

The following afternoon, in the private office of his store, Edwards and Elston thrashed out the details of their former arrangement the lawyer stating that he had come to pay over $5,000, "which had been unexpectedly saved from the wreck."

"Incidentally," he added, "I understand that you won't be here much longer. Going to try the same game yourself?"

"Probably," replied the shoe dealer. "Why not?"

"You can't do it without an organization," insisted the lawyer. "You need us, and we need you."

Then, while Edwards nervously played with some papers on his desk, Easton outlined his plan—how the goods were to be shipped, how Elstein would handle them, and the $2,500 guarantee which would be paid the lawyer for his part in the fraudulent bankruptcy proceedings.

Terms were finally agreed up, and the whole court proceedings went forward without a hitch.

The day after he had been declared bankrupt, Edwards accompanied Easton to the bank, and there received the $2,500 which had been promised him. As the lawyer handed him over the money, he heard a voice behind him say:

"Nah him, boys!"

Turning, he came face to face with a rather small, pleasant-faced man of about fifty—the man who was the terror of commercial criminals.

"West!" cried the lawyer. "What do you want?"

"You and Elstein," was the reply. "We've got the goods on you this time—all the evidence! The photograph in Edwards' office, under the papers on his desk, attested to that for us. This ought to land you in the pen for about six years."

Commissioner's Sale.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.
H. Goyert Plaintiff
vs
Millard Fleck &c., Defendant

By virtue of a Judgment and order of Sale of the Boone Circuit Court, rendered at the April Term thereof, 1922, in the above case, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court House door in Burlington, Boone County, Ky., to the highest bidder at Public Sale on Monday the 4th day of Dec. 1922, at 1 o'clock p. m., or thereabouts, being Court day, upon a credit of Six and Twelve months, the following property to-wit:

Tract No. 1—Lying in Boone County, Ky., and being lot No. 4 in the division of the lands of James L. Henderson and lying on the waters of Gunpowder creek in Boone County, Ky., bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a stone, a corner with lot No. 3 in a line of Geo. Campbell; thence with his line and with a line of R. Stuckey N31° 35' 37" chains, a corner with the John Sebree tract; then with a line thereof of 42½ x 27.50 chains to a stone on Gunpowder creek, thence down the creek 53½ x 3.31 chains to a stone, a corner with lot No. 3; thence with a line thereof 542½ x 26.13 chains to the beginning containing 9.6 acres. There is excepted from the above tract on the northwest corner above the Sebree road one-fourth acre (¼) sold to Will Sebree in the year 1919, being the same land conveyed by Ada M. McMullen to Robert O. Rouse March 31, 1902, and conveyed by the said Robert O. Rouse to Geo. W. Rice in December, 1916 and conveyed by the said Geo. W. Rice to said Millard Fleck as of this date.

Tract No. 2—Lying and being in Boone County, Kentucky on the waters of Gunpowder creek and bounded thus: Beginning at a corner of the lot set apart to Nancy Stamper in a line of George Campbell (now Chas. and Forrest Brady) thence with their line N41° 45' 43" chains to a stone, a corner of lot No. 3; thence with a line of lot No. 3, 42½ x 24.72 chains to a stone, another corner of lot No. 3 on Gunpowder creek; thence down the creek 53½ x 4.23 chains to a stone, a corner with lot No. 1; thence with a line thereof N42° 14' 22.97" chains to the beginning containing 10 acres, one rod, and one pole. Same land conveyed by John L. Henderson to Robert O. Rouse and by said Robert O. Rouse to Geo. W. Rice December 1916, and then conveyed by said Rice to mortgagor Millard Fleck hereof of this date.

Tract No. 3—Lying in Boone County, Ky., on the waters of Gunpowder creek and bounded thus: Beginning at a stone a corner of lot No. 2 in a line of George Campbell; thence with his line N31° 35' 37" chains to a stone, a corner of lot No. 4; thence with the line thereof 42½ x 26.13 chains to a stone, a corner of lot No. 4 on Gunpowder creek; thence down said creek 53½ x 3.40 chains to a stone, a corner of lot No. 2; thence with a line of lot No. 2 N42° 14' 22.97" chains to the beginning containing Nine acres, being the same property conveyed by Isabelle F. Henderson to Robt. O. Rouse as shown by deed in Deed Book 46, page 37, Boone County Records and same land conveyed by Robert O. Rouse to Geo. W. Rice in December, 1916, and conveyed by said Rice to the mortgagor Millard Fleck of this date.

Tract No. 4—A tract or parcel of land in Boone County, Ky., lying on the waters of Gunpowder creek and bounded and described thus: Beginning at a Beech tree and stump, a corner with Mrs. Nancy Snyder and A. D. Robbins; thence 6½ x 135 poles to a Lin tree, corner of Jas. L. Henderson (now Lavina Horton); thence N44° 10' 90" poles, in a line of Mrs. Rhoda Underhill's dower; thence N46° 18½ poles to a black walnut tree near the head of the drain; thence S45° 16½ poles to a post in the old mill race; thence with its S84° 6' poles, N69° 45' 32 poles, to a stake on the west side of Gunpowder creek 22 links above a large willow tree on the bank; thence N17° 6 poles to a corner in the creek; thence N56° 45' 101.3 poles, passing a stone on the east side of the creek to a stone near the top of a high hill in Mrs. Nancy Snyder's line; thence with said line S45° 45 poles to the beginning, containing 58½ acres (Fifty Eight and One Fourth Acres, same land conveyed to Robert O. Rouse by E. L. Rouse as shown by deed in Deed Book 51, page 17, Boone County Records, and same land conveyed to said Robert O. Rouse and Geo. W. Rice in December, 1916, and conveyed by said Geo. W. Rice to the mortgagor herein Millard Fleck of this date.

Or sufficient thereof to produce the sums of money so ordered to be made. For the purchase price the purchaser, with approved security or securities, must execute bond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a Judgment, with a lien retained therein until all the purchase money is paid. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Amount to be raised by sale $3,792.05.

R. E. Berkshire M. C. B. C. C.

While the country children are learning to make things themselves the city children are learning to spend their money for things other people make.

The Best Advertisement

IS A PLEASED CUSTOMER

Spectacles and Eyeglasses that Fit the face and Fit the sight the kind we sell.

Phone South 1746

DR. N. F. PENN. WITH NOTCH, LAWYER. 603 Madison Ave. - Covington, Ky.

Efficient, Service and Economy

IS MY SLOGAN

C. SCOTT CHAMBERS
Embalmer and Funeral Director

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

Printed
Stationery

AT THIS OFFICE
ENVELOPES, LETTERHEADS, NOTEHEADS, STATEMENTS

for business people.
for professional people.
for farmers.
for every one who wants
to be considered up to date and going strong

FAITH IN THE UNDERTAKER

in his full appreciation of the dignity and delicacy of his calling—is essential to the peace of mind of surviving relatives and friends.

Only those who by character, habits and personality can command this confidence and respect, is fitted for the singular service.

This business always has been, and always will be, conducted on the basis of this belief

PHILIP TALIAFERRO,
Undertaker and Embalmer
Erlanger, Ky.

A BARGAIN!

Cincinnati Daily Enquirer

—AND—

The Boone County Recorder

YOU CAN GET

both for $4.50 the YEAR

Send Your Subscriptions to the
BOONE COUNTY RECORDER
Burlington, Ky.

stop at The PALACE HOTEL 6TH & VINE

A home hotel—comfortable, large, airy rooms. Clean and economical. A safe place for your wife or daughter.

CINCINNATI, O.

HEBRON THEATRE--Next Saturday

"Courage of Marge O'Doone"

7 Reels by JAMES OLIVER CURWOOD

Semon Comedy.

Admission 22 Cents, Children 10 Cents

War Tax Included

DO YOU TAKE THE RECORDER?

Try It One Year. You'll Like It.
Read Our Advertisement and Profit By Them.

Baptists Hit Race Track Gambling

Plan to Start Work On Hospital Here Within Month; $220,000 Is Raised.

Middlesboro, Ky.—The General Association of Kentucky Baptists came to a close here after naming Covington as the meeting place for the session of next year.

Reports at the closing session of the Baptist Hospital to be built at Louisville stated that the money now on hand is $220,000, that the plans for the hospital have been approved and adopted and the architects have been instructed to advertise for bids.

If the bids of the contractor are satisfactory the building will be started within the next thirty days.

The site of the hospital is the old Samuel Hutchings property on Barrett Avenue, opposite DeBarre Street, running back as far as Vine Street.

The following race track on race track gambling was introduced by the Rev. M. P. Hunt and after discussion was passed.

"Whereas legalized gambling at the race tracks during the race meets is Kentucky's great outstanding disgrace and

"Whereas the racing interests emboldened by their past success in controlling legislation have come to believe that by a continued use of a part of their ill gotten gains as a slush fund they can with impunity go on with their gambling debauch and that to this end they are now adding to the four existing race tracks two additional ones, near Henderson and adjacent to Evansville, Ind., and the other at Ashland, and as if there was no satisfying their insatiable greed, are getting the old time country fairs turned into race meets where they can put on their legalized gambling and get their rake-off, and

"Whereas, every race meet turns hundreds and thousands into the way that leads to financial and moral ruin, resulting in all the delinquencies that go with the gambling spirit, and

"Whereas, these race meets provide the great gambling schools upon the American Continent and draw within their meshes myriads of our rising youths and bring into our midst the off scourings of creation and put upon the names of once and justly famous Commonwealth an odium that does an injustice to the great mass of her citizens, and

"Dr. Porter Speaks

"Whereas, all that is needed to wipe from the escutcheon of our beloved Kentucky that this bad amendment to a god statute that disgraces us in the eyes of God and men is the ascertainment of the Christian forces to the magnitude and affront of this giant octopus that would be the corrupting use of its tentacles millions to fasten its tentacles in the life of the State as to be immune to the protest of those who believe gambling any and everywhere a crime. Therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the General Association of Kentucky Baptists, in annual session assembled, in the city of Middlesboro do rejoice in the organization of the Kentucky Anti-Race Track Gambling Commission and pledge to the same our hearty moral and financial support, and that we hereby go on record for strict law enforcement and against gambling in any form at any place or under any conditions.

At the conclusion of the meeting Dr. J. W. Porter, pastor of the Third Avenue Baptist church of Louisville, by special request delivered his sermon on evolution. He was heard by a packed house.

Dr. W. E. Mitchell of Hodgenville was named to preach the annual sermon at next year's meeting. The Rev. W. C. Boone of Owensboro was named alternate.

Climbed Pinnacle Mountain

One hundred and forty-two delegates climbed Pinnacle Mountain for a sunrise prayer-meeting. Eight women went along. The mountain is steep and rocky and towers 1,000 feet above Middlesboro. The Middlesboro Baraca Sunday school class, the largest men's Bible class in Kentucky, was in charge of the excursion and conducted the meeting, which included singing, prayers and talks. Speakers were T. C. Crume, Latonia; J. M. Black, Harlan, and Arthur Fox, Mayfield.

Representative Rouse, of the 6th Congressional District spent $180.50 toward the finish in addition to the $201.75 already reported, and Representative Cantrell, of the Seventh, found it unnecessary to spend anything on his election campaign, although that was not true of the primary. More than 100 Congressional candidates, already have filed post-election statements.

The former crown prince of Germany has taken up blacksmithing, but garage repair work is considered to offer a bigger field at this time.

THE LONG EVENINGS

The long evenings of late fall and winter have never been popular. However, dislike them because they interfere with sewing and other tasks for which daylight is preferable. The young crowd are sorry to see the sun quit early and darken the football field. The men folks regret to see their automobile runs out short, and those who manage business plants feel that work never so efficiently done by artificial light.

Families do not gather under the evening lamp at this season as they used to. For many of the modern folks, the long evenings are simply the time when the social season reaches its height, and there is something doing every night. They get what they are looking for.

Others find that the long evenings furnish new opportunities for study and self improvement. Each winter brings in some increase of knowledge or broader intelligence of life. One occupation. Time is a form of capital and it should be used very thoughtfully.

THE NON-ATHLETIC STUDENT.

High school and college boys who do not excel in athletics feel themselves small and insignificant factors in their student life, at this period when the foot ball player is king. They can give some help by rooting in the bleachers, but the plaudits of the crowd will never be offered to them.

Many boys try and try, but they never win success in athletic sports, which demand a peculiar combination of manual skill, quick vision, and rapid action. While these qualities are somewhat useful, they are not the high winners in the game of life.

There is always some form of activity open in which the non-athlete can make good, if he will dig persistently in that field, he will win results.

Two Arrested Charged With Making Liquor

Search Warrant Sworn To By Woman Results In The Capture Of Two Men and 75 Gallons of Mash.

Armed with a search warrant Sheriff's officers went to the farm of T. J. Jump, located about half a mile from Clarke Creek church last Monday night, arrested Newt and Emmett Fornash, father and son, and destroyed about 75 gallons of mash found on the premises. The officers failed to locate a "moonshiner still" which it was claimed they were using for the manufacture of the stuff.

The search warrant was issued at the instance of Bertha Lowe, a reputed resident of the neighborhood, who claimed to have had direct knowledge of the manufacture of the whiskey. The mash was in process of fermentation.

The men were brought here and released on bond and will have a trial later in the week. The mash was found in the residence, which was described in the warrant as being a two story frame. Mrs. Lowe stated that she had seen the still in operation and that it had been moved from place to place.

While the farm is the property of T. J. Jump he has not lived on it for some time, his residence being at Grant, Boone county. The farm was rented by the Fornashes.—Grant County News.

THE RED CROSS ROLL CALL

The period from Armistice day to Thanksgiving is set aside by the American Red Cross as the time for their annual roll call. The amount asked by this noble cause of each individual is so trifling that it seems as if anyone not absolutely in need would want to contribute it.

A person with a truly generous heart ought to find just as much satisfaction in giving money to relieve misfortune, as in spending it to satisfy his own love of pleasure. The money spent to please some temporary whim is quickly gone, but the money you give to relieve suffering remains a source of satisfaction permanently.

The world is full of misery at this time. The terrible events in Turkey have driven more than a million people from their homes. They shiver and starve while our people live in comfort. All over Europe are people whose despairing cries can go unheard. The Red Cross offers you the chance to do your share to relieve this little human suffering, for an amount that few people will miss.

TAKING HOLD IN PRACTICAL WAYS.

Not everyone is qualified to hold office and direct the undertakings of community organizations. But everyone can co-operate in certain ways where active effort is asked for.

BURLEY POOL UPHELD

Judge, Dedman Holds Marketing Agreement Between Co-operative and Its Members Binding and Gives Association Judgment.

Paris, Ky.—The Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association won its first suit against a contract breaker when Circuit Judge James C. Dedman, of Cynthiana, special judge in the place of Judge Robert L. Stout, who is ill, upheld the validity of the contract in the case of the association against Garrett Watts, wealthy Fayette county farmer, overruled his demurrer to the association's petition and gave judgment against Watts for $325 and costs in the case.

After examining the demurrer, which was filed by Judge George C. Webb, of Lexington, representing Mr. Watts, Judge Dedman signed the judgment. Because of the fact that there was some question as to the amount of tobacco actually grown by Mr. Watts and, therefore, of the amount of tobacco he should have delivered to the association, the judgment against Mr. Watts was made $325 and he pays the costs of the trial.

This decision, which will not be appealed, confirms the right of the Association to the delivery of crops pledged to it, as the judgment of the court is that "the contract sued on herein, which is one of a number of identical contracts entered into by the plaintiff with different persons, is binding on the defendant, a member of said Association, and is believed by Association officials as most likely to prevent further attempts at 'dumping' by members disinclined to regard their word as binding when it may conflict with their immediate financial interest, in their opinion, to do so."

Judge Dedman's judgment in full follows:

Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, Plaintiff vs. Garrett Watts, Defendant

"Now comes the defendant, Garrett Watts, and files his demurrer to the petition of the plaintiff herein, which is noted of record; and said demurrer being heard, and the Court advised, it is now adjudged that the contract sued on herein, which is one of a number of identical contracts entered into by the plaintiff with different persons, is binding on the defendant as a member of said Association; and it is further ordered that the demurrer of the defendant to the plaintiff's petition be, and the same is hereby overruled."

"Now comes the defendant and files his answer herein, which is noted of record and there being a question as to the amount of tobacco which is owned and grown by the defendant in the year 1921, the law and the facts are submitted to the Court; and it is now adjudged that the plaintiff, Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, recover of the defendant, Watts, the sum of $325.00, and its costs herein."

Death Penalty Affirmed

Kentucky Man Must Pay With Life For Policeman's Murder.

Frankfort, Ky.—Henry Banks, negro, must pay the death penalty for the murder of W. O. Barkley, policeman, of Georgetown, the Court of Appeals has affirmed the sentence imposed by the Circuit Court. The court held that Banks shot and killed Barkley in an attempt to avoid arrest, and declined to set aside the finding of the lower court. Declaring that the reply brief filed in behalf of Clem Huggins, of Louisville, in his fight to prevent payment of three fines assessed by Judge William H. Field, of the Jefferson Circuit Court, on charges of contempt of court, contained "much unnecessary and defamatory matter," Judge Gus Thomas, in the Court of Appeals, refused to grant the relief sought by Mr. Huggins.

Called Victory in West

"On the other hand, every one must recognize that when California passes the Wright law, a duplicate of the Volstead act, by a majority overwhelming, it is a distinct turning of a wet state into the dry column."

UNION COUNTY FARMERS TO FEED HENS FOR MORE EGGS

Morganfield, Ky.—Farmers in this section of the state are showing a lively interest in the best methods of feeding and taking care of their hens in order to get the most eggs from them this winter. County Agent L. C. Brewer, of Union county says one hundred and sixty farmers of this county, of every section of it, have entered their flocks in the winter egg laying project being conducted over the state by the extension division of the College of Agriculture at Lexington and will follow recommended practices in feeding and caring for their hens during the coming five months. One community of the county has 50 flocks enrolled in the project while another has 40.

"FACT FINDING."

The so-called "fact finding" commission appointed by President Harding to inquire into the coal industry, has one of the biggest jobs ever placed upon a body of government investigators. If in the brief of time at its disposal it can suggest a plan for placing fuel production on an improved basis, it will have done something to remove one of the most serious problems that trouble the people.

It is significant of modern tendencies, that so much reliance is being placed upon "fact finding." In the past, not merely as respects coal production, but as regards most political and economic controversies, there has been too little concern about fact finding. Facts have been the last thing that many people wanted.

In many of the disputed issues of the time, extreme partisans make statements attacking the purposes of their opponents, but not saying much about the exact facts. Many people get their opinions from such exaggerated claims, without much effort to analyze them.

Meanwhile there is growing up a spirit of scientific investigation, which in such controversies demands to know the cold and impersonal facts. It is not interested in the partisan statements or appeals of interested parties, except in so far as exact facts may seem to be needed. It wants to get the opinion of unbiased and competent investigators, who look into such quarrels in a neutral frame of mind, without prepossessions, and it wants to know the conditions on which such opinions are based.

The newspapers and public men that make a special effort to study exact conditions and present them impartially perform a great public service. There is too much hot talk in this country, too little cold facts.

Bitter Wet and Dry Fight On

Chicago.—A "more bitter and relentless" wet-and-dry fight is on than was waged when prohibition was adopted. Dr. Clarence True Wilson, of Washington, D. C., Secretary of the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church, declared in a survey of the result of the election November 7th:

"Prohibition has been weakly led, betrayed in the house of its friends, sidetracked by those who ought to have given it the main line, and the fight that we ought to have avoided is now on, and it will be more bitter and relentless than was the fight when prohibition was won," Dr. Wilson declared.

He added, however, that in his opinion prohibition would stand. After asserting that in Illinois, where the wet was a referendum, prohibition was betrayed by officers of the law, Dr. Wilson said:

Illinois Leaders Hit.

"Then, when the wets had the initiative, secured an advisory vote by all the people, instead of the leaders seeing in that a great opportunity for a sweeping educational campaign, they would carry the State of Illinois and put to silence the false accusations of evil-minded people, they spent their time in fighting the taking of an expression of the people, and when overruled in the courts advised the dries not to vote at all on the subject, and under that leadership Methodist Conferences have voted to advise their people not to vote."

"Mr. Wilson said the defeat of Congressman A. J. Volstead, Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, although defeated by a "bone-dry preacher," was a great loss.

As I look over the election results I do not see any wet triumph," he continued. "Every so-called 'wet victory' was in a wet state or city. I notice not one where a distinctly dry section has gone either in the referendum or in the election of a Representative."

Called Victory in West

"On the other hand, every one must recognize that when California passes the Wright law, a duplicate of the Volstead act, by a majority overwhelming, it is a distinct turning of a wet state into the dry column."

UNION COUNTY FARMERS TO FEED HENS FOR MORE EGGS

Morganfield, Ky.—Farmers in this section of the state are showing a lively interest in the best methods of feeding and taking care of their hens in order to get the most eggs from them this winter. County Agent L. C. Brewer, of Union county says one hundred and sixty farmers of this county, of every section of it, have entered their flocks in the winter egg laying project being conducted over the state by the extension division of the College of Agriculture at Lexington and will follow recommended practices in feeding and caring for their hens during the coming five months. One community of the county has 50 flocks enrolled in the project while another has 40.

Compulsory School Law

Children Eight to Sixteen Must Attend During School Year.

Washington.—The Compulsory Education bill, put before Oregon's voters by initiative petition, was passed by a comfortable majority, in excess of eight thousand. The provisions of this bill have been much discussed, and also falsely reported, its enemies contending that it would close all private schools and eliminate all denominational schools.

According to the bill, attendance of children from eight to sixteen years, in the public schools, is made compulsory "for the period of time a public school shall be held." There is nothing in the bill to prevent children going to other schools at other times.

Children physically unable to attend school because of being abnormal or subnormal, children who have completed the eighth grade, and children of certain ages who live at certain specified distances from the nearest public school, are exempt. Private instruction in place of public school instruction from the county superintendent, with the proviso that children receiving such private instruction must report for examination every three months. If the result of such examination shows the privately taught child is being improperly taught, his or her attendance at a public school may be required.

The law has "teeth," being provided with penalties for parents or guardians of both fines and imprisonment, and every day's failure to send or cause to be sent, a child to a public school, is a separate offense.

MAKING COUNTRY LIFE POPULAR.

The success, advance, and popularity of country life depends principally on the kind of leadership you have in a country town.

In some places there are plenty of bright people, but no one seems to have any go ahead spirit. Those who have ability may be afraid of criticism, and fear of being laughed at if they took hold of any kind of community project. They are perhaps afraid that the thing they have in mind will not prove a success, and they dislike to be responsible for any kind of a fizzle.

You can't have good civic organizations, you can not have an improving social life, unless a certain number of people are willing to go ahead and lay out some plans for activities and work a little to carry them out.

The lack of spare time is commonly given as the reason why capable people do not show initiative. More frequently though, it is because of a dislike for taking the lead. Ministers and teachers can make themselves tremendously useful in these ways. The minister of the future will not spend quite so much time writing sermons, but will spend more time in organizing helpful activities among his people.

The teacher of the future will not spend so much time studying up facts and information, but she will spend more in helping the community utilize its own resources.

In some places young people try to wake up their home town by loud and more or less disorderly conduct. They wait for someone else to provide normal diversions for them, they should themselves organize those pleasant and helpful activities that give life and character to a country town.

KENTUCKY CANDIDATES CANNY WITH PURSES

Congressman Rouse Leads Quartette Reporting With $180.50 Expenses

Washington.—Four Kentucky post-election statements on campaign expenses have been received by the Clerk of the House of Representatives but in no case is any tinge of Newberyism revealed.

George W. Hoge, who tried to beat Representative Gincheloe in the Second Congressional District, pled a statement showing $50 spent in addition to the $35 he already had reported. Representative Johnson, in the Fourth, reported that he had spent nothing on the general election, which makes his outlay nothing at all for either the primary or the general election.

If the scorching drivers are determined to go into the ditch, it would be advisable to pick out a spot where they won't have to roll over three or four times before reaching bottom.

From the way speeding motorists tear around the streets in some places, one might think they were observing the hunting season by trying to bag the pedestrians.

Hunters claim that rabbits are not so plentiful.

A WEEK'S NEWS.

One of the big problems of city life is to find useful occupations for school boys during vacations, and on days when school does not keep. Stores and factories do not like to take in irregular workers. As a consequence of the difficulty of finding suitable occupations for these youngsters, a great many of them acquire leading habits and are never good for anything.

That problem rarely arises in the country. The farmers' boys can always find something to do about the place. The boys who live in the town centers can help near by farmers or business men, or they can have the pretty and gardens and have other little enterprises of their own. Thus they get initiative and responsibility at an early age, which makes country boys usually more successful than city trained fellows.

Unfortunately there are some people who are good talkers for the benefit of their home community, who do not contribute their share of actual elbow grease.

The community man should make his home place shine. If he has removed all disorder, if he keeps it free from all litter, and all rubbish, if he mends anything that looks out of repair, if he keeps his buildings neatly painted, if he sets out such trees, flowers and shrubs as are needed to make his home attractive he has done a great deal to fill his function on the community's team of loyal workers. Not merely has he made his place a beauty spot that must please all beholders, but his example is sure to start some of his neighbors on the work of improvement.

Mr. J. D. Moore, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Moore of Big Bone, Boone County, Ky., a senior in the college of law at the University of Kentucky, has recently been elected vice president of the Patterson Literary Society. Mr. Moore has been quite active in student affairs at the University and has also maintained a good scholastic standing.

Mr. Moore will doubtless be well remembered as having won several scholastic contests at Union High school from which he graduated in 1918. He was president of the senior class there and also captain of the basketball team in 1916 and 1917. Mr. Moore is a merchant at Big Bone and a member of the Odd-Fellows Fraternity.

Stanley Robinson and Peter Moffet, who were arrested a few days since in Walton by Deputy Sheriff Perival, were tried in Burlington last Friday before N. E. Riddell, County Judge. These men were charged with reckless driving of an automobile on the public highway and for transporting liquor. There was found in Robinson's pocket a pint of moonshine whiskey and he was fined $50.00 and is to be confined in the county jail for 30 days. Moffet was found guilty of reckless driving and he was fined $100.00. Moffet also paid to William Carpenter $125.00 for the injury to Mr. Carpenter's mule which had to be killed.

L. W. Burt, who was committed to jail a few weeks ago in default of executing a bond for $1,000, was before Circuit Judge Sidney Gaines one day last week on a writ of Habeas Corpus, which after being heard by the court the writ was dismissed and Burt remanded to jail. After he executed the bond for $1,000 with E. M. Michaels as his surety. The case will be heard for the final trial at the next December term of the Boone Circuit Court.

E. C. Kelly, who was tried at the 1921 August term of the Boone Circuit Court and convicted on the charge of forgery and larceny, was granted a parole one day last week.

Rev. J. S. Hagen, wife and son, of Lexington, were guests of George Penn and wife the latter part of last week. Rev. Hagen had been engaged in conducting a meeting at the Richmond Presbyterian church.

It is feared by some that if the women get into politics, they will spend their time housecleaning, instead of making pie, cutting up pork and preserving plums.

If some of the business flappers would use a little more grey matter, and a little less red stuff, they would get along faster in their jobs.

Not merely are there people who think water is unfit for drinking, but there are also some who disapprove the use of it for washing.

Congressman Rouse left for Washington last Saturday to be on hand for the special session of Congress called by President Harding.

Grover Snyder and wife, of North Madison, Ind., visited relatives and friends here last week.

It is better to do your duty than to explain why you didn't.

Just Smiles

"Here," said an irate man to Geo. Held, "your dog has bitten me on the ankle." "Well, that's as high as the ankle reach," retorted George. "You would not expect a little dog like her to bite you on the neck, would you?"

Impatient Diner—Who's waiting at this table?
Passing waitress—You are.
"I lost a lot of money once."
"How come?"
"I proposed to a wealthy girl and she refused."

"John! John!" whispered Mrs. Congressman Squibbs. "Wake up! I am sure there are robbers in the house?" "Robbers in the house," he muttered sleepily. "Absolutely preposterous! There may be robbers in the Senate, Mary, but not in the House."

It would be a great world if the people could only put as much faith in a man as a woman puts in a safety pin.

It Was Teacher's Fault.

A school teacher received the following note: "Dear Madam please excuse my Tommy today he won't come to school because he is acting as timekeeper for his father and it is your fault. You gave him a example if a field is 5 miles around how long will it take a man walking 3 1/2 miles per hour to walk 2 1/2 times around it? Tommy ain't a man so his father will walk around the field and Tommy will time him; but please don't give my boy such examples again because my husband must go to work every day to support his family."

A colored pastor announced to his congregation the following subject: "Brethren and sisters, I've gwine to preach a powerful sermon dis mornin'. I've gwine to define the undefinable. I've gwine to explain the unexplainable, and I've gwine to unscrow the unscrutable."

"The doctor generally comes in a hurry."
"He knows if he delays you might not need him."

After Taking a Vacation
Little bank roll, one glad day
You and I both went away
To a gay and festive spot.
I've come back, but—you have not!

Next Thursday, (Nov. 30th) has been set apart as a day for Thanksgiving and prayer. We do fully comprehend the full meaning and importance of such a day? Do we fully realize the many blessings that we have received from the "Giver of every good and perfect gift?" health, food, raiment and christian privileges. Have the people of Boone county who have been favored with prosperity daily offered the praise and thanksgiving to the great God for His many kindnesses and countless blessings during the past year? We dare say that many, like the writer, have been remiss in such duties, but 'tis not our purpose to arraign others for what we, ourselves are guilty. Where could be found a class of people that have been more favored than those of this immediate section of the country? Prosperity and plenty ever where abound. From the greatest to the smallest, all have much to be thankful for, and our duty in this matter should not be confined to any one particular day—let each day of our lives be a "Thanksgiving Day."

Resolutions of Sympathy of the Mite Society.

Whereas, It has pleased the Almighty to remove from our midst by death our esteemed friend and co-laborer, Miss Mary Ann Thompson, who has for many years been a faithful member in our society.

Therefore, Resolved That in the death of Miss Thompson we have sustained the loss of a member whose society it was an honor and a pleasure to enjoy; that we bear willing testimony of her many virtues to her unquestioned probity and stainless life; that we offer to her bereaved relatives and friends our heartfelt condolence and pray that infinite Goodness may bring speedy relief to their burdened hearts and inspire them with the consolation that hope in futurity and Faith in God give, even in the shadow of the tomb.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, properly engrossed, be sent to the Recorder for publication, and a copy recorded on our minutes.

Committee
Mrs. Geo. Blythe,
Mrs. J. E. Gaines,
Mrs. H. T. Gaines,
Mrs. Marce Riddell, President.
Mrs. Alice Snyder, Secretary.

After ten months consideration the Supreme Court has decided that a Jap is not a white man. Wonder how long it would take them to decide that a bird-dog is not a rabbit.

That Ohio woman who borrowed $300,000 from her neighbors without security would make a good minister of exchequer for some of those European borrowing nations.

The wars and rumors of wars in Europe leads us to believe that the League of Nations must suspend its activities in the autumn, like the base ball leagues.

RADIO RALF AND HIS FRIENDS---

FOR SALE ETC

For Sale—2 1/2 acres of land, good land, about 3/4 mile west of Burlington on Bellevue and Burlington pike. N. E. Riddell, Burlington, Ky.

For Sale—Two farms, one at Lawrenceburg Ferry, one of the best views on the Ohio river, 160 acres. Will divide and sell 60 acres with all buildings if desired. Ten room house, fine outbuildings. One at Hebron, Ky., of 25 1/2 acres, well improved, house and barn, and small buildings.

E. MANNEN,
Petersburg, Ky.
o30nov-4t

WANTED

Hay to bale. Prices reasonable. P. H. Mathews, Bullittsville, Ky. Phone 203-x
25 June 1f

We give 20 per cent cash discount or to reliable parties of the regular retail price on Columbia Grafonolas, Starr Grand Pianos, Upright Pianos, Player Pianos and Starr Phonographs. Free delivery made anywhere. Write for catalog.
RICE PIANO CO.,
Aurora, Indiana.
o-jan1

NOTICE

We have been appointed the authorized sales and service station for the Willard Battery for Boone county. Also do recharging and repairing on all makes of Batteries. Work guaranteed.
DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO.
Erlanger, Ky.

NOTICE

All hunting and trapping on my place is positively forbidden.
J. H. WALTON,
Rabbit Hash.

NOTICE

No Dog or Hunting Licenses will be mailed unless 5c postage accompanies order.
M. E. ROGERS,
County Clerk.

For Sale—Ten 60-pound shoats, also six Toulouse geese. Apply to Ed. Berkshire, Burlington R. D. 1.
1t

FOR SALE

Five-room house, barn and lot in Burlington, also 62 acres of land in Park Addition—new barn.
THOS. HENSLEY,
Burlington, Ky.
o14dec-4t

FOR SALE

1916 Ford Touring.....$1100.00
1917 Ford Touring.....$1400.00
1919 Grand Six Touring....$3000.00
1916 Chevrolet Touring....$1000.00
These cars are all in good condition. Come in and let us give you a demonstration.

C. W. MYERS MOTOR CO.,
Florence, Ky.

Believing that you have often lost more than the price of the job, waiting for your wagons, etc., to be repaired, we have equipped our shop for Prompt service. Believing that you are glad to pay a fair price for good work, rather than a guessed at price for a guess work job, we are eager to quote prices on our work before we do it, in all cases where it is possible. Conner & Kraus, The Big Shop, Florence, Ky.

For Sale—10 tons No. 1 Clover hay in the bale, also a few Barred Rock pullets and cockerels. Huey strain. L. T. Clore & Son, Burlington, Ky.
1t

NOTICE

Beginning Dec. 1 I will not make my Friday trip to Waterloo until further notice.
A. C. SCOTT.

For Sale

On Dixie Highway 865 acres two miles north of Walton, Ky., one of the best farms in Boone county with location and improvements. There is a large better. See Wm. E. Baird Erlanger, Ky.
o10v80 3t

Mrs. W. B. Davallville is quite ill of pneumonia.

Public Sale.

I will sell at my residence on Gunpowder creek, 2 miles s. w. of Burlington on the Union and Burlington road, Tuesday, Dec. 5, '22

The Following Property;

2 E Chilled plows, Shovel plow, Iron Edge, 1 Horse wheat drill, McCormack binder 6 foot cut, McCormack mower 6, foot cut, Deering mower 6 foot cut, 8 Foot farm roller, Revolving harrow, Disk harrow, John Deer riding cultivator, Tougless cultivator, Road wagon, Hay bed, Rock bed, Runabout, Top Buggy, Wagon and Buggy harness, Picks, Shovels, Sledge hammers, Log chains, Single & Double trees, LOT OF CORN TIMOTHY and CLOVER HAY in the Barn, Walnut and White Oak lumber, Lot Household and Kitchen Furniture, Hand made Spreads and Counterpanes, OLD FASHION FURNITURE, Rag Carpets.

2 Brood Sows, 2 Milk Cows, 2 Aged Mules, Horse, 1 Sled, 2 Horse Sled.

TERMS—All under $10.00 cash, over that amount a credit of 6 months will be given, purchaser to execute note with good surety, payable at Boone County Deposit Bank. SALE will begin at 10.00 A. M. LUNCH at noon.

W. F. GRANT.

J. M. EDDNIS Auctioneer.

UNNECESSARY

To send your truck to Cincinnati for solid tires. We will press on United States or Kelly Spring at prices you can't beat anywhere.

You save the bridge toll and we give YOU IMMEDIATE SERVICE.

LOUIS MEYER MOTOR COMPANY

626 Scott, Covington, Ky.

THE QUALIFICATIONS OR RURAL TEACHERS

School authorities commonly question applicants for teaching positions pretty carefully, to determine whether they are properly prepared for their work. Some times though, they fail to investigate sufficiently their attitude on one important matter, and that is their degree of interest in country life.

"Are you in sympathy with country life?" "Do you enjoy living in the country?" Here are two questions that are very pertinent to a person's qualifications for rural school work. A teacher may be splendidly qualified in other respects. But if she does not like country life and will not give her whole heart to the effort to build it up, if she hopes to go off to some city at the first responsible moment, she lacks one exceedingly desirable qualification for rural school work.

RAW FURS WANTED

Get My Price & Grades Before You Sell.

NQ LOT TOO LARGE H. KIRK.

Burlington, Ky.

Mrs. Felton of Georgia is the first old lady to be named a Senator, but there have always been plenty of old ladies in the Senate.

The development of hydro-electric power is growing rapidly in France.

THE HOME RADIO

How to Make and Use It By A. HYATT VERRILL Copyright 1922 by Harper & Brothers

XXV. USEFUL THINGS TO REMEMBER

- That a crystal detector set is never as efficient as a vacuum-tube set, no matter what sort of equipment you use.
- That a crystal detector set cannot be satisfactorily amplified.
- That most small or cheap sets cannot tune out local interferences.
- That grid-leaks are not used on crystal detector sets, but only on vacuum-tube sets.
- That a large tuning-coil with wires spaced closely will give better results than a short coil or one with wires far apart.
- That a vario-condenser and a loose-coupler gives finer tuning.
- That a vacuum-tube is about thirty times as efficient as a crystal detector.
- That a wave length has little to do with the distance you can receive.
- That 3,000 ohm receivers will often raise a cheap set from inefficiency to excellency.
- That a loading-coil is not needed with a loose-coupler and variable-condenser.
- That if two or more crystal sets are used on one aerial only one can be used at one time and a switch must be provided to throw sets out and in.
- That a loose-coupler is better than a tuning-coil.
- That a loose-coupler should be placed between aerial and ground.
- That money saved in buying cheap head phones or receivers is really thrown away and that a great deal depends upon the phones.
- That aerials and lead-ins should be shunted across head-set.
- That in setting up an aerial one long wire is better than many shorter ones.
- That the lead-in counts and a long lead-in is an advantage.
- That aerials and lead-ins should be insulated from everything else.
- That aerials should be placed as high as possible.
- That when placing aerial near elevated structures, wires, bridges, or steel buildings it should be placed at right angles to them and as far away as possible.
- That 7 strand phosphor-bronze wire is the best for aerials, but ordinary No. 14 copper wire will do.
- That continuous waves penetrate everything.
- That the lead-in from aerial should be at end of aerial which is towards the sending station you most often wish to hear.
- That aerial does not have to be horizontal.
- That for sending, a many-wire aerial is far better than a single wire.
- That a counterpoise is better than ground, particularly in sending.
- That an indoor wire will serve for an aerial, but is not so good.
- That an iron bedstead or spring-bed will do for an aerial in case of necessity.
- That the simplest and cheapest vacuum-tube receiving set is better than the best crystal set.
- That the best form of receiving set is the regenerative set.
- That a vacuum-tube or regenerative set may be amplified to almost any extent.
- That an ordinary phonograph horn attached to a head telephone receiver will increase the sounds somewhat and will act as a loud speaker.
- That a vario-condenser helps fine tuning.
- That the filament battery of a vacuum-tube set may be a dry battery, but that it is more expensive in the end than a storage battery.
- That the Ultra Audion circuit has the plate circuit fed back to the phone-coil and amounts to a regenerative set.
- That the best type of vacuum-bulb receiving set is the regenerative with amplifiers.
- That each step of amplification requires another tube.
- That if there are too many turns on the inductance they may be taken off to secure tuning.
- That the distance you can receive depends upon various climatic and other conditions.
- That the filament lighting does not always mean the set is operating properly.
- That if filament rheostat is turned on suddenly the filament may be paralyzed and must be left to recuperate before it will glow.
- That burning the filament too brightly merely wastes the filament and shortens the life of the tube without adding anything to the efficiency of set.
- That a variable grid-leak can be made with pencil marks on paper and may be altered by erasing or adding lines.
- That some tubes are best for detectors, others for amplification and others for transmitting or as oscillators.
- That it is often cheaper to buy ready-made accessories than to make them.
- That all joints in wires (except in binding-posts) should be soldered.
- That the ground connection should be soldered to a water, gas or similar pipe or to a large copper plate buried in the ground.
- That the steel girder or frame of a building makes a good ground.
- That sending or transmitting sets must have a license to comply with the law.
- That the fire departments have special regulations regarding the installation of aerials.
- That an aerial cannot be placed across a street without permission.
- That aerials do not attract lightning and if provided with a gap or lightning switch are perfectly safe.
- That the best in the way of materials is always cheapest in the end.
- That when using a sending set the low voltage should be turned on first or the tube may be ruined.
- That in a sending set the battery should always be turned off from the phone circuit when not in use.
- That a sending set is always better with a counterpoise than with a ground.
- That it does not pay to try to make certain instruments.
- That while wireless telephones are so easily adjusted and simple a child may use them, they are also very delicate affairs and are easily put out of adjustment or ruined by carelessness.
- That you must not expect too much for your money in ready-made or home-made sets.
- That a set may act very differently on different days or under different conditions.
- That you should not condemn your instruments until you are sure the fault is not in yourself.
- That loose connections, poor insulation, poor ground, poor joints in wires, worn insulation, wires crossing and many other small matters may put a set completely out of business.
- That you can seldom improve upon a ready-made set by adding anything to it, but can do better by building a new one.
- That every accessory or piece of apparatus is made for a specific purpose and that you should consult the manufacturers or dealers as to the best for your purpose before purchasing.
- That the most expensive sets are not always the best, as oftentimes finish, cabinets and elaborate fittings add to cost without increasing efficiency.
- That while a receiving set may be made to go inside a safety match box such things are merely toys and are not for household use.
- That when a dealer advertises that a cheap set can receive signals from a certain distance, be sure to find out if he means code signals from radio telegraphic stations or sounds of voices, music, etc. No one can guarantee how far a set will receive as too many outside factors influence this.
- That like everything else each and every maker claims his sets are the best. Investigate several before buying.
- That anyone with the least mechanical ability can build wireless telephone sets if they purchase the parts which require special knowledge, skill or devices for making.
- That the prices of most sets do not include batteries, tubes or phones.
- That a storage battery must be recharged as soon as it becomes weak or your set will not work.
- That the vacuum-tube is one of the most delicate devices ever invented and should be treated accordingly.
- That no license is required for receiving sets and the air is free to all who want to listen-in.
- That all broadcasting stations publish their daily programs.
- That the worst interferences are the nearby sending stations. So don't add to others' troubles by sending unless you have good reasons or are sincere in your experiments.

Subscribe For The Recorder.....$1.50 per year

All obituaries, card of thanks and all other matter, not news, must be paid for at 5 cents per line.

Bullittsburg Baptist Church.
J. W. CAMPBELL, Pastor.
Sunday School every Sunday at 10.00 a. m.
Regular preaching services on the First and Third Sundays in each month at 11:00 a. m.

Boone Co. Lutheran Pastorate
REV. GEO. A. ROYER, Pastor.

Sunday Nov. 26th, 1922.
Hopeful 9:30 a. m., Sunday school.
Hopeful 10:30 a. m., Regular service.
Hopeful 7 p. m., Luther League.
Hebron 9:30 a. m., Sunday School.
Hebron 2 p. m., Teacher Training and Catechism.
Hebron 2:30 p. m., Regular service.

Boone Co. Christian Pastorate
REV. C. C. OMER, Pastor.

Sunday Nov. 26th, 1922.
Pt. Pleasant—
Bible School 10.00 a. m.
Bullittsville—
Bible School 10.00 a. m.

Burlington Baptist Church
REV. W. W. ADAMS, Pastor.

Sunday Nov. 26th, 1922.
Weekly prayer meeting Wednesday 7 p. m.
Bible School Sunday 10 a. m.
B. Y. P. U. Sunday 6 p. m.
Regular public worship Sunday Nov. 26th, At 11 a. m., Sermon subject: "The Forerunner of Jesus—His Enemies." At 7 p. m., sermon subject: "Jesus And The Poor."
Special Thanksgiving service on Thursday 2 p. m., November 30th. Entire community invited.

Next Monday is county court day.
J. J. Kirkpatrick spent last Saturday in Cincinnati, on business.

Dr. K. W. Ryle is nursing a very sore hand, caused by running a hook into it.

There are many hogs awaiting to be butchered when the weather gets cool enough.

Grant Williamson and Howard Kirkpatrick spent last Sunday at the dam at Minville.

ew corn throughout the State is selling from the crib at from $4.00 to $4.50 per barrel.

The work of putting the bottom in the basement of the Baptist church is completed.

Mrs. Mary Goodridge from out on R. D. No. 1, spent the week-end with Mrs. Sarah Carpenter.

Until the recent rains the ground had been drier than ever noted before at this time in November.

C. P. Baker and wife, of Union, attended services at the Burlington Methodist church, last Sunday morning.

Ed. Hawes, of Covington, spent week-end with his mother, Mrs. M. Martha Hawes and sister Miss Mamie.

Donald, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kirkpatrick, who has been quite sick for several days, is improving.

The rain of last Saturday morning furnished a fair casing season for tobacco and a good deal will no doubt be stripped.

The rain last Saturday morning replenished the cisterns and started the creeks to running, the first time for two months or more.

R. E. Berkshire and family spent Saturday night and Sunday with his father and mother, B. H. Berkshire and wife, at Petersburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mathews and daughter, of Bullittsville, attended Quarterly meeting at the Methodist church, last Sunday morning.

County Clerk M. E. Rogers has issued 375 hunting license. We wonder how many are violating the hunting law, hunting without a license?

Geo. Hewett and family moved to Saylor Park, Ohio, Monday, where Mr. Hewett has a position as carpenter on the Fern Bank dam.

Grover Snyder and wife, of North Madison, Indiana, spent the latter part of last week and the first of this with their relatives in and near Burlington.

One by one the coal bins in Burlington are being filled. At the price, burning coal is almost like burning money. But how are you going to help yourself?

The Secretary of the Boone County Poultry Association received an order from parties at Lexington, one day last week, for 200 White Leg horn hens and pullets—100 of each.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Arnold, who was taken to a hospital, last week, was brought home the first of the week, very much improved. No operation was necessary.

The Boone County Chesterwhite Association has gained quite a reputation throughout the country for raising fine hogs. Mr. Geo. M. Penn shipped last week, two very fine young boars to parties at Shabysville and Worthville, for which he received fancy prices.

One Maine factory turns out 50,000 pairs of birch cart wheel hubs annually.

J. O. Richards and C. E. Norman, of the Florence precinct, were business visitors to Burlington, Monday morning.

Several members of Burlington Lodge attended a meeting of the Masonic Lodge in Newport, last Saturday night. They report a good time.

Miss Sallie Rogers returned home Tuesday from a visit of several days with friends and relatives at Walton and Dry Ridge.

Burlington Methodist church will have Sunday School Sunday morning Nov. 26th, 1922, at 11 o'clock sharp. Come and help us organize. Come and enroll and watch us grow. ALL ARE WELCOME.

Milton Souther and wife, George Kreylich, wife and daughter, Miss Mattie, of Idlewild neighborhood, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Corn at Erlanger.

I. O. O. F. SUPPER

Oyster Supper at Union Saturday November 26th from 6 p. m., until 12. Oysters, Soup, Sandwiches, Coffee, Lemonade, Ice Cream and Cake served.

CARD OF THANKS

We herewith desire to express our sincere and heartfelt thanks to our friends and relatives, both colored and white for their sympathy and kindness shown us in the loss of our beloved husband and father, William Strader. Also the choir for the beautiful songs rendered, to the donors of the beautiful floral offerings, also we thank Rev. Lewis for his consoling words. The Family.

Rabbits Scarce

As Will Be Seen By Reading the Number of Rabbits Killed By Some of Our Best Shots It Is Claimed They Could Not Find Them

Following is the number of rabbits killed by each of the local hunters on the 15th:

L. C. Weaver	22
Albert Pettit	2
Box Berkshire (last hunt)	1
Joe Berkshire	1
Frank Walton	2
Grant Williamson	2
Lee Utz	7
Elmer Horton	15
Garnett Tolin	14
Garnett Clore	4
D. R. Blythe	5
Irene Rue	3

BRADY—LONIKER

Miss Hazel Brady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brady and Mr. Stanley Loniker were united in marriage at the home of the bride, on Thursday morning at 11 o'clock, Rev. Edward Schoeff officiating with the impressive ring ceremony. The house was prettily decorated with carnations and roses. The bride never looked prettier than in her wedding gown of brown tulle and crepe with corsage bouquet of carnations and roses and the groom wore a beautiful blue suit.

The guests were the immediate relatives, and those from out of town were Mr. Walter Loniker and daughter, Mr. Grant Howe and family, Mrs. James White and daughter and Mrs. Wm. White, of Petersburg, Ky., Miss Esther Lutterbeck of Lawrenceburg and Mr. Bellamy Stevens of Aurora.

HONOR ROLL OF EAST BEND SCHOOL

Second Month. Neither Tardy Nor Late

Helen Hodges
Leroy Hager
Pete Hodges
Chester Hodges
Orville Scott
Marie Smith
Vernon Stephens
Lewis Stephens

General Average Above 90 Per Cent

Ruth Setters
Vernon Stephens
Lewis Stephens
Maynard Bodie
Wilma Scott
Chester Hodges
Jane Setters

Average attendance for month 98.95 per cent.

Mary Deck, Teacher.

*****

FLORENCE THEATRE

Saturday Nov. 26th

WM. HART

In

"THE WHISTLE"

also

Comedy

Tuesday Nov. 28th

NORMA TALMAGE

and

"HER ONLY WAY"

and

RUTH ROLAND

In

"THE TIMBER QUEEN"

Admission 22c—10c

*****

A New Coupe From Your Old Ford

Everybody's Doing It

Turning their old Ford cars into snappy new Ames Road-Coach Bodies on an Old Ford Chassis. The picture above shows an

Ames Road-Coach Body on a Ford Chassis

It gives you all the advantages of comfort and protection from the weather, yet plenty of ventilation. Window may be lowered when desired. We close doors in every direction. Finished in Midnight Blue. Just the car for doctors, teachers, salesmen and everyone who wants Ford economy combined with the style of cars that cost $1,200 to $2,000. Use your old Ford Chassis with this new Ames Body and have a real car for only $225.

Mounted Free We will mount a new Ames Body on your old Ford Chassis at no extra cost, if you will drive to Owensboro. We are not in a hurry, take day or two off and see the country.

Body shipped, if you prefer, with full directions for mounting. Anybody can do it. Special Offer For the next thirty special introductory days we are making special inducements to live dealers.

THE F. A. AMES CO., Incorporated
The World's Largest Builders of Special Bodies for Fords.
Established 1891
100 Locust St., Owensboro, Ky.

FOR SALE

A new five-room house and three acres of land on the Burlington pike, one-half mile from Florence.
Mrs. E. B. WEBSTER,
Nov 16 2t
Florence, Ky.

Edwin Gaines, of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, who holds a lucrative position with the National Cash Register Co., was in Burlington for a short time, last Friday. He was enroute to the scene of his boyhood days in the Idlewild neighborhood, to try his luck with the bunnies and Bob Whites. Edwin had to be an expert with the gun.

Many hunters have taken out licenses with the County Clerk. This is a very necessary procedure as it is a violation of the law to hunt without a license except on one's own land. A hunting license only costs one dollar, so it is advisable to take out the license rather than violate the law and take a chance of arrest and fine.

After next Thursday a six per cent penalty and six per cent interest will be added to all unpaid taxes. All who have not paid their taxes had better do so by December 1, and save this extra expense. According to the books at the Sheriff's office at most half of the taxpayers have failed to pay their taxes to this date.

Rev. C. H. Greer, the Presiding Elder of the Covington District, conducted the services at the Quarterly meeting at the Burlington Methodist church, last Sunday morning and evening, a good sized crowd attending both services. After this services will be held at the Methodist church on the second and fourth Sundays—morning and evening.

Next year will be another big year in politics in Old Kentucky. A Governor and all state officers are to be elected. Already gubernatorial candidates are beginning to get busy. Congressman Barkley has already announced that he will be a candidate, and Congressman Cantrill seems to be very much in the same notion about himself. It is not expected that the list will end with these two.

Burlington has been pretty well deserted by the sporting element since the opening of the season for rabbits and quail. Many hunters from a distance were also on hand and the cotton-tails and birds have been kept busy keeping out of the way of bird shot. A scarcity of both birds and rabbits is reported by the hunters. Some claim that the very dry weather has caused the game to migrate to the water courses.

The most powerful commercial broadcasting station in the United States is to be erected at the plant of the United States Playing Card Company, in Norwood, almost immediately. It will be erected for the company by the Western Electric Company, and will operate on a 400 meter wave length. The largest existing stations in the country at the present time are operating on a 360-meter wave length. The installation of this most powerful broadcasting station is incidental to and connected with very extensive additions and alterations being made to the plant of the United States Playing Card Company at this time. The old buildings of the company and the new are being harmonized into one of the architecturally most beautiful manufacturing plants in the world.

A Boston professor says that the extensive use of slang in America is a national disgrace. That guy sure spoke a mouthful; the line of chatter some birds spill is something fierce—it ain't nothing else.

$1,441,486 A YEAR'S DISASTER RELIEF COST

Red Cross Aided 145,000 Victims in United States—Losses Total $30,000,000.

Seventy-two disasters, with hundreds reported killed and injured, and more than 145,000 either homeless or requiring assistance, called for emergency relief measures and the expenditure of $1,441,486.86 by the American Red Cross during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1922, according to a statement based on the forthcoming annual report of the Red Cross. The greatest toll of life was taken by hurricane and tornado, while the overflowing of rivers, the breaking of dams and torrential rains drove the greatest number of people from their homes. The property loss was estimated at more than $30,000,000.

The year's disasters reported included twenty-six floods, nineteen tornadoes, fifteen fires, four epidemics, two theatre collapses, two shipwrecks (one an alrship), and a bridge collapse, mine explosion, railway collision, and a drought. Of the floods in the United States that at San Antonio, Texas, caused the greatest property loss, $6,000,000 and the high mark of fatalities, 100, while the flood in the vicinity of Vicksburg and Natchez, Miss., forced 31,000 persons from their homes.

A National Calamity
In the Red Cross disaster relief records there will probably remain for many years one calamity which touched nearly every state with a sense of horror and of loss. This was the distressing collapse of the roof of the Knickerbocker Theatre in Washington, D. C., resulting in ninety-six deaths and 125 persons injured. Situated in the center of the beautiful Northwest residential section, this motion picture theatre was patronized by many persons of prominence both in the official and civil life of the National Capital, whose family and personal connections radiated out over the entire country. The horror was intensified by a terrific snowstorm which, though it retarded, did not block Red Cross relief.

Airship Crash Finds Aid at Hand
The crash and destruction of the U. S. Army's large airship Roma in Virginia last February with the loss of 34 officers and men and 11 injured was the first disaster of its kind to call for Red Cross relief in this country. The suddenness of the accident tested the preparedness of the organization and of the Chapter at Hampton, Va., but the response was immediate and relief furnished the survivors, also funds for the expenses of relatives of the dead, who came from long distances to claim their own.

In the year's overseas record for aid rendered by the Red Cross are two fires in the Philippines, one in Manila, which destroyed 1,000 homes, with a loss of $1,600,000 and 5,000 persons made homeless, and another at Tonic which drove 8,000 from their dwellings. In medical relief that was quick and effective the smallpox epidemic in San Domingo, which had a total of 22,000 cases with 225 deaths in a single day, tested the readiness of the Red Cross for action, and the local Chapter of the San Domingo hurricane, which killed 12 persons and reduced the homes of 182 persons to wreckage. A flood in San Salvador, with a death toll of 50 and 2,000 refugees, was also effectively handled by the local Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Relief Machinery Perfected
The year has seen the further perfection of disaster relief administrative measures in every field of American Red Cross activity, and that the work may be carried on to still greater accomplishment, the American Red Cross is appealing for widespread renewal of membership during the annual Roll Call, to be conducted this year from Armistice Day (November 11) to, and including, Thanksgiving Day (November 30).

Red Cross Roll Call Heard World Around

The Annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross for registration of the membership for 1923 will begin on Armistice Day, November 11, and close on Thanksgiving Day, November 30. The ground work for this stupendous task of re-enrolling the membership throughout the world has been laid in a plan for the first complete and comprehensive system of registration of the Red Cross membership in all its 5,300 active Chapters at home and abroad.

An important feature of the round-the-world Roll Call campaign will be a universal effort to re-enlist the service of war-time Red Cross workers in the peace program by their participation in the Roll Call. In this way the vast army of volunteers will once more affirm with the work of the Red Cross in its manifold phases. Cooperation also has been assured by Government and private maritime interests in a deep-sea Roll Call that is designed to reach every member or potential member in every part of the world who may be on voyage or temporarily in any port.

Thousands of chapters will adopt the home canvass plan of enrollment which originated in Pittsburgh, where last year it resulted in a membership increase of 50 per cent. All records in this year's campaign will be kept on standard size cards to be filed by each Chapter for future use.

CAR SENSE

Spend a Dollar and Save Ten

Little defects grow into big ones in time if not corrected.
The correction of a small defect in its early stages costs but little.
When left until it grows into serious proportions its correction runs into money.
That is what makes the maintenance of a car so expensive to many people—neglecting the little things until they grow into big ones.
The better—the safer—the more economical way is to see the garage man at the first warning of trouble.
Today is always a good time to have it done.

EDDINS BROTHERS

TIRES, TUBES AND ACCESSORIES.
Burlington, Kentucky.
BRAKE BAND OIL—Guaranteed to stop Ford bands from chattering.
Agents for U. S. and Ajax Tires.

Established 1886.

A Bank Account IS ONE OF THE FIRST STEPPING STONES TO SUCCESS IN LIFE.

How are You Stepping!

This bank invites young men and women especially to open savings accounts. Officials of the bank are pleased at all time to give the benefit of their experience to customers and others who seek advice.
When in doubt come to this bank. Your success means greater success for us.

Has it ever occurred to you that a checking account is a very convenient thing to have?

Boone Go. Deposit Bank

Burlington, Kentucky.
N. E. RIDDELL, President. W. D. CROPPER, Cashier.
W. A. GAINES, Vice-Pres. G. S. KELLY, Asst. Cashier.

Rising Sun Fancy Patent Flour

That looks good, tastes good and really is good, deliciously good, with that tasty, melting flavor and texture—to win real appreciation.

You get full nutrition and full value when you buy RISING SUN FANCY PATENT FLOUR.

FOR SALE BY
Your Grocer. Insist on It.

COURTESY SERVICE STABILITY

Making a Selection.

In making a banking connection be sure that you select a bank that is large enough and strong enough to care for your every need in stormy as well as fair weather.

THIS—THE LARGEST BANK IN THE COUNTY—OFFERS YOU THIS KIND OF A BANKING CONNECTION.

Capital and Surplus, $150,000.00

4 per cent and the Taxes paid on Deposits.
We do business for our customers.

Peoples Deposit Bank

Burlington, Ky.
W. L. B. ROUSE, President. C. H. YOEUELL, Vice-President.
A. B. RENAKER, Cashier.
Nell H. Martin, Asst. Cashier. L. C. Beemon, Asst. Cashier.

Petersburg Theatre

At Petersburg, Kentucky

Saturday Night, Nov. 25th

AN UNWILLING HERO

Also Fifth Episode of "WHITE EAGLE"

At Burlington, Kentucky,

Friday Night, Nov. 52th

AN UNWILLING HERO

Also Fifth Episode of "WHITE EAGLE"

CHILDREN 10c. ADULTS 25c

War Tax Included Will Begin promptly at 7:30

As the Editor Sees It.

Have you anything to be thankful for this year?

A few things, you think? You have many things, we think. You have health, and food, and clothing, and your home, and your family, and your friends.

And you have greater freedom of action, and thought, and speech than is vouchsafed to any other people on the face of the globe.

You live in a country where we recognize no master save our God and ourselves.

We have our public officials, of course, but they are our paid servants and we, the people, are their masters. If their work does not please us we drop them by the wayside, as is our privilege.

These are only a few of our many blessings, but are they not enough for which to render thanks?

November the 30th is the day.

Shop early this Christmas. Then shop again.

The more cheer you bestow upon others the greater will be the cheer within your own heart.

Christmas is a time of good cheer for everybody, and nearly everybody is cheered in one way or another.

Let us see that everyone in this community is remembered on Xmas day, and that no one is overlooked.

What is everybody's business generally remains undone, to the embarrassment or grief of those who are the victims of our indifference.

Therefore, let us have a community committee whose business it will be to take the initiative in seeing that the Christmas spirit and cheer are represented in every home and in every heart in our town and countryside.

If we form such a committee now the good work will be done.

If left until the last minute there will be time for nothing but excuses and regrets.

Have you noticed the unusual brightness of the children of today?

It is the natural development and expansion of the human intellect.

As the world grows older its people absorb greater knowledge, and that knowledge is transmitted from parent to son and daughter, and the son or daughter absorbs additional knowledge as it traverses the years of infancy and juvenility and in time passes the accumulation on to its own offspring.

In the early ages of mankind the world was ruled by ignorance, superstition and idolatry.

Before the final eclipse there will be such intelligence and enlightenment as has never been known before.

Today we are in a transitory state living, and learning, and progressing as the Creator affords us opportunities and the intelligence to grasp them.

The intelligence of your child is not due entirely to you. It is the divine will that knowledge be unfolded by degrees, and you are but the instrument of that will.

Everybody is talking about you, and you can no more stop them than you can cause the wind to cease blowing.

What will they say about you tomorrow?

That will depend upon what you do today.

You are molding their words by your own actions, and the judgment they will pronounce upon you is being prepared in advance by you, yourself.

Good or bad, each year must come to an end.

KICKED IN THE PANTS

During political campaigns both political parties make numerous promises which are never kept after election.

It has been so in the past, and will continue to be so in the future, until the people arise in their wrath and administer a chastisement too drastic to be forgotten.

Both parties are afflicted with the same disease, a deadly malady that is alienating the respect and confidence of millions of voters each year.

The party machinery is in the hands of a few self chosen leaders, and these men manipulate it to their own advantage and to that of the favored "interests." It is seldom that the welfare of the plain voter is taken into consideration.

At the last presidential election the democratic leaders wondered what mountain had fallen upon them. But the independent democratic voter knew quite well what it was. It was the weight of his own displeasure.

Now, in an off year election, the republican leaders are wondering from whence came the paralyzing wall that almost annihilated them. And this time it is the independent republican voter who knows the secret of the smash.

Some day our self appointed leaders will learn that the people want legislation and government for the people, and not for the pampered and fattened few.

There is hope that in time a kick in the pants will kick some sense in their heads.

Democratic successes at the polls are not sufficiently extensive to destroy the momentum of the pleasure of winning all the national and international Republican misrule.

DAIRY

SELECTION OF DAIRY HEIFER

Head is Excellent Index to Breeding, Quality and Value of Animal—Other Points.

A great amount of information can be obtained from a study of the head of the heifer calf. The head is an excellent index to the breeding, quality and value of the animal. The eye should be large, bright, clear, indicating good health; the face should be medium in length, free from blemishes, showing an expression which the dairyman cannot refrain from calling "sweet"; the nostrils large and well placed to allow for the entrance of plenty of air; the muzzle large and broad, indicating a good feeder, and the jaw should be strong.

The constitution can be judged in part by standing in front of the heifer calf. We do not like a calf that stands with the front legs close together. This is an indication of poor constitution. The legs should be straight and wide apart, making room for a wide chest floor.

The calf should be examined next from the side. The neck should be neat, slim and medium in length. A short, thick neck is desired on the beef animal, but upon the dairy animal it is never associated with good dairy type or high milk production. The neck should blend neatly into the shoulder which should be rather spare in flesh, and come to a point at the withers.

The above is from bulletin 183-A, "The Dairy Heifer and Her Calf," by Excellent Type of Dairy Heifer.

B. W. Fairbanks, just issued. Copies may be had free on application to the extension service, Colorado Agricultural college, Fort Collins. While the bulletin was written primarily for use of members of Calf clubs, the information will be of interest also to adults who are beginners in dairying.

CLEANING MILKING MACHINES

Suggestions Prepared by Dr. A. F. Hanna for California Department of Agriculture.

The following suggestions for cleaning milking machines were prepared by Dr. A. F. Hanna, field veterinarian for the California department of agriculture:

1. When through milking run warm water through tubes.
2. Thoroughly brush with hot water and washing compound all parts with which the milk comes in contact.
- 3.—Place tubes, etc., in water which has reached the boiling point and permit them to remain therein for 30 to 60 minutes. Do not resort to further boiling.
4. Place tubes, etc., in brine and chloride of lime solution and drain three to five minutes before the next milking period. They will then be ready for use.

Small top pails are used for stripping the cows.

The four main points (1, 2, 3 and 4) are observed daily in the morning, and only the third point is omitted in the evening.

KEEP DAIRY UTENSILS CLEAN

First Thoroughly Rinse With Warm Water and Then Brush Well Inside and Out.

Clean all dairy utensils by first thoroughly rinsing them in warm water; next clean inside and out with a brush and hot water, in which a cleaning material has been dissolved; then rinse, and lastly sterilize by boiling water or steam. Use pure water only. After cleaning keep utensils inverted, in pure air, and, when possible, until wanted for use.

DISPOSE OF BOARDER COWS

Wise Plan to Sell Any Animal That Does Not Pay for Feed What They Should Yield.

Sell the boarder-cow which doesn't pay for the hay you buy for her. Grade Jerseys giving less than $500 pounds, Guernseys giving less than $400, and Holsteins giving less than $500 pounds of milk in a year don't pay for their feed.

A Fly Spray. The ravages of flies in the dairy barn can be partially checked by spraying the cows with a fly spray. A number of good sprays are on the market.

Keep Fowls Separated. Keep growing chicks and laying hens separate throughout the summer.

Maintained for Revenue. In these days cows are maintained for revenue only.

SIMCO BUTTERMILK EGG MASH

Makes Champion Layers!

Moulting Time--End It Quick

Hurry the Feathers, then Biddy can get back to her old job and lay the eggs you are looking for. Just now she needs lots of Protein—Feathers are 85 per cent Protein. She will find Protein abundantly in Simco Buttermilk Egg Mash. And in the most acceptable form—the Buttermilk tickles her crav and makes her absorb 8 times as much Protein. Feathers first—Viva La Feather. Hens helped through Moulting Time with Simco will meantime lay better than usual—and then, when Moulting is over they will make a bee line for the champion class. Satisfied. Simco buyers will tell you so. Take Home a Sack of Simco.

FOR SALE BY

E. K. STEPHENS, Walton, Ky.

E. A. STOTT, Petersburg, Ky.

WM. FROST, Constance, Ky.

WASHINGTON COMMENT.

The United States Government is whole heartedly in the school business. . . . for its own benefit. At West Point is as fine a university for training young men as the educational world knows. At Annapolis is its duplicate, save as the Navy needs differ from those of the Army.

The reason the Government has these two universities is because it cannot get men properly educated for the Army or the Navy from any existing school or college, except these which it maintains for itself.

The Diplomatic Service long ago discovered that it was absolutely essential to maintain schools in various countries, to which young American college men might be sent, and in which they could learn the manners, morals, customs, language, history, and psychology of the country; such men, could properly carry on the business of an embassy or legation.

There are literally hundreds of Army and Navy schools for training the enlisted men in this, that, and the other trade and profession.

Will some one who knows kindly explain why, if the United States needs trained men in Army, Navy, and Diplomatic Corps, and can only get them with special schools maintained to produce them, it does not also need trained thinkers, business men, professional men, and teachers, who can be, should be, trained in a National University, maintained by the United States Government.

Uncle Sam knows what he needs in an Army officer, diplomat, and proceeds to get what he needs. If he also knows what he needs in Government official, teacher, thinker, lawyer, judge, and ordinary citizen, why shouldn't he extend his public school system far enough to include a National College for American citizens.

There are being trained in the fourth district of the United States the Veterans Bureau, comprising the States of Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, and District of Columbia, more than 5,000 disabled ex-soldiers. The training includes law, medicine, agriculture, engineering, and various mechanical trades, and there are nearly 100 taking courses from private tutors.

Of 100 men trained by the bureau in this district, selected at random from those who graduated, the average pre-war wage was $110 a month, while the average wage since training has been $175.

This is fine practical work and worthy of the highest commendation. Unoubtedly there have been many hardships suffered by ex-service men, due to too much red tape, bureaucracy, and the curse of this, our Government, too many subdivisions of authority, but in spite of these things, we do, now and then, succeed in accomplishing something for those to whom we owe so much. There is no joy in it compared to that of attaining success; there is no proof of success like increasing earning power. If the Veterans Bureau can raise the earning power of its students, it raises the level of human happiness, and of all young Americans, our sick, injured, and maimed world-war veterans most deserve happiness.

OCCUPATION FOR THE BOYS

France says she will pay us after she collects from Germany. Our great-great-grand children should cheer up.

Who says the modern schools are inefficient, when the pupils of Burlington know so much more than their parents?

All the world loves a lover—until he begins to get ally.

DRESSY COSTUME BLOUSES

A lovely costume blouse of georgette, richly embroidered in silk, when worn with a satin or silk skirt, will make a toilette sufficiently dressy for almost any occasion. The blouse pictured has full sleeves, cut to long points at the elbow, and drawn in at the wrists. This model may be made with a peplum.

Lips cracked and sore?

MENTHOLATUM quickly heals them.

THE IRREGULAR HEART

Few physical ills are more alarming at first than an intermittent heart. As a general rule the person whose heart is irregular is "more frightened than hurt." Most people with irregular hearts live to a good old age or at least do not die of heart disease.

The irregularities of heartbeat may be irregularities either in rhythm or in force. The irregularities in force are in many cases the more dangerous. What is called the alternating pulse is of that character, a fairly strong beat alternating with a weak or almost imperceptible beat. The alternating pulse occurs usually only in cases of serious disease and points to a loss of power, or degeneration of the heart muscle. A very rapid pulse caused by emotion or violent muscular effort is perfectly normal and slows down gradually when the exciting cause has passed. More serious is the rapid pulse that occurs in attacks without any apparent cause and that then subsides spontaneously.

Persons sometimes have a habitually rapid pulse—from ninety to a hundred beats or more a minute—toward the middle of the day on to bedtime and after. In many cases too much smoking is the cause. An occasional intermittence in the heart beat occurring at irregular intervals is not uncommon, but although it usually is of no serious import it causes much mental distress. Often it is merely the result of some digestive disturbance and can usually be relieved temporarily by a dose of castor oil. A person whose heart is intermittent should always consult a physician, for there is a form called "heart block" that is significant of real heart trouble.

Arterial fibrillation is an alarming condition in which the smaller chambers of the heart are twitching and jerking without any coördinated contractions; the twitches are irregular and are very rapid, two or three hundred times a minute. Arterial flutter is similar, though the contractions, which are exceedingly rapid, are more regular. In children and in some adults the pulse is more rapid during the drawing of the breath and less rapid with expiration. The condition is not dangerous.

If you are thinking of putting by a supply of groceries for the Winter let us supply your needs at WHOLESALE PRICES We shall be glad to quote you as an individual or your Farmer's Union as an Organization. Send us your name and address. Let us put your name on our mailing list for our regular monthly price-list.

New Genuine Open Kettle NEW ORLEANS MOLASSES 5 Gal. can $4.00

New Pack SILVER FLEECE KRAUT 14 Gal. Keg $5.00

New FAT NORWAY MACKEREL Per Kit $2.25

NEW Dates, Nuts, Figs, Evaporated Peaches, Sun Dried Apples, Prunes, Mince Meat, Rolled Oats, Oatmeal, Grain Hominy, Flake Hominy, Navy Beans, etc. All Of Highest Quality And Lowest Prices.

NOBETTER COFFEE

POUND 33 CENTS

A Trial Convinces.

Sent Post Paid 4 Pound or more.

Northern Kentucky's LEADING GROCERS AND SEEDSMEN.

VULCANIZING.

Complete line of Goodyear, Goodrich and Kelly-Springfield Tires and Tubes, good Grade of Auto-mobile and Tractor Oils and Greases.

Auto Accessories kept in stock.

GEORGE PORTER, BURLINGTON, KY.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN, DENTIST

In my new office

Cloyale Place, Florence, Ky.

Teeth extracted painless. Bridge and Plate Work a Specialty.

All Work Guaranteed

JAMES L. ADAMS DENTIST

Cotton Building

Pike Street, Covington, Ky.

F. W. Kassebaum & Son

GRANITE & MARBLE

MONUMENTS,

A Large Stock on Display to Select from.

Pneumatic Tool Equipme't

118 Main Street,

AURORA, IND.

Springglass Replaced, Cushions and Backs Rebuilt

Buggy and Wagon Upholstering

OF QUALITY

RUFUS W. TANNER

Auto Top Repairing

Seats covers for all makes of cars.

Dixie Highway Erlanger, Ky.

Phone Erl. 79-Y.

People who use the classified ads in this paper profit by them.

The little ads bring quick results. What have you for sale or want to buy. The cost is too small to consider.

C. H. YOEUELL

Farms for Sale

At Bargain Prices.

Burlington, Ky.

Phone Burlington 65

Take Your County Paper.

RECHARGE ANY BATTERY 75c

RENTED BATTERIES FOR ANY MAKE CAR WHILE WE ARE RECHARGING OR REPAIRING YOUR BATTERY.

Dempsey Motor Car Co., Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

No inducement.

"We start you without a dollar," read the unemployed person. "Humph!" he snorted. "That's nothing. I'm that way now."—Herald Ledger, Philadelphia.

Subscribe For The Recorder.....$1.50 per year

BOONE CO. RECORDER

Published every Thursday
N. E. RIDDELL, Publisher.

Foreign Advertising Representative
THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION
Entered at the Postoffice, Burlington, Ky., as second-class mail.

The Recorder Stands For
BETTER FARMING, BETTER CITIZENS, BETTER HOMES"

ADVERTISING RATES.

Furnished on application. The value of the RECORDER as an advertising medium is unquestioned. The character of the advertisements now in its columns, and the number of them, tell the whole story.

Sweden has not had a war for a century.

Envy another person's brains will not cultivate your own.

Travel is said to be broadening, but the hobo crowd seem to get thin on it.

Your best friends are not always the ones with whom you are most intimate.

A close fluted woman is generally quite liberal in giving away pieces of her mind.

You can get plenty of joy out of life if you are willing to accept what you get as joyful.

At any rate, a wife with a mind of her own is preferable to one with no mind at all.

There is plenty of wisdom in this world, but too much of it gets into the heads of d. f.'s.

Never tell a woman that she has the world at her feet. It is a reflection upon their size.

Remember, though, that family jars are hard to produce when only one makes the noise.

Never kick about what other people say of you. It might be worse if the whole truth were known.

Keeping your wife in ignorance is poor policy. It sounds twice as bad when told to her by others.

In the country the people learn how to make money, in the city they learn how to borrow it.

It looks like a dangerous combination to the kid element when parents and teachers get together.

Gay old New York, we note, declines to bow to the long skirt. It prefers to rise to the short one.

The time has gone by when you could make successful farmers by teaching boys to be store clerks.

It is quite true that clothes do not make the man, but few of us would care to go around without any.

The fellow who is persistently looking for something for nothing generally gets all that he is entitled to.

Not merely is the frost on the pumpkin, in the words of the poet, but it has nipped many political hopes.

Not merely are the politicians suffering from throat trouble since the election, but the people have the earache.

The politicians complain of apathy on the part of the voters, but more frequently the trouble is due to nausea.

Anyway no one has expressed fear that the coming session of Congress would show unseemly haste in passing new laws.

No, it isn't the prohibition law that the wets object to most. They are peeved at the foolish people who try to enforce it.

Instead of conserving our resources, it is feared that Congress will spend most of its time in conversing about them.

Henry Jergen, of Constance, was a business visitor to Burlington last Friday. While in town he made this office a pleasant call.

The politicians all say they wear no man's collar, and some of them look as if they were going to discard their neckties too.

The doctors are urging attention to mouth hygiene. One way for some people to promote it would be to keep their mouths shut.

Some people can't afford to give a dollar to the Red Cross because they recently spent a large number of dollars on their own high jinks.

The sportsman may find game rather scarce nowadays, but some of them get in a few shots at other hunters who are mistaken for deer.

Some of our citizens have been feasting on mustard greens for several days. It is claimed they are plentiful in some parts of a county.

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

MISS LUCY SAYS A
HANT AIN' REAL, BUT LAND! HE DON' HUB
T' BE REAL!!

Copyright, 1921 by Madison Newspaper Syndicate

OREGON INTOLERANCE

The Oregon compulsory school law—a law compelling all children to attend the public schools—is irreligious, intolerance disguised thinly.

It is true beyond a doubt that if all funds, used for education were used to build and equip the public schools and supply the public schools with teachers the schools to which every child has access would be better than they are. It is true also that the spirit of democracy would be reflected in America if all Americans were voluntarily patrons of public schools. But to pass a law forbidding the instruction of children save in public schools or in the homes of parents is tantamount to passing a law forbidding all religious denominations to establish primary or graded schools.

If it is not true, as alleged, that the Ku Klux promoted the Oregon law, it is, at any rate, the sort of legislation that might originate in the activities of a lawless organization.

Keeping religion out of public schools, because public schools are open to all children without regard to the religious beliefs of their parents, is tolerance. America is pledged by her every tradition, and by the terms of the organic law and the language of the Declaration of Independence, to tolerance.

The Boston Transcript suggests that perhaps the real aim of the Oregon law is to suppress the parochial schools of the Roman Catholic church, and observes that if the Roman Catholics are in a majority in any State they might turn the tables upon anti-Catholics by giving the public schools, should they choose to follow the Oregon example, such a character that Protestants would seek to establish separate schools, which under such a system as that of Oregon they could do so.

If States can pass such laws as that adopted in Oregon, a shifting population easily might result, giving some States a majority of one denomination and others a majority of another denomination.

That such a law will stand the test of the courts is not probable. State sovereignty hardly extends so far that a State may inaugurate what the Turks would term a holy war against this or that faith. It cannot be argued that if Roman Catholics, Presbyterians or Deep Water Baptists or Seventh Day Adventists are not allowed to establish schools for their children they enjoy religious freedom in the true definition of the term.

WITH THE STATISTICIANS

There are nearly 20,000 islands in the Indian ocean, only about 150 of them being inhabited, most of the remainder being unexplored.

When contemplated hydroelectric plants are built the Belgian Congo will produce from 80,000 to 100,000 metric tons of copper annually.

More than 1,300 successful artesian wells have been drilled in the Philippines since the first one was sunk in an experimental way eighteen years ago.

By using electric power obtained from waterfalls a Swiss railway has effected a coal saving of 100,000 tons a year.

Germany has more than 100 radio telegraph stations that broadcast news to newspapers, weather reports and information for commercial organizations.

Brazil, Argentina and Uruguay are planning to co-operate in harnessing the Uruguay River to get power equivalent to 3,000,000 tons of coal a year.

It is calculated that in one year some 1,200 truckloads of lost property are collected on English railways, weighing in all at least 6,000 tons.

Religious Exercise

Two shipwrecked sailors were on a desert island. They were utterly miserable, pinched with hunger and cold. The one more wretched than the other said to his companion: "Can you pray, Bill?"

"No," "Can you sing a hymn?"

"No," "Well," said the first, "let's have a song."

"Well," said the first, "let's have a song."

"Well," said the first, "let's have a song."

RED CROSS PUTS
UP $9,739,872

Year's Budget Stresses Relief and Services at Home and Overseas.

MILLIONS FOR VETERAN AID

Over $3,000,000 Allotted to the Disabled—Foreign Work Lessens.

Washington.—Expenditures totaling $9,739,872.47 for carrying through its program of services and relief during the fiscal year in the United States and overseas are authorized in the budget of the American Red Cross, effective July 1, 1922. This total is $2,785,975 less than the expenditures for the last fiscal year, when disbursements reached $12,475,847.60. It is announced at National Headquarters in a statement emphasizing the necessity of continued support of the organization by enrollment during the annual Roll Call, November 11-November 30 inclusive. This total for the budget is exclusive of the large financial operations of the 3,300 active Red Cross Chapters, which, it is estimated, will more than double the total.

War Veterans Have First Call

First call on Red Cross funds is for the disabled ex-service men, of whom 27,487 were receiving treatment from the Government on June 1 last. This work for veterans and their families in a wide variety of service that the Government is not authorized to render and for which it has neither funds nor facilities has the call on $3,030,002.90 during the current year, or about $306,000 more than was expended last year for soldier service. Adding the funds disbursed in this humanitarian work of physical reconstruction following the World War by the Chapters throughout the country will approximate a total for the current year approaching $10,000,000. This work, in the opinion of the Surgeon General's office, will not reach its peak before 1928.

Through its Chapters the American Red Cross is equipped to find the individual ex-service man, help him in his problems and difficulties, provide immediately for his necessities, and open the way for him to the Government compensation and aid to which he is entitled. The extension of this work to the families of such men proves to them that the Red Cross has lost none of its sympathy nor will to service manifested in wartime. Similarly the service goes out to the men still in the Army and Navy, 11,087 of whom were under treatment in Government hospitals on June 1, 1922.

Greater Domestic Program

This year—after five years of constructive effort during the war and after the armistice—brings with it a greater responsibility for domestic service to the American Red Cross. The budget for foreign operations, however, totals $3,404,000, but of this amount $1,834,000 is for medical relief and hospital supplies for Russia, which is a part of the gift made by the American Red Cross in 1921 to the Russian famine relief work of the American Relief Administration program. The child health service in Europe continues, moreover, and $854,000 is appropriated for this work undertaken in 1920. Other items in the stringently diminished foreign program include $200,000 to support the League of Red Cross Societies, $22,000 for nurses' training schools instituted by the Red Cross abroad, and $600,000 for liquidation of the general Red Cross foreign relief program.

Prepared for Emergencies

For disaster relief the Red Cross has set aside $750,000, and for emergencies in Chapter work $500,000 to be available for domestic disasters and foreign demands. This is more than $395,000 above last year's expenditures. For service and assistance to the 8,300 Chapters and their branches $1,203,000 is provided by the National organization.

Other budget items of importance in the domestic program include $200,000 for assistance to other organizations and education institutions for training Red Cross nurses and workers; $100,000 for Roll Call assistance furnished to Chapters; $100,000 for unforeseen contingencies.

Of the total budget less than $600,000 is allotted for management in the National organization. No cash estimate, of course, is possible to weigh the value of the services by volunteers in the Chapters.

THE RED CROSS
SUPPLEMENTS
GOVERNMENT SERVICE
BY MEETING THE PARTICULAR NEEDS
OF THE INDIVIDUAL
EX-SERVICE MAN.
THIS WORK CANNOT GO ON UNLESS YOU SUPPORT IT WITH YOUR MEMBERSHIP
DOLLAR
PAY UP TODAY

Trade Where They All Trade

$25.00 Cash Prize

to the owner of the oldest DeLaval Cream Separator. If you have an old DeLaval still in use send us the serial number, the size and date of purchase if possible, also state what service you have had from same.

This is a very simple and easy matter and if you have the oldest machine in Kentucky you will receive a cash prize of

$25.00

Sooner or later you will use a DeLaval. All hand sizes on hand, and will BE GLAD TO DEMONSTRATE.

Send us your orders for anything and be convinced that we can save you money.

Geo. C. Goode
GROCER & SEEDSMAN

19-21 Pike St. 18-20 West Seventh St.

WHOLESALE—"Covington's Largest Seed and Grocery House"—RETAIL

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Phones South 335 and 336.

Any Make of Battery
RECHARGED
75c

Rentals for any make of car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.

Dempsey Motor Car Co.,
Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

Tutt's Pills

Enable Dyspeptics to eat whatever they wish. Cause food to assimilate. Nourish the body, give appetite.

DEVELOP FLESH

A SPLENDID MAJORITY.

The majority of 554 votes, registered Tuesday, Nov. 7th, emphasized the fact that the voters of Pendleton county have awakened to the importance of good roads, and by their votes have authorized the issuance of $250,000 of bonds the proceeds from which are to be used for the repair and construction of roads, bridges, etc., in Pendleton county. Such a step will greatly enhance the value of farm property, and comfort to be derived from the improvement in the condition of our public thoroughfares. With better roads thousands of dollars will float into the county by tourists that otherwise would be expended on other routes of travel. Hence we again congratulate the voters of Pendleton county over their act in voting a bond issue that will pull the good people out of the mud.

Congressman Rouse carried every county in the 8th Congressional District by large majorities, and his restriction to Congress may be said to be a certainty—Pendleton County Reformer.

If you want to be popular with a woman don't talk about yourself. She may know the truth about you.

HOW'S THIS?

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE will do what we claim for it—rid your system of Catarrh or Deafness caused by Catarrh.

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE consists of an Ointment which quickly relieves the Catarrh of the Ear, and the Internal Medicine, a Tonic, which acts through the Blood on the Mucous Membranes, thus assisting in restoring normal conditions.

Sold by druggists for over 40 Years.

F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.

Commissioner's Notice.

Boone Circuit Court.

W. L. Cropper, Adm of

John W. Hill dec'd etc Plaintiff

vs. Notice to Claimants

Laura Hill, etc., Defendants

All persons having claims of any kind against the estate of John W. Hill, dec'd, and not heretofore presented to me in this case will file and present same to me properly proven at my office in Burlington, Ky., on or before December 4th, 1922.

R. E. BERSHIRE, M. C.

Keep Your Feet Dry

Nothing like a pair of "Ball-Band" Arctics for keeping your feet dry and warm in the very worst weather. You can laugh at freezing cold, deep snow, slush and mud if you wear "Ball-Band."

"BALL-BAND"

"Ball-Band" Arctics save you money by protecting your leather shoes from destructive soakings, too.

Ten million people look for the Red Ball Trade Mark when they buy Rubber Footwear. Make your choice of styles from our complete assortment of "Ball-Band."

H. S. Anderson

RISING SUN, INDIANA.

Dodge Brothers

ANNOUNCE

A BUSINESS COUPE

Conservative changes in the body design of all other types.

Roadster....$ 920
Coupe.....1,063
Touring Car. 955
Sedan.....1,550

Dempsey Motor Car Company

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY

Phone Erlanger, 70-L

DEVON

(Too Late for Last Week.)

Rev. Garber delivered an excellent sermon at Florence Sunday.

Rev. Royer preached an excellent sermon Sunday afternoon at Ebenzer.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Schadler entertained to dinner Sunday. Rev. Garber, Mrs. Garber and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Carpenter, of Florence, were guests Sunday week of their brother, C. D. Carpenter and family.

Dr. Cornell, Mrs. Cornell and little daughter, of Cincinnati, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Carpenter, Sunday.

Mrs. Jos. Schadler visited her son and bride, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Schadler, in Newport, Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Respass, of Covington, expect to leave for Cuba the last of November where they will spend the winter.

We welcome Arthur B. Rouse for our Congressman. He has served us faithfully and that is why we are rejoiced over his election.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. W. Bristow and mother Mrs. Dixon, had for Sunday guests Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bristow and little daughter Stella Elizabeth.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Fagin and little son Howard Bristow, visited their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Light, of New Richmond, Ohio, Sunday.

Miss Gladys Black, of Covington, spent last week here the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Riley, returning home Sunday evening.

Mrs. Jerry Dixon had a message from her people in New York that her father was critically ill. She left immediately for his bedside. She has our sympathy.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCoy entertained on Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bristow, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bristow and mother, Mrs. Dixon, and Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Fagin and little son, Howard Bristow.

We are very glad to hear that Dr. Symson and son James will arrive here soon from Louisiana, and will make Kentucky their home. These good people are most welcome here, as they have a host of friends.

Mr. Forrest Respass and mother, of Covington, and Misses Mary E. and Statia Childress, of Erlanger, and Mr. and Mrs. Jas. W. Bristow and mother, Mrs. Dixon, spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bristow and family.

Mrs. Eugene Riley has for her guest Mrs. Chas. Riley.

Mrs. Eli Carpenter spent the day Thursday with Mrs. Conrad Schadler.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rivard were guests of relatives in Covington, last Friday.

Dr. Corwell and friend from the city had a hunt Wednesday with Earl Carpenter.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stone spent Sunday here the guests of their nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Colby.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Schadler and family Sunday with their kin folks Mr. and Mrs. Ova Petty, near Independence.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Colby have for their guests this week Mrs. Colby's sister, Mrs. John Jones and children, of Cynthia, having arrived here Saturday afternoon.

Messrs. Hugo Afterkirk and Virgil Perry spent Wednesday with friends at Fiskburg and had a nice day hunting. Their buggy was struck by some parties in a machine near Nicholson, tearing their buggy to pieces on their return, and the boys had to walk home. Fortunately the boys nor their horse were injured.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Norman and family, of near Latonia, entertained delightfully on Sunday their beautiful country home the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Fagin and children, Stella Elizabeth and son Howard Bristow, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Bristow and mother Mrs. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bristow of Devon, and Mr. Billy Gower of Latonia.

The day was beautiful and one long to be remembered.

Mr. and Mrs. Morton Perry entertained Saturday evening in honor of their son Virgil at their home with a dance. A large crowd was present, a number from Covington, Erlanger, and other places and from this neighborhood. The hosts assisted by her daughter, served a nice lunch at 11 o'clock. Mr. Vaughn and friend from Covington furnished the music and all enjoyed a delightful dance.

It is reported that wedding bells will soon be ringing for our merchant here. He is a young man of sterling worth and will wed one of Boone's most lovely daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kidwell, of Richmond, Mr. and Mrs. Luke, of Covington, Mr. Walter Pickett and little daughter Leah, of Independence, Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Riley.

CARD OF THANKS

I hereby desire to express my sincere and heartfelt thanks to my relatives and friends for their sympathy and kindness shown in the sickness and death of my beloved wife, also to the choir for their beautiful songs, to the donors of the beautiful floral offerings, Bro. H. C. Remy for his consoling words, and to W. A. Bullock for the efficient manner in which he conducted the funeral.

J. C. AYLER.

UNION.

Miss Mary Hedges, of Covington, was the Sunday guest of Mrs. Sallie Hedges.

J. W. and Reuben Conner, of Erlanger, attended church here Sunday morning.

Miss Marietta Riley, of Cincinnati, spent Saturday night and Sunday with her brother and sister here.

Miss Eugenia Riley spent several days the past week with Miss Jeanette Huey, and attended revival services at Big Bone church.

The basket ball game here Friday between Bellevue and Union resulted as follows: First team girls, 4 to 1 in favor of Bellevue, first team boys 23 to 6 in favor of Union.

Do not fail to attend the oyster supper here Saturday night, given by the Odd-Fellows in their lodge room. Everything good to eat. Come and have a good time.

Two years ago Sunday since Rev. Garber preached his first sermon at the Baptist church here, so his congregation planned a surprise for him and his wife Sunday by taking well filled baskets and after services were over they served dinner on the church lawn.

PT. PLEASANT.

Mr. Justin Aylor called on Miss Tanner Sunday evening.

Mr. Ed. Walton spent last Sunday with Miss Carol White and Mrs. McGlasson.

The Sewing Circle girls met at the home of Miss Edythe Wilson Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Harvey Souther left Saturday for a two week's visit with her parents in Detroit, Michigan.

Come to church next Sunday. Regular services by our pastor Rev. C. C. Omer.

Mrs. Sallie Souther entertained the Ladies Aid last Wednesday with an all day quilting party. Mrs. Dexter Carder will put in another quilt at her home Wednesday and both of these quilts must be finished by Christmas. Come and help us.

ERLANGER

Mrs. T. B. Grissom, of Erlanger road, is on the sick list.

The Sewing Circle of Florence met last Thursday with Mrs. J. R. Whitson.

Miss Nina P. Stephenson visited her sister, Mrs. C. E. Smith, of Commonwealth Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Corn entertained Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Kreylich and daughter Miss Mattie, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Souther, of Idlewild, and Mrs. Kate Riley, of Ludlow.

Mr. Neal Clements of this place was visiting his grandparents, P. P. Neal, near Union, the past week.

Mrs. J. C. Cook was the guest of Wm. Schreiner and wife, of near Burlington, the past week.

Mrs. J. D. Smith and Mrs. J. G. Bradford of Georgetown, are visiting at their brother's Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Taliaferro, of Erlanger Road.

Mrs. Clyde Dixon and nephew Leland Taylor, of Lenoxburg, Ky., were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Baird, of Erlanger Road.

RICHWOOD.

Our pikes are getting no better. Rabbits and quails are reported to be scarce.

Mrs. Fanny Sleet has moved to her farm near Walton.

Many are ready to butcher hogs when the weather is favorable.

Wm. Gatewood and Rector Bros., sent 20 hogs to market last week.

Ed. Hoggart and family, of Independence, spent Sunday with James Dobbins.

Elmer Lipscomb, of Independence, spent last Wednesday with J. J. Sommers.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Carpenter, of Hamilton, Ohio, spent several days the past week with B. L. Cleek.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dean and John Rice and family, spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cleek.

Ladies are especially invited to see how gracefully our waiters can serve the tables at the Fowler lodge supper Nov. 25th.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Powers, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carpenter and Thos. Carpenter and family, of Florence, spent Sunday with C. W. Carpenter.

The I. O. O. F's supper at Union Nov. 25th, from 6 p. m., to 12. Each member is requested to bring a cake and 1 1/2 gallons of milk for the soup.

LIMABURG.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Brothers spent Saturday night and Sunday in New Port.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Stephenson entertained Sunday the following: Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Stephenson, of Ludlow, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Brown and son, Mr. F. H. Brown, of Bellevue and Miss Jessie Lee Jones, of Florence.

Mrs. C. L. Gaines has returned home from Christ's hospital after undergoing a serious operation, and is reported improving rapidly.

Mr. and Mrs. David Houston and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wolfe and son Eldon, attended the birthday dinner given in honor of Mrs. Lee Busby Sunday.

Miss Jessie Jones and Marie Stephenson attended a Rook party given Saturday night by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wolfe.

Mr. David Houston had a wood sawing one day last week.

Leprosy has been practically extinct in civilized lands for two centuries.

STRICTLY TAILORED SUIT

A coat 36 inches long, with inverted plaits at the sides and back, and a plain, straight skirt, compose this strictly tailored suit of tricotine. Stitchings of silk floss in neat rows, ornament the coat and sleeves and bone buttons of generous size down the front and on the sleeves, emphasize the tailored style that distinguishes suits of this type. The convertible collar is made of seal plush.

FLORENCE GARAGE

Under New Management
Best Of Service.

All Makes Of Cars.
Repaired At Reasonable

PRICES
TIRES, TUBES, OILS

Horse-shoeing and Wagon
work neatly and well done.

J. W. Quigley.

Wm. Busby, Manager.

GUNPOWDER

H. F. Utz and family visited Mr. and Mrs. W. L. B. Rouse near Lima-burg, last Sunday.

The rains last week were a great blessing to a great many people, as water was getting very scarce.

Edward Busby moved to the house recently vacated by his brother Wm. Busby, on the Busby farm last week.

Gathering corn is the order of the day. While some are done there is a large per cent of it in the field yet.

From the amount of shooting that is being done (Sunday not excepted) Molly Cotton tails are getting scarce or there has been a lot of ammunition wasted.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Conrad and date farmers and noted horse traders is also dealing in goats as a side line. He sent one to market a few days since and received 65 cents for it.

Wheat that was sowed early is starting off nicely, and if the winter conditions of the weather are favorable the harvest will be more abundant than it has been for several years, as the acreage is considerably larger.

BIG BONE.

Uncle Dan Smith is very ill at this writing.

J. G. Fennell made a business trip to Walton, the first of the week.

Ed. Abdon wife and son visited relatives in Rising Sun, Ind., Saturday and Sunday.

Will Smith, of near Verona, visited his father Uncle Dan Smith, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Poke Hamilton and Mr. Lute Abdon made a business trip to Independence, Wednesday.

Charles Abdon wife and little son Charles Lucian, of near Richmond, visited relatives in this vicinity the first of the week.

Sterling Wood was taken to a hospital in the city Wednesday and operated on for appendicitis. He is getting along nicely.

Johnny Hartman killed a bald eagle on his place the first of the week that weighed 29 pounds and measured from tip to tip of wings 6

CONSTANCE.

Julius Aylor is able to be at work again.

Charles Moore and wife are going to housekeeping in Latonia.

Frank L. Hood and wife were the Sunday afternoon guests of his father and brother.

John Wernitz, Sr., was operated on at Christ hospital last week and was in a critical condition at last reports.

Benj. Zimmer while remodeling his house fell and broke his leg and hurt his shoulder, but at last accounts he was getting along as well as could be expected.

Beattis is to have a school of criminology, the first, it is said, in America.

LABOR WANTED

WORK CLOSE TO HOME.
Come at once and see us.

LUMBER

FOR SALE

We have rough lumber only—mostly Oak and Poplar, suitable for building barns; also narrow strips for fencing. 2"-3" Tobacco Strips.

H. T. WHITSON LUMBER CO.

Erlanger, Ky.

MAKE A START

By Doing Your Christmas Shopping Now.

No need to tell you the many advantages of doing your Christmas Shopping early—before salespeople become tired out, before the store is crowded, while merchandise is at its freshest—you know all this.

The difficulty is just to get started, isn't it?

Well, why not sit down right now; make out a gift list and come down to the store tomorrow, resolved to choose at least One Christmas Gift. "Once begun, half done" is a true old saying.

Coppin's
COVINGTON

Northern Kentucky's Greatest Store

The Separator Tells The Story

Your profits depend on what comes out of the cream spout of your separator. If you want more milk, and cream richer in butter fat, you have got to feed your cows a ration which will produce milk. Milk depends on feed. You can't get away from it.

Ce-re-a-lia Sweets does make milk. It is a scientifically mixed feed for dairy cows, composed of Brewer's Grains, Cottonseed Meal, Corn Meal, Wheat Bran, Wheat Middlings, Corn Gluten Feed, Old Process Oil Meal and Pure Cane Molasses. It is clean and sweet—never cakes or lumps. Cows relish the flavor.

Four Weeks Trial At Our Risk

Feed one cow on Ce-re-a-lia Sweets for four weeks. If you don't get more or better milk, and a larger net profit from that cow, you get every cent of your money back. Ask us about the details.

EARLY & DANIEL CO., Erlanger, Ky.

EARLY & DANIEL CO., Covington, Ky.

EARLY & DANIEL CO., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Ce-re-a-lia Sweets

Longfellow's Idea of History.

The history of the past is a mere puppet show. A little man comes out and blows a little trumpet and goes in again, you look for something new, and lo! another little man comes out and blows another little trumpet and goes in again. And it is all over, —Longfellow.

Odd Musical Instruments.

The Blues make music on an ox horn; the Polynesian uses a large sea shell. Reeds, grass stems, hollow bones, and even flat pieces of wood, whirled round the head at the end of a length of cord, provide the music for which man's soul craves in other parts of the world.

Reveries are out midway by the equator.

Any Make of Battery

RECHARGED

75c

Rentals for any make of car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.

Dempsey-Motor Car Co., Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

Lands Posted.

All character of trespassing on our farms is positively prohibited, and we will prosecute all guilty parties. No hunting, trapping or snaring will be allowed.

Name
B. C. Allen..... Hamilton
Julia S. Dinamore..... Bellevue
B. H. Berkshire..... Petersburg
Lucy E. Hance..... Hamilton
J. H. Jockey..... Burlington
S. B. Scott..... Grant
J. H. Walton..... Carlton
Ira Aylor..... Union
Arminia Aylor..... Richmond
James W. Ryle..... Waterloo
S. B. Ryle..... Grant R. D.
Addie Harding..... Burlington
Jake Reitman..... Bullittsville
B. C. Grady..... Bullittsville
R. H. Chrysler..... Bullittsville
William Phillips..... Carlton
J. M. Wilson..... Union
J. J. Tanner..... Burlington
Chester Aylor..... Burlington
Elmore Ryle..... Burlington
Jasper Sullivan..... Grant
Alonso Gaines..... Constan-
Joe E. Scott, Jr..... Florence
J. C. Kelly..... Carlton
Wilber D. Kelly..... Florence
Robert L. Day..... Hebron
W. A. Gaines & Son..... Burlington
Mrs. W. H. Marshall..... Carlton
Jos. W. Scott, Sr..... Florence
Mary M. Terrell..... Petersburg
Grace Scott..... Grant
Mrs. A. G. Fennell..... Union
Ross Russ..... Florence
Your name will be put in the list of those posted until Jan. 1st for 50 cents.

LUTE BRADFORD,

AUCTIONEER

FLORENCE, KY.

List your sales with me as I have a wide acquaintance and know all good buyers.

Reference—Florence Deposit Bank, o-decl Florence, Ky.

Radio Receiving Sets

INSTALLED BY

J. J. KIRKPATRICK

Burlington, KY.

Do not buy your Radio Outfit until I quote you on one of the best outfits. Installed ready to receive from the Broad Casting Stations in New York, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Nebraska, Georgia, and other points.

FOR SALE

Farm of 75 acres three miles below Petersburg, Ky. Twelve acres of bottom land, eight acres of clover, balance in blue grass. Six room house, four-room log house, 3 barns and other out buildings. Good tobacco and alfalfa land. Price $50.00 per acre.

CHARLIE WHITE, ojan1—pd Petersburg, Ky.

General Trucking

At Your Service

WALTER HUEY

Florence, Ky.

Phone 286-X

A snuffy cold?

MENTHOLATUM

clears the nose

passages.

J. C. GORDON

Superintendent of Schools

OF BOONE COUNTY

Will be in his office in Burlington the first and second Monday and the third and fourth Saturday in each month.

FIRST-CLASS

Shoe Repairing

Mail Orders at my Expense.

All work guaranteed. Mail your shoes to be repaired to

A. G. LAWRENCE, - - Erlanger, Ky.

o-decl Lexington Pike.

Young Dental Couple, Presumably,

Report of Western Wedding—

"Bending in an arch of ferns, smilax and pink flowers of the season, the young couple plighted their tooth."

Boston Transcript.

NONPARIEL PARK

Dr. Cole, of Columbus, Ohio, spent a few days in Florence on business, the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Williams, (nee Maggie Rice) are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine baby boy at their home in Bullittsville, since Nov. 15.

—Eli Rice Williams, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. John Williams are enjoying a visit with J. T. Williams and family, and Eli Williams and family, of Bullittsville.

Mrs. Ed. Newman enjoyed a visit last week with her sister, and other relatives in Covington.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Chipman, of Dixie Highway, had for guests Sunday Ed. Newman and wife of Gunpowder, and Lonnie Baird and wife, of Erlanger.

Ed. Anderson and wife were Sunday guests of their son Carl Anderson and wife, of Dixie Highway.

Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Kindard were guests Thursday of Joe Lucas and wife, of Dixie Highway.

Mrs. Lee Whitson and son were guests Thursday of Mrs. J. R. Whitson, of Erlanger.

Mrs. Chas. Chipman was the guest Thursday of Lonnie Baird and wife, of Erlanger.

Mrs. Emma Barnes and Mrs. Ada Baur, of Ohio, were guests Saturday of Mrs. Arthur Kraus of the Dixie Highway.

Mrs. Anna Bradford and daughter Hattie May, entertained at supper Saturday evening John King wife and daughter Evelyn and Earl King of Dixie Highway.

Mrs. Mattie Hoover and Mrs. Arthur C. Kraus and son Arthur, spent Wednesday in Cincinnati, and attended the theater.

Jack Renaker, Miss Minnie Robinson, Miss Eva Renaker, Miss Minnie Ryb and Lon Renaker, motored to Mr. Carmel, Ky., to visit Rev. Wilford Mitchell and wife, the week-end.

Russell Houze and wife moved last week to the property A. M. Yealey purchased of Robt. Allen on Burlington Pike.

Mrs. Harvey Mitchell, of Philadelphia, Ohio, have returned home after visiting her parents, Wm. Arnold and wife, of this place.

Mrs. Ezra Wilhoit spent Monday afternoon with Mrs. Joe Baxter and daughter, of Dixie Highway.

Miss Alberta Stephens spent Monday and Tuesday with her sister, Mrs. Claud Caldwell and family, of Covington.

Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Kindard, of Turkey Foot road, entertained at dinner Tuesday Mrs. Harvey Mitchell and niece and Mrs. Wm. Arnold.

Charles Chipman bought 7 fine milk cows at Williamstown last week.

Rev. W. K. Dennis and daughter Helen, of Ga., were guests of Dr. T. B. Castleman and family, of Dixie Highway, last week.

The many friends of Ed. Snyder are glad to hear he is convalescing after a week's illness.

Mrs. Harriet Rouse is enjoying a visit to her brother of Lexington.

John Aylor and son-in-law moved to Florence Tuesday to the A. M. Yealey property he purchased of Mr. McHenry. We are glad to welcome them in our town.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lucas of the Dixie Highway, had for their guests the latter part of last week his brother Lewis Lucas and family, of Dry Ridge.

Mrs. Jane Clemons of Dry Ridge, visited Mrs. Chas. Chipman Sunday and left for Erlanger to visit Mrs. Anderson for the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Conrad and daughter Mary, of Dixie Highway, entertained at their home Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ebelhart, Miss Theresa O'Connor, Mrs. Emma Mersman and Mr. Ben Ebelhart, of Covington, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cahill, of Erlanger.

The ladies of the Christian church will give an all day sale of dresses, chickens, cakes and pies Wednesday Nov. 29th, at Brown & Dunson's store in Florence. This will be the time and place to get your Thanksgiving good things.

Mr. Joe Eubanks and son Richard, and Mr. William and Haden Markberry, of Crescent Springs, enjoyed a hunting trip last Wednesday at the farm of Mr. Chas. Beall and son Charles, of Bullittsville.

Mrs. Emma Barnes (nee Emma Kraus) who has been enjoying a visit here with her brothers Ed. and Arthur Kraus, left Tuesday for her home in Kansas to join her husband there.

Mr. Lurbin Buckler, of Constance, and Miss Irene Brown, of Florence, surprised their friends Saturday November 11th, by going to Newport, where they were quietly married.

Mrs. Chas. Snyder, who underwent an operation of the nose, is getting along very nicely at the home of her parents, Chas. Cravens and wife, of Main-st.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Brown had for guests Sunday, Lurbin Buckler and bride, of Constance.

Mrs. Albert Riggs and daughter Eva spent Monday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fisk of Main-st. Tom Carpenter and family and Henry Carpenter and wife, motored to Richmond Sunday and visited relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Rice, of Burlington Pike, had for week-end guest Miss Jennie Mardis, of Covington.

Miss Hannah Olesner spent Sunday in Covington with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Osborn were guests of relatives in Covington, last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Aylor (nee Mabel Northcutt) are proud parents of an eight pound baby boy, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Northcutt, near Richwood, since Sunday.

John Powell Crouch and wife, of Covington, spent the week-end with C. W. Myers and wife.

Geo. Drinkenberg and Miss Minnie Cahill spent Sunday in Indiana.

Miss Minnie Myers, of Bellevue, and Miss Helen Dennis, of Georgia, spent Sunday with friends here.

James Nutter and wife, of Erlanger, taken supper with Gordon Laile and wife Saturday evening.

J. O. Carpenter and wife spent Sunday with relatives at Richwood.

Rev. Elmer Lucas and wife, of Bellevue, Ky., are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine baby girl since last week.

FRANCESVILLE.

Miss Louise Grim, of Taylorsport, spent Saturday night and Sunday with Misses Mary and Florence Eggleston.

The social given by the B. Y. P. Y. Saturday evening was greatly enjoyed by all the young folks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Day and Howard and Franklin Kyle visited relatives at Petersburg, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Riddell had as guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Baker and son Ronald Lee, of Oakley, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Grant and Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Scothern.

Rev. B. F. Swindler was the guest of Misses Amanda Koons and Gustie Klemm, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Reitmeyer, Mr. Charlie Reitmeyer and Miss Ethel Eggleston and brother, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reitmeyer, last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roberts, of Erlanger, spent last Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kilgour.

HEBRON.

Mrs. Nellie Garnett had as guests last Wednesday and Thursday her son and family, of Ludlow.

Mrs. Wm. McGlasson returned home from the hospital last week very much improved.

Miss Eldora Aylor spent last Wednesday night and Thursday with Mrs. Amanda Lodge and daughter.

Hubert Conner had a valuable cow to die last week which he had recently purchased.

The Teachers Training Class will meet at 2 p. m. Sunday. Sermon by the pastor Rev. Royer at 2:30.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Hafer and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jones, spent several days last week at Wilmore, Ky., guests of Mr. Jones' parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Allen, of Pleasant neighborhood, attended church here Sunday morning, and dined with Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Padack.

Mrs. Laura Conner received news of the serious illness of her sister, Mr. Olive Rouse of Sedamsville, who had been taken to a Cincinnati hospital for an operation last week. Mrs. Conner left for Sedamsville.

PETERSBURG.

We were blessed with a nice rain and many that were out of water have a good supply.

The late rains gave the farmers an opportunity to strip their tobacco and husk the corn.

The remains of Henry Gordon and Ed. Loniker's baby were interred in this cemetery last Wednesday.

Stanley Loniker of this place and Miss Hazel Brady, of Lawrenceburg, were married last Thursday.

Rev. C. H. Greer presiding Elder of the Covington District, preached good sermons at the M. E. church here last Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Dun, of Louisville, and Mr. A. W. Still, of Washington, D. C., spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Arnold, enjoying the hunting season.

Burlington basket ball team journeyed to Petersburg Friday afternoon and was defeated by the Petersburg team.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Yelton and Mrs. Chas. Dolph, of Bellevue, attended church here last Thursday evening.

Mrs. L. E. Keim entertained the following friends Tuesday: Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Dun, Mr. A. W. Still and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Arnold.

Mrs. W. T. Evans' friends would like to see her improve more rapidly than she does.

Perrin Loudon, who was threatened with pneumonia, is able to be out again.

A State Game Warden was in Boone county last week, and made one arrest for hunting without a license. The man arrested was Jno. Rice. He paid a fine and cost that amounted to $25.00.

ance

Friday Night,

Nov. 24th, 1922

At Florence Theater

Aicheles - Jazz - Band

Gents $1.10, (Including Tax)

Ladies Free.

Dancing from 8:00 to 12:00.

Subscribe for the RECORDER

Five is the sacred number of the Moors.

As Administrator of Joseph Florence, I will sell at public sale at the Verona Bank, Verona, Ky.,

Saturday, Nov. 25th, '22

at 1:30 p. m.

Verona Bank Stock, par value, $700.00

Sanders Bank Stock, par value, $250.00

Terms made known day of sale.

O. K. WHITSON, Adm.

Five is the sacred number of the Moors.

WHERE TO DEAL IN CINCINNATI

More for your money or your money back

Fogels

Women's and Children's Coats Suits Dresses Millinery Etc.

3. W. Con. Seventh & Central Ave.

LARGEST GARAGE Free Auto-Battery & Water Service

AMERICAN AUTO HOTEL

423 to 431 W. 5th St. Cincinnati, Ohio

300 to 4 1-2 Hrs. 400 to 8 1-2 Hrs. DAYTON TOURISTS WELCOME

QUEHL SIGN CO.

SIGNS

Electric and Painted

316 Main Street Cincinnati, Ohio

BUY YOUR FRESH FRUITS AND VEGETABLES FROM—

SHIP YOUR COUNTRY PRODUCE TO—

FLATOW, RILEY & CO.

Front Street, Between Main and Walnut Cincinnati, Ohio

SAFETY DEAL WITH THESE RELIABLE CINCINNATI FIRMS

YO-HO!

Oyster Supper!

at

Hopeful Lutheran Church

Thanksgiving Eve,

Wednesday, Nov. 29th.

Pumpkin Pie 'n' Ev'rything.

Everybody Welcome

Public Sale.

I will offer for sale at my place, at the old Prable place on the pike between Hebron and Constance on

SATURDAY, NOV. 25th, 1922

The following property:

One good four-year-old horse.

Good milk cow.

Sow and 8 pigs 3 months old.

1915 Buick Roadster.

Three dozen Barred Rock chickens

One-horse plow.

Buggy and harness.

Two Wood Heaters.

Cook Stove.

New Bedstead.

Many other articles too numerous to mention.

TERMS—All sums of $5.00 and under cash, all sums over $5.00 a credit of SIX MONTHS will be given purchasers to give note with good security, payable at the Hebron Deposit Bank. No goods to be removed until terms of sale are complied with.

BLUFE WINGATE.

Charles Garnett Auctioneer.

Sale to begin at 1 o'clock sharp.

FOR SALE

Bank Stock

As Administrator of Joseph Florence, I will sell at public sale at the Verona Bank, Verona, Ky.,

Saturday, Nov. 25th, '22

at 1:30 p. m.

Verona Bank Stock, par value, $700.00

Sanders Bank Stock, par value, $250.00

Terms made known day of sale.

O. K. WHITSON, Adm.

Five is the sacred number of the Moors.

BIG 1 CENT SALE

Now going on—You can buy Plankets, Clothing and Shoes for 1c an extra one

Cincinnati Salvage Co.

10 W. Pearl St. Cincinnati, O

Ship By Parcel Post

The Model Laundry Co.

First Class Work and Service We Pay Cash One Way

Cellar Doors Cedar Gratings Machine Forging Blacksmithing

THE J. G. FREILINGER

IRON WORKS All Kinds of Welding General Machine Work Prompt Attention to Mail Orders Phone, Main 2687 SECOND STREET—Bet. Race and Elm

SEND IT TO US—Hemstitching 10c a yard. PLATING, BUTTONE COVERED, EMBROIDRY, & BRAIDING MAIL ORDERS SPECIAL ATTENTION ADVANCE PLATING AND BUTTON SHOP 128 OPERA PLACE CINCINNATI

EXCHANGE 1918 WAR SAVINGS STAMPS FOR TREASURY SAVINGS CERTIFICATES

Columbus, Ohio—Holders of the 1918 series of War Savings Stamps, beginning November 15, may exchange them for Treasury Savings Certificates, according to an announcement just issued by the Treasury Department. The War Savings Stamps will be accepted at $5.00 each, face value, in exchange for Treasury Savings Certificates which will mature five years from January 1, 1923. Exchanges can be made at post offices or any recognized financial institution. Treasury Savings Certificates are issued in denominations of $1000, $100 and $25, costing $820, $82 and $20.50 each, respectively.

Holders of 1918 War Savings Stamps desiring to redeem them for cash, however, must wait until their maturity date, January 1, 1923.

Treasury Department officials believe that holders of the 1918 series of War Savings Stamps who have held them for the full period of five years and have seen them steadily grow from the price paid for them in 1918 to their face value of $500 will readily exchange their stamps for Treasury Savings Certificates, which will increase in value during the next five years in the same manner as have the 1918 War Savings Stamps.

Further details regarding the foregoing may be obtained from any postoffice or Savings Division, 4th Federal District, Columbus, Ohio.

RECENT INVENTIONS

Of German invention are silk sausage casings that are coated with a chemical preparation to make them elastic.

Gas producers have been invented that are intended to convert waste vegetable matter on farms into useful fuel.

Fumes from a gas room-heating grate invented in England are condensed in water-filled tubes as a safety precaution.

An electric lighter on a holder for cigarettes that prevents sparks flying have been invented for use in aeroplanes.

So light is a new two-passenger automobile that its inventor claims it can be run 80 miles at a speed of 30 miles an hour with a gallon of gasoline.

Propellers driven by cranks in the hands of two persons have been patented for small boats, steering being done by pedals connected to the rudders.

In a new room-heating grate fresh coal is added to the bottom of the fire by manipulating a lever, its inventor claiming that the device consumes its own smoke.

"How did you like the girl I dug up for you?"

"As far as I'm concerned you can bury her again."

Y. M. C. A. Automobile School.

Day or Night Classes

GARAGE

Get a Good Job Steady Work

Unskilled Labor Turned Away

LEARN TO BE AN AUTOMOBILE MECHANIC Men Who Are Skilled Always Have Work

GARAGE

SKILLED LABOR WANTED Men who know how are needed

Skilled Labor Gets A Job Come in and let us tell you all about this school

Y. M. C. A.

Elm and Central Parkway

FRESH FISH

EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR

ANDERSON

INDEPENDENT FISH CO. Wholesale Shippers of Fish & Oysters 138 W. Court St. Phone: Canal 2273

HEMSTITCHING

Done in 3 Sizes—Regular Hemstitching 10c yard ALL MATERIALS.

PLEATINGS: Accordion, Knife and Box All Sizes Phone Canal 491

BUTTONS: Cloth Covered any style or amount. Mail Orders Promptly Attended To.

ALBERT BANASCH CO., 614 RACE ST., CINCINNATI, O.

NO ONE APPRECIATES

The real comfort of a snug, warm SUIT or OVERCOAT as the man who does not own one. You owe it to yourself to dress warm and comfortable. As usual the Wachs' Store is well prepared to care for every requirement in Mens', Young Mens' and Boys' Suits and Overcoats.

If Quality, Style and Workmanship and Price interest you, we know we can please you. A large line of Corduroy and Duck Garments on hand.

Selmar Wachs

605 Madison Avenue, Covington, Kentucky

DEVORE

MIRROLAC

Furniture, Floor and Woodwork Beauty is Only 1/1000th of an Inch Deep!

NINE times out of ten the only difference between old and new furniture, floors and woodwork is the condition of the thin finishing coat on the wood.

Look about you! How many unappreciated things in your home have nothing wrong with them, other than a few scratches and stains on their surface! Restore their brightness and beauty with a coat of Devore Mirrolac. Its high lustre, sparkling gleam, and wonderful color will make you proud of them again!

Devore Products are time-tested and proven, backed by the 168 years' experience of the oldest paint manufacturing concern in U. S. Founded 1754

A. M. HOLTZWORTH, UNION, KY.

ARE YOU A READER OF THE RECORDER?

If Not Try It One year.

LEGION NOTES

Indianapolis.—The American Legion will appeal to the conscience of the American people instead of demanding their support in obtaining justice for ex-service men. Alvin Owsley, national commander of the Legion declared in a recent address before the Service Club, composed of Indianapolis world war veterans.

"Adjusted compensation has been sustained not only by the American Legion membership but by an overwhelming majority of the American public," Mr. Owsley said. "It has been authorized by fifteen states where it has passed by votes of from two to seven to one."

The National Commander said that opponents of adjusted compensation had endeavored to create the impression that the cash feature is the paramount issue and that the general public is not sufficiently informed in regard to the other beneficial means of compensation.

"If the ex-service man can find a home, find a good American girl and have children, there will be an end to Bolshevism in this country," Mr. Owsley said in discussing the home purchase feature of compensation.

The land-settlement provision also would mean much to the U. S. as the Legion head asserted, inasmuch as it means that thousands of acres of arid and swamp land would be reclaimed and made to produce food for the whole country.

Mr. Owsley pointed out that fifty-seven per cent of the American population is concentrated in the large cities and stated that he adoption of the land-settlement feature of the compensation would tend to draw veterans from the over-crowded cities to the thinly populated areas of the country where their efforts are most needed for future national prosperity.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Alvin Owsley, National Commander of the American Legion, has appealed to all the million of the Legion, and to all good American citizens to aid the American Red Cross—"The Greatest Mother of Them All"—in the organization's annual Membership Roll Call. Out of the memory of what the Red Cross did in time of war, and its activities in times of peace where ever disaster or distress occur, Commander Owsley issued the following public statement:

"I am happy to heartily indorse the annual membership roll call of the American Red Cross, beginning Armistice Day. Certainly, loyal Americans desire to support this commendable undertaking.

"The American Red Cross is an American institution, and has made good in every emergency. It deserves the loyal and generous support of all true citizens. The Red Cross is known the world over by its good works. I sincerely hope that every Legionnaire will do his best to make successful the membership roll call this year."

Indianapolis, Ind.—The national executive of the American Legion has authorized the emblem division at national headquarters to procure and offer for sale an official county banner of the legion. The upper half of this new banner will be white and the lower half blue. Otherwise it will be identical with the standard post and department banner. This new type of banner will fill a long felt need for official colors that will instantly identify county organizations from that of posts. The prices of the new colors will be woolen, $40, and silk, -60.

Epoch-Making

Teacher:—"Willie, what great change occurred during the World War?"

Willie: "Pop bought Maw a new wash board." — American Legion Weekly.

With American Education Week being initiated by the American Legion in a few days, Dec. 3 to 9, John T. Tipton, U. S. Commissioner of Education, in an article especially written for the Legion's News Service, declares our nation will stand or fall with its school system. Then he declares as a solemn warning:

"Nepatriotic American, with the sense of a 'square deal' and with faith in the doctrine that 'all men are created equal,' can look with equanimity upon educational discrimination such as exists in our country today."

The U. S. Commissioner is cooperating with the American Legion, as is the National Education Association, to bring to the attention of the entire nation the need of better schools, better teachers, the elimination of illiteracy, the duties of citizenship and the value of physical training. The article by Dr. Tipton follows in part:

"The American Republic will stand or fall with its school system, James Madison asserted this in effect when he said: 'A popular government without popular information or means of acquiring it is but a prologue to a farce or a tragedy, or perhaps both. Knowledge will forever be government ignorance; and a people who mean to be their own governors must arm themselves with the power which knowledge gives.'"

"We are justly proud of our universal free school system, no other nation has anything like it. While no boy or girl is denied education at public expense in America yet it must be confessed that the opportunities offered vary within the

Striking New Red Cross Poster

Riveting the attention of the beholder on the fact that the American Red Cross is chartered by Congress as an official volunteer relief organization the dome of the Capitol at Washington, upon which is superimposed a large Red Cross, is the central figure of a new poster for the Annual Red Cross Roll Call. The poster, which has been pronounced one of the most striking of innumerable representations of the famous dome, is the work of Franklin Booth, a New York artist, which has been pronounced one of the most striking of innumerable representations of the famous dome. It will be displayed throughout the country during the Roll Call period; Armistice Day to Thanksgiving, when the Red Cross membership for 1923 will be enrolled.

Junior Red Cross Praised for Work Influencing Peace

The advancing standard of the Junior American Red Cross made two outstanding gains during the last year—one in the field of domestic activity, which is rapidly linking up the schools with the Junior program, the other a gain of a dozen countries in Europe pledged to organize Juniors on the lines of the American organization. For this accomplishment the American Juniors earned the hearty endorsement of the League of Red Cross Societies for its "creation of an international spirit of human solidarity among young people with a view to preparation of a new civilization for peace."

The forthcoming annual report of the American Red Cross for the year ended June 30, 1922, will show 24,528 schools enrolled, with a total of 4,433,845 pupils wearing the "I Serve" button of the American Junior Red Cross—the badge of unselfish service earned by each individual member through personal sacrifice.

In international school correspondence 736 classes and schools engaged in friendly communication with 623 schools in European countries, 90 schools in United States territories, 13 in South Africa and 10 in miscellaneous list of foreign countries. The work in foreign fields in establishing playgrounds, school libraries, sewing and manual training classes, homes for war orphans, school reconstruction in devastated areas, encouraging community gardens and many other activities was financed through the National Children's Fund raised by the Juniors at a cost of $338,237.40. During the year $56,922.79 was contributed toward the fund, in which on July 1 there was a balance of $201,361.63.

Greatest Mother Summons Her Children

An allegorical concept of the Red Cross as a peace-time ideal is employed by the American Red Cross in a new and striking poster for its Annual Red Cross Roll Call. Spread out before the heroic silhouette is the outline of the United States with a Red Cross superimposed upon it while around its borders are sketched scenes depicting the chief activities of the Red Cross today—service to disabled veterans of the World War, disaster relief and promotion of the public health. The poster is the work of Lawrence Wilbur, a New York artist and will be displayed throughout the country during the enrollment of the Red Cross membership for 1923.

Commissioner's Sale.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.
H. Goyert Plaintiff
vs
Millard Fleck &c., Defendant

By virtue of a Judgment and order of Sale of the Boone Circuit Court, rendered at the April Term thereof 1922, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court House door in Burlington, Boone County, Ky., to the highest bidder at Public Sale on Monday the 4th day of Dec. 1922, at 1 o'clock p. m., or thereabouts being County Court day, upon a credit of Six and Twelve months, the following property to-wit:

Tract No. 1—Lying in Boone County, Ky., and being lot No. 4 in the division of the lands of James L. Henderson and lying on the waters of Gunpowder creek in Boone County, Ky., bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a stake, a corner with lot No. 3 in a line of Geo. Campbell; thence with his line and with a line of R. Stuckey n31e 3.87 chains, a corner with the John Sebree tract; then with a line thereof of 42 1/2 e 27.50 chains to a stone on Gunpowder creek, thence down the creek s53 1/4 w 3.31 chains to a stone, a corner with lot No. 3; thence with a line thereof n42 1/4 w 26.13 chains to the beginning containing 9.6 acres. There is excepted from the above tract on the northwest corner above the Sebree road one-fourth acre (1/4 sold to Will Sebree in the year 1916 being the same land conveyed by Ada M. McMiller to Robert O. Rouse March 31, 1902, and conveyed by the said Robert O. Rouse to Geo. W. Rice in December, 1916 and conveyed by the said Geo. W. Rice to said Millard Fleck as of this date.

Tract No. 2—Lying and being in Boone County, Kentucky on the waters of Gunpowder creek and bounded thus: Beginning at a stone corner of the lot set apart to Nancy Stamper in a line of George Campbell (now Chas. and Forrest Brady) thence with their line n41e 4.58 chains to a stone, a corner of lot No. 3; thence with a line of lot No. 3, s42e 24.72 chains to a stone, another corner of lot No. 3 on Gunpowder creek, thence down the creek s53 1/4 w 4.23 chains to a stone, a corner with lot No. 1; thence with a line thereof n42 1/4 w 22.97 chains to the beginning containing 10 acres, one rod, and one pole. Same land conveyed by John L. Henderson to Robert O. Rouse and by said Robert O. Rouse to Geo. W. Rice in December, 1916, and then conveyed by said Rice to mortgagor Millard Fleck herein of this date.

Tract No. 3—Lying in Boone County, Ky., on the waters of Gunpowder creek and bounded thus: Beginning at a stone corner of lot No. 2 in a line of George Campbell; thence with his line n31e 3.79 chains to a stone corner of lot No. 4; thence with the line thereof s42 1/4 e 26.13 chains to a stone, a corner of lot No. 4 on Gunpowder creek; thence down said creek s53 1/4 w 3.40 chains to a stone, a corner of lot No. 2; thence with a line of lot No. 2 n42w 24.72 chains to the beginning containing Nine acres, being the same property conveyed by Isabelle F. Henderson to Robt. O. Rouse as shown by deed in Deed Book 46, page 37, Boone County Records and same land conveyed by Robert O. Rouse to Geo. W. Rice in December, 1916, and conveyed by said Rice to the mortgagor Millard Fleck of this date.

Tract No. 4—A tract or parcel of land in Boone County, Ky., lying on the waters of Gunpowder creek and bounded and described thus: Beginning at a Beech tree and stump, a corner with Mrs. Nancy Snyder and A. D. Robbins; thence e 1/2 w 135 poles to a Linn tree, a corner of Jas. L. Henderson (now Lavina Horton); thence s44w 90 poles, in a line of Mrs. Rhoda Underhill, a corner of Mrs. Rhoda Underhill; thence n46e 18 1/2 poles to a black walnut tree near the head of the drain; thence s45e 16 1/2 poles to a point in the old Mill road; thence with it s44e 7 poles, n69 1/2 e 32 poles, to a stake on the west side of Gunpowder creek 22 links above a large willow tree on the bank; thence n17w 6 poles to a corner in the creek; thence n56 1/4 e 101.3 poles, passing a stone on the east side of the creek to a stone near the top of a high hill in Mrs. Nancy Snyder's line; thence with said line s43e 45 poles to the beginning, containing 58 1/2 acres (Fifty Eight and One Fourth Acres, same land conveyed to Robert O. Rouse by E. L. Rouse as shown by deed in Deed Book 51, page 17, Boone County Records, and same land conveyed to said Robert O. Rouse by Geo. W. Rice in December, 1916, and conveyed by said Geo. W. Rice to the mortgagor herein Millard Fleck of this date.

Or sufficient thereof to produce the sums of money so ordered to be made. For the purchase price the purchaser, with approved security or securities, must execute bond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a Judgment, with a lien retained thereon, until the purchase money is paid. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Amount to be raised by sale $3,792.05.

R. E. Berkshire M. C. B. C. C.

Varied Hearings.

The very greatest and hardest of hearts has some musical strings in it; but they are tuned differently in every one of us.—Lowell.

The Best Advertisement

IS A PLEASED CUSTOMER

Spectacles and Eyeglasses that Fit the face and Fit the sight the kind we sell.

Phone South 1746

WITH METCH, Jeweler.

DR. N. F. PENN, 613 Madison Ave. - Covington, Ky

Efficient, Service and Economy

IS MY SLOGAN

C. SCOTT CHAMBERS

Embalmer and Funeral Director

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

Printed Stationery

AT THIS OFFICE

ENVELOPES, LETTERHEADS, NOTEHEADS, STATEMENTS

for business people.
for professional people.
for farmers.
for every one who wants to be considered up to date and going strong

FAITH IN THE UNDERTAKER

in his full appreciation of the dignity and delicacy of his calling—is essential to the peace of mind of surviving relatives and friends.

Only those who by character, habits and personality can command this confidence and respect, is fitted for the singular service.

This business always has been, and always will be, conducted on the basis of this belief

PHILIP TALIAFERRO,
Undertaker and Embalmer
Erlanger, Ky.

A BARGAIN!

Cincinnati Daily Enquirer

—AND—

The Boone County Recorder

YOU CAN GET

both for $4.50 the YEAR

Send Your Subscriptions to the
BOONE COUNTY RECORDER
Burlington, Ky.

Stop at The PALACE HOTEL 6TH & VINE

A home hotel—comfortable, large, airy rooms. Clean and economical. A safe place for your wife or daughter.

CINCINNATI, O.

HEBRON THEATRE--Next Saturday

"Courage of Marge O'Doone"

7 Reels by JAMES OLIVER CURWOOD

Semon Comedy.

Admission 22 Cents, Children 10 Cents

War Tax Included

DO YOU TAKE THE RECORDER?

Try It One Year. You'll Like It.

Read Our Advertisements and Profit By Them.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

Vol. XXXVII I

Established 1875

BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY,

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1922

$1.50 Per Year

No 8

1922 BURLEY WILL BE SOLD EARLY, IS OPINION OF STONE

President Believes Manufacturers
Will Take Crop in Winter Order Attitude of Eastern Financiers is Friendly.

Progress Made in Delivery of Big Purchase to R. J. Reynolds
Tobacco Company.

Lexington, Ky.—That most of the tobacco crop of 1922 will be sold in winter order and taken off the hands of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association promptly was the opinion expressed by President and General Manager Jas. C. Stone, who has returned from a trip of ten days to New York and other Eastern cities, where he talked with the officials of a number of the tobacco manufacturing companies.

Mr. Stone said that he also talked with some of the leading financiers of the East and that he found a distinctly friendly disposition to exist among bankers generally toward the cooperative marketing plan, not only as it relates to tobacco but to other farm products.

Director of Warehouses Ralph M. Barker said he could not say definitely when the receiving plants of the association will be opened to receive the 1922 crop, but adhered to his original statement that it will be "some time between December 1st and December 15."

KENTUCKY BRIEFS

Paduach, Ky.—An address in behalf of a $350,000 road bond issue for Fulton County will be made before members of the Commercial Club of Fulton by Ben Weille, secretary of the State Highway Commission. Good roads will be discussed in Madisonville before the Kiwanis Club by Mr. Weille.

Paduach, Ky.—A total of 875 licenses for hunting have been issued in McCracken county this year by John W. Polk, County Clerk. During the last few days preceding the official opening of the game season there has been a steady rush at the Clerk's office to obtain licenses.

Lexington, Ky.—The city of Lexington was named defendant in a $40,000 damage suit filed in Federal Court here by John E. Hughes, Co. tobacco dealer of Virginia, who alleges that a clogged drainage sewer under South Broadway caused water to back into the Central Tobacco Warehouse in September, 1920, and cause great damage to hoghead tobacco stored there.

Burkesville, Ky.—A large stock barn belonging to John Norris, near Leslie, this county, was destroyed by fire. Among the things lost in the fire was his milk cows, one horse, one mule and several hogs. Thinking the fire must be of incendiary origin, Mr. Norris secured a blood hound and followed the trail to a neighbor's residence.

NOT FORGOTTEN

Regardless of what the government has done in the past or may do in the future, the service men have reason to believe that by the great mass of the people they have not been forgotten.

The recent action of the people of Illinois in supporting a state bonus by a popular vote of nearly four to one is more illuminating than any editorial that could be written.

But Illinois is not the only state that has come to the aid of its returned soldiers. Many other states have done the same, even more promptly than Illinois.

Unquestionably great financial interests are opposed to a bonus, because it means additional taxation of their wealth, just as it means additional taxation of the poor man's savings.

With a few notable exceptions, the supporters of a bonus, or adjusted compensation, for the men who fought the battles of our country are found among the mass of the people—among those who so uncomplainingly suffered and slaved and denied themselves at home in order that food and supplies in plenty might be sent to our soldiers across the seas.

The people have not forgotten the splendid work of our young men who followed the flag of their country to the furnace of hell across the seas.

Mayor Hyman of New York says the safety of the country depends on the Democrats' nominating Hearst for President, which is the first indication that Mr. Hyman thinks the country needs another Republican President.

A New York society woman wears a live fox for a neck-piece. Wonder how she keeps it quiet amongst all the chickens on Fifth Avenue.

INCOME TAX

The Revenue Act of 1921, passed in November of that year, was effective generally as of January 1, 1921, but several sections of the Act relating to income tax did not go into effect until January 1, 1923.

The surtax rates for the year 1922 are lower than the rates for the year 1921. The rates for the present year range from 1 per cent to 60 per cent, while the rates for 1921 ranged from 1 per cent to 65 per cent. For the year 1921 the surtax was levied on a taxpayer's net income in excess of $5,000; however, for the year 1922 the surtax attaches only when the net income exceeds $6,000. The normal tax rates for 1921 and 1922 are the same, that is 4 per cent and 8 per cent.

The excess profits tax law, which was first enacted under the Revenue Act of 1917, and re-enacted under the Acts of 1918 and 1921, became a dead letter at midnight December 31, 1921, therefore corporations are no longer subject to excess profits tax. The income tax, however, has been increased from 10 per cent for the year 1921 to 12 1/2 per cent for 1922 and subsequent years.

Individuals and partnerships were not subject to excess profits tax under the Acts of 1918 and 1921, but were subject to that tax under the act of 1917.

For the years of 1918 to 1921 inclusive, personal service corporations were treated the same as partnerships, and stockholders of corporations of that class were taxed the same as members of partnerships. For the year 1922 personal service corporations will be subject to tax at the rate of 12 1/2 per cent, and must make returns at the same time and in the same manner as other corporations. The law governing partnerships has not been changed.

All corporations, personal service and otherwise, having a net income of $25,000 and under, are entitled to an exemption of $2,000. No exemption is allowed if the net income exceeds $25,000.

The most important section of the Act of 1921 which investors did not become effective until January 1, 1922, Section 206 is complicated, and therefore not easily understood. This section deals with "capital gain" and "capital loss" resulting from the sale or exchange of capital assets consummated after December 31, 1921. The term "capital assets" generally means property acquired and held by the taxpayer for profit or investment for more than two years, but a corporation cannot elect to be taxed under Section 206. This section applies to individuals, members of a partnership, and beneficiaries of a trust. The provisions of Section 206 are that a taxpayer shall first compute a partial tax upon his ordinary net income (excluding capital net gain) in the usual manner under Sections 210 and 211, and the total tax shall be this amount plus 12 1/2 per cent of the capital net gain; but if he elects to be taxed under Section 206 the total tax shall in each case be less than 12 1/2 per cent of the total net income (including capital net gain).

These examples show what you can get with your War Savings Stamps. Similar exchanges can be made in other amounts.

CONSULT YOUR POSTMASTER OR YOUR BANK

FARMERS SHOW HOW TO SAVE MANURE AND BUILD UP LAND

Lexington, Ky.—Scores of pointers on building up farm lands by saving manure and using it right are being brought out by demonstrations that Kentucky farmers are putting on in cooperation with the College of Agriculture, according to R. E. Stephenson, soils specialist of the college. The demonstrations are the start of a definite move to cut down heavy annual losses in the millions of dollars worth of manure produced in the state.

Nineteen farmers who ran demonstrations on their farms last winter reported that they saved an average of 1,500 pounds of manure a month from each 1,000 pounds of livestock on their farms. Only about half of the farmers who ran demonstrations used bedding, with the result that the other nine were not able to save the liquid part of the manure. Only one of the 19 farmers spread the manure as fast as it was produced, the other 18 storing it in sheds until they could haul it to their fields.

On the average, the 19 farmers put the manure on their fields at the rate of about five tons to the acre. Five of the 19 used most of the manure produced on their farms on tobacco. Many of the demonstrators reported that they used the material on all their crops. A common practice among the dairymen who ran demonstrations was to feed grain and milk their cows in stanchions, afterward turning them into sheds that were well bedded.

The old timers used to sing the sweet old song "Maxwellton's oaks are oonnie," but nowadays people would want to know whether they would lend money freely.

This country still says "In God we trust," but it does not seem to be willing to loan any more money to anybody else.

The flapper style is said to be going, and it is also going some.

Many of the city folks who brag about wearing the latest styles had to get trusted for them at the stores.

Watching for Santa Claus

Twenty Five Days To Walte.

THE UNITED STATES TREASURY
OFFERS YOU AN OPPOR-TUNITY TO RENEW YOUR INVEST-MENT

Your 1918 War Savings Stamps will become due January 1, 1923.

Take them to your post-office or bank today. Exchange them for the new Treasury Savings Certificates.

If you have $25 in War Savings Stamps you can now obtain a $25 Treasury Savings Certificate and $4.50 in cash.

If you have $100 in War Savings Stamps you can now obtain $100 Treasury Certificate and $18 in cash.

If you have $1,000 in War Savings Stamps you can now obtain a $1,000 Treasury Certificate and two $100 Treasury Savings Certificates and $16 in cash.

These examples show what you can get with your War Savings Stamps. Similar exchanges can be made in other amounts.

CONSULT YOUR POSTMASTER OR YOUR BANK

FARMERS SHOW HOW TO SAVE MANURE AND BUILD UP LAND

Lexington, Ky.—Scores of pointers on building up farm lands by saving manure and using it right are being brought out by demonstrations that Kentucky farmers are putting on in cooperation with the College of Agriculture, according to R. E. Stephenson, soils specialist of the college. The demonstrations are the start of a definite move to cut down heavy annual losses in the millions of dollars worth of manure produced in the state.

Nineteen farmers who ran demonstrations on their farms last winter reported that they saved an average of 1,500 pounds of manure a month from each 1,000 pounds of livestock on their farms. Only about half of the farmers who ran demonstrations used bedding, with the result that the other nine were not able to save the liquid part of the manure. Only one of the 19 farmers spread the manure as fast as it was produced, the other 18 storing it in sheds until they could haul it to their fields.

On the average, the 19 farmers put the manure on their fields at the rate of about five tons to the acre. Five of the 19 used most of the manure produced on their farms on tobacco. Many of the demonstrators reported that they used the material on all their crops. A common practice among the dairymen who ran demonstrations was to feed grain and milk their cows in stanchions, afterward turning them into sheds that were well bedded.

The old timers used to sing the sweet old song "Maxwellton's oaks are oonnie," but nowadays people would want to know whether they would lend money freely.

This country still says "In God we trust," but it does not seem to be willing to loan any more money to anybody else.

The flapper style is said to be going, and it is also going some.

Many of the city folks who brag about wearing the latest styles had to get trusted for them at the stores.

WASHINGTON COMMENT.

Not infrequently the proponent of a vigorous Americanization program is answered with "Oh, what's the use? A few foreigners, more or less, who don't understand us, won't hurt!"

There are plenty of patriotic and sentimental reasons why "a few more or less" will hurt and hurt badly. And there are as many practical reasons. Bolshevism, Red propaganda, Sovietism, radicalism, of all kinds, are not spread in America by Americans, but by foreigners. Short of deporting all foreigners, which is unthinkable in peace times, there is no other plan save that of Americanization, which will keep this treacherous station for wild communistic and anarchistic schemes.

An instance of the need of greater vigilance in Americanization work is at hand in the funny reports printed in German papers regarding the election. According to some of these, President Harding is about to resign, Governor Smith of New York is to become President, the prohibition laws were repealed, the entire Congress was turned out of office, and a new one installed.

If all German, French, Austrian, and Polish children in this country knew of their own knowledge, from proper Americanization education, the facts about this country, it is hardly possible that their parents and grandparents in writing to Europe, could fail to give a true, rather than a false picture of political conditions in this country. It may be argued that it doesn't make any difference if Germany is told by her newspapers a set of untruths about our domestic elections, but that is not the point. Misrepresentation and misunderstanding of one country by another, interfere with trade, cause friction, and some time war, and prevent the spread of culture and education, and thus of civilization.

Not to realize that Americanization is as important to our foreign children and their parents, as education is both to them and to American children, is to remain unconscious of one of the problems which is today faced by the land we love.

YEGGMEN

Pay Burlington A Visit - Kirkpatrick's Store Looted-- Loss About $350.

The store of W. L. Kirkpatrick in Burlington was broken into Monday night and the safe was blown open with nitro glycerine and about $40 taken. The robbers also took from the store a number of shirts, gloves, watches and other merchandise to the amount of about $300. The robbers gained entrance to the store by breaking a small hole in a window and near the cash lock. The safe was blown after the combination had been knocked off and the opening round the door stopped with lard. The hammer used in knocking off the combination together with some of the fuse was left in the store. Mr. Kirkpatrick did not leave any money in the safe other than what was used in the store as change, as the safe was fire proof only. The robbery was not discovered until about 6 o'clock when Mr. Kirkpatrick opened the store for business Tuesday morning, although his brother had been in the store at an earlier hour but for a few minutes only, and he did not discover that the store had been robbed. This appears to be the work of professionals. Sheriff Hume notified the Cincinnati and Covington authorities and he and Mr. Kirkpatrick went to Cincinnati in hope that they may apprehend the robbers.

POOL EXPECTED TO START RECEIVING DEC. 11

Warehouse Managers and Bookkeepers From All Parts of District Will Be Here This Week To Receive Final Instructions

Receiving plants of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association will be opened to receive the 1922 crops of members Dec. 11. If there is a season, Director of Warehouses Ralph M. Barker said Saturday. Warehouse managers and bookkeepers from all parts of the burley district will be here Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday, Director Barker said, to receive their final instructions.

Shipments of sheep and lambs back to the country for feeding showed an increase during the first 9 months of this year of 365,000 head, or more than 21 per cent, over the corresponding period of last year, although there was a decrease in market receipts of 2,200,000 head, or nearly 13 per cent, according to a report of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Sunday is a day of rest, and some times of strutting.

A WEEK'S NEWS.

The friends of W. M. Aylor and wife surprised them Sunday Nov. 19, when about 75 came with well filled baskets, and at the noon hour a lovely dinner was spread in honor of Mrs. Aylor's birthday and wedding anniversary. Those present were R. H. Stephens and family, Sydney Clements and family, Ezra Aylor and family, S. B. Scott and family, L. L. Stephens and family, Charles Craig and family, Paul Aylor and family, Bob Hankinson and family, Edward Hankinson and wife, Frank Scott and wife, Ramey Hankinson and family, Solon Ryle and family, Sam Pope and family, Vernon Scott and wife, Everett Clure and family, Jno. Smith and wife, Ben Crier and wife, Z. T. Stephens and wife, Mrs. James Hager and daughter Cathryn, Lon Clure, Lewis Clure, Mrs. Jas. E. Rice and son, Mrs. Wm. Larch, Laura Rodgers, Marion Rodgers, Madeline Huey, Abner Yelton, H. O. Rodgers, Walton Rodgers, James R. Huey, Grace Scott, Robt. Aylor and daughter, of Walton, James N. Perkins, Mary Perkins and daughter Harriet, John Woods and wife, Miss Dell Griswold and Miss Addie Griswold, all of Rising Sun. All left wishing her many more happy birthdays.

In a good many places the idea has been tried out of enlisting people to get out all together on certain days and do the work for needed public improvements. A number of states have had good road days, and have "pulled the state out of the mud," as they described it. Many cities and towns have had park improvement days and tree planting days. The people would get out with their tools and work with their own hands, and permanently beautify the place.

Any city has many improvement projects badly needed in its development, which could be put over in such ways, and probably in no other. In some neighborhoods it is fairly would be a fine thing if the residents, instead of waiting for public funds, would get out on some fixed day and plant the trees they need on their streets and private grounds. There is need for more joint effort in these times to get things done, and less of the "Let George do it" spirit.

There is a better day coming for the farmer, and the wise man can see that the dawn has set in, and will profit by its coming if he will exercise his brains and muscle. Farming is a business and you reap only according to what you sow. Business comes and goes, or in other words, there are good periods and bad ones as well. This is a law of nature that has proven true from the beginning of time. For the past three years it has been tough sledding for the farmer, but the pendulum is now swinging back to a more prosperous period. There are many causes that are bringing back prosperity to the farmer. Among them are: Farmers are organizing to protect their own interest, good roads, better homes, better living conditions, motive power, better schools and more industry are the signs of the times. This condition will also bring about another substantial boom in land values.—Falmouth Outlook.

Take the history of the world and you will find that all nations have fallen when the people lose respect for law and authority. The daily press and the police of many of our large cities are doing a splendid job under foot the Federal Prohibition law. If people are taught to obey our Federal laws and get away with it, what assurances have we that all laws will not meet the same fate. There was a time when men were as afraid to break a Federal law as they were to pick up a rattlesnake, but it is not so at the present time. This disrespect for law and authority is gaining a foothold, and is being extended to our state, county, city and school laws. What we need is a tightening up in the enforcement of the law, and the press should be a factor in supporting the officers.—Falmouth Outlook.

President Harding has begun a custom which he hopes will become a tradition; he visited the grave of the unknown soldier at Arlington on Armistice Day, accompanied by the Secretaries of War and Navy, and military escort, and left a simple wreath to be known to all the world that this country knew, laid down, known and unknown, who laid down their lives at their country's call.

At the same time the Postoffice put on sale a new fifty cent postage stamp, which has a picture of the Arlington Amphitheater upon it, with the tomb of the unknown soldier in the foreground.

The old Thanksgiving day family reunion began to decline about the time that dear old Mother became unable to cook dinner for a score of people.

All ads in this column 25 cents if more than 25 words one cent for each additional word. Cash must accompany the ad.

KENTUCKY FARMERS TO HAVE NEW PAPER

Louisville, Ky.—That Kentucky farmers are to have a paper printed in their own interests, is the declaration of principles and announcement of policies contained in the current issue of the New Farmers Home Journal coming from the press this week. An aggressive, non-political fight will be made in the farmers' behalf, in state and national legislative assemblies, looking to a closer unity of interests between all industry and business with agriculture, in which the driving power of the nation's wealth will put behind the farmer first, as the chief support of everything else, according to D. B. G. Rose, president of the reorganized Journal, oldest farm paper in the state and the only one to be published in Kentucky.

A special correspondent is "keeping an eye on Congress" at Washington, according to the issue now published, and it is understood the Washington letters will be a permanent feature. Twelve different departments cover the entire agricultural field of news in Kentucky, the articles relative to the Burley Tobacco Co-operative Association, the Live Stock Improvement Association, the fight led by Kentucky breeders for better freight rates than those that have threatened extinction of live stock industry in the South, being particularly interesting and informative.

Announcement is made that the paper aspires to be the literal voice of the Kentucky farmer and that its policies are to be really made up and carried out by him. Every subscriber becomes a member of the family council of the New Farmers Home Journal, with not only the privilege, but the right he is requested to frequently exercise, of telling the editors exactly what he thinks and desires. Upon the majority opinion will be based the action of the paper in behalf of the farmer and Kentucky farm interests.

The present organization took the hands of a receiver after several months suspension, due largely to inefficient business administration, it is understood. The first issue under the new management goes to 26,000 subscribers, many of whom had paid their subscriptions to the old management but had never been gotten on the lists. Altho not responsible for these, the present organization has elected to make good, for a time at least, all such subscriptions as the first tangible evidence of its sincerity of determination to get the farmer a square deal. The editor-in-chief, not yet chosen, will be selected thru the assistance of the subscribers.

TRAVELING SERVICES

Some interesting instances are reported from Europe of efforts to bring modern methods to the service of country dwellers. One province in Central Europe has a traveling dental clinic. A dentist travels about by automobile to a great number of rural schools he examines the teeth of the children. He remedies defects so far as he can, and tells them what to do to secure further treatment.

Sweden has a traveling cooking school, which teaches future rural housewives how they can secure home comfort.

The Woman's National Council of England has a traveling child welfare exhibit, which moves from place to place by automobile and shows how to care for infants in the most approved way.

Our own country has not been behind in such methods, and there are many sections where traveling services of one kind or another are provided for the rural people. There are traveling libraries, traveling health exhibits, better farming specialists, traveling exhibits and home economics, etc.

Here is a method of rural development that could be almost indefinitely extended. It costs something of course, and the residents of a rural district rarely feel that they can afford to install traveling services of this kind. Eventually the various states and very likely the federal government, in order to promote interest in rural life, will provide many of these functions. Special teachers will go around from school to school and give the rural pupils the advantage of the best modern instruction. The effort will be made to provide rural dwellers with the facilities for developing their educational and home and industrial life that shall be as good as those offered in cities. When that time comes, the drift of young people to the cities will cease to be a problem.

Next to the United Kingdom, Italy is the largest importer of American wheat, having received over 32,000,000 bushels in 1929. According to the United States Department of Agriculture, France ranks next, with 26,000,000 for the same year.

Of the leading markets New York is often quoted as paying the highest prices for very early arrivals of fruits and vegetables, but during the height of the season is often quoted below the others, says the United States Department of Agriculture.

Some men are energetic because they are too busy to be lazy.

RADIO RALF AND HIS FRIENDS---

WHAT IT MEANS TO CENTRE.

The campaign to raise $1,000,000 for Christian education in Kentucky being conducted by the Presbyterians has about it several features of great interest. Among the features is the relation of Centre College to the campaign. Of the $1,000,000 being sought $300,000 will be contributed to Centre College. As soon as this $300,000 is contributed to Centre College by the people of Kentucky the General Education Board of New York will give Centre College another $200,000. The success of the campaign will mean therefore that Centre College will receive $500,000, which is greatly needed by that institution.

When the football team made so sensational a success in its Eastern games a sporting writer in an Eastern paper wrote as follows about the college itself: This little Southern institution of learning, with seven buildings and a dozen overworked and underpaid professors, breeds men to an upstanding pride in a century of service. With less than a hundred undergraduates through much of its life Centre College has given the country two Vice Presidents of the U. S., a Supreme Court Justice, eight U. S. Senators, thirty-seven Congressmen, ten Governors, fifty-two State and Federal Circuit Judges, and twenty-six college presidents. Yet it was not until the football team flashed across the horizon like a flaming comet that the average person outside the South had ever heard its name.

Today the college is receiving more applications for admission than it can accept. It lacks sleeping quarters and study halls to accommodate the prospective students. With all the publicity and praise that this "miracle team" has received not a single soul has thought of so practical a tribute as donating the money for a new dormitory. When I was in Danville last fall many of the football players were sleeping in double beds in the home built for the occupancy of the president. Outside stretched a campus of forty maple-studded acres waiting expectantly for new buildings to arise.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

On November 19th a delightful surprise party was tendered Mrs. Alice Busby of Union pike, Florence, Ky., the occasion being her sixtieth birthday. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. David Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wolf and son, Elton, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lutes and son, Thomas and daughter, Jean, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Smith and son, Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Rouse and daughter, Miss Lizzie Aylor, Miss Hattie Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Knapp, Mrs. Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Busby, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Ingram and children, Margaret, Virginia and Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Woodward Wilks, Mrs. Alice White and daughters, Alta and Florence, Mr. and Mrs. Friedman and daughter Lizzie, Mr. Chas. Hinderberger, Mr. Harry Goebel, Mr. Willis Chinn.

State-Wide Democratic Club for Ohio.

Governor-elect Donahay, former Governor Cox, and former Governor Campbell are among the incorporators of a Democratic Club which has been inaugurated in Ohio. Other incorporators are former Chief Justice of the Supreme Court Nichols, former Attorney General Hogan, and Claude Meeker. The club will have its headquarters in Columbus, but its membership will be recruited from all parts of the State.

It is planned to engage permanent quarters in the new Neil House to be built next year on the site of the historic old hostelry of the same name. These quarters, it is proposed, will be specially designed for the club and will occupy an entire floor.

Ohio Democrats have been so greatly encouraged by the recent victories of their party that it is believed there will be much interest and a large membership in the new organization.

Do your Christmas shopping before Christmas.

Recondition Your Batteries For Winter Driving

When cold weather sets in, it is time to have your battery reconditioned for Winter Driving.

Have your battery inspected and put in prime condition now, may SAVE you the cost of a new battery in the spring.

To keep it in fighting trim throughout the winter, have us inspect it every two weeks. Our regular inspection service is the best way of keeping a good battery good. A few minutes twice a month will mean dollars in your pocket later on.

Dempsey Motor Car Company,
Phone—Erlanger 70-L Erlanger, Ky.

FOR SALE ETC.

Don't let anything slip on you. Remember, we told you! Our service, in the repair of wagons, sleds, truck bodies, plows, etc., and the manufacture of sleds, box beds, hay frames, swings, screen doors, etc., is something new in Boone county. You are entitled to as good service as your neighbor! No horse shoeing or garage work to hold back your order. We do the peoples work. Conner & Kraus, Florence, Ky. THE BIG SHOP.

Time to kill hogs. We'll make your scalding boxes. CONNER & KRAUS, Florence, Ky.

For Sale—Good registered Durac Jersey boar 18 months old. Harry Kilgour, Burlington R. D. 3.

For Sale—Basly's Closing out Big Type Poland Chinas. One boar—Basly's Buster, one gilt. Others. Inquire: W. M. Basly, Burlington R. D. 3.

For Sale—Six cows, will be fresh in December, Big Type Poland China sow and seven pigs. W. R. Morris, Erlanger R. D. 4, Hebron phone.

FOR SALE—Stove Range, very cheap. Mrs. W. P. Carpenter, Florence, Ky.

For Sale—Extracted honey. 13 cents per pound. Sterling Rouse residence near Limaburg, Ky. Ludlow, Ky.

For Sale—A well broke Beagle hound. F. S. Schuker, near Point Pleasant church, Ludlow R. D. 2.

For Sale—Ten Buff Orpington cockerels. Dolph Seebie, Burlington, Ky. R. D. 2.

For Sale—Nine shots that will weigh from 40 to 50 pounds. T. J. Bondurant, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 1.

For Sale—Seven room dwelling, suitable for two families, lot 38x147 feet. Store building and store fixtures together with nine room dwelling, lot 100x147 feet. This property is at McVillie, Lock 38. M. B. Rice, D. B. Rice, Grant, Ky.

For Sale—Farm of Isabelle Henderson consisting of 80 acres on Gunpowder creek in Boone county, Ky. Write Wm. D. Ricketts, Attorney, Rising Sun, Indiana. ofdec—2t

Coal is scarce and high, so you had better go to work on that wood pile. The work will be fun if you have a good axe and buck saw. WE'VE GOT THEM! THE BEST

MADE! Give us a call. AND DON'T FORGET THAT WE HAVE GUN SHELLS. Hardware & Specialty Co., Hope Conner Mgr., Florence, Ky.

We give 20 per cent cash discount or to reliable parties of the regular retail price on Columbia Gramofones, Starr Grand Pianos, Upright Pianos, Player Pianos and Starr Phonographs. Free delivery made anywhere. Write for catalog. RICE PIANO CO., Aurora, Indiana. o-jan1

For Sale—2 1/2 acres of land, good land, about 1/2 mile west of Burlington on Bellevue and Burlington pike. N. E. Riddell, Burlington, Ky.

For Sale—Two farms, one at Lawrenceburg Ferry, one of the finest views on the Ohio river. 160 acres. Will divide and sell 60 acres with all buildings if desired. Ten room house, fine outbuildings. One at Hebron, Ky., of 25 1/2 acres, well improved, house and barn, and small buildings.

E. MANNEN, Petersburg, Ky. o3nov—4t

WANTED
Hay to bale. Prices reasonable. P. H. Mathews, Bullittsville, Ky. Phone 203-x 29june tf

NOTICE.
No Dog or Hunting Licenses will be mailed unless 5c postage accompanies order.

M. E. ROGERS, County Clerk.

1917 Ford touring car in excellent condition.
1920 Dodge Roadster. This is a bargain.
1921 Ford Coupe. Must sell immediately.

DEMPEY MOTOR CAR CO.,
Erlanger, Ky.

NOTICE

Beginning Dec. 1 I will not make my Friday trip to Waterloo until further notice.

A. C. SCOTT.

WHAT AND HOW?

What do we most need in this town?
How are we going to get it?
Answer those two questions in a satisfactory manner and you will have performed a wonderful service for your community.

There are many ways of improving a town and its adjacent countryside, but they can not all be employed at one and the same time.

There are many people who have ideas and suggestions for improvements, but it is also manifest that they can not all be adopted with the limited facilities at our command.

The obvious thing to do is to get our various ideas together and into the limelight, where they can be scrutinized for objectionable features. Then decide upon the one single suggested improvement that would be of greatest benefit to all of our people.

That done, we will be face to face with the problem of how to convert that suggested improvement into an accomplished fact.

Again we will come into play the various ideas of people who are in the habit of making a study of local conditions, and from the many suggestions offered we will undoubtedly be able to decide upon the one best suited to the requirements of the situation.

Dig down under the surface of things that are always forging ahead and you will invariably find that they are operating along lines much similar to those suggested above.

It makes no difference from whose brain the original idea springs. Results are only things that we want.

Shall we get together in order to get results.

Public Sale.

I will sell at my residence on Gunpowder creek, 2 miles s. w. of Burlington on the Union and Burlington road,

Tuesday, Dec. 5, '22

The Following Property;

2 E Chilled plows, Shovel plow, Iron Edge, 1 Horse wheat drill, McCormack binder 6 foot cut, McCormack mower 6 foot cut, Deering mower 6 foot cut, 8 Foot farm roller, Revolving harrow, Disk harrow, John Deer riding cultivator, Tougless cultivator, Road wagon, Hay bed, Rock bed, Runabout, Top Buggy, Wagon and Buggy harness, Picks Shovels, Sledge hammers, Log chains, Single & Double trees, LOT OF CORN TIMOTHY and CLOVER HAY in the Barn, Walnut and White Oak lumber, Lot Household and Kitchen Furniture, Hand made Spreads and Counterpanes, OLD FASHION FURNITURE, Rag Carpets.

2 Brood Sows, 2 Milk Cows, 2 Aged Mules, Horse, 1 Sled, 2 Horse Sled.

TERMS—All under $10.00 cash, over that amount a credit of 6 months will be given, purchaser to execute note with good surety, payable at Boone County Deposit Bank. SALE will begin at 10.00 A. M. LUNCH at noon.

W. F. GRANT.

J. M. EDDNIS Auctioneer.

UNNECESSARY

To send your truck to Cincinnati for solid tires. We will press on United States or Kelly Spring at prices you can't beat anywhere.

You save the bridge toll and we give YOU IMMEDIATE SERVICE.

LOUIS MEYER MOTOR COMPANY
626 Scott, Covington, Ky.

FOR SALE

1916 Ford Touring.....$110.00
1917 Ford Touring.....$140.00
1919 Grant Six Touring.....$300.00
1916 Chevrolet Touring.....$100.00
These cars are all in good condition. Come in and let us give you a demonstration.

C. W. MYERS MOTOR CO., Florence, Ky.

FOR SALE

Five-room house, barn and lot in Burlington, also 52 acres of land in Park Addition—new barn.

THOS. HENSLEY, Burlington, Ky. o14dec—4t

More Nature Paking.
Nature cannot jump from winter to summer without a spring, or from summer to winter without a fall— from the Tiger.

RAW FURS WANTED

Get My Price & Grades Before You Sell.

NQ LOT TOO LARGE
H. KIRK.

Burlington, Ky.

The First English Guinea.
The English guinea was first coined in 1673, and derived its name from the fact that the gold of which it was at first composed came from Guinea, from whence it was brought back by intrepid British fortune seekers.

This life is full of chances that are never taken.

All obituaries, card of thanks and all other matter, not news, must be paid for at 5 cents per line.

Bullittsburg Baptist Church.
J. W. CAMPBELL, Pastor.
Sunday School every Sunday at 10:00 a. m.
Regular preaching services on the First and Third Sundays in each month at 11:30 a. m.

Boone Co. Lutheran Pastorale
REV. GEO. A. ROYER, Pastor.
November 30th
Thanksgiving and Thank Offering service Hebron 10:30 a. m.
Thanksgiving service Hopeful 7 p. m.

Sunday Dec. 3rd.
Sunday School Hopeful 9:30 a. m.
Luther League Hopeful 7 p. m.
Sunday school Hebron 9:30 a. m.
Luther League Hebron 7 p. m.
Regular service Ebenezer 10:30 a. m.

Burlington Baptist Church
REV. W. W. ADAMS, Pastor
Regular mid-week Prayer meeting Wednesday 7 p. m.
Special Thanksgiving service on Thursday at 2 p. m.
Bible School Sunday 10 a. m.
Regular worship Dec. 3, 11 a. m., Sermon subject: "The Spirit That Wins."
B. Y. P. U. 6 p. m.
Regular worship 7 p. m. Sermon subject: "The Worth of an Immortal Soul." All invited.

Jailer Fowler was the first in this community to butcher hogs.

J. D. Acra sent a truck load of cattle to market last Wednesday.

O. R. Porter and wife spent Sunday with his father, A. C. Porter.

Since the first day of the hunting season very few rabbits are being killed.

F. S. Schuler, of near Pt. Pleasant church, was in Burlington last Monday.

Miss Marcella Hilker, of Covington, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. W. Goodridge.

Atty. O. M. Rogers, of Erlanger, was a visitor to Burlington, last Sunday morning.

B. D. Rice will have an auction sale of all of his property in McVille next Saturday.

Turkeys roosted to high for any one in this neighborhood to feast on Thanksgiving.

Atty. John O'Neal, of Covington, was in Burlington on legal business, one day last week.

Methodist Sunday School Sunday from 10 to 11 a. m., Sunday Dec. 3. Everybody welcome.

Frank Wingate had his right wrist badly sprained while trying to crank his Ford auto one day last week.

H. C. Norman has purchased at 410 Pike street Covington, Ky., a store, where he will be glad to meet his friends.

W. T. Riddell, of Dayton, O., was the guest of his brother, Marce Riddell and wife, one day the latter part of last week.

Miss Katherine Sullivan, who was operated upon at a Cincinnati hospital a few weeks since, was brought home last Thursday.

Sterling Rouse, of the Limaburg neighborhood, was in Burlington last Monday, and while here placed an ad in the Recorder, advertising his extract of honey.

Mrs. Susan Kirkpatrick, who has been nursing her daughter, Mrs. W. R. Davis, who has pneumonia, was taken suddenly sick last Saturday morning, but she rallied and is very much better.

The Y. W. A. of the Big Bone Baptist church will give a bazaar and oyster supper on Friday afternoon and evening of Dec. 8th in the Sunday school rooms. Everyone cordially invited to come.

W. P. Beemon, of Pleasant Valley neighborhood shipped a load of fat hogs to market last Thursday, for which he received satisfactory prices. Mr. Beemon is one of the best farmers of that neighborhood.

Burlington saw the first snow of the season last Friday afternoon. It came in the form of flurries. Last year the first snow fell October 10th. Beside the snow flurries the day was the coldest of the season.

The Sheriff and his deputies have been kept busy the past week writing tax receipts. The penalty goes on to-morrow, Dec. 1st. Considering the scarcity of money taxpayers have responded pretty promptly this year.

H. R. Leidy has installed Delco light in the residences of John Smith, W. B. Rogers, Al Rogers and Edward Rogers at Bellevue. He has also installed in the residences of Mr. W. B. Rogers and Al Rogers an Arcola Heating plant.

Mrs. R. J. Akin, who has been quite ill with pneumonia, is on the road to recovery.

Mike O'Hara and J. M. Craven, of Erlanger, were business visitors to Burlington last Saturday.

Wm. Vololek, of Point Pleasant neighborhood, was a business visitor to Burlington, last Saturday.

Special Thanksgiving services at Florence M. E. Church, South, on Thanksgiving day at 7:15 p. m.

Earl Smith has been limping around for several days caused by running a black Locust thorn into his foot.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gaines, of Idlewild neighborhood, spent Saturday night and Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. C. T. Davis, at Erlanger.

Mrs. E. E. Kelly and daughter, Miss Katherine, came down Saturday afternoon and spent until Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith.

The many friends of Mr. G. G. Hughes will be sorry to learn that he has been quite poorly for several days at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Earl Walton at Petersburg.

Mrs. Stella Starcher, of Point Pleasant neighborhood, was transacting business in Burlington, last Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Starcher had just returned home from a week's visit with friends at Clifton Heights, Cincinnati, Ohio.

The 1923 auto license tags have arrived and will be ready for distribution in a few days. The tags are gray background with blue figures and are much prettier than the 1922 tags. The numbers begin with 7801. Get your license and have them ready before the first of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Goodridge had for guests Sunday week Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Goodridge, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Clemens, Dr. P. W. Clemens, Mrs. Minerva Plummer, Misses Lillian Goodridge, Marcella Hilker, Betty Jane Clemens, Lucile Gremaire, Marion Schuler and Kathryn Maurer Goodridge.

While reading in an old diary belonging to the late Mary A. Thompson, we found the following: "Commenced teaching school first Monday in May, 1858, in the cottage at Sunny Side, near Union, Ky., on the following Sunday attended church at Sardis." How many are there now living in that community that can remember this?

The lowest temperature recorded during the month of November until last Friday night, was 32 degrees, and the freezes up to that time had not been heavy enough to kill tobacco suckers in the fields. The temperature last Friday night went to 10 below freezing and Saturday morning considerable ice was to be seen, and it was a hard matter to keep houses warm with 50-cent coal.

Farmers who have commenced stripping their tobacco say that the quality of their crop is very fine. According to reports there will be a lot of good cigarette wrapper this year. The crop will weigh out very light, according to reports, and if the same conditions prevail all over the Burley District it will be considerably short of the government estimate.

Geo. Griffith, who formerly conducted a barber shop at Seventh & Madison Ave., Covington, has opened a shop in the former Insurance building Burlington. He does not devote his whole time to the barber trade, but will be in his shop Wednesday and Friday evenings and all day Saturday of every week. Mr. Griffith is a first-class barber and is a citizen of the county, as he has purchased the Wm. Garnett farm at Limaburg.

NOTICE

Venus Lodge, No. 105, Florence, Ky., will have an open meeting Saturday evening, Dec. 2nd, 1922, at 7 o'clock for the purpose of organizing a Rebecca lodge. Bro. and Sister Geo. I. Briel will be present to assist in instituting the lodge of Rebeccas. All Odd-Fellows, their families and Sister Rebeccas are invited, also anyone who desires to come will be welcome.

H. J. KELLY, Committee

Because you are getting old, do not become an old crank and object to the young people enjoying life while they are young. Do not forget the birds' nests you destroyed, the watermelons that crawled up under your arm when you walked through your neighbor's patch, the number of times you played hookie from school, and instead of going to Sunday school to learn about the fishermen of Galilee, you went fishing yourself to try to catch the big bass you saw swimming on the rifle. You were a good way from being a saint in your young days and do not expect your boy to be an improvement on the old block.

We have recharged batteries that will fit any car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.
DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO.,
Erlanger, Ky.

SENATOR NEWBERRY RESIGNS.

The resignation of Senator Newberry is the end of an imperfect aspiration. Mr. Newberry wished to be Senator; so he put himself in the hands of professional politicians, men of the breed that the unfortunate relations of corporations with legislative bodies and our direct primary system of nominations have created. They told Mr. Newberry that they knew how to get him the Senatorship. He was opposed by Henry Ford, whose indefinite candidacy for something or other is recurrent and is but a phase of the advertising of his automobiles. With Mr. Ford, if it is not a peace ship, or a new way to run old railroads, or spending several millions of dollars on potential hundreds of millions in Muscle Shoals, it is a Senatorship or the Presidency. Mr. Newberry really had to fight, with campaign expenditures, the advertising account of the Ford company. He had to fire in the open at Mr. Ford, who was shooting from the ambush afforded by a flivver. Mr. Newberry spent too much money. He was convicted under a law that the Supreme Court subsequently decided to be unconstitutional. He was all but expelled from the Senate. Senator Townsend was defeated for re-election and the first Democrat since 1856 was elected to represent Michigan in the Senate, because Senator Townsend was his colleague's defender. And now Senator Newberry has resigned.

It is just as well. If, despite the unusual circumstances surrounding Senator Newberry's candidacy, he had retained his seat, there would have been an implied encouragement of similar orgies of campaign expenditure by professional politicians in behalf of business men, who were too busy to be familiar with methods employed in their behalf. By thus immolating himself on the altar of our free institutions, the retiring Senator will help to make our captains of industry more skeptical of the political parasites who guarantee to "deliver the goods" at primary elections, if but purse-strings are sufficiently lax.

Doubtless Senator Newberry has learned his lesson. The next time he runs for Senator, he should attach himself to some familiar article of commerce, so that his publicity will be of the thing rather than of the man, and therefore legitimate.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

"It is to be hoped that every person who can do so will exchange War Savings Stamps, so as to fall due, for Treasury savings certificates," said Postmaster Everett Hickman. "The large amount of money invested and the great number of persons who purchased war savings stamps showed that the people of this country could save money when the necessity arose. Now, if they will take the money they saved when they bought stamps to aid the government in the prosecution of the war and buy Treasury savings certificates, they will demonstrate that the thrift lessons of the war have not been without effect. The holders of war savings stamps have seen investments of about $20.50 grow to $25 in five years, and larger amounts in the same proportion. They can see the same thing repeated if they reinvest in Treasury savings certificates. Interest accumulates at the rate of 4 per cent each year, compounded semi-annually. These savings certificates are exempt from the normal Federal income tax, and from all State and local taxation (except estate and inheritance taxes), and may be held to the amount of $5,000, maturity value, for each issue, by every member of a family. They are backed by the credit of the United States Government, and afford an easy and sure method of saving."

Louisville, Ky. — Kentucky was healthier last year than the average of the thirty-eight States included in the registration area of the United States Bureau, it is shown by a report of the Bureau made public here by the State Board of Health which gives Kentucky's death rate for the year as 10.5 while the average for the thirty-eight States was 11.3, a difference of .8 in Kentucky's favor.

In comparison with the States adjoining it, Kentucky also makes a good showing, only one neighboring State having a death rate lower than Kentucky's one other having a rate higher than this Commonwealth.

Of these States, Missouri, with a death rate of 10.3, made the best showing. Kentucky and Ohio, with rates of 10.5, came next. Then, in order, came Indiana, with a death rate of 10.7; West Virginia, 10.8; Tennessee, 11.1; and Virginia, 12.1. West Virginia is not yet in the registration area of the United States Census Bureau, and the figure given for that State is its own.

The reduction in Kentucky's death rate from 11.8 to 10.5, or 1.2, is under the average reduction of 1.5 effected by the thirty-eight States of the registration area, the report also shows.

Did you ever meet a "gypper"? If not, you are not acquainted with the ways of the animal. He is lower down the line than the profligate. He gets his work in by giving you short change, short weights or measure. The only way to catch him, is to count your change and weigh or measure your packages. Automobiles say he is found around the filling stations and in places where the dry measures are used.

THE OLD NEST

Burlington, Dec. 8th
Petersburg, Dec. 9th

Better than

"OVER THE HILL"

THE MOTHER WHOSE CHILDREN NO LONGER SEEM TO WANT HER

Suddenly they have all grown up and left her—the babies she used to tuck in bed at night. The old house is empty and silent. All have forgotten her. Her birthdays pass unnoticed.

Each child has embarked on a drama of his own. The temptations carry them away. The story of their lives sweeps you along.

Your life—your home—your mother. Never before has the screen touched with such beauty and such dramatic force a subject which finds an echo in the lives of every one of us. "The Old Nest" is a masterpiece of a new type—a presentation of life as it really is with its moments of great joy and flashes of exquisite pain. One of the most heart-gripping dramatic stories ever narrated.

Beginning at 7 P. M.

Admission, 20 & 40 cents.

Tax included.

"The Old Nest" Public Sale

At the Burlington Baptist Church

MONDAY DEC. 4th 1922.

The following property—Horse 12 14 & 16 Inch Jacks. Lumber, Stone, Sand. Terms cash. Sale begins at 1:30 P. M. COMMITTEE.

Mothers use Frey's Vermifuge For the Children

A Safe Old Fashioned Remedy for Worms

Seventy-five years continuous use is the best testimonial FREY'S VERMIFUGE can offer you.

Keep a bottle always on hand. It will help keep the little ones healthy and happy.

30c a bottle, strong draughts for general stores or if your dealer can't supply you, send his name and 30c in stamps and we'll send you a bottle promptly.

E. & F. FREY, Baltimore, Md.

There is now a splendid opportunity for young men between the ages of 19 and 22 years, to obtain a commission in the United States Army.

Recently regulations have been issued governing the examination of enlisted men for appointment to West Point. They must be between the ages of 19 and 22 years, and have served not less than one year. Preliminary examinations are held annually, between December 1 and 15th, and the final examination is held beginning March 6th, each year. A pamphlet setting forth the regulations governing these opportunities may be obtained by writing: The Recruiting Officer, Fort Thomas, Ky. Information regarding the service may be obtained by calling at the nearest recruiting office. Recruiting Offices are located at each of the following cities:

Cincinnati, Ohio, Winchester, Ky.
Dayton, Ohio, Winchester, Gye
Hamilton, Ohio, Morehead, Ky.
Middletown, Ohio, Mt. Sterling Ky
Portsmouth, Ohio, Olive Hill, Ky
Ironton, Ohio, Harlan, Ky.
Lexington, Ky, Barbourville Ky.
Hazard, Ky, Beattyville, Ky.

CAR SENSE

Spend
a Dollar
and
Save
Ten

Little defects grow into big ones in time if not corrected.
The correction of a small defect in its early stages costs but little.
When left until it grows into serious proportions its correction runs into money.
That is what makes the maintenance of a car so expensive to many people—neglecting the little things until they grow into big ones.
The better—the safer—the more economical way is to see the garage man at the first warning of trouble.
Today is always a good time to have it done.

EDDINS BROTHERS

TIRES, TUBES AND ACCESSORIES.

Burlington, Kentucky.

BRAKE BAND OIL—Guaranteed to stop Ford bands from chattering.
Agents for U. S. and Ajax Tires.

Established 1886.

A BANK ACCOUNT IS ONE OF THE FIRST STEPPING STONES TO SUCCESS IN LIFE.

How are You Stepping!

This bank invites young men and women especially to open savings accounts. Officials of the bank are pleased at all time to give the benefit of their experience to customers and others who seek advice.
When in doubt come to this bank. Your success means great success for us.

Has it ever occurred to you that a checking account is a very convenient thing to have?

Boone Co. Deposit Bank

Burlington, Kentucky.

N. E. RIDDELL, President W. D. CROPPER, Cashier
W. A. GAINES, Vice-Pres. G. S. KELLY, Asst. Cashier.

Rising Sun Fancy Patent Flour

That looks good, tastes good and really is good, deliciously good, with that tasty, melting flavor and texture—to win real appreciation.

You get full nutrition and full value when you buy RISING SUN FANCY PATENT FLOUR.

FOR SALE BY

Your Grocer. Insist on It.

COURTESY SERVICE FIRST STABILITY

Making a Selection.

In making a banking connection be sure that you select a bank that is large enough and strong enough to care for your every need in stormy as well as fair weather.

THIS—THE LARGEST BANK IN THE COUNTY—OFFERS YOU THIS KIND OF A BANKING CONNECTION.

Capital and Surplus, $150,000.00

4 per cent and the Taxes paid on Deposits.

We do business for our customers.

Peoples Deposit Bank

Burlington, Ky.

W. L. B. ROUSE, President. C. H. VOUELL, Vice-President.
A. B. RENAKER, Cashier.
Nell H. Martin, Asst. Cashier. L. C. Beemon, Asst. Cashier.

Petersburg Theatre

At Petersburg, Kentucky

Saturday Night, Dec. 2nd.

SNOW BLIND

Also Sixty Episode of "WHITE EAGLE"

At Burlington, Kentucky,

SNOW BLIND

Friday Night, Dec. 1st.

Also Fifth Episode of "WHITE EAGLE"

CHILDREN 10c. ADULTS 25c

War Tax Included Will Begin promptly at 7:30

As the Editor Sees It.

When Major General George Bell, Jr., retired from the army recently a great reception, banquet and ball was tendered him and Mrs. Bell by the army officers of the 6th Corps Area and the citizens of Chicago.

That, however, was but an incident in the notable career of this grim fighter.

The outstanding feature is the fact that his former officers of the 33rd Division from all over Illinois flocked into Chicago to attend the affair and testify to the love and esteem they still feel for their old commander of war days, who led them through the furnace of hell on the fighting front in France.

We are not a hero worshipping people, but there are some things red blooded Americans never forget.

The winter season is at hand and our young people will be planning many social affairs for recreation and pleasure.

Let them go to it.

There are too many vital activities ahead in their adult life to risk stunting their intellects by undue repression while in their formative stages.

Activity breeds energy.

Activity stimulates intellect. A well developed and balanced intellect is necessary to success in our modern life.

Again we say, let them go to it.

When you were a child in school your parents were keeping a watchful eye over your progress from day to day.

But parents had more time in those days than they have now. Or at least they took the time necessary to see that their children were given proper support and encouragement.

True, we are now living in a swift, and must move rapidly or drop behind in the mad scramble for conquest.

With some this may serve as an excuse for leaving everything to the teacher who is said to cultivate the brains of our offspring.

In reality, though, it should prompt us to exercise even greater personal supervision over the education and training of our children, in order that they may not be outdistanced in a faster pace yet to be set.

For the one who lags behind gets only what is left by those who sweep on in the race of life.

We know of a good citizen who makes a practice of casting his eyes over his house and grounds from day to day.

If an axe or a spade of any other articles have been dropped where he last used he picks them up and places them where they belong.

It is the same with anything else that may have a tendency to litter up the place.

The result?

His place is always neat, and clean, and orderly, and attractive to the eyes of those who pass by.

There are other good citizens who do the same, but there might be many more than there are.

Georges Clemenceau, the "Tiger of France" honors us by his presence in America.

He does not come to devour us, as did the tigers of old in their search for human meat, but rather for the more pacific purpose of renewing and cementing the former friendship that existed between our two nations.

Let the Tiger roar often and loud, and to his heart's content.

He is thrice welcome to our land and to our homes.

EGGS AND POLITICS

When an egg becomes rotten we take it out and bury it, or toss it so far there remains no possibility of the obnoxious odor returning to us.

We are fastidious as to the food that stimulates our physical selves.

When political conditions become so rotten as to threaten the very existence of decent government for the people we merely indulge in a few sniffs and continue to allow the corruption and filth to envelop and saturate our mental and moral beings.

Apparently we are not so fastidious as to our morality and mentality.

Rotten eggs and rotten politicians are both in the same class—with apologies to the eggs. Neither is fit for use by intelligent and sanitary people.

The recent election was not a reprieve with rottenness as were many of those heretofore, but there was enough and to spare. This slump in debauchery was not due to any uplift on the part of our professional politicians, but rather to the fact that it was an off year and campaign contributions were not so plentiful.

Other election years, however, are coming along, and unless the decent and self-respecting majority of our population take advance steps to prevent a recurrence of past debaucheries we will again be tarred with the same brush that has about worn itself out in smearing political filth over an indifferent and apathetic public.

We have had campaign for about every conceivable purpose—except political cleanliness and decency.

Why not a campaign for the one object that is more vital to our future than all others combined. It is never too early to begin.

BACK TO 1917 PRICES

DELCO-LIGHT

PRICE REDUCTIONS NOW IN EFFECT.

You can now buy the most popular Electric Plant ever built. DELCO-LIGHT MODEL 866, for

$175 LESS THAN TWO YEARS AGO

Similar reductions have been made in other styles and sizes of Delco-Light.

At these low 1917 prices, you can now install Delco-Light for less than at any time within the past five years.

Made and Guaranteed by
DELCO-LIGHT COMPANY. Dayton.

Subsidiary of General Motors Corporation.

Electric Washers & Sweepers.

Arcola Heaters, Williamson Hot Air Heaters.

H. R. Leidy Dealer,

Phone, Burlington, P. O. Florence, Ky.

DELCO-LIGHT

BURLEY GRADING WORK SEEN AS BETTER MARKETING MOVE

Lexington, Ky.—Tobacco grading demonstrations that are being put on over the burley district this fall thru the cooperation of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association, county agricultural agents and the College of Agriculture mark a big step toward better methods of marketing Kentucky farm products, according to O. B. Jessness, chief of the marketing section of the college.

The importance of striving for uniformity and quality in the burley leaf crop will be stressed in the demonstrations. Any farm product that has these two characteristics is far less hard to market than those that do not have them.

"Tobacco manufacturers, like others who deal in farm products, buy them for definite purposes and want the grades best suited to their needs. The tobacco manufacturer who is looking for a certain grade of smoking type tobacco naturally prefers to buy a uniform lot of that tobacco rather than a mixture of chewing and smoking types. One of the big advantages of the cooperative tobacco marketing organizations is that the leaf handled by them is 'sold' on the basis of definite grades so that the farmer is paid in accordance with what he produces.

"The same principle holds true with other products. It is important to know market demands and preferences and be guided by them in producing for the market. Buter made from low quality cream sells at lower prices than that made from high quality cream and the difference is reflected in the price paid the farmer for cream. Apples which have been injured by insects, diseases or bruises or which are ungraded do not sell nearly as well as those which are uniform and of good quality. The potato crop is large this year but the leading potato-growing states are taking steps to offset this heavy production by giving special attention to grading so that their output may find satisfactory markets.

"Standardization and grading have aided considerably in developing many of the outstanding cooperative marketing organizations in the country. Marketing organizations handling such products as citrus fruits, butter, cheese, apples, cranberries, raisins, wool and eggs have used careful grading and by so doing have stimulated the demand for their products and increased the prices obtained for their members."

CATTLE FEEDER SAVED $135 IN FEW MINUTES

Lexington, Ky.—One example of the hundreds of good things coming to Kentucky beef cattle feeders thru their cooperation with the extension division of the College of Agriculture was found in the recent visit of County Agent C. L. Hill and Wayland Rhoads, beef cattle specialist of the College to cattle feeders in the eastern part of Nelson county. It was estimated that one of the feeders was saved more than $135 in only a few minutes by means of a change in feeding methods recommended by County Agent Hill and Mr. Rhoads.

The farmer in the case had 35 good grade steers and was planning to feed each one of them as high as seven pounds of cotton seed meal a day during the latter half of a 130-day feeding period. Results of feeding trials put on by farmers in other parts of the state were explained to him in order to show him how he could cut this amount in half. This meant a saving of about three tons of cotton seed meal which would cost about $135 at present prices. The rate for feeding corn and silage that he had decided upon was all right. He will feed an average of eight pounds of corn a day to each of the steers during the last seventy days of the feeding period together with all the silage that the steers will eat.

Incidents similar to this one are said to occur frequently in the state for there are still many farmers who feed more cotton seed meal than is necessary to finish steers for the market. On farms where silage is the basis of the ration being fed to fattening steers and cotton seed meal and corn are being used as supplementary feeds, an average of about three and one-half pounds of cotton seed meal a day for each 1,000 lbs. of live weight is about all that steers can use profitably. If clover hay is fed with the silage, two pounds of cotton seed meal a day is enough. This rule applies in cases where corn is fed during the last half of long feeding periods that run for from 100 to 150 days or where the corn is fed throughout short feeding periods of from 70 to 100 days.

"A bachelor says that a mule is the most obstinate thing on earth," chirps an exchange. We suspect, however, that some marriageable women think differently.

The sinner who openly swears like a pirate may still be aware as good as the deacon who rips them out in the privacy of his own wood shed.

SMART ENGLISH TOPCOAT

Very English and very capable is this smart full overcoat model. It is made of a novelty wool, plaid-back fabric and has a graceful, convertible collar, roomy sleeves and capacious pockets. Two large buttons on the coat, which is double breasted, and one on the collar, take care of the fastening of this trustworthily topcoat.

Hands chapped?
MENTHOLATUM
heals quickly and gently.

Geo. Griffith.
Barber,
Farmers Ins' Building.
Wednesday & Friday
Evenings.
Saturday, All Day.
Burlington, Kentucky.

We have one man that does nothing but battery work, and he is an expert.
DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO.,
Erlanger, Ky.

If you are thinking of putting by a supply of groceries for the Winter let us supply your needs at
WHOLESALE PRICES
We shall be glad to quote you as an individual or your Farmer's Union as an Organization. Send us your name and address. Let us put your name on our mailing list for our regular monthly price-list.

New Genuine Open Kettle
NEW ORLEANS MOLASSES 5 Gal. can $4.00

New Pack
SILVER FLEECE KRAUT 14 Gal. Keg $5.00

New
FAT NORWAY MACKEREL Per Kit $2.25

NEW
Dates, Nuts, Figs, Evaporated Peaches, Sun Dried Apples, Prunes, Mince Meat, Rolled Oats, Oatmeal, Grain Hominy, Flake Hominy, Navy Beans, etc. All Of Highest Quality And Lowest Prices.

NOBETTER COFFEE

POUND 33 CENTS

A Trial Convinces.

Sent Post Paid 4 Pound or more.

Northern Kentucky's } LEADING GROCERS
AND SEEDSMEN.

GEO. W. HILL & CO.
Do A Hill Customer — It Pays —
27-29 Pike St.—98 W 7th St. COK KY.
No. One's Order — Source Made Here —
Orders Shipped Wholesale or Retail

VULCANIZING.

Complete line of Goodyear, Goodrich and Kelly-Springfield Tires and Tubes, good Grade of Automobile and Tractor Oils and Greases.

Auto Accessories kept in stock.

GEORGE PORTER,
BURLINGTON, KY.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN,

DENTIST

In my new office

Clayola Place, Florence, Ky.

Teeth extracted painless. Bridge and Plate Work a Specialty.

All Work Guaranteed

JAMES L. ADAMS

DENTIST

Cohen Building

Pike Street, Covington, Ky.

You Can Trade
the Article You
Don't Need For Something You
Do by Advertising.

RECHARGE
ANY BATTERY
75c

RENTED BATTERIES FOR ANY MAKE CAR WHILE WE ARE RECHARGING OR REPAIRING YOUR BATTERY.
Dempsey Motor Car Co.,
Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

No Inducement.
"We start you without a dollar," read the unemployed person. "Humph!" he snorted. "That's nothing. I'm that way now."—Retail Ledger, Philadelphia.

Subscribe For The Recorder ..... $1.50 per year

F. W. Kassebaum & Son

GRANITE & MARBLE

MONUMENTS,

A Large Stock on Display to Select From.

Pneumatic Tool Equipment

118 Main Street,

AURORA, IND.

Isinglass Replaced, Cushions and Backs Rebuilt

Buggy and Wagon Upholstering

OF QUALITY

RUFUS W. TANNER

Auto Top Repairing

Seats covers for all makes of cars.

Dixie Highway Erlanger, Ky.

Phone Erl. 79-Y.

People who use the classified ads in this paper profit by them. The little ads bring quick results. What have you for sale or want to buy. The cost is too small to consider.

C. H. YOUELL

Farms for Sale

At Bargain Prices.

Burlington, Ky.

Phone Burlington 65

Take Your County Paper.

BOONE CO. RECORDER

Published every Thursday
N. E. RIDDELL, Publisher.

Foreign Advertising Representative
THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION
Entered at the Postoffice, Burlington, Ky., as second-class mail.

The Recorder Stands For BETTER FARMING, BETTER CIT-IZENS, BETTER HOMES"

ADVERTISING RATES.

Furnished on application. The value of the RECORDER as an advertising medium is unquestioned.
The character of the advertisements
now in its columns, and the number
of them, tell the whole story.

This and That.

Not all men are silly. A few are only foolish.

The automatic telephone has been introduced in Japan.

If time is money a lot of people do a credit business.

"Good fellows" should have good habits, but many of them don't.

Bobbed hair is no longer stylish,
but it declines to hasten its growth.

A rejected lover can always punish the girl by refusing to ask her again.

Death comes to us all, but with some people it pauses a long time at the door.

The narrow minded man is never happy unless he has something to be unhappy over.

This is an age when the office does not seek the man. It doesn't have an opportunity.

Now that the smoke of battle has cleared away, how many times did you forget to fight?

All that has been heard from some of our orators since election is their very eloquent silence.

The only thing you can't keep after proving that you bought and paid for a seat in the Senate.

Don't blow your own horn. People who cannot attract attention in any other way are not worth it.

About the only excuse we have for calling some people statesmen is the state in which they live.

The people who don't care how high taxes go, usually pay a large share of them in indirect ways.

A bashful man is fortunate in one way. It is easy for him to avoid rushing headlong into matrimony.

Colorado's beet sugar crop this year is estimated to be worth $22-
000,000, based on six-cent sugar.

If you treat your enemy as you would have him treat you the enmity between you will soon die out.

The Anti-Saloon League has performed the feat of making the three-mile zone three thousand miles wide.

Marriageable young women ought to learn to say "no" before saying
"yes." A manly sport enjoys the chase.

Much fault is found with the delivery system, particularly with the politicians who fail to deliver the goods.

The very large number of automobiles constructed in 1922 suggests that more hospitals are going to be needed.

People who do not like the results of the elections can console themselves with the thought that it is pumpkin pie time.

Many a husband makes a mistake in keeping secrets from his wife.
She suspects them of being worse than they are.

In view of the dissatisfaction manifested by the voters, it is clear that Mr. Hardin must get busy and lay a lot of corner stones.

The folks who expect to have just their own way in politics, usually have the privilege of voting for a lot of tail-end candidates.

The popular disapproval of the present administration does not go so far that the people aren't willing to accept office under it.

The people who claim there is nothing doing in their home town, have in many cases made no effort to do anything themselves.

The men of Boone county who were disorderly boys 25 years ago are convinced that the younger generation is going to the deuce.

The vocalists that used to sing "O promise me" with such deep feeling, had not perhaps had much experience with politicians' promises.

The farmers who quit and sell out when prices are low, are often the same ones who buy in again when prices of property have gone up.

Before trying to beat out the locomotive at the crossings, the hasty motorist should express his last wishes for the funeral arrangements.

The American idea of foodstuffs in packages—sealed, airtight and bug-proof—is gradually being adopted in Chile, where packaged goods were formerly practically unknown.

Amber always has been much used and prized in the East, and the Chinese still imported large quantities of it.
It is crushed into powder and then burned as incense in the temples.

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

HEAP O' FOLKS KIN SHINE
AT ENNY-THING, CEPN
TENDIN' T' DEY OWN
BIZNESS!!

Copyright, 1911 by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

Louisville, Ky.—In the interest of improving the cattle industry thruout the South, the first annual Fat and Feeding Cattle Show and Sale will open for two days, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 23rd and 24th, at the Bourbon Stock Yards, Louisville, Ky., with the largest cash prize list ever listed in a similar show, amounting to $5,125.00 besides cups and medals. The first day will be devoted to judging the cattle and the second day of the show will be devoted to the auction sales.

The cattle show and sale is expected to attract feeders and raisers from all parts of the South and buyers from the big cattle centers, Louisville being central point for shipments from the States South of the Mason and Dixon line and the States of the Ohio river valley, the Stock Yards here being the logical place for the buyers of the Chicago and Eastern packers to select their meat animals and the feeders from States North of the Ohio river to get their stockers and feeders.

Among the prominent authorities who will attend the show are Dean
Thomas P. Cooper, and Professor E.
S. Good of the University of Kentucky, Gen. E. H. Wood of Page-ville, Ky. President of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, and
C. E. Marvin, of Paynes Depot, Ky.
President of the Kentucky Livestock Improvement Association and 12 boys and girls, members of the Junior Agriculture Clubs throughout Kentucky and Tennessee, each Club will be in charge of the County
Agent from its respective county.
There will be no charge for admission.

REMEMBER YOUR OWN INTERESTS.

Another Christmas is near at hand, and already many of our people are scanning the list of possible gifts.

As is our custom each year, we again ask you to consider the claims of the home merchant and the advantages to be derived from trading with him.

Consider the plight of Germany in this connection.

That country is prostrate because it no longer has wealth. Its gold is being sent to other countries to satisfy claims that must be met.

If we follow the course that is being forced upon Germany, and spend our money outside of our own community, we will be taking a long step in the direction of local prostration.

We are in fairly good condition now, but we will remain so only as long as we keep our money in circulation at home.

You will find the home merchant's wares advertised in the home paper, and they will be worth the prices
asked.

Consider your own interests, as well as his, by keeping your money where you may see it again.

SOME ADVANTAGES IN OWNING TREASURY SAVINGS CERTIFICATES

1. Treasury Savings Certificates are backed by the credit of the United States Government and are one of the soundest investments in the world today.

2. Issued in denominations within the reach of all. A $25 Certificate costs only $20.50, a $100 Certificate
$82, a $1,000 Certificate $820.

3. Any one person, including each member of a family, may buy up to $5,000 maturity value of any one series.

4. At present prices Treasury
Certificates earn about 4 per cent per year, compounded semiannually, if held to maturity. Each certificate matures five years from date of issue.

5. The certificates may be cashed before maturity, and you then receive about 3 per cent simple interest.

The Certificates are exempt from the normal Federal income tax, and from all State and local taxation (except estate and inheritance taxes.)

FOR OVER 40 YEARS

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE has been used successfully in the treatment of Catarrh.

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE consists of an Ointment which Quickly relieves by local application, and the Internal Medicine, which acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces, thus reducing the inflammation.
Sold by all Druggists.
F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

THE ELECTIONS AND PROHIBITION

It is a question whether one should be more astounded or amused at the claims of a great wet victory on November 7th.

The wets did win substantial victories in Massachusetts, New York,
New Jersey and Illinois. "The Dutch have taken Holland."

In Ohio the wets were routed horse, foot and artillery. The press reports a majority of 187,000 against the proposition to "legalize" the sale of beer and wine. Senator
Pomeroy was defeated by a dry.

In California the dry enacted a drastic state enforcement law and elected a prohibition Governor. The dry enforcement act majority is approximately 60,000.

In Georgia they replaced a wet
Senator with a dry Senator.

In Mississippi they did the same thing.

There is a net prohibition gain of several votes in the U. S. Senate.

In the House of Representatives, the dries have lost some of their previous immense majority. Just how much no one yet knows. It is known however, that the dries still have very nearly, if not quite, two thirds of the House of Representatives. The probable House line-up is perhaps 295 dries to 135 wets.

True, Volstead was defeated—by a dry preacher, Graham, a wet, will become Chairman of the Judiciary Committee of the House—an accident pure and simple. The seniority custom is responsible for it, not an increase in wet sentiment.

As for the Senator the wets elected from New Jersey, we wish our opponents the joy of him. We would rather have such him elected to the United States Senate than any other wet in the country.

Just notice this. The dries who were defeated were all Republicans.
Scanning the list rather hastily, we fail to find a single dry Democrat who was beaten by a Republican.

In a number of cases dry Republicans who lost were beaten by Democrats equally dry.

The swing was toward the Democrats, and dry Republicans suffered as did wet Republicans.

Also it should be noted that the west and south were held solidly by the prohibitionists. Only that portion of the country which has received immigration too rapidly for perfect assimilation showed a wet tendency. It would be safe to estimate that three-fourths of the native born people of native parentage in the eastern states are just as dry as the west.

A few more "victories" like that of November 7th will just about totally crush the anti-American propaganda against prohibition.

'ABOLISH THE ENGINEER'

The Sturgis News-Democrat quotes
Squire Tate of Union County as saying that "no one engineer in the world can keep up 500 miles of roads, and the Fiscal Court is going to stop trying it, by doing away with the office of engineer and making each Magistrate responsible to the people for the condition of the road in his district."

Speaking generally, the work of an engineer, provided he is an engineer, by training and experience, and not by appointment, merely, is the least costly work that is done in making roads or in maintaining them.

Speaking generally, Magistrates know little about road construction and maintenance upon scientific principles; in other words, in a particular way. Their work as supervisors is necessarily guesswork to a large extent. Road making and maintenance cannot be done economically without being done as it should be done.

A survey was made by a competent engineer in Jefferson county nine or ten years ago, when each Magistrate was responsible to the people for the state of the roads, in his district, and when the state of the roads showed that all Magistrates were wholly irresponsible.

The engineer's report contained the statement that there was not one continuous mile of highway in Jefferson county that was correctly crowned and drained. Yet each Magistrate entertained profound convictions upon road building.

One, for example, believed that a road should not be crowned at all.
He thought it should be made slanting one way, like a "one-way" roof.
A roof he argued, sheds the water admirably, therefore, a "one-way" road would shed the water.

In the rural counties Fiscal courts made up of Magistrates are as a rule representative of the better element of citizenship. Often the Magistrates are worthy men, public spirited, attentive to their duties, earnestly desirous of making the dollar of the taxpayer go as far as possible, for the taxpayer.

Doubtless Squire Tate and his co-workers and tipsters and eager public servants, but if they believe that an engineer has no value as the supervisor of 500 miles of road they are in error, provided the engineer-in-office is an engineer in fact.—Courier Journal.

The alfalfa acreage of Michigan increased over 250,000 acres this year following alfalfa campaigns conducted the past winter by agricultural extension workers in that State, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture.

Marriage is a sacred institution—at times.

Trade Where They All Trade

Goode's Specials

100 lb. Bag New Michigan Hand-Picked Navy Beans.....	$8.00
98 lb. Bag Arcade Flour.....	3.50
120 lb. Bag Early Ohio Potatoes (Red River).....	1.65
100 lb. Bag Pure Cane Sugar.....	7.50
100 lb. Bag Danish Solid Cabbage.....	1.25
100 lb. Bag Onions.....	2.25
50 lb. Gross Weight Patridge Lard.....	6.50
100 Bars Star or P. & G. Naptha Soap.....	4.90
8 Lb. Carton Soda Crackers.....	1.00
100 lb. Bag Broken Rice.....	3.75
100 lb. Bag Pratt's Scratch Feed.....	2.25

Send Us Your Orders.

Send us your orders for anything and be convinced that we can save you money.

Geo. C. Goode
GROCER & SEEDSMAN

19-21 Pike St.

18-20 West Seventh St.

WHOLESALE—"Covington's Largest Seed and Grocery House"—RETAIL

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Phones South 335 and 336.

Any Make of Battery
RECHARGED
75c

Rentals for any make of car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.

Dempsey Motor Car Co.,
Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

If YOU HAVE
an appetite, indigestion, wind or stomach, sick headache,
"run down," you will find
Tutt's Pills
what you need. They tone the weak stomach, and build up the system.

Commissioner's Notice.

Boone Circuit Court.
W. L. Cropper, Adm'r of
John W. Hill dec'd etc Plaintiff
vs. Notice to Claimants
Laura Hill, etc., Defendants

All persons having claims of any kind against the estate of John W.
Hill, dec'd, and not heretofore presented to me in this case will file and present same to me properly proven at my office in Burlington, Ky., on or before December 4th, 1922.

R. E. BERKSHIRE, M. C.

PHOTOGRAPH PLATES HOLD TEST OF EINSTEIN THEORY

Honolulu.—Twelve photographic plates, carefully packed and closely guarded, which passed thru here bound for San Francisco from Sydney, Australia, are believed to hold the secret of whether Einstein is right or wrong.

The plates are the results of photographs of the recent solar eclipse, taken at Wollai, Australia, by Prof.
W. W. Campbell of Lick Observatory, Cal., and his assistants.
Professor Campbell said that surface inspections of the plates indicate that the exposures had successfully registered the heavenly panorama as it stood during the darkening of the sun of September 21, last, but that microscopic measurements would have to be made before any announcement of proof or disproof of Einstein's theory of the bending of star rays in their passage to the earth.

Professor Campbell is accompanied by Mrs. Campbell and four assistants.

Strong on Potatoes in New York.
The city of New York eats 10,203 carloads of potatoes in the course of a year, which is about equal to two of its nearest rivals in the tuberdevouring line. Chicago is second, followed by Philadelphia, Pittsburgh,
St. Louis and Kansas City.

December Blights Authors.

December seems to have been an unlucky month for literary celebrities.
George Eliot, Robert Browning, Lord
Macaulay, Anthony Trollope, Harriet Louise Brownson and many others have died in December.

Keep Your Feet Dry

Nothing like a pair of "Ball-Band"
Arctics for keeping your feet dry and warm in the very worst weather. You can laugh at freezing cold, deep snow, slush and mud if you wear "Ball-Band."

"BALL-BAND"
TRADE MARK Red Ball

"Ball-Band" Arctics save you money by protecting your leather shoes from destructive soakings, too.

Ten million people look for the Red
Ball Trade Mark when they buy
Rubber Footwear. Make your choice of styles from our complete assortment of "Ball-Band."

H. S. Anderson
RISING SUN, INDIANA.

Dodge Brothers

ANNOUNCE

A BUSINESS COUPE

Conservative changes in the body design of all other types.

Roadster....$ 920

Coupe..... 1,063

Touring Car. 955

Sedan..... 1,550

Dempsey Motor Car Company

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY

Phone Erlanger 70-L

FLICKERTOWN.

Master Leslie Voshell has chick-
Richard Pigg visited Bob Snow
Sunday.
Mrs. R. J. Akin is quite ill of pneumonia.
James Gaines called on J. H. Snyder
Sunday.
Geo. Henley and twin daughters were at his home Sunday.
B. F. Akin and wife called on R.
Akin and family, Sunday.
The youngest child of Russell Finn and wife was quite ill last week.
L. W. Sullivan and family dined at Chas. Beemon and wife, Sunday.
F. H. Bros. sold Howard Huey, a fine bunch of hogs one day last week.
Leslie Sebree captured several worms at the corn show at Florence, last week.
B. F. Akin and Leslie Sebree attended the corn show at Lawrenceburg, Saturday.
Donald Pennock and Wm. Ruth, were Saturday night and Sunday guests of J. H. Snyder and family.
Chas. Akin and wife, Mrs. Julia
Beemon and daughter Naomi, visited J. W. White and family, Sunday.
Roy Mullens, of Newport, Lewis and Clark Nowlen, and Reuben Pitter, of Ft. Mitchell, were callers here Saturday.

PT. PLEASANT.

The Ladies Aid is very busy quitting.
Mr. and Mrs. Chester Utz spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Emery
Smith.
Miss Elvora Eggleston visited Miss Louise Grim, at Taylorsport, Tuesday and Wednesday.
Mr. Ed. Walton is spending a few days with Mr. Gordon Souther, superintending the setting of a new orchard.
Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Carpenter, of Richwood, were Sunday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Darby and family.
Mrs. Lucinda Utz, aged mother of Mrs. Addie Gaines, was stricken with paralysis and was moved to the home of Corey Utz, her son in Erlanger, last Friday. Dr. Sayre says her condition is serious.
Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Eggleston and family entertained the following at dinner Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. W. H.
Eggleston of Sand Run, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Aylor and sons Julia and Justin, of Constance, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Eggleston, and Misses
Sarah Elizabeth Tanner and Gladys
Jergens.

HEBRON.

Geo. Gordon is on the sick list.
Mrs. Osborn and Miss Minnie Watts, of Florence, spent last Thursday with Mrs. Belle Tanner.
Blufe Wingate and family will move to Sandaria, Ohio, this week, where he has a good position.
Friends and relatives here regret to hear of the serious illness of Mrs.
Lucinda Utz. She was taken to the home of her son at Erlanger last Friday afternoon.
Mr. and Mrs. Myron Garnett were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reitman, of Covington, Saturday and Sunday night. Sunday they visited Miss Louetta Weigle, of Cincinnati.
Earl Ayler and family had as guests last Sunday Spencer Ayler and family, of Ludlow, Bert Jones and family, of Bullittsville, Walter Hafer and family, Phelps Walton and family, Allie Walton and family, Thos. Hafer and wife and Wm.
Goodridge, Jr., and wife.

VERONA.

The first snow of the season covered mother earth last Monday morning.
Thomas Vest is erecting a barn on the farm he recently purchased of Berry Johnson.
Miss Grace Ransom, of Covington, visited her mother Mrs. Mattie Ransom, last Saturday and Sunday.
The Verona High school was well attended last Friday. Prominent men of the State made lectures in the interest of education.
Last Saturday Verona bank stock of Joseph Florence, deceased, was sold to the highest bidder, ranging from $200 to $210 per $100 stock.
Also stock in Sanders bank was sold bringing $200 per 100 shares.
Verona High School basketball teams played in Middletown High school, winning the first and second boys game and losing the girls game.
The score was as follows: Boys first team 14 to 12 in favor of Verona, second team 4 to 0 in favor of Verona, girls teams 6 to 0 in favor of Williamstown.

UNION.

Prof. Ryle spent Saturday in the city.
Mrs. Nannie Couch remains about the same.
Mrs. Lucy Delahanty is slowly improving.
Mrs. Carroll Dugan is confined to her room with neuritis.
The Odd-Fellows supper was well attended and enjoyed by all.
Mrs. S. C. Hicks has returned home from Spear's hospital much improved.
William Atterkirk, Jr., and wife, of Cincinnati, were weekend guests of Wm. Atterkirk, Sr., and wife.
Miss Josephine Terrill, of Erlanger, was the guest of her aunt, Mrs.
J. B. Dickinson, Saturday night, and attended the Odd-Fellows supper

CONSTANCE.

Frank L. Hood and wife were the guests of his father and brother, last Sunday.
John Wernz, Sr., who is in Christ hospital, is getting along as well as could be expected.
November 4th the stork presented
Louis Dolwick and wife a baby boy —Melvin Dolwick.
The pie social at the school house was a decided success. Twenty-five dollars was realized.
Little James Woodford Kottmeyer got a fall last week which caused him considerable trouble.
Constance is getting to be quite a business place. The three stores are well patronized. If they have not got what you want they will get it for you, and all it needs now is a good resident physician.

GUNPOWDER

P. J. Allen and wife broke bread with this writer last Sunday.
About one inch of snow fell here last Sunday night, which has somewhat the appearance of winter Monday morning.
L. T. Utz was supplying some of his patrons with coal last week, but there are quite a number of bins that are still empty.
Robt. Tanner is the first in this neck of the woods to kill hogs. He did the butchering at last Saturday and made it possible for some of his neighbors to feast on ground hog.
I am in receipt of a letter from
B. N. Tanner in which he states that he is enjoying the very best of health and is visiting his daughter Mrs. D.
V. Bear, of Lewistown, Mo., and will probably spend a portion of the winter there.
News reached here last Sunday that Wm. Dobbins is in a hospital and underwent a surgical operation last Sunday evening. Mr. Dobbins is well known here and no doubt his many friends will be grieved to hear of his misfortune.
We wish to correct an item in the Gunpowder news which appeared last week. Instead of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Conrad it should have read Ab. Robbins, an up-to-date farmer and noted horse trader is also dealing in goats as a side line. If Mr. Conrad ever owned a goat I don't know it.

BIG BONE.

G. L. Miller arrived home Friday
from the city.
Henry Lee Pitcher and family have moved to the city.
Mrs. R. N. Moore visited relatives in Florence Friday.
Mrs. Geo. Kite and Mrs. Carroll are on the sick list.
Born to Omer Atha and wife Nov.
25th, a little baby girl.
A great many in this vicinity are suffering with gripe.
Joe Littler is visiting relatives in Florence this week.
Lute Abdon made a business trip to Risist, Ky., Ind., Saturday.
Geo. Abdon, of Rising Sun, Ind., is visiting his parents this week.
Uncle Jack Littler and Marion Walton were in Petersburg several days last week.
Mrs. W. L. H. Baker and son Stewart, were at their home here the latter part of the week.

PETERSBURG.

Mrs. W. T. Evans is improving we are glad to report.
Mrs. Bud Stanner is nursing Mrs.
Bradburn, who remains very poorly.
We are experiencing some very cool weather for this time of the year.
Bro. Jeffries, the Baptist minister of the church here, preached his farewell sermon Sunday.
We do not lack for fuel but we do lack for money. We are hoping to see the good samaritan soon.
Miss Henrietta Geisler, of South
Norwood, Ohio, was the guest of her father, uncle and aunt Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Milton Souther had Cam White wife and children of the Aurora Ferry as their guests Sunday.
May this Thanksgiving bring a great blessing to the Editor, his sta-correspondents and readers of this paper.
I think White Bros. will have to turn their dry goods and grocery store into a meat shop the way they have been disposing of fresh meats.
We are informed that J. E. Win-gates (known as Jude) has been assigned to his former place in the loose leaf warehouse in Aurora, for which his many friends in Boone are glad to hear.

FRANCESVILLE.

Miss Alice Eggleston was the guest of her cousin, Miss Myrtle Wilson, Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Eggleston spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. S.
Eggleston at Pt. Pleasant.
Mrs. Sadie Goodridge and son
Manlius Raymond, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Morehead at Taylorsport.
The remains of Mrs. Betty Ellis, who died at the home of Mr. Garnett Riley, in Dayton, were brought here for burial last week.
When the citizens of this part of the country were in mourning for their slumbers Monday morning they were confronted with the first real touch of winter—the house-tops and old mother earth being covered with a carpet of the beautiful and the thermometer registering below the freezing point.

BOX COAT FUR TRIMMED

One of the soft-faced cloths in dark blue was chosen for this smart autumn suit. It is made with the regulation plain, straight skirt, a little shorter than ankle length, and has a box coat trimmed with silk braid, like it in color, and gray camel fur. The braid, in parallel rows, makes a band trimming from shoulder to hip line, and a border above the wide band of fur at the bottom.

WHAT PROHIBITION COST THE UNITED STATES

A letter from a minister in North Carolina calls attention to the following statement appearing in the "Questions and Answers" department of a daily paper:
"Q. Does the amount collected in fines and penalties for violation of the prohibition amendment equal the expense of its enforcement?
"A. The expenditures for 1921 totaled $6,274,523.47, while the collections were approximately $3,000-000."

This is at variance with statements which have been made from time to time, so the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal church submitted the question to the Federal Prohibition Commissioner, Mr.
Haynes, and secured the following statement:

Fines and penalties, fiscal year ending June 30, 1922, $2,142,594.74;
cost of enforcement, fiscal year ending June 30, 1922, $6,543,994.20;
cost of enforcement, fiscal year ending June 30, 1921, $6,543,994.20;
cost of enforcement, fiscal year ending June 30, 1920, $2,139,562.58;
appropriation for fiscal year ending
June 30, 1921, $7,000,000; appropriation for fiscal year ending June 30, 1922, $7,500,000; appropriation for fiscal year ending June 30, 1923, $9,250,000; appropriation for fiscal year ending June 30, 1924, $9,250-
000 (recommended).

Each of the above appropriations includes $750,000 for enforcement of the Narcotic Law.
Amount realized from forfeitures, compromises, taxes, penalties, federal fines (during past year) actually collected $8,121,209.93.

Approximate value of property seized, 1922, $6,000,000.
It will be seen from this statement that the total of the sums collected amounts to $14,121,209.93, while the cost of enforcement for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1922, was only about $6,500,000.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to friends and neighbors who made it possible for us to have a road from Walton and Verona pike to Salem church house.

COMMITTEE.

Generals commanding the Greek troops in Thrace have been arrested and charged with cowardice and treason. Under the old German military system they would be decorated for making a superb strategic retreat.

Although canned fish from Portuguese waters are exported all over the world by shiploads, the people of Portugal like cod fish and send fishing fleets to Newfoundland to get them.

Why take your Battery to the city for recharge or repair when we can do it cheaper and better.
DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO.,
Erlanger, Ky.

INTERESTING ITEMS

New York ranks fifth in number of cow-testing associations. In 1915 it ranked second; Wisconsin has been first since that year.

Too much care can't be taken in aligning trees in setting out an orchard. Time spent on this will save a lot more time later on.

A London motorbus company has erected apparatus with within the sides and tops of its vehicles, are washed quickly with sprays of running water.

The English language, in a modified form, will ultimately become the universal tongue, according to one French professor.

Perhaps if the men had no shown such enthusiastic approval of the short skirts, the women wouldn't have quit wearing them.

MAKE A START By Doing Your Christmas Shopping Now.

No need to tell you the many advantages of doing your Christmas Shopping early—before salespeople become tired out, before the store is crowded, while merchandise is at its freshest—you know all this.

The difficulty is just to get started, isn't it?

Well, why not sit down right now; make out a gift list and come down to the store tomorrow, resolved to choose at least One Christmas Gift. "Once begun, half done" is a true old saying.

Coppin's

Northern Kentucky's Greatest Store

Early Layers

It's the early layers that make money for you. If you want early layers you must feed your pullets not only enough to grow on, but also those elements necessary for heavy egg production.

Grain feed contains approximately 10% protein and 2 1/2% fat—just about enough for the maintenance of the fowl. To make layers, you must give your hens not only grain, but a feed which will supply those elements necessary to egg production.

Tuxedo Egg Mash, fed with Tuxedo Scratch, is the best ration for laying hens and young pullets nearing maturity.

Tuxedo Poultry Feeds are sold by

EARLY & DANIEL CO.,
Erlanger, Ky.
EARLY & DANIEL CO.,
Covington, Ky.
EARLY & DANIEL CO.,
Cincinnati, Ohio.

TUXEDO POULTRY FEEDS

Make Your Old FORD Look Like This

A wonderfully big, roomy, 5-passenger body of style, beauty, and comfort. If you possess an old Ford Car, you too, may have a car like this.

Ames Touring Body on a Ford Chassis

Don't trade off your old Ford Car— or pay $1500 for a new high-grade car— when for a very little cost you can secure an Ames Touring Body and mount it on your Ford Chassis, and have just as fine a car as anyone would care to own. Thousands of others are doing it.
This body is entirely new and modern, with long graceful lines, latest panorama on-man-top, four full-size doors that fit, hand-fitted side curtains, over-sized gas tank at rear, Stewart Vacuum System, double panel polished plate glass venting windshield, ventilator in cowl and special linoleum-covered running boards. Finished in Cadillac Green.

Mounted Free We will mount a new Ames Body on your old Ford Chassis at no extra cost if you will drive to Owensboro. We are not far away; take a day or two off and see the country.
Body shipped if you prefer; safe delivery guaranteed. Full directions for mounting. Anyone can do it.

Special Offer For the next thirty days only we are making a SPECIAL INTROductory offer. Write at once for particulars.

THE F. A. AMES COMPANY, Incorporated
The World's Largest Builders of Special Bodies for Fords
Established 1881
100 Third Street, Owensboro, Kentucky

LUDEX'S

MENTHOL COUGH DROPS
for nose and throat
Give Quick Relief

Success to all of your efforts—if they are worth it.

Nearly two-thirds of the butter produced in the United States in 1921 was made in creameries, according to a report of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

French wine producers are said to be encouraged over the American election results. Such incalculable optimists would be encouraged over the promise of the support of a Republican vote in Mississippi.

It is always safe to tell a woman how old she looks, provided you make her look young.

Lands Posted.

All character of trespassing on our farms is positively prohibited, and we will prosecute all guilty parties.
No hunting, trapping or snaring will be allowed.

Name	Precinct
B. C. Allen	Hamilton
Julia S. Dinwiddie	Bulleview
B. H. Berkshire	Petersburg
Lucy E. Hance	Hamilton
J. H. Jockey	Burlington
S. B. Scott	Grant
J. H. Walton	Carlton
Ira Ayler	Union
Arminia Aylor	Richwood
James W. Ryle	Waterloo
S. B. Ryle	Grant R. D.
Addie Harding	Burlington
Jake Reitman	Bullittsville
B. C. Graddy	Bullittsville
R. H. Crisler	Bullittsville
William Phillips	Carlton
J. M. Wilson	Union
R. J. Tanner	Burlington
Chester Aylor	Burlington
Elmore Ryle	Burlington
Jasper Sullivan	Grant
Alonzo Gaines	Constance
Joe E. Scott, Jr.	Florence
J. Colin Kelly	Carlton
Wilber D. Kelly	Grant
Robert L. Day	Hebron
W. A. Gaines & Son	Burlington
Mrs. W. H. Marshall	Carlton
Jos. W. Scott, Sr.	Florence
Mary M. Terrell	Petersburg
Grace Scott	Grant
Mrs. A. G. Finnell	Union
Ross Russ	Florence

Your name will be put in the list of those posted until Jan. 1st for 50 cents.

LUTE BRADFORD,

AUCTIONEER

FLORENCE, KY.

List your sales with me as I have a wide acquaintance and know all good buyers.
Reference—Florence Deposit Bank,
Florence, Ky.
o-decl

Radio Receiving Sets

INSTALLED BY

J. J. KIRKPATRICK

Burlington, Ky.

Do not buy your Radio Outfit until I quote you on one of the best outfits. Installed ready to receive from the Broad Casting Stations in New York, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Nebraska, Georgia, and other points.

FOR SALE

Farm of 75 acres three miles below
Petersburg, Ky. Twelve acres of bottom land, eight acres of clover, balance in blue grass. Six room house, one-four room log house, 3 barns and other out buildings.
Good tobacco and alfalfa land.
Price $50.00 per acre.

CHARLIE WHITE,
Petersburg, Ky.

General Trucking

At Your Service

WALTER HUEY

Florence, Ky.

Phone 266-X

J. C. GORDON

Superintendent of Schools
OF BOONE COUNTY

Will be in his office in Burlington the first and second Monday and the third and fourth Saturday in each month.

FIRST-CLASS

Shoe Repairing

Mail Orders at My Expense.
All work guaranteed. Mail your shoes to be repaired to
A. G. LAWRENCE, Erlanger, Ky.

87 Lexington Pike,
o-declpd

For Sale

On Dixie Highway 365 acres two miles north of Walton, Ky., one of the best farms in Boone county for location and improvements. It is none better. See Wm. E. Held Erlanger, Ky. only $80.25

FLORENCE GARAGE

Under New Management
Best Of Service.

All Makes Of Cars.

Repaired At Reasonable
PRICES

TIRES, TUBES, OILS

Horse-shoeing and Wagon
work neatly and well done.

J. W. Quigley,

Wm. Busby, Manager.

TAKE YOUR COUNTY PAPER

Thanksgiving Show

Thurs. Nov. 30

Wallace Reid in
"TOO MUCH SPEED"

Saturday, Dec. 2d

Douglas MacLain in "CHICKENS"

Tuesday, Dec. 5th

Elaïne Hammerstein in
"The Way of a Maid"—also—
"The Timber Queen"You will enjoy a good laugh at each show.

*Thanksgiving Dance

Thurs. Night, Nov. 30

AFTER THE SHOW.

Florence, Ky., Theatre

NONPARIEL PARK

Garnett Stephens left for Detroit last week on a business trip.

Mrs. Hank Tanner called on Mrs. Emma Rouse Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. W. M. Cates, of Erlanger, visited Mrs. Mattie Hoover.

John Bentham purchased a new Ford car from C. W. Myers, Saturday.

John King and family moved Saturday to Covington to spend the winter.

Miss Jessie Treeman spent Tuesday with Mrs. Howard Lepper, of Newport.

Miss Ada Norman of Covington, was the Sunday guest of relatives in Florence.

Miss Mattie Cody, of Covington, was the guest Sunday of Chas. Cravens and family.

Mrs. House spent Monday afternoon with Mrs. Chas. Cravens, of Dixie Highway.

Morris Castleman, of Latonia, was the Sunday guest of his brother, Dr. T. B. Castleman.

Mrs. Clifford Norman, of Covington, was the Sunday guest of J. O. Carpenter and family.

Harry Brown, wife, of Covington, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Frazier entertained at supper Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. John King.

John Powell Crouch and wife, of Covington, were weekend guests of C. W. Myers and wife.

Mrs. Chas. Chipman was the Sunday afternoon guest of Mrs. Paul Bethel, of Dixie Highway.

Chas. Beall, Jr., was the guest last Sunday afternoon of Bug Ogden and family, of near Limaburg.

Miss Gertrude Meiman, of Erlanger, was the guest Sunday of her sister, Mrs. Lewis Houston.

Miss Mamie Robinson, of Richmond, was the week-end guest of Miss Eva Renaker of Main-st.

Prayer meeting Wednesday at the Baptist church. Leader—Mr. Samuel Hambrick, at 7:30. Come out.

Gordon Lail and wife (nee Ora Brown) are proud parents of a baby boy since Nov. 22—Robert Allen.

The many friends here of Shirley Corbin, received news of his serious illness at his home in Hamilton, O.

Sam Lunsford and family, of Erlanger, will move into his new bungalow in Nonpareil Park, this week.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet at the home of Mrs. Wood Stephens Thursday Dec. 7th. All day meeting.

Miss Rose Schoebel, of Bromley, was the week-end guest of Miss Keturah Cravens of Dixie Highway.

Mrs. A. S. Lucas and Mrs. Albert Lucas, spent Thursday with Rev. Elmer Lucas and family, of Bellevue Ky.

Mrs. Lillie Carr, of Erlanger, left last week for a few months visit to her aunt Mrs. Ben Stephens, of Kansas.

Mrs. J. T. Williams and daughter Glen Rose, were guests of her mother Mrs. Ola Carpenter the past week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gibbs had for guests Friday their daughter Mrs. Henry Holtzworth and baby, of Devon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lou Thompson entertained at dinner Sunday Rev. Garber and wife and little daughter, of Union.

Mr. and Mrs. Lou Thompson have returned home after enjoying a few days visit with his mother, of Fin-castle, Ohio.

Chas. Chipman and family of the Dixie Highway, had as week-end guests his brother, Ed. Chipman, of Williamstown.

Mrs. Bridget Carey entertained at dinner one day last week Mrs. Mid-dendorf, of Devon and Jas. O'Hearn of Cincinnati.

Dr. Chas. Souther and wife, of Cincinnati, spent Sunday with his parents, Albert Souther and wife, of Dixie Highway.

Miss Eva Renaker had as guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hall and children, of Bracht Station and Mamie Robinson.

Cecil Tanner and wife, of Wil-more, Ky., spent a few days with Mrs. Cora Stephens and Chas. Tanner and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cravens called on Mrs. D. Sutherland, who underwent an operation at the hospital in Avondale, Ohio.

The members of the M. E. church will give an entertainment and Xmas tree at the church Christmas night. Everybody welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. James Brown and son, of Pt. Pleasant, spent Thursday with her mother, Mrs. Bowers, of the Dixie Highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Kraus of the Dixie Highway, entertained last Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. J. Murray and daughter, of Newport.

The many friends of Vernice Chipman are glad to hear he is convalescing after two week's illness at his home on the Dixie Highway.

This scribe received word that Chas. Corbin, John Meiman and Clarence Carpenter will start for old Kentucky about the 10th of Dec.

It is reported that wedding bells will soon be ringing. He is a young farmer of near our town and will wed one of Boone's most lovable girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kraus and son Arthur, Jr., and Mrs. Mattie Hoover, of the Dixie Highway, spent Saturday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ransler, of Walton.

Dr. Senour taken Mrs. Chas. Snyder to the hospital Friday where she underwent an operation of the nose. She was brought home Saturday and is reported improving rapidly.

Paul Bethel, of Dixie Highway, sold his farm last week to Mr. Stanc Billiter. Mr. Billiter has the contract to build the Dixie Highway from Walton to Florence in the spring.

Mrs. Lute Aylor and Mr. Benjamin Tanner and wife, motored up Tuesday afternoon to visit Llewellyn Aylor and wife and their grand baby at the home of her parents B. E. Northeutt and wife, of Devon.

Winfield Myers and J. D. Lucas attended the wedding of Mr. Francis Kenney and Miss Jane Vaidland, of Walton. They were married Thursday evening Nov. 23rd, at the Christian church at 8 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stephenson entertained at dinner Sunday Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Stephenson and daughter Marie, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Stephenson, of Ludlow, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Brown and son, of Bellevue, and Claud Stephenson and two children.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Wilhoit and Miss Alberta Stephens entertained delightfully on Sunday at their country home, the following: Newton Hall and wife, Garnett Stephens and wife, Earl and Mrs. Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Caldwell and son, of Covington, Mr. and Mrs. John King and son Earl, of Covington.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Frazier entertained at supper Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. John King.

John Powell Crouch and wife, of Covington, were weekend guests of C. W. Myers and wife.

Mrs. Chas. Chipman was the Sunday afternoon guest of Mrs. Paul Bethel, of Dixie Highway.

Chas. Beall, Jr., was the guest last Sunday afternoon of Bug Ogden and family, of near Limaburg.

Miss Gertrude Meiman, of Erlanger, was the guest Sunday of her sister, Mrs. Lewis Houston.

Miss Mamie Robinson, of Richmond, was the week-end guest of Miss Eva Renaker of Main-st.

Prayer meeting Wednesday at the Baptist church. Leader—Mr. Samuel Hambrick, at 7:30. Come out.

Gordon Lail and wife (nee Ora Brown) are proud parents of a baby boy since Nov. 22—Robert Allen.

The many friends here of Shirley Corbin, received news of his serious illness at his home in Hamilton, O.

Sam Lunsford and family, of Erlanger, will move into his new bungalow in Nonpareil Park, this week.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet at the home of Mrs. Wood Stephens Thursday Dec. 7th. All day meeting.

Miss Rose Schoebel, of Bromley, was the week-end guest of Miss Keturah Cravens of Dixie Highway.

Mrs. A. S. Lucas and Mrs. Albert Lucas, spent Thursday with Rev. Elmer Lucas and family, of Bellevue Ky.

Mrs. Lillie Carr, of Erlanger, left last week for a few months visit to her aunt Mrs. Ben Stephens, of Kansas.

Mrs. J. T. Williams and daughter Glen Rose, were guests of her mother Mrs. Ola Carpenter the past week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gibbs had for guests Friday their daughter Mrs. Henry Holtzworth and baby, of Devon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lou Thompson entertained at dinner Sunday Rev. Garber and wife and little daughter, of Union.

Mr. and Mrs. Lou Thompson have returned home after enjoying a few days visit with his mother, of Fin-castle, Ohio.

Chas. Chipman and family of the Dixie Highway, had as week-end guests his brother, Ed. Chipman, of Williamstown.

Mrs. Bridget Carey entertained at dinner one day last week Mrs. Mid-dendorf, of Devon and Jas. O'Hearn of Cincinnati.

Dr. Chas. Souther and wife, of Cincinnati, spent Sunday with his parents, Albert Souther and wife, of Dixie Highway.

Miss Eva Renaker had as guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hall and children, of Bracht Station and Mamie Robinson.

Cecil Tanner and wife, of Wil-more, Ky., spent a few days with Mrs. Cora Stephens and Chas. Tanner and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cravens called on Mrs. D. Sutherland, who underwent an operation at the hospital in Avondale, Ohio.

The members of the M. E. church will give an entertainment and Xmas tree at the church Christmas night. Everybody welcome.

WHERE TO BUY

The time from now until the holidays is the time of year when people buy more stuff than during any similar period. The amount of money spent is enormous. It includes something besides the typical Christmas gift tuff of former years. It now takes in a lot of useful household articles.

If people want a chair or a desk or a lamp or other article of home furniture nowadays, it is a common thing to present it to some member of the family as a holiday gift. Also a great deal of clothing is given in that way. People stock up at 'this time with the stuff they need for the winter. They lay in supplies of all kinds of winter establish.

It is quite a proposition for any family to contemplate, to decide where to buy all this stuff. If the money spent between now and Xmas is economically used, it will make a considerable difference in the family prosperity.

A good way to make sure of spending this money judiciously, is to watch very carefully the holiday advertising in the newspapers. Every notice ought to be carefully read. It is a mistake for anyone to assume that prices on standard goods are about the same at all stores. Stores have varying results in their efforts to secure good values. Some of them lay in stocks at bargain prices and others are less successful.

When a merchant announces special bargains, you can be pretty sure that he has something of exceptional value, or he would lack the confidence to put money into publicity. If he advertises right along, you can be confident that he is doing such a big business that he can afford to sell very low, also that he has means of buying for low price, which he passes on to the public. The advertising in the Recorder will tell you where you can secure splendid values for moderate amounts of money.

During the war the government offered war savings stamps, paying about 4 per cent as a method of saving for people of small means. Since the war, and to take the place of war savings stamps, the Government offered Treasury savings certificates in denominations of $25, $100 and $1,000, now sold to investors at $20.0, $82 and $820, respectively. They pay 4 per cent if held until maturity, five years from the date of issue. About $625,000,000 of War Savings Stamps, series of 1918, became due January 1st, 1923, and the Government now offers to issue Treasury savings certificates in exchange for them, affording the owners an opportunity to continue a safe investment with good interest. Saving has furnished the life blood for many nations and insures prosperity to the people. The Government is doing everything possible to encourage saving in the United States by offering sound and attractive securities for the investment of small sums. If you want to save, and insure your future, it would pay you to investigate Uncle Sam's Savings System.

Edward Sullivan, wife and son Layton, met with a serious accident last Saturday afternoon. While returning from Rising Sun, Ind., and when near the Lick Creek bridge, something went wrong with the steering gear of their auto, causing it to go over a twelve foot embankment and landing at the bottom upside down. Young Sullivan, who was driving the machine jumped and saved himself from injury, but his father and mother were caught under the machine. When they were taken from beneath the auto it was found that Mr. Sullivan had sustained bruises while his wife sustained three ribs broken and fracture of the collar bone.

More than a billion and a half pounds of butter was produced in the United States during 1921, "according to the United States Department of Agriculture. This is an increase of 10 per cent over the production in 1920. Consumption increased more than production by 20,000,000 pounds, the difference being taken care of by imports and butter withdrawn from cold storage.

The opening of the new building of the State Bank at Rising Sun, Indiana, one day last week, was attended by 2500 people. This bank was organized in Dec. 1899, and opened for business January 4th, 1900. Dr. L. C. Cowen was its second president.

Farmers last year entered over 194,000 cows in cow-testing associations to determine their standing as butter-fat producers thru demonstrations by agricultural extension workers, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture.

Our battery service is the best DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO., Erlanger, Ky.

NOTICE

The regular meeting of the Farm Bureau will be held at Burlington in their office Dec. 4th at 10:30. J. COLIN KELLY, Secy.

Miss Marcella Hiker, who has been the guest of her aunt, Mrs. J. W. Goodridge, returned to her home in Covington, Sunday.

In famine-stricken Russia you never hear of a political prisoner going on a hunger strike.

IF YOU ARE IN THE MARKET FOR A CAR SEE THE

Durant &amp; Star Cars

A Car for everyone and also a price that will meet your pocket book.

PRICES-ON STAR:

ROADSTER, with starter and demountable rims.....$414.00
TOURING, with starter and demountable rims..... 443.00
COUPE, with starter and demountable rims..... 580.00
SEDAN, with starter and demountable rims 4 doors 645.00
All Prices F. O. B. Factory.

PRICES ON DURANT 4:

TOURING AND ROADSTER.....$890.00 COUPE AND SEDAN....$1365.00
F. O. B. Factory.

PRICES ON DURANT SIX:

ROADSTES ..... $1600.00
TOURING ..... 1650.00
COUPE ..... 2250.00
SEDAN ..... 2400.00Sales and Service Stations for Boone, Grant,
Gallatin and Owen Counties.

RECORDS &amp; COATS, Sub-Dealers, Sparta, Ky.

Walton Garage

Walton, Kentucky.

Phone 40.

Public Sale.

Merchandise, Real Estate, Etc.

I will sell at public sale at my place in Moville, Boone County, Ky.---Dam 38, on Saturday, December 2nd, 1922

The Following property:

STOCK IN MY STORE, Household and Kitchen Furniture, Player Piano and 50 Rolls, Army Cots and Mattresses, Beds and Bedding, Stoves and other articles too numerous to mention.Also 2 Lots---Lot No. 1 has Store Building 24x36 with cellar same size, also dwelling with 8 rooms connected to store building, lot 119x144 ft.Lot No 2 has a seven room dwelling, all necessary outbuildings, good cistern. Cistern on both lots.

The lots will be sold together or separately to suit purchaser.

TERMS CASH.

B. D. RICE, M. B. RICE.

B. C. KIRTLEY, Auct.

Sale to begin at 12 O'Clock.

MONEY FOR X-MAS.

Young women everywhere are earning X-mas money by showing our fast line of Christmas cards to friends. Plan easy. Write, or come in. J. Raymond Clark, 605
Main St., Cincinnati, Ohio.Production of potatoes this year in 16 countries is estimated to be 675,000,000 bushels more than last year and 40,000,000 more than the average production for the 5 years 1909-1913, according to figures compiled by the United States Department of Agriculture. The total acreage of potatoes in 1922 for the 21 countries for which estimates are available was 30,261,000 acres.

HEBRON THEATRE--Next Saturday

A Good Show

Admission 22 Cents, Children 10 Cents

War Tax Included

Subscribe For The Recorder.....$1.50 per year

$10,000,000 AID FOR VETERANS

Red Cross Provides Friendly Service of Many Kinds to Army of Disabled.

BULK OF WORK BY CHAPTERS

2,397 of These Are Helping Ex-Servicemen Obtain Benefits U. S. Provides.

One field of Red Cross service alone, that of assisting disabled veterans of the World War, entails expenditures $4,000,000 greater than the aggregate receipts of the Annual Roll Call of 1920, the American Red Cross announces in a statement urging a widespread increase in membership at the Annual Roll Call, November 11 to 24. At the present time National Headquarters and the nation-wide chain of Chapters of the Red Cross is spending approximately $10,000,000 annually for the relief of disabled ex-service men and their families, while the aggregate receipts from last year's Roll Call were approximately $4,000,000.

It is in the 2,397 of the 3,600 Red Cross Chapters which still are helping solve the veteran's problem of adjustment to a normal civilian status that the greater part of the cost of this service is borne. Of the total sum spent for veterans' relief last year, National Headquarters expended a total of more than $2,000,000, while the remaining disbursement of approximately $7,000,000 represents the contribution of Chapters in this country-wide effort to assist the Government in providing the aid sorely needed by these men and their families.

An Ever Expanding Problem
That the problem of the disabled service man is ever-expanding and probably will not reach the peak before 1925, is the assertion of well-informed Government officials and that 2,397 Red Cross Chapters regard it as their most important work is evidence that the expansion is in nowise confined to a particular section but is, on the contrary, nation-wide. At the end of the fiscal year, June 30, 1921, there were 23,300 disabled service men in the 1,832 United States Public Health Service, Contract and Government Hospitals and Soldiers Homes, and that number is increasing at a rate of 1,000 a month.

Thousands of these men receiving medical treatment, compensation and vocational training from the Government today, started their efforts to obtain them through the Red Cross Chapter. The Chapter, acting as the disabled man's agent in claims against the Government, informs the man as to the procedure necessary to gain for him that which is provided him by Federal statute. His applications for compensation, medical treatment and training are properly filed with the aid of the Red Cross Chapter.

Many Forms of Assistance
If there is delay before the man's claim is acted upon, the Red Cross Chapter lends the man money to meet the imperative needs of himself and his dependents.

Most vital to the man's gaining full benefit from the Government's care is keeping his mind free from worry about his home. Keeping the veteran's family from hardship of every kind and informing him of its welfare is another province of the Chapter. Free from fear on this score, the man's recovery and advancement usually is rapid.

Every month during the last year, the American Red Cross has given service of one kind or another to an average of 129,215 former service men and their families. An indication of the extent of the faith reposed in the Red Cross Chapter is to be found in the fact that there were 356,544 requests for friendly aid in the solution of personal problems.

448 Workers in Hospitals
While the man prior to entering Government care deals largely with the Chapter, afterward he comes into contact with the service provided by National Headquarters. There are 448 Red Cross workers in the United States Public Health Service and contract hospitals and other institutions in which these men are being cared for, whose duty it is to provide for their recreation, help him in his compensation claims, keep him in touch with his family; in short, meeting his every need outside of that provided by the Government. While these are a few of the responsibilities of the National Organization, they are by no means all. Among other Red Cross accomplishments for the year are:

It handled 70,782 allotment and allowance claims.

It delivered through its Chapter organization 63,656 allotment checks to veterans who had moved from the addresses furnished to the Bureau of War Risk Insurance.

It provided a special fund of $10,000 for medical assistance to men under vocational training.

It made 14,486 loans totaling $400,000 to men taking vocational training, of which 20 per cent has been repaid.

The army of the disabled keeps growing

In Hospitals under Government care

The Red Cross is spending ten Million Dollars a Year to help the ex-service man and his family
Annual Roll Call Nov. 11-24-1921

To bring before the country in visual form the vast problem it is helping to solve, the American Red Cross has prepared for its Annual Roll Call, Nov. 11 to 24, a poster showing how rather than diminishing the total of World War veterans entitled to Federal aid continues to grow. Red Cross Service to these men is costing $10,000,000 a year.

President Harding Now Heads Red Cross

Succeeding former President Wilson, President Harding was recently elected president of the American Red Cross. He is here seen accepting the office. From left to right: Maj. Gen. Merritt W. Ireland, Surgeon General, U. S. A.; Dr. Livingston Farrand, chairman Central Committee of the Red Cross; the President; Asst. Secretary of the Treasury Elliot Wadsworth; Rear Admiral Edward R. Stitt, Surgeon General, U. S. N.

Red Cross Trains 147 Blind Vets In Useful Work

Training designed to fit them for the battle of life was taken by 147 blind ex-service men at the Red Cross Institute for the Blind, near Baltimore, Md., during the fiscal year 1920-1921, according to the report of the Institute for that period.

Of this number, 19 have gone on to other institutions, in almost every case to institutions where those having sight are receiving advanced education. The blind ex-service men who have entered such institutions are provided with special text-books in Braille, reading which they were taught at the Red Cross Institute.

Institute to successfully carry on some occupation or business for which they were fitted by special training. A few have withdrawn from the Institute because of poor physical condition, 14 are receiving further "training on the job" and 87 are still in training.

Red Cross Plans $6,000,000 Effort To Save Children

Medical care and clothing for thousands of children in Central and Eastern Europe are outlined as the activities of the American Red Cross in Europe for the current year, says a statement on the eve of the Annual Roll Call of the organization. These activities, supplementary to the feeding operations of the European Relief Council of which Herbert Hoover is chairman, are designed to provide the most adequate and balanced relief within the resources of private philanthropy.

Through the establishment of child welfare stations in the centers of population of these countries where adequate medical care is not now obtainable, the American Red Cross plans to provide the medical assistance needed to restore these children to a normally healthy life. The sum of $6,000,000 has been made available for this work.

Red Cross Gives $310,000 to Aid 'Clean-Up' Drive

An appropriation of $310,000 for Red Cross work in connection with the "clean-up" campaign instituted by the Government to bring the claims of all disabled service men who are entitled to Federal aid before the proper government bureau for action, has been made by the various Districts of the Executive Committee of the American Red Cross in making the appropriation authorized the appropriation of $35,000 of this sum to the American Legion to defray the expense of the Legion representatives assigned to the various districts of the Veterans Bureau.

The remainder of the appropriation was authorized for appointment among the several Divisions of the Red Cross for carrying on that part of the "clean-up" work that falls directly upon the Red Cross organization.

Young America Sends Vast Relief To Needy Abroad

Various relief projects of the Junior American Red Cross in European countries resulted in helping 237,000 destitute children during the last fiscal year, according to the annual report of the American Red Cross for that period. The growth of the activities of the Junior Red Cross is manifested by a comparison which shows this figure is 200,000 larger than that of the previous fiscal year.

The National Children's Fund raised by school children, members of the Junior American Red Cross, was drawn upon for $420,557 for these projects. Receipts for the National Children's Fund during the last fiscal year totaled $155,217.

America Succors Russians
Food, clothing and medical relief costing $700,000 has been provided by the American Red Cross for the thousands of Russian refugees stranded last year in Constantinople and vicinity.

Commissioner's Sale.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.
H. Goyert vs. Plaintiff:
Millard Fleek &c., Defendant
By virtue of a Judgment and order of Sale of the Boone Circuit Court, rendered at the April Term thereof, 1922, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court House door in Burlington, Boone County, Ky., to the highest bidder at Public Sale on Monday the 4th day of Dec. 1922, at 1 o'clock p. m., or thereabouts being County Court day, upon a credit of Six and Twelve months, the following property to-wit:

Tract No. 1—Lying in Boone County, Ky., and being lot No. 4 in the division of the lands of James L. Henderson and lying on the waters of Gunpowder creek in Boone County, Ky., bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a stone, a corner with lot No. 3 in a line of Geo. Campbell; thence with his line and with a line of R. Stuckey n31e 3.57 chains, a corner with the John Sebree tract; then with a line thereof of 42 1/2 x 27.50 chains to a stone on Gunpowder creek, thence down the creek s53 1/4 w 3.31 chains to a stone, a corner with lot No. 3; thence with a line thereof n42 1/2 w 26.13 chains to the beginning. Containing 9.6 acres. There is conveyed from the above tract on the northwest corner above the Sebree road one-fourth acre (1/4 sold to Will Sebree in the year 1916 being the same land conveyed by Ada M. McMullen to Robert O. Rouse March 31, 1902, and conveyed by the said Robert O. Rouse to Geo. W. Rice in December, 1916 and conveyed by the said Geo. W. Rice to said Millard Fleek as of this date.

Tract No. 2—Lying and being in Boone County, Kentucky on the waters of Gunpowder creek and bounded thus: Beginning at a stone a corner of the lot set apart to Nancy Stamper in a line of George Campbell (now Chas. and Forrest Brady) thence with their line n41e 4.58 chains to a stone, a corner of lot No. 3; thence with a line of lot No. 3, s42e 24.72 chains to a stone, another corner of lot No. 3 on Gunpowder creek; thence down the creek s53 1/4 w 4.23 chains to a stone, a corner with lot No. 1; thence with a line thereof n42 1/2 w 22.97 chains to the beginning containing 10 acres, one rod, and one pole. Same land conveyed by John L. Henderson to Robert O. Rouse and by said Robert O. Rouse to Geo. W. Rice December 1916, and then conveyed by said Rice to mortgagor Millard Fleek hereto-in of this date.

Tract No. 3—Lying in Boone County, Ky., on the waters of Gunpowder creek and bounded thus: Beginning at a stone a corner of lot No. 2 in a line of George Campbell; thence with his line n31e 3.79 chains to a stone a corner of lot No. 4; thence with the line thereof s42 1/4 e 26.13 chains to a stone, a corner of lot No. 4 on Gunpowder creek; thence down said creek s53 1/4 w 3.40 chains to a stone, a corner of lot No. 2; thence with a line of lot No. 2 n42w 24.72 chains to the beginning containing Nine acres, being the same property conveyed by Isabelle F. Henderson to Robert O. Rouse as shown by deed in Deed Book 46, page 37, Boone County Records and same land conveyed by Robert O. Rouse to Geo. W. Rice in December, 1916, and conveyed by said Rice to the mortgagor Millard Fleek of this date.

Tract No. 4—A tract or parcel of land in Boone County, Ky., lying on the waters of Gunpowder creek and bounded and described thus: Beginning at a Beech tree and stump, a corner with Mrs. Nancy Snyder and A. D. Robbins; thence e 1/4 w 135 poles to a Linn tree, a corner of Jas. L. Henderson (now Lavina Horton); thence n44w 90 poles, in a line of Mrs. Rhoda Underhill's d o w e r; thence n45e 18 1/2 poles to a black walnut tree near the head of the drain; thence s45e 16 1/2 poles to a point in the old Mill road; thence with it s84e 7 poles, n69 1/2 e 32 poles, to a stake on the west side of Gunpowder creek 22 links above a large willow tree on the bank; thence n17w 6 poles to a corner in the creek; thence n56 1/4 e 101.2 poles, passing a stone on the east side of the creek to a stone near the top of a high hill in Mrs. Nancy Snyder's line; thence with said line s43e 45 poles to the beginning, containing 58 1/2 acres (Fifty Eight and One Fourth Acres, same land conveyed to Robert O. Rouse by E. E. Boone July 17, 1917, Boone County Records, and same land conveyed to said Robert O. Rouse by Geo. W. Rice in December, 1916, and conveyed by said Geo. W. Rice to the mortgagor herein Millard Fleek of this date.

Or sufficient thereof to produce the sum of money so ordered to be made. For the purchase price the purchaser, with approved security or securities, must execute bond—bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a Judgment, with a lien retained therein until all the purchase money is paid. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Amount to be raised by sale $3,792.05.
R. E. Berkshire M. C. B. C. C.

The newspapers announce that "the Far Eastern Republic has joined the Russian Soviets." Similarly it might be said that a mouse joins a cat or a fly joins the spider.

The Best Advertisement

IS A PLEASED CUSTOMER
Spectacles and Eyeglasses that Fit the face and Fit the sight the kind we sell.

Phone South 1746

DR. N. F. PENN, 613 Madison Ave. - Covington, Ky.

Embalmer & Funeral Director

Licensed in Kentucky, Ohio & Indiana.
Ambulance Service, Any Where or Time
LIMOSINE FOR WEDDIN & PLEASURE PARTIES.

C. SCOTT CHAMBERS

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

Consolidated Phone, Walton 35. Farmers Phone.

Printed Stationery

for business people.
for professional people.
for farmers.
for every one who wants to be considered up to date and going strong

AT THIS OFFICE
ENVELOPES, LETTERHEADS, NOTEHEADS, STATEMENTS

FAITH IN THE UNDERTAKER

in his full appreciation of the dignity and delicacy of his calling—is essential to the peace of mind of surviving relatives and friends.

Only those who by character, habits and personality can command this confidence and respect, is fitted for the singular service.

This business always has been, and always will be, conducted on the basis of this belief

PHILIP TALIAFERRO,
Undertaker and Embalmer
Erlanger, Ky.

A BARGAIN

Cincinnati Daily Enquirer

—AND—

The Boone County Recorder

YOU CAN GET

both for $5.00 the YEAR

Send Your Subscriptions to the
BOONE COUNTY RECORDER
Burlington, Ky.

IT'S A FACT

Few men know much about Clothing, they must leave it to the merchant, they like to walk into a store, knowing before hand, that they will not only get value but Style and Quality Too.

We give Our Customers such Service that will Bring them back Again and Again.
WE HAVE A WONDERFUL LINE OF MEN'S, YOUNG MEN'S AND BOY'S

Suits and Overcoats.

Would be pleased to show you that we are headquarters for Sweaters & Corduroy Clothing.

Selmar Wachs

605 Madison Avenue, COVINGTON, KY.

DO YOU TAKE THE RECORDER?

Try It One Year. You'll Like It.
Read Our Advertisements and Profit By Them.

WASHINGTON COMMENT.

The Ku Klux Klan is avowedly a Protestant organization. As such it is anathema to the Catholic church. Because of the regalia worn by the Klan, it is perfectly possible for men who are not Klansmen, to wear a similar regalia, and thus thrust upon the Klan the blame for unlawful acts done by hooded men.

Without full and complete evidence it is not possible intelligently to discuss the claim made that the Klan has interfered with or "dominated" the sovereign State of Louisiana.

Various unlawful acts have at times been done by hooded men. Opponents of the Klan charge that all such acts are done by Ku Klux Klansmen. The Klan denies that such acts are done by authority and consent of the order.

Defenders of the Klan say that it is no more reasonable to say that all crimes committed by men who wear a white hood and mask are committed by Klansmen, than it is to charge that all thefts committed by masked burglars are the work of society gentlemen who wear masks at a masked ball.

There is much discussion, pro and con, going on in Congress regarding the charges and counter charges about the Klan. The wise heads in Congress holding the radical element in check, agree that if the Klan does that which is un-American and unlawful, the Klan should, and will, be punished. But until it is proved that un-American and unlawful acts done in the regalia of the Klan are, in fact, done by the Klan, the Klan deserves the same treatment accorded any accused under our system of jurisprudence; it is innocent until proved guilty.

The incalculable good which must result to the cause of education Week, December 8 to 9, inclusive, can not be summed up in a page, let alone a paragraph. But if it accomplishes nothing more than the focusing of public attention upon the inadequate teaching staffs of our public schools, it will have more than served its purpose.

The staffs are inadequate for one, and only reason; the inability of those in authority to see with sufficient breadth of vision that teaching is highly skilled, specialized work, requiring the highest type of manhood and womanhood, and deserving an adequate wage. Because teachers' salaries are universally so low, those who stick to that noble profession do so from love of it, from love of its ideals, from a sense of duty, and the religion of service. Because teachers' salaries are universally so low, the youth of our land is not attracted to the normal school and the teacher's college, and the desire to enter occupations which assure them of comfort, and a reasonable luxury; young women, more and more taking their places in the economic structure of our country, are preparing themselves for other vocations where the rewards are commensurate with the preparation, the effort, the education, and the ability required.

The State depends now upon its citizens of legal age and over. In ten years it will be depending upon the children of today. If these children are not well taught, properly taught, highly taught, the future citizens of America will be ignorant, unable to think, to plan, to carry on this, our Nation, in its forward course. If the child of today is the voter, and perhaps, the Legislator and the President of tomorrow, then the teacher of today is the maker of the Nation of tomorrow. The best of teachers, paid well enough to enable them to give their best to their children, should be none too good for America; if Education Week can awaken the electorate to the need of the best, the need of paying for the best, it will not be held in vain.

THE COMMON INTEREST

The old fashioned town was a group of people who by accident of birth or employment happened to live in the same place. They were all intensely busy in the pursuit of earning a living. The ideal was to mind your own business.

As the result of that feeling cities and towns developed in a so-called place way, lacking essentials of welfare and progress. By and by they began to realize that most of their interests were identical, and that by working unitedly for their common purposes, they could accomplish results hitherto considered impossible.

This spirit of community work is lending to a great civic revival, and all over the land you read about cities and towns that are doing things. Are you people in Burlington fully converted to this point of view? Do you realize that they are partners in a joint effort to produce a fine community, and by working unitedly they can secure results formerly regarded as visionary?

Wonder how long it would have taken to develop this country, if the pioneers had been principally anxious for fear they would work too hard.

With But a Single Thought

REACHING OUT TO FARM BOYS

The New Jersey state department of public instruction is opening a door of opportunity to boys on the farms, by arranging to have agricultural courses given in local high schools for the winter months.

One of the great difficulties in the way of agricultural education has been that so many country boys could not be spared from home, or their families felt they could not afford to give them any regular course of training.

In one of these typical New Jersey schools, the boys go to school each school day from November 20 to March 20. They study the farm problems of the region, dealing with crops, live stock, and marketing. All they take up farm, arithmetic and English. They carry out at home some project of farm enterprise under the direction of the teacher of agriculture.

The boy who has had such a course will not have put so much time and money into it that he must leave his home locality to pay for his investment. And it ought to be possible for any boy to take advantage of such facilities if offered in or near his home community, and they ought to be offered everywhere if our agriculture is going to make the best of our opportunities.

Fine progress is being made in agricultural schools of the state. The time will come when every country boy in our commonwealth will desire, and his family will want him to have at least as much special training as the course described above, and more if possible.

When that time comes, the production of the farms will be largely increased, and the crops will be raised with less labor in proportion to the harvest gathered.

CHRISTMAS MADE

It is a pleasure to go through the stores of Boone county at this time of year. They carry all the up-to-date holiday and winter stuff that any of our people need to supply Christmas gifts, or the outfits required for the season.

Stores like those of our town and county are just as up-to-date in these times as those in big cities. They prepare for the holiday trade just as carefully as any store can, and are advised by live and wide awake salesmen and wholesome houses as to what lines of goods are most popular this year and will best please the people. In buying at home you not merely get goods that are up to the minute in every respect, but they are sold at low prices.

ENJOYED RABBIT ROAST.

About sixty people from Burlington and vicinity attended a rabbit-roast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Gaines out on the Petersburg Pike, Thanksgiving night, and a delightful time was enjoyed by all. The rabbits were roasted in front of an old-fashioned fire-place with an old time log fire, and when properly cooked no better eating can be had. It was about mid-night when the festivities broke up.

A fine rain fell in this part of the country last Friday night.

LOAD LIMITS ON ROADS.

The County Judge is in receipt of the following:
Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 28, 1922
To all County Judges:

In compliance with Section 1, Chapter 126, page 376, of the Acts of 1922, fixing the limits on loads that can be moved over any turnpike, gravel or other hardsurfaced road in the State between the 15th day of December and the 1st day of April following, providing for the moving of loads in excess of the defined limits, and requiring the State Highway Engineer to define the type of construction to which such excess applies, you will be advised that the following types of road are defined by this office as high type construction and on which the load limits set out in the act may be increased fifty per cent during the above mentioned dates, namely: brick, concrete, rock asphalt, bituminous concrete, penetration asphalt, penetration tar, and surface treated macadam. During the winter months material damage is done to over-loaded motor trucks, which damage can be reduced to a minimum by the strict enforcement of the provisions of this statute.

Your duties as county judge are clearly defined in Section two of the act, and it is believed that you will render full co-operation in the protection of our public highways from this class of traffic during the winter time.

Very Truly Yours,
JOE S. BOGGS
State Highway Engineer.

LOAD LIMITS, STEEL TIRES

Width of Tire	Lbs.
Less than 3 inches in width	5,000
Three to four inches wide	5,500
Four to five inches wide	5,800

RUBBER TIRES

Less than three inches	5,500
Three to four inches	5,800
Four to five inches	7,500
Five inches and over	10,000

The above load limits include the combined weight of the truck or wagon, load and driver. These limits are in effect from December 15th to April 1st of each year, and applies to all roads in Boone county.

GOLDIE WRIGHT DEAD

Goldie Wright, aged 21 years, passed away early Saturday morning, Nov. 25th, at the home of Mrs. Wm. Glacken, Dixie Highway, Erlanger. Funeral services were held at the Baptist church Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock by the Rev. Thos. L. Wooten, of Canton, Mississippi, who was called here for the occasion.

The Wrights were former residents of Erlanger until just a few years ago when they moved to Florida, but owing to Goldie's ill health, her doctors advised her to come back to Kentucky to recuperate.

She was a faithful member of the Baptist church, being baptized by the Rev. Wooten. Goldie is survived by her parents, and two brothers, besides a host of friends to mourn her loss.

It is generally felt that the European powers must pay their debt to this country, but so far no one has volunteered to go over there and make 'em do it.

THE VOICE OF THE PINFALL.

Different sounds are characteristic of the life of different eras. In early pioneer days the ringing sound of the axe was the most typical tone, and it told of pioneer spirit and the conquest of the wilderness.

Thirty years ago, the rasping sound of the bucksaw and the thud of the axe were a characteristic sound of those industrious days. Today one of our most distinctive tones, and it is music in the ears of the sporting crowd, is the sound of falling pins in the bowling alleys. In thousands of cities bowling teams and contestants are sweeping down the pins with tremendous swipes, and great is the rivalry for the biggest pinfall.

These rattling and ringing pins tell no story of earnest industry, but they have a rightful place in community life. Many a neighborhood has solved the problem of restless boyhood by putting in a bowling alley to furnish outlet for youthful activity.

ANOTHER STILL FOUND

Sheriff Hume and deputies Utz and Snyder celebrated Thanksgiving day by going to the dwelling near Constance owned by Clifford Hanser and occupied by Theodore Holt, 17, and finding in the attic one of the largest stills that has been found in the county. The still was made of copper and was of 100 gallon capacity. Young Holt says that another boy told him where the still could be found, and that it had been abandoned by others, and that he could get it and claim a reward. Holt only had according to his statement, the still in his possession about a week. He claims he does not know how to use it. Holt was held to the grand jury, and he gave bond for his appearance at the December term of circuit court.

SHOOTING ACCIDENTS

The fall hunting season has led to the usual number of shooting accidents. The people who "didn't know it was loaded," those who trip over their weapons in climbing the fences, those who fire at moving bushes thinking it was a deer, have been heard from as usual. A fatality happened from such a cause is particularly distressing, as those who are left behind always feel that it was so utterly needless.

The crinereed sportsman treats his weapon with a great deal of respect, because he knows its dangerous possibilities and its capacity for doing the unexpected. Too many crinereed sportsmen have to use firearms without any instruction in the use of the same.

C. Scott Chambers, of Walton, has purchased a Limousine that can be converted into an ambulance. The car can also be used in the regular way for parties of all kinds. Mr. Chambers keeps his equipment in top-notch and spares no expense in so doing.

Premier Clemenceau says he came to America to invite discussion. Apparently there are a number of members of the Senate who seem inclined to accept the invitation.

WILLIAM GOBEL FINN

Elected President of the Senior Class at University of Kentucky.

Lexington, Ky. William Goebel Finn, of Burlington, Ky., has recently been elected President of the Senior class at the University of Kentucky. Mr. Finn's selection is not only a compliment to his popularity among his classmates, but is distinctly indicative of the marked success he has achieved in all his classes. While possessed of genius and intellect, his studiousness, good habits and that dogged determination to excel are the most potent factors in his brilliant college career. Early in his scholastic career young Finn showed the qualities of mind and leadership that has resulted in an enviable record in nearly every field of activity.

In 1919 he matriculated in the College of Agriculture. During his sophomore year he played on the Varsity Football team, and for the last three years he has had a leading roll in Stroller dramatic productions. He is a member of the Rural Kentuckian Staff, Northern Kentucky Club, Stock Judging Team, Men's Student Government Association, Y. M. C. A. Chime, Paterson Literary Society, Refractive Botany Club, President of the Hoof and Horn Club, Agricultural Society, Sigma Nu Fraternity, Thirteen, honorary sophomore, Lamp and Cross, honorary senior and Alpha Zeta honorary agricultural fraternity.

MASONS HAD A BIG TIME.

At Union last Saturday evening members of the Masonic fraternity filled the town to overflowing. They were entertained as only the Union brethren can do. Samuel Reed Lodge degree team of Ludlow was present and raised three candidates of Boone Union and one candidate of Burlington lodge to the sublime degree of a Master Mason. This degree team is one of the best in the state and the members appreciated their explanation of the degree. Delegations from Rising Sun Indiana, Big Bone, Walton, Cincinnati, Covington, Erlanger and Burlington were present and witnessed the initiation. Boone Union Lodge had prepared a supper that was a feast for Kings, and when the members arrived in Union they were escorted to the banquet table where they were properly prepared to witness the beautiful work that was to follow. Boone Union Lodge maintained her reputation of royally entertaining her visitors.

T. P. STEPHENS DEAD.

Thomas P. Stephens died at his residence on the Florence Pike, one mile east of Burlington, Saturday night, December 3, 1922, after a two week's illness. The cause of his death was an inflammation of the alimentary canal. Mr. Stephens was born in Boone county, near Hathiway, June 10th, 1877. He was a son of James H. and Johanna Stephens; he was united in marriage to Susie Adams, May 27th, 1901, and to the union five children were born, one dying in infancy and he is survived by his widow, two sons and two daughters, the youngest being about twelve years of age.

He was a christian gentleman and lived a christian life. He united with Big Bone Baptist Church in 1900, and remained a member of that church until he moved to this community, when he united with the Burlington Baptist Church by letter. He was a charter member of the Modern Woodmen Lodge at Hathiway and always took a great interest in the lodge work.

He was a high class christian gentleman and lived a christian life. He was a credit to himself and his loved ones, who have the assurance that in his life had wronged no one, and commanded the love and respect of all who knew him. Tommy Stephens was a man who received such tributes while living and in his death we suffer the loss of an example so badly needed, a christian gentleman. Funeral services were held in the Burlington Baptist Church, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends. The Pastor, Rev. W. W. Adams, officiating, after which the Modern Woodmen Lodge of Hathiway, of which he was I. O. O. F. member.

Besides the widow and children, he is survived by his two brothers, two sons, and two daughters. He was a member of the Burlington Baptist Church, and was a charter member of the Modern Woodmen Lodge at Hathiway and always took a great interest in the lodge work.

C. Scott Chambers, of Walton, has purchased a Limousine that can be converted into an ambulance. The car can also be used in the regular way for parties of all kinds. Mr. Chambers keeps his equipment in top-notch and spares no expense in so doing.

Called meeting to be held Thursday evening Dec. 7th, 1922 at I. O. O. F. Hall in Florence, to plan a Rebekah Lodge, all who signed will please attend, at those intending to join, as petition is still open for signatures.

ELLA B. QUIGLEY

Read the adv. of the Kentucky Motor Car Co., in this issue.

A WEEK'S NEWS.

The Recorder received the following card last Friday:
Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Hempling request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter Anita Florence to

Mr. Harold M. Bentham
Saturday evening, Dec. 2nd at half past seven o'clock
Nineteen hundred twenty two

W. A. Edrington, of near Bellevue, taken to Christ's hospital in Cincinnati, last Thursday, suffering with some bowel trouble. Mr. Edrington moved to the Bellevue neighborhood about a year ago, having bought the Capt. John Smith farm.

In the game of foot-ball at Erlanger, last Thursday afternoon, the Boone Post Boys went down to defeat before the Erlanger team by the score of 37 to 6. The Post boys put up a good game, but were no match for the Erlanger boys.

The two boys, charged with robbing Lawrence Kenney's store on the Dixie Highway, several months ago, were released from jail last Thursday after serving forty days. After being released they made a bee-line for their homes in Covington.

James Day and Perry Bruce, two bustling young farmers, of near Lawrenceburg Ferry, were business visitors to Burlington, one day last week. They made this office a pleasant call while in town.

A big war debt is supposed to restrain extravagance, but the only visible effect on some of our politicians is to convince them that the American people are willing to spend their money.

Those who have their tobacco ready for early delivery will not have to wait long for the money. The indications are that this crop of tobacco will meet a ready sale.

The children of Boone county are all so much in favor of Sunday observance, that many of them won't help their mothers do any work on that day.

Boone county has all the critics it needs to keep it straight, but it needs a considerable number more who are willing to take hold and work.

After careful consideration of the election returns, the politicians are forced to conclude that the voters will no longer stand without hitching.

Miss Turner, who taught in the Boone County High School last fall and winter, but now teaching at Hamilton, Ohio, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Rice.

Miss Katherine Bierman, of Latonia, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Fred Morris, several days the latter part of last week.

Rev. Adams conducted a very interesting religious service at the Burlington Baptist church Thanksgiving afternoon.

During these times of high prices a good way to make a pair of shoes last is to go barefooted.

A new floor is being put in one of the new bridges on the Burlington and Petersburg pike.

Miss Pink Owen spent last Friday in Rising Sun, Ind., having some dental work done.

Next Monday the December term of the Boone Circuit Court will convene.

THE LESSON OF THE ELECTION.

The country people were a bigger factor in the recent election than in any previous contest. Usually it was figured that the country folks would make up to use polls and vote the same old ticket. But this year they have got to the point where they feel that the politicians must recognize the needs of country life and must meet those needs. They are now far better organized than ever before, and public men who fail to see the rural sections suffer from the troubles from they are suffering, will not get the rural vote. A number of them learned so to their sorrow on November 7th.

LUCINDA UTZ DEAD

Mrs. Lucinda Utz, aged eighty-seven, widow of the late Wm. Utz, died at the home of her son, Corry Utz, at Erlanger, Friday, Dec. 1st, 1922, from infirmities caused by old age. This another of the well known citizens has gone to her reward. Funeral services were conducted at Hebron Lutheran church Monday morning at ten o'clock, after which the remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at Erlanger. The grave will have the company of all in their hour of sorrow.

BREEDING EWES REPAY
EXTRA GAIN FED NOW

Lexington, Ky.—Starvation kills more breeding ewes in Kentucky during the winter than any other one cause, in the opinion of at least one prominent sheepman of the state. Many farmers in trying to be saving in their sheep feeding cut down on the feed they give their ewes during the winter with the result that, even if they do not die, they approach lambing time in a thin, weak condition that makes them poor mothers. Successful sheep raisers and breeders have shown that good feed for the breeding ewe started at this time of the year and continued through the winter is always repaid.

"A handful of grain to the ewe in December or the month preceding lambing time is worth a peck fed to a thin ewe after lambing," L. J. Horlacher, in charge of sheep work at the College of Agriculture, says. "A ewe that is in good condition in the early part of the winter will be much stronger in the spring than one that starts the winter in poor flesh."

"Oats or a mixture of equal parts of oats and bran is a good grain mixture for the pregnant ewe. About a month before lambing time it is well to begin giving each ewe about one-fourth of a pound of grain a day. In case the weather is particularly severe, this can be increased gradually so that just before lambing the ewe is getting about half pound of grain a day."

"If good grass is not available for pasture, a little hay should be added to the ration. A good legume hay, such as clover, alfalfa, or soybeans is best. Timothy hay should not be fed to sheep since it does them very little good and the heads of it work into the wool, thereby lowering its market value."

"The main reason for giving ewes in good condition at lambing time is the fact that they can take better care of their lambs than can thin, weak ones. It does not pay to try to raise lambs from sick or weakly ewes. Good feeding will do much to eliminate this type from the flock."

MANURE YIELD IN KENTUCKY
WORTH MILLIONS TO FARMERS.

Lexington, Ky.—Kentucky has enough livestock on her farms to yield annually at least 10,000,000 tons of manure worth millions of dollars for building up farm lands according to soils and crops specialists of the College of Agriculture. In view of the fact that Kentucky is a livestock state, this manure should be a big factor in keeping soils of the state rich. Half of this manure is produced in the winter when stock are on feed. It is at this time of the year that special effort to save the fertility in this material is needed.

"Half the fertilizing value of manure is in the liquid portion which may be easily and cheaply saved by using plenty of bedding. It has been estimated that by this one means alone, Todd county farmers last year saved 2,000 tons of manure more than ordinarily would have been saved. The best farmers in the state now keep manure in stables or feeding sheds until it can be spread on the fields, instead of throwing it in piles outside where it leaches and heats and loses much of its fertilizing value. A well bedded and tramped stall will keep manure in good condition."

Many farmers in the state now spread the manure on their farms as fast as it is hauled to the fields. The old practice of throwing the material in small piles to be spread later is expensive and wasteful. Most farmers use a light application to cover as many acres as possible. An application of five tons to the acre has been found to give good results."

"Most of the farm manure in Kentucky is used on tobacco or corn land. This makes it necessary to spread it as fast as it is produced in the winter or hold it until spring before spreading. On level land, and especially where there is a sod, winter spreading can be done without loss. A few farmers make a practice of top dressing young grass and clover with manure. This helps considerably in getting and keeping a stand."

Since it appears that most of the European nations want to cancel their war debts to us, we can't help feeling grateful at their moderation in not borrowing more.

The sale of the personal property of W. F. Grant at his home on Union road, Tuesday, was attended by a very large crowd, and everything sold brought war time prices—old fashioned bed and breakfasting as high as $20. We understand that Mr. Grant intends to quit the farm and will move to Florence.

Alexander and Virginia Yelton took Thanksgiving dinner with W. L. B. Rouse and family in Linsburg neighborhood. Virginia remained over until Sunday.

William Yelton and family, of Grant, Ky., returning from a visit with relatives at Alexandri, Campbell county, called on the family of Dr. Yelton, Sunday afternoon.

B. W. Campbell, of Cincinnati, was a visitor to Burlington, Tuesday. Brack enjoys a visit to the town of his boyhood, although there are but few of his playmates left.

Mrs. Nannie McAtee, of Elwood Ind., is the guest of her brother, L. A. Conner and wife.

RADIO RALF AND HIS FRIENDS---

LETTER GO PROFESSOR!
A LITTLE JOKE FOR THE MAILED!
A POSTAGE STAMP IS LIKE A MULE

THE MORE YOU LICK 'EM THE MORE THEY STICK! IF A GHOST WROTE YOU A NOTE WOULD THAT BE A DEAD LETTER?

SAY POP, WHAT IS A DEAD LETTER?

IT'S ANYONE THAT I GIVE YOUR FATHER TO MAIL, RALF!

Brown &amp; Dunson

FLORENCE, KENTUCKY.

Special Sale

See these Prices--absolutely the Lowest in the County.

A real chance to buy your Footwear, Rubbers and Felt Boots at a Bargain

'Ball Band' Felts & Rubbers . . $3.98

'Ball Band' Lace Felts & Rubbers $4.98

Rubber Boots

"Ball Band" and "Goodrich"

Black, $3.35 - Red, $3.98

Men's one Buckle Arctics . . . . . $2.48

Nen's Heavy Work Shoes . . . . . $2.98

Men's Socks . . . . . 10c

BRING YOUR EGGS AND BUTTER.

WE PAY MARKET QUOTATIONS

Brown &amp; Dunson

FLORENCE, KENTUCKY.

TREATING BREEDING EWES
CUTS DOWN WORM TROUBLE

Lexington, Ky.—Stomach worms present in almost every flock of sheep in Kentucky, annually cause a heavy loss to farmers and breeders of the state, according to L. J. Horlacher, in charge of sheep work at the College of Agriculture. Farmers can take a big step at this time of the year to wipe out this trouble by treating their pregnant ewes with copper sulphate. If ewes are free of worms before lambing season comes, the chances of the lambs getting worms are considerably lessened.

A solution made of copper sulphate, commonly known as blue-stone, is the best one to use, in treating the ewes. The solution is made by dissolving one-fourth of a pound of powdered copper sulphate in a quart of boiling water and then diluting this to three gallons. This amount is enough to dose 100 ewes.

In treating ewes, they should be kept off feed the night before and then drenched the following morning after which they should be kept up for from six to eight hours longer. The dose for each ewe is about three and a half ounces of the solution. In case the ewes are in a badly rundown condition, they should be given a drench of the copper sulphate treatment. One-fourth of a pound of the salt dissolved in water is enough for each ewe.

Wm. Wrigley has been asked to run for mayor of Chicago. If he enters the contest won't that get the race all gummed up?

Mike O'Hara and sons, Charles and Mike Jr. of Erlanger, were in Burlington last Saturday transacting business.

Shelby Cowen and Ed Hawes of Covington, spent Sunday in Burlington with relatives and friends.

Thos Walton and wife of Erlanger spent the week end with relatives in Burlington.

Edgar C. Riley, of Lexington, was in Burlington last Saturday.

BEECH GROVE.

Grant Williamson and family visited his parents the week end. Miss Violet Rue of cleves Ohio was the guest of her aunt and Uncle J. W. Ryle and wife.

J. W. Ryle was called to Petersburg last Friday on account of the death of his sister, Mrs. Hogan Wingate.

OBITUARY.

September 14th 1922 the death Angel removed from our midst one of our oldest citizens, Josepa Florence.

Uncle Jo as he was familiarly called was 80 years and 22 days old. He was one of the oldest members of New Bethel Baptist church, Vice president of the Verona Bank. He was a man of remarkable endurance although crippled for years and his health rapidly failing during the last year. He was a true old fashioned and spirited or complainer. He was laid to rest by his former wife in Salem Cemetery. He has 7/8 one daughter, Mrs. Nora Myers, a widow and two step children to mourn his loss.

A Friend and Neighbor.

CARD OF THANKS.

Upon the decease of Mr. Joseph Florence we desire to express our thanks to Dr. Ryle, attending physician, to Rev. Jackson for his words of comfort in the funeral sermon and to J. L. Hamilton, undertaker, to the Verona Bank Directors for their floral offering and to the many friends for their kindness in our bereavement.

Mrs. Joseph Florence.

The December term of the Boone Circuit Court will begin next Monday with 32 criminal, 12 continued, 19 appearance, common law, 54 continued and 20 appearance equity cases on the docket. The grand jury will have a number of cases for violating the liquor laws.

A recent geological survey shows that New York City was originally all under water. Visitors to the city report that it is still rather wet in spots.

Hubert Rouse has been quite sick for several days.

FOR SALE ETC

For Sale—Seven room dwelling, suitable for two families, lot 38x14 feet. Store building and store fixtures together with nine room dwelling, lot 100x147 feet. This property is at McVillie, Lock 88. M. B. Rice, D. B. Rice, Grant, Ky.

For Sale—Farm of Isabelle Henderson, consisting of 6 miles west of Gunpowder creek in Boone county, pp. Write Wm. D. Ricketts, Attorney, Rising Sun, Indiana. o4dec-2t

MADE! Give us a call. AND DON'T FORGET THAT WE HAVE GUN SHELLS. Hardware & Specialty Co., Hope Conner Mgr., Florence, Ky.

We give 20 per cent cash discount to reliable parties of the regular retail price on Columbia Grafonolas, Starr Grand Pianos, Upright Pianos, Player Pianos and Starr Phonographs. Free delivery made anywhere. Write for catalog.

RICE PIANO CO., Aurora, Indiana. o-jan1

For Sale—2 1/2 acres of land, good land, about 3/4 mile west of Burlington on Bellevue and Burlington pike. N. E. Riddell, Burlington, Ky.

For Sale—Two farms, one at Lawrenceburg Ferry, one of the finest views on the Ohio river. 160 acres. Will divide and sell 60 acres with all buildings if desired. Ten room house, fine outbuildings. One at Hebron, Ky., of 25 1/2 acres, well improved, house and barn, and small buildings.

E. MANNEN, Petersburg, Ky. o30nov-4t

WANTED

Hay to bale. Prices reasonable. P. H. Mathews, Bullittsville, Ky. Phone 203-x 29june 1t

NOTICE.

No Dog or Hunting Licenses will be mailed unless fee postage accompanies order.

M. E. ROGERS, County Clerk.

Lost—Nov 27th, black and white speckled female hound, 6 years old. Kindly notify L. A. Conner, Burlington, Ky.—reward. 2t pd

For Sale—1 Yearling bull, a good one; 2 nice Jersey boar pigs, eligible to register, weigh about 65 pounds each—$10 each; 100 full blood White Leghorn pullets, $2.00 each; also a few choice cockerels, $1.50 each. Harmon H. Jones, Florence, Ky.

ONE WEEK SALE—Do you hunt? If you do you'll be interested. From Dec. 7th to Dec. 14th we will sell Remington Nitro Club gun shells (rabbit load) as follows: 12 gauge, 80 per box of 25; 16 gauge, 80 per box of 25. These are strictly high grade shells; no other will be used in this sale. We challenge competition. Hardware & Specialty Co., Hope Conner, Mgr. Florence.

Wanted—Man to work on farm by the day or month to raise tobacco; house and garden furnished. H. L. McGlasson, Hebron, Ky. dec7tf

For Sale—Lot Kelly's Favorite and Pippin apples $1.50 and $1.25 a bushel. Fannie Easton, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 1. 2t-pd

Once upon a time the village black smith made the shoe and nails, shod the horse, was the local veterinarian, made the wagon, plow, etc., and even the axes, scythes—in fact all the tools needed in the community. It is no discredit to the smith that he does not now control all these. People have specialized in some of these lines, and you get SERVICE. We specialize in the repair of wagons and other farm equipment, AND YOU GET SERVICE! How would you like to buy your groceries in a barber shop? Probably you couldn't get a pound of coffee so long as any body wanted a shave. Why wait for your wagon work until nobody wants a horse shod? Get service! Get service! Get service! Conner & Krause "The Big Shop", Farm Tool Bldg., cor. Dixie Highway and Shelby St., Florence, Ky.

For Sale—4 room house and lot, poultry house and run, new eastern, near Burlington, Ky. See cheap terms if desired. R. H. Walker, Linton, Ky., R. R. 8, box 59. dec-7

An Iowa man sold a strawberry plant for $50.00, judging from the price, that must be where the hotels have been buying the berries for their shortcakes.

Take Your County Pages.

What's in an Egg?

There's no secret about the composition of an egg. It is made up of protein, fat, carbohydrates, minerals and water, combined in certain proportions. To produce this egg, the hen must first take into her system the elements which are found in the egg.

Egg production is simply a matter of feed and proper nourishment.

Tuxedo Egg Mash is made to supply the elements necessary for the heavy production of eggs. Tuxedo Egg Mash does make eggs.

For best results, feed Tuxedo Scratch with Tuxedo Egg Mash. Tuxedo Poultry Feeds are sold by

Tuxedo Scratch
Tuxedo Egg Mash
Tuxedo Chick
Tuxedo Buttermilk
Growing Mash
Tuxedo Developer

EARLEY & DANIEL CO., Erlanger, Ky.
EARLEY & DANIEL CO., Covington, Ky.
EARLEY & DANIEL CO., Cincinnati, O.

TUXEDO POULTRY FEEDS

You May Have a Car Like This

At Very Little Cost! Here is a car that any family will be proud to own and drive—yet it's within reach of any family's income.

Ames Four-Door Tour-Sedan Body on a Ford Chassis

At a cost of only $200, you may turn your old Ford into a new stylish enclosed car that easily runs in appearance with cars selling at $1500 to $2000. It is 18 inches longer than regular Ford Sedan body, five inches lower and weighs forty pounds less. It has four head-lights, two deep, comfortable seats. Easy to get into and out of; plenty of full-sized doors, elbow-room and leg-room. Five in ride in comfort. All windows may be removed, instantly turning it into a high grade touring car. Overlaid gas tank at rear; Stewart Vacuum System; ventilator for roof; mahogany finished instrument board; upholstered in smart workable. Finished in Packard Blue with black top.

Mounted Free We will mount a new Ames Body on your old Ford Chassis at no extra cost, if you will drive to Owensboro. We are not far away; take a day or two off and see the country. Body shipped if you prefer, safe delivery guaranteed, with full directions and attachments for mounting. Anybody can do it.

Special Offer For the next thirty days only, we are making a SPECIAL INTEREST OFFER. Write at once for particulars. SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS TO LIVE DEALERS.

THE F. A. AMES COMPANY, Incorporated
The World's Largest Builders of Special Bodies for Fords
Established 1881
100 Monroe Street, Owensboro, Kentucky

FOR SALE

1916 Ford Touring . . . . . $110.00
1917 Ford Touring . . . . . $140.00
1919 Grant Six Touring . . . . . $300.00
1916 Chevrolet Touring . . . . . $100.00
These cars are all in good condition. Come in and let us give you a demonstration.

C. W. MYERS MOTOR CO., Florence, Ky.

FOR SALE

Five-room house, barn and lot in Burlington, also 52 acres of land in Park Addition—new barn.

THOS. HENSLEY, Burlington, Ky. o14dec-4t

NOTICE

Beginning Dec. 1 I will not make my Friday trip to Waterloo until further notice.

A. C. SCOTT.

RAW FURS WANTED

Get My Price @ Grades Before You Sell.

NQ LOT TOO LARGE

H. KIRK.

Burlington, Ky.

Chilblains ache and pain? MENTHOLATUM gives quick relief.

CINCINNATI

Santa Claus's Headquarters--
A Fairyland of Shops--

What to Buy -- And Where to Buy It

Y. M. C. A.
Automobile School
Day or Night Classes

Get a Good Job

Steady Work

Unskilled Labor Turned Away

LEARN TO BE AN AUTOMOBILE MECHANIC

Men Who Are Skilled Always Have Work

GARAGE

SKILLED LABOR WANTED

Men who know how are needed

Skilled Labor Gets A Job

Come in and let us tell you all about this school

Y. M. C. A. Elm and Central Parkway

5 1/2% FIRST MORTGAGE CERTIFICATES

$100-$500-$1000—Secured by First Mortgage on real estate and guaranteed by us. Prompt attention to mail inquiries.

THE TITLE GUARANTEE & TRUST CO.
S. E. Cor. Court and Main Sts.

More for your money or your money back

Fogel's

S. W. Cor. Seventh & Central Ave.

Women's and Children's Coats Suits Dresses Millinery Etc.

The Ideal 523-525 Central Avenue

N. W. Cor. Carlisle & Central Ave., Cincinnati
An Ideal Store - With Ideal Bargains

24th ANNIVERSARY SALE

DURING THE NEXT TWO WEEKS we will offer the greatest variety in order to celebrate our twenty-four years of successful business. When you visit the city do not fail to see our wonderful line of Coats, Suits and Dresses, all of which are truly remarkable values.

[Profit Sharing Offer]

Be Sure To Read This

If you will cut out this advertisement and present it when you make a purchase we will allow you TEN PER CENT DISCOUNT during this anniversary sale. If you do not expect to be in the city during that time, mail the advertisement to us and then we will give you the discount when you do make a purchase.

You Save Ten Per Cent

$25 Plush Coats	$15.00	$10 Wool Dresses	$5.00
$25 Velour Coats	$15.00	$15 Silk Dresses	$8.88
$35 Plush Coats	$19.90	$8 Children's Coats 6 to 14 years	$5.00
$35 Fur Trimmed Coats	$19.90	$18 Velvet and Lace Dresses	$10.00
$35 Fur Trimmed Suits	$19.90	$18 Ladies' Suits	$10.00

Don't fail to see our basement Bargains in Children's Dresses and Holiday Gifts.

WESTHEIMER & CO.
STOCKS BONDS GRAIN

Phone Main 567 326 Walnut St.

Kline's
421-423 RACE STREET

CORRECT ATTIRE FOR WOMEN AND MISSES

—INVESTMENTS—

Preferred Stocks Municipal Bonds

Breed, Elliott & Harrison
322 Walnut St. Phone Main 310

Cellar Doors Machine Forging
Cellar Gratings Blacksmithing
THE J. C. FREILINGER
IRON WORKS
All Kinds of Welding
General Machine Work
Prompt Attention to Mail Orders
Phone, Main 2067
SECOND STREET—Bet. Race and Elm

WE REPAIR—Electric Motors, Re-wind Armatures, etc. They can't come too little, or too big.

Cincinnati Electrical Repair Co.
322 Sycamore Street, - Cincinnati, Ohio
Phone, Main 2183

NEW & RE-BUILT MOTORS FOR SALE

—Ship By Parcel Post—

The Model Laundry Co.

First Class Work and Service
We Pay Charges One Way

Quick and Safe Mail Order Service From These Firms

CAR SENSE

Spend a Dollar and Save Ten

Little defects grow into big ones in time if not corrected.

The correction of a small defect in its early stages costs but little.

When left until it grows into serious proportions its correction runs into money.

That is what makes the maintenance of a car so expensive to many people—neglecting the little things until they grow into big ones.

The better—the safer—the more economical way is to see the garage man at the first warning of trouble.

Today is always a good time to have it done.

EDDINS BROTHERS

TIRES, TUBES AND ACCESSORIES.

Burlington, Kentucky.

BRAKE BAND OIL—Guaranteed to stop Ford bands from chattering.

Agents for U. S. and Ajax Tires.

Established 1886.

A Bank Account IS ONE OF THE FIRST STEPPING STONES TO SUCCESS IN LIFE.

How are You Stepping!

This bank invites young men and women especially to open savings accounts. Officials of the bank are pleased at all time to give the benefit of their experience to customers and others who seek advice.

When in doubt come to this bank. Your success means greater success for us.

Has it ever occurred to you that a checking account is a very convenient thing to have?

Boone Co. Deposit Bank

Burlington, Kentucky.

N. E. RIDDELL, President W. D. CROPPER, Cashier
W. A. GAINES, Vice-Pres. G. S. KELLY, Asst. Cashier.

Rising Sun Fancy Patent Flour

That looks good, tastes good and really is good, deliciously good, with that tasty, melting flavor and texture—to win real appreciation.

You get full nutrition and full value when you buy RISING SUN FANCY PATENT FLOUR.

FOR SALE BY

Your Grocer. Insist on It.

BUY YOUR FRESH FRUITS AND VEGETABLES FROM—
SHIP YOUR COUNTRY PRODUCE TO—
FLATOW, RILEY & CO.
Front Street, Between Main and Walnut Cincinnati, Ohio

FOR QUALITY PRICE VARIETY
PIGGLY WIGGLY GROCERIES

HARNESS & SADDLES
New and used sets complete—Repairing all styles and makes Harness
Mail orders and express get prompt attention

MAX KURZYNSKI
1608 Central Ave. West 3296

BIG ONE CENT SALE

10,000 NEW BLANKETS go on sale at ONE CENT EACH

HOSPITAL BLANKETS, $1.19 - 2 for $1.20 ARMY FORKS & SPOONS, 1 cent each
ARMY CANVAS LEGGINGS, 1 cent per pair NEW CAPS, 1 cent each
ARMY OVERSEA CAPS, 1 cent each ARMY SHOES, $1.89 - 2 pair $1.90
ALSO A BIG LINE OF ARMY GOODS, INCLUDING WOOLEN BLANKETS, OVER-COATS AND TARPULINGS ON SALE AT ONE CENT EACH

CINCINNATI SALVAGE CO.
10 West Pearl Street, (Near Vine) Cincinnati, O.
Only two minutes walk from Fourth and Vine - next street below Third

SAFETY DEAL WITH THESE SERVICE
RELIABLE CINCINNATI FIRMS

All obituaries, card of thanks and all other matter, not news, must be paid for at 5 cents per line.

Bullittsburg Baptist Church.
J. W. CAMPBELL, Pastor.
Sunday School every Sunday at 10:00 a. m.
Regular preaching services on the First and Third Sundays in each month at 11:00 a. m.

Boone Co. Lutheran Pastorate
REV. GEO. A. ROYER, Pastor.
Sunday Dec. 10th

Hopeful 9:30 a. m., Sunday School.
Hopeful 10:30 a. m., Divine Service.
Hopeful 7 p. m., Luther League.
Hebron 9:30 a. m., Sunday School and Teachers Training.
Ebenezer 2:30 p. m., Divine Service.

Burlington Baptist Church
REV. W. W. ADAMS, Pastor
Mid week Prayer meeting 7 p. m.
Wednesday Business meeting 2 p. m.
Saturday, B. Y. P. U. Social 7 p. m.
Saturday, Bible School, Sunday 10 a. m.

Morning worship, Sunday, Dec. 10th, 11 O'clock, Sermon, subject, "John the Forerunner-His service." B. Y. P. U. 6 p. m.

Evening worship 7 O'clock, Subject, "The Eye of the Soul".

Christmas tree and program, Saturday night, Dec 23rd, All INVITED.

Robert L. Day, one of the good citizens of the Francesville neighborhood, was a business visitor to Burlington, last Saturday. He made the Recorder office a pleasant call.

W. D. Cropper has had a radio installed in his residence and can now enjoy musical concerts from all the important cities of the country.

R. H. Sandford, Copington, spent the latter part of last week with his brother, Tim Sandford and wife.

John McCool, from out on R. D. 1, was a business visitor to Burlington, last Saturday.

Burlington was about deserted on Thanksgiving Day.

SAGGING OF THE ABDOMINAL ORGANS

The position of some of the abdominal organs is more or less changeable; that of others is more or less fixed; but all of them, fixed and movable, are held by rather insecure supports that not infrequently yield and let the organs drop below their normal position. Sometimes only one or two organs sag,—usually the intestines, which are normally the most movable,—but occasionally all sag. Persons who suffer with falling organs are usually thin and poorly nourished.

The shoulders of a person suffering with falling intestines and other falling organs are rounded; the chest is flat, and the lower part of the abdomen protrudes. The symptoms are owing partly to the digestive disturbances resulting from a wrong position of the stomach and the intestines and partly to the stretching of the nerves and blood vessels attached to the diseased organs. Bloating is a constant symptom; often it is worse after eating, when the food in the stomach causes it to sag more than usual. When the kidneys are out of place there are often attacks of very acute pain resembling that caused by the passage of a kidney stone or of gallstones. Constipation is an almost constant symptom, but that condition is so common that, taken by itself, it points to nothing in particular. Indigestion is common.

Treatment consists of toning-up exercises and hygiene—tonics, laxatives if necessary, cold baths or at least cold douches to the abdomen, with exercises such as raising the legs while lying on the back and rising from lying to the sitting posture without the aid of the arms, so as to strengthen the abdominal muscles. A properly fitting abdominal support should be worn constantly except when in bed, and sometimes a light support is needed even then. In severe cases an operation may be imperative to supply the necessary support.

President Harding is all excited over his discovery that the prohibition law is being violated. Won't he be indignant when he hears about the sinking of the Lusitania?

WIDELY SPREAD FAMILIES

Thanksgiving day reunions of the present time are rarely the big family affairs they used to be. In days when sons and daughters settled down near home, it was an easy matter to gather these near by families for a general round up and big dinner. Great was the hilarity on many of these occasions, when the grandchildren of the clan started their games of blind man's buff and hunt the slipper.

Today a large part of the young go off to more or less distant places, and letting them all together for one occasion would seem an impossibility. In their separate homes they all make their own circles of associates, and family friends do not seem so near.

Something rather fine is gone out of life, when these old family ties are allured to die out. Your own kith and kin are friends who can be depended on to stick through sunshine and storm, while others sometimes fall away.

WHY NOT HERE, TOO?

A wise ruler once achieved greater wisdom by disguising himself and mingling with the people in the resorts and streets of his capital city.

Our own senators and congressmen might display greater intelligence if they, too, would mingle more freely with the people after the votes have been counted. It is doubtful if their wisdom is any greater than that of the ruler of old who sought and obtained first hand information regarding the needs and desires of his subjects.

Possibly some of those big forest fires were the result of spontaneous combustion generated by friction between the natives and the forest fire patrol.

Mr. Newberry is a chivalrous gentleman. Mrs. Felton came into the Senate chamber Monday looking for a seat and he immediately vacated his.

A scientific paper states that the conger eel lays 15,000,000 eggs per year. Some genius can establish an undying name for himself by crossing a conger eel with a Plymouth Rock hen.

BADLY CRIPPLED.

Owing to the serious illness of our lineotype operator's mother, who is off of duty; and the general utility man, Mr. Hall trying to work with a badly crippled hand, and the editors time taken up with court business, we are getting out this week's issue under difficulty, and a great deal of news had to be left out.

Mothers use Frey's Vermifuge

For the Children

A Safe Old Fashioned Remedy for Worms

Seventy-five years continuous use is the best testimony FRY'S VERMIFUGE can offer you.

Keep a bottle always on hand. It will help keep the little ones healthy and happy.

30c bottle of your druggist's or general store or if your dealer can't supply you, send his name and 30c in stamps and we'll send you a bottle promptly.

E. & S. FREY, Baltimore, Md.

We have rented batteries that will fit any car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.

DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO.
Erlanger, Ky

Puzzling Language.

"Yes," said the lady who had once been robbed of $10,000 worth of jewels, "I have a niece that married to a vice count. They say the 's' ain't sounded, but I always forget and put it in. Where I was educated they learned us to sound everything except the 'y' in Jefferies."

COURTESY SERVICE STABILITY

Making a Selection.

In making a banking connection be sure that you select a bank that is large enough and strong enough to care for your every need in stormy as well as fair weather.

THIS—THE LARGEST BANK IN THE COUNTY—OFFERS YOU THIS KIND OF A BANKING CONNECTION.

Capital and Surplus, $150,000.00

4 per cent and the Taxes paid on Deposits.
We do business for our customers.

Peoples Deposit Bank

Burlington, Ky.

W. L. B. ROUSE, President. C. H. VOELL, Vice-President.
A. B. RENAKER, Cashier.
Nell H. Martin, Asst. Cashier. L. C. Beemon, Asst. Cashier.

Petersburg Theatre

At Petersburg, Kentucky

Saturday Night, Dec. 9th.

"THE OLD NEST"

BETTER THAN "OVER THE HILLS"

At Burlington, Kentucky,

Friday Night, Dec. 8th.

"THE OLD NEST"

CHILDREN 20c. ADULTS 40c

War Tax Included Will Begin promptly at 7:30

COST AND VEHICLES

There is a way of thinking about the cost of building roads that seldom occurs to many Kentuckians who so freely arraign as excessive whatever amount is spent per mile above what they think a road should be constructed for. The difficulty is that the critic usually takes as his precedent the cost paid by a county for building some turnpike near his home perhaps during his boyhood, where there were as many as thirty-six vehicles of all classes passing during the daylight hours—if more than 75 went by, there was a circus in town or a big meeting at the country church.

The road of his comparison is often 14 feet wide, but oftener 9, and it lasted five or maybe 10 years under the attentive care of a tollgate keeper with four to six miles of road to look after. Naturally, the cost per mile was small, and the cost per vehicle mile nominal. But there has gradually come about a marvelous change in the cost of roads and the condition of traffic within so short a period as the past ten years. Taking into consideration only the greatly increased price paid for roads now with that paid for them twenty-five years or more ago, the critic naturally concludes that the cost per vehicle mile is also greater now than then. In doing this he has failed to consider the marvelous increase in traffic from a few horse-drawn vehicles that traversed the lanes and narrow roads of twenty-five years ago to the congested present-day traffic with its almost innumerable vehicles carrying heavy loads. From actual statistics there were in 1910 a total of 510,000 motor vehicles of all kinds in the United States, while in 1921 this number was increased to 9,550,000; thus it is very easy to see how roads of the present day are receiving so much greater use than they were formerly. From actual traffic data, combined with actual cost of roads, it has been proven that the cost per vehicle mile is no greater now than it was two decades or more ago. So that after all that is being said by those who depend upon their personal opinions alone, it is found that traffic today does not cost more per vehicle per mile traveled, than it did during that period when limestone macadam roads were looked upon as the most perfect type of highway surfacing then known.

SUPERSEDING LAW

Men of resolute character often get disgusted with the tardy processes of government, and feel they would like to take the law into their own hands, and some very good folks will say he should be strung up to the nearest telegraph pole. In so far as people work out that theory and usurp the authority of the state, they threaten to destroy democracy.

The Italian Fascisti have given a demonstration of such ideas. They feel that their legislators and public men are so busy playing politics, that the country makes no progress under their control. So they seize control of the government by main force, and announce a program of reforms. They may get good results temporarily, but they are playing with matches in a powder magazine. The Ku Klux Klan show something of the same spirit in this country. They claim to redress wrongs, but if they set out to punish crime and evil doing, they are seizing the function that belongs to the police and the courts.

The Russian bolsheviks say that the people do not know enough to elect wise rulers, so that the bolshevik minority must seize power by force of arms and maintain it by terror and bloodshed. All these attempts to get a different kind of government by short cuts and by people's taking the law into their own hands, are an attack on democracy. They say in effect that the people can not be trusted to make laws and get them enforced. If that principle is fully carried out, a violent class of people, similar to the Russian bolsheviks, would be likely to get control eventually and create the same prostration that they have done in Russia. The only way to preserve the liberties of the people, is to stick to the principles of democracy and obey the law in every particular.

SELF MASTERY THROUGH IMAGINATION

Wide currency is being gained in this country for the ideas of Dr. Emil Coue of France, who has helped a great many people recover health by his ideas of self mastery through the right use of imagination. He has performed many well authenticated cures, so there is no doubt of the ability of his methods to help certain types of people.

"Day by day, in every way, I am getting better and better."

The above is the formula which a patient should repeat day by day according to this theory, to suggest to his subconscious mind the thoughts of health and confidence.

Many people of scientific tendencies will scoff at such a system, and will maintain that it can have no influence over the physical deteriorations of the body. But the fact remains that courage and resolution and hope have a tremendous stimulating power and in many complaints are more effective than any medicine.

The greatest breeding grounds for water fowls in the United States is in the State of Nebraska.

BACK TO 1917 PRICES

DELCO-LIGHT

PRICE REDUCTIONS NOW IN EFFECT.

You can now buy the most popular Electric Plant ever built. DELCO-LIGHT MODEL 866, for

$175 LESS THAN TWO YEARS AGO

Similar reductions have been made in other styles and sizes of Delco-Light.

At these low 1917 prices, you can now install Delco-Light for less than at any time within the past five years.

Made and Guaranteed by
DELCO-LIGHT COMPANY, Dayton.

Subsidiary of General Motors Corporation.

Electric Washers & Sweepers,

Ardola Heaters, Williamson Hot Air Heaters.

H. R. Leidy Dealer,

Phone, Burlington, P. O. Florence, Ky.

DELCO-LIGHT

FARM COW NOW MAKING ABOUT 25 CENTS A DAY

Lexington, Ky. — Thousands of Kentucky farmers who are keeping a few cows from which to sell cream are facing the necessity of cutting down on rich protein feeds and using only those that are grown on the farm in order to get a fair return from their animals during the coming months, dairymen at the College of Agriculture say. At present prices being paid for butterfat, the average farm cow is returning a total of about 25 cents a day. With such feeds as cottonseed meal and linseed oil meal selling around $3 a hundred pounds and mill feeds and bran ranging around $40 a ton, the farmer can not feed them and have anything left to pay him for the work he spends on his cows, the dairymen say.

"It takes about 20 pounds of milk to make a pound of butterfat. At this rate, the average farm cow in Kentucky does not yield more than half a pound of fat a day. Present indications are that this fat will not bring more than 50 cents a pound this season, thus making the daily return from the average farm cow about 25 cents a day."

"Every cow, regardless of whether she is of the dairy type or the average one on the farm, needs about 30 or 40 pounds of corn or sorghum silage a day and five or six pounds of clover, alfalfa, soybean or cowpea hay. If the farmer who is selling the cream from a few cows sets out to feed his animals like the commercial dairymen does, the extra grain feed that he would have to give in addition to this roughage every day would take 15 cents out of the 25 which he gets from each cow."

"The best the farmer can do under present conditions is to supplement this roughage of silage and hay with grain raised on the farm, such as broken ear corn, shelled corn, corn and cob meal, if this can be crushed, or crushed barley. The use of a protein feed, such as cottonseed meal or linseed oil meal, is necessary and profitable with the man who keeps a dairy type of cow and has a market for whole milk. However, this year the increase in the cost of all grain feeds for the dairy cow is going to make it necessary for even the commercial dairymen to use as many home grown feeds as possible."

Lenine says he has a plan for stabilizing the rouble. The rouble, however, seems bent on stabilizing itself at a point approximating zero.

The women of Spain have the reputation of being the most graceful in Europe.

STATE NEWS.

Skunk Robbed Bees (Carlisle Mercury.)

While taking honey from some beehives last week, Mr. J. W. Lawson discovered that something had been robbing one of the hives and set a trap to catch the varmint. The next morning he found a large skunk in the trap. The animal had burrowed underneath the hive and taken out all of the honey.

No Faith In Dreams Now (Jessamine Journal)

Charles Daily, "our Charlie," a young man who had a peculiar experience not long ago. The young man's best girl lost a fur boa and he dreamed one night he saw the lost article under a road crossing near a school house. He went to the crossing, thrust his arm under it and pulled out a bundle of fur, but it wasn't the boa, and he has since buried all his clothes. He has no faith in dreams now.

Believes In Moon Signs (Somerset Commonwealth.)

Mr. C. H. Fisher, prominent and successful farmer and stock raiser of Route No. 1, came in Monday and renewed for the Commonwealth. Mr. Fisher is a firm believer in the signs of the moon. He related incidents of opposite results obtained by doing certain things on the farm at different times of the moon. He says he has tried the same proposition in both the light and the dark of the moon and knows there are different results obtained.

Good Corn Record (Princeton Leader)

Stanley McCarty, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Cook McCarty of the Dulany section, enjoys the distinction of having grown 104 bushels of corn on an acre of ground this year. Young McCarty followed the plan of the Boys' Corn Club, although not a member of any club, and the splendid yield speaks well for him as a corn producer. He is a pupil of Prof. A. M. Calvert at the Jordan school, and follows his studies as diligently as he looked after his one acre corn crop which no doubt accounts for the splendid yield.

Herry Ford has just bought 195,000 acres of coal lands. Wonder if he still adheres to his publicly expressed opinion that the coal business excels all others as a medium for gouging the public.

Subscribe for the RECORDER

SILK EMBROIDERED CLOTH

A quiet and rich straight-line dress that will please the matron, especially if she is stout and likes long lines—it is made of a smooth-faced cloth and embroidered in silk in two colors, one of them matching the dress. Its sleeves are uneven at the wrist and faced with crepe de chine to above the elbow.

Nose stopped up?
MENTHOLATUM
quickly clears it.

Geo. Griffith.
Barber,

Farmers Ins' Building.
Wednesday & Friday

Evenings.

Saturday, All Day.
Burlington, Kentucky.

We have one man that does nothing but battery work, and he is an expert.

DEMPEY MOTOR CAR CO.,
Erlanger, Ky.

Be A Hill Customer

It Pays

No doubt you have tried many kinds of Coffee—
NOW TRY

NOBETTER COFFEE

POUND 33 CENTS

Four or more pounds sent Parcel Post Prepaid.

Nothing Finer these Cold Mornings than Hot Biscuit Made From

RARUS FLOUR

Milled from the highest grade soft winter wheat

Bbl. $8.00. 98-Lb. bag $3.75

Do Your CHRISTMAS Shopping Early

We have a complete line of Fancy Chocolate, Cream, Stick and Hard Candies.

The highest grade of Brazil Filberts, Almonds, Paper Shell Pecans and English Walnuts.

New Goods Arriving Every Day

Rye Meal, Rye Flour, Hominy, Rice, Mince Meat, Raisins, Citron, Lemon and Orange Peel, Dates, Figs, Cranberries, Cocanuts and a lot of other good things to eat too numerous to mention.

COME IN OR WRITE FOR PRICES.

IMMEDIATE SHIPMENT GUARANTEED.

Northern Kentucky's } LEADING GROCERS
AND SEEDSMEN.

GEO. W. HILL & CO.

Be A Hill Customer — It Pays — 27-29 PINE ST.—26 W 7th ST. COV. KY. — Covington — Seaside — Wholesale — Retail — Phone 1000 — 1001 — 1002 — 1003 — 1004 — 1005 — 1006 — 1007 — 1008 — 1009 — 1010 — 1011 — 1012 — 1013 — 1014 — 1015 — 1016 — 1017 — 1018 — 1019 — 1020 — 1021 — 1022 — 1023 — 1024 — 1025 — 1026 — 1027 — 1028 — 1029 — 1030 — 1031 — 1032 — 1033 — 1034 — 1035 — 1036 — 1037 — 1038 — 1039 — 1040 — 1041 — 1042 — 1043 — 1044 — 1045 — 1046 — 1047 — 1048 — 1049 — 1050 — 1051 — 1052 — 1053 — 1054 — 1055 — 1056 — 1057 — 1058 — 1059 — 1060 — 1061 — 1062 — 1063 — 1064 — 1065 — 1066 — 1067 — 1068 — 1069 — 1070 — 1071 — 1072 — 1073 — 1074 — 1075 — 1076 — 1077 — 1078 — 1079 — 1080 — 1081 — 1082 — 1083 — 1084 — 1085 — 1086 — 1087 — 1088 — 1089 — 1090 — 1091 — 1092 — 1093 — 1094 — 1095 — 1096 — 1097 — 1098 — 1099 — 1100 — 1101 — 1102 — 1103 — 1104 — 1105 — 1106 — 1107 — 1108 — 1109 — 1110 — 1111 — 1112 — 1113 — 1114 — 1115 — 1116 — 1117 — 1118 — 1119 — 1120 — 1121 — 1122 — 1123 — 1124 — 1125 — 1126 — 1127 — 1128 — 1129 — 1130 — 1131 — 1132 — 1133 — 1134 — 1135 — 1136 — 1137 — 1138 — 1139 — 1140 — 1141 — 1142 — 1143 — 1144 — 1145 — 1146 — 1147 — 1148 — 1149 — 1150 — 1151 — 1152 — 1153 — 1154 — 1155 — 1156 — 1157 — 1158 — 1159 — 1160 — 1161 — 1162 — 1163 — 1164 — 1165 — 1166 — 1167 — 1168 — 1169 — 1170 — 1171 — 1172 — 1173 — 1174 — 1175 — 1176 — 1177 — 1178 — 1179 — 1180 — 1181 — 1182 — 1183 — 1184 — 1185 — 1186 — 1187 — 1188 — 1189 — 1190 — 1191 — 1192 — 1193 — 1194 — 1195 — 1196 — 1197 — 1198 — 1199 — 1200 — 1201 — 1202 — 1203 — 1204 — 1205 — 1206 — 1207 — 1208 — 1209 — 1210 — 1211 — 1212 — 1213 — 1214 — 1215 — 1216 — 1217 — 1218 — 1219 — 1220 — 1221 — 1222 — 1223 — 1224 — 1225 — 1226 — 1227 — 1228 — 1229 — 1230 — 1231 — 1232 — 1233 — 1234 — 1235 — 1236 — 1237 — 1238 — 1239 — 1240 — 1241 — 1242 — 1243 — 1244 — 1245 — 1246 — 1247 — 1248 — 1249 — 1250 — 1251 — 1252 — 1253 — 1254 — 1255 — 1256 — 1257 — 1258 — 1259 — 1260 — 1261 — 1262 — 1263 — 1264 — 1265 — 1266 — 1267 — 1268 — 1269 — 1270 — 1271 — 1272 — 1273 — 1274 — 1275 — 1276 — 1277 — 1278 — 1279 — 1280 — 1281 — 1282 — 1283 — 1284 — 1285 — 1286 — 1287 — 1288 — 1289 — 1290 — 1291 — 1292 — 1293 — 1294 — 1295 — 1296 — 1297 — 1298 — 1299 — 1300 — 1301 — 1302 — 1303 — 1304 — 1305 — 1306 — 1307 — 1308 — 1309 — 1310 — 1311 — 1312 — 1313 — 1314 — 1315 — 1316 — 1317 — 1318 — 1319 — 1320 — 1321 — 1322 — 1323 — 1324 — 1325 — 1326 — 1327 — 1328 — 1329 — 1330 — 1331 — 1332 — 1333 — 1334 — 1335 — 1336 — 1337 — 1338 — 1339 — 1340 — 1341 — 1342 — 1343 — 1344 — 1345 — 1346 — 1347 — 1348 — 1349 — 1350 — 1351 — 1352 — 1353 — 1354 — 1355 — 1356 — 1357 — 1358 — 1359 — 1360 — 1361 — 1362 — 1363 — 1364 — 1365 — 1366 — 1367 — 1368 — 1369 — 1370 — 1371 — 1372 — 1373 — 1374 — 1375 — 1376 — 1377 — 1378 — 1379 — 1380 — 1381 — 1382 — 1383 — 1384 — 1385 — 1386 — 1387 — 1388 — 1389 — 1390 — 1391 — 1392 — 1393 — 1394 — 1395 — 1396 — 1397 — 1398 — 1399 — 1400 — 1401 — 1402 — 1403 — 1404 — 1405 — 1406 — 1407 — 1408 — 1409 — 1410 — 1411 — 1412 — 1413 — 1414 — 1415 — 1416 — 1417 — 1418 — 1419 — 1420 — 1421 — 1422 — 1423 — 1424 — 1425 — 1426 — 1427 — 1428 — 1429 — 1430 — 1431 — 1432 — 1433 — 1434 — 1435 — 1436 — 1437 — 1438 — 1439 — 1440 — 1441 — 1442 — 1443 — 1444 — 1445 — 1446 — 1447 — 1448 — 1449 — 1450 — 1451 — 1452 — 1453 — 1454 — 1455 — 1456 — 1457 — 1458 — 1459 — 1460 — 1461 — 1462 — 1463 — 1464 — 1465 — 1466 — 1467 — 1468 — 1469 — 1470 — 1471 — 1472 — 1473 — 1474 — 1475 — 1476 — 1477 — 1478 — 1479 — 1480 — 1481 — 1482 — 1483 — 1484 — 1485 — 1486 — 1487 — 1488 — 1489 — 1490 — 1491 — 1492 — 1493 — 1494 — 1495 — 1496 — 1497 — 1498 — 1499 — 1500 — 1501 — 1502 — 1503 — 1504 — 1505 — 1506 — 1507 — 1508 — 1509 — 1510 — 1511 — 1512 — 1513 — 1514 — 1515 — 1516 — 1517 — 1518 — 1519 — 1520 — 1521 — 1522 — 1523 — 1524 — 1525 — 1526 — 1527 — 1528 — 1529 — 1530 — 1531 — 1532 — 1533 — 1534 — 1535 — 1536 — 1537 — 1538 — 1539 — 1540 — 1541 — 1542 — 1543 — 1544 — 1545 — 1546 — 1547 — 1548 — 1549 — 1550 — 1551 — 1552 — 1553 — 1554 — 1555 — 1556 — 1557 — 1558 — 1559 — 1560 — 1561 — 1562 — 1563 — 1564 — 1565 — 1566 — 1567 — 1568 — 1569 — 1570 — 1571 — 1572 — 1573 — 1574 — 1575 — 1576 — 1577 — 1578 — 1579 — 1580 — 1581 — 1582 — 1583 — 1584 — 1585 — 1586 — 1587 — 1588 — 1589 — 1590 — 1591 — 1592 — 1593 — 1594 — 1595 — 1596 — 1597 — 1598 — 1599 — 1600 — 1601 — 1602 — 1603 — 1604 — 1605 — 1606 — 1607 — 1608 — 1609 — 1610 — 1611 — 1612 — 1613 — 1614 — 1615 — 1616 — 1617 — 1618 — 1619 — 1620 — 1621 — 1622 — 1623 — 1624 — 1625 — 1626 — 1627 — 1628 — 1629 — 1630 — 1631 — 1632 — 1633 — 1634 — 1635 — 1636 — 1637 — 1638 — 1639 — 1640 — 1641 — 1642 — 1643 — 1644 — 1645 — 1646 — 1647 — 1648 — 1649 — 1650 — 1651 — 1652 — 1653 — 1654 — 1655 — 1656 — 1657 — 1658 — 1659 — 1660 — 1661 — 1662 — 1663 — 1664 — 1665 — 1666 — 1667 — 1668 — 1669 — 1670 — 1671 — 1672 — 1673 — 1674 — 1675 — 1676 — 1677 — 1678 — 1679 — 1680 — 1681 — 1682 — 1683 — 1684 — 1685 — 1686 — 1687 — 1688 — 1689 — 1690 — 1691 — 1692 — 1693 — 1694 — 1695 — 1696 — 1697 — 1698 — 1699 — 1700 — 1701 — 1702 — 1703 — 1704 — 1705 — 1706 — 1707 — 1708 — 1709 — 1710 — 1711 — 1712 — 1713 — 1714 — 1715 — 1716 — 1717 — 1718 — 1719 — 1720 — 1721 — 1722 — 1723 — 1724 — 1725 — 1726 — 1727 — 1728 — 1729 — 1730 — 1731 — 1732 — 1733 — 1734 — 1735 — 1736 — 1737 — 1738 — 1739 — 1740 — 1741 — 1742 — 1743 — 1744 — 1745 — 1746 — 1747 — 1748 — 1749 — 1750 — 1751 — 1752 — 1753 — 1754 — 1755 — 1756 — 1757 — 1758 — 1759 — 1760 — 1761 — 1762 — 1763 — 1764 — 1765 — 1766 — 1767 — 1768 — 1769 — 1770 — 1771 — 1772 — 1773 — 1774 — 1775 — 1776 — 1777 — 1778 — 1779 — 1780 — 1781 — 1782 — 1783 — 1784 — 1785 — 1786 — 1787 — 1788 — 1789 — 1790 — 1791 — 1792 — 1793 — 1794 — 1795 — 1796 — 1797 — 1798 — 1799 — 1800 — 1801 — 1802 — 1803 — 1804 — 1805 — 1806 — 1807 — 1808 — 1809 — 1810 — 1811 — 1812 — 1813 — 1814 — 1815 — 1816 — 1817 — 1818 — 1819 — 1820 — 1821 — 1822 — 1823 — 1824 — 1825 — 1826 — 1827 — 1828 — 1829 — 1830 — 1831 — 1832 — 1833 — 1834 — 1835 — 1836 — 1837 — 1838 — 1839 — 1840 — 1841 — 1842 — 1843 — 1844 — 1845 — 1846 — 1847 — 1848 — 1849 — 1850 — 1851 — 1852 — 1853 — 1854 — 1855 — 1856 — 1857 — 1858 — 1859 — 1860 — 1861 — 1862 — 1863 — 1864 — 1865 — 1866 — 1867 — 1868 — 1869 — 1870 — 1871 — 1872 — 1873 — 1874 — 1875 — 1876 — 1877 — 1878 — 1879 — 1880 — 1881 — 1882 — 1883 — 1884 — 1885 — 1886 — 1887 — 1888 — 1889 — 1890 — 1891 — 1892 — 1893 — 1894 — 1895 — 1896 — 1897 — 1898 — 1899 — 1900 — 1901 — 1902 — 1903 — 1904 — 1905 — 1906 — 1907 — 1908 — 1909 — 1910 — 1911 — 1912 — 1913 — 1914 — 1915 — 1916 — 1917 — 1918 — 1919 — 1920 — 1921 — 1922 — 1923 — 1924 — 1925 — 1926 — 1927 — 1928 — 1929 — 1930 — 1931 — 1932 — 1933 — 1934 — 1935 — 1936 — 1937 — 1938 — 1939 — 1940 — 1941 — 1942 — 1943 — 1944 — 1945 — 1946 — 1947 — 1948 — 1949 — 1950 — 1951 — 1952 — 1953 — 1954 — 1955 — 1956 — 1957 — 1958 — 1959 — 1960 — 1961 — 1962 — 1963 — 1964 — 1965 — 1966 — 1967 — 1968 — 1969 — 1970 — 1971 — 1972 — 1973 — 1974 — 1975 — 1976 — 1977 — 1978 — 1979 — 1980 — 1981 — 1982 — 1983 — 1984 — 1985 — 1986 — 1987 — 1988 — 1989 — 1990 — 1991 — 1992 — 1993 — 1994 — 1995 — 1996 — 1997 — 1998 — 1999 — 2000 — 2001 — 2002 — 2003 — 2004 — 2005 — 2006 — 2007 — 2008 — 2009 — 2010 — 2011 — 2012 — 2013 — 2014 — 2015 — 2016 — 2017 — 2018 — 2019 — 2020 — 2021 — 2022 — 2023 — 2024 — 2025 — 2026 — 2027 — 2028 — 2029 — 2030 — 2031 — 2032 — 2033 — 2034 — 2035 — 2036 — 2037 — 2038 — 2039 — 2040 — 2041 — 2042 — 2043 — 2044 — 2045 — 2046 — 2047 — 2048 — 2049 — 2050 — 2051 — 2052 — 2053 — 2054 — 2055 — 2056 — 2057 — 2058 — 2059 — 2060 — 2061 — 2062 — 2063 — 2064 — 2065 — 2066 — 2067 — 2068 — 2069 — 2070 — 2071 — 2072 — 2073 — 2074 — 2075 — 2076 — 2077 — 2078 — 2079 — 2080 — 2081 — 2082 — 2083 — 2084 — 2085 — 2086 — 2087 — 2088 — 2089 — 2090 — 2091 — 2092 — 2093 — 2094 — 2095 — 2096 — 2097 — 2098 — 2099 — 2100 — 2101 — 2102 — 2103 — 2104 — 2105 — 2106 — 2107 — 2108 — 2109 — 2110 — 2111 — 2112 — 2113 — 2114 — 2115 — 2116 — 2117 — 2118 — 2119 — 2120 — 2121 — 2122 — 2123 — 2124 — 2125 — 2126 — 2127 — 2128 — 2129 — 2130 — 2131 — 2132 — 2133 — 2134 — 2135 — 2136 — 2137 — 2138 — 2139 — 2140 — 2141 — 2142 — 2143 — 2144 — 2145 — 2146 — 2147 — 2148 — 2149 — 2150 — 2151 — 2152 — 2

BOONE CO. RECORDER

Published every Thursday
N. E. RIDDELL, Publisher.

Foreign Advertising Representative
THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION
Entered at the Postoffice, Burlington, Ky., as second-class mail.

The Recorder Stands For
BETTER FARMING, BETTER CITIZENS, BETTER HOMES"

ADVERTISING RATES.

Furnished on application. The value of the RECORDER as an advertising medium is unquestioned. The character of the advertisements now in its columns, and the number of them, tell the whole story.

This and That.

December days are here again, When winter's blasts are born; And our Editor likes to lie abed, 'Til late up in the morn.

Only eighteen more days until Christmas.

Don't be so sure of your advice. If it is of any value it is too good to give away.

Forget to tell you troubles to other people and you will soon forget hat you have any.

All men are foolish in one way or another, and most of us in trying to keep the fact a secret.

Anyway the Turks claim that when they massacre the Christians they do it like gentlemen.

Only thing a lot of our politicians have done for the merchant marine is to navigate up Salt River.

You may have more brains than your neighbor, but telling him so isn't putting them to the best use.

At present prices of the necessities of life, the ultimate consumer is rapidly sinking into the consumme.

The boys are urged to aim high, and if they do so they won't break any windows with their air rifles.

Some people get so tired after working eight hours for five days, that they have to have two days for rest.

Some young men are so energetic they never go to bed until just before dawn. Usually dad pays the bills.

The city folks that call the country people hayseeds, frequently need to wipe the sleepseeds out of their own eyes.

The radio fans enjoy the music in the air, but many people living next door to piano players get all they want now.

The logical thing for the deposed Sultan of Turkey to do is to rent him a house in Doorn next to his old colleague, the Kaiser.

Clemenceau says that all women look alike to him, showing that he comes from a country where the women don't vote.

The landlords that won't rent to families having babies, might reflect that they will want new tenants growing up some day.

It is proposed to jail the fire-trotting marmos in New York, but it is to be hoped they won't be so cruel as to put them to work.

Every married man's heart will go out in sympathy to the Sultan of Turkey who has just lost his job and has 300 wives on his hands.

The women's party is agitating for sex equality, but they have not suggested that the women should saw wood and dig up the garden.

The movement for thoroughbred cattle is making splendid progress, but there do not seem to be any more thoroughbred children.

No, brother, this sudden slump in patriotism is by no means strange. The elections are over and candidates are back to normal again.

The Lord has blessed you with the amount of brains your destiny requires, but you can't expect him to keep brushing the cobwebs out.

The people may not be satisfied with this session of Congress, but anyway the members will get their speeches out of their systems.

At last accounts the Wild West was putting in golf clubs, while in the Wild East city they were having hold ups on the dark streets.

The merchants who advertise at this time of year and a lot of people eagerly looking to the newspapers to see what the stores are selling.

The people who complain of losing so much money through bad debts, are usually the ones who extend credit to anybody and everybody.

Claimed that the girls spend too much time looking at the mirror, but if they weren't doing that, they might be studying the fashion plates.

The elections not merely indicate that the people ask for a new deal, but that they respectfully request all the gentlemen to remove the cards from their coat sleeves and discard their marked packs.

John D. Rockefeller gave a newspaper man a dime as a reward for not taking his picture. Evidently it is the fate of every rich man to get salvaged to the point of prodigality in his old age.

LIST OF WINNERS

At The Corn and Poultry Show
Held at Florence on the 22-23 of November.

CORN

(Best 10 Ears Boone County White)
Chas. Kelly 1st.
Chas. Kelly 2nd.
H. Long 3rd.
W. R. Morris 4th.

Johnson County White
L. T. Clore & Son 1st.
L. T. Clore & Son 2nd.
L. T. Clore & Son 3rd.
R. S. Cowen 4th.

Any Other White
H. Long 1st.
A. T. Knox 2nd and 3rd.
R. C. Lutes 4th.

Riad's Yellow Dent
Leslie Sebree 1st.
H. L. Tanner 2nd.
Leslie Sebree 3rd.
Stevens Bros. 4th.

Any Other Yellow
Lloyd Weaver 1st.
H. F. Jones 2nd.
Louis Weaver 3rd.
E. O. Rouse 4th.

Popcorn
Ardin Thompson 1st.
Leona Long 2nd.
H. Long 3rd.
Hilman Satchwell 4th.

Best Single Ear Boone Co. White
Chas. Kelly 1st.
H. Long 2nd.

Johnson County White
L. T. Clore & Son 1st.
Earl Smith 2nd.
L. T. Clore & Son 3rd.
L. T. Clore & Son 4th.

Any Other White
H. Long 1st.
Riad's Yellow Dent
Leslie Sebree 1st.

Chester Aylor 2nd.
Stevens Bros. 3rd.
Any Other Yellow
Earl Smith 1st.

Louis Weaver 2nd.
A. T. Knox 3rd.
L. C. Acra 4th.

Popcorn
A. T. Knox 1st.
Hilman Satchwell 2nd.
L. T. Clore & Son 3rd.

Best 10 Ears Any Variety
L. T. Clore & Son.
Largest Ear
L. T. Clore & Son.

Potatoes—Early Ohio.
E. T. Aylor 1st.
Chester Aylor 2nd.
Bull Moose
Harmon Jones 1st.

Chester Aylor 2nd.
Harmon Jones 3rd.
Any Other Variety—Late
Mabel Carpenter 1st.

Chester Aylor 2nd.
Soil Exhibit
Harmon Jones 1st.
Chester Tanner 2nd.

A. T. Knox 3rd.
Poorest, Sourest
James Adams.
Guessing Contest
R. C. Lutes 1st.

Wilton Carpenter 2nd.
C. L. Popham 3rd.
Tobacco—Trash
Tanner & Popham 1st.

A. T. Knox 2nd.
S. B. Ryle 3rd.
Fred Gulady.
Lugs.
Tanner & Popham 1st.

S. B. Ryle 2nd.
A. T. Knox 3rd.
Mrs. B. D. Adams 4th.
Bright Leaf
E. B. Knox 1st.

Mrs. B. D. Adams 2nd.
S. B. Ryle 3rd.
Fred Gulady 4th.
Red Leaf
Leslie Sebree 1st.

E. B. Knox 2nd.
Fred Gulady 3rd.
Tanner & Popham 4th.
White Leghorn
Cook—C. L. Jones 1st.

W. Drinkenburg 2nd.
Hen—W. Drinkenburg 1st.
Ass McMullen 2nd.
W. Drinkenburg 3rd.

Cock—R. C. Lutes 1st.
A. M. Acra 2nd.
C. L. Jones 3rd.
A. M. Acra 4th.

Pullet—C. L. Jones 1st.
R. C. Lutes 2nd.
W. Drinkenburg 3rd.
R. C. Lutes 4th.

Old Pen—H. L. Tanner 1st.
Young Pen—H. L. Tanner.
Brown Leghorn
Young Hen—C. Norman.

Buff Leghorn
Hen—Joe Book.
Joe Book 2nd.
Cock—W. Drinkenburg 1st.

J. T. Aylor 2nd.
Pullets—W. Drinkenburg 1st.
Joe Book 2nd.
Joe Book 3rd.

W. Drinkenburg 4th.
Old Pen—Joe Book 1st.
Young Pen—W. Drinkenburg 1st.
Joe Book 2nd.

Bantams—Golden Seabright
A. M. Acra 1st.
W. Drinkenburg 2nd.

Silver Seabright
Cock—Hubert Conner.
Pullet—Hubert Conner.
Black Cochins

Cock—Hubert Conner.
Cockerel—A. M. Acra.
Pullet—A. M. Acra.
Black Rose Comb

Cock—J. C. Schram.
Hen—J. C. Schram.
Utility Class.
(Mediterranean)

W. Drinkenburg 1st.
H. L. Tanner 2nd.
American
Ben Paddock 1st.

Chester Tanner 2nd.
Champion Hen
W. Drinkenburg.
Best Bird in Show

Kinsey Farms.
Best Display Any One Breed
Kinsey Farms.
Best Old Pen in Show

Kinsey Farms.
Best Young Pen in Show
Chester L. Tanner.
Largest Exhibit Any One Breed

A. M. Acra.
Hen—J. T. Aylor 1st.
J. T. Aylor 2nd.
Cockerel—A. H. Drinkenburg 1st.

Pullet—A. H. Drinkenburg 1st.
A. H. Drinkenburg 2nd.
Ancona
Hen—A. M. Acra.

Cockerel—A. M. Acra.
Barred Rock
Cock—A. M. Acra.

Hen—A. M. Acra.
Cockerel—A. M. Acra.
Cockerel—A. M. Acra 1st.
A. M. Acra 2nd.

Pullets—A. M. Acra 1, 2, 3rd.
Young Pen—Katherine Clore.
White Rock
Cock—J. T. Aylor 1st.

C. S. McNeal 2nd.
Hen—C. S. McNeal 1st.
J. T. Aylor 2nd.
C. S. McNeal 3rd.

J. T. Aylor 4th.
Cockerel—A. M. Acra 1st.
L. C. Acra 2nd.
J. T. Aylor 3rd.

Young Pen—L. C. Acra 1st.
Buff Rock
Cock—Mrs. O. C. Hafer 1st.

Ben Paddock 2nd.
E. T. Aylor 3rd.
Hen—Ben Paddock 1st.
Mrs. O. C. Hafer 2nd.

Ben Paddock 3rd.
Mrs. O. C. Hafer 4th.
Cockerel—Ben Paddock 1st.
Ben Paddock 2nd.

Mrs. O. C. Hafer 3rd.
Ben Paddock 4th.
Pullet—Ben Paddock 1st.
Mrs. O. C. Hafer 2nd.

Ben Paddock 3rd.
E. T. Aylor 4th.
Young Pen—Mrs. O. C. Hafer 1st.
White Wyandottes

Cock—Kinsey Farms.
Cock—Kinsey Farm 1, 2, & 3rd.
J. T. Aylor 4th.
Hen—Kinsey Farm 1, 2, 3 & 4th.

Cockerel—A. M. Acra 1st.
J. T. Aylor 2nd.
J. B. Rouse 3rd.
A. L. Nichols 4th.

Pullets—Kinsey Farms 1st & 2nd.
J. T. Aylor 3rd.
Kinsey Farms 4th.
Old Pen—Kinsey Farm.

Silver Laced Wyandottes
Hen—A. M. Acra 1st.
J. T. Aylor 2nd.
Cockerel—A. M. Acra.

Pullet—A. M. Acra.
S. C. Rhode Island Red
Cock—Kinsey Farm 1st.

J. T. Aylor 2nd.
Hubert Conner 3rd.
Hen—Kinsey Farm 1, 2, & 3rd.
Cockerel—Hubert Conner 1st.

Kinsey Farm 2nd.
Hubert Conner 3 & 4th.
Pullet—Hubert Conner 1st.
Chester Tanner 2nd.

Kinsey Farm 3rd.
Hubert Conner 4th.
Young Pen—Chester Tanner 1st.
Rhode Island White

Cock—J. C. Schram 1st.
Hen—J. C. Schram.
Young Pen—J. C. Schram.
Buff Orpington

Cockerel—Russell Tanner 1st.
Pullet—Russell Tanner 1 & 2nd.
Houdans
Cock—Sterling Rouse 1st.

Hen—Sterling Rouse 1st & 2nd.
R. C. Rhode Island Reds
Hen Mrs. Walter Vest 1st.

Trade Where They All Trade

Goode's Specials

100 lb. Bag New Michigan Hand-Picked Navy Beans.....	$8.00
98 lb. Bag Arcade Flour.....	3.50
120 lb. Bag Early Ohio Potatoes (Red River).....	1.65
100 lb. Bag Pure Cane Sugar.....	7.50
100 lb. Bag Danish Solid Cabbage.....	1.25
100 lb. Bag Onions.....	2.25
50 lb. Gross Weight Patridge Lard.....	6.50
100 Bars Star or P. & G. Naptha Soap.....	4.90
8 Lb. Carton Soda Crackers.....	1.00
100 lb. Bag Broken Rice.....	3.75
100 lb. Bag Pratt's Scratch Feed.....	2.25

Send Us Your Orders.

Send us your orders for anything and be convinced that we can save you money.

Geo. C. Goode
GROCER & SEEDSMAN

19-21 Pike St.

18-20 West Seventh St.

WHOLESALE—"Covington's Largest Seed and Grocery House"—RETAIL

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Phones South 335 and 336.

Battery Service

Which Saves You Money

TO deliver long live and economical results, even the finest battery made demands regular attention.

Stop in any time you pass here. It only takes a few moments for one of our experts to test your battery, add distilled water if (necessary) and you can roll on again secure in the knowledge that all is O. K.

If something should be wrong, you will save real dollars and cents in knowing it and having it fixed right away.

And while you are here let us show you a new Gould Dreadnaught Battery. In the National Gould Endurance Contest, Gould Batteries proved their quality by long-life records averaging 4 years and 1 month.

Dempsey Motor Car Co.

Phone Erl. 70-L

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY.

SAVE YOUR MONEY

One box of Tutt's Pills saves many dollars in doctor's bills. A remedy for diseases of the liver, sick headache, dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness; a million people endorse

Tutt's Pills

Commissioner's Notice.

Boone Circuit Court.

W. L. Cropper, Adm'r of John W. Hill dec'd etc Plaintiff vs. Notice to Claimants Laura Hill, etc., Defendants

All persons having claims of any kind against the estate of John W. Hill, dec'd., and not heretofore presented to me in this case will file and present same to me properly proven at my office in Burlington, Ky., on or before December 4th, 1922.

R. E. BERKSHIRE, M. C.

LUDEN'S

MENTHOL COUGH DROPS

for nose and throat

Give Quick Relief

Satisfactory to the RECORDER

Keep Your Feet Dry

Nothing like a pair of "Ball-Band" Arctics for keeping your feet dry and warm in the very worst weather. You can laugh at freezing cold, deep snow, slush and mud if you wear "Ball-Band."

"BALL-BAND" TRADE MARK

"Ball-Band" Arctics save you money by protecting your leather shoes from destructive soakings, too.

Ten million people look for the Red Ball Trade Mark when they buy Rubber Footwear. Make your choice of styles from our complete assortment of "Ball-Band."

H. S. Anderson

RISING SUN, INDIANA.

Dodge Brothers

ANNOUNCE

A BUSINESS COUPE

Conservative changes in the body design of all other types.

Roadster....$ 920
Coupe.....1,063
Touring Car. 955
Sedan.....1,550

Dempsey Motor Car Company

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY

Phone Erlanger 70-L

Sat'y Dec. 9th

"DEAD MEN TELL NO TALES"

Regular Admission

Tuesday, Dec. 12th

Eugene O'Brien

"Channing of the Northwest"

—and—

"The Timber Queen"

Coming Dec. 16th

"Fools Paradise"

Florence, Ky., Theatre

NONPARIEL PARK

Robert Lucas and family spent Thanksgiving with relatives at Dry Ridge.

Miss Beatrice Cahill spent Sunday with her grandparents, Mike Cahill and wife.

John Powell Crouch and wife have been housekeeping on Merriam Ave., Covington.

Mrs. Chas. Snyder, who underwent an operation of the nose, is doing nicely at this writing.

Miss Francis Smith spent Thanksgiving with her parents, Chas. Smith and family, of Devon.

Rev. Tomlin preached an excellent sermon at the M. E. church Sunday morning and evening.

Frances Kenney and brile have returned to their new home after a trip to Lexington, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Sorrell, of Lexington, spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson.

The many friends regret to hear that Mr. Ben Stephens is seriously ill at his home at Devon.

Elmer Cahill and family spent Thanksgiving day with James Rice and family, of the Dixie.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Story spent Sunday with relatives in Erlanger and her sister Mrs. Conely.

Mrs. J. P. Boyce spent Saturday in Covington the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Susie Groger and family.

Chas. Chipman and Mr. Thomas Shout spent a few days the past week in Williamstown on business.

Mr. Geo. Marksberry and family will soon move into their new bungalow he just had erected on Dixie Highway.

John Williams and wife returned to their home in Erlanger after several weeks' visit with their sons at Bullittsville.

Jerry Conrad spent last Thursday at his farm at Devon, and called on Ben Stephens, who has been seriously ill the past week.

Lou Thompson and wife entertained at dinner Thanksgiving day C. W. Myers wife and son Winfield and John Powell Crouch and wife.

H. C. Norman and wife have purchased a confectionary at 425 Pike St., Covington, where he will be glad to have his Boone county friends give him a call.

The members of the Baptist church will give an entertainment and Xmas tree for the benefit of the Sunday School on Sunday, (Xmas eve night.) Everybody welcome.

Mrs. Emma Barnes, of Kansas, spent a few days the past week with her brother, Arthur E. Kraus and family, and left Saturday to visit relatives in Cincinnati.

Arthur Kraus and family, and mother, Mrs. Lucy Hoover, will move to Indianapolis, Ind., the first of the year where Mr. Kraus has accepted a fine position with the Scott Paper Co.

Edward Anderson and wife entertained at dinner Thanksgiving day Leslie Sorrell and wife, of Lexington, Carl Anderson and wife, Clyde Anderson and wife, and Elijah Stephens and family.

Paul Bethel will move this week to Mr. Sipples place on Dixie Highway, that he purchased last week, and Mr. Sipple and family will move to Erlanger for a while, and then go to Florida for the winter.

The Ladies Aid Society will have an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. Wood Stephens Thursday Dec. 7th. All members are requested to be present, as there is lots of sewing and work to be done before Xmas.

Miss Mamie Robinson, Paul Renaker, Jack Renaker, Miss Hattie Mae Bradford, Eva Renaker and Winfield Myers, Floyd Chipman and William Marksberry, all attended the party Saturday night given by Mr. and Mrs. Lutes.

HEBRON.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jones entertained several of their friends Sunday.

Luther Rouse and wife entertained relatives and friends at dinner, last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Garnett entertained a number of relatives and friends with a Thanksgiving dinner.

Miss Jessie Jones, of Florence neighborhood was the guest of her brother, Ralph, and wife Saturday Sunday.

Quite a number of ladies met at the home of Mrs. J. T. Aylor, Thanksgiving day for the purpose of making several quilts that had been ordered. At the noon hour a fine Thanksgiving dinner was served.

The High School Boys sawed a lot of wood for John T. Aylor Friday afternoon, that evening Mr. and Mrs. Aylor were then a party. After several hours of enjoyment they were invited to the dining room for a nice lunch that was waiting them.

FRANCESVILLE.

Mrs. Chester Utz of near Hebron, was a guest of Mrs. Clint Riddell, They will reside in Baltimore, Maryland, where the groom is in business.

Miss Elnora Eggleston was the guest of Missess Jessie and Gladys Wilson, Sunday.

The Missess Wilson entertained the young folks with a party last Wednesday evening.

Rev. B. F. Swindler and Fred Keal were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Eggleston, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Collins had as guests Thanksgiving, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stamper and Mr. and Mrs. Phil Glass.

Miss Laura Catherine Evans spent several weeks with her grandmother, Mrs. Venn and other relatives in Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Whitaker, Jr. and daughter of near Hebron, were guests of Mr. Jarri Estes and daughter, Miss. Catherine, Sunday.

Mrs. Laura Evans had as guests Thanksgiving, her mother, Mrs. Vea Mr. Frank V. Winfield and Winfield Winfield Gynn, of Cincinnati and Mr. Charles Goodridge of Erlanger.

Mr. and Mrs. Hazel Rogers and Mrs. Schaffer, of Hamilton, Ohio, spent Wednesday night and Thursday with Andy Muntz and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Ryle and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Batch lor and Noah Sebree spent Wednesday and Thursday With Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Muntz and family.

After the ceremony refreshments were served to the large number of relatives and friends present. The happy young couple have the best wishes of all their friends for a long life of prosperity and happiness.

One of the most important social events of the season took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Hempling Saturday evening, when their only daughter, Miss Anita, was united in marriage to Mr. Harold Bentham formerly of Florence, Rev. Royer officiating. The bride was very beautiful in white satin while the groom wore the conventional black dress suit. The brides nephew, Von Hempling, was ring carrier while, little Miss Francis Bentham, of Cincinnati acted as flower girl.

PT. PLEASANT.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bonar and Miss Sarah E. Tanner motored to Pendleton county last week.

Mrs. Harvey Souther returned home Sunday after a pleasant visit with her parents in Detroit.

The community joins in extending sympathy to Mrs. Addie Gaines in the death of her mother, Mrs. Lucinda Utz.

Missess Gladys Jergens, Edith Car der and Sarah Tanner spent last Wednesday with Mrs. Keene Souther Making pies and pop corn balls for the social.

GUNPOWDER

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lutes entertained young folks with a dance last Saturday night.

H. F. Utz and wife were guests of P. J. Allen and wife of Pt. Pleasant neighborhood last Sunday.

Roy Lutes has about 450 hens and pullets who produce 70 dozen eggs last week. His favorite is the white leghorn.

William Dobins who we reported as being in a hospital is getting along nicely, considering the severe operation he underwent.

UNION.

Miss Marietta Riley of Cincinnati spent Thanksgiving with homefolks.

The Masons had a big meeting Saturday night and members of several lodges were present.

Miss Mary Hedges, of Covington was the guest of Chas. Hedges, and family several days last week.

The banquet given by the men's Bible class Thanksgiving eve was well attended and also enjoyed the speaking of Mr. H. Schwartz of Dayton.

Flickertown.

Miss Alice White spent last week in New Port with friends.

F. M. Voshell and J. W. White did the butchering act last week.

B. F. Aiken and wife dined all of their children and grand children Thursday last.

Mrs. Ethel Warford of Norwood, Ohio visited her parents the week end.

Paris Aken and family of Winchester Ky. visited relatives last week.

PETERSBURG.

The death Angel visited our town last Friday afternoon and took the spirit of Mrs. Kate Wingate to its eternal home, to the one that gave it.

She was respected and loved by all. A short service was held at the grave, Bellevue cemetery where she was laid to rest. Her husband and relatives have the heart felt sympathy of all.

CONSTANCE.

The funeral of Mrs. Louisa Teeters was held at the church here. She died suddenly. She leaves to mourn her death her husband, two daughters and two sons.

PRETTY DRESS-UP FROCK

This dress-up frock for the "Anperette" suits her pretty slender figure and curly youth exactly. It is made of duvetyne and trimmed with petals of the same cloth lined with crepe de chine in a bright, contrasting color. The petals are set about the round neck, which is finished with a corded trim, and the kimono sleeves lengthened to the elbow by puffs of crepe de chine drawn up into a band.

FOR OVER 40 YEARS

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE has been used successfully in the treatment of Catarrh.

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE consists of an Ointment which Quickly Relieves by local application, and the Internal Medicine, a Tonic, which acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces, thus reducing the inflammation. Sold by all druggists.

F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

Dance

Saturday Night,
Dec. 9th, 1922

—AT—

Florence Theatre,
Florence, Ky.

AFTER THE SHOW.
Murphy's Orchestra.

EVERYBODY INVITED.
Gents $1.00 (Including Tax)
Ladies Free.

THE OLD NEST

Burlington, Dec. 8th
Petersburg, Dec. 9th

Better than
"OVER THE HILL"

THE MOTHER WHOSE CHILDREN
NO LONGER SEEM TO WANT HER

Suddenly they have all grown up and left her—the babies she used to tuck in bed at night. The old house is empty and silent. All have forgotten her. . . Her birthdays pass unnoticed.

Each child has embarked on a drama of his own. Loves, ambitions, temptations carry them away. The story of their lives sweeps you along.

Your life—your home—your mother. Never before has the scree-touched with such beauty and such dramatic force a subject which finds an echo in the lives of every one of us. "The Old Nest" is a masterpiece of a new type—a presentation of life as it really is with its moments of great joy and flashes of exquisite pain. One of the most heart-grIPPING dramatic stories ever narrated.

Beginning at 7 P. M.
Admission, 20 & 40 cents.
Tax included.

"The Old Nest"

1917 Ford touring car in excellent condition.

1920 Dodge Roadster. This is a bargain.

1921 Ford Coupe. Must sell immediately.

DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO.,
Erlanger, Ky.

Uncle Eben.

"Always speak de truth, son," said
Uncle Eben; "but take you time to make sure you know what de truth is, an' whether it's up to you to butt into de conversation."

"The Old Nest"

1917 Ford touring car in excellent condition.

1920 Dodge Roadster. This is a bargain.

1921 Ford Coupe. Must sell immediately.

DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO.,
Erlanger, Ky.

Uncle Eben.

"Always speak de truth, son," said
Uncle Eben; "but take you time to make sure you know what de truth
is, an' whether it's up to you to butt
into de conversation."

MAKE A START*By Doing Your Christmas Shopping Now.

No need to tell you the many advantages of doing your Christmas Shopping early—before salespeople become tired out, before the store is crowded, while merchandise is at its freshest—you know all this.

The difficulty is just to get started, isn't it?

Well, why not sit down right now; make out a gift list and come down to the store tomorrow, resolved to choose at least One Christmas Gift. "Once begun, half done" is a true old saying.

Coppin's
COVINGTON

Northern Kentucky's Greatest Store

HEBRON THEATRE--Next Saturday

BUCK JONES IN

"TO A FINISH"

Comedy "Say It With Flowers"

Admission 22 Cents, Children 10 Cents

War Tax Included

SHOP EARLY*SPECIAL

30 x 3 1/2
NON SKID

TIRES

$8.50

30x3 ..... $7.00

Kentucky Motor Car Co.

Park Place and Scott Street,

COVINGTON, KY.

A Gift Sure to be Appreciated.

P. L. BETHEL, Pres. & Mgr.

FAIRVIEW FARM

Announces the following 1923 winners on

Johnson Go. White Corn

Ky. State Fair

Second on Best Ten Ears. Third on Largest and Best Ear.

Dearborn Co. Corn Show

Lawrenceburg, Ind.

6th, 8th and 9th on Best Ten Ears White Corn.

BOONE AND KENTON COUNTY Corn and Poultry Show.

1st, 2nd and 3rd on Best Ten Ears.

1st, 3rd and 4th on Best Single Ear.

1st on Largest Ear.

Grand Champion Ten Ears of the Show.

We are booking Orders for Seed Corn from this corn. Write for Prices. Guaranteed high germination test.

L. T. CLORE & SON,

Phone 60.

Burlington, Ky.

Lands Posted.

All character of trespassing on our farms is positively prohibited, and we will prosecute all guilty parties. No hunting, trapping or snaring will be allowed.

Name	Precinct
B. C. Allen	Hamilton
Julia S. Dinsmore	Bellevue
B. H. Berkshire	Petersburg
Lucy E. Hance	Hamilton
J. H. Jockey	Burlington
S. B. Scott	Grant
J. H. Walton	Carlton
Ira Aylor	Union
Arminia Aylor	Richwood
James W. Ryle	Waterloo
S. B. Ryle	Grant R. D.
Addie Harding	Burlington
Jake Reitmair	Bullittsville
B. C. Graddy	Bullittsville
R. H. Crider	Bullittsville
William Phillips	Carlton
J. M. Wilson	Union
J. J. Tanner	Burlington
Chester Aylor	Burlington
Elmore Ryle	Burlington
Jasper Sullivan	Grant
Alonso Gaines	Constantine
Joe E. Scott, Jr.	Florence
J. Colin Kelly	Carlton
Wilber D. Kelly	Grant
Robert L. Day	Hebron
W. A. Gaine	Burlington
Mrs. W. H. Marshall	Carlton
Mrs. W. Scott, Sr.	Florence
Mary M. Terrell	Petersburg
Grace Scott	Grant
Mrs. A. G. Finnell	Union
Ross Russ	Florence

Your name will be put in the list of those posted until Jan. 1st for 50 cents.

LUTE BRADFORD,

AUCTIONEER

FLORENCE, - - KY.

List your sales with me as I have a wide acquaintance and know all good buyers.

Reference—Florence Deposit Bank, Florence, Ky.

o-decl

Radio Receiving Sets

INSTALLED BY

J. J. KIRKPATRICK

Burlington, KY.

Do not buy your Radio Outfit until I quote you on one of the best outfits. Installed ready to receive from the Broad Casting Stations in New York, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Nebraska, Georgia, and other points.

FOR SALE

Farm of 75 acres three miles below Petersburg, Ky. Twelve acres of bottom land, eight acres of clover, balance in blue grass. Six room house, one four-room log house, 3 barns and other out buildings. Good tobacco and alfalfa land. Price $50.00 per acre.

CHARLIE WHITE,
ojan1—pd Petersburg, Ky.

General Trucking

At Your Service

WALTER HUEY

Florence, Ky.

Phone 266-X

J. C. GORDON

Superintendent of Schools

OF BOONE COUNTY

Will be in his office in Burlington the first and second Monday and the third and fourth Saturday in each month.

FIRST-CLASS*Shoe Repairing

Mail Orders at my Expense. All work guaranteed. Mail your shoes to be repaired to

A. G. LAWRENCE, .. Erlanger, Ky.
o-declpd 87 Lexington Pike.

For Sale

On Dixie Highway 365 acres two miles north of Walton, Ky. one of the best farms in Boone county for location and improvements. There is none better. See Wm. E. Baird Erlanger, Ky. nov982t

FLORENCE GARAGE

Under New Management
Best Of Service.

All Makes Of Cars.
Repaired At Reasonable

PRICES

TIRES, TUBES, OILS
Horse-shoeing and Wagon

work neatly and well done.

J. W. Quigley.
Wm. Busby, Manager.

TAKE YOUR COUNTY PAPER

AT PUBLIC AUCTION!

In order to settle the estate of R. C. McGlasson, we will sell at public auction

Wednesday, Dec. 20th, 1922

on the premises near Hebron, Ky., beginning at 10:00 a. m. to the highest bidder without reserve, bybid or limit, FARM, LIVE STOCK, FEED, TOOLS, ETC.

Land & Personal Property as Follows:

LIVE STOCK

Five Work Horses, Yearling Mule.
100 Good Black Faced Ewes, will be sold in lots of 20.
14 good Milch Cows, 3 Heifers, 3 Calves, 1 Bull.
Four Big Type Pure bred Poland China Sows.
Four Big Type pure bred Poland China Gilts.
One Big Type pure bred Poland China Boar.
Two Red Sows in good condition.
35 Head of seventy pound Shoats.

FEED

700 Bushels Assorted Corn in the crib.
75 Shocks Corn in the field, 50 Shocks of Fodder.
150 Shocks Shredded Fodder.
10 tons Timothy Hay in barn.
15 tons Clover mixed hay, 6 tons Soy Bean hay.
4 tons Alfalfa hay, baled, 2 ton Edan Dairy Feed.
1 ton Big Ratons, 400 pounds Oil Meal
200 pounds Cotton Seed meal.
50 bushels Oats in bin, Wheat and Rye in bin.

FARMING IMPLEMENTS

Deering Binder, good condition, 7-foot cut.
Mowing Machine, Hay Rake, Wheat Drill.
Disc Harrow, Road Wagon, 2 Cultivators.
Breaking Plow, Huber 12-25 Tractor.
John Deer Gang Plow, 3 bottom 14 inch.
McCormick Corn Shredder, Buggy, Sleigh, Hay Bed.
Rock Bed, 600 Pound Champion Scales.
Corn Sheller, Corn Grinder.

2 Double sets work Harness, Single set work harness.
Extension Ladder, Step Ladder.
Iron Kettle and Spider, Hoes, Rakes, Shovels, &c.
3 Shares Stock Hebron Telephone Company.

287 ACRES FARM LAND AND BUILDINGS

184 acres of good farm land, Dwelling, outbuildings and all improvements; 103 acres unimproved land under good fence with fine location for buildings. These two tracts will be offered separately and then as a whole and the bid or bids aggregating the larger amount will be accepted. These lands are on the North Bend pike, 12 miles from Cincinnati and Covington, 10 miles from Ludlow, and one mile from Hebron, where there is a High School, Bank, three stores, Blacksmith Shop and Churches within short distance, Moving Picture Show, Masonic and I. O. O. F. Lodges. Telephone in the residence and mail route at the front gate. The farms are divided into nice sized fields with never failing water in each field, well fenced, clean and in grass. Thirty acres sowed in wheat. The land is adapted for the cultivation of corn, wheat, tobacco, Clover and Timothy hay and blue grass, a tractor can be successfully used in the cultivation of the lands. This land is rolling and ideal for stock raising. This is the best farm that has ever been offered in Boone county at public auction. Come and inspect the lands and buildings at any time before sale day, except Sundays. Inspection by appointment with Chas. Youell, Burlington, Ky. Phone Burlington 65.

BUILDINGS

Dwelling—Eight rooms, pantry, two halls, three porches, two cellars, in fine condition and repair.
Barn—40x80 with basement. Double corn crib with wagon shed, Garage, Shop, Hog House 20x50, concrete floor. Chicken house, Meat House, Wash House, Ice House, two Cisterns at dwelling, one at barn.

Terms of Sale.

Personal property will be sold on a credit of SIX Months for all sums over $10.00. $10.00 and under Cash, purchaser to execute note for the purchase price with approved surety, payable at the Peoples Deposit Bank, Burlington, Ky., before property is removed. The land will be sold as follows: 10 per cent cash on day of sale, 40 per cent when deed is made, not longer than 10 days from date of sale, balance on easy terms. A lien will be reserved on the land for the unpaid purchase money.

Milk Route by these farms every day.

THE FARM LANDS WILL BE SOLD AT 1:30 P. M.

J. M. EDDINS, Auctioneer.

W. A. BULLOCK, Clerk

Mrs. R. C. McGlasson, Admr'x.

C. H. YOUELL, Agent.

LUNCH SERVED AT NOON.

To My Friends in Boone County

I take this means of conveying to you my heart felt appreciation of your splendid expression of friendship which comes to me in the form of a Thanksgiving offering which has served the double purpose of pleasing the inner man and of conveying a message of good will which can but add to ones appreciation of his friends and encourage him to strive even harder to serve his fellow man.

It has been my purpose to equip such a ferry as will provide the best possible service and this together with the excellent co-operation on your part and the diligent attention given the operation of the boat by Ben Harris and Mr. McConnell and others who have assisted has resulted in the success thus far obtained.

Trusting these ideal conditions may continue, to the end that our relations shall always be pleasant and assuring you it is our purpose to do all in our power to provide you with a ferry service second to none, I remain

Very sincerely,
J. W. WHITLOCK.

John Baldon and wife, of Bowling Green, arrived in Burlington early Tuesday morning. Mrs. Baldon was called here on account of the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Susan Kirkpatrick, who suffered a slight stroke of paralysis one day last week.

F. H. Rouse, Superintendent of the County Infirmary, was taken suddenly sick while attending court, Monday.

Mrs. Emma Brown, of Bullittsburg neighborhood, is spending the week with Mrs. Bert Gaines, of the Petersburg pike.

Mrs. Clifford, of Louisville, spent last week with her husband, Prof. Clifford, Principal of the Boone Co. High School. They spent Thanksgiving holidays with relatives in Indiana.

Prof. Elbert Ryle and family, of Union, spent the latter part of last week with his mother, Mrs. Newton Sullivan, out on the Petersburg pike.

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

DE OLE 'OMAN TOL' MISTIS
AH DONE PICK A FUSS
OUTEN 'ER DIS MAWNIN'
EN AH RECKN DA'S RIGHT--
--SHE SO FULL UV 'EM
YOU JES' BLEEGED T'
PICK OUT ONE!!

FARM BUREAU MEETINGS

Members of the Boone County Farm Bureau are called to meet in their precincts, Saturday December, 16th 1922 for the purpose of selecting their director for the year 1923. Directors so elected will report to the county Board at Burlington on January 1st 1923 to be ratified and for the first meeting of the board. Meetings will be held as follows: Walton, School house, Union I. O. O. F. hall, Florence Farm Bureau building, Big Bone Hamilton school, Constance Hebron theater, Petersburg McWethy Confectionary, Bellvue School house, Raddit Hash K F hall, Burlington Farm Bureau office, Verona, Beaver and Bullittsville, convenient places to be selected. Do not neglect these meetings as this must be done for the success of the Farm Bureau.

G. M. Penn, Manager.

It is to be hoped that Europe won't think that we underestimate the importance of the Lausanne conference just because we sent a Child to represent us.

Just Smiles

KNOW THYSELF.

(American Legion Weekly)
Smith—Holy smoke! What happened to your face?
Brown—I boxed six rounds with the Battling Kid last night.
"I didn't know you were a boxer."
"I guess I aint."

ONE ADVANTAGE

(Judge)
"Which is the way to Ottawa, my lad?"
"I—I don't know."

"Which is the way to Topeka, then?"
"I—I don't know."

"Well, can you tell me how to get back to Wichita, then?"
"I—I—I don't know."

By this time the drummer was quite impatient and said to the boy. "Say you don't know very much do you?" to which the lad retorted:
"No, But—but I ain't lost!"

PART OF IT.

New York Sun
Blinks (in girl and music show)—Nice show, eh? Do you know the chorus?
Jinks—Not so loud; my wife is with me. I know that little blond

DECEMBER IS BEST MONTH TO STUDY FARM BUSINESS

Lexington, Ky.—December is the best time of the year for the farmer to study his business, according to W. D. Nichols, head of the farm economics department of the College of Agriculture. At that time the main field work is over, the yield quality and market price of the farm products are known and the long nights and weather at this season of the year are such that there is limited time for field work. This gives the farmer a good chance to look back over the year to make an inventory of mistakes and successes and plan ahead for the coming year. The lead pencil used during the winter months to study the farm business and make plans for the new year is the greatest labor saving and profit insuring implement on the market.

IF YOU ARE IN THE MARKET FOR A CAR SEE THE

Durant & Star Cars

A Car for everyone and also a price that will meet your pocket book.

PRICES ON STAR:

ROADSTER, with starter and demountable rims.....$414.00
TOURING, with starter and demountable rims..... 443.00
COUPE, with ttarster and demountable rime..... 580.00
SEDAN, with starter and demountable rims 4 doors 645.00
All Prices F. O. B. Factory.

PRICES ON DURANT 4:

TOURING AND ROADSTER.....$890.00 COUPE AND SEDAN....$1365.00
F. O. B. Factory.

PRICES ON DURANT SIX:

ROADSTES ..... $1600.00
TOURING ..... 1650.00
COUPE..... 2250.00
SEDAN..... 2400.00

Sales and Service Stations for Boone, Grant, Gallatin and Owen Counties.

RECORDS & COATS, Sub-Dealers, Sparta, Ky.

Walton Garage

Walton, Kentucky.

Phone 40.

RED CROSS WINNING IN FIGHT FOR HEALTH

Better, Stronger Citizenry Now
Emerging Out of Work in United States.

The American Red Cross as an evangelist of better health has looked its problem square in the face. How it accepted the task revealed to it in the nation's physical condition as brought out during the World War, and conscientiously applied its activities to correction forms a vivid chapter in the forthcoming annual report. Historically and practically, nursing is a basic work for the Red Cross. In its public health nursing service, in instruction in home hygiene and care of the sick, nutrition classes, first aid and life saving courses and health centers, the American Red Cross is applying effectively the lessons learned during the war and making for a healthier, stronger and better nourished citizenry.

The task of the Red Cross Public Health nurse in the 1,240 nursing services now operating throughout the country instructing their communities in health essentials and disease prevention is demonstrating the possibilities of human betterment and the great benefits of enlightenment.

During the last year, 313 new public health nursing services were established by Red Cross Chapters, and several hundred services so convincingly proved their effectiveness that they were taken over by public authorities. In order to promote this work $30,000 was allotted to provide women to prepare themselves for public nursing. The home visits made by the 1,240 nurses aggregated nearly 1,500,000 visits to schools numbered 140,000, and in six months 1,250,000 school children were inspected by these nurses and where defects were found advised examination by physicians. In rural communities this service has made a very marked advance and has won thousands of converts to approved methods of disease prevention.

In home hygiene and care of the sick instruction, which fits the student in methods of proper care where illness is not so serious as to require professional service, the Red Cross conducted 3,884 classes during the last year, enrolled 2,355 instructors, 93,448 students and issued 42,556 certificates. On June 30, 1922, nutrition service embraced 1,199 classes, with a total of 27,523 children and 2,590 enrolled dietitians. Seventy-eight food selection classes graduated 733 who received Red Cross certificates. In general health activities Red Cross Chapters maintained 377 health centers, served as many communities, provided 35,721 health lectures for large audiences everywhere, while clinics numbered over 10,000.

Red Cross Gains Strength in All Foreign Fields

In insular possessions of the United States and in foreign lands the American Red Cross scored heavy gains during the last year, passing the previous membership high mark of 1918 by 4,261 and advancing the figure to 156,408. The Philippines take the lead, gaining nearly 100 per cent, now having 115,917 members. In Europe the 1921 Roll Call enrolled 11,125, with the Constantinople Chapter reporting 665, a gain of 33 members. China was 1,782 members, a gain of 506; the Little Virgin Islands have 1,000, while the Dominican Republic with 2,927 advances from its previous high mark by 1,425 new members. Haiti, organized in 1920, now has nearly 1,000 enrolled. Mexico reports 354, a gain of 327 in one year. The American Red Cross has spread its membership over some 70 foreign lands and its Junior membership outside of the United States is close to 700,000.

Red Cross Water First Aid Makes Life-Saving Gain

More than 325 Chapters engaged in life saving or water first aid last year with the result that the American Red Cross Life-Saving Corps has set a new high mark for enrollment and the number of qualified life savers developed. The influence of "learn to swim week" in many localities is reducing the water fatalities through instruction and the wider dissemination of resuscitation methods demonstrated by the Red Cross representatives. Excellent work has been done in teaching a large part of the American population how to take care of itself in the water. Growing appreciation for this Red Cross Life-Saving Service is shown by the compulsory instruction adopted in many cities for members of the police and fire departments in the prone pressure method of resuscitation.

Help to Help Others.
You can't "give until it hurts"—for giving an American dollar to join the American Red Cross helps you to help others who are hurt and who need relief.

At the Christmas Party

The KITCHEN CABINET
(© 1921 Western Newspaper Union)

The KITCHEN CABINET
Copyright, 1922, Western Newspaper Union

To be truly happy is a question of how we begin and not how we end; of what we want and not what we have.—Steven.

GOOD THINGS.

When a most delightful cake is needed for some special occasion the following will be one to prepare:
Famous Lady Baltimore Cake.—Take one cupful of butter, one and one-half cupfuls of confectioners' sugar, one cupful of milk, one-half teaspoonful of rose extract, three cupfuls of pastry flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, one-half cupful of water, two cupfuls of chopped raisins, two cupfuls of chopped figs, one cupful of chopped pecan meats, one-half teaspoonful of almond extract, two cupfuls of confectioners' sugar, the whites of nine eggs. Cream together the butter and sugar named at first; add the milk, rose extract and flour sifted with the salt and baking powder. Beat smooth and fold in the stiffly beaten whites of six eggs. Bake in three round-layer tins lined with greased paper. Cover while baking with paper to prevent browning. For the filling beat the two cupfuls of sugar and water together until it spins a thread when it is poured very slowly over the stiffly-beaten whites of three eggs. Beat until of the consistency of cream, then add the chopped fruit and nuts with the almond extract. Put the filling between the layers and on top. Decorate the top with strips of fig and chopped nuts.

Orange Sweetbreads.—Let a pair of sweetbreads simmer gently, covered with boiling water, for twenty minutes, with a slice of lemon or one of onion and one-half teaspoonful of salt. When parboiled blanch by plunging into cold water. Remove the membranes and cut the sweetbreads in slices and cook in hot fat until lightly browned. Add to the pan the following sauce: One tablespoonful of butter blended with one of flour, this added to one cupful of well-seasoned stock, chicken or veal, and cook until smooth and thick. Season with scraped onion, a speck of red pepper, the juice and yellow rind of half an orange and one teaspoonful of lemon juice. Remove the sweetbreads to a hot serving dish and pour the sauce over them.

Nellie Maxwell

"Censure is like the lightning which strikes the highest mountains."
"We can be more clever than one, but not more clever than all."

MORE GOOD THINGS

Give the children a treat by making them some good home-made candy. The following will be easy to make and pleasant to eat:

Pacific Sea Foam.—Take three cupfuls of light brown sugar, one cupful of water, one-fourth teaspoonful of cream of tartar. Cook to the soft ball stage and pour over the well-beaten white of an egg, beat until cool, adding three-fourths of a cupful of walnuts and one-half teaspoonful of vanilla. Drop by teaspoonfuls on a buttered sheet or pour into a well buttered pan.

Chinatown Almond Squares.—Boil together two cupfuls of sugar and one cupful of water eight minutes, then add one-half teaspoonful of vinegar and boil until the syrup is brittle when dropped in cold water. Brown one-half pound of almonds slightly in a buttered pan; now pour over the almonds the hot syrup, which has been flavored with one-half teaspoonful or less of almond extract. Press the candy well down evenly in the pan, using the cut side of half a lemon. Cut before it hardens.

Baked Corn With Clams.—Mix one can of minced clams, one cupful of canned corn, one cupful of milk, and one egg, with one teaspoonful of salt, a speck of onion, salt, pepper and paprika. Place in a baking dish and dot with two tablespoonfuls of butter. Bake one-half hour. Fresh corn may be used.

Potato and Herring Pie.—Peel six potatoes, slice very thin, season with white pepper and mix with one cupful of chopped celery and one-fourth of a scraped onion. Put into a baking dish, in which two tablespoonfuls of butter have been melted and toss the vegetables in the butter until well covered with it. Chop two salted herrings which have been soaked in cold water for an hour or two, mix with the vegetables and pour over the whole one cupful of milk or water. Cover with a baking powder biscuit crust and bake three-quarters of an hour in a moderate oven. Brush over the crust with melted butter before it is quite baked.

Nellie Maxwell

16 ARTISTIC CHRISTMAS CARDS ASSORTED $1.00 INCLUDING ENVELOPES USUAL PRICE $1.50 OR MORE

DO YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING AT HOME
We have put up a special box of "ready-to-send" Christmas greeting cards. This box has the widest possible variety of artistic designs and choice sentiments. Cards of equal value retail for $1.50 or more. These will please you and delight your friends. They will be sent ON APPROVAL, postage prepaid and you will be under no obligation to keep them if they do not appeal to you. Mail this coupon at once and look the cards over after supper, at your leisure.

CUT COUPON NOW!

NAME
ADDRESS

GOOD HIGHWAYS

ROAD WAGES ARE DECREASED

Bureau of Public Roads Prepares Chart Giving Interesting Study of Conditions.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A chart prepared by the bureau of public roads of the United States Department of Agriculture showing the trend of common labor wages on highway construction in various geographic divisions since 1915 presents an interesting study of conditions during the period. The price per hour which in 1915 ranged from 12 cents to 26 cents, gradually rose to from 31 to 62 cents in 1920 and has now declined to from 15 to 47 cents. At the present time the prices are as follows: 15 cents in the South Atlantic states, 18 cents in the states east of and bordering the Ohio and Mississippi rivers and including Alabama, 24 cents in the Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Louisiana group, 26 cents in the states included between the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, 29 cents in the states from Kansas and Missouri to the Canadian border, 33 cents in the mountain states and 47 cents in the Pacific states. Figures for the New England and Middle Atlantic states have not yet been completed.

On the chart referred to the lines showing the trend in the various divisions have the same general rise and fall and cross each other in only a few cases, a particular exception being in the states from Kansas and Missouri north to the border, where the highest rate of all the groups prevailed up to 1920 and which has since shown the most marked decrease, dropping from 62 cents in 1920 to 29 cents in March.

SURVEYS LESSEN ROAD COST

Contractors Given More Definite Basis for Bidding on Construction of Highways.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Road material surveys now being made in several states will give contractors a more definite basis for bidding on road work and result in cheaper costs of construction, says the bureau of public roads of the United States Department of Agriculture.

In making these surveys, supplies of stone, gravel, sand, slag, and other materials are located, samples tested and information secured as to accessibility, freight rates, and other factors. This information is of permanent value as supplies are nearly exhausted. By furnishing a contractor information as to the location of satisfactory materials one element of risk is removed, and some of the states report that they have definite proof that such service has resulted in decreased bids. The bureau of public roads in the course of its operations has tested some 9,000 samples of rock, sand, gravel, and slag, and reports are available giving the location from which the sample was taken together with results of tests. There are now 68 laboratories engaged in testing road materials and data are being rapidly accumulated in states that have not at this time making an intensive survey.

A Completed 20-Foot Concrete Road.

LOWER CONSTRUCTION COSTS

Decreased Prices Are Indicated in Bids Submitted on Federal-Aid Highways.

Confirmation of the predicted lower level prices for road construction this year is found in the reports on bid prices for the construction of a network of highways throughout the state received by the bureau of public roads of the United States Department of Agriculture.

The average cost per mile of some of the types of roadway, including the cost of grading and drainage, were: 78 miles of gravel at $9,150 a mile, 46 miles of concrete at $25,000 a mile, 47 miles of bituminous macadam at $25,200 a mile, and 23 miles of bituminous concrete at $25,000 a mile.

Pay It Out of Taxes.
Georgia is planning expenditures of $75,000,000 for the construction of a network of highways throughout the state. The costs are to be paid entirely by tax on gasoline and motor license revenue.

Highway Cost Per Person.
After deducting the amount paid by automobile in license fees, and assuming a cost of ten cents per day was the cost of the American highway to the individual man, woman and child in this country last year.

The Best Advertisement

IS A PLEASED CUSTOMER

Spectacles and Eyeglasses that Fit the face and fit the sight the kind we sell.

Phone South 1746

DR. N. F. PENN., 613 Madison Ave. - Covington, Ky.

Embalmer & funeral Director

Licensed in Kentucky, Ohio & Indiana.

Ambulance Service, Any Where or Time
LIMOSINE FOR WEDDIN & PLEASURE PARTIES.

C. SCOTT CHAMBERS

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

Consolidated Phone, Walton, 35. Farmers Phone.

Printed Stationery

AT THIS OFFICE

ENVELOPES, LETTERHEADS, NOTEHEADS, STATEMENTS

for business people.
for professional people.
for farmers.
for every one who wants to be considered up to date and going strong

THE MOTOR FUNERAL CAR

has solved many problems in connection with the burial of the dead. It does away with the slow, tedious journey of the casket to the cemetery, and saves needless exposure to the weather. Then, too, it enables us to serve friends at a distance, who wish to avail themselves of a modern and complete equipment in each department, where all details will be given personal attention.

Phone connection will bring prompt response and free counsel.

PHILIP TALIAFERRO,
Undertaker and Embalmer
Erlanger, Ky.

A BARGAIN!

Cincinnati Daily Enquirer

—AND—

The Boone County Recorder

YOU CAN GET

both for $5.00 the YEAR

Send Your Subscriptions to the
BOONE COUNTY RECORDER
Burlington, Ky.

IT'S A FACT

Few men know much about Clothing, they must leave it to the merchant, they like to walk into a store, knowing before hand, that they will not only get value but Style and Quality Too.

We give Our Customers such Service that will Bring them back Again and Again.

WE HAVE A WONDERFUL LINE OF MEN'S, YOUNG MEN'S AND BOY'S
Suits and Overcoats.

Would be pleased to show you that we are headquarters for Sweaters & Corduroy Clothing.

Selmar Wachs

605 Madison Avenue, COVINGTON, KY.

DO YOU TAKE THE RECORDER?

Try It One Year. You'll Like It.

Read Our Advertisements and Profit By Them.

KENNETH BALDON

CAUGHT IN CAVE-IN

Rescued After Being Imprisoned Under Tons of Debris For Nine Hours.

Boulder, Colo.—Imprisoned for nine hours, beneath a hundred tons of caved-in rock and dirt in the Fox Kenneth Baldon, 30 years old, of Superior, was brought out alive and uninjured. An hour after the cave-in Baldon's companions were so certain that he was dead that they called Coroner A. E. Hall of Boulder.

The cave-in occurred at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. A companion working in the same stope with Baldon barely escaped the slide and rushed thru the mine, calling to other miners.

Fifty men started the work of rescue a few moments later. After two hours they felt that no life could endure beneath the huge mass of dirt, coal, rock and wrecked timbers and at 5 o'clock the coroner was notified to come and take charge.

The rescue work, however, continued without the slightest halt and at 8:55 o'clock, workers heard a feeble shout from what they thought was a tomb of wreckage. Efforts were redoubled and the last ton of debris was shoveled away at midnight and Baldon, weak and nerve-shattered, was brought out of the mine safely.

A heavy mine car which Baldon was loading in the stope saved his life. When the cave-in started several huge mine timbers fell across the mine car and the falling earth and rock piled over the timbers, affording a shelter and several square yards of breathing space.

The first words spoken by the rescued man were:

"Where is my buddy?" He believed his companion worker had been caught and was crushed to death.

Baldon was taken to the Boulder hospital where physicians said Saturday he is virtually uninjured.

The rescued man was unable to give a complete account of his thoughts for the long twelve hours he was imprisoned. He did speak of the awfulness of being alone and the fear that the air supply would give out.

Kenneth Baldon is a son of John Baldon, and was born and reared near Burlington. He left here in 1907, with his parents, and has made his home in Colorado since that time. This is the fourth time that he has escaped being killed in a mine disaster, and his many friends in this section are glad to know that he escaped death beneath the tons of caved-in rock and dirt.

Since the above was put in type word was received here Monday that Kenneth Baldon had died on Thursday, Dec. 7th, which was quite a shock to his father, who was here on a visit from Bowling Green, and he has the sympathy of all in the loss of a son, who leaves a widow and three small children.

MAKING UP A CHRISTMAS LIST

Many people who have always given Christmas gifts liberally face embarrassing questions in making up their list for the coming holidays. The cost of living has made it difficult for some years to give on the old scale of liberality.

A gift made because one feels that one must, and not prompted by desire, lacks the sincerity that ought to go with the Christmas spirit. Many people should give less to personal friends who are not in need of anything, and should make the offerings instead to some who are having to struggle to keep their homes together.

If people can't afford to make certain gifts, they should frankly not be led by appearances to keep on making them. The pretty cards of greeting which are so much used now, enable people to send each other messages of cordial friendship without going in for expense beyond their means. The Christmas gift custom is a beautiful one, but should be kept spontaneous and natural.

A VALUABLE GIFT

For $1.50 you can make a gift that will be of pleasure to the recipient 52 weeks in the year. What could be a more appropriate gift than the Recorder for one year? That friend or relative that was a former resident of Boone or perchance a neighbor that does not take the paper would no doubt be delighted with a gift that is new and refreshing each of the 52 weeks of 1923.

NOTICE

Automobile owners applying for 1923 license must present their registration certificate for 1922 before same can be issued.

M. E. ROGERS,
County Clerk.

No, there's no danger of this country going to the dogs. The dogs run too fast.

WAS e'er at any time or place
Such funny Christmas tree?
The kids have occupied the space
Where all the toys should be!
Surprised, the Kewpie reaches out,
The Teddy is dismayed;
The Bulldog growls and looks about,
That no more tricks be played!

—CHARLES FREDERICK WADSWORTH.

FRIENDLY INDUSTRIES

It has been said that corporations have no souls and that they buy and sell people like so many commodities. Perhaps some of them still have that obsolete point of view. Others however have gone on to a more generous idea.

A certain big motor company hands the following notice to all new employees:

Greetings! We want your stay with us to be long, prosperous and free from injury. Whether or not it will be so is partly up to you. Are you ambitious? Work safely so we can all enjoy safety. The greeting then goes on to speak of certain precautions against injury.

Any business concern, big or little, that manifests such a friendly interest in the welfare of its employees, should be able to arouse a spirit of loyalty that will be a valuable asset.

Missouri women will vote in their first State-wide primary August 1.

Extravagance and Prosperity

The opinion is held by many persons that it makes no great difference whether people spend their money extravagantly or not. It is frequently said, in defense of free spending, that they keep money in circulation, which is considered beneficial. Free spending tends to make exaggerated and abnormal demand for merchandise. The merchants find such a tremendous demand for their stuff, that they buy beyond their needs. For the time a tremendous volume of orders goes to the factories, and there is an appearance of great prosperity.

As a result of this artificial boom, prices rise. Producers of goods find that they can get more money for their stuff. But large classes of people, whose incomes are no bigger, cannot maintain the fast pace, and they stop buying. Then all at once the bottom begins to drop out of business. Orders stop coming in, merchants go slow about laying in stocks. This is what happened in 1920, when a multitude of people were getting big wages and spending their cash without thought of the future.

When money is put into good banks, it has no such harmful effects. It is used to loan funds to factories and farms and to build houses. It creates added manufacturing and food raising facilities, which tend to employ more labor and to provide the necessities of life at reasonable prices.

If all the money that was put into foolish luxuries in the war boom period, had been saved and invested in banks and sound securities, the depression of 1921 probably would never have occurred. Millions of families that have since had a hard rub would have had regular work, and they would be drawing interest regularly on their accumulations.

The modern hired girl consents to come to your home and take cooking lessons if you will pay her $12 and board to do it.

ONE BY ONE

Are the Older Citizens of the County Passing Away—Another One Gone.

Legrand Gaines, 89, one of the county's most highly esteemed citizens, died, Thursday night, Dec. 7th at the home of his son, J. E. Gaines, on the Petersburg pike, from the infirmities of old age. Mr. Gaines had been in failing health for several years, but was able to be up an about. He was found dead in bed when his son went to his room at 6 o'clock Friday morning.

He was a son of Absalom and Fannie Gaines, and was born December 21, 1833, on the farm on which he died. He was united in marriage to Elizabeth Rogers, who preceded him to the grave about 8 years ago, to this union five children were born, two dying in infancy, three sons, E. C. Gaines, of Erlanger, W. Lee Gaines, of Walton, and J. E. Gaines, with whom he made his home, and one sister, Mrs. Fannie Cropper, survive him.

"Uncle Legrand" as he was affectionately known by the old and the young alike was one of an old fashioned Kentucky gentleman, his four score years had made his feet unsteady and time had frosted his locks, yet his smile and word of cheer was as refreshing as ever.

To live four score years, to retain our health and mentality, to so regulate our attitude toward mankind that our existence is a pleasure to those about us, is a rare privilege, such was the case with this fine old gentleman who commanded the respect of all who knew him.

Mr. Gaines was a gentleman with many friends and no enemies, who had a good word for every one. He was a genial whole-soul man, generous, charitable and sympathetic. He never identified himself with any church, but was a regular attendant at church and believed in Christ as his Savior. In passing removes from our midst a very familiar figure, who made the world look brighter to those whom he came in contact with, and he will be missed by both old and young. The bereaved ones have the sympathy of all in this their hour of grief and sorrow.

A short funeral service was held at the residence Sunday afternoon at one o'clock by Rev. Campbell, after which the remains were conveyed to the Bullittsburg cemetery, where they were laid to rest by the side of his wife.

C. Scott Chambers, of Walton, had charge of the funeral.

WHO WEARS THE SHOE?

The British government sent home an American consul in England who, it was charged, had been too zealous in obtaining cargoes for American ships.

According to published reports a British consul in New York has been guilty of the same offense—that of over zealousness in obtaining American cargoes for British ships—only many times more guilty. It is even charged—and facts are cited—that a conspiracy is in existence, the purpose of which is to drive American ships from the seas.

What have our friends in London to say?

Or perhaps it makes a difference who wears the shoe.

FARM BUREAU MEETINGS

Members of the Boone County Farm Bureau are called to meet at their precincts, Saturday December, 16th, 1922, for the purpose of selecting their director for the year 1923. Directors so selected will report to the county board at Burlington on January 1st, 1923, to be ratified and for the first meeting of the board. Meetings will be held as follows:

Walton school house, Union I. O. O. F. Hall, Florence Farm Bureau building, Big Bone, Hamilton school house, Constance, Hebron Theatre, Petersburg, McWethy Confectionary, Bellevue School house, Rabbit Hash K. of P. Hall, Burlington Farm Bureau office.

Bullittsville, Hebron Theatre, Beaver and Verona convenient places to be selected. Do not neglect these meetings as this must be done for the success of the Farm Bureau.

G. M. PENN, Manager.

The following news item clipped from last Saturday's Enquirer, will be of interest to Boone county people:

"Suit was entered in U. S. District Court yesterday by J. M. Rice, of Covington, Ky., vs. The Cincinnati Traction Co., for recovery of $20,410, alleged to be due as damages for personal injuries he says he sustained when he was hit by a south-bound car at Gilbert and Sinton avenues on the evening of Sept. 26th, 1922. In his petition he says he just had alighted from a north-bound car and had gone around it when he was hit by the car going in the opposite direction. He said no warning signals were sounded, and that the car was coming down the hill at an excessive rate of speed."

A WEEK'S NEWS.

The first good general rains to visit this part of the country during the past six months fell last week. Cereals which had been dry since early summer was started running, and there is now a bountiful water supply. The rain brought a good tobacco casing season and most of the growers took advantage of it and bulked down a large part of their crop.

According to the report November was the driest month and July the wettest. However, the precipitation no doubt varied greatly in different parts of the county as it usually does in dry seasons. In some sections it is doubtful if the total rainfall for the six months amounted to more than 6 inches. The driest section of the county suffered most from the dry weather but in all sections the rainfall was below normal.

Thursday, December 7th, was the anniversary of the blizzard which swept over the country five years ago. The temperature dropped to 20 degrees below and zero weather prevailed until after Christmas, there being few days during that period when the minimum was above zero. Roads were blocked with snow and was nearly impassible. The weather moderated during the Xmas holidays and most of the snow disappeared, but another blizzard, more severe than the first, came on the 8th and 9th of January, carrying the temperature to 16 degrees below zero and blocking the roads again. It was the middle of February when moderate temperature came again.

We clipped the following from the Kentucky Section of the Times-Star of Friday, Dec. 8th:

A man registering as William L. Slayback, 27, rooming at 413 West Fourth street, Newport, and who said his home was at Burlington, Ky., was fined $100 and sentenced to 30 days in jail on a charge of violating the State prohibition law, in addition to being bound over to the grand jury under $150 bond on a charge of carrying concealed weapons, when arraigned before Judge Matt Moore in Newport Police court, Friday.

While the country girls are becoming bread making champions, the city girls are distinguishing themselves by the amount of candy they can consume.

A lot of the money that in big city stores goes into costly buildings and high rents, goes in country stores into buying better grade of merchandise.

The people who knock their home town because it is too slow, would knock the big city if they went to it because they would get out of breath trying to keep up with it.

It is alarming how many people who reside on farms are hoping to sell out and move to the city, while a great majority in the city long to get out on the farm. All over the country there is a spirit of restlessness and hardly any one is satisfied with his lot. Rich folks see the pace and the fools try to keep up with them. Are we to be a nation of self-made financial cripples?

Mr. Van Hill, one of the hustling young farmers of the Idlewild neighborhood, was in town last Friday evening, and he left at the Farm Bureau two hands, samples of his crop of tobacco, these samples are extra fine and as good as ever grew out of the dirt. Mr. Hill thinks he will have about 1800 pounds, but he does not claim that it is all as good as the samples.

Many of our readers are just now thinking of what to give their friends or relatives for a Christmas present. Why not send them the RECORDER? It will hit the spot and the sensation will last for a whole year—fifty-two weeks. It will be like a letter from home.

Up to the present time very few auto owners have applied at the County Clerk's office for their 1923 auto license—only eight having been issued up to Saturday last. Better get them before the rush.

Eugene Stephens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stephens, of Bullittsville neighborhood, who enlisted in the Navy several weeks ago, left last Friday for Hampton Roads.

Old Miss Winter, of Medicine Hat, has been visiting in this community for the past few days, and her presence gave everybody the "shivers."

The taxpayers of Boone county made a grand rush on the Sheriff's office the last few days before the penalty was attached.

Hubert Rouse, who was nearly a quite sick last week, is able to be up and around again.

Do your Christmas shopping early you please.

Only ten more

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING BURLEY FOR MARKET GIVEN

Growers Urged To Take Plenty of Time In Stripping Their Tobacco, as And Grading It Before Delivery To Association.

Lexington, Ky. — Instructions to members of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association in regard to the stripping and preparing of their tobacco for delivery have been approved by Director of Warehouses Ralph M. Barker of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association and will be sent to all members of the organization.

The instructions, in full, are as follows: "When your tobacco comes in case while hanging in the barn and you are ready to take it down, you will find that some of the tobacco is somewhat drier, either in color, texture or size, and when ready to take it down, separate by sticks and this will be of great help to you when stripping as it will give you more time to strip the poor quality and place them in their respective grades and in this way four grades will be uniform and even.

"Take plenty of time to make a first-class job of stripping. You do not have to rush your head off to get your tobacco in the market. On certain days, as the association grading and advance is one and the same every day, as the association grading and advance is one and the same every day in the season. Wait until your tobacco is in proper case before taking it down. We want to warn you against mixing the grades on the same stick; always keep every grade on its own stick, never get the same grades (or families) mixed in the hand or bundle. The association has divided the tobacco into even grades (or families) as follows:

Grade A—Flies or bottom ragged leaves.
Grade B—Trash just above your flyings.
Grade C—Lugs or the thin bright solid tobacco from which cigarette wrappers are picked.
Grade D—Bright leaf for smoking or chewing and from which heavy wrappers are picked.
Grade E—Red leaf for chewing.
Grade F—Tips for smoking or chewing.
Grade G—Green.

"You want to know when you look at a leaf of tobacco to which grade or family it belongs. Be especially careful to keep all damaged tobacco. The nearest you can possibly strip tobacco to itself and all green to itself, and handle your tobacco, the more money it will bring. Tie your tobacco neatly in medium sized bundles and straighten out each hand as you place it on the stick and when the stick is placed in the bulk have a nice wide board with which to straighten out and press it down smoothly.

"Always keep your bulk well covered to prevent drying, dust, etc. When you are ready to deliver your tobacco, go carefully through your bulk and lay out each grade to itself. Then load it on the wagon on the sticks, placing a marker between each grade.

"Should you have to ship in hogsheads, be careful to keep the tobacco straight and keep separate by plenty of paper. Under no circumstances take tobacco off the stick to load it. It not only can be handled easier, but will look much better and will grade higher. Never take wet tobacco to the market. You can dry it much easier at home than at the delivering point.

"The sole object of the association is to help you make money out of your tobacco. Your co-operation in careful grading, neatly handling and delivering, will go a long way in helping to attain this object. If you desire any information, call on your grader at your delivering point and he will cheerfully give you same."

WILL GIVE TWO PLAYS

The Hebron High School will give two plays Thursday night, Dec. 21, "Billy's Aunt Jane" and "That Awful Aunt." These are both good High School plays and will furnish plenty of amusement and laughs. They will be given at the Hebron Picture Show. Admission 25 cents. Everybody come.

The intermediate grades will also give a play Friday afternoon Dec. 22nd. Admission free.

ENTERTAINMENT

There will be a drama in four acts, entitled "The Deacon's Tribulations," given at the colored Baptist church, Burlington, Ky., Saturday evening, Dec. 16th, under the auspices of the church. All are invited to attend. Proceeds for the benefit of the church.

Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, Instructor.

Gov. Morrow pardoned Stanley Robinson of the jail sentence for violating the prohibition laws of the State.

History is a good thing, but some of the eggs they put over at this time of year have too much of it.

Now that Minnitsa has sent a dentist to the Senate, we look for legislation with teeth in it!

RADIO RALF AND HIS FRIENDS---

TAXPAYERS PROTEST FREE USE OF ROADS BY AUTO TRUCKS

Pledging themselves not to vote or support candidates who disregard their petition, the tax payers of Burnett, Wis., in special meeting recently adopted resolutions asking the county board to discontinue appropriating money to repair and keep open roads for motor bus lines used as common carriers. The resolution says that if motor bus owners wish to operate, they should keep open the roads the same as electric companies and railroads do.

The truck is not bearing its share of the upkeep of the public highways which it uses. It therefore has an advantage over the railroad, which must buy and maintain its own right of way and pay taxes in addition. The public must eventually decide whether it will continue to pay taxes for rebuilding the roads which the motor truck is a principal factor in destroying or whether it will make this new method of transportation stand its proper share of the cost of highways and thus place the competition with railroads on a fair basis. Then both these methods of transportation would develop along sound economic lines. The country needs both railroad and motor truck transportation, and to permit one, an unfair advantage, to check the growth of the other would be short-sighted policy.

The public is beginning to realize the injustice of taxing railroads and electric lines to aid motor trucks that compete with them as carriers. Trucks use the public highways and their heavy traffic wears out the roads. The maintenance cost of state highways in New England, is said to have advanced from $100 per mile to $1500 per mile since motor vehicles came into general use.—Ex.

Many people in the cities and manufacturing towns have noted the recent election returns with a puzzled feeling, and they can not understand the reason why a large part of the farmers have broken over the customary party trances and have uttered a voice of protest.

These people should take note that the farmers and with them all the people in country towns who depend on farmer prosperity, are menaced with a "dreadful" fancy. The things they have to buy continue at high prices, probably on an average 60 per cent above pre-war prices. Meanwhile the things they have to sell have fallen very much more, to an average of perhaps 25 per cent above pre-war prices. Here is a condition that is absolutely unsound and makes the business of the farmer in a disturbed condition. The farmer whose bushel of wheat or potatoes will go so short a distance compared with purchasing power in 1913, is up against it. He can not buy his customary supplies. The factories that supply his needs can not do good business with his purchasing power so depressed.

Legislation can not cure all these evils. But it could do much. An adequate system of rural credits would permit the farmer to hold his crops until the best time to sell them, instead of dumping them on the market all in a heap and letting the speculator take the profits. Adequate taxation of great fortunes also will help relieve the burden of the assessments on the ordinary citizen.

The scales of transportation and factory labor ought to come down to the point where merchandise can be manufactured and transported for a price that the country people can pay. Until this is done, business is likely to run by fits and starts, and the manufacturing centers must suffer from the difficulties that lead the country folks to curtail their purchase of commodities.

Indianapolis, Ind. — "The service men of the old country will praise the American Legion and bless your people, a people in the midst of whom was signed a sacred resolution by which those who united in brotherhood won in the war, have firmly resolved to win peace," Chas. Bertrand, president of the Interallied Veterans' Association, stated in a recent message.

Alvin Oweley, national commander of the American Legion, M. Bertrand, a member of the French Chamber of Deputies, recently returned to France after attending the conference of his organization at New Orleans.

Now that Minnitsa has sent a dentist to the Senate, we look for legislation with teeth in it!

HEMPFLING-BENTHAM

On the evening of Saturday Dec. 2nd, a very beautiful wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Hempfling, near Taylorport, when their only daughter, Anita Florence, became the bride of Mr. Harold W. Bentham, of Baltimore, Md.

Mrs. A. E. Bentham sweetly sang "O, Promise Me," at the conclusion of which Mrs. Liston Hempfling softly played Lohengrin's wedding march during which the bride party entered the room preceded by little Miss Lena Frances Bentham, very dainty in white georgette over pink satin, as flower girl, followed by Master Vaughn Hempfling in black satin bolero suit with white frills, as ring bearer. Mr. Chas. Hempfling as best man, and the groom in the conventional black dress suit, next entered the room, followed by the bride on the arm of her father. She was robed in bridal satin and pearls, wearing a veil of tulle with pearls and orange blossoms and carrying a shower bouquet of bridal roses.

Miss Elsie Groeniger in sunburst taffet, carrying pink roses, acted as bridesmaid.

Before a background of flowers and ferns, Rev. Geo. A. Royer performed the impressive marriage ceremony, using the double ring service.

After the congratulations had been received a buffet dinner was served to the large number of relatives and friends present. Numerous beautiful presents were received.

The happy couple will make their home in Baltimore where the groom is engaged in business.

WHAT KENTUCKY NEEDS

The Democrats elected the Governor in Kansas at the recent election, because their candidate stood for a definite programme and did not belong to the class of professional office holders that has practically destroyed public confidence in both political parties. Jonathan Davis is the name of the new Kansas Governor, and his first public utterance after the election is as follows:

"I am determined that the taxes must come down in this State. That's the main thing I am thinking about. Taxes are too high and the burden is too great on the farmers. Our farmers are poor; they have been hit. They cannot afford to pay high taxes. The very life is being ground out of them.

"I am not under obligations to any Democratic or Republican politicians. I want you to get that. I am not under promise and I am not under obligations. They didn't win the election for me. They didn't elect me. The farmers of this State elected me and I am under obligations only to fulfill my pledge to them.

"I am not obligated to any politician or set of politicians. This is one election in which the politicians cut a mighty small figure. I want you to remember that."

SUNDAY SCHOOL PRESENTS

Tradition says that the kids all turn out to Sunday School for about a month before Christmas, anxious to establish a record sufficient so they can get their regular present off the tree with the chance of a candy bag thrown in. It may seem unwise to some to hire the kids to study the Bible by Christmas gifts. But the Sunday school workers know quite well that a little jackknife or doll present once a year has a wonderful effect to increase the interest of the children in their lesson books.

Anyone who ever saw the open mouths of the youngsters as they gaze at an illuminated tree, or their intense expectancy and pure joy when the gifts are handed out, would hardly deny them that moment of jubilee. This is a critical age of course, and some pampered youngsters scoff at the gifts of the church tree. But the increased attendance at this time of year shows that even these trifling gifts do something to open a child's heart.

Mr. LaFollette says he is willing to scrap both the old parties. Also he might have added, he is still willing to scrap with both of them.

BE - A - HILL - CUSTOMER - IT - PAYS

Good Things for Christmas

Chocolate Drops, pound.....	20c
Cocanut Bon Bons, lb.....	25c
Honey Comb Taffy, lb.....	25c
Radiant Fancy Mixed, lb.....	22c
Xmas Hard Mixed, lb, 17c, 3 lbs.....	50c
Peanut Brittle, lb.....	20c
Twist Stick Candy, lb.....	20c
Chocolate Creams, lb.....	35c
5 Pound Box.....	$1.50
Schraffts Fancy Chocolate, lb., 50c
5 Pound Box.....	$2.25
Cocanut Clusters, lb.....	30c
Buntes Hard Mixed and Fancy Filled
.....40 and 50c lb
Seeded Raisins, 15 oz. pkg.....	16c
Seedless Raisins, 15 oz. pkg.....	17c

Nuts! Nuts!!

All New Mixed Nuts, lb.....	20c
No. 1 Calif. Soft Shell Walnuts, lb.....	32c
Large Brazils lb.....	20c
Large Filberts, lb.....	20c
California Almonds, lb.....	25c
Pecans, lb.....	25c
Paper Shell Pecans, lb.....	60c
Shelled English Walnuts, lb.....	85c
Shelled Pecans, lb.....	$1.20
Shelled Almonds, lb.....	70c
Fresh Cocanuts, each.....	10c
Recleaned Currants, 15 oz. pkg.....	25c
Dromedary Dates, pkg.....	20c

CALIFORNIA LAYER FIGS, lb.....	30c
FANCY LAYER RAISINS, lb.....	45c
LONDON LAYER RAISINS, lb.....	17c
CLUSTER RAISINS, lb.....	25c

CANDIED CITRON, lb.....	60c
LEMON & ORANGE PEEL, lb.....	30c
CANDIED CHERRIES, box.....	25c
CANDIED PINEAPPLE, lb.....	75c

Oranges, Grape Fruit, and Apples by the Box, Bananas by the Bunch. WRITE FOR PRICES.

Fancy Rome Beauty Apples, per boy. $2.25 Fancy Baldwins Apples, der bbl. $5.25 Write for Special Prices on Candies in quantities for Churches and Schools.

Cigars, Cigarettes & Smoking Tobacco

STRAUS No. 9 CIGARS, Box of 50.....	$3.25
NICKLE FORD CIGARS, Box of 50.....	$2.00
CIGARETTES IN CARTONS OF 200.
Camels.....	$1.25
Omars.....	$1.85
Chesterfield.....	$1.40
Clowns.....	$1.10
Lucky Strike.....	$1.30
Beechnut.....	$1.15
Fatimas.....	$1.75
Piedmont.....	$1.40
111's.....	96c doz

Northern Kentucky's LA OC

The State Board of Health last week mailed to the County Clerk of every county in Kentucky nine volumes of the birth and death directory of this State from 1911 to 1916. These volumes, containing the names of every child born in Kentucky and of every person who died in the state during the period covered, were received by the County Clerk of Boone county. More than 500,000 names in all are enrolled in them.

These volumes were mailed out by the State Board of Health in compliance with an act of the General Assembly which specified that, after the directory had been compiled from the archives of the State Board of Health, each County Clerk should be furnished with a copy, which that official is required to keep as part of the permanent archives of his office. Work on the next five year period now is well advanced, and according to J. F. Blackerby, State Registrar of Vital Statistics, volumes covering these years will be supplied the county clerk some time next year.

The purpose of the General Assembly in requiring one copy of this directory to be furnished every county in the State, Mr. Blackerby said, was to provide accurate, authoritative information in convenient locations on births and deaths that can be used in such matters as settling estates, applications for passport, and fixing of exact age in connection with entering and leaving school. The importance of such information, he added, was revealed by the World War, and Kentucky is taking a distinctly forward step in making it available to its citizens.

Immediately upon his return from Washington, we are informed, ex-Senator Newberry bought a new automobile. We feel safe in asserting, however, that it was not a Ford.

Goodrich "STRAIGHT-LINE" Rubber Footwear

Public Approval Follows Honest Quality!

That accounts for the great popularity of Goodrich Rubber Footwear. The Rubber is tougher and stronger, the workmanship expert, half a century of rubber experience enters into it, none but perfect goods leave the factory. All these things explain the remarkable service you always get from a Goodrich Gaiter, Arctic, Rubber Boot or Overshoe.

Manufactured by The Goodrich Rubber Co., Akron, O. If your dealer cannot supply you write for the name of your nearest dealer.

All obituaries, card of thanks and all other matter, not news, must be paid for at 5 cents per line.

Bullittsburg Baptist Church.

J. W. CAMPBELL, Pastor.
Sunday School every Sunday at 10:00 a. m.
Regular preaching services on the First and Third Sundays in each month at 11:00 a. m.

Boone Co. Lutheran Pastorate

REV. GEO. A. ROYER, Pastor.
Sunday Dec. 17th
Hopesful 9:30 a. m., Sunday school.
Hopesful 7 p. m., Luther League.
Heron 9:30 a. m., Sunday school.
Heron 10:30 a. m., Holy Communion.
Heron 7 p. m., Luther League.

Burlington Baptist Church

REV. W. W. ADAMS, Pastor.
Regular mid-week prayer meeting Wednesday 7 p. m.
Bible School 10 a. m.
Regular Worship hour, Sunday 11 a. m., Dec. 17th. Sermon subject: "The Truth in Luke 7:28." B. Y. P. U. at 6 p. m.
Regular Worship at 7 p. m. Sermon subject: "The Christ Without a Home."
Christmas Tree and Program Saturday night Dec. 23rd.
ALL INVITED

Boone Co. Christian Pastorate

REV. C. C. OMER, Pastor.
Sunday Dec. 17th.
Pt. Pleasant—
Bible School 10:00 a. m.
Preaching 11:00 a. m.
Bullittsville—
Bible School 10:00 a. m.

Owners of War Savings Stamps should call at their bank and sign same so that they may be collected.

J. C. Gordon will attend the Convention of School Superintendents at Frankfort, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Howard Kelly had a very large growth removed from the side of his neck, one day last week. Dr. Yelton performed the operation.

The rain of last week gave the farmers a chance to bulk their tobacco and a great deal of it will be stripped in the next few weeks.

W. B. Hall and wife, who have been living on the Grace Scott farm on the Bellevue pike the past year, have moved to Covington for the winter.

The Flappers are again doing their best by wearing flopping overshoes to assure their friends that they do not know any more than is good for them.

Mrs. Sarah Carpenter and granddaughter, Miss Bessie Baldon, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Carpenter at their home out on the Petersburg pike.

A good sized crowd attended court Monday—at one time there were over sixty autos parked on the streets, but the crowd kept in the furnace heated rooms at the court house.

The fact that our hearts are thrilled by the endurance manifested by the Smyrna refugees, does not prove we can muster up our courage to go to the dentists.

C. Scott Chambers, undertaker, of Walton, was having distributed among his friends in Burlington, on Monday, one of the most unique Scripture Text Calendars for the year 1923, we have seen.

Local merchants have been busy the past week making holiday displays. Not in a long time have we seen a greater variety or a better selected display of gifts than that shown by Burlington merchants.

John Baldon and wife, who were called here last week on account of the serious illness of Mrs. Baldon's mother, Mrs. Susan Kirkpatrick, left for their home at Bowling Green, Monday evening. Mrs. Kirkpatrick being some better.

W. W. Grimalsey, one of the old citizens of the southern part of the county, was in attendance at court Monday. For many years he made his home at Hamilton, but is now living at Walton where he has been making his home for the past three or four years. His four sons have made his step unsteady and father time has frosted his locks, yet his smile and word of cheer are as refreshing as ever.

Word reached here Monday morning that our old friend, P. T. Fall, formerly of Union, had died at his home at Alexandria, Ind., Sunday night, where he had been living for the past twenty years or more. We did not learn any of the particulars. "Phillip" for many years was the Union correspondent for the Recorder.

His widow, who was Miss Jennie Riley, daughter of the late Henry Riley and wife, and four children, have the sympathy of a host of relatives and friends in this county, in their bereavement.

BOONE CIRCUIT COURT.

The December term of the Boone Circuit Court convened Monday with Judge Sidney Gaines presiding. Sheriff B. B. Hume, with his deputies were on hand to see to the juries and serve processes, while Commonwealth Attorney J. J. Howe and County Attorney B. H. Riley were there to prosecute all evil-doers.

The grand jury was empaneled, and the court carried over phase of the statutes in his instructions. The grand jury is composed of twelve of Boone's best citizens, and can be depended upon to do their full duty, and is made up as follows:

GRAND JURY

Herbert Grant, E. A. Martin, Alonzo Beemon, Chas. Snelling, Chester Tanner, J. H. Walton, J. G. Jones, W. E. Connelly, Charles Finnell, J. W. Rice, J. C. Brown, Perciles Grubbs. After Judge Gaines' lengthy charge to the grand jury the petit juries were empaneled, and the court was ready for business.

PETIT JURIES

No. 1—L. D. McGlasson, Cad Sullivan, J. H. Feely, W. L. Presser, Owen Allen, W. A. Brown, Jno. W. Satchwell, P. J. Allen, R. E. Eddins, B. C. Gaines, Joe Eskridge, R. B. Parsley, No. 2—Marvin Hudson, G. B. Yates, Lon Wilson, Charles Riley, Geo. R. Finn, Owen Blankenbaker, Ben Panch, Jameson Aylor, Allen Goodridge, W. F. Grant, C. H. Algine, H. R. Dixon.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. J. G. Adkins was called for trial Monday afternoon. Adkins is charged with shooting with intent to kill Frank Norman. The Commonwealth is represented by Commonwealth's Attorney Jno. J. Howe and County Attorney B. H. Riley, and John L. Vest represented the defendant. This jury trying the case is composed of Geo. R. Finn, Jas. Estridge, J. R. Eddins, Lon Wilson, P. J. Allen, Cad Sullivan, J. W. Satchwell, B. C. Gaines, Charles Riley, Owen Allen, L. D. McGlasson, G. B. Yates, Adkins was found guilty by the jury Tuesday afternoon and fined $300.

John Ertel was fined $200 and given 30 days jail sentence for making whiskey. Cash Slater was fined $75 and given 30 days in jail for transportation liquor.

"THE OLD NEST" MUCH LIKED.

A very large crowd viewed the "Old Nest" at the Burlington Theatre last Friday night, and were much pleased with the show. On next Friday night Manager Berkshire will present to the patrons "A Voice in the Dark," featuring Irene Rich. A mystery melodrama that will hold every spectator tense in his seat until the last moment.

James W. Huey of Union, has returned from the poultry show at the Copley Chicago. Over 5,000 birds were exhibited and Mr. Huey was the only exhibitor who captured two first premiums. He took first on his Barred Rock exhibit cockerel and 1st on Exhibit Pullet. The birds exhibited by Mr. Huey were in competition with the largest and best breeders of Barred Rocks in the country. The premiums were won by Mr. Huey's exhibit show that his Barred Rock birds are the best that can be produced.

BEN L. STEPHENS, DEAD

Ben L. Stephens, aged 59 years, passed away at Speers hospital, Dayton, Ky., Saturday morning, Dec. 9, following an operation. Funeral services in charge of Venus Lodge No. 164, of Odd-Fellows were held at the grave in the family cemetery at two o'clock Monday afternoon in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and friends. For the past year Mr. Stephens had lived at the Conrad farm near Devon. He is survived by three sons, four daughters, one brother and three sisters. Undertaker Philip Taliaferro of Erlanger, had charge of the funeral arrangements.

A CARD OF THANKS.

Resolved that we the members of Burlington Baptist church wish to express our sincere thanks to friends, not members of our church, for their appreciation of the kindly spirit shown towards us and thank them for the assistance in labor, money and other things rendered us in building the basement to our church. We cordially invite them to meet with us in all our services and help us to make possible the fulfillment of the purpose of our work, namely: "The Glory of God." The salvation of the lost and the uplift of our town and community.

Done by order of the church Dec. 9th, 1922.

L. T. CLORE, Clerk.

Born to Harold Gaines and wife on Sunday, Dec. 18, a fine boy.

FOR SALE ETC

For Sale—Fifty S. C. Rhode Island Red cockerels. First class birds. $2.50 each. Hubert Conner, Hebron, Ky. 1t—pd

For Sale—Drop Head Singer sewing machine in good condition. Mrs. B. C. Gaines, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 1. o21dec—pd

FOR SALE

1922 Ford Touring starter and demountable rims. Five months old. Has been run 300 miles, same as new. Spare tire.....$350.00
1917 Ford Touring.....$100.00
1919 Dodge Touring. Four new tires. Excellent condition.....$400.00
1921 Ford Coupe.....$350.00
DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO.
Erlanger, Ky.
Phone Erlanger 70-L.

T. E. McHenry, the Singer Man is offering special inducements for the holiday trade on all the different styles of Singer Sewing Machines. A liberal discount will be given from now until January 1st, 1923, on all sales Cash or Time. See or call Farmers phone, Florence, Ky. o21dec—2t

For Sale—Two spring heifer spring calves, 7 and 8 months old, dairy breed. J. J. Tanner, Florence, Ky. 1t—pd

For Sale—Some nice Rhode Island Red cockerels. $2.00 each. Mrs. E. L. Hickman, Burlington, Ky. 1t

Wanted—A good Poland China Boar, weight about 100 or 150 lbs. Please call Mr. John Binder, Sr., Union, Ky., R. D. 1. Beaver 255.

For Sale—Three pieces old fashioned furniture. W. F. Grant, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 2. o21dec—2tpd

For Sale—Lot good Locust posts. Van Hill, Idlewild, Ky.

We give 20 per cent cash discount or to reliable parties of the regular retail price on Columbia Grafonolas, Starr Grand Pianos, Upright Pianos, Player Pianos and Striped Phonographs. Free delivery made anywhere. Write for catalog. RICE PIANO CO., Aurora, Indiana. o-jan1

For Sale—2½ acres of land, good land, about ¼ mile west of Burlington on Bellevue and Burlington pike. N. E. Riddell, Burlington, Ky.

Farm Tool Service Station News. Are you ready for spring? Why not place your order for screen doors NOW? We make screen doors to your measurements, which means you do not have to cut your doors to pieces to make them fit, like you did the doors you bought ready made. Come in and look at some of the styles we make. Get ready for spring! prompt service, bring your weapons repairing to us. "We do the people's work" CONNER & KRAUS "The Big Shop" Florence, Ky.

WANTED

Hay to bale. Prices reasonable. P. H. Mathews, Bullittsville, Ky. Phone 203-x 29june tf

Lost—Nov 27th, black and white speckled female hound, 6 years old. Kindly notify L. A. Conner, Burlington, Ky.—reward. 2t pd

Wanted—Man to work on farm by the day or month to raise tobacco; house and garden furnished. H. L. McGlasson, Hebron, Ky. dec1tf

For Sale—Lot Kelly's Favorite and Pippin apples—$1.50 and $1.25 a bushel. Fannie Easton, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 1. 2t—pd

For Sale—4-room house and lot, poultry house and run, new oilstern, near Burlington, Ky. Sell cheap—terms if desired. R. H. Walker, Latonia, Ky., R. R. 3, box 62. dec-7

We have rented batteries that will fit any car while we are recharging or repairing your battery. DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO., Erlanger, Ky.

NOTICE

All persons having claims against the Road Fund for the year 1922, are requested to present them to the undersigned by Dec. 30th, 1922, as I would like to make a settlement with the county the first of the year. O. R. PORTER, County Road Engineer.

Gifts of tilty, gifts of utility—Gifts in which beauty and usefulness share; Gifts—not to feast the eyes; But gifts to utilize; Gifts in which service lies; gifts of HARDWARE. We read these lines not long ago, and thinking they contained a most useful Xmas gift suggestion, we pass them on to you. Think a moment of all the useful things one may buy at "THE HARDWARE STORE." Come in and let us show you some. Only NINE more shopping days. Hardware & Specialty Co., Hope Conner, Mgr., Florence, Ky.

For Sale—Two year old Holstein bull. Well bred, dehorned, ringed. A fine individual. Splendid breeder and A1 in every respect. Two six months old roan Shorthorn bull calves. Mammoth Broads Turkeys and Toulouse geese. Ira Aylor, Union, Ky.

For Sale—Cow with two weeks old calf by her side. J. S. Eggleston, Ludlow, Ky., R. D. 2.

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

HEAP O' TIMES DE TROUBLE BOUT A MAN IS, WEN HE GIT T'BE A LIL WHIRL-WIN' ROUN' HOME HE
MAGINE HES A HARRICANE
BLOWIN' ALL OVH DE COUNTRY!

Copyright, 1921 by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

By Dr. J. S. Lock

(Secretary of the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association)

How certainly the fight for health and against tuberculosis is going forward to victory is told in the official reports of the Bureau of Vital Statistics of Kentucky. The death rate from tuberculosis has been cut from 229 for each 100,000 of population in 1911 to the unprecedented low figure of 129 per 100,000 in 1921. Had the high rate of 1911 prevailed there would have been 5,440 deaths from the white plague last year instead of 3,135.

The National Tuberculosis Association some fifteen years ago put out a Christmas seal to be sold at a penny a piece to interest the public in a great nationwide effort to stamp out tuberculosis. This little penny Christmas stamp stands today as the great champion of health and the enemy of the "Great White Plague." It has been the means of interesting more people in the cause of tuberculosis prevention and good health than any one thing.

Financial returns from the annual seal sales have not been large, but the results have been tremendous and far-reaching exceeding the fondest hopes of those who conceived this splendid means of financing the warfare against tuberculosis. Sanatoriums have been built, nursing service established, laws enacted requiring the reporting of tuberculosis and the care of consumptives, as a result of the educational work which was fostered by seal sale.

It ought to be a crime to allow more than 3,000 of the most productive and necessary people of Kentucky to die each year from tuberculosis. The message of the 1922 Christmas seal is to carry on the fight for health. Every seal you buy and every seal you use on your Christmas mail helps. Buy Christmas seals and become a member of the victorious crusade.

A bank at Montpelier, Indiana, has done a very progressive thing this fall in distributing to farmers 150 pure bred gilts, each farmer receiving one of these animals agreeing to return two of the same in a year's time. Arrangements are made for the proper breeding and care of these animals.

It is hoped that the introduction of one pure bred hog on a farm will be the influence that will change the entire herd to a pure bred one, and eventually make the county a pure bred county. It is hoped to advertise this undertaking extensively and attract eventually buyers from other counties and states will come there. Business men in a good many localities are moving to introduce pure bred stock, and more efforts of this kind in Kentucky would do a lot to advance the prosperity of our commonwealth.

It isn't always the man with the biggest mouth that makes the loudest noise. It requires lungs to do that. And it isn't always the man with the biggest head that has the most intelligence. Some heads are merely flesh and bone plus nothing.

Total of 10,000,000 persons in the United States do not speak English.

FOR SALE

110 acres land known as Samuel Dobbins farm. Apply to Jas. M. Dobbins, Richmond, Ky. o28dec—3t

For Sale—Practically new Brown ball-bearing heavy duty car. Both in A1 condition. M. Markland, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 3. (Francesville). 1t

For Sale—Hampshire boar fourteen months old, weigh about 250 pounds. C. L. Gaines, Florence, Ky., R. D. Phone Burlington 318. 1t—pd

For Sale—A wood and coal heater in Nr. 1 condition, will take on a large fire stick of wood or coal. Lloyd McGlasson, Constance, Ky. o21dec2t—pd

NOTICE

My auto will make daily trips to the city during the holidays—via Waterloo. Dec. 14—1f M. B. RICE

CAR SENSE

Spend
a Dollar
and
Save
Ten

Little defects grow into big ones in time if not corrected.

The correction of a small defect in its early stages costs but little.

When left until it grows into serious proportions its correction runs into money.

That is what makes the maintenance of a car so expensive to many people—neglecting the little things until they grow into big ones.

The better—the safer—the more economical way is to see the garage man at the first warning of trouble.

Today is always a good time to have it done.

EDDINS BROTHERS

TIRES, TUBES AND ACCESSORIES.

Burlington, Kentucky.

BRAKE BAND OIL—Guaranteed to stop Ford bands from chattering. Agents for U. S. and Ajax Tires.

Established 1886.

A Bank Account

IS ONE OF THE FIRST STEPPING STONES TO SUCCESS IN LIFE.
How are You Stepping!
This bank invites young men and women especially to open savings accounts. Officials of the bank are pleased at all time to give the benefit of their experience to customers and others who seek advice. When in doubt come to this bank. Your success means greater success for us.

Has it ever occurred to you that a checking account is a very convenient thing to have?

Boone Co. Deposit Bank

Burlington, Kentucky.

N. E. RIDDELL, President W. D. CROPPER, Cashier
W. A. GAINES, Vice. Pres. G. S. KELLY, Asst. Cashier.

COURTESY SERVICE STABILITY

Making a Selection.

In making a banking connection be sure that you select a bank that is large enough and strong enough to care for your every need in stormy as well as fair weather.

THIS—THE LARGEST BANK IN THE COUNTY—OFFERS YOU THIS KIND OF A BANKING CONNECTION.

Capital and Surplus, $150,000.00

4 per cent and the Taxes paid on Deposits.
We do business for our customers.

Peoples Deposit Bank

Burlington, Ky.

W. L. B. ROUSE, President. C. H. YOEUELL, Vice-President.
A. B. RENAKER, Cashier.
Neil H. Martin, Asst. Cashier. L. C. Beemon, Asst. Cashier.

Petersburg Theatre

At Petersburg, Kentucky

Saturday Night, Dec. 16th.

"A Voice in the Dark"

FEATURING IRENE RICH:

A mystery Melo-drama that will hold every spectator tense in his seat until the last moment.

At Burlington, Kentucky,

Friday Night, Dec. 15th.

CHILDREN 10c. ADULTS 25c

War Tax Included Will Begin promptly at 7:30

HEBRON THEATRE-- Next Saturday

WILLIAM FARNUM in

"A STAGE ROY"

At St. John in "Fast a"

Admission 22 Cents, 33

955

War Tax It, 550

ARE YOU A READER
If Not Try KENTUCKY

70-L

As the Editor Sees It.

BRINGING THE SPANGLED LEG

Will the campaign for foreign propaganda never cease?

We are severely criticised because we do not open our money bags and pour their contents into the bankrupt treasuries of Europe.

We are importuned and wheedled to cancel the billions of war debts due us from our late allies.

We are charged with deserting them because we are not willing to embroil ourselves in the tangled affairs of the nations across the seas.

We are denounced as war profiteers because we sold to the late victors in the war the munitions and supplies with which they prosecuted that war—and they were sold upon the insistent plea of those nations.

We are told that it is our duty to come to the aid of civilization—but with gold in our hands.

And now comes the Greek nation with a demand that we shut down our immigration bars and open our doors to a million and a half of Greek refugees from Constantinople and Asia Minor.

God forbid!

It is because of the presence of a many foreign malcontents in this country that we are in a constant state of internal turmoil, with the shadow of bolshevistic revolution and plunder always hovering as a menace in the background.

Admiral from a million and a half direct from the hotbed of intrigue and fanaticism?

Never!

Men and women of foreign birth who have come to us in the past and have proven themselves to be good citizens are welcome, and we extend to them the hand of fellowship and good will.

But they constitute a sufficiency.

If Greece needs aid in feeding her own people who are forced by circumstances to return to their native land, we will extend that aid in the same manner that we have been doing it in various countries in the past—through the Red Cross and other such agencies.

No one can charge the U. S. with being niggardly in feeding and clothing the hungry and naked of foreign lands. Even as this editorial is being written, our food and our clothing and our gold are being sent abroad in great quantities for this very purpose, and hundreds of thousands are being saved from starvation.

This we are glad to do, because it is an act of humanity.

But we are eternally opposed to the wholesale admission of a horde of refugees who have been reared amidst blood, butchery and backery. That would be an act of insanity.

Let the Greek nation house its own refugees, and if necessary we will aid in feeding and clothing them until they can become self sustaining.

But no more! The volcano of discontent is becoming hot under our feet as it is. We will not knowingly kick off the lid.

American rights will be respected only so long as the American people stand up for their rights. This is a good fact to keep in mind when we send our representatives to Washington.

We admire a man who is strong on civic pride. Such a man, or woman, is a distinct asset to any community.

Too often a town suffers because its citizens immerse themselves in the business of making money, to the utter exclusion of all other considerations.

Always there are a few who believe in improving local conditions. Through their efforts a certain amount is accomplished, but uniform improvement is only brought about when the people as a body are willing to co-operate to that end.

Conditions in our own community would be better, and life would be brighter, if all of our people had the spirit of local improvement, and the will to put it into practice.

Why not?

Again we suggest that it is time to look over the field and see if there is any one in our midst who is likely not to be remembered on Christmas day.

If there are any such persons the spirit of humility and brotherly love which Christ taught should prompt us to put joy into their hearts on the great day of days.

To him that hath not should be given.

How many of the children who receive their toys on Christmas day will understand why those toys are theirs, at that particular time? church, Burlington understand that evening, Dec. 16th, the birth of Jesus of the church. No Christmas attend. Proceeds for toys? the church.

Mrs. Elizabeth came into town and went out.

Gov. Morrow pardoned may Robinson of the jail sentence day late the prohibition laws in State.

History is a good thing, but if the eggs they put over of it.

The birds of the barometer are the birds of the barometer.

Santa Makes Them Happy

BRING THE CHILDREN AND LET THEM SEE WHAT

SCALNATUAS

HAS LEFT HERE.

I HAVE A LARGER LINE OF TOYS THIS YEAR THAN I HAVE EVER HAD BEFORE, SUCH AS

Dolls, Dishes, Toy Furniture, Wagons, Sleds, Air Rifles, Roller Skates, Mechanical Toys and many others.

I ALSO HAVE ALL KINDS OF

Nuts, Oranges, Dates, Figs, Cocoanuts, Oysters, Cranberry Celery, Crackers, and everything it takes to make a Happy X-mas for both Old and Young.

D. R. BLYTHE, Burlington, Ky.

WISHING YOU

A Merry Christmas and Prosperous New Year.

BROADWAY LAID OUT BY INDIANS.

(Christian Science Monitor.)

Many who use the familiar Broadway in New York are ignorant of the fact that this highway follows almost exactly an Indian path, whose somewhat picturesque name was Weckquaesgeek. Recent discoveries have shown, however, that the upper section of this famous street has been in practically continuous use for centuries. It is known that the Indians had a natural genius for path-finding and in this instance it was unusually exemplified, because when modern engineers started to turn the original narrow pathway into a roadway and later into a paved street with tracks and subways the line of the original Indian trail was still preserved as being the best available. To such an extent is this the case, in fact, that, were the modern pavements to be removed, the remains of the original path could still be found.

TANKAGE GONE TWO DAYS HENS LAY 320 EGGS LESS

Lexington, Ky.—Animal protein, fed to hens either in the form of tankage, sour skim milk or semi-solid buttermilk, is a big item in keeping the winter egg basket full, according to results obtained during the year just past by S. J. Howard, a Henderson county farmer living near Corydon. Mr. Howard, along with 46 other farmers scattered over the state, has just completed the records which he kept on his farm flock for the year in cooperation with the extension division of the College of Agriculture to show the value of recommended practices and taking care of them. Being without tankage two days last January caused his flock of 167 White Leghorns to lay 320 eggs less than month than they laid the previous month, according to one of his reports. His flock was the third highest producing one out of the 47 for the year ending Nov. 1, each of his hens having laid an average of 164 eggs during the 12 months.

Money still talks, but the rouble and the mark are so sick they can't speak above a whisper.

CLOVER CROPS SAVE SOIL ON THOUSANDS OF ACRES

(Christian Science Monitor.)

Lexington, Ky.—Reports already received from 16 counties of the state indicate that cover crops this winter will stop soil washing and the leaching away of plant food on thousands of acres of Kentucky farm lands, according to R. E. Stephenson, soils specialist of the College of Agriculture. Despite the fact that this is only the second year in which an intensive cover crop campaign has been put on in the state, the acreage of such crops has made a substantial increase.

In 14 of the 16 counties, farmers have started demonstrations involving close to 19,000 acres of rye alone to show their neighbors how fields can be protected from washing during the winter. This rye will not only prevent soil erosion and leaching losses on the various farms but also will furnish fall, winter and spring pasture and make a food residue to plow under for green manure purposes, thereby putting humus into the soil. Barley also has proved popular as a cover crop, seven counties reporting demonstrations involving 2,800 acres. Barley, like the rye, will protect the soil, furnish grazing and in many cases make a grain crop that can be harvested next spring.

Leaving it to Him.

Doris went to the store the other afternoon for her mother. There was a fish on the list of articles. In answer to the storekeeper's question as to the kind of fish she wanted, Doris replied, "Give me a fish like the one you would pick out to take home."

The Word Pippin.

Pippin is an Anglicized form of the medieval French word pevin, which means need. When an apple lover produced a new variety he called it such-and-such a pevin. Hence the modern term denoting excellence.

Caffeine From Holly.

One species of American holly has been found to contain large amounts of caffeine, as much as one and a half per cent of the drug being obtained from dried leaves.

LOVELY SMALL HATS

Three delightful small hats illustrate the intricate handwork and brilliance of the new season's millinery, in which Persian embroideries embellish rich materials. Lovely feather trimmings and metal ornaments of aluminum or silver tinsel, braid, bead and yarn embroideries, find suitable background in rich velvet or hatters' plush, and in velours or suede-finished cloths.

Geo. Griffith. Barber,

Farmers Ins' Building. Wednesday & Friday Evenings.

Saturday, All Day. Burlington, Kentucky.

We have one man that does nothing but battery work, and he is an expert.

DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO., Erlanger, Ky.

Exchange 1918 War Savings Stamps For Treasury Savings Certificates

COLUMBUS, O.—(Special).—Look up your War Savings Stamps of the 1918 issue, bearing a picture of George Washington and green in color. All such stamps are now being redeemed by the Treasury Department of the United States, as they have run their full course of five years. The stamps may be exchanged at any financial institution or post-office for the new Treasury Savings Certificates immediately. The government, however, will not redeem them in cash until Jan. 1.

Treasury Department figures show that there are $90,000,000 worth of War Savings Stamps held by the people of the Fourth Federal Reserve District. Many of these have been hidden away and perhaps the holders have forgotten about them, so that if you have any recollection of ever buying War Savings Stamps, it would pay you to look them up at this time and see if you own any of the 1918 issue. However, only the green stamps bearing the picture of George Washington are up for redemption at this time.

Beware of Fake Stocks.

War Savings Stamps of the 1918 issue will be accepted at Five Dollars each, face value, in exchange for Treasury Savings Certificates, which will mature five years from Jan. 1, 1923. In the event that the holder of War Savings Stamps does not wish to reinvest with the government, Treasury Department officials are desirous that holders consult with officials of their local financial institutions, so that this money may not be lost through bad investment.

The government calls attention to its War Savings campaign by declaring that the sale of War Savings

Stamps was the greatest lesson in thrift ever taught to the people of the country. Hundreds of persons who had never before bought a government security or saved money became owners of War Savings Stamps, which they have held for five years, thereby not only keeping intact their principal, but securing a generous rate of interest from the government. The government believes that those persons who have held War Savings Stamps for the full period of five years and have seen them steadily grow from the price paid for them in 1918 to their face value of Five Dollars, will readily exchange their stamps for Treasury Savings Certificates, which will increase in value during the next five years in the same manner as have the 1918 War Savings Stamps.

School Savings.

Inasmuch as the school children of the Fourth Federal Reserve District were instrumental in the sale of approximately $25,000,000 worth of the 1918 War Savings Stamps, Vernon M. Riegel, Director of Education for Ohio, has issued an appeal to the boys and girls to continue their reinvestment with the government. "It would be nothing short of tragic if the splendid results of the thrift manifested by the pupils during the war period should now be lost through careless use or misuse of the proceeds," says Riegel.

Treasury Savings Certificates are issued in denominations of $1,000, $500 and $25, costing $480, $485 and $250, respectively. If held for the full period of five years, they yield 4 per cent, compounded semi-annually, and are free of all state and local taxes. Full information can be secured at the local postoffice.

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN, DENTIST

In my new office Clayola Place, Florence, Ky.

Teeth extracted painless. Bridge and Plate Work a Specialty. All Work Guaranteed

JAMES L. ADAMS DENTIST

Cohen Building Pike Street, Covington, Ky.

You Can Trade the Article You Don't Need For Something You Do by Advertising.

RECHARGE ANY BATTERY 75c RENTED BATTERIES FOR ANY MAKE CAR WHILE WE ARE RECHARGING OR REPAIRING YOUR BATTERY. Dempsey Motor Car Co., Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L.

RECHARGE ANY BATTERY 75c RENTED BATTERIES FOR ANY MAKE CAR WHILE WE ARE RECHARGING OR REPAIRING YOUR BATTERY. Dempsey Motor Car Co., Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L.

Geo. Griffith. Barber,

Farmers Ins' Building. Wednesday & Friday Evenings.

Saturday, All Day. Burlington, Kentucky.

We have one man that does nothing but battery work, and he is an expert.

DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO., Erlanger, Ky.

F. W. Kassebaum & Son

GRANITE & MARBLE MONUMENTS,

A Large Stock on Display to Select from. Pneumatic Tool Equipment 118 Main Street, AURORA, IND.

Buggy and Wagon Upholstering

OF QUALITY RUFUS W. TANNER

Auto Top Repairing Seats covers for all makes of cars. Dixie Highway Erlanger, Ky. Phone Erl. 79-Y.

People who use the classified ads in this paper profit by them.

The little ads bring quick results. What have you for sale or want to buy. The cost is too small to consider.

C. H. YOUELL

Farms for Sale At Bargain Prices. Burlington, Ky. Phone Burlington 65

ARE YOU A READER OF THE RECORDER?

Only $1.50 the Year

Subscribe For The Recorder.....$1.50 per year

Take Your County Paper.

BOONE CO. RECORDER

Published every Thursday
N. E. RIDDELL, Publisher.

Foreign Advertising Representative
THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION
Entered at the Postoffice, Burlington, Ky., as second-class mail.

The Recorder Stands For
BETTER FARMING, BETTER CITIZENS, BETTER HOMES

ADVERTISING RATES.
Furnished on application. The value of the RECORDER as an advertising medium is unquestioned. The character of the advertisements now in its columns, and the number of them, tell the whole story.

Corn belt farmers, according to the dean emeritus of the College of Agriculture of the University of Illinois, writing for the Public Ledger of Philadelphia, find it absolutely impossible to get their corn shucked this year—"husked," as the term is in the North—because floating labor will not do the work.

Mr. Davenport explains the situation thus:
The great corn belt always raises more corn than the owners can harvest, depending, like when farmers and broom-corn raisers, upon migratory labor to harvest the crop. The best huskers come from south of the corn belt, but railroad rates have prevented the usual influx from this direction, and the birds of passage that have already gathered in big cities like Chicago for the winter frankly refuse to husk corn. So the farmer husks what he can by his own labor and that which can be picked up, then turns in the pigs, the sheep or the steers to harvest the rest.

How would it do to mix a little of this when making up your Christmas list?

A little more kindness and a little less greed;

A little more giving and a little less greed;

A little more smile and a little less frown;

A little less kicking a man when he's down; A little more "we" and a little less "I"; A little more laugh and a little less cry; A little more flowers on the pathway of life; And fewer on graves at the end of the strife.

That is what we need in this old world. It is what you need and I need and the other fellow needs.

There is not going to be very much difference between the attitude of women voters from that of men voters. There are a great many women qualified to vote who regard voting beneath their social status. There are a great many men indifferent to the discharge of their political obligations. At elections in which issues are more or less important, so far as they are concerned, they vote, and this is going to be characteristic of some women. The nineteenth amendment was not the result of the general demand from the women of this country that they be given the ballot.

Cheneweth Jack, the grand Champion steer at the International Live Stock Exposition, Chicago, last week was auctioned for $125 per pound for Christmas beef. The animal which weighed 1,000 lbs., and which won the honors for its owners, W. J. and B. A. Thomas, of Shelbyville, Ky., was sold to one of the large packers as agents for a local hotel.

Uncle Sam's census takers announce that 10,168 Americans were killed last year in auto and motor vehicle accidents in the death registration district, which includes thirty-four states. That would save us in caution, if it all happened at once, like destruction of a town with 10,168 inhabitants. Coming singly, we do not realize the terrible total. Be careful. Save life.

A fine rain fell in this county on Wednesday and Thursday of last week. Water for both man and beast had become scarce in all sections of the county, and some had been carrying water for some time. The rain is also a great benefit to the small grain sown this fall, and also the grass for pasture.

Booze and that other rose geranium, the saloon, made gains in the election, but nothing to compare with the big noise the "wets" have been keeping up for the last six months with their beer and light wines war dance.

It is reported that checks are now being written for the last distribution to the growers of tobacco who are members of the Burley Marketing Association and it is expected that they will be distributed before the holidays.

Although this fall has been mild and dry, it must be remembered that others have been just as mild and dry during the last 30 years, and several others have exceeded this year's record during the last sixty years.

December brings us snow and ice, and also the closing of the year. But still we think it very nice, because it brings the Xmas cheer.

WASHINGTON COMMENT.

"Reduce the overhead," is a sound maxim for increasing the profits of any business. One way to reduce the overhead is to use the plant or office sixteen hours a day instead of eight, or ten hours a day instead of five. And if the "plant" happens to be a public school, the rule no less holds good.

The community with good school buildings which does not utilize them for some good purpose outside of the normal five hours of school, five days a week, is not making as much profit on its investment in those schools, as might be had.

Many communities use their schools for Americanization purposes in the evenings. There are thousands of foreigners in this country who are eager to be of, as well as in, the land of their adoption. They hunger for American ideas. . . . to transform that hunger into one for American ideals is as fine a work as can be done in a school.

It costs little; if it cost much, it would still be worth it. To take those of alien birth who know nothing of the Stars and Stripes and that they form the flag of America, and teach them that for which it stands—justice, toleration, religious freedom, liberty, safety of person and property, decency, chivalry to the weak, to instruct them in the fundamentals of American history, let them learn of Washington and Lincoln as something else than names; give them a chance to go out in our strenuous economic life fitted to cope with Americans on a basis of mutual Americanism, that is to reduce the overhead on the schools on one hand, and pay great dividends to the State on the other.

Not all foreign-born want to be Americanized. But of those who do, a large number know not which way to turn. The school building, otherwise idle in afternoon and evening, the loyal and enthusiastic American citizen to whom patriotism means something less than a cheer when the flag goes by, acting as instructor . . . these are the means to which he should be able to turn.

In the presence of a throng of Masons, who filled the lodge room of Alexandria-Washington Lodge, No. 22 of Alexandria, Va., the worshipful master and officers of George Washington Lodge, No. 9, of Saint Louis, conferred the Master Mason's degree upon a member of their lodge. Thirty members of George Washington Lodge came to Alexandria for the purpose, and were the guests of the Alexandrians for a day, after which they returned home.

We world needs sentiment. Living as we do a life of hard, practical reality, with the daily chase for the daily meal the outstanding need of us all, we need those institutions which cherish and preserve sentiment.

And here is sentiment at its purest and best. When thirty men take a long journey for the sake of a revered name; when a lodge in St. Louis will travel to Alexandria, because the name of their lodge is George Washington, and George Washington the man was master of Washington-Alexandria Lodge, they have moved, spiritually, a far greater distance, than actually in the flesh. It is a fair example of the power of the Masonic Order over men's hearts; it is because masonry has kept alive the sentiment and the beauty of an idea, rather than of a practical reality, that it has lived and grown and thrived.

The Masonic Order is not eleemosynary in character, though it practices charity; it is no mutual benefit organization, although it is mutually beneficial to its members; it is not a life assurance organization; it offers little if any material, practical assets to its membership. That it is of the greatest use to its members, and a high influence for good in all communities where Freemasons are (a fact which can not well be disputed), comes from its hold upon the hearts and minds of men; as in this instance of its power to make men take a long journey, in reverence and love for the traditions which cluster about the First President of this Union.

Report of the Loose Leaf Tobacco Market in Covington, Ky., by the Kenton Loose Leaf Tobacco Warehouse, up and including December 8th.

Beginning November 27th, two sales sold 79,080 pounds at an average of $27.51 for the week, 43 cents was high and 6c low. Sale December 5th 26,670 pounds; average $28.72. High for the day 60c, low 8c. December 6th 20,230 pounds, average $29.01. High for the day, 52c, low, 8c. December 8th, sold 38,995 pounds; average $29.45. High for the day 43c, low 3c. For the week sold 85,295 pounds at an average of $29.34. High for the week, 60c, low, 3c.

Total to date sold 154,375 pounds; total average to date $28.46. High price to date 60c, low 3c.

From the beginning, market has been good, bidding active and strong tendency upward, as evidenced by the first day's average of $27.03, each day thereafter has shown an improvement.

Condemning the public's indifference to the last election, an indignant editor points out that if everybody had stayed away from the polls, there would have been nobody elected to Congress. That's not a bad idea to remember next election.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas, God in His infinite wisdom has seen fit to call from his earthly home to use for his own glory our dearly beloved brother in Christ Jesus, Walter Scott Walton, and

Resolved, That the members of the Point Pleasant Christian church extend their deepest sympathy to his daughter and other relatives, who held him dear. That we present them with a copy of these resolutions as a memorial of our esteem and sympathy. That acopy of the same be recorded on the pages of our records, and a copy be printed in the Boone County Recorder.

W. Keene Souther,
Edith Carder,
Geneva Souther,
Committee

Whereas, It has been a part of God's plan to take from our midst our dearly beloved sister, Fricer Belle Hood, to use for the glory of Heaven, and whereas the Pt. Pleasant Christian church has lost another one of its pillars of faith, a woman in whom the Christian virtues were exemplified in a high degree, and one whose life of Christian fidelity is helpful to all.

Therefore, Be it resolved that we extend to her aged husband, who is left to mourn her loss, and to all her other friends and relatives our deepest sympathy in their sad bereavement, and that we present to them this expression of our affection and sympathy. That a copy of this testimonial be spread on the church records and a copy printed in the Boone County Recorder.

W. Keene Souther,
Geneva K. Souther,
Edith Carder,
Committee.

Whereas, It has pleased the Almighty God, the Creator of Heaven and earth, and all that in them is to call our dearly beloved brother J. Wood Riggs to that eternal home not made with hands, and

Whereas, We, as a church, have lost one of our most faithful and fearless defenders of the faith, his family a devoted husband, an indulgent father, the community a good neighbor and a loyal citizen, a true Christian gentleman.

Therefore, Be it resolved that we extend to the bereaved family our most sincere and heartfelt sympathy in their sad loss, that we do all in our power to bind up their broken hearts and wipe away the tears. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to them as a token of our love and sympathy, that a copy be spread on the record book of the Point Pleasant Christian church and a copy printed in the Boone County Recorder.

W. Keene Souther,
Edith Carder,
Geneva Souther,
Committee.

LEGION NOTES

Indianapolis, Ind.—The American Legion Auxiliary is of primary importance to the American Legion's plans for civic and patriotic legislation because women now have the ballot. Dr. K. Walter Barrett, president of the Auxiliary, told forty-five state adjutants of the Legion at the opening session of their recent conference there.

"Old-line politicians have found that they must deal with women these days and it is not the most pleasant news in the world for them. Women are especially interested in those board measures which are designed to work toward the betterment of the social state of humanity. The Legion can only rely on the Auxiliary to the limit for the furtherance of these purposes."

Dr. Barrett stated that she was for adjusted compensation for ex-service men "first, last and all the time."

Service to veterans, cooperation with other organizations in civic and worthy enterprises and effective propaganda were named by Claude A. Brown of Little Rock, adjutant of the Arkansas department, as the "best tools" in an address on "How to Sell the American Legion to the Public." Mr. Brown said that "publicity is the N. T. T. of the American Legion" and urged that the Legion posts establish closer relations with the newspapers of their communities. The speaker praised the American Legion Speakers Bureau as an effective medium to bring the Legion's message to the public.

Father William P. O'Connor, Legion national chaplain, recommended a concentrated effort to enroll every chaplain in the Legion, stating that the great influence wielded by the clergy would result in a great increase in Legion membership.

"The small community is the backbone of the Legion," Perry Faulkner, commander of the Indiana department, stated in an address of welcome to the visiting adjutants. He urged that every ex-service man be enrolled in the Legion state adjutants were he persons who did the real work for the Legion.

A visit to national headquarters of the Legion and a dinner and later party held by the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce completed the program for the adjutants for the first day of the conference.

Trade Where They All Trade

Get The Christmas Spirit

Buy from Headquarters

Everything to Make A Happy Christmas.

Candy from 12c to 90c a pound.

Oranges, Tangerines, Grapes, Grapefruit, Apples, Nuts, Cranberries, Mince Meat, Layer Raisins, Figs, Dates, Citron, Plum Pudding, Fruit Cakes, Olives, Shelled Nuts, Crackers, and hundreds of other items. Visit our store when in Covington and get a calendar FREE.

WRITE FOR PRICE LIST OF GOOD THINGS TO EAT.

Send us your orders for anything and be convinced that we can save you money.

Geo. C. Goode
GROCER & SEEDSMAN

19-21 Pike St.

18-20 West Seventh St.

WHOLESALE—"Covington's Largest Seed and Grocery House"—RETAIL

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Phones South 335 and 336.

Battery Service

Which Saves You Money

To deliver long live and economical results, even the finest battery made demands regular attention.

Stop in any time you pass here. It only takes a few moments for one of our experts to test your battery, add distilled water if (necessary) and you can roll on again secure in the knowledge that all is O. K.

If something should be wrong, you will save real dollars and cents in knowing it and having it fixed right away.

And while you are here let us show you a new Gould Dreadnaught Battery. In the National Gould Endurance Contest, Gould Batteries proved their quality by long-life records averaging 4 years and 1 month.

Dempsey Motor Car Co.

Phone Erl. 70-L

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY.

FOR OLD AND YOUNG
Tutt's Liver Pills act as kindly on the delicate female as on the old man as upon the vigorous man.
Tutt's Pills
Tone and strengthen the weak Stomach, Bowels, Kidneys, and Bladder.

Mothers use Frey's Vermifuge For the Children

A Safe Old Fashioned Remedy for Worms

Seventy-five years continuous use is the best testimonial FREY'S VERMIFUGE can offer you.

Keep a bottle always on hand. It will help keep the little ones healthy and happy.

Obey the directions on the wrapper and you will find it a most reliable remedy for all cases of intestinal worms.

L. & I. FRY, Baltimore, Md.

Keep Your Feet Dry

Nothing like a pair of "Ball-Band" Arctics for keeping your feet dry and warm in the very worst weather. You can laugh at freezing cold, deep snow, slush and mud if you wear "Ball-Band."

"BALL-BAND"
TRADE MARK

"Ball-Band" Arctics save you money by protecting your leather shoes from destructive soakings, too.

Ten million people look for the Red Ball Trade Mark when they buy Rubber Footwear. Make your choice of styles from our complete assortment of "Ball-Band."

H. S. Anderson

RISING SUN, INDIANA.

Dodge Brothers

ANNOUNCE

A BUSINESS COUPE

Conservative changes in the body design of all other types.

Roadster....$ 920

Coupe.....1,063

Touring Car. 955

Sedan.....1,550

Dempsey Motor Car Company

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY

Phone Erlanger 70-L

FLORENCE THEATRE LORENCE, KY.

Every Tues. and Sat.

THE BEST
MOVING PICTURES

Admission, 22c & 10c

NONPARIEL PARK

Lawrence Kenney has been on the sick list the past week.

Mrs. Russell Mitchell spent Monday in Covington, shopping.

J. R. Sanders made a business trip to Middletown, Ohio, Thursday.

Mrs. Owen Bradford spent Wednesday in Cincinnati on business.

Miss Imogene Miller was a guest Sunday of Marie Jetter, of Florence.

Mrs. Walter Florence, of Gunpowder, spent Monday with Mrs. Lora Laile.

Jack Corbin, of Carthage, Ohio, spent the week-end with his mother, Mrs. Nettie Corbin.

Cora Laile and wife spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Callen, of Erlanger.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Houston and son spent Sunday afternoon with relatives in Covington.

The many friends regret to hear of Mrs. J. R. Whitson, of Erlanger, being ill the past week.

Miss Nora Cahill is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Jerry Conrad and family, of the Dixie Highway.

Ezra Carpenter of Cincinnati, is the guest of his parents, Butler Carpenter and family, of Price pike.

Mrs. Ed. Snyder and Mrs. Lou Thompson spent Saturday afternoon with Mrs. J. R. Whitson, of Erlanger.

Mrs. Chas. Chipman was the Saturday afternoon guest of Mrs. J. J. Callen, of Erlanger, and Mrs. Earl Gray.

Mrs. Kate Laile has returned to her home after several weeks' visit with her daughter, Mrs. Sullivan, of Erlanger.

Dr. Cole and family, of Columbus, Ohio, returned home after enjoying the Thanksgiving holidays with relatives here.

Don't forget to attend the entertainment and Christmas tree at the M. E. church Xmas night. Come and see Santa Claus.

Mrs. Minnie Puge, of Kansas City, was called here Saturday on account of the death of her brother, Benj. Stephens, of Devon.

Miss Minnie Myers, of Bellevue, Ky., and Miss Helen Dennis, of Ga., were Sunday guests of Dr. T. B. Castleman and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Houston's little son Robert Louis, who fell against a stove and was badly burned, is getting along nicely at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Clutterbuck, of Burlington pike, had for their guests the past week, Mrs. Jessie Clutterbuck and son Billy, of Cleveland, O.

Joe Eubanks and wife, Walter Eubanks and wife of Crescent Springs, and John Meiman, were guests last Sunday of Lewis Houston and wife.

Miss Naomi Easton, of Price pike, entertained Sunday evening Miss Mabel Morris, Alma Tanner, Charlie Rouse, Eva Tanner and Neal Clements.

Miss Eva Renaker entertained last Sunday afternoon at her home Miss Katherine Laile, Jennie Laile, Mable Robinson, Jack Renaker and Marshall Reid.

Mrs. Chas. Chipman entertained with a lovely dinner Friday at her home on the Dixie Highway in honor of Mrs. Jessie Clutterbuck and baby of Cleveland, Ohio.

Miss Geneva Miller, of Price pike, entertained her High School class recently with a six o'clock dinner at her home. The evening was spent in playing games, music and dancing.

J. C. Renaker and wife entertained at their beautiful home on the Dixie Highway Sunday with a dinner in honor of Lon Kroger and family, of Hamilton, Ohio, Elmer Cahill and family, Mike Cahill wife and daughter Miss Minnie.

Miss Alma Bethal entertained a number of the younger set of Erlanger with a card party and dance at her lovely home in Nonpareil Park Friday evening. The rooms were decorated with Xmas greens and bells and at midnight a buffet luncheon was served.

This community was shocked to hear of the death of Benj. Stephens. He was born and reared near here. He was ill about two weeks and was taken to Memorial hospital last Sunday afternoon and underwent an operation and passed away at seven o'clock Saturday morning, Dec. 9th. His remains were brought to his home at Devon where the funeral was held Monday after which he was laid to rest in the family cemetery at the old home place. Funeral services were in charge of the Odd-Fellows of Florence. The children have the sympathy of all.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown gave a Shower Saturday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Libburn Bucklen (Mrs. Irene Brown) at their home in Florence. They received the following presents: Lissie Rouse, pair towels; Mrs. Groom table cover; Chas. Rouse pair towels; Brichman Horvington, pair towels; Mr. and Mrs. William Buckler, pillow case; Mr. and Mrs. Williams dresser scarf; Mr. Buckler table cloth; Mrs. Buckler the pair

Mr. John Aylor dish; Jennie and Kathleen Laile, two dishes; Mrs. Gordon Laile, meat plate; Mable Carpenter dish; Mildred Schwartz, pickle dish; Alma Tanner glass dish; Virginia Popham table cloth; Elsie Harrington glasses; Iva Tanner sugar bowl and cream pitcher; Mrs. Geo. Wernz salad bowl; Mr. Geo. Wernz salad bowl; Mrs. R. S. Hambrick, dish; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Brown set dishes; Sterling Rouse linen; Mr. and Mrs. V. Dolwick, dish.

UNION.

J. W. Conner, of Erlanger, was a caller last Saturday.

Mrs. Mary Fields, of Ludlow, was the guest several days the past week of her niece, Miss Addie Conner.

Miss Shelley Scour, who is clerking for A. M. Holtzworth, spent the week-end with her parents, Warren Scour and wife.

Miss Jennie Wilkie Cleek, of Covington, spent Saturday night and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Cleek.

Mrs. S. S. Smith was called to Alexandria, Ind., last week on account of the serious illness of P. T. Fall, her brother-in-law.

The many friends of Mrs. Harriet Aylor, formerly of the Gunpowder neighborhood, who now resides in Louisville, will be sorry to hear that she is quite ill.

We are sorry to learn of the death of P. T. Fall, which occurred at his home in Alexandria, Ind., last Sunday morning. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved family.

BEAVER LICK.

Mr. C. C. Sleet has a new Overland car.

Mr. Omer Dudgeon will farm with Robert Green next year.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Griffith spent a day in the city last week.

Mr. John Delahaunt has been ill with a severe cold for several days.

A good season for bulking tobacco last Thursday and Friday, and a great many put down their tobacco.

Mr. W. Bean and William Wilson canvassed the neighborhood last week in the interest of the Farmer's Union.

Mr. Howard Feldhaus of Ft. Mitchell, and Miss Alice McCabe attended the dance at Florence last Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Slayback, Mrs. W. C. Johnson, William Ryle and Charles Johnson, spent last Saturday in the city shopping.

The members of the Beaver Baptist church have built a new iron fence and concrete steps to the new cemetery at Beaver, which is a neat improvement.

DEVON

Lawrence Kenney is able to sit up after an illness of two weeks.

Mrs. H. P. Dixon visited. Misses Mary and Jennie Dixon, Sunday.

Mrs. T. J. Hutseil visited Mr. and Mrs. L. Kenney, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sommers were Sunday guests of their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. John Pruett.

Mrs. John Roache and Lucian Ryle and family, of Cold Springs, were Thursday guests of Mrs. T. J. Hutseil.

B. F. Bristow and wife, Jas. Bristow and wife and Howard Fagin and family, were Sunday guests of L. L. Childress and family, of Erlanger.

Mrs. Martha Bradford and sister, Miss Bessie Talbot, Miss Kate Aydelotte and Mr. G. F. Sehn' called on Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hutseil Sunday afternoon.

The many friends and relatives of Ben Stephens are deeply grieved by his death which occurred Saturday morning at Speers' hospital after an operation for gall stones and enlargement of the liver. His wife predeceased him to the grave thirteen years ago, leaving him with eight small children, the oldest being 11. He has been a kind and loving father, keeping his children together and trying to fill the place of father and mother in one. The remains were laid to rest in the family cemetery Monday afternoon after a short service at the grave conducted by the Odd-Fellows. He leaves one brother Jeff Stephens, of Erlanger, two sisters, Mrs. Ezra Wilhoit and Mrs. Ollie Rouse, of Florence, and his children, Mrs. Newton Haley, Mrs. Earl Gray, Garnett, Idalee, Gertrude, Virginia, Ben and Fred Stephens. Our sympathy goes out to them, one and all in their sorrow.

GRANT R. D.

Mrs. Alice Aylor is ill.

J. H. Walton is attending court at Burlington this week.

Bluffe Cole and Sam Wilson are moving—back to his own farm.

Ben Merriek, son of E. R. Merriek, of Canada, Mo., is visiting relatives here.

Joe Hodges and family, of Indianapolis, Ind., are visiting at Noah West's.

Ora Ogden and family, of North Bend, have moved to Everett Ryle's place.

Those on Honor Roll of Maple Hill school for the third month of school: Marguerite Birkle, Ida Mae Wilson, Hazel Cole, Martha Birkle, Fay Conner, Gladys Kelly, Vernon Smith, Paul Conner, Sydney Craig, Ocie Williamson. Neither absent or tardy.

Edith Merriek, Edna Merriek, Gladys Kelly and Hazel and Edgar Cole.

It is stated in the press that there is a serious shortage of waste paper in America. Why not import a few shiploads of Russian roubles?

AMONG THE NEW HATS

Three models, as shown here, reveal the distinguishing features of the new season's hats.

At the top a wide-brimmed velvet hat bears handsome Japanese accents, set under a jeweled bar across the front.

Below it a distinguished hat of metal cloth and velvet illustrates the graceful placing of feather ornaments.

A simpler round hat finishes the group. It is made of velvet in two colors.

BIG BONE.

Perry Johnson has moved to Walton.

Jaa. Kite made a business trip to the city Wednesday.

G. W. Baker and wife made a business trip to Walton, Saturday.

John Binder, Sr., made a business trip to the city the first of the week.

Miss Kate Baker spent several days last week with her sister, Mrs. Lucy Wolf near Richmond.

Fred Hue and Geo. Abdon visited relatives in Rising Sun, Ind., Saturday and Sunday.

G. B. Miller of Florence, was the guest of his mother, Mrs. Woodford Miller, the latter part of last week.

Born Sunday Dec. 10th, to Claud Black and wife, a fine baby girl. Dr. Ryle attending physician.

Sterling Woods returned home last Sunday. He was recently operated on for appendicitis. He is getting along nicely.

Geo. Slayback wife and grandson George Allen, and Mrs. W. C. Johnson, made a business trip to the city, Saturday.

(Too Late for Last Week)

H. J. Aylor is visiting his parents.

John Binder, Sr., has purchased a tractor.

B. C. Allen visited friends in Walton Sunday.

Emma Feldhaus gave a dance on Wednesday night.

R. K. George has been entertaining his mother, of Covington.

Ltn Hubbard is the first to butcher hogs in this community.

Miss Sheryl Ryle spent Thanksgiving day with Miss Iva Bee Schreder.

John Moore went to the city one day last week and had his tonsils removed.

R. K. George gave the people of this vicinity a card party a few days ago.

The young folks gathered at the home of Walter Jones and had an old-fashioned play party Tuesday night.

The revival at Big Bone Baptist church closed Nov. 20th with eight additions for baptism and two by letter.

Raymond Smith gave his daughter Beulah a play party and ended plying a few nights ago in honor of her eighteenth birthday.

Paul Aylor wife and children, Hilda William and Paul, Joe Green wife and son Joseph, Jr., and J. P. Johnson, spent Sunday with John Satehall and son-in-law Meredith Sheets.

Homer Adams and wife had as Sunday guests Mrs. Laura Rogers, F. H. Schree and family, Mrs. Lee Adams and mother, Mrs. Stephens and Mrs. Raymond Smith and four children.

MT. ZION.

Lots of fun at Mt. Zion school house Friday evening, Dec. 15. Pie and Box Social, also pretty girl and ugliest man contest, Old Time Spelling match and plenty of lemonade and cake to eat. Everybody come. Girls please bring pie or boxes, and boys please bring a full pocketbook.

That the good old days in Germany are gone forever is indicated by von Bernstoff's public declaration that the All-Highest has been talking through his imperial hat.

FOR OVER 40 YEARS

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE has been used successfully in the treatment of Catarrh.

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE consists of an Ointment which quickly relieves by local application, and the internal Medicine, a Tonic, which acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces, thus reducing the inflammation.

Sold by all druggists.

F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

1917 Ford touring car in excellent condition.

1921 Dodge Roadster. This is a bargain.

1921 Ford Coupe. Must sell immediately.

DEMPEY MOTOR CAR CO., Erlanger, Ky.

Subscribe for the RECORDER.

MAKE A START By Doing Your Christmas Shopping Now.

No need to tell you the many advantages of doing your Christmas Shopping early—before salespeople become tired out, before the store is crowded, while merchandise is at its freshest—you know all this.

The difficulty is just to get started, isn't it?

Well, why not sit down right now; make out a gift list and come down to the store tomorrow, resolved to choose at least One Christmas Gift. "Once begun, half done" is a true old saying.

Coppin's

Northern Kentucky's Greatest Store

Youse a Good Old Santa

BUY FROM

Gulley & Pettitt

Where you can get the best Christmas goods at the right price
ONE PRICE TO ALL.

Our Holiday Stock includes Celery, Oysters, Cranberries, Raisins, Dates, Oranges, Tangerines, Bananas. We invite you to inspect our line of twenty different assortments of candies—the best that money can buy.

Special Reduction in Aluminum Ware.

Compare our Goods and Prices with the lowest prices obtainable from any other source. We are content to base our right to your business on the result.

Gulley & Pettitt

BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY.

NOW IN OUR NEW HOME

Madison Ave., Between 16th and 17th

NEAR THE RAILROAD CROSSING

YOURS FOR BETTER SERVICE

Johnson Battery Company

INCORPORATED

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

A writer in the St. Paul Farmers Club tells how country life is made helpful in a Minnesota town by a Farmers Club. They have papers and talks of interest to farmers, and instructors in housekeeping methods. Home talent plays are given. They have lectures from agricultural college speakers and by public health authorities. They have picnic suppers in summer and in winter card parties and dances.

The writer says: "These papers and short talks give us new ideas, experiments that others have made, mistakes that others make. We talk and plan together and go home better fitted and with new interest for our work. Let the young people dance at your parties and in your homes, then you know their associates and can keep them from evil."

A New York judge awarded a man $50,000 for the loss of four fingers. And just a few years ago you could get two fingers for fifteen cents.

Lands Posted.

All character of trespassing on our farms is positively prohibited, and we will prosecute all guilty parties. No hunting, trapping or snaring will be allowed.

Name	Predict
B. C. Allen	Hamilton
Julia S. Dinamore	Belleview
B. H. Berkshire	Petersburg
Lucy E. Hance	Hamilton
J. H. Jockey	Burlington
S. B. Scott	Grant
J. H. Walton	Carlton
Ira Aylor	Union
Armatia Aylor	Richwood
James W. Ryle	Waterloo
S. B. Ryle	Grant R. D.
Addie Harding	Burlington
Jake Reitmam	Bullittsville
B. C. Graddy	Bullittsville
R. H. Orisler	Bullittsville
William Phillips	Carlton
J. M. Wilson	Union
J. J. Tanner	Burlington
Chester Aylor	Burlington
Elmore Ryle	Burlington
Jasper Sullivan	Grant
Alonso Gaines	Constant
Joe E. Scott, Jr.	Florence
J. Colin Kelly	Carlton
Wilber D. Kelly	Grant
Robert L. Days	Hebron
W. A. Gainer & Son	Burlington
Mrs. W. H. Marshall	Carlton
Joe W. Scott, Sr.	Florence
Mary M. Terrell	Petersburg
Grace Scott	Grant
Mrs. A. G. Finnell	Union
Ross Russ	Florence

Your name will be put in the list of those posted until Jan. 1st for 60 cents.

FOR SALE

Farm of 75 acres three miles below Petersburg, Ky. Twelve acres of bottom land, eight acres of clover, balance in blue grass. Six room house, one four-room log house, 3 barns and other out building. Good tobacco and alfalfa land. Price $50.00 per acre.

CHARLIE WHITE, ojan1—pd Petersburg, Ky.

General Trucking

At Your Service

WALTER HUEY

Florence, Ky.

Phone 266-X

J. C. GORDON

Superintendent of Schools

OF BOONE COUNTY

Will be in his office in Burlington the first and second Monday and the third and fourth Saturday in each month.

FLORENCE GARAGE

Under New Management

Best Of Service.

All Makes Of Cars.

Repaired At Reasonable

PRICES

TIRES, TUBES, OILS

Horse-shoeing and Wagon

work neatly and well done.

J. W. Quigley.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

Wm. Bushy, Manager.

AT PUBLIC AUCTION!

In order to settle the estate of R. C. McGlasson, we will sell at public auction

Wednesday, Dec. 20th, 1922

on the premises near Hebron, Ky., beginning at 10:00 a. m. to the highest bidder without reserve, bybid or limit, FARM, LIVE STOCK, FEED, TOOLS, ETC.

Land & Personal Property as Follows:

LIVE STOCK

Five Work Horses, Yearling Mule.
106 Good Black Faced Ewes, will be sold in lots of 20.
14 good Milch Cows, 3 Heifers, 3 Calves, 1 Bull.
Four Big Type Pure bred Poland China Sows.
Four Big Type pure bred Poland China Gilts.
One Big Type pure bred Poland China Boar.
Two Red Sows in good condition.
35 Head of seventy pound Shoats.

FEED

700 Bushels Assorted Corn in the crib.
75 Shocks Corn in the field, 50 Shocks of Fodder.
150 Shocks Shredded Fodder.
10 tons Timothy Hay in barn.
15 tons Clover mixed hay, 6 tons Soy Bean hay.
4 tons Alfalfa hay, baled, 2 ton Edan Dairy Feed.
1 ton Hog Rations, 400 pounds Oil Meal.
200 pounds Cotton Seed meal.
50 bushels Oats in bin, Wheat and Rye in bin.

FARMING IMPLEMENTS

Deering Binder, good condition, 7-foot cut.
Mowing Machine, Hay Rake, Wheat Drill.
Disc Harrow, Road Wagon, 2 Cultivators.
Breaking Plow, Huber 12-25 Tractor.
John Deer Gang Plow, 3 bottom 14 inch.
McCormick Corn Shredder, Buggy, Sleigh, Hay Bed.
Rock Bed, 600 Pound Champion Scales.
Corn Sheller, Corn Grinder.

2 Double sets work Harness, Single set work harness.
Extension Ladder, Step Ladder.
Iron Kettle and Spider, Hoes, Rakes, Shovels, &c.
3 Shares Stock Hebron Telephone Company.

287 ACRES FARM LAND AND BUILDINGS

18. acres of good farm land, Dwelling, outbuildings and all improvements; 103 acres unimproved land under good fence with fine location for buildings. These two tracts will be offered separately and then as a whole and the bid or bids aggregating the larger amount will be accepted. These lands are on the North Bend pike, 12 miles from Cincinnati and Covington, 10 miles from Ludlow, and one mile from Hebron, where there is a High School, Bank, three stores, Blacksmith Shop and Churches within short distance, Moving Picture Show, Masonic and I. O. O. F. Lodges. Telephone in the residence and mail route at the front gate. The farms are divided into nice sized fields with never failing water in each field, well fenced, clean and in grass. Thirty acres sowed in wheat. The land is adapted for the cultivation of corn, wheat, tobacco, Clover and Timothy hay and blue grass, a tractor can be successfully used in the cultivation of the lands. This land is rolling and ideal for stock raising. This is the best farm that has ever been offered in Boone county at public auction. Come and inspect the lands and buildings at any time before sale day, except Sundays. Inspection by appointment with Chas. Youell, Burlington, Ky. Phone Burlington 65.

BUILDINGS

Dwelling—Eight rooms, pantry, two halls, three porches, two cellars, in fine condition and repair.
Barn—40x80 with basement. Double corn crib with wagon shed, Garage, Shop, Hog House 20x50, concrete floor. Chicken house, Meat House, Wash House, Ice House, two Cisterns at dwelling, one at barn.

Terms of Sale.

Personal property will be sold on a credit of SIX Months for all sums over $10.00. $10.00 and under Cash, purchaser to execute note for the purchase price with approved surety, payable at the Peoples Deposit Bank, Burlington, Ky., before property is removed. The land will be sold as follows: 10 per cent cash on day of sale, 40 per cent when deed is made, not longer than 10 days from date of sale, balance on easy terms. A lien will be reserved on the land for the unpaid purchase money.

Milk Route by these farms every day.

THE FARM LANDS WILL BE SOLD AT 1:30 P. M.

J. M. EDDINS, Auctioneer.

W. A. BULLOCK, Clerk

Mrs. R. C. McGlasson, Admr'x.

C. H. YOUELL, Agent.

LUNCH SERVED AT NOON.

CONSTANCE.

Mr. John Wernz, Sr., is getting along nicely.
Miss Edna May Gross spent the week-end with Miss Elsie E. Gross.
Misses Elsie Elizabeth and Edna May Gross, went shopping in Cincinnati Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kottmyer, Jr., are the happy parents of a little son Richard Lee Kottmyer, born Dec. 3, 1922.

Mrs. Carrie Riggs, Mrs. Tillie Popham and Mrs. Mary Aylor, attended the quilting at Mrs. Dexter Carder's last Friday.

The Stork brought a little daughter to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Kottmyer Dec. 6th. Isella May Kottmyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Gross entertained with a Thanksgiving dinner the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Gross and daughter, Elsie, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Gross and daughter, Norma, Mr. E. H. Gross, Mr. I. L. Hood. All enjoyed the day.

Several from here attended the funeral of Mr. Henry Haberle in Bromley, last Thursday. Mr. Haberle was born in Boone county and lived here for many years, but moved to Bromley a few years ago. Thus they "one by one they cross the river to that bright and happy land."

IDLEWILD.

Wilbur Rice was a visitor in Burlington Monday.
Amos Oberdeen, of Lawrenceburg was a recent guest of his friend, W. T. Berkshire.

Mrs. Lorena Cropper, of Burlington, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Chester Grant.

"Pepper" Smith, of Belleview, was looking at tobacco in this neighborhood, Thursday.

John M. Rachal, of Union, was the mid-week guest of his aunt, Mrs. J. S. Arbury and Mr. Asbury.

Mrs. J. E. Smith, of Burlington, spent the week-end with her kind woman, Mrs. Stephen Gaines.

Mrs. Elna Barrett, of Lawrenceburg, spent Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. B. B. Grant and Mr. Grant.

several Gaines, an old and much esteemed citizen, died last Friday night at the home of his son, J. E. Gaines.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Grant are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a sturdy baby boy at the home, December fourth.

Mrs. J. B. Berkshire and Mrs.

Ben S. Houston entertained Thursday afternoon from two to four at the Berkshire home in Petersburg, in honor of Mrs. John Oliver Taylor, of Erlanger, who has been the much feted guest of Mrs. R. H. Carter.

FLICKERTOWN.

Leroy Vohell was the sick list last week.

Henry Jump has two children on the sick list.

Russell Finn's two children are on the sick list.

Miss Alice White was shopping in Aurora, Saturday.

F. M. Voshell and wife were shopping in Aurora, last Friday.

Snyder Bros., and Walter Gaines are hauling corn from Indiana.

John Burns and wife visited Henry Smith and family, Sunday.

Mrs. James Burns visited her son John and wife, Saturday night.

Owen Utz and sons, of Newport, visited James Minor last Sunday.

Several in this neighborhood have sold their tobacco to local buyers at good prices.

Henry Deck and family and Ed. Maxwell and family, visited Jas. W. White and family, Sunday.

Grason Shinkle shipped a nice bunch of hogs to the city last week and received good prices for them.

Clyde Akin and family and Chas. Akin and wife, visited Paris Akin and family at Winchester, Ky., last week.

James Gaines, Snyder Bros., E. A. Grant, Chas. Snelling and J. H. Snyder, bought some nice feeding cattle of M. F. Wingate, last week.

HEBRON.

Mrs. Belle Clure, of Erlanger, is visiting J. C. Hankins and family.

A young couple from Dayton, Ky., were married at Rev. C. C. Omer's Thursday afternoon.

The Helper's Circle will meet with Mrs. Jessie Hossman, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

After being at St. Elizabeth hospital six weeks, Mrs. Alice Dye returned home, last Thursday.

The Sunday School is preparing for a Christmas entertainment. The date will be announced later.

Mrs. Curtie Mannin and Mrs. Dora Gannett were guests of Rev. C. C. Omer and family, last Sunday.

Some people think that the farther a bargain is free from home the more wonderful it is.

BELLEVIEW

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brady were greatly surprised when a crowd came in and gave them a house warming one evening last week, and they received many nice and useful presents, as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Clure, granite kettle; Mr. and Mrs. Ephiam Clure, lamp; Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Stephens, coffee pot; Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Clure, granite dish pan; Mrs. Belle Clure, wash pan, wash cloth and soap; Jennie Rogers, copper tea kettle; Harold Aylor, bath towels; Hualpha Rogers, aluminum kettle; Walton Rogers, wash pan; Mrs. Bernard Rogers, can of preserves; Bernard Rogers, one dollar; Mrs. Pearl Huey, granite kettle; Madeline Huey, granite pan; Beulah Smith, granite pan; Julius Smith, four bars toilet soap; Mrs. Al Rogers, towel; Mrs. Lizzie Smith, cake plate; Mrs. Sophia Clure, bath towel; Mr. Henry Clure, broom; Mrs. Alline Brady, pair pillow cases; Little Mary Jane Brady, granite pan; Mrs. Clara Smith china dish; J. G. Smith, butcher knife; W. E. Yelton, china dish, Miss Anna Cason, towel and wash clothes; Tommie Cason, bath towels; Mrs. Lou Maurer, towels; Hester Kelly, wash cloth and soap; Mrs. Clifford Hight clothes line and starch; Mazella Flick, hand painted vase; Mrs. Josie Cason, cake plate; Ida May and Julia Stephens, glass dish; W. L. Stephens, one dollar; John Clure, granite bucket; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Stephens, $10 and a cow; Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Brady, $10; Angeraco Walton $2.50; Rob. Brady, granite pan; John Maurer, one box of salts; Jay Calvert, $1; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Stephens, fresh meat; Mr. Geo. Koons, $1; E. S. Lambkins, 12 glasses.

PT. PLEASANT.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Dolwick entertained their children, grand-children and friends with a family reunion Sunday. All had a jolly time.

The Pt. Pleasant Sunday school will present two sacred cantatas on Christmas Eve (Sunday night). We will also have a Tree and Santa has promised to be with us.

It must be hard to get officers for the array in Greece, where an unsuccessful campaign is the equivalent of a death warrant.

If Secretary Denby has his way we shall have to find a substitute for the old smile: "Drunk as a sailor."

SEEKING MORE DAMAGES.

Tobacco Co-operative Seeks to Recover Damages of $7,500 and $1,000 Costs from Rich Fayette Dumper.

Lexington, Ky. — Garrett Watts, prominent and wealthy Fayette-co., grower, for the second time was made defendant today in a suit filed by the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association for damages for breach of contract for selling on loose leaf warehouse floors tobacco pledged for delivery to the Association in a contract signed by him last fall when the burley co-operative was organized. The sum of $7,500 damages is asked in the second suit, with $1,000 for expenses incurred in suing him.

The petition filed in the Fayette Circuit Court carries the name of Franklin, Talbott & Chapman, of Lexington; Worthington, Browning & Read, of Maysville; C. Hallmeyer, of Lexington, and Aaron Sapiro, of San Francisco, as counsel, and alleges that Mr. Watts has sold over the loose leaf floors 150,000 pounds of tobacco raised on his property and which, under the provisions of the Bingham co-operative marketing act, he is "conclusively presumed" to be able to control.

The history of the organization is gone into fully in the petition, which shows that the contract signed by Watts is one of many thousands of such contracts and in which it is provided that if the contract be violated the sum of 5 cents a pound can be collected from the violator as liquidated damages.

In November judgment was given against Watts by Judge J. C. Dedman, in the Bourbon Circuit Court, for $325 damages and costs in the first case filed against him by the Association. The suit against him today is the first of probably half a dozen now being prepared or ready to file against contract breakers who have delivered tobacco in the names of others than themselves to the loose leaf houses.

The new speed record established by the liner "Majestic" from New York to Cherbourg was probably the result of continuing the flying start they got in sprinting to get out of the three-mile zone.

Some people can't stand prosperity because they never have a chance

SHOP EARLY

SPECIAL

30x3 1/2

NON SKID

TIRES

$8.50

30x3 ..... $7.00

Kentucky Motor Car Co.

Park Place and Scott Street,

COVINGTON, KY.

A Gift Sure to be Appreciated.

P. L. BETHEL, Pres. & Mgr.

VULCANIZING.

Complete line of Goodyear, Goodrich and Kelly-Springfield Tires and Tubes, good Grade of Automobile and Tractor Oils and Greases.

Auto Accessories kept in stock.

GEORGE PORTER,

BURLINGTON, KY.

True Detective Stories

THE BOMB PLOT

Copyright by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.

TAP—Tap—Tap! The knocking at the door of the house occupied by Charles von Kleist, in Brooklyn, was not peculiar, nor yet did it suggest of stealthiness. During the silence which followed, the two men on the doorstep looked at each other inquiringly. Then—

Tap—tap—tap, they knocked again. Slowly, silently, the door swung open and, from the inner recesses of a pitch-black hall, came a voice which inquired, in cultured German:

"Who are you, and what do you want?"

"We come from the Wolf," was the reply. "He said that you would know what we wanted."

"From the Wolf?" echoed the voice from within. "How do I know that you are not wolves yourselves? How—"

"This'll prove who we are," interrupted the man who had previously spoken, producing a card and slipping it past the stout chain which guarded the door. "Read and act," he continued, still in German.

A moment later the chain had been removed and the two men, their coats collars turned high, their hats pulled low, entered the darkened hall. Not until the old man had refastened the door and preceded them into a room where the tightly closed shutters effectually prevented any spying from the outside, did he again address them. When he did speak, it was merely to inquire their names.

"Barnitz," replied one of the men—the one who had carried on the conversation from the outside.

"Barth," said the other.

"Barnitz," the old man repeated ruminatively. "That is a name of the Fatherland, a good name. But Barth? I know it not. Is it not English?"

"American," corrected the first of the strangers. "It would not do to use too many of our citizens in this plan. It would cause suspicion. We must use all kinds of people—that's how we fool these Yankees! Besides, should you doubt, there is the card from the Wolf. That bears both names."

"That is so," agreed the German, "and Von Igel is not one to take any chances. He is too close to Von Papen. For what were you sent here?"

"The Wolf wishes to be assured that everything is going smoothly."

Then, after a moment's hesitation, during which he studied Von Kleist's face very carefully: "Have you completed the bombs?"

"A few only. It will be simple to make the others. Come, I will show you."

Through the winding, labyrinthine passages of the old house the German led them, and then out into the back yard—a tiny plot of ground barely a few feet square.

"As you will note," he said, "we cannot be overlooked from any of the surrounding houses."

The man called Barnitz, glancing up, saw that the German was right. Only the bare walls of warehouses frowned down upon them. As he looked, however, he seemed to catch a queer glint from one of the nearby roofs—a glint as of sunlight refracted from a binocular glass.

After he had removed three tulip bulbs planted in a straight line, as if to mark a certain spot, Von Kleist produced a small oblong box, black and ominous.

"This," he said, motioning them back into the house, "is the only one I have ready for use. The ones I shall show you in the cellar—in order that you may tell the Wolf just how his plans are being carried out—are merely the cases. But this one Doctor Scheele turned over to me as a sample. Careful! Don't drop it!"

There were several of these on the Lusitania, and when the news of her destruction first arrived I thought that my handwork was responsible. But the honor was not mine, unfortunately. There are also similar bombs planted on the Friedrich Der Grosse, in case these Yankees ever attempt to seize our property. The moment they start her engines, that moment they start the bombs! Yes," concluded the old man, "you can tell the Wolf that his plans are being well carried out. Karbode, Schmidt, Paradis and Pradel are attending to the ones on the ship, and Scheele and Becker on land."

"Splendid!" exclaimed Barnitz. "The chief will be delighted to hear this. Why not come with us now and tell him about it?"

Thinking, of course, that his visitor referred to Wolf von Igel, Kleist readily agreed, and it was not until their taxicab stopped in front of police headquarters that he sensed anything wrong. Before he knew it he was being walked into the office of inspector Thomas J. Tunney, with a gun in his ribs.

"Chief," cried Barnitz, "that card turned the trick! You'll have to get a pardon for the scratcher. Anyone who can forge Von Igel's writing as cleverly as that doesn't deserve to be in jail. We not only nailed the old bird, but he's implicated half a dozen others. Sometimes it pays to have a German name and be able to speak the language!"

But the bomb plot, designed to destroy half the shipping in New York harbor, did not officially end with Kleist and Schmidt were sent to Atlanta for two years each, while Becker, Paradis, Pradel and Karbode drew six months and a $500 fine.

WORLD'S CHAMPION TRAVELERS

RECENTLY ARRIVED IN LONDON

After having traveled more than 80,000 miles, Capt. W. Wanderwell (standing) and L. Kuqua (at wheel) recently arrived in London. They have now toured through the U. S. A., Canada, South America, Mexico and Australia, and are to start on the continent at once. They will not complete their tour until 1924.

"HEART DISEASE"

COMMON AILMENT

Storage Battery Is One of Most Important Units of Car, Yet Often Overlooked.

MANY ARE STARVED TO DEATH

To Secure Long Life It Should Be Charged and Discharged Frequently—Careless Owner Soon Makes It Piece of Junk.

It is a very peculiar fact, but nevertheless true, that a hard-headed business man will invest three or four thousand dollars in a motor car and then cease to take the necessary precautions in safeguarding his investment.

The storage battery is one of the most important units of the car, yet it is a device which seldom receives the proper attention, writes B. W. Cooke, president of a Chicago trade school. All that the average owner knows about this unit is that it requires a certain amount of distilled water occasionally. I have often seen storage batteries in use that did not receive even occasional attention. Literally they were starved to death.

Heart of Automobile.

The battery may be considered the heart of the automobile and when it fails the car stops.

When the engine is in good condition it will start within fifteen seconds. If it does not, then the operator should locate the trouble before he abuses the storage battery. When the starting button is pressed, as much as 200 amperes of current may be drawn from the battery. This means excessive chemical action in the battery and if continued for any length of time the battery is sure to overheat.

Sooner or later the battery becomes a useless piece of junk in the hands of the careless car owner. Excessive use is one extreme. The other is when the battery is used but little and the car much.

Charge and Recharge Often.

To secure long life in a storage battery the unit should be charged and discharged frequently. If you should find that you are overcharging your battery turn the tail light on occasionally during the daytime, or even when you leave the car at night. This will serve to drain the battery slightly and keep it in condition.

Always bear in mind that your battery can be likened to a wooden pall. If it is drained too much, it will be like a pall left in the sun; it soon falls to pieces.

It is the storage battery man's duty to keep your battery in condition. He is the man who can "pour the water out of the pall and fill it again." Every time you pay him 50 cents it is an investment that pays big dividends. Remember this.

HEAT DETERIORATES RUBBER

Tires Cannot Long Remain Intact When Highly Heated by Continuous Speeding.

A high-grade tire on a racing car will sometimes stand up as far as 500 miles, about one-twentieth of the life of a tire operated under ordinary conditions. This difference in the service life is due directly to a difference in the heat developed. Heat exerts a deteriorating effect on rubber in proportion to the intensity and length of time the rubber is exposed to it. Running at high speed quickly raises the temperature of a tire. This heat results from the internal friction set up in the tire carcass. Tires are designed to resist the effects of heat produced by ordinary everyday car operation, but they cannot long remain intact when highly heated by continuous speeding. The tire bills of the speeder are likely to be higher than those of the driver who proceeds at a moderate pace.

YOU AUTO KNOW

That failure to shift gears on a long hill is one of the signs of the amateur driver or of the man who prefers to try to "show off" the power of his machine at the risk of serious damage to the engine or, at best, of stalling in the middle of the incline. First and second (low and intermediate) gears are placed on cars for emergencies of this kind and are designed to assist the engine in pulling a load to which it is not accustomed. The driver does not make use of them is, therefore, placing an undue strain on his car and should not be surprised if something gives way under it.

The best method to use in the case of a long steep incline is to approach, if possible, at a fair rate of speed, so that the car will gain as much initial impetus as possible. Then, when the machine begins to lose speed but before it has slowed down too much, shift to second and, if necessary, to first. Also, at the first sound of a "knock" retard the spark, for this will slow down the engine and give it more power, thus making it unnecessary to shift gears on hills which the driver knows by experience his car can make without laboring.

(Copyright, 1922, by the Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

HEADLIGHT FOR AUTOMOBILE

Operated by Steering Mechanism and Always Points in Direction Car is Speeding.

The Scientific American in illustrating and describing an automobile headlight control, the invention of W. Muller of Honolulu, Hawaii, says: "The invention relates to headlights operated by the steering mechanism Directional Headlight Control, Patented by W. Muller.

so that the light will always point in the direction in which the car is moving. An object is to provide means operable from the steering wheel for turning the headlights so that the rays will be directed in a straight path forward of the course of travel of the machine. The device is readily applicable to any ordinary construction of automobile.

AUTOMOBILE GOSSIP

Valve clicks and snaps are the most common engine noises.

The neglect in tightening bolts or filling grease cups often leads to trouble and frequently a breakdown.

Spring shackles, wheel bearings, steering connections and universal joints should be oiled frequently to save wear and insure smoother operation.

It is a good plan to have one's car gone over thoroughly by competent mechanics once in a while, but there are certain points that every owner can look after himself.

To slow down the engine and remain in high when crossing railway tracks is a dangerous practice. The engine may die with the car wheels on the first rail.

ROAD BUILDING

INSTRUMENT TO TEST SOILS

By Means of Modern Apparatus It Is Possible to Obtain Most Valuable Information.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

An instrument for testing soils on which roads are to be built has been devised by the bureau of public roads of the United States Department of Agriculture. It consists of a metal disk resting on the soil and supporting a cylinder into which shot can be poured. The apparatus is held in position vertically by means of a tripod, at the top of which is mounted a small dial that tells to one-thousandth of an inch how far the disk sinks into the soil as shot is poured into the cylinder. By means of the instrument it is possible to get information as to how the soil will act in wet weather.

The kind of soil beneath a road surface has a great deal to do with how it will stand up under modern traffic, and engineers look upon this as an important consideration in determining the kind of road to be built. This is confirmed by a number of instances where two sections of the same road have been built in exactly the same manner and subjected to the same traffic but on different types of soil. One section has lasted well while the other has broken up in a manner that can only be explained by a lack of supporting power of the soil beneath the road.

The bureau has for some time been investigating this question along various lines both in the field and in the laboratory, studying the characteristics of different soils and experimenting with means to keep down the moisture content of the soil and thus increase its bearing power. The latest development has been the new device.

Norwalk-Ashland (Ohio) Road Before and After Given Needed Improvement.

FILMS SHOW ROAD BUILDING

Scenes Depicting Actual Construction of Various Types of Highways Are Displayed.

Close-ups of the activities of the bureau of public roads are contained in two films released, "Building Bituminous Roads," and "Mixed Asphalt Pavements." The new films show how Uncle Sam, who has become the world's greatest road builder through the federal-aid road act, makes use of bituminous materials in the construction of the Nation's highways.

"Building Bituminous Roads" deals directly with the surface treated and penetration macadam type of bituminous roads.

"Mixed Asphalt Pavements" embraces the construction of asphaltic concrete and sheet asphalt roads, and carries the audience from the paving plant, where the materials are mixed, to the completed highway, open for traffic. Scenes depicting the actual construction of the various types of roads were made under the direction of skilled engineers of the bureau of public roads, United States Department of Agriculture, and are designed to instruct the layman as well as the engineer in modern road-building practices. Several animated close-ups graphically depict the details of construction.

ROAD BUILDING IN KENTUCKY

Was First State to Conceive Idea of Highway Construction in the United States.

"In 1821 the people of Kentucky inaugurated the first state road building policy ever conceived in these United States," according to Edward S. Jordan of the highways committee of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, speaking recently at the University of Kentucky.

Long Alaskan Highway.

An automobile highway, available for tourists, has been planned in Alaska, covering a distance of 270 miles, from Valdez to Fairbanks. The scenic attractions along this highway are said to be marvelous, because of canyons, dense forests, and the wilderness of the surrounding regions.

Good Roads Organization. The American Road Builders Association is the oldest and largest organization for good roads in the United States.

The Best Advertisement

IS A PLEASED CUSTOMER

Spectacles and Eyeglasses that Fit the face and Fit the sight the kind we sell.

Phone South 1746

DR. N. F. PENN, 613 Madison Ave. - Covington, Ky.

Embalmer & Funeral Director

Licensed in Kentucky, Ohio & Indiana.

Ambulance Service, Any Where or Time
LIMOSINE FOR WEDDIN & PLEASURE PARTIES.

C. SCOTT CHAMBERS

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

Consolidated Phone, Walton, 35. Farmers Phone.

Printed Stationery

AT THIS OFFICE

ENVELOPES, LETTERHEADS, NOTEHEADS, STATEMENTS

for business people.
for professional people.
for farmers.
for every one who wants to be considered up to date and going strong

THE MOTOR FUNERAL CAR

has solved many problems in connection with the burial of the dead. It does away with the slow, tedious journey of the olden times to the cemetery, and saves needless exposure to the weather. Then, too, it enables us to save friends at a distance, who wish to avail themselves of a modern and complete equipment in each department, where all details will be given personal attention.

Please connection will bring prompt response and free counsel.

PHILIP TALIAFERRO,
Undertaker and Embalmer
Erlanger, Ky.

A BARGAIN

Cincinnati Daily Enquirer

—AND—

The Boone County Recorder

YOU CAN GET

both for $5.00 the YEAR

Send Your Subscriptions to the
BOONE COUNTY RECORDER
Burlington, Ky.

IT'S A FACT

Few men know much about Clothing, they must leave it to the merchant, they like to walk into a store, knowing before hand, that they will not only get value but Style and Quality Too. We give Our Customers such Service that will Bring them back Again and Again. WE HAVE A WONDERFUL LINE OF MEN'S, YOUNG MEN'S AND BOY'S

Suits and Overcoats.

Would be pleased to show you that we are headquarters for Sweaters & Corduroy Clothing.

Selmar Wachs

605 Madison Avenue, COVINGTON, KY.

DO YOU TAKE THE RECORDER?

Try It One Year. You'll Like It.

Send Our Advertisements and Profit by Them.

Subscribe For The Recorder... $1.50 per Year

WASHINGTON COMMENT.

Reverence for the flag of our country is the foundation stone upon which patriotism is built. A child of six can learn to salute the flag, understand what its bright colors mean, and honor its starry folds, long before it can understand what America is, or stands for.

You can't teach a child to reverence a flag unless you have a flag with which to teach.

An American flag should fly over every public school in the land, and be draped upon the walls of every school room. It is the least expensive way of teaching patriotism, and the most effective.

Not all municipalities put patriotism above dollars. We have known instances where civic bodies had to come to the rescue of schools, and give the flag the city fathers were too penurious to buy. And now we learn that in the Nation's Capital, the very seat of Americanism, the home of the Government, more than half of the elementary school rooms have no flags, and many others have flags in a tattered, torn and dirty condition.

An American public school without a flag, a church without a Bible, a child without a mother... pitiful examples of things that should not be. But there is no way to give a motherless child back its mother. And if there was ever a Christian church too poor to buy a Bible, we have never heard of it. It remains for this, the richest, most prosperous, supposedly most enlightened Government in the world, to deny to the schools of its own Capital City, the few dollars necessary to teach its own children to reverence its own flag!

Mr. Voter, has your child a flag in his or her school? And if the answer is "yes," don't you think your Representative ought to see that the helpless children of your Capital City, whose fathers and mothers have no vote and no voice in what is spent on their schools, though they pay for them, should also have flags?

Six women and four men, employees of the Bell Telephone Company, have just received the Theodore N. Vail medal for noteworthy public service and heroism on duty. One twenty year old lad received a gold medal and five hundred dollars in cash; the others received a silver medal each and two hundred and fifty dollars in cash.

The men and women who received these awards did their duty, sticking to their posts during fire and flood, rescuing others, warning imperiled people, saving threatened property from robbers, rescuing companions from electrocution etc., without any idea of reward. Nor does the medal and the cash make the heroism any greater. But it does make it more valuable to the community, because it brings before others the inspiring example of those who put service above self, who risked their lives unselfishly for others, who practiced true brotherhood.

The telephone company, honors itself, in honoring these, its servants. It shows that a great corporation has a heart, and an appreciation of the glory that is in that immortal sentence, "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friend." None of these had to lay down their lives; but they were willing; they counted not life against service.

Clubs, organizations, lodges, fraternities, looking for something to do which is not charity and yet is public service, can well consider whether a yearly award of a medal and a cash payment, to that man and woman, or those men and women, who have most inspired their fellows by unselfish heroism in their community, is not the answer to the problem they face.

THE COUNTRY TOWN'S BROAD INTERESTS.

It used to be said that the interests of the country town were narrow. That is not so today. More magazines and newspapers are taken by the average country family than by the average city household. The country people do more reading and are more intelligent.

If the country folks show a little life, they can get better lectures. There are always college and other experts who for a trifling price, or often for nothing, will address a rural audience. Farmers' clubs and other societies debate public questions. Country life opens up the infinite door of friendships, for which city life is too hurried and crowded. Country life gives time to think. It is the most developing kind of life on the whole.

The country folks used to go to bed "when it was dark under the table," but now quite frequently the janitors have to put out the lights in the village halls to induce them to go home.

The boys who go to the cities, attracted by the "white lights" are apt to come away later with white faces, due to the unhealthy city conditions.

Our Greeting

In the Spirit of Christmas

CHRISTMAS DAY brings us the consciousness that whatever our personal animosities may be, whatever the strife between nations—merely neighborhood quarrels greatly magnified—there is this sublime occasion devoted to peace and good will. Its spirit is the lamp which lights to higher life; its influence largely supports civilization and prevents a lapse into barbarity.

Christmas spirit means Christian spirit. In testing its effect, one has only to reflect upon the positions of races, the most advanced being those of Christendom. China, the oldest entity among peoples, has an admirable occasion upon which the citizens strive to liquidate all their debts. It is a national pay-up day, and in spirit somewhat resembles our Christmas. In Japan they have an annual event somewhat like our New Year's celebration, during which the people go about expressing good will and promoting good cheer. But Christmas has a more elevating effect than either, in that it not only typifies peace and good will, but carries the essence of unselfishness and pure love, the most common expression being the bestowal of gifts. When the Christmas influence gains to the point that its spirit shall permeate the affairs of every day in the year, the millennium will have arrived.

We have this day, and if we mar not its ideal its heaven will produce other days of the kind. In the making of a newspaper we have an opportunity to view the many forces operating upon the character of humanity. We see the good and bad, the sincere and insincere, the selfish and unselfish. We believe the heaven of good is more active than that of the opposed forces. If we have been able to assist the right, much has been due to your co-operation and we earnestly solicit a continuation of the same. Our Christmas greeting to you is one of optimism, good cheer and hearty good wishes.

THE PUBLISHERS.

IMMIGRATION QUESTION BEFORE GOVERNMENT

Washington, Dec. 14.—A strong demand is being made upon Congress by many great industries to let down the bars and permit an influx of cheap foreign labor. Many large corporations feel the need of getting more unskilled labor, and find it impossible to do so in the present condition of the labor market.

Against this purely commercial aspect of the question are many authorities who question the wisdom of cheapening manufacturing processes at the expense of injecting more unassimilable foreign elements into the body politic. Secretary of Labor Davis points out that the quota law operates restrictively against countries which have, in the past sent us the lowest and least desirable types of immigrants, but that those countries which have sent us men who generally become good American citizens have not been affected by the quota law, because their nationals have not, since the war, sought to come to this country in numbers sufficient to equal their quota.

Many Senators are much interested in a phase of the immigration question which they deem of vital importance to the Nation; the fact that, even in our present quota law, we have no sure means of keeping out the radical, the red, the Bolshevik, and the enemy of Government. A list recently compiled of radical men and women working for the overthrow of the Government, near Chicago, is suggestive: Weinstebe, Ragazini, Lindgren, Obionaki, Kowalski, Kahari, Titlow, Amter, Katerfield, Bedrock, Huiswold, Kosnow, Pappayias, Stureau, Obermeyer, Kronberg, Gutsher, and so on, for a long list of foreign names. It is not contended that having a foreign name means that its possessor is a radical, but that when, in any list of known radicals, reds, and Bolsheviks, the majority of the names are foreign, it is conclusive proof that most of the enemies of our Government reach this country via immigration.

THE SANTA CLAUS MYTH.

Most of the fairy stories and legends that delight the hearts of children tell of giants and fairies that perform marvellous deeds of prowess and strength, or which have supernatural powers. The Santa Claus myth that has charmed the child heart for many generations, is different, in that the principal emphasis is placed on the loving heart of the old hero. He fascinates the youngsters not so much by driving through the air with his reindeer and coming down the chimney as by his overflowing goodness and his desire to heap gifts on all good children.

Some people think it is wrong to fill children's minds with such a yarn, and that it leads them to distrust the word of the parents that repeat it to them. More likely it helps the children form ideals of kindness. The old story can be used to make them admire unselfish giving and it can be suggested to them that they too should play Santa Claus to less favored little ones.

MOTOR CAR AND TRUCK SALES AHEAD OF LAST NOVEMBER.

Production of motor vehicles running 20 per cent above November was reported to the directors' meeting of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce in New York, December 1. The total output for the entire industry for November, based on statements of shipments, is estimated at 244,000 cars and trucks.

Knock-Out

Dealt To Road Act—Simmons Law Is Invalid, Court of Appeals Rules.

Frankfort, Ky. — The Simmons road department reorganization bill, passed by the 1922 General Assembly, was declared to be unconstitutional by the Court of Appeals on the ground that the Legislature did not have the authority to name the members of the Road Commission established by the act. Judge Roger Clay wrote a dissenting opinion, upholding the validity of the act.

The opinion, which was written by Judge Gus Thomas and concurred in by all except Judge Clay, stated that "it was incompetent for the Legislature to name in the act, or subsequently elect, the members of the State Highway Commission formed thereby whose duties are strictly and essentially executive or administrative, the latter of which is a part of and belongs to the Executive Department."

Other points on which the case was thrashed out in lower courts were not considered seriously, according to the opinion, Judge Thomas declaring that failure of the Lieutenant Governor or other officers to sign the act did not invalidate it.

Judge Thomas also held that the 19 votes received by the bill in the Senate, where it was passed after a long filibuster, met requirements, as the act did not carry a direct appropriation.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our sincere thanks to our neighbors, relatives and friends for the kindness shown us during and after the loss of our home and contents by fire.

Mr. Ed. T. Kraus and Family.

Circuit Court.

The case of the Commonwealth of Kentucky against Ambrose Amherman on a statutory charge, was on trial as we went to press last week. At the conclusion of the testimony offered by the Commonwealth the court directed the jury to find the defendant not guilty. Jno. J. Wolfe and B. H. Riley for the Commonwealth, O. M. Rogers and John T. Murphy for the defendant.

The jury in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Clint Moore found the defendant guilty of operating his automobile on the public highway unlawfully and fixed his fine at $10. Mr. Moore was driving his auto on the Petersburg pike near Petersburg and in attempting to pass the buggy driven by Jesse Holt, the machine struck the buggy, damaging the vehicle, and the automobile was also considerably damaged. J. J. Howe and B. H. Riley for the Commonwealth, O. M. Rogers for the defendant.

Theodore Holt entered a plea of guilty of having a moonshine still in his possession, and on account of his age, 17, he was given a sentence of one day in jail and a fine of $100.

Geo. Faulkner was indicted for violating the prohibition laws and was fined $150.00 and 30 days in jail.

The grand jury was in session four days and returned 16 indictments. The report of the grand jury follows:

Hon. Sidney Gaines, Jr. We, your grand jury empaneled on the first day of the December, 1922, term of the Boone Circuit Court, beg leave to report:

We have been in session four days, have examined 32 witnesses, and have returned 16 indictments, dismissing the charge against Carl Belding, for obtaining money under false pretenses.

Complying with your instruction, we examined all of the Cohty property. The infirmary is in good condition and well kept. The general condition of the court house is excellent, but we recommend that the window sash on the inside be painted and that the metal upon the building be given attention. We also recommend that the jail be painted on the outside.

Most of the indictments returned by us are for violations of the liquor law and we would urgently request the co-operation and assistance of all good citizens in the enforcement of all the prohibition laws.

Having concurred our labors, we now ask to be finally discharged.

J. H. WALTON, Foreman.
Attest:
G. H. GRANT, Clerk.

THE CHRISTMAS TREE TRADE.

About this time some people always denounce the custom of cutting down little evergreen trees for Christmas use. They maintain that land owners are thereby wasting one of their resources and helping to keep forest lands denuded.

Nothing however seems to take the place of the little tree for Xmas decoration. It brings the loveliness of the woods into crowded city homes and stimulates good cheer and merriment. It adds to the happiness of children and suggests thoughts of beauty to the older folks. It is worth a good deal to the country to have this spirit of gladness come into millions of homes.

Farmers and owners who cut these little trees claim they grow fast. They are found on land most of which would otherwise be worthless. If our woodlands are properly cared for, the children can have their festive little evergreen saplings without interfering with national prosperity.

School Boys and Good Roads. In Trimble county, Kentucky, many boys up to now have been leaving their country homes. The high school superintendent for that county is fighting against that tendency. He believes that with good roads and proper farm treatment their hillside can be made as productive as any other locality, which will promote progressive life and keep the young people at home.

So those folks are plaining good roads days, when the schools will be closed, and the boys and men will get with their tools and improve bad sections of the highways. The school boys almost anywhere will take hold of a movement to improve living conditions, and an effort like this ought to make rural life more prosperous and attractive.

ENTERTAINMENT AND CHRISTMAS TREE

There will be a Sunday school entertainment and Christmas Tree at Burlington Christian church Sunday, Dec. 24th, 1922 at 1:30 p. m. Every body invited.

Very few people in town after court adjourned last week.

A WEEK'S NEWS.

Mrs. Georgia E. Ellis, aged 77, died at her home, 618 West 11th St., Covington, Wednesday, Dec. 13th, 1922. She was born and reared in Burlington and was a daughter of James M. Runyan, one of the pioneer citizens of the town, and lived in the residence now occupied and owned by R. E. Berkshire and family. Besides her son, Dr. G. J. Ellis, of Covington, she leaves one sister, Mrs. J. C. Revell, of Erlanger, and several nephews and nieces, and a host of friends in this community who sympathize with them in their sorrow and grief. Funeral services were held at the residence Friday afternoon Dec. 15, at 2 p. m., after which the remains were conveyed to Highland cemetery and laid to rest by the side of her husband.

Calvin Coolidge says: "In these days, children get about what they ask for, not what the wise judgment of their parents should dictate. Their pockets are filled with money and out they go to purchase pleasure, and all the pleasure their easy money will buy. The taste for pleasure is formed as the taste for thrift and work is killed. Later on, in a natural development of things, the taste for pleasure becomes so strong that it must be satisfied at any cost. If crime has to be resorted to, that price is paid."

Automobile owners are required by law to take out license tags before their cars can be operated after January 1st. The County Clerk asks all auto owners to bring their tags receipt when applying for the new tags. This will save much trouble. Don't wait until the clerk gets rushed before applying for your new tags.

Misses Isabelle Duncan and Mary Bess Cropper, students at Georgetown College, came home Thursday evening of last week to spend the holidays. They came home three or four days earlier on account of the heating and light plant at the college being destroyed by fire about two o'clock that afternoon.

If you want to live and enjoy Christmas day, do not take a drink of moonshine until the day after Christmas. Not then, unless your favorite bootlegger takes a drink out of the bottle first. If he is living 10 minutes after taking the drink, you might venture to smell what is left in the bottle.

The Greeks executed their public officials who didn't do right, but in this country they would go around and shake hands with the voters and promise to reduce the cost of living and put everybody's pay and would get re-elected.

At the price of coal, the young man who has a girl who requires his company three nights out of the week while the old man saws goods, has to carry an oil heater to keep his love conversation from freezing.

The Rabbit Hash, Covington bus operated by C. W. Craig, will make two trips weekly, Monday and Wednesday. The Saturday trip has been discontinued. No trip will be made on holidays.

Don't forget to go to your bank and sign your War Savings Stamps and Certificates as they become due Jan. 1. You can not collect the amount due you unless this is done.

Dr. A. P. Walton and wife, of Ft. Thomas, passed through Burlington Sunday morning enroute to Petersburg to visit his brother, Harry Walton and family.

James T. Gaines and wife, W. A. Gaines, R. S. Cowen and wife are preparing to leave for St. Petersburg, Fla., where they will spend the winter.

Thursday of last week, when the ground was covered with ice, Mrs. Sarah Carpenter slipped and fell, injuring herself quite severely.

Burlington Lodge No. 264, F. & A. M., will meet next Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 27th, for the purpose of electing officers for 1923.

Judge Guints and wife left for their home at Walton Saturday morning, after spending the week with relatives in Burlington.

Getting news for a newspaper when there is no news stirring, is like making an egg-nog without the "nog."

Donald Lee, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kirkpatrick, who has been quite ill, is much improved.

Many of the schools of the county will close next Friday (tomorrow) until after the holidays.

Yesterday (Wednesday) was the shortest day of the year—it was also the first day of winter.

OFFICE OF SECRETARY OF THE
KY. FARM BUREAU FEDERATION

Chicago—Kentuckians were very very much in evidence at the Fourth Annual Convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation being held here this week, with over 2,000 delegates in attendance.

Judge Robert W. Bingham who was on the program to discuss "The Orderly Marketing of Tobacco" was unavoidably prevented from attending the Convention and his address was read by General E. H. Woods of Lucas, Ky., and was in part as follows:

"I had hoped that I might be able to avail myself of this invitation, and I should have been most glad to do so, but I now find that it is not practicable, as I am compelled to meet with a Committee of the National Cooperative Conference at the time of the National Farm Bureau meeting. However, I wish to take this opportunity to express to you and to the Farm Bureau Federation my gratitude for the able assistance rendered by the Federation in the formation of the Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association which now has 77,000 members, and the Dark Tobacco Cooperative which now has more than 60,000 members.

"Throughout the campaign for the establishment of these two organizations, the Kentucky Farm Bureau and the Bureau in the other States, namely, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana and Tennessee, gave our cooperative organizations its constant and able assistance. Many thousands of the members of these cooperatives are members of the Farm Bureau Federation also. The function of the two organizations is different, although both coincide in their purpose to benefit the condition of the American farmer.

"The Cooperatives and the Federation have worked together in harmony, and have produced, by such harmonious cooperation, invaluable results. There is not the slightest basis for any conflict between the two organizations. There is every sound reason for continued work together, and I have no doubt the two organizations will constantly and permanently cooperate in their noble purpose to build up the agricultural industry of our country; to bring education and prosperity to the American farmer, and, in so doing, they will bring strength, progress and prosperity to our country at large."

FARMERS GET POINTERS ON BUTCHERING AT HOME

Lexington, Ky.—Farmers in an increasing number of Kentucky counties are getting new pointers on the best methods to use in killing and curing meats on their farms as the schedule of meetings and demonstrations being held over the state by the extension division of the College of Agriculture goes forward, according to Grady Sellars, swine extension specialist of the college, who is in charge of the work. The most recent meetings have been held in Logan, Barren, and Daviess counties with a total attendance of more than 250 farmers.

Just how to take care of the pork chop cut in butchering hogs so that local butchers over the state can take care of the surplus meat to the best advantage seems to be one of the chief difficulties of farmers who do their own butchering. Unless this cut is taken out in the same manner on the farm that packers use it is impossible for butchers to use the surplus pork chops that farmers may wish to sell, Mr. Sellars says. One Russellville butcher offered to pay 15 cents a pound for any surplus pork chops farmers in that section of the state might have, provided they were taken out of the carcass by the correct method.

In following the method of packers in taking out the pork chop cut, the back is first split and then about the upper one-third of the side, containing the pork chops and the clear fat back is removed. These two then are separated leaving the pork chops with the right amount of the back bone and rib on them.

Many farmers in cutting up their pork carcasses now make the mistake of marring this pork chop cut by carving it into several pieces. This makes it impossible for the local butcher who buys surplus chops from the farmer to cut off pork chops for his trade. Another advantage in taking the chops out by this method is the fact that the loin can be separated from the rest of the chops and canned or used for sausage. This latter point is especially desirable in view of the fact that there is seldom enough lean meat resulting from the farm butchering to make good sausage.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our gratitude and thanks to the many friends and relatives who helped us during the illness and at the death of our beloved father, Benjamin Stephens. We especially want to thank Dr. Senour for his wonderful help and kindness during our trouble, also Mr. Tallafiero for the efficient manner in which the funeral was conducted, and Brother Ribble for his comforting words.

The Children.

Edward Berkshire killed 5 Hampshire hogs that made 13 1/2 gallons of each, last week, and he also made 250 pounds of sausage.

RADIO RALF AND HIS FRIENDS---

By JACK WILSON

Copyright 1923 by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate

The Separator
Tells The Story

Your profits depend on what comes out of the cream spout of your separator. If you want more milk, and cream richer in butter fat, you have got to feed your cows a ration which will produce milk. Milk depends on feed. You can't get away from it.

Ce-re-a-lia Sweets does make milk. It is a scientifically mixed feed for dairy cows, composed of Brewer's Grains, Cottonseed Meal, Corn Meal, Wheat Bran, Wheat Middlings, Corn Gluten Feed, Old Process Oil Meal and Pure Cane Molasses. It is clean and sweet—never cakes or lumps. Cows relish the flavor.

Prove to your own satisfaction that Ce-re-a-lia Sweets will make you more money.

Four Weeks Trial
At Our Risk

Feed one cow on Ce-re-a-lia Sweets for four weeks. If you don't get more or better milk, and a larger net profit from that cow, you get every cent of your money back. Ask us about the details.

EARLY & DANIEL CO.,
Erlanger, Ky.

EARLY & DANIEL CO.,
Covington, Ky.

EARLY & DANIEL CO.,
Cincinnati, Ohio.

Ce-re-a-lia
Sweets

American Legion
DANCE

Florence Theatre, Florence, Ky.,
Jan. 1st, 1923

NEW YEAR'S NIGHT

Subscription. Every One Invited.

Meeting Mail Order Competition.

Merchants in many places complain of the amount of competition they have to meet from mail order houses. While people are sending away orders that ought to be spent in building up the mercantile affairs of their own locality, yet the fault is not always wholly with the buying public.

The mail order folks are wonderful advertisers. Their catalogs are distributed all along the rural routes and are made attractive with cuts and quotations of prices. What are the merchants of Boone county doing to meet this form of rivalry?

The country store can build up its trade just the way the mail order house has, through the power of advertising. Publicity will make its goods look just as attractive and seem just as good bargains as the stuff people get of the mail order houses many miles away. If the country merchant will quote his prices and feature his bargains, he can make his place if business look just as enterprising as that distant emporium in some far away city.

It is a natural thing for country people to come into their market town to trade. If the business men of that center impress themselves on the surrounding country as men of enterprise who are pushing for bargains all the time, the country people will trade at home. But if many of these merchants use no publicity at all, and if others advertise only in a routine or occasional way, without mentioning special features or trying to convince the public that they have the real thing in bargains, some of the country people may conclude that those stores are not sufficiently wide awake and may send off large amounts to some distant metropolis.

The business men of a town should work 365 days in the year to win the friendship of the country people. They should promote enterprises to assist rural interests, invite the country folks into their organizations, join with them in improvement projects. When a lot of country trade is drifting away, something is usually the matter that could be remedied.

Take Your County Paper.

BE - A - HILL - CUSTOMER - IT - PAYS

Good Things for Christmas

- Chocolate Drops, pound.....20c
- Cocoanut Bon Bons, lb.....25c
- Honey Comb Taffy, lb.....25c
- Radiant Fancy Mixed, lb.....22c
- Xmas Hard Mixed, lb, 17c, 3 lbs.....50c
- Peanut Brittle, lb.....20c
- Twist Stick Candy, lb.....20c
- Chocolate Creams, lb.....35c
- 5 Pound Box.....$1.50
- Schrafft's Fancy Chocolate, lb, 50c
- 5 Pound Box.....$2.25
- Cocoanut Clusters, lb.....30c
- Buntes Hard Mixed and Fancy Filled.....40 and 50c lb
- Seeded Raisins, 15 oz. pkg.....16c
- Seedless Raisins, 15 oz. pkg.....17c

Nuts! Nuts!!

- All New Mixed Nuts, lb.....20c
- No. 1 Calif. Soft Shell Walnuts, lb.....32c
- Large Brazils lb.....20c
- Large Filberts, lb.....20c
- California Almonds, lb.....25c
- Pecans, lb.....25c
- Paper Shell Pecans, lb.....60c
- Shelled English Walnuts, lb.....85c
- Shelled Pecans, lb.....$1.20
- Shelled Almonds, lb.....70c
- Fresh Cocoanuts, each.....10c
- Recleaned Currants, 15 oz. pkg.....25c
- Dromedary Dates, pkg.....20c

- CALIFORNIA LAYER FIGS, lb.....30c
- FANCY LAYER RAISINS, lb.....45c
- LONDON LAYER RAISINS, lb.....17c
- CLUSTER RAISINS, lb.....25c

- CANDIED CITRON, lb.....60c
- LEMON & ORANGE PEEL, lb.....30c
- CANDIED CHERRIES, box.....25c
- CANDIED PINEAPPLE, lb.....75c

Oranges, Grape Fruit, and Apples by the Box, Bananas by the Bunch.
WRITE FOR PRICES.

Fancy Rome Beauty Apples, per boy..$2.25 Fancy Baldwins Apples, der bbl..$5.25
Write for Special Prices on Candies in quantities for Churches and Schools.

Cigars, Cigarettes & Smoking Tobacco

- STRAUS No. 9 CIGARS, Box of 50.....$3.25
- NICKLE FORD CIGARS, Box of 50.....$2.00
- CIGARETTES IN CARTONS OF 200.
- Camels.....$1.25.
- Clowns.....$1.20
- Fatimas.....$1.75
- Omars.....$1.85.
- Lucky Strike.....$1.30
- Piedmont.....$1.40
- Chesterfield.....$1.40.
- Beechnut.....$1.15
- 111's.....96c doz

Northern Kentucky's LEADING GROCERS AND SEEDSMEN

GEO. W. HILL & CO.

Be a Hill Customer - It Pays -
27-29 PINE ST - 26 W 7th ST COV KY.
Covington - Scotland, Wadesboro - Raleigh

Miss Marion Maed Matthews, the birth control leader, said in a Denver address:

"Some husbands are like John Long. John Long had 14 children, and they had all been rocked in the same cradle. One evening as Mrs. Long was rocking the 14th child, she said to her husband with a wan smile:

"John, this cradle is pretty near worn out."

"Yep," said John, "it's about used up." Then he handed Mrs. Long a $10 bill and added, "Next time ye go to town, mother, git a new one—one that will last."

The State in debt over $7,500,000 and two Normal Schools to be built that will cost $500,000, and $200,000 a year to run them. Where is this money to come from? Will the State tax rate be raised or valuation of real estate be raised? It is time to stop and take stock of the State affairs and elect some hard-headed business man for Governor who will call a halt on extravagance with the State revenue.

JUST AS HAPPY

(Madisonville Hustler.)

A newspaper article calls attention to the fact that John D. Rockefeller commenced work sixty-seven years ago at $4 per month and is now worth almost a billion dollars. At the very time John D. was making his $4 a month, the editor of this column was receiving 25 cents a day with dinner thrown in, following a mule hitched to a wooden mold-board plow. We haven't John's millions, but we have as much to eat as we can digest, a good bed to sleep in and a few friends who help us smile as we meet.

Hot air is never the result of cold deliberation.

Goodrich
"STRAIGHT-LINE"
Rubber Footwear

Public Approval Follows Honest Quality!

That accounts for the great popularity of Goodrich Rubber Footwear. The Rubber is tougher and stronger, the workmanship expert, half a century of rubber experience enters into it, none but perfect goods leave the factory. All these things explain the remarkable service you always get from a Goodrich Gaiter, Arctic, Rubber Boot or Overshoe.

Manufactured by The Goodrich Rubber Co., Akron, O.
If your dealer cannot supply, please write for the name of your nearest dealer.

All obituaries, card of thanks and all other matter, not news, must be paid for at 5 cents per line.

Bullittsburg Baptist Church.
J. W. CAMPBELL, Pastor.
Sunday School every Sunday at 10:00 a. m.
Regular preaching services on the First and Third Sundays in each month at 11:00 a. m.

Boone Co. Lutheran Pastorate
REV. GEO. A. ROYER, Pastor.
Sunday Dec. 24th

Hopeful 9:30 a. m., Sunday School.
Hopeful 10:30 a. m., Holy Communion.

Hopeful 7:30 p. m., Christian Service by the Sunday School.
Hebron 2 p. m., Teacher Training.
Hebron 2:30 p. m., Regular Service.
Hebron 2 p. m., (Christmas Day) Annual Christmas Service by the Sunday School.

Burlington Baptist Church
REV. W. W. ADAMS, Pastor.

Mid-week Prayer Meeting, Wednesday 7 p. m.
Christmas Tree and Program Saturday 7 p. m.

Bible School Sunday 10 a. m., Public Worship Sunday 11 a. m., Sermon subject, "Some Christmas Harmonies and Discords." B. Y. P. U. 6 p. m.

Two Union Services Sunday. At Baptist church 11 a. m., at Methodist church 7 p. m.

Cordial welcome to all.

Boone Co. Christian Pastorate
REV. C. C. OMER, Pastor.

Sunday Dec. 24, 1922
BULLITTSVILLE

Bible School 10:00 a. m.
PT. PLEASANT

Bible School 10:00 a. m.
Preaching 11:00 a. m.
Christmas Entertainment 7 p. m.

The RECORDER wishes for one and all a Merry Xmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year. The Recorder force hopes to enjoy the Holiday season, and in order due to do so will not publish an edition next week.

1922 is drawing to a close.
Next Monday is Christmas.

Turkeys are roosting high now.
Earl Cropper is at home for the holidays.

Mrs. Genie Blythe has been quite ill for several days.

A. B. Renaker is adding more improvements to his residence.

Denzel Carpenter came home to spend the holidays with his parents.

A bunch of 26 wild ducks passed over the town Sunday headed westward.

The new furnace has been installed in the basement at the Baptist church.

Mrs. W. R. Davranville, who has been quite ill of pneumonia, is able to be out.

Kirtley Cropper spent Saturday night and Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Lee Cropper.

The thermometer registered six degrees above zero Monday morning—the coldest of the winter.

Some one swiped two or three nice young pullets from J. M. Barlow's chicken roost one night last week.

William and Wilson Gaines, near Burlington killed five hogs one day last week for their meat that made 65 gallons of lard.

Grant Williamson has been stripping his crop of tobacco the past few days. He has some very fine tobacco in his crop.

The local banks have been quite busy the past week preparing War Savings Stamps for redemption—which fall due January 1st.

Most everybody have killed their porkers the past few days. The weather has been ideal for that class of work the past few days.

Work at Dam 88 at McVill has closed down until spring and the workmen have been discharged with the exception of a few who have been retained to clean up.

J. J. Kirkpatrick has installed two Radio receiving sets in the store of D. R. Blythe, and will demonstrate with the instruments for those interested during the holidays.

Less corn was imported in 1921 by the United Kingdom, France and Belgium than during pre-war years, according to information compiled by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Our old friend L. H. Voshell, of Union, was in attendance at court several days last week. He entertained the boys around the store stoves with "old time stories" when not busy in the court room.

Bernard Rogers, of the Bellevue neighborhood, shipped a barrel load of nice cattle to market last Thursday, for which he received satisfactory prices. Mr. Rogers is one of the best farmers of the county.

Christmas Greetings.

Burlington, Ky.,
Dec. 11th, 1922.

Dear Editor:

It is through your very great kindness that I request space in your columns for a brief word.

The Christmas season is here. I am a stranger in Burlington, from the point of view of the length of my stay here. And yet, I am not a stranger. All the members of my church, all the Christians of our community, all the citizens of our town have so received me and my unworthy efforts to serve here that I pride myself in the privilege of citizenship here. I say unhesitatingly that my work here has been and is the happiest of my short ministry in the Gospel cause. All of you have endeared yourselves to me.

My best Christmas wishes flow out from the bottom of my heart to our people. My best wish to you, Mr. Editor, and to all your co-workers. I have in mind the faithful members of my church, every Bible student, every boy and girl. I have in mind the sick and sorrowing in heart. I have in mind all who strive to lift our community up and forward. Yes, just mean "all," "every one."

May this be the best and happiest Christmas of your life.

Very Sincerely Yours,

W. W. ADAMS.

Care at Christmas Time.

At Christmas time, many people are so engrossed with the idea of entertainment and amusement for their children, that they are forgetful of the dangers that accompany these entertainments.

Picture the Family Reunion—Gathered around the annual Christmas tree—Children, grandchildren, nieces, nephews, cousins and all. The tree with its many decorations, its lighting effects, its imitation snow, tinsel, the presents for all—Santa Claus with his white locks and flowing beard—When suddenly a flash, and the fire appears.

Someone has been careless and the accident occurs. Some little fellow hopelessly scarred for life—or may be the loss of life. The happy scene is changed without warning to one of sorrow, misery and despair. There is a Christmas, the horror of which is forever burned into memory and ears of those who but a short time before were so gay and care-free.

A family reunion that will never be forgotten. But always the darkness of death or accident in the ascendant. The family with a home gone, a loved one burned, that scene that began so happily, changed in a moment to one of horror and distress.

Lighted candles on trees in connection with paper tinsel and celluloid decorations, the same on electric light wires, dried holly or mistletoe light or electric light, and their wires, any of these might be the cause of the above picture.

These Christmas time pleasure and programs may be so arranged as to preclude the possibility of any such tragedy occurring in the home. Proper supervision of the children and a little care in preparing the decorations will accomplish this result.

This department requests that all people throughout the State of Kentucky bear these facts in mind in preparing their Yuletide festivities. To that end we extend heartiest greetings and good cheer to all throughout the State, praying that not a single calamity of the kind pictured above may be the part of any resident of this great State. To that extent we ask your co-operation.

Department of Fire Prevention and Raising Auditor's Office.

JOHN J. CRAIG, Auditor.

J. A. STELTENKAMP, Chief Deputy Auditor.

Frankfort, Kentucky.

CARE AT CHRISTMAS TIME

Samples of sheet asphalt paving from large cities are being examined in the laboratory of the Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture, to determine if possible the cause of the formation of bad spots and waves, or corrugations. A few samples of bituminous concrete are also being examined. The samples have been cut from good and bad sections of the same paving job and are examined for appearance of sample, grading of aggregate, and quantity and characteristics of asphalt.

County Superintendents of schools in their annual convention at Frankfort last week, unanimously advocated a policy of fiscal school legislation, which includes permission for counties to issue school building bonds, levy a special high school tax, permission for districts to levy special local taxes, resubmission of the Constitutional Amendment adopting the distribution of the State school funds to local needs and removing the maximum of 50 cents on the county school levies.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS

It is often caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing. Unless the inflammation can be reduced, your hearing may be destroyed. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE will do what we claim for it—rid your system of catarrh. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE has been successful in the treatment of Catarrh for over 20 years. Sold by all druggists.

J. J. Chesley & Co., Toledo, O.

FOR SALE ETC

For Sale—Drop Head Singer sewing machine in good condition. Mrs. B. C. Gaines, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 1. o21dec—pd

T. E. McHenry, the Singer Man is offering special inducements for the holiday trade on all the different styles of Singer Sewing Machines. A liberal discount will be given from now until January 1st, 1923, on all sales Cash or Time. See or call Farmers phone, Florence, Ky.
o21stdec—2t

For Sale—Three pieces old fashioned furniture. W. F. Grant, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 2.
o21dec—2tpd

We give 20 per cent cash discount or to reliable parties of the regular retail price on Columbia Gramofones, Starr Grand Pianos, Upright Pianos, Player Pianos and Starr Phonographs. Free delivery made anywhere. Write for catalog.

RICE PIANO CO.,
Aurora, Indiana.
o-Jan1

For Sale—2½ acres of land, good land, about ¾ mile west of Burlington on Bellevue and Burlington pike. N. E. Riddell, Burlington, Ky.

WANTED
Hay to bale. Prices reasonable. P. H. Mathews, Bullittsville, Ky. Phone 203-x
29june tf

Wanted—Man to work on farm by the day or month to raise tobacco; house and garden furnished. H. L. McGlasson, Hebron, Ky. dec7tf

For Sale—4-room house and lot, poultry house and run, new cistern, near Burlington, Ky. Sell cheap, terms if desired. R. H. Walker, Latonia, Ky., R. R. 3, box 52. dec-7

We have rented batteries that will fit any car while we are recharging or repairing your battery.
DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO.,
Eranger, Ky.

NOTICE
All persons having claims against the Road Fund for the year 1922, are requested to present them to the undersigned by Dec. 30th, 1922, as I would like to make a settlement with the county the first of the year.
O. R. PORTER,
County Road Engineer.

For Sale—Two year old Holstein bull. Well bred, dehorned, ringed. A fine individual. Splendid breeder and AI in every respect. Two six months old red short horn bull calves. Mammoth Bronze Turkeys and Toulouse geese.
Ira Aylor, Union Ky.

FOR SALE

102½ acres of land near McVill, Boone county, 40 acres of tobacco land, balance in grass. Six room house, barn and other buildings. All in good condition. Well watered and lot good Locust timber.

A. B. RENAKER,
Burlington, Ky.
21dec4t—pd

SALE—From Dec. 21st to January 1st. For the benefit of those who failed to get their holiday gun shells during our recent sale, we offer them again as follows:
Remington Nitro Club 12 gauge
Regular price .....$1.20
Sale price .....$1.00
16 gauge—Regular price .....$1.40
Sale price .....$1.20
Hardware & Specialty Co.,
Hope Conner Mgr., Florence, Ky.

FARM TOOL SERVICE

For one month, beginning the day after Christmas, we will grind your chilled plow points for ten cents each, when brought to us in lots of three or more. We grind them to suit you, and this is just half our regular price. Club with your neighbor, 12 for a dollar! At this price, it will pay you to have your new points ground now. "We do the people's work." "Good as the best, better than the rest." Conner & Kraus, "The Big Shop," Florence, Ky.

P. S.—We are ready to take your order for screen doors, MADE TO FIT.

For Sale—Good as new steel bed, with splendid springs and mattress. Vernis Martin finish. Price $10.00 if sold at once. Mrs. E. Warren Utz, Union, Ky. 1t—pd

For Sale—Two sows and twelve pigs. Roscoe E. Akins, Burlington, Ky., R. D. 1. 1t—pd

FOR SALE—Extracted honey. 15 cents per pound. Sterling House residence near Limburg, Ky., Ludlow, Ky. 1t—pd

FOR RENT OR SALE—Farm, known as the Grubbs Farm Just on top of hill from Taylorsport, and one mile from Hebron. This farm consists of 162 acres good land, 25 acres in fine blue grass pasture, 12 acres for tobacco, 20 acres corn, 20 acres timothy, 5 acres alfalfa, 12 acres oats. Large tobacco barn and comfortable house. For terms call on W. T. McGlasson, Hebron phone, Ludlow, Ky., R. D. 1.
21dec—4t

The inventory of the estate of the late United States Senator P. C. Knox, carries a total of $1,193,077.61 based on the value of securities at the time of his death. The inventory lists $100,000 Russian rubles, which are appraised at $350.

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

DEM WHUTS ALLUZ STRAININ' FUH T' GIT OUT IN DE SPOT-LIGHT GINNALLY AINT WUTH LOOKIN' AT WEN DEY GITS DAH!

Copyright, 1921 by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

FOR SALE

110 acres land known as Samuel Dobbins farm. Apply to Jas. M. Dobbins, Richmond, Ky.
o28dec—3t

For Sale—A wood-burning heater in No. 1 condition, will take in large size stick of wood or coal. Lloyd McGlasson, Constance, Ky.
o21dec2t—pd

NOTICE

My auto will make daily trips to the city during the holidays—via Waterloo.
Dec. 14—tf M. B. RICE

We have one man that does nothing but battery work, and he is an expert.
DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO.,
Eranger, Ky.

CASCO KILLS COLDS

or your money back
Positively Contains no Aspirin
For Sale at all Drug Stores
30 Tablets ..... 25c

1917 Ford touring car in excellent condition.

1920 Dodge Roadster. This is a bargain.

1921 Ford Coupe. Must sell immediately.

DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO.,
Eranger, Ky.

NOTICE

Automobile owners applying for 1923 license must present their registration certificate for 1922 before same can be issued.

M. E. ROGERS,
County Clerk.

FOR SALE

1915 Ford Touring ..... $125.00
1916 Ford Touring ..... $85.00
1918 Ford Touring ..... $120.00
Grant Six Touring ..... $300.00
490 Chevrolet Touring ..... $110.00
All of the above cars are in first-class condition.

C. W. MYERS MOTOR CO.,
Florence, Ky.

Geo. Griffith.

Barber.

Farmers Ins' Building.

Wednesday & Friday

Evenings.

Saturday, All Day.

Burlington, Kentucky.

NOTICE

Covington - Rabbit Hash

BUS LINE

Monday & Wednesday

No trips made on holidays.

C. W. CRAIG, Proprietor,

Grant, Ky.

A magazine writer says that every drink of liquor a man takes shortens his life 25 minutes. Such conservative figures, however, must have been compiled in the pre-Volstead days, before they started selling the liquid dynamite now being dispensed.

Shipments of grapes from California have increased steadily during the last six seasons, reaching a total of approximately 38,000 cars in 1922, according to reports of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Pleasant Valley school will present the "Spillin' Skewl" and give a pie social December 28th. Everybody invited. Ladies please bring pies.

Patching up a quarrel is poor business. It is better to make a new garment and take a fresh start.

One dollar a week saved for twenty-five years at 6 per cent will amount to $3,024.

With this edition the RECORDER closes the year 1922.

CAR SENSE

Spend
a Dollar
and
Save
Ten

Little defects grow into big ones in time if not corrected.

The correction of a small defect in its early stages costs but little.

When left until it grows into serious proportions its correction runs into money.

That is what makes the maintenance of a car so expensive to many people—neglecting the little things until they grow into big ones.

The better—the safer—the more economical way is to see the garage man at the first warning of trouble.

Today is always a good time to have it done.

EDDINS BROTHERS

TIRES, TUBES AND ACCESSORIES.

Burlington, Kentucky.

BRAKE BAND OIL—Guaranteed to stop Ford bands from chattering.
Agents for U. S. and Ajax Tires.

Established 1886.

There is nothing so valuable as friends and nothing so necessary as to keep them. We desire to maintain our mutual co-operation with you during the coming year and extend our wishes for a very

Merry Christmas

and

Happy New Year.

Boone Co. Deposit Bank

Burlington, Kentucky.

COURTESY SERVICE FIRST STABILITY

It is with sincere pleasure and cordial Good Will that We Wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Peoples Deposit Bank

Burlington, Ky.

Petersburg Theatre

At Petersburg, Kentucky

Saturday Night, Dec. 23rd.

"HONEST HUTCH"

FEATURING WILL RODERS

A story of the largest man in the largest spot of the world and of an amazing chance that changes him.

It is rich in laughs and humor.

At Burlington, Kentucky,

Friday Night, Dec. 22nd

CHILDREN 10c. ADULTS 25c

War Tax Included Will Begin promptly at 7:30

HEBRON THEATRE--Next Saturday

WILLIAM RUSSELL IN

"LADY LONGACRE"

Sunshine Comedy, The Book Agent

Admission 22 Cents, Children 10 Cents

War Tax Included

ARE YOU A READER OF THE RECORDER?

If Not Try It One year.

As the Editor Sees It.

Greetings of the Yuletide season!

You are probably more interested in the coming Christmas dinner than you are in seeing things "as the editor sees them."

We frankly confess that our own thoughts are much along the same line, for on that festive day we make it a rule to forget the cares of the present and the sorrows of the past.

If there is any one day in the year on which we should be joyful that day is Christmas. And since joy and sorrows do not make the best of companions we cast the sorrows aside.

A right merry Christmas to you and yours!

What is your program for Christmas day?

No matter what other things you may have in view, do not forget that the minister has a special message for you.

It is a message that has been handed down from the days of the babe in the manger—a message that is old, yet always new. It is a message that is simple, yet profound. It is a message that is full of peace and good will.

The best thing you can do for yourself and for others is to live a life of peace and good will. Let your life be a living message to the world.

East, West, North, South, let us all live in peace and good will. Let us all be brothers and sisters in the love of God.

How can we live in peace and good will? The answer is simple. We must love one another. We must be kind to one another. We must be patient with one another.

Let us all strive to be like the angels. Let us all strive to be like the saints. Let us all strive to be like the Lord.

And do you remember how you slipped into the pantry and climbed up onto a chair and took a piece of mother's cake, and possibly tripped a corner of her best pie—and how she laughed instead of giving you a good scolding?

It was Christmas, and she remembered the significance of the day. She could not put sorrow into little hearts on the day that only joy should reign.

Heed the lessons learned from the good mother who has possibly journeyed on.

Your own kiddie may want to hook a piece of cake, or set its teeth into your best pie.

Peace and good will to you all ways!

Is there someone hereabouts with whom you are not on the best of terms?

Has some little incident estranged you?

Christmas will be a good day on which to forget the incident and remember the friend and neighbor.

We do not come into this world of our own volition, and our leaving will be without regard to our wishes or desires.

Life is too short to be spent in squabbles and misunderstandings. There is a better way.

May health, happiness and prosperity attend you!

Is there a stranger within your midst—one who has been with us but a short time, and is without close friends, and possibly with but a limited acquaintance?

Christmas may not be quite so merry for him, or her—unless we make it so.

The stranger within our gates should not be a stranger, at least on Christmas day.

May your joys of life be many, and full to overflowing!

Remember the poor and needy. Give of your substance, that there may be none without sustenance on the day of days. Christ gave his all that we might be enriched by his sacrifice. The unfortunate may be cheered by a slight sacrifice from us.

BIBLE CLASS BANQUET

The men's Bible Class of Union Baptist church held their semi-annual banquet Thursday evening, November 30th, 1922. Sixty-four members and guests were present, all of whom seemed to have a most enjoyable evening. The menu consisted of turkey and all the "fixins" that go to make up a complete Thanksgiving feast. The tables were beautifully decorated with silver ware, candles and Chrysanthemums. Rev. J. B. Garber was toastmaster. Rev. M. A. Speer offered prayer; Rev. J. A. Miller and Mr. J. L. Frazier responded to brief toasts, while the principal address of the evening was delivered by Hon. Hubert Schwartz, City Attorney of Dayton, Ky. His subject was "Christian Patriotism."

It was a genuine Thanksgiving occasion and those who were present will not soon forget it. The program was concluded by all standing and singing together "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow."

The banquet was a success in every way and the class officers feel deeply grateful to all who helped in any way to make it such.

Of the total apple crop in the Northwest, 15 to 20 per cent are of the delicious variety, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture. This variety brings higher prices than other prominent varieties of boxed apples.

Santa Makes Them Happy

BRING THE CHILDREN AND LET THEM SEE WHAT

SCALNATUAS

—HAS LEFT HERE—

I HAVE A LARGER LINE OF TOYS THIS YEAR THAN I HAVE EVER HAD BEFORE, SUCH AS

Dolls, Dishes, Toy Furniture, Wagons, Sleds, Air Rifles, Roller Skates, Mechanical Toys and many others.

I ALSO HAVE ALL KINDS OF

Nuts, Oranges, Dates, Figs, Cocoanuts, Oysters, Cranberry Celery, Crackers, and everything it takes to make a Happy X-mas for both Old and Young.

D. R. BLYTHE, Burlington, Ky.

WISHING YOU

A Merry Christmas and Prosperous New Year.

Public Sale.

I will sell at public auction at my residence 1-4 of a mile south of Hopeful Church, at the C. E. Tanner farm,

Wednesday, Dec. 27th, 1922

The Following property:

Team 10 yr. old mules, will work any where, 6 yr. old cow, will be fresh in January, 10 Chester white shoats weigh from 75 to 80 pounds, 7 shoats weigh 35 to 40 pounds. Registered Poland China sow will farrow in February, 250 Bushels yellow assorted corn, will be sold in 25 bushel lots, 2 rubber tired buggies, good as new, 2 horse Oliver cultivator, Johnson mowing machine, 2 horse sled, 18 inch disk harrow, 2 Oliver Chilled No. 20 plows, Dirt scraper, Double set work harness, Buggy harness, 30 Rods 6 foot poultry fence, Harpoon hay fork, rope and pulleys, Pitch forks, Hand corn planter, Tobacco setter, Hay knife, 2 Cow sprays, Cow chains, Shovels, Double and Single trees, Tobacco knives, Potato diggers, 2 Iron wedges, Pick, Dirt shovel, One man saw, Cross cut saw, Hand saw, Chicken coops, Garden plow, 5 Tooth cultivator, Double shovel plow, Cedar churn, 2 Metal hog troughs, 4 and 5 Gallon jar, 2 5 Gallon cream cans, Road wagon, hay bed, Box bed, Scythe, Log chains, Trace chains, Woven fence stretchers, Many other articles too numerous to mention.

TERMS OF SALE.

All sum under $10.00 cash, over that amount a credit of 9 months will be given, purchaser to execute note with good security payable at the Florence Deposit Bank.

Chas. R. Snyder.

LUTE BRADFORD, Auct.

Sale begins at 12 O'clock noon.

REPORT OF GRANGE EDUCATIONAL COMMITTEE

Worthy a Master, Officers and Members of the Kentucky State Grange. Your committee on Education beg to submit the following:

A question that should be of vital interest to every farmer, man, and woman in the State is the District School.

From questionnaires sent out to country people four out of five families that went into the city gave as the reason the opportunity for education for their children.

As from women and mothers we do not feel it incumbent on us that we lay up much money to leave our children. We are not especially anxious that they shall be richly dressed or have homes finely furnished. But we do owe it to them to give them healthy bodies and a chance to train the mental ability, with which they are endowed.

The Federal Department at Washington makes the following startling statement: Of the 212,000 one-room rural schools in the whole country 125,000 are being taught by inexperienced teachers, most of whom are immature boys and girls of no training, and not much educational preparation. Kentucky, because of her position among her sister states in the scale of illiteracy, must of necessity, have a very large per cent of her rural schools taught by inexperienced, incompetent teachers. We of rural birth, have been proud of the fact that the rural school has been the starting point for most of the successful men and women of the land. But unless conditions shall speedily change we shall lose this proud place.

Probably the strongest plank in the Grange platform is that of education. In the declaration of purposes we read: "We shall advance the cause of education among ourselves and for our children by all just means within our power. We especially advocate for our Agricultural and Industrial Colleges, their practical agriculture and domestic science, and all the arts which adorn the home be taught in their course of study."

At one time the National Grange appointed a commission to investigate the educational conditions of our rural folks. F. P. Wolcott at that time Master of the Kentucky State Grange, a graduate of Harvard University, was appointed chairman of the Commission. This Commission recommended the consolidated school. The consolidated school costs more than the one-room school? Yes. It is worth more. The consolidated school as come to stay. There are difficulties to be encountered in its establishment. They will be met in time, for all vital questions work themselves out.

Politics must be eliminated from all school questions. The man or woman who will use his or her political affiliations as a stepping stone to any school board should not have placed in his or her hands the educational welfare of our children, and any voter who places political preferences before business acumen and mental and moral qualifications should not be allowed a voice in educational matters. As citizens of the state we owe to every child equal opportunity for education.

Mrs. E. P. VanDeren, Chairman.
Mrs. E. N. Rees.
Mrs. J. P. Hodson.

FARM MEETING PROGRAM ALREADY WELL STARTED

Lexington, Ky. — Plans for the eleventh annual Farm and Home Convention to be held at the College of Agriculture Jan. 30 to Feb. 2nd, of next year, for Kentucky farmers and their wives already are well under way, according to an announcement by N. R. Elliott, who is in charge of the program for the event. Talks, demonstrations and conferences to give farmers and their wives practical pointers on a wide variety of important farm and home problems already are scheduled on the program which is fast taking a definite form.

Problems dealing with sheep and wool, alfalfa and the farm home get attention on the first day of the program, Tuesday, Jan. 30th. The principal speakers on that day will include Miss Mary E. Sweeney, of Washington, D. C., and R. C. Miller, L. J. Horlacher and E. J. Kinney, of the college.

Hog, tobacco, poultry, fruit, vegetable, and rural church problems will be the headlines in the Wednesday program, Jan. 31.

On Thursday, Feb. 1, the chief subjects for discussion will be those dealing with dairying, turkeys and the rural school.

Beef cattle subjects and those dealing with the rural community will be the main ones on the Friday program.

If names count for anything, Michigan's new Senator, Mr. Couzens, ought to have a place on the committee on foreign relations.

It is one of life's little paradoxes that "the unspeakable Turk" is to day causing more talk than anybody in the world.

F. W. Kassebaum &amp; Son GRANITE &amp; MARBLE MONUMENTS,

A Large Stock on Display to Select from.
Pneumatic Tool Equipment
118 Main Street,
AURORA, IND.

Leiglass Replaced, Cushions and Backs Rebuilt
Buggy and Wagon Upholstering
OF QUALITY

RUFUS W. TANNER
Auto Top Repairing

Santa's cars for all makes of cars.
Dixie Highway Erlanger, Ky.
Phone Erl. 79-Y.

People who use the classified ads in this paper profit by them. The little ads bring quick results. What have you for sale or want to buy. The cost is too small to consider.

C. H. YOUELL
Farms for Sale
At Bargain Prices.
Burlington, Ky.
Phone Burlington 65

DR. T. B. CASTLEMAN,
DENTIST
In my new office
Clayola Place, Florence, Ky.
Teeth extracted painless. Bridge and Plate Work a Specialty.
All Work Guaranteed

JAMES L. ADAMS
DENTIST
Cohen Building
Pike Street, Covington, Ky.

You Can Trade the Article You Don't Need For Something You Do by Advertising.

RECHARGE ANY BATTERY 75c
RENTED BATTERIES FOR ANY MAKE CAR WHILE WE ARE RECHARGING OR REPAIRING YOUR BATTERY.
Dempsey Motor Car Co.,
Erlanger, Ky. Phone 70-L

Some authorities are making the surprising and seemingly improbable statement that 50 per cent of the people are "morons", that is, persons who are only partially developed mentally.

It seems far too sweeping to suggest that such a large proportion of the population are mentally deficient. It is true that most people are deficient in some ways. Many persons of great mental ability in some directions, fill show an amazing lack of sense in others. Many people who have little book knowledge will show a lot of common sense in daily life.

There are a large number who never make any effort for mental improvement after they leave school. All who have any influence over them should try to induce them to read good newspapers and magazines and attend informing lectures. People who never make any effort for self

ARE YOU A READER OF THE RECORDER?

Only $1.50 the Year

Subscribe For The Recorder.....$1.50 per year

BOONE CO. RECORDER

Published every Thursday
N. E. RIDDELL, Publisher.

Foreign Advertising Representative
THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION
Entered at the Postoffice, Burlington, Ky., as second-class mail.

The Recorder Stands For
BETTER FARMING, BETTER CITIZENS, BETTER HOMES"

ADVERTISING RATES.

Furnished on application. The value of the RECORDER as an advertising medium is unquestioned. The character of the advertisements now in its columns, and the number of them, tell the whole story.

They say it comes to those who wait,
But I know one that's slicker—
If you go after what you want,
You'll get it that much quicker.

Sudden death cheats the doctor,
but nothing ever gets ahead of the undertaker.

The politicians are always in favor of useful legislation, when they find it will help them get public office.

'Nother thing needed in this country is less perfume from the scented bottle and more from farm fertilizer.

Formerly the girls got warm by doing the housework, but now they keep comfortable by wearing fancy sweaters.

Naturally women are making good as executives, as they have had many years experience bossing their husbands.

The girls who wear their overshoes unbuckled should make the thing complete by wearing their boots unlaced.

Claimed the boys are unable to express themselves in debates, but they will argue a long time who is the prettiest girl.

Many people who enjoy loafing and roaming around the country are strongly convinced that travel is highly educational.

Never put your name on a Christmas present, as it prevents your friend from passing it off to some one else next year.

Not much has been done to protect the Christians of Turkey, but the powers are all moving to save the supplies of oil.

While our rivers remain undeveloped, the American people will probably have to buy around 2,000,000 automobiles a year.

Winter is the time for coughs, and the government should observe the season by paying a lot of the profiteers cough up.

President Harding says this country is the victim of speed mania but he has not claimed that Congress was infected with it.

The families that give their kids a tin drum for Christmas do not claim they are doing anything to promote the peace movement.

Claimed that too many automobiles are being used, but the speeders are junking a considerable number in the ditches right along.

Another sign of winter is seen around December 15, when the new installment of income tax payments gives a lot of people cold feet.

It is hoped that horses won't entirely disappear, as a number of them are needed to tow the broken down automobiles to the garages.

The students are holding "pep" meetings, but none of them is reported to have been called for the purpose of pepping up their studies.

The American woman is said to dress better than ever before, but Father finds the improvement somewhat burdensome on the pocketbook.

The man in the proverb who "went farther and fared worse" probably passed the stores of Burlington and bought his supplies in some distant city.

Not all the people who tear thru the streets and roads of Boone county at 50 miles per hour, are rushing to put a fire out or go to the relief of some sick person.

Congress can't do anything before Christmas, because the holidays come so soon, and it can't do anything after the holidays, because it is most time for adjournment.

While many struggling homes have only meager Christmas gifts, yet the people living in lavish luxury receive so many costly presents that it is a burden to acknowledge them.

The women folks, it is predicted, will bring excited purpose into politics. The politicians don't care how exalted their purposes are, so long as the men are allowed to handle campaign funds.

RICH, NEW AND ELEGANT

A very handsome wrap of black divetite, with a large collar and hand trimmings of ermine fur, is pictured here. It will equip many a finger-ring and long-neck from these who up produce its rich appearance, its elegance and warmth. The sleeves are cut in one piece with the back, and have a very wide flare. Narrow silk bands for trimming emphasize the capeline lines of the body of the coat.

STANDARDS OF WORKMANSHIP.

There has been complaint of late from many sections of the scarcity of skilled labor. It is claimed that the majority of mechanics prefer to have some jobs where they can turn out a routine product on some machine without much chance for originality and skill, rather than some task where ideals of craftsmanship come in.

The desirability of manual skill is not emphasized so much today as formerly, and Americans value it less than some foreign nations. Dorothy Canfield illustrates this in her novel "Rough Hewn" by her account of a little American girl who was attending a French school. She had to turn out a perfect job of handiwork even though working on paper so poor that the pen would keep catching in it.

That is quite a contrast with multitudes of college students in America, who can scarcely write a legible hand. The idea in this country seems to be to do things just well enough to get by, though technical schools are doing their best to impart higher standards.

There is of course such a thing as over fussiness about detail. Some one tells of a factory foreman who spent all of a morning constructing a little wooden box that any carpenter could have knocked together in 30 minutes, meanwhile letting the work in his shop proceed in an unsystematic manner. The good workman must not merely look at the detail, but he must consider whether the whole proposition is costing more time and effort than the thing is worth.

Too many producers make goods that have serious defects and will wear only a little while. A workman or a proprietor ought to be ashamed to turn out an article that will prove disappointing to the user. Poor goods are expensive and add to cost of living by the necessity for frequent replacement.

KENTON LEAF GROWERS GET POINTERS ON QUALITY CROP

Independence, Ky.—Close to 200 Kenton county farmers recently attended eight demonstrations put on in different sections of the county through the cooperation of the extension division of the College of Agriculture and the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association to give burley growers in this section of the state practical pointers on how to strip and grade the leaf crop to the best advantage, according to County Agent C. A. Wicklund. The demonstrations, which were conducted by a grader from the association, aroused lively interest with the result that considerable improvement is expected to be brought about in the method of stripping and grading burley in this section of the state.

Those in charge of the demonstrations found a better knowledge of the right principles of stripping and grading among growers of this section than had been expected, while the quality of tobacco raised this year also was considered excellent in view of bad conditions which existed during the growing season just past.

Points which got special attention in the demonstrations included the grading of burley so as to get leaves of uniform length and color in the same hand, the keeping of green, ragged and off-color leaves to themselves and the proper tying of the hands with with good leaves instead of with poor or green leaves as is often done. The demonstrations as a whole served to impress growers of this section with the fact that quality in the leaf crop is more important than quantity and many of them are expected to be guided by this principle in the future as the result of what they learned at the meetings.

Many people who kick on high cost of living have been insisting that the federal and state governments go in for high cost schemes that eventually come out of the common people.

STATE NEWS.

AGED WOMAN BUILDING FIRE BURNED TO DEATH

Carrollton.—Mrs. Eliza Riley, 82, of this county, was burned to death at the home of her daughter at North Madison. She was kindling a fire in the kitchen stove when her clothing took fire.

MISTERY OF VANISHED WHISKY IN CORNERSAONE IS NEVER TO BE SOLVED

Lawrenceburg.—What became of the rare whisky in two bottles in the cornerstone of Cedar Brook distillery passed into the limbo of romantic mysteries. Whether the work of those who dismantled the historic structure was anticipated shortly before the hour of reaching the half-floored cache, and lantern then concealed so cleverly that it was not suspected before picks obliterated evidence, or whether some thirsty traitor drank the liquor when the stone was laid 32 years ago, none has warrant to say. Both bottles were not only empty but dry. Sealed in a jar was a sketch of Judge W. H. McHayer, founder and builder of Cedar Brook, written by W. F. Safcoins together with newspapers and coins and a roll of workmen who erected the "hand-made" stone masonry fountain.

WHISKY FINES LIFT DEBT FROM TOWN ON RIVER.

Milford.—Prohibition enforcement has filled the coffers of this river town. According to Mayor and Magistrate M. B. Scott, in the past year he has imposed fines totalling $88,860 on liquor law violators. Of this, $58,165 has been collected, exclusive of costs. Suspended fines aggregated slightly less than $7,000, and those deemed uncollectable total $6,930. Money from this source has freed the village from debt.

ONE KILLED, ONE WOUNDED, ALLEGED RESULT OF RUM

Drakesboro.—A fight, said to have been due to whisky, resulted in the death of Eugene D. Erson, alleged to have been shot thru the heart by Harlan Wooten, and the wounding of Robert Harris, in the path of a bullet which William Dickerson, the brother of the dead man, is said to have fired at Wooten. Harris is in a dangerous condition. The trouble started when his companions tried to take Wooten home, it is alleged. All principals were colored.

EIGHT QUAIL BROUGHT DOWN WITH SINGLE SHOT

Lawrenceburg.—The hold of Wilkes Bond on the quail championship was fleeting, James B. Samuels breaking all known records by killing eight on the wing with a single shot. He was rabbit hunting, using number four shot, when his uncle rushed a covey of quail ahead. The birds, flying in mass formation, passed Mr. Samuels at a distance of 75 yards. He shot at the bunch and eight were winged. Bond claimed the record when he killed eight birds with four shots.

New trials for French, Ehade and Leslie Combs and George Allen, Jr., Democrats, sentenced to prison on charges of having conspired to prevent an election in Clayhole precinct Breathitt county, and with having killed George McIntosh, in the furtherance of this alleged conspiracy, were ordered by the Court of Appeals today.

The judgment of Boyd Circuit Court, where the cases were tried on a change of venue from Breathitt county, was reversed in an opinion by Judge Charles Moore.

In an election day battle in Clayhole Precinct November 8, 1921, 4 men were killed and 17 wounded. The cases were taken to Boyd county and indictments returned against four Democrats and against nine Republicans, charging them with conspiracy to prevent the election. The Republicans, Will Barrett, Will Davis, Will Campbell, Alfred Barnett, Amby Barnett, Marion Barnett, Ed. Davis, Ed. Combs and Chester Davis, also were charged with the murder of Asberry Combs. The conspiracy charge was dismissed against the nine defendants, but the Court of Appeals last week held that they must face trial.

Leslie Combs and Geo. Allen, Jr., were sentenced to 15 years in prison, and French and Shade Combs to five years each.

The blue sky law passed by the 1920 General Assembly to prohibit sale of securities or stock in Kentucky was held to be constitutional.

AN INSINUATION

An Oklahoma editor tells of an old Indian who came into his office to subscribe for the paper. The editor took the money, then the Indian wanted a receipt. The editor tried to talk him out of it. Mr. Indian insisted on getting the receipt. After making it, the editor wanted to know why he was so persistent about wanting a receipt. The Indian replied "Me die some time. Go to big gate and St. Peter ask if I been good Indian. I say yes. He say did you pay editor for paper? I say yes. He say where is your receipt? I no have it, I have to run all over hell to find you and get receipt." Ex.

Trade Where They All Trade

Get The Christmas Spirit

Buy from Headquarters

Everything to Make A Happy Christmas.

Candy from 12c to 90c a pound.

Oranges, Tangerines, Grapes, Grapefruit, Apples, Nuts, Cranberries, Mince Meat, Layer Raisins, Figs, Dates, Citron, Plum Pudding, Fruit Cakes, Olives, Shelled Nuts, Crackers, and hundreds of other items. Visit our store when in Covington and get a calendar FREE.

WRITE FOR PRICE LIST OF GOOD THINGS TO EAT.

Send us your orders for anything and be convinced that we can save you money.

Geo. C. Goode
GROCER & SEEDSMAN

19-21 Pike St.

18-20 West Seventh St.

WHOLESALE—"Covington's Largest Seed and Grocery House"—RETAIL

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Phones South 335 and 336.

ROCKCASTLE FARMERS GIPE HENS' RIGHT FEED AND CARE

Mount Vernon, Ky.—Rockcastle county farmers and their wives are giving more attention to better methods of feeding, housing and taking care of their chickens, County Agent Robert F. Spence says. A recent visit to the county by J. R. Smyth, a member of the poultry department of the College of Agriculture at Lexington, marked a big step in the work. One of the important things done during the visit of Mr. Smyth to the county was the certification of the flock belonging to Mrs. R. C. Coomer. The fact that her flock was certified signified that she has high quality stock from which other farmers of the state can obtain hatching eggs with which to build up their flocks. A flock of 450 hens belonging to C. H. Jett was culled during the same week in order to remove the hens that were poor layers not capable of paying for their feed and care. A further sign of the increasing interest in improved and practical poultry methods, according to Mr. Spence, is the fact that two new poultry houses have just been finished in the county.

As usual, there are many people who are more or less disgruntled over some aspect of the recent elections.

If each case were investigated it might be found that a majority of the loudest growlers did not even vote.

But that's the way. Some people will inconvenience themselves to any extent in order to vote, and then accept the will of the majority with the best grace possible. Others are "too busy to vote," but can always find time for airing a grouch.

Tutt's Pills

Unexcelled as an ANTI-BILIOUS MEDICINE stimulates torpid liver, strengthens digestive organs, regulates the bowels, relieves sick headache.

Mothers use Frey's Vermifuge For the Children

A Safe Old Fashioned Remedy for Worms. Seventy-five years continuous use is the best recommendation. FREY'S VERMIFUGE can offer you. Keep a bottle always on hand. It will help keep the little ones healthy and happy. 30c a bottle as you druggist's or general store, or if you prefer, send for a free sample and you will find it a most reliable remedy. L. & L. FREY, Baltimore, Md.

Keep Your Feet Dry

Nothing like a pair of "Ball-Band" Arctics for keeping your feet dry and warm in the very worst weather. You can laugh at freezing cold, deep snow, slush and mud if you wear "Ball-Band."

"BALL-BAND" TRADE MARK

"Ball-Band" Arctics save you money by protecting your leather shoes from destructive soakings, too.

Ten million people look for the Red Ball Trade Mark when they buy Rubber Footwear. Make your choice of styles from our complete assortment of "Ball-Band."

H. S. Anderson

RISING SUN, INDIANA.

Dodge Brothers

ANNOUNCE

A BUSINESS COUPE

Conservative changes in the body design of all other types.

Roadster....$ 920
Coupe.....1,063
Touring Car. 955
Sedan.....1,550

Dempsey Motor Car Company

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY

Phone Erlanger 70-L

ANOTHER SPECIAL

Sat'y Dec. 23d

Owen Moore in

"Reported Missing"

Loads of Laughs

A world of Thrills

Regular Admission

Tuesday, Dec. 26th

Constance Talmage

in

"Good Night Paul"

—and—

"The Timber Queen"

Admission 22c &amp; 10c

Florence, Ky., Theatre

NONPARIEL PARK

C. W. Myers was on the sick list last week.

Arthur Krupp made a business trip Tuesday to Indianapolis, Ind.

Mrs. Chas. Chipman spent Wednesday in Cincinnati, shopping.

Mrs. John Clark, who has been ill the past few weeks, is improving.

Chas. Fulton and wife spent the weekend with relatives at Falmouth.

Arthur E. Kraus left Monday for a week in Pittsburgh, Penn., on business.

Miss Frances Blankenbaker has been very ill the past week with tonsillitis.

The many friends of Lawrence Kenney are glad to hear that he is improving.

Mrs. Susie Adams, of the Dixie Highway, is nursing Mrs. J. R. Whitson, of Erlanger.

Paul Bethel and family moved last Thursday into the house he purchased of Mr. Sipple.

Miss Hattie May Bradford had for her weekend guest Miss Evelyn King, of Newport.

Misses Minnie and Carrie Beeman made a business trip to Erlanger, Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Minnie Pugh, of Kansas City, spent several days last week with Ezra Wilhoit and wife.

Mrs. Ed. Snyder spent several days with Mrs. J. R. Whitson, who was seriously ill the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Cody (nee Johnson) are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine baby boy—Robert Jr.

Miss Anna Aylor, of Louisville, is spending a few weeks with relatives here with her aunt, Miss Lizzie Aylor.

Clarence Adams of the Dixie Highway, has been suffering with a carbuncle on his head the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Chipman had for their guests Thursday and Friday their cousin, Mr. Wm. Vance, of Williamstown.

Miss Anna Carlton has returned after a three week's visit with her brother James Carlton and family in Grant county.

Mrs. Ezra Wilhoit, Mrs. Ollie Rouse and Mrs. Minnie Pugh, spent Friday in Covington with Mrs. Claud Caldwell and family.

Misses Minnie and Carrie Beeman, Raleigh Stearns and Thomas Easton, spent a pleasant day Sunday with Ciss Mollie Lummel, of Cincinnati.

Miss Janie Garber, of West Va., arrived here to spend the winter with her brother, Rev. J. Garber and family. She will stay with Mrs. Garber while Mr. Garber is attending college in Louisville.

Mrs. John Zumbel, of Erlanger, entertained luncheon in honor of Mrs. Arthur Kraus, who with Mr. Kraus and her mother, Mrs. M. A. Hoover, will leave in January for their new home in Indianapolis. Other guests were Mrs. Gayle, W. Arnold and Mrs. Morris Thomas.

Mrs. Perry Aylor, an old and much loved lady, died at the home of her daughter, Miss Anna, in Louisville, last Sunday night. The remains were brought here to Miss Lizzie Aylor's residence at Gunpowder. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon. Burial in the family-burying ground.

Everyone in this community were shocked to hear of the death of Mrs. Elmer Gerach (nee Mary Braun aged). Although she had been in bad health for some time, it was a shock to her friends. They formerly lived at Beachwood, Ft. Mitchell, but purchased the old Goodridge farm in Nonpareil Park. Her funeral was held Tuesday morning at the St. Paul church at 9 o'clock, in the presence of a large concourse of surviving relatives and friends. She leaves a husband and one son. Burial in St. Mary cemetery.

A light snow fell here Saturday night.

The timber for the new ferry boat at Aurora was stored in the warehouse Saturday.

Mrs. W. T. Evans does not improve.

Many from Boone shopped in Aurora, Saturday.

Our shoe cobbler is busy every day giving his patrons new soles.

Quite a number of farmers are hauling corn from Indiana.

Quite a lot of tobacco was stripped last week.

It is reported that several weddings will take place next week.

Robt. Nixon butchered his porkers last week, and remembered many of his friends by presenting them with fresh pork.

G. B. Yates is confined to his room with a cold.

Mrs. Perrin Loudin is not enjoying the heat of health.

W. T. Ryle is able to be out in town now and then.

Dr. G. F. Smith, of Lawrenceburg, was over Saturday visiting his patients.

The people of Boone must be getting better, as our circuit court only lasted a few days.

As the Editor, his staff correspondents and readers of this home paper live to see Christmas day, may it prove a blessing to them all. After corresponding for it for the last forty odd years, I wish each and every one a prosperous and useful life with a merry Xmas and a happy New Year.

Oyster soup was served at the K. of P. Hall Saturday night.

Irvin Hood and family, of Bromley, are visiting at Waller Ryle's.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ward visited at Hubert Brady's several days last week.

There will be an entertainment at the East Bend school house Friday night.

Rev. Whitaker preached at the M. E. church Sunday and Sunday night.

Mrs. Lou VanNess has returned from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Harriet Fritz, of Milford, Ohio.

Merit Sullivan received word last Sunday that his son in Lawrenceburg had been accidentally shot in the leg, and was in a Cincinnati hospital. Mr. Sullivan went to him at once.

Solon Ryle received by express sixty-six pounds of raisins and figs from California, sent by his brother, W. C. Ryle, who is foreman of the Mincola Vineyards near Fresno. In a letter Mr. Ryle says: "We have had a record crop this year. We have produced of Calimyrna figs 22 tons, sold green and 14 tons dry, Adrialis 16 tons, green, Malayas 11 tons, Sultanina raisins 29 1/2 tons, seedling 80 tons dry and 50 tons green, Muscats about 160 tons (dry count, as I have not finished delivering yet) 11 tons plums, green peaches 20 tons and dried peaches 19 1/2 tons. I had from 15 to 35 girls cutting peaches and from 30 to 50 men thru the harvest season, so you see I have been pretty busy."

A light snow fell here Saturday night.

The timber for the new ferry boat at Aurora was stored in the warehouse Saturday.

Mrs. W. T. Evans does not improve.

Many from Boone shopped in Aurora, Saturday.

Our shoe cobbler is busy every day giving his patrons new soles.

Quite a number of farmers are hauling corn from Indiana.

Quite a lot of tobacco was stripped last week.

It is reported that several weddings will take place next week.

Robt. Nixon butchered his porkers last week, and remembered many of his friends by presenting them with fresh pork.

G. B. Yates is confined to his room with a cold.

Mrs. Perrin Loudin is not enjoying the heat of health.

W. T. Ryle is able to be out in town now and then.

Dr. G. F. Smith, of Lawrenceburg, was over Saturday visiting his patients.

The people of Boone must be getting better, as our circuit court only lasted a few days.

As the Editor, his staff correspondents and readers of this home paper live to see Christmas day, may it prove a blessing to them all. After corresponding for it for the last forty odd years, I wish each and every one a prosperous and useful life with a merry Xmas and a happy New Year.

Oyster soup was served at the K. of P. Hall Saturday night.

Irvin Hood and family, of Bromley, are visiting at Waller Ryle's.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ward visited at Hubert Brady's several days last week.

There will be an entertainment at the East Bend school house Friday night.

Rev. Whitaker preached at the M. E. church Sunday and Sunday night.

Mrs. Lou VanNess has returned from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Harriet Fritz, of Milford, Ohio.

Merit Sullivan received word last Sunday that his son in Lawrenceburg had been accidentally shot in the leg, and was in a Cincinnati hospital. Mr. Sullivan went to him at once.

Solon Ryle received by express sixty-six pounds of raisins and figs from California, sent by his brother, W. C. Ryle, who is foreman of the Mincola Vineyards near Fresno. In a letter Mr. Ryle says: "We have had a record crop this year. We have produced of Calimyrna figs 22 tons, sold green and 14 tons dry, Adrialis 16 tons, green, Malayas 11 tons, Sultanina raisins 29 1/2 tons, seedling 80 tons dry and 50 tons green, Muscats about 160 tons (dry count, as I have not finished delivering yet) 11 tons plums, green peaches 20 tons and dried peaches 19 1/2 tons. I had from 15 to 35 girls cutting peaches and from 30 to 50 men thru the harvest season, so you see I have been pretty busy."

FIRST ANNIVERSARY SALE

Extra Special

17 inch High Cut Shoes smoked leather, double brogue toe cap. Best grade, $9.50 value. $6.75

These Special Prices we here present, should be doubly acceptable because it should enable you to buy more with your money. These prices will be good during the remainder of this month. Be sure and take advantage of these Special Prices. We don't mind advising you that goods in all lines are going to be higher.

Extra Special

Men's Sweaters—Good weigh, grey only Special ..... 98c

Don't Hesitate! Don't Wait!

BUY NOW! AND SAVE THE DIFFERENCE

Remember Our Motto "An Honest Dollars Worth of Goods for a Dollar."

SUITINGS.

Cotton Suitings, 36-in. in a good many patterns including cotton serge. All to go at—50c value. 29c

Bungalow Aprons

Ladies' Percale and Gingham Aprons. A large assortment 98c

Boys' Corduroy Suits

Best grade. linen pants all sizes to 14 years. $8.50 value. $5.98

Boys' Casmere Suits

All-wool, light brown mixtures. $8.50 value. $5.98

Flannel

Ongoing Flannel, all colors; good weight yard 19c

Boys' Mackinaw Coats

Good heavy material, belted sizes up to 16 yrs. $10.00 value. $6.98

Ladies' Jersey Waists

All-wool, dark colors; $6.00 value. $2.98

Ladies' Silk Slipover

Waist in tulle and satin, dark colors. $2.98

Ladies' Millinery

A large selection of the latest style trimmed hats—all colors and materials; some worth up to $10.00. Specially Priced. $2.98

SHIRTS—Men's Silk Shirts, striped broad-

cloth. $8.50 value. $5.98

Men's Silk Shirts—Light Tanshantung, with

extra collar, same material; $4.50 value. $2.98

SWEATERS.

Aadies' all-wool slipover heavy tan—solid leather; A tremendous value. $1.98

Men's

All-wool heavy coat style and slipover sweaters; $8. and $10 value. $4.98

Men's

Cotton Sweaters, coat style in grey 98c

Men's

Better grade coat style sweaters in cotton, navy blue and red. $1.89

Boys'

All-wool slipover sweaters in two color combinations; $3.00 value. $1.98

Girls'

Good looking Sweaters, in coat style, belted, browns, copon and red; $3.00 value. $1.98

Girls' All-Wool Sweaters

Coat style, belted, all colors; $5 value. $3.98

Extra Special—

Girls' cotton sweaters while they last. 98c

Infants'

Heavy cotton coat style sweaters dark colors; sizes up to 4 yrs. Very special. 59c

SHOES! SHOES!

Men's Army Munson Last tan—solid leather; $4.98 value. $3.49

Dairy Proof, heavy and well made

acid proof, winter weight; $5.50 value. $3.29

Smoked Leather, double brogue

toe caps easy to your feet; $6.00 value. $3.98

DRESS SHOES

High Grade Rice &amp; Hutchins, best styles; $7.50 value. $5.98

Rice &amp; Hutchins and Endicott-

Johnson $5.00 grade. $3.98

EXTRA SPECIAL

1 lot Men's High Grade Shoes some worth double. Choice of the lot. $2.98

1 lot Men's Shoes—

Small sizes—Your choice. $1.98

1 lot Ladies' Shoes—

All leather and sizes. $1.98

1 lot Ladies' Shoes—good grade

and snappy styles; All sizes. $2.98

Ladies' best grade shoes—none

better in calf and heel—black and brown, low and medium heel. Some worth double. $3.98

A large line of Children's Shoes

including boys and girls solid leather shoes.

BLANKETS.

Heavy all wool large size warm Wool Blankets; $12.00 value. $8.50

Blankets—Wool Nap Blankets,

Good weight; $6.00 value. $3.98

Blankets, Cotton, large

size, good weight. $1.98

SCRIM—Window Scrim, 34 in.

Cream color, blue bird and red bird design. 12c

Plain White and Ecru Scrim

36 inch wide; Several patterns. 19c

Boys' and Girls' Wool Knit Caps,

heavy wool; $1.00 value. 59c

Red Top Rubber Boots,

Sizes 5 to 10, for children. $2.50

MIDDIES—Good Jean Middies;

All sizes, fadeless colors; $2.00. $1.49

TOYS.

Our toy department is always complete—an early selection is good advice—PRICES RIGHT.

Dolls, Doll Baggies, Beds, Cradles, Tea Sets, Stoves, Kitchen Cabinets, Tables, Chairs, Black Boards, Full Doll Sets, Story Books, Picture Auto Garages and Mechanical Toys.

Lands Posted.

All character of trespassing on our farms is positively prohibited, and we will prosecute all guilty parties. No hunting, trapping or snaring will be allowed.

Name	Precinct
B. C. Allen	Hamilton
Julia S. Dinsmore	Bellevue
B. H. Berkshire	Petersburg
Luce E. Hance	Hamilton
J. H. Jockey	Burlington
S. B. Scott	Grant
J. H. Walton	Carlton
Ira Aylor	Union
Armlinta Aylor	Richwood
James W. Ryle	Waterloo
S. B. Ryle	Grant R. D.
Addie Harding	Burlington
Jake Reitman	Bullittsville
B. C. Graddy	Bullittsville
R. H. Crisler	Bullittsville
William Phillips	Carlton
J. M. Wilson	Union
J. J. Tanner	Burlington
Chester Aylor	Burlington
Elmon Ryle	Burlington
Jasper Sullivan	Grant
Alonzo Gaines	Constantin
Joe E. Scott, Jr.	Florence
J. Colin Kelly	Carlton
Wilber D. Kelly	Grant
Robert L. Day	Hebron
W. A. Gaines & Son	Burlington
Mrs. W. H. Marshall	Carlton
Jos. W. Scott	Florence
Mary M. Terrell	Petersburg
Grace Scott	Grant
Mrs. A. G. Finnell	Union
Ross Russ	Florence

Your name will be put in the list of those posted until Jan. 1st for 50 cents.

FOR SALE

Farm of 75 acres three miles below Petersburg, Ky. Twelve acres of bottom land, eight acres of clover, balance in blue grass. Six room house, one four-room log house, 3 barns and other out buildings. Good tobacco and alfalfa land. Price $50.00 per acre.

CHARLIE WHITE, ojanl—pd - Petersburg, Ky.

General Trucking

At Your Service

WALTER HUEY

Florence, Ky.

Phone 266-X

J. C. GORDON

Superintendent of Schools

OF BOONE COUNTY

Will be in his office in Burlington the first and second Monday and the third and fourth Saturday in each month.

FLORENCE

GARAGE

Under New Management

Best Of Service.

All Makes Of Cars.

Repaired At Reasonable

PRICES

TIRES, TUBES, OILS

Horse-shoeing and Wagon

work neatly and well done.

J. W. Quigley.

Wm. Busby, Manager.

RAW FURS

WANTED

Get My Price @ Grades

Before You Sell.

NQ LOT TOO LARGE

H. KIRK.

Burlington, Ky.

NOTICE

Beginning Dec. 1 I will not make my Friday trip to Waterloo until further notice.

A. C. SCOTT.

BUY A

Radio Receiver

For X-mas

and please the entire family by listening to bedtime Stories, Health and Beauty Talks, Cooking Hints,

Instructive Lectures, Classical Music for all, and Religious Services on Sunday from the greater part of the United States. You'll have a picnic with a Radio Set at home.

SEE

J. J. KIRKPATRICK

Burlington, KY.

TAKE YOUR COUNTY PAPER

I'd Like to See Old Santa

Fact that a fellow can pass an intelligence test does not prove that you can induce him to take off his coat and go to work.

Claimed that the people should be instructed in the use of tools but the knackers know how to use hammers too well now.

Formerly statesmen used to cow the people into subjection, but now they seem to use a good deal of bull for that purpose.

Anyway the college students of Kentucky prove that they are not afraid to work by the way they struggle to win football.

Subscribe for the RECORDER

Subscribe for the RECORDER

CINCINNATI

Santa Claus's Headquarters--
A Fairyland of Shops--

What to Buy -- And Where to Buy It

—Ship By Parcel Post—
The Model Laundry Co.
First Class
Work and Service
We Pay Charges One Way

Cellar Doors
Cellar Gratings
Ma hine Forging
Blacksmithing
THE J. C. FREILINGER
IRON WORKS
All kinds of Welding
General Machine Work
Prompt Attention to Mail Orders
Phone Main 2467
SECOND STREET—Bet. Race and Elm

LARGEST GARAGE
Free Air—Battery & Water Serv.
AMERICAN AUTO HOTEL
423 to 431 W. 5th St.
Cincinnati, Ohio
30c to 4-1-2 Hrs. 50c to 8-1-2 Hrs.
Daytime
TOURISTS WELCOME

FRESH FISH
EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR
ANDERSON
INDEPENDENT FISH CO.
Wholesale Shippers of Fish & Oysters
138 W. Court St. Phone Canal 2273

QUEHL SIGN CO.
SIGNS
Electric and Painted
316 Main Street Cincinnati, Ohio

BUSINESS-BUILDING
—ADVERTISING—
of every kind
The WASHBURNE-FLARSHHEIM Co.
34 Byrmyer Bldg. — Canal 6740

BUY YOUR FRESH FRUITS and VEGETABLES FROM—
SHIP YOUR COUNTRY PRODUCE TO—
FLATOW, RILEY & CO.
Front Street, Between Main and Walnut Cincinnati, Ohio

HEMSTITCHING Done in 3 Sizes—Regular Hemstitching 10c yard
ALL MATERIALS
PLEATINGS Accordion, Knife and Box All Sizes
BUTTONS Cloth Covered any style or material
Buttonholes made
Phone Canal 491
ALBERT BANASCH CO., 614 RACE ST., CINCINNATI, O.

Youse a Good Old Santa

BUY FROM

Gulley &amp; Pettitt

Where you can get the best Christmas goods at the right price
ONE PRICE TO ALL.

Our Holiday Stock includes Celery, Oysters, Cranberries, Raisins, Dates, Oranges, Tangerines, Bananas. We invite you to inspect our line of twenty different assortments of candies—the best that money can buy.

Special Reduction in Aluminum Ware.

Compare our Goods and Prices with the lowest prices obtainable from any other source. We are content to base our right to your business on the result

Gulley & Pettitt
BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY.

There would be more justice in the courts if the cases were not as often tried before the jury hears the evidence.

A caustic tongue leaves a sting behind, but it seldom gets its owner to the front.

Many of those people who have had poor success in business are convinced that it does not pay to advertise.

Y. M. C. A.
Automobile School
Day or Night Classes

Get a Good Job
Steady Work
Unskilled Labor Turned Away
LEARN TO BE AN AUTOMOBILE MECHANIC
Men Who Are Skilled Always Have Work

GARAGE
Men who know how are needed
Skilled Labor Wanted
Come in and let us tell you all about this school
Y. M. C. A.
Elm and Central Parkway

TYPEWRITERS
FACTORY REBUILT
ALL STANDARD MAKES
$35.00 UP
Write For Price List No. 125
AMERICAN WRITING MACHINE CO., INC.
148 E. 4th St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

JOHNSTON'S
PAINT AND VARNISHES
For Every Conceivable Purpose
The Certain-To-Satisfy Kind
Look and Wear Well—A Trial Will Convince the Most Skeptical
Prices Right. Quality Guaranteed.
Color Cards and Prices Upon Request
Wholesale and Retail
THE H. F. JOHNSTON PAINT COMPANY
S. E. COR. PEARL & MAIN STS.
CINCINNATI, OHIO

GIBSON TENOR BANJOS
MANDOLINS
SAXOPHONES
BAND AND ORCHESTRA
INSTRUMENTS AND MUSIC
FILLMORE MUSIC HOUSE
ON SALE AT ONE CENT EACH
528 Elm St. Cincinnati, Ohio

BIG ONE CENT SALE

10,000 NEW BLANKETS go on sale at ONE CENT EACH
HOSPITAL BLANKETS, $1.19 - 2 for $1.20
ARMY CANVAS LEGGINGS, 1 cent each
ARMY OVERSEA CAPS, 1 cent each
ALSO A BIG LINE OF ARMY GOODS, INCLUDING WOOLEN BLANKETS, OVERCOATS AND TARPOLINS GO
CINCINNATI SALVAGE CO.
10 West Pearl Street, (Near Vine) Cincinnati, O.
Only two minutes walk from Fourth and Vine - next street below Third

RICHWOOD.

Theo. Carpenter killed hogs Monday.
M. Grubbs spent Monday in the city.
Clarence Moore is laid up with tontrillitis.
Mr. and Mrs. Marksberry have moved to Covington.
Miss Jennie Cleck spent the week-end with her parents.
Dr. E. L. Glacken is erecting a barn on his property along the Dixie.
Claude Tanner and family, of Florence, visited M. Grubbs and Mrs. L. A. Tanner Sunday.
Carl Conner has returned from a visit to his sister, Mrs. Walter O'Neal, of Cincinnati.
Mr. and Mrs. James Dobbins went to Erlanger to see their sister, Mrs. Jane Northcutt, Sunday.
Mrs. Jane B. Northcutt was taken suddenly ill at the home of A. P. Glacken, of Erlanger, and is very ill.
To the Recorder stag and chief, and all readers of it, we wish a most enjoyable Xmas and a Happy New Year.
Eldridge Carpenter's team took fright while at Theo. Carpenter's and ran away making a runabout top wagon of his milk delivery wagon.
Mr. and Mrs. L. Tanner and son are domiciled with Ben Northcutt for the present. Grandpa Northcutt is all smiles and has become an expert nurse.

Miss Sarah E. Glacken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glacken, and Elmer Carpenter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cary Carpenter, will be married Dec. 23rd. We wish them a long, happy and prosperous voyage along life's pathway.

HEBRON.

The Sunday school will give an entertainment at the church Xmas day at 2 p. m.

Roy Garnett went to work in Cincinnati last week, where he has a good position.

We wish the RECORDER and its many readers a merry Xmas and a prosperous New Year.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Clayton received word recently of the death of their little grandson of Virginia.

Come to Hebron to do your Xmas shopping, as the three grocery stores are well supplied with Xmas goods.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Rouse and daughter spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rouse, of near Burlington.

"IN THE NAME OF THE LAW" at Hebron Theatre next Wednesday night, Dec. 27th, for the benefit of the Hebron Lutheran church. Come out and see a good play. Will begin promptly at 7:30.

FOR SALE

1922 Ford Touring starter and de-mountable rims. Five months old. Has been run 300 miles, same as new. Spare tire. .... $350.00
1917 Ford Touring. .... $100.00
1919 Dodge Touring. Four new tires. Excellent condition. .... $400.00
1921 Ford Coupe. .... $350.00
DEMPSEY MOTOR CAR CO
Erlanger, Ky.
Phone Erlanger 70-L.

No man ever beats his wife. The fellow who does that is not entitled to be called a man.

CONSTANCE.

Mr. and Mrs. Fugate were both sick last week.
Mrs. Wasmuth was very ill last week, but is somewhat improved.
Mrs. Alice Clore had quite an attack of heart trouble a few days ago, but is much improved now.
Professor Horace Cleveland and wife are the guests of Mrs. Carrie Riggs and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kottmyer.
As Christmas is near we suppose we will not have any more news until after the holidays are over. So here is wishing the RECORDER and its large family a merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

BIG BONE.

Mrs. G. W. Baker was shopping in the city Wednesday.
Lute Abdon and Fred Hug visited relatives in Rising Sun, Ind., Saturday and Sunday.

Born to Dan Slayback and wife, of Brooklyn, N. Y., (formerly of Big Bone) a boy—Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. John Binder, Sr., and daughter Katie, made a business trip to the city Thursday.

Will Smith of near Verona, visited his father, Uncle Dan Smith, Sunday.

W. L. H. Baker wife and son Stewart, of Ft. Thomas, were at their country home Saturday and Sunday.

BEST SEASON HERE FOR TAKING FARM INVENTORY

Lexington, Ky.—This is the best season of the year to take the farm inventory, according to W. D. Nichols, head of the farm economics department of the College of Agriculture. The supply of feeds is low, salable crops usually have been marketed by this time and little work and money have been expended on the new year's crop. The four or five hours spent in taking the inventory make up about the most profitable half day of work that the farmer can put in during the year, Mr. Nichols says.

The annual inventory forms the real foundation for the accounts kept on the farm business. Without the inventory, it is impossible to determine the farm profits for the year or what the farmer is actually worth. Such an inventory makes it possible for the farmer to compare his standing at the end of the previous year with his standing at the end of the current year. It shows him whether he has lost or made money. Another big advantage of the inventory is the fact that it makes it possible for the farmer to study and analyze the farm business to locate the weak places and take steps to correct them. The inventory also gives the farmer a good excuse to call in the tools and equipment that the neighbors have borrowed so that all equipment of the farm can be brought together and put in condition and its value compared with that of the previous year.

This radio crate is something of a nuisance, but it has its advantages, just as well. A fellow can lay in bed Sunday morning and listen to a sermon a thousand miles away—or he can not without fear of detection.

For twenty-five years no bread has been baked in Norway on Sunday.

SHOP EARLY

SPECIAL

30x3<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>

NON SKID

TIRES

$8.50

30x3.....$7.00

Kentucky Motor Car Co.

Park Place and Scott Street,
COVINGTON, KY.

A Gift Sure to be Appreciated.

P. L. BETHEL, Pres. &amp; Mgr.

VULCANIZING.

Complete line of Goodyear, Goodrich and Kelly-Springfield Tires and Tubes, good Grade of Automobile and Tractor Oils and Greases.

Auto Accessories kept in stock.

GEORGE PORTER,
BURLINGTON, KY.

NOW IN OUR NEW HOME

Madison Ave., Between 16th and 17th

NEAR THE RAILROAD CROSSING

YOURS FOR BETTER SERVICE

Johnson Battery CompanyINCORPORATED
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

MAKE A START

By Doing Your Christmas
Shopping Now.

No need to tell you the many advantages of doing your Christmas Shopping early—before salespeople become tired out, before the store is crowded, while merchandise is at its freshest—you know all this.

The difficulty is just to get started, isn't it?

Well, why not sit down right now; make out a gift list and come down to the store tomorrow, resolved to choose at least One Christmas Gift. "Once begun, half done" is a true old saying.

Coppin's
COVINGTON

Northern Kentucky's Greatest Store

To all my Friends and Patrons, I

Wish a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year

SELMAR WACH,

605 Madison Ave.,

Covington, Ky.

LEGION NOTES

Seattle, Washington.—There is a great need for phonograph records for the Western Washington Hospital at Steilacoom, Wash., the American Legion auxiliary members were informed when they recently took delicacies to the former service men at the hospital. Twenty dozen doughnuts, cigarettes, canned fruit and three boxes of apples were distributed.

New Orleans.—The entire sixth grade of St. Ann's parochial school memorized "The American's Creed," a powerful and inspiring appeal to American ideals, during American Education Week. It was written by one of the sisters who teaches one of the higher grades, and was recited each day during the week. The creed follows:

"I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people, whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; in democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable, established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes. I therefore, believe it is my duty to my country to obey its laws; to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies."

Louisville, Ky.—Judge Keneas Mountain Landis, high commissioner of base ball, in an address to Jefferson Post, American Legion, No. 202, predicted that "within five years many supposedly able bodied veterans of the world war will begin to falter because of exposure and shock suffered by them in the French trenches."

"The American Legion is the only body which is taking an active stand for justice to disabled men, and on the Legion will fall the responsibility of seeing that Congress does its duty."

Indianapolis.—John B. Reynolds, secretary of the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce, has assured the American Legion that the state legislature will pass a law making it illegal ever to hold another Speedway classic on Memorial Day at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Indianapolis, Ind.—"The ex-Kaiser in Holland must enjoy sitting back and laughing at the manner in which the politicians of America are treating the ex-service men who smashed his formidable military machine," Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, national president of the American Legion Auxiliary, said at a recent meeting of the Indianapolis Service Club.

Dr. Barrett urged a payment of the country's debt to the world war fighter before consideration of the ship subsidy and other purely commercial measures before Congress.

"Let America straighten itself out and re-establish the true democracy," said Dr. Barrett. "Democracy is the spirit of God. Before we attempt to propagandize democracy abroad we must be sure that its spirit exists in the United States. We must start democracy at home—with our children our servants. We Americans are fascinated by slogans, but often times do not look for the truth behind the slogans, accepting their statements as literally true without investigation."

The American who fought overseas is the best authority on international questions, the Auxiliary leader stated, because he has come in contact with the people, themselves, instead of the diplomats and politicians. During their period abroad the American fighters learned to appreciate the many advantages of America, according to Dr. Barrett. Declaring that within the next few years, the veterans of the world war would be called upon to assume the leadership in this country, Dr. Barrett urged that ex-service men prepare themselves for their duties, which, she stated would be fulfilled as they have never been by the professional politicians.

Dr. Barrett and Miss Bess Wethers, national secretary of the American Legion Auxiliary, were among the first women guests of the Indianapolis Service Club, which is composed of ex-service representatives of various professions and commercial organizations.

Bluefield, W. Va.—A sale, conducted by the American Legion Auxiliary Post No. 9, of articles made by the disabled veterans at Davis Clinic, Marion, Va., has proved popular with Christmas shoppers. The articles for sale include rugs and various kinds of flower baskets, trays, shawls and bead chains and bags.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Asserting that thousands of soldiers went into the front-line trenches unable to shoot the rifles they were carrying, Alvin Owsley, national commander of the American Legion, made a plea for preparedness to eliminate a similar situation in the next war, at a national gathering of Legion state adjutants here.

Mr. Owsley urged the retaining of a sufficient Army and Navy so that it would not be necessary to rely upon other nations while the U. S. is training its armed forces in any future conflicts.

G. L. Folbre, of Dallas, adjutant of the Texas department, also drew the attention of the Legion men to the fact that unrained troops were sent to the front line during the World War.

"While serving at the front with the 32nd division, I transferred with to replacement troops and saw them go into the front line trenches and shot down when they could have protected themselves had they been trained even in the use of rifles," Mr. Folbre said. "Many of these men had been drafted into service between six weeks and two months before they were rushed into action."

The views of the Texas Legion official were supported by Austin A. Peterson, Wisconsin adjutant, who urged the adjutants "to realize the seriousness of the preparedness situation at this time, particularly in view of the ever increasing danger of the Turkish and Near East question."

Other Legion speakers urged the adjutants to encourage voluntary enlistment in the Army in their states and to conduct military training on a larger scale in the high schools, colleges, universities, and physical training in the grade schools. It was asserted that the enlisted strength of the regular U. S. Army at this time is even below the latest figure set by Congress.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Total exclusion of all immigration for a period of five years will be urged by American Legion adjutants in all states, it was decided at a recent conference of the adjutants in Indianapolis. The Legion will ask Congress to enact legislation to that end.

The Legion's stand on immigration, according to a number of speakers at the conference, is based upon the increase in illiteracy in this country which in turn is said to be responsible for all red and bolshevik movements now steadily increasing in scope. The 3 per cent immigration law of 1920 was branded by the Legion as a failure.

"Immigration must be restricted even if this restriction pinches certain industries," Alvin Owsley, national commander, said at a recent meeting of the New York State Chamber of Commerce, oldest organization of like character in the world.

"We hear much of what the coal and steel industries need in the way of raw labor but this need is nothing to that of last winter, when a million ex-service men walked the streets and slept in parks jobless. These men had fought for America. It was their right to be given first chance at jobs."

Before Mr. Owsley spoke and after some debate, the Chamber had adopted a resolution upholding immigration. The Legion head commended them on their Americanism and unsoldierly in this matter.

"I am here to tell you what the Legion is doing for the cause of education and community betterment and Americanism," he continued. "We have 11,000 posts, scattered through all parts of America, carrying on for our country. To these men and their comrades, you delegated in war, the defense of America's honor. You can feel safe in giving into their hands in peace a similar duty. They want your help in its performance and the help of all loyal Americans."

During American Education Week which closed recently, the Legion set aside one day as "Illiteracy Day," with the following suggested topics: 1. Illiteracy as a blot on our nation. 2. No illiteracy in 1927. 3. A Citizens Duty toward the Uneducated. 4. No immigration until illiteracy among native and foreign-born is removed.

Resolutions of Respect
The Angel of Death has again visited our community and seen fit to call from this mortal coil one of our beloved friends and workers in the W. M. U. Mrs. Katie Wingate, who was called to her heavenly home December 1, 1922.

Resolved, First that in her death the W. M. U. has lost one of its most worthy and efficient workers.

Second, That the community in which she lived has lost one who always gave her influence for good and righteousness of her vicinity.

Third, That in her death her neighbors lost a sympathetic and helpful friend; therefore we, the ladies of the W. M. U. feeling very sensibly our loss, bow in submission to the will of Him who doeth all things well. We extend to the husband and relatives our deepest sympathy in their hour of sorrow and point to her for comfort to that loving Christ who will never leave and believeth in me shall never die." Further Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the husband of the deceased, and to the Boone County Recorder and one to be placed in the minutes of our society.

Woolper W. M. U.
MRS. MAE SNYDER,
Secretary.

If you deserve to have nice things said about you, rest assured that somebody is saying them. Your commendable acts do not go unnoticed.

The trouble with some people, tho, is that they expect everybody to commend them, and if we were all engaged in "tooting the horn" of one person we would have no time left in which to "whop it up" for other deserving ones.

He satiated with the lion's share, and give the lambs an opportunity to be recognized.

The Persians rave a decent name for each day in the month.

Louis Messmer.

Louis Messmer, a former resident of Boone county, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lena Lavanier, 117 W. 10th Street, Covington, at 3 o'clock a. m., December 11th, in the 75th year of his age. Mr. Messmer operated a blacksmith shop on the farm of Gaines Bros., in the Plattsburg neighborhood for a number of years and was held in the highest esteem by every farmer for miles around.

On account of an injury to one of his lower limbs caused by the kick of a horse, he was compelled to give up his vocation, and in 1914, he moved to Newport where he has resided ever since until he suffered a slight stroke of paralysis about two months ago, when he was taken to the home of his daughter in Covington. He needed to be improving nicely from the first stroke until last Monday, when he suffered a second stroke, from which he never gained consciousness, passing away like a child falling asleep at three o'clock a. m., Thursday.

Mr. Messmer was born in France Nov. 1st, 1845. He reached America just at the time the conflict broke out between Germany and France, in which Germany became the persecutor of Alsace-Lorraine. He did valiant service in the French army, and was taken prisoner by the Germans, by whom he was held several months, suffering many indignities at the hands of the German soldiers, which he never forgot. Shortly after his release he came to the United States, settling in Old Kentucky, where he has always resided.

He has many friends in Boone county who will be sorry to hear of his death.

He is survived by one son and two daughters. The remains were laid to rest at 10 a. m., last Saturday by the side of his wife in St. Stephens cemetery south of Fort Thomas.

Resolutions of Respect

Viola Lodge, No. 278, I. O. O. F., Hebron, Ky.

Whereas, It has pleased the Almighty to call from his earthly home and Lodge to the Spiritual home and Celestial Lodge above, our dearly beloved Brother, J. Wood Riggs, who departed this life Nov. 9th, 1922, after two weeks' of suffering.

Therefore, Be it resolved that in the death of Brother Riggs Viola Lodge has lost a cherished and valuable member, the community a much esteemed neighbor and Christian.

Resolved, That we extend to his bereaved family and numerous friends our most sincere sympathy in their bereavement and commend them to God who alone can give them consolation.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his widow as an expression of our sympathy. That a copy be spread upon the minutes of our Lodge and our charter draped in mourning. That a copy be sent to the Boone County Recorder for publication.

F. H. ROUSE,
J. C. HANKINS,
W. B. GRAVES
Committee.

Resolutions of Respect

In memory of Bro. B. L. Stephens who died Dec. 8th, 1922.

Again death hath summoned a Brother Odd-Fellow. The golden gateway to the Eternal City has opened to welcome him home.

He has completed his work in the ministering to the wants of the afflicted in shedding light into darkened souls, in bringing joy into the place of misery. As his reward he has received the plaudits well done from his Supreme Master.

Whereas, as the almighty merciful God of the Universe has called our beloved Bro. home, and he having been a true and faithful member of our beloved order Therefore be it Resolved

That Venus Lodge, No. 154, I. O. O. F., Florence, Ky., in testimony of her loss, drape the Charter and the Brothers shall wear their usual badge of mourning for thirty days, and tender to the family of our deceased Brother our sincere condolence in their sole affliction, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family, one to the Boone County Recorder, and the same spread on the minute book of this Lodge.

Committee of Venus Lodge.

29,671 SAMPLES OF SEEDS

TESTED BY DEPARTMENT

During the fiscal year 1922, the seed-testing laboratory at the Bureau of Plant Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture, received and examined 29,671 samples of seeds. Of these, 17,100 came to the laboratory at Washington, and 12,571 to the five branch seed-testing laboratories maintained in co-operation with the State Institutions. These samples represent both vegetable and field seeds from farmers, seed dealers and investigators, to whom reports of analyses were sent, showing the presence of weed seeds and worthless material, or the germination, or both, as requested. Through this service the work of the seed-testing laboratories is immediately applied to practical agriculture.

A total of 5,962 samples of vegetable seeds was purchased and tested for germination, and the results of these tests will be published.

There is little or no beggins in Northern Italy, yet it is very prevalent in Naples.

UNION.

Mrs. Dugan is improving after a siege of neuritis.

B. P. Tanner and wife, of Lantonia, were recent guests of B. L. Clock and wife.

Mrs. L. R. Barlow and children spent Saturday with Mrs. G. C. Barlow, of High-st.

Miss Nannie Burkett has returned from Alexandria, Ind., where she attended the funeral of P. T. Fall. Edward Feldhaus and wife have been entertaining a little daughter at their home since Tuesday, when they have named Helen June.

Miss Janie Garber, of Virginia, will spend the winter with her brother, Rev. J. S. Garber and family of this place.

J. B. Dickerson, who has been ill with bronchitis for the past two weeks, is now improving, and his friends hope he will soon be able to be out.

Mrs. Harriet Aylor, a former resident of Boone county, died at her home in Louisville the 11th inst. The remains were brought back and interred in the family cemetery on the old home place, now owned by A. T. Knox. The deceased leaves a daughter, Miss Anna, and a grandson B. Perry Tanner, besides a number of other relatives to mourn her death. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved ones.

The Union High school will give on Thursday evening, Dec. 21, 1922, an entertainment to which all are invited.

The Baptist Sunday school will have an entertainment and Christmas tree at the church on Friday night, Dec. 22, 1922.

There will be Christmas services and entertainment at the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening, Dec. 24th, 1922 at seven o'clock. All are cordially invited to attend.

Honor Roll of the Union High school for the third month of school:

ELEVENTH GRADE

Virginia Utz.

Anna Mae Bristow.

NINTH GRADE

Elizabeth Weaver.

EIGHTH GRADE

Agnes Afterkirk.

Ethel Williams.

Lloyd House.

La Verda Sullivan.

Harold Weaver.

James Feldhaus.

SEVENTH GRADE

Mildred Williams.

FOURTH GRADE

Lassing Huey.

Elberta Ryle.

Lina Williams.

Mae Huey.

THIRD GRADE

Elaine Dickerson.

Hattie Mae Carpenter.

SECOND GRADE

Anna Eliza Gossett.

Leona Cress.

Mary Belle Bristow.

Harry Glenn Dickerson.

Mabel Wilson.

FIRST GRADE

Johnnie Dickerson.

J. M. Huey.

Patsy Huey.

Marie Carroll Head.

William Shields.

Joseph Jones.

Coello Carpenter.

MATTIE B. UTZ.

Just now fond fathers and loving mothers are puzzling their mind over the question of the mysterious "Santa Claus," but they will solve the problem. Oh, yes! They never fail to communicate with Old Santa to advise him in due time of the numerous articles wanted by the dear children of their household. And oh! the joy and happiness they bring into those child-hearts. As they gaze on Christmas morning into the faces of their loved ones, as one by one they arrange their toys and other gifts, do they feel repaid for their liberal expenditures? Does the sun rise in the East?

When devoted parents are viewing with satisfaction the joy and happiness they have brought into their own homes on the occasion of Christmas day, they should also let their thoughts turn to the homes of the poor and destitute. Think of the hundreds of little children who will scarcely receive a stick of kind candy, much less a toy of any kind upon the blessed Christmas Day. "As you do it unto the least of these my brethren, ye do it unto Me." Surely this is an opportune time to practice the foregoing Scriptural injunction, and certainly you will find pleasure in doing so. Will of Him who makes possible every comfort that you enjoy through life.

FIDELITY IN PUBLIC SERVICE.

A tribute of appreciation has been paid by men of all parties to the late James R. Mann, who for 25 years has held a conspicuous place in Congress. People might disagree with him, but they recognized his untiring work to serve the people intelligently.

While many politicians were running around to flatter their constituents with little favors and special privileges for their own districts, Mr. Mann was investigating with untiring diligence the merits of legislative proposals as respects the interest of the whole people until he became a perfect encyclopedia of information about government activities. The country wants more faithful men of that type, and fewer pork chasers.

The Best Advertisement

IS A PLEASED CUSTOMER

Spectacles and Eyeglasses that Fit the face and Fit the sight the kind we sell.

Phone South 1746

WITH MOTTCH, JEWELLER.

DR. N. F. PENN., 613 Madison Ave. - Covington, Ky

Embalmer &amp; funeral

Director

Licensed in Kentucky, Ohio & Indiana.

Ambulance Service, Any Where or Time

LIMOSINE FOR WEDDIN & PLEASURE PARTIES.

C. SCOTT CHAMBERS

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

Consolidated Phone, Walton, 35.

Farmers Phone.

Printed Stationery

AT THIS OFFICE

ENVELOPES, LETTERHEADS, NOTEHEADS, STATEMENTS

for business people.

for professional people.

for farmers.

for every one who wants

to be considered up to date and going strong

When the House is Still

and a life has gone out, the bereaved friends face with dread the preparation for the final ministries.

At such a time, the Undertaker—competent and considerate—can, in addition to his professional work, render a real service of help and comfort.

Such a service, in prompt response to any call, may be expected from this office, together with the aid of a lady attendant when desired.

PHILIP TALIAFERRO,
Undertaker and Embalmer
Erlanger, Ky.

A BARGAIN:

Cincinnati Daily Enquirer

—AND—

The Boone County Recorder

YOU CAN GET

both for $5.00 the YEAR

Send Your Subscriptions to the

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER

Burlington, Ky.

What Shall I Give Him for Chrixtmas!

Any of the articles mentioned below would make him a useful and desirable gift. You make the choice—we guarantee satisfaction.

FOR THE MEN AND YOUNG MEN.

Suits.....$20.00 to $35.00
Overcoats.....$20.00 to $35.00
Raincoats.....$ 6.00 to $30.00
Corduroy and Duck Coats..$ 5.50 to $ 9.00
Sweater Coats.....$ 2.00 to $ 7.00

A large line of Knee Pants Suits, Mackinaws, Overcoats and Raincoats for the boys.

Selmar Wachs

605 Madison Avenue,

COVINGTON, KY.

DO YOU TAKE THE RECORDER?

Try It One Year. You'll Like It.

Read Our Advertisements and Profit By Them.